MUCH BATTERED COPY OF TAFT'S RAILROAD BILL REACHES HOUSE

Amended Measure Is Submitted With Two Committee Reports.

Majority and Minority Present Views on Administration Measure.

Protest Against Origin of the Original Accompanies the Report.

Washington, April 1.—The administration railroad bill, stripped of many of its original features, but still providing for the creation of a commerce court and the regulation of railway agreements, consolidations, securities, rates and routes, all as amendments to the interstate commerce law, was reported to the house today by the interstate commerce commission.

The bill was introduced by Representative Townsend of Michigan, Jan. 10. The original measure was drafted by Attorney General Wickersham, who also is sponsor for several of the amendments. But the measure contains as amendments liberal excerpts from the bill presented early in the session by Chairman Mann, whose views are not in accord with the administration, but who takes charge of the bill on the floor as committee chairman, though personally opposed to many of its provisions.

Wants Quick Action.

Mr. Mann will ask the house next Monday to make the bill privileged, failing which he will seek suspension of the rules to expedite consideration.

The majority report says:

"The Heyburn law of 1906 vastly improved the law providing for regulative

THOUSAND MEN OUT IN CHICAGO

Painters and Decorators Quit and Sympathetic Strike Is Possible.

Chicago, April 1.—One thousand painters and decorators who demand a wage increase of 5 cents an hour went on strike here today. There is danger of a sympathetic strike, as members of allied trades unions have been authorized to quit work on all construction where the painters' demands are not recognized.

REPUBLICANS FAVOR ST. PAUL

State Central Committee Will Meet Saturday to Pick Convention City.

St. Paul, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tomorrow at noon the Republican state central committee will meet at the Merchants hotel. Luncheon will be served to the committee and probably to some of the Republican leaders who are not members of the committee.

During the luncheon there will be informal talks about the situation in the state and nation, with emphasis on the state.

Reapportionment, good roads, congressmen, county option, the election of a United States senator, the time and place of holding the state convention are only a few of the more important subjects which will occupy the attention of the committee before and after it goes into executive session.

The executive session will be held late in the afternoon, and no one knows just what will be done at that gathering.

Every indication today points to St. Paul as the place in which the state convention will assemble.

PHILADELPHIA STRIKE STILL ON

Five Cars Are Dynamited But Nobody Hurt---Women Plan Parade.

Philadelphia, April 1.—Apparently having failed to bring about an end to the car strike in this city, John Mitchell accompanied by Denis Hayes, fourth vice president of the American Federation of Labor, went to New York today. It was rumored that a meeting of labor leaders might be held in that city today and another effort made to bring about a settlement.

Five cars were dynamited in the northern section of the city during last night and early today. Windows were shattered, but no one was injured.

Notwithstanding that the police department has refused a permit for the parade of women sympathizers of the strikers on Saturday, preparations for the march are being made.

CALLS AMERICA GREAT AND HER WOMEN SUPERB

BARON LEO DE GRAFFENRIED.

New York, April 1.—Baron Leo de Graffenried has sailed for Europe on the Oceania after spending nearly three months in New York, studying various phases of life here. The baron thinks America is a great country, and thinks American women are superb. He married, a few years ago, Miss Irma Stern, daughter of Louis Stern. He is an expert horseman, and has been for ten years captain-instructor of the military riding academy in Thoune, near Berne, Switzerland, and for two years a rittmaster in the German cavalry school at Hanover.

BALLINGER'S INNINGS NOW

Secretary's Counsel Says He Will Prove All Charges False.

Party Lines Make Unanimous Decision By Committee Unlikely.

Washington, April 1.—The Ballinger-Pinchot hearing went on today with Secretary Ballinger's counsel in charge of the presentation of evidence. The taking of testimony in behalf of the cabinet officer began last Saturday afternoon after Attorney Vertrees had made an opening statement that much of the tesimony against Mr. Ballinger would be shown to be false. The address sharply criticised James R. Garfield and Gifford Pinchot for their share in the attack upon the secretary.

As the hearing progresses, indications multiply that the congressional committee is so seriously split along party lines that a unanimous report is beyond the bounds of possibility. The Democratic members have gone so far as to notify their Republican colleagues that the Democrats will participate in the executive sessions of the committee, but only upon the understanding that the Democrats shall be free to announce during the public meetings

IRON KING SHIES AT THE CAMERAS

Carnegie Likewise Declines to Talk More About Cannon and Lincoln.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 1.—Mr. Carnegie and party arrived here from Chicago at 9:15 o'clock this morning and were taken in automobiles to the Hotel Schenley, where they will remain during their four days' stay in this city.

As Mr. Carnegie stepped from his private car in the union station he was besieged with reporters and photographers. Asked for a report on his interview in Chicago yesterday in which he is quoted as defending Speaker Cannon of the house of representatives, Mr. Carnegie said:

"I have been stormed by reporters ever since I left for the coast, and I think you Pittsburgers might let me have my rest here without wanting me to talk all the time."

Mr. Carnegie shunned the photographers, asking to be excused from posing before the camera battery.

Cannon Like Lincoln.

In the course of the interview in which he likened Speaker Cannon to Abraham Lincoln, Mr. Carnegie declared that the United States senate was the finest legislative body in the world.

He was asked his opinion of the voluntary advance in salaries announced by certain Eastern railroads.

"I know that we in the United States Steel corporation raised our dividends," he said, "so why not raise salaries as well? Capital is always better able to suffer than labor, and it should always be made to suffer first. On the other hand, what is good for one should be good for the other."

COAL MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Three Hundred Thousand Men Are Idle on Anniversary.

Length of Contest Is in Doubt ---Indiana Operators Will Grant Raise.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—Celebrating today the anniversary of the institution of the eight-hour day in the mines of the country, 300,000 bituminous coal miners faced an enforced holiday of far greater duration.

In many states the miners' two-years' wage contract with the mine operators expired last night, and the miners quit the coal pits, demanding that their new contract must provide for a wage increase of 5 cents a ton on screened coal and an equivalent increase on run-of-mine coal.

Conferences between the miners' organizations in the several districts and the operators' associations have been arranged. Adjustment of the difficulty may be a question of weeks or days. In the Brazil block coal district of Indiana there will not be a suspension of work, for the operators last evening conceded the higher wage demand of the miners.

May be Long Contest.

On the other hand, in Illinois and Western Pennsylvania, where the powder question and that of which party

CLUB STRIKERS FROM FACTORY

Louisville Police Drive Crowd Away From Plants Still Running.

Louisville, Ky., April 1.—The firm hand of the police was shown in the tobacco strike situation today when a crowd of several hundred strikers marched to the big plug factory of the American Tobacco company at Eighteenth and Broadway and attempted to draw out the employes there. The police used their clubs freely, and in a short time had cleared the streets surrounding the factory.

The number of women on strike is now 3,200, four factories are closed, others crippled and today it is expected 4,500 women employes in the plug making and cigar departments will quit in sympathy.

Demands Sent to New York.

The strikers demand $3 a hundred pounds for stemming the inferior leaf, $2.50 a hundred for stemming the better grade, and a commission of 10 cents on the dollar. They ask further that the sanitary conditions at the factories be improved and that the scales on which the tobacco is weighed out to the employes be inspected by authorized persons and accurately adjusted.

The grievances of the strikers have been submitted to the general officers of the company at New York.

HARK BACK TO 'YELLOW DOG'

Fire Insurance Investigation Brings Up Old Armstrong Evidence.

H. G. Wilcox Says Buckley and Hamilton Worked Close Together.

New York, April 1.—Although William H. Buckley got through as a witness two days ago, he still persists as a prominent figure in the insurance investigation. When the inquiry was resumed today Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss indicated an intention of finding out whether it would be correct to assume from yesterday's late testimony that Buckley in 1908 was still active in connection with insurance legislation at Albany although not registered as a legislative agent. No record of any payment to Buckley in this connection after 1905, when he says he retired from the field, has been found.

It was thought that Mr. Hotchkiss might try to bring out further today the evident connection between surety and life insurance activities in Albany during a series of years prior to 1905.

"Yellow Dog" Recalled.

How Buckley, accelerator of insurance legislation, and the late "Andy" Hamilton, keeper of the life insurance "yellow dog" fund of former years, worked together in oiling the legislative wheels at Albany for good and substantial consideration, was brought out late yesterday. Hamilton, the evi-

NAVAL INQUIRY NEARLY ENDED

Report on Accident on the Charleston to Be Sent to Washington.

Manila, April 1.—The court of inquiry has about completed its investigation of the accident on board the United States cruiser Charleston, when eight men were killed and seven others injured by the explosion of a 3-inch gun. The findings will be forwarded to Washington. It is generally believed that the explosion was due to a broken firing pin which struck the primer as the breech lock was swung to close the breech on the cartridges, and exploded the shell before the block was in place and locked.

FOUR HUNDRED FIFTY POUND HOG GOES TO MARKET IN AN AUTO

Terre Haute, Ind., April 1.—Among the farmers who are purchasing automobiles in David Claypool, a farmer living six miles from Martinsville, Ill. Claypool claims the world's record because he took a 450-pound hog to market in his auto.

HEARS MORE OF BRIBERY

Pittsburg Grand Jury Is Expected to Make Report Soon.

Three More Councilmen Take Immunity Bath By Their Pleas.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 1.—With the confessions of William Brand and Charles Stewart and the evidence of P. B. Kearns before it, all of whom are former councilmen, and with Hugh Ferguson, also a former city father, seeking the district attorney to make a statement, it was expected that the grand jury investigating municipal corruption, which resumed its sessions today, would return a final presentment within twenty-four hours, revealing the remainder of the graft story.

Accompanying the presentment, it is said, will come additional indictments of the men who are alleged to have paid money to councilmen for naming five city depositories. The men who paid for one depository have already been convicted.

Indignation Meeting Planned.

Interest in an indignation meeting to discuss the recent disclosures of municipal corruption and vice which will be held tonight in Carnegie hall was manifest today.

Three more councilman took the immunity bath yesterday by pleading "no defense" to charges of taking bribes. These were Samuel Poster, who admitted getting $400 from ——— for his vote on the bank ordinance; T. O. Atkinson, who confessed taking bribes of $100 from Dr. W. H. Weber for his vote on a street ordinance and $500 from Stewart to support the bank ordinance; and John McCartney, a former selectman, who said he got $400 for his votes on both ordinances.

Under threats of commitment, fourteen men recently indicted appeared yesterday with bondsmen and bail of $5,000 each for appearance in court.

COST OF LIVING FOUGHT IN 1804

Old Document Contains Petition for Regulation of Prices.

Butler, Pa., April 1.—Records yellow with a century's age were unearthed in the office of Court Clerk Robert G. Harland today, which show that a high cost of living crusade was in progress as early as 1804.

A document filed with Judge Moore in that year is signed by 100 citizens petitioning the court to "set a stipulated price of provisions for man and horse, and on liquors in the taverns of the county."

The petitioners prayed for redress and asserted "it is the consensus of opinion that 25 cents for a meal of victuals and 12 cents for a half pint of whisky is an extortion, as whisky has been purchased for 40 cents a gallon, pork from 3 to 4 cents a pound and flour for $2 per 100 pounds."

The records give no evidence as to whether the prayer, which was led by Michael Marlin, was ever answered.

SAME OLD APRIL FOOL.

BIG RAILROAD RATE FIGHT IS BEGUN IN THE SUPREME COURT

Dozen Cities Parties to the Action Over the Missouri Cases.

Decision Will Affect Every Section in the United States.

Brief Filed Defends Commission Ruling Said to Favor Twin Cities.

Washington, April 1.—The biggest freight rate fight since the passage of the Hepburn rate bill entered the final stages began today when the government filed in the supreme court of the United States a brief in the so-called Missouri river rate cases. The contest involves the interests of manufacturers, jobbers, merchants and railroads from Atlantic seabord to the Rocky mountains.

The two cases which have attracted the most attention are those concerning the class rates on through shipments originating at Atlantic seaboard points and destined to the Missouri river cities. The third case involves the class rates from Chicago and from St. Louis to Denver.

Three Cases Involved.

The first two cases arise out of an order issued by the interstate commerce commission to become effective Nov. 10, 1908. This order directed a reduction of the rates for the transportation of various classes of freight, originating at Atlantic seaboard points,

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER OF GIRL

ALBERT WOLTER,
Alleged to Have Strangled Ruth Wheeler and Burned Her Body Before Life Was Extinct.

HARD FIGHT FOR WOLTER

Attorney Fails to Get Charges Thrown Out and He Pleads Not Guilty.

Second Girl Traced to Rooms of Alleged Slayer of Ruth Wheeler.

New York, April 1.—Albert W. Wolter today pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with having murdered 15-year-old Ruth Wheeler, after two motions to throw out the indictment had been made by his counsel, Wallace D. Scott, and denied by Judge Mulqueen. Wolter was remanded to the Tombs. Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss says he will be ready to go on with the prosecution immediately.

The police today reported that they had traced another girl to Wolter's flat, but are unable to find out what become of her. Detectives give her name as Elsie Schwartz, who is said to have called on Wolter the day before Ruth Wheeler was killed.

Will be "Interesting."

There is every indication that the prosecuting officers are as determined as ever to make the case a record one for speed in the New York courts and bring to a quick accounting the youth charged with one of the most heinous crimes in metropolitan criminal annals.

Wolter's attorney, Mr. Scott, was asked today whether an insanity defense was to be interposed. The reply was that the defense would be "interesting."

STRIKE BEGUN IN NEW YORK HARBOR

Four Railroads Are Affected Now, But Rumor Says the Walkout May Spread.

New York, April 1.—New York harbor activity was considerably diminished in volume today. At midnight last night a strike of the pilots and masters on the towboats of four railroads was declared and today the boats of the companies involved were going out of commission. Many hundreds of men are affected, there are fears that quantities of valuable perishable freight will be tied up, and reports were prevalent that the strike might spread to other classes of employes in the harbor service.

Following the formal beginning of the strike, the masters and mates of boats in the service of the Baltimore & Ohio, the Lackawanna, the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh Valley roads began returning their boats to the companies' headquarters and abandoning work.

All the other roads entering the city effected settlements with their men, who asked increases in wages and a substantial shortening of hours.

The companies affected by the strike claimed at noon today they were operating about 60 per cent of their equipment and that many applications for the strikers' places had been received.

Says Goodbye to Emperor.

Vienna, April 1.—The emperor today received Charles Spencer Francis, the retiring American ambassador, in a farewell audience.

Bank Report Called For.

Washington, April 1.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of national banks at the close of business March 29.

HOTEL AT CARLTON DESTROYED BY FIRE

Cameron Hotel Is Burned Entailing a Loss of $6,000,

Carlton, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cameron hotel, owned by Joseph Zacher of this place, was totally destroyed by fire about 11 o'clock last night. The loss is $6,000; insurance, $3,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

NEW KIND OF NIGHT RIDING CROPS OUT

Canvas Covering Is Taken From Tobacco and Plants Are Spoiled.

Lexington, Ky., April 1.—A new kind of night riding has appeared in Kentucky. From many parts of the white burley district reports have been received that the canvas coverings placed over the tobacco beds have been stolen. The removal of the covering has resulted in the killing of the tender plants, and if continued, will do much toward curtailing the crop of this year.

In addition, many tobacco barns have been destroyed by fire.

FAILS TO PROVE HE IS RUSSELL

New Claimant to Estate Does Not Convince His "Brother."

Boston, Mass., April 1.—"This man is not my brother," was the declaration said to have been made by William C. Russell after a four-hour talk last night with the man from Fresno, Cal., who claims to be Daniel Blake Russell, son of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose. The Californian had endeavored to show that he, and not a man from Dickinson, N. D., who claims to be the same Daniel Blake Russell, is co-heir to the $750,000 estate of Daniel Russell.

William Russell and the Californian met in an attorney's office. The others present were Mrs. Edward Avery of Chicago, who knew Daniel B. Russell in childhood; Miss Sarah B. Almy, cousin of and housekeeper for William C. Russell; Ferdinand B. Almy, a co-executor of the Daniel Russell estate; Thomas W. Proctor, John K. Berry and Eugene C. Upton, attorneys for the estate, and William Odlin and George W. Carwright, the new claimant's lawyers.

Asked Many Questions.

State Senator Cartwright of California introduced his client to William Russell as "your brother, Daniel Blake Russell."

The claimant then told his story, and was asked numerous questions. He finally asked William Russell to identify him as his long lost brother, but the latter only shook his head.

When the interview was ended, the Fresno man left the office in an exhausted condition. It was then that William Russell was said to have stated:

"The man is not my brother."

MARINE NEWS

VESSEL MEN ARE COMING

Outfitting Will Begin in the Local Harbor Next Week.

Boats Expected to Start From Several Lake Ports April 15.

Reports from Cleveland and other lake towns, where many of the engineers and skippers spend the winter, indicate that many of them will be here Monday, ready to start fitting out. It was reported at the tug office this morning that reports had been received to this effect, and that local vessel men are expecting work to begin on some of the boats Monday.

The Anchor line has two package freighters here, and the Mutual line has six at the Head of the Lakes. These boats will be fitted out some time next week. There are also a number of ore boats at the Head of the Lakes, and with the assurance that the season will start promptly on April 15, there will be just about sufficient time to put the vessels into proper shape.

It is also reported at the tug office that the tugs will start in and do a lot of work next week around the harbor. There will be a lot of transferring to do and many of the boats will be brought from Superior to the docks on this side of the bay.

The Soo passage is practically open at the present time. There is a little ice in the St. Mary's river but it is believed here, from the information received from the Soo, that boats could come through at the present time. Boats are expected to start from Cleveland promptly on April 15, and some may leave before that time.

This morning the Sylvania was brought over from the Berwind coal dock to the Missabe dock. The boat was shifted to make room for repairs that will soon be made on the coal dock on the other side of the bay. Outfitting will start on the boat this week.

EXCURSION STEAMERS ARE BEING FITTED OUT.

Clow & Nicholson are already fitting out their excursion steamers Newsboy, Mascotte and Plowboy. Improvements will be made and the boats will be thoroughly overhauled. One of the boats will be placed in service on the south shore the coming season. The Plowboy is chartered to engage in the excursion business between Houghton and Hancock and an amusement park.

TO ESTABLISH LIGHT ON NORTH PIER HEAD.

At the Duluth hydrographic office this morning notice was received that a pier light is to be established on the north pier head of the canal channel at the Duluth entry. The light will be established on the opening of navigation. It will be an intermittent white incandescent electric light, lighting for two seconds and eclipsed for two seconds.

The light will be exhibited forty-six feet above the lake level from a white tower, thirty-one feet high.

Three Boats Clear.

The Barker of the Booth line, the tug Charles Ferris of the Barnett-Record company, and the fishing boat Thor have cleared for this port through the collector of customs' office.

Do you shape your head to fit your hat or do you buy one-sixteenth sizes in the matchless Gordon?

BROOKSTON TOWNSITE CO. HAS ELECTED ITS OFFICER.

Brookston, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Brookston Townsite company, held Wednesday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year; F. S. Oakley, president; W. D. Campbell, vice president; W. A. Epperson, secretary; E. R. Smith, treasurer.

Old Euclid Resident Buried.

Crookston, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Richard Casmey, a resident near Euclid for the past thirty years, was buried yesterday, leaving a husband and eleven children. Rheumatism, which reached her heart, was the cause of death.

Resort Keeper to Jail.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Anna Abrams, convicted keeper of a disorderly house, has begun her sentence of sixty-five days in the Minneapolis workhouse, after the ablest legal advisers in the Twin Cities had failed to secure for her another stay of sentence, and when a continuance had been denied by the state supreme court.

HIS SENTENCE WAS SUSPENDED

Judge Cant Gives Herbert Swanson a Chance to Make Good.

Herbert Swanson, the young man who was indicted by the March grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, will have a chance to make good.

The morning the young man pleaded guilty before Judge William A. Cant of the district court and was sentenced to a term at the reformatory at St. Cloud. Judge Cant allowed him his freedom, however, pending good behavior.

Swanson got into trouble at the Nicollet hotel some weeks ago when he picked up a pocketbook from the floor and "planted" it. He is said to have seen the purse fall from the pocket of another man.

This was the last criminal case to be taken up at the March term of the district court. The criminal calendar for April will consist of about twenty-four cases. The case of the state against George Booker for the alleged murder of his stepfather, Charles Clark, will be the first case to be tried. The rest of the April calendar consists of forgery, assault and larceny cases and one white slave case.

Judge Dibell will hear the criminal cases at the next term and County Attorney John H. Norton will represent the state.

Ashland Boy Accidentally Shot.

Ashland, Wis., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Danz, aged 16, living at 1604 Second avenue east, was accidentally shot Tuesday. He and his father were chasing a rat in their woodshed when the revolver was discharged, the bullet entering the lad's right foot. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where the bullet was removed.

Educators Meet at Grafton.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 1.—The annual meeting of the Tri County Educational association, an organization comprising Grand Forks, Walsh and Pembina counties, will be held in Grafton April 29 and 30. State Supt. W. L. Stockwell, President John H. Worst of Fargo, and Prof. C. J. Kern of Illinois are among the prominent speakers that have been secured for the meeting.

FASHIONS IN FAMOUS PICTURES.

Strand: Has the reader ever paused to reflect upon the important part costume and draperies and coiffure play in many of his favorite pictures?

"Figure, composition, background are important in the making of a picture, but costume is of immense importance also," wrote Millais. "There is nothing to which I attach more importance than the clothing of my figures, and the precise kind of clothing which will be appropriate to the subject."

Millais, Leighton, and, indeed, most of our great painters made first studies of their figures without any costume at all, and only at a later stage, endowed them with draperies, so that, doubtless, unless the exigencies of a certain period demanded it, there may have been a time when it was an even choice, whether the form of the heroine should be enveloped in a farthingale or a redingote, a crinoline or classical robe, and whether the limbs of the hero should be enveloped in tights, kneebreeches, pantaloons, trousers, or the "mit nodings on" of the Roman and the Highlander.

from Mississippi river crossings to the Missouri river cities.

The order was the result of complaints filed with the commission by the Burnham, Hanna, Munger Dry Goods company, and a large number of individuals, partnerships and corporations as shippers, jobbers and wholesalers at Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha. They claimed that the rates charged by carriers operating between the Atlantic seaboard, which includes cities east of Pittsburg and north of the Potomac and Missouri rivers, were unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory.

Twin Cities Favored.

It was particularly specified that the rates discriminated in favor of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Finally the commission disposed of the case by ordering a reduction of the charges for transportation from the Mississippi river crossings to the Missouri river cities as a part of the through rate. The commission denied that the rates discriminate in favor of the Twin Cities.

Before the rates went into effect the controversy was taken into the courts by the railroads. The result was that the circuit court of the United States for the Northern district of Illinois held the order unlawful and beyond the power of the commission because the mandate was the exercise of authority not specifically granted by the act to regulate commerce, and resulted in artificially apportioning the country into zones tributary to given trade centers.

Two Appeals Taken.

One appeal by the commission and another by Missouri river shippers were taken to the supreme court.

As the fight had progressed, additional parties had entered the fray. The Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha shippers intervened to fight for the order. Sioux City asked the courts for the same benefits as given Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha.

St. Paul and Minneapolis business men in behalf of their trade entered the struggle. Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland and Milwaukee shippers joined with the railroads to oppose the reduction.

Most of the contestants are fighting to the bitter end. On the outcome of the contest, one side declares, justice will come to long-sufferers. On the other hand, it is asserted, disastrous results to business will follow.

End This Year Anyway.

Meanwhile the government is seeking to maintain the order of the commission. Even if the effort is successful, the order will die Nov. 10, 1910 by reason of the two-year limitation of the life of interstate commerce commission rate orders. However, a victory for the government will settle many important questions, including the point whether the order is legislation on the subject or a general adjustment of the relationship of rates such as the commission cannot decree.

The Denver rate case raises substantially the same questions as to the powers of the interstate commerce commission. Upon complaint of Denver shippers concerning alleged discriminatory rates in favor of Kansas City and other Missouri river cities, the commission issued an order for a reduction of the rates from Chicago and From St Louis to Denver, thus obliterating as far as these shipments were concerned the Missouri river basic line for the computation of rates.

All the cases will be argued at the same time. The arguments are set for Monday, but probably will not be reached until later in the week.

shall pay the shot-firers enter the controversy, a prolonged contest is probable.

At hundreds of meetings today in large and small mining communities, where the people dependent on the industry assembled to listen to the speeches of the union leaders, the strike was the sole subject of discussion.

The national officers and members of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, who had been in secret session at headquarters in this city, departed for their respective districts late last night or early today to advise the local organizations in the negotiations with the mine owners.

President Thomas L. Lewis will speak today at Belleville, Ill., and will visit several other Illinois towns, including East St. Louis.

In "Enemy's Country."

Mr. Lewis thus entered the "enemy's country," as he said himself before he left this city, meaning not that 72,000 miners of Illinois were not his friends, but that several of their leaders, including the district president, John Walker, had antagonized his course since the opening of the miners' national convention in Indianapolis, Jan. 18.

"I do feel a sense of personal gratification," said the miners' president, "that the 'obstructionists' inspired by dislike of my methods or personality now will see that I am successful in what I set out to do. The United Mine Workers of America, in a business-like orderly fashion, at last will proceed with very little delay, to obtain a wage increase of 5 cents a ton on mined coal.

Lewis Will Keep Moving.

Returning to Indiana tomorrow, the miners' national president will visit the Ohio and Western Pennsylvania district, where 50,000 men have left, determined not to take up picks again until higher wages are granted and the powder question is adjusted.

The so-called new explosives demanded by the state laws of Pennsylvania break the coal so much finer than the old-fashioned black powder, the miners maintain, that a 5-cent wage increase means little to them if they are to be required to use the advanced methods of bringing down the coal.

President Lewis will go into the Kanawha district of West Virginia to advise the 10,000 striking miners there. This is the battleground of unionism in the mines.

Soon Over In Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 1.—The miners of the Eleventh district will have little difficulty in obtaining a 5-cent increase of wages, it was announced today. Officers of the operators' association said the increase probably would be granted next Wednesday.

Grant Increase Temporarily.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 1.—Iowa mine workers claim a victory as the result of the first joint wage conference at which the operators agreed to pay an increase of 5 cents for men to man the mines during the suspension. The joint conference then adjourned at the request of the miners until Monday, April 11. The mine workers are organizing today. They will be in session all next week changing the constitution to conform with the national constitution, and formulating their demands to be made when the joint conference resumes.

Southwestern Men Idle.

Kansas City, Mo., April 1.—Although the whistles at the coal mines of the Southwestern interstate fields, including Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, blew as usual this morning, practically none of the 35,000 men responded to the call.

The operators say the closing down of the mines is not a lockout, as they are willing to continue the contract made with the miners two years ago. They say that competition in the shape of fuel oil and gas and the fact that coal is shipped into this district from Colorado and West Virginia non-union fields makes it impossible for them to grant the demands of the miners.

About 3,000,000 tons of coal have been stored in Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas and it is not believed the effects of the strike will be felt unless it lasts more than sixty days.

No Strike in Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., April 1.—Representatives of large coal mining companies in Eastern Kentucky stated today there would be no strike in any coal mines in this section. About 10,000 men are employed.

dence showed, received no less than $8,999 from certain companies in 1901.

Hamilton's name was put on the record through the testimony of Henry C. Wilcox, vice president of the American Surety company, who testified that in 1901, after certain desired legislation had been enacted, Hamilton sent a bill for $10,000 to the American Surety company.

"Did he tell you he had to pay out any of the money?" the witness was asked.

Contributed to Fund.

"He conveyed to me the suggestion that he had assumed obligations which he could not meet unless the full amount were paid."

This was as strong as Mr. Wilson would put it. He thought the bill too large, but as a compromise, he said, he sent three checks to Hamilton, aggregating $6,469. The bulk of that amount was paid by the American Surety company. The United States Guaranty company paid $419 and the Lawyers' Surety company $374. Other surety companies, although benefited, declined to contribute. It was shown later, however, that the National Surety company paid $2,530 direct to Hamilton.

How do you happen to know that Buckley and Hamilton were friends?" the witness was asked.

"If I wanted to find one of them, the other usually was close by," was the reply.

Kennedy Quizzed Again.

Elijah B. Kennedy, former legislative agent for the fire insurance companies, who had been on the stand several times, came back to tell of some new details of the disbursement of $13,311 in 1901, to bring about the passage of the tax exemption bill. He accounted for all but about $800 of the money.

Kennedy previously had testified that he gave $5,000 to Col. George Dunn, one time chairman of the Republican state committee. In explanation yesterday he said:

"I long have deplored the growth of the power exerted by men who hold high positions in parties, and who exercise more power than the legislature itself. But I encountered this condition of affairs when I went to Albany in 1901. That was why I felt it necessary to seek the support of the extra constitutional government. I went to Col. Dunn and gave him $5,000."

Planned An Octopus.

The story of the plan of Stewart Brown, banker of this city, now supreme court justice to establish a gigantic financial institution, with powers to do anything and with perpetual life, was told by Mr. Brown today when Supt. Hotchkiss resumed the insurance investigation.

The witness said he was connected with the New York Life Insurance company, a large part of the time as confidential representative of the late John A. McCall, the president.

"Did you promote the International Banking & Trust company as representative of Mr. McCall or the New York Life?" asked Mr. Hotchkiss.

The witness said he did not. He said the only time he had ever done anything with the legislature at Albany was in 1899, when he went to Albany with other insurance men in connection with the introduction of the retaliatory bill against the Prussian Life Insurance companies.

"Able to Do Anything."

Mr. Hotchkiss asked him why, at the time of the incorporation of the International Banking & Trust company, a special charter was sought.

"We wanted to have a corporation with all the power of an individual," he replied. "We wanted to be able to do anything."

The company was incorporated as the American Bond & Guaranty company, and soon after the charter was obtained the company was changed into the International. Mr. Brown said the reason for this was because it would have been harder to get the charter if it had been known that it was for a trust company.

control over railroad corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, and much enlarged the scope of the authority conferred upon the interstate commerce commission. Experience gained through execution of the law shows that some important matters which should be the subject of government control are not now within the scope of authority heretofore conferred upon the commission.

"The original act to regulate commerce was exceedingly important; the Heyburn law was of still greater importance; but the propositions involved in the substitute bill reported by your committee are of even greater importance. While they do not impose undue burdens upon the railways of the country, or unduly interfere with the power of the railway managers for the proper operation of the roads, yet they do confer upon the shipping public, the investing public and the people at large, benefits of tremendous value."

The Commerce Court.

Referring to the commerce court, covered in the first three sections of the bill, the report says it is proposed to centralize the existing authority, the jurisdiction of circuits in one commerce court, but without enlarging such jurisdiction or authority. The present jurisdiction of the United States courts to set aside interstate commerce commission orders is believed by many to be limited to the determination of jurisdictional facts and to the question of confiscation by the taking of property without due compensation.

An inhibition against purchase or lease of capital stock of a directly competitive railroad or water line is made in section 12, which also prohibits the same persons serving on competitive directorates. It permits any corporation designing to acquire interest in another similar corporation to make a preliminary agreement and then file petition with the commerce court for permission to carry out the agreement.

The committee, however, is considering reporting an amendment to have the petition filed with the commission instead of with the commerce court.

Securities and Agreements.

Railway security provisions are embodied in the concluding sections. They prohibit railroads from issuing any stock or bonds except upon application to the commission, which is to specify the respective amounts of stocks, bonds, etc., authorized to be issued for the respective purposes to which these proceeds are to be applied, and stating the price—their reasonable value—at which such securities may be sold. The commission is authorized to issue certificates in relation to stocks and bonds, and penalize officers or stockholders who assent to prohibited issues.

Common carriers are authorized to enter into agreements specifying freight classification and passenger and freight transportation charges, notwithstanding existing laws, including the Sherman anti-trust law, if a copy of the agreement in form and detail prescribed by the commission is filed with that body within twenty days after it is made, and at least thirty days before the classification or charges go into effect. The commission, however, is vested with full authority in the matter and may suspend their taking effect.

No Pooling of Earnings.

The carriers are expressly prohibited from making any agreement for pooling or division of earnings under penalty.

A long or short haul is embraced in the bill, prohibiting a greater rate for a shorter than a longer distance over the same line in the same direction, the shorter being with the longer, or from receiving a greater compensation as a through rate than the aggregate of the local rates, though special exceptions are authorized.

Other sections of the bill forbid rebates, enlarge the scope of complaints, authorize the commission to establish through routes and joint classifications and rebates, though exempting water traffic and street electric railroads not engaged in freight business, and call for reasonable facilities, representation in court proceedings, etc.

Minority Report Made.

All of the minority members of the committee, in a separate report, oppose the commerce court, the change in the law requiring notice and hearings on restraining orders and the provisions legalizing agreements among carriers if filed, even if approved by the interstate commission. Further they think the commerce court should not be authorized to legalize consolidations by permitting the acquisition of one competing line by another.

They condemn the manner in which the bill was introduced, the executive department having drawn bills and selected sponsors to introduce them in each house." They object to the repeal of the proviso in the "act to regulate commerce" which forbids application of the act to intra-state transportation.

With the exception of Mr. Sims and Mr. Russell, the minority condemns the provisions as to competing lines and stocks and bonds as an unwarranted interference with local authority and as calculated to operate in favor of established lines, discouraging new lines and preventing further development in sections which need more facilities.

Fergus Falls District Conference.

Wadena, Minn., April 1.—The Fergus Falls district conference of Methodist ministers elected Rev. J. T. Brabner Smith of Sauk Center, secretary; W. H. Farrell of Wadena, treasurer. Rev. A. H. McKee of Fergus Falls, the district superintendent, presided and addresses were made by Rev. C. H. Flesher of Fergus Falls, Rev. George A. Warmer of Frazee, and Rev. J. M. Stewart of Moorhead.

These "extra" suits are radically different from "regular" lines—as they have larger and fuller fronts, more hip room and shorter waisted—in front. Coats are longer and bust measures run up to 49.

SUITS at $29.50—In heavy serge—flap pockets, cuffs on sleeves with pleated skirt. Coat—full satin lined in black and blues.

Other "extra service Suits" at $35.00 and $42.50 and up that show up well for this "specialized suit store" where women can get what they can't get elsewhere. Such a store, madam! is the Silberstein & Bondy company.

Ideal Suits

The price paid for the suit is of secondary importance to where you buy it. An S. & B. Co. $25.00 suit has its own individuality and embodies specialized skill—just as much as do the higher priced models. We aim to give Duluth women better suits at the popular price of $25.00. Correct lines, perfect tailoring, trustworthy fabrics and colors are always "in tune"—even to the linings in our incomparable $25 lines.

Suits at $29.50, $37.50, $42.50, $45.00 are distinguisht for perfect cut and harmonious beauty of line and coloring. Some have distinctly new surprizes in collar and revers or perhaps a Paris novelty here and there to break the severity.

To every woman just "her kind" of suit to bring out lovely curves in too slight figures—suits to give height and dignity to stout women—suits in short to bring out the distinctive points of figure and complexion.

Women's Top Coats

Can be either a discordant note or a joy to a perfect outfit. The "EXTRA" touches of style, trimming, quality and tailoring make or mar the usefulness of this "popular body guard" to the rest of the wardrobe. Where would you expect to find a "best-made" Coat if not at the S. & B. Co., where garment specializing is the exclusive hobby of a member of the firm? There are serviceable gray diagonal serges at $15.00.

BLACK AND WHITE CHECKT COATS at $21.50 that are so popular with Duluth motorists.

BLACK AND BLUE SERGE MODELS at $29.50 that have all the car marks of the custom made.

OTHERS at $35.00 and up that are impossible of description because in most instances they possess that distinctive individuality that a few of a kind always appeal to smartly drest women.

A Specialty Waist Shop

Where everything desirable in Waists may be found at a fair price. If you keep in touch with the interesting news that emanates from this section at stated intervals you will be oft times able to make the regular price of one buy 2 waists—like the following rare values at $3.95. There are satin, messaline, net, Persian and plain colors. Everyone a fresh new style. You couldn't begin to purchase the silk for the price askt for the waists themselves.

Others—Linen Waists—$2.25, $2.50 and $2.75 values—broken lots—all sizes, but not of each kind, at $2.00.

Back of this special news are the regular stocks that would do credit to any fashionable and exclusive shop in the metropolis.

Trotteur Skirts

Separate skirts are much in demand this spring and why not? Nothing so comfortable and fresh looking as the smart skirt and waist combination for temperate days.

BLACK AND WHITE SKIRTS are ultra fashionable. See the complete S. & B. Co. lines at $6.50 to $25.00.

BLACK VOILES that are the queens of the skirt division, also black and blue French serges—panel back—front pleated with yoke at sides and falling in full pleats from under yoke at $12.50.

See that BLACK TUNIC SKIRT that is so popular in Paris—and of course in New York among perfectly gowned women.

Fresh Hats

An additional shipment of span-new hats for Saturday. We never knew such a season. The hats vanish right and left. The fact that we have broken all previous records is the best proof of the volume of business and that the styles are right—different from what you find elsewhere.

We specialize Hats from $6.50 to $18.50, but of course, you will find picture hats here, models and adaptations thereof from Paris, as high as $50.00.

NEW RECORD PREDICTED

Many Building Permits Issued in First Three Months of 1910.

Permits Issued in March for Work Estimated to Cost $548,820.

Last year set a building record in Duluth, but the permits taken out thus far this year indicate that even the banner year will have to take a back seat when the totals are secured next January.

The estimated value of buildings for which permits were taken out the first three months this year exceeds the value of the work for which permits were taken out in the same time last year by nearly $127,000. The total for January, February and March of this year is $830,555, as compared with $713,854 for the same period a year ago.

Last month was one of the biggest ever recorded in the office of Building Inspector S. M. Kielley, 131 permits being issued for improvements, costing $548,820. The same month last year the improvements were estimated at $260,809, a difference of about $289,000.

The biggest permit last month was that for the new manual training school at Lake avenue and Third street, which will cost about $250,000. Several permits for brick dwellings and buildings costing from $15,000 to $30,000 were also taken out last month. The activity at the inspector's office the last few days has been pronounced. Plans of all kinds have been pouring in at a fast rate. The warm weather has started the building season considerably earlier than usual and the indications are that there will be no let up until the freezing weather of the fall starts.

Numerous dwellings and cottages costing from $500 to $3,000, are being erected. They are going up in all parts of the city, but particularly in the West end and West Duluth. Cottages seem to be coming more into favor each year and this season will see more of them built than any previous year. All of them are being provided with modern conveniences and many of them are decidedly artistic. One firm of architects is devoting most of its time to this line of work, with considerable success.

TO COLONIZE ITS LANDS

Alger-Smith Road Has Plan for Settling Cutover Territory.

Settlers Will Be Given Benefit of Freight Rate to Knife River.

A new colonization project which will be a potent factor in upbuilding the fertile lands near Duluth has been launched by a new land company, the officers of which are: John Millen, president; J. W. Bayly, vice president; George T. Withington, secretary, and Frederick M. Alger, treasurer.

The company which will be known as the Duluth & Northern Minnesota Land company, has 30,000 acres in St. Louis, Cook and Lake counties available for immediate sale to prospective settlers. Most of this land is in St. Louis and Cook county and a small amount in Lake county. The company controls a large acreage in these three counties which will be placed on the market as fast as it is logged by the Alger-Smith company.

The land will be sold to settlers in small or fairly large tracts on extremely small payments. Prospective farmers will be given every inducement and advantage offered by the excellent transportation facilities, a ready market for produce, easy terms of payment, the advantageous location of the lands and their well known fertility.

The aim of the company will be to keep the land out of the hands of speculators. The company believes that when speculators hold lands for prospective profits, caused by increase in values due to improvements on nearby lands by actual settlers, the growth of the community is retarded and the best interests of the region concerned are not conserved.

The territory in which the lands are located is served by the Duluth & Northern Minnesota and the Duluth & Iron Range railroads, principally the former. The Duluth & Northern Minnesota is a logging and passenger road owned by the Alger-Smith interests. In the many lumber camps along the road hundreds of men are employed. These men consume large quantities of produce, staples and vegetables and the farmer will thus have a ready market for his produce at his back door.

Farmers will be given the benefit of the freight rates on stuff from Duluth to Knife River. For instance, a farmer selling hay to the lumber company will get $1 more a ton than if he sent the hay to Duluth, the lumber company giving him the benefit of the freight rate. On produce and vegetables the lumber company will give the farmer the freight rate, also. There are many roads, all in good condition, and hauling to the Duluth & Northern Minnesota will be easy as none of the lands are far from the railroad and there are no steep grades. Logging operations on the Duluth & Northern Minnesota will continue for many years and the farmer will be assured of a constant market and quick transportation service whenever he wants it.

When so many farmers enter the country as to produce a greater supply than can be used by the lumber camps and nearby settlements and towns the farmer can send his stuff fresh to the Duluth market to be handled by the Farmers' Co-operative association. The Duluth & Northern Minnesota will make an especial effort to provide quick and frequent service by way of its own line and that of the Duluth & Iron Range from Knife River.

Owing to the luxurious growth of nutritious grasses and the presence of many streams and lakes, most of which contain edible fish, the country is ideal for stock raising. In the winter when the farmers cannot develop their lands and when they may have time to spare they can obtain employment in the lumber camps, going back to their lands when favorable seasons approach.

The company has appointed Alexander McBean, 406 Columbia building, as sales manager. Mr. McBean is preparing for an active campaign and expects to assist many farmers in colonizing the three northeastern counties of the state.

CHANGE BY THE CHILDREN.

Bakers' Weekly: A new idea in advertising is called a "Children's Change Envelope." The name is sufficiently descriptive. Into this envelope goes the change the little boy or girl is to take back home, and on the envelope goes an appropriate advertisement. My own idea of an appropriate advertisement for such a place would be one reading something like this:

If this envelope reaches you unopened the change in it should be correct and in amount $——

We want you to feel that we will treat your children just as fairly as we would you.

We will take no advantage of them, and if the change is not right, let us know at once.

Beautiful Hats With a Foreign Message

Specially Priced at $5, $7.50, $10, $15 to $25

So many women prefer French styles with American modifications that it has always been our custom to employ our assemblage of expert milliners in making popular priced hats after French models. The result is that our trade in hats from $5.00 to $25.00 has increased immensely each season. For this spring we have attended the making of $5.00 to $25.00 hats with more importance than ever.

Many pretty becoming hats are shown in Leghorns, Chip, Tackle Braid and Italian Braid. Light on the head. Sweeping charmingly into gracious bends and curves. The trimmings are chiefly flowers. Many very handsome conceptions that will meet exactly the demand of Duluth women, for an adaptable hat for street or dress wear.

Children's and Misses Hats

At no previous season have we given this children's end of the millinery art so much thought and time. The little misses' creations have that same dexterity of handiwork and care that is so prominent in all Freimuth's millinery.

The choice is of infinite variety. For every little girl we have something that suits her—will suit her mother's pocketbook. Java Braids, Milans, Jap and Rice Braids.

DELIGHTED WITH "THE AMAZONS"

Large Lyceum Audience Warm in Approval of Amateur Production.

THE CAST.

Garfred, earl of Tweenways.....Allen Allensworth
Barrington, Viseount Litterly.....John A. Sinclair
Andre, count de Grival.....William Harrison
Rev. Roger Minchin.....Harvey Clapp
Filton (a gamekeeper).....Harvey Clapp
Youatt (a servant).....H. Edward Walbank
Miriam, marchioness of Castle-Jordan.....Mrs. T. L. Chapman
Lady Noeline Belturbet.....Mrs. J. Cook Howard
Lady Wilhelmina Belturbet..Miss Hazel Owens
Lady Tomesin Belturbet...Miss Lucile Bradley
Sergeant Shuter.....Miss Senta Erd

To say that the audience at the Lyceum last evening was pleased and entertained by the presentation of Pinero's farce, "The Amazons," is to put it very mildly. The local amateurs who acted the piece, which was put on for the benefit of St. John's church, demonstrated that they are endowed with no inconsiderable talent and they are entitled to the highest praise for the individual and concerted enthusiasm and intelligent effort which made their initial venture into the limelight of the theater so thoroughly creditable.

The audience was a large and representative one, and its appreciation of the work of the company as a whole and as individuals was frequently shown by laughter and unrestrained applause.

In mentioning the work of the individual members of the cast it is natural to refer first to the leading lady and the leading man, Mrs. Jay Cook Howard as Lady Noeline Belturbet, and John A. Sinclair as Barrington, Viscount Litterly. Of course, there were three heroines, but "Noel" was the girlboy who had the adventure in London that led to a street fight, a fainting spell and a romantic pilgrimage to Northcote. Mrs. Howard charmed the audience with her graceful presence and entered vivaciously into the spirit of her role, giving a pleasing interpretation of the part that will linger long in the memory of those who saw the play. Mr. Sinclair as Barrington was "every inch the man," calm, straightforward and intensely devoted to the task of winning the girl. There was a smooth evenness in the work of Mr. Sinclair that had much to do with the success of the performance.

Miss Hazel Owens as the girlish Lady Wilhelmina was especially pleasing. Her interpretation of the character was consistent and was particularly notable for the restraint and gentle sweetness of her mannerisms. Miss Lucille Bradley took the part of the third of the Amazons, Lady Tomasin and her deliciously swaggering air captivated the audience from the first. Miss Bradley's role was not an easy one, but she did it full justice.

The eccentric marchioness of Castle-Jordan, the part taken by Mrs. T. L. Chapman, was one calling for grace and dignity besides no little histrionic ability, and Mrs. Chapman was completely satisfactory in the part. The Sergeant Shuter of Miss Senta Erd was immensely pleasing, especially when she was gullefully transformed by the blandishments of Barrington from a stern martinette into a reluctantly conventional chaperone.

The gentlemen on the east who supplied most of the comedy element, and did it with a whole-souled enjoyment that was contagious, were William Harrison, as count de Grival, and Allen Allensworth, as the earl of Tweenways. The Frenchman who could say "damn," opportunely and inopportunely, was a never failing source of delight, and the comical misfortunes of Tweenways were borne with undinching adherence to character by that noble lord, whose hereditary maladies of body and mind obtruded themselves upon the attention in a most amusing manner. Mr. Allensworth's was a difficult role and was exceedingly well handled.

Harvey Clapp essayed two roles and was qualified for each of them. He appeared first as the Rev. Mr. Minchin, and in the second act took the part of Filton, in which he pleased especially by the easy nonchalance of his manner.

The calm seriousness of Jay Cooke Howard, when, as Youatt, he brought down the house with a limber-limbed fling, was decidedly a hit, and he was encored enthusiastically.

After the second and third acts the audience testified to its great pleasure with the efforts of the players by long and persistent curtain calls.

IS NOT A SUFFRAGETTE.

Mrs. Leslie Carter Cannot See Good of "Votes for Women."

Mrs. Leslie Carter, the distinguished emotional actress, who is to be seen at the Lyceum tomorrow night in her new play, "Vasta Herne," by Edward Peple, has decided views on the question of suffrage for women; views perhaps which might not seem to square with the life of a woman who, for many years, has had to fight her own battles in the world.

"But I do not think that the fact that I have heard the call to the stage and answered it," says Mrs. Carter, "should prohibit me from saying that I do not believe any good can possibly come to the world or society by the extension of suffrage to women. It is all very well to claim that the advent of women in politics will purify politics, and on the face of it the argument seems plausible, but, practically, we know it is not so. In Denver, for instance, where women have the privilege of voting, we soon found that they were herded together and rushed to the polls at the instigation of the political bosses and their votes used to fasten evils upon the city.

"Success has come to me—a woman who has had to fight her own battle in the world—and it has not been an easy battle either—but, after all, I doubt much whether success is worth the price one pays for it. The things that should glorify a woman's life—a home, a home circle, children, neighbors, friends—all these must be given up, and when one looks back on life and realizes how empty life has been without these things, the taste of success is bitter in the mouth."

Why Do Men DRINK?

When you stop to think of the terrible results which come to men who indulge to excess in intoxicating beverages, well may you ask, why do men drink? The fact simply stated is "A victim of the Drink Habit can no more resist liquor than a man with ague can stop shivering." Drunkenness is a disease and must be treated as such. The wives and mothers of those who drink intoxicants will be glad to know there is a remedy which will restore their loved ones to lives of sobriety and usefulness. Many thousands of grateful women praise Orrine for its benefits. Orrine has been known to effect a cure after all other means failed.

Paxson & Rockefeller, 24 West Park street, Butte, Mont., tell about a case of drunkenness of twenty-five years' standing. Read what they say: "A gentleman well known to us, who has been a hard drinker for twenty-five years, stated he had been entirely cured by Orrine. We consider this a remarkable case, as this gentleman has been treated three different times at a well-known sanatorium. This and other cases that have come to our knowledge gives us confidence in your preparation, and it gives us pleasure to recommend it to those needing a reliable cure for intemperance."

Orrine is prepared in two forms. No. 1, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. Orrine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves. Orrine costs only $1 a box. The guarantee is in each box. Write for Free Orrine Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelopes) to Orrine Co., 457 Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. Orrine is for sale in this city by W. A. Abbett, 129 West Superior street, 920 East Second street, 101 West Fourth street.

They know Orrine is a reliable and efficacious remedy for drunkenness and they will not offer you a substitute.

IN LOVE WITH ROLE.

Offers Miss Van Studdiford Fine Opportunities for Use of Talent.

When Miss Grace Van Studdiford looks at her timepiece and realizes that within an hour she must don the habiliments of the opera singer, she smiles and quickens her pace towards the theater. The part of Ilma in "The Golden Butterfly" offers her new charms at each performance. From the time she enters the theater until the last note she sings in the grape harvest festival scene she feels that she is Ilma, the Hungarian opera singer.

Miss Van Studdiford has sung the leading roles in fifteen operas. She adores De Koven music; he seems to understand the nature of her voice, and has written to suit the temperament of the fair singer. There is one waltz song entitled "Do Not Forget Me," which is the motif throughout the opera, and those who have heard it declare it is De Koven at his best. No expense has been spured on costumes, scenery and electric effects in making it the most gorgeous of all American light operas. It will be presented here next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the same lavish manner as it was during the New York run.

The Demon of the Air
Is the germ of La Grippe, that, breathed in, brings suffering to thousands. Its after effects are weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. MORE LIVESTOCK IS BEING RAISED

The Farmers of Northwestern Minnesota Going in for Fine Quality of Stock.

Crookston, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the farmers and stockbreeders all over the country are as active in their efforts in getting into the horse raising, cattle, hog and sheep breeding as are the farmers in Northwestern Minnesota the price of horseflesh, pork, beef and mutton will take a decided fall as soon as the next crop of animals are ready for the market. Since last summer hundreds of thoroughbred hogs have been shipped into this section for breeding purposes, the steadily advancing market being very attractive. The same is true of the interest in beef cattle. There are hundreds of farmers who have bunches of yearlings and this year they will have still more calves growing into beef. For several years past the development of the dairy industry absorbed the attention of the farmers, who were convinced that diversification was necessary, but they have discovered that beef cattle should receive a portion of their attention at the prevailing prices, which meant substantial profits.

Horseflesh this spring has brought prices such as have not been reached for many years, and farmers who went out of the business altogether or to a great extent, are this year breeding all their mares and an exceptionally large number will be raised this spring.

FORM NEW IRISH LEAGUE.

O'Brien and Others Oppose the Nationalist Organization.

Cork, April 1.—A large and enthusiastic meeting at the city hall yesterday inaugurated the "All for Ireland league," the object of which, William O'Brien, M. P., said in the course of a long speech, was to enable the Irish people to choose between his program, which would reconcile Catholic and Protestant fellow countrymen, and John Redmond's, which set them against each other.

Mr. O'Brien characterized the Nationalist party as "a mere puppet, a detestable sectarian secret society, whose avowed purpose was to build up a system of Catholic supremacy."

Lords Dunraven, Rossmore and Castletown sent letters approving the movement.

LIQUOR MEN BARRED FROM BENEFIT FUND.

New York, April 1.—The appellate division of the supreme court has sustained the ruling of the supreme court on the Royal Arcanum, prohibiting members' enjoying benefit funds if engaged in the retail liquor business, or in the selling of intoxicants as a salesman.

AUTOMOBILIST MUST ANSWER FOR KILLING.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge H. D. Dickinson has denied the motion of Frederick H. Camp to set aside the indictment charging Camp with manslaughter in the second degree.

The trial of the case was set for April 10. Camp's automobile last September killed Mrs. D. R. Thompson.

One grand jury refused to indict him, and his attorney made the point that when one jury had refused to act another grand jury could not indict. Judge Dickinson holds that this rule is not applicable where no-bills are not returned.

A Blessing to Humanity: Cured Anaemia.

MADAME JEANNE LEAURENT.

Madame Jeanne Leaurent Was Recently Completely Cured of a Severe Case of La Grippe by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey—Before This She Had Suffered Continually from Headaches and Anaemia, but They Have Entirely Left Her Since She Began the Use of This Great Medicine—She Recently Wrote:

"I wish to praise your precious tonic. For nearly three years I have been using it every day in a little milk and sugar, and it has given me great strength. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is certainly a benefit to humanity. It has cured me of a severe attack of La Grippe, and thanks to your product, I am able to continue at my avocations. Before I tried it I was troubled with headaches and anaemia, but I never have them now. I tell everybody about the value of your medicine, and I wish to thank you sincerely for having put so valuable a tonic in the hands of the people."—Madame Jeanne Leaurent, 24 West 91st St., New York, N. Y.

No medicine has stood the test for 50 years like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and always been found absolutely pure and full of good medicinal virtue. Men and women in all walks of life join in singing its praises as the true elixir of life, which invigorates body and brain and nerve.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and enjoy perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and cure of consumption, penumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma, malaria, low fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakening, diseased conditions, if taken as directed. It is prescribed by doctors and recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

If in need of advice, write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y., stating your case fully. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable illustrated medical booklet, containing rare common sense rules for health, which you cannot afford to be without, and some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from patients, old and young, overjoyed by their good fortune, who have been cured and benefited by the use of this great medicine and who continue to enjoy good health. It is sold IN SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct. $1.00 per large bottle.

TOWER NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

Former Ambassador Is Suggested as Senator Penrose's Candidate.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 1.—It is said that Senator Penrose, in order to get a first-class grip on the governorship for the next four years, is extremely anxious to bring about the nomination of his good personal and political friend, Charlemagne Tower of Philadelphia, to succeed Governor Stuart. To land Tower, a Philadelphia man, on the ticket when the nomination by party custom should go to the western end of the state, may look like something of a difficult task, and the Penrose hopes are said to be based largely on the prospect of a snarl among the Westerners.

His object seems to be to let further strife develop between Speaker John F. Cox of Allegheny, John K. Tener of Washington county and Senator William E. Crowe of Fayette county and Lieutenant Governor Robert S. Murphy of Johnstown.

When the western candidates become sufficiently at odds and block each other off, Penrose can step forward with his friend Tower of Philadelphia as a compromise candidate and demand his nomination for the sake of harmony in the organization.

Senator Penrose is said to be especially antagonistic to any movement for the nomination of a Republican like Judge Nathaniel Ewing of Fayette county or State Treasurer John O. Sheatz of Philadelphia.

MAKING LONG TRIP.

Canton, Ohio, April 1.—Ira Rank, former Cantonian, and now a merchant prince, is trudging alone 1,000 miles through Artic snows behind a dog-sled, finishing the first lap of a 5,000-mile journey from his home, in Nome City, Alaska, to Canton, to wed his sweetheart of twenty years ago. She is Miss Grace Peyher, a school teacher.

Rank began his journey over a month ago. In that time he has not been heard from. Rank is expected to arrive in Canton some time in April. After the wedding he will return with his wife to Alaska, where, as head of the United States Mercantile company, he has grown rich.

The friendship between Rank and Miss Peyher began when they started to school together. Rank made a fortune in fur trading after giving up gold digging. He went to Alaska a poor man.

Blind Author of Famous Hymns Celebrates Her Birthday.

During Her Life Fanny Crosby Has Written 8,000 Songs.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 1.—A wee wisp of a wrinkled woman, so small as to be almost a dwarf, sitting in a tiny chair, turning up to you sightless eyes that are concealed by the dark glass of old-fashioned square spectacles—that is Fanny Crosby, the best-known hymn-writer now living, who Thursday of last week celebrated the 90th anniversary at her home in this city.

Such a humble fountain for world-girdling streams of influence! Aside from her blindness, Fanny Crosby—or, to give her full and proper name, Mrs. Jane Crosby Van Alstyne—would not attract a second glance, except for her diminutiveness. She looks like the simplest of old-fashioned homekeeping women. Only her smile redeems her face from great plainness. She is not literary in the accepted sense; does not care for or talk the shop of writerfolk; is not brilliant in conversation, and her prose writings are commonplace.

A natural aptitude for versification, amounting to genius, wedded to an intensely religious spirit, has given this woman, who has been blind since infancy, a singular power in expressing the deepest religious emotions of the great mass of Christian people. Nobody within a century has written so many hymns that are universally popular. One of the mainstays of all collections of Gospel songs, her work is also found in the dignified hymnals of the most fastidious denominations.

Her Favorite Hymn.

Which, of the more than 8,000 hymns that have come from her fertile brain and glowing heart, is really the most famous it would be hard to say. Assuredly she has written the favorite hymn of myriads of persons, the choice ranging through a wide variety of her work. She herself prefers "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Others choose "Rescue the Perishing," "All the Way My Savior Leads Me," "Only a Step to Jesus," "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Savior," "Jesus, Keep Me Near the Cross," "To the Work, Blessed Assurance, I Am Thine, O Lord," "Only a Beam of Sunshine," "We Shall Know Each Other There," "Just a Word for Jesus," "Saved by Grace," "Nearer the Cross," "In Thy Cleft," "O Rock of Ages," "Hold Thou My Hand," "Jesus Is Calling," "My Savior First of All," "Never Say Good-Bye," "What a Gathering," "We Are Going, We Are Going."

The amazing extent of the successful writings of this little blind woman is almost incredible. The many well-known hymns cited afford only a glimpse of the character of her work. Hymn-writing is notoriously ill paid, and, doubtless, many of the 8,000 hymns which she has produced to the order of publishers were pot-boilers. Others were inspired by the moods of her singularly emotional nature.

It will be noticed that Fanny Crosby's hymns are distinctively personal. They have to do chiefly with two major subjects, the personality of Jesus Christ and the glories of heaven. Both are blended in a hymn which has become universally popular, and has special significance when the blindness of the author is borne in mind. It is called "Saved by Grace" and runs:

"Some day the silver cord will break,
And I no more as now shall sing;
But, O the joy when I shall wake
Within the palace of the King!

"And I shall see Him face to face
And tell the story—saved by grace;
And I shall see Him face to face
And tell the story—saved by grace.

"Some day my earthly house will fall,
I cannot say how soon 'twill be;
But this I know—my All in All
Has now a place in heav'n for me.

"Some day when fades the golden sun
Beneath the rosy tinted west,
My blessed Lord shall say, 'Well done!'
And I shall enter into rest.

"Some day—till then I'll watch and wait,
My lamp all trimmed and burning bright,
That when my Savior ope's the gate,
My soul to Him may take its flight."

Sung by Millions.

There is probably not a Sunday school in creation that does not sing Fanny Crosby's hymns at some time in every year. Undoubtedly millions of persons sing them every Sunday. Her words have become fixed upon the minds of youth everywhere, along with their earliest religious memories. There is not a preacher on earth who has wielded a tithe of her influence.

Wherever missionaries have gone, there they have carried the influence of Fanny Crosby. Translations of her songs may be heard weekly in the kraals of South Africa, in Japanese Sunday schools, Chinese churches, under trees of India where Christians are gathered; among the fellaheen of Egypt, the boys and girls of Turkey, and the brown-skinned descendants of South Sea Island cannibals.

The outreach of this simple-minded, old-fashioned, saintly little woman appeals to the imagination. Hundreds of thousands of persons prize her words who never heard of the Declaration of Independence, or the plays of Shakespeare, or Homer's Iliad, or Kiplings' Recessional. She is a universal force.

Born in Putnam county, New York, on March 24, 1820, she lost her sight through the application of a hot poultice, which destroyed the optic nerves. At the age of fifteen she entered the New York Institution for the Blind. Twelve years here as a pupil were followed by eleven years as a teacher; it was in this period that she acquired her vocabulary and what technical literary skill she possesses. While a pupil she had often read original verses on public occasions, and once appeared with a deputation before the house and senate at Washington to plead, in verse, for the education of the blind. She came into contact with many distinguished men, about whom she now delights to talk. In 1844, 1849 and 1858 she published collections of verses. Since then her work has appeared in collections of religious song.

Her First Hymn.

In 1858 Miss Crosby was married to Alexander Van Alstyne, a fellow pupil at the institution, and a music teacher. He died in 1902. The first of the long series of hymns that were destined to make Fanny Crosby famous was written in 1864 for William B. Bradbury, the hymn being:

"We are going, we are going
To the home beyond the skies."

Since then she has co-operated with most of the well-known religious composers, Ira D. Sankey being an especial friend. All sorts of pen names have been signed to her work by the hymn-book makers, so that her immense output cannot be fully recognized.

The stories of men and women whose lives these songs have affected—men saved from suicide, prodigals restored to their families, etc.—are, of course, legion. Many of them the author has herself heard when attending religious meetings, as she used to do frequently.

The spirit of Easter gladness has always marked this sunshiny saint. She believes her blindness a blessing. "If I had not been deprived of sight, I should never have received so good an education, nor have cultivated so fine a memory, nor have been able to do good to so many people."

THE RELATION BETWEEN BAD TEETH AND CRIME.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 1.—That bad teeth play an important part in the making of criminals was the theory advanced by Dr. W. A. Evans, health commissioner of Chicago, who addressed the dental convention which held its closing session here. The convention was called to institute a national campaign for the better care of teeth among school children.

Dr. Evans declared that the physical and moral conditions of any individual are closely allied and that faulty teeth in children meant imperfect digestion, with consequent detriment to their morals. He urged the importance of the dentition of school children being strictly watched.

As the first move in the campaign which has been started, seven permanent clinics were established in Cleveland for the treatment of school children. Any child whose parents cannot afford to pay the regulation fees will be treated free on an indorsement by its teacher. A promise of President Taft's active support to the movement was given by Dr. C. W. Wille of Washington, who had been delegated by the president to represent him.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The St. Paul Dispatch tells a rather startling story of how a group of self-appointed political mentors of the public has kindly volunteered to conserve the senate of the Minnesota legislature, and thereupon has "gone and done it." With the thought in mind that there must be in the next senate men big enough to solve the problems presented by the reapportionment, good roads and county option movements, these benevolent gentlemen have selected the names of certain individuals for whom the voters of all but eight of the senatorial districts are invited—why not say, commanded?—to cast their ballots. However, the gentlemen who have saved the voters the trouble of deciding in each of these districts what man is best qualified to represent them, do not care to reveal their modest identities to the public, so the public probably must resign itself to the uncomfortable necessity of letting them go unthanked. To be sure, one of them is quoted as saying:

"Having the best interests of the state at heart, with no selfish motives actuating us, we prepared a tentative list of candidates for the state senate."

Here is the list:

First—O. B. Nelson of Houston county.
Second—John Booth, banker, Winona.
Third—Lytle O. Cook, Kellogg.
Fourth—
Fifth—S. A. Nelson, Lanesboro.
Sixth—Lyman D. Baird or George Hormel, Austin.
Seventh—
Eighth—Thomas E. Cashman, Clinton Falls.
Ninth—Will Moran, Albert Lea.
Tenth—John Moonan, Waseca.
Eleventh—Charles Benedict, Mankato.
Twelfth—F. E. Putnam, Blue Earth.
Thirteenth—C. J. Swendsen, St. James.
Fourteenth—H. E. Hanson, Windom.
Fifteenth—S. B. Bedford, Rushmore.
Sixteenth—E. H. Canfield, Luverne.
Seventeenth—Marcus Lauritzen or J. N. Johnson, Canby.
Eighteenth — Jacob F. Jacobson, Madison.
Nineteenth—Frank Clague, Lamberton.
Twenty-first—A. A. Poehler, Henderson.
Twenty-second — John Holmberg, Renville county.
Twenty-third—March of Litchfield.
Twenty-fourth—
Twenty-fifth—Charles Klein, Chaska.
Twenty-sixth—Julius Coller, Shakopee.
Twenty-seventh—Harry Wels, Le Sueur.
Twenty-eighth—D. K. Chase, Faribault.
Twenty-ninth—W. H. Putnam, Red Wing.
Thirtieth—Bert Schaller, Hastings.
Thirty-first—
Thirty-second—J. Adam Bede, Pine City.
Thirty-third—G. W. Rodenberg, St. Paul.
Thirty-fourth—T. J. Greene, St. Paul.
Thirty-fifth—John C. Hardy, St. Paul.
Thirty-sixth—E. S. Durment, St. Paul.
Thirty-seventh—Joseph M. Hackney, St. Paul.
Thirty-eighth—J. T. McGowan, Minneapolis.
Thirty-ninth—James T. Elwell, Minneapolis.
Fortieth—William Dwinnell, Minneapolis.
Forty-first—George P. Wilson or W. D. Washburn, Jr., Minneapolis.
Forty-second—Manley L. Fosseen, Minneapolis.
Forty-third—Carl Wallace, Minneapolis.
Forty-fourth—
Forty-fifth—R. C. Dunn, Princeton.
Forty-sixth—Frank Swanson, Cokato.
Forty-seventh—Alvah Eastman, St. Cloud.
Forty-eighth—A. D. Polk, Brainerd.
Forty-ninth—George St. Clair, Jr., Virginia.
Fiftieth—T. W. Hugo, Duluth.
Fifty-first—C. A. Congdon, Duluth.
Fifty-second—
Fifty-third—James Johnson, Bertha.
Fifty-fourth—
Fifty-fifth—L. O. Thorpe, Willmar.
Fifty-sixth—Ray G. Farrington, Ortonville.
Fifty-seventh—Ward Stone, Morris.
Fifty-eighth—Claus J. Gunderson, Alexandria.
Fifty-ninth—Elmer Adams, Fergus Falls.
Sixtieth—Frank H. Peterson, Moorhead.
Sixty-first—A. L. Hanson, Norman county.
Sixty-second—A. D. Stephens, Crookston.
Sixty-third—B. E. Sundberg, Kennedy.

The eight districts omitted from this very interesting list are those in which the makers of the slate were unable to decide that any one man dominated, and in these districts, consequently, the voters must go to the bother of picking a candidate themselves.

An examination of the list will lead the reader to the conclusion that the slatemakers merely sought to amuse themselves in an idle moment. Take the case of John Booth of Winona. Mr. Booth is a banker and a man of the highest standing, but he doesn't take the least interest in office-getting. "Jake" Jacobson displacing Dale would be much like substituting an erratic hurricane for a smoothly running, well balanced legislative machine. D. K. Case of Faribault would as soon think of running for the state senate as he would for dog catcher, and G. W. Rodenberg can hardly hope for a nomination for the senate in St. Paul. Carl Wallace in Calhoun's place would be an outcome pleasing to Mr. Wallace, but Calhoun's grip on the job is somewhat tenacious. And all the way down the line similar inconsistencies are apparent.

Still, it's an interesting list, and if the voter didn't intervene, the next legislature, composed of this material, would provide an extremely interesting session.

The measure of the reasonableness of the selections is strikingly shown in the St. Louis county suggestions. Mr. St. Clair has not been heard of at any time in connection with the senatorship. Mr. Hugo was mentioned, but he has withdrawn his name from consideration, and Mr. Congdon has had no intention of seeking election to the upper house. However, it is understood that he has decided to become a candidate for the house.

Another step was taken toward the thorough organization of the Republicans of Duluth last night in Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue and Superior street, when the West End Republican club elected its delegates to the central organization and also elected these officers: President, J. W. Cummings; vice president Alex Kennedy; secretary, J. W. Allen; treasurer, Martin Rude; sergeant-at-arms Joseph Burdash. The central organization delegates are: Sixth ward—Martin Rude, C. L. Hood, Alex Kennedy, Stephen Hill and Anton Horngren; Seventh ward—R. D. Haven, S. H. Eckman and Joseph Cummings. Addresses were made by Former Mayor Haven, Alderman Peter Bergstrom and others.

At a meeting of the West Duluth Republican club in the Commercial clubrooms tomorrow evening Alderman L. A. Barnes will move that the by-laws of the organization be amended to repeal or modify that clause which provides that the club shall not indorse any candidate until after the primaries have been held. Mr. Barnes desires to make it possible for the club to give its official indorsement in advance of the primaries. At this meeting the club will select seven delegates to the Republican central club of the city, five from the Eighth and two from the Seventh.

The club women of St. Paul have decided that the morals of politicians are sadly in need of investigation and they propose to do the investigating. A vigilance committee of the Fourth district federation will take up the work at once and there will be no let-up until the municipal campaign in the capital city is over. This committee is composed of women who are members of different clubs in the city, and it is the desire of the federation to bring about the election to public office of men of moral worth without regard to any other consideration. Undoubtedly the move is welcomed by all the candidates.

H. O. Bjorge, who wants to succeed Steenerson, is not letting the grass grow under his feet. The press of the Ninth district gives frequent chunks of information about where he is hitting the high spots in his little journeys to the homes of the glad hand. The Lake Park man apparently is very much in earnest. However, Martin Wildsen of Hendrum says that he has gone over the ground in his locality, and is sure Steenerson can beat Bjorge there two to one.

"It would serve the Minnesota Republican party right if the apportionment of delegates to the state convention was based on the Jacobson vote instead of the Taft vote," declares the Mankato Free Press, which goes on to say that seventy-six votes is all Hennepin county is entitled to, anyway. A convention of 1,913 delegates, in the opinion of the Free Press, is large enough for all practical purposes. The Mankato paper gives no consideration to the five delegates at large from each county, however, and that is rather an important consideration.

Since 1874 the late Axel F. Nordin, whose funeral was held yesterday at Willmar, had been continuously an active participant in the political affairs of his county, district and state. He was suddenly stricken with apoplexy when seated in full view of the audience at a church debating society's meeting and died instantly. His tragic taking away deprives Kandiyohi county of one of its most striking personalities. It is said that he had a more intimate personal acquaintance with the people of the county than had any other resident of Kandiyohi. Some of the offices held by the late judge were: clerk of court, assistant secretary of state and judge of probate. He had served in the latter capacity since 1899. In 1886 Judge Nordin was an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination of secretary of state.

It is reported from Isanti county that opposition to the renomination of Senator C. J. Swanson of Pridley, Anoka county, is likely to appear soon, but the identity of the opposition is not disclosed. With the Forty-fifth district already overrun with candidates for the house, it might contribute something to the safety of the electorate if each of the four counties should offer a senatorial sacrifice. The fact that the hint of opposition to Swanson is printed in C. H. MacKenzie's Onamia Breeze may mean that MacKenzie, boomed for the house, prefers the senate.

As reflected by the country press, the Bemidji and St. Paul development congresses have had the effect of inducing many men who habitually talk of men in politics to talk now of measures rather than of the personal ambitions of this or that man. Good reads is a topic that is discussed widely and intelligently, according to the observant editors, and reapportionment is a never-failing subject of earnest conference whenever and wherever men get together. All this seems to indicate that candidates who are wise will locate the band wagon that the people will drag.

Agents of the state anti-saloon league are arranging for an anti-saloon field day for Isanti county at Cambridge on Sunday, April 24. This style of campaign will be carried on by the league until the state campaign closes, it is said.

Going the rounds of the state press is an interesting definition of the difference between a progressive Republican and a standpatter which may be of interest to some politicians who are inclined to standpattism. Judge S. F. Prouty, candidate for representative from an Iowa district, is responsible for this definition:

"A progressive Republican is a man who has brains enough to figure out what is right and courage enough to stand by it. A standpatter is a man who stands by whatever is right or wrong, but what is regular. He is influenced more by patronage than by principle. Ducats have more weight than documents."

SUPERIOR OF OBLATES COMING

Archbishop Dontenwuil, Head of Catholic Order, to Visit Duluth.

Archbishop Dontenwuil, superior general of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, the order of Catholic priests, which has charge of the parish of St. Jean Baptiste in the West end, will be in Duluth tomorrow as a guest of the members of the order here.

Archbishop Dontenwuil has just closed up the affairs of his episcopate at Vancouver, B. C., and he is en route to Rome to take up his residence as head of the order, the rules requiring that the superior general live in the papal city.

Archbishop Dontenwuil was for ten years bishop of Vancouver. A little over a year ago, he went to Rome to attend the meeting of the general chapter and he was honored by election as superior general. He took up his new duties immediately, but came to America about three months ago to close up the affairs of his episcopate. Having completed that duty, he will travel for about two or three months through the United States and Canada visiting the parishes in charge of the order and then he will sail for Rome. He comes here from Winnipeg.

THE IRREPARABLE LOSS.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "What has happened to me?" asked the patient when he had recovered from the effects of the ether.

"You were in a trolley car accident," said the nurse, "and it has been found necessary to amputate your right hand."

"Cheer up," said the nurse, patting him on the head, "you'll soon learn to get along all right with your left hand."

"Oh, it wasn't the loss of the hand itself that I was thinking of," sighed the victim. "But on the forefinger was a string that my wife tied around it to remind me to get something for her this morning, and now I'll never be able to remember what it was."

OLD FRIEND OF BREWER'S

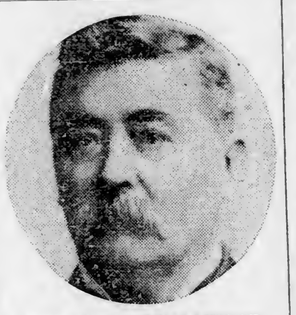

Duluth Man Was Intimate With the Late Associate Justice.

Ran for Office on Same Ticket With Him in Kansas.

Interesting personal recollections of the late Associate Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, whose funeral will be held tomorrow at Leavenworth, Kan., were given yesterday by Capt. W. H. Smallwood, who was an intimate friend and associate of Justice Brewer in the early days of Kansas statehood.

"I was greatly shocked to hear of his death," said Capt. Smallwood, "because I had hoped that he would be spared for a long time to come, as he was of such a long-lived family. Justice Brewer was a nephew of the famous Field brothers, whose sister was his mother. If it were not for the fact that there is a sickness in my family that prevents, I would be in Leavenworth tomorrow to attend the funeral of my old friend."

It was in 1859 that Brewer went West to Kansas City, Mo., where he practiced law for about a year. Then he moved to Leavenworth. He was then about 22 years old, and a year after he took up his residence where he was elected probate judge. Those were the opening days of the Civil war and during the time he served as judge of probate, Brewer also assumed the duties of county superintendent of schools. Capt. Smallwood's recollection is that he also had to bear the burdens of another office, also. Within a short time he was elected criminal judge, and when only 27 year old he took a place on the circuit bench, serving continuously until 1870, when he was elected a justice of the supreme court of the state, at the same time that Capt. Smallwood was elected secretary of the state. It was about this time that Capt. Smallwood's close association with Brewer began and their friendship continued until death removed the distinguished jurist from the scene of his activities and rapidly succeeding triumphs.

When Brewer became a justice of the Kansas supreme court he was 33 years old. Both he and Capt. Smallwood were re-elected to their respective offices at the following election. The later was only 29 years old when he became secretary of state the first time.

Capt. Smallwood said that in those early days Justice Brewer was recognized as a brilliant lawyer and a most profound student of the law, and he was especially the favorite of older members of the judiciary, but also was highly esteemed by the general public. It was in 1884 that he was appointed to the United States circuit bench, and in 1889 came his promotion to the supreme tribunal of the nation.

Capt. Smallwood had frequently met Justice Brewer since the early days in Kansas, and recently has looked forward with much pleasure to seeing him in Washington. When Justice Brewer was in Duluth in 1908, the jurist and the Duluth attorney went for a long walk and talked much of the old days. When Capt. Smallwood called to see him at his hotel, Justice Brewer said:

"When I look at you, Smallwood, it makes me feel old. It reminds me of how many years have passed since you and I were young men together in Kansas."

The jurist, Capt. Smallwood remarked, in youth had the appearance of being older than he really was, and in his later days, curiously, looked younger than his years.

BUSY ALONG BORBER LINE

Sawmills at Spooner Begin Operations Earlier Than Usual.

Sawmills at Spooner, Minn., have begun operations for the season earlier this year than ever before and business is booming in that vicinity, according to Albert Berg of that city, who is a guest at the St. Louis. Mr. Berg said that the Shevlin-Mathieu mill, the largest in the state, with a capacity of 35,000 feet a day, is running full blast, and across the river in Ontario the Rainey River Lumber company's plant also is in operation. Another mill, which is to have a capacity of about 200,000 feet a day, is being built by the Engler Lumber company of Iowa.

"Politics? We're all too busy to talk politics," said Mr. Berg, "and business is very good in general."

Mr. Berg, who is a former secretary of state, is in Duluth to attend the ceremonial tonight of Aad temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

A TYPE.

Martin W. Littleton, the eloquent New York lawyer and statesman, said at a recent dinner, apropos of the labor changes that he hopes to establish in the United States:

"I believe in a radical, go-ahead policy. These people who hold back, these ultra-conservatives, with their fear of paternalism and socialism and I don't know what bugaboos—well, they remind me of a man I once overtook, on a hot day, toiling up a steep hill on a bicycle.

"The man bore down on the pedals with all his might, his face was red, and the veins stood out on his forehead. As I overtook him, I saw that he had his brake on. Thinking, naturally, that this was accidental, I said:

"'Do you know you've got your brake on, there?'

"'Yes, I know it,' he man panted. 'I'm afraid the machine might go backward on me.'"

"Classy" Styles in Women's Suits Between $15.00 and $35.00!

MANY stores slight the fashion end in selecting suits to sell at $15.00 to $35.00—they seem to think that if the quality is fairly good—that is all the customer should expect. And in those stores—saleswomen are inclined to look pityingly on the thrifty little women who seek something out of the commonplace at moderate prices!

Not so here! We've dozens of fine styles at from $15.00 to $35.00—and each and every suit has its little style touches that make for "individuality." While we have larger stocks of the finer novelties than ever before—we have seen to it that at the same time our assortments of suits such as nine women out of ten want are superbly complete! Let our pleasant saleswomen show you why you should buy here! The suits speak for themselves.

The Stylish Suits at $22.50, $25 and $27.50.

A large line of suits in plain colors—such as navy, tan, reseda, olive, gray, etc., in imported serges—nifty styles; coats lined with changeable taffetas or Peau de Cygne.

New Shepherd Check Suits $18.50.

Semi-fitted 32-inch coats—with guaranteed linings—full kilted skirts—very smart. We can fit everybody. Very attractive—only $18.50.

$12.50, $15, $17.50 and up to $35.

You have read about these good garments in the magazines—they're the "Kenyon" make which New York's best dressers wear in both sun or rain—they are practical in any weather—and always smart!

Serges — Hopsacking — worsteds — or Moire, navy, tan, black, olive, cardinal, leather and gray — all are waterproof and very dressy!

Women's Smart Three-Quarter Coats.

Hats for the Very Particular! Very Becoming!

The difference in hat styles is unusually pronounced this season—so many stores are handling "factory hats" from the same factory, that it is very refreshing to come into a millinery department, such as ours where no "factory hats" are shown.

Moreover, all our Hats are "different," because we do not duplicate styles. Our artistic milliners are clever enough to originate or adapt styles to suit the individual.

This insures a becomingness usually possible only at high prices—but we find that the fine business coming to us in consequence of our more reasonable prices, fully compensate us for the smaller margin of profit on each hat!

New Large Shapes

Stunning styles which roll back from the face—much wanted—hard to find—very fine assortment here!

New Hats for Misses

Styles for the little ladies—ever so clever—chic as can be—prices moderate as they always are here!

WRITES OF WORLD WAR

Admiral Fournier in His Memories Paints Picture of Strife.

United States and Japan to Be Leaders in Big Struggle.

Paris, April 1.—Memoirs of Vice Admiral Fournier, commander of the Mediterranean squadron of the French navy, in which he discusses particularly the possibility of a war between the United States and Japan and the resultant danger of dragging all Europe into a conflict, have just been issued in book form. The memoirs already have caused something of a sensation in political and diplomatic circles.

Admiral Fournier accords the star role on the stage of international politics to the German emperor, not only in Europe, where the emperor is trying desperately to break the league of powers against him, but also indirectly as an influential factor in the relations between the United States and Japan.

America and Japan.

Admiral Fournier says it is useless to deny that there is a possibility of war between the United States and Japan as a result of popular irritation in America should Japan's demands or Japan's policies of absorption prove intolerable to America's excessive self-esteem or interests in the Far East.

These interests, the admiral adds, are antagonistic to those of Japan, which, pushed on by fate to expand in the Asiatic continent by conquest or diplomatic victory, seeks to become predominant in the very regions which the United States protects in supporting the integrity of China and the policy of the open door.

The admiral declares that Japan's great fear is that the friendly relations between the United States and China will culminate in an alliance, and thus, in the event of war, the United States would have a base of operations and general resources vastly superior to the Philippines. Japan's increased armaments, therefore, are explainable not as a menace to Russia but in preparation to combat, before it is too late, the peril contained in America's policies.

United States Navy.

Admiral Fournier thinks that the naval strength of the United States will one day not only exceed that of Japan, but probably will equal that of Great Britain, in spite of the effort of England to preserve her supremacy of the seas, and Japan's inferiority would oblige her ally, England, to come to her aid in the event of a conflict with the United States.

In case of a hostile coalition of the United States with the triple alliance, the admiral believes, France would be forced to supplement the forces of England, Japan and Russia. He doubts, however, that the German emperor, "although devoured by a desire to smash the league, and adopting a diplomacy as unscrupulous as that of the Iron Chancellor," would enter on the perilous venture of such a war, which would offer little chance of victory on sea or land.

Seared Into Pence.

"Without the intervention of Europe of the navies of the triple alliance in a way to help the American fleet at the moment it was seriously engaged in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the decisive superiority in that struggle," the vice admiral declared, "would rest with the forces of Japan and England. Under these conditions which spell defeat, the United States undoubtedly would resist the temptation to settle her differences with Japan by an appeal to arms."

Saved From the Grave.

"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix, of Clarksvill, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do any work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. Its the best medicine made for the throat and lungs." Obstinate coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, la grippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, hoarseness and whooping cough, yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. Try it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

WILL NOT LEAVE A POLE STANDING

Telephone Company Cleans Out All Overhead Wires in Central District.

During the summer every telephone pole belonging to the Bell company in the district between Sixth avenue west and Twenty-fourth avenue east and Superior and Fourth streets will be removed, and by fall there will not be a pole belonging to the company left standing in that district.

Last year the company removed about 200 poles, cleaning up this district with the exception of a few scattering poles on the avenues. These will be cut down this year.

The council and the members of the board of public works have been fighting for years to abate the telephone pole nuisance. The overhead wires not only increase the danger of accidents, but they make the work of the firemen much more difficult. The Bell company has met the council half way in the matter, and the city's orders have been carried out promptly.

Potato-Drying Plants.

Owing to the overproduction of potatoes in Germany several potato-drying plants are being operated, the process being somewhat similar to that of drying apples. One of the purest and most wholesome table beverages on the market today is Golden Grain Belt beer. Served at meal time it relieves fatigue that comes with overwork and overdoing, and builds up the entire system. "Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company."

Luery's Silk Petticoat Sale

begins tomorrow at 109 East Superior street. Silk petticoats, worth $5 and $6, while they last, only $2.98.

THREE SPEAKERS AT MEN'S MEETING

"America's Crying Need" Will Be the Topic Under Discussion.

There will be three speakers at the regular Sunday afternoon men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Dev. D. C. Dumble of Chicago, Gerritt Verkuyl of Appleton Wis., and R. F. Sulzer, Sunday school missionary for the state of Minnesota, will be the speakers.

The theme for the afternoon meeting will be "America's Crying Need."

There will be special music. Miss Myrtle Hobbs will sing a solo and several others will take part in the program.

WILL NOT TAKE MEN TO FIGHT MADRIZ.

New Orleans, La., April 1.—Following a conference with leading local supporters of the insurgent movement in Nicaragua, Gen. V. D. B. Gordon said last night he would make no further efforts to take an expedition from New Orleans to engage in continued warfare against Madriz.

Gen. Gordon, an American soldier of fortune who had command of a company of sharp shooters in Gen. Chamorro's army, came to New Orleans with the avowed purpose of recruiting forces and procuring arms and ammunition for the insurgent army.

Appealed to by the Madriz representatives here, the assistant United States attorney at New Orleans said that the matter of the proposed expedition might be laid before the federal jury. It also is understood that a strong petition for interference by the state department recently had been presented at Washington.

FIRST SESSION OF NEW SCHOOL

Duluth's Night School Has Large Attendance on Opening Night.

The first session of Duluth's new night school was held last night at the Central high school building. The class will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week.

Nearly thirty students have entered in the school and it is expected that soon the number will be swelled to nearly fifty as there are many who seem anxious to be admitted.

The school is free and is open to every one, but it was established particularly for those who come from foreign shores and wish to make faster progress in the language and customs of the country than they could make alone.

The number of people who have joined the class with the idea in mind of getting their naturalization papers, has surprised those in charge of the school.

The movement was started some months ago by the representatives of several charitable institutions, who saw the need of such a school in Duluth. The work will next year be made a part of the regular school system.

The classes are being taught by Miss Palmer, a normal school teacher.

STOPS OYSTER CULTURE.

Government Forbids Feeding Them on Brackish Water.

Washington, April 1.—Oysters can no longer be fed—or floated as it is called—in brackish water, before they are offered for sale. The department of agriculture has ordered the practice to stop at once. The order effects all the oyster trade in the United States and is of immense importance to dealers.

The oyster men maintain that the quality of the oyster is improved by the floating process. The department of agriculture, however, holds that to float an oyster after it is taken from its bed provides means for the oyster to take in contamination from the water and offers risk of typhoid.

Oyster men from the New Jersey beds came in an organization 200 strong to Washington a few days ago to protest against the order, claiming that its enforcement would mean their ruin.

TAFT TELLS WHY THE EAST RUNS CONGRESS.

Washington April 1.—President Taft in an address before the Ohio society of Washington last night pointed out that the dominating power of the Eastern states in congress lies in the fact that they keep men in office when they place them there.

His words created a mild stir. He contrasted the influence of the East in legislative affairs with that of the West, and attributed the supremacy of the former to the continuous service of legislative representatives.

IS THINNESS EMBARRASSING

Undoubtedly It Is to Many a Maiden and Youth—While Even Those Well Along in Years Prefer Well Rounded Figures.

Prescription Increases Weight.

A scrawny, gangling youth or maiden is almost invariably slighted, overlooked or ridiculed in any social gathering. There is something about a plump or well proportioned figure which attracts not only friendship, but love and adulation as well.

People with a proper amount of flesh are favored in all walks of life, while the thin are unblessed, unwelcome and frequently miserable for life. The difference lies in the power of the digestive functions and the ability of the blood and nerves to absorb and distribute over the body the nutrition extracted from the food eaten.

The thin person is abnormal and lacks the power to absorb and retain the flesh and fat elements which the gastric juices in the stomach and intestines should extract or separate from all kinds of food and drink.

A recent accidental discovery has proven that tincture cadomene when blended with certain other drugs, will add from one to three pounds of flesh per week during treatment, while the general health and strength also improves wonderfully.

Get in a half pint bottle, three ounces of essence of pepsin and three ounces of syrup of rhubarb; then add one ounce compound essence cardiol; shake and let stand two hours; then add one ounce tincture cadomene compound, (not cardamon). Shake well and take a teaspoonful before and after meals, drinking plenty of water between meals and when retiring.

MERCHANT ON TRIAL FOR TRIPLE SHOOTING.

Halifax, N. C., April 1.—Attracting wide attention throughout this state, owing to the prominence of the persons concerned, the trial of E. E. Powell, a Scotland Neck merchant, charged with the murder of Police Officer Charles W. Dunn of Scotland Neck on Friday, March 4, when he also shot and seriously wounded State Senator E. L. Travis and Assembleyman A. Paul Kitchin, brother of Governor Kitchin and Congressman Kitchin, began here yesterday in the superior court before Judge George H. Ward of Elizabeth City.

The case of the shooting, it is alleged, was the failure of Senator Travis to answer a letter in connection with a trial in which Powell's son was involved. At least 100 witnesses are expected to testify. Powell claims his mind was a perfect blank at the time of the shooting.

$5 and $6 Silk Petticoats $2.98

at Luery's Cloak and Suit House, 109 East Superior street.

Manages Fargo Paper.

Fargo, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Senator McArthur is the new manager of the Fargo Daily News, succeeding J. C. McAndress, who goes on the road.

Isanti Potato Market Dull.

Isanti, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A few Burbanks are being taken on the Isanti potato market at 15 cents per bushel, to fill orders, but the demand is very light and most of the buyers have left the market, being unable to pay the prices now being offered at the starch factory. The factory is now in complete operation with a large amount of potatoes being offered by farmers, and some good stock has been sent to the factory from the warehouses.

Worse Than Bullets.

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than the eczema L. W. Harriman, Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with, forty years. "But Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me when all else failed," he writes. Greatest healer for Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Burns, Cuts, Wounds, Bruises and Piles. 25c at all druggists.

Powell, a Scotland Neck merchant, charged with the murder of Police Officer Charles W. Dunn of Scotland Neck on Friday, March 4, when he also shot and seriously wounded State Senator E. L. Travis and Assemblyman A. Paul Kitchin, brother of Governor Kitchin and Congressman Kitchin, began here yesterday in the superior court before Judge George H. Ward of Elizabeth City.

The case of the shooting, it is alleged, was the failure of Senator Travis to answer a letter in connection with a trial in which Powell's son was involved. At least 100 witnesses are expected to testify. Powell claims his mind was a perfect blank at the time of the shooting.

Isanti Potato Market Dull.

Isanti, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A few Burbanks are being taken on the Isanti potato market at 15 cents per bushel, to fill orders, but the demand is very light and most of the buyers have left the market, being unable to pay the prices now being offered at the starch factory. The factory is now in complete operation with a large amount of potatoes being offered by farmers, and some good stock has been sent to the factory from the warehouses.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

SUFFERING FROM ECZEMA

New Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases.

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvellous skin remedy known as poslam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and proceeds to heal at once. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors, scaly scalp and every form of itch yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, muddy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when poslam is applied, the complexion being cleared over night.

All druggists, including the Lyceum Pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's in Duluth, Holmberg's in Superior, keep the 50-cent size (for minor troubles) as well as the regular $2 jar.

But no one is even asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining a sample package, which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

PARIS PRIZE FAT MAN DIES.

Was a Magistrate and Had to Be Wheeled to Work.

Paris, April 1.—A Paris newspaper claims for a magistrate who has just died in the provinces that he was the fattest and heaviest man in the world. Be this as it may, it states that he weighed 567 pounds; that he was so stout that he could neither walk nor get into a carriage, and that he proceeded to and from his office in a two-wheeled car, which was lowered, with the shafts in the air, so as to enable him to place his back on the floor and to be raised after desperate exertion. A strong horse was then harnessed to the car and so the magistrate made the little journeys in a recumbent posture. It is added that a window had to be demolished to get the coffin out of the house for the funeral, and as no hearse could have met the emergency, a huge and very solid cart had to be used to take it to the church and the cemetery.

LIKE ENGLISH COMMONS.

Washington, April 1.—Plans have been drawn and all preparations made for a physical transformation of the house of representatives. All that is lacking to set an army of workmen on the job is the final fall of the speaker's gavel.

The house is to be made smaller; the desks of the members are to be replaced by benches, after the fashion in the British house of commons, and an effort will be made to let more light into the gloomy chambers. To accomplish all this, congress appropriated $550,000 three years ago, but up to the present year sufficient time has not been given the workmen to get at the task.

Replacing the desks of the members on the floor will be little narrow strips, or shelves, only wide enough to hold a small book. The comfortable swivel chairs they now occupy will make way for long, hard benches.

Another and very noticeable change will be the installation of a large table in front of the house directly before the speaker's desk, for the accommodation of the gentlemen in charge of a bill, or for any one who for any reason may expect to occupy the floor for a considerable length of time and wish to fortify himself with documents or volumes from the library.

Appendicitis

A Simple Method That Is Always Efficacious—Trial Package Free.

It has only been a few years since it was discovered that a surgical operation would cure appendicitis; in fact, it has been but a short time since the disease was discovered and named.

Whenever there is an inflamed condition of the appendix, caused by impacted faeces in the small cavity opening into the intestine, you then have appendicitis.

The older doctors used to call this inflammation of the bowels, and were puzzled to know the cause.

Even now, with all the knowledge we have of the disease, no medical man can tell you why we should have an appendix, why we find it where it is, or what are its functions, if it has any.

Physicians have until recently recommended an operation, but now, as it is known that it is caused by indigestion, or dyspepsia, a cure without an operation is assured.

Where the patient is treated with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the unhealthy conditions prevailing rapidly disappear, the stomach and intestines are placed back in their normal condition, every organ of the body operates as it should, and the inflammation is reduced and the operation is avoided.

Conscientious physicians, who are looking after the best interests of their patients, will always keep a supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy in their office, where in cases of sudden attacks of indigestion they can relieve the patient at once.

There is no record of a case of appendicitis where the stomach and bowels were in a healthy condition and properly digested the food from meal to meal.

No better advice can be given to any one who has attacks of indigestion, or who has been threatened with appendicitis, than to tell him to go to the drug store, pay 50 cents, and take home a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Whenever heartburn, gas in stomach or bowels, heart disease or stomach troubles, sour eructations, acidity or fermentation are present, act at once. Take a dose of the Tablets and get relief as soon as possible.

At all druggists—50 cents.

Send us your name and adress today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SHOULD BE IN THE BANK

American Habit of Carrying Money in Your Pockets Decried.

Maj. Higginson's Hints for Those Hit By High Prices.

Boston, Mass., April 1.—Another critic of American extravagance is Maj. Henry L. Higginson, Boston's multimillionaire philanthropist, who has already read many lessons of economy to rich and poor alike, one of the most often quoted of which was his denunciation of the American habit of carrying in the pocket a big wad of bills which ought to be at work in the bank.

Maj. Higginson, in a recent address before the Warren Avenue Baptist church of this city, told how in early manhood he got his start by buying the lower priced cuts of meat at a time when his neighbors would eat only the most expensive cuts. He brought out the fact, not generally known regarding one of New England's wealthiest men, that after the Civil war he went with two other young idealists to Georgia and bought a cotton plantation. The idea was to show the negro how to raise cotton. As none of the young men knew anything about the subject themselves they were soon found completely stranded. The worms ate up the cotton and creditors ate up the capital so that after three years the Northerners returned home to look for jobs.

Hadn't a Dollar.

Maj. Higginson at that time hadn't a dollar in the world nor could his father help him out. During the years in which with great difficulty and very hard work he established the fortunes of the now famous banking house of Lee, Higginson & Co., he practiced just those economies of household management which were considered mean and niggardly in the extravagant era following the Civil war, but which are today regarded more favorably by most sensible Americans. Although the fireless cookers and other apparatus for treating the cheaper cuts of meat had not then been developed he and his wife found it possible to utilize portions which most families of that time discarded. Nor did their health and happiness suffer in consequence.

"And by the way," comments Maj. Higginson, "in speaking to one of the leading senators about the present high cost of living, I said one could find in the average family's swill bucket an explanation of much of the trouble. I am firmly convinced that the fate of any man or woman rests for the most part in the hands of that man or woman."

Speaking of present problems, the major expresses the belief that a great deal of the trouble of high prices comes from the farmers. He observes that they are now prosperous and rich "and they are holding up the prices."

The iniquity of carrying money in your pockets Maj. Higginson still insists upon. It is one of the many American extravagances that have brought about the present era of uncomfortable prosperity. "If a man," he says, "goes around with money in his pocket he is inviting some one to hit him on the head. Banks, good substantial banks, have been built and managed efficiently for the deposits of people who work and they are the proper places for keeping your money as it accumulates. Money in the bank works not only for you but for your neighbors as well, enriching the whole community. Never be caught with more than $10 in your pocket. It is economic robbery to hold onto a big wad of bills."

As supporter of the Boston Symphony orchestra and one of the greatest benefactors of Harvard university and various causes, Maj. Higginson is by general admission Boston's most useful citizen as well as one of its richest.

BAD INDIAN DEAD.

Chief Joe Capilano Made Trouble in British Columbia.

Victoria, B. C., April 1.—Chief Joe Capilano is dead. He was, by constant assertion of that place and eventual recognition by all the tribe of this province, chief of all Indian nations of the Canadian Pacific coast. He had acquired just sufficient white man's learning to be dangerous and was known as the most persistent and dangerous native agitator in the country.

His latest adventure in intrigue was the abortive uprising on the Upper Skeena immediately after the closing of navigation last October. The Upper Skeena tribes had many months before come to him for advice and had paid him $4,000 for his counsel. He told them that the white man had no defensible title to their ancient territories, never having won them by conquest or got them by purchase or treaty.

The native inhabitants were strictly cautioned, however, to make no hostile move until the winter had sealed the waterways by which the present access is gained to the country in disturbance. The white men got a police force through, however, although with great difficulty, and the rebillion was nipped before it was fairly begun.

Not long ago Chief Joe Capilano headed a delegation of Siwash chiefs, who visited the king at his palace of Buckingham, and laid before his majesty what they contended to be their rights as to hunting and fishing.

Capilano was the convenor of several notable conventions of the coast Indians and the Indians of the near interior, upon all of whom he impressed his strong personality and with them exercised great influence. His death was due to tuberculosis of the throat and upper lungs had been for some time anticipated.

THRIFTY BRAUNGART.

Plowed Up Cemetery, as He Planned to Raise Vegetables.

Lancaster, Penn., April 1.—Moved by the high cost of living, Carl Braungart, keeper of the Russian-Hebrew cemetery, thriftily set about cultivating the ground as a solution of the stressful problem.

He is now arguing the step with the offended law forbidding the desecration of burial grounds.

Braungart planned to raise a crop of corn and another of potatoes, and, in order that they should be of bumper proportions, he did not confine himself to the ground spaces between the graves, but plowed the mounds also.

Then he was prosecuted.

HAGGARD TALKS ON AFRICA.

Famous Novelist Gives Bit of Unwritten History of Transvaal.

London, April 1.—At a meeting of the Booksellers Provident institution, held at Stationers' hall, Rider Haggard gave an account of some of his experiences in South Africa in the years 1875-79.

Mr. Haggard said that he was one of the very few survivors of that band which accompanied Sir Theophilus Shepstone at the end of 1876 with a commission to annex the Transvaal if necessary. Nothing had been more misrepresented than that annexation. If it had not taken place the land would have been swept by the Zulu impis. He remembered himself sending a messenger to Cetewayo telling that chief that he must not dare to lift a finger against the land, because it belonged to the queen of England.

At that moment Cetewayo had his armies all along the border, ready to rush the land and put man, woman and child to the assegai. It was only the proclamation issued by Sir Theophilus Shepstone that stopped, perhaps, the most fearful slaughter of white folks by savages that the world has ever known. Rider Haggard also said that it was he, who as a lad, hoisted the British flag over the Transvaal on the queen's birthday in 1877. He had lived to see that flag come down, and he was glad to say that he had lived to see it go up again. There seemed now to be rising upon the African world the sun of peace, but if he knew anything of Africa it would never be long without some trouble or other. As far as the knowledge of man went there had always been trouble, from the plagues of Egypt downwards.

SAVED FROM ALCOHOL.

Eight Years a Slave: Now Free.

A report has just come to the White Ribbon Remedy Co. of Boston, from a lady in New York state, that her husband, practically a drunkard for eight years, has been entirely freed from the alcohol habit for over a year, due entirely in her opinion to the use of White Ribbon Remedy. White Ribon Remedy is odorless and tasteless and may be given with or without the knowledge of the patient. Contains absolutely no habit-forming drugs. $1.00 per box, or $5.00 for six boxes. At the E. M. Tredway store, 108 West Superior street, or direct from the White Ribbon Remedy Co., Boston, Mass.

ALDRICH SAYS CONGRESS MAY ADJOURN MAY 15.

Washington, April 1.—Congress may be able to adjourn May 15, according to the belief of Senator Aldrich. The senate leader issued his prophecy on leaving the White House, where he conferred with President Taft on pending legislation in which the administration is interested. Several influential members of congress believe it too optimistic owing to opposition to certain features of the administration program.

Tomorrow at Luery's, 109 East Superior Street

choice of 250 silk petticoats, all colors, $5 and $6 values, only $2.98.

TROUSSEAU BUYING.

If the Engagement Is Broken the Girl's Parents Lose.

New York, April 1.—Money expended by the parents of a bride for her trousseau cannot be collected from the bridegroom if he breaks the engagement.

The legal principle was laid down by the appellate division of the supreme court in allowing a verdict of $2,000 won by Miss Mamie Shea in a breach of promise suit against Nicholas Pappas, a wealthy merchant.

Miss Shea's mother testified in the trial that she had expended $50 for corsets and lingerie for her daughter in anticipation of her using them after the wedding. This expense, she declared, would not have been necessary if the girl had not been a prospective wife.

By a unanimous decision the court held that Mrs. Shea must pay this bill herself and subtract $50 from the amount of the verdict or try the breach of promise case before another jury.

Miss Shea is 18 years old. Pappas was several years her senior. He asserted his fiancee made an agreement with him to learn how to cook food in Greek style, but failed to keep her part of the agreement. For this reason he went to Greece and brought to New York a bride who knew all about cooking Greek dishes.

COW IN KANSAS THAT WEIGHED NEARLY A TON.

Salina, Kan., April 1.—What is believed to be the largest cow in the state was marketed at the packing plant here. The cow was raised on the farm of Henry Nelson in this county and weighed 1,860 pounds. At 5½ cents a pound the animal brought $102.30. The cow is five feet eight inches high and fourteen feet long. She measures twelve feet six inches around the girth and her front legs are twenty-two inches long above the knees.

WILL FIGHT DUEL IN JUNE.

Count Cinelli and Carlica, Tenor, to Settle Dispute With Rapiers.

Boston, Mass., April 1.—A duel has been arranged in Boston to take place June 4 in Italy between the Chevalier Carlo Carlica, a tenor now singing at the Boston opera house, and a count of one of the oldest Roman families, the Conte Arturo Cinelli of the patrician Cinelli house of Rome.

And the cause of the duel? That is the delicious mystery, for principals and seconds alike have passed it over at a shrug and the enigmatically general explanation "honor."

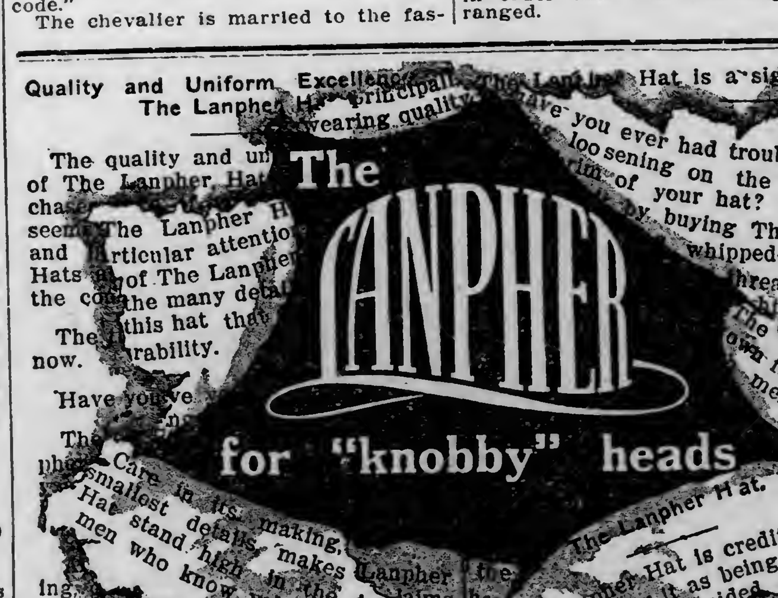

"There are things too delicate to be mentioned, to be used as the ostensible cause of a meeting on the field of honor," said Chevalier Carlica. "If a lady is affronted, a man will defend her, will demand and secure reparation, but he will not allow her name to be mentioned nor give her sufferage as the reason for his recourse to the code."

The chevalier is married to the fascinating Josefine Battistella of the old Venetian family of that name, and she has been with him in Boston throughout the operatic season.

The duel will be held near the litle town of Feltre, three hours by train from Venice. The weapons will be rapiers.

Early last October Carlica fought a duel with pistols near Modena, his opponent then being Signor Cabessi, a merchant of Modena. Only two shots were exchanged, and the chevalier was hit with a ball in his right shoulder.

Cinelli came all the way from Italy in order that the duel might be arranged.

CHOSEN TO TAKE CENSUS

Fifty-One Enumerators Are Appointed for City of Duluth.

Will Be Called Together to Receive Supplies and Instructions.

The enumerators for the city of Duluth in the coming United States census have been appointed and in a few days will be notified of a time for meeting at the Duluth office to receive their supplies and instructions. Joseph W. Allen, the special agent in charge of the Duluth office, is checking and arranging the portfolios and supplies to be used here and will be assisted in instructing the enumerators by B. L. Hollister, the district supervisor, when he arrives to go over the plans for the work, which is to start April 15.

There are six women included in the list and they will be assigned to the residence districts only. Among the others are a number who have had census experience in former times. There are fifty-one in the list as follows:

VOLUNTEERS DESERT CAPTAIN

Tell Alleged Defaulter They Will Give Him No Aid in His Fight.

St. Paul, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary John F. Higgins of the Volunteers of America called on Capt. Tim Murphy in the county jail this morning and told him frankly that the Volunteers had decided to withdraw the support they had offered him in connection with his alleged defalcation of $1,250 of the tag day funds collected March 17 for the working girls' home.

Secretary Higgins told him that the change in their attitude toward him had been reached only after every effort had been made to reconcile the facts with the previous belief of innocence which the Volunteers had so stoutly maintained.

Capt. Murphy was informed that the Volunteers could not and would not condone his alleged offense, and would not in any way seek to interfere with the prosecution and with his punishment under the law. Now Murphy will have to fight absolutely alone, so far as his responsibility to the law is concerned and any ministrations which the Volunteers may give will be only such as might be given to any other man in trouble. The Volunteers will withhold nothing that may aid the prosecution.

DEER RIVER FARMERS INTERESTED IN BEETS.

Bemidji, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Al H. Jester, secretary of the Bemidji Commercial club, has received a letter from John Tremaine of Deer River, stating that fifty farmers are forming a farmer's club, which will have for its sole purpose the raising of sugar beets during the coming summer, and that the association is very desirous of co-operating with the Bimidji "boosters" in their efforts to have sufficient beets raised to guarantee the factory.

COMET MAKING SCHEDULE TIME

Halley's comet is sailing through space at the present time. It is traveling on schedule time, as the following indicates:

March 27—Comet passed behind the sun, 165,000,000 miles distant, and entered morning sky. Also crossed Venus' path coming.

March 28—Comet in morning sky till May 18, and, rising earlier and earlier before the sun, approaches the earth.

April 1—Comet's distance, 130,000,000 miles.

April 4—Comet rises 4:44 a. m.

April 16—Comet rises 3:45 a. m.

April 19—Comet at perihelion—nearest the sun; speed fastest, 1,878 miles a minute.

April 24—Comet rises 3:09 a. m., now turns back east among the constellations.

May 1—Comet's distance from the earth, 63,000,000 miles; close to Venus in the sky today.

May 6—Comet rises 2:38 a. m., earth crosses comet's path, where comet will be May 20, but not in same plane.

May 8—Comet rises 2:46 a. m. Comet's greatest elongation west of the sun, as seen from the earth. Comet 10 deg. north of Venus.

May 9—Comet crosses Venus' path retreating.

May 10—Comet rises 2:24 a. m.; distance from earth, 33,000,000 miles.

May 12—Comet rises 2:32 a. m.

May 14—Comet rises 2:40 a. m.

May 15—Comet rises 2:49 a. m.

May 16—Comet rises 3:08 a. m.; 7 deg. south of star Alpha Arietis.

May 17—Comet rises 3:32 a. m., distance 12,000,000 miles, about its nearest; came within half that in 1835.

May 18—Earth and comet passing; comet in conjunction with the sun on the nearest side, and at the same time at descending node, the two resulting in a transit of the comet across the sun's face, occurring between 1:31 and 1:45 a. m., Eastern time, hence invisible in this country, but between 6:31 and 6:45 a. m., Greenwich time, hence visible in Europe, Asia and Africa. Earth and moon now proceed to pass through the comet's tail, but without result.

May 19—Comet again in evening sky, appearing ever higher in West, and moving rapidly; today 3½ deg. north of Aldebaran.

May 20—Comet sets, 8:11 p. m., enormous size.

May 21—Comet just where it was among the stars Oct. 1; today passes close to Gamma Geinini. Comet sets 9:12 p. m.

May 22—Comet sets 9:57 p. m.; passes 7½ deg. north of Procyon.

May 23—Comet sets 10:28 p. m.

May 23—Comet sets 10:34 p. m.

May 25—Comet sets 10:55 p. m.

May 26—Comet sets 11:06 p. m.; crosses beneath earth's path at a distance therefrom of about 6,000,000 miles, in retreating into space.

May 27—Comet sets 11:17 p. m.

May 28—Comet sets 11:22 p. m.

May 29—Comet sets 11:23 p. m.

May 30—Comet sets 11:23 p. m., now gradually approaches the sun again, as seen from the earth, and fades away as it retires into space.

July 7—Comet crosses Mars' path, retreating; again retires behind the sun during the month of July.

July 27—Earth passes the perihelion point of comet, where it was April 19.

August—Comet passes again into morning sky, but visible only in telescopes.

Sept. 11—One year since discovery of comet by Wolf of Heidelberg, then distant 350,000,000 miles.

A. D. 1985-89—Halley's comet next due.

ALL FOOLS' DAY PRANKS

Silver Dollar Fastened to Sidewalk Numbered Victims By Hundreds.

All Old Time Jokes and Some New Ones Worked Overtime.

Haw! Haw!! Haw!!!
Ho! Ho!! Ho!!!

The corpulent gentleman, who had just extended an eager hand toward the large, round, shining dollar lying invitingly on the sidewalk, straightened up with a jerk. The first blush since his school days suffused his face and he shamefacedly hastened his pace as he realized that the laugh was on him. The first spasm of angry humiliation passed and he ducked into a doorway and waited for his revenge.

It came.

She was a dainty little miss, fashionably dressed, modest of demeanor, bright of eye and quick of step. Her head was in the air, but coin of the realm has magnetic powers. Her eyes dropped to the sidewalk for a moment and they caught the gleam of the silver. Without a glance to right or left, she bent swiftly and the small gloved hand tugged vigorously at the reluctant dollar. American chivalry disappears on April Fools' day, and the dainty miss, with burning face, moved along, shorn of composure. Of the guffaws, the fat man's was the loudest.

Even the dainty miss recovered herself and showed a commendable sense of humor. She glanced over her shoulder just in time to see a policeman's cap roll off as he dove for the potential twenty beers. Lumberjack, messenger boy, business man and idler were all reduced to the same level when that inviting dollar greeted their eyes. A good many passers-by remembered the day and passed along with a knowing smile that seemed to say, "I'm wise." But others fell and each victim was sent away to turn into a doorway, or cross the street and wait for the next, that they might join in the laugh that had been on them.

The dollar was neatly fastened to the sidewalk in front of the Northern Hardware company's store. Pulling and kicking failed to dislodge it from its place and absent-minded victims furnished fun for a crowd that constantly grew through their admission.

"Ain'tthatjustt o o s w e e tofyou, Mr. Jones," said the little stenographer as the recent addition to the clerical force a little guiltily laid a box of candy on her desk. "Ididn'thavetimetoeatmuch thismorning, soIjustbeendyingforsome candy."

Mr. Jones sauntered over to his desk and buried his face behind some papers. A sly peep now and then was an indication that he was waiting for something to happen.

It did.

Those chocolates sure were inviting. They loomed up fresh and enticing as the cover was removed from the box. The little stenographer carefully selected the largest one in sight and poised it daintily while she eyed it with anticipation written all over her beaming countenance. The heartless Mr. Jones stifled a snicker. The little stenographer's teeth were sunk into the dainty appearing morsel. She set herself for dreamy enjoyment but the joy vanished from her face. There was a convulsive grimace, a flood of tears to the eyes and in two unladylike jumps the little stenographer made the water faucet in the corner. Mr. Jones was unable to stiffle his mirth. He heartlessly laughed aloud and the other clerks joined in. Mr. Jones has been placed forever outside of the pale of the little stenographer's approbation. He's a wretch.

Today is April Fool's day. The old hat on the sidewalk doesn't catch many, but some of the old gags still work as well as they did back home in the old days. The busy city dweller is absent minded. He didn't remember when he arose this morning that full play is given the American sense of humor on this day of days. Before he had gone very far in his daily routine, he discovered the fact. If his wife didn't catch him, perhaps somebody going down on the car did. If he escaped as far as the office, there was a fake message lying around or the telephone made him swear softly or vociferously, according to his nature. Candy stuffed with cotton, cardboard, limburger cheese or red pepper was in demand. Everybody took it good naturedly and anybody who wasn't caught counted himself lucky.

LIES ON PRAIRIE THROUGH WINTER

Body of Man Who Ran Away From Williston Hospital Is Found.

Williston, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Harry Dunlap, who disappeared from Williston last November, was discovered yesterday on the prairie near Twelve Mile Hill, this county, in an advanced state of decomposition.

Dunlap evidently met death early in the winter from hunger and cold while wandering over the prairie, following his escape from a Williston hospital.

Dunlap was arrested Nov. 8 last for assault and battery. Shortly afterwards, it was found he was suffering with delirium tremens, and he was removed to the hospital. He remained there two days, then left suddenly.

Officials started a search but were unable to find him. His parents, William Dunlap and wife of Spring Valley, Iowa, arrived here today.

TWO GIRLS SHOT WHILE IN HOUSE

One Is Dead as Result of Attack By Masked Man Who Escaped.

Springfield, Mass., April 1.—The wounds of Miss Harriot P. Dow, inflicted by the revolver of a masked burglar who killed Miss Martha B. Blackstone at Miss Dow's home last night, probably will not prove fatal. It was stated at the hospital today that the young school teacher was slightly improved and resting comfortably.

The police have found no trace of the man who shot the girls. The victims were fired upon while they were seated in the living room with Miss Dow's mother and sister.

DAVID T. BEALS ILL IN SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

San Antonio, Tex., April 1.—David T. Beals of Kansas City, one of the most widely known bankers of the West, is critically ill at a hotel here. He came here two days ago from Cuba, where he had been for his health.

MORE RIOTS IN BOGOTA.

Peruvian Legation Is Attacked But Little Damage Done.

Bogota, Colombia, April 1.—A mob attacked and forced an entrance into the Peruvian legation yesterday. The police were promptly on the scene, and prevented serious damage being done.

The rioting was provoked through the posting of copies of a telegram which was addressed to Colombians by President Alfaro of Ecuador, and in which the executive expressed the hope that Ecuadorians and Colombians would stand together in defence of the frontiers of the old fatherland.

PEARY SAYS HE HAS HAD ENOUGH

No More Polar Exploration for Him in North or South.

Chicago, April 1.—Commander Robert E. Peary, who arrived in Chicago today, in an interview declared that he was positively through with polar explorations for all time.

"I am absolutely at the end of my career as an explorer," said he. "Reports that I am to lead an expedition into the Antarctic regions are not true, and I certainly do not contemplate another trip to the North pole."

BIG MUDDY NAVIGATION.

Is Discussed By the Missouri River Congress.

Pierre, S. D., April 1.—The Missouri River congress closed its session yesterday after the adoption of resolutions indorsing the general improvement of the waterways of the country, urging that the states assist in the work, and recommending liberal national appropriations for the Missouri river.

The principal feature of yesterday afternoon's session was a showing of what can be done in the way of getting the lignite coal of the Upper Missouri country to market as a product for fuel all the year around, and thus make Missouri river traffic commercially successful.

PLANS ALL LAID TO GUARD CANAL

Army and Navy Board Has Completed Important Work at Panama.

New York, April 1.—Important work in connection with the fortifications which will guard the approaches to and the route of the Panama canal has been accomplished by the joint army and navy fortification board, four members of which returned to the United States today from the isthmus on the steamer Ancon from Cristobal. They were Brig. Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordnance of the army; Brig. Gen. Arthur Murray, chief of artillery; Brig. Gen. L. L. Marshall, chief of the engineer corps, and Capt. Stanley Embrick of the artillery corps. The other members of the board remained in Panama to complete certain details of the work of locating the fortifications at the Atlantic and Pacific terminals and along the line of the canal.

TEDDY TO MEET GERMAN NIMRODS

Ex-President Will Be Guest of King Haakon While in Christiania.

Berlin, April 1.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to a luncheon arranged by Joseph C. Grew, second secretary of the American embassy, to permit the former president to meet some of the well-known German hunters. Among these will be Prof. C. G. Schilling, the author, and Herr Niedicks, both celebrated as hunters of big game in Africa.

Guest of King Haakon.

Christinia, April 1.—Former President Roosevelt will arrive in Christinia May 3. King Haakon has invited Col. Roosevelt to be his guest at the palace during his stay here. The University of Christinia will confer upon him the degree of doctor of philosophy. Col. Roosevelt having signified his acceptance of the honor through the American minister.

SAYS HE SAW THEM TOGETHER

Witness Testifies to Relations Between Mrs. Sayler and Dr. Miller.

Watseka, Ill., April 1.—The automatic pistol owned by Dr. W. R. Miller, from which the bullets which killed J. B. Sayler of Crescent City were alleged to have been fired, was exhibited in court today in the Sayler murder trial, and identified by Sheriff G. D. Heikes and his son, Edward L. Heikes. Dr. Miller and John Grunden smiled as the attorneys handled the weapon.

For the first time in the trial, direct testimony regarding the relations of Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sayler was given today by William Classen, who declared he had seen them alone in a room in Dr. Miller's house. Classen declared he entered the Miller home last spring and through a partly opened door, observed Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sayler, and that Dr. Miller hastened to close the door when he saw the witness.

The state has laid much stress on the association of Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sayler as furnishing an explanation of the events which preceded the shooting of J. B. Sayler.

W. B. Davis, next door neighbor to the Saylers, testified to seeing Mrs. Sayler, clad in light garments, pitching horseshoes with Dr. Miller.

CHILD DRINKS LINIMENT.

Alexander, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charley Skorpil, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skorpil, residing near here, died from drinking a half bottle of horse liniment.

The child found he liniment while alone and when discovered was in convulsions which were followed by death.

Legacy Sent to Russia.

San Francisco, Cal., April 1.—On order of Probate Judge Coffee, the $50,000 estate of Joseph Friedman was yesterday transmitted to St. Petersburg to be distributed among the poor of Libau, Russia. Friedman, who was a wealthy merchant of this city, made the bequest to the poor of his native town.

FORMER HIBBING MAN IS IN CHARGE

A. A. Gieret Manager of Telephone Exchange at Grand Forks, N. D.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. A. Gieriet of Hibbing, Minn., commercial manager of the exchange there of the Mesaba Telephone company, has been appointed commercial manager here to succeed H. H. Hamilton, who takes the position of commercial manager at Jamestown. Several days ago it was reported that the Hibbing man was to take up the work at Jamestown, but a change in the plans was made whereby he will come to Grand Forks immediately. Both the Grand Forks and Jamestown posts are important ones. Mr. Gieriet has been in charge of the exchange at Hibbing the past five years.

HOW DAIRYING BOOSTED LAND

Director McGuire Tells What Creamery Has Done for Milaca.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—"An Example In Dairy Farming," is the subject of bulletin No. 83, just issued by Supt. A. J. McGuire of the Northeast experiment farm here, in which he tells how the country about Milaca, eighty-six miles south of Duluth, has been benefited by the dairy business.

"It is in the cut over section and has a few scattering pine standing," says Mr. McGuire. "The farms run from 40 to 120 acres with an average of about 40 acres under cultivation. These farms have been made by cutting brush and getting out stumps as best the farmers could. The land there was no easier to clear than the average cut over land of Northeastern Minnesota—the soil is no more fertile, and yet the farmers around Milaca are prosperous and rapidly becoming well off farmers.

Farmers Own Creamery.

"Milaca has a creamery that is owned and operated by the farmers. In 1909 this creamery made 309,756 pounds of butter, from which the farmers received $71,160.07 in cash, after paying all running expenses.

"This creamery has been in operation but two years and the farmers have been dairying but four years, yet their output is well up toward the best creameries in the state. Furthermore, the area from which the creamery receives patronage is only a single township. In talking to one of the business men, I asked:

"'Who owns the farm out here that can be seen from the railroad where there are such fine buildings?'

"'Well,' he answered, 'I really don't know which one you mean. There are so many modern farm buildings going up that it is hard to keep track of them.'

"'How have the farmers made their money?'

"'Well, sir; they have made it from seven to fifteen cows to a farm—and common cows at that. They have made it through dairying and their creamery.'"

March 24 was a spring day. The fields were ready for the harrow and there was a great outdoor call for the field work that only a farmer can ever know, and yet nearly every farmer in the community was at the meeting.

They Needed no Instructions.

"Instead of giving those farmers instructions in dairying, I felt that I wanted them to tell me how they had accomplished that which for six years I have been telling the farmers of Northeastern Minnesota that they could do through dairying. I had the theory, and on the experiment farm had demonstrated that dairying paid, but these farmers, with practically nothing to begin with but a farm covered with brush and stumps, have made dairying as successful as I have ever seen dairying anywhere in the state. They have made their creamery pay from the very start. Through their success in dairying they have increased the value of land around Milaca over 100 per cent. Best of all, they have shown what may be done throughout Northeastern Minnesota. Any farmer, who may feel discouraged with his land of brush and stumps, should visit Milaca.

"Milaca is wholly a farming town and is one of the most prosperous towns of its size between Duluth and St. Paul. It may also be worthy of note that it has no saloons, but it has three banks and its farmers have bank accounts, and its merchants very few accounts that are uncollectable. Let the dairy industry be the aim of every farming community throughout Northeastern Minnesota, and in every community it may be made as successful and prosperous as Milaca."

SURPRISED HIS FRIENDS.

Marriage Here Last Week of George Underwood of Hibbing.

Staples, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Underwood surprised his old friends in Staples last week by the announcement of his marriage at Duluth, March 16. The bride is Miss Fannie Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Olson, well-to-do people of Otter tail county, near New York Mills. Rev. Mr. Rice of Duluth, performed the ceremony. George is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Underwood of this place, and has resided here or in this immediate vicinity all his life. He is employed with a lumber company at Hibbing, Minn., to which place he took his bride and whey they have commenced housekeeping.

WILL INCREASE ITS COAL DOCK

Iron Range Road Has Let Contract for Addition to Plant.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth & Iron Range has let a contract to G. H. Spurbeck for building a 300-foot addition to the coal dock here, which will increase its storage capacity to 174,000 tons and a pocket capacity of 3,700 tons.

A car mover will be installed to dispense with a switch engine used to place cars for loading, and when completed a train of coal can be loaded in twenty minutes.

The Duluth & Iron Range has purchased the equipment for the electrical block system between here and Brinison, and will have it in operation about June 15.

FOUND GUILTY OF HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Pair of Footpads Are Convicted By Jury at Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A jury in the district court found John Heller and Joe Maraolgh guilty of highway robbery and they will be sentenced some time today.

Frank and Lizzie Bradford, charged with running a house of ill fame, were also found guilty after a jury had deliberated seven hours yesterday.

VIRGINIAN FINED FOR RUNNING DISORDERLY PLACE

Virginia, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tony Mazurik paid a fine of $10 and $2.50 costs in municipal court for conducting a disorderly house at 507 Wyoming avenue. The place has been for some time past been a source of annoyance to the people living in that neighborhood and upon complaint Tony was brought into the court and found guilty of the charge against him.

VIRGINIA NOTES.

Virginia, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alfred Post spent yesterday in Chisholm visiting his son.

Herb Nolan of Duluth is spending a few days in the city on business.

Gust Mattson was arraigned before Judge Fleming in municipal court yesterday and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and $250 costs or thirty days in the county jail. He accepted the latter and was taken to Duluth this morning.

C. W. Mulligan, the cigar man of Eveleth, was in the city yesterday on business.

Mrs. Jos. Kral and children of Chisholm were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Dervisia this week.

S. J. Cussons, general manager of the Virginia & Rainy River Lumber company, has returned from a business trip in the East. Mr. Cussons says the lumber market is lively and he predicts a most prosperous season in this line.

EVELETH CURRENT NOTES.

Eveleth, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. A. J. Magnussen, formerly of Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minn., has arrived to commence duties at the Spruce mine.

E. S. Clem, instructor in the science department of the high school, has resigned to accept a similar position in the southern part of the state. He will continue here until the end of the term.

Eld Tregillis, for many years employed as timekeeper in the Adams, has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative one with the Duluth & Iron Range Railway company.

Alvin Skranstedt, who has been employed at the News office as compositor, has resigned.

George W. Breidsford, who was employed here for some time as reporter on the Star, and who later was made editor of the Gilbert Herald, has purchased that paper from P. E. Dowling.

Frank Miller, who has been employed as clerk for many years at the Model store, resigned recently to enter the confectionery business.

L. Pickard, who has been employed here for some time at the Sax saloon, has purchased the milk depot of Mrs. J. H. Jones for a consideration of $100.

Anton Pulcher has accepted a position as butcher with the F. Shobat company.

L. Warkstrom has begun his new duties as clerk in the Saari Bros.' local store.

PICK POINT INTO MINER'S ABDOMEN

Peculiar Accident Occurs in the Adams Mine, No. 6, at Eveleth.

Eveleth, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Ciazo, a miner in the Adams mine, No. 6 shaft, was caught in a drift and a huge stone falling from above struck one end of his pickaxe and forced the other end into his abdomen. He was immediately hurried to the More hospital where he is reported being in as good a condition as can be expected.

A brother of Ciaze arrived Wednesday from Italy and was visiting with Ciaze's family when the accident occurred.

HIBBING TO HAVE ANOTHER GOOD NINE

Fans of Enterprising Village Already Planning to Carry Off Honors.

Hibbing, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was an enthusiastic meeting of the baseball fans last evening in the township clerk's office the outcome of which was that Hibbing is again to be represented this summer by another championship team. The players will be signed up rapidly and practice commence at once. Of the old players available there are Frank Kleffman, Charles Calligan, Dave Williams, Byron Burrows and Robert Geisleman.

It is not known as yet whether or not Hibbing's great outfielder and slugger, Dwight Booth, will be with the team. Booth is the property of the Toledo American Association club and they are making great efforts to have him join the club now training in the South. Red Carroll it is understood is signed up with Artie O'Dea's Superior team. Efforts will be brought to bear, however by the local management to keep the star catcher here as the local fans hate to think of Red leaving.

the votes and contentions that take place during the private sittings.

Trouble in Closed Sessions.

The executive sessions have not been very harmonious, especially the one of Saturday last, when the question of compelling Secretary Ballinger to testify as the first witness for the "defense" was under consideration. Following this session the Democrats announced that, with the exception of Senator Purcell of South Dakota, they had voted in favor of compelling the secretary of the interior to appear at once. Representative Madison of Kansas, insurgent, voted with the Democrats.

Whether Mr. Madison will vote with the Democratic members when the verdict comes to be taken is a question. His course during the examination of witnesses has given but slight intimation of his position. Senator Purcell voted with the Republicans last Saturday simply because, as a lawyer, he declared the "defense" should have the right to call its witnesses at its pleasure, the same privilege having been granted to the "prosecution."

Says Jones Lied.

Elmer E. Todd, United States district attorney at Seattle, Wash., was the first witness called today. Mr. Todd contradicted certain statements made by Special Agent H. L. Jones when he was testifying for Louis R. Glavis. The witness declared that Jones' statement that he had advised against criminal action in the Alaska cases "because Judge Hanford was constitutionally opposed to land fraud trials generally," was absolutely false.

Mr. Vertrees asked Mr. Todd if he had been consulted some time ago regarding a possible prosecution against Glavis for letters missing from his office when he turned it over to his successor, Christensen. It is claimed the letters afterward were found in a box belonging to Glavis.

Letters Were Published.

Mr. Todd said Christensen came to him in December and claimed that the letters were missing. About the same time, copies of these missing letters began to appear in a weekly paper with the announcement that more were to follow.

During his cross-examination of the witness, Attorney Brandeis showed showed him some of Jones' daily reports, one of which said he had conferred with Todd in regard to criminal prosecution in the Christopher group.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

Wealth is like a viper, which is harmless if a man knows how to take hold of it; but if he does not it will twine around his hand and bite him.

—St. Clement.

THE COST OF ARMED PEACE.

Why is there a law against carrying weapons, and why does a policeman, when he finds a man with a gun, arrest him? Because a man carrying a gun carries a constant temptation to use it, and the law and its execution are measures of precaution in the interests of the public peace.

If there were a similar international law, and a similar international policeman, they would look upon national armaments in the same light that the state law looks upon the toting of guns—as temptation to destroy the peace by using them. There is danger of war so long as the nations are prepared for war. There never will be hope of peace until the nations disarm and submit their difference to international courts of arbitration just as disagreeing citizens are expected to submit their differences to the courts of law.

And in the meantime, what a terrible waste of human energy and resources is required to keep so-called civilized nations ready for war! Men who should be engaged in productive work are, at their most useful ages, kept in the world's armies and navies; enough of them, all over the world, to solve the problem of poverty if they were put to work. Money that should be going for progressive public purposes is devoted to the destructive purposes of war and preparation for war. The magnificent energy of the greatest nations of the world is misdirected to the cause of destruction. To what end?

Back of it all, and underneath the glitter of patriotic pretense, is the demand of profit-seeking trade to force upon other lands products for the lack of which illpaid workers at home are suffering.

Before the Spanish-American war the average annual cost of the army and navy of this country for eight years was $51,500,000. For the eight years since 1902 the average annual increase has been $185,400,000. The total increase for eight years is $1,072,000,000, which exceeds the national debt by $158,000,000. This is twice as much as the estimated cost of carrying out the fullest deep waterway projects, three times the estimated cost of replacing the 56,000,000 acres of denuded forest land in the United States, three times the estimated cost of the Panama canal, and three times the cost of carrying out the whole irrigation program contemplated within a generation. It is probably enough to banish tuberculosis from the United States within a reasonable time; and 160,000 people die from that disease every year. It is $60 for every family in the United States. It lays a yearly tax of 1¼ per cent upon the total wages paid in the United States, on the supposition that wages average $600 to the family. Interest on this sum would give an income of $1,000 a year forever to 42,880 families—a city of 200,000. The increase for 1908-9 alone is only $13,000,000 less than all the gifts to charities, libraries, educational institutions and other public causes in 1909, which reached the vast total of $185,000,000.

One battleship costs $12,000,000. At $800,000 a year for twenty years its upkeep consumes $16,000,000 more; then the junk heap.

Here are a few things the original cost of one battleship, without counting up-keep, would do: It would buy the proposed White Mountain forest reserve of 250,000 acres and plant it. It would build fifty manual training schools and equip them with necessary appliances, teaching the rudiments of a trade to 75,000 young people every year. It would build a macadam road of approved construction between Chicago and New York. It would build two duplicates of the Congressional library at Washington, the finest building in the world. It would build forty Y. M. C. A. buildings and fully equip them, each building accommodating the young men in a city of 200,000.

There is a direct and wicked relation between the cost of preparedness for war and the cost of living.

THE FISH THAT GOT AWAY.

Every angler is familiar, by personal experience and by hearsay repeated far past the point of satiety, with the tale of the big fish that got away. It is the basis of an annual ouput of more or less hilarious jokes, and curiously enough every angler takes it seriously so far as his own experience is concerned, and as a joke so far as the other fellow's story is concerned.

The Herald's telegraph service brought the news last evening that a Connecticut man has invented a fish rod handle that registers the weight of fish automatically, so that hereafter everybody equipped with his device will be able to prove the exact weight of the fish that got away.

No doubt he thinks that he has struck something that will make him rich. Never was inventor more hopelessly in error. It must have struck the unprejudiced observer long ago that in all human probability there is no reason why the fish that get away should be any bigger than those that don't get away. But in the realm of doubt created when that fascinating monster wriggles off the hook and darts away into his secret haunts, there is abundant opportunity for weaving almost any kind of story. Nobody can deny your claims, because the fish that got away tells no tales. Whether you deceive anybody else or not, you do deceive yourself; and that delightful self-deception is really one of the most piquant charms of fishing.

What is to become of that pleasure if you have a rod that registers the exact weight of the fish that gets away? You are willing to swear that it must have weighed fully five pounds. But you look at that accursed scale on your rod, and you find it weighed exactly a pound and a half, and there are three-pound fish in your creel. Where is the pleasure of fishing when things like that can happen?

The Connecticut adventurer would better return to the creation of a new variety of wooden nutmeg. The world has no place for a device that will register the exact weight of the fish that get away.

"INEVITABLE WASTE."

A long time ago, somebody said that waste in municipal government was inevitable, and it was one of those dangerous sayings that get repeated so often that they become imbedded in the structure of thought and thereby make themselves true though essentially they are false.

New York is having an experience under the administration of Judge Gaynor that is proving very disastrous to that oldtime belief.

Municipal waste is inevitable so long as people believe it to be inevitable and let it go at that, and only so long.

When somebody comes along who doesn't take his thoughts already made up and tied in bundles for unmasticated swallowing, it is different. That was the way with Gaynor. Doubtless he, too, had heard that municipal waste is inevitable; but just because he had heard it was no reason, for him, why he should believe it. So he didn't believe it, and he isn't acting as though it were true.

Says the New York Tribune, which cannot be accused of undue partiality to Gaynor: "One day the city administration cuts off one source of 'honest graft' and another day another, until now it is almost possible to revise old notions to the extent of saying that economy in city management is inevitable." That is going too far, of course, because Gaynors don't happen along every day; but it is a mighty good thing that in New York, at least, somebody has arisen to show the emptiness of the old belief that municipal waste is inevitable. It isn't inevitable except as public indifference and paralysis of public spirit make it inevitable. It isn't inevitable except as these things and boss-led partisanship dominate a slothful public which out of its indifference and neglect gives birth to municipal extravagance and corruption.

Continues the Tribune: "The administration is almost embarrassed by the opportunities of saving presented to it. It cuts off special counsel in the Catskill condemnation proceedings who have been costing the city $100,000 a year or so apiece, and substitutes for them salaried counsel at $3,000. Now, which is the more inevitable, to pay $100,000 or $3,000 for legal services? Is there anything inevitable about two idle crews on the municipal ferries, which are accumulating a comfortable deficit of $1,000,000 a year? Was there anything inevitable about the great patronage scheme which the providing of a water supply in the Ashokan region was made to subserve? If the public wishes to be well governed it must strike the word 'inevitable' from its vocabulary."

Not necessarily. It is enough to change its use. Municipal waste is inevitable in a condition of public indifference. Municipal economy and good government are inevitable in a condition of alert public spirit.

New York is having an education on this point that is worth vastly more than the immense sums that are being saved to its taxpayers. The city that can't profit by that experience, and by an awakening of public spirit shift its use of the word "inevitable" so as to make it mean inevitable economy and good government, is a happy exception. We doubt if it exists in this country.

CANNON AND LINCOLN.

In an interview in Chicago yesterday Andrew Carnegie declared that the United States senate is the finest legislative body in the world, and likened Speaker Cannon to Abraham Lincoln.

Since Mr. Carnegie did not say what purpose the senate serves so well that it is entitled to his eulogy, his praise cannot be questioned. From the viewpoint of Special Privilege doubtless the United States senate is the finest legislative body in the world.

As to likening Speaker Cannon to Abraham Lincoln, the resemblance, when you come to think of it, really is amazing. Abraham Lincoln had whiskers on his chin. Speaker Cannon has whiskers on exactly the same spot on his chin. Marvelous!

WORKING GIRLS AND THE CITY.

The local story in The Herald last night stating that parents of girls seeking work in the cities are evidently much more careful than they used to be was encouraging news. Parents who have girls about to leave home to begin bread-winning in the city cannot be too careful. Back of a thousand stories of lost girls can be traced parental neglect. The records of white slavery are full of pitiful tales of girls lured to cities on false promises of good employment and then condemned to lives of shame. Fathers and mothers whose girls go to the city to seek work should know all about it. They should know where they go, what their prospects are, how they are situated in the city, and what temptations surround them. Heedless parents have been far more to blame in thousands of cases than foolish girls who lacked guidance and advice.

THE AUTOMOBILIST AND THE LAW.

In spite of frequent hints by the police, many local automobilists persist in refusing to take out the licenses required of them by the automobile ordinance passed last year. After having given plenty of warnings, the police say that they are going to enforce the ordinance to the letter, and that involves arresting those operating automobiles without licenses. That is proper. The ordinance was passed to be enforced, and it should be enforced. The police have allowed enough time to elapse without making arrests to satisfy every demand of politeness.

Might we suggest to automobile-owners that the present ordinance governing their sport is very favorable to them indeed, and that it would be a wise thing for them to obey it rather carefully as a measure of precaution against the enactment of an ordinance far more strict and therefore far more objectionable to them? If neglect of this ordinance necessitates a new one, it will be through arousing a public spirit that will insist upon much more stringent regulations.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

TIGHTWAD VS. SHORTWEIGHT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have heard of tightwads before this, but of all the glowing examples of that class that ever came within the range of my actual knowledge, the unblushing penny-pincher who wrote that communication you had in the Open Court tonight about weighing butter and measuring milk takes the palm. What would a butcher or a grocer think of a man or woman who insisted on having every "brick" of butter weighed before his very eyes to make sure that it weighed just sixteen ounces, and what must a milkman think of anybody who insists on having his milk measured out for fear he may lose a few drops? There is such a thing as guarding against being cheated, but, believe me, this spirit of suspicion never got anybody anything, and never will.

As to the honesty of our merchants—how can you blame them for a shade's difference from the standard in such things as butter and milk? They don't put up the butter—the creamery does that, and the merchant buys every "brick" as if it were a pound. And the bottles are not made by the local men, but are bought by them, and you surely can't expect the milk dealers to go over the thousands of bottles they have with a graduate for fear some finicky old maid may not get a fraction of a gill that she thinks she is entitled to.

For heaven's sake, give these local people credit for trying to be honest, and if you happen to get pinched a little bit, take it in the larger spirit of something that you can't help. Instead of trying to make trouble by whining about it as if every 5 or 10 cents you lost was as much as your month's rent amounted to.

DISGUSTED.

Duluth, March 31.

SPEAKS HIS MIND ON TREE ORDINANCE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I trust that the committee on ordinances of the common council will continue to hold the so-called tree ordinance in committee so long that it will be doomed to oblivion if all the provisions suggested are to be put in it, particularly the paragraph regulating the distance apart which trees must be planted. The requirement is that trees shall be placed not less than thirty feet nor more than forty feet apart. That might be all right in climates where trees have a rapid growth and amount to something in comparatively few years, but in Duluth it seems ridiculous. On many streets and avenues that would be less than one tree to a lot. Even that might be all right if the park board would systematically plant trees on all the public highways. But on private grounds one or two trees would be about as good as none at all.

If the trees are to make any showing for fifteen or twenty years they must be planted at least within fifteen feet of each other. Then there would be enough green to be discernible. If they got so large that the second or third generation deemed it expedient to have them thirty feet apart they might cut out every other tree, but I'm inclined to think that they'd prefer to keep them as they are. There are a lot of trees in Duluth, many of them put in by the park board, ten and fifteen years ago, that are still comparatively small. Some of them are less than fifteen feet apart and although they have had the benefit of fifteen years' growth do not look as though they ought to be thinned. I have also noticed that oaks are not the only trees which get along on the high surfaces, even though the winds blow, and I don't see why a man should have to put an oak in his yard just because he lives on the hill. If wind can do any damage, the trees on the level in Duluth would suffer as much as those on the hill, for anybody who has lived here any length of time has discovered that the wind blows hard enough on the level to make him hustle to make headway against it. Why should a man be compelled to get a permit to trim his trees? Will that increase his knowledge of tree trimming or remind him that his trees ought to be trimmed? Further, why should a firm of Minneapolis architects come here to tell the council that it ought to pass such an ordinance as they suggest? Have they made an exhaustive study of the conditions in Duluth or are they trying to get business here on the strength of knowledge gained in Minneapolis, where the climate, the soil and other matters pertaining to tree culture are vastly different?

OLD TIMER.

Duluth, April 1.

All Fool's Day.

Charles Lamb: The compliments of the season to my worthy masters, and a merry first of April to us all!

Many happy returns of this day to you, and you, and you, sir; nay, never frown, man, nor put a long face upon the matter. Do not we know one another? What need of ceremony among friends? We have all a touch of that same—you understand me—a speck of the motley. Beshrew the man who on such a day as this, the general festival, should affect to stand aloof. I am none of those sneakers. I am free of the corporation, and care not who knows it. He that meets me in the forest today shall meet no wiseacre I can tell him. Stultus sum. Translate me that, and take the meaning of it to yourself for your pains. What! man, we have four quarters of the globe on our side at the least computation.

Now would I give a trifle to know historically and authentically who was the greatest fool that ever lived. I would certainly give him in a bumper. Marry, of the present breed I think I could without much difficulty name you the party.

Remove your cap a little farther, if you please; it hides my bauble. And now each man bestride his hobby and dust away his bells to what tune he pleases.

In sober verity I will confess a truth to thee, reader. I love a fool—as naturally as if I was of kith and kin to him. When a child, with childlike apprehensions, that lived not below the surface of the matter, I read those parables, not guessing at the involved wisdom. I had more yearnings toward that simple architect that built his house upon the sands than I entertained for his more cautious neighbor; I grudged at the hard censure pronounced upon the quiet soul that kept his talent; and, prizing their simplicity beyond the more provident, and, to my apprehension, somewhat unfeminine wariness of their competitors, I felt a kindliness that almost amounted to a tendre for those five thoughtless virgins. I have never made an acquaintance since that lasted, or a friendship that answered, with any that had not some tincture of the absurd in their characters. I venerate an honest obliquity of understanding. The more laughable blunders a man shall commit in your company, the more tests he giveth you that he will not betray or overreach you. I love the safety, a palpable hallucination warrants, the security which a word out of season ratifies. And take my word for this, reader, and say a fool told it to you, if you please, that he who hath not a dram of folly in his mixture had pounds of much worse matter in his composition. It is observed that "the foolisher the fowl or fish, woodcocks, dotterells, cod's heads, etc., the finer the flesh thereof;" and what are commonly the world's received fools, but such whereof the world is not worthy? And what have been some of the kindliest patterns of our species but so many darlings of absurdity, minions of the goddess and her white boys? Reader, if you wrest my words beyond their fair construction it is you and not I that are the April Fool.

THE WEATHER

March went out like a lowly lamb, and the advent of April was under similar conditions. The lowest temperature last night was 36 deg., while the highest yesterday was 58 deg. Today is bright and reasonably warm. Continued fair weather is predicted, with freezing temperatures for tonight.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:47 and it will set at 6:37, giving twelve hours and fifty minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometer is high over Northwestern and Central valley states. This pressure condition is attended by pleasant weather generally, although light rains fell over New England states, Western Tennessee, Arkansis, Louisiana, Texas and South Dakota during the past twenty-four hours. Somewhat colder and freezing weather prevails in North Dakota, Manitoba and Saskatchewan as a result of an increase in pressure attending the high barometer central over the Dakotas. A depression is developing over British Columbia.

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m., today:

Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Duluth, April 1.—Forecast till 7 p. m. Saturday: Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges—Fair tonight and Saturday. Probably freezing temperature and frost tonight; Light to moderate westerly winds, shifting to easterly Saturday.

H. W. RICHARDSON,
Local Forecaster.

Chicago, April 1.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Saturday; slightly cooler tonight in northwest section.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight and in east portion Saturday; frost probably tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Saturday; frost tonight; cooler in southeast portion tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Saturday; cooler in extreme east portion tonight; light frost tonight.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

How Minnesota's Horn.

Marshall News-Messenger: There has never been so good an opportunity for the advertising of the resources of this state; there has never been a more propitious time to invite attention to Minnesota; and there never has been a period when people from the industrial centers and from the worn and weary farming tracts of the East and South have so eagerly sought the rich and cheap agricultural lands of the vast Northwest. Hence, we say sound abroad the results of the conservation congress, give the state immigration department a chance, and let Commissioner George Welch do a part of the exploitation of Minnesota.

Can It Be Explained?

Cannon Falls Beacon: We do not envy Mr. Tawney his job of explaining to his constituents his last ditch performance in company with Mr. Cannon and the interests.

It Began Before Him, Even.

Brainerd Tribune: It was the late A. L. Cole who first agitated state development, or "conservation," which is the same thing, and to him belongs the credit.

It Isn't Very Busy Now.

Eveleth Star: Congress will have to get busy and do things or there will not be enough Republicans elected this fall to occupy the speaker's chair in the next house of representatives.

J. Adam Must Have His Joke.

Moorhead News: J. Adam Bede always was a joker. It is now reported that he is contemplating being a candidate for the United States senate against Senator Clapp.

Looks Easier for Lind.

Appleton Press: The Dunn, Young and Jacobson factions and the county option issue form the four walls of the eye of the needle through which Eberhart must pass to reach the governorship.

Will Be a Real Fight.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: It is said that the Democrats of the First congressional district have decided on Judge H. L. Buck as their candidate for congress, and who will probably be opposed by J. A. Tawney, one of the leaders in congress. It will be a pretty fight. Both are able speakers and hard fighters. Judge Buck was for several years a member of the state normal board, and is a most delightful gentleman, and if we wanted to see a Democrat elected in that district we could not select a man who would suit us better than Judge Buck.

Rule or Ruin; Mostly Ruin.

Buffalo Journal: The stand-pat element at Washington do not seem to care so much for the party unless they can continue to control politics. Fights against the insurgents will be made all along the line, and it is inevitable that the results will be the election of many Democrats, but these men have to be "shown." The Republican party may be split wide open by the 1912 campaign and it is not impossible that two conventions should be held similar to those of the Democratic just before the Civil war. There isn't much left of the party now but the name, and the Republican party has nothing to brag of.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Rev. John Welsh of Cleveland goes to Crookston in the Duluth diocese to take charge of the English speaking parish, and Father Lawler is moved to Brainerd.

Another flour train will leave Duluth tomorrow afternoon, en route to Boston. The Minnesota Iron Car company will send twenty cars, destined for Cleveland, and the Imperial Mill company will ship 3,000 barrels of flour, for domestic consumption at Boston. The cars will be decorated with streamers and banners. This time the train will advertise Duluth throughout Ontario, going over the South Shore and Canadian Pacific roads to Montreal and thence to Boston, which will be reached in about two weeks.

Leonard Parteilo, one of the gang who operated in the famous South Duluth swindle two or three years ago, has just been sentenced to state's prison for eight years for forgery in the second degree. The crime was committed in the pretended sale of some property at St. Paul, and implicated with him were Messrs. Tall, Thayden and Lindstadt, more than one of whom was closely connected, by report at least, with the South Duluth fraud.

The Catholic Germans of Duluth met their pastor, Father Meierhoff, in the schoolhouse on Sunday to make preliminary preparations looking to a separation from the Sacred Heart congregation.

Attorney T. J. Mitchell and E. C. Holliday are the recipients of letters and papers showing that at least two additional suckers have been caught by the South Duluth and Lake View addition swindles.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Philadelphia Ledger: "John D. Rockefeller says the best thing he ever did was to join a Sunday school."

"Well, so far as I have learned, it was."

Cleveland Leader: New Assistant—How do you pronounce butterine?

Old Grocer—The last syllable is silent.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "I find it hard to kill time," declared the pampered pet. "I only have my music, you know. How do you manage?"

"Oh, I do very well," answered the other girl. "In addition to my music, I have my sweeping, my dusting, my sewing and my dishwashing."

New York Sun: First Chauffeur—Do you find out who you have run over?

Second Chauffeur—Of course; I always read the papers.

Washington Herald: "Your new butler seems rather awkward."

"For a butler, yes. But if he's a detective, I think he does very well."

Yonkers Statesman: Church—In the future the man with the airships will take nobody's dust.

Gotham—Won't he? You just try to hire one and you'll find out!

Washington Star: "You don't seem to give Bykins credit for any originality whatever."

"I don't. His memory is so wretched he can't quote correctly; that's all."

Boston Home Journal: "You seem to have a great deal of faith in doctors," said a friend of the sick man.

"I have," was the reply; "a doctor would be foolish to let a good customer like me die."

Harper's Bazar: "Isn't there a great deal of water in the cellar?" asked the prospective tenant.

"Yes," answered the agent proudly. "We really ought to call it a natatorium and charge extra rent for it."

Chicago News: Customer—Hey, waiter!

Waiter—Yes, sir.

Customer—Kindly tell the leader of the orchestra to play something sad and low while I dine. I want to see if it won't have a softening influence on this steak.

Bon Vivant: Fish (caught and taking a touching farewell of her children)—Good-by, my dears. Let this be a lesson to you never to be ambitious. As you see, life hangs on but a thread.

Sourire: "What you want is a pretty American wife with a dowry of twenty millions."

"Oh, I'm not so particular. I could be quite content with an ugly one with forty."

BROKER IS AN "ANGEL"

Offers to Donate Automobile to Board of Public Works.

Identity Is Not Disclosed By Members of the Board.

An "angel" appeared at the office of the board of public works this morning. The wings were not visible and if he had any they were neatly folded and concealed by the customary garb of humans. But the spirit exhibited by the person was really, truly angelic in the eyes of the board.

The kindly person told the board that he has two completely fitted automobiles whereas one is all that he needs. He told the members of the board that if they and the members of the engineering department can find use for such a machine he would donate it to them. The board would not tell his name and all that could be learned about him from the board was that he was a broker upon whom fortune has turned its smiles, strange as this statement may seem. There is no doubt in the minds of the board or the city engineer but that they could find all kinds of use for a buzz wagon.

"It would be a godsend," said one of the officials this morning. "Could we use it? Well, I guess we could."

Both the board and the engineering department are elated over even the possibility of owning a real devil cart. Despite the fact that kicks and complaints literally pour over them this morning, their faces were wreathed in long "smiles that wouldn't come off."

RELEASED FROM CITY HOSPITAL

Sixteen Are Cured But Places Will Be Filled Immediately.

The health department has released thirteen scarlet fever patients and three diphtheria patients from the new contagious disease hospital at Fourteenth avenue west the last two days. This leaves plenty of room for new cases, and it is expected that persons now under quarantine for scarlet fever will be taken to the institution today.

The city has been steadily reducing the cases of scarlet fever. An average of 100 cases have been on the records since the middle of the winter, but the number is now around eighty, with more being taken off every day. The disease has at no time assumed the dimensions of a serious epidemic.

CARRIERS HOLD ANNUAL BALL

Uncle Sam's Employes Make Merry at the Armory.

Zenith Branch No. 114, National Association of Letter Carriers last evening gave its annual ball at the Armory, a large number of the young people of the city attending. Both the dance hall and the gallery were packed.

Souvenir programs were handed out at the door. The music was furnished by Paul's ten-piece orchestra, and supper was served to many of the guests in the gallery.

BILBO TELLS ABOUT BRIBE

Says He Was Promised $1,000 to Vote for Percy But Got Only $645.

Mississippian Also Says That He Voted for Vardaman All the Time.

Jackson, Miss., April 1—State Senator Bilbo, who charges that he was given a bribe to vote for United States Senator Percy in the recent senatorial deadlock, appeared in the senate today. Rev. S. B. Culpepper, president of Clark Memorial college, Newton, Miss., probably will appear before the senate tonight.

It developed today that Dr. Culpepper's brother is related to Senator Bilbo by marriage and that Bilbo is a trustee of the college at Newton.

Ex-Governor Vardaman is apparently taking no active part in the proceedings.

Senator Theodore Bilbo before an executive session of the senate last night, told the circumstances of his acceptance of a bribe from L. C. Dulaney, a wealthy planter of Issaquena county, to change his vote from Former Governor Vardaman to United States Senator Leroy Percy.

Never Got Full Thousand.

Bilbo, it is stated, said it was suggested to him in January that he might sell his vote, and finally he opened negotiations. It was agreed that he was to receive $1,000 in several payments. He received $645 in all, he said, the final payment being after the election of Senator Percy.

His plans, he asserted, were related to several friends of Former Governor Vardaman, including Judge W. H. Potter, Ben F. Ward Jr., and T. P. Barr, who approved of his suggestion that a trap be laid.

To corroborate his statement Bilbo claimed that Rev. B. S. Culpepper, president of Clark memorial college at Newton, occupied apartments with him at a local hotel; that though it was impossible to have him present, as he honed, to witness one of the transactions, he had exhibited one of the payments to Dr. Culpepper, explaining to him now he secured it.

Did Not Vote For Percy.

He said his agreement was to cast his vote for Former Governor Vardaman throughout.

Judge Potter, Bilbo asserted, advised him not to make the facts known until after the senatorial contest was ended. The entire amount he received, he stated, was turned over to the grand jury after he had noted the numbers of the currency.

MAYBE MENELIK LIVES AFTER ALL

Berlin and Rome Have Dispatches That Deny Report of His Death.

Berlin, April 1.—A special to the Tageblatt from Addis Abeba would seem to indicate that King Menelik was still alive yesterday when, the dispatch says, the state counsel refused the demand of the empress that the people should swear to give protection to her life and property in the event of the monarch's death.

London Remains Skeptical.

London, April 1. — Skepticism is still expressed here regarding the recent announcement at Addis Abeba that King Menelik had died. A dispatch from Rome was received today, saying that the Stefani agency is in receipt of advices, purporting to be authentic, from the Abyssinian capital, which not only flatly contradict the announcement, but insist in the face of assurances to the contrary, that there has been no change of late in the monarch's condition.

BREWERS STRIKE AT LA CROSSE

Three Hundred Men Go Out and Plants Are Forced to Close.

La Crosse, Wis., April 1.—A strike, declared at a meeting ending at 3 o'clock this morning, went into effect in the three largest La Crosse breweries at 7 o'clock, when 300 skilled workmen failed to report for duty, necessitating the closing down of the plants and throwing those employed in other departments out of work. The strikers want an eight-hour day instead of a nine-hour day and an increase averaging $2 a week in wages.

SALOON MAN CANDIDATE; SO IS SENATOR'S SON.

Marinette, Mich., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Emil Rasor, a saloon keeper, has entered the race for mayor of Marinette, contesting with Mayor Fisher, J. F. Boyad and Isaac Stephenson, Jr., son of the United States senator, for the honor.

Postmaster at Adolph.

Washington, April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Erick Lundberg was today appointed postmaster at Adolph, St. Louis county, Minn., vice P. C. Wasserzicher, resigned; and John A. Schmitt was appointed rural carrier on route 4 at St. Cloud, Minn.

County Fair at Larimore.

Larimore, N. D., April 1.—Larimore has decided upon July 4 and 5 as the dates of the annual Grand Forks county fair. For some time it has been uncertain whether the city would hold a fair this year or not, but the plans finally materialized and the event will take place. The new officers of the association are as follows: President, O. H. Phillips; vice president, Thomas May; treasurer, Clay Larimore.

COMPANIES A, C, & E

CHEAP HAY FOR THE FARMERS

County Auditor Will Receive Bids on State Grass Lands.

Here is a chance for farmers to get cheap hay.

On April 12, Odin Halden, county auditor, will receive bids on various state lands in St. Louis county, for the grass contained thereon. It cannot be sold for less than 10 cents an acre. The successful bidders will have the right to cut the grass for five years, paying the price bid per acre each year.

Up until this year the grass has been purchased from the state auditor. Under the recent law, the auditors of the various counties have the right to sell the grass to those who put in the highest bid.

In St. Louis county the farmer sometimes has a hard time for the first few years to cut enough hay to provide for his stock during the long winter months. This is the reason the state sells the hay on its lands. Many of the state lands are known as grass lands. These lands are natural grass meadows and many tons of hay is cut annually from them.

Last year the grass on between seventy-five and 100 forties was sold. As the county is rapidly settling up and each farmer is anxious to cut as much hay as possible, it is expected that every piece offered will be bid on.

VACANCY MAY NOT BE FILLED

Board of Education May Pass Election of Successor to J. J. Moe.

The board of education may pass the matter of electing a successor to J. J. Moe, who resigned his membership on the board last week, and may allow the vacancy to exist until filled at the regular school election next summer, according to a statement made by one member of the board this morning.

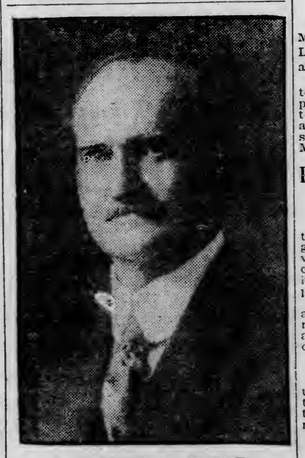

No action has been definitely decided on, however, and the matter will probably come before the board at the regular meeting tonight. Some of the members are said to be in favor of filling the vacancy, although they are committed to no one person, but other members believe the interests of the district would not suffer if the eight members of the board administered the affairs for the next three months.

The committee on maintenance of buildings and grounds is expected to report tonight on the matter of purchasing sites for school buildings in the vicinity of Fortieth avenue west and Third street, and also in the vicinity of Twelfth avenue east and Eighth street. The same committee will probably report estimates of the cost of remodeling and building an addition to the Oneota school and also on the feasibility of raising the Radisson school building to allow a boiler to be placed under it.

J. CAMPBELL WHITE MAY SPEAK HERE

Efforts are being made to secure the attendance of J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, at the laymen's missionary convention, to be held in Duluth April 22, 23 and 24. He has not notified the committee that he will be able to attend, but the local people are hoping that he will be able to accept the invitation extended to him.

When the Laymen's Missionary Movement was organized Nov. 15, 1906, Mr.

J. CAMPBELL WHITE.

White was present and he gave the only address of the occasion. He was called to the leadership of the movement, and he has since been general secretary. He has addressed all of the great conventions held under the auspices of the movement, and he was kone of the deputation which, in 1907, visited Great Britain and organized national committees of the movement in England and Scotland.

Mr. White has been in public Christian work for twenty years, and his varied experience fits him well for the position he holds in the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

MOUNT ETNA IS MORE ACTIVE

Stream of Lava Is Moving One Hundred and Twelve Feet an Hour.

Catania, April 1.—The eruption of Mount Etna has increased in intensity. Lava flows in the direction of Borrello at the rate of 112 feet an hour.

A river of lava from the active craters of Mount Etna today invaded Lisi plain, flowing in the direction of Cisterna and Regina. Borrello does not appear to be in danger. Another stream is advancing slowly toward Mount Nocilla.

POSSESSION THE WHOLE LAW OF STREET CAR SEATS

St. Louis, April 1.—"Title to a seat in the street cars rests in the man who gets it first, in preference to the man who sees it first," Judge Kleiber declared in municipal police court here, his decision settling a long disputed point in the conduct of strap-hangers.

William Glover, who got a seat first and fought to keep it from Oscar Wagner, who saw is first, was discharged, after being arrested on the latter's complaint.

Sea Monsters for France.

Paris, April 1.—The chamber of deputies today voted to lay down two battleships in the present year, designed to equal the latest type added to the navies of Great Britain and Germany.

NO INDIGESTION OR SICK STOMACH

Gas, Heartburn, Dyspepsia and All Misery in Stomach Vanishes.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

TO CUT OUT ALL FAVOR

Proposal in the Senate Regarding All Public Building Projects.

Urged They Be Passed Upon Strictly on Their Merits.

Washington, April 1.—While the government has maintained a semblance, at least, of strict business methods in reaching a determination of how much money shall be spent for the improvement of rivers and harbors, there has been pretty much of a free-for-all scramble over the appropriations for public buildings, and especially as to the selection of sites. It would be easy enough to criticize the distribution of the money for waterways, but it is scarcely too much to say that hardly a city where a public building has been located can be found without a scandal in connection with the choosing of the site.

In order to obviate such things in the future as far as possible, Senator Scott introduced a joint resolution appropriating $25,000 a year for expert reports on applications for new public buildings. Like kissing, building appropriations go by favor. The strongest men get them, and the strongest politicians say where the sites shall be. If Senator Scott's resolution goes through—and the secretary of the treasury has reported favorably on it to the committee—trained inspectors will pass on all applications and will tell in the impartial way expected of such officials whether Punkville needs a postoffice building, whether it has business enough to pay for the janitor work in one, and whether it has any prospects of ever growing up to the adult stage among cities.

Many Government Buildings.

The extent of the building operations of the government is not fully appreciated. At this time there are under way 118 new buildings costing $27,682,490.81. The buildings appropriated for, but not begun number 229 and are estimated to cost $24,135,000. The buildings completed during the last six months number thirty, and they cost $4,162,500, with extensions of the original plans on these and on old buildings amounting to $8,396,416.30 for twenty-seven extensions. The extensions under way number thirty-four, costing $8,048,112 and the extensions in buildings not begun number thirty-eight at an estimated cost of $8,340,500. The total number of buildings here referred to is 476, costing approximately $80,000,000. The number of all buildings completed and occupied number 899, and are valued at $175,000,000.

It is intended to appropriate this year about $15,000,000 for new buildings, plans on none of which can be made for at least two years, owing to the pressure of work already in hand. It is estimated that if the government saved only 5 per cent on its expenditure by having official reports on proposed new buildings and sites, the saving would be about $1,250,000 annually, at a cost for the inspection of only $25,000.

Favors Civic Centers.

The government is taking an interest in the city planning idea. It is glad whenever there is any local sentiment of the kind to take into consideration the advisability of locating government buildings with relation to municipal improvements and the relation with the creation of civic centers, an idea which appeals to the artistic and the utilitarian sense of the best critics. There are notable instances where public buildings have been located in places where they never could have been put but for the fact that political influences were stronger than business or artistic considerations. After they have been built it is too late to remedy mistakes of that sort. With an intelligent and impartial jury, such mistakes should be few. Municipal beautification would be advanced, as it should be, by government co-operation; and it is because of the possibilities in this line with very small incidental expense, that there is something approaching a national movement for a national art referee body—such as the proposed bureau of arts or whatever it may be called—the creation of which was so strongly urged by ex-President Roosevelt and which is being considered by this congress. As is seems to be meeting with no opposition, there is a strong probability that the bureau of arts may soon be an accomplished entity.

Capt. Hains' Case.

The public in general will probably be surprised to be reminded, through an item in a service journal, that Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., Tenth company of coast artillery, who is serving a term of imprisonment in the penitentiary under the sentence of the civil court for murder, is still on the army rolls and that the military authorities do not know how to get him off. The paper says:

"The separation of Capt. Hains from the army can be effected by having senatorial confirmation of the nomination of another officer to take his place. There are objections, readily occuring to everyone, to such a proceding, but it is understood that the chief of coast artillery is anxious to have Capt. Hains' place filled, inasmuch as that officer is not likely to be available for duty for some time. While Capt. Hains does not come up for promotion to the next higher grade for several years, even that incident would not make it possible to drop him or transfer him from the active list, since in either event he must be examined for promotion or retirement and such examination is not possible under the circumstances."

All this sounds funny to a mere civilian.

RABBI MAKES IMPRESSION

Dr. Stephen A. Wise Has Captured Jewish London in Fortnight.

Congregation Asks Him to Take Charge of a Synagogue.

London, April 1.—Dr. Stephen A. Wise, one of the leaders of Jewish thought in the United States, has established in the space of a fortnight's visit here a reputation as a speaker of extraordinary power and eloquence. Not only has he galvanized religious reform into new life, but he will return to New York with the assurance that many young Jews that were drifting from the fold are being retained by Judaism.

In reality it is he who has effected the change through his personal magnetism and spiritual enthusiasm. He passionately asserts, however, that it is due to the principles he endeavors to put forth as a true presentment of Judaism. The principles may inspire the man, but it is the man who inspires the people.

Already the congregants of the West London synagogue, home of English Reform Judaism, have issued a manifesto announcing new resolutions. Shorter services are to be partly rendered in English, as many members are unable to follow the Hebrew reading, the study of that language being abandoned to a large extent nowadays; another innovation is the sitting together of men and women during divine service, a thing unheard of in the old Mosaic tradition, which separates the sexes in Oriental manner.

Back to Judaism.

An outsider is likely to think the influence of Dr. Wise to be destructive and not constructive, but he urges that the Jewish Religious union is not a movement away from Judaism. As he said at the St. Petersburg hotel:

"Jewish reformation has no finality; it will always continue to become the real help of those who profess a belief in Judaism. We do not want the religion of our fathers: what we want is a vital religion of our own. We revere the dead, but we cannot be content with the hand of a dead authority which has long ceased to rule.

"Liberal Judaism is one of the few hopeful signs of the present day; it has confirmed and strengthened the loyalty of those Jews who without it would have gone out of the synagogues. Liberal Judaism goes down deep into life; it is life; and the men who are its leaders are men of deep piety and religious feeling. I, too, have a Trinity, and it is in the Trinity of Liberal Judaism—Monotheism, Monomoralism and Monohumanism.

"Yes, much has been heard of intermarriage; the intermarriage I fear is the marriage of the Jew with the baser ideas of today."

Of the various strata of Jewish people in the United States Dr. Wise says: "Until sixty years ago there were only Spanish and Portuguese Jews. Today the members of the Spanish and Portuguese synagogues are made up of Germans and Poles. The Spanish and Portuguese have completely disintegrated—they have intermarried and become absorbed in the general population. They are self-suffiecing and look with much scorn on the other Jews that they live outside Jewry.

"About 1840 a great German invasion set in and lasted between thirty and forty years. These immigrants were the founders of the Jewish reform movement in America. Following the German immigration came the great settlement of Russian Jews."

Three Classes of Jews.

"First," he says, "there are the fathers who remain committed to Judaism through association as they have known it in the land of their birth. Secondly, there is a large section of the younger generation which has completely divorced itself from religion; this section takes it for granted that Judaism is dead.

"Thirdly, there are the younger Russians, a deeply loyal class, hungry for something Jewish. This is the class we are trying to reach. The Jewry of the America of tomorrow is going to be of Russian descent. The Jews who have come from Russia are gaining in power, in influence and in wealth. They are going to contribute something fine and high to the idealism of the American people. In New York civic life we count on the vote of the naturalized Russian Jew and his descendants being cast for righteousness."

Dr. Wise who has so forcibly reawakened in English Jews an appreciation of the great beauties of their ancient faith, will not accept, as was first rumored, the pastorship of the new London synagogue. Nevertheless, the selection of the new pastor is to be made by Dr. Wise, and, he assured me, "he will be an American."

CONFERENCE ON CITY PLANNING

Important Gathering to Be Held at Rochester in May.

Rochester, N. Y., April 1.—American cities have grown up in such a hit-or-miss, helter-skelter sort of a fashion, that the idea of planning for future growth has seldom been thought of and the result is seen in many big towns and cities which "just growed like Topsy."

There is an organization called "The National Conference on City Planning" that is trying to head off this unscientific development. It is going at it at much the same way that a forester or a tree culturist meets the problems of his profession. Where there is congestion there must be pruning if good growth is to be assured. Crooked streets like crooked branches must be straightened. Clearings must often be provided for play and recreation. In a word the human resources of the city must be conserved.

This national conference on city planning will meet in Rochester on May 2 to 4. Generalities will be avoided. "Practical" will be the conference's watchword.

The first day's meeting will be opened by an introductory paper by Frederick Law Olmsted of Brookline, Mass., who will show the relation of the subjects on the program. Tuesday evening a banquet will be served and Dr. Rush Rhees, president of the University of Rochester, will preside.

On the first day discussions will be given up to the consideration of congestion of population. Both causes and prevention will be discussed. Wednesday morning the circulation of passengers and freight will be the topic for discussion. At the last meeting on Wednesday, problems of legal and administrative procedure affecting the city plan will be discussed.

In connection with the conference itself, there will be an exhibit on city planning and congestion in the rooms of the chamber of commerce. Flavel Shurtleff, 19 Congress street, Boston, is secretary of the conference.

TWO OLD PEOPLE ARE STRANDED

Octogenarian Is Not Cast Down By His Hard Luck.

Chicago, April 1.—James Davis, F. F. P. P., 80 years old, and his wife, Martha Davis, 71 years old, both of Cayuga county, N. Y., are stranded in Chicago. They have been on their way to Denver since last September, when they sold their homestead and started West.

"Switched if this isn't the durndest place to go clean strapped in, too. Seems like there's a hull lot to do here, but there's a lot of folks doing it. I kin do most anything, but I ain't got a chance at it yet."

In the Sheffield avenue police station Davis commented in that manner on the hard punches he and his wife have received at the hands of fate. Then he revealed the significance of the letters in the wake of his name. Davis is a fighter, a farmer, a poet and a philosopher. Because he and his wife are temporarily locked behind the bars dampens not the least his hope in the future.

"We're plum broke; there ain't no getting around that," he said, "but I have to laugh at the fix we're in just the same.

"You know one of these tinhorn poets used to live by me once—till he went to jail; and when he was there he wrote a poem and sent it to me, and I keep thinking about that:

The judges and juries all h—— do not fear,
They'll bring you in guilty though you prove yourself clear;
They send you to jail and there you must lie,
Eat mush and molasses, by gum, till you die.

Davis and his wife reached Chicago two weeks ago. They were provided for temporarily by the United Charities, but they "got tired of being an expense to somebody we don't know" and boarded a train which, they supposed was headed for Denver. A conductor put them off at Sheridan station, on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, and the police took them in custody.

"My asthma was getting terribly bad in Cayuga county, so me and my wife we sold our home and made up our minds to go out and see my brother Will," Davis said. "He's got a 40-acre farm about seven miles from Denver. When we sold the house and a cow and a pig and some chickens and paid up our debts we had about $350 left.

"We got along all right until we got to Cleveland. Then I got sick. Just sort of a breakdown. Wife always said I'd begin feeling my age after a while. Folks in Cleveland wanted me to go to a hospital. I wouldn't. I knew I was took bad, and when folks go to a hospital sick as I was they never come out alive.

"We went to a boarding house and got a doctor. Well, the first one that come didn't do me no good. Then I got another doctor, and the medicine done me a heap of good. I just kept picking up right along and felt chipper in no time.

"You know, I'm not worrying about myself. I've been a fighter for eighty years and I'm good for ten more. But my wife's getting old and she can't stand things very well. I believe if I could get out in the country I could get a job and save up enough to get us out to Will's. Then I want to get to lecturing somewhere in the West. I've got a lot of original ideas about the Bible, and I'm certain I could make a couple of thousand dollars quick.

"Only thing about it is that I ain't got no teeth. Soon as I can get some teeth made, things will brighten up and wife and I'll get out of this fix. It's embarrassing, I know, but we'll forget it."

Efforts on the part of the police to find the brother in or near Denver have failed.

FIREMAN SAVED THE TRAIN.

Fatally Burned, He Grasps Throttle When Engineer Succumbs.

Paris, April 1.—The passengers on the Paris to Bordeaux express, one of the fastest trains in Europe, had a narrow escape the other night when the driver and stoker received fatal injuries while the train was traveling at the rate of sixty-five miles an hour.

The express was passing Saintes Maure, when the stoker opened the door of the furnace in order to stoke it. He had turned to the tender, shovel in hand, and the driver was looking at the roaring fire, when there was suddenly a burst of flame, and both men were terribly burned.

Lavaud, the driver, fell unconscious on the floor of the cab. The stoker, although suffering from frightful burns, had presence of mind to crawl to the throttle of the engine and stop the train just as it was entering Poictiers station.

Lavaud was taken to the hospital, where he died shortly afterward, and the stoker is in a dying condition. Had both men been rendered unconscious the train would have been wrecked and the passengers killed.

CIGARETTES GROW THINNER.

English Dealers Find Way to Make Up for Increased Tax.

London, April 1.—The English cigarette smoker, if he has been observant, may have noticed that his dainty white tube of favorite weed has been slightly thinner than it was some weeks ago. The explanation of this was given by Norman Bubb, secretary of the Wholesale Tobacconists' Protective association.

When the increased tax was put on tobacco the cigarette manufacturers raised the prices by a half-penny. After a while they found that the public did not take to this kindly, and they removed the additional half-penny charge. Then, in order to make up for this, some of them resorted to the expedient of putting less tobacco in the cigarette, and so it is that the dejectable weed has shrunk in size.

It was said that a falling off in tobacco consumption was due to the decrease in the sale of cigarettes to boy smokers, owing to the operation of the children act. Mr. Bubb, however, pointed out that the trade in cigarettes which boys smoked had ben so small as to be hardly worth talking about. They only smoked the cheapest cigarettes, and it would take a great deal to make anything felt in that direction. People, he thought, smoked a cheaper cigarette now than they did formerly. The decrease in tobacco consumption was mainly in pipe tobacco and cigars—in the case of the latter it was very marked indeed.

Mr. Bubb attributed the diminished consumption of tobacco to the increased duty, and maintained that it has caused the smoker with a small income to reduce his tobacco allowance.

COINS NEW WORDS.

Brand Whitlock Makes Two Additions to the English Language.

Toledo, Ohio, April 1.—Mayor Brand Whitlock offered two amendments to the collection of words lexicographed by the late Noah Webster by coining two brand-new words and springing them without warning on an unsuspectig city council, to the dismay of Tobias Herringshaw, Yorkshireman, reading clerk.

In a message to the council concerning the new city hall, the mayor used the word "civitism," the first of the two new ones, to express the love a citizen bears, or should bear, to his city, just as patriotism expresses the love a man bears his country.

Then he spoke of "civicides," meaning those persons who, for selfish motives, obstruct the public works of a city and, consequently, its growth and development.

GOVERNOR HARMON PICKS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

Springfield, Ohio, April 1.—James Johnson, Jr., of this city, has received a request from Governor Judson Harmon to run for congress in this district against Gen. J. Warren Keifer. Clark, Miami, Madison, Pickaway and Fayette counties comprise the district. Mr. Johnson is carefully looking over the field and has received nothing but favorable reports. He has not replied to the governor's request, but will give his answer soon.

Postmaster J. H. Rabbitts, who was turned down for reappointment by Gen. Keifer in favor of W. F. Bevitt, is being boomed for chairman of the Republican county committee, and he can have it for the asking. This is taken as a direct slap at Gen. Keifer, and the friends of Mr. Rabbitts declare that there is a strong sentiment against the general in his own county.

PEARY'S BIG DOG.

First to Tread the Ice at North Pole, Is Dead.

Boston, Mass., April 1.—The big dog which Commander Peary took with him to the pole is dead at Flagg Island, Me. He died of heart disease brought on by the recent warm days, the sudden change being too much for him.

The dog was valued highly by Mr. Peary, and was the leader of his canine teams on his last dash for the pole.

He was buried on Mr. Peary's island estate. A shaft will be placed over his grave, on which will be inscribed the fact that it was erected in memory of the dog first to tread the ice at the world's top.

GOLD DUST

Cuts Grease and Dissolves Dirt. It saves your strength.

The labor question is solved when you "Let the Gold Dust Twins do your work." GOLD DUST is an antiseptic washing powder that works wonders. It not only removes the visible dirt and grease, but goes deep after every hidden particle and minute impurity—every trace of germ life—sterilizes as well as cleanses—and leaves everything it touches clean, pure, wholesome, safe.

If you want to reduce the muscular effort of household cleaning and make work a pleasure, let GOLD DUST show you the way. All you have to do is to assist GOLD DUST by directing its energy; it does most of the work.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE)

Some Style Here.

Baron Wilkins, black boss of colored New York city, does not intend to be outdone by the white brother in the matter of going from Gotham to dear San Francisco in befitting style and luxurious comfort. He has chartered a special train, and upon this train 100 black brothers will be carried to the scene of the big battle.

Such harmless games as poker, whist, and hearts will be permitted. There will be wine and beer and—gin in plenty, if the plans of the Baron are carried out. Only the members of the train crew will be white. That the black men will enjoy themselves—on the way out—goes without saying. They may feel different on the return trip.

It is a safe prediction to state that there will be more colored men present at the Emeryville affair, than have ever been present at a prize fight.

When Sullivan fought Kilrain that long-to-be-remembered battle in Vicksburg, in the heart of the South, there were a large number of negroes present at the battle. Though California is not in the colored center of population, it's a cinch that there will be a black fringe hedged around the more expensive seats, representing the negroes who have pinned their faith to the champion of their race.

Peace at Red Wing.

Now comes the gladsome news that money is pouring into the baseball coffers of the Red Wing club with that degree of alacrity with which maidens part with two-bit pieces for the photos of Chauncey Olcott at a popular priced matinee. Nothing succeeds like success, some high brow once observed, and we are plum joyous up here to hear of the rain of currency.

If the reports are correct, twenty-eight players have been signed by Mope Malloy, and a team that will make the others scratch from the call of play, will be placed upon the field.

That is the best news that has come out of Red Wing since the announcement of the granting of the application for a franchise. It is to be hoped that the team proves formidable and stubborn. With the purse strings untied and a riotous roll to spend upon players, there is every hope that Mike will gather to the home lot a collection that will make the cits of the thriving burg regular dyed in the wool, fanatical fans.

With indications pointing to strong teams from the new members of the league, and the belief that Winona, Superior and Wausau will be stronger than last year, there should be a Salvator-Tenny contest in the Minny league.

Modesty prevents any mention of the glowing prospects of Duluth.

Money to Wager.

Betting upon the outcome of the prospective Gotch-Zbyszko match has already started in this city. The Poles are supremely confident that their countryman will prove the man to take the laurels from Frank A. Gotch. Yesterday several wagers were made that Zbyszko would win, and it is reported that the Polish people who follow athletic events have more money to wager upon the chances of Zbyszko.

It is very doubtful if ever a wrestling match in this country has been held that has attracted the attention that the coming contest bids fair to draw from every section of the country. Many people believe that at last a man has been found who can give Gotch a battle. The Polish population of the country is firmly convinced that Zbyszko will defeat Gotch. With this wide divergence of opinion there is sure to be a great amount of interest shown in the match.

Cornering Pacers.

Col. Savage of Minneapolis is surely getting a corner on the visible supply of racing horseflesh, just as Jim Patton got a strangle hold on the wheat of the country. Hedgewood Boy and Lady Maud C, two of the greatest pacers in the world, have only recently been added to the Savage stables, to keep company with such aristocratic stars of the harness world as Dan Patch, George Gano, Minor Heir and other youngsters that are being developed at the stockman's farm near Minneapolis.

It was pointed out sometime ago that the acquirement of Dan Patch and Minor Heir, and the recent acquisition of George Gano, champion money winner of last year, was adding fame to Minnesota as a state where fine horseflesh was duly appreciated.

Now Col. Savage has shown his fondness further for the best of the pacers, by the acquirement of the great pacing team, the fastest team in the world, by the way.

It can't help but do the racing game a great deal of good. For some time the Savage entries have been a great attraction at the Minnesota state fair, the greatest institution of its kind in the entire country. It is very probable that the recent purchases of Mr. Savage will also come to be great drawing cards at the harness events of the state fair, and will also show the outside world that Minnesota is doing its share toward fostering one of the cleanest sports in the world.

Shame on You.

Willie Beach Smith is just that vindictive. He has taken up the cudgels on the part of Red Wing, insisting that they have sufficient gold in that region of the state to push "that pile of brick called Duluth into the middle of the lake."

Mabel's Might.

A story is burning up the sporting prairie, telling in many-sided detail of the very excellent control of Mabel Hite, husband of the one time baseball player, but present actor (?) Mike Donlin.

If the story is to be believed, Mrs. Mabel has better control than Christy Mathewson. If Mique ever plays baseball again, so sayeth the yarn, it will be Mrs. Donlin who will see the magnates and haggle over the terms. Few managers at that, could resist Mabel.

Mike never did save any money until he got carried—wonder if it is a good idea? Mister Donlin has walked the narrow path and has learned many things that never even occurred to him before Cupid struck him out. But this threatened permitting of wifey dear to sign the contract! That should be used in the press stuff of the suffragettes.

LARRY McLEAN HAS NOT BEEN REINSTATED.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 1.—President Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati National league club said today that Larry McLean, the suspended catcher of the local team, has not been reinstated. Herrmann declared that he has done nothing in the case since he accepted McLean's resignation.

Indoor Baseball.

An indoor baseball game will be played this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium between the 5:30 class and the evening class. The two teams will lineup as follows:

SCOTT A. IRWIN.

Scott Arthur Irwin is very enthusiastic over the Yankees and thinks they have a great chance to win the pennant of the American league. He says Stallings has the finest pitchers in the league. Irwin will have charge of the second team on the return trip to New York. He is an old time player, has been manager, umpire and knows the game thoroughly.

BIG PURSE OFFERED FOR ZBYSZKO-GOTCH MATCH

Kansas City, Mo., April 1.—Dr. B. F. Roller and Yusiff Mahmout were matched here yesterday to wrestle at Convention hall on the night of April 7.

Manager William Scoville of the Missouri Athletic club has announced he will offer a purse of $15,000 for a match between Frank Gotch and Zbyszko.

DORANDO WINS BY SMALL MARGIN

Twenty Yards Separate Contestants at End of Twenty-Mile Race.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 1.—Not more than twenty yards separated Dorando and Longboat at any point in a fast twenty-mile race at Exposition hall last night and it was by that distance that the latter lost the race to the Italian. Dorando's time was 1 hour, 54 minutes and 8 2-5 seconds, within four minutes of the record which L. Jungstrom the Swede, established in New York about a month ago. Dorando took the lead at the start, but surrendered it to Longboat after the second mile. During the next five miles each lost it twice, but in the seventh Dorando regained it to hold it to the finish. Dorando nearly collapsed at the finish.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Ski Club Holds Business Meeting and Awards Special Prizes.

Dr. H. Hoyde was re-elected president of the Duluth Ski club at the meeting held last night, and P. O. Munkeby was elected first vice president; H. Wannebo, second vice president; George Jensen, corresponding secretary, and John L. Larsen, financial secretary.

The following directors were named for a term of two years: C. E. Evans, G. G. Hartley, Dr. H. Hovde, P. C. Wright, John Wold, Whitney Wall, George M. Jensen, Norton Mattox, H. Wannebo.

Ole Feiring was awarded the Hartley prize for the longest jump made on the Duluth hill the past season. In one of the tournaments Fiering made 144 feet, while in a practice jump he is credited with having made 137 feet. John Mangseth was awarded the prize for the most points secured on the Chester hill.

O. L. I. Sween, a new member of the club, who has not been in this country a very long time, secured the prize for the best form and character. Sween did not secure any distance prizes, but throughout the past season has shown a form that has won admiration from enthusiasts.

A report on the financial condition of the club showed that there is money in the treasury despite the fact that a good deal of money has been expended for improvements the past year. A smoker followed the business meeting.

GOTCH AND LEO PARDELLO

World's Champion Will Probably Make Last Appearance in Duluth.

Tonight, World's Champion Frank A. Gotch will wrestle his last big match preparatory to his meeting with Stanislaus Zbyszko, meeting Leo Pardello, the famous Italian champion. The match the Humboldt wonder will engage in before his finish match with the wonderful Pole.

Gotch completed his triumphal tour of the country several days ago. On that tour he made a record never equalled by any wrestler in the world. The match tonight will be the last before the greatest contest of Gotch's career—the meeting with Zbyszko.

Pardello got in ahead of the world's champion. He looks like a formidable opponent for even the great and only Gotch.

"Two years ago in Chicago Gotch snapped my kneecap with the toe hold," said Pardello. "We wrestled something like forty minutes when the injury occurred. Ever since that time I have wanted to meet Frank Gotch in a return match. I don't say that I can beat Gotch—for we all know how good he is; but even if Gotch is the world's champion, he will know that he has been in a match and an interesting one, too, when we get through with each other."

Pardello is the roughest in the business. Knowing his mat habits, there are those who believe the match will be rough in spots for Pardello has the excitable Italian temperament.

Gotch is right at his zenith at the present time. Never before in his career has he shown the wonderful form he has shown the present season. He is the greatest wrestler America or Europe, either, has ever developed. He is the only American wrestler who has been able to cope with the giants of Europe. The present tour will, according to the announced plans of Gotch, be his last tour of the mats. Tonight will therefore also probably be his last match in this city, where Gotch has hosts of personal friends.

Ole Johnson and Carl Nelson, two of the most interesting mat performers at the Head of the Lakes, will furnish the curtain raiser, and Greek Johnny Hudson, the crack little Baltimore welterweight, will clash with Billy Beaulieau.

The show will begin at 8:15.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIOR TEAM DEFEATS ERICKSON ALUMNI

Yesterday afternoon on the floor of the boys' department gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. the boys' department team won its twelfth straight game of the season, defeating the Erickson Alumni team of Superior by the score of 32 to 12. The game was fast and very well played for boys. The work of Harris, Nelson and Whiteside featured the play of the Duluth team.

The lineup:

Boys' Dept.		Erickson Alumni.
Harris	f	Van Arman
Busselman	f	Grinsruel
Whiteside	c	Freiker
Huyck	g	Bergstrom
Nelson	g	Kelley

Baskets from field — Whiteside, 7; Huyck, 6; Busselman, 2; Van Arman, 2; Freiker, 2; Bergstrom, 1; Grimsruel, 1. Free throws—Harris, 2.

KELLEYS ARE ORGANIZED.

Strong Amateur Ball Team Elects Manager and Prepares for Season.

At a meeting of members last night the Kelley Hardware baseball team was organized for the coming season. Frank Wegman was elected manager of the team and stated that he has several new players in sight.

The following candidates will be out for the team: Wegman, Cullen, Michalek, C. Foster, Brown, Lowe, Bailey and Murphy.

Negotiations will be opened for a game with the Big Duluths and also with Artie O'Dea's Superior team. The Kelleys were one of the strongest of the local amateur teams last year and it is expected that the team will be strengthened the coming season. Games will be played with the semi-professional teams of the ranges as well as with all the local teams.

DULUTH HEIGHTS BALL TEAM ORGANIZES.

G. C. Eaton was elected manager; C. J. Jolniece, captain, and Herbert Christianson, secretary and treasurer of the Duluth Heights baseball team, at a meeting held last night. The first game of the season will be played next Sunday on the Heights. Repairs will be made on the grounds of the club, to defray the expense of which a dance will be held.

MINNY LEAGUE NOTES

Winona has added Charles G. Perry of Minneapolis to the crowd of recruits. The new man is an outfielder and comes to Killian with medals of recommendation on his "chist."

Pitcher Schmirler, who twirled for the Duluth pennant winners last season, has been released to the Peoria team of the Three-I league. Though Mr. Schmirler pitched some very good baseball upon the trip of the Sox, it is not believed that the youngster possesses enough baseball knowledge for fast company. It is believed that he will be ready for fast company at the expiration of another year spent in the minors.

Winona, a town hard to satisfy, by the way, is protesting over the arrangement of the schedule. The officials of that town want a closing game for Winona as well as the opening game, and are at the present time endeavoring to have the schedule changed to that end.

The schedule calls for the closing games of Winona on the grounds of Wausau and Eau Claire. The Winona fans would like muchly to have these games played at La Crosse or Red Wing, where they could attend.

Mike Cantillion of Minneapolis has offered his grounds to Happy Jack Corrigan of he Rochester team on May 1 and 8 for the purpose of exhibition games. The Millers will be out of town on the aforementioned dates.

Mike Malloy has written a letter home from Chicago, in which he says that he has signed eight new recruits, all of them good men. The names of the men are not given out. Mike is a wary chap.

A letter from Eau Claire announces that practically all of the members of last year's team will be back and that in addition Schoonhoven has signed a large number of recruits. The fans down Eau Claire way believe the team will be stronger that the aggregation of last year.

Red Wing has scheduled pre-season games with Racine, April 17; Madison, April 18; Fond du Lac, April 19; Oshkosh, April 20, and Appleton, April 21.

SHOOTERS TO GATHER HERE

Northwestern Gun Club Will Hold Big Tournament Decoration Day.

Plans are already under way for the big tournament of the Northwestern Gun club, which will be held at the grounds of the local club on the Rice Lake road, Decoration day.

Some of the very best shots in the country will be here, including H. C. Herschy of Minneapolis, champion of the United States; J. L. D. Morrison of St. Paul, R. R. Barber of Chicago, Harry Stair of Crookston, W. M. Ferguson of Grand Forks, and R. D. Duplek of Aitkin.

It is possible that G. A. R. Elliott, perhaps the most famous shot in the world at the present time, may be here for the first big tournament that has been held by the local club, which is beginning to be looked upon as one of the biggest clubs of the Northwest.

The club will offer $150 in cash prizes for the tournament, and in addition there will be a large number of prizes donated by the merchants of the city.

The local members have already begun practicing for the tournament. There will be the regular shoot of the club Sunday, at which about 1,500 shells will be fired on the clay pigeons. There will be a shoot every Sunday until the day of the tournament.

Local shots are looking eagerly forward to the clash with some of the best trap shooters in the country.

BOATS REPAIRED WHILE THE OWNERS WAIT.

An innovation has been established by the Duluth Boat club in the starting of a repair shop at the main boathouse at which all boat owners whether they have sail boats or motor boats, can have their boats repaired. All the necessary parts of boats will be kept at the shop, and hereafter when a boat breaks down, it can be repaired quickly and without the trouble of sending the parts away. The establishment of the shop is in line with the growth of the club.

BABY'S ITCHING SOOTHED AT ONCE

And Soon Cured Perfectly and Economically—Doctor Called It Eczema and Little Sufferer Rubbed and Twisted All the Time.

CUTICURA AGAIN PROVED "THE GREAT SKIN CURE"

"My baby boy was about nine months old when he had a breaking out on his neck which was very annoying. It used to make him very fretful and cross because it seemed to worry him so much. In the meantime I was sick myself. I had my doctor look at the baby and he told me it was eczema and he wanted to treat it. But a friend of mine told me she knew it could be cured cheaper than any doctor could do it for and in much less time. So I started using the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which I soon found out was what I ought to have had before, for the eczema seemed to itch so the baby could not keep his head still for he was rubbing and twisting all the time. I used the Cuticura Remedies about three times the first day and began to notice the good it was doing, for he began to get rest from rubbing his neck.

"So I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and now no one could tell that he ever had any kind of breaking out, and since then I have never been without the Cuticura Soap nor the Cuticura Ointment. Mrs. Lula Dorsey, 12 Browns Ct., S. W., Washington, D. C., Oct. 2, 1909."

SKINS ON FIRE

With torturing, disfiguring eczemas, rashes and other itching, burning, bleeding, scaly and crusted skin and scalp humors are instantly relieved, and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the skin, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, purest and sweetest of emollients, to soothe and heal the skin.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Cuticura Ointment (50c.) and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.

STEAMER FIRES BRIDGE.

Structure Across Mississippi at Monticello Is Endangered.

St. Cloud, Minn., April 1.—The bridge across the Mississippi river at Monticello was endangered by fire for a time Thursday. A general alarm was turned in and members of the city council and most of the business men of the city all rushed to the bridge and aided in the work of putting out the fire. The blaze was soon under control and but slight damage resulted.

The bridge is constructed partly of iron and partly of wood. It is thought that the fire was started by sparks from the Mississippi River Boom company's steamer which passed under the bridge a short time before the fire was discovered.

FIFTIETH WRECK VICTIM BURIED AT WASHBURN, N. D.

Washburn, N. D., April 1.—The funeral of L. M. Wallin of Washburn, who was the fiftieth victim of the Marshalltown, Ia., wreck, took place here Tuesday. A large number of friends from this city attended the services and from Bismarck, Hon. John Satterlund, an old friend of Mr. Wallin, attended. The remains were laid to rest in the Washburn cemetery.

Mr. Wallin's injuries were much more serious than at first reported. He suffered a broken collar bone, and his skull and scalp were badly injured by a heavy iron bolt which was driven into the side of his head. After the accident he lay on the prairie several hours before he could be taken to a place of shelter. His clothing was torn nearly off of him in the wreck, and the exposure lessened the chance for recovery from the injuries he had received.

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md. — "For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 2207 W. Franklin St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CROW WING IS IN LINE

At Brainerd Branch of Northern Minnesota Development Association Is Organized.

Legislative Candidates From Forty-Eight Districts Are to Be Pledged.

Brainerd, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—An enthusiastic gathering of over fifty residents of Crow Wing county of whom over thirty were farmers was held at the Commercial club rooms Tuesday afternoon and organized a Crow Wing county branch of the Northern Minnesota Development association.

The meeting was called to order by Judge C. A. Allbright, the chairman of the Commercial club committee which called the meeting. He was chosen temporary chairman and Prof. J. A. Wilson was secretary pro tem.

A permanent organization was effected by the election of Judge Allbright, president; John Sandgren of Long Lake, vice president, and Carl Zapffe, secretary and treasurer.

Addresses were delivered by the following: Mayor Ousdahl, spoke on "The Benefits of the Organization;" Prof. J. A. Wilson, "Agriculture;" Dr. Werner Hemstead, "Agriculture and Good Roads;" Carl Zapffe, "Good Roads;" M. T. Dunn, "State Fair Exhibit;" Wesley Curo, Jenkins, "Good Roads and Drainage;" J. M. Elder, "Reapportionment and the State Fair Exhibit;" Louis Knutson "Exhibit at the Recent Conservation Congress."

The chair was authorized to appoint a committee of ten on exhibit at the state fair.

It was decided to have another meeting May 26 at which a man from the state experiment station will address the farmers and others present, and at which time delegates will be elected to the association meeting at Crookston next December. It was also decided to go after the 1911 meeting for Brainerd.

A committee of three was appointed on resolutions consisting of Carl Zapffe, J. M. Elder and Mons Mahlum, who reported resolutions which were unanimously adopted.

Demand Better Apportionment.

The resolutions in demanding a better apportionment for Northern Minnesota declare that: "We recommend that all candidates for the senate and house of representatives from this district and especially Crow Wing and Morrison counties, comprising the Forty-eighth legislative district, be required to pledge themselves to work and vote for such a law regardless of their personal or political interests, and those who fail to make such pledge, be refused support at the polls without regard to party."

In regard to a road tax the resolutions declare: "We ask the next legislature to submit to the people for adoption a constitutional amendment providing for a general property tax of one mill for road improvements, the fund thereby created to be distributed by the state highway commission among several counties of the state."

Referring to the drainage, the resolutions say: "Whereas, during the last few years, drainage projects of enormous magnitude have been carried into effect whereby vast areas of wet and low lands have been reclaimed and transformed into some of the richest and most fertile lands in the state, we hereby assert ourselves as heartily in accord with the drainage movement entered into by the different counties, the state drainage commission and the United States government, and especially urge that all matters pending in the different departments at Washington in regard to the development of Northern Minnesota, be immediately considered."

ORIGINAL OF RABBIT RUNNING YARN DIES

Indian Who Told Fleet Animal to Get Out of Way Is Called.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief Louis Shawano, the last chief of the Sauteurs or Rapids band, is dead at his home on Sugar island, near here, aged 84 years.

Up to the time of his death he was healthy except for a defect of eyesight that has been bothering him of late years, and a cold which brought on his demise and which he contracted a week ago. He will be buried in the cemetery at Baie de Wasai. His father, "Old Chief" Shawano, owned Chief's island, in the rapids, it having been given to him by the government 100 years ago. Louis was an intelligent, quiet, sober, industrious Indian.

He was very proud of his running abilities and had solemnly declared that he once outran a fox. He was the man of whom the story is told that once he outran a jackrabbit, and getting very impatient with the hare, told it to get out of the way and "let a man run that could run." The survivors of the family are Mrs. Charles Roussain of this city, 90 years of age, a sister of the deceased; Mrs. Henry Lewis of Sugar Island, Mrs. Joseph Bonno of the Soo and Miss Maria Shawano of Sugar Island, all daughters, and Frank Shawano of the Soo, a son of the chief.

WILL PRINT PROCEEDINGS OF CONSERVATION CONGRESS.

St. Paul, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Copies of the books containing the proceedings of the first Minnesota conservation and agricultural development congress will be ready for distribution in book form about May 15.

The book will be illustrated. Nearly 25,000 copies will be printed. The expenses of the publication will be paid from the governor's contingent fund, or, if that proves insufficient, the state federation of commercial clubs will advance the amount and depend on the legislature reimbursement.

EXPECT LIVELY CONTEST

Over Position of Member of Grand Forks Park Board.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 1.—A fight has developed over the election of a member to the park commission. M. F. Murphy, a candidate for mayor, has up to the present time been a member of the park board but his term now expires. Thomas Royecraft and C. N. Barnes are the candidates for the vacancy, and a lively campaign is promised. Mr. Royecraft's candidacy has caused a great deal of interest, inasmuch as he is the manager of the Grand Forks Gas & Electric company, which company has been made an issue in several recently local campaigns because of rates on gas and electricity.

BOTH PARTIES ARE FOR THIS CANDIDATE

H. T. EMERSON.

Menominee, Mich., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tuesday H. T. Emerson, Republican, will be elected mayor of Menominee to succeed Augustus Spies. Mr. Emerson received the Republican nomination and was indorsed by the Democrats, so his election is assured.

Mr. Emerson has been an alderman for many years and has occupied the position of president of the council. He is one of the most popular men in the city and is a son-in-law of the late Congressman S. M. Stephenson of Menominee, Mich.

Mr. Emerson is 49 and is head of the Emerson Supply company, a plumbing concern. Mr. Emerson is a prominent member of the Masonic order, belonging to all bodies, also Ahmed temple, Mystic Shrine of Marquette.

PINE RIVER CAN HAVE ONE SALOON

Special Agent Johnson Announces That as Limit for the Village.

Pine River, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald)—N. J. Sero, a deputy for Special Indian Agent W. E. Johnson, visited Pine River yesterday and informed the village council at a special session that Pine River had been included in the Indian territory and hereafter the village would be allowed but one saloon instead of three. He stated that the saloon men would soon receive notice to close and the village council could then select some new man for the one saloon allowed.

CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING TO BRIBE MINOT JUDGE.

Minto, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with attempting bribery, Nels Hobbs was arrested in this city and at a preliminary hearing before Justice McGlinch, he was bound over to the district court of Walsh county. Hobbs, it is charged, attempted to bribe Justice Thorpe in a case in which he was interested as a litigant several months ago.

WILD FOWL PLENTIFUL.

Many Geese and Ducks Migrating North Through Polk County.

Crookston, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not in ten years has there been such flocks of wild fowl as are in evidence this spring. Ducks and geese have been flocking in from the South in endless strings almost and the crumming of prairie chickens fills the air every morning and evening. The wild fowl is proving a great boon to the numerous new settlers who will have to buy most of their meat the first year, for though they are not as fat or as tender as they are in the fall, they make very choice eating just the same and at this season of the year are very tame compared to the open season, when hunters from the city can venture forth without fear of the game laws.

Don't Be Bald

Almost Any One May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment, if it is thinning, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the ends. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and closely examine its root. If the bulb is plump and rosy it is all right; if it is white and shrunken your hair is diseased and needs nourishment.

We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads if the scalp is not glazed and shiny. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so sure that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will completely eradicate dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in every instance where it does not do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is perfumed with a pleasant odor, and does not grease or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. We urge you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our recommendation and with our guarantee back of it. You certainly take no risk. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Duluth only at our store—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

NEGAUNEE CANDIDATES.

Taxpayers and People's Conventions Both Name Tickets.

Negaunee, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—John W. Elliott and J. H. Sawbridge have been named as candidates for mayor by the Taxpayers' and People's conventions. The conventions were largely attended, and were preceded by large ward caucuses. Isaac Niemi was nominated for treasurer on the Peoples' ticket and Joseph Mercier on the Taxpayers'. The other ward offices were also filled.

OPERATE ON BOY OF 7.

Youth Relieved of Troublesome Appendix at Cambridge, Minn.

Cambridge, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Silene, who live a mile north of Isanti village, was brought to Cambridge last Saturday by order of Dr. Johnson of Isanti. The little fellow was suffering from appendicitis. The boy was operated upon by Doctors Hixson and Johnson at the former's hospital Sunday morning. When the operation was performed it was found that the appendix had been perforated and the patient was in a serious condition. The child is getting along nicely and it is expected that he will recover.

SAFE AND SANE FOURTH.

May Be Advocated By Governor in a Proclamation.

St. Paul, Minn., April 1.—"If cities and towns throughout the state will co-operate with the Twin Cities in making the Fourth of July 'safe and sane' it is possible and very probable that I may issue a proclamation to the state at large, recommending such a celebration on Independence day," declared Governor Eberhart.

"I am a strong supporter of such a movement. There is absolutely no excuse for the fatalities and accidents which characterize an American Fourth of July. This day should certainly be celebrated but in a safe and patriotic manner. I see no patriotism in a celebration dangerous to life and limb.

"The movement for a safe and sane celebration is already assuming national importance. At the recent conference of governors in Washington the matter was informally discussed and nearly all the governors present were heartily in favor of the movement."

BARN NEAR GARY BURNED; MUCH LIVESTOCK LOST.

Gary, Minn., April 1.—A large barn on the farm of Martin Ysem, who lives a mile southeast of Gary, was struck by lightning about midnight Monday and burned to the ground. All the horses and cattle, about fifty in number, and a large number of chickens were burned to death and other property destroyed. The electrical storm that passed over this section Monday night was one of the most severe storms that has visited this section in years, but no other losses are reported.

Crookston Band Concert Pleases.

Crookston, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifteen hundred people jammed the Unique theater last evening. Director Arthur Wasshausen presented a fine program, a special feature being Miss Suzanne Kranz, the vocalist of Minneapolis, who made a decided hit and was recalled repeatedly.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—One of the several questions on which the voters will express their opinion at the election next Monday is whether or not Marquette county shall be bonded to the amount of $15,000 for the construction of a tuberculosis hospital.

Negaunee—Contractor Spaulding has practically finished his work at Negaunee's new fire hall, but it may be several days before the building is accepted by the council, as Architect D. Fred Charleton is away and may not return until next week.

Hancock — W. Frank James is to be mayor of Hancock for another year. He was renominated by the Republican party Tuesday evening and was indorsed by the Citizens' party convention. For the other city offices there will be opposition, and the fights will be bitter to the end.

Ishpeming — Gust Fredin has been awarded the contract to do the grading for the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's North Lake extension, which will be about six miles in length.

Marquette — Mrs. James Howard Carleton died Wednesday at the family home, 340 Alger street, after a brief illness, at the age of 25 years. Mrs. Carleton is survived by a husband and two children.

Calumet—Mrs. Victor Little, an old resident of Wolverine location, passed away Tuesday afternoon after a lengthy illness. The decedent is survived by her husband and several children.

Houghton—Treasurer William T. Pelmear of Portage township has made his return of the tax rolls of the township to the county treasurer. Out of a total roll of $57,638.73 Mr. Pelmear collected all but $1,920.85, the amount of state and county taxes in arrears at this time.

Hancock—The Lake Superior Iron & Metal company has recently concluded a deal for the purchase of the equipment of the Halls sawmill near Toivola, which was recently destroyed by fire. The firm has also just sold to the Hebards of Pequaming a lot of rails for a logging railroad.

Calumet—C. Y. Smith, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has received a message from Duluth stating that Albert Baldwin, R. V. Snell and W. S. Moore, all of Duluth, prominent business and professional men, will be in Calumet Sunday for the purpose of addressing Calumet audiences in the interests of the laymen's missionary movement.

Hancock—Mr. and Mrs. William Yokie celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Tuesday evening at their home in West Hancock, where a large gathering of friends and relatives extended congratulations and enjoyed an evening of music, social visiting and refreshments.

Laurium—The management of the Palestra expects to open the rink for roller skating Saturday evening. The Laurium City band has been engaged to furnish the music for dancing and skating at the rink during the coming months.

Houghton—Judge Streeter sentenced Arthur Carlson of Centennial Heights to Ionia for from one to ten years. A short time ago Carlson was tried in the circuit court for committing a statutory offense and was found guilty. He appealed the case to the supreme court, which sustained the verdict of the local court.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—The Mary Scott started out on its regular trips Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, with several passengers. The boat was well patronized all day. Capt. Doherty's mother was a passenger on the very first trip. The Mary Scott made last trip last fall, on Dec. 5.

Madison—A mild epidemic of scarlet fever has broken out at the state insane asylum at Mendota and it has been quarantined by the board of control. An attendant came down with the disease ten days ago. Then Dr. Mary Southoff was stricken and soon two inmates, a man and a woman, contracted the fever.

Green Bay—Albert L. Gray, a former member of the city council, who pleaded guilty to accepting bribes in connection with city contract work several years ago, and Henry Porth, who also was convicted of grafting, are candidates for the office of alderman at the spring election of Tuesday, April 5.

Appleton—Warrants for the arrest of Wilbur and Merrill Collar of Hortonville, about 18 years of age, are out charging them with having been members of the party which assaulted U. G. Humphrey and Rev. and Mrs. Edward Bullock and child with eggs Thursday night.

Fond du Lac.—Miss Georgia Hall and Dr. Edward Quick, both of Appleton, were married at St. Paul's cathedral Wednesday by Bishop C. C. Grafton, assisted by Rev. B. T. Rogers. Miss Hall was for several years connected with the faculty of Grafton Hall, and has been doing concert work in New York city. Dr. Quick is a practicing physician in Appleton.

Ashland—City Treasurer Nohl collected a total of $178,493 in taxes up to the time he turned the delinquent roll over to the county treasurer, a few days ago, which is about $2,000 more than was collected for the previous year.

Laurium—The state immigration commission has decided to authorize the making of exhibits of the products of Wisconsin at the state fairs to be held in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Ohio next fall. The exhibits will be devoted to fruit products of the state and will be made under the direction of Secretary A. D. Campbell of the immigration committee and Secretary Frederick Cranefield of the State Horticultural society.

Galesville—While raking the yard and burning leaves sparks caught in the skirts of Mrs. D. C. Hunt of Independence and before help could reach her she was a living torch. On some parts of her body the flesh was burned until the bones were exposed. She lived but a few hours. Deceased was 62 years of age.

Busy Reducing Your Fat?

Are fat folks enthusiastic about performing athletic stunts when garbed in heavy woolen underclothing? No—not enthusiastic. Do they subscribe readily to a diet of half a glass of buttermilk and a toasted cracker? No—not readily. Are they happy, then, while reducing by such methods, during this hot weather? No—they are not exactly happy.

Some fat reducers are happy though during the process, but these neither exercise nor diet. They lose fat—as much as a pound a day, in many instances—but they do it without missing a single, righteous meal or lifting an unnecessary finger. These emancipated ones reduce either in hot weather or cold, without bother or harm to themselves, by taking quietly and secretly, and even cunningly——one little Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime.

That's all. They get their tablets (made after the formula of the famous prescription) in large, generously filled cases at a cost of seventy-five cents the case from any drug store or from the makers, the Marmola Co., 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., take one as per directions, and get as thin as they want to be—just that way, without causing a wrinkle or the least internal fuss.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Brainerd—Alderman Cardle is having an ordinance drawn for presentation to the meeting of the city council on Monday night which will make it a misdemeanor to permit chickens run at large within the city limits.

Stillwater—M. B. Sullwold and Mrs. Anna Waldner, secured a marriage license at the office of the city clerk of the district court Wednesday and were united in marriage by Judge A. E. Doe of the probate court. He is 71 and she 55 years of age.

Red Wing—Two new modern steel barges, the first of their kind on the Upper Mississippi river, will be launched by the Forest-Products company of this city within the next two weeks, and will be used for towing purposes between the lumber camp on the Chippewa river near Wabasha and the company's plant on the "Little" river in East Red Wing.

Moorhead—Carl Walden, district superintendent of the county option forces, whose headquarters will be at Crookston hereafter, spent Tuesday afternoon in this city arranging for a Moorhead field day. This day has been set for Sunday, April 10.

St. Cloud—The local cigarmakers' union at their meeting last evening at Puff's hall, decided to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their organization on June 26, and appointed committees to make due preparations for the event.

Mankato—The Blue Earth County Medical society held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night with a good attendance. Dr. G. A. Dahl read a paper on "The Treatment of Gastric Catarrh"; and Dr. J. M. Edwards read one on "Etiology and Treatment of Chronic Diarrhoea. Both papers were well discussed, and the meeting was an interesting one.

Little Falls—Joseph Porter pleaded guilty Wednesday morning in Justice Randall's court to stealing a firkin of butter from a truck at the express office Monday night and was fined $40 and costs, but in default of payment went to jail for sixty days. Porter stated that he was intoxicated at the time he took the butter.

New York Mills—Odus Markell arrived last week from Hibbing, for a visit with his family. Mr. Markell intends to move his family there in the near future.

Sauk Rapids—A telegram has been received by Dr. Friesleben of Sauk Rapids from the chief of police of Lowell, Mass., ordering him to hold the body of Louis Donovan, who was killed here Tuesday, and stating that instructions as to what to do will follow by special delivery.

Moorhead—The committee appointed to look into the matter of placing electric light poles in each block are meeting with great success.

East Grand Forks—Miss Frances Solnek and James Romolka were married by Rev. H. W. Georgi at the parsonage of Mendenhall Memorial church on Tuesday afternoon. The bride is a resident of Tabor, and the groom has resided at Thief River Falls.

Isanto—The grammar department of the village school gave a farewell social at the Woodman hall Thursday evening honor of Raymond and Myron Norell, who are leaving the school to make their future home in Minneapolis.

Cambridge—The 10-year-old son of Mrs. Frank Burhite, died in a hospital in Minneapolis last Saturday afternoon. The remains were brought to Cambridge Monday morning and the funeral was held from the Methodist Episcopal church in the afternoon. This is the fourth member of the Burhite family that has died within a month.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Rapid City, S. D.—A little town forty miles south of this city named Oelrichs has three gas and steam breaking plows at work in its vicinity, with two more on the way from the East. It is estimated that there are twenty-five plows of this kind at work within a radius of fifty miles of this city.

Milbank, S. D.—The elevator owned by the Reliance Ecvator company of Minneapolis was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. It contained about 5,000 bushels of grain. The estimated loss is $10,000. Rain yesterday probably saved half of the business portion of the city.

Minot, N. D.—James Metress, the Greek section hand employed by the Great Northern who ran amuck Saturday with a ten-inch knife in his hand, was adjudged insane by the examining board and will be sent to Jamestown pending negotiations with the immigration department relative to sending him back to Greece.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Fire Chief A. H. Runge, who has been spending the past few weeks with his family at Los Angeles, Cal., is now on his way home.

Fargo, N. D.—The plans for the new cold storage plant have arrived in the city and in the near future will be exhibited for the benefit of contractors. The plans were prepared by Engineer Kirker, who is also a member of the company, and who has drawn many similar plans. They call for a three-story brick building, which will be ninety feet wide and have a depth of about 200 feet.

Bismarck, N. D.—State Engineer Atkinson says that he is receiving many inquiries from Eastern coal dealers as to the quality and location of the lignite coal fields in this state. The bulk of the inquiries have been received since the ruling of the supreme court of the United States on the coal rates in the state.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. A. Shortridge asked permission of the court to adopt the 4-year-old boy of Mrs. Evina Watkins, which was granted to them by Judge Cowan. The father and mother of the boy had separated, and the mother found it hard to provide for this boy and a younger brother, so she willingly gave her consent.

Wahpeton, N. D.—A large barn and granary and their contents on the Steve Moulton farm, three miles south, were destroyed by fire last evening. Twenty-six head of horses and fifteen head of cattle were burned. The loss is $10,000. All the seed grain for the farm was destroyed. How the fire started is a mystery.

Devils Lake, N. D.—On April 15 the government will hold an examination of applicants for the position of janitor of the new federal building. The pay is $660 per annum, and persons between the ages of 18 and 35 years are eligible.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Muncipal house cleaning was the theme of the meeting of the women's council, which was held this morning at the clubroom of the library. The members are planning on a determined and comprehensive campaign for a cleaner Duluth, and a large committee is considering ways and means of best bringing about conditions more nearly ideal. At this morning's session a report of the work of Mrs. Carrie Bartleft Crane, one of the most prominent and efficient club women of America, was given by Mrs. P. L. Barrows. Mrs. Crane with women assistants, did a wonderful work in city cleaning at Kalamazoo, Mich., and her ideas were told of by Mrs. Barrows.

Dr. L. E. Webster, the recently appointed health officer, appeared before the council on invitation and spoke of the needs and hopes of Duluth along the lines of greater cleanliness and sanitation. The system of city garbage collection, which was installed in a limited district by Dr. Patton, the retiring health officer, was commended and Dr. Webster said that efforts should be made to have the system extended to include the entire city. The difficulties that stand in the way of establishing the reforms were spoken of. "Many of these things can only be brought about through an aroused public opinion," said Dr. Webster, "and in that the women of the city can be of inestimable help. When the municipality realizes the good sense that is back of these demands, they will be established without trouble. In the city of Chicago 50 cents per capita is the levy for city cleaning. In Duluth it is 2 cents. We can realize in this ratio the attitude which the citizens in the majority have, for when they realize their remissness, Duluth will have an adequate provision to promote and maintain its health and beauty."

The Old Stewart Barn.

The old Stewart barn on West Second street was reported to the council as a menace to the community at large. The barn is abandoned and is open and has become a rendezvous for the young people in the vicinity and has become a source of great worry and trouble to parents, police and neighbors and all interested in the welfare of the community. The real estate agency in control of the property declines to interfere in the least. The matter has been discussed before many of the city departments. The building, which is in two last stages of dilapidation, has been condemned by the building inspector, and the Associated Charities and other departments have had a hand in the attempt at closing or demolishing it, but no results have been attained. One of the women's council members read this morning an ordinance of 1905 which makes it unlawful for a person to keep a vacant house, barn or shed unlocked and open and the penalty for such offense.

The council moved to send a protest to the mayor, expressing their sentiment in the matter, and also to T. W. Wahl, the agent in charge.

It was also decided to send delegates from the council to the meeting of the courthouse commission, at which plans for the beautifying of the grounds will be discussed. An invitation was sent the council to be represented at that meeting.

DISTRICT MEETING.

Women's Clubs Will Meet at Eveleth.

The annual convention of the Eighth district Minnesota Federation Women's clubs will be held in Eveleth, April 8-9. This includes the clubs in Duluth, Pine City, Sandstone, Aitkin, Hibbing, Eveleth and Grand Rapids.

There will be two sessions of the convention, Friday afternoon and evening, and Mrs. B. L. Hollister of Aitkin, president of the district will preside. Mrs. C. G. Higbee, president of the state federation will be present and give an address. Several other state officers will also attend.

The Eveleth club has arranged to meet the delegates and visitors upon their arrival at 10:30 Friday morning and a visit will be paid to the high school to inspect the domestic science and manual training departments, and Saturday forenoon will be spent making a tour on the mines.

WILL BE ONE OF THE BRIDES MAIDS FOR APPROACHING GOULD WEDDING

MISS HOPE HAMILTON.

Miss Hope Hamilton is to be one of the bridesmaids for the wedding of her cousin, Miss Marjorie Gould. She is a daughter of William A. Hamilton of Lakewood, N. J.

MINNESOTA GIRL

Makes Good in Vaudeville in Paris.

Paris—Dorothy Toye of Minneapolis, a slender girl with practically no stage experience, without musical training, possessing no influence and not blessed with professional beauty attributes, has made one of the greatest successes yet achieved by any American girl in Paris in the world of vaudeville, says the New York World. She has a voice that is said to be unique, as it has two distinct qualities—those of tenor and soprano. She made her debut at the Scala, which, already one of the best known of Paris music halls, has this year passed into the hands of M. Fursy, a celebrated actor-singer-manager.

He is the proprietor of the Boite a Fursy, a tiny theater in Montmartre, where the prices are higher than anywhere else in Paris, and where it is regarded as particularly chic and Parisian to spend an evening listening to Fursy's original verses, often impromptu, describing well-known persons in the audience.

Miss Toye went to Fursy. He heard her sing and agreed to give her a trial. After the success of the first night, Fursy entered into a contract at a good salary with the American singer and guaranteed her $1,200 a month if she would sing under his management six months. No other American concert hall singer in the recollection of the American colony has ever made such a long contract with a Parisian manager.

Miss Toye's voice truly is remarkable. Although she apparently is a delicate girl, she sings tenor robusto, her great voice filling the theater. She is advertised as a combined Caruso and Patti. Some call her "the girl with the Jekyll and Hyde voice."

Strangely enough, she has never taken a singing lesson and has not received any musical instruction.

Associated with Miss Toye in her success here is another American girl hardly less remarkable, Miss Elsa Matthews of San Francisco. Miss Matthews plays the accompaniments for Miss Toye, who sings two songs Miss Matthews has written for her. As is the case of the singer, the composer knows nothing of the technicalities of music.

Saturday Club.

The regular meeting of the Saturday club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the clubroom of the library. During the half hour given up to current events there will be a general discussion. The leader for the regular study will be Mrs. George M. Smith and the outline is as follows:

YOUTHFUL FASHIONS.

Peasant Styles Are Young Appearing.

"If you want to look younger, adopt the new fashions," says Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for April.

"Paris says youthful frocks for spring. And Paris has gone to the peasant type for its inspiration. The famous fashion-makers are evolving simple gowns which emphasize the normal waist line, the plain but double skirt and bodice made without the sign of an armhole seam. But this is only one of the many new ideas which Paris is launching upon the fashion world this spring.

"Paris also says, in her very next breath, that the double idea is the mode. She is illustrating it in materials and in color combinations, and she is telling, not only the fair Parisienne, but the belle Americaine, that she must wear double skirts, double blouses and double sleeves—really two frocks at the same time.

"Now, both of these dominant French ideas are being reflected in the American fashions for spring. And these are the fashions, of course, which the American woman wants especially to hear about.

"But first, before I go into detail, let me just say this: All the new fashions, no matter their charm or no matter their caprice, should really be regarded by the woman who cares for the artistic in dress, as suggestions rather than laws. Women should remember that it is always possible to get much beauty from an ugly fashion, just as it is possible to get much ugliness from a beautiful fashion. As in all human results, it is the personal element that counts. Therefore study and strive for that which is most adapted to your own personality and which tends most to make it attractive. That is one of the big secrets which helps the fashionable woman to be fashionably and becomingly dressed."

"The temptation to have twice as many dresses this summer as you need is really a very big sort of a temptation. The new fabrics are so alluring that each one seems just suited to a certain type of gown. The linens, for instance, are shown in the greatest number of new and fascinating weaves. There is a granite linen, which resembles a basket weave and has a sheen of silk through it, and is just the smartest sort of material for a one-piece dress or a skirt-and-coat suit. Then there is the new linen which comes in the very latest French shades and is hard to tell from poplin. It shows a decided cord. The Shantung linens are a serviceable substitute for the silks by that name, and every woman who gets just a bit of a glimpse of the new fancy linens in black and white effects will feel she must have at least one dress fashioned of them."

COLORLESS WAISTS

Will Be the Fashion for the Summer.

The low neck is to prevail this summer. There is no doubt of it. One almost wonders, as the vogue extends, if the stock collar is to be banished altogether for everybody. And meanwhile "all the world" is resorting to remedies and bleaches for throats spoiled by long binding.

Neckwear departments, while supplied with stocks of usual attractiveness, are abundantly fitted out with Russian and Dutch collars, side frills, front plaits, ruffled on one or both sides, and low collar and cuff sets of endless variety.

The girls are busy embroidering plaits and frills for the fronts of their summer shirtwaists, and often match them with cuffs and belts. One of the fads of the hour is to make such accessories of linen the color of the suit with which they are to be most worn, and embroider them in white or to reverse the process and do the work in a color on a white ground.

Such sets make ideal gifts for the linen showers which are now being fitted out for spring brides. Those worked in all white will be sure to go with everything, while those made with colors may hit the need and then again they may be numbered with the gifts which are appreciated for their usefulness. The plaits all have buttonholes, through which link buttons fasten both waists and plait.

NOT ONE TOO MANY

Thinks Mrs. Gould Who Has Seven Children.

Mrs. George J. Gould, who before her marriage was the actress, Edith Kingdon, is one of those remarkably rare New York society women who combine charming social graces with the most devoted domesticity. In many ways she is a marvel to her friends. The mother of seven children, her beauty and grace of figure are the envy of women whose years are far fewer than her own. While giving much of her time to her social duties, she has made her children the objects of a devoted personal care, and they themselves, with their achievements and healthy beauty, are the best proof of her success as a mother.

"My acquaintances have sometimes pitied me," said Mrs. Gould, "because I have so many children, but I have not one child too many. I have tried to give my children as good a start in the world as possible by giving them sound bodies. I do not believe in sterilized milk nor patent baby foods, for nothing takes the place of the food that nature intended for the child.

"In rearing my children my plan has been to bring them up to be hardy. They live on the simplest and plainest foods; no pies and pastry and no nibbling at candy all day for them. They have their breakfast and lunches with Mr. Gould and myself.

"They have never caused me a moment's uneasiness, except when ill and not a single heart pang," was the glorious tribute the mother paid to her family of girls and boys.

Marjorie, the oldest daughter, after having spurned the dozens of titled lordlings of Europe who wished to marry her, is now engaged to Anthony Drexel, son of a Philadelphia multimillionaire.

Vivian, the next oldest daughter, is fond of study. Jay and Kingdon, the two oldest boys, neither smoke nor drink. "I hear other mothers complaining that they cannot keep their boys at home, but mine never care to go away," said Mrs. Gould.

REFUSE "ICY MITT."

Even That Will Be Denied American Countess.

Emperor Francis Joseph has given orders to his court marshal, both in Vienna and Hungary, that no attempt on the part of the Sigray family to introduce at court their new relative, young Countess Anton Sigray, who was Miss Harriet Daly, shall be tolerated.

Neither in Vienna nor in Budapest is the lady to be received and the Austrian archdukes residing in Hungary are particularly warned against recognizing the new Countess Sigray, as they did Countess Szechenyl, nee Gladys Vanderbilt. After Countess Gladys had been received by Archduchess Augusta, residing in Budapest, she declared that she was not entitled to appear at the court of Vienna, but the emperor's court martial immediately informed him that he was mistaken and that Countess Gladys, not possessing the requisite number of noble ancestors, could not aspire to the honor of an introduction at the imperial court.

Household Hints.

Lard used for frying cakes or croquets can be clarified and used again by heating thoroughly with several slices of raw potatoes and then strained. It cannot be clarified after cooking fish.

Yellow machine oil stains on white material may be removed by rubbing the spot with a cloth wet with ammonia, before using soap.

To prevent any shade of blue from fading, soak for two hours in a pail of water to which one ounce of sugar of lead has been added. Then be sure to dry well before washing and ironing.

Throw coarse salt over rugs and carpets before sweeping them to prevent the dust from rising. This will brighten the colors, also.

When you are sewing a new braid on your skirt, insert a thin piece of cardboard into the hem and thus prevent stitches from showing through.

If a turkey or chicken is rubbed inside and out with a lemon it will make the meat white, juicy and tender.

* * *

Be sure to iron garments with the straight of the goods, and thus prevent stretching of the bias seams.

Hookworms.

"Hookworms" is the name some disheartened husbands have applied to themselves as bearing on their frequent hooking and unhooking the gowns of their wives. That clever young suffragette, Ethel Arnold, made observations about the way in which women submit to the tyranny of men who plan their garments. She hinted that until women took the reins in their own hands and designed their frocks according to nature, that is, so they could be donned without the aid of a maid or a substitute, they never could be entirely emancipated. Miss Arnold wears the gowns at which she rails, but she must make a fashionable appearance if she wishes to get votes for the militants. A few women have rebelled, and insist on having their gowns designed to fasten in front, but their number is negligible.

HOW TO ANNOY AN ELEVATOR OPERATOR.

The most maddening April-fooler of the day, from the elevator operator's fluctuating point of view, was that delightfully humorous person who stood near the elevator well and said, with a slightly rising inflection:

"Down?"

Then, when the long-suffering operator had stopped the car, opened the door and said, "Going down," this prankish person started in from a dose and explained:

"Oh, I thought maybe you were goin' up."

And the elevator door invariably was slammed shut with a bang.

KILLING A FASHION.

London Chronicle: It is not easy to kill a fasaion, but it may be done with authority and skill. Authority comes in with the postmaster general's limitation of the cardboard box to six feet (measured either way). Which means, being interpreted, that the postmaster general, being a man, forbids you, being a woman, to achieve by parcels post a hat which is above the regulation government official size. Whatever you are, ladies, the postmaster general, with his tape measure, remembers what you wear.

The postmaster general and the lady who was hanged in a black silk dress are not alone in the setting of fashion. The size of the hat is limited by the size of the handbox the post office will accept, and the women of England said they would be hanged if they wore a black silk dress, in which a notorious lady was strangled. But a budding fashion was curiously squashed in the end of the last century, the fur cape, a useful article, and ornamental to the slim. A fat duchess saw herself in the glass, saw that it did not suit her stubby figure and dressed her coachman in it. And the fur cape became so unfashionable that even footmen struck.

Both black satin dresses and white lace veils went immediately out of fashion when a murderess wore them at her execution. The woman was Mrs. Manning, who with her husband was executed for the murder of a man named O'Connor, before Horsemonger Lane jail on Nov. 13, 1840.

A particular kind of black beaver hat fell in popularity when Franz Muller was in 1864 hanged for the murder of Thomas Briggs on the North London railway. Muller's hat, found in the railway carriage, formed the connecting link in a remarkable chain of circumstantial evidence. Henceforth "mullers," as they were called, were tabooed, and anybody who wore one risked having it smashed at sight.

While in England garments have been made unfashionable by figuring at the execution of criminals, in France the public executioner at one time actually set the fashion. Sanson, the executioner, was famous for the richness of his attire and attracted such attention thereby that just before the revolution he was forbidden to wear blue, which was a nobleman's color. By way of protest he made himself even more gorgeous, and despite his office made the green cloth which he adopted fashionable with the court dandies, who imitated both the cut and color of his clothes.

CLAIRE'S ENGAGEMENTS.

In a recent discussion of illiteracy, William H. Maxwell, superintendent of New York's public schools, quoted an amusing letter.

This letter, sent to one of Supt. Maxwell's Brooklyn teachers, ran:

"Frend teacher, I do not disire for Claire shall ingage in Grammer, as I prefer her ingageing in yuseful studies, as I can learn her how to speke and write correctly myself. I have went through two grammers and they done no good. I preferr her ingageing in French and drawing and vokal music on the pianna."

BRAINERD WOMAN BURIED.

Mrs. John Falconer, Mother of Eleven, Laid to Rest.

Brainerd, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held from the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon for Mrs. John Falconer, who died at the home of her son-in-law, Albert Wideman, Tuesday as the result of paralysis. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Mary H. Bancroft, the deceased's maiden name, was born at Brooklyn Center, Hennepin county, Minn., March 4, 1856. She was married in Minneapolis Nov. 29, 1886, to John Falconer, who survives her. To them were born eleven children, of whom eight survive. They are Miss Hannah Falconer, Brainerd, Minn.; James Falconer, Missoula, Mont.; Albert C. Falconer, U. S. cavalry, Presidio, San Francisco; Mrs. Alice Wideman, and Masters George, Archie, Robert and Ralph Falconer, all of Brainerd. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Alice M. Simmons, of Whittier, Cal., and one brother, C. A. Bancroft, of Durand, Ill.

GRAND FORKS' NEW POSTMASTER AT HELM.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the postoffice opened for business this morning the newly appointed postmaster, Frank V. Kent, was in charge. In a telegram from Washington, received yesterday, he was notified that the commission had been mailed, and giving him authority to assume the duties of the position at once. Postmistress Minnie L. Budge turned the work over to her successor last evening.

May Halt Canadian Conferences.

Washington, April 1.—The house has disagreed to the senate amendment to the diplomatic bill, increasing to the extent of $25,000 the appropriation for extending trade relations of the United States. This it is feared, will affect the state department's proposed trade conference with Canada.

Buying Stocks at the Beginning of a Boom

Everybody concedes that we are entering on a boom in Vermilion Iron Range Stocks.

Today it is impossible to purchase in companies operating on the Main Iron Formation, with railroad already on their land.

THE TIME TO BUY IRON STOCKS is at the beginning of the Iron Stock Boom, when you can purchase at Subscription Prices, and that time is NOW!

There are TEN GOOD REASONS why you should buy Duluth-Vermilion Iron. Write me and I will tell you what they are.

BUSHEY IS ACQUITTED

Wisconsin Man Cleared of Charges Made By Blanche Costin.

The Jury Says "Not Guilty" After Two Hours' Deliberation.

After being out a trifle over two hours yesterday afternoon, the jury in the case of the state against Charles Bushey, charged with having brought women into the state for immoral purposes, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case has been on in district court for some days past before Judge William A. Cant. Assistant County Attorney Warren E. Green conducted the case for the state and M. H. McMahon defended.

Bushey was indicted by the March grand jury on a specific charge of bringing into the state from Wisconsin a woman named Blanche Costin. He denied the charge and laid the act to Paddy La Forge or O'Neil as he is sometimes called.

All through the case the defense tried to show the relationship between La Forge and the girl.

The state claimed that the girl was induced to come to this state under the impression that she was to be furnished legitimate work at Ely. It was also claimed that she was detained at the Ely resort against her will, and that she did not know the character of the place when she was taken there.

It was the first white slave case ever tried in the local courts.

REJECTS $5,000 FEE AND THEN GETS $90.

New York, April 1.—D. Cady Herrick's fee of $9,000 for nine days' service as referee in the Eleventh avenue litigation between the city and the New York Central railroad, has been cut to $90 by Archibald Watson, corporation counsel. Mr. Herrick already had been paid by the railroad, which then sent a bill to the city. Mr. Watson thought the bill excessive and offered to compromise at $5,000. The railroad refused, whereupon the corporation counsel cut the bill to the $10 a day allowed by the law.

EGGS ARE AT LOW LEVEL

Supplies Are Large, But Buying for Storage Will Begin Soon.

Demand for Fine Creamery Butter Sends Price Higher.

Egg prices held firm during the week and some discrimination was made between graded lots. Owing to the heavy receipts of fresh eggs some dealers have been able to get only that description, and grades have narrowed to a single class. Butter values advanced sharply while cheese prices were unsettled and a shade lower. Potatoes did not sell any more freely at the close of the week than at the opening. The potato market was soft and prices for choice grades eased off. There is no demand for the poorer grades owing to the cheap prices for the first-class varieties. The poultry market advanced sharply and values which had remained steady for some time were buoyant and inclined to soar. Meat prices fluctuated and the market was spotty. Most classes of meat advanced. In the forepart of the week the advance was sharp but toward the latter part values eased off and the week's net decline was confined to veal, mutton and beef.

Receipts of eggs are plentiful but in spite of voluminous arrivals the market was in good condition with buyers taking hold freely at offered prices and keeping the marke free from burdensome accumulations. Fresh candled eggs brought 21 cents and country eggs 20 cents a dozen. The demand was from retailers and was for immediate consumption. The public is regarding eggs as a favored food. It is not likely that prices will go lower this season as the time is at hand when the big specuators are expected in the market to obtain their storage stock. A brisk demand is looked for and it is believed that the market will easily absorb all the eggs that will come forward without the necessity of putting prices at a more attractive level.

Quotations on eggs are slightly higher than the prices that prevailed at the opening of the storage season last year. Compared with the increased cost of other foods this advance is considered small and dealers see no reason to feel apprehensive in regard to the future welfare of the market.

Choice Butter Higher.

High scoring fancy creamery butter met with an urgent demand and values strengthened decidedly, advancing from 32c to 34c a pound. Other varieties sold well but the trade wanted fancy table butter and would take nothing else. Consequently while choice creameries sold at a sharp advance the market for inferior creameries, dairy butter and packing stock was not especially firm. In the fore part of the week dealers were forced to make concessions to dispose of low-priced stock but toward the close of the week values strengthened and were slightly firmer than a week ago. The quality of arrivals has been good, but more of the fancy creameries could have been used to advantage. Storage creamery brought 29c, dairy 26c and packing 21½c a pound.

Dressed poultry values hardened considerably after a long period of inactivity. Values were erratic but gradually became higher until hens had advanced 1@1½c and springs had scored an upturn of ½c a pound. Springs are selling at 18½c and hens at 14½@15c. There is little or no demand for turkeys, geese and ducks and there are practially no supplies of the last two birds in the market. When stocks of geese began to run out birds were bringing 10c a pound and ducks brought 18c when there were ducks for sale.

Receipts of dressed poultry have been moderate. The quality of offerings has been uneven, the unprecedented and continued period of warm weather being mainly responsible. Little stock is unsold but the scarcity of supplies is not expected to cause higher prices as this is not the season for stiff poultry values.

Potatoes Going Down.

The potato market is still on the toboggan. Choice Minnesota varieties are bringing 31 and 32 cents and lower grades are selling around 30 cents. Poor potatoes are not wanted by receivers and cannot be disposed of either by wholesalers or retailers. The consumptive demand for the high class varieties is moderately good but the market cannot stand up under the pressure of heavy supplies and unusually large stores in the country. While wholesalers have reduced prices on potatoes from time to time there seems good reason to attribute the comparative slowness of the public to take hold of the staple more heavily to the fact that retailers have not lowered the prices in the same ratio as wholesalers. While some reductions have been made, yet prices have not been shaded sufficiently to stimulate the consumptive demand. This is the claim made by the wholesalers who think the cheapness of potatoes, compared with other foods, should be made known to the public. Many millions o bushels of potatoes are in the country and there is some fear on the part of receivers that much of this will perish if the consumptive demand does not increase.

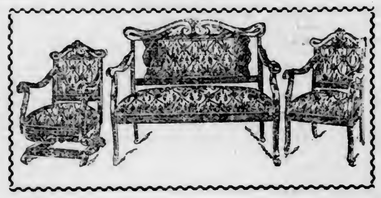

The demand for new potatoes is good and owing to heavy receipts there is a tendency to shade values. Receipts are of fancy quality and consumers prefer to pay higher prices for the new variety than to give lower prices for old crop goods. Sweet potatoes are having a slow sale and receivers lowered prices to stimulate the demand. The supply on the market is not large but consumers have become tired of the commodity and the demand is fluctuating and unreliable.

Louisiana strawberries are in the market and the quality of arrivals is unusually satisfactory. Stocks are small and are being cleared readily. The market for other fruits is about the same. Grapes have not met with a good sale, lemons hold at a steady level and a good trade was transacted in oranges. Offerings of apples are not burdensome and the market shows little change.

WEST END MEMBERSHIP WAS REDUCED

West End Sunday Schools Smaller Since Scarlet Fever Epidemic.

Because the scarlet fever scare in Duluth last summer decidedly decreased the attendance of the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, plans were made last evening at the annual congregation meeting for a systematic campaign to recover the former membership of the school.

According to Rev. J. A. McGaughey, religious director of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, who presided at the annual meeting last evening, the scarlet fever scare last summer had the same effect on every other Sunday school in the city. The numbers dropped off and for a while most of the Sunday schools were closed.

When the contagion was well under the control of the health authorities and the Sunday schools were opened again, the membership had dropped off considerably. At the meeting last evening two trustees, Edward McManus and Robert Stewart, and three elders, John G. Ross, James H. Maghan and Clyde Potts, were elected for a year. A number of reports were read.

The congregation talked over the matter of extending a call to a new pastor and also reviewed the matter of changing the location and erecting a more modern structure. The trustees have been looking for a site on West Second street. It was thought best to leave this matter until a new pastor had been selected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. J. L. McBride last December.

Return From Funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brightfelt and son of 1805 West Second street returned yesterday from Stoughton, Wis., where they attended the funeral of the late Rev. J. L. Murphy, former pastor of the St. John's English Lutheran church of this city. Mr. Murphy died recently in Florida. His body was taken to his home in Wisconsin for burial.

West End Shortrails.

E. T. Sandall of York, Neb., is a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Olson, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, at their home, 2305 West Third street.

The monthly meeting of the Swedish Christian Sick Benefit society will be held this evening at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street.

M. Swedberg of Tower, Minn., a theological student, who has been visiting in the West end at the home of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Olson of 2305 West Third street, left this morning for Two Harbors.

Miss Anna Nemlk of Cable, Wis., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rude of 1909 West Superior street.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Olson of 120 North Twentieth avenue west.

Mrs. Oscar Nelson of 2714 West Fourth street will leave for a five months' visit at her old home in Dalsland, Sweden, shortly after May 1.

The annual meeting of the West End Republican club was held last evening at Sloan's hall. Seven delegates were chosen to the central organization and officers elected for the coming year.

Celebrates Ninety-ninth Birthday.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 1.—Mrs. Anna Pavey of Oak Center is celebrating her ninety-ninth birthday today. In spite of her advanced age she is still in fairly good health and continues to take an active interest in current events. "Grandma Pavey," as she is generally known, was born in Hurdley, England, married William Pavey. In 1852 she moved to Watertown with her husband, who resided there until death. Her only living relatives are two grandsons, E. H. Pavey of Oak Center, with whom she resides, and Mary Pavey of Beaver Dam.

START BOOMING EARLY.

Mississippi & Rum River Boom Company Starts Operations.

Little Falls, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Boommaster Webb of the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company was in the city yesterday overseeing the preparatory work being done here before the commencement of the summer's driving.

Mr. Webb stated that the Lavole crew, which left the local dam this morning, will run to St. Cloud and clear the river, making a clean drive. He estimated that about 25,000,000 feet of logs will be moved by the crew.

The Freeman crew started to tow to Brainerd Thursday. A steamer from Brainerd arrived in time to take the crew and equipment to the northern city Thursday morning. This drive will probably be a little heavier than the one to be made by Lavoie's crew, as they are already sluicing logs at Brainerd. From 30,000,000 to 35,000,000 feet will probably be handled by the upper rear crew.

Mr. Webb has a steamer on its way to St. Cloud from Minneapolis. The steamer is hauling equipment from Minneapolis to St. Cloud and a drive will start from St. Cloud probably on Thursday. In the run to Minneapolis it is estimated that 40,000,000 feet of logs will be driven.

The season opens about two weeks earlier this year than did the 1909 season.

Raises Fruit on Rosebush.

Berkeley, Cal., April 1.—Hugo Lilenthal, a local horticulturist, announces the discovery of an edible fruit from the climbing rose. He declares that this fruit will in course of time take the place of the loganberry, to which it is allied. Lilenthal succeeded in obtaining the fruit by cross-grafting. The fruit, which he says is quite nutritious, has a flavor like a pineapple, and may be eaten either raw or cooked.

S.S.S. UNEQUALED FOR BAD BLOOD

Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation. These corpuscles are constantly forming in healthy systems by the extraction of nutriment from food eaten, and this nourishment is then supplied through the circulation to every portion of the system. Any system which does not receive the proper amount of blood nourishment is not prepared to withstand the countless disorders that assail it. Bad blood can not nourish the body, the circulation must be pure, rich and strong if we would enjoy good health. Bad blood manifests itself in various ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. If the germs and impurities in the blood are of a more virulent nature then bad blood becomes more serious and produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, and like troubles. Nothing equals S. S. S. for bad blood. It is Nature's own blood purifier, made from roots, herbs and barks. It goes into the circulation and removes every impurity or poison, strengthens and enriches the blood, and in this way supplies the body with the proper amount of nourishment to maintain good health. S. S. S. is likewise the finest of all tonics and while purifying the blood builds up every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures every ailment coming from bad blood, and it does so simply because it purifies the circulation. Book on the blood sent free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CLOSE CHECK ON DEALERS

Card Index System May Be Applied to Meat Markets.

New Inspectors Take Up Work in City Health Department.

Individual records of all the meat markets in the city will be kept in the health department as soon as the inspection work in this branch has been put on a firm basis.

This will be done by means of a card system such as is used in keeping track of the various dairies in the city, and it is probable that a scoring system will be adopted later. In this way every shop in the city will be checked up thoroughly.

When the card system is in working order the public will be able to learn in just what condition its butcher shops are. If one suspects that any butcher is not as sanitary as he ought to be he can satisfy himself by calling up the health department. The card will show the size and location of the shops, the sanitary precautions that have been taken, and all other information tending to throw light on the place.

Theodore Bernhardt, the newly-appointed meat inspector, was sworn in this morning by H. W. Cheadle, city clerk, and after receiving his instructions from Dr. Webster, health commissioner, he started at once to look over his ground.

Dr. Webster says that Mr. Bernhardt knows all about meat and can tell its quality. The commissioner has much confidence in the new inspector and is sure that all the meat shops in the city will soon be up to the high standard required by the department.

Grant Owens, the new milk inspector, also started work today. He will be assisted by Conrad Wicklund, who has worked in the same department under previous administrations. Mr. Owens will probably continue to follow the same system of scoring and inspection inaugurated by R. W. Luxon, the retiring milk inspector. Mr. Luxon has received many compliments on his work while in the employ of the department, putting it upon a high plane of efficiency and securing excellent results. He visited the milkmen at all hours of the day and night and compelled them to be sanitary in all respects. He has taken charge of one of the largest dairies in the city limits, and says that he will continue to see that Duluth gets pure milk.

SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR MILK DEALERS PROBED

Two Arrested and Fined for Insanitary Practices at Dairies.

The methods of Superior milkmen are being probed.

Yesterday three milkmen were arrested and pleaded guilty to selling milk from insanitary and dirty cans. They were each fined $25 and costs.

It is understood that warrants, which have been issued at the instigation of H. C. Larson, deputy state dairy and food commissioner, will be served today on three more milkmen on the same charge. Those who were arrested yesterday are: B. Knutson, Charles Simons and Nels Sorrenson.

It is claimed that some of the milkmen sell milk from open scoured cans, which allow the dirt to remain in them even if washed. Conditions, according to the inspector, are far from being satisfactory not only among the dairymen but also among the dealers, where milk, cream and other dairy products are not handled as they should be.

Mr. Larson and A. E. Kundert, the chemist for the commission, returned last evening to Madison, where they will analyze several samples of milk, cream and other products, with the view of making arrests should their suspicions be borne out.

CENSUS ENUMERATORS HAVE BEEN APPOINTED.

L. B. Dresser, supervisor of the census for the Tenth district, yesterday announced a list of enumerators for the various divisions of the county and city. They are:

County.

Bennett and Highland—William M. Malloy.
Brule—Edmond E. Geary.
Gordon—Luther C. Lawler.
Hawthorne and Lake Nebagamon—Robert Jacobsen.
Maple—Oscar W. Carlson.
Summit—Alfred Johnson.

Superior City.

Ward 1—John A. Bardon and P. A. Shields.
Ward 2—Harry L. Whitney.
Ward 3—Lilly A. Green.
Ward 4—Paul C. Stack and Charles A. Hooper.
Ward 5—Andrew W. Johnson.
Ward 6—Alfred S. Eaton and Clarence H. Norquist.
Ward 7—Charles A. Waltz and Elias Hoover.
Ward 8—B. N. Paddock.
Ward 9—George A. Hunter and Albert E. Daly.
Ward 10—James Beggs.

Robbed New Comer.

Axel Nelson, charged with having robbed Hjalmer Antonsen, who just arrived from Norway, is held at the county jail in default of $500 bail, pending his examination, which yesterday afternoon in municipal court was set for April 6. It is claimed that the alleged robbery took place at the rear of a Tower avenue saloon.

Soldiers Are Victors.

The Company I basket ball team defeated the Blaine high school five last evening in a fast game, 21 to 19, at the normal school gymnasium. By winning this game, the soldiers claim that they are entitled to the championship of the Head of the Lakes.

Ordered Out of City.

Upon the refusal of the plaintiff to prosecute, the case against Lillian Rogers, who was held by the police for the alleged robbery of a Duluth man in a Tower avenue lodging house last week, was dismissed yesterday in municipal court. She was ordered to leave the city at once.

On Accredited List.

The Nelson Dewey high school at the East end has been restored to the list of accredited high schools of the North Central association. Most of the colleges and universities in the Middle West are included in the association, and will admit without examination the graduates of any of the accredited list of high schools.

FINDING OF BODY CLEARS MYSTERY.

The body of a man, who answers to the description of Arthur Roman, missing since last December, was found afloat in the waters of St. Louis bay near the Northwestern Coal Dock No. 3 yesterday.

It is expected that the discovery of the body will clear up the mystery concerning the disappearance of Roman. The police believe that the man met with an accident and was drowned. A registered mail receipt with the name of Arthur Roman was found in one of his pockets.

Roman boarded at 1517 Fifth street. It was stated there yesterday, that he had been last seen two weeks before Christmas.

Call Is Declined.

Rev. Victor Albert of the German Lutheran church has declined to accept the call offered him by the congregation of the St. John's English Lutheran church of Duluth. Rev. Mr. Albert came to Superior three years ago.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

DEFAULT has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by Peter Norman, widower, of Virginia, Minnesota, mortgagor, to Sattler Liquor company, a corporation, of Duluth, Minnesota, mortgagee, bearing date December 17th, 1906, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of December, 1906, at 11:45 o'clock A. M., in Book 233 of Mortgages on page 66.

Said default consists in the nonpayment of $310.93 of the principal of the note referred to in said mortgage, together with $91.93 interest thereon.

The name of said Sattler Liquor company, which is a Minnesota corporation, has been duly changed since the execution and delivery of said mortgage, to Sattler Brothers company, which is now the name of said corporation.

By reason of such default, the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has ever been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage.

The property described in said mortgage and thereby mortgaged is the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter (SW¼ of NW¼) of Section twenty-nine (29), and the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter (SE¼ of NE¼) of Section thirty (30), all in Township fifty-seven (57) north of Range twelve (12) west of the fourth principal meridian, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, containing eighty (80) acres.

There is claimed to be due and is due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of $402.86.

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises above described, which sale will be made at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the sheriff's office in the County Court House in Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, on Monday, the 18th day of April, 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage and taxes, if any, due on said premises, and twenty-five dollars ($25.00) attorneys' fees, as stipulated in said mortgage, and the costs and disbursements allowed by law.

Dated this 3rd day of March, 1910.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis.—ss.

In Probate Court.

THE PETITION OF Helen Rosenow, as representative of the above named decedent, together with her final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things, that she has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on her bond.

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday, the 11th day of April, 1910, at ten o'clock A. M. and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Evening Herald, according to law.

PROGRAM IS COMPLETED

Former Pastors to Attend Semi-Centennial of Merritt Memorial Church.

Pioneer Members of Congregation Will Recall Early Days in Duluth.

Considerable interest is being manifested at West Duluth over the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the Merritt Memorial church, the pioneer church of Duluth, next week. The program was completed today.

The observance will begin next Thursday evening, April 7, at the church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street. A. L. Richardson of Aitkin, Minn., is the speaker of the evening. Mr. Richardson was an Oneota boy and grew up with the congregation. Some years ago he became pastor of the church. He now has a charge at Aitkin.

Friday afternoon, April 8, has been set aside by the program committee for a social gathering at the church. The afternoon will be devoted to informal visiting among the members and the former pastors who are to be present. Rev. A. F. Thompson of Minneapolis, formerly pastor of the church, will give a short sermon.

Rev. Thompson was pastor of the local church nearly twenty years ago. While not among the earliest pastors of the Merritt church, his work in Duluth had its pioneer features, for after leaving the Merritt Memorial church he founded the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street.

A big banquet, at which there will be reservations made for 200 people, will be a feature of the celebration. The banquet will be given Friday evening. Bert N. Wheeler will be the toastmaster for the occasion. Among the speakers will be Rev. Alexander Milne, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church of Duluth, whose subject has not been announced.

Leonidas Merritt, who was a boy living in Oneota when the church was organized in 1856, will read a paper on the early history of the church. Alfred Merritt will respond to a toast on the old Sunday school of the pioneer church. For many years he took an active part in the Sunday school work, acting as superintendent.

Rev. Arthur J. Hoag, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, is also on the program. The subject of his talk has not yet been announced. During the evening an opportunity will be afforded Mrs. Harriet Jones, formerly the wife of the late Rev. James Peet, the first pastor of the congregation, to speak.

Mrs. Jones is now nearing her eighty-fifth birthday. She lives at St. Paul, but has sent word to the committee that she will attend the affair. If she feels so disposed, she may make a few remarks recalling early incidents in the early church work of the city.

The celebration will come to an end Sunday, April 10. In the morning, at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. E. K. Copper, district superintendent of the Duluth district, will occupy the pulpit. After his sermon, a reception will be held for new members and a holy communion service will be held.

There is some doubt as to the speaker for the evening service, which concludes the celebration. If the plans of the committee are carried out, Rev. R. H. Craig, a former pastor of Merritt Memorial, and later of the Grace M. E. church, who now has a charge at Lisbon, N. D., will be the speaker of the evening.

WANT NAME OF AVENUE CHANGED.

Members of the West Duluth Commercial club want the name of Commonwealth avenue changed to Grand, as it is really a continuation of Grand avenue. Steps in this direction will be taken at the regular meeting this evening.

The club at its meeting tonight also will complete the final arrangements for the big banquet April 7, and for the other events of the day.

HEADS DISTRICT UNIONS.

Mrs. Ida Merritt Elected President of County W. C. T. U. Societies.

Mrs. Ida Merritt was yesterday elected president of the Duluth district of the Women's Christian Temperance union, at the annual district convention held yesterday at the home of Mrs. I. P. Swangle of 10 South Fifty-eighth avenue west.

The other officers named were: Mrs. J. T. Culbertson, first vice president; Mrs. Gustafson, second vice president; Mrs. C. R. Keyes, secretary; and Mrs. B. H. Smith, treasurer. Reports of the committees showed the organization to be in good standing.

The Duluth district includes all of St. Louis county, but there are only two "unions" in the district, the West end and the West Duluth branches. It is understood that other branches may be established this year throughout the county.

At the meeting yesterday, a program was rendered. Rev. Swaney Nelson gave an address and Mrs. K. A. Ostergren and Mrs. Carl Hagberg rendered vocal solos.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

Officers were elected and the present pastor, Rev. J. G. Leitch, requested to stay for another year, at the annual meeting of the congregation of the Westminster Presbyterian church last evening. Rev. S. A. Jamieson, pastor at large for the Duluth district presided.

Reports were read from the different departments of the church work and they showed the branches to be in at state of healthy activity. An addition of one member was made to the board of trustees. C. I. Towner was elected to represent the younger element of the church.

Andrew P. Johnson and J. P. Weir were elected to succeed themselves as elders for the coming three years. Mrs. Janet Jennings and L. A. Barnes were chosen to the board of trustees for a term of three years, each being re-elected.

West Duluth Briefs.

First picnic of the season. The school children of West Duluth are invited to come to the Ideal Shoe Repair Works, 409 north Fifty-eighth avenue west, and look at our place from 2 to 5 p. m. Saturday. Free souvenirs given away.

An important meeting of the West Duluth Republican club has been scheduled for tomorrow evening at the Commercial club rooms.

Prof. S. A. Foster of the Duluth industrial high school left last evening for Minneapolis, where he will attend a meeting of the county superintendents of schools held today.

The choir of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue west and Elinor street will give a concert at the church this evening. Prof. Frank Nelson, president of Minnesota college, is the principal speaker.

President Kelly and two other members of the board of education of the Cloquet schools yesterday visited the Duluth industrial high school.

The Myran Sewing Society of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church will be entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Olin of 320 North Sixtieth avenue west.

The Salter club met last evening in the Silvey block. A social session and program was preceded by a business meeting at which an entertainment committee, consisting of Marie Wilcox, Ruby Deatherage, Fred Hall and Teddy Hall, was named. The committee will arrange for the annual picnic which will be held this summer.

The teachers at the Irving school are making plans for their Arbor day programs, which will consist of songs, recitations and addresses by the pupils. Tree planting will be a feature of the day's events.

The Young Ladies' Guild of the Holy Apostle's Episcopal church will entertain at a social this evening at the rectory, 634 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

COPPER MARKET WAS LIFELESS

Values Are Erratic in Market Featured By Light Trading.

In a market that was lifeless and without interest and characterized by a small volume of trading, values advanced from the opening today, but the decline after midday wiped out nearly all gains and most issues closed about on a parity with the opening, and many sustained small fractional declines. A few scored fractional upturns for the day. The local market was quiet.

Dena sold at $3. Red Warrior at $2.25, Warrior at $12.75. Butte & Superior at $2.18¾ and $2.12½, Calumet & Corbin at 77 cents and Sierra at $3.50.

Amalgamated sold at $74 to $74.50, to $73.87½, to $74.12½, to $74 at the close; Calumet & Arizona at $66.50 to $66; Giroux at $8 to $8.25; Greene at $9.37½; North Butte at $35 to $34.75; Superior & Pittsburg at $13.50 to $13.37½ to the opening; Lake at $64.25 to $65 and back to the opening; Steel common at $82.62½ to $83 and back to the opening and at the close at $82.75.

J. H. Hodgson, general manager for Gay, Sturgis & Company, has been elected a director in the Keating Gold Mining company to succeed the late R. B. Dear. The personnel of the directors follows: Julius H. Barnes, Duluth; Jesse B. Roote, C. W. Newton and J. A. McKee, Butte; and Mr. Hodgson.

The new electrical equipment is nearly finished and in place, and will be in operation by the middle of April. Under rather handicapped conditions, owing to the limited capacity of the old surface equipment, the company is now sending two cars of ore to the smelters daily, the values averaging between $35 and $40 net to the company. The ore is especially acceptable to the smelters because of the high percentage of iron, and as soon as the new surface plant is in commission the output will be increased to about five cars a day.

The Keating Gold Mining company already is on a more than self-sustaining basis, and will be in a position to pay a dividend within the next few months.

A Butte special received by Paine, Webber & Co., from the Boston Financial News said: "While the output of the copper mines of Butte is still far from normal, the production for the month of March which amounts to 28,476,140 pounds of copper was more than double that of February when the mines were operated less than half the month owing to labor disturbances and it was only about 1,000,000 pounds under the production of November, 1909. The production of the older properties, such as the Boston & Montana, Anaconda and Butte Coalition was considerably under normal and it is estimated that in all of these properties not more than 70 per cent of the amount of ore mined two years ago was taken out last month.

"The average of the camp for the past year was preserved by the Tuolumne Copper company, which added 936,200 pounds of copper to the month's production. The North Butte average was a trifle better than during the month of February and the Parrot average was somewhat under the February average. The East Butte ores ran a trifle under the February average, owing to the treatment of a great deal of ore encountered in development work and taken out before the main ore bodies were reached.

"Tuolumne shipped a great tonnage of ore averaging close to 15 per cent coper and according to the plans now under way the tonnage will be increased to double next month. The output for March was as follows:

Mines—	Tons of Ore.	Lbs. Copper to Ton.	Total.
Anaconda	116,100	63	7,318,000
North Butte	36,000	82	2,952,000
Boston & Montana	93,300	82	7,626,000

The Boston Financial News said today: "Owing to the fact that Anaconda has increased its capital stock to 6,000,000 shares or 1,780,000 larger than is necessary to take over the Amalgamated subsidiaries, there are many rumors going about as to the acquisition of other properties by the Anaconda, and among these North Butte is mentioned as being one of the mines which will be taken over. We stated several months ago that it was the intention to include North Butte on the consolidation when the merger was first talked of, but the price asked by the controlling interests in this company was higher than the Amalgamated interests cared to pay, and so the North Butte was left out.

"There has been no change in the situation. The ore reserves of the mine are not sufficiently large to warrant the price which was above $50 per share, which the pool that had been formed in the stock wanted, and so the proposition was dropped. It is possible, however, that later North Butte will be taken over by the Anaconda if the shareholders are willing to accept the Anaconda figures, or on the other hand should the North Butte underground conditions improve enough to warrant the asking price for the property the Anacanda will take it over.

"There is also a report being circulated that the Anaconda will take over the so-called Clark properties. We understand there is no truth in this rumor."

STATE TAX TO BE LOWER

Will Be Cut in Half Next Year According to Iverson.

Auditor Predicts That Revenue Levy May Be Abolished in Three Years.

St. Paul, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The levy for the state revenue fund next year will be only half as much as it was this year.

This statement was made today by State Auditor Iverson. This year $1,000,000 was collected, but the increase in the state's income has been so big that next year only $500,000 will be needed. This does not include the assessment for soldiers' relief fund, state roads and bridges fund, university campus fund and prison building fund. These are entirely separate from the levy for the state revenue fund.

At the close of business yesterday the state, according to C. C. Dinehart, state treasurer, was nearly $1,000,000 better off financially than ever before in its history. Of this increase $608,320.52 was applicable to the revenue fund, while the remaining $400,000 goes to the prison building fund.

Mr. Iverson said he thought it would be no more than three years, if the present rate of increase in revenue keeps up, before it would be possible to discontinue the levy for the state revenue fund. The other tax levies, he says, are determined by special conditions.

Fight Promoters Get Order for 150 Seats From the Orient.

New York, April 1.—John J. Gleason, partner of Tex Rickard, in promoting the Jeffries-Johnson fight, said today that demands for reservations had been received from many parts of the world for the big battle.

"We have a request from China for 150 seats," said Gleason at his hotel, "and Hugh McIntosh is to bring a delegation from Australia.

"We have made arrangements with all railroads whereby those who will travel to see the contest may pay for their seats at the same time they get their railroad ticket and their seat coupon will be attached to their railroad tickets."

INDOOR MEET WILL BE HELD AT OMAHA.

Omaha, Neb., April 1.—Arrangements were practically completed today for the big Western indoor championship meet under the auspices of the Omaha Athletic association, the first of its kind in this city scheduled for tonight. Work on the special running track and the extra seating accommodations went forward all night.

President Everett C. Brown of Chicago and Secretary-Treasurer J. E. Sullivan of New York, of the Amateur Athletic union, arrived today.

The entry list includes nearly 300 athletes, representing forty-six colleges, high schools and athletic associations, from the states of the Middle West.

Action For Divorce.
Jennie L. Dreis, 24 years old, wants a divorce from her husband, George J. Dreis, 34. They were married less than a year ago. She alleges in her complaint, which has been filed with the clerk of the district court, that her husband has treated her in a cruel, heartless, and inhuman manner. She cites instances where he struck and otherwise abused her. She claims also that he threatened to kill her. Mrs. Dreis asks the right to use her maiden name.

April Term to Be Light.
The April term of the district court will not be heavy there being but 103 cases in all. But forty-nine of the total number are new. The calendar will be called by Judge Dibell who will this term hear the criminal cases.

Recovers From Injuries.
Thomas Wood Jr., who was struck and injured by an automobile a few days ago is able to be out again. He does not remember being struck by the machine while riding his bicycle on East Superior street.

Winners at Masquerade.
The Modern Maccabees entertained at a masquerade ball at the Knights of Pythias hall last night. The prize winners were: Miss Maud Guilleault, Miss Beuhlah Dooley, Claude Loomis and John Wallinder.

For Sale.
Thousands of high-grade carnations and roses on sale at Eischen Brothers, Saturday.

For Selling Liquor.
Emil Otlish was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with furnishing liquor in the back room of the store at 629½ West Superior street, without a license. He entered a plea of not guilty and his trial was set for this afternoon. In making a series of raids last Saturday night the police found a case of beer in the place.

Arrested in Illinois.
Word was received in Duluth yesterday that W. G. West, wanted here on an indictment charging him with forgery, returned by the last grand jury, is under arrest at Aurora, Ill. He was employed as a bookkeeper by the Duluth Corrugating & Roofing company at the time he is said to have secured several small sums of money by putting out worthless checks.

Receiver Is Appointed.
Judge Page Morris of the United States court has appointed M. A. McNaughton receiver for Dane and George S. Travica, doing business as Travica Bros., in the grocery business at Marble, Minn. Proceedings in involuntary bankruptcy have been begun against the firm by Duluth wholesale houses having claims against it.

Back From Port Arthur.
The steamer C. W. Moore of the Booth line returned today from her first trip of the season to Port Arthur. The trip was uneventful. No ice was encountered, although some floating fields were sighted from the boat. There were only three immigrants on the boat, all Canadians, an unusual occurrence, as a number of immigrants are usually brought from the Canadian port on the first trip of the seasbn.

Will Repeat Cantata.
On account of the many who were unable to gain admision to the service at the Lester park M. E. church last Sunday evening, and by special request, the cantata, "Cross and Crown" will be repeated in that church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Man Is Missing.
The police have been asked to help locate J. A. Hall of Lemon, S. D., who has been missing for several weeks. His relatives fear that he has met with foul play. He came to this part of the state to buy horses, and nothing has been heard of him since he left. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Noren Funeral.
The funeral of Ingeborg, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Noren of 618 East Seventh street, will take place tomorrow afternoon from the residence at 2 o'clock. Rev. Carl Solomonson will officiate. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

Goes to Virginia.
Otto Beischgold of this city has accepted a position with the Virginia park board, which expects to do a great deal of work the coming year. A boulevard, some parks and several beauty spots will likely be laid out this season. Mr. Beischgold was recommended to the Virginia board by Henry Cleveland, secretary of the local board.

Information of Insanity.
Information of insanity has been filed in probate court against Mary G. Shillin of Sundby, Minn. The alleged insanity is supposed to be caused by sickness. She raves at night and imagines that the neighbors are about to injure her children. The information was filed by her husband, Frank Shillin.

RAILROADS

AN INSPECTOR OF TERMINALS

J. J. McCullough Will Seek to End Delays in Railroad Yards.

The Northern Pacific railroad officials have appointed Mr. J. J. McCullough inspector of terminals, and the appointment is important, from the fact that he will have direct communication with all the superintendents in regard to more efficient service in the yards, for the purpose of doing away with delay in the handling of cars as much as possible.

He will also see that instructions regarding the makeup of trains are carried out, that up-to-date switching methods are pursued, and will seek to improve generally the conditions at all terminal points.

DULUTH SWITCHMEN AFFECTED BY INCREASE.

Several hundred switchmen, living in Duluth and Superior, are affected by the increase in wages, which goes into effect today. The advance was made on recommendation of the board of arbitration acting for forty-seven railroads west of Chicago. The Switchmen's union refused to enter the arbitration and the advance is made without regard to the union and to all men at present employed by the roads affected.

SUNDAY TRAIN SERVICE TO BEGIN.

The Duluth & Northern Minnesota road will start its Sunday train service, April 10, five days before the opening of the fishing season. The streams are normal and the prospects indicate that trout fishing along the north shore will be excellent.

New York, April 1.—The Western Maryland Railroad company today declared an initial quarterly dividend of 1 per cent. or $1 a share, on its preferred stock.

OBITUARY

Stark B. Taylor who had served continuously in the court of claims ever since its organization in 1855, first as messenger, upon the recommendation of Jefferson Davis, then a United States senator, and since 1863 as bailiff, died at his home in Washington, March 21, aged 90 years. Mr. Taylor, who was a native of King George county, Va., served ten years in the United States army, part of that time in the Mexican war. Five years ago there was an impressive proceeding at the court of claims when the court took formal cognizance of the fiftieth anniversary of Mr. Taylor's service.

James A. Donnelly, British consul at Savannah, Ga., died suddenly at his home, March 31, of heart failure. He had served a year as consul. He was born in South America, 63 years ago.

Warren C. Arnold, formerly congressman from the Second Rhode Island district, died at Westerly, R. I., April 1 of paralysis.

Dr. J. P. C. Foster, head of the Connecticut state tuberculosis commission, died at New Haven, Conn. of pneumonia.

The Coats

Coats are as necessary to a woman's ward[illegible] this spring as in [illegible] season and show many marked departures from past models. Our display permits of most satisfactory selection, and is as complete in the small priced designs as in the costly ones.

Worthy of especial mention is the long Russian Blouse Coat, which is meeting with particular favor, and is shown in a variety of designs. Price of Coats here range from $15.00 to $50.00.

AUNT MARTHA GOES SHOPPING.

She is here, Aunt Martha, paying a little visit to her married niece, and incidentally doing a little shopping, which she finds very interesting if not indeed exciting. But better let Aunt Martha tell it, says the New York Sun.

"In one great store where I went today" she said, "I saw a man and a woman walking along together in the store and I just happened to see them as you might see anybody. There were crowds of people there walking around and looking and buying and I didn't see anything remarkable about these two, though I suppose there must have been something about them to make me notice them. Just as they were going past where I was the young woman that was waiting on me looked around to the young woman next to her behind the counter and said:

"'Shoplifter!'

"The other young woman—she was showing a man some ladies' shopping bags—she looked up and said:

"'Well! I didn't know he was a detective!'

"You see? She didn't know the man was a detective any more than I did. She had seen him in the store but never suspected and all this of course took only a minute, and then my saleswoman and the other one too got down to business again.

"When the detective and the shoplifter came along the man looking at shopping bags was holding up a small pigskin bag, a nice bag it was but small, and he was still holding it so and looking at it, and now I heard him saying to the saleswoman:

"'Isn't it rather small?' and then I heard her saying:

"'Oh, no, you'd be surprised to see how much that bag would hold!'

"'How much is it?' the man asked then, and she said '$15.' And that I guess was more, maybe considerable more, than he had expected to pay, and he said to her:

"'Isn't that a good deal to pay for such a small bag?' and she said:

"'Not for a bag like that. That's a fine imported bag.'

"'Well,' he said, I'll take it,' and he did and really I hated to see him do it. You see he was buying to give to somebody for a Christmas present and I know she won't like it because it wasn't half big enough and I don't think it was the sort of bag she wanted anyway. I don't think men ever ought to go shopping for women."

"What sort of looking woman was she," Aunt Martha was asked; "the woman that was arrested? Was she well dressed? Was she old or was she young Did she look troubled or was she keeping calm" -

But as to these things Aunt Martha couldn't say. Really she had been more interested in the man buying the pigskin bag.

Washington Star: "The shameless grafting that goes on in New York," said the well-known sociologist, Dr. Bolton Ely Flint, in a recent address in Memphis, "makes me think of a conversation between two crooked storekeepers, says Washington Star.

"These two men, meeting at the club, shook hands, and the first said:

"'I congratulate you, old chap. That was a splendid fire of yours last Thursday.'

"The other frowned.

"'You're mixed,' he said. 'Not last Thursday; next Thursday.'"

WHEAT HAS DULL TONE

Market Sags Under Light Buying and Closes Fractionally Lower.

Flax Strong in Tight Market, Closing Nearly Two Points Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 1.—Wheat closed fractionally lower today, there being practically no buying power and the market showing a disposition to stick in a rut. Values were ¼c under yesterday's close. The market sagged of its own weight, there being little trading to influence it. The action was dull and featureless.

May wheat opened $1.15⅛-¼ bid, declined to $1.14⅞, sold up to $1.15, off ⅛c and up to $1.15⅛ and down to $1.14⅞, closing $1.14⅞ bid. The July option opened with offers at $1.15 asked and closed $1.14⅞ bid.

Flax was strong in a tight market, featured by limited offerings. There was evidence of short covering. May opened at $2.32½, sold at $2.34 and then at $2.35 and off ¼c, closing with offers of $2.34¾. The July option at $2.31 and sold at $2.33 and off ½c, closing with offers at that price. The October option closed $1.72 bid, without trading.

Cash wheat was ½@⅞c over May. The cash market was weaker and premiums here eased off. The demand at Minneapolis was slack. It was rumored that the Washburn-Crosby company at Minneapolis may shut down two mills tomorrow.

Rye closed unchanged, oats closed ¼c off, barley 1c off and durum ⅜c up. There was a good export business today in durums, which reflected in stronger prices.

The market showed little rallying power. The bears did considerable talking over the wires but they did not sell much wheat. The buying power seemed to be lacking, also, and the market did little else than to mark time. Trading was comparatively light.

There was little trading in May which, compared with earlier in the year, is almost dormant. Some traders are afraid of congestion owing to light stocks and they are getting out of the May option, although there is said to be a fair open interest remaining which, however, is not active. May tops all futures and the trade is inclined to let it alone. The deferred months are showing slightly more strength, although the market is about on the same level as a month ago except the September option in Chicago and Minneapolis which is slightly higher. There is a heavy long interest in both options. Some folks who bought July are short on September. Bartlett-Patten is credited with having bought 12,000,000 bu for September delivery.

There was some selling shortly after the opening today on favorable reports from Oklahoma. This state reports prospects for a bumper crop. It has been conspicuously absent in the flood of damage reports which have come from other portions of the Southwest. In Kansas the continued dry weather is hurting the growing plant and Nebraska, too, is suffering. Climatic conditions in those states have been peculiar, alternating with warm and cold weather, high hot winds and sleet and snow in the western portion of Nebraska. The weather man does not look for rain in the Southwest except for local showers.

As outsiders are not enthusiastic about the buying side and there is not much disposition to sell short, the market is extremely narrow. The sensational bullish news does not cause any buying of consequence. Some traders are timid about the bull side and sell a little on the breaks, but do not stay in the market long. Bulls look for a firming of prices, believing that the market has had its break. The bears think prices are top heavy and that the market is due for a decline.

Reports from the winter wheat belts today were mixed, some being more favorable. The bulls took hope in reports of damage from Indiana and Ohio, but the messages were local and had little significance. The big acreage that is being sown in the Northwest is a factor of pleasing import to those bearishly inclined.

Foreign news is moderately bullish although there was little demand in the United Kingdom today, buyers holding aloof. India is asking higher prices and Russian supplies are being reduced. About seventy-five steamers have been chartered at Azoff ports. Of the Argentine exportable surplus of 61,000,000 bu about 36,000,000 bu is left.

MARKET GOSSIP

Liverpool, April 1.—The following are the stocks of breadstuffs and provisions in Liverpool: Flour, 31,000 sacks; wheat, 1,419,000 centals; corn, 1,295,000 centals; bacon, 14,500 boxes; hams, 4,600 boxes; shoulders, 2,600 boxes; butter, 1,600 cwts; cheese, 60,500 boxes; lard, 2,200 tons. (Prime western steam), and 1,400 tons other kinds.

Wheat stores here increased 666,000 bu in the last five days, amounting now to 7,409,000 bu. Stocks of flax are 229,000 bu having decreased 13,000 bu in the last five days.

Van Dusen-Harrington give the following view of seeding in the Northwest:

"There has never been, so far as the records show, a month of March so favorable for spring work in Minnesota and the two Dakotas. Commencing with the first day of the month we have had clear, pleasant spring weather. The early winter snows fell on unfrozen ground, and as the ground remained well covered throughout the winter the frost did not penetrate so deeply as usual and thawed out promptly with the first warm days. The melting snows disappeared in the soil and there has been nothing like spring freshets or high waters. In Southern Minnesota and South Dakota a large percentage of the farmers have already completed wheat seeding, and it seems safe to predict that wheat seeding in those three states will be finished two weeks earlier than usual." Prospects are for a large increase in wheat, barley and flax acreage over last year, also an increase in velvet chaff wheat. In Southern Minnesota and South Dakota a large percentage of the farmers have completed wheat seeding and it is safe to predict that seeding in these states will be finished two weeks earlier than usual.

Argentina's surplus of wheat is estimated by Broomhall's agent at 36,000,000 bu now remaining for export. So far this season the shipments have amounted to roundly 25,000,000 bu. These compare with 52,000,000 bu for the same period last year.

Broomhall says: India is not offering the new crop wheat, as they consider the price too low as compared with the price of linseed and other food grain. There will be some new wheat shipped from Calcutta this week.

Foreign markets closed: Budapest wheat, ⅜c lower; Berlin, May ¾c higher; Liverpool wheat ⅛d lower to ⅛d higher; corn, ¼d higher; May, $1.16; July, $1.15½; October, $1.13⅜; July corn, 73⅜c; Paris, wheat and flour unchanged. Berlin, wheat, ⅜c higher.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat showed considerable steadiness at the opening with offerings light and prices unchanged to ⅛d higher. There was some little pressure in May following the opening and this month declined ¼d, while the distant months showed a further advance of ¼d from the opening. Snow's report was considered bullish and Australian shipments for the week show a falling off. Argentine offerings are firm and the quality of arrivals at the ports are very unsatisfactory. Just before midday there was some little tendency to sell off on the quiet demand for both cargoes and parcels, and at this time the market was steady and unchanged to ¼d higher than yesterday. Corn was teady at the start and unchanged and later advanced ¼d on the scarcity of La Plata offerings. The Australian wheat shipments this week amount to 1,152,000 bu against 1,800,000 bu last week and 1,456,000 bu a year ago. Argentine shipments of wheat this week, 2,136,000 bu; last week, 1,984,000; last year, 3,808,000 bu. Corn, 41,000 bu; last week, 122,000 bu; last year, 97,000 bu."

Modern Miller said: "Drought conditions have not fully broken in the winter wheat states. Little rain fell in Kansas and Nebraska and the crop in these states is suffering from lack of moisture. Conditions in Missouri unfavorable, with most damage in the central and northern parts of the state. Showers have fallen east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio rivers, and reports are more encouraging but there are also advices of the plant going back. Crop in Texas and Oklahoma was benefited by good rains and the prospects are favorable."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Trade Is Inclined to Drag Early in the Session.

Chicago, April 1.—Although dry weather prevailed quite generally throughout the Southwest the wheat market was inclined to drag during early trading today. Leading commission houses were moderate sellers and the demand was slack. May, which displayed considerable activity yesterday, was dull and weak following a little firmness at the start. Prices at the opening were ⅛c lower to ⅜c higher, July being at $1.08½ to $1.08⅜@1.08½. September opened at $1.05⅝@1.05½. Before the end of the first hour July had dropped to $1.08⅛ and September to $1.05¼@1.05¼.

A fair rally occurred toward the noon hour owing to the buying brought out by a report of a St. Louis trade journal which indicated considerable deterioration in the condition of growing wheat in many sections. July advanced to $1.08⅝@1.08¾ and September to $1.05¾. The gain, however, was lost on renewed realizing. The close was easy with July off ⅛@¼c at $1.08¼@1.08⅜ and September down ¼@⅜c at $1.05¼@1.05⅜.

Corn was weak owing to general selling by commission houses and liquidation by small holders. The poor demand for the cash grain was the chief factor in bringing out the offerings. The May delivery opened a shade to ⅛@¼c lower at 62¼@62⅛c, and early in the day declined to 61¾c.

A heavy tone prevailed all day on absence of any definite support. The low point for May was 61⅝c. The close was weak with May ⅝c lower at 61⅝@61¾c.

Extreme dullness prevailed in the oats pit at the start and sentiment was bearish, owing to the heaviness of corn. The May option opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 43½@43⅝c to 43½c and sold off to 43¼c.

Provisions were firm at the start because of a scarcity of offerings in the pit. Shorts were inclined to cover on prospects of a bullish report on stocks of provisions in store here. Prices at the opening were unchanged ta 17½c higher. May pork opened at $25.80. Lard opened at $13.82½ and ribs at $13.72½@13.72½@13.75.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Trade Is Light, May Moves in Narrow Range.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 1.—May wheat today fluctuated in the narrow range of ¼@⅜c. Trading was light. Local elevator stocks of wheat increased 450,000 bushels for the week, making the total 10,002,000 bu, as compared with 13,215,032 a year ago. May closed ¼c lower than yesterday, July ⅜c lower and September ⅜c lower. No rains fell in the Southwest and foreign markets were about steady. Minneapolis today received 164 cars of wheat, as compared with 178 cars a year ago; Duluth 133 against 37, and Winnipeg 185 against 206. May opened $1.14½, high, $1.14½@$1.14⅝; low $1.14¼@1.14¼; closed, $1.14¼. July opened $1.14⅝; high, $1.14⅞; low, $1.14½; closed, $1.14½. September opened, $1.05⅛; high, $1.05⅛@1.05¼; low, $1.04¾; closed, $1.04¾.

Frosts occurred this morning over portions of Michigan, Iowa, Indiana and Missouri; light rains fell over South Dakota. H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

T. Indicates inappreciable rainfall. *For yesterday. †For 24 hours ending 8 a. m., 75th meridian time. ‡Minimum temperature for 12 hours ending 8 a. m., 75th meridian time.

NOTE—The average maximum and minimum temperatures and the average rainfall are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Market Is Listless on Nominal Dealings, Closing Semi-Stagnant.

Beginning of Gold Exports to London Is Bearish Factor.

New York, April 1.—The execution of orders on hand gave the opening stock market today a brief semblance of activity. Dealings lapsed into dullness within a few minutes. Prices changed narrowly. New York Central rose 1. American Smelting declined ⅝.

Speculation became firm in tone, but there was not much increase in the volume of business, the buying running pretty generally to a few of the best known stocks. Consolidated Gas moved up 2 and St. Paul, Texas & Pacific, American Car and Westinghouse Electric 1.

The beginning of gold exports to London was followed by a sagging of prices which placed the average level below last night. Possibility was discussed of a supreme court decision in the American Tobacco case on Monday. The effect was to repress activity. Great Northern ore certificates and Northwestern rose 1. Illinois Central and Cleveland C. C. & St. Louis fell 1. Bonds were irregular.

Hundreds of Americans Join in Demonstration at His Landing.

Ex-President Declares He Will Talk No Politics in Europe.

Accepts Invitation to Formal Dinner in Rome on Wednesday.

Naples, April 2.—The blue bay of Naples, bathed in glorious sunshine, never was more beautiful than when the steamer Prinz Heinrich, with the Roosevelt family aboard, steamed into the harbor at 8:20 o'clock this morning. The waterfront was lined with thousands, who participated in the Roosevelt welcome upon his return from Africa.

Only American Ambassador Leishman, with the other members of the embassy; American Consul Crowninshield; marquis de Sota; the prefect of Naples; official representatives of the municipality; the commander of the fort, and a group of foreign correspondents were admitted to the slip where the vessel docked, but outside the gates a surging mass of excited persons, including hundreds of Americans, craned their necks to get an early glimpse of the distinguished American.

Glad He's Coming Home.

As soon as the gang plank had been lowered the official party of welcome boarded the steamer and was conducted aloft to the bridge, where the Roosevelts were bidding goodbye to the captain. Cordial greetings were exchanged.

Mr. Roosevelt, attired in a gray suit and wearing a soft black hat, appeared in splendid health and spirits. His weather-beaten face gave him the appearance of a trained athlete. He spoke with boyish pleasure of setting his foot

NEW PRESIDENT OF REPUBLIC OF PANAMA

DR. CARLOS A. MENDOZA.

Panama, April 2.—Dr. C. A. Mendoza is the new president of Panama. He succeeded the late President Obaldia. Mendoza is a member of the Liberal party, which is pro-American. He is about 50 years old and was minister of justice in the first Panama cabinet, formed in 1903.

TAKES AWAY NEGRO VOTES

Maryland Senate Passes the Digges Bills for Disfranchisement.

Similar Action By the House Is Regarded as Assured.

Annapolis, Md., April 2.—The so-called Digges bills for the disfranchisement of the negro in all state and municipal elections in Maryland were passed by the senate late last night. They now go to the house, where their passage is assured because of the large Democratic majority in that body.

It is not proposed to prevent negroes voting at congressional or presidential elections, the restriction applying only to state and municipal balloting.

The original draft of the plan was amended by the insertion of a clause by which negroes owning property assessed at $500 may vote provided they were possessed of property thus valued two years in advance of their registration

Repeal Registration Law.

It is proposed to repeal the present registration law; to have a new general registration next year, refusing registration to negroes; and to abolish spring elections in Baltimore, carrying forward those elections until the state election in the November following. Being refused registration, if the bills are enacted, the negro will not be able to vote on the measures when they come before the electors in November, 1911, in the form of a constitutional amendment.

The Democrats did not insert the property qualifications in the bill, because, they say, they will conduct the election under the state constitution, from which they claim the word "white" has never been expunged by any act of the state.

INVITE ROOSEVELT TO NORTH DAKOTA

State Teachers' Executive Committee Will Ask Him to Speak There.

Fargo, N. D. April 2.—(Special to The Herald.) — Former President Roosevelt will be asked to address the North Dakota teachers at their next annual session. The executive committee of the North Dakota Educational association, which has been in session here, has decided to send an urgent invitation to Mr. Roosevelt. The dates for the next annual convention will be Oct. 19 and 21. Heretofore the meetings have always been held in holidays. At the last session, at Minot, Bismarck was selected as the next place of meeting.

SPAT AROUSES INTEREST AGAIN

Bigger Crowd Turns Out to the Ballinger-Pinchot Inquiry.

Washington, April 2.—The sprightly row in the committee yesterday served to increase the demand for seating room at the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing this morning, and the largest crowd since the days of the Glavis, Pinchot and Garfield testimony was on hand when the doors were opened. The cross-examination of H. K. Love was continued by Attorney Brandeis, representing Louis R. Glavis and others.

Yesterday's affair was the most serious clash among the senators and representatives that has yet marked the proceedings.

Chairman Nelson accused Attorney Brandeis of concealing certain facts, and brought from the latter a demand that the remarks be stricken from the record, together with the intimation that if the chairman followed the proceedings more closely he would see where his remark was unjust.

Quarrel Lasted an Hour.

Some of the Democratic members of the committee moved to direct the chairman to withdraw his remarks, and it was this motion that brought on the quarrel, which lasted for nearly an hour. Senator Nelson refused to withdraw his statement. A motion to lay the whole matter on the table was finally adopted by a vote of 6 to 3, the Democrats demanding a roll call.

Illegal Fishermen Fined.

Princeton, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Game Warden Ed. Indrehus of Ronneby, assisted by Thomas J. Kalliher, made a big haul in Green lake recently, when they took from the water a seine 240 feet long and five gillnets, the longest of which was 140 feet. They also captured two violators of the law—the owners of the gillnets—who live about five miles north of the lake. They were brought before Justice Samuel Winsor of Wyanett, pleaded guilty, and were each fined $5 and costs.

New Great Northern Counsel.

St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. A. Jackson, recently appointed general counsel of the Great Northern railroad, has arrived in St. Paul and has assumed his duties. He comes from New York where he has for several years been general counsel of the Rock Island company.

PLAN NEW WAGE SCALE

Miners and Operators Renew Efforts to End Coal Strike.

Iron and Steel Industry Will Not Be Affected By the Walkout.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2.—Operators and miners in the bituminous coal fields of the United States renewed efforts today to agree on a new two-year contract that will bring a resumption of work in the mines.

In no state will the miners agree to accept less than 5 cents a ton increase of wages. In the districts of Iowa, Western Kentucky and Central Pennsylvania joint conferences between the miners' representatives and the operators' associations are in progress.

Similar conferences have been appointed for next week in the districts of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, western Pennsylvania and the Southwest.

Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was expected to return today to this city from his visit to the Illinois mining centers.

No Affect on Steel.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 2.—According to reliable authority, the iron and steel industry is proof against serious disturbance from the suspension of coal mining in the central competitive districts, as it has accumulated some stock, depends largely upon non-union districts and has the Connellsville field to fall back upon in a pinch. The report that tube production might be curtailed also probably has no foundation in fact.

The Pittsburg Coal Operators' association, in its meeting with President Francis Feehan of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, is re-

JUSTICE BREWER IS LAID TO REST

Leavenworth and Kansas State Officials Take Part in Ceremonies.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 2.—Leavenworth today was a city of mourning for the late Justice David J. Brewer of the United States supreme court. The body arrived from Washington this morning.

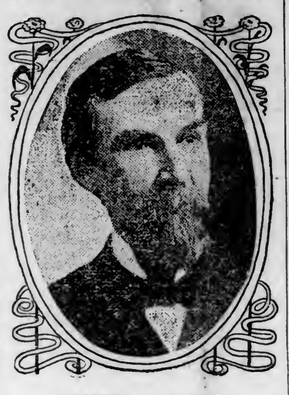

Three hundred leading citizens marched to the railway station before the arrival of the train. They, together with many distinguished visitors from this and other states, including a number of state officials from Topeka, acted as an escort to the First Congregational church, where the funeral services were held.

The men selected for active pall bearers were Judge William C. Hook, Judge William Dill, Mayor Omar Abernathy, Lee Bond, Edward Carroll and William Reed.

The honorary pall bearers were Paul Havens, Judge H. W. Ide, Arthur Simmons, William Hooth, O. B. Taylor, W. N. Todd, A. B. Havens, George Sharritt, Dr. W. W. Walter, Edgar Hopkins, Thomas P. Fenlon, Eugene Lysle and W. T. Hewitt.

ROOSEVELT INDORSED AND TAFT IS IGNORED BY THE REPUBLICANS

WANTS TO PUT ON LA FOLLETTE'S TOGA

SAMUEL A. COOK.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 2.—Samuel A. Cook of Neenah, former congressman from the Sixth Wisconsin district, today announced himself a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Robert M. La Follette. Mr. Cook will shortly state his position on public questions.

"This much I desire to say at this time," says the candidate: "that I shall not conduct a money campaign, but will depend upon the loyalty and patriotism of the people for support."

ARBITRATION LOOKED FOR.

Trouble May Be Averted on Columbus Street Car Lines.

Columbus, Ohio, April 2.—Secretary Joseph Bishop of the state board of arbitration and General Manager E. K. Stewart conferred today relative to a threatened break between the Columbus Railway & Light company and the employes of the street car system. Mr. Bishop later intimated that both sides would probably consent to arbitration.

In Chicago Sunday.

Streator, Ill., April 2.—Edward Payson Weston spent last night at Verona, seventy-four miles from Chicago and resumed his walk to that city today. He expects to arrive at Chicago Sunday at 6 a. m.

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY BILL PASSES HOUSE

Washington, April 2.—The senate amendments to the bill to amend the employers' liability law were agreed to by the house today. The measure will at once be engrossed and sent to the president for his signature.

Action of Convention at St. Cloud Is Regarded as Significant.

Party Is Split Into Hostile Camps on the Tariff Bill.

What Stand Will the State Convention in June Take?

St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Observers of public sentiment point to the resolutions adopted by the Republicans of St. Cloud in their city convention as indicating the universal fear of adherents of the party of the shadow as well as the substance of President William Howard Taft. The resolutions "point with pride" to the record of the party of Lincoln as sustained by Theodore Roosevelt. The supply of laurel was insufficient for the president to be crowned by his wreath. It is significant that for the first time in the history of the Republican party in Minnesota the national administration has failed of indorsement in local conventions.

In view of the action of the local Republicans at St. Cloud, the attitude of the Republican state convention, when it meets in St. Paul in June, is interesting in prospective. The committee, which met in St. Paul today

ISSUE NEAR IN HARBOR WALKOUT

New York Strikers Say They Do Not Mean to Affect Passenger Service.

New York, April 2.—Today's developments were expected by both the striking pilots and masters of railroad shipping labor and the railroads involved to go a long way towards deciding the issue. The day opened with widely conflicting claims, the men declaring that a serious tieup of freight had already resulted from the walkout which began yesterday, while the railroads stuck to their statement that at least 60 per cent of their floating equipment was in operation.

Representatives of the strikers declared there was no intention of tying up the railroad passenger ferry service.

HELPED HOTCHKISS IN INSURANCE LAW PROBE

DARWIN P. KINGSLEY, President of the New York Life Insurance Company.

New York, April 2.—President Darwin P. Kingsley of the New York Life Insurance company, has given some of the most damaging evidence yet brought out at the insurance investigation by the state insurance department of the strangling and promotion of insurance legislation at Albany. Mr. Kingsley testified that in 1906 W. H. Buckley, chief beneficiary of the fire insurance "Yellow Pup" fund, offered in Albany to sell him the votes of six senators for $500 apiece, or $3,000 for the lot. Kingsley was son-in-law of the late John A. McCall.

MURDER IN STREET CAR

Minneapolis Man Is Shot Down and Italian Is Arrested.

August Johnson Steps on Passenger's Foot and Quarrel Starts.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several witnesses, according to the police, this morning positively identified Vito di Palo as the Italian, who shot and killed August Johnson, a clerk, on a First avenue and Twentieth avenue street car last night. Charles Finkelstein, 755 Washington avenue north, who was a passenger on the car, picked out Di Palo as the man who fired the shot, according to a statement made today by Chief of Police Corriston.

The quarrel which resulted in the murder of Johnson grew out of a trifling fact. Johnson boarded the car at Hennepin avenue. There were several drunken Italians aboard. Inadvertently he stepped on the foot of one of the men, and a quarrel followed. Johnson finally walked to the rear platform of the car, leaving the men standing in the aisle.

Held the Gates Open.

At Sixth avenue north the Italians got off and one of them held the gates so that the motorman could not close them. A passenger on the back platform kicked at one of the hands that was holding the gate open, and almost at once a shot was fired and Johnson fell dead with a bullet through his head. The Italians fled.

Police headquarters was notified and Di Palo's arrest followed. Several other Italians were taken into custody on suspicion.

The police say that Di Palo gave conflicting accounts of his movements last night. He lives at 622 Sixth street north.

FLOCKING BACK FROM THE SOUTH

Duluth People Stop in Washington on Their Way Home.

Washington, April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—This seems to be the homecoming season for many residents of Duluth who have spent the winter in a warmer clime than is supposed to prevail in St. Louis county. Among those who passed through Washington on their homeward flight within the last twenty-four hours were Richard Sellwood, wife and three children, who have spent the cold months at Palm Beach, and William Morrow, wife and daughter Julia, who have been visiting various Florida resorts.

A. T. Gordon and wife of Virgina, Minn., are returning from the Southland, and Victor Gran and wife are in Washington en route home from Cuba.

Mrs. Stevenson Has Recovered.

City of Mexico, April 2.—Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who came here recently from Santa Barbara, Cal., has fully recovered from her recent illness.

"BUCKET SHOPS" ARE DEALT A HARD BLOW BY THE GOVERNMENT

Offices of Three Big Firms in Six Cities Are Raided.

Twenty-Nine Men Including Five Millionaires Are Indicted.

Some Have Bad Records, Authorities Say---Year's Work Bears Fruit.

Washington, April 2.—Armed with bench warrants issued by the supreme court of the District of Columbia, special agents of the department of justice this morning at 11 o'clock (Eastern time), simultaneously raided brokers offices in New York, Philadelphia, Jersey City, Baltimore, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

Conspiracy indictments in which twenty-nine persons are named—five of them said to be millionaires, and all interested in brokers' offices in large cities of the United States—were returned late yesterday by the federal grand jury of the District of Columbia, upon evidence which agents of the department of justice had been gathering for more than a year.

Held Back Indictments.

The indictments were withheld yesterday on the request of Attorney General Wickersham, so that department of justice detectives might make the raids simultaneously upon the places suspected of being "bucket shops."

The men indicted are said to be those financially interested in the corporation known as E. S. Boggs & Co., which has offices in New York and Philadelphia; Price & Co., which has offices in Baltimore and New York, and the Standard Stock & Grain deal-

TRAIN SERVICE MEN ARE AT WORCESTE

President Taft Will Make an Address There on Sunday.

Worcester, Mass., April 2.—The International Convention of Train Service Men, which President Taft will address tomorrow, was formally opened in this city today, sessions of the four railroad organizations represented being held in various halls. Delegates of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors entertained their grand lodge officers during the day. Other minor meetings were also held.

President Taft and his party are expected to arrive at Millbury tomorrow morning at 9:17, coming by way of Providence. The president will be welcomed by the Millbury selectmen; and a delegation of railroad men will escort him to the home of his aunt, Miss Delia C. Torrey. After luncheon he will go by automobile to Worcester, where he will address about 2,500 railroad men in Mechanics' hall.

SUPREME COURT WORKS IN SECRET

Important Session Is Held in Basement of the Capitol.

Washington, April 2.—Down in the basement of the capitol, next to the senate barber shop, the supreme court of the United States may be voting today upon what disposition it will make of the great questions of corporation law now before it. These arise out of the dissolution suits against the Standard Oil and the American Tobacco company and the corporation tax cases.

On Saturdays preceding a Monday on which decisions are to be announced, the court retires to this modest quarter in the bowels of the capitol to talk over its troubles. Here is its conference room. Once in a while, however, the chief justice invites the associate justices to his residence for the Saturday conference.

It was expected that the court, as a natural consequence of the death of Justice Brewer this week, would decide today whether it should have all or any of the three cases reargued.

BLOOD POISON IS FATAL FOR LOGGING FOREMAN.

Eau Claire, Wis., April 2.—Finlay McDougall, aged 50, and married, foreman of the Daniel Shaw Lumber company of this city, died here yesterday as the result of injuries received in the woods. His foot was crushed by a log Wednesday and blood poison followed. Amputation of the leg failed to save him.

Judge Pollock at Negaunee.

Negaunee, Mich., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. A. Pollock of North Dakota will address the citizens of Negaunee Sunday evening at the McDonald opera house on "License vs. Prohibition." It will be the last address in the local campaign.

DON'T FORGET TO CLEAN UP MONDAY.

NO SIGN OF AN END TO TOBACCO STRIKE.

Louisville, Ky., April 2.—Disorder in the councils of the strikers and about the plants of the American Tobacco company following the walkout of some 3,000 stemmers in the leaf tobacco departments shows no sign of abatement. Neither is there any prospect of a definite settlement of the trouble.

MURPHY PUNISHED BY VOLUNTEERS

Accused Captain Is Suspended and May Be Court Martialed Later.

St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Tim Murphy of the Volunteers of America was this morning suspended from the organization by order of Maj. Gen. Fielding, the commanding officer at Chicago. The order came from Chicago through Adjt. O'Neal of Minneapolis, who is temporarily commanding officer of both the Minneapolis and St. Paul posts, and was passed on to Murphy by Secretary John F. Higgins.

Secretary Higgins said today that the suspension deprives Murphy of all authority or right to act as a Volunteer officer, pending his hearing. After the civil authorities are through with him, Murpny will be tried by court-martial by the Volunteers, and if he is found guilty will then be finally stripped of his authority and drummed out. He is accused of the defalcation of $1,250 of the organization's funds.

Mr. Halquist of 2826 Huron street, Duluth, Minn., cured of granulated eyelids.

Miss C. Draper of La Cresse, Wis., cured of paralysis of one side. Her health was in desperate condition when she came to Dr. Mitchell.

Mr. A. P. Anderson of Osage City, Kan., says: "I went to Dr. Mitchell in a hopless, helpless conditon. My relatives and friends thought I was beyond help, suffering with stomach and heart trouble. After taking a course of his treatment I most highly recommend it to others. Will be pleased to answer any inquiries."

Miss H. Anderson of Grand Marais, Minn., says: "I went to Dr. Mitchell a nervous wreck, after having doctored for three years, without receiving any benefit. I took a course of Dr. Mitchell's treatment and recommend it for nervousness and all other diseases.

MARINE VETERAN DIES SUDDENLY

Antonio Caisse Succumbs to Heart Failure While on Duty.

Antonio Caisse, 60 years of age, died on board one of the tugs of the Zenith Dredge company yesterday afternoon, from what was thought to be heart failure, caused by excitement due to his first visit to the boat this season. He was well known to marine men at the Head of the Lakes and was head engineer of the dredge company. He has been in Houghton and Hancock, Mich., Ashland, Wis., and Duluth. He is survived by two sons and two daughters. They are: William Caisse and Mrs. Thomas Tredo of Duluth, Mrs. J. Woods of Joplin, Mo., and Antonio Caisse of Montana. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of J. L. Crawford, where an autopsy will probably be conducted by Dr. J. A. McCuen, county coroner.

BREWERY HAS FIRE; LIQUID IS UNHURT

Prompt Action of Crookston Firemen Prevent Large Conflagration.

Crookston, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Spontaneous combustion caused a bad fire in the third story of the big Klewell brewery at 7 o'clock this morning, putting the barley crusher and grinder out of commission, but the splendid fight of the fire department confined the fire to the one story, and malt or beer in vats was not injured. The brewery will continue in operating, the grinding being done in the Crookston flour mills until repairs can be made. The loss is $2,000; fully insured. If the fire had taken place in the night, a disastrous conflagration would have resulted, as two big livery barns and the Crookston flour mill are very close.

SUCCESSOR TO J. J. MOE

L. C. Harris Will Fill Vacancy Until Next School Board Election.

Question of Addition to Oneota School Again Before Board.

WHAT THE SCHOOL BOARD DID

Heard protest against dancing in the public schools.

Awarded contract to Burgess Electric company for wiring of Washington grade and manual training building.

Awarded contract to Thomson & Stewart for construction of tunnel between Central high school heating plant and Washington building.

Decided to purchase site for school buildings at Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street and Twelfth avenue west and Eighth street.

Elected L. C. Harris member of the board to fill vacancy created by the resignation of John J. Moe.

L. C. Harris, who was a candidate for membership on the board of education at the last election and who received the highest number of votes of those defeated, was elected a member of the board last night to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of John J. Moe.

S. W. Hill was also nominated, Mr. Harris winning by a vote of 4 to 2 of the board. There was considerable talk of district, Mr. Moe having been from the West end and Mr. Hill being from the same part of the city. Mr. Crosby argued for the election of Mr. Harris, saying that each member of the board should represent the whole city, not any district. Mr. Harris will serve until Aug. 1, as his place will be regularly filled at the school election in July.

The Oneota school came up for discussion again last night and the matter of ordering an addition to the building was again laid over, this time to give the members an opportunity to visit the building and judge for themselves as to the advisability of building the addition.

Mr. Denfeld said he would advise the board not to spend any great amount of money on the Oneota school, as it is in wretched condition. The new building up on the hill should be erected, he said, to relieve the Bryant school, and it would at the same time relieve the Oneota school. The building is not worth any amount of money that might be spent on an addition, he said.

Mr. German, the architect, said that the plans could be so drawn that at any time the board wished, the old building could be torn down and replaced, the addition to be built now being separated from the old building. That method of building would cost but very little more, he said.

Mr. Cobb said that the board cannot erect any new building on the hillside this year and that by careful financing, the addition to the Oneota school can be built. Mr. Barnes said the district in the vicinity of the Oneota school is growing rapidly, the school is crowded, the building is going to pieces and the board should do something with it. The matter will probably be disposed of at the next meeting.

The board received a communication from Dr. Webster, city health commissioner, commending the board on the institution of medical inspection in the schools and offering the support of his department. He said the city authorities would always be willing to cooperate with the board in all matters of health.

Bids were opened for the electric wiring in the new Washington grade and manual training school and the central heating plant, for the furnishing of transformers for the electrical system of the Central high school and Washington school.

The contract for the electric wiring was awarded to the Burgess Electric company, the different bids being: Burgess Electric company, $9,037.53; Duluth Electrical company, $9,480; Richardson Electric company, $10,200; Mutual Electric company, $11,327.

The contract for the construction of the tunnel was awarded to Thomson & Stewart, the bids being: Thomson & Stewart, $2,697 and $5 a cubic yard for rock excavation; Jacobson Bros., $3,372 and $2.60 a yard for rock excavation; D. H. Clough & Co., $3,400 and $2.50 a yard for rock excavation. The architect gave as his opinion that very little, if any rock, would be encountered.

The transformers will be secured from the Fort Wayne Electrical company, its bid being $1,145.15, while the Duluth Edison Electric company bid $1,164.13.

The board authorized the purchase of a site for a school building at Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street and also authorized the selection and purchase of one of two sites available at Twelfth avenue east and Eighth street.

The time of Contractor Schleunes for the completion of the new Fairmont building was extended to May 15, it being shown that he had been delayed from four to six weeks on account of the switchmen's strike. The original contract time for the completion of the building was April 1.

Mr. Crosby reported for the committee on teachers and schools that the best plan of selecting teachers to be by personal interviews. On his motion, the board appropriated expenses for Supt. Denfeld to visit the normal schools at Winona, St. Cloud, and Moorhead in Minnesota and the school at Ironwood, Mich., to select some young teachers for the Duluth schools.

The board will meet again in about two weeks to discuss some matters pending.

MARRIED IN HOTEL PARLORS

Romance of North Country Settlement Reaches a Happy Climax.

Seven years ago there was a wedding in the parlors of the McKay hotel, and yesterday the principals in that marriage ceremony were the witnesses at another wedding in the same parlors, when Hulda Zackerman and Ole Hoglund, both of Skibo, were made man and wife. The service was read by Rev. Carl Olson of the West End Swedish Lutheran church, and the witnesses whose interest in the happiness of their friends was heightened by the unusual coincidence, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hanson. They have lived at Skibo since their marriage in the McKay seven years ago, but recently have removed to Amery, Wis., where Mr. Hanson will engage in business.

The wedding in the parlors of the McKay last evening at 6 o'clock was the climax of a quiet little romance.

Ole Hoglund, a native of Sweden, came to America six years ago. He is a typical man of the North, well built, inured to hard labor, and well pleased with life.

Hulda Zackerman, an orphan, who lost her mother when she was a child, and whose father died soon afterward, lived at Skibo, where from the age of 14, she was forced to work for her living. She was born in this country, and when Hoglund came here he soon became acquainted with her. Yesterday she became his bride.

SPRING TERM

Will begin at the Duluth Business University on Monday, April 4th. Location, 118-120 Fourth avenue west.

WILL BEGIN HIS LONG TERM

Ralph Jones Will Be Sent to Stillwater Within a Few Days.

Some time within the next ten days, Ralph Jones, who pleaded guilty to the crime of murder in the third degree before Judge William A. Cant, a few days ago, and was sentenced to thirty years at Stillwater, will begin his long sentence.

Jones is the colored man who murdered Walter Whitehead, the negro pugilist, during the progress of a quarrel over a game of chance at one of the colored clubs some months ago.

Since his confinement in the county jail, Jones has given the jailors no end of trouble. He claims that he is ill, and though he has been examined a number of times nothing can be found the matter with him. He moans and coughs continually, and his spells are particularly severe when his friends come to the jail to visit him.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. For sale by all druggists.

POSTPONEMENT

The Emerson Alumni and Literary association will postpone their regular monthly meeting from April 5, to April 6, on account of the High School Senior play and several other events taking place on our regular night.

PROCTOR MEN TO AIR TROUBLE

John Doyle Wants $2,000 From M. LaChance for Slander.

John Doyle wants $2,000 from M. La Chance, who is alleged to have made slanderous remarks concerning Doyle. The papers in the action were filed this morning with the clerk of the district court.

Both men are residents of the village of Proctor. Doyle claims that in September, 1909, he was a member of the village council.

Among the contractors who bid on a certain piece of work was Ed Armstrong. La Chance is accused of saying that Doyle was to pull for Armstrong and get paid for his services to the amount of from $250 to $500.

The plaintiff in the action says that the remarks have greatly injured his reputation.

FARGO VOTERS INCENSED

At Outside Interference in Their Municipal Campaign.

Fargo, N. D., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every effort was made to keep the Fargo municipal campaign out of politics. The Republican daily is supporting the Democratic candidate and the Democratic daily is backing the Republican candidate.

Now the insurgent state organization has broken into the game by its secretary sending circular letters to prominent insurgents over the state, requesting that they write to Fargo friends and ask them to vote for W. D. Sweet for mayor.

This action has caused considerable indignation, as the voters of Fargo feel they are at least entitled to home rule.

WILL CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS ON THE SAME DAY

ARTHUR TWINING HADLEY, President of Yale University.

New Haven, Conn., April 2.—Dr. A. T. Hadley, president of Yale university, will celebrate his fifty-fourth birthday on April 23. Dr. Hadley was born in New Haven in 1856 and graduated from Yale with highest honors in 1876. He is prominent as a lecturer and his list of published writings is a long one. He has been president of Yale university since 1899.

EDWIN MARKHAM, Author of "The Man With the Hoe."

New York, April 2.—Edwin Markham, the poet, was born at Oregon City, Or., but went to California when 5 years old and spent his youth as farmhand, blacksmith and herder. He put himself through school, including Santa Rosa college. During these years he made a name as a writer of verse. He was born in 1852 and will celebrate his fifty-eighth birthday on April 23. His best known poem is "The Man With the Hoe." He also has written an article dealing with child labor.

COPPER MARKET IS LIFELESS

Little Trading and Prices Are Stationary During Short Session.

The copper market today was lifeless and there was little interest in it, either public or professional. Values marked time and there was little trend either way.

In the face of a holiday there was a hesitancy on the part of traders to commit themselves. They were doubtful of the situation next week, which will bring forth several factors of importances such as deliberations between corporations and labor bodies, and possible decisions Monday in the American Tobacco and other cases.

This country is now exporting gold to England although the condition is temporary and is due to special orders from the Bank of England. The increase in the wages of railroad employes throughout the country was regarded as a good market factor until many lines announced that freight or passenger rates would be advanced to meet the increase in wage payments.

The local market was quiet. Amalgamated sold at $74.37½ and $75.25 and $75. Calumet & Arizona at $66.50. Giroux at $8.25. Greene at $9.37½, $9.50 and back to the opening; North Butte at $35 and $34.50, Lake at $64.50 to $63.75, and back to $64.12½; Superior & Pittsburg at $13.50. Red Warrior sold at $2.25; Warrior at $12.75 to $12.62½; Carman at $1, St. Mary's at 15c; Sierra at $3.50, Amazon-Montana at $3.75 and $3.93¾.

GROOM TAKES BRIDE'S NAME.

Denver Republican: It is one thing to ask a girl to marry—quite another to ask her to change her name. So thinks the man who used to be John Melephant Williams. He loved Miss Agnes A. Wood, but it was as Agnes A. Wood that he loved her, and he did not desire to change her name to Agnes A. Williams. So he married Miss Agnes A. Wood yesterday, and her name is now Mrs. Agnes A. Woods.

Incredible as that looks on the face of it it is true. For John Melephant Williams had his own name changed before the ceremony to John Melephant Wood. His petition for the change was granted by Judge Dixon of the county court yesterday morning. Without leaving the courthouse the man went down to the first floor and signed his new name to an application for a marriage license.

TO PAY HELP WITH CASH

State Labor Commission Will Ask This of Duluth Employers.

Claimed That Men Cash Checks and Spend Money in Saloons.

Employers are soon to be asked to pay off their employes in money, not checks. The state labor commission will suggest this in the very near future to all Minnesota concerns.

It has been found that the check system is a bad one in that the men go at once to a saloon to get it cashed. They do not feel like asking the favor unless they take at least one drink, and it often happens that the whole amount is spent before they breathe the outdoor air again. The members of the family are the ones who suffer.

If the time were paid in money, the saloon would in all probability not be visited. Where a man is unknown it often happens that a saloon is the only place where the check can be cashed.

Many men, it is said, fall into the drink habit in this manner and once formed it is hard for them to stop. The state commission has investigated the matter thoroughly and they find that payment in money would be much better. A movement is now on foot and the matter will be called to the attention of Duluth firms at an early date.

TOMB FOR RABBITS.

Numata Appeases the Souls of His Fortune Builders.

The sad tale of Sada Numata, with a delightfully surprising denouement, comes from the Far East embalmed in the ideographs of the Yorodzu Choho of Tokio. Sada Numata, who was eaten out of house and home by the rabbits and never ate one of them in return—this Sada lived to see his pile of yellow yen mount up even to the skies and all because of rabbits.

As the tale goes Sada Numata caught the craze for rabbit culture that swept over Japan fifteen years ago and more. Every one who had a little space behind his house built a bamboo fence about it and started in to raise fancy rabbits.

Sada, among the most enthusiastic, built hutches in his yard at Fukagawa and he encouraged his original pairs of rabbits to raise large families. He had to extend his bamboo fences and move his house to another plot, so greatly did his rabbit colony thrive. More rabbits, more fence, more yen in outlay for provender and bamboo splints.

Sada Numata sold his house and mortgaged his land, devoting all his worldly fortune to the wants of his rabbits. He expected some time to reap a golden harvest. But he didn't—at least not right then.

The craze for rabbits spent itself as suddenly as it had come and Sada found himself with thousands of rabbits on his hands, bankrupt. He had to kill all his rabbits. He spent his last penny hiring men to do the slaughter, so greatly did his soul revolt against raising his hand against his erstwhile pets.

One pair of very valuable species alone he spared from the general obliteration. With this pair he retired to another part of the country and began life anew.

But in adversity, as in prosperity, the pair of rabbits speedily became plural and superlatively plural. Despite himself Sada Numata could not withstand another threatened inundation of rabbits. Just when the war with Russia started Sada Numata was thinking of taking his wortiless life because it had been so plagued by rabbits.

The war saved him. The winter campaign in Manchuria, with its terrors of storms and Siberian winds made the demand for ear-mufflers and mittens for the soldiers one of the most urgent of all the army commissary had to meet. When the municipalities were beginning to offer one sen apiece for all rats killed so that their skins could be made into earmuffs Sada Numata began to sell his rabbit skins by the ton.

He was the only man in all Japan who owned lots of rabbits. He had a corner on the rabbit skin market. He began selling to the government, and no mule wrangler in Missouri during Civil war times ever sold better. Yellow yen notes replaced rabbit skins for Sada Numata so fast that before the winter was over he found himself rich.

When the war was over Sada was counted a rich man. But his conscience irked him and his soul was not at peace, for he took count of the thousands of rabbit souls that weighed on his head. So Sada Numata built a memorial tomb to his dead rabbits at Ekoln—a beautiful tomb fifteen feet high and inscribed with a general epitaph to all the rabbits who had died that he might live.

One day last November he had a Buddhist priest come over and dedicate the tomb with all ceremony and gorgeous ritual. Since then he has not dared to keep even a single pair of rabbits.

GIVES ADVERTISERS A SQUARE DEAL

The Duluth Herald holds a unique place in the Duluth newspaper field, in that it is the only daily paper that has never used voting, guessing or premium schemes of any nature to artifically stimulate circulation. The Herald today leads all Minnesota papers (outside of the Twin Cities) by thousands of daily paid subscribers.

HERALD ADVERTISERS GET THE BENEFIT OF A HOME CIRCULATION OF A HIGH ORDER—A PROVEN CIRCULATION OF QUALITY AS WELL AS QUANTITY.

BISHOP OF NEW DIOCESE TO BE APPOINTED SOON

Head of See of Crookston Will Be Named at Vatican.

Rev. Timothy Corbett Is Mentioned for Honor of Elevation.

The appointment is expected from Rome soon of the bishop of the new diocese of Crookston, which has been cut off of the diocese of Duluth. Rumors are already afloat as to the choice of the church dignitaries for elevation to the episcopate and they are being given credence in some circles, but well informed Catholics say that all such reports are premature, as nothing is heard from the Vatican in such cases until the appointment is made.

There is naturally a good deal of interest among Catholics and people generally as to the appointment, as the see will be an important one and it is believed that some priest already in the diocese will be appointed. One rumor is to the effect that Rev. Timothy Corbett, pastor of the Sacred Heart cathedral, may receive the appointment.

The diocese of Duluth was organized twenty years ago and was placed in charge of Bishop McGolrick, who was elevated from the pastorate of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Minneapolis. Under his administration of the affairs of the diocese, the Catholic church has prospered and extended its influence in what was a sparsely settled region until now the diocese has become so large and the number of Catholic churches and institutions within it has become so great that it has been found necessary to form two dioceses from the territory that was formerly one.

The new diocese will take in all of that territory in Minnesota north of and including Clay and Becker counties and west of and excluding Cass, Itasca and Koochiching counties. The following counties will be included in the new diocese: Becker, Beltrami, Clay, Clearwater, Hubbard, Kittson, Marshall, Mahnomen, Norman, Polk, Roseau and Red Lake, leaving to the Duluth diocese, Aitkin, Carlton, Cass, Cook, Crow Wing, Itasca, Koochtching, Pine and St. Louis counties.

Duluth clergy are inclined to believe that the appointment of a bishop will be made soon, although it may be held up for some time at the Vatican.

WOMEN OF BRUSSELS.

Independence Belge: The length of life of an average woman, in Brussels at least, is superior to man. Statistics show that during the last two years the feminine element has predominated in the Brussels population. In 1908 there were only 7,848 boys in the Belgian capital between the ages of 10 and 15 and 7,903 girls of the same age. After 20 years the difference increases in favor of the woman, and while Brussels only possessed 9,383 males of 20 to 25 years and 9,181 of 25 to 30 the fairest half of the human race was represented by 11,701 and 10,899, respectively.

This supremacy the feminine element keeps positively to the end, at least as far as Brussels is concerned. We learn further that while Brussels has only sixty-five men of 85 to 90 years and ten monagenarians only, she can count 184 women between the ages of 85 and 90, thirty-five of 90 to 95 years, and six of more than 95 years.

MINING INTERESTS

Nature has stored unbounded treasures; for the mines of the Coeur d'Alene district have added to the world's wealth millions and millions of dollars and are today producing 66⅔ per cent of the entire silver-lead output of the United States. This output is increasing every year and is practically inexhaustible.

LUMBER INDUSTRY

Surrounding Coeur d'Alene is one of the greatest lumber industries in the Northwest. By careful estimate it is stated that there are over 25,000,000,000 feet of standing timber in the territory tributary to Coeur d'Alene. Coeur d'Alene Lake is alive with tug boats towing logs to the big mills at Coeur d'Alene.

The St. Joe, St. Mary's and Coeur d'Alene Rivers, emptying into the lake, make logging very inexpensive, as they are used to float logs to the mills.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

The transportation facilities are being improved by the building of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, and another, supposed to be the Canadian Pacific. These, with the Northern Pacific and Inland Empire Railroads, already completed, give the district three main transcontinental railroads. Many wholesale houses are looking for locations.

Lots at this beautiful place will be sold for $50 each. $25 cash; balance—YOUR TERMS—monthly. This is positively one of the greatest opportunities of today for the investor who wishes to accumulate wealth in a short time.

REPUBLICANS PICK ST. PAUL

Party's State Convention Will Be Held There on June 23.

Apportionment Plan Is Adopted---Clapp's Friends Claim a Victory.

St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Republican state convention will meet in St. Paul on June 23.

This was decided at a meeting of the Republican state central committee at the Merchants hotel today. There was little discussion as to the place of meeting, it being practically unanimously conceded that St. Paul was the logical place for the gathering. The Minneapolis members of the committee contended for the Mill City, but their efforts were not seconded.

Over the time of the meeting a warm fight developed. It was said in the hotel lobby before the committee got together that the conveation would meet on June 23.

Contest Over the Time.

As soon as this date was proposed to the committee opposition developed.

The members from the First district, headed by W. B. Parsons of Winona, argued for a late date, going so far as to say that September was the proper month for the convention to meet. The committeemen, however, favored June and the bridal month was decided upon.

The fight over apportionment went glimmering. Chairman A. D. Brown, who called the committee together and presided, had prepared a statement showing the division of delegates in case the apportionment is based on the average vote for state officers for two years ago.

Apportionment Plan Adopted.

This looked good to the committee, and this plan was adopetd.

On this basis, the next Republican state convention will have 1,075 delegates, 650 of whom will be district delegates, and 425 at large, being five at large for each county. This is the basis of apportionment which has been used in the last three campaigns, but it was declared by the ardent Republicans that after next fall the apportionment would be based upon the vote for governor, as they are confident of electing Governor Eberhart.

Delegates to the state convention will be instructed to indorse some man for the United States senate. At least this will go into the call for the state convention, which will be issued by the executive committee of the state central committee.

Clapp's Friends Pleased.

Friends of the junior senator, Moses E. Clapp, looked upon this as a victory for the insurging senator. It was freely talked that this would tend to head off ambitious people who might feel it their life's duty to make the race for the United States senate. As Frank B. Kellogg is the only one who has been widely talked of as a possible candidate in opposition to Clapp, it is said that his friends are more or less disgruntled.

QUEER FRIENDS.

In the White World Magazine are shown an interesting snapshot taken by a passenger on board the Union-Castle R. M. S. Goth, on a voyage from the Cape to Teneriffe. The little monkey belonged to one of the stewards, and was very fond of sitting on the back of a tortoise—another ship's pet—while the latter crawled about the deck. Although rather ill-tempered and unamiable people, the monkey was always friendly with the tortoise, who made no objection to being used as her steed.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Chief among the items of political interest for Duluth in the coming week will be the visit of Governor Eberhart to the Zenith City next Thursday, when he will be the guest of the West Duluth Commercial club at the annual banquet of the club. The governor has been the guest of honor at this annual event previously and he is known to enjoy thoroughly the hospitality and good-fellowship of the members and their guests. In fact, it is said that the state executive would take it to be an omen of ill should circumstances compel him to miss the banquet.

Governor Eberhart is understood to believe that he has made himself pretty solid with Northern Minnesotans by means of the recent St. Paul conservation congress, and it is safe to assume that watchful eyes will peer about to find, if they can, some sure evidence of good results to the Republican candidate's cause from that source.

It must be admitted, however, that the governor's trip to the Head of the Lakes can have no immediate results politically, excepting, of course, the always valuable extension of personal acquaintances, that means so much to the aspirant to public favor. There will be much feeling out of influential men who may be set down at present in the Eberhart doubtful column, and thus some uncertainties may be disposed of, but at this distance that appears to be all that can be accomplished by the prospective nominee of the Republicans.

The special train that is to be run from the range country is sure to bring to the city a large number of the governor's friends, and probably some others. These others are the men whom the distinguished visitor will most desire to impress favorably, and the chance he will have to exert what quality of pleasing persuasiveness he possesses will make the occasion an important one to Eberhart.

Aside from that feature of the day, there is also the prospect that much indication of Northern sentiment on various candidacies will come to the surface. The attitude of this man and of that—among the seven who would be nominees for lieutenant governor, for instance—toward reapportionment, home investment of state funds, good roads and other such pressing issues, will likely come in for quiet but purposeful discussion, and out of the moil of talk and conjecture and comparison of impressions may come some concrete sentiments that will make themselves felt when the Republican state convention meets in June.

Concerning the lieutenant governorship the press of the state has much to say, and Dr. A. B. Cole among others, is getting his fair share of commendatory attention.

In the Sixth district the announcement of C. M. Sprague of Sauk Center that he is in the field has attracted considerable attention, the boomers of George Hanscom of Foley for state treasurer being especially prodded into forceful expression. The Fergus Falls Free Press, without citing any specific authority for the assertion, intimates that Mr. Sprague is building one of the strongest pillars of his hope on the fact that Fred W. Carpenter, President Taft's secretary, is his relative by marriage. The Free Press opines that "as the Taft administration is anything but popular in Minnesota," this will be of small value to Mr. Sprague. To one of ordinary mental processes, it is somewhat incomprehensible that the candidate's wife's relatives' affairs should be dragged into a political contest that lies between two chivalrous gentlemen. Seriously, though, the Wadena Pioneer-Journal rebukes Mr. Sprague for advancing his claims and suggests that "under the circumstances he should gracefully await a more opportune moment" to go after the prize. The Sauk Center Herald, on the other hand, sees cause for jubilation in the candidacy of a local man for state office.

If the fight for state auditor does not become bitter enough between Iverson and Thompson to throw down the bars for Wells of Breckenridge, the Ninth district will be left with two instead of three candidates for places on the state ticket. Kaiser seems to be a strong contender for the treasury job, but if the fortunes of war eliminate him Dr. Cole will be quite advantageously situated as a candidate before the convention.

Albert Schaller of Hastings, Dakota county, the dean of the Minnesota senate, has made it known that he will be a candidate for renomination and re-election in 1912. Mr. Schaller has been a member of the upper house of the legislature, and in that time no session has passed into history without carrying with it the record of his good and efficient labors for the state.

Senator Schaller's personality has made him a thoroughly well-liked man and legislator, and the spirit of fairness and justice that actuates him in every relation of life, is recognized wherever he is known. He is a Democrat and in the broader sense is one of the most Democratic of men. His distinguished services to the state of Minnesota have won for him a lasting regard, and there is not the slightest doubt that he will be renominated and re-elected.

The senator's experience has been varied and his training for public service exceptional. He has been engaged in mercantile enterprises and has dnoe newspaper work. Since he was admitted to the bar in Minnesota thirty-one years ago he has performed the duties of county attorney of Dakota county and city attorney of Hastings, and in his youth he studied in different schools in this country, in France and Germany.

Senator Schaller has a law office in St. Paul, but his home is at Hastings.

An attempt will be made in Polk county by the opponents of Senator A. D. Stephens to prevent his selection as a delegate to the Republican state convention, where, it is understood, he hopes to manage the interests of Albert Kaiser as a candidate for the nomination for state treasurer. Senator Stephens was denied a similar honor two years ago and he is making special efforts this year to land the place. The opposition is indulging in talk of bossism and urging the Crookston and East Grand Forks voters to unite with the county optionists in the country districts to defeat Stephens in his ambition to control the delegation.

Although Senator Stephens has made no formal announcement of his intention, it is taken for granted that he will be a candidate for re-election to the senate, but it begins to appear that he will not be without opposition there, too. John Holten of Fertile and John Saugstad of Climax are being groomed for the place, and former Representative Gunder Krostue also is mentioned as a probable rival. Holtan and Saugstad were members of the lower house of the last legislature.

R. S. McDonald of International Falls, having declared himself out of the race for a seat in the legislature, Koochiching county is without a candidate for representative, and the International Falls Press hastens to place in nomination L. A. Ogaard of that city. Mr. Ogaard knows the Fifty-second district perhaps as thoroughly as any resident in it, having been engaged in survey, geologic and topographic work in that region for twenty years. He is described as a good roads enthusiast, a man of good practical judgment, not allied with corporation interests, and an advocate of improved educational facilities.

Matt H. McMahon of Two Harbors, who was a house employe during the last session of the legislature, is proposed for a seat in that body by the Two Harbors Advocate. Mr. McMahon is a pioneer of Two Harbors and has a large acquaintance in Lake and Cook counties.

The removal of C. C. Eastman from the postmastership of Wadena is commented upon with sincere regret by a large section of the press of the state. Mr. Eastman, who is editor of the Pioneer Journal of that city, was removed after twelve years' service because it was held that he was unable to devote all his time to the duties of the office. William Dower has been appointed to succeed him. Mr. Dower is a member of the legislature, and a change was necessary the appointment is a good one.

Representative C. M. Bendixen of the Nineteenth legislative district, who was elected two years ago by a very narrow margin, is facing the prospect of another desperate struggle to keep his seat in the house.

J. R. Keefe of Redwood, a merchant and a well known and extremely popular Democrat, who came within a few votes of beating Bendixen last time, will be in the race again, this year, and as Bendixen has not strengthened himself with his constituteney by his service at St. Paul, Mr. Keefe has every reason to expect a victory this year.

P. H. McGarry of Walker, whose ambition to succeed Representative Lindbergh has spurred him on to make gumshoe expeditions to many points in the Sixth district, has not discovered much food for hope, if the temper of the people is accurately reflected by the press of the district. McGarry's hope, it is generally known, is founded on his expectation that the standjat Republican congressional committee will back his candidacy against the insurgent Republican. He is quoted as having said at Waverly that he thinks the prospects of his winning the nomination are good, and that he will make a thorough canvass of the district.

Eugene Herringer of Ada is proposed by the Mahomen Plaintalk for state treasurer.

Friends of C. C. Houpt, United States district attorney for Minnesota, are rather anxious about his illness. His physicians have been slow to diagnose the case, but say that Mr. Houpt will be out and about again in a couple of weeks. He is at his home in St. Paul.

"Bob Dunn has not said at any time that he favored the nomination of Governor Eberhart. What he did say was that he would support Mr. Eberhart if he received the Republican nomination." So says the Princeton Union, which is Bob, in reply to a published assertion to the contrary.

The gentleman who is bidding respectfully for the honor of being defeated for congress by Judge Buck of Winona in case J. A. Tawney is denied that deserved fate, is Thomas Kelly of Owotonna, who is expected to make formal announcemntnt of this desire in a few days. Capt. Kelly has been feeling out the insurgent leaders of the First district and apparently has decided that the time is about ripe for him to reach out.

Mayor Walter J. Smith of Eveleth, who has begun his pre-convention campaign for the office of state treasurer, was in the Twin Cities yesterday, getting in touch with the party leaders there, and remained in St. Paul today for the meeting of the state central committee. The occasion will give Mr. Smith a good opportunity to meet and confer with leading Republicans from all parts of the state and he can be relied upon to push his candidacy with energy and ability.

Francis H. Matthew of Campbell has become a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed R. J. Wells of Breckenridge as the representative of Wilkin county in the legislature, Mr. Wells is a candidate for the nomination for state auditor.

FLICKERTAIL POLITICS

Republican gubernatorial possibilities in North Dakota are beginning to peep over the horizon. Among them are George W. Wilson of Stanley, register of the Williston land office, and Gunder Olson of Grafton.

Wilson is avowedly a candidate and has been an active force in campaigns for many years, but Olson, who lives in a Democratic district and is a man of exceptional standing and ability, is averse to entering the heat of battle for first place on the ticket. He may decide to make a try for the office of treasurer. It is figured that if he goes on the ticket he will be a decided benefit to it in the Red river valley.

There is practically no doubt that Governor Burke will again be the Democratic candidate for governor. The Democrats feel that they have a good fighting chance for capturing congressional honors with such candidates as Purcell, Bruger, Cashel and Jones without putting Burke in the field, and the demand that he must take the governorship for another term is insistent. It is known that Governor Burke would prefer to avoid another contest, but he probably will be prevailed upon to accept renomination.

That the Republicans, Stalwarts and insurgents, have about given up hope of finding a man whom they can put against Burke with any reasonable expectation of victory is becoming more and more evident. The men who might turn the trick do not care to try, and those who are eager to try are more eager than able.

The sensational situation continues to occupy a large share of public attention, but the water of the political puddle is badly roiled that the true inwardness of things is hard to discover. The McCumber forces are working energetically and when the date of the primaries approaches they will have a close-knit organization that may prove hard to beat.

In the field are Senator McCumber, Thomas Marshall of Oakes, Representative Gronna of Ward county, and Judge Edward Engerud of Fargo. Present indications are that McCumber and Engerud will be found lined up together against Marshall and Gronna for the two senatorships that are at stake in the June primaries, the death of Senator Johnson having brought about the two senate vacancies at one time. A tried and loyal supporter of McCumber said recently that in his opinion Engerud has a much better chance of landing one of the prizes than has the incumbent, but Marshall and Gronna are popular, also, and it may be that the "old guard" element will be relagated to the rear when the voters get a chance at them in June. Engerud's ability is not questioned, and if he does not get too hopelessly enmeshed in the web that the McCumber forces are spinning, he is likely to make all the candidates rub their eyes.

With the prospect of an unusual number of contests for seats in the state senate, the Republican factions are showing evidence of kicking over the traces with exceptional vigor, largely as a result of recent events at Washington, and the Democrats are preparing to take advantage of any opportunity that may present itself. Among the most prominent districts will be those of Wahpeton, Bottineau and Grand Forks.

NEW CARPET TO BE LAID IN MAYOR'S OFFICE

The council will buy new carpets for the mayor's office. The ones now on the floor are a disgrace to the municipality and they will be replaced in a few days, the purchase having been authorized by the council. Mayor Cullum and the council committee went out this morning to look at some samples and they will make a selection soon.

NEW ORDINANCE WILL MEAN A SAFE AND SANE FOURTH

No more canton crackers, no more deadly toy pistols, no more destructive amateur cannons, no more dangerous fireworks for Duluth.

The city is to have a "safe and sane" Fourth of July henceforth, if the council acts favorably upon the ordinance that is being prepared by Alderman James A. Wharton of the First ward.

The draft which will be submitted to the city fathers will provide that none of the objectionable features of the Fourth, which have caused the loss of many lives and many maimed limbs and faces, shall be allowed, except under proper supervision.

The ordinance will not stop the small boy from having his small fire cracker, but it will make it impossible to secure the big "devils" which might kill or injure him for life. Nor will he have to forego the pleasure of the brilliant pyrotechnical displays which he looks forward to once a year. But he will not be allowed to "monkey" with them himself. He will be required to stand at a safe distance while an older person who understands explosives, sets them off for his delectation.

Alderman Wharton has not completed all the details of the proposed ordinance, but in a general way it is being modeled on that adopted in Cincinnati, which is considered one of the best and most comprehensive in the country. It will only protect the careless from themselves and there is scarcely any doubt but that it will be passed by the Duluth councilmen.

"CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"

What the Scholarships for Poor Children Are Doing in Duluth.

More Will Be Established When the Money Is Available.

"And a little child shall lead them." The scholarships started in Duluth some time ago by a member of the Associated Charities and maintained by several societies and private individuals who have become interested in the work, are doing a world of good.

In one instance the scholarship idea is holding a Duluth family together and their condition is constantly improving. All this is being done through a very young child—a girl—who is receiving the scholarship money. She is educating the members of the family, teaching them how to live, and they are now taking a real interest in the things that are worth while.

The best part of it all is, that it is all done by suggestion. The family does not know that it is being "uplifted," and the child does not know that she is teaching her elders a better way to live.

The family is poor—very poor. All sorts of misfortunes have fallen upon them, and at the time the little girl was first made the object of attention, they lived under miserable conditions.

The house was dirty; there was but little to eat, and they boasted barely enough clothes to cover them.

Now things are different. The floors are scrubbed regularly, dirty dishes are washed before they are used again; a walk has been built around the house, and as soon as weather permits, flowers will be planted and the lawn will be improved.

And all this came about through the educating of the child. She visits her benefactor once each week, makes a report as to how thing are going, gets encouragement and a hint dropped where it is needed. The older members of the family have broken their old habits. The 22-year-old son has signed the pledge and the family is out of the old rut and enjoying a new kind of life.

The little girl is not paid to attend school, but is paid the amount of money each week she would earn if she were out of school. This is done so that she may remain in school and still be of material aid in helping the family to live.

She is told what is worth while. She recites her Sunday school lesson each Saturday so as to be fully prepared for the following Sunday. Her school is not the only part of her education; she is educated in what constitutes good manners and these hints she takes home that the whole family may profit by what she has learned. She is bright, and smiling, and willing, and nothing pleases her so well as to be told that she has done well.

There are several scholarships working in Duluth and they are all doing a remarkable amount of good. Those who have charge of them are so enthusiastic that a number more will be added as soon as the money can be secured.

OBITUARY

Dr. Franklin E. Carpenter of Denver, Colo. a widely known metallurgist and authority on pyritic smelting, died in Chicago, April 1. Dr. Carpenter, a resident of Denver for years, had gone East on business. He contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia. His illness lasted but ten days. The body will be taken to Denver for burial.

Newell Harvey Clapp ,Jr., one of the best-known lumbermen in the United States, died at a hospital in Little Rock, Ark., April 1, following an operation for appendicities. The deceased was a nephew of United States Senator Clapp of Minnesota and his father is N. H. Clapp, Sr., a prominent attorney of St. Paul.

Robert W. Patterson, president of the Chicago Tribune company died in his room at the Bellevue Stratford hotel, Philadelphia, April 1, where he had been a guest for more than a month, except for several excursions to the seashore. He had returned from Atlantic City last Monday and on Wednesday was stricken with apoplexy in his room. Physcians were summoned, but it was not thought he was dangerously ill. Last night he suffered a second and more severe stroke, dying within a few minutes. By a tragic coincidence, Mrs. Julia A. Patterson, mother of Mr. Patterson died in Chicago the same day, aged 87 years.

Mr. Patterson was born in Chicago, Nov. 30, 1850, the son of Rev. R. W. Patterson. Graduating from Williams college in 1871, young Mr. Patterson took up the study of law, but later gave it up to become a reporter on the Chicago Times. Later he was for more than a year on the Interior, a religious publication.

Since 1873 he has been associated with the Chicago Tribune beginnng as assistant night editor and later becoming the Washington correspondent. After serving as editorial writer and managing editor, he became, on the death of Joseph Medill, the editor-in-chief. He married Eleanor Medill, a daughter of Joseph Medill.

SPRING TERM

Will begin at the Duluth Business University on Monday, April 4th. Location, 118-120 Fourth avenue west.

500 WOMEN WILL HELP

Will Be Furnished With Postal Cards By Health Inspector.

Duluth Must Be a "Spotless Town," Says Dr. Webster.

The health department will have the efficient aid of 500 sharp pairs of women's eyes in securing a cleaner Duluth, and Uncle Sam will play his part although it will not be a leading role.

The members of the women's council suggested yesterday at their meeting, that if the department will supply them with the necessary postcards, they will keep their optics open for any violations of the health ordinances, and observing them, either send the cards to the department or mail them directly to the person who is committing the offense. The cards will bear the signature of the health department and blank spaces will be left in order that the specific complaint may be named.

It is expected that this will be a great aid to the department in the cleaning campaign which will be inaugurated Monday. Thousands of tin cans, old shoes, rubbish piles, offensive collections of garbage and quantities of old paper will be spotted in this manner. The department thought the idea a capital one. Dr. Webster stated this morning that he will promptly avail himself of the voluntary assistance. The council has about 500 members in the clubs affiliated with it, and each of them will be furnished with cards.

The department will put on six extra inspectors Monday. Each of them will have a separate district and they will be held individually accountable. Their work will be checked up by another inspector, or it is probable that the inspectors will have their districts changed so that they can check up each other.

Dr. Webster says that he is determined that Duluth shall be more approximately a "Spotless Town" when the campaign is finished than it ever was before. When the city has done its share the mayor will name a general cleaning day and everybody will be called upon to do his or her share towards removing any remaining eyesores.

SUPERIOR

WEST POINT APPLICANTS WILL HAVE EXAMINATION.

Examinations for applicants who are desirous of entering West Point military academy from the Eleventh congressional district will be held at the local normal school, May 7. The examination is held at the request of Congressman I. L. Lenroot. The subjects upon which the applicants will be examined will be United States history, geography, general history, geometry and algebra. Candidates must be unmarried, over 17 years of age and residents of the Eleventh congressional district.

BLAINE SCHOOL ORATORS IN PRELIMINARY CONTEST.

Miss Laura Cote won first place in the declamatory section and Maurice Patton, first in the oratorical part at the preliminary contest for students at the Blaine high school last evening. The winners will represent the school in the western division contest of the Lyceum league which will be held at Wasaburn and also in the Wallace cup contest in May.

Lots Sell for $16,000.

The transfer of seventeen lots in various parts of the West end, Superior, was yesterday recorded with the register of deeds. The property, it is understood, was bought for speculative purposes. The consideration named was $16,000.

Burglar Ransacks House.

While the family of George Dingwall of 142 West Sixth street was away from home early last evening, burglars ransacked several rooms of the Dingwall residence. Before they secured any valuables they were frightened away.

The thieves effected an entrance through the back door to which they apparently had a key. The burglars left no clue for the police to work on.

Curlers Have Banquet.

The annual meeting of the Superior Curling club was held last evening at the Hotel Superior. A feature of the evening was a big banquet at which there were 200 guests. At the business meeting, the same directors were named for the next season. The directors will get together in a few days to cast a vote for the officers. Thomas E. Mill's was toastmaster. There were several speakers.

Organize New Council.

The young men of the St. Louis Catholic parish last evening organized what will be known as St. Augustine council Young Men's Institute. The organization meeting was well attended. Officers were elected with D. J. Couture as the first president. L. F. Budenz, national organizer, was present.

NEW MILK INSPECTOR

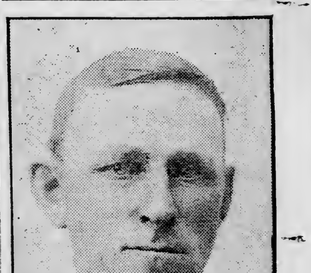

Grant E. Owens Goes on Job and Promises City Pure Milk.

Says There Is No Excuse for Sediment in Bottles.

Who Promises City Pure Milk.

Grant E. Owens, the newly-appointed milk inspector, who assumed his duties yesterday, declares that every precaution will be taken to see that Duluth gets pure, clean milk. He states that every detail will be taken care of.

Mr. Owens says that in the future none of the milkmen will be allowed to have dirt of any kind in the milk. In the past complaints have been made that there is a sediment at the bottom of bottles as well as in that which is delivered in the cans. This will be tolerated no longer, he claims.

He promises that not only will the lacteal fluid be tested for butter fat, but examinations will be made to locate any sediment that may be contained in the milk.

Considerable attention will also be paid to the tuberculosis tests. He will endeavor to prevent a drop of milk being sold from cows which have not been tested. In some cases he explains that cows newly shipped into the city have been turned in, with the other herds, and milk sold from them before they have been tested. He does not think that any disease has been spread in this manner, but he believes that every precaution should be taken to reduce any chance of contagion in this way.

The present efficient scoring system will be continued, and all the barns and dairies in the city examined regularly. Mr. Owens states that it is not his intention to antagonize the milkmen, but to bring them into the fold by persuasive methods wherever possible, inducing them to follow the regulations for their own benefit.

Raise on New York Central.

New York, April 2.—The New York Central has increased wages of all employes receiving $200 or less per month on the lines east of Buffalo by 7 per cent, excepting the engineers, whose pay was recently increased, and the trainmen, conductors and telegraph operators, whose demands are now under consideration. The action means an approximate increase in the annual payroll of $2,500,000.

Russian Submarine Sinks.

St. Petersburg, April 2.—The submarine Crocodile, one of the 500-ton craft, sunk in Kronstadt harbor today. No one was aboard at the time.

Telephone the Theatre

IT IS annoying to arrive at the ticket office late and find not an available seat in the house. The telephone prevents such a situation.

There are other arrangements to be made. There may be friends to invite or regrets to send. The Bell telephone makes all this easy.

It is often necessary for people at a distance to reserve theater tickets in advance. The Bell service is both Local and Long Distance. Its connections are universal.

EFFORT MADE TO STOP DANCES IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

West End Ministers Plead Cause, While Children Dance Outside.

Motion Laid on Table After a Rather Warm Discussion.

With the strains of waltz and two-step, the sound of boyish and girlish voices and the noise of feet moving over the waxed floor penetrating into the board meeting room, three West end ministers entered a protest with the board of education last night against dancing in the public schools.

While dancing was being declared by eloquent ministers a menace to the morals of the young and while it was being just as warmly defended, there was concrete evidence for both sides just outside the door of the meeting room, had they cared to look into it. The annual hop of the sophomore class was being held in the main corridor.

It was rather an amusing situation. The speakers were forced to raise their voices that they might be heard among the strains of the music. Now and then, a venturesome boy or girl, mistaking the door, popped his or her head through a narrow opening and quickly withdrew it with a cry of confusion. When it was all over, the protesting ministers were forced to elbow their way through the dancers to leave the building.

The delegation of ministers was composed of Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church; Rev. John H. Daniels, pastor of the Swedish Mission church; and Rev. Edward Erickson, pastor of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, all of the West end. The most vigorous defence of dancing was made by W. M. Burgess, who was at the board meeting in the interest of another matter, but who took part in the discussion. Mr. Crosby and Dr. Boyer questioned the ministers, but refrained from expressing any opinion. Capt. Stevens and Mr. Barnes upheld the ministers in their stand and Mr. Barnes finally made a motion that no more dancing be permitted in the schools.

No Vote Taken.

No vote was taken, however. Mr. Magner pointed out that there were but six members of the board present and that when a vote be taken, it should be taken when the full board is present and when the question could be settled definitely, once and for all time. Dr. Boyer's motion that the matter be laid on the table until a better attendance of the board could be secured to vote on it, was carried.

Mr. Nelson first presented the matter for the pastors. He explained that the delegation represented the Scandinavians of the West end who are opposed to dancing in the schools. They feel that the use of the school buildings for dancing is not right, he said, as the school buildings were built for educational purposes and their use for dancing is not proper. He asked that the board take some action. Incidentally, he pointed out that agents from moving picture theaters visit the schools and stand just outside when the children are being dismissed, distributing tickets to the children. He asked that the board do what it can to stop the practice.

"The majority of the people who send children to school, do not want such things going on," said Rev. Daniels. "We think it is an injustice to the church people of the city to allow dances to be held in the public schools. They are paying taxes and when they are opposed to the use of the buildings for such purposes, they should be heard. In many of our school buildings dances have been held."

"Can you give us an instance?" asked Mr. Crosby.

"It seems to me that there is a dance here tonight," said Mr. Daniels, and everybody smiled. Mr. Crosby explained that he thought the ministers had been referring merely to the West end, but Mr. Daniels said they referred to the whole city.

"Is this not a matter that is purely voluntary with the parents?" asked Mr. Crosby.

"The public schools should not be used as dance halls," said Mr. Daniels. "Is not your whole argument that you are opposed to dancing generally and you want to prevent other people from dancing?" asked Mr. Crosby.

"I am not here to argue that point. The school buildings are not the place for dances," said Mr. Daniels.

"Other people may think differently," observed Mr. Crosby.

"If we wanted to hold a revival meeting in a school building you would not allow us to do so," said Mr. Daniels, "and you should not allow amusements."

Should Dance in Churches.

Mr. Burgess took a part in the discussion.

"I maintain that we would have better children and better citizens if these men would open the basements of the churches to dances, rather than send the children out to the dance halls," he said. "I don't think they express public tastes. We have a dance here tonight and I would rather have a child here than in a public dance hall. I don't like that argument. It is too narrow. Children will have their pastimes and if you can give them a good clean place here they should have it. I would sooner have my children dance in a church than a dance hall."

"I don't say for anybody to send their children to dance halls," said Mr. Daniels. "I think they are very bad. I want all parents not to allow their children to go to them. But dances in the public schools are harmful. As to opening the churches to dances, I would rather die. That is not the point, however. The school buildings were built for educational purposes, not for dance halls."

Rev. Erickson offered the same argument as the other ministers. He said that boys and girls are human. The seed of vice is sown by dancing, he said, just as much so in the public schools as in any other place.

"There are many people who don't object to dancing," said Dr. Boyer. "There are many such people whose children go to the public schools. If we close the schools to these people, who do not consider dancing harmful, can you show us a better place for them to dance than in the public schools?"

Mr. Erickson said that in Evanston, Ill., where he lived before coming to Duluth, the people danced in their homes. Dr. Boyer remarked that there are not many people in Duluth sending children to the public schools, whose homes will accommodate forty or fifty couples for dancing.

"There would be no dancing if there were only young men and there would be no dancing if there were only young women," said Rev. Nelson. "It is a delicate question. If you wanted to shield a boy or girl, you would not want the child in a dance hall. I would not want to trust any boy or girl in a dance in the public schools or anywhere else."

Capt. Stevens supported the stand of the ministers. He said that he was always opposed to dancing in the schools.

"A little innocent dancing may do no harm," he said, "but it has a tendency to lead them off into dance halls. The board ought to prohibit all dancing in the schools."

Mr. Barnes made the motion that dancing be prohibited in the schools. Mr. Burgess asked for another opportunity to speak and it was given him.

"I don't want to see this motion go through," he said. "I will tell you why. Young people must have their amusements. There is no better place in the city of Duluth for the young people of the high school to congregate for innocent amusement than in the high school. If they do not dance here, they will do so in the public halls. You ministers are too strict with the young people. You will never hold them down so in this enlightened age of today."

Mr. Stevens cited an instance when he visited the school during a dance. He said that the teachers were dancing with the pupils. "There are nooks and corners in the public school that are not in a public hall, where they have one large room," he said. "They dance off into the dark corners and where they will, he said, without molestation."

After the discussion was over and the matter had been laid on the table, Mr. Denfeld explained to the board that the dances have been held in the school building only in recent years and then at the request of the late principal, Charles A. Smith. The dances were formerly given in one of the halls down town, but Mr. Smith thought that the dances could be supervised more thoroughly in the school building and he suggested the change. There never was a dance during the time Mr. Smith was principal, that Mr. Smith did not attend, said Mr. Denfeld.

Under the present rule, each class of the four high school classes, is allowed to have one dance a year, the dance usually being preceded by a class supper. In the outlying districts, the grade graduating classes have a supper toward the end of the year and he said that in only one case, to his knowledge, had their been dancing. There may have been impromptu dances in other cases, he said.

HOUSE BUSY WITH CORPORATION TAX

Amends Publicity Feature to Make It Rest With President.

Washington, April 2.—The publicity feature of the corporation tax law was under discussion during the entire session of the house yesterday. The senate had provided in an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, for publicity of corporation reports upon approval of the president alone under regulations to be formulated by the secretary of the treasury. By a vote of 132 to 123 the house adopted a provision providing for publicity upon the discretion of the president alone, instead of upon discretion of the president or upon request of the senate or house.

Cannon Is Upheld.

After the bill had been completed, Representative Fitzgerald of New York attempted to recommit it with instructions for a report forthwith with an amendment repealing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. By a strict party vote, 150 to 116, Speaker Cannon's ruling that this motion was out of order, was sustained.

Senator Root concluded his speech in the senate in support of the administration railroad bill and the further consideration of that measure was postponed until Monday.

The senate passed the bill amending the employers' liability law in respect to the jurisdiction of state courts in railroad damage suits. The liability bill now will go to conference.

Rheumatism.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicine usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worst than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH

Wins Important Suit Against the Bell Telephone Company.

Nashville, Tenn., April 2.—Judge Edward T. Sanford of the circuit court of the United States handed down an opinion yesterday granting to the Postal Telegraph Cable company, an injunction against the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph company (a Bell company), discriminating against the Postal in the charge of use of telephones.

The telephone company refused to furnish telephones to the Postal Telegraph company for the same rental which was charged other subscribers to the telephone and insisted on the Postal company paying to the telephone company 15 per cent of the tolls taken in by the Postal company on messages received over the telephone and 2 cents on messages delivered by the telegraph company over the telephone.

The court holds that the Postal Telegraph company is entitled to telephone service at the same rate charged other business subscribers.

Keyless Padlock.

A lock that has no key, yet can be opened in the dark as easily as a lock possessing a key, has been placed on the market by a Chicago concern. It is provided with a combination similar to that used on safes, but the mechanism is small and simple. One cannot realize the nourishing qualities of hardy barley until they have tried Golden Grain Belt beer. It gives vigor to the tired body and strengthens the weary brain. "Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company."

TREES AS WIND SHIELD ON PARK POINT.

The board of public works is getting information as to the best kind of trees to plant on the lake shore to act as a shield against the sand which is annually blown and drifted over the street car tracks and sidewalks.

The council has authorized the planting of 300 trees and informal botany lessons will be the order for the next week or two with the board members in the role of willing students. They want something that will grow well in sand and water that will have a big root so it will not blow over easily, and that will grow rapidly, as they wish to complete the experiment in this decade.

MINNEAPOLIS CLERK IS MURDERED IN STREET CAR.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 2.—August Johnson, a young clerk, was shot and killed last night in a street car during a fight in which a crowd of Italians took part. Two Italians were arrested as suspects.

GOOD HEALTH WEEK!

"Sunkist" Oranges at Special Prices

All Dealers Are Supplied

Good Health Week Sale Begins Monday, April 4

Tone up your system—it needs it. Your physician will tell you to eat oranges—lots of them at this time of the year. This entire community—every man, woman and child—should participate in this health celebration. Oranges are the trademark of good health. "Sunkist" is the name of the choicest oranges in the world.

Remember the date. Because oranges are purveyors of good health we are going to make Good Health Week the occasion for the greatest sale of oranges in history.

"Sunkist" Navel Oranges Are Seedless

"Sunkist" oranges are so lusciously fresh, juicy and delicious that you enjoy their medicinal qualities. Morning, noon and night is orange eating time. A "Sunkist" orange or two is delicious dessert after each meal and at the same time your "spring fever" is vanishing under the general toning up process aided by the orange juices.

That "Sunkist" wrapper is the guarantee of the choicest oranges that California produces. It is the voucher of thousands of fruit farmers that "Sunkist" is absolutely the best that careful cultivation can produce.

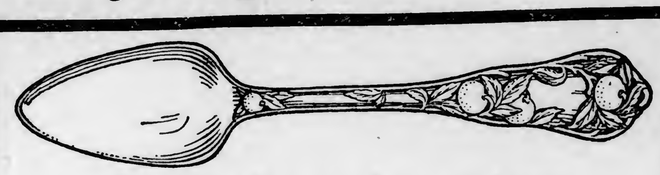

Get the Orange Habit

Here is the height of orange perfection. You never tasted another orange like "Sunkist." Tree-ripened, seedless, thin-skinned, exquisitely rich in delicious orange juices—those are a few "Sunkist" orange qualities. All these are health aids and you should take advantage of them. Get the Orange Habit and note your improvement in health. You will put your stamp of approval on Good Health week and "Sunkist" oranges.

"Sunkist" Oranges for Health All Next Week

"Sunkist" Lemons possess the same high merits that have made "Sunkist" oranges famous. They are firm, full of snappy lemon juice. They, too, are choicest of all the lemons in the 5,000 groves of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. That is why they bear the "Sunkist" wrapper.

FAVOR CONCRETING BED OF EMBARRASS

Scheme Proposed at Biwabik to Prevent Water Seeping Into Mines.

Biwabik, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A scheme to concrete the bed of the Embarrass river between Wine lake and Embarrass lake is said to be seriously considered by the interests owning big ore bodies in this vicinity.

The difficulty encountered by Pickands, Mather & Co., in taking out the ore at the Syracuse is well known. But little progress has been made in the contest with the quicksand and water, and the Longyear combination having the big find across the lake feel that they will have the same difficulty when their ore is mined.

It is now figured that the great body of water flowing underground in this territory comes from the Embarrass river above Embarrass lake, and engineers have reported that the concreting of the bed of the river will obviate the difficulty and send the entire flow of water down the river bed.

BREWERY ROBBERY APRIL FOOL JOKE

That Is Claim in Virginia as to Alleged Rifling of Cash Drawer.

Virginia, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report that the saloon of the Virginia Brewing company had been entered Thursday night and the till robbed of $150 is not well founded, according to the cashier at the brewery.

He states that the report was probably started by an All Fools' day joker.

LAY CORNER STONE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Impressive Event to Be Held at Virginia Synagogue.

Virginia, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the ceremonies attendant upon the laying of the corner stone of the new Jewish synagogue will be held. The stone will be laid by the lodge of Bnai Brith of Duluth and the ceremonies conducted by Rabbi Lefkowitz of the Duluth temple. It is expected that many Jewish people from Duluth and the range towns will attend the ceremonies. The new temple has been erected at a cost of about $10,000 and reflects great credit upon the members of the congregation as a whole and especially upon the committee, composed of John Mesbers, president; M. Shandeling, vice president, Julius Shanedling, Joseph Roman, H. J. Nathanson, Samuel Lippman and James F. Lavick, having the work in charge.

NEW BUZZ WAGONS FOR HIBBINGITES

Three Cars Received By Well Known Citizens of Range Village.

Hibbing, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three autos were received in Hibbing Friday. Dr. G. N. Butchart received a 24-horse power Hudson and Supt. A. Y. Peterson of the Hartley-Meyers mines received a 24-horse power Hudson, making three Hudsons received here within the past ten days. Victor Munson received a 24-horse power Reo.

There is again some talk here of another street car line. The cost of the road as planned by the organizers is said to be $40,000. Hibbing is badly in need of a street railway and there is no doubt that if such a thing is to go through it will be a big success. The franchise will be asked for in a day or two with the principal track running south on Third thence west on Washington street to First avenue.

George F. Beatty arrived Friday to take charge of the Mesaba telephone exchange here to succeed A. A. Gehret, who will have charge of the Northwestern telephone exchange at Grand Forks, N. D. Mr. Beatty has had charge of the Chisholm-Buhl telephone company's exchange for some time.

J. W. Casherson, John Moline, and Andrew Peterson, arrested for being drunk and disorderly appeared before Judge Thomas F. Brady and were released on suspended sentences, being their first offence.

Dr. H. R. Weirick left Friday for a few days on business in Duluth.

Mrs. M. P. Ward left Friday for Duluth to meet her father and mother.

Miss Florence Peterson of Minneapolis has arrived to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kavanaugh for several weeks.

A number of Shriners went to Duluth yesterday to attend the meeting of the Shriners there this evening.

Dr. J. M. Fryden returned Friday from Duluth where he accompanied Mrs. Dryden who was called to Cargill, Ont., by the death of her sister.

Biwabik Woman Buried.

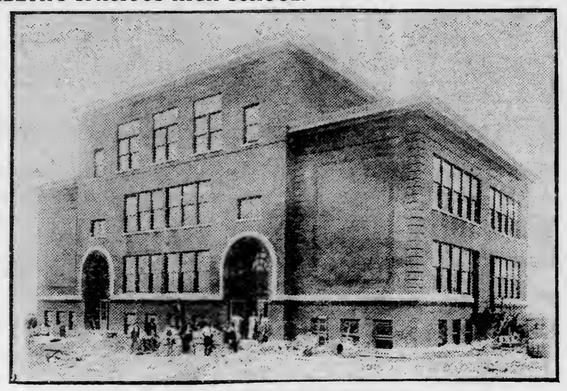

Biwabik, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Katie Schuster, wife of Frank Schuster, died Monday after an illness of some months, aged 29 years. The funeral, one of the most largely attended ever held in Biwabik, was held Wednesday, with solemn high mass in St. John's Catholic church at 9 a. m.

EVELETH'S SPACIOUS HIGH SCHOOL.

NEW GILBERT HIGH SCHOOL.

SCHOOLS KEEPING ABREAST OF TIMES

Eveleth and Gilbert Boast of Complete, Up-to-Date High Schools.

Eveleth, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the educational facilities of the Mesaba range are keeping pace with the growth and development of this section of Minnesota in other ways is shown by the splendid school buildings that are being erected in the different communities.

Both Eveleth and Gilbert have reason to be proud of their high school, both of which were designed by Bray & Nystrom, Duluth architects. The local building cost $90,000, and is considered one of the finest structures of the kind in Northern Minnesota. The Gilbert school cost $55,000 and is a flattering evidence of the growth of the neighboring village.

SALOON KEEPER FINED.

Virginia Liquor Dispenser Mulcted $25 for Keeping Check.

Virginia, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—David Jamme, a local saloon keeper, was fined $25 and costs by Judge Fleming in municipal court for an attempt to retain a check amounting to $22.21, belonging to John Solstrom. Solstrom went into the Jamme saloon and ordered a glass of port wine, handing the check to Jamme. The latter took the check and put it in his pocket and refused to give Solstrom the change or return the check. The police were called and demanded the check, which Jamme denied having. A search of his person disclosed the check in his pocket, and Jamme was arrested and paid the fine demanded.

ANNUAL MEET TUESDAY.

Next of the Biwabik Village Council to Be Held Then.

Biwabik, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the village council will be held next Tuesday when a village attorney, a superintendent of the light and water department, a village marshal, a night watchman, a health officer and a village printer will be elected. So far as known there has been no talk of changes. President Shank, Trustees Myers and Eyer continue in service, while W. L. Hill is the new trustee and H. J. Millbrook the new recorder.

The third degree will be put on Saturday night by Biwabik lodge, Knights of Pythias. Four candidates are slated to go through. The degree team held rehearsal Tuesday evening. Aurora lodge is planning to send over a delegation of fifteen to twenty to see the candidates walk the chalk line.

AURORA FANS HOPEFUL.

Are Enthusiastic Over Prospect of Having Fine Nine.

Aurora, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local baseball fans are very enthusiastic over the prospects for the season. C. T. Murphy has been elected manager and P. M. Johnson secretary-treasurer. Many new players have come to town since last year and as all old players have reported there will be many contests for positions.

A benefit dance will be given soon after which new grounds will be fitted up. The grounds used last year could not be secured again and new grounds are necessary.

McKINLEY NEW COUNCIL WILL MEET TUESDAY.

McKinley, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regular annual meeting of the village council takes place next Tuesday. At that time Dr. J. C. Farmer retires as president and W. G. Dundas succeeds him. Dr. Farmer has served in the position for several terms.

SEVERAL ACCUSED ARE NOT INDICTED

Among Them Village Recorder Yancey Charged With Firing Office.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Contending that the evidence did not warrant a true bill being returned the grand jury decided not to indict Village Recorder W. C. Yancey, who was held to that body on the charge of having set fire to the furniture and books in his office in the village hall a few weeks ago. The outcome of the case was not surprising to the public as it has been contended by his friends there was not a strong case against him.

The grand jury also failed to indict Charles D. Stark, L. M. Hooper, Charles Dahlgren and Henry Logan, alleged to have voted illegally at Sand Lake in 1908. This was one of the outgrowths of the sheriff's fight between Sheriff Riley and George Riddell, which dragged along in the courts several months, Judge Cant of Duluth, who was called in to hear the case, deciding in favor of Riley.

Matt Maerle, held for shooting Joe Persuvich in his saloon in Nashwauk Feb. 24, also escaped indictment. The grand jury found no true bill against Dan Craven, alleged to have robbed Charles Mushimo in January of $40. The grand jury visited the county jail and other public buildings and then adjourned.

Several Are Indicted.

While the grand jury failed to indict in several cases, others were not as fortunate, indictments being returned against the following:

Norman Carr and Barney Dewan, both of Alvwood, alleged improprieties with a girl under 18. Both pleaded not guilty.

Joseph Busche, robbing Charley "Pork Chops." Pleaded not guilty and was released on $1,000 bonds.

Matt Milbach of Marble, grand larceny in the second degree. It is alleged that he obtained money under false pretenses from his partners in the livery and feed business. He pleaded not guilty.

Zioko Malkovich, assault in the second degree. It is said that he stabbed a companion at Calumet about three months ago. Pleaded not guilty.

Peter Stoglsvlich was charged with larceny in the second degree. Pleaded guilty and was sentenced to Stillwater for one year by Judge McClenahan.

During the latter part of the week Judge McClenahan, who had been indisposetd during the beginning of the court session, returned to the bench, succeeding Judge Wright, who was called to Duluth by private business. Several cases were dismissed and the court is trying the alienation suit of Charles Johnson of Deer River against Iver Larson. Testimony of a spicy character is being introduced.

Alice Incorporation Election.

Hibbing, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The election on the question of the incorporation of the village of Alice is being held today. It is expected that there will be considerable building done on the ground included in the village of Alice during the coming summer. It is confidentially expected by those most interested that the incorporation will be carried out.

Hibbing Man Buried.

Hibbing, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Henry Lindberg, age 64 years, died at the home of his son, Fred Lindberg, Thursday night. Death was due to cancer of the stomach. Lindberg leaves a wife and son, Frederick. The funeral was held today from Barrett's undertaking parlors.

The congregation will hold its annual meeting following the evening services, at which time trustees will be elected, the treasurer's report read and other church business transacted.

At the Methodist church Rev. R. C. Johnson, the pastor, will speak on "Evil Habits and How to Get Rid of Them."

DEDICATE NEW CHURCH MAY 29

Rev. Father Bilban Preparing for Formal Opening of Holy Family Church.

Eveleth, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elaborate preparations are being made by Father Bilban for the dedication of the new Holy Family church May 29. Services will be held in the morning and evening. The principal ceremonies will be observed in the morning including the blessing of the church. Preparations are being made for the many visitors expected. Many Austrian societies from all the range towns and Duluth, will be present. Prof. John Selskar of the St. Paul seminary, St. Paul, will be present and will speak on educational subjects. Bishops McGolrick of Duluth and Frobeck of St. Cloud will also speak. Gather Buh, Ely; Father Shifter, Gilbert; Father Gomanche, Hibbing; Father Pirnat, Aurora, will assist in the evening services. Many laymen from the southern parts of the state and the Twin Cities have been invited and will no doubt be in attendance.

The fine new pipe organ will be used and special music rendered. Bishops McGolrick and Frobeck will make addresses at the morning services. In the afternoon no service will be held, but the new church will be open for inspection. In the evening laymen from the range towns and Duluth will assist in the ceremonies.

FIRST SHOOT SUNDAY.

The Virginia Gun Club to Try New Grounds Then.

FIVE YEAR TERM FOR BOOK AGENT

Waley Hall Marcy Pleads Guilty to Swindling Duluth Man.

For swindling a number of Duluth people on book deals, Waley Hall Marcy was this morning sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary by Judge Cant in district court.

The specific charge against Marcy was that he secured $650 from Charles d'Autremont by fraudulent representations.

After his arrest, several other prominent Duluthians came to Judge Cant and told of similar transactions. When Marcy was arraigned this morning, Judge Cant offered to subpoena these citizens and bring them in to testify under oath, but Marcy said it was not necessary.

Marcy claimed to have a wife and children in New York.

NEW COMPANY FOR VERMILION RANGE

Rice Bay Iron Company Effects Organization and Elects Officers.

The Rice Bay Iron company is the name of a new corporation formed to develop a promising prospect on the Vermilion range at a meeting held Saturday evening for the purpose of making a permanent organization. Officers were elected as follows: President, John C. McGreevy; vice president, Albert Kitto; treasurer, L. S. Loeb; secretary, H. J. Grannis. These officers, together with Thomas Owens of Two Harbors, form the board of directors.

The interests organizing the new company are those that control the Roy Development company. The new concern is capitalized at $500,000, divided into shares of a par value of $1 each.

The Rice Bay Iron company has been formed to develop the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter, the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter, and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter, section 35, 63-15, a tract of 120 acres lying sixteen miles west of Ely and three and a quarter miles north of the Minnesota mine at Soudan. It lies just west of the Scott-Bevier and the Vermilion Steel and Extension properties, and has the same iron formation though which they passed. P. F. Chamberlain, mining engineer, in a report states that he has traced the vein of iron formation through the property for 1,200 feet, and that the width of the vein where a shaft is being sunk is 304 feet. There are numerous test pits on the property, all bottomed in the iron formation and the overburden of earth is but sixteen feet thick. Samples taken from the bottom of these pits show an average iron content of 40 to 50 per cent. The iron is a hard hematite, said to resemble closely that of the Republic mine on the Marquette range. The property is equipped with the machinery necessary to develop to a depth of 500 feet, and the shaft is expected to cross the formation in the next 100 feet, permitting development of ores without excessive drifting. The company has a favorable royalty contract at 25 cents a ton.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

On the appointment of Mr. Grant E. Owens, as milk inspector, Mr. R. W. Luxon, whom Mr. Owens succeeds, has accepted a position with the North Land dairy, of which Mr. S. F. Snively of this city is the owner.

In Mr. Luxon, the city loses one of its most faithful servants. During the two years of his inspectorship, he effected a general betterment of 50 per cent as to the equipment and methods in Duluth dairies.

His activities in behalf of pure and cleanly milk for the milk consuming public, is a matter of general recognition.

Mr. Luxon will have charge of distribution of the North Land dairy product, and everything relating to the production of milk, cream and butter at the North Land Dairy farm will be under his supervision and inspection.

It is the plan of the North Land Dairy in the near future to establish a city depot, a place where there will be dairy products always on hand and fresh from the farm, so that on short notice the wants of the customers can be met, and this depot will be under the supervision of Mr. Luxon.

The general public has no conception of the magnitude, and equipment of the North Land Dairy farm and buildings. The city of Duluth is to be congratulated upon having in this institution at its very doors, one of the most up-to-date dairies in this or any other state.

The barn is a very large one, with cement floors throughout, individual metal stalls for the cattle, water fresh from wells a hundred feet in depth, constantly at the disposal of the cattle.

This barn in size, equipment and sanitary arrangement, ventilation, light, etc., is excelled by none in the state, not even the farm of the State Agricultural college. The creamery is likewise modern and up-to-date.

The machinery, bottle washer, separator, sterilizing plant are operated by steam power. All milk receptacles are daily thoroughly cleansed, and placed in the sterilizing ovens, and subjected to a steam heat of 210 degrees Fahrenheit, thus eliminating all chance of germ development.

The cattle comprise one of the best herds of Jerseys and Guernseys in the Northwest, and a test recently made under the direction of the State Experimental Station of St. Paul, places the herd in the richness of milk, above any other tested by them in this vicinity.

The North Land Dairy has its own farm of over four hundred acres, all very rich land, and mostly under cultivation.

There are a number of large and ever flowing springs upon this farm, so that the cattle when in pasturage get the very purest of water.

The North Land Dairy is located in Lester river valley, between Woodland Park and Lakeside, and is reached by a very nice driving road from Thirty-sixth avenue east, going north, or from Hunter's Park going east. It is on the East Duluth and Lester river road and the boulevard being constructed by the Park Board along the West Branch of Lester River extends along its southerly boundary.

The North Land Dairy is always open to interested visitors, and is always pleased to show them its plant and have them witness the process of preparing the dairy product for market.

NEW ROUNDHOUSE FOR THE SOO ROAD IN WEST END, NEARLY COMPLETED

THE NEW SOO ROUNDHOUSE.

The Soo yards between Twentieth and Twenty-first avenue west and Michigan and Railroad streets are about completed. There are a number of finishing touches left, but the work will only take about three weeks.

The structure, which will be used as a roundhouse has been completed, except for the laying of the tracks. It will also be painted before it is used. The roundhouse will have six stalls and has been built in connection with a small repair shop at the rear. It is located on the corner of Twenty-first avenue and Michigan street.

The coal shed which has been erected is located at Twentieth avenue and Railroad street. Between the coal shed and the roundhouse, a turn table has been installed. Workmen are now engaged in laying track to the roundhouse.

It is expected that the company will use the whole of the block on which the roundhouse stands for the storing of property and for yards. The company is also erecting a water tank and oil house in addition to the other improvements.

The main track of the Soo line at the West end had to be moved south about fifty feet to make room for the improvements in this block.

WEST END BARNSTORMING TO RAISE MONEY

For the purpose of raising money for the building fund of the Good Templars at the West end, the "N. N. N.," an auxiliary organization of North Star lodge, No. 14, I. O. G. T., comprising a number of Scandinavian young people, will give an entertainment tomorrow evening at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street.

The Good Templar lodge owns a corner lot at Twenty-sixth avenue west and Second street. The property is on the northwest corner at the street intersection, and it is on this lot that the club expects to build a hall, possibly this year. At its last meeting, the lodge decided to sell part of the lot to raise enough money to build on the site.

The entertainment tomorrow evening will be the first of a series which the young people will give for this purpose. It will also put one on at Superior, Two Harbors, and at possibly some of the range towns. The entertainment is composed of two short plays interspersed with musical numbers.

In "The Foundling," the first farce, the following will take part: Fred Edlund, Carl G. Carlson, David Carlson, Carl J. Carlson, Oaf Sjoqulst, Hilder Lindgren, Esther Johnson, Adelina Carlson and Julia Anderson. The other sketch, "The Two Deaf," has the following in its cast: Hilder Lindgren, Carl J. Carlson, Fred Edlund, Carl G. Carlson and David Carlson. Both plays will be in Swedish.

WORK IS BEGUN ON NEW COAL DOCK

Pittsburg Coal Company Will Have Modern Structure on Rice's Point.

Work on the construction of the new $1,000,000 dock, which will be built on Rice's Point by the Pittsburg Coal company between its present dock, No. 1 and Elevator H, was begun this week.

It is expected that the work will be completed before the close of navigation this year and when finished will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The contract prices already call for an expenditure of $1,000,000.

The Barnett & Record company, this week, placed its machinery in shape for pile driving. The concern will make the concrete piers and cribs and will do all of the pile driving work.

The Brown Hoist & Machinery company of Cuieago will furnish the bridge work at the dock and the other necessary equipment and will install it. The Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company has the contract for the dredging and filling.

The new dock will, upon its completion, replace Dock No. 1 of the Pittsburg Coal company. It will be equipped with the most modern machinery, arranged in such a manner that two of the largest boats can be unloaded at the same time in about eight hours' time.

The dock will be 2,200 feet long and 800 feet wide.

West End Shortrails.

Oscar Helam, who has been attending the state university at Minneapolis, returned yesterday on a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Helam, of 2024 West Second street.

Several new candidates were taken in as members last evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Swedish Christian Sick Benefit society at Sloan's hall.

The confirmation class of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, met this morning with the pastor, Rev. Carl G. Olson.

Rev. Edward Stromberg, pastor of the First Swedish M. E. church, will return this evening from Ashland, Wis., where he has been holding services.

Rev. C. G. Olson of the Bethany Lutheran church last evening officiated at the wedding of Miss Hulda Zackerson to Ole Hoglund, both of Skibo, Minn. They were married in the parlors of the McKay hotel.

Work began this week on the moving of St. Clement's hall on to the foundation of the old church, the superstructure of which was destroyed by fire some time ago. Services will be held tomorrow in the French Catholic hall, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. The new church will be able to use the hall for church purposes in about two weeks. The plans for the ground floor of the new church have been received.

again upon European soil, and of feeling that at last he was homeward bound.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the voyage from Alexandria had been without special incident and had been acomplished in perfect weather. A few moments later he descended the gang plank and the crowd, catching sight of him, greeted him with ringing cheers. Many Americans had provided themselves with flags and these were waved frantically. The Roosevelts, with those who had come to receive them, were soon whisked away in automobiles to the Excelsior hotel.

Refused to Talk Politics.

No sooner had he reached his hotel than the former president was besieged by the newspaper men. Promptly and firmly he reiterated his refusal to discuss any phase of American politics or other affairs, adding that he would stick to his announced policy throughout his European tour. Any statements purporting to have come from him would be unauthorized, he said.

The expected arrival of Mr. Roosevelt had created considerable excitement among Neapolitans, who, since his visit here in April of last year, had promised to give him a hearty welcome upon his return. The Prinz Heinrich arrived earlier than her usual hour, but the crowds had discounted this possibility and were not taken by surprise.

At the hotel Mr. Roosevelt found awaiting him a messenger from Mayor Nathan or Rome, bearing an invitation from the municipal authorities, who wished to give a dinner and reception in his honor at the historic capital.

Dinner at Rome Wednesday.

The former president accepted the invitation and fixed the date for Wednesday evening next. Following this reception he will leave for Spezia, otherwise there will be no change in the program arranged for his visit in Rome.

When the Prinz Heinrich was sighted this morning the docks of San Vincenzo and the immacolatella, the arsenal and the Promenade Chiala along the Via Caracciolo were already crowded. On many houses the Italian colors waved alongside the Stars and Stripes. A large number of boats flying the American and Italian flags and carrying citizens of both countries went out to meet the steamer.

The morning was matchless and Mr. Roosevelt had a splendid view of the enchanting bay as the vessel drew in between the promontory of Posilipo and the Porrento peninsula. In the near distance were Capri, Ischia and Procida, while Vesuvius, threatening and majestic, towered over all.

As was the case when the former president stopped here on his way to Africa, the police took extraordinary measures, not only to protect his person, but to avoid any unpleasant incident during his stay in the city.

"Long Live Roosevelt!"

As the steamer moved slowly into the harbor the crowds on shore burst into cries of "Long live Roosevelt!"

The excitement grew when the form of the statesman could be distinguished on deck. From all sides came salutes and cheers, while hats and handkerchiefs and flags were waved. It must have seemed like a homecoming to Mr. Roosevelt, for the American colors could be seen from the bay of Santa Lucia to the heights of the Vomero.

The formal reception was carried out as planned, Mr. Roosevelt receiving first his countrymen, then representatives of the municipality of Naples, after which he acknowledged the popular welcome.

One Conductor Who Was Cured.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it.—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Leington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of Rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. ROOSEVELT INDORSED AND TAFT IS IGNORED BY THE REPUBLICANS to decide upon the date and place of the convention, has a number of causes of worry and this is one of the most annoying. The party in Minnesota is divided into hostile camps on the tariff bill and those responsible for its making. Governor Eberhart, who it is conceded will be the nominee of the convention for governor is said to have solemnly assured President Taft when in Washington recently that he had the situation well in hand in Minnesota and that by the time the convention met in June he would be able to bring the warring factions together on the common ground of indorsement of the president and the makers of the Payne-Aldrich bill. Undoubtedly sentiment among Republicans of Minnesota is overwhelmingly opposed to the bill and its sponsors but out of consideration for the governor—who has essayed the role of peacemaker—the convention may swallow an indorsement of Taft and the stalwart minority in the Republican membership of the house. Senator M. E. Clapp, who continues to be an active insurgent at Washington despite the frantic appeals of his appointees in Minnesota who fear the vengeance of the president may be visited on Clapp through their official tenure of office, is demanding an indorsement by the Republican state convention, and the leaders are torn between their desire to be "regular" and the insistent representations of the junior senator and the members of the house delegation who bolted their party organization and who voted with the Democrats against the schedules in the Payne-Aldrich bill, to be later recorded as voting to enlarge the rules committee of the house. The committee on resolutions' membership will call for the prize diplomats of the party in the state, and several of the leaders are already displaying superior diplomacy by arranging to avoid appointment to the committee which is usually regarded as so high an honor.

Some Were Skeptical.

When all the Republican house members from Minnesota, save Mr. Tawney, voted against the tariff bill, sentiment at home apparently overwhelmingly indorsed their action. The skeptical, while admitting some virtue to the rebellious members set up the explanation that their votes were not needed to pass the bill and that their standing should not be prejudiced with the house organization. Color was lent to the accusation when two or the members who had voted against the schedules proposed by the tariff bill cast their votes against the insurgent proposition to enlarge the rules committee and later when only two Minnesota members had the temerity to vote to declare Speaker Cannon's seat vacant. There is, it is generally admitted, an undercurrent of belief that the Minnesota insurgents insurge much more violently when at home than in Washington and a disposition to respect Congressman Tawney as the only member of the delegation who is in an unequivocal position of maintaining the same attitude in Washington that he does in Winona.

There is a feeling that the touted victory for the insurgents in enlarging the rules committee is barren of results, for it is pointed out that Speaker Cannon through his lieutenants is absolute master of the new committee and every Republican member of the majority on the committee is his personal appointee. Evidence of this is shown in the success that attended his efforts to prevent the naming of Representative Longworth of Ohio to a place on the new committee. There is a sentiment in Minnesota, it is declared by those in close touch with popular feeling, that at least two of the Minnesota delegation have proven recreant to their earlier declarations and it is freely predicted that both Congressmen F. C. Stevens of the Fourth and Frank M. Nye of the Fifth will be called upon to defend in the primaries the inconsistency of their positions. Undoubtedly Stevens will have opposition, and those opposed to him in his party are even now canvassing the situation to put against him their strongest man, while the Democrats are greatly heartened and will run one of their ablest men against him.

Stephens to Be Opposed.

It is reported that Senator A. D. Stephens of Crookston is to have the fight of his life in his ambition to be returned. Senator Stephens has been a member of the upper house for the past eight years and is a most influential member. The scope of his activities is by no means confined to his home district, and it is currently reported that he has undertaken the management of Governor Eberhart's pre-convention campaign in the Red river valley counties. Representative John Saugstad of Climax, Polk county, is said to have been picked upon by the county option forces to make the fight for the nomination against Senator Stephens, and as the county is said to be thoroughly saturated with county option sentiment he is expected by partisans of this issue to give the Crookston man a great race. The situation is complicated by a county division proposition, which will be voted on in Polk county at the general election in the autumn. The proposition is to carve a new county from the east end of Polk, with Erskine as the county seat. The county option people are said to be against the division, as by creating a new county from the western part of Polk, with Crookston and East Grand Forks dominating its affairs, it would almost certainly mean a new county in which the option people would have very little to say as to governmental affairs.

Hammond on the Tariff.

Congressman W. S. Hammond of the Second Minnesota district made a notable speech on the tariff bill and the organization of the house under Speaker Cannon that permitted the enactment of the bill without opportunity for debate, during the session of last week. Mr. Hammond speaks only seldom in congress but when he takes the floor he usually says something worth while. That the Democratic leaders place some store on his erudition and arrangement of fact is seen in the fact that the national congressional committee of the party has decided to have printed a full 100,000 copies of the Hammond speech for general distribution in the next campaign. The speech was entirely dispassionate and rather a lawyer's brief than a political diatribe.

Jefferson-Day Dinner.

Arrangements for the Jefferson-day dollar dinner of the Minnesota Democracy at the St. Paul auditorium are being completed, and indications are that it will bring a great number of prominent Democrats from all over the state to St. Paul. Congressman-elect Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts, the principal orator of the dinner, will probably come out from Washington with Congressman Hammand and it is understood that he will speak specifically on the wisdom of Canadian reciprocity for the Northwest, while analyzing the Payne tariff bill schedules in a general way. The mayors of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth—all Democrats—are expected to be present, and may be called upon to speak briefly, and there promises to be a great uncorking of oratory. April 14, the day after the banquet, the Democratic state central committee will meet at the Merchants hotel to consider the time, the place and the ratio of representation for the state nominating convention. It is not expected that the committee will call the convention at this time, but rather will name a sub-committee authorized to call the convention when conditions are ripe for that event—and the Republican nominating convention has been held, and its nominations made.

ers, which has offices in Jersey City, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

As being interested in Boggs & Co., the following are indicted:

Richard E. Preusser, Lee Mayer, George Turner, William Lillis, Oliver J. Robinson, Edward S. Boggs, Harry Owens, Robert A. Guy, all of New York, and Al Ford and Marshall F. Parrish of Philadelphia. Named in connection with these alleged conspirators are Edward Everett Taylor of Washington, and his telegraph operator, Harry Johnson.

In the indictments against Price & Co., the following are named:

William B. Price, Virgil P. Randolph, Harry M. Randolph, Charles T. Moorhead, Edward Weldon, Joseph Gaskins, and James A. Anderson, all of Baltimore; Thomas H. Campbell and Edward B. Taylor of Philadelphia.

In the Standard Stock & Grain dealers are named:

Edward Alteumus, Samuel Raymond, Oscar J. Raphel and Robert Hall of Jersey City, N. J., Louis Cella of St. Louis; Henry C. Stumpf of Philadelphia and Henry R. Daryee and his telegraph operator, Charles R. Alley.

Covers Whole Country.

This, the United States government's first attack upon stock gambling, has been thoroughly prepared with greatest secrecy. Its scope practically covers the United States from the Missouri river to the Atlantic. The three concerns indicted maintain more than 250 offices and branch offices located from New England to Oklahoma.

With the aid of United States Attorney Baker of the District of Columbia, Special Assistant Attorney General A. Bruce Bielaski and Chief Finch of Attorney General Wickersham's bureau of investigation have been presenting the evidence to the grand jury for several days.

The theory of the conspiracy indictments is that every man who was connected in any way with the operation of the three firms which did business in the District, had entered into a conspiracy to relieve people of their money. The government maintains that every alleged bucketing transaction of the local brokers named was the act of each and every person charged in the indictment.

Statement by Wickersham.

Attorney General Wickersham did not comment on the raids today further than to issue a prepared statement of which the following is the substance:

In the first indictment against Preusser, Mayor, Turner, etc., the defendants are charged with conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States in violation of Section 5440 of the Revised Statutes, which makes unlawful the keeping of bucket shops in the District of Columbia. Edward E. Taylor, mentioned in the indictment, maintained two offices in Washington and was correspondent for Boggs & Co. of No. 47 Broadway, New York.

"This firm," the attorney general says, "as well as those involved in the two other indictments, alleges that it buys and sells securities through the Consolidated Stock Exchange of Philadelphia and that Ford & Parrish are their representatives on that exchange.

"The evidence before the grand jury tended to show that this exchange was simply a contrivance maintained to enable operators of bucket shops to conceal the real nature of their operations.

Once Convicted of Murder.

"Preusser is reported to be a notorious gambler who was convicted of the murder of one Myles McDonald some years ago, as a result of which he was confined for a year in an institution for insane convicts.

"Mayer is a well known bookmaker and Turner is said to have been expelled from the New York stock exchange, and with Lillis has been connected with some of the most notorious bucket shop concerns in the country.

"A number of the men named in this indictment are well known as bucket shop operators. This indictment has two counts, one count covering each of the offices maintained by Taylor in Washington.

"In the second indictment, against Altemus, Cella, Raymond, et al., Duryee maintained an office in Washington with Alley as his operator. Altemus, the Cella brothers and Raymond, with Raphael, are associated with the Standard Stock & Grain Dealers, No. 76 Montgomery street, Jersey City, which also purported to do business through the Consolidated Exchange in Philadelphia. Hall is the manager or chief clerk at Jersey City, and Stumpf is the representative on the Philadelphia Consolidated exchange.

Known Bucketshop Men.

"Altemus was recently convicted in Jersey City in connection with operations there and the two Cella brothers are well known as bucket shop operators.

"In the third indictment against Price, Randolph, Moorhead Weldon, et al, Price, the two Randolphs, Moorhead, Weldon, Anderson and Gatkins, are connected with William B. Price & Co. of Baltimore, of which Taylor was correspondent in Washington prior to becoming correspondent for Boggs & Co., the first part of September, 1909.

"Price & Co. also purport to do business through the Consolidated exchange of Philadelphia and Campbell is their representative. A representative of Price & Co. has been convicted of running a bucket-shop in Norfolk, Va., and one of the indicted men connected with the Price concern is a fugitive from justice in another jurisdiction.

"It is believed that the return of these indictments and the prosecution of the defendants therein will do a great deal toward destroying the operations of bucket shops throughout the country."

Detectives Tapped Wires.

The government's sleuths went at the enemy with his own fire, and it is said did not hesitate to do a little wire tapping to get their evidence. Taking for granted that the charge often made that bucket-shops secured quotations by tapping wires which carry them to legitimate customers is true, the detectives tapped communications sent between those indicted. Employes of some of the shops were served with subpoenas and called before the grand jury to tell what they knew about the methods of operation.

Violation of the law, upon conviction, entails a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and two years' imprisonment.

ported today to have stated flatly that is will resist any increase in the cost of mining, but will grant the miners the demanded wage increase at once.

Concession on Explosives.

It is also reported that the operators have tentatively agreed to furnish the new explosives in mines where is required, at the same cost as black powder, but will not agree to a run of mine basis. A formal joint wage scale conference has been called for Monday.

Throughout the Pittsburg district reports are coming in of voluntary wage increases to non-union and union miners on the part of independent operators.

Fixing Up Workings.

St. Louis, Mo., April 2.—Coal mine operators in Illinois while waiting a conference with the miners, began today to fit up the underground workings to comply with the law passed after the Cherry disaster. Electrical gongs and whistles, fire apparatus and new inventions are being installed.

The operators have notified the miners they would be ready for a joint conference on twenty-four hours' notice. The miners are to meet at Springfield Tuesday.

Duluth's Corporation Heads List.

St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—During March, 117 corporations filed articles with the Secretary of State Julius A. Schmahl. The total fees paid were $10,625. The number of companies filing articles last year in March were ninety-three and fees were $5,180.

The Duluth Street Railway company, which filed articles on March 11, had the largest capitalization, reporting $2,000,000, and are paying a fee of $1,025.

Did it ever occur to you, that by smoking none but home-made cigars, you woud be assisting some cigarmaker of this city in gaining a livelihood?

It would be the means of employing at least 500 cigarmakers in our city.

This would mean a pay roll of about $10,000 per week. Pretty good sum of money to leave in our city, in place of sending it down East, don't you think so, Mr. Smoker?

To assist the smoker in making his selection, the following list of home-made cigars are highly recommended. Give them a trial.

THE COMING OF SPRING.

It is impossible to say just when spring is coming, or even when it has come. You can't put your finger on a day in the calendar, and say that spring will begin on that day. Neither can you look back to a day in the calendar and say that spring began on that day. The calendar calmly tells you that spring begins on March 21, but the calendar doesn't know half so much about the seasons as it pretends to know. It presumes to fix a definite day, the day in which the sun happens to be in a certain relation with the earth, and because that day ought to be the beginning of spring, the calendar says it is the beginning of spring. Which is a species of reasoning that lacks logic, and that seldom is supported by facts.

The coming of spring is very much more subtle than that. Some time in March, when the sun has come closer than it has been all winter and when the days are longer, it isn't so cold as it was, the snow melts and the dampness almost dries out of the earth, and you say, Behold, it is spring. And next day a blizzard spreads a blanket of snowbanks over the earth, and you know that you were mistaken; it is not yet spring.

A little later, when the snow has gone and the drab earth is bare once more, there is in the air a gentle languor, a touch of mellowness that is new, and you say it is spring. And before night falls a boisterous wind sweeps over the hills from the north, the mercury huddles in the bottom of the tube, and you know that it is not yet spring.

And then, after many disappointments, just when you have ceased to predict any more, you look about you again. There is a green on the lawns that is not like that unwholesome green kept by last year's grass under the snowbanks. The buds are swelling on the trees, and here and there the new life is bursting its warm winter covering. The first venturesome robin was reported some time ago, and reproached for a gay deceiver because he didn't bring real spring with him. But now there are many robins, and the bare limbs of the trees are filled with feathered optimists, filling the air with a hopeful chorus. Back in the woods you can find here and there a tender shoot of pale green, and if you look closely you will find the first blossoms—spring beauties, anemones the bloodroots. These are the pale heralds of the splendid army of bloom that by June will have ripened into the luxurious reds and purples of summer, and that will be engaging in a riotous competition of scents and colors to attract the fecundating attentions of the winged insects who respond to this wanton invitation and in their search for honey mate the plant sexes with the pollen carried on their wings.

And from that day when you first notice that nature's workshop in the soil and under the tree-bark is throbbing with busy energy, spring marches on rapidly. Yesterday you were sure spring hadn't come. Today you know it is here. By tomorrow it has matured into summer. You don't know just how and when spring comes, but you know that it is wonderful and beautiful, and the miracle of its new birth out of death and corruption and its message of immortality humble you in awe.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS.

John D. Rockefeller, having accumulated the greatest fortune in all history and having retired from business, proposes to incorporate his fortune and use it for humanity.

Whatever his motives, his act is worthy, and good may come of it, though his plan is not free from social perils.

But there is another side of the picture. The nation has paid a dear price for this benefaction. It is not pleasant even to think of the details of that price, involving as they do the prostitution of free government, the corruption of lawmakers, public officials and judges, the prevalence of the methods of the highwayman and the assassin in business and the crushing of the weak to feed the arrogant greed of the strong.

Mr. Rockefeller can do anything he pleases with his money. It is entirely "constitutional" for him to build decent tenements, spend money to wipe out poverty and disease, improve working conditions and, in short, anything that will undo a part of the economic mischief the collection of that money has done.

He could spend his money to undo the mischief its gathering has wrought, and it wouldn't be unconstitutional. But if the government were to use its power and its money to prevent that mischief or to undo it, be sure that the damning charge of "unconstitutionality" would be brought forth to block its efforts.

The government couldn't use its money and its power to prevent the evils that attended the gathering of Mr. Rockefeller's fortune, but it could stand aside and let him gather it and do those evils.

The government couldn't use its money and its power to cure the evils that attended the gathering of Mr. Rockefeller's money, because it would be unconstitutional; but there is no objection whatever to letting one man tax the people until he has created a great fortune, and then use that money to undo a part of the harm its gathering has done.

The people can't get their government to exert itself for the common good of society, but a Rockefeller can use the people's government to accumulate the greatest fortune in all history, and then can do what he pleases with the money.

This is what a grotesque conception of "individual rights" has come to in this country. The individual rights of a Rockefeller are of greater concern than the common good of all the people. The common good of society must give away to the individual rights of a person who has a monomania for money-making. The individual right of the citizen to protection from his government is lost sight of in the effort to preserve the individual right of the cunning to use all the people to feed his megalomaniac hunger for great wealth. The individual right of the worker to a fair share of the products of his toil is forgotten in the effort to preserve the individual right of the strong to take from the worker all of his production except enough to meet the barest brute needs of existence.

The doctrine of individual rights was conceived in a revolt from the oppressions of monarchy, and it was intended for the common good of humanity. It has worked out in the creation of a few great fortunes gathered by the cunning and the strong from the products of the toil of others; and attempts to interfere with the creation of these fortunes have been blocked by a doctrine of individual rights which has been distorted so grotesquely that its application has involved the complete sacrifice of the common good of society.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH.

Notwithstanding the disgust of a correspondent, writing in last night's Herald, over the idea of weighing household supplies to catch dealers in short weights of small amount, there was a suggestion worth considering in the communication published Thursday evening from M. O. Neysworth, in whose obviously assumed name there is concealed that which, according to his complaint, he has not been getting from his dealers.

That correspondent said that he had discovered that his quart milk bottles contain but twenty-nine ounces of milk when to be real quarts they should contain thirty-two ounces. Also, he found that his pound prints of butter were much more likely to weigh fourteen ounces than they were to weigh sixteen ounces.

Prices of the food needed to keep body and soul together are high enough, in all conscience, to entitle the purchaser to receive for those prices the full weights and measures that he pays for.

If buyers for the home take the precaution to find out whether they are getting their money's worth, they will get it. If they do not take precaution, they must have extraordinarily honest tradesmen if they do get their money's worth.

It was stated some time ago by somebody connected with the enforcement of the pure food law that it is utterly impossible to buy, in this country, a quart bottle that contains a quart. We don't know whether that is true or not, but if anybody has denied it that fact hasn't come to our notice.

The natural impulse of the householder who finds that he or she has been cheated with short weight bottles or packages is to attack the retailer, because he is within reach. Yet in all probability the retailer, in many cases, has been cheated, too. He has merely passed on, in the regular course of business, the commodities as they came to him. What he bought for a quart or a pound he sells for a quart or a pound; and if the consumer doesn't complain nothing happens.

But if consumers should get into the habit of insisting that their quarts shall be full quarts and their pounds full pounds, it will not be long before the retailers turn to the wholesalers and demand full weights and measures. If the wholesalers have been deceived by the manufacturers, then the wholesalers will demand full weights and measures from the manufacturers.

The movement must start with the consumer. It is worth while starting it. The loss of an ounce or two on a pound of butter isn't much; but if the loss is two ounces, by the time you have bought eight pounds of short-weight butter prints you have paid for a pound of butter that you didn't get. The loss of three ounces on a quart of milk doesn't amount to much; but when you have bought ten quarts of short-measure-milk you have paid for a quart of milk that you didn't get.

In detail the loss seems small; in the aggregate it is tremendous. It has persisted simply because the consumer let it persist. It will not continue a minute longer than the consumer chooses to let it continue.

"CULTURE."

The other day somebody in Duluth was heard to say that a certain other person lacked "culture."

That wasn't a very surprising thing to hear, because you could hear it, probably, in any community in the land; and you would be particularly liable to hear it from the type of individual to which this critic belongs.

For the person who said that a certain other person lacks culture happened to be one of those who have only the vaguest idea of what culture really is. What is it, anyway? Webster says it is "the state of being cultivated; especially the enlightenment and discipline acquired by mental and moral training; civilization; refinement in manners and taste." That is the best the dictionary can do, for it is a hard thing to define. It isn't to be defined, as a rule; it is merely to be lived. It is easier to pick out an individual and say that he or she is cultured, than it is to define culture.

A pretty good idea of what culture isn't, however, can be gained from this individual who reproached another with lack of it. That person "studies" Browning, for instance, instead of reading and appreciating Browning. He talks about Shapespeare and Shaw, Suderman and Nietzsche, Ruskin and Tasso, without understanding or appreciating any of them. To him, these artists and thinkers and their works are things to talk about and to appear versed in, not to enjoy and assimilate and glory in. To him, culture is a garment, not an inner life; a masquerade, not a mode of living. It is the shell and outer husk of culture that that man sees, not its substance and its beauty and its peace and poise.

Culture, if it can be defined otherwise than as Webster defines it, is that which enables you to get the utmost out of life and to give the utmost. It is more than appreciation; it is efficiency. It is more than flaccid and inert enjoyment; it is a dynamic quality that not only participates, but produces. It not only takes, but it gives. It isn't a cloak to be put on of a Monday evening or a Thursday afternoon, but a state of being, as irremovable as your brain. Culture is not alone learning and understanding and appreciation; it is being. It is not a veneer, but a soul. It is not a thing that sets its possessor apart and aloof; it is a state of being that fits its possessor to mingle with humankind and to do his part in the mission of humanity. It is efficiency; and that does not mean craft or cunning or skill in money-getting. It is developed personality. It is not that which is taken in from outside, but that within which is cultivated and developed and made to blossom in the perfect flower of individuality. It is personality developed to the point where it will receive, as raw products, the world's knowledge, the world's wisdom and the world's beauty, and transform them in the crucible of individuality into impulses and actions toward higher things.

Culture isn't a form or a garment or a course of study; it is the substance of developed personality. Culture isn't a distinguishing mark to set its possessors apart and aloof except as their achievements set them apart; it is a quality of efficiency that fits them to play their part in the world as whole and complete men and women.

THE MISERABLE CONSUMER.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post points out in a lucid article that in all the talk about railroad rate regulation nothing is said about the rights of the consumer. The railroad man wants rates as high as possible and the consumer wants them as low as possible; but the disputes are always between the railroad man, who wants rates to be high, and the shipper, who does not care a picayune how high rates are so long as they are uniform.

That statement of the situation is entirely correct. The consumer's interests are not considered by any public authority, nor do they ever figure in a rate law or in a rate fight. There are plenty of ways to get at high rates if there were anybody to present the cause of the consumer. Not even watered stock would make any difference, because the supreme court of the United States has held that charges higher than those necessary to pay a reasonable return upon actual values cannot be upheld. Capitalization really cuts no figure; it is value that counts.

But nobody is doing anything for the consumer, the Post points out; and it parades it as a discovery. It is no discovery. It is a painful, familiar fact. Nor does it apply alone to railroad rates; it applies to everything else.

Senator Lodge has said that the ultimate consumer is a myth; that he does not exist. Certainly everybody in authority has been acting and is acting as though that were a literal truth. Though every person in the United States is a consumer, nowhere do the consumer's interests figure in the plans of reformers, except in those of a few to whom nobody pays any attention because they have been branded as "Populists," "Socialists," or something of that sort.

If there is anything in which the consumer is vitally interested it is the tariff and railroad rates. Every consumer—and that means every individual in the country—pays tariff taxes and railroad freights on every article he buys.

Freight rates are adjusted between the railroad man, who wants freight rates to be high, and the shipper, who doesn't care how high they are so long as he gets the same rates as other shippers, because whatever the rates are they are added to the cost of the commodities and charged up to and paid by the consumer.

Did anybody ever hear of a tariff law in this country framed in the interests of the consumer? Tariff laws have been fixed with a view to profiting the manufacturer and producer. There has been a pretense that they have been fixed with a view to maintaining the wages of labor; but that is the nastiest piece of hypocrisy that history ever recorded. Actually, tariff rates have been fixed in the interest of the manufacturer and producer. Theoretically, the wages of labor have been considered, but when wages have been increased slightly by the tariff, their purchasing power has been reduced in a proportion so much greater that labor as a consumer has been hurt far more than he has been helped as a wage-earner.

The producer, the manufacturer and the laborer are organized. The consumers are not organized. Though every person is a consumer, the consumer's interest never is considered by political parties, statesmen, politicians, interstate commerce commissions, state railway commissions, or other public officials.

A shifting of the focus of public thought to the interest of the consumer would help amazingly to make real and effective the attack upon the high cost of living.

DANCING IN THE SCHOOLS.

While due respect for the opinions of others requires that full consideration shall be given to the demand made at last night's meeting of the school board that dancing in the school buildings be prohibited, most emphatically this is a question to which there are two sides. If the demand is based upon opposition to dancing as an amusement, that is one thing. If it is based upon opposition to the use of the school buildings for social purposes, that is another thing. As to dancing, we fancy that there are rather less people who consider it essentially vile than there used to be. As to the use of the school buildings for social purposes, we fancy that the time is coming when that use will be much commoner than it is now.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

HOW TO SOLVE PROBLEM.

Just a few words in regard to the resolution of the city council, introduced on March 21, compelling the street railway company to stop its cars at all street intersections and Manager Warren's objections to such a procedure.

I believe that if the council will first take up the matter in a business-like way with Mr. Warren, they will be enabled to draft an ordinance or resolution that will be absolutely fair to all concerned. In the past I have often thought that the street railway company had some very foolish rules and regulations in force and that its schedules were such as could be vastly improved upon. One day, several years ago, I went to the general manager with blood in my eye and my complaint put into such shape as would admit of no argument. I wanted an extra East end car put on that would pass Third avenue west at 6:04 p. m. to relieve the overcrowding of the rush hour. The general manager smiled and said that a car at that particular time would do but little good, and gave his reasons for thinking so. He showed me that with the existing schedule a car at that time would carry very few passengers, but I had made a study of the situation myself and knew better, and I finally got so cantankerous about it that he finally agreed to put a car on at that particular hour and minute provided I would agree to go home on it every night.

The first week I was able to go home on that car just twice, as business detained me several times in the office until after my special, as Mr. Warren called it, had left, and twice I wanted to get home earlier, and so failed to ride on the 6:04. At the end of two weeks Mr. Warren showed me the record of the car, which the few trips I made on it showed me was correct, and I was so ashamed of myself that I asked him to take the car off and let me run my own business, for I was convinced that I wasn't a success at making street car schedules.

Since that time I have had many talks and discussions with the general manager, and I have invariably found that he knows pretty near what he is doing, and that the rules and regulations and schedules are just about as near right as they can be made. He is always willing to listen and eager to get hold of anything valuable, but he sifts an idea down pretty close before he adopts it.

The trouble with the average citizen is that they have but one idea of the proper way to run a street railway, and that is to have a car standing ready on the nearest corner when they want to go home, that will take them home in the shortest possible time and deposit them at the nearest point to their own doorstep.

But the practical street railway man's ideal service is to so arrange schedules and stops as to carry the most passengers to the point nearest to their destination in the quickest possible time, which is quite another thing. The one benefits one man, while the other benefits all.

Such service does not satisfy everybody, of course, but it comes the nearest to it of anything yet devised, and it is what our own general manager will give us if we don't tie him and his service up with a lot of absurd and impracticable regulations gotten up by well-meaning men of little or no experience in such matters.

So I say, gentlemen of the council, go over the matter first with an experienced street railway manager and get his views on the feasibility of the matter first; then fight it out and come to some agreement. Mr. Warren I have always found reasonable and anxious to do what is right, and an ordinance gotten up under those conditions should be fair to all concerned, and be of equal benefit to all.

Very sincerely yours,
DAVID HENRY DAY.

WOMEN, THE SUFFERERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Reading of Virginia's "dry" town reminds me that her sister city, Eveleth, is "wet" one. Judging from the number of drunken men who staggered down some of the streets, some saloon keeper had been violating the law, and I know positively of two homes made miserable on Easter Sunday from the curse of drink, and one poor woman said with tears in her eyes, "I dread to see Christmas, Easter or even the Sundays come, for they bring nothing but trouble to me, and my husband seems to have less trouble in securing drink on such days." Oh, saloon men, your hearts must be made of iron or you would not cause such misery to poor women and innocent children, and I say shame to those whose duty it is to enforce the law. A WOMAN.

Wife of the Dean (pathetically)—But, my dear, he does.

Meggendorfer Blatter: She—I'm afraid I'm tiring you rather.

He—Oh, not at all. I used to be attendant in the elephant house at the zoo.

Baptist Commonwealth: The eye of a little Washington miss was attracted by the sparkle of dew at early morning. "Mamma," she exclaimed, "it's hotter'n I thought it was."

"What do you mean?"

"Look here, the grass is all covered with perspiration."

The Sketch: "So you think education can become a disadvantage?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Biggins. I'm always having trouble because I inadvertently use words the stenographer can't spell."

Bon Vivant: "Have you lost any money on the races today?"

"No, not a sou."

"Hm, you're lucky."

"Not at all. I had my purse stolen on the way here."

Fliegende Blatter: Dick—If you will give me a penny I will show you the nearest way to the town.

Tourist—Good, my boy! Here it is.

Dick—And if you give me another penny I will show you a nearer way.

"No, sir, I don't," replied the deacon. "You've been preaching on the subject of resignation for two years, an' ye haven't resigned yet."

Kansas City Journal: "Would it be any harm to deceive her about my age?" inquired the elderly millionaire.

"Probably not."

"I'm 60. How would it do to confess to 50?"

"I think your chances would be better with her if you claimed 75."

THE WEATHER

The "isn't-this-just-the-finest-weather?" pest is abroad in the land and there is justification for his attitude. The fine spring weather continues unabated. It's just fine. That's all that can be said about it. The highest temperature yesterday was 58 deg. and the lowest last night was 36 deg. The postponed Easter fashion parade will take place tomorrow, fair weather being promised.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:45 and it will set at 6:38, giving twelve hours and fifty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comments on weather conditions:

"A storm of considerable intensity is developing over extreme Western Canada. It has caused rain or snow in Saskatchewan, Western Montana, Oregon and Washington, and warmer weather throughout the Middle West and Northwest. High temperatures prevail in Western South Dakota and Southeastern Montana. The barometer is highest over Eastern Ontario. Easterly winds are the rule in the Lake region.

"Indications favor more or less cloudiness at the Head of the Lakes during tonight and Sunday."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

A Handsome Edition.

The Minneapolis Journal issued a special "Greater Northwest number" Thursday that is in a class by itself. It is a stupendous undertaking, carried out most ably. The edition includes a hundred pages, eighty of which are in a handsome magazine form, of newspaper size, with colored cover. The territory covered by the voluminous and well-written descriptive matter extends from Lake Superior and the Mississippi to the Pacific coast, including Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, and the Canadian Northwest. This empire includes 2,000,000,000 square miles, one-fifth of the area of the United States. It is the home of 8,000,000 people, and 120,000,000 acres of public lands await settlement and development within its borders. The edition includes articles on grain and milling, finance, lumber, manufacturing, mining, jobbing, etc. Special articles describe Duluth and the Twin Cities, the one on Duluth, a lucid and adequate presentation, having been written by Maj. H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club. Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and the Canadian Northwest are treated separately, and there are articles on the Minnesota iron ranges and the Great Northern Power company. Lavishly illustrated, well written and beautifully printed, the edition is a delight to the eye and a luminous treatment of a great subject.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Giving as You Go Along.

We folks with modest purses stand in awe today in the presence of some of the mighty benefactions of our time. To be able to give $1,000,000 at a clip and not feel it, or $50,000,000; to be able to pension a lot of ageing college professors, to plant libraries all over the land, to subsidize on a royal scale, a host of struggling educational institions, and last, but by no means least, to do an unprecedented thing in the annals of benevolence, namely, to make over prospectively the hugest fortune in the country for the ends of human relief and betterment—ah, what would we not give to be able to pour out money like that! Such lavish giving makes the half dollar we put into the contribution box last Saturday look like 30 cents or less.

But wait a bit. Do you realize that there are some great disadvantages in such tremendous benefactions? In the first place your motives are likely to be misunderstood. "He's doing it," people say, because he wants to affix his own name forever to some school building or library. Another set of critics cynically remark that no matter how much Mr. Money Bags gives away he is sure to reserve an ample supply for himself and his heirs and these critics unfeelingly declare that it won't make a particle of difference with him personally. He will have just as many estates in this country and Scotland as he had before and he won't have to forego a single golf stick.

Even more heartless comment is passed to the effect that all this money really belongs to the public, having been filched from them in one way and another and that Mr. Money Bags is only making tardy restitution to the people or the heirs of the people whom he himself has mercilessly and systematically squeezed.

I am stating these various criticisms not to justify them, but to emphasize the point that the wisest and most effective kind of benevolence is that which waits not for great accumulations but utilizes the opportunity afforded by today. This is the kind on which our great missionary and philanthropic enterprises have relied chiefly in the past. They have done their splendid work in this and other lands largely because they were made the almoners of a vast multitude of small gifts, and they were all the more precious gifts because so large a proportion represented toil and sacrifice. They were the sort of gift and represented the kind of giving which the Saviour commended when one day he saw a plainly dressed widow step shyly up to the treasury and put in her mite for, said he: "She hath given out of her poverty even all that she had."

We make a great mistake when we hold our generous impulses in leash until we have a big pile of money to dispose of. That day may never come and even if it should we must not lose, as we go along, the education and the joy that arise from giving out of even slender resources.

In His wise wisdom God has innumerable uses for just such little gifts the fruit of thought and love and sacrifice. A thousand pities it would be if the world should become so full of generous millionaires tumbling over one another in their haste to give away money that the day laborer who loves God and his fellowmen or the seamstress who, as she stitches away, is cheered by the thought of her little investments in home or foreign missions, should come to feel that their little offerings were not needed or were overlooked by their Father in heaven. In the long march of the years the kingdom of God could get along better without the millionaires than with them.

TRIMMING HIS CLAWS

By SAVOYARD

Joseph G. Cannon, a czar, was a Democratic asset; Joseph G. Cannon, a martyr, is a Democratic liability, and only the other day, when the Democrats of congress pulled the "insurgents' chestnuts out of the fire, it was but the execution of an additional post obit by that incorrigible prodigal, the Democratic party. Do not understand me as indorsing Cannonism, though I do love old Joe, the man. His ism is but the further progress of Reedism, which was only an advance of Randallism. All of them served to take from what ought to be the greatest parliamentary body on earth the vital principle of legislation, which is deliberation.

But here is what the Democrats ought to have exacted of the insurgents. Champ Clark should have gone to Mr. Norris and laid it down this way. "You demand that we Democrats shall deliver old Joe into your hands. All right, but as a condition precedent, you must deliver that piece of Cannonism, Schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich tariff, into our hands. Of course it is not in order under the rules; neither is your proposition in order; but anything can be made to order by a majority of this house. If you will vote with us to reduce the infamous taxation of Schedule K 50 per cent, then we will vote with you to annihilate old Joe. If you refuse, it remains a family quarrel among the 'regulars' and the 'insurgents' on the Republican side and we shall sit mute as the dog fight proceeds, cheering both sides. Why the devil don't you insurge? I offer you a chance."

Had Clark said that March 17 on the floor the country would have understood it, and it would have electrified the country. But he let the opportunity slip, and now the insurgents are set right with their insurging constituents and the thing may cost the Democrats the next congress.

"I was disappointed in old Joe. It was a mistake to yield to the importunity of his friends. His only possible course was to resign. When Tom Reed was in a like situation he wrote his resignation as a member but tore it up when the vote sustained his ruling by a majority of two or three. It was an appeal from the first ruling he made counting a quorum. Cannon intended to resign, and I doubt not that he will ever regret that he was dissuaded from it.

Of course it would have brought legislative chaos if old Joe had resigned. Doubtless he and his would have made Champ Clark speaker, and Champ would have been the biggest fool in the world to have accepted it. Clark's play and his party's play would have been to make Victor Murdock speaker, explaining that it was an insurgent victory and to the victor belong the spoils.

That would have split the Republican party wide open and every regular with a particle of self-respect would have resigned his committee assignments. Murdock then would have appointed the committees, or delegated that office to the new committee on rules. In the final vote, that on the Burleson resolution to declare the office of speaker vacant, all the insurgents, but nine, played a miserable part. After cussing old Joe as a thousand sorts of a reprobate they again voted for him for speaker of the American congress. Was there ever a situation like it?

The Taft administration is having a time with the maximum and minimum feature of the Payne tariff. First they tried it on Germany and the papers were full of a tariff war with Germany, but Germany stood pat, asserting her right to enter into reciprocity trade negotiations with France or Italy or any other state. Then the president issued his proclamation giving to Germany our minimum. Immediately every cuckoo in America gloried in a great victory for our tariff.

Old John B. Thompson told of how two guests of a tavern at Bardstown got into a quarrel and one kicked the other down stairs. The man who was kicked picked himself up and with an air of triumph said: "I licked you that time." That is the way we licked Germany in January.

And that is the way we licked France last week, and will lick Canada next week. The fact is the law is impossible of execution without more or less commercial ruin. What is it? In plain English we said to Germany that if she made a commercial treaty with another nation that we did not like we would punish her for it by fining her merchandise 25 per cent additional at our custom houses. Germany answered that she was ready for the trade war that meant. So did France give like answer, and in both cases we receded. I predict the squabble with Canada will be settled the same way.

And the Payne-Aldrich bill was thus impudent in face of the fact that we had a reciprocity treaty with Cuba that would have made excuse for any other nation to put a "maximum" to us. The insolence of our tariff was never so well illustrated as in the maximum and the minimum of the Payne law, but it is impotent, a dead letter.

As for Canada, there ought to be absolute free trade with that country. Every argument that can be brought for a tariff between Ohio and Ontario would serve for a tariff between Ohio and Tennessee. If free trade between Tennessee and Ohio is good for both states, then it follows as day the night, that free trade would be good between the Dominion of Canada and the Republic of the United States.

About Sixty years ago we entered upon a trade reciprocity with Canada to the material profit of both countries. Our big war came on and it appears that Canada was a Southern sympathizer, though she furnished thousands o fsoldiers to the Union cause. Not long after the war between the states that reciprocity treaty expired and Canada sought to renew it, but our congress said Canada was a rebel in our war and refused. After many years, Canada got to the place where she could get along better without us than we could get along without her. She was thoroughly independent, and that is why she is talking so "sassa" to the Taft administration about the Payne "maximum and minimum" this moment.

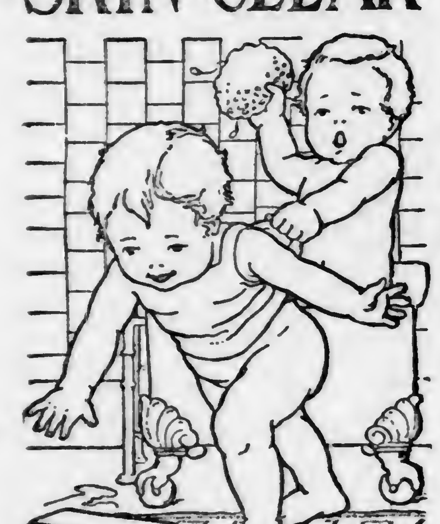

And that recalls a scrap of history. Washington and the other fathers succeeded in our Revolutionary war because a majority of the people of England wanted them to succeed and rejoiced over every "rebel" victory. Had England been united then, as she was against the Boers, some six score years later, the result would have been different.

When the treaty of peace was made, Wedderburn wanted to "throw in Canada," and John Adams was for taking it; but Washington suggested that would make a difficulty with France, who would demand Canada as indemnity for the aid we got from her.

If the French flag had remained in Canada—if Cape Breton and Quebec had been French victories—our fathers would not have rebelled in 1776, though the taxation had been ten times what it was.

But Canada, before this country is half done with this world, will be a mighty nation of teeming millions of freemen, talking our tongue, and illustrating that the Anglo-Saxon is the only world-conqueror.

THE SCAR. A novel of the New South. By Warrington Dawson. Boston: Small, Maynard & Co. $1.50.

This uncommonly able novel has an unusual history. It is one of the products of Col. Roosevelt's present tremendous vacation. An American story by an American writer, it was published in England, and had wide vogue in Europe before it was heard of in this country. Col. Roosevelt found it when he went abroad, and thought so much of it and of another novel by the same author, "The Scourge," that he wrote an editorial about them for the Outlook, in which he said that "it seems rather queer to go abroad and discover an American author," and added: "In each volume a Northerner, in the first a woman and in the second a man, is thrown into intimate contact with the members of a proud caste of provincial aristocrats, who have been slowly sinking under the burden of grinding poverty, whose poverty-stricken lives are both hardening and narrowing, but in whose strongly individualized natures there dwell qualities and capacities of the highest kind. It is in his study of these native Southern whites—both men and women, both those who are painfully struggling upwards and those whom an iron fate is slowly forcing downward—and in his studies of the dark-skinned alien race standing so utterly aloof from them, that Mr. Dawson excels; and it is not necessary to agree with all his conclusions in order to appreciate the value of his work. * * * I have no intention of writing a criticism of Mr. Dawson's two books; but it is worth while calling attention to the fact that this author, who writes with power and interest of vital home matters, has his critics and his audience abroad, but has neither critics nor audience at home. He should have both."

After that, it is not surprising that the publication of this book in America should eventuate; and the well-known Boston house which publishes "The Scar" announces that "The Scourge" will follow in the fall.

And that both audience and critics will follow the publication of these books is a safe prophecy. The pictures they give of Southern life in regions laid waste by war are masterly. The sketches of local characters, black and white alike, are the work of a strong hand. Though evidences of an unaccustomed touch are evident in the conception and construction of the plot the story is broadly and deeply human, and cannot fail to interest. The atmosphere is depressing, pessimistic; in that respect the story is decidedly unpleasant. But the story is so truly a work of literary art that it grips the interest firmly. A reading of the book justifies Mr. Roosevelt's enthusiasm. It is a striking picture of the "scar" left by war, and back of that by the deterioration of white men's fiber by the slavery that gave rise to the war.

Belinda Carewe, a charming young teacher of English, unexpectedly found herself fated to "personally conduct" a party of seven on a European tour, though she declared in despair that she "didn't know a sixpence from a gulden," that she was "mere putty in the hands of a cabman," that she "wouldn't dare to give a head waiter less than $1"; and that as for railroad tickets, "heaven knows where I'd buy them for, if I had to do it in any language except English." In her party was John Courtney, a fine young American who had been across at least once a year for ten years, but who came with his charming old aunt and pretended to need to be personally conducted because he had seen Belinda enjoying the spring and her own beauty, sitting under an apple tree looking in a hand glass. She hated Courtney, first because he had surprised her in her self-admiration, and second because he had enlisted in the party by letter, and she had expected to see an old man with a liver, like Mr. Perkins, who was also a member of the party. It was a merry party, and it had a merry time. Mrs. Bagby's dry, common sense humor is a quaint kind of chorus to the comedy. Belinda felt bound to regard Courtney as an odious creature for the reasons named, and also because she was led to believe that he, a poor man, was trying to capture Amelia Bowers, a rich young beauty, with an appetite and enthusiasms, but not much brains. A count and an earl were in the play to turn the heads of the young girls and to complicate the slender but delightful plot. How they dodged Baedeker page after Baedeker page of sights for livelier doings in Touraine and Brittany, while propinquity and misunderstanding spun pretty love stories, makes up an entirely charming and deliciously amusing tale.

THE RED HOUSE ON ROWAN STREET. By Roman Doubleday. Boston: Little, Brown Co., $1.50.

Hugh Burton had gone half way across the continent to ask Leslie Underwood to reconsider her refusal to marry Philip Overman. He expected to discharge his errand and take the next train back. He didn't. He found Miss Underwood a deliciously beautiful girl, her family a center of piquant mystery. Their home, the Red House on Rowan street, was a hotbed of it. The Underwoods he found to be an uncommonly interesting family, as will the reader. He found it the object of widespread suspicion and scandal, the result of subtle and mysterious persecution. Queer things were done and blamed to the Underwoods. From merely fantastical though irritating humor, the persecution thickened to crime. Burton, first thing he knew, was in the thick of it and had to stay and straighten it out. Telling about how he did it makes an exceptionally entertaining novel, and the best and most convincing mystery tale recently published.

CALEB TRENCH. By Mary Imlay Taylor, author of "The Reaping," "The Impersonator," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.50.

Diana Royall, a proud Southern beauty who effectually concealed her beauty of soul beneath a resplendant but haughty beauty of face and form, received Caleb Trench, the young Northern storekeeper who called to return 6 cents in change that he had kept by mistake, walking seven miles to do it, with amused contempt. Yet she was conscious of receiving an impression of a personality stronger than hers, and of coming out of the meeting with a discontented appreciation that she had the worst of it. Thus is opened the story of a sharp conflict between this Northern poor man of good family who had gone South to seek his fortune and who by his simple strength and humanity made himself a power that had to be reckoned with, and the caste tradition of the South. Seeking no political glory for himself, he arrayed against the corrupt state administration the scattered forces of the people, even though this meant coming into active hostilities with Diana's family. Trench was studying law while keeping store and stirring up the people, and incidentally arraying against him the class prejudice of his aristocratic neighbors. He had a man's work before him, and he did it like a man, simply, but irresistibly. Scandal touched his name, and the assassination of a candidate for governor was laid at his door; but he fought his way through it all to triumph in the end. It is a strong story of a strong man. Its characters are well drawn, its descriptions of the conditions surrounding them are absorbingly convincing, and the story is well told. With plenty of excitement and a charming love theme, it is certain to interest.

Dreaming one day, over the score of "Das Rheingold," of the Nibelungs, "strange creatures who live in the deep caves of the ground, and being blind to beauty, spend their lives in digging for gold," it occurred to the teller of the tale, a poet and idealist, that perhaps our civilization, in which bigness is mistaken for greatness and greediness for power, might be nothing but a larger Nibelheim, "without the excuse of darkness." Speculating thus, he drowsed, and woke up in Nibelheim, before Alberich, king of the Nibelungs, who told him of his bad grandson Hagen, son of the Hagen of the "Ring of the Nibelungs," and asked his advice about caring for the lad. He brings Hagen back to earth with him and gives him a chance at educating himself, which he uses by learning what he wishes—always choosing practical matters—and by setting the school in an uproar. Educated, after his own inclinations, Hagen goes to New York and wins power as "Jimmy O'Hagen" of Tammany Hall. Alberich dying and leaving him his vast stores of wealth, Hagen turns Republican, exposes Tammany, builds mansions, prepares to marry an heiress, and sets about gathering into his own grasp all the power of earth by the use of his limitless wealth. Violent death ends his plans.

Hagen discovers that honesty is simply a device by which the few who take most of the wealth the many create are protected in the enjoyment of their unfair portion; that religion and politics are simply schemes to fool the mob. It is a striking and impressive fantasy, drawn with the vigor and sometimes undiscriminating power possessed by the author of "The Jungle." Hagen typifies Capitalism, and the conception is the vivid product of a Socialist's brain. Hagen teaches that the framework of society, being built upon an economic system that helps a few to seize control, binds humanity to the service of property. It is a fiery, jacobinical document, and worth reading, whether as fuel for the flames of revolt or as fuel for amused interest.

Of Books and Writers.

In "A Modern Chronicle," Winston Churchill's new novel, which is to be published at once by the Macmillans, the author has revealed himself as a portrayer of women. Chief among those of this sex in the story stands Honora Leffingwell, the heroine. Accounting for some of her peculiarities of instinct on the ground of heredity—for both of her parents were of a highly individual nature—he directs the course of her life in a strictly logical manner. Honora promises to be an interesting study in motives, for she is said to be a typically modern woman with more complexity of character than any other of Mr. Churchill's heroines. Besides Honora, the book contains several other women, all of whom are well drawn and distinguished by highly individual personalities.

The reappearance in "An Interrupted Friendship" of Felix Rivarez, the character whom Mrs. Voynich made the hero of her former novel, "The Gadfly," has been the subject of considerable discussion of late. Undoubtedly, the author's earlier delineation of him has left a very deep impression. That she has added materially to this in her new book, the magazines would seem to indicate. Recognizing the merits of "The Gadfly," they point out that Mrs. Voynich has accomplished the unusual, in that she has written a story which, while it cannot properly be termed a sequel, is concerned with some of the characters of "The Gadfly" and which possesses the same elements of greatness—perhaps even more of them.

B. W. Huebsch, New York, is publishing "Latter Day Sinners and Saints," by Edward A. Ross, professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin. This is a further development of the thesis of the author's earlier volume, "Sin and Society," which was so sensationally successful about two years ago. The first chapter, "Latter Day Sinners," compares the old forms of wrong-doing with the more refined violations of law and morals current today. The second chapter, "Latter Day Saints," presents former ideals of virtue as well as those which have evolved as a result of twentieth century civilization. Prof. Ross' keenness in analyzing social disorders and fearlessness in prescribing remedies are always stimulating.

Doubleday, Page & Co. will publish during April another book by Ellis Parker Butler to be called "The Water Goats and Other Troubles." It will contain three stories, "The Water Goats," "Mr. Billings' Pockets" and "Our First Burglar."

An indication that spring is near at hand lies in the announcement for publication by the Macmillans within a few weeks of three books, the interests of which are all centered in occupations to be followed in the open. The first of these, which will appear the last of March, is "Practical Farming," by Dr. John McLennan, superintendent of farms at the New York School of Agriculture. In this work, Dr. McLennan has embodied the facts which every farmer is anxious to know, and which hitherto have not been discussed in a book of any note. He has included only those subjects with which he has had some personal experience, but his experience has been of a very wide nature. The other two books announced to follow Dr. McLennan's are D. E. Lyon's "How to Keep Bees for Profit," and C. S. Valentine's "How to Keep Hens for Profit."

"Nathan Burke," the new novel by Mary S. Watts, which is to be published by the Macmillans in April, is unusual not only because it is an Ohio novel—the story of an Ohio man in an Ohio town, written by an Ohio woman—but it is equally unusual because it departs from the rut of the ordinary novel in the matter of treatment. The story proceeds in a calm, leisurely manner, never tiring the reader out with a quick succession of sensational events, but depicting life as it really is, letting the action take its natural course. The book is American to the very core and wonderfully human. Its period is that great age of expansion in the history of this country, just following the Mexican and preceding the Civil war.

Anthony Partridge is a comparatively new author who is winning popular favor among club women. Since the publication of Passers-By," the publishers, Little, Brown & Co., have received numerous letters from as separated portions of the country as Maine and North Carolina, New York and Missouri, stating that a discussion of Partridge and his works, "Passers-By," "The Kingdom of Earth" and "The Distributors" was scheduled in the "literary course" and requesting material for papers on the author. Apparently the women's clubs are not all devoted to research among the classics and to delving into the suffrage question since Anthony Partridge is an author of the lighter form of fiction. His latest book, "Passers-By," is listed among the six best sellers.

Little, Brown & Co., announce that each one of their six new novels for 1910, already published, went into its second edition before the day of publication. Among these successful novels are "Passers-By," by Anthony Partridge, now in its seventh edition, and listed among the six best sellers; and "The Up Grade," by Wilder Goodwin, in its sixth edition. March 10, Selma Lagerlof's "Gosta Berling" went into its eleventh edition, and her two more recent works, "The Miracles of Anti-Christ" and "Invisible Links" were again reprinted. Since the popular favor of Selma Lagerlof was shown when she was awarded the Nobel prize of $40,000 in 1909, the demand for her books has been steadily on the increase.

This month B. W. Huebsch, New York, publishes "Health and Suggestion: The Dietetics of the Mind," by Ernst, Baron von Feuchtersleben, translated and edited by Ludwig Lewisohn. This is regarded as a classic in Germany, where it appears on the lists of the most prominent publishers.

Next month B. W. Huebsch will publish John Spargo's "Karl Marx; His Life and Work," and Pfleiderer's "The Development of Christianity." He has also in preparation "Daily Ways to Health," by Emily M. Bishop, (author of "The Road to Seventy Years Young") and Gwyneth K. Roe.

The interest in Mr. Bigelow's "Retrospections of An Active Life," published by the Baker & Taylor company last year, has been so keen in England that it is being published there this present month by T. Fisher Unwin.

The Baker & Taylor company announces that it will publish, as late spring books, the two classics illustrated by the English artist—George Soper—"Lamb's Tales From Shakespeare" and Charles Kingsley's "Water Babies." The books are described as being exmaples of very striking and beautiful illustration, containing a number of artistic pictures in color.

A journalist well known to the craft both in London and Paris—Henry Murray—has written an extraordinarily candid autobiography, which will be published by the Baker & Taylor company this week under the title of "A Stepson of Fortune." The title conveys somewhat the impression that this is a story of vicissitudes and of some misfortunes, but it is pleasant to note that, like good novels, the autobiography has a happy ending.

Concerning "Jude the Obscure," Thomas Hardy's novel which his publishers, Harper & Brothers, are about to issue in their new pocket size edition of his works, not all people will recall that it once bore the title, "Herts Insurgent," and that it was first published sixteen years ago as a serial in Harper's Magazine under that title. Still less is it generally remembered that the first instalment was printed under a title different from both of these—"The Simpletons." This last bearing some confusing resemblance, perhaps, to Charles Reade's "The Simpleton," was changed to "Hearts Insurgent" almost at once. The final change to "Jude the Obscure," made by Mr. Hardy, was productive of a title more in keeping with the quality of his other titles, which, like Meredith's, are properly noted for intellectual content as well as impressiveness of phrase.

A special interest in Hamlin Garland's forthcoming novel, "Cavanagh, Forest Ranger," which the Harpers are bringing out almost immediately, will lie in the fact that the author has a long and intimate knowledge of the forest service and the forest ranger. Mr. Garland has been a close observer of the entire development of the forest service from 1894 to the present day. He rode with Chief Forester Fernow when that officer made his first tour of the White River Plateau in 1894. He has since visited ten of the great national forests of the Rocky Mountains, and has ridden summer after summer with the rangers. He has camped with them, cooked over their fires, watched them at their work and shared their explorations, and now, moved by their valian activities, has produced a romance with one of them for a hero. The man Cavanagh, one is given to understand, represents the "new West"—the law-abiding West—in opposition to what Mr. Garland has termed "the old West of unrestrained passion, wasteful greed and cynic disregard of human life." The fact that Gifford Pinchot has written a preface to "Cavanagh" is further witness to its author's enthusiasm for the national forests.

Booth Tarkington, who only a few dags ago came back from Indiana, did so on account of another new play which he and Harry Leon Wilson are writing between them. Since the stage success of "The Man From Home," which was supplemented by a literary success when the Harpers made a book of it, these two writers have been prolifically occupied at playwriting to the exclusion of almost all else. "I hope some day to get back to writing books," said Mr. Tarkington, recently, and added that the writer can take but a small part in the making of a play, while with a book he can "be himself and say what he pleases." This notably successful author relates how he wrote for five years before he had a single manuscript accepted. During those five years his earnings were just $67, of which the major portion came from a relative "for services rendered," $20 from the sale of a drawing, part represented two prize essays, "and the rest," concludes Mr. Tarkington, "was earned shoveling snow for the neighbors."

Among the Magazines.

The special features of the April number of the American Review of Reviews are the stirring account of New York's anti-tuberculosis campaign under the watchword, "No Tuberculosis in New York State in 1920!" by John A. Kingsbury; a message to the nation on "The Advance of Forestry in the United States," by Forester Graves, the successor to Gifford Pinchot at the head of the forest service; an Englishman's frank comments on King Edward's attitude in England's time of crisis, by W. T. Stead; a tribute to Norway's poet-reformer, Bjornstjerne Bjornson, by Edwin Bjorkman; a timely article on Halley's comet (with photograph of the comet), by Prof. S. A. Mitchell of Columbia university; a graphic summing up of "Lessons from Western Fruit Culture for the East," by Agnes C. Laut; and a comprehensive survey of "The Public Finances of Great Britain," by Frederic Austin Ogg.

Upon the cover of The World's Work for April appears a picture of the mammoth dome which is to form the civic center of a revolutionized Chicago. The plan of this future city beautiful is explained in a prominent article. Besides the story of "Chicago—Its Struggle and Its Dream," the number contains a dozen or more articles of uncommon interest. Among these is an article by William Bayard Hale, entitled "The Speaker or the People?" which gives a deep insight into the peculiar power possessed by Joseph G. Cannon, autocratic ruler of congress. A remedial and instructive article on "The Future of Our Waterways" forms the final installment of James J. Hill's series, "Highways of Progress," which have been running in the five preceding numbers. Elihu Vedder concludes his "Reminiscences" in this number with an account of the circumstances attending his Omar Khayyam drawings, the celebrated artist's masterpiece.

Miss Mary Johnston, the distinguished novelist, strikes some hard blows for the advancement of woman's cause in the Atlantic for April. Her paper on "The Woman's War" is a strong counter to Mrs. Deland's much-discussed paper of last month. This issue of the Atlantic opens with a discussion of "Waterways and Railways," by Logan G. McPherson, which will give small comfort to the advocates of expending millions on the development of inland waterways. Another topic appealing to the pocketbooks as well as to the common sense of Americans is a concrete discussion of rising prices by W. Martin Swift. "The Religion of the Present," by Dr. George A. Gordon is an interesting statement of those articles of faithwhich still go to make up the creed of the intelligent layman of today. Variety and lightness are given to the number by a dainty little paper on "Irish Fairies," by Sarah N. Cleghorn, an inimitable theological discussion reported by E. V. Lucas, Yone Noguchi's Oriental "Appreciation of Lafcadio Hearn," a delightful account of housekeeping in London, by Elizabeth R. Pennell, and "The Ways of Pleasantness," by Beulah B. Amram.

"Success Magazine" for April commences with a charming story by Rupert Hughes, entitled "Tth! Tth! Tth!" The "B-Flat Trombone," is the first of a series of absorbing detective stories by Samuel Hopkins Adams. There is a delightful funny short story by Hugh Pendexter, entitled, "Going Home to Mother's," and an interesting tale of an international love affair by Mary Heaton Vorse called "The Well Beloved." The great serial romance, "The Shears of Destiny," by Leroy Scott is continued in an exciting installment. Charles N. Crewdson has another tale of the road to tell under the name of "The Helping Hand." An optimistic feature of the month is a health article by Walter Weyl, "America Getting Well," "The Moving Picture Revolution," by Glenmore Davis, shows the amazing growth of this industry and what it has done to the theatrical business. "Our National Game," is the title of a humorous baseball story by Ellis Parker Butler.

Among the stories contributed to the April issues of the Youth's Companion are two in the "industrial danger" series which certainly afford the reader the sensation of dreadful suspense as few stories do. Particularly is this true of the one entitled "Larsen's Caryatid Act." It is by C. E. Dingwall whose recent story in the Companion of "The Derrick and the Wind" held the reader breathless, almost persuaded that he was actually viewing the peril of the man in the air. This new story is likewise of a derrick man, placed in a singular situation of frightful danger.

As an example of a well-balanced and thoroughly readable periodical, the April number of Lippincott's Magazine takes very high rank. The first offering is a strong and breezy complete novel, "Her Italian Prince," by Mrs. John Van Vorst, who wrote "Letters to Women in Love" and "Bagsby's Daughter." This is a romance of Paris and the Riviera, and, as its title indicates, it has to do with the experiences of a charming young American heiress who is wooed by royalty. The tale is mostly pure comedy, but there is a tragic touch or two as well. The Baroness Von Hutten contributes a short story, "The Portrait of a Parson," which has all the charm of "Pam," "Beechy," and her other famous longer works. Other noteworthy short stories are "Through Hoops of Fire," by Grace MacGowan Cooke and Caroline Wood Morrison; "The Confidante," by Elizabeth Maury Coombs; "Jenkins of the Appleby Scimitar," by Will Levington Comfort, author of "Routledge Rides Alone"; "The Mob," by Eleanor Mercein Kelly; and "The Rise of Genevieve," by Stanley Olmsted.

As spring comes around again, the Woman's Home Companion lifts its own standard another degree with its Easter issue. The cover design, by Fanny Y. Cory strikes a true April note which is faithfully carried out in the entire magazine. A full page painting by Balfour Ker, is one of the tenderest subjects ever attempted by this artist, and "Old-Time Gardens in the Connecticut Valley," by Charles Edward Hooper, with illustrations by Herman Pfeifer, is an unusually artistic feature. "The Campaign of Hope," the tireless fight against tuberculosis, is waged with undiminished enthusiasm and is awakening people throughout the country. "The Empty House," a story in two parts by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, has its first enthralling installment in this number. It is a story for every woman with a busy, self-sacrificing husband to read. "The House of Healing," by Juliet Wilbor Tompkins is gaining new friends with every chapter, and short stories of unusual humor and charm and power fill out the list of fiction.

Scribner's Magazine for April contains some beautiful color printing, the frontispiece being a reproduction of a painting by Charles A. Winter. The reproductions of Mr. Linson's pictures are also very attractive. Mr. Roosevelt's seventh article, "Hunting in the Sotik," contains some very striking pictures of live game by Kermit. He succeeded in getting photographs of giraffe, a family of rhinos, several bunches of wildebeeste fighting, a wounded lioness about to charge, and a huge rhino "coming on." Three interesting personalities in music, painting and drama are the subjects of separate articles: Richard Hoffman concludes his "Musical Recollections of Fifty Years" with much about Jenny Lind, including a remarkable unpublished letter written in 1853. He also has reminiscences of Von Buelow, Thalberg and Gottschalk. "The Portraits of Carrol Beckwith" make a fine artistic showing and reveal how intimately he has expressed the people of the city in which he has painted so successfully for thirty years. Clyde Fitch furnishes the text to Walter Prichard Eaton for a discussion of "The Dramatist as a Man of Letters." He gives a careful appraisal of much of Mr. Fitch's work from the theatrical point of view.

The contents of April 10-Story Book are of a character varied and unusual all timely and spicily written. "Why Did She Carry On Like That?" by Elwell V. Folsom is a clever skit based on the back-to-nature dances, now so much in vogue. Another stab at society, so-called, is "Mme. Frizzelli Finds Two Easy Marks" by Garrard Harris, and tells how two rival leaders finally outwitted a clever confidence woman. In a far different vein are "A Magnate and His $100,000 Stenographer" by E. E. McQuillan, and "The Pink Garter," by H. Forrest, each detailing some unusual experiences of business men, inside and out of their offices.

Writing in the issue of Harper's Weekly for March 26, Sydney Brooks tells of the boy scouts movement in England and the remarkable rules that govern the organizations which it has created. In "Through the 'Black Laundry'" Thaddeus S. Dayton describes the elimination of the dishonest "scalpers," in whose offices used railroad tickets were plugged, bathed in acids, stamped and resold—one as many as 243 separate times. E. W. Kemble contributes a humorous article, with its own illustrations, entitled "Finnerty on the 'Old Masters.'" George Jean Nathan describes the "fool schools" in which railroad employes are taught how to handle "difficult" passengers.

FROM THE MINES AND THE SMELTERS

BISBEE MINES ARE ACTIVE

Oliver Shaft of Calumet & Arizona Being Retimbered —Junction Cuts Another Big Body of Sulphides —Shattuck Shipping High Grade Ore.

Bisbee, Ariz., April 2.—The Oliver shaft of the Calumet & Arizona is being retimbered in three places by three crews of three shifts. There is one crew working from the ninth to the eighth; another from the 400-foot up. To men on the 400-foot are the 400 feet up. The men for retimbering a shaft. This shaft is a four compartment one and the old timbers have to be taken out and new ones put in their place. This is going on at the rate of seven sets every twenty-four hours. While the shaft is out of commission mechanics are overhauling and bracing up the "dinky" hoist.

The Irish Mag looks lively at present, on account of the men, ore, supplies, etc., for the Oliver having to be hoisted through this place, giving the hoisting department a great amount of extra work to perform. This will have to be done for nearly two weeks yet, then the Oliver shaft will be ready for hoisting.

The Briggs shaft of the Superior & Pittsburg has reached 1,200 feet, a station has been cut, a pump is being placed and a drift is headed for the Junction and Hoatson. The Junction on the 1,500-foot cut into another big body of sulphides in drifting out towards the Briggs shaft. This level, the 1,500-foot, shows ore in all its drifts and crosscuts. This shaft is certainly making good.

At the Shattuck they are hoisting 300 mine cars of ore every twenty-four hours. This is a high-grade oxide of cuprite and copper glance.

The ores from this place are the highest grade in the district and are averaging better than 20 per cent "cu," besides the bi-metals which they carry. This ore comes from the 500 and 600-foot levels, while the producers before the slump were the 700, 800 and 900-foot levels. The 900-foot level has tons of good sulphide ore in sight. There is also considerable ore ready for stoping in the 700 and 800-foot levels. It is said that at present the Shattuck is earning more than the Copper Queen, the Superior & Pittsburg or the Calumet & Arizona. The stopes are being timbered by stulls which is a large saving over the square set system. This can be done here on account of the nature of the occurrence of the ore, which occurs in folds, seams and blanket formations in the lime.

At the Denn, there are eight drifts going now on the 1,350-foot level and if the ore is on this level it should be found. There are three shifts of men at work underground and rapid headway is being made. The boilers are being retubed and the steam plant is going through a great many improvements. There are now eight Atlas boilers of 160 horse-power and the two big marine boilers of 280 horse-power each, giving the Denn a total steam power of 1,800 horse-power, and at present they are using 1,500 of it. The underground water flow is about the same as it has been for the past six weeks. There is a big Prescott station pump lying on the surface, in case of emergency, at present the boilers are consuming a carload of oil daily.

OPENS VEIN ON BLACKBIRD

Best Results Yet Obtained in Opening of Arizona-Michigan Property—Williams Shaft of the National Thirty Feet in Ore.

Globe, Ariz., April 2.—The development of a four-foot vein on the Black Bird claim of the Arizona-Michigan property is giving the best results yet obtained in the opening of this property, and from the appearance of the vein matter extracted, should open valuable deposits at depth.

A shaft has been sunk more than 100 feet on the vein, which is composed of quartzite highly mineralized with iron and manganese and carrying some silver. The well-defined walls of the vein and the appearance of the filling gives reason for believing that at depth, copper will be among the metals present. The vein is in limestone from the surface to the present depth of the shaft, and dips northerly with an easterly strike. As the copper ore of the Copper Hill district is characterized by a high content of black and red oxides of iron, the vein being opened at the Arizona-Michigan is of particular interest, as it has the appearance of being the leached portion of the fissure vein, and it also has characteristics common to ore-bearing material forming the gauge of the veins thus far developed in various parts of the district.

The south crosscut from the Telfair shaft is 640 feet long, and the advance continues in shale. Since discontinuing the driving in the north crosscut, practically no water has interfered with the work, and good headway is being made in development. About twenty men are employed in operations on the property by Supt. N. A. Nelson.

National.

Since encountering ore at a depth of 640 feet in the Williams shaft of the National Mining Exploration company's property, thirty feet of sinking has been done. At the present depth of 670 feet the same character of ground prevails as at the former depth. The sporadic occurrence of small masses of ore assaying about 3 per cent copper, however, is an encouraging feature of the development work. The shale and quartzite through which the shaft has been sunk from the depth of 600 feet is, as elsewhere in the Copper Hill district, the ore-bearing formation, and is expected to become more productive at greater depth. The present ore occurrences is considered an off-chute from the main vein, which, however, according to estimation, should have been encountered at lesser depth than that of the shaft at present. It is expected that the main vein may be encountered at any time. The high iron content with which the ore occurs continues uniformly throughout the vein. A situation will be cut at the depth of 660 feet, but this will not delay the sinking for more than a few days. The level work will be postponed until the greater depth of the shaft has shown more definitely the character of the ore deposit and the probable extent and location of the main vein.

TAKES VALUABLE PROPERTY

Globe, Ariz., April 2.—The purchase of the Arizona-Colorado property by the Great Eastern Development company, organized and headed by E. M. White, formerly manager of the Warrior Copper company, is one of the most important mining transactions effected in the Globe district during the past year. The conclusion of the deal adds to the list of firmly established companies operating near Globe, a new, strong corporation, capitalized at $500,000, with stock at $10 par and well backed by Eastern capital. The property which changed hands in this deal consists of twenty-one mining claims, located about three miles north of Globe and a comparatively short distance from the Old Dominion smelter.

Although the total price named in the option under which Mr. White took over the property for his company was approximately $900,000, the terms providing for payment of $35,000 in cash at the end of one month and the balance of $225,000 in cash and $650,000 worth of stock at the end of three years are reasonable, in that they give the company ample time in which to develop the property before having to meet the greater part of the payments. As yet, the price at which the stock will be issued has not been determined. Other details also, in connection with the completion of the new organization, remain to be arranged before the Great Eastern Development company will be ready to undertake operations on its mineral land. It is probable, however, that within a few months development work will be begun on a large scale.

TO SINK THE SHAFT DEEPER

Live Oak Expects to Develop Much Greater Acreage of Ore by Sinking Vertical Shaft to the 400-Foot Point.

Globe, Ariz., April 2.—The management of the Live Oak Development company is about to begin sinking its vertical shaft from its present depth of 325 feet to the 400-foot point, where a level will be established and the coordinate system of development by means of drifts and raises will be carried on, as has already been done on the 300-foot level. The bottom of the vertical shaft at its present depth is in good ore, and from all indications the development work so far has been done at the upper extremity of the ore body, so that exploratory work at greater depth may be expected to develop a much greater acreage than has been indicated by the drifting on the 300-foot level.

With the aid of the power drills now in use at the Live Oak mine, four drifts and one raise are being driven at a rapid rate. During the past week, every face of these workings has been in ore, and the daily samples taken have averaged better than 2.5 per cent copper. All the drifting at present is being done on the west side of drift No. 306. Drift No. 308 measures 390 feet and is in an excellent grade of chalcocite ore. Drifts Nos. 314, 310, and 315 measure 32, 314 and 16 feet, respectively, and each one is being driven in ore. The vertical extent of the ore is being proven greater each week by driving of Raise No. 2 from Drift No. 310. This raise measures seventy-five feet and is in chalcocite ore of good commercial grade. Since the machine drills were put in position at Live Oak mine, the driving of each drift is being advanced from twenty-five to fifty feet weekly.

Everything considered, the development work now being prosecuted at the Live Oak is obtaining encouraging results as rapidly as are exploratory operations operations at any of the low grade mines in Miami district.

Warrior.

The churn drills at work on the Montgomery claim of the Warrior Development company's property has attained the depth of 160 feet and the material in which it is being sank at present is dacite.

The Warrior mine is producing high grade ore for shipment at the same rate as in the past, 100 tons of 10 per cent chrysocolla ore being sent to the El Paso smelter daily.

One of the most encouraging features of the development at the present time is the high grade ore being mined in the new stope in the western part of the underground workings and in block No. 40 of the Warrior property. The ore being broken down from that stope is of an exceptionally high grade, and there is every evidence that a big body of ore will eventually be developed there.

AT THE LAKE COPPER MINES

Algomah Mining Company Organized to Develop Property South of the Lake Mine—Large Steel Shaft Rockhouse to Be Erected by Lake—Victoria Shows Little Improvement.

Houghton, Mich., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Houghton and Boston parties have organibed a company to be known as the Algomah Mining company. The new company is capitalized at $2,500,000, in 100.000 shares, $25 par, and has taken title to a tract of 480 acres lying next south of the Lake mine. The property has been opened by shallow pits, but all work has been of a superficial character. It is generally presumed that this tract carries the extension of the famous Lake bed, and it is to locate and develop this lode that the company was organized. The Algomah property is particularly well located, and it is generally expected that a continuation of the rich ground opened in the Lake mine will be found therein. The flotation of the company is expected to take place within a few days and but a limited amount of stock will be offered for public subscription.

North Lake.

The operations of the North Lake company continues centered in diamond drilling, with two drill outfits in service. The No. 7 drill hole, in which a fairly good showing of copper was had in the so-called No. 1 Adventure hole, has recently passed through the No. 2 Adventure lode and found it barren. Diamond drilling at this point will continue until the No. 3 lode or the Eastern sandstone is reached. Results to date have not been particularly encouraging.

Lake.

The Lake Copper company has awarded a contract for a large new steel shaft rockhouse with a capacity to handle upwards of 2,000 tons of rock daily. The erection of the shafthouse will begin at once. The situation in the mine was never so promising than as at the present time. Nine machine drills are in service, engaged in drifting, shaft sinking and raising, and at all points of attack are disclosing copper ground of exceptional richness. The crosscut at the sixth level has entered the Lake bed at a distance of about 225 feet from the shaft. The showing there is much the same as that noted at the several levels above. The width of the lode at this point had been previously determined by diamond drilling and is found to be seventy feet. Rock shipments to the Franklin stamp mill continue at the rate of about 120 tons daily with no attempt being made to force production, shipments being made in preference to dumping this rock on stockpile and thereby necessitating a double handling. The yield per ton of rock milled shows a wide fluctuation, and probably will average around thirty-five to forty pounds of mineral.

Oneco.

The Oneco Nos. 6 and 7 drill holes have both passed through the so-called Torch Lake or Lantern lodes without disclosing copper ground of commercial value and are sinking steadily for the underlying Oneco lode. The Torch Lake lode at other points where diamond drilled showed a very fair amount of copper and it was hoped would show the same or better values at greater depth. The results obtained are therefore rather discouraging with respect to this lode. The Oneco lode, which is yet to be cut at depth has disclosed commercial ground at nearly all other points of attack, and the disclosure of commercial ground at depth in Nos. 6 and 7 holes will practically assure the future of the company on this lode. The interest therefore centers in the development at this point.

New Baltic.

The New Baltic company has driven its No. 3 drill to a depth of 745 feet, where some difficulty was had in making a further progress and in consequence thereof has installed an inch and one-half bit in place of the three-inch bit formerly in service. The smaller bit will allow of more rapid progress and now that drill has resumed it is expected that the east lode whoich was found so sensationally rich in the No. 2 or discovery hole, will be cut in this hole within another ten or two weeks at a depth of, around 800 feet from surface. The No. 3 hole is also designed to furnish data necessary for shaft sinking which work will begin some time within the next two or three months.

Houghton.

The Houghton Copper company, owning a tract of mineral lnads on the Superior lode between the Superior and Isle Royale properties, has succeded in driving a sand pipe to bed rock preparatory to diamond drilling, the object being to determine the strike and dip of the lode across this property rather than as a test for values in the lode. It is planned to sink two shafts upon this property and work on the first will prob-

BUTTE COALITION'S FUTURE

Question as to Company's Share in the Merger Puzzling the Stockholders—Copper Glance in the Butte-Ballaklava—Splendid Development on Eight-Hundred-Foot Level.

Butte, Mont., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—But for the confidence of the Western stockholders of the Butte merger companies have in John D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, and leader of the merger movement, they would feel less easy over the uncertainty and mystery that is yet covering the merger negotiations and plans. Stockholders of the Butte Coalition company are especially "in the air." Coalition was not mentioned in the proposals submitted to the stockholders of the Anaconda company and which were voted on and approved at the recent special meeting in Butte, when the capital stock of Anaconda was increased from 1,200,000 shares to 6,000,000 shares. An offer was authorized, however, to give 500,000 shares of new Anaconda stock for the property of the Red Metal Mining company, and 30,000 shares for the property of the Alice Gold & Silver Mining company, and a control of the Alice company is also in the Coalition treasury. The question that bothers, is where will Coalition come in, and how is it to share in the merger? Coalition is merely a stockholding company, while the title to all the property it has popularly supposed to have is in the Red Metal company. It occupies the same position as Amalgamated, and also the same position that the United Copper company occupied before all the Heinze subsidiary companies sold their mining holdings to the interests now represented by the Red Metal and Butte Coalition company. The Red Metal or Coalition mines are beyond all question the best properties owned by the Butte merger, and the Coalition stockholders think they should get a very good deal on the exchange proposition.

Utah stockholders of the Alice company claim that the merger will not be able to get title to the Alice mines, though it may continue to exert control through stock ownership. The Alice company was incorporated under the laws of the terrtiory of Utah thirty years ago under a fifty years charter. One of the provisions of the charter, and laws under which the Alice was incorporated, is that the company can not sell its property without the consent of every stockholder. That law was framed for the protection of the minority shareholders, but it will not prevent the merger from offering Anaconda stock in exchange for Alice stock to all Alice shareholders who may care to make the exchange.

Butte-Ballaklava.

Underground development in the Butte-Ballaklava mine is keeping pace with the splendid improvements which recently have been made in the surface equipment, and within the next two weeks, or as soon as the new electrically-driven hoist can be placed in commission, the Butte-Ballaklava company will be in position to commence regular shipments of high-class ore at the rate of from 500 to 600 tons a day.

Last Thursday the west drift on the 800-foot level opened into one of the finest deposits of copper glance in the Butte hill. The vein is showing a width of about nine feet, and while it is all in ore, there is two feet of pure copper glance, and as the drift proceeds the ore body is steadily widening out. Besides the two feet of glance, the whole face of the drift is showing glance mixed with ore of a lower grade, and there is every evidence, from the general formation, that the next few shots will show a width of at least fifteen feet of the higher grade ore, and from the developments on the level above there is immense stoping ground.

In the east drift on the same level there is now eleven feet of ore which will average about 10 per cent copper, with from fifteen to twenty ounces of silver to the ton, and the ore body is widening out. In this ore body there is a considerable amount of copper glance and bornite, and it is the opinion of the company's engineer that with further drifting the ore body will develop into copper glance, the same as in the west drift.

The same vein is being opened up on the 900, 1,000 and 1,200-foot levels by raises, and on these levels the showing is excellent, although on the lower levels no drifting has yet been done to prove the extent of the ore body.

Owing to the limited capacity of the hoist now in use, only the ore that is encountered in the work of development is being lifted to the surface, but at this the company is making frequent shipments. The ore bins are full, the ore being all first class and averaging close to 10 per cent copper, with good silver values.

The new hoist, with double drum, and with capacity for sinking to a depth of 3,000 feet, is completed and waits only the arrival of the 350-horse power electric motor to place it in commission. Both of the working compartments of the shaft will then be used.

C. W. Newton, superintendent of the property, who is largely responsible for the splendid development of the mine up to the present time, is highly elated over the developments of the past few days on the 800-foot level, and has proved his theory of the location of the rich ore bodies.

Mines in Good Condition.

While production in the Butte district is still under restriction and curtailment, all the mines are in exceptionally good condition. B. B. Thayer.

LAKE SUPERIOR IRON MINES

Gigantic Growth of the Industry Since First Shipment Was Made Through Soo Locks in 1855—First Mining Was Done Ten Years Previously on the Marquette Range.

Humboldt, Mich., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—From the time that the first cargo of ore was shipped through the locks at the Soo in June, 1855, only a few weeks previous to which the first ship canal around the rapids of the St. Mary river was completed, the iron industry of the Lake Superior region has progressed in strides of most gigantic measures. From a production of 1,400 tons in 1855 the annual output had grown to 42,200,000 tons last year, and it is expected to exceed 50,000,000 tons this season.

Iron ore in the Lake Superior region was first discovered in 1844 at what is now the city of Negaunee, Marquette range. The first mining was done in 1845, and the first shipment was made the following year, it consisting of five tons sent to Newcastle, Pa., where it was smelted, surprising the founder by the altogether exceptional amount of iron returned. The difficulty and expense of getting the product to the furnaces was so great, however, that it was not until the state of Michigan built the first ship canal at the Soo that the annual shipments amounted to more than two or three hundred tons. It was necessary to haul the ore by ox-wagons from the mines to Marquette, a distance of twelve miles over a rough corduroy road, and then send it by sloop to the Soo, where it was transferred from the vessel to wagons, drawn by other oxen and laboriously carted to the foot of the rapids for loading into yet another sailing vessel. Another trans-shipment was required at Cleveland, and while the purity of the ore and its ease in smelting set furnacemen on edge to procure more of the wonderful mineral, the cost of transportation precluded shipments.

The first thirty years' history of the Lake Superior iron region is that of the Marquette arnge, which was without a competitor until 1877, when the first mines were opened on the Menominee range. The Gogebic and Vermilion ranges are twins in point of age, for both drew their first breath and shiped their first cargoes in 1884. The Mesaba, the greatest of all the ranges, was opened in 1892. Since the first mine was developed, the Lake Superior region has produced 450,000,000 tons of ore. The output in 1859 was 68,800 tons; it was 639,000 tons in 1869; 1,420,700 tons in 1879; 7,293,000 tons in 1889; 18,251,800 tons in 1899, and 42,200,000 tons in 1909. In that ratio has the production grown.

The First Shipments.

Regarding the ore industry, the first season of the Soo, which in reality marked the beginning of shipments to the lower lakes, interesting facts are given in an article published in the Lake Superior Journal in its issue of Dec. 7, 1855, when the season of navigation had just been closed. The Lake Superior Journal was printed at Sault Ste. Marie, until the fall of 1855, when the plant was moved to Marquette, Mich. The edition of Dec. 7 was the first one issued at Marquette and was No. 26 of Vol. VI. At that time the paper was published weekly during the summer and monthly during the winter months. The Journal says in its issue of Dec. 7, 1855:

"The iron district shows a large amount of business for the current year, considering the disadvantage it has labored under for want of facilities for getting down ore. The work has been chiefly preparatory, such as building roads, docks, warehouses and getting on stock to do business with. This has been done, and the business will soon assume its legitimate importance. The amount of ore shipped during the past season is near 1,400 tons. This may not be considered an item worthy of notice, when compared with the vast deposits existing near this place, but when the reader remembers that this ore was gotten down while the companies were engaged in the work of finishing their road, it will give him some idea of the energy and enterprise brought to bear upon this important interest. But this is not the total business of the iron district. The Collins, Forest and Jackson forges have contributed their share towards the commerce on Lake Superior, swelling the shipments of iron and ore to 2,000 tons. The business that might have been done the past season, had the present facilities been in existence, may be inferred from the fact that the Cleveland company could have sold over 50,000 tons this winter, had that quantity been in market.

Bright Prospects.

"The prospects for the future may be briefly summoned up as follows: The Cleveland company calculate to be able to ship next summer 300 tons of ore per day, arrangements for such a business having been perfected. Propellers and vessels engaged for the service will be put on in the spring. The Jackson company have made similar arrangements and calculate to ship an equal amount. The Eureka company are also busily engaged in the work. Thus it will be seen that

THE NORTH BUTTE EXTENSION

Butte & Superior Company Secures Control, Getting 800,000 Shares for Doing the Development Work —Buys Two Other Important Claims.

Butte, Mont., April 2.—The Butte & Superior Copper company has acquired control of the North Butte Extension Mining company, owner of the Black Crow group of claims, comprising about sixty acres of ground adjoining the Butte & Superior and Berlin groups on the east. The Butte & Superior previously acquired control of the Butte & New York and Butte-Milwaukee companies, owners, as operating and holding companies, of the Col. Sellers group of claims of about eighty acres of ground. It has also taken an option on the Daniel Quilp, lying between and uniting the Butte-Milwaukee and the Butte & Superior properties, from John F. Forbis and others, and has purchased the Narrow Gauge from Dr. Scanland and the Mussigbrod estate. The Narrow Gauge unites the Butte & Superior, Butte-Milwaukee and North Butte Extension properties, giving the Butte & Superior an almost solid lot of ground of about 150 acres.

The North Butte Extension company is capitalized for 1,500,000 shares, of which all but about 500,000 shares are in the treasury. The Butte & Superior company gets 800,000 shares of treasury stock under a contract to pay off the current floating indebtedness of the North Butte Extension, amounting to a small sum only, and to do development work in the Extension ground. The Butte & Superior has agreed to run a drift and crosscut from the 1,600-foot level of the Black Rock mine to connect with the Extension company's shaft on the Black Crow claim, which is down about 600 feet. The company will drift east through the Four Johns claim, owned by the Butte & Superior, through the adjoining Overman claim, owned by the North Butte Extension, and then crosscut north to a point under the Black Crow shaft, afterward raising and connecting with it. By law the North Butte Extension could not sell its treasury stock for less than par, $1 per share, but the Butte & Superior contracts to pay for the stock in work. The latter company also has an option on 100,000 shares more of the Extension company treasury stock. The deal is regarded as a good one for both companies. The Extension company has gone through a variety of discouraging financial troubles and there was no light in sight for the stockholders. Although the Butte & Superior gets the property without laying out much money, it will develop the property and give the stockholders "a run for their money" at least.

The North Butte Extension company, after paying large sums of money on them, has been compelled to forfeit some valuable options, but it still has left a considerable and valuable acreage.

The Butte & Superior company has an arrangement with the Butte-Milwaukee, or Butte & New York, somewhat similar to the arrangement made with the North Butte Extension company, and will drive a long crosscut from the 1,600-foot level of the Black Rock north to connect with the shaft on the Col. Sellers claim. That work has been started, but was suspended some time ago to await the installation of a chippy engine, which was brought down from the Col. Sellers, and will be used as an auxiliary to the big hoisting engine on the Black Rock. The installation is about completed, and when the engine is ready for operation, work will be resumed on the Col. Sellers crosscut and the drifting and crosscutting for the Extension ground will be taken up.

THE GIROUX CONSOLIDATED

Expected That Shipments of Ore Will be Started Not Later Than July 1 and Will be Sent to Pine Canyon Plant.

Ely, Nev., April 2.—The Giroux has completed its new shaft to a depth of 1,200 feet. A station is being cut at this depth for the installation of a pump, as the water is coming in freely and some difficulty is experienced in getting the station work done. It is expected that the station will be completed and the pump placed in working order in a couple of weeks, then there will be no further question about the ability of the company to handle the flow in all portions of the mine.

A considerable amount of underground work is to be done in the Giroux estate before the company will be in a position to begin the extraction of ores on a large scale. Connections are to be made with the Alpha and old workings, that all the ore may be taken out through the new Giroux shaft. The time has not been definitely set for beginning shipments, according to advices received at the local offices of the company, but it stated that within a couple of months it is expected most of the connections will be completed, so that shipments can be started not later than July 1. By that date the International smelting plant will be in readiness to receive Giroux ores.

While nothing official has been given out regarding the matter of sending the Giroux ores to Salt Lake, one of the engineers, who is connected with the Cole-Ryan syndicate, has said that there was no question but that the first shipments would be consigned to the Pine Canyon plant. He stated that it was the intention of the owners to find out what was to be expected in the way of returns on this ore and also to ascertain the best methods to be employed for its commercialization. The copper smelting construction, while not an entirely new problem with the Cole-Ryan crowd, is the first departure from the Butte field they have made to any considerable extent. The International plant is to be given a thorough tryout on copper ores of every character, and while no great profit may accrue to the Giroux properties on the first shipments, it will be a most valuable test with the product and will save the company an immense amount when it constructs its smelting plant near Ely.

COBALT CAMP LOOKING GOOD

Kerr Lake Leads With New High Grade Find and Prospect of Increased Dividend---Crown Reserve Expected to Boom.

Cobalt, Ont., April 2.—The Cobalt region is looking up, and with the improvement come many indications of better market conditions. The spring and summer always are the most attractive mining periods in the camp and the coming of cheap power on the first of this month undoubtedly will bring a healthy advance. There is little doubt that this advance will be maintained, as the mines in the district all are making good showings.

So far this year eight mines in the Cobalt camp have declared dividends. They are Kerr Lake, Crown Reserve, Buffalo, Temiskaming and Hudson Bay, McKinley-Darragh, Nipissing, La Rose Consolidated and Right of Way. The total disbursements for the year are $1,519,016.03, making the grand total from the Cobalt camp since dividends first were declared in the fall of 1905, $14,406,848.83.

There must be added to this the profits shared privately by the O'Brien and Drummond close corporations and by the former owners of the La Rose mine, making a total of nearly $18,000,000.

Taking the record all in all, it is hard to find one to equal it in the history of silver mining.

The leaders of the Cobalt camp in point of improvement is Kerr Lake. It is reported from absolutely reliable sources that the Kerr Lake Mining company will increase its dividend rate to 75 cents per quarter, or $3 a year, at the next directors' meeting. Although this rate may seem excessive at first glance, it should be remembered that the physical conditions of the property are in such splendid shape that disbursements of this magnitude can be made safely for a long time without altering the policy of the company, which has been to place two tons of ore in sight for every ton extracted.

Rich discoveries have been made in Kerr Lake mine within a week. A new vein, eighteen inches wide and

CORBIN DISTRICT BOOMING

Great Number of Properties Being Opened Up Along Broad Lines—Splendid Developments of Past Few Weeks Attract Attention.

Corbin, Mont., April 2.—Renewed activity in the Corbin-Wickes-Amazon district is apparent in every direction. The Boston & Corbin Copper company has made another great strike, showing a vast improvement in the opening up of the high-grade ores, and as drifting proceeds the body of bornite steadily is widening out. Although very little news leaks from official sources, it is learned from miners and others that the developments of the past few weeks have proved up large bodies of first-class ore and immense deposits of concentrating ore. Never before have the Boston & Corbin properties looked so fine, and it is assured that the mine will shortly be one of the great producers of the state, not only of copper ores, but of the silver values.

Montana-Corbin.

In close vicinity to the Boston & Corbin is the property of the Montana-Corbin Copper Mining company, which has been developed to the producing stage. Recently several feet of chalcopyrite ore averaging better than 8 per cent copper and good silver values have been opened up on the 400-foot level, and several carloads have been sent to the Washoe smelter. Within the past few days the north crosscut is in a good quality of ore, showing that a new vein is ready to be developed.

Although not altogether official, statements are made that active development work is to be commenced on the Bird properties and that Boston and Pittsburg capitalists have become interested in these properties to the extent of more than $250,000. The ground has been proved to a considerable extent and some rich values have been uncovered.

Corbin Metal Company.

The Corbin Metal Mining company has opened up an extremely fine body of ore in the shaft at a depth of about 350 feet, with values in copper, silver and gold, that assures the shipping of smelting ore within the next thirty days. The ore body is now being developed and as the work proceeds the values are showing a steady increase. The shaft is to be sunk an additional 350 feet, and the ore body is to be opened and stoped at every 100 feet. The company has ample funds in its

The "Little Mother" of the Prisons

MY "BOYS" WHO HAVE MADE GOOD

(Copyright, 1910, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

THE test of all work must be in its lasting results, and in such a work as that which we have undertaken in the Volunteer Prison league the success accomplished means much more than it would almost anywhere else. If a man, on going forth into the world from prison, proves steadfast and makes good, it sends back a message of hope to all those still waiting for the good day of liberty. A practical message of this kind means more to them than all the theories that can possibly be brought to bear upon them. If, on the other hand, those who go forth before them fail and fall again into crime, their return to prison will bring to the waiting prison population a shadow of gloom and hopelessness deepened and darkened by the thought that they, too, will in all probability fail when their chance and turn come to step out into liberty.

When I first learned the needs, and realized the possibilities represented by the great prison population, I said to my boys that I did not intend to go out into the world with theories and arguments, but that I would refute all pessimistic views concerning the prisoner and his future, confounding their old adage "once a criminal, always a criminal; once a thief, always a thief," with flesh and blood facts. I told them that their lives in the future were to be my argument. Their success, their faithfulness, their integrity would prove to the world that what I believed and proclaimed about them was true, and that I had not bestowed my confidence in vain.

"All Is Well, Little Mother."

These hopes have been wonderfully and widely fulfilled. I do not say that I have always had success. There have been some disappointments, and when these disappointments came they were always very heartbreaking. We also have to face the fact that the ninety-and-nine who do well, and settle down to honest and industrious lives, pass unrecorded in the world, but the one who plunges back into crime is heard of and heralded, so that the few failures are known very widely by the public and the many successes go quietly on their way with no applause or credit marks in their favor. But I can truly say that my heart has been cheered, and my faith rewarded so wonderfully that we can proclaim with sincerity that it has been all well worth while. All over this country, as I travel, I meet those whom I once knew in prison, now living earnest, honest lives. I can call up as I write the faces of a host of those whom I first remember as hopeless and hard and sad, but today they are bright and good, and can meet my eye with a steadfast look and say joyously in answer to my question, "All is well, little mother."

Eight Thousand Graduates.

Of course, in one way, this work can never make a great show or parade before the world. Over 8,000 men have come to me straight from state prison, and passed through our two homes, going out into positions to which we have sent them. This does not count the record of the other homes, nor does it speak of the thousands who have been earnest league members in prison and have gone back to their own homes, there making good to the great joy and pride of their loved ones.

But we cannot gather all this multitude of earnest, honest, reformed men into some vast hall and exhibit them to the public as the living, tangible results of the work. Even if such a thing were possible, I should be the last to wish it; we do not seek this kind of advertisement. We do not wish our boys to become as notorious in their efforts to reform as they were in their past criminal lives. The power of our work is that we build up a man's self respect. We help him to forget the past, to find his place once more as an ordinary working member of society, not marked or ticketed in any way as coming from prison. Nevertheless, in their own little corner of life they are making their mark, and little by little they are making easier the path for those who come after them. Parents write me of how they had lost hope in their son through repeated disappointments, and that they dreaded his return home, but that now, after months or years in which they have watched his new career, they are convinced of his reformation, and happy over his reinstatement. Ministers have repeatedly met me, telling me the story of some member of their congregation who has become an example of good conduct, a teacher in the Sunday school, an earnest member of society, who was once one of my "boys." Judges have written or spoken of men whom they had known and sentenced, whose lives on returning to their native town proved a complete transformation, and they have congratulated the V. P. L. on these living evidences that the work was not in vain.

The very fact that we have been dealing with the most desperate, the very given up men of the criminal world has made these reformations all the more marked in the little communities where they have been known and watched.

Still, there is to me in my work no greater joy than that of the testimony coming to my heart from my "boys'" own lips, and the evidence which I can read when I meet them, which assures me that those lips are speaking truth.

A 12-Year Success.

I was met in New York only last week by one of my "boys' whose life I have watched very closely since the day of his discharge. With a face literally beaming with happiness, he said, "Well, little mother, next week it will be twelve years since I came home, twelve good, happy years." As I congratulated him I realized as no one else could how much that meant to him, and how much it had meant to others to whom his life had been an inspiration. Living the life of a professional crook until he was over 30, he was so many times convicted that if you asked him about the number he would have to stop to count his arrests on his fingers to make sure he missed none of them. He had never made a dollar by honest work in his life until after we sent him out from our Hope hall. Known in Sing Sing during his last term as one of the most profane, hopeless, reckless men, with no home, no friends, no religion, no God. Just a burglar, with heart embittered and full of evil plans and schemes. What has he become? Since the hour that the new heart was given him he has been a bright, hopeful, earnest Christian, trusted and hopeful, earnest Christian, trusted and loved by his employers, a blessing to all who have known him, and one of the cheerfiest souls I ever met. Today he has a happy home, a good wife, two little girls to whom he is absolutely devoted, a good position, which he fills most faithfully, with employers who trust him fully. He has scores of friends, a good name, and plenty of opportunities for stretching forth a helping hand to others who need his help and advice. I have never known him to fail when the chance offered to do some kindly deed for some one else. And yet this man of whom I write was once considered a hopeless, habitual criminal.

From Prison to Affluence.

I had registered in one of the large hotels in Chicago, and, after calling for my mail, walked across the wide entrance hall to the elevator. As I threaded my way through the crowd I became aware that I was being followed. I at once concluded that one of the omnipresent reporters was after me, and, being weary from a night journey, I quickened my steps to avoid a possible interview. As I stepped with several gentlemen into the elevator I knew that I had not evaded my pursuer. The one who had followed me entered the car and slipped behind me. As we shot upward a voice said in my ear: "Little mother, may I intrude? I cannot miss the chance of speaking to you." Turning to receive the card he extended to me, I faced a tall, fine-looking gentleman, evidently a prosperous business man. No one could have guessed from his face or bearing that the shadow of prison bars had ever darkened his life. The card bore his name and business address, and also the number of his room, and he asked me if I would send for him when I could give him fifteen minutes of my time. I offered the next fifteen minutes, for I wanted to hear his story, as the words "little mother" had told me that, incredible though it might seem, he was one of my "boys." When we had found a quiet corner in the parlor he turned to me and, with deep feeling, said: "Little mother, I have been hoping for this moment for years. I cannot tell you how much it means to me. It is over six years now since I saw your face last in one of the Eastern prisons" (he gave the name, which, for obvious reasons, I withhold). "I have known that some day I should get this chance of thanking you for what your message meant of hope and new courage in those dreary years of sorrow and shame. But until today I have never seemed to be in the same city with you in your journeyings. I always make this hotel my headquarters when in Chicago, and I am often here to meet business associates. When I stepped to the desk to register this morning I saw your name before mine. I cannot tell you the thrill it gave me, for I knew that at last I should have the chance to speak to you again. And now that the chance has come, how can I ever thank you?" His voice broke and, strong man though he was, his eyes filled and his lip quavered. Then he told me at length the story, which I give here in brief.

Story of His Success.

He left prison to return to the wife who had patiently and bravely kept a home for him. He was a gentleman by birth and education, and before his downfall he had been well thought of by his business acquaintances. He made a very definite resolve during those bitter years in prison that he would go forward to live an upright life, and to prove steadfast, whatever the future held for him. He determined that he would never lie about his prison experience, never seek to avoid or cover up the past when honesty demanded that he speak of it frankly. He would not proclaim it to the world, or to those who were not concerned, especially as his two children had never known of his downfall but that any who were closely associated with him in business should not be kept in the dark he considered the only safe and just course. Despite this fact he found many friends. He perfected a most valuable patent that was taken up by a number of the large corporations of the country, and the moment he spoke of it I recognized the name and realized the importance of his present work and pisition. In these six years he had retrieved his fortunes, been able to send his children to college, had built a beautiful home for his wife and surrounded himself with a fine circle of friends and business associates. "Yes, little mother," he said when we parted, "I knew it would do your heart good to hear of one more of your 'boys' who is making good. Go back to those who are still where I came from and tell them it is possible to retrieve the past, and to win back all they have lost, if they will only start right."

As I went to my room I said to myself once more: "Yes, it is all well worth while."

These are but two of the many hundreds whose story I could chronicle if I had time. Two from the opposite extremes of society, but they will serve to show why my heart can sing with joy, even within the darkest shadow of the prison walls, as I look out to the day-dream of hope that will bring sunshine and happiness and prosperity to those for whom I am working in the dear Lord's name.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Resumption of Dividends By the Homestake---Golden Reward and Mogul Companies Importing Miners---Reliance to Start Operations Again.

Deadwood, S. D., April 2.—The most important mining news of late was the announcement that the Homestake Mining company would resume paying dividends. The company declared the regular 50-cent dividend which it paid for years up to the labor troubles which commenced in September. The company is averaging better than 4,000 tons of ore a day.

Both the Golden Reward and Mogul Mining companies commenced the importation of miners and are experiencing little difficulty in getting started up on the non-union basis. Injunctions were got to prevent the union men from harassing the new workmen. The Mogul is handling about 100 tons daily in its mill at Pluma. The Golden Reward is shipping its ore to Denver and other points for the present, but soon will resume work in its mill.

The other companies that shut down at the same time are awaiting the outcome of the fight against the unions being waged by the Golden Reward and Mogul. Resumption by several of them is expected next month.

The Reliance company is making its final arrangements in Minneapolis to resume work on its property in Annie Creek. The mill is to undergo some slight changes that will lessen the cost of operation.

The taking over of ground in the Carbonate camp by the Black Hills Development & Financial company has stimulated activity in that section. For miles around Deadwood claim holders are starting early work with a view to benefiting by the consolidation of the Hidden Fortune and Columbus properties. In the Southern Hills the Westinghouse company has been such a steady producer of mica near Custer that property holders there are looking for the same material and doing more than the usual amount of assessment work.

The preliminary development work of the Pahasa Mining company on the ground of the Harney Peak Tin Mining company near Hill City, claims that had been idle for a decade or years, set other claim owners to working in the vicinity. The indications are the summer of 1910 will see an unprecedented amount of activity throughout the Black Hills.

At Hall City, the Extreme Mining company reports a strike. The ledge from which samples were taken is eight feet wide between slate walls.

Frank Sherman of Pactola is in Pittsburg promoting a hydraulic placer mining scheme for Rapid creek. The ground includes the Meyrio group, on which a similar undertaking was had some years ago, but which failed for want of equipment. The present plan includes the purchase of a hydraulic placed dredge that will cost upward of $150,000 and be capable of handling more gravel than any placer dredge used in the Hills, the success of the plan depending upon the large amount of gravel that can be handled daily.

The Manion brothers are shipping free milling gold ore from their property at Keystone to Denver. The run is averaging better than $100 a ton. The ground lies in the Holy Terror belt. At Oreville preparations are being made to resume early this month on the Forest City.

CONNECTING ITS NEW PUMPS

Development Work at Superior & Boston Continues—Opening Great Eastern Vein From Sixth Level Downward—Two Carloads Daily Being Shipped.

Globe, Ariz., April 2.—The final connections are being made with the recently installed pump at the sixth level of the Superior & Boston mine. The steam and water columns are being put in from the pump to the surface, where the installation of the two 250-horse power Stirling boilers is well under way, thus making a boiler plant of 1,000-horse power.

Development work at the mine is in progress at various points, most of which is opening the Great Eastern vein from the sixth level downward. The Great Eastern winze is being sunk on the vein, and has almost attained the depth at which the seventh level will be established. The sinking of the McGaw shaft, also, has advanced to within a short distance of this level, and sinking will soon be discontinued temporarily while the station for the seventh level is being cut. At the depth of 800 feet, another level will be established, and the sinking of the shaft will be stopped.

The ore to make up the shipments of two carloads daily is mined from the sixth level stopes, the development work at present supplying only a small part of the ore produced by the mine.

At the Gardner shaft, located only a few hundred feet south of the McGaw, a five-drill compressor is being installed for the purpose of supplying power for the air drills to be used in the development of the ore body partly developed at the fourth level. The drifting westward on this level has now advanced 150 feet, and a winze already twenty feet deep is being sunk from it. For the entire length of the drift ore is in sight and will probably contribute largely toward the shipments in the near future, in case the management decides to increase the amount of ore shipped. As the winze, also, passes through ore from the drift downward, a considerable amount will be extracted in the course of development work on the Black Oxide vein, besides that blocked out for future production. From the present condition of the Superior & Boston property and the ore bodies opened, it is evident that for a long time to come this property will be one of the most important producing mines of the district.

President William G. Rice of the Superior & Boston Copper company is still in Globe and is much pleased with the recent favorable developments.

president of the Anaconda Mining company, who has been in Butte several weeks, says the mines of the Amalgamated and allied companies have never been in shape for a bigger production than they are at present, so that if the copper market would justify it the Butte district could output a record quantity of copper. The production at present continues about 155 and 20 per cent below the normal.

The Corbin District.

Activity continues in the Corbin district. The strike of two feet of bornite in the Bertha mine by the Coason & Corbin company has added to the enthusiasm among the operators in the district. The discovery was made in a drift on the Bertha vein on the 700-foot level. The ore body is nine feet wide, all of good grade, and two feet of it are the rich bornite which assays 40 per cent copper and 25 ounces of silver to the ton. The most encouraging feature of the strike is that it proves that the Corbin copper veins, like those of the Butte district, get larger and better with increasing depth.

The Montana-Corbin, the Boston & Alta, the London-Corbin, the Corbin Metal and the Robert Emmet Copper company are all active in that district. The Robert Emmet has just made a connection with the old shaft by drifting on the 200-foot level, about 181 feet from the crosscut driven from the new shaft. The connection makes a perfect ventilation for the mine, and the drift is all the way in ore, the vein being 12 feet wide, half of it being good ore with a streak 18 inches wide that yields 15 per cent copper, 30 per cent lead and 120 ounces of silver to the ton. On the 350-foot level the crosscut has been extended to the vein and drifting is now being done on it.

Ohio-Keating.

Reports from the Radersburg district are that the Ohio-Keating Gold Mining company is about ready to resume mining and shipping, which had been suspended while the company was awaiting the installation of electric power. The electrical equipment has been received and is being installed. While mining was suspended development work was kept up and the company has a very large tonnage of high-grade ore blocked out and ready for mining. The United Missouri River Power company has extended its pole line to the district and a number of the old mining companies are using the power.

Parrot Still Closed.

The Parrot Mine remains closed, the reason for it appearing in the statement of the Amalgamated company that the ore is of such a low grade that it cannot be mined and treated at a profit on the present copper market. The Little Mina, which produces 125 to 200 tons of ore per day, and also of a rather low grade, is the only property of the company working. However, the merger interests, which means the Amalgamated company, places a re-Parrot in the offer of 90,000 shares of Parrot in the offer of 90,000 shares of Anaconda for the Parrot property. On a par value basis that gives a value of $2,250,000 for Parrot as against a present par value of $2,298,500. The Amalgamated owns $1,152,990 worth of the present stock, or 115,299 shares.

Officers of the Tuolumne Copper company say the March output of that company will be in excess of 1,000,000 pounds of copper.

Work on the construction of the ore tramway by the Davis-Daly company has again been held up by injunction proceedings brought by property owners.

ably begin within the next month or so.

Victoria.

The situation at the Victoria mine shows little improvement over that noted in the past. The single shaft operated by the company is bottomed a little below the twenty-second level at which depth and on several of the levels immediately above drifting is in progress. The ground is variable and at no points particularly rich, and though some occasional stretches of good commercial ground have been disclosed, the general average of all the ground mined is exceedingly low and will not exceed more than ten pounds fine copper per ton of rock milled. The cheap power afforded by the Ontonagon river permits the company to mine its rock at a very low cost, a figure as low as $1.07 per ton of rock mined having been attained, and because of this is just about able to break even on its operations, despite the low yield of the ground and the low price of the metal. The new shaft, which the company is sinking to the eastward, has been equipped with a temporary shaft-house and steam hoist, and better progress in sinking can be expected. The shaft has attained a depth of about 140 feet without disclosing anything of particular value.

CORBIN DISTRICT BOOMING

treasury to push the development work along broad lines, and it will be the policy of the company to build a concentrator within a short time. The stock is quite active on the New York curb, where 200,000 shares were recently traded in, netting the company $100,000. Thomas McLaughlin, the secretary of the company, who is well known in Butte, is here settling up with the original owners of the property.

Other Properties.

The Corbin Copper company, operating about two miles west of Wickes, is proving a number of veins of splendid values, and it is expected that the concentrator, now under construction, will be in operation within a week or so.

At Amazon, the Amazon-Montana Development company is making splendid progress with the sinking of its shaft and is now down about 160 feet and from the showing at a depth of ninety feet, where a rich vein was opened up by means of a tunnel, it is more than probable that some very fine ore bodies will be opened up as soon as greater depth is attained.

The Boston & Alta is making excellent progress with the work of sinking and recently cut a promising lead in the shaft. Further development will show not only what a great mine the Alta was, but the great mine that it will continue to be under the present policy of development.

carrying high-grade silver values, has been uncovered and should greatly increase the ore reserve on the property. The shipments for the mine during the past two months have amounted to 510.43 tons of ore—most of it of high-grade. Last month the shipments were exceptionally heavy.

Crown Reserve never has looked better, according to the statement of Col. Carson, president of the company. He states that the vein on the 200-foot level is fourteen inches wide in some places and contains as much high-grade ore as on the first level. The vein breaks up into stringers in some places but this is a minor drawback as it reunites afterwards.

One of the winzes is now down 300 feet but is not in ore. The company is now sinking four winzes to the 200-foot level, and three of these are in ore all the way down. A drift in one of these is quite a distance up the lake, past the point where the diamond drill was sunk. This drift is being run out to fifteen veins which were cut by the diamond drill. Two of these veins showed remarkably fine cores.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Arizona-Colorado Copper Belt and Gold Mining and Milling company, held in Indianapolis, Jan. 31, a resolution was passed to transfer the property to Mr. White, according to the terms named in his option, and subject to ratification by the stockholders. Since that meeting, the resolution of the directors has been duly ratified by vote of the stockholders in the Arizona-Colorado company. This ratification was formally given at a meeting of the stockholders, held at the company's office in Globe, and attended by President Homer Crumrine of Washington, Pa.; Secretary C. H. Trotter of Indianapolis; Frank L. Littleton of Indianapolis, attorney for the Arizona-Colorado company, and President E. M. White of the Great Eastern Development company.

The Arizona-Colorado company was organized in 1901, and from that year to the present time considerable shaft and level work has been done on the property, consisting of about 400 acres of mineral land having a good surface showing. The main workings consist of a 900-foot shaft, with eighth and ninth levels established and considerable highly mineralized rock, carrying good copper value, disclosed on the 800-foot level. Some reputable engineers, who have examined the Arizona-Colorado property, assert their belief that the vein in which most of the ore has so far been developed is of the true fissure type and should yield excellent values at depth.

over 700 tons of ore will be shipped from Marquette daily, during the next summer. We may, possibly, be in error as to the amount, but would say that so far the business of Lake Superior has exceeded our most extravagant estimates. But we have as yet said nothing of the Lake Superior Iron company, the Peninsular Iron company and the Iron Mountain railroad. These will be doing a heavy business before the close of the next season, which will contribute to swell the aggregate amount of shipments to 200,000 tons. The Iron Mountain railroad will be completed and in operation before the close of navigation and will increase the facilities for carrying ore, tenfold. Nor is this all. The proprietors of the Peninsular Iron company contemplate the erection of a large blast furnace near the mouth of the Carp, during the ensuing summer. This will materially increase the business of the country for the year to come.

"Those who have never seen the vast deposits of iron in this vicinity are apt to be incredulous when the story is told of making the shipment of ore a distinct business. But we can refer them to one which is very like in character, viz: The traffic in iron ore which is now carried on between the people of Lake Champlain, in the northeastern portion of the state of New York, and the iron masters of Ohio and Pennsylvania. Over 30,000 tons have been shipped on Lake Champlain for those states in a single year. This ore has paid the expense of a re-shipment at Rouse's Point, a railroad transportation of 120 miles to Ogdensburg, and a second shipment from that port to those on Lake Erie, paying tolls at the Welland canal. Sometimes it is subjected to another shipment, in order to reach the towns in the Southern portion of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. This, added to the fact that the Champlain ore is an inferior article, compared with the ores of Lake Superior, will tend to show that the business of shipping ore from this region is on a paying basis. This will be the more evident when it is understood that the good ore of Lake Superior can be obtained for about the same price that they have been obliged to pay for freights on the Champlain ore, thus clearing and keeping the market for this country. We hardly dare put on record the prophesies of many of our practical men relating to this matter, lest our friends should bespeak a room in a certain mansion in Utica, N. Y., for our special accommodation.

Impetus to Manufacturing.

"Another feature in the business of the iron district in future years is the impetus which will be given to the manufacturing interests of the Great West. An inexhaustible supply of the raw material, and that which has no equal for strength or durability, easy of access, and requiring but little labor to fit for shipment, must necessarily cause the establishment of large manufactories at the most important centers of trade on the Western lakes. We know that this ore can be delivered at any of the ports on Lakes Erie or Michigan at an average price of $10 per ton. The average percentage of iron is 60, or from 40. To use the words of a Chicago contemporary, 'There are a hundred fortunes in this business; who will grasp them?'"

In its issue of Feb. 2, 1856, the Journal quotes iron at $80 a ton, 112 tons having been sold at that price by the Collins Iron company of Marquette, which operated a forge for the manufacture of blooms.

The profit was figured at $39 a ton. The edition of May 17, 1856, reports the arrival of the first boat that season and also gives some insight into the matter of increased transportation facilities, the Journal saying in that connection:

"We noticed among the passengers landing from the Planet, Dr. Gordon, the out-of-door agent of the Cleveland Iron Mining company, who has in his charge twenty-six mules and four horses, which were in excellent condition. They are all fine animals, and are to be employed in hauling ore from the Iron Mountain, on the plank railway."

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE ON FILING PETITION TO SELL LAND—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis.—ss.

In Probate Court.
Special Term, March 26, 1910.

On reading and filing the petition of Catherine H. Macfarlane, administratrix, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into her hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof, the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to her granted to sell all of the real estate in said estate.

And it appearing, by said petition, that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administratrix to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses, to sell all of said real estate;

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, That all persons interested in said estate, appear before this Court on Monday the 18th day of April, 1910, at ten o'clock A. M., at the Court House in Duluth, in said County, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That this Order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth in said County.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., this 26th day of March, A. D. 1910.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of equisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of Five Cents in stamps or coin.

PITTSBURG MAYOR IS HOOTED DOWN

Magee Tries in Vain to Explain Away Charges of Misconduct.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 2.—The indignation of 4,000 citizens over the political corruption now being unearthed by the grand jury and indications of civic vice generally was vehemently expressed last night at a mass meeting at the Exposition hall. Mayor William A. Magee, who sought to address the meeting, was hooted off the stage. The resentment shown was at the executive's failure to clean up the red light district, delayed action on traction problems and other local matters.

The meeting was addressed by several prominent local reformers, but no definite action was taken. The meeting suddenly veered from its discussion of the councilmanic cases when A. Weil, president of the Voters' league, made a general attack on the mayor, which received great applause. When he concluded Mr. Weil, who was also chairman of the meeting, announced: "The mayor asks if you will hear a few remarks from him?"

Voices: "Sure, sure". (and applause).

The mayor: "There are some men who have no fear. The mayor of your city is one of them."

A voice: "Impeach him!"

Chairman Weil: "Order, order!"

Mayor: "If I were guilty of all the newspaper charges made aginst me, I would be abashed; it would be only left to me to resign."

Voices: "Good, good! You're afraid."

Mayor: "I knew when I came here what a crowd I would meet." (hisses and hoots). "Now that won't correct the evils."

Voices: "You won't either."

Mayor: "Maybe I can't."

Voice: "You wouldn't try."

With several pleas for order by Chairman Weil, Mayor Magee attempted to explain his action on many local matters, and especially the case of the County Delinquent Tax Collector Max Leslie, who was recently acquitted of charges of perjury in connection with the graft cases.

Mr. Weil declared that when Leslie was on trial in criminal court the mayor gave him aid and counsel. The mayor denied the charge, to the accompaniment of more hoots. In the midst of further explanation of traction matters, he hesitated and said, "I'd like to speak all night and go into every detail—" (groans, hoots and hisses).

The mayor stopped and he was compelled to desist.

VOLUME OF TRADE BEATS LAST YEAR

New York, April 2.—R. G. Dun & Co's. Weekly Review of Trade today says:

While the trade development is irregular, revealing diversified conditions in different sections of the country, the volume, as a whole, is so large and makes such steady gains over last year, that there can be no question as to its substantial character. Business activity depends so largely upon confidence, which is the basis of credit, that anything that is uncertain is disturbing to confidence. Whatever hesitation may have existed in the industries and the markets, has now been largely eliminated.

The labor situation is much less acute and notices of wage advances by railroads and leading industries promise much for the future. The influence of previous uncertainty was mostly felt in the speculative markets.

In the finished branches of iron and steel, predictions are made shipments in March will exceed the best previous records. New business comes forward in well sustained volume and the fact that prices remain stationary, is attributed to the largely increased capacity of the mills. Export business in the rails has been a feature, however, recent sales for shipment abroad aggregating no less than 70,000 tons. Conditions in pig iron remain very much mixed, with a further sagging of prices in all directions.

The jobbers in dry goods are getting good adance orders on fall lines, but the house trade is seasonably quiet, and buying is confined to immediate requirement.

Curtailment of production in cotton manufacture is increasing owing to the wide margin between selling prices and costs of production. Miscellaneous export trade has averaged well thus far this year, but in the absence of the China trade of last year the shipments do not loom up as well as a year ago to date. In worsted circles it is believed that the keen demand for woolens, to the exclusion of worsteds, has dulled the trade perceptibly. The yarn markets continue very quiet.

A large movement of fall lines of heavy staples is reported by some of the New England manufacturers of footwear. Shoe shipments from Boston again show decreases this week. The hide market is less active, with the exception of a single commission sale of different varieties of packer hides from Western and Eastern points amounting to about 40,000 hides. Leather business continues to improve although trade is not generally active.

Bradstreet's says: Business failures for the wek ending with March 31 in the United States were 229 against 231 last week, 204 in the like week of 1909, 247 in 1908, 137 in 1907, and 151 in 1906.

ROBBED OF ALL BUT THEIR WEDDING GIFTS.

San Francisco, Cal., April 2.—Dr. Thomas F. Gleason and his bride of a day, with the former's sister, Miss Anita Gleason, were compelled to witness the looting of their home yesterday afternoon, and while tied hand and foot to bedposts, they implored the robbers, two in number, to spare their wedding presents. The robbers, after gathering the silver presents in a sack, relented and left the sack in the hall.

When Miss Gleason answered the doorbell she was confronted by two men who held revolvers at her head. Her screams attracted her brother and his wife. They joined her in the hallway and also were overpowered and tied to bedposts in an adjoining room. Gleason freed himself and released the two women after the robbers left.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

ROAD USES NEW YARDS

Recently Completed North Bemidji Terminals of Minnesota & International.

About $60,000 Has Been Expended By Branch of Northern Pacific.

Bemidji, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota & International Railway company is now operating the company's new district terminals at North Bemidji where has been installed extensive yards and buildings for the handling of the business of the road at this half-way point, in the Brainerd-International Falls territory of the north-country feeder of the Northern Pacific railway.

In the neighborhood of $60,000 has been expended in erecting new buildings, putting in extensive trackage, grading and other work necessary to complete all the necessary adjuncts of the terminals.

There are five tracks three-fourths of a mile in length and six smaller tracks.

There is a large coal chute, holding some 100 tons of coal and fitted with all appliances for filling the locomotives.

There is a building especially fitted for drying the sand which is used in the locomotives.

Terminals Water Supply.

The terminals are provided with a large watertank, with a capacity for 48,000 gallons of water, a substantial affair which towers above the other buildings.

The new roundhouse at the present time contains only eight stalls, but it is expected the number will be doubled in the near future. The roundhouse is supplied with everything of the very latest in this line. There is a cinder pit, built of brick and concrete, with a large turntable, from which eight separate small tracks extend into the stalls of the roundhouse.

In the yards there are two switch engines, a steam wrecking outfit and derrick for lifting cars or any other heavy material.

The Minnesota & International Railway company has twenty locomotives, 200 box cars and about 700 log cars, the road having been first constructed a short distance north from Brainerd as a logging road, being later extended north to Bemidji and thence gradually to the Canadian boundary at International Falls.

The terminals are lighted by electricity and electric power is used, both of which is furnished by the Warfield Electric company, from the big plant at the dam, on the Mississippi river east of Bemidji.

Can This Man Read Your Life?

The rich, poor, exalted and humble seek his advice on Business, Marriage, Friends, Enemies, Changes, Speculations, Love Affairs, Journeys and all events of Life.

MANY SAY HE REVEALS THEIR LIVES WITH AMAZING ACCURACY.

Free Test Readings Will Be Sent for a Short Time to All Readers.

Has the veil of mystery that has so long shrouded the ancient sciences been raised at last? Can it be that a system has been perfected that reveals with reasonable accuracy the character and disposition of an individual, and so outlines the life as to assist in avoiding errors and taking advantage of opportunities?

Roxroy, a man who has for twenty years been delving into the mysteries of the occult, making a scientific study of the various methods of reading the lives of people, seems to have reached a higher round in the ladder of fame than his predecessors. Letters are pouring into his office from all parts of the world telling of the benefits derived from his advice. Many of his patrons look upon him as a man gifted with some strange, mysterious power, but he modestly asserts that what he accomplishes is due alone to an understanding of natural laws.

He is a man of kindly feeling toward humanity, and his manner and tone immediately impress one with his sincere belief in his work. A huge stack of grateful letters from people who have received readings from him adds to other convincing proofs as to his ability. Even Astrologers and Palmists admit that his system surpasses anything yet introduced.

The Rev. G. C. H. Hasskarl, Ph. D., Pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, in a letter to Prof. Roxroy, says: "You are certainly the greatest specialist and master of your profession. Every one consulting you will marvel at the correctness of your detailed personal readings and advice. The most sceptical will consult you again and again after corresponding with you once."

If you wish to take advantage of Roxroy's generous offer and obtain a free reading, send your date, month and year of birth, state whether (Mr., Mrs. or Miss) and also copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

I have heard of your power
To read people's lives,
And would ask what for me
You have to advise?

Be sure to give your correct name, birth date and address and write plainly. Send your letter to ROXROY, Dept. 54c, No. 17a Kensington High Street, London, W., England. If you wish, you may inclose 10 cents (U. S. A. stamps) to pay postage, clerical work, etc. Do not inclose coins or silver in letters.

Note—Under the new Postal regulations you can send a sealed letter to England for only 2 cents postage.

MAYOR LEADING IN COUNTY SEAT SCRAP

MAYOR D. J. LAXDALL.

Cavalier, N. D., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor D. J. Laxdall of this city, is at the head of the movement for the removal of the county seat of Pembina county from Pembina, where it was placed ten years ago, to this city. He announces a vigorous campaign.

NEW STATE BOARD IS NOW PROPOSED

State Board of Education of Seven Members Displacing Three Boards.

St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Minnesota Educational association to consider plans for the enlargement of the department of public instruction has reported to State Supt. C. G. Schultz.

The committee recommends that a state board of education be established, to consist of seven members, the president of the state university, the president of the state normal board, and five members to be appointed by the governor. This board shall displace the state high school board, the public school library commission and the state board of examiners.

The terms of the appointive members of this board shall be five years, and one member shall retire each year.

The board shall hold its regular meetings once a quarter; but this board may be called together at any time for a special meeting by its president, or upon the request of three members.

The compensation of members of this board shall be $10 a day for time spent in service in the state, and actual expenses of travel. The total expense of this board shall not exceed $1,500 in any one year.

The functions of the board shall be: General supervision and inspection of the public schools, including the rural schools, graded schools, and high schools, and supervision of the relations existing among the various branches of the state's educational system; to provide suggestive courses of study for all public schools; to prepare all questions for teachers' examinations, to grade all examination papers and to prescribe all rules and regulations necessary to carry into effect provisions of the law in regard to the certification of teachers; to prepare and distribute plans and specifications for the construction and equipment of school buildings; to prescribe rules and regulations for the sanitary inspection of school buildings, and for the examination of pupils; to propose plans for organizing teachers' institutes and training schools; to make rules for the distribution of all aid to the public schools; to provide for uniformity of school accounting, and for the general supervision of school expenditures; to appoint inspectors of high schools and graded schools; to appoint a superintendent of public instruction, who shall act as executive agent of the state board of education, whose term of office shall be three years.

NATIONAL PURE FOOD LAW SCORED

Prof. Ladd of North Dakota Points Out Its Many Inconsistencies.

Fargo, N. D., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming that the national pure food law is at best only a compromise measure; that it has not been enforced to benefit the consumer but the manufacturer, Prof. E. F. Ladd of this city, in his latest pure food bulletin, has a stinging arraignment of those who would lower the bars and let the state pure food laws be on a level with the national law.

"There's scarcely a bottle of beer that is a full pint or quart; whiskies, brandies, etc., are sold in one-fifth gallons for quarts and at quart prices, or so slightly under the price that the consumer is not a saver thereby," declares Prof. Ladd. "Packages of raisins are sold in competition with full net weight pound packages, when in reality they are from ten to thirteen ounces in weight. Spices which are supposed to be four-ounce packages are found to be from three to three and one-half ounces. Extracts supposed to be two ounces are found to be one and one-half ounces to one and seven-eighth ounces. Lard which is put up and billed out as five-pound pails will be found one-half pound or more short in weight. Bulk goods are sold by the retail dealer in paper bags without weighing sometimes from 15 to 25 per cent short of the full weight, and the consumer pays the price for the full amount.

National Law Encourages Fraud.

"Instead of aiding in putting a stop to this class of frauds, the national law has encouraged and abetted it. It is said that there is no necessity for showing the weight upon canned goods, and yet we find that in seasons of shortage the cans are slack-packed; that the proportion of water used is increased. There should be shown not only the net weight or measure, but a statement should be given with regard to the true grade. When a product is marked as "extra fancy" it should be, as the name indicates, something superior to the standard. It would harm no honest man or industry if they were forced to put on the date."

TWO PERISH IN THE WINDSOR MINE

Fire in Ironwood Property Extinguished and One Body Recovered.

Ironwood, Mich., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fire at the Hudson mine was finally extinguished Wednesday morning, and the cause of the cage being caught was investigated. The cage had jumped the track at this particular point and the two pumpmen, if on it at the time must have again retreated down the shaft, as the cage was somewhat scorched. As soon as the cage and skidway was repaired Wednesday afternoon, Capt. Lukey and several volunteers descended. The fire seemed to have originated in the pumphouse on the fourteenth level and worked upward. They then went down further and found the Italian pumpmen dead in one of the drifts. He showed no signs of suffocation, and it is thought he died of exposure and fright.

Cox, the other pumpman, was nowhere in sight, so they were lowered down to the water on the seventeenth level and a thorough search made for the missing man. It is thought that he is in the water somewhere on the seventeenth level. The air shaft which was supposed to be an outlet at the Hudson was found to be covered with ice above the fourteenth level, which made escape in this direction almost impossible.

FOOLS CHICAGO ATTORNEY.

Deputy United States Marshal Outwits Lawyer for Chinese.

Marquette, Mich., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy United States Marshall E. D. Mosher has returned from New Orleans, where he took several Chinese who have been ordered deported. A Chicago attorney tried to interfere with the deportation of one of the Orientals, Sin Sai You, by flashing habeas corpus papers before the marshal in that city. The magistrate told the attorney to meet him at the other railway station, and meantime the United States district attorney informed him that the attorney must be acting without authority. A few minutes before the New Orleans train left, however, the attorney appeared with a second writ, which was signed by Judge Grosscup of the United States court. After arguing with the Chicagoan until the train was about to start, Marshal Mosher whisked the Chinese on board and gave the attorney the laugh, the attorney making no further attempt to stop him.

GREAT MINES CLOSE.

Calumet & Hecla Properties Shut Down During Agassiz' Funeral.

Calumet, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—All of the mining and milling plants of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company ceased operations at noon today and will not start again until Monday out of respect to the late Alexander Agassiz, president of the Bitumining company, who died at sea early in the week and whose funeral is being held in Boston. Tomorrow memorial services will be held here in which all nationalities will participate.

The following program will be rendered at the memorial exercises tomorrow afternoon at the Calumet Armory: Selection, Calumet & Hecla band; chorus, sixteen male voices under direction of Harry E. King; prayer, Rev. E. Sedweck of Calumet M. E. church; address, Hon. Albert T. Stevens of Houghton; selection, male chorus; benediction, Rev. Father Herculan; selection, Calumet & Hecla band.

GIRL PREVENTS WRECK.

Discovers Dynamite Laying Along Side Track Near Minot.

Minot, N. D., April 2.—The detectives employed by the Great Northern road are working on what purports to be an attempt to wreck a train near here a few days ago. Miss Emma Olson, a 14-year-old high school girl, while returning from school came across a package lying along the rails at the approach to Gasman's coulee, a short distance west of here. She took it home, and her father on examining it found it contained dynamite. The division superintendent was notified and detectives placed at work. A train was due in a short time after the girl discovered the explosive.

AGED 19 A DEAD GIRL WEIGHED ONLY FORTY-FIVE

Tunnel City, Wis., April 2.—Weighing only forty-five pounds at the age of 19 years, and having the appearance of a child of 10 or 12, Miss Dora Stuchmer, who is dead here, did the housework of her brother and father since the death of her mother several years ago.

LAKE NAVIGABLE TEN MONTHS OF THE TWELVE.

Walker, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pleasure boats were on Leech lake during ten of the past twelve months. January and February were the only months of the year that the lake was not navigable with a pleasure launch. Owing to its great depth of water, Leech lake is always one of the last lakes to freeze over in Northern Minnesota and for this reason it probably stands along among Minnesota lakes, as a navigable body of water during ten out of twelve months.

THAW DISCLOSES BODIES

Of Four Victims of the Past Winter's Weather.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The spring thaw has laid bare the lone trail from Grassett, Ont., to Michipocoten and revealed the bodies of four men who perished last winter.

One of the men, about 32 years old, had a letter in his pocket from Gulph, Ont., signed by Susan Edwards. In his inner vest pocket was a wallet containing $400. Money was also found in possession of the other men, none of whom has been identified. It is thought they were on their way to the mines when overtaken by storms.

WALKER WRESTLING MATCH.

Robert Block and Young Robideau to Contest.

Walker, Minn., April 2.—A wrestling match is to be pulled off here tonight for the championship of Cass county, the participants being Young Robideau of Pine River and Robert Block of Walker.

Ed Rogers, a football player, is managing the match. Robideau is a crack ball player, and as a side line had pinned the shoulders of all opponents to the mat whom he chanced to meet up this way. Block is the son of Ex-State Treasurer Julius Block, and has been in this place since last fall, in the state forestry service. He has floored every man in Walker at this game and the outcome with the Pine River man is being looked forward to with interest.

ASSAULTED OLD MAN.

That Is Charge Against Frank Van Tassel of Turtle River.

Blackduck, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Van Tassel, after a preliminary hearing on the charge of assaulting John Lehner, an old man, March 24, hitting him on the head with an ax, and rendering him unconscious, has been held to the grand jury and taken to the county jail at Bemidji. Lehner claims Van Tassel came to his cabin six miles from here and asked to remain. Later he wanted Van Tassel to accompany him to Blackduck and when the latter refused the assault resulted. Lehner says that he remained unconscious three days after the assault.

It is said that Lehner, at the time Van Tassel came to his cabin, had in his possession nearly $100, but that the larger portion of the money was in a pocket of Lehner's mackintosh and was not disturbed.

BIG SANDSTONE FUNERAL.

Ulysses S. Myers Well-Known Contractor Borne to Grave.

Sandstone, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Impressive ceremonies were held for Ulysses S. Myers, yesterday morning at the catholic church, Rev. Father Joseph Quillien officiating. A large number of friends were present. Mr. Myers was a well-known, upright contractor of Sandstone for the past eleven years. He was born in Rutland, Vt., in 1865, and at the age of 7 years he migrated with his parents to Canada, where he resided until he was 16 years of age, when he came to New Richmond, Wis., and afterwards to St. Paul, Minn., and in 1899 moved to Sandstone, where he made his residence until his death Tuesday night. Besides his widow, he leaves a father, who resides at Spokane, Wash., a brother, at New Rochmond, Wis., and four sisters, Mrs. D. Therrian and Mrs. J. Mingo, both residents of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. C. Cloutier and Mrs. Steve Halliday, residents of Sandstone. U. S. Myers was married to Miss Marie Forcier in September, 1904. They had one child, which died. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen and the local lodge attended the funeral in a body.

SHOOTS AT OFFICER; WOUNDING BYSTANDER.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 2.—George Keller, village blacksmith at Brimley, Mich., has been brought to a hospital here with a bullet in the head, having been shot by a mentally deranged Finlander. Keller with others was at a boarding house owned by Mrs. Larsen, when the Finlander entered. While inside the latter suddenly pulled a revolver and fired at Deputy Sheriff Nelson, who immediately closed in on the man, disarming him. The bullet missed Nelson and struck Keller. The assailant is in custody.

BRIEFS FROM BRAINERD.

The Herpicide Girl

With More Advice on the Cure of the Hair.

If every woman would do as I tell her, the makers of puffs, switches, transformtions, rats, etc., would have to go out of business.

Wash the hair frequently, using Herpicide Soap. Apply Newbro's Herpicide regularly, twice or three times every week and watch the results. The change will be a most surprising one.

Let me show you a letter from my friend, Mrs. Dr. Best of Cottage Grove, Oregon, she says:

"I can say from experience that Newbro's Herpicide is the most wonderful hair grower and dandruff remover that was ever made. After using it for some time will say that I am greatly pleased. Herpicide is a splendid preparation."

Herpicide makes the hair beautiful, allowing it to grow naturally and luxuriantly. Other preparations are claimed to be "just as good," but Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy. It kills the dandruff germ, prevents failing hair, stops itching of the scalp. Ask for genuine Herpicide and be sure you get it.

PARDELLO PROVED EASY

Champion Has Little Difficulty in Defeating Italian in Two Straight Falls.

Nelson Fails to Throw Johnson---Greek and Beaulieu Wrestle Draw.

What a truly marvelous master of the art of wrestling Frank Gotch really is was shown last night at the Lyceum, when he threw Leo Pardello, one of the strongest and most powerful of the present school of wrestlers, in twenty minutes for the first fall, securing the second fall at the expiration of twelve and one-half minutes of as fast work as has ever been seen on a local mat.

Never in the many times Gotch has wrestled here did he display such dazzling speed as he showed last night. His footwork is the equal of a Jim Corbett, almost, and his feinting with legs, arms and body was bewildering to Pardello and kept the Italian continually guessing as to what Frank was going to do next.

A scissors to the head and a body hold brought about the downfall of Leo in the first bout. The Italian proved an adept at bridging, and several times spun out of holds by the aid of his powerful neck.

Pardello went right to Frank, but the wonderful footwork of the champion simply made it impossible for the stocky Italian to get anything even approaching a hold on Gotch. He would dive at the underpinning of the champion, when Gotch would either sidestep or block with a straight arm such as is often employed by football players.

At times the Italian would simply shake his head at the apparent hopelessness of it. At one time he attempted to start something with the king of them all, but a punch with the heel of Frank's hand stopped the representative of Sunny Italy and apparently took all the pugnaciousness out of him.

Several times during the match Pardello was rushed clear off the mat and almost into the chairs. He was game and stuck to the game, though Gotch was punishing him severely at times. Gotch fastened a headlock on the Italian and gruelled him severely before he allowed him to come out of it.

The second fall was secured in twelve minutes and one-half by a double hammerlock from behind. Pardello squirmed out of a hammerlock, turned completely over and was nailed securely by Frank from in front. Leo's arms being held in a vice, and struggle as he did there was no escape.

Between the first and second falls a telegram was read from Jack Curley, manager of Dr. B. F. Roller, in which he challenged Pardello upon behalf of the genial doctor.

In the first preliminary Carl Nelson, who lays claim to the Head of the Lakes championship, failed to throw Ole Johnson, the 1:2 Marshfield, Wis., light-heavyweight in thirty minutes of wrestling.

The semi-windup brought out some clever wrestling. Little Johnny Hudson, the Greek from Baltimore, wrestled forty minutes with Billy Beaulieu of Superior, the Greek being on top most of the time and proving the aggressor throughout.

Gotch came to the footlights after the contest, in response to the loud cries for him, and announced that he was about through with the mat and that the last evening would probably be his last appearance in Duluth. He also touched upon his coming match with Zbyszko, stating that he would do his best to uphold the honor of this country. The statement brought an ovation from the big audience.

HAD THE BETTER OF THE MATCH

Abe Attell, Champion Featherweight, Wins From Owen Moran on Points.

New York, April 2.—Abe Attell, champion featherweight, had the better of Owen Moran of England here last night in a ten-round bout. The men have fought twice to a draw in California and there has been bitter feeling between them.

In the first round Moran poked a stiff right into Attell's left eye, but Attell came back strongly and the round was his.

The second also went to Attell, but Moran outpointed him in the third. Attell retaliated in the fourth, fifth and sixth. In the fifth he drew blood from Moran's nose.

Fighting was hot in the seventh and eighth and in the ninth Moran had his turn at drawing blood with a blow that gashed Attell over the eye. In the final round, Moran in a rush, went against the ropes. As he bounded back he fell against Attell and both men rolled over on the floor. Moran finished strong and was fighting hard at the close.

WILL MEET WEDNESDAY.

Representatives of Head of Lakes Baseball Clubs Will Form League.

A meeting will be held next Wednesday to organize the Head of the Lakes semi-professional baseball league, modeled somewhat on the plan followed by the Lake Shore league of Milwaukee. All of the fast semi-professional teams of this city are looking with favor on the league. It is also probable that Ely will have a team in the league. Superior will have two teams in the league, according to the present plans. It is expected that some progress will be accomplished at the Wednesday evening meeting, when the managers and representatives of the various teams will get together.

(BY BRUCE.)

Tommy Burns Again.

You can't keep a good man down. There is no use of talking, this stubby Burns is simply irrepressible. He is matched with Langford, if the reports of the matching of the pair are true, and in running afoul of the negro Tommy is doing something that very few of the present fighters have any stomach for.

Burns really might come along and give Sam an awfully tough fight. He was built for Johnson, and yet he was on his feet at the end of the fourteenth round. Those uppercuts of the tall negro were made to order for a man of the stubby build of Burns. Also, Burns was obliged to reach clear up to swing at the Johnson shining head.

In Langford Burns will be meeting a man more of his size, both as to weight and height. Langford will probably be made the favorite, should the men meet, because of his imposing record; yet there are some who have a hankering belief that the shrewd Burns chap may spring a surprise upon the public.

Another Heard From.

From Eau Claire comes the gladsome news of the signing of good baseball players and true. The day before it was Red Wing that came vehemently to the front of the hall and declared that the team would be good enough to make them all go some—and that there would be no need of wasting sympathy on the team.

The silence of Eau Claire has likewise been broken. The information brings word of the emulation of the Ivee by Manager Schechaiboven, he of the Angelican countenance. If this word is correct, practically all of the old men will be seen kicking dust the present season—that is, those who are good enough to hold their jobs, and in addition there promises to be a crew of green candidates who will strengthen any of the places upon the team that were weak last year.

Eau Claire had one of the hardest teams in the league last season to overcome. The members refused to listen to argument and played the game every minute. With Red Wing promising to be as fresh as a kid with his first pair of long trousers, there will be excitement thrilling and even strenuous in the down circuit towns.

All indications point to a most highly enjoyable season. The league is growing in importance, and with renewed activity upon the part of Messrs. Corrigan and Malloy, there is every hope of a palpitating race, whatever that is.

Rolly Going Some.

Every report sent from the front by the war correspondents tends to bear out the fine impression that Comiskey was given of Rollie Zeider, the boy who played in the old Northern league, and was the best third baseman that ever played in these parts, not excepting Brookins, the boy who caused so much talk because of his playing ability and the dispute as to whether he was an Indian or a negro.

Comiskey has characterized Zeider as a wonder. The boy will probably be played at second by the White Sox, though on the coast he has been playing shortstop. This man Blackburn seems to have cinched the job in the shortfield, and there comes the shifting of Rollie.

In the preliminary games with the Sox, Zeider has shown that he has not been in the least overrated upon the coast, where they often wax overenthusiastic. If Blackburn and Zeider prove as good ball players as reports would lead one to expect, the Sox infield will be one of the fastest in the American league.

Comiskey has spent a lot of money upon his team and every fan in the West would be pleased if one of the grandest characters in the game should develop a winning team the present season.

Oarsmen Out.

Tomorrow morning is the time set for the appearance of the oarsmen for the first practice of the season. There is much in the first practice, and the enthusiasm is good and the men get into the work as if they meant business the effect upon the later season practices of the men will be felt. For this reason, it is to be hoped that all of the candidates will be on hand tomorrow morning.

It is planned to get the eight out and take a limbering up spin. The exceptional weather will give the candidates an early start this season, and with earnest work there is no reason why Duluth will not make the greatest bid in the history of the club for first honors.

Were "Teddy' Here.

If Mr. Roosevelt were only here he would probably see to it that Jeff did not engage has beens for sparring partners. Mr. Roosevelt would probably characterize them as undesirable citizens. We may need the enthusiasm of the only and incomparable Theodore before we can get all the tangles of tals fight situation straightened out.

Bad for Bat's Book.

They do say that the sales of the "Life and Battles of Battling Nelson" have had a most miserable falling off since the lad from Cadillac placed the crown of the Dane on his own head. With the life of such celebrities as Sullivan, Jeffries, Corbett, Nelson and Mathewson upon the market, it is only natural to suppose that Wolgast will be telling the public something at so much a tale, in the near future.

What Kind?

A headline says "Bugs are Bane of Managers' Lives." Bugs are also the bane of members of the V. C. T. sometimes, depending in great measure upon the kind of bugs they stop at. There are several kinds, of course. The headline is ambiguous.

Mutual Attraction.

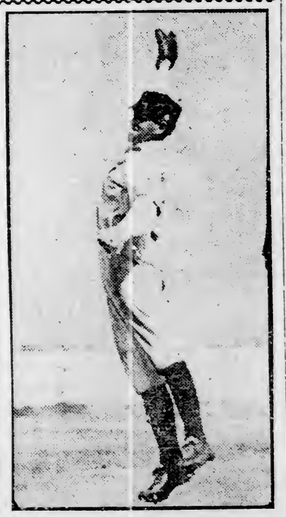

Ty Cobb has written a letter lauding Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit Baseball club. In turn the president has said some mighty sweet things about the Georgia Peach. In the meantime, if Ty would just report for duty, how the tensity of the situation would be relieved. Sometimes it is fairest before the storm.

Can you imagine getting $9,000 per for playing baseball and then showing a coyness about reporting? When a man breaks into the game he is generally delighted to work for mere wages. Then they receive a salary. Then they get chesty. It is surely peculiar what a difference a few dollars, or a great many dollars, rather, often make in the disposition of a man.

Jeff's Shape.

Now that we are assured that the mighty arm of James J. has not been injured by a bump from the cart, the public will probably continue to follow with unabated interest the reports that are sent out from the camp of the former champion. Can he get into condition? That is what we all want to know. Many of us may never know. The fight alone will tell his true condition. If he stands the training siege well, there is some hope that he will be something like the Jeffries of old. Until he gets down to active work, we will not even know how he is going to shape up. In the meantime, every one of the lighter hue is hopeful.

IDOL OF NEW YORK FANS

HAL CHASE
After a "High One."

Hal Chase has no equal as a first baseman. His phenomenal playing has made him the idol of New York fans. Just now he is on the hospital list with a pretty severe case of charley horse. Chase is now captain of the team.

WITH THE CITY LEAGUE BOWLERS

WOULD MEET SAILOR.

Billy Schober May Wrestle Elimination Match With Local Champion.

Bill Schober, one of the best welterweights in the Middle West, and who lost to Young Miller of St. Paul, only after a gruelling battle of fifty minutes Thursday evening, reached Duluth last evening. He is matched with Sailor Jack, the local crack welterweight. The showing the Sailor makes with Schober will determine whether he is anywhere near the equal of the St. Paul wonder.

If the Sailor defeats Schober the St. Paul boy has promised him a match.

Ed Adamson, the wonder of the heavy welterweights, is also here and agrees to throw the Sailor twice in an hour.

Detroit to Keep Vance.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 2.—The National baseball commission yesterday handed down a decision denying the claim of the Stockton club, California league, to Vance, a player now on the roster of the Detroit club of the American league. Detroit obtained Vance by draft from Green Bay, Wis., the national board having previously found as good the latter's title to the player. The commission declined to overrule the board.

NATIONALS WIN FROM AMERICANS

Two Philadelphia Teams Play Opening Game at Sibe Park.

Philadelphia, April 2.—The Philadelphia National league team won a 9 to 4 victory over the Philadelphia Americans at Sibe park yesterday in the opening game of the annual interleague baseball series. The Nationals won by hard hitting. Magee for the Nationals and Murphy for the Americans made home runs with men on the bases. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Nationals	9	11	1

Batteries—Dygert and Livingston; Maroney and Cheek. Umpires—Connelly and Moran.

Belinger Throws Indal.

Ed Belanger defeated Marsh Indal two out of three falls at the French club, Twenty-Fourth avenue west, last evening, losing the first fall and winning the next two. Belinger lost the first fall in eight minutes and won the second in twelve minutes and the last in five minutes. There was a good crowd present and the bout made a hit with the audience.

OLDFIELD'S OWN STORY

Tells How It Feels to Travel Mile in 28 Seconds.

Driver Almost Became Unconscious When Car Attained Full Speed Limit.

(By Barney Oldfield.)

Driving a 200-horse power Benz, a German-made car, Barney Oldfield covered over the Daytona beach course on March 16, a mile in 27 33-100 seconds, a speed of nearly 152 miles an hour. A week later Oldfield, driving the the same machine over the same course, covered a kilometer, 63-100 of a mile, in 17 4-100 seconds, and two miles in 55 87-100 seconds, attaining a speed of 142 miles per hour during the second mile. Oldfield also drove a mile from a standing start in forty seconds, which is considered a remarkable performance, combining great skill in operating a car and the speed of the car.

All of the above marks were timed by a mechanical timing device under the direction of C. H. Warner, the official timer for the American Automobile association, and the records have been accepted as official by the governing body of the sport.

The car which Oldfield drove had previously made wonderful, almost unbelievable records over the Brooklands, Eng., $3,000,000 speedway, being piloted by Hemmery, winner of the 1905 Vanderbilt cup race, and one of the great drivers of the world. Since 1902 Barney Oldfield has been considered a great track driver, but age and many accidents were figured by many to have caused him to drop back from the dizzy line of the daredevil sharpshooters who steer the modern juggernauts for their daily bread. Oldfield never made a specialty of driving in road races or in high speed trials over straightaway course, his defeat of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., for the world's championship for the mile at Daytona beach in 1904, being the only try he ever made at the game. So, when the grizzled veteran announced he had purchased the Hemmery Benz for $14,000, few believed that he was sincere in his statement that he would regain the title and crown by driving faster than human or macaine ever sped. Only a bullet has ever equaled or beaten the speed. Here is a story from the pen of the man who alone knows the sensation of flirting with death.

I have realized my life's ambition. I have traveled faster than any other person in the whole world. I have shot along the rock-like sands of the Daytona beach at a greater speed than many wise men believed was possible to attain without encountering disaster. Over $1,000,000 has been spent by different factories and individuals to build cars that would beat the world at the speed game. You have seen a hungry kid looking into a cookie-laden bakery window with longing and wistfulness written in its face. That's just about the way I stood by and saw other drivers, many without previous reputation, break speed records, and I made up my mind that about the time the other fellows thought the limit of danger and speed had been reached I would go them all one better and steal that speed king crown for all my own. I was playing a mere chance-taking and hazardous game, that circular track with fence rails and posts plowing into my anatomy every time I made a "faux pas," as they tried to teach me to say when I was in the show business.

Resolved to Smash Records.

But it humiliated and nettled me every time some well-meaning person would ask me what speed had been attained with an automobile. Maybe I had just driven a circular track mile in fifty-three seconds, skidding all over the end of a sort turn. How cheap my fifty-three seconds seemed to look beside the straightaway fellows' twenty-eight or twenty-nine seconds. Nearly every dollar I possessed was earned with blood, my own blood and attendant physical pain, but it did not take me long to make up my mind to buy the car with which I used to break the world's record for every mark I went after in Florida. I want to go on record as saying that there is only one race course in the whole world that will permit the speed I made. That is the Daytona Beach course. My first trouble upon trying out the car was to get goggles that would allow me to use my eyes after I reached the 120-mile-an-hour gait. My order racing goggles almost gouged my eyes out, the pressure caused by the wind being terrific. After a lot of experimenting I overcame this difficulty.

Had to Become Used to Speed.

Then came the work of getting accustomed to great speed. I believe I am calloused to ordinary dangers of automobile racing, but here was a new dread and fear for me. The limit of speed I was going was faster for mile after mile than scientific automobile enigeers figured could be attained without the tires being thrown off the wheel by centrifugal force. The loss of traction was startling. Fully a third of the distance the wheels were off the ground. The front wheels were shooting up and down in a weird dance that caused me to shut down my motor until they would hold to the ground. I knew the motor was capable of so many hundred revolutions per minute. I knew that the gearing would admit of a speed of 150 miles an hour when the engine was wide open. It was up to me to find out what the limit of speed really is.

I would wait for a particularly good stretch of beach and then I would let the great old car have its head. Down would go the throttle and the spark would be advanced well along. Then we would shoot through space. I would begin to choke, everything before me would become enshrouded in a haze and I would suddenly feel as though I were in the middle of a nightmare about to jump off some mountaneous precipice. Then I would shut her down. I had driven faster than humanity ever traveled. One faster, for 142 miles an hour is almost 3,000,000 times as fast as it looks in print. That is as near the limit of speed as humanity ever will travel. More powerful automobiles may be built, though it is not necessary for my Benz has never been open, but not even on Daytona beach will that speed be beaten. I stuck to the wheel and kept the car as far open as I could until I felt myself becoming unconscious, another second or so and it would have been all off. Others may talk of such speed but I am the only man in the world who got near the limit of speed.

Is Proud of Record.

I am under contract, foolishly entered into before I knew the chance I would have to take, to drive my new car in competition at the opening of the board track on the coast, but when I finish there I will never drive a car in competition on any track or course in the world but on the Florida beach. I know that I have made good my promises to show the world I am the equal to any man at the wheel of an automobile and it is hard for any reader to realize how proud I am of beating the whole world just about the time they figured I should be going to an old man's home.

WANTS LARGE WINNER'S END

Gotch Will Insist That Zbyszko Wrestle for 80 or 20 Per Cent.

Yesterday afternoon at the Spalding hotel, World's Champion Frank A. Gotch stated that there was a mistake in the associated press report, stating that he was holding out for 60 per cent of the gross receipts for his end of the match with Zbyszko.

"I have simply stated that I will insist upon splitting the wrestlers' money 80 and 20 per cent," said Gotch; "the 80 per cent going to the winner and the 20 per cent to the loser. I am tired of permitting these foreigners to get a lot of money for losing. I shall hold out for a big winner's end of the money. I have not, however, insisted upon the promoters giving me 60 per cent of the gross. The difference of opinion is simply between me and J. H. Herman, manager of Zbyszko."

Gotch repeated the statement that he was seriously thinking of leaving the mat forever. He will assist Jeffries in getting into shape and then will make a world's tour with the champion, should he defeat Johnson. After that the world's greatest wrestler is seriously contenplating retiring to the broad and fertile acres of his Iowa farm.

Last night a Duluth doctor and a medical man from Virginia asked permission to come into Gotch's dressing room. The champion was stripped and stood there a model of man as he should be. The two doctors wondered at the marvelous development of the big wrestler.

They examined the heart and lungs of the champion, tapping him and listening to the heart beats. At the conclusion of the examination, both the medical men pronounced Gotch an extraordinary example of physical development. He showed a wonderful lung expansion and the action of his heart, according to the two doctors, was perfect.

SPENCER TO LEAD TEAM

Elected Baseball Captain at Athletic Meeting and Bondy Chosen Manager.

Eben Spencer was elected captain and Mortimer Bondy manager of the Duluth Central High School baseball team at a meeting held at the high school yesterday afternoon. The candidates for the team will hold the first practice of the season Monday if the weather continues in its present placid strain.

Spencer caught on the high school team of two years ago and is a very strong player. He expects to get together a very strong team, and with the material at hand, the high school boys believe the hilltop institution will have a very representative high school team.

The two Superior high schools, Nelson Dewey and Blaine, will be in the interscholastic league that will be formed. Superior normal will also have a team entered. Virginia and Hibbing high schools, as well as Ashland and one or two other Wisconsin high school teams may also apply for membership in the league.

FIRST BASE MEN SCARCE

Star Initial Bag Performers Wanted By Several Big League Teams.

Modern Team Play Has Increased Duties Belonging to This Position.

(By W. A. Phelon.)

Got a first baseman in your clothes? Didn't leave one at home on top of the piano, did you? If you can dig one up, a fellow who can play the bag in shifty fashion and can hit a few, you can get big money for him. Oddly enough, first basemen of the class A quality have suddenly become extremely scarce and valuable while a few years ago they were a drug in the market. It was taken for granted, not so long ago, that a first baseman needn't know how to do anything but catch easy throws and hit—especially hit. That was plenty. Minor league first basemen were treated with disrespect when they cut into fast company and were offered puny salaries. First basing, in fact, was considered more or less of a second-handed, second-rate occupation—but that was some time ago.

Good first basemen have the call this spring. Several big teams are all to the bad without them and you can't extract one of the live ones from his present employers for any money. Among the clubs that need a first bagger is the Giants, but there are others.

Giant Needs.

While the Giants have two professional first basemen and some eager young subs, the team is, nevertheless, up against it proper. Fred Tenney, one one of the greatest players who ever drew on the first baseman's glove, is about through and the spring practice does not seem to be reviving the plucky veteran. Merkle has been subbing on the station for two years or so, but has not even yet shown that he classes with the masters of the job. The young experiments are unknown quantities, and there you are. Looks fine for the Giants, doesn't it? Huh! More of that bull talk about getting Konetchy or Hoblitzell? Oh, choke that noise!

Brooklyn has Big Tim Jordan, who is all O. K. and also has a good minor leaguer named Daubert. Daub, old hoss, is not a chicken, having first based for many years, but he is said to have the goods and be ready to deliver them. Why not fork him over to the Giants? Well, if the Giants couldn't go and find a first baseman at drafting time, whose fault is it they haven't one now, and why should Brooklyn cough up a player?

The Boston Nationals don't even know yet just what they will do for a first baseman and are crying aloud for one. They need a lot of other players on that Boston team, but they sure do need a first bagger.

More Sorrows.

That erudite and foxy leader, Mr. F. Leroy Chance, isn't shy on first basemen, though. He is all there himself, of course, but, just to be sure in case of fire, he has a whopping male named Luderus, who looms up as one of the best grabs from the little leagues. Would Frank sell this Luderus, superhuous in Chicago, but useful here, to New York? Yes, he would, in a pig's sunbonnet.

Cincinnati is all right. Dick Hoblitzell is the real walloping kid, and can play the base besides. Philadelphia is fairly well off with Bransfield, but he is beginning to get a little slow, and the Quakers would like to have a nice young man to bring up in the way that he should follow.

The champion Pirates are in trouble. They fired their first bagger, and now they don't know whether Flynn, the man they are trying out, will do or will prove a flivver. Down at St. Louis Konetchy is a star both on the bag and at whanging the leather on the heavy pedal.

Happy Stallings.

The New York Americans are all right, for Hal Chase is right in the zenith of his playing powers. This boy is a master of the bag, and the Highlanders are finely fixed while Halibut is in the game.

Boston's Red Sox are well off with Jake Stahl—the big boy who can cover the bag superbly, and seems to be getting better all the time as a slugger. Connie Mack still relies on Harry Davis, a most artistic and capable player, but one who is beginning to grow old. Mack wouldn't object to training a promising youngster for the future.

McAleer, at Washington, is perplexed. Bob Unglaub is a pretty good first baseman, but is also useful in other places, and Jimmy would be delighted to land a fresh and ambitious juvenile.

Comiskey's two great first basemen, Isbell and Donolue, are both gone now and he is trying to train a new star from a bunch of candidates, with only problematical success. At Cleveland, McGuire, although owning a good first baseman—Stovall—is thinking of putting Lajoie on the base, so that Turner can work on second.

The champion Tigers are worried, inasmuch that Tom Jones is slowing up and getting a little listless. Jennings would be glad to hear from a lively kid with first base ability.

St. Louis will try a National league discard—Abstein—and may make good with him, or may fail. O'Connor wouldn't mind having a sturdy youngster in reserve.

Great chances for young first basemen these days, if there were only a few such to be found.

SCHEDULE IS COMPLETED

Will Probably Be Adopted as It Stands at Present.

The Minnesota-Wisconsin league will probably be accepted as it stands at the present time. Winona, Wausau and othe teams at the southern end of the circuit have given their approval of the draft, so that it will in all probability, go through.

The schedule cannot satisfy all of the teams, and at first Winona, La Crosse and Eau Claire believed they had reason to find fault with the arrangement for some of the games. However, these teams have fallen into line and at the present time the local club is the only organization in the league holding out for some minor change in the schedule.

It is believed the schedule will be finally approved and published within the next week.

Jeffersons to Organize.

The Jefferson Athletic club of this city will hold its annual meeting Monday evening at 512 West Fourth street. A playing captain for the baseball team will be elected and also a manager for the present season. The Jeffersons had a very strong team last year and the prospects are for an even stronger team the present season. All the members of the club are urged to be present at the Monday meeting.

DULUTH PRODUCES GREAT CANINE POINT WINNER.

James Fly, one of the finest pointers in the West, winner of the Western field trial last year, and also a bench winner, is owned by the Lester park kennels of this city. The dog is a magnificent specimen of his breed and will be entered in many shows the present season. There are also some other promising dogs at the Duluth kennels, but so far James Fly is the pride of the bunch.

BOWLING SCORES

The Three Winners won two games out of three from the Hilllards on the Majestic alleys last evening. At the present time the Three Winners are leading the Commercial league and the victory of last evening further increased the lead. Foster won the high score, 218, and Kelley Compton won the high average, 197 1-3. The detailed score:

BOWLING AVERAGES

Sam Olsen is leading the bowlers in the City Bowling league race. He has an average of 192 points for 67 games, being one point in the lead of Stiegler. Otterson and Berini are close up in the race for individual honors.

Fitwells lead the team standing, having won 41 out of 69 games. The Centrals follow at the heels of the leaders. The Fitwells also lead in the total number of pins gathered. In 69 games the leaders have accumulated 83,270 pins for an average of 917 pins per game. The Majestics are close to the leaders.

MAY "CAN" BREEN.

In an interview given out by Michael J. Kelly, genial manager of the St. Paul baseball team, he states that he is dissatisfied with his third basemen and the pitchers. He also states that he is angling for a third baseman from the American league, probably meaning the Boston American team, which has established trade relations with St. Paul.

This probably means that "Toughey" Breen has failed to make good with St. Paul. He has probably failed to maintain the fast clip he played at for a while the latter part of last season. It may also mean that George Dauss has also failed to make good.

Most of the local fans hoped that Breen would stick. He may yet, though the statement of Kelly would seem to sound a knell to the hopes of the Duluth boy's friends.

FIVE MEMBERS OF LAST YEAR'S JUNIOR EIGHT WILL FORM NUCLEUS OF CREW THAT WILL GO TO KENORA REGATTA

LIGGETT.

QUIMBY.

FORGETTE.

THOMPSON.

HECTOR.

Five old oarsmen will start work with the crew. Forgette, stroke of last year's junior eight; Hector, Liggett, Thompson and Quimby, all members of the crew that chased the veteran junior eight of Winnipeg by the Minnesota Boat club house at St. Paul last July—these men will be back to attempt to help mould a winning crew out of the material at hand the present season.

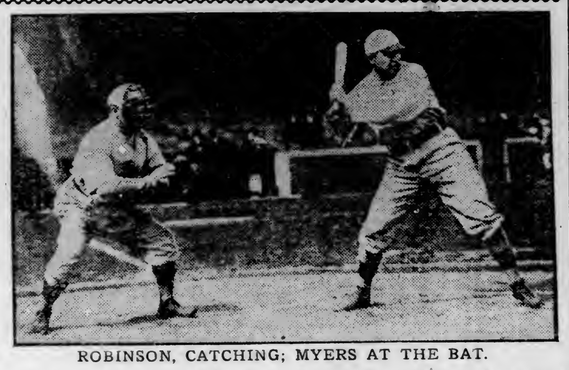

The five men of last year's crew will be joined by "Bill" Crawford, who captained the crew of last year and rowed a strong oar all season, who will take up rowing after he comes back from the University of Minnesota. These men are expected to form a nucleus of the present season's eight.

There are two Canadian oarsmen who have had a wide range of experience in crews in Canadian clubs. These men will try for the Duluth Boat club eight, and, according to the nice things that have been said about them, will make valuable additions to the crew.

Kent, Lathrop, who rowed last year, and a large list of other candidates will be out for the crew. John McGregor, an enthusiast on the subject of rowing, and also a hustler, will be at the head of the rowing department. He is a favorite with all the oarsmen and should be able to get together a winning crew.

The coach has not been chosen as yet, but the officials of the club state that one will be selected within two weeks. In the meantime the candidates will practice under the supervision of some of the men who have rowed in former crews of the club.

SECOND TEAM OF NEW YORK GIANTS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

ROBINSON, CATCHING; MYERS AT THE BAT.

This photograph shows Wilbert Robinson catching and Chief Myers at the bat. Robbie is in charge of McGraw's colt team and is very proud of them and their record. They broke even with the regulars at Marlin this year in the number of games won and lost. Robbie thinks they can beat the second team of any of the big league clubs. Chief Myers has improved in his work behind the bat and this, with his good batting, will likely hold him for the position of second catcher on the Giants.

A RETURN GAME.

Big Duluths and O'Dea's Recruits Will Meet at Athletic Park.

A return game will be played tomorrow between the Big Duluths of this city and Artle O'Dea's Superior recruits. The two teams played last Sunday at Superior, the game going 7 to 2 in favor of the Duluth semi-professionals.

O'Dea is using the men he is trying out and expects them to make a better showing than they did last Sunday. The Big Duluths will have practically the same team that trounced the Superior recruits last week.

The lineup:

Big Duluths.	Position.	Superior.
Schaeffer	c	Peterson
Thorsen	p	Brownies or Wheeler
Sturm	1b	Buchanan or Wheeler
McGraw	2b	Kentfield
McCauley	3b	Bancroft
Olson	ss	Koepping

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines prescribed by physicians for rheuamtism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all drugists.

QUITE HARMLESS.

Senator James B. Frazier, at a banquet in Chattanooga, said of a certain lawsuit, says Washington Star.

"The discussion was misunderstood. Harmless, it gave an impression of harm. It reminds me of Mountain View Beach.

"A young matron, her unmarried sister and her little daughter sat at one side of the long table at a Mountain View Beach hotel, and opposite them sat a meek young minister that the child, for some unknown reason, greatly feared.

"One evening the young mother wanted to go to the beach to see some fireworks with her sister, but the little girl refused to be left alone. She screamed and wept. So it was decided to frighten her into submission by means of a trick.

"For this purpose the young sister slipped out, then came and knocked at the bedroom door, and said in a peculiar bass voice:

"'What's the matter in there?'

"The child stopped crying and looked frightened. Her mother said:

"'Hush. That's the parson. Now will you go to sleep?'

"This trick succeeded. Mother and sister got off to the fireworks. Everything seemed well.

"But at dinner the next day, during a silence that had fallen on the long table, the little girl looked over at the young minister and said tauntingly in her shrill, loud voice:

"'Aha, you knocked at mother's door last night, and she wouldn't let you in!'"

HARD TO TELL.

Lippincott's: A noted horseman, who covers the grand circuit with a fine string of horses, tells the story of a man who entered a horse in a certain race and made a bet on it.

When the horses got away, the man stood with the field glasses glued to his eyes, watching the progress of his favorite.

Some of the men who knew of the bet crowded around and asked how the horse was going.

"Well," was the reply, "I can't just make out whether he is the last in the third race or the first in the fourth."

NOTHING LIKE IT HERE.

Joseph Leiter, at a dinner in Washington, said earnestly of his approaching European tour:

"Where I am going I'll find something that we haven't here, that we'll never have here—namely, hopeless poverty."

Mr. Leiter's seriousness gave place to a lighter mood.

"Why," said he, "the poverty of Europe is so acute that I am credibly informed it is quite a common thing over there for little children, knocking at neighbors' doors, to whine:

"'Please, ma'am, mother says will ye lend us somethin' to pawn till pay day evenin'?'"

COBB AND BESCHER BEST BASE STEALERS, SAYS JIM ARCHER

(By Jimmy Archer.)

Speed, daring, generalship and the ability to slide from any angle—these are the requisites of successful base stealing in the big leagues. Scores of fast men strive for the honors every year, but, in my opinion, the prize goes to Bob Bescher of Cincinnati in the National and Ty Cobb of the Detroits in the American league. In many respects these boys are alike on the sacks, although Tyrus possibly has more speed than the Red's left fielder.

It isn't rapid footwork so much as daring that made Bescher the star of our league in 1909. I have pegged for all of them, but this youngster, bracitcally unknown twelve months ago, is the original dare devil. He delights in reaching first and kidding the catcher of the opposing club.

Time and again Bescher has stood back of Manager Chance in games between the Cubs and the Reds and has taken leads that would have spelled instant death for slower runners. He is a complex problem, too—one that even the older catchers cannot figure. There's a grim determination about his every movement on the cushions, and many's the time he has outguessed me when I really thought I was dopping him right.

Of the champion Pirates Fred Clarke and Hans Wagner have long been dangerous propositions while on base. Tommy Leach, in my opinion, is not the equal of either Clarke or the big Dutchman, and Tommy is a mighty fast man.

One of the most important things in the life of a big league catcher is the study of opposing players. The backstop must memorize something besides the particular hitting talents of the rival athletes. For it's usually the catcher who hands out the signals telling his pitcher just what ball to deliver. But the catcher must also know when to peg for a would-be base stealer. In my case I have made this an important part of catching. Hence it's not so hard to guess when some particular player is bent on heading for the next cushion.

Hans Lobert of Cincinnati, a speedy runner, in nine times out of ten "tips" his hand the minute he reaches base. The way he spreads his feet, his general all-around attitude, his furtive looks, all that helps the catcher when Honus is about to start something he can't finish.

Not wishing to appear egotistical, I will state for the benefit of the fans, however, that my right arm is one inch shorter than my left. The difference doesn't interfere with my throwing, strange as it may seem in the case of an athlete who is slightly out of gear.

An accident in 1902 when I was employed in a coopery at Toronto left me in my present condition. While at work one night in midwinter I fell into a vat of boiling water and was scalded almost to death. The accident sent me to the hospital for over four months, and when I was discharged my right arm and leg were almost beyond recall. I walked with a limp and found it mighty hard to swing my arm. Later I went to a tailor's, and while being fitted for a suit the clothesmaker called my attention to the shortage in the right arm. Since then it has alarmed more than one tailor. But I'm short, although it hasn't proven a handicap in my case.

As the result of that accident I later, entering professional baseball, acquired the habit of throwing with the aid of my ankle and instep. Strange as it may seem, I get big leverage from the right instep, and most of the "pegs" that go true are directly due to the footwork. I have studied pegging in all the leagues during the last eight years, but the squat style which I use exclusively has proven the most effective of them all.

Oftentimes I have made false shots while throwing from a standing posture. When I strike the squat, or stand half way up, I find the ball travels with greater velocity and accuracy. That gnarled first finger on my right hand also has helped a lot. It's been broken four times by foul tips in minor and major league games, and on many occasions I have been forced to retire, owing to hurts, but the digit is of inestimable value in the pegging.

Of all the smashups I have figured in while playing ball the accident while I was with the Boone, Iowa club in 1904 was by long odds the most serious. In the ninth round of a game one hot afternoon I ran at top speed to catch a foul ball that was alighting near the edge of the field. First thing I knew I didn't know anything, for I had crashed into a hitching rack used by farmer fans to tie their horses during the game. The doctors at the hospital latter patched up a dislocated shoulder and reduced my fractured collar bone. I didn't wear a uniform for five months after that collision.

"Bugs" Raymond, now of the New York giants, fixed my clock in 1906, sending me to the cleaners for almost a month. At that time I was catching for Atlanta, and during the series at Nashville I caught the first game. The manager asked me to go in and work the second contest. Raymond signaled a "spitter" with Red Russell, a dangerous batter, up, and immediately crossed the signal shooting a fast one down the groove. Russell fouled the ball and it banged back against my leg, splintering the knee cap.

Again they carted me off to the hospital and while cooped up there the doctors inserted a lot of silver wire in the cap to bring the splintered bones together. The wire is still there, although it has at no time interfered with my playing.

LANGFORD IS BORN FIGHTER

Black Demon Built on Lines Denoting Immense Physical Strength.

San Francisco Cal., April 2.—The black bugaboo, Sam Langford, is loose again, and there is terrible, genuine fear in the land of fighters. Langford's easy victory over Flynn at Vernon once more brings this dreaded specter upon the pugilistic horizon, and the very shadow of Langford inspires more fear among fighters than does Halley's comet among over-shy and acidulous spinsters.

Langford's easy victory over Flynn puts this dreaded black man back in the way of timid fighters, and it is a cinch that Samuel will have to do a lot of looking about him before he'll find any of the topnotch pugilists willing to have anything to do with him in the ring.

Of all the fighters in the ring this Langford is the most dreaded. Fight managers use him to scare their charges with when they want them to be good, and Langford is just as effectual in the case of fighters as the "little black" man was in our nursery days. Just line up with a bunch of pugilists who are talking fight and mention Langford to them. The cave man's name scatters talkative fighters as easily as a charge of buckshot sends a flock of blackbirds seeking a haven.

Born Fighter.

Langford is a born fighter. He was made for the business he is following. One could not fail to pick Langford among a million as the fighting type. His great, long arms simply bristle with menace, his shoulders are as wide as a barn door and the negro's chest looks like some double shield. His head seems to grow into his shoulders and there is hardly a semblance of a neck. And that Langford head! It is a study.

When Sam has his hat on his forehead looks as though it might give some glint of human intelligence. The Langford forehead is broad and the elevations around the temples are to bold enough. But when Langford takes his hat off his top head has the appearance of having been cleft off with an ax. The Langford top head is as flat as the plains of Nebraska.

Langford is built to weather terrible gales in the ring. But the negro has enough fighting instinct to avoid these gales. Were Langford to meet some ring giant, stand toe to toe with him and swap punches like the knights of old used to do, it is very doubtful if any fighter in the ring, barring possibly Johnson or Jeffries, could fell this negro first.

The Langford arms are like gnarly oaks. The muscles lie soft and flat in them when at rest, but when Sam bristles up for battle the hitting muscles in his arms and shoulders glare up like a cat's back and he is surely a fearsome man to behold.

So far as middleweights go it does appear as though it will be a long time before they'll dig up one who can beat this negro Langford. Langford is as fast as Joe Gans. He can hit a blow just as hard as Ketchel, and he is almost the ring equal of Tomsilits Tommy Ryan in the matter of generalship.

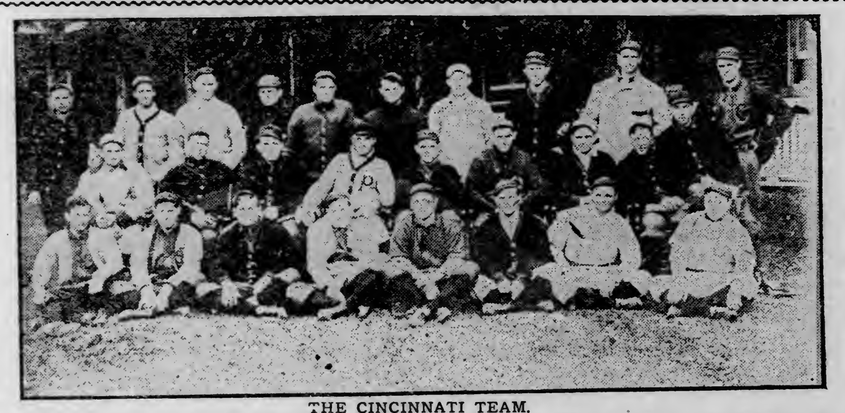

This Langford is what gentlemen of the turf and scientists might call a "throw back," not of generations but of ages. In what should arm him in a war of life against life, limb against limb, he is a creature of utter cunning, utter courage, utter strength.

Langford is an arrested development. He is the original one, who lived with the cave bear, the gorilla, the sabertoothed tiger.

In what fits men for the game of fighting Langford is almost unequaled. Ketchel and that sort hardly compare with this demon black man. In strength, Langford is more than the equal of any middleweight that ever drew on a glove. In science he is far and away ahead of any of the present day middles, and it is doubtful if any man in the ring today is built along lines that will stand more battering than Langford.

Langford beat Flynn as he should have beaten him, and, barring Jeffries and Johnson, Langford would have beaten any other fighter he had before him just as easily as he beat down one Andrew Chiarigilon.

COUNTRY LIFE AND PRACTICAL TRAINING FOR ORPHAN CHILDREN IN NEW HOME

New St. James Orphanage Costing $125,000 Is Nearing Completion.

Located on Tract of Forty-Six Acres Near Wood-Land.

THE NEW ST. JAME'S ORPHANAGE.

The superstructure of the new St. James' Orphanage, which is being constructed by the Catholic diocese of Duluth at Woodland, has been practically completed and the interior work is now being done, the plasterers being at work. The building will be completed and ready for occupancy about June 1, and complete with furnishings will cost about $125,000, exclusive of the land, which was donated by Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, bishop of the diocese.

The new orphanage is a beautiful building, situated on a tract of forty-six acres of fine land, near enough to the city to be convenient and far enough away to insure the exclusion of the children from the noise and clatter of the city, and also to insure the enjoyment of pure air, green grass and plenty of room. The land will be parked and arranged as a great playground for the children. A garden will be planted of sufficient size to provide the orphanage with all the articles of food that can be raised in this climate. Cows will be kept to furnish the orphanage with pure milk, cream and butter; the city water system has been extended to the grounds, and the sewer system will provide excellent sanitation. The building was constructed with a view to providing the best possible arrangements to secure the health, happiness, physical, mental and moral training of the wards of the diocese.

Two Buildings.

There are two buildings under construction at present, the main building and a boiler room and hospital building. They are constructed of brick, with Bedford stone trimmings. The interior of the main building is finished in birch, with maple floors. The main building is 181x44, with a large rear wing. The boiler room and hospital building, which is detached, is about 60x35 feet.

The orphanage will have acommodations for about 250 children. On the first floor of the main building there will be reception rooms and class rooms and apartments for the residing priest. On the second floor, there will also be class rooms and the girls' dormitory. Apartments for the bishop's use when he visits the orphanage, will also be fitted up on the second floor. On the third floor, the boys' and babies' dormitories will be located.

The rear wing will have the dining rooms and kitchen on the first floor, sisters' quarters on the second floor and the chapel on the third floor.

The detached building will be a thoroughly fireproof building. The boiler room will be on the ground floor and the second floor will be fitted up for the laundry and for engineers' quarters. On the third floor, the hospital will be located. There will be no communication between the second floor and the hospital floor, the only entrance to the hospital being a stairway from the ground, running up the ootside of the building.

Industrial School.

The basement of the main building will be fitted up as an industrial school, with quarters and equipment for a complete manual training and domestic science school. Besides the regular academic branches, the children will be given a thorough practical training in the use of their hands. When the boys are old enough to go out into the world they will be mechanics, with ability to make themselves useful and to support themselves. The girls will be trained in cooking, sewing and housework, so that they will have practical training that will enable them to cope with the world.

In the basement, also, there will be a gymnasium, while every playground arrangement will be cared for out of doors in order that the physical training of the children may be conducted under the best possible conditions.

The new orphanage will replace as the diocesan orphans' home, St. James' orphanage at Twentieth avenue west and Third street. There are at present about 114 children in the old orphanage and the quarters are badly crowded. The completion of the new building will be welcomed by the sisters and others interested in the orphanage work of the diocese, for it will enable the diocese to take much better care of its orphaned children. The new orphanage will be in charge of the same community of sisters, which has charge of the old orphanage, the Order of St. Benedict.

The people of the diocese have responded generously to the appeal of the bishop for funds for the building and furnishing of the new home. Already about $75,000 of the $125,000 necessary has been raised and it is expected that the remainder of the amount will be raised before the orphanage is occupied, so that there will be no debt hanging over it. There has been one contribution of $10,000, several of $5,000 each and the remainder of the money has been raised in smaller sums all through the diocese.

Although Bishop McGolrick works untiringly for every diocesan project, he has labored especially hard for the orphanage and its completion will be a source of great gratification to him. He contributed the land on which the orphanage is built and also made a personal contribution of $5,000. In addition he turned over to the building fund, a purse containing about $7,000, which was presented to him on the occasion of the observance of the twentieth anniversary of his elevation to the bishop's seat in December.

CONVICT MADE GOODS IN NEW YORK

While the Law Restricts the Sale of New York Prison Products to State Institutions, Goods Made By Convicts of Other States Flood the Market.

By E. STAGG WHITIN,

Member Executive Committee of National Committee on Prison Labor.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

The great markets of New York city are a prey to the goods manufactured by convicts in the penal institutions. While the system of selling goods made by convicts in New York prisons only to state institutions prevails in New York state, thus keeping these goods from the open market, the influx of wares from prisons outside the state amounts yearly to millions of dollars' worth of goods with which the products of free labor cannot compete. The department of labor of New York state, of which John Williams is commissioner, has striven to stop these inroads by the enforcement of the state licensing laws but has been restrained by a decision of the court to the effect that these laws are unconstitutional.

The court of appeals of New York has before it at the present time the constitonality of this license law. This opinion will be watched for with interest in every state where prison goods are manufactured. Should the law prove constitutional it will be vigorously enforced by the state authorities, thus practically prohibiting the sale of these goods. If it proves unconstitutional further legislation will probably be resorted to.

The bearing of this decision upon the markets of New York state, and incidentally the whole country, was brought out last week at a hearing before the labor committee of the house of representatives, when it was shown that in certain large industries there have grown up combinations or trusts of prison contractors who control the markets in these commodities because of their ability derived from the cheapness of the labor to undersell the goods made from free factories. Besides affecting the great markets of the country and making idle the working people in many communities, the conditions of manufacture of these goods in many states were shown to be not only unfair to the prisoners but demoralizing to the prison authorities.

The difficulty of regulating manufacture by convicts is apparent, and many attempts have been made in the legislatures of the different states to satisfy first the labor unions, then the manufacturers and then the prison authorities who are anxious to make their prisons self-supporting. To get these several interested parties to agree upon a plan of constructive reform, a national committee on prison labor has been organized in New York city, with Thomas R. Slicer as chairman. It numbers among its members Prof. Charles R. Henderson, president of the National Prison conference; Hamilton Holt of the Independent, Dr. Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor; Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Clarence J Shearn of the New York American, John S. Huyler and Congressman William S. Bennet. This committee is organized to bring about in every state such a solution of the problem that the manufacture of convict goods may be continued so as to provide development work for the convict which will be profitable to the state and at the same time do away with the unfair competition and all the demoralizing effects incident to it.

The search for a more satisfactory method of employing convicts will probably cause this subject to be a matter of discussion before the international prison conference at Washington in October, and the attitude of France, Germany and England to this subject will be sure to attract the attention of the American public. It is not generally realized here that for over 100 years France has recognized under law the right of prisoners to the wages they earn over and above the amount needed for maintenance. She also protects them under the general labor laws and secures for them just compensation for accident under the employers' liability law. The German and English systems, upon which the American has been based, denies this right of the prisoner to wage or any other protection incident to the labor. In actual practice in many states of the Union, prisoners are allowed as a fee or bonus some reward varying from a little tobacco to a fixed percentage of the earnings of the prison, but in no case does this exceed a few cents a day. These amounts are paid for a prescribed stint, and are often used for the support of the prisoner's family. In some prisons the wardens permit the prison contractors to enter into agreement with the prisoners for their extra time, that is, the overtime above and beyond the stint. These contracts are supposed to be voluntary between the prisoner and the contractor, and the pay is regulated between them, but the unfortunate feature is that they have not the protection of the law, as the prisoner soon finds when he attempts to assert his rights. The result is a natural tendency on the part of the contractors, many of whom are estimable men, to exploit the prisoners to the limit where the prisoner becomes useless as a laborer, or the warden interferes for fear the interests of the state to the prisoner's work will become impaired. These conditions, which exist in many of our prisons, are not only cruel to the prisoner and unfair to free labor, but are unsatisfactory to the prison contractors who complain of their failuro to procure the best work of men who are confined under these conditions. In several states attempts have been made to amend the penal labor laws so as to give a fair wage to the prisoner and protect it by law. It has been pointed out that such a wage would take away the taint from the prison-made goods, would guarantee that they do not undersell goods manufactured in the markets, or displace in an unjust way the free labor in the community. Should the French system be adopted in this country, the prisoner would still remain a laborer with his rights as such, but would simply be confined within a penal institution for the safety of the community.

The national government has no power to regulate the question of wage, but bills have been from time to time introduced in congress for the purpose of allowing the states themselves to legislate against the convict goods of other states. Such a bill is at present before congress. Should such a measure be held to be unconstitutional, it seems likely that attempts will be made to procure regulations for convict goods similar to those used in the pure food law requiring each article to state the percentage of its constituent parts. One of the constituents in the production of convict goods would naturally be the item of wage, and the appearance of such a statement upon the goods would allow the public to judge whether or not they were injuries to the public weal. Whatever the decision reached by congress or the state legislatures it seems likely that each community will be held responsible for the cost of its own criminals, and the great markets of the country and the labor which they represent will be freed from the competition of debased goods manufactured by unfree labor.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

BEULAH MAGNER,
Who Appears as Miss Nora Desmond in "Esmeralda," the High School Senior Play.

JEAN COCHRANE,
Who Will Appear as Mrs. Rogers in "Esmeralda."

The time for the class play, "Esmerelda," is drawing near and Mr. Custance expects to have everything running very smothly Tuesday night.

Rehearsals have been held every day for the past four weeks, and there are several in the cast who are expected to star in their parts.

Two of the leading parts are: Mrs. Rogers, played by Miss Jean Cockrane; and Miss Norah Desmond, which will be taken by Miss Beulah Magner. Both of the young women have been doing well in the rehearsals, although this is their first experience.

A chorus of girls will appear at the beginning of the third act.

The present senior class has indeed a right to be proud of its record in scholarship. The large number of seventeen on the honor roll is a record to boast of. There are 133 pupils in the 1910 class and prospects point to the winding up of a high school career never equaled by any former class.

Louise Coe received first place with a total of 2619 points out of a possible 2,800. Archie McDermid was second with 2,617; William Borneman, third, with 2,606; Marion Brown, fourth, with 2,601; Jean Cochrane, fifth, with 2,594, and Emma Nelson, sixth, with 2,580. These six pupils are considered honor pupils.

The others whose averages are above 90 per cent and receive honorable mention are: Charles Evans, Callie Merritt, May Ferguson, Dorothy Peck, Anna Grant, Alfred Ott, Harry Zlatkovsky, Fanny Hogan, Francis Dickerson, Bessie Boerner, and Rupert O'Brien.

The Schiller bund ((German society) gave another of its splendid programs Monday. The principal feature was a one-act comedy, "Einer Muss Heiraten," by A. Wilhelm. The part of the aunt in the play was splendidly taken by Louise Coe, who is also in the cast of the senior play. The part of Louise, her neice, was very well handled by Bessie Quimby. Both girls excelled in their German pronunciation. The other characters were two brothers, the part of the older brother, Jacob, being well taken by Harry Weston. The part of the other brother was taken by Stanley Lamb, who proved to be the bright particular star of the performance. His stage presence was excellent and every word he uttered was distinctly audible in every part of the room.

Miss Dengler rehearsed the play and did it so well that even with a faint understanding of the plot, pupils other than the German classes, could understand it.

In chapel Friday morning, Robert Donaldson, president of the senior class challenged the faculty to a baseball game, and the challenge was accepted by Mr. Buck. Both the speeches caused much mirth among the pupils, and the freshmen are still laughing over Mr. Buck's remark that he thought the lady members of the faculty could beat the 1910 boys.

Many of the alumni who returned from the university for the spring vacation visited school Monday. Among them were such football stars as "Bill" Crawford, Earl Cummings, "Dean" Coventry and Roy Kent.

An oratorical contest has been planned by the officials of the Duluth Central and Irving high school of West Duluth, and Nelson Dewey and Blaine of Superior. A boy and girl from each school will be chosen and a cup will be awarded the winning school. The boys will compete in oratory and the girls in declamation.

The Central try-out will be held April 8, at which representatives for the contest will be chosen.

The contest will be held in Superior, about May 15.

The sophomores held their annual hop last night and an enjoyable evening was spent. The high school hall was decorated beautifully in red and white, the school colors, and maroon and old gold, the class colors.

At the spread, Lawrence Duby, president of the class, acted as toastmaster and besides the toasts by the other class presidents, Mr. Buck, and Miss Wright, the class adviser, were called upon to respond.

A large number of Central students attended the concert given by the Minnesota Glee and Mandolin clubs last week at the school auditorium and were well pleased with the program.

Capt. "Bill" Stevens of last fall's football team and also captain of the senior track team, has not been in school this week, on account of illness. He is rapidly regaining his health, however, and all are expecting to give him a hearty welcome back Monday morning.

Allen Starkey, who was obliged to return home from Lawrenceville, Pa., where he was attending the Princeton Preparatory school, has recovered from his illness and decided to take a post-graduate course at the high school the rest of the semester, instead of returning to Lawrenceville.

Besides the debate Monday afternoon, in which the girls' team was defeated by a team of boys picked from the Forum, a recitation was given by Stanley Lamb, and a piano duet by Arnold Berg and Cecil Gilliland.

The last of the Zenith board work was handed in Wednesday and the book will go to press in a few weeks.

Everybody is gratified with the election of Eben Spencer to captain the school baseball team this spring. Spencer played on the team two years ago and his ability as a catcher is well known by the boys of the school. Practice begins Monday and a strong team is looked for.

The chemistry classes did not recite this week. Mr. Wheeler, who has been ill for the past three or four weks, was unable to return Monday as was expected, and Mr. Ulrich, who took his place before vacation, was also unable to return. A teacher is expected to be secured, however, before Monday.

• • •

Great interest is being taken in the girls' interclass basketball league. A scheduled game was played this afternoon.

RUNS WITHOUT TROLLEY OR CABLE

EDISON'S STORAGE BATTERY CAR.

New York, April 2.—Edison storage battery cars are being tested in New York city on the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth street lines and are proving a success. The cars are being built at the Edison plant in New Jersey. The Edison company estimates that the cars can be run at a cost of current used of about 1 cent per car mile, which, they claim, is considerably less than the cost of running a trolley line. They say the new car will run eighteen hours with one charging and that the process of charging will occupy the other six hours in twenty-four.

SOCIETY

People are beginning to wonder what is the matter with Duluth. The quiet that prevails is peaceful on nerves that might be jangled, but it isn't exciting and when you're 20 you want excitement. What will the belles of today do for reminiscenses when they wear lace capes and do knitting? There will be so little to reminisce about. The days do not whirl by in a riot of beautiful "functions" nor are there a host of "informal affairs." There is a beautiful placid calm, however.

The spring party of the Cotillion club took place last evening at the oasis in the desert of ordinary existence. William White, Jr., led the cotillion assisted by Miss Julia Hunter and the favors for the various figures were dainty and springlike and were suggestive in many instances of April fool's day. La Brose's orchestra played. At the favor table were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Leithhead and among the dancers were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
Ralph Hubbell, Elmer Whyte, Misses—
Julia Hunter, Kennedy,
Richardson, Fitger,
Swift, Hubbell,
Bradshaw of Superior, Paine,
Millar,
Bardon, of Superior, Margaret Panton.
White,
Messrs.—
White, Cutler,
Beckwith, Harrison,
Blanchett, Sinclair,
Charles McLennan, Fitzgerald,
Ned Congdon,
Buck,

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Marshall, who left Duluth in February to make their home permanently in the East will sail April 16 from New York to travel abroad during the spring and summer. They will sail on the Celtic. They will be joined in the summer by their youngest son, Wayne, who is now at school. He will sail from Boston in June to join his parents.

Mrs. J. A. Watterworth entertained at luncheon yesterday at her home on East Third street in compliment to Miss Mary Gowan, whose wedding to Francis Dacey of this city will take place Wednesday morning of next week. Covers were laid for eleven.

Duluth was well represented last week at the fifth annual polo tournament held at the Coronada Country club at San Diego, Cal., as many of the Duluthians in the West for their winter outings were at San Diego at the time. Among those who attended the tournament at the Country club were Mr. and Mrs. Cassius H. Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. George Buck, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Marble, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Church, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crosby all of this city

Mrs. Rebecca McKenzie L'Engle and child of New York arrived during the week to be the guests of Mrs. L'Engle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie of Hunter's Park. Mr. L'Engle has gone to Borneo, where he has interests and will be joined there later by his wife and child. Mrs. L'Engle has not visited Duluth for a few years and she will probably be heard in a recital here before her departure.

Mrs. L'Engle is a former Duluth girl, whose success on the professional concert stage both in America and abroad, was cause of much interest. She has not appeared professionally since her marriage, but she has studied constantly and several informal affairs are being planned in compliment to her during her Duluth visit.

During the week there was much interest in two amateur theatrical entertainments, the first of which was the ambitious presentation of Pinero's "The Amazons," in which a group of Duluth amateurs acquitted themselves with honor. The performance was given Thursday evening and a large gathering of Duluth people enjoyed the clever comedy to the utmost.

Last evening "The Posey Bed," a cantata by Jessie Gaynor, was given by the children of the Endion Sunday school under the direction of Mrs. John A. Stephenson, and the flower cantata was entirely charming and little folks were delightful in the pretty piece.

Spring Weddings.

The wedding of Miss Carrie Johnson to Alfred Nelson took place last Saturday evening at the parsonage of the First Swedish Baptist church at 2212 West Third street. The marriage service was read by the pastor, the Rev. Swaney Nelson. The attendants were Miss Anna Vick and Alfred Johnson. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will be at home in the West end.

The wedding of Miss Ella Berg to Carl Warn took place Wednesday evening at the home of the Rev. John J. Daniels at the West end. The service was read by Mr. Daniels. Mr. Warn and his bride will be at home in the West end.

Miss Amelia Clara Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Blake, of 707 West Fifth street and Frank Bird Herrington of Grant's Pass, Or., were married Tuesday afternoon at Bishop McGolrick's residence. The wedding service was read by Father Lemier. The attendants were Miss Madeline Blake and Edward Miller. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Herrington left for a wedding trip to California. They will be at home at Grant's Pass, Or.

The wedding of Miss Fannie Levine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Levine of 726 East Fourth street to Maurice Millentaler of Boston, Mass., took place last Sunday at the home of the bride's uncle at Boston. Mr. Millentaler and his bride left for a wedding trip to the South and will come to Duluth this month to be the guest of the bride's parents for a short time. The will return to Boston, where they will make their home.

Informal Parties.

Mrs. J. A. Campbell entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home, 1426 East Fourth street. The game was played at eight tables and the favors were won by Mrs. E. M. Kelly, Mrs. J. K. Meakin, Mrs. Frank Church and Mrs. T. T. Hudson. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. M. C. Holahan, Mrs. A. V. Holahan, Mrs. Bridgeman and the Misses Dorothy Meakin and Dorothy Gibson.

George Overby was the guest of honor at a birthday surprise party Wednesday evening at his home at 5819 Redruth street. Games and music were the amusements and the guests were:

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Inter-Fraternity Council Approved By the Board of Regents.

Nine Minnesota Schools Are Added to the Accredited List.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The inter-fraternity council was approved by the board of regents at its meeting held last week, and was given full authority to act in all matters of fraternity regulation. The regents elected Prof. E. E. Nicholson, who was nominated by the council, as president of the organization.

The purpose of the council is to raise the standard of scholarship in the fraternities and to regulate rushing of high school men. The council is composed of one active member of each of the academic fraternities and also of a faculty member, who is elected president of the organization.

Such regulation of the fraternities has been tried successfully in several of the Eastern colleges and will fill a long-felt want at Minnesota.

An international movement for the organization of a club which is primarily designed as a home for university men while abroad has been started. This new club will be a common meeting place for American university men visiting England, as well as headquarters for the organizers and participants in international contests. Special privileges will be secured for members in the world of business, sport and travel, and for those completing their education abroad.

Membership is open to graduates and underclassmen of any university or college, civil or military, of recognized standing in America. The committee reserves the right of refusing or removing any name which in their opinion is deemed ineligible.

Applications for membership may be made direct to the secretary in London. The annual non-resident dues have been fixed at $10. The forms of application contain a request for a continuance of membership for at least five years.

Through the hospitality of the new Oxford and Cambridge club, one of the finest club buildings in London has been secured. The clubhouse immediately adjoins St. James' palace and Marlborough house. The club opened March 31, 1910. A Minnesota man, N. K. Chaney, is on the committee of Rhodesford scholars who are promoting the organization.

The twenty-first annual Pillsbury oratorical contest will be held in the university chapel, Tuesday evening, April 5. The prizes for this contest, of $100, $50 and $25, were established in 1888, by the heirs of the Hon. John S. Pillsbury.

Three distinguished university presidents are expected to attend the annual banquet of the Delta Kappa Epsilon, April 6, in the Radisson hotel. They are Dr. Cyrus Northrop, Dr. George McLean of Iowa, and Dr. Harry Pratt Judson of Chicago. The dekes purpose to make the banquet a tribute to President Northrop and it will be the most notable function ever held by the fraternity in the Northwest. Dr. Northrop will preside over the program of toasts.

Nine Minnesota schools were added to the accredited list at the meeting March 25 and 26, of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at the Auditorium hotel, Chicago. They were Alexandria, Canby, Glencoe, Jackson, Macalester, Worthington, Crookston, Ely and Little Falls. The latter three were dropped last year, the recent meeting reinstating them. With these additions there are now fifty-two accredited schools in Minnesota.

Deans John F. Downey, George F. James and Dr. E. V. Robinson represented Minnesota university at the meeting.

Dean Downey also attended the meeting of academic deans on March 23 and 24 at the University of Illinois. Four half-day sessions composed the meeting and the following universities were represented: Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebrasica and Kansas. The meeting in 1911 will be held at the University of Michigan.

Myrna Pressnell of Duluth appeared in chapel Thursday morning in the Euterpean quintette. The quintette is composed of five members of the glee club, with first sopranos, Ruth Jackson, Mildred Ozias; mezzo soprano, Myrna Pressnell; contraltos, Marguerite Scott and Mildred Langtree. Although this organization has never appeared at the university before, it has been in existence for some time and has had numerous engagements down town.

Two pleasing numbers were given: Sherwood's "Fairy Lullaby," and a waltz song, "Carmena," by Wilson.

Justice T. D. O'Brien of the state supreme court this week delivered a series of five lectures to the members of the senior law class on "Public Service Corporations."

St. Paul is to raise $50,000 for the theater of the Cyrus Northrop hall. It will be called the St. Paul auditorium. The amount needed to build the hall is $300,000. Of this amount students have subscribed $14,415, 110 faculty members having pledged $5,611, and 128 alumni have agreed to contribute $7,055, making a total of $27,081.

These figures do not include what was secured by the students during vacation nor the amount subscribed by students two years ago.

The Commercial club of Minneapolis has appointed a committee to canvass the city in an effort to raise $150,000.

A committee of alumni and citizens of Duluth have pledged $30,000 for Duluth and the range towns.

Mankato, Waseca, Rochester, Owatonna, Fergus Falls, Bemidji, Red Wing and Willmar are raising $1,000 each. The grand total in hand or in sight is $265,000.

E. B. Johnson says: "The first announcement of the plan to erect a Cyrus Northrop tribute was made public Feb. 26, a little more than one month ago. Today the final success of the plan is assured. The details will not be closed up for months, but the outcome is no longer a matter of doubt with the faculty and students."

The second annual Minnesota psychological conference was held at the university, Friday morning and evening. It is the purpose of the conference to present recent work in psychology which has a bearing on education. The conference was organized a year ago by psychology teachers of the state, and has since grown rapidly.

Prof. Wilde of the philosophy department was elected a member of the executive committee of the Western Philosophical association for the ensuing year, as the association is to meet at Minnesota next Christmas vacation.

Best Treatment for Colds.
"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free prespiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

Believed Accused Crazy.
Brainerd, Minn., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.) — Nick Sore was brought from the town of Allen this week and committed to jail in default of $500 bail to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny. Sore is said to have broken into several houses and burned a shack up there. It is the opinion of the officers that he is rather a fit subject for Fergus Falls instead of Stillwater, as he seems to be simple minded.

Gertie and the Bear.

BY MAUD WALKER.

GERTIE SMITH always declared she was not afraid of anything except snakes and cyclones. This was a boast she was in the habit of making when in the company of her little schoolmates. And there were some of her young friends who were inclined to doubt this statement.

"Gertie is safe in saying she fears only snakes and cyclones," said Bert Brown one day, "for snakes and cyclones are about the only things we have to fear in our country. But I daresay she'd change her story—or add some other names to her list of things to be feared—if we had wild animals in our part of the world."

And in a way, Bert was probably right, for in the state where Gertie lived there were few wild animals. The prairie wolf, the rabbitt, the prairie dog and the snake comprised the sum total of creatures to be feared. And where is the prairie child who fears the little coyote? And as he was the most dangerous of the creatures named except the snake, Gertie was safe in making such a statement. But of course, Gertie meant for her young friends to believe that she was not afraid of creatures other than those that inhabited her state. She might even have included such animals as tigers and lions, for she had no idea of them other than what she had picked up from reading.

One day while going home from school Gertie was again boasting about her bravery. And Bert and Ethel Brown were her companions. "Say, Gertie," said Ethel, "wouldn't you be afraid of a big black bear?"

"No, indeed," declared Gertie. "Just you show me a big black bear and I'll show you that I am not afraid of him."

Of course, Ethel was powerless to produce the bear, so there was no way of proving Gertie's courage at the moment. But as the three children wended their way homewards, Bert began evolving a plan in his mind. He meant to test Gertie's bravery somehow, for he was tired of her boasting. Besides, he really believed the little girl had sincere faith in her own courage and he wanted her to know that she, like other human beings, was timid at times and afraid of things.

After leaving Gertie at her own home—a fine old farmhouse on the public road—Bert and Ethel continued on their way to their own abode, another farm half a mile further on. "I say, Ethel," said Bert, "I have a plan to test Gertie's great and boasted courage. Tomorrow is the first of April—our day for jokes, you know. Well, I'm going to get a good April fool on Gertie. So, no matter what happens, you needn't be afraid, for a certain animal you encounter on your way homewards will not be as dangerous as it appears."

Ethel laughed, and asked to be taken into the secret. But Bert said he had told her enough to prepare her and that she'd enjoy the joke more if she knew nothing of the particulars.

"Oh, is it a—bear? Oh, let's run— let's run for our lives."

The next day Bert got the teacher to excuse him from school half an hour before closing time. As this was nothing unusual—a pupil being excused from school on some good excuse—none of the other pupils attached any importance to Bert's going. In fact, Gertie Smith did not notice his absence at all, she was so occupied in getting her last lesson of the day.

At last 4 o'clock came, and Ethel, full of anticipation, took Gertie's arm and hurried homewards. She knew there was a surprise waiting for them on the roadside somewhere between the schoolhouse and Gertie's home. At a little ravine—so deep that in going down into it one lost view of the surrounding country and could not be seen from any of the farmhouses—Ethel's alert eyes caught the dark form of what appeared to be a big animal crouching in the high, dry grass. The creature was some two hundred feet from the roadside and was crouching as if to hide itself from the view of pedestrians. Ethel knew at once that it was Bert disguised in an old buffalo skin which had been in their family ever since she could remember. As Gertie had not yet caught sight of the "animal" Ethel directed her attention towards it. "See that great dark thing moving in the grass!" she whispered. "Can it be a bear?" And she drew back as if afraid, hiding herself behind Gertie.

As Gertie's eyes took in the creature in the grass she trembled with fear and said to Ethel: "Oh, don't push me in front of you, Ethel! Oh, is it a—bear? Oh, let's run—let's run for our lives!"

"But you aren't afraid of anything except snakes and cyclones," declared Ethel, struggling to keep Gertie between herself and the "bear." "Oh, please stand here and keep the bear from running after me! I shall run away if you but stay here to hold the beast's attention. Will you stand right here till I am safe out of the ravine?"

"Oh, goodness, no!" hoarsely whispered Gertie. "If it is a bear he will eat me up if I stay here. I don't believe he's seen us yet. Let's stoop low down in the grass and creep to the top of the bank. Once there we'll call for help and run as fast as we can towards my house. Papa may be about the barn, and will see us and come to our rescue. Oh, I am so frightened I can hardly stand up. Come, let's creep away before the bear sees us!"

As she said this Gertie stooped to her knees and hands and began crawling towards the opposite side of the ravine, keeping well hidden in the tall grass, which stood rank and dry on either side of the country road. Her cheeks were pale, here eyes startled and her knees trembling. Ethel crept along beside her for a few paces, then said: "But, Gertie, you aren't afraid of anything but snakes and cyclones, and that wild beast there is neither of them. What are you creeping away for in this manner? Are you really afraid?"

"Oh, yes, we may be eaten alive!" hoarsely whispered Gertie. "Oh, I'm so faint I can hardly move! I wonder if the bear is still in the same spot where he was when we turned our backs toward him. Are you afraid to look back, Ethel, and see what he's doing? I can't—for I'm so frightened!"

"Yes, I'll look back," agreed Ethel in a calm and loud tone. "Oh, the bear is coming—on his hind legs! See, he's walking upright." But as she said this, Gertie became so pale with fright that Ethel felt she must keep her in suspense no longer and laughingly said: "Look backward, Gertie, and you'll see the bear is none other than brother Bert. He's been playing an April Fool trick on you."

Gertie dropped to a sitting posture in the grass and wiped the perspiration from her face. Then, seeing the tall form of Bert advancing, the great dark buffalo robe over his back, she turned a deep crimson color, shame and embarrassment on her face. "Oh," she gasped. "Oh, Bert, how could you be so mean? You frightened Ethel and— and— me almost to death."

"No, I wasn't frightened a bit," explained Ethel truthfully. "I knew it was Bert all the time, but I felt that you deserved to be tested—your courage, you know. So I just pretended to believe the dark, crouching figure to be a bear."

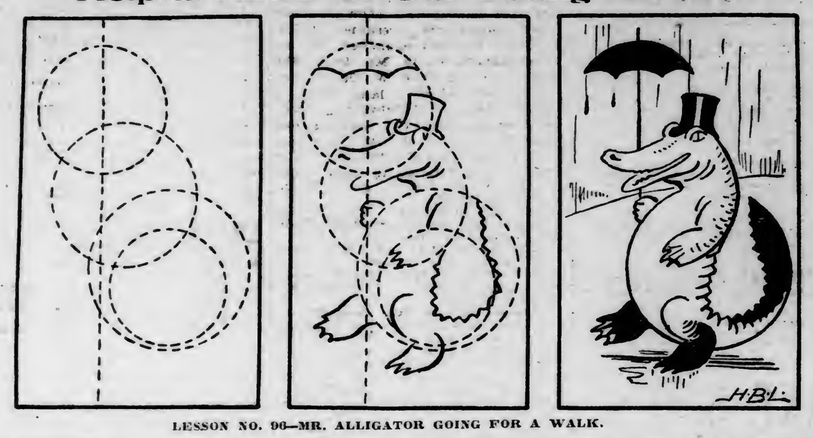

"And I wanted to teach you a lesson, Gertie," said Bert, joining them and assisting Gertie to rise to her feet. "Come, Gertie, 'fess up. You are as easily frightened as any other girl—if the right thing comes along to do the work. I always knew you'd turn white at sight of real danger, so decided to let you have the opportunity to know yourself. Now, you have gotten acquainted with the real Gertie Smith, and know she is as much of a coward as anyone, in the presence of a 'bear.' Savey, Gertie?" And Bert laughed good naturedly. "But I promise you one thing, Gertie; Ethel and I will never give this joke away. Mum is the word. And I think you'll thank me for having shown you to yourself in a truthful light."

Gertie's face was serious. "Yes, I am really ashamed of myself, Bert," she declared. "I have been boastful of a courage I did not possess. At heart I guess I am a coward."

"No, one is not a coward to be afraid of dangerous wild animals, for the preservation of life is the first law of nature. But one is either a fool or a braggart to pretend to be not afraid. It shows good sense to keep a safe distance from danger or harm. And it is admirable to always tell the truth," said Bert.

"Yes, you and Ethel have taught me a lesson today which I shall never forget," said Gertie. "And after this I shall make no foolish pretenses. Thank you, Bert, for playing bear and for fooling me on the 1st of April."

LESSON NO. 90—MR. ALLIGATOR GOING FOR A WALK.

A Fairy and A Cake.

BY HELENA DAVIS.

LITTLE ANDEVA stood in the big stone kitchen of the old Dame Gregon mixing a huge cake. As she worked she longed and longed to be as happy and free as other little girls, for she was an orphan, working for her "board and bed" at the old Dame Gregon's castle. And the old Dame Gregon was a hard mistress, domineering and cruel, and she had no mercy on the little Andeva.

When little Andeva first went to old Dame Gregon's castle in the mountains she was taught to make very fine light, sweet cake, a certain kind which the old Dame was very fond of. And every day little Andeva was obliged to bake half a dozen cakes for the old mistress of the castle and her household of grown daughters and sons and daughters-in-law and sons-in-law. And the little girl often became very tired, and longed and longed to be free to go down the mountainside to play with the happy peasant children from the surrounding gardens and villages. But never had she the time to play, even if she had had little comrades to join in her pastime. She was kept very busy all day long baking fine, sweet cakes for the Dame and her household.

And on the day of which I speak she was very busy, and also very lonely and unhappy. She was mixing in a huge bowl the ingredients for a cake, and as she stirred and sifted and beat the things together the dough began suddenly to rise from the bowl into a white frothy mountain. Little Andeva was greatly surprised, for always before it had taken the heat from the great oven to cause the dough to rise, and even then it had never risen to such a height.

"What can be the matter with my dough?" she asked herself. "Have I put in too much yeast? But even had I done so, it would not rise so quickly and go so high in the air."

"No, little girl, you have mixed your cake dough after the right recipe," said a voice near to Andeva's elbow. "You are not to blame for the action of the dough; I am responsible for it."

Andeva turned about to see a fairy standing beside her. She was so much astonished that she could not speak for a minute and stood staring at the beautiful creature beside her.

"I know how unhappy you are, little Andeva," said the fairy, "and I have come to take you to a happy home where other children will welcome you. And this cake dough, which you will observe is turning very hard, will lift its way through the roof of this stone kitchen, and by it we will ascend to the clouds. From there our way is safe—once out of reach of this castle."

"Oh, good fairy, are you speaking truly, or am I but dreaming?" cried little Andeva.

"The moment is real, and not a dream," said the fairy. "And now we will ascend to the roof, and from there to the clouds, and then we will go on and on till we reach a land far from here; and there you will find a happy home."

As the fairy said this, she took Andeva's hand, and together they climbed to the roof of the stone kitchen by the great pile of dough which had turned to a substance as hard as rock. And as there were little steps formed in the sides of the hard dough, the effort of going up was not very difficult, and soon Andeva found herself out of the kitchen and in fresh air.

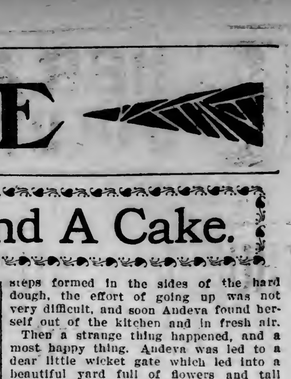

Then a strange thing happened, and a most happy thing. Andeva was led to a dear little wicket gate which led into a beautiful yard full of flowers and tall trees. And there, in the midst of this beauty, stood a white stone cottage with gay windows full of flowers. "Go in and tap at the door, little Andeva, and you will find your journey at an end, also your worries and unhappiness," said the fairy.

Little Andeva did as instructed, and her tap at the door was answered by a sweet-faced lady who was smiling very cordially. "How do you do, little girl," she said. "Will you come in a while? And—where did you come from, for you seem a stranger to me?"

Andeva turned to let the fairy speak, but she had disappeared. Then, somewhat startled to find herself alone and among entire strangers, she told her story. But before she began her narrative the lady invited her into the pretty living-room and bade her to be seated. After she had completed the story of her little life, ending with her journey hither on a cloud with the fairy, the lady took her hands tenderly and said:

"The good fairy knew that I had lost a dear little girl just your age, and she led you to me to take my own dear daughter's place. Here you shall remain as my own child, and be a sister to my little boy and little girl. They are playing in the yard now—down by the brook. I'll lead you to them, and from this hour you shall be happy."

And so it happened that Andeva was happy ever afterwards, and the mystery of the hard cake-dough was never explained in the castle of old Dame Gregon, who became so frightened over it, and at the sudden disappearance of her little cake-baker, that she died in great agony, and her sons and daughters and their wives and husbands became wanderers on the face of the earth, a fate they deserved as punishment of their wicked treatment of little Andeva.

The dough began suddenly to rise from the bowl.

Andy's April Fool Surprise.

BY WILLIAM WALLACE, JR.

"WELL, this is April Fool's Day," said Mr. Graham as the family gathered about the breakfast table. "I wonder what pranks you youngsters will be playing on each other today! Why, when I was a boy the first day of April was more exciting than the Fourth of July, and we were up early and at our harmless pranks."

"I wish it were that way now," said Andy, the second son of the household. "I'd just love to play some pranks on the kids at school, but the other boys don't seem to care about such sport. When they play jokes they must be of a practical sort, and I don't approve of that form of fun."

"You are right, Son," said Mr. Graham. "Let the young folks enjoy themselves all that they can so long as they refrain from playing practical jokes. Fun should be, as you say, in an innocent form."

"I'd just love to play some sort of April-fool on Andy," laughed Mary, the ten-year-old daughter of the household. "But he's always so cautious that to fool him is impossible."

"Yes, we played a little April-fool joke on him last year," said Sissy, the fourteen-year-old daughter. "And he declared afterwards that he knew all about it before we perpetrated it, though I had some doubts regarding the all-together truth of his statement." And Sissy looked at Andy knowingly. "Now, 'fess up, Brother," she went on, addressing her brother, "didn't Mary and I really fool you last April Fool's Day?"

"Not a bit of it," declared Andy. "I smelt the mouse before he even peeped from the hole, so to speak. But since you girls had gone to so much trouble preparing the joke—why, I didn't want to disappoint you, so I bit like a greeney."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Graham laughed, and Mary and Sissy looked their doubts at Andy. And so the morning meal was finished, accompanied by happy conversation and laughter. Then Mr. Graham went to his office, the children to their chores and Mrs. Graham about her household duties.

About 9 o'clock Andy and Mary were in the dining-room, looking over some new books. Mrs. Graham and Sissy were in the sewing-room completing a frock for Sissy to wear on the morrow. So absorbed were the four that no one heard soft footsteps approaching the front door. And not one of them saw a tall dark form flit past the parlor window, stop at the doorsteps and place a pocket-book on the top one. Then he gave the doorbell a peal and quickly withdrew to a hiding place behind a thick bunch of shrubbery.

Each of the four Grahams in the house heard the doorbell, but each waited for the other to attend the door. "It's some one trying to fool us," said Andy, going on tiptoe to the parlor window and peeping from behind the lace curtain. "But he'll not catch me, I'll promise you."

"I suspect it's the Andrew's children," said Mary, following Andy to the window, and also peeping without. But not a living being did they see. "Guess the kids are hiding behind the hedge, waiting to see us open the door, so they can call out 'April Fool!'" said Andy. "Wish I had a squirt-gun full of water, and I'd raise the window just enough to shoot out through, and when they creep up again to ring the bell—as they will surely do—I'd give them an April Fool plump in the face."

"Yes, but one never has the weapons of war when they are most needed," consoled Mary. "But—there's something on the doorstep—it looks like a pocket-book, a great fat one. Very likely it is nailed to the step and is filled with cotton—or sand."

Andy peeped towards the doorstep and saw the pocket-book. "Yes, it's some joker who is green enough to think we'd pick up a purse on this day. Why, if I saw greenbacks sticking from the corners of the purse on the first day of April, I wouldn't touch the purse, for there'd be a joke connected with it somehow, and I'd not get the bills."

Just then Mrs. Graham came into the hall. She had waited for Mary or Andy to open the door, but as they seemed averse to doing so, she decided to do it herself. Possibly some of the neighbor children were trying to play an April-Fool joke on Andy or the girls, and it seemed a pity to spoil their sport by the absence of the intended victims from the door.

When Mrs. Graham was about to open the door Andy crept on tiptoe to her side. "Wait, mamma," he whispered. "Some wise guy has put a fat pocket-book on the doorstep and is, of course, watching to see one of us open the door. So, let's make him wait so long that he'll be glad to come here and ring the bell again. Then we'll catch him in the act."

Mrs. Graham looked from the parlor window, screened by the lace curtain so that no one on the outside could see her, and beheld the fat pocketbook on the doorstep. She smiled, saying: "Well, I'll just go back to my sewing and let you keep watch for the April Fool perpetrator of jokes. When you catch him, please be mild in your treatment of him. He's always an inoffensive offender."

Andy and Mary laughed under their breath at their mother's merry advice, and took their stand beside the window. Mrs. Graham returned to the sewing-room and was soon lost in work.

But for five minutes—which seemed quite an hour to the watchers—Andy and Mary stood beside the window, peering from behind the lace curtain. And nothing happened. The dark figure seemed to have grown fast to the spot behind the shrubbery close to the side of the house. After another minute of vain waiting, Mary whispered to Andy: "Watched water never boils, brother. We'd get better results if we returned to the sitting-room."

"All right, sister," said Andy. "We'll leave the pot long enough for it to begin to boil." So saying, Andy led the way to the sitting-room. And just as they had seated themselves to wait patiently the doorbell gave a long, loud peal, resounding throughout the house.

With a quick leap, Andy was at the door, jerking it open. But no one was there. He looked up and down the street, but not a soul was in sight. Mary was soon beside him, and even Sissy, whose deepest interest lay in finishing her new frock to wear on the morrow, came running to the hall door to see what the joke was.

"It's some kid," declared Andy, "and he's hidden somewhere nearby. But he may watch in vain to catch me pick up that purse. It may stay there till tomorrow before I touch it."

"Oh, that's unfair to the kid," said Sissy. "I say, let one of us pick up the pocketbook just to give him his sport. It's terribly disappointing to lay a plan to catch someone on April Fool's Day, and have it prove a failure. Let one of us pick up the pocketbook and give the joker his fun."

"Not me," persisted Andy. "I'll not fall so easy. If you girls want to do it—go ahead. And when some kid from behind the hedge yells out 'April fool!' don't get mad."

"Not a bit of it," laughed Sissy. "Come on, Mary, let's pick it up together. What do you say?"

"All right, Sissy, I'll help to give the joker his triumph," consented Mary. So together they opened the door and stooped down, their right hands grasping the big pocketbook together. They held it a moment, expecting to hear a voice from some hidden spot calling out "April fool!" But not a vocal sound disturbed the quiet around them. They were somewhat surprised at the result of their picking up the book, and decided to look inside of it. They returned to the parlor, where Andy still remained, and there opened the mysterious pocketbook. To the surprise of all, they beheld a great fold of bills—amounting to five hundred dollars. And around the bills was wrapped a paper on which these words were written: "To the Graham bold enough to open this on the first day of April."

"Why, what can it mean?" gasped Sissy, almost afraid to keep the money in her hands. "It looks like sure-enough money."

"It certainly is sure-enough money," declared Andy, now more surprised than his sisters. "Call mamma here, Mary. She'll know what to do with this April Fool joke."

Mrs. Graham came to see what the joke was all about, and on looking at the money pronounced it genuine. "We'll turn it over to the police," she said. "Someone must have lost it near——"

But she did not finish her sentence, for the front door suddenly opened and out stepped the tall, dark form which had been hiding behind the bushes. With one glance at the newcomer, Mrs. Graham dropped the purse on the floor and threw her arms about his neck. "Oh, my boy, Sammy!" she cried. And in another moment Mary, Sissy and Andy were joining in the hugging-bee, as Sammy called it, and all were too happy for words. "Why, you came as a real surprise," said Mrs. Graham, holding her eldest born off to look him over. "It's been three years since we last beheld your dear face," she said.

"Yes, and I've made my pile, mamma," said Sammy, a tall, sunburnt fellow of 22. "I struck it rich in the gold fields of Nevada, and that"—pointing to the pocketbook—"is only a trifle for the Graham brave enough to pick it up on this day. And I guess the two young ladies of the house captured the prize, eh?" And everyone looked at Andy, who declared he'd been the biggest "chump" in the world.

"Oh, yours will come yet, bub," promised the sunburnt brother.

The largest drydock in the world will be constructed by the United States at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Soliloquy of a Lazy Lad.

OH, if I had an airship
I'd fly so far away!
No chores would I ever do,
Nor go to school a day.

"I'd sail through clouds so fleecy;
I'd camp on mountains high;
Oh, I'd just have an idle time
If I had a ship to fly!"

"It certainly is sure-enough money," declared Andy, now more surprised than his sister.

How the Joke Was Turned.

'TWAS the first day of April,
And Kittie and Ned,
On some mischief bent,
To each other said:

"Let's fool dear old grandpa;
He'll never surmise
That we're planning a joke,
So 'twill be a surprise."

Then softly they crept
To grandpapa's room;
And in 'twixt his sheets
They lay an old broom.

And into the fireplace
They piled coal so wet
That should grandpa want it
No fire could he get.

But just as they'd finished,
Their ma called to say:
"Grandpa's off to the depot;
He's leaving today.

"So come and say farewell
To your grandpapa, dear,
For we'll not get to see him
Again for a year."

Our Puzzle Corner

CHARADE.

My first is a drink
That is bad for man;
My second's the same;
Guess it if you can.
Both are intoxicants,
Not plain Adam's ale;
And when properly joined
They can never fail
To name a small river—
In the East it does flow;
But I'll tell you no more,
Or else you would know.

ZIGZAG PUZZLE.

This zigzag contains seven words of four letters each. If the words are rightly guessed and written one below another their zigzag letters, beginning with the upper left-hand letter and ending with the lower left-hand letter, will spell that which it is a glory to see. The cross-words are: 1. To drop to the bottom of a river. 2. To scorch by fire. 3. A holy season observed by Christians. 4. The prickly covering of a nut. 5. To fly from tree to tree. 6. A small body of land surrounded by water. 7. Long, black fish.

DIAGONAL.

This diagonal contains five words of five letters each. If the words are rightly guessed and written one below another their diagonal letters, beginning with the upper left-hand letter and ending with the lower right-hand letter, will spell a weapon much used in warfare in olden times. The cross-words are: 1. Something which comes from fire. 2. A fine, healthful fruit. 3. Meaning swift of foot. 4. Cold and drear. 5. To spread on in a mussy manner.

CONUNDRUMS.

Why is an account book like a statuary shop?
Because it is full of figures.
What makes everybody sick except those who swallow it?
Flattery.

CITY ADDITIONS.

1. Add a weight to a tin vessel and get a Chinese city.
2. Add a vital part of the human anatomy to a reservoir of water and get an English city.
3. Add a smoked meat to a village and get a German city.
4. Add a cruel conflict to a carpenter's implement and get a Polish city.

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES.

CHARADE—Bob-o-link.
TRANSPOSITIONS — 1. Reed-deer. 2. Tide-edit. 3. Liar-rail. 4. Hades-heads.
HIDDEN POET PUZZLE — Byron. Words containing the initial letters: 1. Bee. 2. Year 3. Road. 4. Old. 5. Name.
REBUS — The children hunt colored Easter eggs.

Preparations for the eighth annual banquet and parade to the site of the steel plant with Governor Eberhart as a guest of honor, which will take place on Thursday of next week, were made last evening at the regular meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club.

The program for the affair is complete as given above. P. H. Martin is the toastmaster, and a number of interesting talks are expected to be given.

State Auditor Iverson is expected to give an interesting talk urging better country highways.

The dinner will be served in Wade's hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, by the ladies of the St. James' Catholic church of West Duluth.

Will Arrive in Morning.

The governor will arrive in Duluth about 9 o'clock in the morning from St. Paul. A reception committee, comprising Andrew Myles, general chairman; L. A. Barnes, president of the club; P. H. Martin, toastmaster at the banquet; P. W. Jolitz, M. J. Murray, secretary of the club, and other members of the West Duluth club, as well as a number of the Duluth Commercial club members, will meet him. He may be accompanied by S. G. Iverson, state auditor.

He will be escorted from the station to the Duluth Commercial club rooms by the committee, where he will take breakfast. At 10 o'clock an automobile parade will be formed, starting from the Duluth Comercial club building. It will proceed to West Duluth, where the party will visit the club rooms of the West Duluth Commercial body at 317 Central avenue.

After the governor and his party are shown through the West Duluth Commercial club rooms, the parade will be joined by a few more automobiles at West Duluth and will proceed down Central avenue as far as Grand avenue. From there the party will go to the steel plant site at New Duluth.

In the party will be W. A. McGonagle, general manager, and K. C. Hoxie, chief engineer of the Minnesota Steel corporation. They will point out to the visitors some of the plans which will be worked out. After the inspection at New Duluth the parade will return via Grand avenue, it will turn into fourth avenue west, it will turn into Raleigh street. At Raleigh street and Central avenue, the party will stop and visit the plant of the Zenith Furnace company.

If the plans of the committee in charge do not fail, the party will return to Duluth by 1 o'clock. No plans have been made for the afternoon. The banquet will begin at 8 o'clock.

Merchants along Central avenue and Raleigh street have agreed to decorate their places of business for the occasion. The Duluth Edison Electric company will furnish special illumination for Central avenue on the evening of the banquet and Wade's hall will be decorated for the affair. The electric company has also promised to see that the hall has special illumination for the evening.

Andrew Myles, who is chairman of the general committee, today appointed the following members who will constitute a reception committee:

WIRELESS FOR WEST DULUTH

A wireless station has been established at West Duluth and will be in working order in less than two weeks.

It will be operated by George H. Whitney, manager of the North American Telegraph company at 304 Central avenue, who also conducts a school of telegraphy.

Mr. Whitney stated this morning that the apparatus had been tested this week between different rooms of the Woodward block and worked satisfactorily.

In about two weeks, it is expected that a wireless tower will be erected on the top of the Woodward block. Mr. Whitney says that he expects to be able to talk with boats on the lake for a distance of 200 miles.

TOUCHY ABOUT HIS "MANNERS"

Even if he does not possess any "table manners," Frank McMullen, 36 years old and a laborer, arrested last evening on a warrant charging assault, does not want to be reminded of it while he is eating at a public restaurant.

This is the impression that he left with Judge Flack of the West Duluth justice court, who fined the man $18.50 because he struck George La Rue, during an altercation which took place at the supper table at the Phillips hotel last evening.

McMullen thinks that he was justified in striking La Rue because the latter taunted him about his table manners. He pleaded guilty to a charge of assault in the third degree and paid his fine.

Wanted By Police.

Warants were issued today for the arrest of Lynn Thompson of 2910 Magellan street, and Peter Peterson of 2618 Huron street, who are charged with have taken a number of sacks of wheat from a box car standing in the Northern Pacific yards near the Union Match factory, on March 21.

LAKE BOATS SAIL SOON

Mutual Line Craft Will Be Ready to Depart April 15.

Crews were at work this morning pumping out the boilers of the Mutual line steamers Northwind and Northern Light. The boats are being made already for the season. The Mutual boats have been repainted throughout and they have been generally renovated.

It was reported at the Mutual line officially today that some of the engineers and stewards of the company had reached the city and would begin fitting out the boats immediately. Some of the masters are expected here next week.

Package freight loading will begin in time to permit the Mutual line boats to leave here at midnight of April 15. The six boats of the line now at the Head of the Lakes will be ready to leave this port as soon as the marine insurance is on.

Replaces Lost Vessel.

Capt. Blair of the Mutual line left today for Detroit, where he will take charge of the new Mutual line steamer North Star. This boat will take the place of the old North Star, which was lost in Lake Huron in 1906, as the result of a collision with another of the Mutual boats. The new North Star will go from Detroit to Buffalo, where it will load for Duluth. The new steamer will make its maiden trip to the Head of the Lakes shortly after the opening of navigation.

Cleveland reports lead to the belief that a large number of vessels will leave the lower lake ports immediately after the lake marine insurance goes into effect.

St. Mary's river is clear of ice today, according to advices received at the tug office, and a large fleet of boats will be at the Head of the Lakes shortly after the opening of navigation.

Reports from Cleveland and Buffalo indicate an early package freight loading at these two ports. Like Duluth, these two ports will send a number of boats off at the time the marine insurance goes into effect.

Navigation Has Opened.

The first boats have arrived at Cleveland, so that navigation down there may be said to have opened. Steamers are now running between Detroit and Cleveland. Buffalo lins already received some passenger steamers.

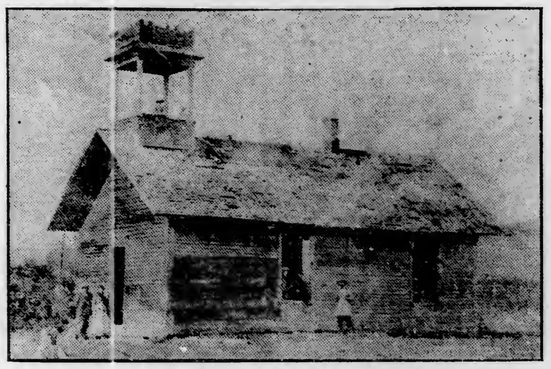

The Providence Steamship company expects its masters here next week, or week after next at the latest. Work of outfitting the boats of that company at the Head of the Lakes is now in progress.

The Moore of the Booth line leaves for Isle Royale and Port Arthur in the morning, with a number of fishermen as passengers to begin the season's fishing.

Dies After Operation.

Alexander K. Smith, for more than twenty years a resident of Duluth, died at 12:15 p. m., today at St. Mary's hospital, where he had undergone an operation for cancer of the stomach. He was a native of Ontario and was 38 years old. Two brothers, Thomas and William H. Smith, and one sister, Mrs. T. R. Hancock, with whom he made his home, survive him. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

PIONEER DAYS OF DULUTH'S CHURCH HISTORY WILL BE RECALLED

THE FIRST CHURCH IN DULUTH.

Reminiscences of the pioneer church work in Duluth will feature the semi-centennial of the founding of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church of West Duluth, which will be held next week. In connection with the affair many allusions will be made to the time when the old Oneota school house was used before the first real church was built in Duluth.

The picture of the old school house is shown above. It was located at what is known as Forty-third avenue west and Oneota street. The picture was taken just before the old building was torn down. It was built in the winter of 1856-1857 by E. F. Ely and was torn down about twenty years ago.

Just before the school house was put up, Rev. James Pett, now deceased, organized the Oneota Methodist church later named the Merritt Memorial church. The congregation, which numbered about a dozen, then met in what was known as the town site building, which was kept by Louis Howell Merritt.

The bell which was used in the old school house was placed in the belfry of the church, which was erected by the congregation during the winter of 1869-1870 at Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street. When the present structure was put up, the bell was transferred to the new building and is now in use. It is probably the oldest bell in Duluth.

Many interesting facts in regard to the early history of the church are locked up in a safe of one of the members. Owing to the fact that the safe was tampered with a few months ago, the combination refused to work, and no access can be had to them, until the safe is pried open. The records may be taken out before the celebration takes place.

OFFERED PAY BY COLLIER'S

Washington, April 2.—A new sensation was sprung soon after the Ballinger inquiry was resumed today. Attorney Brandeis launched into the cross-examination of Mr. Love, who told of meeting John W. Dudley, former register of the land office at Juneau, Alaska, last February. Dudley, testified Mr. Love, said he had been "let out" of his office and that Collier's Weekly had intimated to him that "it would be worth from $5,000 to $10,000" for him to go to Washington to testify.

"Do you mean that the Weekly meant to bribe him?" asked Mr. Madison of the committee.

"No, not to bribe him, but to pay him," replied the witness.

The committee betrayed great interest in the incident and pressed Mr. Love for details.

Asked Him to Tell Ballinger.

The witness said he saw Mr. Dudley three minutes and that Dudley had said that he wanted to go to Washington to testify for the "other side." He said Dudley wanted him to tell Mr. Ballinger of this offer and that he had not accepted it, but that he desired to testify for the other side.

Mr. Love said he did not tell Mr. Ballinger because he thought perhaps Mr. Dudley had put the wrong construction on the remark of the Weekly's agent. He said Mr. Dudley did not tell him the name of the agent.

"Do you think the Weekly wanted Dudley to come here to tell the truth?" asked Mr. Graham, Democrat.

"Most assuredly," replied the witness.

Wanted to Clear His Record.

Love said Dudley had expressed the intention of going to Washington to clear his record with the department, since he had been dismissed.

Attorney Brandeis questioned the witness for nearly an hour in regard to his testimony yesterday, after which Representative Graham took him in hand.

"Are you a lawyer?" inquired Mr. Graham.

"I ran for lawyer, but got beat," rejoine" the witness amid laughter.

Mr. Love said he had been a lawyer twenty-five years ago in South Dakota.

"How long did you enjoy the practice?" asked Mr. Graham.

"I did not enjoy it."

"You were in South Dakota when it was building up?" inquired Mr. Graham.

"No, when they were leaving it," replied Mr. Love, amid general laughter, adding that he was in South Dakota from 1883 to 1889.

Letter From Loeb.

Attorney Vertrees offered in evidence on re-direct examination of Mr. Love a letter written by Secretary Loeb to Capt. E. C. Hunter of Oklahoma, dated Feb. 3, 1908, stating that Secretary of the Interior Garfield had informed the president that Love had been cleared of the charges against him and that his appointment as marshal in Alaska had been ordered.

FIRE HALL PROPPED UP

The wing on No. 3 fire hall at First avenue east and Third street is so rotten that it has to be propped up almost from day to day to keep it standing.

Reports made to the board of fire commissioners at their meeting at the city hall last night showed that it is likely to collapse at any time. There is danger that several valuable horses would be killed in the fall, as well as many of the firemen who might happen to be in there at the time. The sleeping quarters are not in the addition, but men are in there most of the day and evening, and it is claimed that their lives are in constant danger.

The proposed addition has been hanging fire the last two or three years, but several attempts to secure a new building have failed. Last evening the fire board determined to push it tarough to completion without loss of time. Bids will be advertised immediately, and as the money is now available there is thought to be nothing in the way of having it completed in a comparatively short time. When the contract is let the work will be rushed at top speed.

The board also expects to advertise for bids for a site for the fire hall, which is wanted near Sixth or Seventh avenues east and Sixth or Seventh streets. The city is now in a good position to get favorable prices and will not be held up by people who think the city ought to pay more than anybody else for property. Options have been secured on several desirable sites by private parties acting for the fire board. They will submit their bill along with the rest, and if none more reasonable are secured the city will get the lots at a fair price. It is not thought, however, that the city will be in a position to build the new hall this year, although it is needed badly.

ESTIMATES MADE FOR PAVING

Two large estimates for paving East Fourth street with different classes of material were completed by the city engineering department this morning and turned over to the board of public works. For paving East Fourth street from Fourteenth to Twenty-third avenues with granitoid, it is figured, will cost $72,212.86; with asphalt, $79,565.86; with creosote blocks, $95,196.86; with tar macadam, $74,183.01. From Twenty-third to Twenty-seventh avenues, the cost of granitoid is placed at $39,644.85; of tar macadam, $39,175.79; of creosote blocks, $45,231.45 and of asphalt, $39,945.85. Both allow for concrete bases and the necessary excavations for sewers and water and gas connections.

REFUSE REMOVED FROM RAILROAD YARDS.

Railroad yards in this city will be given a good house cleaning. An order to that effect was issued this morning. Work was started shortly after the order was issued, and before noon the union depot yards were being cleaned of a large amount of refuse that has collected during the winter months.

It is the intention of the railroads to have the freight yards thoroughly cleaned. There will also be some repairing done in the union depot yards this spring. It was stated this morning that the Omaha yards would be cleaned and some repairing also done.

Concert at Lyceum.

The Normanna Male chorus will appear in a concert at the Lyceum theater, Sunday afternoon, April 10. There will be a male chorus of 125 voices and the program has been well chosen. THE POLICE COURT GRIST

When Emil Otlish appeared in police court yesterday as defendant in a prosecution charging him with furnishing liquor without a license at 629½ West Superior street, he was so intoxicated that he didn't know what was transpiring. Te entered a plea of guilty when his name was called and was fined $15 and costs, amounting to $17, with the alternative of ten days in the county jail. He paid the fine. The court stated that he was not only guilty of being drunk, but was also in contempt of court in that he appeared in court in an unfit condition.

• • • •

Frank J. Barton, 42 years old, was arrested this morning, charged with violating the traffic ordinance. He works for a butcher who delivers in an automobile, and stopped on the wrong side of the street. The shop is across from the police station, and, coming under the notice of Capt. Fiskett, the driver was arrested. He was found guilty, but sentence was suspended, as he had no idea that he was violating any ordinance.

• • • •

The police are trying to locate Frank T. Maxwell, a laborer, 21 years of age, to notify him of the death of his sister at the hospital in Hinckley, where she was taken Thursday to undergo an operation. He is described as being 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, heavy set, with dark curly hair and dark eyes.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LYCEUM

Grace Van Studdiford Will Appear Next Week in "The Golden Butterfly"—The "Virginian" Coming.—Mrs. Carter For One Night Only.

The great comic opera production, "The Golden Butterfly," which will be the offering at the Lyceum theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, brings to this city Miss Grace Van Studdiford, one of the most successful and popular prima donnas that ever graced a musical play, and a true exponent of the art of singing. "The Golden Butterfly" is the latest contribution of Reginald De Koven and Harry B. Smith to the lyric field. The authors have written a real comic opera in the true sense of the term, which has a real heart story with a real plot, and characters which are not puppets to dance and sing when the orchestra strikes up. Thus the musical numbers throughout the opera are not merely interpolated to give an opportunity for soprano or tenor solo, but in each and every instance to carry on the action of the piece.

The scene of the opera is laid in and around the romantic city of Budapest. Mr. De Koven has given the music a Hungarian tinge; the ensembles and orchestrations are said to be flawless. There is a love waltz song in the opera which is the motif; it is entitled "Don't Forget Me," a dreamy, seductive waltz which is now one of the favorites in the vocal studios.

The opera is divided into three acts, and shows a garden scene, the green room of the Royal opera house at Budapest, and a grape harvest festival, which have provided rather unusual opportunities for the scenic painter's art.

The garden scene is aglow with soft color and sunshine, blue sky, green lawns and flowering hedges, a country house with marble terraces leading down to the blue waters of the Danube on which the guests embark in gaily decorated boats, all furnish a charming background for the pretty costumes of the ladies on the stage.

The story of the opera is hung upon the following incident: Franz, a young composer, is in love with Ilma, a favorite singer at the Budapest opera house. She aspires to be a prima donna, and Franz dreams of her success in this line and writes an opera which the manager of the opera house steals and is about to produce it as his own, with his old favorite prima donna, Tina, in the leading role. The latter, however, in a fit of pique, refuses to sing and he decides to give Ilma the long-desired chance, which plan is also frustrated by the changing mood of Tina, who decides to go on at the last moment.

At this juncture Franz arrives upon the scene and, impersonating a Russian prince who is in love with Tina, decoys her away from the theater while Ilma scores a triumph. Franz returns and finally claims the opera and his love.

The part of Ilma is a dashing one for a singer such as Miss Van Studdiford and her admirers are eagerly awaiting her appearance. The opera was especially written for Miss Van Studdiford and is said to afford her ample opportunity to display her wonderful talents as a singer and actress. Among the prominent members of the cast who will appear are: Miss Charlotte Leslay, Miss Florence Bowers, Miss Leonora Novasio, Miss Hazel Kirke, Miss Cecilia Novasio, Harry MacDonough, Louis London, Thomas Van and Carl Hayden. There is a large chorus of singers and dancers. The full value of the music will be given by Miss Van Studdiford's special orchestra under the direction of Anton Heindl.

Mrs. Leslie Carter.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, who is to be seen tonight at the Lyceum in her new modern problem play, "Vasta Herne," written for her by Edward Peple, author of "The Prince Chap," has decided views on the tendency of the drama and she believes that more and more is the stage becoming the great teacher of the people.

"I have no sympathy with those people," she says, "who condemn plays because they deal with unpleasant things—who seem to think that the function of the playhouse is merely to amuse. I am sure it has a higher purpose in our social order than that. The stage today reaches a far greater number of people than the church does and it impresses its lessons more deeply, more force and more irresistibly it drives home its truths.

"The so-called problem play is, I believe, the play of the future, for, after all, its great purpose is to enlighten the people as to some of the social and ethical problems that puzzle them. That was true of my play "Zaza," true of "Du Barry," and it is true of "Vasta Herne," my present play. I do not think the women heroines of these plays are bad women; they are mere creatures of circumstances; beaten down by the customs of the world and it is the function of the drama to show not only the pitfalls into which erring steps may stray, but also how they may be successfully avoided.

"It is only the consciousness that the work of the player in pointing out how inevitable are the consequences of sin, that supports us in that work. It is in the fact that the life story of poor Vasta Herne contains a deep moral lesson that I find my chief delight and satisfaction."

"The Virginian."

"The Virginian," Owen Wister and Kirke La Shelle's dramatization of Mr. Wister's romance of Wyoming life, with a thoroughly competent company, will be presented at the Lyceum next Thursday, Friday and Saturday with matinee Saturday.

"The Virginian" is perhaps the best drama of Western life ever written. The atmosphere is the rolling range, the cattle grazing and stampeding, the blue sky undimmed by a single chimney, the rocky pass, the camp fire, and the poker game on the grass-grown stump. Mr. Wister has given his cowboy a delightful character. He is a man, a type of the frontier, and although all that he does may not be in accordance with the ideals of those living in civilization, still he has ideals far above those of the men with whom he is cast, and he lives up to them, a fine specimen of virile and honest manhood, a man brave morally and physically.

The play is under the management of La Shelle company. As the Virginian, William L. Gibson takes the role in which Dustin Farnum scored his great triumph. He has achieved many notable triumphs in the past, and his recent great success as Joe Brooks in "Paid in Full" has won for him a reputation. Marshal Farnum, with picturesque slouch, will be seen in the part of Trampas. Many of the Manhattan theater, New York, cast are with the company.

Lyceum Notes.

John E. Young, a young, though already famous comedian, who possesses all the delightfulness of youth, exuberance, enthusiasm and personal magnetism, comes to the Lyceum on April 10 in a comedy entitled "The Money and the Girl." Mr. Young was last seen here as Johnny Hicks in "The Time, the Place and the Girl." "The Money and the Girl" is in four acts, with a laugh a minute in every act. Mr. Young's company contains a dozen well-known players, while a 60-foot baggage car and an extra passenger coach are necessary to transport his scenery, costumes and company.

Al H. Wilson will bring his new play, "Metz in Ireland" to this city on April 11, 12 and 13. It is described as a musical drama and is said to contain more material of a musical nature than any of the previous Wilson productions. The scenic and electrical effects are features of the performance and Manager Ellis has provided an able supporting company that includes many well-known artists. "Love Thoughts," "Erin's Isle," "The Banshee," "The Nightingale Song" and "Little Jimmie Murphy" are the titles of new songs written and composed by Mr. Wilson especially for this new play.

Robert Edeson is to come to the Lyceum soon, where he will be seen in a new play of American life of the present time, entitled "A Man's a Liar," by Anna Steese Richardson and Henry Leslie Fridenberg.

"A Man's a Liar," which is in four acts, the scenes being laid in New York city and in the capital of a western state, introduces Mr. Edeson as a New York attorney who becomes involved in the efforts of a wealthy wine owner to corrupt the legislature, and the play severely attacks the evils of dishonest divorce laws. The central character, Townsend Hewitt, portrayed by Mr. Edeson, is said to afford this popular young actor the opportunity for one of the most virile and striking portrayals of his entire career. The excellent company engaged by Manager Henry B. Harris for Mr. Edeson's support is the most carefully balanced organization sent on tour in many seasons.

David Belasco's own company in his successful play, "The Girl of the Golden West," which comes to the Lyceum soon, has a significant point attached to it. The play is from the pen of David Belasco and the scenes are laid in California. This fact draws attention to the coincidence that Mr. Belasco was born and spent his early years in that state, and therefore his work has a distinctly personal element.

Klaw & Erlanger's noted production and massively mounted drama, "The Round-Up," is one of the attractions booked to appear at the Lyceum soon. It is a tender and pretty love story, told amid a vivid reproduction of scenes in which Indians, cowboys, ranchmen, cavalrymen and venturesome men and women appear. The production is as large as that other famous Klaw & Erlanger production, "Ben Hur," and it comes in a special train of ten cars.

One of the dramatic incidents shows twenty mounted Indians riding along the edge of a cliff, an effect which is made possible by adroit mechanism by which the animals are hoisted to a point in the vicinity of the gridiron above the scenes.

One of the principal reasons why the Mort H. Singer attractions are successful is the manner in which the production is put on. In "The Prince of Tonight," the latest of his musical successes, which will be seen at the Lyceum this season, more attention has been paid to detail than in any of his previous shows. There has been nothing left undone by either stage mechanic, electrician or costumer to make this the most pretentious of all his productions. The company is headed by Henry Woodruff, late of "Brown of Harvard."

AT THE BIJOU

"A Romance of Killarney," With Seven People in Cast and Will J. O'Hearn and Eileen Kearney as Stars, Will Be Vaudeville Feature Next Week.

Feature vaudeville attractions are becoming quite numerous at the Bijou this season, and the bill that will open Monday should prove to be a big drawing card the entire week.

There will be a lot of melody in the program, as the management announces the appearance of Will J. O'Hearn, who is recognized as the greatest of all Irish tenors at present on this side of the ocean. He brings a large and excellent company to support him in his big vaudeville offering, "A Romance of Killarney," which has a cast of seven people. A car load of special scenery and electrical effects is carried.

Mr. O'Hearn is assisted by Miss Eileen Kearney and a company of players that have been the talk of the vaudeville world this season. The following is a recent comment from a Syracuse paper:

"At the Grand opera house yesterday, large audiences afternoon and evening attested their appreciation of the excellent entertainment afforded. There were twelve curtain calls at each performance of "A Romance of Killarney," and Will J. O'Hearn, the author and leading man of the playlet, was compelled to come before the curtain and make a speech. This play is a pretty little Irish comedy with a cartload of scenery of its own and splendid light effects. Mr. O'Hearn, who has a splendid voice and acts quite well as he sings, is excellent as Donald Dare, a young Irish heir and poet. Miss Ellen Kearney is charming as Mona Dare, the sister of the poet, which he saves from his false friend, Sir Frederick Langley played very acceptably by Howard Davies. Excellent support is given by Miss Elsea Ryan as little Nellie, a waif; Charles Bamberick as Mickey, the town pest; and Miss Marion Mullen as Desiree, a playmate of Mickey. More real stage effects have been crowded into this little one-act production than into any drama which has been presented here in a long time."

Another sketch that will be one of the big hits of the week will be Calvert Dean and Leta Price, who present a very bright and witty skit entitled "A Pleasant Mistake," in which amusing situations are brought about by the untimely visit of a young man to his college chum's apartments in the latter's absence. The apartments are tenanted for a time, however, by his chum's cousin, a charming young lady, and the intruder is held up by her as a burglar, at the point of a revolver. The dialogue is clever and funny and causes no end of amusement. The whole playlet is full of laughter for those who see it.

A skillful, artistic and exceedingly versatile offering will be the Holdworths, who sing, dance and perform wonderful things with the banjo. A livelier duo of entertainers would be hard to find in vaudeville. The lady members of this act is one of America's leading women writers, both in music and song, and each number introduced in the act is from the pen of Miss Holdworth.

A good comedian is always a welcome number on any vaudeville program, and on this one there is the well-known singing comedian, Smith O'Brien, who is known all over the world where vaudeville is played as "The Mirthful Songster." Those who are looking for a good laugh will do well to hear Smith O'Brien in accordance to the press agent, as he has one to offer every minute he is on the stage.

Fifteen minutes of amusement will be furnished by Willie Solar and Evelyn Rogers. They are both claimed to be singers and dancers of 18-karat quality, and as the "Country Kids" they make things hum while they are before the footlights.

Earl Morse will sing illustrated his favorite song entitled, "You'll Come Back." One of the season's big coon song successes. Exclusive and first run moving pictures will conclude one of the best vaudeville bills of the season.

Matinees are given daily at 2:45 and night performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved by either telephone. The usual popular school children's matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:30. All scholars under the age of 14 years will be admitted for 5 cents. Performances are given Sunday afternoon and night.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Success of Shakespeare With Sothern and Marlowe—First Production of "Dr. Faustus"—Mrs. Fiske and Ibsen—Unique Performance of "Alias Jimmie Valentine."

New York, April 2.—Sothern and Marlowe returned to the Academy of Music last week in "As You Like It." They have never before been seen in this play jointly, and I am not quite sure whether this is not the first time that Sothern has been seen here as the Melancholy Jaques.

Miss Marlowe, of course, has often played Rosalind, in the days when she was certainly more symmetrical and delicately limbed. When an actress has to arrange her drapery in such a way as to conceal certain lines of embonpoint, it argues that she is accumulating something besides artistic experience. But she acted the role with a delightful sense of unconsciousness, and altogether with a spirit of mischief that monopolized the interest to the exclusion of pretty nearly everything else on the stage.

Sothern's performance impressed the critics as lacking in characteristic force, and the naturalistic touch which he gave Jacques caused the impersonation to merge too much with the details of the ensemble. But it was an excellent performance, nevertheless, and Frederick Lewis, as Orlando, particularly distinguished himself.

What was even more interesting than the performance itself was the amazingly large attendance at the opening of Holy Week. There was not a vacant seat in the house on Monday night, which is all the more remarkable because the company only two weeks ago closed a phenomenally successful engagement in Shakespearean plays, lasting the better part of two months.

Such a thing would be impossible up town. In the Broadway playhouse Shakespeare is an acquired taste and not easily digested along with the lobster suppers that are so admirably served on that thoroughfare at all hours of the night. Down town the audiences are as responsive to their Shakespeare as the blase West Siders are to their "Queen of the Moulin Rouge" or "The Girl From Rector's" or to the harrowings of "The City" and "Madame X." All through the performance there was applause of the passages with which we all became familiar in the third reader of our school days.

The week was furthermore notable for the first production in America, as we are told, of Christopher Marlowe's old drama, "Dr. Faustus," by the Ben Greet players, who have taken possession of the Garden theater for a season, and are producing a number of unusual plays, Marlowe, as you know, was Shakespeare's immediate forerunner. Had he been a generation later he might have shared with the immortal bard the honors which are now monopolized by his successor. But "Dr. Faustus" was written when the English stage was just emerging from the influence of the miracle and morality play, and is full of blood and thunder, as well as many beautiful passages.

Of course it can hardly interest the general run of theater goers, and nobody but Ben Greet, who puts on plays without scenery and with scant costumes, could have afforded to undertake such a production. He varies his program as often as he likes, and if "Dr. Faustus" fails to put money in his purse, he stages "She Stoops to Conquer" the next night. There is always a chance that an old play will create as big a sensation as did "Everyman," which owed its revival to Mr. Greet's inspiration, made him a rich manager and Edith Wynne Matthison the most talked of actress of the time.

But the suggested mystery of human fate is lacking in "Dr. Faustus," nor were the Greet acting resources equal to the problem of making the old drama of terror and violence spiritually appealing. That it was produced, however, suggests the reflection that even this hotbed of skepticism and materialistic interests is strangely shaken by the restless spirit of fermentation in the drama which prevails. Four Ibsen plays are scheduled; Shakespearean plays are being presented to capacity houses; the New theater is presenting a mystic drama of Maeterlinck, over which the critics actually enthuse, and finally "Dr. Faustus" of Marlowe finds a producer after more than 200 years of theatrical history. Truly, we and the Germans are the most cosmopolitan theater goers in the world, for we will have our classics and our mystics along with our melodramas and musical comedies, tragedy and horse play at the same time.

Miss Billie Burke closed her engagement in "Mrs. Dot" at the Lyceum last Saturday evening, and on Monday Mrs. Fiske appeared at that playhouse in "The Pillars of Society," by Ibsen. This engagement is interesting, aside from the fact that anything that Mrs. Fiske produces always inspires interest, because it will be the first time that she has been seen at a theater of the theatrical syndicate since she attained her present prominence. The Lyceum, however, is Daniel Frohman's own theater, and, as is well known, Daniel has always maintained a more or less open door. Since the Manhattan theater was torn down Mrs. Fiske has been playing at the Lyric, which is a Shubert house.

Preston Gibson's comedy-drama, "The Turning Point," is still the attraction of the Hackett, but is soon to make room for John Mason, who is booked to return to that house in "A Son of the People," in which he recently filled an engagement at the New theater with his own company while "Sister Beatrice" was being made ready. On Thursday night the Hackett management offered as curtain raiser Gibson's one-act play, "The Vacuum," which was tried out in Washington with Charlotte Walker in the cast, a year or so ago. I shall probably have something to say of the piece in my next letter, and shall also have to defer an account of the reception of Madame Olly, in "The Whirlwind," at Daly's, where the renamed Bernstein play, "Baccarat," was produced.

Another important opening was Shakespeare's "A Winter's Tale," at the New theater Monday evening. This performance is in the Elizabeth manner and is the last presentation of the New Theater company. On April 11 the company will open its road tour in Philadelphia, and a specially organized company will present Rene Fauchois's "Beethoven" on the New Theater's stage. While the "properties" for the Shakespearean performance are according to promise, quite elaborate, the stage being paneled oak and tapestries, there is no scenery, and the production is made as nearly as possible as it was made in the days of the author. The role of Hermione is taken by Edith Wynne Matthison and that of Leontes by Henry Kolker, specially engaged. For "Beethoven" the services of Donald Robertson, a Scotch actor, have been specially secured.

As a by-product of the news which comes out of the press bureau of the New theater, I may cite the fact that eighteen of the players connected with that institution will be accompanied by their servants, dressers, maids and valets, in conformity with the established practices of the stars now enrolled in the organization, such as Bertha Kalisch, Edith Wynne Matthison, Annie Russell, Rose Coghlan, Louis Calvert, etc., to be personally attended by their own servants who will look after their comfort while on tour. The number is equally divided between nine valets and nine maids, whose nationalities extend from Americans to Germans, Swedes and French and one Hungarian.

Eugene Walter has a new play ready, but I hear that he will not this time launch it for a run at any New York theater. It is called "Boots and Saddles," and the first performance will take place in Chicago, where it will be allowed to run as long as it likes. It is written from first hand knowledge, for Walter served his term of enlistment in the United States cavalry, and was actually promoted to sergeant of his troop. He was then a slight, sickly boy, and he enlisted for the benefit of his health. One of his first dramatic ventures was a play called "Sergeant James," and it is not improbable that "Boots and Saddles" is a revised version of his earlier attempt to make a place for himself among American dramatists.

A remarkable production of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," now running merrily at Wallack's, was given one afternoon last week, when the play was presented with a children's cast for the benefit of the Working Girls' Summer Home. Those who saw the performance were astounded at the excellence of the portrayals by the little people, and thoroughly enjoyed the novelty. The part of the hero was played by Donald Gallagher and Alma Sedley represented the heroine. Both are members of the company. Alma plays the child, who is locked up in the vault in the regular evening performances. The little company was coached in the play by H. B. Warner, who plays the hero. The sum of $3,300 was realized for the charity named.

by one of the French singers connected with the Metropolitan opera house, who, on her departure for Paris, complained that the company was conducted altogether along Italian lines and that French and German works would be more than ever neglected next season and Italian artists given the inside track. This statement, coupled with the rumors that Andreas Dippel is to retire from the joint management and the control left entirely to his Italian associate with an Italian conductor and the elimination of Hertz, roused a lot of feeling. The fact was cited that the German operas, specially Wagner's, have brought the money into the house, and that Wagner and Strauss have been the mainstays of both opera houses. On Tuesday a Metropolitan manager came out with a statement reassuring the friends of German operas that no epochal changes were contemplated, and that more German artists had been retained for next season, including the Austrian singers, than Italian or any others. All reports to the contrary were stigmatized as malicious fabrications, and this situation has been accepted by those concerned as final.

The more liberal attitude of the Metropolitan management was demonstrated by the fulfillment of a promise to produce at least one native opera this season. The opera chosen was "The Pipe of Desire," composed by Frederic S. Converse, to a libretto by George E. Barton of Boston. The cast was American except one member, an English woman, and the work was well received and well treated by the press, generally speaking.

The Russian dancers, headed by Mlle. Pavlowa and M. Mordkin, continue to be a strong attraction, and, whenever they are announced on operatic evenings at the New theater, the house is always crowded, though the operatic innovation at this playhouse has not proved a success and is to be abandoned next season.

Forbes-Robertson has accepted an invitation of Earl Grey, governor-general of Canada, to play in the Dominion territory before returning to England at the close of his season at Maxine Elliott's theater here, in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." The company will go to Montreal April 11, for a week at the Princess theater. Two nights will be given to Ottawa, followed by time at Kingston, Hamilton and London, with a final week in Toronto, beginning May 2. There the scenery will be stored till the actor returns from a visit to his home in London, accompanied by his wife, Gertrude Elliot, who is to take Eleanor Robson's place in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow."

Incidentally it may be stated that no actor since Henry Irving has received quite the attention which has been accorded to Mr. Robertson during his present visit. He had the honor of speaking the first Shakespearean lines in public in the New theater on the day of its dedication, when he delivered Hamlin's address to the players; but socially he has been distinguished in many ways throughout the winter, and some of the greatest functions have been marked by his presence. He is regarded as a high type of the English gentleman, and a strong personal following has grown up here in New York.

Laurence Irving has begun rehearsals of "The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont," the famous play by Eugene Brieux, in which he and Mabel Hackney and a supporting company of distinguished players will soon be seen.

"The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont" was first produced in Paris in 1897 at the Gymnase theater, where it had a long and memorable run, and first aroused the public to an appreciation of Brieux's genius. The piece has never yet been seen in this country, and only two performances of it have been given in London, where the work was forbidden by the censor, and the two performances given had, therefore, to be private invitation affairs. Mr. Irving holds the English as well as the American rights to this play, and hopes that with a change in public sentiment the time is not far distant when he will be able to offer it in London as well as New York.

"The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont" shows how the lives of three young women are ruined by the selfishness and narrow-mindedness of their father. The first of the girls, driven from home at the age of 17, becomes a demi-mondaine in Paris; the second takes refuge in religion, and, being very plain, has no hope of marriage; the third, played by Miss Hackney, is forced into a loveless marriage. Mr. Irving himself will play the role of the father. Like all of the Brieux plays, this one deals with questions of the day, and, in the words of Mr. Irving, is "likely to be obnoxious to opponents of women's suffrage," for it advocates sex and political equality. The play also touches on the question of race suicide. "The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont" is in four acts, all laid in Paris, and has five main roles, all of them of almost equal importance. Mr. Irving himself has made a new translation of the play, which adheres to the original with strict fidelity.

Hedwig Reicher, who is under contract for a term of years to Henry B. Harris, sailed for Europe last Saturday on the S. S. Amerika to spend four months in search of a starring vehicle for her own use for this coming season. During her stay abroad she will visit the principal continental centers to confer with the most famous of the European playwrights. Miss Reicher intends to return to America about June 15.

Since her last engagement in "The Next of Kin" she has pursued her studies in English, and so well has she succeeded in eliminating her German accent that in conversing with her, unless one knew otherwise, she would be taken for an American born and bred.

"Madame Troubadour" the German operatta, which the Shuberts are to produce, has fourteen or more musical numbers, but not a single solo in the score. There are but eight characters. The score is by Felix Albini and the book has been adapted by Joseph Herbert. The principal role in the piece is to be played by Corinne, who recently was the star of "Mlle. Mischief." Corinne will have the part of a pert young French woman.

Others in the cast are Van Ranssalaer Wheeler, Marguerite Namara, Frank Craven, Joseph Tuohy, Doris Goodwin and Anna Wheaton.

Following the engagement of "Bright Eyes," which also has a long tour in prospect, Henry B. Harris will bring his production of "A Skylark" to the New York theater. The production will mark Mr. Harris' Broadway debut in musical comedy.

The book of "A Skylark" is by William Harris, Jr., the score by Frank G. Dossert. In the cast are May de Sousa, John C. Slavin, Clarice Vanc, Anna Boyd, Frank Belcher, Eddie Garvie, Grace King, Harrison Brockenbank, May Emory and Hazel Cox. The piece played at Washington last week with considerable success. The New York premiere will take place on April 4.

Harry Gilfoil, principal comedian in "The Yankee Girl," will undertake a late summer tour in a play by Charles H. Hoyt which has never before been produced. The vehicle is called "A Bunch of Blue Ribbon," and is in a prologue and two acts. At the time of Mr. Hoyt's death the playwright had completed the prologue and the first act. The second act has since been added from miscellaneous memoranda found among Mr. Hoyt's possessions, and the farce is now practically as complete as he originally intended it.

This was the medium planned by Mr. Hoyt for Mr. Gilfoil's starring tour in 1899, a plan cut short by the playwright's untimely death. Just before his death Mr. Hoyt changed the title from "A Second Childhood" to "A Bunch of Blue Ribbon." In it Mr. Gilfoil plays a young man in the prologue and an old man in the remaining two acts.

Paul Tietjens, whose fame rests on his composition of "The Wizard of Oz," is soon to be heard from again in connection with an extravaganza bearing the significent title of "Cardland."

The librettist is Charles Brown, who wrote the books of "Lil' Mose" and "Simple Simon." C. M. Pope is said to be the producer, and George Marion has been engaged to stage the piece.

Sydney Rosenfeld has closed contracts with Henry B. Harris for his new comedy, "A Divorce Colony," an original play. As its title indicates, it has to do with marital discontents who seek out Reno, Nev., as the haven to unshackle their matrimonial bonds. It will be one of the early offerings of the coming season in New York.

Charles Cherry is negotiating for the English rights to "The Lottery Man." He would like to play the title role of the Rida Johnson Young farce in England.

Arnold Daly opened in "The Penalty," by Henry C. Colwell, at the Lyceum threater, Scranton, last Saturday night. In his support are Miss Hilda Spong, Miss Kate Lester, Miss Dorothy Rossmore, Miss Edna Baker, William Hawtrey, Campbell Gellan, Charles Tatte, Scott Cooper and Charles H. Reigel. "The Penalty" deals with the evils of divorce. The author, Mr. Colwell, is a young Yale graduate who has adopted playwriting as a profession.

It is rumored that Adele Ritchie is to be transferred from the cast of "The Girl in the Taxi," following her trouble with Carter De Haven, which has not been patched up as yet. Gertrude Millington is studying the part.

Cohan & Harris have turned their attention to the production of "The Girl in Waiting," a play from the pen of Hartley Manners. April 11 is the date set for the first performance.

Edith Ellis-Furness, author of "Mary Jane's Pa," has been commissioned to dramatize E. P. Roe's well-remembered "He Fell in Love With His Wife." Robert Campbell and Gus Bothner are to produce the play in October.

Fred Belasco of the Alcazar theater, San Francisco, has closed a contract with Virginia Harned, who lately left New York for the West, whereby Miss Harned is to appear for five weeks, beginning June 6, at the Alcazar. She will be supported by Mr. Belasco's permanent stock company. Miss Harned's repertoire will include the dramatized version of Tolstoi's "Anna Karenina," "The American Widow," "Camille" and "Iris." She may present "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" the last week of her engagement.

The following pertinent paragraph in the Dramatic Mirror has a great deal of truth in it:

"What a change has come over Oberammergau!

"It is now 'officially announced'—the authority being the 'Passion Play' committee—that as 'a special concession to Americans,' motor cars will be permitted in the village territory, an ordinance of Oberammergau against the use of power cars being rescinded for the period of the 'Passion Play.'

"In order to properly care for the automobilists who visit Oberammergau, the 'Passion Play' committee is building a fireproof garage to accommodate 200 cars and their attendants. And contracts have been made with a leading firm to keep the roads free from dust by the use of oil or some other binding material."

More than that, visitors will have a variety of means by which they may visit the scene of the "Passion Play." Already arrangements have been made for a dirigible balloon to make daily trips between Munich and Oberammergau, while those who do not care for the balloon route may go by automobile, train and trolley, train and stage coach or may drive there from Munich, a distance of forty-three miles.

Truly this event, founded on religious fervor and intended as an expression of devout conscience, is taking on the aspects of a commercial proposition.

Yet those who witness the play undoubtedly will be the better for the experience.

A good story is told on the police officers of Salt Lake City in connection with the appearance of Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Round Up" at the Salt Lake theater. A rehearsal is always given on the afternoon of the first day in town for the "local" addition to the corps of soldiers, the battle between the Indians and whites occurs; in fact, it is in the third act only where the "local" is used, and it is in this act that the machine gun is brought into play.

When the first shot was fired at the rehearsal, an officer started in the direction of the firing. Before he had taken five steps another shot rang out and he started on the run. Other shots followed in quick succession and the policeman sounded a riot alarm. Other officers came from the police station and ten blue coats reached the stage entrance at the same time, a big crowd having congregated at that point. Just as they attempted to force their way through the crowd, the machine gun was turned loose and then it dawned upon them what the trouble was. They returned to the station in good order and were highly complimented for their work in responding to the riot alarm. But the men do not care to talk about it and whenever theater is mentioned about the police station there is a snicker, which is followed by a hearty laugh, and some officers get very red in the face.

Miss Edith Tallaferro, who has been playing the role of Rebecca Rowena Randall in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," is out of the cast owing to illness. She was forced to retire while the company was playing Providence and is confined to her room in a hotel in that city. Meantime, Miss Loraine Frost is playing the title role. Miss Tallaferro was confirmed last week in the Church of the Advent, Boston, by Bishop Lawrence. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. William Van Allen, is an old friend of Miss Tallaferro. Writing of her in the Living Church, the organ of the Episcopal church, Dr. Allen said:

"I wonder if you would be interested in a memory that has just been brought back very vividly to me. Thirteen years ago, I was traveling west in a railway train. The other occupants of the Pullman were members of a theatrical company, with dear old Herne for their head, who had been playing 'Shore Acres.' The tiniest member of the troupe was a little 4-year-old girl, whose important duty it was, in the barnyard scene, to splash water up into the face of the old uncle. She was the pet of the whole company, naturally, and she made friends with me with a charming readiness and sweet simplicity that I have found to be characteristic of children of the stage always. She told me, with a proper pride, that she had a star dressing room already; but I discovered that she was not the least bit unpleasantly precocious, and that she loved fairy tales and dolls quite as much as other normal children of her age. It was my first contact with a child-actress, and I own to you frankly that I lost my heart to her. Ever since then we have been good friends, and some of my brightest memories have to do with visits behind the scenes, when, in the intervals of the play, the dolls were brought forth, and dressed and undressed, and the doll's tea parties given partly in my honor, or of frolics on the green grass under the blue spring skies, when we made believe to be just of an age. I taught her once the sweet old prayer that some of you know already:

'God bless this house from roof to floor,
The twelve apostles guard the door,
And four good angels 'round my bed,
Two at the foot, two at the head.
For Jesus' sake, Amen.'

"She told me at the end of the season: 'I said that dear little prayer every night while we were on the road, and I am sure God heard it, because I got back safely. But I often wondered how the four good angels were going to get round my upper berth!'

"Well, I saw my little friend the other night, and lo! it was not a metropolitan playhouse at all. It was the state of Maine, and a little village called Alverboro, and a brick house by the bank of the river where Rebecca Rowena Randall lived with her two maiden aunts. If ever there was white magic, it brooded over that theater. The very spirit of that exquisite, elusive, delicate, eager, thrilling child, abode in the actress who took her part. It wasn't a play, it was reality; and my companion stopped his applause every now and then to wipe his eyes, and forgot to wipe his eyes because of the need of more applause. If plays were always like that, the old alliance between church and stage would certainly renew itself, and I have heard many sermons which did much less good than a single hearing of 'Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm.' But I like to think that the youthful star is still my friend, and that she has kept all through these years the sweet memories of her childhood, and the graces that adorned her then."

President Taft will receive the first medal ever presented to the chief magistrate by the theater on May 9, when he comes from Washington expressly to open the Actors' Fund Fair. The presentation will be made by a committee of twelve of the leading actresses on the dramatic stage.

The medal, which was designed by Chester Beach, one of the youngest of New York sculptors, was struck in gold last week. Mr. Beach was commissioned to make the design by Archer M. Huntington, president of the American Numismatic society. The selection of the design was made by John W. Alexander, president of the American Academy of Design and chairman of the art committee of the Actors' Fund Fair, from a great number of drawings and plates submitted for the competition. The face of the medal portrays "Charity" coming forward, with "Comedy" and "Tragedy" stretching forth her arms in an appeal for charity. In the reserve side, in low relief, are the comedy and tragedy masks. The medal bears the words, "Actors' Fund, New York, 1910."

The dies for the medal were donated by Edward J. Deitsch.

Mr. Beach, the sculptor, was a silversmith up to five years ago. He then went to Paris for study, and about two years ago his work began to win critical admiration. He received the Helen Foster Burnett medal last year at the exhibition of the National Academy of Design with his graceful statue entitled "The Young Nymph." Another of his admired works is "The Return of the River to the Sea."

AMERICAN PRIMA DONNA FOR SHUBERT PRODUCTION

MARQUERITE NAMARA.

Marguerite Namara, a young American singer, well known to music lovers under the name of Marguerite Banks, has been engaged by the Shuberts for the prima donna role in their production of "Madame Troubadour" by Felix Albini and Victor Herbert, which is now in rehearsal. Miss Namara was born in Cleveland, but spent most of her early life in Los Angeles. She made her debut in Genoa. She sang once for President Taft.

NEW MUSICAL COMEDY OPENS IN WASHINGTON

MAY DE SOUSA.

The opening performance of "A Skylark" was given in Washington on March 14. The prima donna is May De Sousa. Miss De Sousa's ability and genius was first recognized abroad. Her first engagement in London was at the Drury Lane, where she appeared as Cinderella in a pantomime. She subsequently appeared in Paris in musical comedies.

LEADING WOMAN IN NEW PLAY MADE HER FIRST REPUTATION IN SHAKESPEARIAN ROLES

KATHERINE KAELRED.

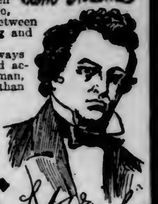

Katherine Kaelred, leading woman with John Mason in "A Son of the People," which opened at the Hackett Theater, New York, March 28, was for four years a member of F. R. Benson's Shakespearian company touring England. Mr. Benson is known in England as the greatest producer of Shakespearian plays that country has ever known, and so high does he stand there, that he is the governor of the Shakespeare Memorial Theater at Stratford-on-Avon. He has produced at Stratford since 1887, all of Shakespeare's plays except two. He is to come to America this coming season on a tour in his entire repertoire and has written Miss Kaelred offering her the position of leading woman on his tour.

GREAT MEN AND BEER BREWING

WHENEVER this great nation needed the assistance and personal services of strong, patriotic men to further the cause of liberty and humanity or to repulse invasions and oppressions, the brewers and their friends were among the first to respond.

History tells us that many of the best men of their time were connected with the business, such as Wm. Penn, who caused the erection of the first brewery in Pennsylvania, or Samuel Adams, the acknowledged father of the Revolution, who managed his father's brewery at Boston, or Patrick Henry, the jovial host of Williamsburg, Va., who made the famous speech: "Give me liberty or give me death." And the immortal Lincoln, when accused by his rival, the great Douglas, in one of their famous debates, of being engaged in the traffic, turned the tables by saying: "The difference between Douglas and me was that I was doing the selling and he was doing the drinking."

Surely the brewers and their friends have always been foremost in promoting public welfare, and according to Andrew D. White, the great statesman, they have done more for real temperance than their fanatic opponents can ever do.

UNIQUE GLOUCESTER HOUSE.

Little Beauport, the home of Henry Davis Sleeper at Gloucester, is called by its admirers the most attractive small house in New England. New in part, it nevertheless contains a great share in each of two old houses.

Much of Little Beauport's old time atmosphere, says Town and Country, has come from the Cogswell mansion of Essex, Mass., that has been practically enmeshed in its walls—all the beveled paneling was taken out of the home of the Cogswells and Choates erected in 1728.

When Mr. Sleeper purchased the interior and contents of this historic edifice it had been closed for twenty years. Birds had built nests in the chimney pieces, the floors were sunken and the wind had wrought havoc with the tattered wall papers and the bed curtains of four posters.

It was a scene worthy of Hawthorne's pen, and strangely enough in a secretary among papers dating from Revolutionary times up to mid-Victorian days its purchaser came upon an unpublished manuscript of that author who was always stirring the musty lavender of dead New England.

In Beauport's great hall to the left of the smiling living room hall there are several pieces of Jacobean furniture found in a locked wine bin in the Cogswells' cellar. The great hall contains examples of earlier furniture. One jeweled cabinet was fashioned not long after the Conquest.

The hall with its dark wood work, its stretches of stone and few pieces of dim purple fabric is the most romantic portion of the house. It contains a gallery named ladies' gallery and a loftier one for musicians. The enormous fireplace is the feature of the place.

WITCHCRAFT OF INDIA.

Allahabad Pioneer: The belief in witchcraft is still fast rooted in parts of India, and the unfortunate persons suspected of the black art are not uncommonly done to death.

In Bengal last year several cases of the kind came before the courts. In the Sonthal Parganahs a woman was murdered by her mother and brother, who believed her to be a witch.

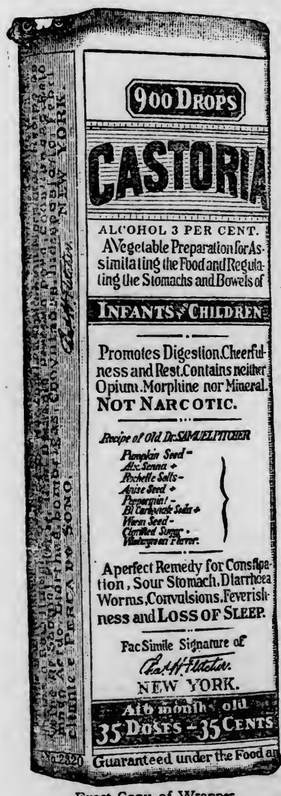

In Palamau a man was killed, as the villagers held that he was a wizard. In another case two women were murdered on the bare suspicion that they had caused the death of three children by cholera. Human sacrifice also is still practiced among the uncivilized tribes of Bengal.

In Angul some Khonds sacrificed a girl as a propitiatory offering against cholera, and in Palamau a boy was enticed into the jungle and killed as a sacrifice. There can be little doubt that any relaxation of vigilance would result in a serious increase of witch killing and human sacrifices.

Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

Baby's coming will be a time of rejoicing, and not of apprehension and fear, if Mother's Friend is used by the expectant mother in preparation of the event. This is not a medicine to be taken internally, but a liniment to be applied to the body, to assist nature in the necessary physical changes of the system. Mother's Friend is composed of oils and medicines which prepare the muscles and tendons for the unusual strain, render the ligaments supple and elastic, aids in the expanding of the skin and flesh fibres, and strengthens all the membranes and tissues. It lessens the pain and danger at the crisis, and assures future health to the mother. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book, containing valuable information for expectant Mothers.

A. O. Mattson, who has been in New York Mills for the past several months, returned here last Friday and shipped his goods to that place, where he will make his home. Mr. Mattson is employed as a clerk in a store there.

W. F. Hoyle and family of Gemmel, Minn., are here this week looking over the town, and if they are pleased with it they will locate here. It is hoped that they will be pleased; in fact, we do not see how they could be otherwise.

Mrs. F. R. Walters entertained in honor of her sisters, Miss Jean Nordstrom and Miss Tecla Lee, Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in playing progressive peanuts. About twelve guests were present.

George F. Howard of the state agricultural college will be in Carlton county during the week beginning April 3, and speak on the subject of "Industrial Contests," and attempt to interest the boys and girls in home and farm work. He will speak at Connor's school, Moose Lake, and the Echman school on April 8.

Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock occurred the marriage of Miss Minnie Maunula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maunula of this place, to John K. Berg of Duluth, the ceremony being performed at the bride's home by Rev. Adolf Riipa of Duluth. The bride was dressed in white, while the bridegroom wore plain black. The wedding was a family affair, only relatives being present. Miss Maunula is very well known here, having lived here for the past few years, and has many friends. The couple will make their home in Duluth, Mr. Berg being employed there.

Miss Minnie Niewohner and George W. McDonald were married Monday at 9 o'clock p. m. The ceremony was performed at Hotel Moose, Justice of the Peace H. D. Cooper officiating. George C. Nevers attended the bridegroom, while the bride was assisted by Mrs. George C. Nevers. Mr. McDonald is employed on the Soo line, and just where they will make their home is not known.

A STEADY DRAIN

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is good proof in the following testimonial:

E. S. Moulton, First Ave., Two Harbors, Minn., says: "I was suffering from a pain in the small of my back for a long time. I finally decided to try a good kidney remedy and procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills. I was pleased with the results of their use and I am now free from pain and feel better in every way. I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a valuable remedy and am pleased to recommend them."

SPEED DEMON TO RUN RIOT

Men Will Risk Life and Limb at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Some Timely Hints That May Save Money for Owners.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2. — The speed demon shall run riot in 1910. In motor car and aeroplane men shall hurtle through space at a breathless rate. They shall risk life and limb in flights that send the red blood coursing through the veins of mighty throngs of people. Strange crafts, long, lean, weird and with unmeasured power of 100 untamed horses or more, unleashed, shall dash madly over a gleaming, dustless track or through the obstacle-free atmosphere.

Speed—it is the watchword of the American people. The very thoughts of flights that rival the meteor or the uncharted comet, thrill. The exhibitions, with men of iron at throbbing wheel, that vibrate madly with the plunging of a roaring motor, streaming blades of fire, bring thousands to the course. Fashion and fury are present, and tribute too is paid to the relentless demon of speed.

Manufacturers of automobiles have felt the impulse to build wonderful speed creations as never before. The Great Benz of 200-horse power and more is here; Caristie's black, low, forward-shaft drive monster has been with us; the lightning-like Fiat has come like the Benz from foreign shores. We have had the Winton Bullet, the Ford 999, the Peerless Green Dragon in days that are gone by. But this season other weird creations are being brought forth to startle us with their speed.

The Marmon company is building a great six-cylinder with fish-like body and unlimited power. The Buick company is said to have a car of tremendous power that will be ready when the starter's pistol fires at the first big event of the season. Other companies are busy with strange and wondrously made models, destined to shatter records. And the stock cars themselves are stronger, more powerful, speedier than ever before. Torpedo bodies, roadster bodies, flyabout, racerabout—names all meant to carry a meaning of long, lithe, pointed shapes—built for speed.

It is the spirit of the times. 1910 will see the reign of the speed king as never before.

And the greatest achievements of Demon Speed will be over the magnificent course of the Indianapolis motor speedway. This plant, itself a monument to motor and aerial speed and sport, is the greatest of its kind in the world and has arranged a schedule for the coming summer which should mean the making of history at every one of the speed carnivals.

The first national motor car championships ever held in the history of the sport will be run at the speedway. The greatest aviation meet is booked for the speedway. The greatest balloon meet is scheduled for the speedway. The greatest collection of racing craft will show their meteoric flashes on the speedway.

The opening meet will be held on May 27, 28 and 30. On the final day will be held the first national championships, in which events for various classes will be chosen champions of America over the five and ten-mile distances. The speedway has every plum in the motor racing and aviation calendar. Its three auto racing carnivals, each three days in length, will include a holiday, namely, and in order, Decoration day, Fourth of July and Labor day. As each holiday comes on Monday, it will leave Sunday for the drivers to recuperate before the final day, and will also enable hundreds of thousands of people to reach Indianapolis on Sunday and spend the holiday watching the races.

The Wright brothers and all other famous aviators will appear during the week of June 13 to 18. There will also be a twenty-four race and the national balloon championships.

The influence of the carriage makers' art left its mark on the automobile, which has only been erased after several years of consistent advance, but last year, when straightline effects were brought into prominence, it was then said that the body situation was adequately cared for torpedo types of bodies, which rather suddenly presented themselves almost at the show, before they were indefinitely known to obtain in this country, are not only promising, but they upset all earlier predictions.

These bodies are more nearly in accord with the locomotive idea than anything which was heretofore presented, and that the automobile is properly classed as related to the locomotive rather than the horse, is a point which will scarcely require bolstering up. The word "locomotive" is used here in the sense that it distinguishes as between a self-propelled kinetic machine and a horse-drawn vehicle. The character of the stresses which are set up in the kinetic machine are entirely at variance with those which obtain when a vehicle is drawn.

More harm can be done to a motor by running it on loose bearings for a few days than would result from a year's ordinary use.

See that your cylinders, pistons and valves are not coated with carbon.

• • •

Your steering connections should be cleaned and oiled. This will prevent the excessive wear and play, so common in steering gears.

• • •

Front wheels must be properly adjusted. It will save tires and cones.

Your rear axle and drive pinion bearings should be always well oiled.

• • •

See that your motor is kept clean. A dirty motor is a sure sign of neglect.

TO REVIVE AUTO CLUB

Members Are Quietly Working to Make It an Active Body.

The First Automobile in Duluth Was a 6 H. P. Oldsmobile.

A live body is to be made of the Duluth Automobile club, if the plans now under way by some of the members do not miscarry.

The work has been going quietly on for some time past, and not a few of the members are interested in seeing the club awake from its slumber and be an active organization in the affairs that pertain to autoists at the Head of the Lakes.

Several attempts have been made to get the sleeper thoroughly awake, but the best that has ever been done is to call a meeting which no one cared enough about to attend. The club has been a dead one long enough, according to a few of the more enthusiastic members. One man said this morning that if "representative" men would not make a go of it, those that were not "representative" would take the matter in hand just to show that it could be done.

A canvass of the automobile owners in Duluth will shortly be made, and,

S. M. BUTLER,
Chairman Contest Board of American Automobile Association.

although the older owners have not much faith in an automobile club here, it is thought that there are enough new owners this spring to get it started right. It is confidently expected that the older ones will drop in as the club takes form and give signs of real life.

Duluth Backward.

There is not a city in the United States of the size of Duluth that has not a live automobile club, one that plans excursions and gives its members something to do. There are now nearly 400 owners in the city, and those who are enthusiastic over the idea of a club see no reason why it could not be made a great success.

The men who are taking the active interest just now wish to plan country trips, improve the roads in places where they need repairs, hold contests of various kinds and plan trips of one day or more, so that everybody may get the most enjoyment out of his car. They would employ a mechanic to make the trips so that if accidents happened there would be some one to repair the break. In short they wish to get the auto owners together so that they can work for better roads to greater advantage, and also promote the sport.

Thus far they report that they have met many who are enthusiastic over the idea, particularly the more recent owners. It is planned to work quietly for some time yet, get as many members as possible, and then urge the less enthusiastic to come in and help make the affair a big success.

Who knew that B. E. Baker owned the first automobile in the city of Duluth?

Fact. It was a very great deal different than the powerful, noiseless Stearns limousine that he now rides around in, but at the time it was considered some car and wherever it went it was the wonder of all.

The first car in Duluth was an Oldsmobile, a single cylinder, curved dash, rod steering, wire-wheeled, 6-horse power Olds. It could make twenty-five miles an hour when it was feeling well, and it could be heard coming or going a distance of some two miles on a calm day. It cost $750, and was at that time—which was 1903—a model roadster. Times have changed greatly since that first automobile came to Duluth, and now there are a great number of the self-propelled vehicles in the city. Some of them are palaces on wheels; they make no noise and instead of twenty-five miles an hour they can make—well, those who run them disagree—anyway, it is fast enough.

The second car brought to Duluth was a Thomas flyer and was owned by W. C. Brown. It was a five-passenger, rear entrance touring car, and, like the Olds, it too could be heard coming. It had a long sloping Mercedes hood and weighed 2,500 pounds. It was a single cylinder machine and boasted 10-horse power. It had a habit of stopping almost anywhere on the streets, and as sure as it did, there was always a crowd around to offer suggestions.

The third car was a Rambler and brought to Duluth by Victor Huot. It had 20-horse power and was considered a model for beauty and speed. It had a wheel base of 81 inches, and this fact was printed in large type on the circular which described it. It had a long extension canopy top which was built solid on the car.

After the third machine they came in very rapidly. The first auto made its appearance on the streets in 1903.

E. J. Filiatrault made a trip to Hibbing Saturday last. The party left here in the afternoon and none of the members can be found who will tell when they reached the range town. All that is known is that on a stretch of road which was in very bad shape for a distance of about four miles, they had to literally carry the machine. It was a Hudson of the light type or they would probably be on the road yet. Mr. Filiatrault says that it was positively the worst mudhole that he ever got into. They did finally reach Hibbing, however.

Motor coats for the coming spring and summer season are now being shown in rubberized and gabardine fabrics. These materials are the most satisfactory of all, as they are dust and rain proof.

The 1910 model hangs extremely loose, so as to form folds the greater part of its length, thus giving freedom whether walking or riding.

The military collar is meeting the approval of its wearers because it affords a greater degree of protection than the plain roll collar. Flaps at the sleeve ends are a positive necessity, as they fold neatly in the motor glove when drawn. The fall styles will be of heavy woolen materials as well as fur.

In England they have a law that when a contractor digs up a roadway that he has to replace it in the same condition in which he found it. Over here there are similar laws, only they are not enforced, while in England they are or some one suffers.

In England a contractor laying gas mains failed to properly refill a breach, and as a result a motor truck was damaged. The judge contended that it was the duty of any one who disturbed the high road afterward to leave the whole of it in safe condition for all ordinary traffic; or if, as the defendants contended, wet weather prevented the newly laid portion from hardening, it ought to be kept safe; or steps should be taken to warn traffic of its unsafe condition.

GLASS TRUST ALLEGED.

Government Will Present Evidence to the Grand Jury.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 2.—After a three months' investigation, federal officers are ready to present to a special grand jury here next Monday, evidence to show that the Imperial Window Glass company is a trust in violation of the Sherman act.

The corporation, formed under the laws of West Virginia, is said to control thirty-three large manufactories of window glass in eleven different states.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says:—"For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." For sale by all druggists.

TAKE TRIP OVER BURNING SAND

Class of Forty-One Masons Initiated Into Mysteries of Shrinedom.

A class of forty-one was initiated into the mysteries of Shrinedom at the Masonic temple last night by the members of Aad temple, A. A. O. M. S. Each of the forty-one was assisted across the burning sands before fully 600 Shriners, mostly local men and residents of the range towns. There were also representatives from Mecca temple of New York city, Tonopah, Nev., Zithrah temple of Minneapolis, Osman of St. Paul, Chicago, London, Ont., and many other places.

Some of the candidates were from the range towns, and they all had friends who came down for the purpose of seeing them get their degree. The auditorium was not too large to accommodate the large crowd in attendance.

One of the features of the evening's entertainment was a vaudeville performance given under the direction of A. F. M. Custance. It consisted of clever burlesques upon the members of the order. He called his chorus the "Society for the Promotion of Cruelty to Candidates."

A token of affection and appreciation in the shape of a beautiful jewel was presented to Harry Nesbitt, potentate of Aad temple last year. The presentation was made by W. A. McGonagle.

More Montana Land Opened.

Washington, April 2.—Approximately 421,875 acres of land in Montana were yesterday designated by Secretary of the Interior Ballinger for settlement under the enlarged homestead act. This land, it was said, was not susceptible of successful irrigation at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply. This makes a total of 28,884,245 acres in Montana which have been designated for settlement under that act.

In aid of proposed legislation affecting the disposal of waterpower sites on the public domain, Secretary Ballinger yesterday temporarily withdrew from all forms of disposition, 5,523 acres of land along the Lempi river, Idaho and 4,175 acres along the Columbia river, Washington.

GAYNOR ORDERS QUIET FOURTH IN NEW YORK.

New York, April 2.—The next Fourth of July in New York will be noiseless. Mayor Gaynor has decided that the fire commissioner's order that no permits for the retail sale of fireworks between June 10 and July 10 be issued, shall stand. This decision was reached only at the sacrifice of personal preference to a sense of duty, according to a close friend of the mayor. He has been known as a valiant and loyal celebrator of the Fourth after the small boys' own method, and recently came out openly in its defense. Statistics of mortality, however, converted him.

BOY 17 YEARS OLD TO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR.

New York, April 2.—Death in the electric chair during the week beginning May 9, is the sentence imposed on Lajama Mados, the 17-year-old boy who shot and killed Selig Korn, a banker, during a raid on the private bank of Herman & Korn in Brooklyn last January.

MILLIONAIRES FAIL TO SWEAR OFF TAXES.

New York, April 2.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is the latest New York millionaire to find place on the personal tax assessment list. His assessment was fixed at $250,000 and was not disputed.

The expiration of the time limit for swearing off taxes showed that many of the city's richest citizens had made no effort to obtain reductions. Some of those who will pay most heavily are: Andrew Carnegie, $5,000,000; John D. Rockefeller, Sr., $2,500,000; J. P. Morgan, $400,000; Mrs. Russell Sage, $5,000,000, and Cornelius Vanderbilt, $250,000.

NO INCREASE IN RENTS IN DULUTH THIS YEAR

Most Leases Will Be Renewed at the Former Rates.

Agents Advising Clients to Make Selections and Sign Leases Early.

There will be no increase in rents in Duluth this year, according to the rental agents. Nearly all leases will be renewed at the same rentals as last year, the only increases being in long time leases, which are just running out.

"If the people looking for homes, offices or business places see anything that suits them fairly well, they had better snap it up, for they will find that procrastination doesn't pay," said a rental agent this morning.

The annual house hunt is beginning. Likewise the office hunt and the business location hunt. Every rental agent in the city is daily entertaining scores of easily satisfied and finicky prospective clients, who cannot find just what they want, who hesitate and hem and haw and move on to some other agent, and who will at the end take something that they don't want rather than be left out in the cold altogether.

Every rental agent in the city is advising regular clients to close up their leases early, for Duluth is growing and there will be no great surplus supply of houses, flats, offices or store rooms. Those who get in early and get their leases signed will have the pick of the places on the market, while the others will have to be satisfied with what they can get. About the last week in the month, the places left on the market will hardly satisfy anybody of exacting tastes.

The agents are sure that everybody will find accommodations this year, but those who want the good places shouldn't wait. There will probably be some vacant places May 1, but for the most part they will be those that nobody will take, except as a last resort. There are any number of houses and office rooms in the city, which are back numbers, and people who can afford better do not want them, and people who want better will not have them if they can get anything that is more desirable.

The new office buildings erected in Duluth during the past few years do not seem to have any appreciable effect on the situation. Office room is just as much in demand now as it was two years ago. Agents for all the big buildings say that they have no trouble in renting every room in the buildings at prevailing prices. There will be no office rooms in the large buildings vacant and those who want the good quarters are signing up their leases now and getting themselves fixed for the next year or two.

Detached houses are scarce, except a few that were built in the days before modern conveniences. There are a large number of flats in Duluth, but people who want good flats are not losing any time about securing them, for the supply is by no means equal to the demand. In fact, the wise ones, no matter what their demand, are signing up all around and taking no chances of being forced to take the leavings in order to secure any kind of accomodations.

There will be no business places vacant on Superior street May 1, needless to say, for the owners of buildings there never have to worry about tenants. There will be several changes, however, and a number of old established firms are preparing to go into other quarters.

FORESIGHT IS OFTEN LACKING IN REAL ESTATE VENTURES

"The value of city property is based on utility," said a Duluth real estate man in talking of property values in Duluth. "Thus when a man intends to buy a piece of property either for speculation or investment, he should consider the opportunities surrounding it in respect to a demand arising for it either for rental or purchase. Location is everything in property, for utility is governed by location and demand by utility."

In buying property most men are shortsighted. When they look over a piece of property its prospects must be visualized and placed before them. They cannot look into the future and see what the progress of the city will do for land that is at the present time valueless for anything except wild land.

Every day people will tell of opportunities they have had to buy Duluth property in the days gone by. "I could have bought the whole normal school district for $100 an acre just a few years ago," one of the old timers will say with a sad smile of regret. He didn't have foresight. There are hundreds of them in Duluth. If some of them had foresight in the old days they would have bought the Spalding hotel corner for a few hundred dollars. That would have been some time ago, of course, but more recent opportunities have been just as golden and those who did take advantage of them are not now spending any time in regrets.

Other Opportunities.

These opportunities have passed, but there are other opportunities lying about. The men who now have foresight will reap the harvest of them. There is great money to be made in Duluth real estate in the next few years. The factors which will contribute to the increases in value are all on the surface. There will be no insiders except those who get on the inside by a study of the situation and by taking to themselves the indications that are evident all around them.

Property for market purposes is divided into three classes, business, residence and manufacturing property. Business property, as far as Duluth is concerned, has had some prosperous times and most of it remaining consists of investment propositions. There is, however, certain to be an expansion in the business district. During the past few years the recognized business center of the city has spread to East Superior and First streets. It is not beyond the range of probabilities that it will extend even to Second street within the next few years. The West end and West Duluth have practically settled business districts, but values will increase greatly on West Superior street, Grand avenue and Central avenue during the next few years.

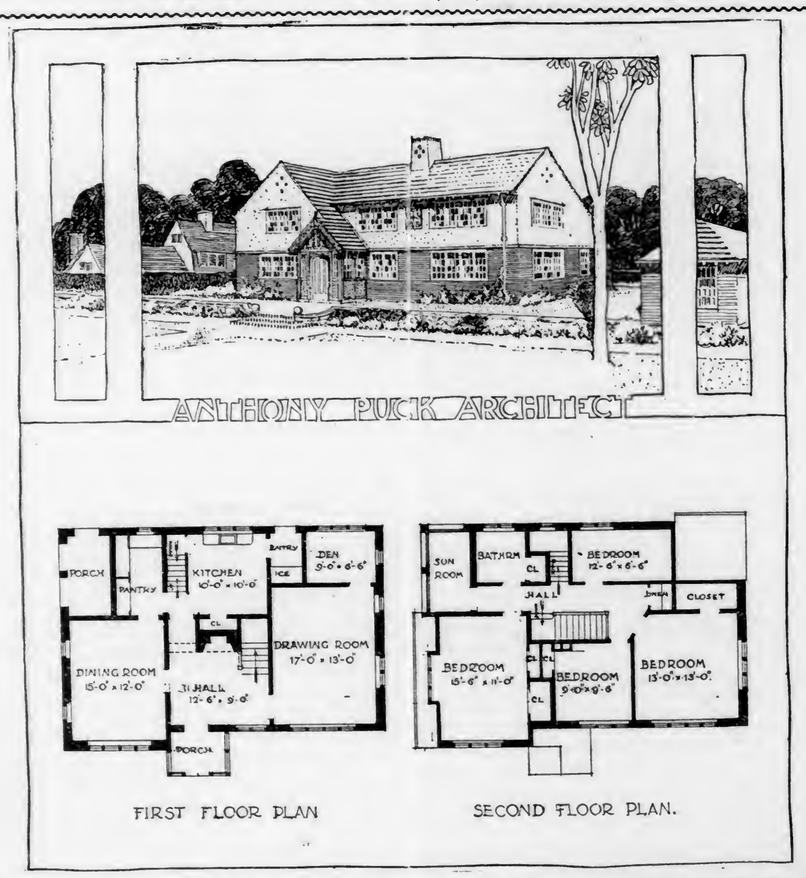

There are no speculative features to the business property market in Duluth, but it will take considerable amounts of money to swing any venture in that class of property, on account of the restricted main business district, the topography of the city holding the business center within pretty well defined lines and the direction of expansion being so evident that nobody could fail to know it.

In residence and factory property, however, there are great speculative possibilities. The normal school district a few years ago could have been purchased for a comparatively modest sum. Today, one lot is worth almost as much as a whole acre was worth a very few years ago. There are other districts in which the transformation in the next few years will be just as great as it has been in the normal school district. If a man has the money and the ability to look into the future and see what is certain to happen, he has a golden opportunity right in front of him.

It really isn't a speculative venture, for there is nothing so certain right now as an investment in Duluth property. It may not return a regular income during the years in

OLD ENGLISH COTTAGE WHICH WOULD COST $5,900 IN DULUTH

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

Much interesting literature has been published on the simplicity, grace and other virtues of the old English cottage, and many travelling Americans come back full of idea to build one such as they have seen in their travels.

This spring, craving for simplicity is the expression of a free people, and much of the gross, showy, gingerbread composite style of architecture with its tawdry affections and display of wealth, is like ignorance adorned in costly garments.

The design above is embodiment of the principles of grace and simplicity displayed through the medium of the old English cottage of the Southern counties, built with the simplest of materials, brick to first story, roughcasted stucco to second story, tile roof and oiled oak porch at entrance.

It will be noticed that the ornament has been concentrated in the porch and in the modeled panel between the second story windows. Casement windows are to be preferred in a cottage of this style. Moreover it is one of the characteristics of the style and gives the long, low effect which is essential to the spirit of the work.

Much has been said on the utilitarian advantages of the double-hung sash windows, and if the same be placed in a colonial, Georgian or classical style, very pleasing effects can be obtained, provided the housewife does not wish the obliteration of the small squares, on account of the trouble in cleaning. This makes the window look like a mouth without teeth, and speaking architecturally, losing the scale of the parts of the building by having voids too large for the adjoining solids. But coming back to casements, the interior effect is delightful with the short low curtains, window seat and plant stand.

The hall is reached through a large, light, seated porch. The hall has a brick fireplace, inglenook and beam ceiling, the stairs lending interest to the room. The dining and drawing room are light and roomy, and placed on opposite sides of the hall. A small den has been arranged off the drawing room, which will be appreciated by the owner. The kitchen, pantry and servants' stairs are arranged in a manner to give isolation and convenience. The second story shows four bedrooms with large closets, bathroom and sunroom, with all the space well utilized.

The pantry and kitchen are finished in birch; the hall, dining room and drawing room in oak; the bedrooms and bathroom in enamelled finish and the floors of maple.

The estimated cost of a home as above illustrated and described, built complete, including heating and plumbing, in Duluth or vicinity is $5,900.

WEST DULUTH'S INDUSTRIES

NATIONAL IRON WORKS, FIFTIETH AVENUE WEST AND RAMSEY STREET.

People whose daily circle of life is in the downtown district, who have no interests in West Duluth and have not even the passing interest of civic pride and a desire to know commercial and industrial conditions in all parts of the city, do not know what West Duluth is doing in an industrial way.

People in the city know vaguely that something maintains West Duluth as an important part of the city. What that something is, few take the trouble to look up. They hear that West Duluth is in line for a great advancement on account of the coming of new industries. They know that practically the only logical factory sites in the city are in West Duluth. They know that the steel plant will add to the commercial prosperity of West Duluth by its proximity to that section of the city and the fact that the steel plant employes will patronize West Duluth business houses. They know that the Canadian Northern is coming through West Duluth, and that its shops, roundhouses and docks will employ hundreds of men, who will have their homes in West Duluth and whose wages will be spent largely in West Duluth.

Announcement has been made during the past winter that the Hanna Coal company has secured a site for a large dock in West Duluth, that another coal company is negotiating for a dock site, that several West Duluth concerns will extend and improve their plants, entailing the employment of more men. The outlook for the future of West Duluth is bright and predictions that there will be a tremendous increase in population, extensive expansion in industries and greatly increased commercial activity in that part of the city in the next year or two are founded on facts.

Of present West Duluth industries, however, people have but scant knowledge. Yet there are firms in West Duluth that are employing hundreds of men, that are paying out thousands of dollars every month in wages, that have grown from small enterprises to substantial industries and that are in line for greater development with the increased activity in all lines of business in West Duluth. Some of them are comparatively new ventures into the field of manufacturing; others have been established for years; all are prosperous, their workmen are well paid, and they have sustained West Duluth during the time when West Duluth had little but possibilities.

The National Iron company, Fiftieth avenue west and Ramsey street, has been in existence thirteen years, starting in business in a small way at Garfield avenue and Michigan street in 1897. The firm prospered and necessary expansion took it to West Duluth in 1902, when it secured its present quarters.

The buildings and yards of the company cover five acres. The number of men employed varies from 175 to 200 men, depending on the season of the year and the amount of business in hand, but even in the dull periods, not less than 150 men are employed. The pay roll runs over $100,000 a year, about $10,000 being paid out to the hands every month.

The company has no extensions in hand now, but it is operating at close to capacity and will be an important West Duluth industry in the days of greater prosperity that are coming.

A Home of Your Own?

We build homes to order to suit any purse. The salaried man's savings can make him the possessor of an artistic, comfortable, roomy house on beautiful lots of his own selection under our easy payment plan, just as surely and just as easily as the millionaire can buy a mansion on Fifth avenue, New York. The time has come when the salaried man is beginning to realize that his influence in business affairs is largely of his own making. The man who "OWNS HIS OWN HOME" carries weight in his district; he takes an interest in local matters that he never would as long as he and his wife "camp out" in a shack or board or do "light housekeeping" in a couple of rooms in somebody else's home. These are the people we are reaching every week. Lakeside is being built up faster than any other section of the city with artistic homes and bungalows which we are erecting for people who are tired of paying rent.

Now, why not come into our office and have a heart-to-heart talk with us on the matter? You will always have to have so why not become the owner of that shelter, instead of the possessor of a bunch of rent receipts? Your monthly payments, including interest, will be no more than you would pay for rent of an equally good house, with the tremendous advantage that you are becoming a "Home-Owner," instead of a rent-payer. It isn't a minute too quick to act on this matter. Next summer or next fall isn't as good as RIGHT NOW!

ONE FOOT OF PROPERTY ON SUPERIOR STREET BRINGS $2,000.

One foot of property on East Superior street brought $2,000 this week. W. M. Prindle purchased it from Charles Schober and it is part of the lot just west of the corner of First avenue east on the north side of the street. There happens to be a party wall on the foot of ground, which accounts for the price.

which it lies idle, but it will return an accumulated income in the shape of the appreciated value of the property.

Manufacturing Sites.

Property for manufacturing purposes is also rather restricted in Duluth. Almost every manufacturing industry must turn to the West for a site. Once past the point of rocks, the possibilities are unlimited. For some classes of wholesale houses and light manufacturing industries, a site near the business district of the city is not only desirable but almost necessary. For the heavier manufacturing propositions, however, there must be more room for tracks and yards and that can only be found west of the point of rocks or to the extreme east of the city.

There is considerable activity in acres to the west of the city now. People are seeing the opportunities before them. Factories are certain to come to Duluth with the growth of the city in population, industrial and commercial importance. The bettering of the railroad facilities, the fine water transportations, the coming of the steel plant and other factories which tend to influence manufacturers in choosing sites for their plants are certain to have their influence in Duluth.

It can hardly be said that opportunities for quick return speculation are going begging in Duluth, but there is a good deal of skepticism that is not well founded and people are averse to taking long shots. The man who makes the most money is the man who takes long shots, especially when a city is growing as Duluth has grown and has the prospects Duluth has. The very fact that the coming census will show a great increase in population, when there have been no unusual stimulants to growth during the past five years should show which way the wind is blowing. There are unusual stimulants to growth in sight now. The industries which have been already announced as coming to Duluth will insure a healthy growth during the next five years, while there are many to come of which no announcement has yet been made.

The man who takes the long shots will make the money. There are opportunities for great gains without taking long shots, while those who do not get into the market if they have the money are turning opportunity away when they should welcome it.

NO BIG DEALS CLOSED BUT MARKET IS ACTIVE

Attention Is Centered on Low-Priced Residence Lots.

Two Sales Made of Property on East Superior Street.

There were no deals of special importance closed in the real estate market this week, the bulk of the business being in low-priced residence lots in the outlying district. There were a few deals closed however, in West end business property and two sales of lots on East Superior street are reported.

Interest continues to center on West Duluth and the district in the immediate vicinity of the steel plant site. The companies which are putting additions in the vicinity of the steel plant site on the market, say that the inquiry has been strong, not only from Duluth people, who know the excellent location of the property and the great opportunities for profit it offers, but also from outside people, who have seen territory in the vicinity of other steel plants develop and know what is almost certain to occur in regard to property immediately adjacent to the site of the Duluth plant.

In West Duluth, purchases of residence property continue and there are said to be a number of important deals in the air in factory sites on the bay shore at West Duluth and Oneota. The development promised for West Duluth within the next few years has drawn the attention of people with money for real estate investment and they are endeavoring to secure title to desirable property in that section of the city.

The business in acreage has fallen off of late but the reason is not hard to find. There are very few large tracts on the market. Holders of acreage have been awakened to their own opportunities by the activity in that class of property during the past year or two. They are not disposed to pass their holdings on to those who will wait for the profits that are certain to come. The acres on the market now are for the most part held at such high prices that investors are not willing to pay them and there is little business in that class of property in sight for the next few months.

In the residence districts of the northern and eastern parts of the city, People are buying home sites. They can readily understand that residence lots in all districts are lower now than they will ever be again, and those who cannot build now are providing for the future by purchasing their home site and waiting, rather than take chances by paying much higher prices in the next few years.

BUILDERS OPTIMISTIC

Residences and Flat Buildings Will Furnish Most of Work.

Report of Permits for First Three Months of Year Encouraging.

No announcements of big new buildings are coming out, but architects and builders say that the prospects for the season are bright. Judging from the report of Building Inspector S. M. Kielley for the month of March and also for the first three months of 1910, there is good reason for the optimism. The records for building work in Duluth were broken last year, but the figures for the first three months of the present year exceed those of the corresponding quarter of 1909.

March was a good month in the building inspector's office, the permits issued being for work estimated to cost $548,820, while for March last year, the total was $260,809. For the first quarter of 1910, the total was $830,555 against $713,854 for the same period last year.

Contractors say that most of the work this year will consist of residences and flat buildings. There is very little building of business structures of any kind coming out and as far as that class of work is concerned, there is expected to be very little activity.

Weather conditions continue ideal for the buildings and those having initial work on structures under way are delighted with the progress possible under the existing conditions.

KING'S WEDDING SECRET.

London Daily Mail: By command of King George of Tonga, a baker of Auckland has designed and built a cake for the coming nuptials of that potentate. It weighs 500 pounds and stands eight feet high. Decorating various panels are the Tongan coat-of-arms, the Tongan royal crown and the initials of the king and his bride. Curiously enough, the lady's initials are concealed from the gaze of the crowd who admire cake in the baker's shop window.

The identity of the future queen is in fact a mystery and one of the conditions imposed on the baker was complete secrecy regarding her initials. It is understood that there has been some competition among the ladies of the Tongan court for the kingly bridegroom, and that in order to defer the disappointment of the unsuccessful ones till the last possible moment his majesty will not reveal the name of the bride until the day of the ceremony.

$2600 Fine nine-room house, two blocks from Superior street car line, practically new, with water, electric light, hardwood floors throughout; $1,000 cash, balance on terms.

$1300 Six-room house, near Piedmont avenue car line; stone foundation. Is in good condition and a bargain at the price asked.

We have about one hundred and fifty lots for sale between Thirty-seventh and Forty-seventh avenues west, at prices ranging from $300 and up, on very easy terms. This is the ideal residence district of the West end, and now is the time to buy before prices advance. Come in and let us show you what we have.

MARKET IS STAGNANT

Wheat Sags From the Opening With Very Little Trading.

Flax Also Dull and Declines From Friday's Close.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 2.—Wheat declined ⅞c from yesterday in a dull and stagnant market. Light rains in Kansas of a general nature caused some liquidation at the opening but later reports said that showers were not as widespread as had been assumed earlier. The market was top-heavy but showed a tendency to rally on good buying.

May opened at $1.14¾, and down to $1.13⅞-1.14 and up to $1.14⅛ and at the close at $1.14. The July option was not traded in, closing $1.14n.

Flax was dull and there was little trading. May was offered at $2.35 and sold at $2.34. July opened at $2.33 and sold off 1c. September opened with bids at $1.80½ and then at $1.85 and sold at $1.83. October was $1.75 bid and then $1.76 bid.

Cash wheat was ½@1c over the near option. Rye and barley closed unchanged and oats closed ⅜c off. Durum was ⅛c off.

Wheat was weaker today on account of general rains in Kansas. The downfall was light although widespread. Liquidation started at the opening and continued throughout the session although not in as great volume toward the close as there seemed to be a growing impression among traders that the rains were not heavy and that their effect would not be great as was first assumed.

Bartlett-Patten, who are long more than 10,000,000 bu of Chicago September wheat sold wheat freely at the opening. The professional element followed them. Values marked time during midday, as there was little trading in the face of the holiday. Bullish traders looked out of the window and saw the sun shining, and they were more convinced than earlier in the day that the rains in Kansas had not been heavy. The bulls said the effect of the rain would be negligible, yet the leading longs were the first to unload on reports of showers. The bears said the market was justifying their contentions.

Toward the close there was some indication of overselling, but as the trading was comparatively light, bears said there was no danger of an immediate upturn from this source.

The cash markets were quiet and featureless. The cash situation is duller than for many months. The mills are buying only intermittently in the face of liberal supplies and comparatively heavy shipments to primary points. The shipments alone are sufficient to meet the demands of the mills which do not have to draw upon reserve stock.

The foreign situation today was moderately weak with futures neglected. Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d lower; corn dull, ⅜d lower.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market at the opening was affected by very favorable reports from Roumania, declaring that the growing crop was in good condition and prices were ⅛@¼d lower. Weather in the United Kingdom is ideal and the demand has shown some abatement, with both offerings of cargoes and parcels lower. During the morning some little steadiness developed on the firmer tone and fewer La Plata offerings. But toward the close this advance was lost and prices showed an additional decline from the opening of ⅛@¼d. Private advices report increasing Russian offerings and talk of continued liberal shipments this week from the country. At the close the undertone was easy, with prices ⅛@⅜ lower than yesterday.

"Corn was quiet at the start and unchanged, and during the morning July advanced ⅛d. Argentina is not offering new crop."

Some seeding reports to The Herald from the Northwest follow:

Little Falls, Minn.—Seeding started two weeks ago. Soil in good condition. Acreage of oats and wheat increased.

Winthrop, Minn.—Seeding more than half completed and soil in better shape than in twenty-five years. Acreage of Sibley county biggest in history. Percentage of crop varieties will be about the same as last year.

Willmar, Minn.—Seeding in Kandiyohi county is more than half done. Work usually starts about April 1. Plenty of moisture in ground, but a good rain would pack the earth so that drills could do their work better. Farmers seem to like velvet chaff, as it will thrive on land ordinarily too poor for other grades of wheat. More oats and less barley will be raised this year.

Barnesville, Minn.—Seeding is well along near here, having been started about three weeks earlier than usual. Soil is in almost perfect condition. The wheat acreage will be largely increased. Oats will remain about the same, and barley will be increased. The corn acreage will be increased by 10 per cent.

Winona, Minn.—Soil is in excellent condition. Sufficient moisture from the winter's snow has been carried over for present requirements. Barley will take about 50 per cent of the county's acreage, oats 20 per cent, corn 15 per cent and the remaining 15 per cent what and other grains.

Fergus Falls, Minn.—Seeding is well advanced and the soil is in first-class shape. Every available foot of land in this county will be cultivated. The acreage of wheat will be largely increased. Corn has yielded remarkably well in recent years and farmers will raise more of it this year. Durum is being abandoned for ordinary bluestem wheat. Farmers say the yield is not sufficiently large to compensate them for the difference in price between durum and other grades.

Bird Island, Minn.—Seeding near here has been concluded. Oats and wheat will be grown more extensively. Barley and flax will be about the same. The corn acreage will be increased.

Worthington, Minn.—Season is two weeks earlier than usual and one month in advance of last year. Soil condition excellent. Acreage of oats will break all records. Wheat and corn acreages will be increased. The area of soil under cultivation will be greatly augmented.

Benson, Minn.—Most of the wheat lands have been sown. The wheat and oats acreage will be larger than usual. Barley, flax and corn acreages will be slightly increased.

Crookston, Minn.—Seeding in the Red River valley is general and in many instances has been completed. Water has run off the land and the soil is in excellent shape. The season is three or four weeks in advance of the average year. Averages in wheat, corn and flax will be increased. Considerable seeding has been done near Fosston, Erskine and other towns along the Great Northern. From Thief River Falls to Warroad only a small amount of work has been done on the scattered farms as there is more moisture in the ground than elsewhere.

Cannon Falls, Minn.—Soil is in good condition for cultivation except in the low land. More wheat will be sown this year than usual. More flax will be raised but less barley and only an average amount of corn.

Frazee, Minn.—Outlook for season never better. About the usual amount of wheat and oats will be raised, but there will be more flax and corn. Very little barley is being sown.

In North Dakota.

Jamestown, No. D.—Seeding of grain near here not as early as in other portions of the state, but work is well advanced. Weather favorable. Soil in excellent condition. There is more new land for cropping and a greater acreage than in the past will be sown. Wheat and flax will be sown to increased acreage. Farmers will put every acre possible into crops. Oats is less a favorite than last year.

Lisbon, N. D.—Seeding is general and the season is about two weeks earlier than last year. Soil first class. Farmers will put in more hard wheat than last year. More corn and flax will be raised. Every available foot of land will be cultivated.

Fairmount, N. D.—Acreage of oats and barley will be large; percentage of flax small. Corn acreage will be increased about one-third.

Edgeley, N. D.—A larger acreage than ever before will be sown this year. Seeding is general. Wheat and oats will be raised more extensively, but the acreage for barley and corn will be only normal. The land put into flax will be greatly increased. There are many new settlers in this neighborhood.

Neche, N. D.—Seeding is just beginning to be general. Soil is in excellent shape. Recent rains have provided plenty of moisture. This will cause weeds to grow, which farmers can destroy before seeding is in full swing. Wheat acreage will be smaller. Crops will be diversified. More corn will be planted than ever before.

Bismarck, N. D.—Season two weeks earlier than usual; soil in excellent condition. Acreage of all grains will be large, especially wheat, flax and ground easily workable.

Wahpeton, N. D.—Seeding is the earliest in history. No frost in ground, and soil in first-class shape. Less wheat will be sown. Intensified and diversified farming gaining favor. Acreage of oats will be larger. Corn crop will be larger by one-third. Barley and flax will remain about the same.

Pembina, N. D.—Seeding is just beginning near here. It will be general by the first of next week. Soil excellent. Acreage of oats will be larger, wheat about the same, barley larger and considerable more flax.

In South Dakota.

Yankton, S. D.—Season three weeks earlier than usual. Seeding will be in full swing in about a week. Many farmers have been husking corn which has been in the field all winter. Less wheat will be raised but the acreage of oats and corn will be increased. No barley will be raised.

Vermillion, S. D.—About the usual amount of wheat, oats, flax and barley will be sown, but none of these crops will be grown extensively. Corn is the big grain in Clay county.

Big Stone, S. D.—Season is three weeks earlier than usual and seeding is becoming general. The proportion of grains sown will be about the same as usual. Acreage of wheat may be increased from 5 to 10 per cent. On account of the scarcity of seed, the flax crop may be reduced. Acreage of corn will easily reach that of last year.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Seeding in Minnehaha county is general. Soil condition never better. Corn and barley are the two big crops here. Proportion of grains will remain about the same.

De Smet, S. D.—Soil fine; no frost. Snow melted and went into ground instead of running off as usual. Flax crop will be cut down as not so much soil will be broken up this year as last. Wheat acreage will be largely increased. Barley acreage will be reduced. Farmers pleased with corn last year and will raise more of it this year. Much was left in the fields because of early snow and it was not injured.

Britton, S. D.—More wheat and flax will be sown than last year.

Webster, S. D.—More wheat will be sown. Other grains will not change much. Less durum and more bluestem and velvet chaff will be sown than last year.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

General Selling Makes Wheat Weak at the Opening.

Chicago, April 2.—Wheat was weak at the opening of trading today owing to general selling based on reports of rain in sections of the Southwest. Several leading commission houses were liberal sellers of the September delivery. Initial quotations showed losses of ⅛c to ⅞@1c, the latter being on the more distant future. July opened at $1.07⅞@1.07⅝ and September at $1.04⅞@1.04⅜.

During early trading the market held fairly steady at about the opening level although the July option dipped still further to $1.07½. Official predictions of showers for parts of Kansas tended to keep prices down.

The market increased in weakness as the session advanced. July declined to $1.06⅞@1.07 and September to 1.03¾. The close was extremely heavy at almost the bottom, July being off 1¼@1⅜ at $1.07. September was down 1⅜@1½ at $1.03⅞.

Weakness of wheat, poor demand for the cash grain, and ideal weather conditions for farm work induced liberal selling of corn early in the day which resulted in moderate declines in all deliveries. The May delivery opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c lower at 61½@61⅜c, and sold off to 61¼c.

Prices declined further in the final half of the day, May dropping to 60⅝. The close was weak and May 1c off at 60⅝@60¾c.

Oats were bearishly affected by the weakness of wheat and corn, but the volume of trading was small. The May delivery opened a shade to ⅛c lower and 43¼c to 43⅛@43¼c and held within that range early in the day.

Provisions experienced a severe slump during early trading, especially pork which declined 40c to 50c from yesterday's close. The break was caused by some realizing sales which brought out a lot of stop loss orders. After opening 10c lower at $25.50, pork for May delivery dropped to $25.10. May lard opened 5c lower at $13.70 and declined to $13.50. May ribs opened 2½c lower at $13.57½ and sold off to $13.50.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Fairly Active Wheat Trade With Selling on Crop News.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 2.—Rains in Kansas caused liquidation in wheat today. Trading was not heavy but the pit was fairly active. May wheat closed ¾c lower than yesterday. July was ⅞c lower and September 1@1⅛c lower. Local elevator stocks evened up for the first day of the week just started. Sentiment favored the bears although some of the reliable and conservative interests were eventually bullish on the situation. Minneapolis today received 203 cars of wheat against 144 cars a year ago; Duluth, 31 against 66, and Winnipeg 208 against 192. May opened, $1.14; high, $1.14; low, $1.13¼; closed, $1.13½; July opened $1.14⅛; high, $1.14⅛@1.14¼; low, $1.13½@1.13⅝; closed, $1.13⅝; September opened $1.04⅛; high, $1.04⅜; low, $1.03⅝; closed, $1.03⅝@1.03¾. Cash wheat, steady. Demand slow for everything, except choice quality. No. 1 northern sold for 1@2½c above the May option and No. 2 northern, $1.14@1.15½; to arrive, $1.14@1.15½; No. 2 northern, $1.12@1.13½; to arrive, $1.12@1.13½; No. 2 wheat, $1.07@1.11½. No. 3 yellow corn, 54¾@55¾c; No. 3 white oats, 40¼@40¾c; No. 2 rye, 69¾@74¾c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,172 tons. No change today. Bran in 100-pound sacks, $21.00.

Flour—Shipments for the week were 255,909 bbl against 291,615 bbl last week and 260,288 bbl the corresponding week last year. There was no change in the dull situation. Shipments today, 45,719 bbl. First patents, in wood f. o. b., Minneapolis, $5.40@5.60; second patents, $5.20@5.40; first clears, 4.35@4.45; second clears, $3.10@3.40.

Flax—Receipts, 30 cars, year ago 9, shipments, 1. Demand strong at the even Duluth May price. Closing, $2.33¾.

Barley—Receipts, 46 cars; year ago, 31; shipments, 64. The market was about steady. Demand slow except for choice malting. Prices firm, closing, 52@63c.

New York Grain.

REMARKS.

Fair weather prevailed except that light rains fell over portions of Kansas and Oklahoma; freezing temperatures occurred this morning at Auburn and Cambridge City, Ind.

H. W. RICHARDSON,
Local Forecaster.

T. indicates inappreciable rainfall. *For yesterday. †For 24 hours ending 8 a. m., 75th meridian time. ‡Minimum temperature for 12 hours ending 8 a. m., 75th meridian time.

NOTE—The average maximum and minimum temperatures and the average rainfall are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

Cotton Market.

New York, April 2.—Cotton opened barely steady at an advance of 1 point on May but generally 1@6 points lower in spite of better cables than expected and sold quickly off to a net loss of 3@ points under liquidation and bear pressure, inspired by the better weather in Texas and unfavorable domestic trade accounts. There was a good deal of covering around 14.57 for May and 12.67 for October and prices rallied slightly from the lowest.

Futures closed very steady. Closing bids: April, 14.75; May, 14.65; June, 14.55; July, 14.54; August, 14.08; September, 13.19; October, 12.71; November, 12.54; December, 12.57; January, 12.55.

Spot closed quiet at 20 points lower. Middling uplands, 14.75; middling gulf, 15.00. No sales.

New York Money.

New York, April 2.—Money on call nominal; time loans very steady; 60 days, 3¾@4 per cent; 90 days, 4 per cent; six months, 4@4¼ per cent.

Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent; sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.84.40@4.84.50 for 60-day bills and at $4.87.75 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.83¾@4.84¼; bar silver, 52½c; Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds firmer.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, April 2.—The condition of the treasury at the beginning of business today was as follows:

Trust funds—Gold coin, $852,497,869; silver dollars, $489,993,000; silver dollars of 1890, $3,789,200; silver certificates outstanding, $489,993,000.

General fund—Standard silver dollars in general fund, $1,897,656; current liabilities, $101,887,461; working balances in treasury offices, $30,328,881; in banks to credit of treasurer of the United States, $35,448,225; subsidiary silver coin, $21,405,577; minor coin, $1,019,713. Total balance in general fund, $81,753,014.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, April 2.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at 150; market steady; beeves, $5.65@8.60; Texas steers, $5.00@6.50; western steers, $5.00@7.00; stockers and feeders, $3.85@6.75; cows and heifers, $2.80@7.20; calves, $8.00@9.25. STOCKS ARE SLUGGISH

Trading Is Dull and Market Has Little Semblance of Life.

Small Net Losses Established Generally, But Close Is Steady.

New York, April 2.—Only a few stocks showed changes of more than ⅛ from the last price of last night when business began today. The rise of a point in Hocking Valley preferred to par was in connection with the plan to retire the stock.

There was some semblance of life in the market for a while, during which prices went up a good fraction, but the demand soon was satisfied and trading became sluggish again. Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting preferred advanced 1 and American Telephone yielded 1¼.

The market closed steady. Prices sagged back in sympathy with the weakness of American Telephone and Western Union, which fell 3 and 1½ respectively. Small net losses were established generally, running to a point in Delaware & Hudson. Chicago-Great Western preferred gained 2 and Great Northern ore certificates 1¼. There were fractional recoveries at the last.

WOMEN ACHIEVES RARE HONORS.

London Standard: Miss Ivy E. Woodward, M. D., London, having passed the required examinations, has been admitted a member of the Royal College of Physicians. She is the first female student admitted to the membership of the college.

Miss Woodward received her medical education at the London School of Medicine for Women, which institution is in connection with the Royal Free hospital, where Miss Woodward has held the posts of clinical assistant, house physician and assistant clinical pathologist. She is also clinical assistant at both the Royal hospital for diseases of the chest and the New hospital for women.

THE BOSS.

Los Angeles Times: Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, in the course of a recent anti-suffragette argument in New York, said with a smile:

"Too many of my sisters appear to think that the woman should be the head of the house. They would have her dominate over her husband as Mrs. Cudlip was said to dominate over hers.

"Mrs. Cudlip—to give you an idea of her perfect domination—said one day to her husband sharply:

"'Jethro, who was the greatest general in history?'

"Jethro, not to be caught napping, answered, calmly and meekly:

"'Joan of Arc.'"

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— THE UNITED STATES DISPLAY ADVERTISING COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, hereby associate ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1905, and acts amendatory thereof, and to that end have signed and adopted the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be "THE UNITED STATES DISPLAY ADVERTISING COMPANY." The general nature of the business of this corporation shall be the buying, renting or in any manner acquiring all kinds of property, real, personal or mixed, and of holding, dealing in, improving, renting, leasing, selling, conveying, exchanging or in any manner disposing of the same; the manufacturing, buying, leasing, erecting and placing of all kinds of signs, signboards, advertising bulletins, bill and poster boards, frames and structures, painted, printed and pictorial displays and advertising novelties and devices and matter of every kind and description; the placing and posting of all kinds of advertising matter on bill, poster or other advertising display boards; the tacking up, distributing or otherwise disseminating of all kinds of picture, advertising or display bills, cards, pictures or other advertising matter, and the doing of any and all things necessary to the carrying on of any of the aforesaid business; all or any of said business to be carried on at Duluth, in the State of Minnesota, and at such other places as shall be deemed best by the Board of Directors.

The principal office and place of business of this company shall be in the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be the First day of April, A. D. 1910, and the term of its continuance shall be Thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Fifty Thousand ($50,000.00) Dollars, and the same shall be paid in, in money or property, at such times as the Board of Directors shall determine.

ARTICLE IV.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Fifty Thousand ($50,000.00) Dollars.

ARTICLE V.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming this corporation are as follows: Charles A. Marshall, Leon Eberhardt, Henry Nolte and Charles E. Adams, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota, and Louis N. Scott, residing at St. Paul, Minesota, and Michael Breslauer and George J. Sherer, both residing at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

ARTICLE VI.

The first Board of Directors of this corporation shall be the incorporators thereof, who shall act as such directors until the first annual meeting, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE VII.

The government of this corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a board of seven (7) directors, whose term of office shall be one (1) year and until their successors are duly elected and qualified. The annual meeting of the stockholders of this corporation shall be held at the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the first Monday in April of each year, commencing with April, 1911, said meeting to be held at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the By-Laws of this corporation. The stockholders shall at each annual meeting elect the Board of Directors for the ensuing year from their own number, or in case they fail to so elect, then at an adjourned meeting thereof.

The officers of this corporation shall consist of a President, a first Vice President, a second Vice President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary and Manager, and a Treasurer, who shall be elected by the Board of Directors from their own number at the first meeting after each annual meeting of the stockholders. The office of President and Treasurer may be held by the same person. The officers until the first annual meeting in April, 1911, shall be as follows:

Charles A. Marshall, President and Treasurer.
Louis N. Scott, First Vice President.
Michael Breslauer, Second Vice President.
George J. Sherer, Secretary.
Leon Eberhardt, Assistant Secretary and Manager.

The Board of Directors may adopt all necessary or proper By-Laws for the government of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII.

The capital stock of this corporation shall be divided into Five Hundred (500) shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this 24th day of March, A. D. 1910.

WANTED—ANY AMBITIOUS YOUNG man under 35 years old, should read this advertisement. The United States navy is an excellent training institution. For such training as it furnishes you free, you'd pay tuition and expenses at a manual training school. Besides having a chance to learn a trade in the navy, you breathe pure sea air; have good, wholesome food, and plenty of it free; have medical care and attention if sick; are made strong and healthy by systematic exercises and athletics. You don't work any harder than in the factory, office or farm, and have more leisure, while no occupation offers better pay and none gives more rapid promotion. Your pay begins the day you enlist. Nearest recruiting station to you is Postoffice building, Duluth, Minn. Send for interesting free booklet telling everything you want to know about the training and opportunities in the navy. If you delay, you may be put on the waiting list; vacancies are limited, and applications will be considered in their order. Either go to above recruiting office immediately, or send for booklet and instructions to Bureau of Navigation, Box 204 Navy Department, Washington D. C.

ROTTEN BRIDGES ARE A MENACE TO SAFETY OF DULUTH CITIZENS

Inspector Finds Many That Are in Need of Prompt Repairs.

Spring Discloses Rotten Timbers and Stringers That Are Giving Way.

Several Structures Are Condemned as Being Beyond Repair.

Duluth is loaded down with rotten bridges in all parts of the city which are so far gone that they ought to be closed to travel or immediately rebuilt, according to the reports of the inspectors of the city engineering department.

The inspectors completed their examination of the bridges last week and were busy today entering them on the records of the office.

Many of the bridges are on the roads leading into the city, traveled largely by farmers coming or leaving the city. They are located in both the western and eastern ends of the town, but many of the central bridges are not any better.

Last week the board of public works ordered three bridges at Spirit Lake closed and the engineering department recommends that others be given the same treatment.

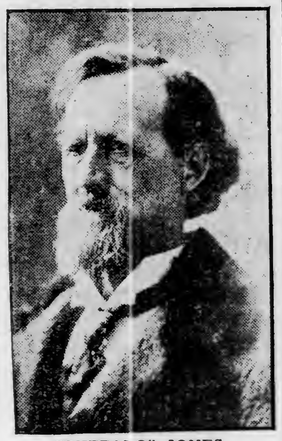

The bridges on Oneota street at Fortieth, Forty-third and Fiftieth avenues are all classified as bad, with decaying stringers and poor planking. The center which is used by street cars has been re-enforced and are not dangerous as far as the cars are concerned, but they are unsafe for heavy loads.

The structure at Polk street and Fifty-seventh avenue is in poor condition, while that at Pulaski street and Seventy-first avenue is being torn down by the board of public works.

The report states that the rustic bridge in Lester park was built more with a view to artistic effect than safety, and should be immediately

CATCHES ANIMALS LIKE THOSE ROOSEVELT SHOT

"BUFFALO" JONES.

New York, April 4.—News of the success of the expedition of Col. C. J. (Buffalo) Jones to British East Africa has been received by Francis W. Bird, a New York lawyer. Jones left this country in February. His exploits with mountain lions and buffalo in the West had led him to believe that he could rope and capture the animals Col. Roosevelt was shooting. His cablegram reads:

"Roped and tied rhinos, giraffes, leopards, cheetahs and others. Immense rhino bull made trouble. Charged a hundred times. Smashed tripod; operator escaped. Lions and buffalo next. Man, horses and dogs in splendid condition. Jones."

"Buffalo" Jones will bring back to this country the live specimens he has captured. Col. Jones is conceded to be the greatest living authority on the buffalo.

SHIP BONES BACK HOME

Chinese Ask Northern Pacific for Rate on Strange Shipment.

Remains of Fellow Countrymen Will Be Sent to Native Land.

"What are your rates on dead men's bones?"

That rather startling question was today asked of Frank Miller, freight rate clerk of the Northern Pacific local office, by a Chinaman, Charley Sing Lee, a leader of the local Chinese colony.

The intention of the Chinaman, according to the information given at the Northern Pacific, is to gather the bones of a number of Chinamen who are buried in this part of the state and ship them back to China for interment according to the Oriental custom.

But what about the rate?

There is where the railroad rate clerk has struck a snag. This morning he blistered his thumb and forefinger turning the leaves of all the freight tariff files in the local Northern Pacific office. Not a rate or even a suggestion of a rate on dead men's bones could Clerk Miller dig up.

John Fisher's expert judgment was

ATTACK UPON JUSTICE FISK

North Dakota Prohibition Forces Urged to Oppose His Re-election.

Jamestown, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attention of North Dakota politicians has suddenly been diverted from the making up of slates for the primary election to the supreme court situation, as a result of a rather sensational attack upon Justice Fisk, made in this city last week by R. B. Griffith, vice president of the North Dakota Enforcement league. In that address Mr. Griffith urged that the prohibition forces of the state work against the election of Justice Fisk, should he again be a candidate, and as a result a hornet's nest seems to have been stirred up.

Justice Fisk's alleged unfriendliness to the prohibition law of the state was given by Mr. Griffith as the reason why the enforcement forces of the state should rally in support of candidates opposed to him.

Attorneys of the state have already come to Judge Fisk's defense, and the fight over this question gives fair to be decidedly interesting.

North Dakota will this year elect its supreme court justices under the new law providing for a non-partisan bench, and for this reason the election will be unusually interesting. There are already several candidates in the field, being Justices Fisk, Ellsworth, Carnody, Judges Goss, Kneeshaw, Burke and Attorneys Cooley and Anderson.

DROUTH IS OVER AT LA CROSSE

Brewery Employes Get All They Demand and Go Back to Work.

La Crosse, Wis., April 4.—The brewery strike in this city which since Friday has tied up five breweries, was settled today and all the employes returned to work. The men won on all points. An increase of $2 a week was granted to the strikers, the day was cut from nine to eight hours, and various other minor demands granted.

Strike at Rochester.

Rochester, N. Y., April 4.—Between 450 and 500 employes of the seven breweries in this city went on strike today in response to a vote taken at a mass meeting of the various affiliated unions on Saturday night. Increase in wages, shorter hours and radical changes in the working conditions of the contract are the chief demands.

LODGING FOR DERELICTS

Rooms in New Bethel Will Be Used to House Unfortunates.

Charitable Organizations of City Will Work for Success of Project.

The matter of a municipal lodging house was the topic under discussion this morning at the regular meeting of the Associated Charities.

It was decided to work in harmony with the Bethel, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and other institutions interested in the work and to use some of the rooms in the proposed Bethel building for the lodging of unfortunates.

The matter was discussed from every angle and it was decided that this was the proper method as the Associated Charities is at this time unable to undertake the work alone.

The Associated Charities will help the Bethel in the matter of money so far as possible and the other societies will also contribute to the cause.

The Bethel society is much interested in work of this nature and it is believed that the present plan will work out to advantage. The municipal lodging house idea has been under consideration for some time by the representatives of the several local societies. Everybody agreed that it was necessary, but the financial part of the question was the obstacle. The idea will be gradually worked up and

WANTS PROBE FOR BROKERS

Alderman Shartel Will Ask Council to Begin an Investigation.

Claims That Wild Cat Mining Schemes Have Been Too Numerous.

Alderman Joseph Shartel will ask the city council tonight or next Monday to take steps to investigate the copper brokerage business in this city.

He is emphatic in the statement that the savings of widows and orphans, or clerks and office men, as well as the money of business men, has been as good as stolen by men floating wild cat schemes in Duluth.

Something ought to be done to prevent the free operations of certain kinds of copper brokers and other schemers in this line here," he said this morning. "I believe that mines which had no foundation in fact have

BIG LIQUOR FIGHT ON IN MICHIGAN

Thirty-Six Counties Vote on Saloon Question After Hot Campaign.

Detroit, Mich., April 4.—With a vote said to be the heaviest ever polled on this issue in Michigan, the fate of more than 1,335 saloons is being decided today in thirty-six counties. Up to the last minute before the voting began the campaign was a strenuous one and latest reports told of efforts being made in Kent and Shiawassee counties by the "drys" to secure arrests, in the former county for fraudulent registration, and in the latter for alleged "colonization" by the "wets."

The Kent county "drys" announced last night that they will ask for a grand jury Tuesday no matter what may be the outcome of today's struggle. The Shiawassee county "drys" say they will ask for the arrest before night of fifteen persons in connection with the alleged "colonization."

Both sides are particularly interested today in the outcome of the election on the ten counties where the local option question is being submitted after the counties have been dry for two years. These counties are St. Joseph, Oakland, Midland, Missaukee, Van Buren, Clinton, Osceola, Barry, Oceana and Wexford.

WHO GOT FOOLED?

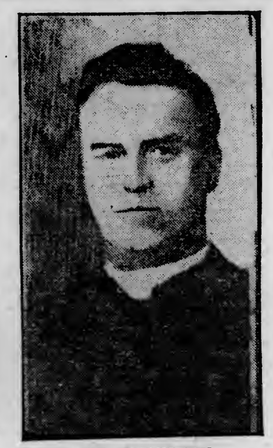

Marinette, Wis. April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The best April fool joke pulled off in Marinette for some time took place in a saloon where fifty men kicked a pocketbook around all the evening. After closing, the bartender opened the pocketbook and found it contained five $20 bills.

"FIREBUG" SAVED FROM ANGRY MOB

Man in San Diego Is Accused of Setting Seventeen Fires.

San Diego, Cal., April 4.—Arrested at the scene of a recent alarm last night, an unknown suspect was for a few minutes in danger of rough handling at the hands of a crowd of men thoroughly wrought up by the firing of another building by a mysterious incendiary, who for the second time, left his mark, a flaming red ribbon, on the house to which he had applied the torch.

Chief of Police Wilson held the angry crowd back with his revolver and the suspect was brought to the police station. There a crowd had assembled and there were some cries of "lynch him," but no serious demonstration was made.

The name of the suspect has not yet been learned.

The mysterious pyromaniac, who is terrorizing the city, wrote to the chief of police last week that unless a large sum of money was turned over to him he would continue his incendiary operations on a wholesale scale. A red ribbon left on the building fired, he said, would indentify his handiwork.

Seventeen recent fires are attributed to him.

HUNTING DOWN BUCKET SHOP MEN

Government Has Not Stopped Campaign Against the Business.

New York, April 4.—Search was kept up here today for several individuals indicted in connection with the government's anti-bucketshop campaign. Four of them were supposed to be in this city. The word went out semi-officially today that investigation of alleged bucketshop operations here was by no means finished. Close watch was being kept, it was said, for transactions of a doubtful character, and despite the difficulty of getting evidence of "bucketing" orders it was believed that definite action was likely to develop shortly.

EX-PRESIDENT REMINDED OF FAIRBANKS INCIDENT

Warning That Audience May Be Refused Him Leads to Peremptory Breaking of Negotiations.

Anti-Clerical Paper Comments Bitterly on Action of the Vatican Advisers---Statements By Roosevelt and Mgr. Kennedy.

Rome, April 4.—Received, literally, with open arms by King Victor Emmanuel, but with no probability, or apparent possibility, of visiting the pope at the Vatican, ex-President Theodore Roosevelt today is the central figure in one of the strangest situations that a visitor to Rome has met with in many years, if indeed it ever had an exact counterpart in history.

The determination of the ex-president to forego an audience with Pope Plus X rather than subscribe to the conditions imposed by the Vatican, has created a sensation. This unfortunate and unexpected incident overshadows every other feature of the distinguished American's visit to the Eternal City.

Objected to Conditions.

Mr. Roosevelt sought an audience with the pontiff through American Ambassador Leishman, and received a reply that the holy father would be delighted to receive him, but the answer was coupled with an expression of the hope that the audience would not be prevented by such a regretable incident as made an audience for Former Vice President Fairbanks impossible.

Mr. Roosevelt in turn stated that he could not accept any stipulation limiting his freedom of conduct. To the latter message the Vatican made answer that the audience could not take place excepting upon the understanding first made known. On March 29, Mr. Roosevelt sent to Ambassador Leishman the following cablegram:

"Proposed presentation is of course now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt insisted that the incident be treated as purely personal and earnestly hopes that it will not give rise to any bitterness.

Had no Engagement.

He appreciates the attitude of the Vatican, but feels that as a free American citizen he cannot consistently take any action that might be construed as involving a limitation of the freedom of his personal conduct. He had made no engagement to address the Methodists or other religious bodies of Rome, but at the same time thinks that he should not make promises as to what he will or will not do. It would appear today that, so far as the Vatican and Mr. Roosevelt are concerned, the incident is closed.

The news that the former president had abandoned his proposed visit to the Vatican reached the morning papers very late, but made a deep impression.

Anti-Clerical Paper Comments.

The Messagero, an anti-clerical organ, alone comments editorially upon the matter. This paper says:

"When the news was spread it was received with incredulity, many regarding it as a malicious fabrication of the enemies of the Catholic church, but when confirmed it produced comment disastrous to the Vatican. Men of every religion daily visit the pope without first giving the itinerary of the churches which they intend to visit. Why should the Vatican require Mr. Roosevelt to ignore the churches of his own religion during his short stay in Rome? The incident will not add to the diplomatic fame of the pope's advisers.

"Mr. Roosevelt as the head of the great American republic followed the principle enunciated by Premier Luzzatti—'A free church under a sovereign state.'"

Blames Pope's Entourage.

The Messagero places the responsibility for what it terms a "blunder" on the pope's entourage, continuing: "For it was a blunder to ask a certificate of acceptability from a man illustrious everywhere for his intelligence and the nobleness of his life. The liberty which Mr. Roosevelt is defending for all, he could not renounce for himself."

After pointing out that a nonpossumus could have been given without the exchange of notes, the paper declares that the whole incident furnishes new proof of the "imperious intransigentism of Cardinal Merry Del Val," and adds:

"Could Mr. Roosevelt, a free citizen of his own country, renounce his liberty in Rome for the sake of an audience with the pope? It is time that the advisers of the pope should understand that a certain imposition cannot be exacted."

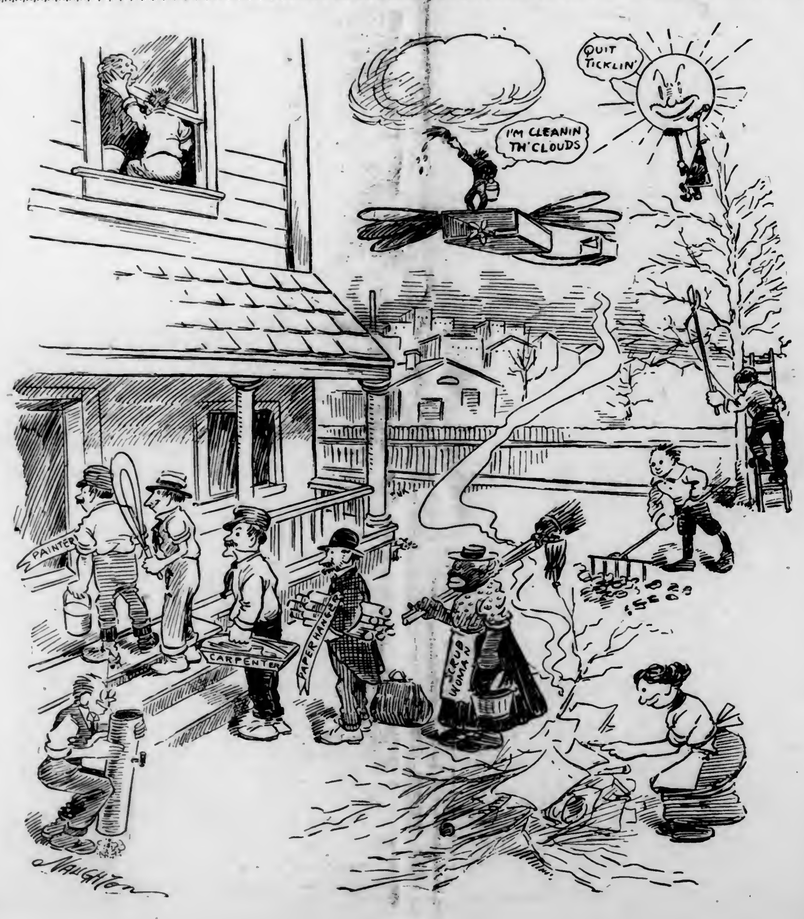

Negotiations With Vatican.

The negotiations were as follows:

While at Cairo Mr. Roosevelt received the following telegram from Ambassador Leishman, dated March 23:

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT TODAY.

OPEN ARMS FOR TEDDY

King Victor Emmanuel Gives Hearty Greeting to Roosevelt.

Roman Crowds Stand in the Rain to See Famous Visitor.

Rome, April 4.—King Victor Emmanuel received Mr. Roosevelt at the Quirinal today. The occasion afforded opportunity for another exhibition of the admiration of the public for the former president and the popular interest in his every movement.

The hour of his reception being known, a considerable number of persons gathered to greet him on his way from the hotel to the royal palace.

As he was alighting from his carriage at the Quirinal the cuirassirs forming the bodyguard of the king gave him a military salute.

A footman in blue velvet knickerbockers and red coat covered with golden lace preceded Mr. Roosevelt to the antechamber of his majesty, where he was received by Rear Admiral Garelli, aide on duty, Count Tozzoni and Duke Cito, masters of ceremonies.

Met With Outstretched Arms.

Immediately afterward the distinguished guest was escorted to the door of the king's apartment, which when thrown open revealed his majesty standing with arms outstretched and with a smile upon his lips. His majesty wore the uniform of a general of the Italian army. His words of welcome, spoken in excellent English, were cordial. King Victor and Mr. Roosevelt shook hands heartily, the monarch inviting the former president to sit at his side. The door of the apartment was then closed and the two remained in private conversation for about three-quarters of an hour.

Mr. Roosevelt, it is said, expressed the pleasure that he felt in again meeting his majesty following the short interview which they had a year ago at Messina on board the battleship Reumberto.

The king, it is learned, said he had been waiting with great interest the

EXPLANATION BY IRELAND

Archbishop Makes Statement on the Incident at Rome.

Talks on Necessity of Caution on Part of the Pope.

St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.) — Archbishop Ireland, after reading the report from Rome concerning the Roosevelt-Vatican incident, made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"Before passing judgment on the Roosevelt incident in Rome, one should be thoroughly conversant with all attending circumstances; more so, indeed, then the quickly gotten up dispatches appearing in the morning papers seemingly permit. Of one thing I am certain—the Methodist propaganda in Rome is so vile, so calumnious in its assaults upon the Catholic faith, that the Holy Father, the supreme guardian of the faith, is compelled by the vital principals of his high office to avoid, at all costs, the slightest movement on his part that might, directly or indirectly, be interpreted as abetting the propaganda, or approving, even by implication, its purposes and tactics.

Methodists in Rome.

"Since the Fairbanks incident I have received from Rome most reliable data, that more than justify any statement I have heretofore made, or may at any time be prepared to make, with regard to the Methodist propaganda. Indeed, the Methodist minister in Rome, Rev. Mr. Tippie, in his address the Sunday after the Fairbanks incident, is an all-sufficient indication of its rancorous spirit and of the egregious calumnies to which it resorts.

"It is as clear as noonday to those who know the facts in the Methodist Roman propaganda that any man, however otherwise worthy and illustrious, giving, or likely to give, public recognition of any kind to its work, even to its existence, could not be received by the holy father.

May Have Had Reasons.

WEST END

HOUSE FALLS DURING NIGHT

Nobody Injured When Residence Slips From Its Foundation.

While the occupants were asleep last night, the residence of William Kieserling at 405 North Twenty-fourth avenue west, slipped from its foundation and toppled over against the rear end of the store of A. Koneczny, 2405 West Fourth street. The structure dropped about two feet, but none of a family of six was injured.

The early spring this year is perhaps responsible for the accident. The supporting posts which comprise a foundation settled on one side. This was due to the frost leaving the ground early and the owners of the house not having attended to fixing up the posts. The accident happened about 12:10 this morning.

In falling, the house struck the rear end of the Koneczny house, which adjoins the store. The neighbors were awakened by the crash. Mr. Koneczny dressed hurriedly and went to the assistance of his neighbors. Although somewhat excited over the incident, the Kieserling family went back to bed again in the fallen dwelling.

ARCHBISHOP ON WAY TO ROME

Archbishop Dontenwill, superior general of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, an order of Catholic priests, left yesterday after a visit at the St. Jean Baptiste parish at the West end, which is a memebr of the order.

The archbishop is on his way to Rome. He has just closed up affairs of his episcopate at Vancouver, B. C., where he has been bishop for the past ten years. The office now requires that he take up his residence in the papal city.

Wallace Not Reappointed.

William J. Wallace, who has been health inspector during the administration just past, learned today that he was not reappointed to the office. In the new list of inspectors appointed by Health Commissioner Webster which is issued today, there are three men assigned to the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards at the West end. Mr. Wallace formerly had charge of the contagious work at the West end.

Friends Surprise Her.

In honor of her birthday anniversary, friends of Miss Hazel Young surprised her Saturday evening at her home, 2824 West Second street. The evening was spent in music and games. The guests were: Misses Hazel Moir, Mayme Nelson, Meta Anderson, Badie Dellburn, Eetta Peterson, Jessie French, Elida Jenson, Mina Barnard, Mabel Selger, Ruth Strenberg, Helen Ash, Ellnora Anderson and Messrs. Alger Strivel, Herbert Cavanaugh, Harold Method, Wallace Anderson, Frank McKinzie, Roy McKinzie, Al Mitchell, Harry Hayden, Fred Dellburn, Robert Gestard, Chauncey Larson and John Young.

Johnson Funeral Held.

The funeral of Mrs. Christiana Johnson, 79 years old, who died Friday afternoon at her residence, 1825½ West Second street, from apoplexy, was held this afternoon from the residence. Burial was made at Lutheran cemetery. Mrs. Johnson is survived only by her husband, August Johnson. She had been a resident of the West end for twenty-eight years.

West End Shortrails.

Mrs. A. C. Farrar of 318 North Nineteenth avenue west has left for St. Paul, en route to Wyoming, where she will visit for a few weeks.

A meeting of the Young People's Guild of the St. Luke's Episcopal church will be held this evening in the church parlors, Nineteenth avenue west and First street.

Miss Ogot Christianson of 2318 West Tenth street will entertain the Epworth League Sewing Circle of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church at her home tomorrow evening.

The Ladies' Guild of the St. Luke's Episcopal church will hold a special meeting tomorrow afternoon at rectory, 113 North Twenty-eighth avenue west.

The N. N. N., an auxiliary to the North Star lodge, I. O. G. T. gave an entertainment Saturday evening at Sloan's hall. The proceeds will go toward the building fund.

A spark from a cigar exploded a small can of gasoline yesterday afternoon at A. Swedberg's drug store, 2015 West Superior street. The fire was put out and little damage was done.

Miss Alice Jordan of Twenty-third avenue west has left for the Twin Cities on a short visit with friends.

Arthur Halverson of Cloquet was a visitor at the West end, Saturday.

Lawrence Staples is visiting with friends in St. Paul for a few days.

Well Digger Killed.

Forman, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wesley Hillard, a well digger, was almost instantly killed by a falling derrick near Cayuga. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Is the Republican party of Minnesota going to ditch its chairman, A. D. Brown?

It begins to look as if that might be done. Brown was chosen for the chairmanship by J. F. Jacobson. They are fellow townsmen of Madison and have been intimately associated in the politics of Lac qui Parle county and the Seventh congressional district for many years. For a number of terms Mr. Brown was sheriff of that county, and for a long period his hand was felt at the helm of the party thereabouts. As manager of Jacobson's campaign he put up a hard fight against heavy odds, and his friends many times since then have said that it certainly was Jacobson who was defeated and not Brown. Which probably is their gentle way of saying that Jacobson beat himself.

One tentative slate has been exposed to the light. Exposed is the word. This slate proposes Ed Smith for state chairman and Dar Reese of St. Paul for secretary, with Curtis L. Mosher of St. Paul at the head of the press bureau. Smith, boss of the senate, spells "railroads." Reese, for years leader of the machine Republicans of St. Paul, is a member of the law firm which represents the Minnesota Brewers' association. Mosher is secretary of the non-partisan Minnesota Federation of Commercial clubs, in which capacity he has been closely associated with the editors of the state, simply as agent of the association. How's that for a trio?

Chairman Brown's position is peculiar. For months he has been engaged diligently in lining up the Republican organization throughout the state, on his own initiative, and it is said that he has gone farther and done more in this line than any other Republican chairman prior to the holding of a state convention in the past. His friends declare that he is entitled to recognition and reward, and this recognition and reward must take the form of his re-election as state chairman or they will find means to show their displeasure, it is said.

Rathbock-Wrock, the governor's private secretary, would like to be at the head of the committee, but the general opinion is that he will not realize that ambition. Wheelock is one of the most genial and pleasant gentlemen one can meet in the statehouse, but politicians, for some reason, seem to have not the slightest expectation that he will be chosen for the chairmanship.

James A. Martin, who was secretary of the committee during the last campaign, has been mentioned for the chairmanship, but he is out of it. Martin has severed his connection with Walter Lemon, chairman of the Ramsey county Republican committee, in the practice of law, and is determined to keep out of politics, he says.

Reverting to Mr. Mosher, that gentleman is ambitious to become state immigration commissioner, and if he lands the campaign press bureau job it may be that he will take it only as a possible stepping stone to the more permanent place.

More and more insistent grows the demand of the press of Northern Minnesota that the man who is nominated for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket must be one who is thoroughly in accord with the desires of this part of the state. The Roseau Region urges the leaders to unite upon some man who hails from the North, declaring that the sympathy with the needs of Northern Minnesota expressed by candidates from the southern part of the state is not enough. The Northern Minnesota Development association must go into practical politics, the Region says, "to the extent of interesting itself in the choice of a candidate for lieutenant governor, and later use its influence in the selection of a speaker who will pledge himself to organize the house with the object of reapportionment in view."

The Hallock News does not hold to this view, however, and proposes W. L. Dwinnell of Hennepin county for the place, declaring that he was defeated for the nomination at the Duluth convention because he was not the type of man the politicians wanted in the chair. The News says Mr. Dwinnell is a man of more than ordinary ability, has had legislative experience, and has a record, personal and political, that is without flaw. Sam Y. Gordon of Traverse county is described by the News as the least objectionable of the candidates who are in the field. Brown's Valley, Mr. Gordon's home, where he publishes the Inter-Lake Tribune, is situated near the middle of the western state line.

On the range it has been suggested that it would be advisable for the editors to get together and reach some agreement on political questions of interest to the range people. If this proposal comes to anything, it is probable that the question of the lieutenant governorship will be the subject of earnest discussion.

W. A. Nolan of Grand Meadow has made formal announcement of the fact that he wants the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

There will be a large and representative gathering of prominent Democrats at the Lenox hotel tomorrow night on the occasion of the farewell banquet to be given W. E. McEwen, state commissioner of labor, on the eve of his departure for Europe as a member of the commission created by the last legislature to investigate conditions having a bearing on the problems of employers' liability legislation. The popularity of "Bill" McEwen in his native city is such that the gathering is certain to be an enthusiastic love-feast, and it is to be expected that not only Democratic but Republican friends of the prospective traveler abroad will be there "with bells on."

Hereafter the West Duluth Republican club will be free to indorse candidates prior to the holding of primary elections, as a result of Saturday night's meeting of the organization, when the by-laws prohibiting such a course was eliminated. Alderman L. A. Barnes was the leading advocate of the change. L. A. Barnes, A. Sulcove, J. O. Winton, A. J. Meldahl and C. E. Johnson were elected to membership in the central organization of Duluth Republicans as representatives of the Eighth ward. T. F. Gillman represents the Fourth precinct and F. W. Jolitz the Fifth precinct of the Seventh ward. The meeting had a large attendance.

A. W. Thompson of Preston who is on the warpath for State Auditor's Iverson's scalp is doing some extensive missionary work in his own behalf among the editors of state papers. This work is in the nature of solicitation of support by letter and the general feeling of the editors seem to be that they would prefer not to come out into the open at this time on this question many of them apparently being hopeful that favorite sons of their own districts may appear later as contenders. Of course, Fillmore county is the locale of the crisis in this fight and until the county convention is held there and it is known whether Mr. Iverson will win or lose his home delegation, little can be known or guessed as to the outcome of the contest.

Charles H. Warner of Aitkin is being mentioned as a probable candidate for the legislature in the Fifty-second district. Mr. Warner, who is in the farm land and loan business, is one of the best known men in Aitkin county.

The Todd County Argus sees in the removal of C. C. Eastman from the postmastership of Wadena "the final clean-up in postoffice changes which former Congressman Buckman commenced some four years ago." Buckman is credited with having brought about the removal of all the postmasters who refused to support him in his fight for re-election to congress, and the insurgency of Lindbergh having deprived that patriotic legislator of the power of dispensing or controlling patronage with any freedom, Eastman's head rolls into the basket when the department officials were persuaded that he was unable to devote sufficient time to the postoffice work. Mr. Eastman held on longer than any of the other postmasters on Buckman's list of undesirables.

Al H. Jester of Remidji who is a candidate for senator, has issued to the voters of the Sixty-first district a statement in which he sets forth his belief that reapportionment is the paramount issue and its realization is necessary for "the development of Northern Minnesota. Good roads and bridges are declared to be needed before successful colonization enterprises can be carried on, and he urges a general property one-mill tax for a good roads fund, also a one-mill tax on state lands for the purpose of building highways. Home investment of state funds, rural agricultural high schools, advertisement of Northern Minnesota opportunities among homeseekers and better forest fire protection are among his platform planks.

A Washington dispatch says that Elmer E. Adams of Fergus Falls, who was a member of the last legislature, has been at the capital in conference with members of the Republican delegation from Minnesota on the subject of the advisability of coming out flat-footed for county option as a party, when the state convention is held. According to the dispatch, Adams found the Minnesotans inclined to listen with favor to his arguments. He is convinced that the Republicans must adopt a strong county option plank if they hope to win next fall.

Daniel W. Lawler, mayor of St. Paul, has returned to that city after spending two months in the South and East, and Saturday evening he was the principal speaker at a meeting which opened the Democratic municipal campaign. His speech was a characteristic and fiery one, in which he featured the reluctance of St. Paul Republican newspapers to tell the truth. It is significant that when he spoke of John Lind as the next governor of Minnesota he "brought down the house."

Avoid Harsh Drugs

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and some times more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak delicate, persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store.—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

"Correct Dress for Women."

IT IS EASY to make "claims" for Wearables—and all garments are the "best garments made"—in advertisements! But all the advertising in the world cannot convince women that a certain class of garments are "right," if they are not right. We spend a good deal of money advertising Gidding Wear, but that is not the reason you should wear Gidding Garments. The reason lies in the Garments themselves.

It is the "Little Things" that make perfection in garments—and many small details are looked after in the Gidding Garment, that are totally overlooked in other garments—That is what has built up this splendid garment business, for we have taken pains to succeed! We work with the Designers of our garments, and keep an "eagle eye" upon the fashioning and the finishing of all the Gidding wear—That is the reason we can stand by it from the time it enters the store until it has done duty; and the influence of its services bring the woman back for a second Gidding Garment.

For Tailored-Wear Occasions

Women are coming more and more to appreciate the trim silhouette, and the crisp stylishness of the simple tailor made—and in no class of garment is the perfection of "line" and "detail" so necessary as in the strikingly plain tailored suit. This is the class of garments that we are strong on—it is the class that shows the hand-work and head-work which has been spent upon them.

You will not find such extensive selections elsewhere—the carefully graded sizes—the variety of materials—the distinctive styles and the careful finishing are the advantages of this Specialized Garment Business—Strictly Smart and well Tailored Suits at $29.50, $32.50, $35.00, $39.50, $45.00 and up to $115.00.

Tailored Coats

Fetching Models in Semi-tight and "Belted" styles; many with sailor collar and long rolled revers. The characteristic "Gidding" "style," "fit" and "finish" stands out prominently upon every coat, and it's studied proportioning distinguishes it from the less carefully made styles usually found. Prices $15.00, $19.50, $25.00, $29.50 to $50.00.

In the Dress Section.

The well assorted collection of Trim Walking Dresses, semi-dressy Foulards and Silks, and beautiful Evening Gowns tells an interesting and varied story of rare good taste, smart style, and charming simplicity—Such dresses could never be made without the individual attention of clever designers who know "Styles" from "A to Z."

The strictly tailored Tropical Worsteds or other Tailor-cloths often have no trace of fancy "cut" or "trim" to mar the simple elegance of their Tailored charm. Charming Foulards and Soft Silks, which strike a "happy medium" between the tailored walking Dress and dainty evening Gown, just "fill the bill" for a hundred "in between" uses—The new over-skirted and chiffon-draped Dresses of this class are wonderfully smart—Then the billowy evening Dresses are "dreams" of floating chiffon and other filmy materials, in dainty pastel tints.

Dress Prices Range from $19.50 to $100.00.

Introducing New Spring Line

Dining Tables

With a Sale at Low Prices

IT IS DELIGHTFUL to be able to use the expression "New spring line" applied to furniture, in view of the fact that so many furniture houses carry stocks largely composed of "come-backs" and "used" goods, and things that have stuck around for a number of years. Forward's stock is new—all new—and selected from the newest and best productions of leading makers. We show no less than seventy-one different and distinct styles of dining tables in oak and mahogany, in all the popular finishes.

And here is a sale of new tables that can't fail to interest you if you have in mind getting one some time in the near future. Come and look anyway.

Regular Value $12 to $13.50 — Special $7.45

OUR NO. 614½ OAK DINING TABLE has 42-inch round top, extends 6 feet, square pillar pedestal with claw feet. Comes golden oak finish and is a great table for a little money. Chairs, Buffets and China Cabinets to match.

Regular Value $18 to $20 — Special $12.65

OUR NO. 748½ OAK DINING TABLE has fine 42-inch quarter sawed top, 6-foot extension, round pillar and claw feet; our regular price is $20.00, which is at least $2.00 cheaper than this quality table usually sells for. On sale at $12.65.

Regular Value $21 to $24 — Special $14.50

OUR NO. 827 DINING TABLE—Solid quarter sawed oak, 45-inch top and 6-foot extension, a massive design with heavy pillar and claw feet; this style seems destined to become our most popular number at the price. An excellent bargain at $14.50.

Regular Value $30 to $35 — Special $16.95

OUR NO. 46 DINING TABLE comes in three different finishes—golden oak, wax oak and Early English oak—all fine quarter sawed stock, massive design with heavy claw feet. They are 48-inch top and the 6-foot size sells at $16.95. For 8-foot size add $2.00.

All Finer Tables Specialized!

Old English — Flanders

At this sale of Dining Tables we offer Special Inducements on the finer sorts—those at $36.50, $40.00, $48.00, $77.00, $84.00 and upwards to $145.00. These last numbers include some of the finest designs in Old English and Flanders ever brought to the Northwest.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

"I hope," said a Duluth woman today "that the board of education will never act upon the suggestion that the ministers who appeared before them recently offered, that dancing be barred from the halls of the public schools. Instead of restricting the privilege I would install an instructor in gymnastic dancing and have the school houses open two, three or four times a week when children might get the pleasurable exercise with the swinging rhythm of music under the eye of sympathetic chaperones.

"Duluth is now wasting too much of her school equipment as it is, and I hope that some, if not all of the members of the school board, will oppose cutting off one single feature of its usefulness at the present time. The great equipment which the city has at the present time, is closed except for a few hours a day, instead of being the social center of the neighborhood when not only the children but their parents and older brothers and sisters, might have the pleasures of the buildings and the profits that may result.

"To extend the 'beau' period a few years later I think would be a good thing, but the fact remains that many mothers are kept too busy too many hours of the day to provide wholesome occupation and pleasure for their young people. The time is gone by when we can justly close many avenues of pleasure to young people and expect them to sit bottled up and inactive because some other way danger lies. The dance hall is a most pernicious influence. No one will deny it. Duluth is as yet not bothered with it, but if decent places for dancing and recreation are not provided, certain it is that the other kind will prevail. We have many differences of opinion about whether we look with approval on dancing or not, but most of the world will agree that under proper chaperonage, in a clean atmosphere, that dancing is an exercise that gives great pleasure and many of us are sure that it it not at all wrong. To give that pleasure decently to the greatest possible number should be our aim. If I could I would not only open the schools for the purpose, but I should place in charge a good instructor in gymnastic and folk dancing and have the classes free to all the youngsters of the neighborhood.

"I do hope that the Duluth board of education will never close the schools to any possible pleasure for the people of the city, but rather that they may be opened more and more for the needs of the young Duluthians."

"In view of this discussion which seems now to have Duluth within its grasp, almost every one, valiantly and sincerely taking one side or the other, the lecture to be given here this week by Dr. Luther H. Gulick will be of particular interest. Dr. Gulick has achieved results in his educational work with children that no one will question the value of, and he believes in dancing as a form of recreation and development and has introduced folk dancing into the physical training of schools in which he is in charge. I hope every member of the school board and every one of the protesting ministers, and every parent vitally concerned in Duluth will hear what this man of authority has to say.

"But Duluth must not close its school doors to any good and shutting out the children from wholesome amusement within them will be doing that. It must not be."

LAST PROGRAM

Is Presented Before Members of Matinee Musicale.

The last meeting of the season of the Matinee Musicale was held this afternoon at the assembly room of the Y. W. C. A. Dr. David Henry Day has reviewed the program as follows:

"The Matinee Musicale program this afternoon was a real treat to musiclovers. I have seldom listened to a program that was more satisfying in a musical way, both as to the selections themselves and their interpretation by the performers.

"The music of Finland is too little known. It is intensely national in character; it has a personality of its own, if one may so call it, and withal it is very beautiful. Some one has said that an artist reaches greatness only through his own suffering and sorrow, but that a composer reaches greatness only through the sorrows of his country. It seems to me that the national spirit is reflected in all of these songs, not only of Merikanto, but of all the Finnish composers. They all have the sad, melancholy undertone so characteristic of the music of an oppressed nation.

"In John Koskelo, the Finnish tenor, the program committee has certainly made a wonderful find. The man is an artist in every sense of the word, and his singing is a joy and a delight to listen to.

He sings everything well, from the simple Finnish folksongs of his native country to the gigantic vocal achievements of Wagner. His shading in the Beethoven number was exquisite, his tone is big and round and wonderfully sympathetic, and his method particularly good. I have heard him many times in private, and I am always more impressed with his artistic temperament and wonderful method each time I hear him, and I sincerely hope that the public of Duluth will get an opportunity to hear him in concert some time in the near future.

"Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury deserve the utmost credit for their working out of the beautiful, but bewildering intricate Strauss sonata for violin and piano. I only hope that the audience realized what an immense amount of hard, careful work it means to be able to give such a finished and intelligent interpretation to a work of this magnitude. It was a labor of love with them, however, and it showed in their rendition of the sonata.

"Mrs. C. P. Craig received a royal welcome after her long musical silence, at least as far as the Matinee Musical is concerned, and her songs were beautifully interpreted, particularly the Dvorak selection, which I think she sings just about right.

"The accompaniments were in capable hands, of course, as they always are with the Matinee Musical members to draw upon."

After the regular program the annual business meeting was held and the following officers were elected for the year:

President, Miss Carlotta Simonds; vice president, Mrs. John A. Stephenson; recording secretary, Miss Florence Hyland; corresponding secretary, Miss Isabel Pearson; treasurer, Miss Berenice Crowley; librarian, Mrs. Ernest Lachmund.

MISS VAN STUDDIFORD AND HER OWN COMPANY ARRIVE IN DULUTH

"— — — —Do!"

Said Miss Van Studdiford.

"When I wake up in the morning, when I find they're there all right I try two notes, just like that and then forget all about them until I need to use them to earn my living and then just as sure as those two are there in the morning all the rest are there in the evening."

"What," said the interviewer, "oh, what would you do if some morning you awakened and tried to do that and they weren't there?"

"What a horrid idea," said Miss Van Studdiford. "Well I just bet I'd get the hotel folks busy. It's all very well to steal a prima donna's diamonds and that sort of thing, but taking your two morning notes! Well!" said Miss Van Studdiford. And then just to show she could, she did it again. Just like this:

"Do!"

"— — — —Do!"

"I never practice," said Miss Van Studdiford. "It isn't necessary when one sings every night. I keep still for the rest of the day. Comic opera is hard on the voice. Most of the grand opera roles are so beautifully written that one can sing them almost without effort, provided of course, one has the voice to sing with. And when one is not singing one is standing looking at some one else singing or resting in the wings. In comic opera the start is on the stage most of the time. When she is not singing she is walking about, or dancing, or fencing, or talking, or laughing. It is the talking and laughing that tire the voice and waste valuable breath. The music may not be as exacting as in grand opera, but all things considered, I think comic opera is more difficult than grand opera."

Miss Van Studdiford and Mary Garden studied together in Chicago as pupils of Mrs. Duff. Miss Garden is singing with the Manhattan forces. Miss Van Studdiford is at the head of her own company, "The Golden Butterfly" and flirting with the idea of grand opera. She travels in luxurious ease with her sister, Mary, and brother Charley. Mary can sing the title role if she has to, and brother Charley gets confidential with the hotel clerk and says:

"Now isn't it possible to get a little better room for Miss Van Studdiford? She didn't sleep a wink, last night, not a single wink," says Brother Charley. And he straightens out little matters like that.

Miss Van Studdiford will sing "The Golden Butterfly" three times at the Lyceum.

ROOSEVELT CAUSES SENSATION IN ROME

"Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic college, in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be transmitted to you:

"'The holy father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much-regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible.'"

Replying by cable to Ambassador Leishman on March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Please present the following to Mgr. Kennedy, which concluded by saying:

"'It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the holy father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not receive whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. On the other hand, I in my turn must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 he will find it convenient to receive me.'"

Ultimatum Reply.

On March 28, Mr. Roosevelt at Cairo received a cablegram from Ambassador Leishman giving a message from Mgr. Kennedy, which concluded by saying:

"The audience cannot take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message."

The following day Mr. Roosevelt sent another message to the ambassador, saying:

"The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt particularly desired that the incident shall be regarded by his friends in America, both Catholic and Protestant, as personal, and that it shall not give rise to an acrimonious controversy. With this end in view, he cabled today the following statement to Rev. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, at New York:

"Through the Outlook I wish to make a statement to my fellow Americans regarding what has taken place in connection with the Vatican. I am sure that the great majority of my fellow citizens, Catholics as much as Protestants will feel that I acted in the only way possible for an American to act, and because of this fact, I most earnestly hope that the incident will be treated in a matter-of-fact way and merely personal, and, above all, as not warranting the slightest exhibition of bitterness.

Many Catholic Friends.

"Among my best and closest friends are many Catholics. The respect and regard of those of my fellow Americans who are Catholics are as dear to me as the respect and regard of those who are Protestants. On my journey through Africa, I visited many Catholic as well as many Protestant missions. As I look forward to telling the people at home all that has been done by Protestants and Catholics alike, as I saw it, in the field of missionary endeavor, it would cause me a real pang to have anything said or done that would hurt or give pain to my friends, whatever their religious beliefs.

"But my merely personal considerations are of no consequence in this matter. The important consideration is the avoidance of harsh and bitter comment, such as excite mistrust and anger between and among good men.

"The more one sees other countries the more profound his gratitude that in his own land there is complete toleration and the heartiest good will between men of different faiths—good will and sympathy so complete that in the innumerable daily relations of our life, Catholics and Protestants meet together and work without thought of the difference of creed being even present in their minds.

Wants No Bitterness.

"This is a condition so vital to our national well-being that nothing should be permitted to jeopardize it. Bitter comment and criticism, acrimonious attack and defense, are not only profitless, but harmful; and to seize upon such an incident as this as an occasion for controversy would be wholly indefensible, and should be frowned upon by Catholics and Protestants alike, and all good Americans."

The failure to arrange an audience between Col. Roosevelt and the pope, which was known only in certain circles Sunday, was expected to create a stir here, as well as abroad, far overshadowing the importance of the incident in which Former Vice President Fairbanks was a principal. Although the negotiations technically were between Ambassador Leishman and Mgr. Kennedy it is well understood in Rome that Mgr. Kennedy was acting under the instructions of Cardinal Merry Del Val. The telegrams, therefore were in reality between Former President Roosevelt and the papal secretary of state.

Suprised at Publicity.

When the correspondent called at the Vatican last evening, surprise was expressed when it was learned that Mr. Roosevelt had given out the text of the messages exchanged by Mgr. Kennedy and the American ambassador, as they were regarded by the Vatican in the light of diplomatic documents.

Mgr. Kennedy explained that on March 21, John W. Garrett, first secretary of the embassy, called upon him to "transmit" Mr. Roosevelt's request for an audience with the Pope on April 5. He said that Mr. Garrett insisted upon the word "transmit." Mgr. Kennedy informed the secretary that he would immediately present the request to the proper Vatican authorities and promised response as soon as possible.

"The following day," Mgr. Kennedy said, "I was authorized to send Mr. Roosevelt the first message, which is quoted in his statement. The reference to the Fairbanks incident in the message was intended by the Vatican only as a friendly intimation. I notice that my second message is not fully given. It ran thus:

"'His Holiness will be much pleased to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt, for whom he entertains great esteem, both personally and as president of the United States. His Holiness recognizes Mr. Roosevelt's entire right to freedom of conduct. On the other hand, in view of the circumstances for which neither His Holiness nor Mr. Roosevelt is responsible, an audience could not take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message.'

"After this no further communication reached me from Mr. Roosevelt."

Intercession By O'Loughlin.

It further appears that it was John Callahan O'Loughlin, who was assistant secretary of state in 1909 and a great friend of Mr. Roosevelt, who attempted to intercede with Cardinal Merry Del Val. The following semi-official version of what transpired has been furnished to the Associated Press by a Vatican authority:

Cardinal Merry Del Val said to Mr. O'Loughlin, "Can you guarantee that Mr. Roosevelt will not visit the Methodists here?"

Mr. O'Loughlin replied, "I cannot. Indeed, I believe that Mr. Roosevelt is just the man to go there. He will do as he pleases."

"It is indefensible," the secretary said, "for any person to be asked to be received by a great personage whose feelings he would be unwilling to respect."

In the course of further conversation, the cardinal declared that no court in Europe granted unrestricted audiences.

"Mr. Roosevelt himself," the cardinal said, "when he was president, declined to receive persons unconditionally at the White House."

Says Roosevelt Did It.

Without giving the name of the person, the cardinal recalled a case where President Roosevelt, having been erroneously informed that a certain person was visiting him by the authority of the Vatican, immediately sent a cabinet officer to the apostolic delegate at Washington to inform him that he could not receive this personage, but he meant no discourtesy to the pope by his refusal. The pope when informed of this replied:

"I esteem President Roosevelt more than ever."

Returning to the present incident, Cardinal Merry Del Val remarked:

"It is not in any sense a question of religion. Mr. Roosevelt might have gone to an Episcopalian, a Presbyterian or any other church, except the Methodist, and delivered an address there, and he would have been received by the pope even on the same day. But he could not be received when it was suspected that after the audience he intended to go to the Methodist church of Rome, which is carrying on a most offensive campaign of calumny and detraction against the pontiff."

Might "Claim Privilege."

The papal secretary even recognized Mr. Roosevelt's right to claim the privilege of visiting the Methodists the day after the audience on condition that he, Merry Del Val, had received private assurances that he would not actually do so.

The Vatican emphasizes the statement that it did not receive from the American embassy any notification of Mr. Roosevelt's message that an audience had become impossible.

After being apprized of the contents of the Vatican's statement, it was explained on Mr. Roosevelt's behalf that his final message, had not been communicated to the Vatican because Mgr. Kennedy's second telegram was the end of the matter so far as he was concerned, but that he wished to keep the door open, not for his own sake, but for the sake of the Catholic church in America.

When Mr. O'Loughlin came to Rome it was with the distinct understanding that he did not do so in Mr. Roosevelt's behalf, but in behalf of his co-religionists in America, and that he did not carry any authorization to subtract from or add a word to Mr. Roosevelt's position as defined by his telegram for Mgr. Kennedy.

Statements by Publishers.

New York, April 4.—"The Outlook is authorized to say Mr. Roosevelt had not directly or indirectly communicated with the Methodists or anyone else, and had not made any agreement to speak or to receive anybody. He entered Rome with no arrangements of any kind, save the audience with the king, so that the Vatican in endeavoring to impose conditions upon him acted before he even thought of taking steps for any other engagements."

The foregoing statement was given out in New York by the publishers of the Outlook.

Greer Calls It "Ill Advised."

New York, April 4.—Bishop David H. Greer of the Episcopal diocese of New York, commenting on Col. Roosevelt's episode at the Vatican, said that the Americans would regard it as a national affront.

"And they will continue to regard it in this light," he added, "no matter how Col. Roosevelt or others attempt to deprecate the incident."

The Vatican's attitude he characterized as ill advised.

Confidence In Roosevelt.

Washington, April 4.—"I know he must be in the right," was the comment made by Rev. Dr. J. H. Schick when informed that Former President Roosevelt had cancelled his meeting with the pope. Rev. Schick of the Grace Reformed church here, was Mr. Roosevelt's pastor during the entire period of the latter's administration. Dr. Schick did not desire to comment at length on the matter.

"No Particular Significance."

St. Louis, Mo., April 4.—Archbishop John J. Glenn made the following statement relative to Roosevelt's refusal to be received by the pope.

"The incident, as I understand it, has no particular significance. Mr. Roosevelt says he has the highest regard for the pontiff. The pontiff, as I know, has the highest regard for Mr. Roosevelt, but the pontiff has certain established conditions in regard to the reception of distinguished visitors. These Mr. Roosevelt refused to accept, so there will be no audience and there is no harm done.

"Mr. Leishman is ambassador to the king of Italy. He has no relation with the Vatican or the holy see. The distinguished visitor who would desire to see the holy father is always expected to disassociate himself from the quirinal (that is, the king's side), at least while his audience with the holy father lasts, and while he is going and coming therefrom."

Methodists Send Message.

Binghampton, N. Y., April 4.—Ex-President Roosevelt's action in declining to meet the pope under any restrictions received the approval this morning of the annual session of the Wyoming conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, when the following cablegram was sent to Col. Roosevelt in pursuance of a resolution introduced by Rev. J. H. Race, president of Chattanooga university:

"Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Rome, Italy: Wyoming conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session at Binghampton, N. Y., April 4, 1910, heartily indorses the courteous, courageous and eminently American spirit manifested toward the Vatican, as published in the Associated Press of this date, thus associating the names of 'Roosevelt and Fairbanks,' as splendid samples of American courtesy, magnanimity and patriotism.

"JOSEPH F. BERRY,
"Bishop Presiding.
"HUGH C. McDERMOTT,
"Secretary."

Farley Has Nothing to Say.

New York, April 4.—Archbishop Farley received no visitors this morning and sent word that he had no statement to make regarding the cancellation of the visit of Col. Roosevelt with Pope Pius X. A copy of the Roosevelt correspondence was delivered to the secretary of Archbishop Farley last night.

NEWS AGENT ACCUSED OF ROBBING BODIES.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, April 4.—C. H. Feling, news agent on train between this city and St. Paul, has been arrested charged with robbing bodies of victims of the Rock Island train wrecked at Green Mountain, Iowa, ten days ago. He is accused of stealing jewelry and money.

return of the ex-president, as he had desired to hear from his own lips the report of his African adventures, which his majesty had followed as closely as possible.

Told Hunting Yarns.

Mr. Roosevelt gave a brief account of his shooting experiences and later expressions of friendship on behalf of their respective countries were exchanged, the Italian sovereign reiterating his admiration for America.

Following the audience Mr. Roosevelt said that the king had been so gracious and flattering both to him personally and to his country that he felt that he should not make public anything concerning their conversation.

The formalities of the reception concluded, King Victor personally conducted Mr. Roosevelt to the hall of the palace, where the American inspected the hunting trophies of the king's father and grandfather.

When the time came to say goodbye his majesty invited Mr. Roosevelt to drive with him tomorrow morning. The sovereign explained that though they would dine together at the court tonight, he desired to see and talk with his guest further alone.

Saluted by Veterans.

From the Quirinal Mr. Roosevelt drove to the Pantheon. Beyond the charm of its ancient memories, this spot is sacred, as it contains the tombs of Raphael, King Victor Emmanuel II, the "Father of His Country," and King Humbert.

At the entrance to the temple Mr. Roosevelt was saluted by the veterans of the wars of Italian independence who for thirty-two years have guarded night and day the tomb of their chief. The guest shook hands with each of the veterans, congratulating them on the honorable duty in which they were engaged and saying that he had wished not to leave Rome without paying a tribute of respect to the memory of the founder of United Italy. He brought two wreaths, which were placed upon the tombs of Victor Emmanuel II and Humbert.

Mr. Roosevelt was received formally by Dr. C. Ricci, director-general of the department of fine arts, who represented the ministry of instruction. Others present were Mgr. Beccaria, royal chaplain of the Pantheon; Commander Andrew T. Long, American naval attache; Prof. Jesse Carter, director of the American School of Classical Studies at Rome, and several other Americans.

Crowd Waited in the Rain.

Rain was falling at the time, but outside the Pantheon a large crowd had gathered, and as Mr. Roosevelt left the place he was cheered.

A pleasing incident at the Pantheon was a chance meeting between Mr. Roosevelt and the Queen Dowager Margarita, who detained the former president in conversation for some moments.

Although measures had been taken by the police to prevent a large gathering inside the railroad station at the time of the arrival of the Roosevelt party, many Americans and prominent Italians managed to find a way to circumvent these precautions, and the depot was filled when the former president made his appearance at the dock.

Col. Roosevelt was greeted by Mayor Nathan and Signor Bollati, director-general of the Italian foreign office, ambassador Leishman and the other members of the American embassy.

Honored Like Royal Guest.

A detachment of caribineers and a large force of police made a pathway from the train to the royal waiting room, the king having ordered that the former president should be given the same honors as the members of royal families when they visit the Italian capital.

Col. Roosevelt smilingly responded to the warm greeting with which he was received on all sides, and he shook hands with many of those about him. The streets to the hotel were lined with spectators, and Col. Roosevelt and his family were cheered as they proceeded in carriages.

Program at Brussels.

Brussels, April 4.—Tentative plans for the entertainment of Mr. Roosevelt in the Belgian capital have been completed. He will be given a dinner at the American legation by Minister Bryan on April 28, and following the dinner Mr. Roosevelt will receive the members of the American colony. On the next morning he will have an interview with M. Renken, minister for the colonies, regarding the situation in the Belgian Congo. On the same day he will have luncheon with King Albert at the palace, and in the afternoon will drive with his majesty to the Laeken palace. In the evening he will be entertained at dinner by Foreign Minister Davignon.

reason to suspect from the movements of the Methodists themselves, or otherwise, that there was peril lest Mr. Roosevelt, even unwittingly, be entangled in their meshes, I am not in a position to say. The cardinal is a wise, judicious statesman, and must have well weighed the whole situation before he acted. His words to the agent of the Associated Press deserve consideration. 'It is not,' he said, 'a question of religion.' Mr. Roosevelt might have gone to an Episcopalian, Presbyterian, or any other church, except the Methodist, and delivered an address there and he could have been received by the pope even on the same day. But he could not be received when it was suspected that after the audience he intended to go to the Methodist church in Rome, which is carrying on a most offensive campaign against the pontiff.

O'Loughlin Did Not Help Things.

'Nor did my friend, Mr. O'Loughlin, help out the situation, when to the cardinal's question—'Can you guarantee that Mr. Roosevelt will not visit the Methodists here?' he replied: 'I cannot. Indeed, I believe that Mr. Roosevelt is just the man to go there. He will do as he pleases.'

"For my part I differ with Mr. O'Loughlin. I believe that, brought face to face with the situation in Rome as created by the Methodist propaganda Mr. Roosevelt would not have addressed the Methodists. He wrote his telegrams in Cairo, away from the seat of war and refused to bind himself to his movements before he was on the ground. But once in Rome face to face with the situation as his quick intuition into things would have soon revealed it he would not have thought of leaving the Vatican to repair to the camp of its virulent foes.

Could Take no Risks.

"That is Mr. Roosevelt as, I think, I know him. At the same time, I comprehend the position from which Cardinal Merry del Val measured his duty. He had to be guided by the situation as it loomed up around him in Rome; by the knowledge he had of local circumstances. He could take no risk; principle was at stake. And so he demanded assurances that, whatever was likely to happen, the honor of the holy see was safeguarded."

been boomed for the benefit of a few to the detriment of the many who could ill afford it. If the council is powerless to act directly in this matter, the state legislature undoubtedly has authority to pass laws regulating them. I want to know where we stand and if we are powerless locally to do anything, the council and others interested in the welfare of the city ought to put it up to the legislature."

Mr. Shartel's idea is to have the council pass a resolution calling upon the city attorney to investigate the legal side of the question. If the aldermen act favorably on the subject, the attorney will advise that body as to whether or not it can proceed. It is doubtful if the council can do anything directly, but he believes that if the ball is started rolling it will result in an investigation which will have very beneficial results.

He says that these companies should be obliged to file complete reports with some public officials. These reports would specify the location of the mine for which stock is being sold, the prospects, the names of the directors, the names of the promoters, and all other information which might throw light on the property or aid the public in determining its value.

"Thousands of dollars have been taken out of the pockets of Duluthians by false representations," continued Alderman Shartel. "Stock has been sold in mines which were absolutely worthless. The people were given certificates which looked fine, but which were not woth the paper they were printed on. Some positive action should be taken without loss of time.

everything will be ready for business with the completion of the building.

What to do with unfortunates who needed lodging, yet had no money, has been a serious question for some years past. The police have used the station for the purpose, but the quarters there are far too small. The main rooms of the Bethel have been used from time to time and in several instances more than fifty men have been asleep there on the floor. Some advocated the idea of turning the old court house into a lodging house of this kind, but the county officials want to tear down the building and they claim also that the heating plant is poor and the building in bad shape to use for any purpose. This idea was given up some time ago.

The Associated Charities this morning also took up the matter of a nurse whose duties it will be to visit the families of the city and teach the people how to live and what to eat. It was decided that this should be done under the direction of the Associated Charities.

The other business consisted of the discussing of special cases and the disposition of them.

ROTTEN BRIDGES ARE A MENACE TO SAFETY OF DULUTH CITIZENS

strengthened. The bridge over Lester river on the Vermilion road is declared to be dangerous.

That over Tischer's creek at Marie street is described as unsafe, but it is suggested that it could be dispensed with by turning the course of the stream. The trusses over the one at Sixty-ninth avenue west and Tacony street are said to be too poor for further service, having been turned once. That at Forty-third avenue east and Lombard street is bad.

Two bridges at Fond du lac and Hallenbeck streets are classified as beyond repair. The inspector recommends that the Howard-Gnesen bridge at Kenwood be rebuilt, and says that another bridge on the same road near Villa Scholastica is hanging in the air, as the embankment is slipping away from under it. The Hermantown road bridge above Oneota cemetery is said to be almost useless, although some repairs have been made on it.

Paint is recommended for the Garfield and Lake avenue viaducts, and small improvements are asked for many other bridges in the city limits. None of the city docks are dangerous, but each of them needs some repairs.

called into play and the general office at St. Paul asked to shed the light of its knowledge upon the problem that the local staff is facing. Until late this afternoon no reply had been received from St. Paul. It is presumed at the local Northern Pacific office that down at the general office they are looking through files, or are making a rate on the rather strange article of transportation.

There is some strange Chinese legend, which says that the soul of a man will not rest easy, unless his body is buried in the land of his nativity. This is very likely the idea behind the desire of the local Chinamen to secure a rate upon the bones of their countrymen who have died in Duluth and the immediate vicinity of this city.

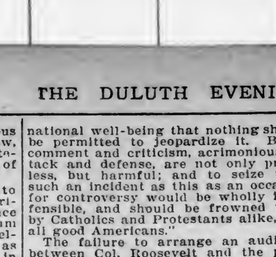

The Northern Pacific officials have asked other railroad freight men here for any possible light on the problem, but as yet they have miserably failed to come to the surface with any information.

From what meager information the Northern Pacific officials have received on the subject they have been led to believe the bones will be packed in boxes and shipped as freight. There is no precedent to figure from, and until the general office determines a through rate on the dead bones of the Chinese, it is very probable the bones will not be disturbed.

BIG PIANO REMOVAL SALE

PULPIT AND PLATFORM

PREACHES TO MILITIA

"The Ambulance Corps" Is Subject of Rev. Emory's Sermon.

Three Duluth Companies Hear Chaplain of Third Regiment.

Capt. W. S. Emory of Amboy, chaplain of the Third regiment, Minnesota National Guard, and as part of his audience in the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening the members of the Duluth companies composing the First battalion of the regiment.

The militiamen occupied front seats in the center of the church and were in dress uniform. Company A was under the command of Capt. Karl A. Franklin, Company C, under Capt. F. D. Knowlton, and E, under Capt. George W. Stiles. Col. F. E. Resche and Major H. V. Ea of the Third regiment also were present.

There was special music and the services were exceptionally impressive. Introduced by Rev. E. C. Clemans, Rev. Emory took as his subject "The Ambulance Corps," in the military service, and "the ambulance corps of humanity" in civil life. After describing the scene at Camp Lakeview when the Third regiment was drawn up for parade, he told of the small group of men in Khaki who stood near an ambulance in the rear of the regiment, and continued:

"It was a warm evening in June, and as I sat my horse I remarked to one of the surgeons by my side, 'that ambulance will come in handy before we are through tonight.'

"Sure enough, one of the line of blue suddenly fell in a heap to the ground. Not a sound was heard from the line; not a soldier moved a muscle, but the stillness was broken by the sudden crack of a whip, and the ambulance corps was started into action. I felt then, and I feel now, that one of the greatest things in all the world is to belong to the ambulance corps—the ambulance corps of humanity.

"In the times past men's desires have been so fixed upon certain sects of the church of God that mankind and humanity have been forgotten. You who sit in the pews tonight have blindly followed your leaders, and I will have to admit that some of us preachers of the gospel have done, and are doing, the same thing.

"The time has come when we are studying the psalm of David, and by studying it we are learning the worth of humanity.

"I am not a Socialist, although I have no desire to bring myself to what is practicable in Socialism. The leaders of Socialism are not agreeing among themselves. I believe tonight that my sociability must be wrong, or all public works are built on private ownership. I will follow no creed or dogma that will eventually lead to the red flag.

"I can readily understand how no monopoly shall have the right to resort to arms, but I cannot understand how our standing army and navy be discharged, our state militias be dismissed and our country still be protected. We need the soldiery to preserve peace against crime. Human nature being what it is, and not what some folks would teach us, the army and navy are necessary.

"You raise your hands toward Heaven and cry to God to show you some sign of His coming. And in stentorian tones a voice replies, 'Man's humanity to man is My sign.'"

THREE SPEAK AT MEN'S MEETING

Cerrit Verkuyl Declares Race Suicide Is Worst Form of Murder.

Cerrit Verkuyl, Ph. D., declared yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. that the practice of race suicide is murder. He declared it is a worse form of murder than the killing of a man by another man, for the man who is killed has at least lived a part of his life. Husbands and wives have not the right to prevent young lives, he declared.

Mr. Verkuyl is in Sunday school educational work in Wisconsin, with headquarters at Appleton. He is a native of Holland and has spent fifteen years in this country.

The men's meeting yesterday afternoon was addressed by three speakers, each being limited to twelve minutes. The general subject was "America's Crying Need." Mr. Verkuyl declared that the crying need of America is acknowledgement of God. He said that if each family would give ten minutes daily to the worship of God, there would be better homes and better people.

Dr. Christopher Humble of Chicago took the stand that the crying need of this country is the supremacy of Jesus Christ. He devoted most of his address to loyalty, urging loyalty to family, to state, to God and to self.

R. F. Sulzer, Sunday school missionary of Minneapolis, declared that America's crying need is men with backbones. There are too many men, he said, who do not stand for anything. The foundation for strength of character should be laid in the boy and when he becomes a man, he will stand for something and not have a backbone of green cheese.

Miss Mary Hobbs, soprano soloist at Trinity pro-cathedral, was the solist at yesterday's meeting.

Cantata Repeated.

At the Lester Park M. E. church last evening, the cantata, "The Cross and Crown," which was given on Easter Sunday was repeated by request. The church was again crowded, although there were seats for everybody. The cast was the same as on Easter, but the members seemed more familiar with their parts, and it consequently was given with much more feeling than on the first night.

STRENGTH IN CALMNESS

Too Much Noise, Blustering and Fretting in This World.

Rev. George R. Gebauer, Says Real Strength Is in Quietness.

Rev. R. Gebauer preached on "Strength in Calmness," at the First Unitarian church, corner First street and Eighth avenue east yesterday. He said in part:

"We generally connect the notion of power with what is brutal and noisy, yet highest power is only found in what is gentle and calm. Whatever discussion runs into heated controversy, we know that there is not any exchange of ideas, but only fighting about personal opinion. Where real strength is, there is no friction, no hot words, no wild gesticulations, no appeal to the deity, no reference to the powers below. In quietness and confidence is truth rather than in blustering argument is strength. He who knows how to control his temper will in the end be victorious. Too many men are like that colored brother in the pulpit, who confessed, that he would always 'holler' if he did not know what to say. There is too much 'hollering,' too much blustering and useless fretting in the world. We all long for that divine serenity, which will walk unharmed through the midst of the shouting crowd. We long for that power which will calm our ruffled feelings and make us men. What good are indeed all our fine thoughts, as long as the stream of uncontrolled emotion runs away with them? How slow are we to learn the lesson, that turbulent feelings do not indicate the strength of truth, but rather morbid self consciousness and unsound sensitiveness.

"Again and again, we hear it said, 'Oh, my feelings do not deceive me.' But after all how often they will mislead you and into what trouble they will bring you and into what unhappiness. The truth will never be found until all is calm within us, until our feelings are quieted and we see thing. In the light of calm objective reason. Of course our feelings will and must express themselves, but they should not be acted upon without calm consideration. If you are under the power of your feelings, which ask you forthwith to act, go into your chamber and lock the door and there give went to your feelings. Emotion we want in life, but only eriotion controled by reason.

"But not only is strength in quietness and confidence, but our strength is largely according to our faith. In the calmness of faith is the power of the brainworker, the literary man, the thinker. Without the calmness which comes by faith, we can do nothing. When people fail in their undertakings it is not so much, that they lack in strength, as that they lact confidence in what strength they may have. And so too, it is when mental, sould trouble is facing us. If we have but faith, there comes wondrous power into our souls, those awful things loose much of their awfulness, and in the midst of adversity we may find a deep inner satisfaction. By the calm hand of faith we are rescued from the turbulent waters of fear.

"It is this calmness of soul, assured of itself and trustful in God which is the great factor in bodily health. Certainly a large portion of all human ailments are the effect of a fretful, fearful soul. To be healthy in body we must be whole in mind. The quiet soul will fear no evil and no evil will come nigh its dwelling. The quiet trusting soul will ever guard the body from harm; it will oust the ill that inadvertently has slipped in.

"If we would be strong indeed we must daily use in calm trust what strength of soul we possess, and our life will go from strength to strength and joy."

AVERAGE MAN IS LEARNING

Rev. M. O. Stockland Says Religion Is Entering More People's Lives.

Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, in his sermon yesterday morning on the subject, "Sin and the Average Man," said that while the average man of the city was an honest man, is "putting the best part of his life and energy into making his business a success, neglecting his moral and spiritual welfare, and thus comes down to the sunset of life poor in things that give the highest satisfaction and greatest peace."

The tone of the sermon was optimistic, the speaker finding cause for believing that the average man is coming more and more to learn what religion means to him.

Rev. Stockland doubted that it is true that church attendance is on the decline, and said that multitudes stayed away, not because they were great and doomed sinners, but simply because of carelessness and neglect. Poor living on the part of the average man, not poor preaching or poor singing in the church, was responsible, he said.

SERIES IS ENDED.

Alf Allen Pleased With Results of Bethel Revival Meetings.

Alf Allen, formerly champion welterweight and middleweight pugilist of Canada, now an evangelist, closed a two weeks' series of meetings last night. The meetings were divided between the Bethel on Lake avenue and the Branch Bethel at 508 West Superior street, and were all well attended, many men from the woods and the construction camps being in the city at this time of the year. Mr. Allen is pleased with the results of his meetings.

CALLS ON JEWS TO RALLY.

Adolph Kraus Gives Message to B'Nai B'rith Meeting.

Washington, April 4.—"The order must continue to be the rallying ground for all Jews, regardless of political or religious opinions," declared Adolph Kraus of Chicago, president of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'rith, in his message to the grand lodge convention which began here Sunday. The president, when making this statement, was discussing the general subject of common ground.

A tremendous dynamic force, Mr. Kraus said, had been at work in the camp of Israel.

"Passions have been aroused, schisms have ben created, and where peace and harmony are so essential, strife and discord reign," he said. "We have the Zionist and the anti-Zionist; the orthodox and the reformed, with their respective chasms constantly widening; their antipathy steadily growing. In my judgment, it is the province of the order to continue in the path which it has pursued from its inception. It must not favor or discountenance movements within our own ranks on which Jewish opinions are pronounced and varied."

The total membership of the order now is 33,123, a gain of 22 per cent in the five years since the last convention, while the amount paid to widows and orphans during that period amounted to $1,243,070 and to charity $1,145,118.

A brilliant future was predicted for the order.

Child Drowns in Post Hole.

Lidgerwood, N. D., April 4.—The 2-year-old son of Lewis Ruehl fell into a newly dug telephone post hole and was drowned in the water that had gathered. The mother of the boy found the body.

Saved From the Grave.

"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix, of Clarksvill, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do any work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. Its the best medicine made for the throat and lungs." Obstinate coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, la grippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, hoarseness and whooping cough, yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. Try it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

HAS FINE JOB FOR ROOSEVELT

Dr. MacArthur Wants Him Made Universal Peace Ambassador.

New York, April 4.—"I nominate Theodore Roosevelt for the high office of ambassador extraordinary to all the courts of the world, in the interests of universal and perpetual peace," Rev. Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur said Sunday, in the course of an address to his current events class at the Calvary Baptist church.

"I believe," he said in conclusion, "that I have today spoken words which will ring from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and which will echo beyond the seas."

Dr. MacArthur chose for his subject the question, "What shall we do with Theodore Roosevelt?" In answering his own inquiry he said:

"Perhaps some people would prefer to put the question in this form: 'What will he do with us?' He is a unique man. His powers are manifold and symmetrical to a remarkable degree. He is a practical politician, an experienced statesman, a recognized literateur, a mighty hunter, a great preacher and a half score of other remarkable things. What shall we do with such a man? How can his talents best be employed for the good of the country and mankind?

Just the Place for Him.

"There can be no more exalted mission than the one I have named. Only those familiar with the facts know how many international disputes already have been settled by arbitration. Here we have a noble sphere for the varied talents, remarkable skill and wide experience of Col. Roosevelt. No one will ever accuse him of being a molly-coddle. He is as brave morally as he is physically and he has the ear of the civilized world in places high and low as no man ever had.

"If Theodore Roosevelt can be a dominant factor in the era of universal and perpetual peace, his name will be honored above that of all warriors on all battlefields through all the centuries."

TRIED FOR SIX MURDERS; LEAVES THE STATE.

Florence, Ala., April 4.—Dee Shelton, charged with the murder of Lydia Ross by strangulation last August and burying her body under a pile of straw, has been given his liberty in circuit court here by agreeing to leave the state never to return. The jury in the case stood six for acquittal and six for conviction. The prisoner, who had stood his sixth murder trial, left at once for points north of here.

TAFT WILL SOUND NOTE OF CAMPAIGN

President Will Address Republican Clubs on April 9.

Washington, April 4.—The president is expected to sound the keynote for the approaching congressional campaign next fall at the banquet to be given here at the Arlington, April 9 by the League of Republican Clubs. Representatives of the entertainment committee, who were at the white House Saturday to arrange for his reception, received that intimation. The president will attend the banquet at about 9:45 p. m. Other guests who are expected to talk on party politics, are Senator Lodge, Representative Longworth, Representative W. B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican National congressional committee; John Hays Hammond, president of the National Republican league, and John Stewart, president of the New York Republican State league. Covers will be laid for 400 guests.

Murders Friend; Kills Self.

Phillips, Wis., April 4.—After murdering his friend, Benjamin Wahl, with whom he made his home, Wolfgang Kress is believed to have burned the Porter camp, sixteen miles from here, and then committed suicide.

The charred remains of the men were found in the ruins. Kress is believed to have ben insane.

Three Horses Stolen.

Minot, N. D., April 4.—Three horses owned by G. H. Hayward of Osakis, Minn., were stolen from the stockyards in the Great Northern grounds west of this city, during the evening. From tracks found next morning the horses were traced a distance of three miles, and it was evident that the thief rode one of the animals, while he led the other two. The owner of the horses was shipping them from Osakis to Williston.

AUTOS STUCK IN THE ROAD

Duluthians Spend Sunday Digging Cars Out of Mud Holes.

Farmer to Rescue of Those Who Attempted to Visit Pike Lake.

A great many prominent Duluthians —and some not so prominent—spent a large part of Sunday on the Pike lake road.

It was a nice, bright, almost hot day and it was not altogether disagreeable for those who spent the day trying to free stalled automobiles from the deep mud that skirted the road on both sides.

It was a lovely situation and even though some young women sat on stumps and maintained that they were "just crazy about being stuck," it wasn't fun for some perspired under heavy shovels of earth, and listened to the rattle of the otherwise pleasurable sound of the automobile in low gear.

There were three autos stuck in the mud about half way to the lake, and the women of the three parties had a chance to become better acquainted. The men pretended that they really knew something about cars; tried this and that; consulted together in low tones; swore sometimes softly and louder as time wore on.

Fun for Spectators.

The country folk with their red ties and shoes that hurt, came along and were amused. They not only looked amused but admitted that they were. They made all sorts of suggestions and were not in the least shy or timid about it. One very large person intimated something about a team of horses and $5 and then backed up and carefully looked under the car. His suggestion was quickly grasped and he and another man went after the horses. As he had to go to the pasture to catch the frisky animals it took some time and the sun was getting as low as the spirits of the men folk, when he finally returned.

At this time there were three autos stuck in the mud. One was a brand new Winton, another was a Reo and still another was a Cadillac. The last two had stopped to help the first man out and in trying to pass they skidded in at the other side of the road.

The autos began to pile up, some coming and some going, and the owners of those coming brought the encouraging news that there were three more autos stuck in the mud about three miles back. Those who had been going looked around a bit, sized up the situation and turned around. There was nothing for those coming the other to do but wait until the stalled autos had been pulled out of the mud.

The farmer man arrived with the horses and he smiled when he found that there was still another machine to pull out. There was much work, many mighty heaves, some swearing, and the Winton was out. Everybody was relieved and the country person drew attention to his horses and admitted that they were some team—"one 3-year old, going on 4, and the other 12-year-old, but a good mare just the same-ee."

The other cars were brought out without a great deal of trouble, and the weary autoists after handing the man his price, turned around toward the electric lights that had begun to twinkle over the hill, in the distant city.

The road was very bad. In the center it was very rough, and in trying to avoid the bumps the machines struck the soft edges and went in over the hubs. Most people turned around before they got to Pike lake, although a few of them took delight in telling the more unfortunate that they had enjoyed a delightful trip all the way to the lake.

The boulevard drive is in the worst shape for years. The repairing is going steadily on, but just now there is no pleasure in driving over the road.

Worse Than Bullets.

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than the eczema L. W. Harriman, Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with, forty years. "But Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me when all else failed," he writes. Greatest healer for Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Burns, Cuts, Wounds, Bruises and Piles. 25c at all druggists.

Appendicitis

A Simple Method That Is Always Efficacious—Trial Package Free.

It has only been a few years since it was discovered that a surgical operation would cure appendicitis; in fact, it has been but a short time since the disease was discovered and named.

Whenever there is an inflamed condition of the appendix, caused by impacted faeces in the small cavity opening into the intestine, you then have appendicitis.

The older doctors used to call this inflammation of the bowels, and were puzzled to know the cause.

Even now, with all the knowledge we have of the disease, no medical man can tell you why we should have an appendix, why we find it where it is, or what are its functions, if it has any.

The disease for which the operation is a cure is usually caused by indigestion, and in many cases follows a large and indigestible meal.

Physicians have until recently recommended an operation, but now, as it is known that it is caused by indigestion, or dyspepsia, a cure without an operation is assured.

Where the patient is treated with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the unhealthy conditions prevailing rapidly disappear, the stomach and intestines are placed back in their normal condition, every organ of the body operates as it should, and the inflammation is reduced and the operation is avoided.

Conscientious physicians, who are looking after the best interests of their patients, will always keep a supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy in their office, where in cases of sudden attacks of indigestion they can relieve the patient at once.

There is no record of a case of appendicitis where the stomach and bowels were in a healthy condition and properly digested the food from meal to meal.

No better advice can be given to any one who has attacks of indigestion, or who has been threatened with appendicitis, than to tell him to go to the drug store, pay 50 cents, and take home a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Whenever heartburn, gas in stomach or bowels, heart disease or stomach troubles, sour eructations, acidity or fermentation are present, act at once. Take a dose of the Tablets and get relief as soon as possible.

At all druggists—50 cents.

Send us your name and adress today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free.— Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

FALLING TREE KILLS WOODSMAN

Alex Anderson Meets Instant Death at Camp Near Brookston.

While working for John Colbrath in a camp near Brookston, Saturday, Alex Anderson was killed by a falling tree, which crushed his life out instantly.

Anderson and John Johnson were working together. They felled a tree which caught on a birch. They cut down the birch, but in getting out of the way, Anderson ran in the wrong direction and the big tree struck him on the shoulders and crushed him to the ground. Johnson ran in another direction and escaped.

Anderson's body is at Flood & Horgan's morgue. Nothing is known of the man here.

MONEY FOUND IN LINING OF PURSE

Mike Maki Comes to Grief Because of Dispute With Police.

A dispute with the police over the amount of money he had when arrested caused the officers to make another search of Mike Maki's purse, and neatly tucked inside of the lining of the purse they found $36, which Witho Laurin claims was stolen from him by Maki. Instead of being turned loose, Maki is being held at the jail. He was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny and waived examination.

Laurin and Mike slept together at 250 St. Croix avenue last night. This morning Laurin claimed that he had been robbed of $36. Maki was arrested, but stoutly denied the crime. The police counted the money in his purse as $73. He claimed that he had $33. A further search of the purse revealed $36 in bills tucked in the lining of the purse; and Laurin claims that is the amount taken from him.

SUPREME COURT ORDERS MAN HANGED.

RAID OASIS IN DESERT

Police Say Many Thirsty Citizens Found Relief at Metropole Hotel.

Quarts of Evidence Taken But No Arrests Are Made.

The police claim that they found the "wettest" place in the city yesterday when they raided the Metropole hotel at Lake avenue and Michigan street yesterday afternoon.

It is alleged that fifty or sixty patrons were found in the rear rooms quaffing the amber fluid to quench Sabbath thirsts. Capt. Fiskett and Detective Toewe say that when they visited the Metropole about 4:30 o'clock they heard many suspicious sounds, such as gurgling long drawn out, the smacking of lips, the clatter of tin "caps" from Brown bottles, the clink of glasses and sighs of deep satisfaction.

The officers said that when they wanted to visit the aforesaid rooms they were met with opposition offered by Joe Kenney, the proprietor, and the waiters. However they state that they gained an entrance and found an oasis in the otherwise parched desert bounded by the corporate limits. The policemen assert that the sight was one which would have been good for the tipplers who have been compelled to go dry since the renewal of the closing order by Mayor Cullum. They declare that many beer bottles in all stages of fullness were in evidence, with numbers of glasses showing evidence of recent use. No arrests were made, but quantities of the stuff was taken to police headquarters to be used as evidence.

TAKES ANOTHER POSITION.

Superintendent of Crookston Agricultural School Quits His Job.

Crookston, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. L. P. Harrington of the Crookston School of Agriculture and state experiment farm here, because of the delay on the part of the board of regents in naming a superintendent, has accepted a more lucrative position with a Minneapolis real estate firm. He will end his work here on Wednesday. General regret is felt here over losing him.

NO SPECIAL FUND TO FORTIFY CANAL

Bond Issue Must Furnish Money for That Purpose, It Is Claimed.

Washington, April 4.—The Panama canal will have to pay the expense of its own fortification.

This appears to be the opinion of the vanguard of the army expert board which has just arrived in Washington from Panama after a careful examination of the line of the canal with special reference to the selection of sites for the forts and the determination of the extent of the armament needed.

The act of 1902, though much amended by subsequent legislation, would seem to carry that inference, and consequently the cost of fortification probably will be met by the issue of Panama canal bonds.

It is impossible at present to state the cost of this work.

Has Selected Sites.

In the first place, while the commission has selected the sites for the defenses at both entrances of the canal and at points along the line in the interior, where it is exposed to destruction by attack, such as the Gatum dam and the great Miaflores locks, much of this land belongs to private parties and its value must be assessed before it can be acquired.

Much heavy ordnance, some of it composed of 14-inch guns, probably will be required, and as it takes a long time to make these big guns and transport them to the isthmus, put them in place and erect the defensive earthworks and concrete consrtuction, it will be necessary to hasten the project in order to insure its completion by the date the canal will be opened in 1914 or 1915.

HURLED TO DEATH BY WINDMILL

North Dakota Farmer Tries to Stop Wheel With His Foot.

Linton, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attempting to stop a moving windmill by placing his foot on one of the fans, Reinhold Wisbaar, a young farmer residing near this place, was caught in the huge wheel, swung around two or three times and then thrown a distance of thirty feet through the air. Falling on his stomach over the side of a water trough, he was disemboweled and his neck was almost broken, death following ten hours later. His wife was the only witness of the affair. Wisbaar had gone out early in the morning to attempt to fix the mill. Climbing to the top, the mill was suddenly started by a strong gust of wind. He tried to stop it and was caught and thrown about. His screams attracted the attention of his wife, who was powerless to help him, and who saw him flung about on the big wheel twice and then thrown to the ground to his death.

EIGHTEEN GIRLS HURT IN PANIC IN LAUNDRY.

Chicago, April 4.—Eighteen girls were injured, several seriously, in a panic in the Central steam laundry today. Several girls jumped from windows and others were injured in an explosion. Four are in a serious condition at a hospital.

The panic was caused by the bursting of a steampipe in the mangle room on the second floor. When the clouds of steam burst into the room seven girls jumped from the windows.

More than 200 girls were working on the second and third floors.

CITY'S ANNUAL SPRING CLEANING HAS BEGUN

Six Extra Inspectors Begin Hunt for Dirt and Rubbish.

Will Go Over the Ground Three Times If Necessary.

The six sanitary inspectors hired by the health department to aid in making Duluth the cleanest town on the map outside of Holland, where the good housewives scrub the sidewalks, started work this morning.

Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, was down at his office bright and early to meet them and instructed them in their duties.

"Clean up every dirty spot in your respective districts," was the gist of his talk to the inspectors who are going to supervise Duluth's sanitary bath, which will be as strinkent as the moral house cleaning instituted by his chief, Mayor M. B. Cullum.

He doesn't intend to let his superior officer go him one better. While Duluth is undergoing about every kind of a bath known to municipalities, except the immunity bath, the health commissioner is determined that the swabbing of which he is in charge, shall be among the prize winners.

When the inspectors go over the ground the first time they will point out the unsightly places to the residents. They will expect to see a decided improvement the next time they call around, for the health commissioner says that they aren't going to stop with the preliminary inspection. If necessary he will get hip boots for them, so that they can wade through it all and find every eye sore in the community. Then each district will likely get a third checking by some other inspector, who will be instructed to find as many places as he can that the other overlooked.

Further, the health commissioner is looking for help from the public. He wants the citizens to notify him, or whoever happens to be in charge of the office, of every insanitary place that they notice. He announces that the information will be gratefully received and acted upon promptly.

Dr. Webster has set out to make Duluth cleaner than it ever was before. He stated that when persuasive powers and other means of getting results are exhausted, he will utilize the laws and ordinances to arrest those who fail to obey the instructions which are given them. "But I believe 'a word to the wise' is sufficient," says the new health officer, "and I do not anticipate that it will be necessary for us to hale anybody before the bar of justice."

PICNICS AND OUTINGS TO PARKS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

APRIL 3, IN LESTER PARK.

Hundreds of Duluth people took advantage of the pleasant weather yesterday to enjoy their first out door Sunday outing of the year, and the parks and pleasure places were thronged with the pleasure seekers. Lester Park and the other similar beauty spots attracted many, on the Point there were scores of pedestrians.

Saturday there were numerous picnics, a striking evidence of the early coming of balmy weather this year. In all the bravery of week-old Easter trappings and adornments, the gentler sex added flitting flashes of brilliant coloring to the beauties of awakening nature and made the day seem like a Sunday in the advanced summer season. The street cars were crowded much of the day with leisurely crowds bent on seeking one or another of the attractive breathing spaces away from their usual busy week-day haunts, and the government pier was visited by many. Lake Superior itself seemed to catch the spirit of the day and was impressively beautiful.

TWO PASTORS ARE CALLED

Rev. Walter O. T. Sievers Is Invited to Church in Columbus.

Rev. Arthur J. Hoag Will Be Assistant Pastor in St. Paul Church.

Rev. Walter O. T. Sievers, for the past eighteen months pastor of the St. Stephen's German Evangelical Lutheran church, Sixty-seventh avenue west and Raleigh street, has received a flattering offer from the congregation of an English Lutheran church at Columbus, Ohio. He has not decided whether he will accept the call or not.

Rev. Mr. Sievers came to the West Duluth church a year and a half ago, when his congregation numbered seventy. Since that time he has doubled the membership of his church, for the church rolls today show a membership of 140. That is the first charge that he has ever had, as he came directly from St. Louis, Mo. At the regular services at the church last evening he told his congregation of the call he had received.

Today he left for St. Paul, where he will confer with a mission board which controls the affairs of the local church in the matter of securing pastors for the congregation. It is expected that he will be in St. Paul the remainder of the week. Upon his return he will give a definite answer. This morning he stated that in all probability he would not accept the call.

"The field in Duluth and West Duluth is large," said Rev. Mr. Sievers. He thinks that there is an opportunity for much good church work at West Duluth, although this city is not of the same size as Columbus. Mr. Sievers stated that the church would celebrate its twentieth anniversary on Sunday, May 15, and that the affair promised to be an elaborate one.

At this anniversary celebration, it is expected that the Rev. A. C. Bode, a former pastor of the church, who now has a charge at Brownton, Minn., will be the principal speaker. On the following Tuesday evening a concert will be given in which only clergymen will take part. Selections will be given by a quartet and numbers rendered on the piano and violin.

Rev. Arthur J. Hoag, for the past ten and a half years pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, has resigned to accept a call as associate pastor of the First Baptist church of St. Paul. His resignation will take effect April 30. Official action on the resignation will be taken by the church officials Thursday evening, April 14.

At the St. Paul church, Rev. Mr. Hoag will have complete charge of the Sunday school work and will preach during the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Harold Pattison. The charge at West Duluth is the first one that Mr. Hoag has had. He came from the Shurtliff Theological school in 1899.

From a handful of active members, who met in a store building, Rev. Mr. Hoag has built his church up to its present membership of over 100. During that time, a new building has been erected at Fifty-ninth avenue west and Grand. It was completed last year at a cost of $6,000.

Rev. Mr. Hoag has taken an active interest in the Y. M. C. A. movement for West Duluth and has at all times been prominent in all clean athletic sports. He has been a member of the Western Curling association since it was organized.

WILL DISCUSS EXTENSIONS

At the meeting of the Duluth Real Interest to West Duluthians will be discussed.

The topic under consideration will be "The Policy of the Street Car Company as to Extensions." The proposed extensions of the company's line from West Duluth to Fond du Lac and the steel plant, and from West Duluth to Proctor will be brought up.

CONFERENCE WILL OPEN

The annual district conference of the Duluth district of the English-speaking Methodist Episcopal churches will open for a three days' session this evening at the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street.

Rev. L. L. Litchfield of Moose Lake, Minn., will open the conference with devotional services at 17:30 p. m. Bert N. Wheeler will deliver an address of welcome to which Rev. Charles W. Ramshaw of Proctor will respond for the visitors. Rev. R. W. Wilcox, D.D., of Virginia will preach the district conference sermon.

At 9 o'clock a reception will be held in the church parlors. Rev. Edgar K. Copper, superintendent, will preside.

REV. COLE PREACHES ON BEAUTIFUL THOUGHTS.

Rev. D. G. Cole, minister of the People's Union church, preached to his congregation at the Commercial club rooms on Central avenue last night on "Thinking On the True, the Beautiful and the Good.

Taking as his text the fourth chapter of Philliplans and the eighth verse, the Mr. Cole said that beautiful thoughts are easily stimulated by observing nature in her grandeur, and God in His imnipotence. "Seek the pure and the venerable thoughts and they will leave their indelible impress upon your soul," he said. Then there are those good thoughts that all can have—even though artistic instinct be not highly developed. These are the good, commonplace thoughts that lead us along the highway of soul development and then we find ourselves thinking of mother, and home and then of heaven. It seems so natural to us to thing beautiful thoughts when our minds are clear and sweet and our imagination leads us to dreams of glory in which we distinguish ourselves by acts of nobility and heroic love. Our thoughts will determine our character, for they crystallize into habits and these habits create a destiny. Remember the words of the noble apostle St. Paul, in the words of the text: 'Whatsoever things are true whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.'"

Birthday Party.

Miss Florence Clark entertained Saturday evening for a number of her friends at her home, 527 North Fifty-seventh avenue west. The occasion was her birthday anniversary. The guests were: Misses Irene Galbraith, Laura McCormick, Myrtle Wendt, Emma Messler, Georgia Messler, Mabel McDonald, Florence McClure, Katherine MacBeth, May Beaton, Dola Fink, Clara Goodhan, Agnes Ehr and Messrs. Thomas Johnson, John Johnson, Warren Crosby, Ed Holland, Stanley Gilpin, Neal Buckley, Charles I. Towner, William Ritchie, Frank Lyons, Lawrence Roberts, Stanley McKenzie, Gaylord Halverson, Wilfred Bouden, Albert Doymeier and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brain.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Alice Alma Brotherton to Edward W. Lyons has been announced by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James Brotherton of 317 North Fifty-first avenue west. The wedding will take place in the near future. Both of the young people have a wide acquaintance in the western end of the city. Mr. Lyons is the manager of the Radford Lumber company at the West end.

Union Meeting.

The five Scandinavian Good Templar lodges of Superior and Duluth will hold a union meeting tomorrow evening at Victor hall, 5528 Grand avenue. Meetings of this kind are held quarterly and are in charge of a joint committee. The meetings are not open to the general public.

West Duluth Briefs.

Joseph J. Hurley and John A. Willmerschied of St. Paul were in West Duluth yesterday as guests at the home of M. J. Filliatrault.

Patrick Scully has returned to his home, 5020 Roosevelt street after spending the winter in the woods of Northern Wisconsin.

Lynn Thompson and Peter Peterson, arrested Saturday for taking wheat from a box car, pleaded guilty, before Judge Plack of the West Duluth justice court. They were ordered to pay the costs of the case and were given suspended sentences.

Notice—Proctor-Bay View cars on Belt Line railway will not be run after 8:15 Monday evening, April 4, until Thursday morning, April 7, on account of putting in new cable and making other repairs.

Hella, the 3-year-old daughter of Nick Stovick of 27 South Fifty-seventh avenue west, was lost for four hours yesterday afternoon. She was found by an officer at Central avenue and Bristol street.

Memorial services were held yesterday morning at the West Duluth Baptist church for the late J. P. Shannon, who died recently at his home here.

Frank Ashley of 135 North Sixtieth avenue west left yesterday on a business trip to Cooke Lake.

The West Duluth fire department was called out yesterday afternoon to put out a small fire at the residence of James E. Sullivan of 327 North Fifty-second avenue west. The blaze caught from the lawn, where old grass was being burned.

St. Louis Bay Hive, No. 887, L. O. T. M., will give a "character social" this evening at Gilley's hall. A good program has been arranged for the affair.

Hurst, Watch repairing, W. Duluth.

R. F. Sulzer, Sunday school missionary for the Presbyterian churches of Minnesota, preached yesterday morning at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Miss Sadie Kern of 4809 West Sixth street is reported today as recovering from her recent illness.

The Philathea Society of the West Duluth Baptist church will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard of Proctor.

W. J. Wallace of 135 North Sixtieth avenue west returned today from Gilbert, where sho spent Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shanks of 5532 Grand avenue are the parents of a son, born last evening.

Place your fire insurance business with L. A. Barnes, 304 Central avenue.

Power of a Fly.

A common house fly can be said to possess almost superhuman power, which is attributed to the fact that the fly, unlike man, has an extensive net of breathing organs which enables it to burn more nourishment, thus creating a greater working energy. But more remarkable than this is the fact that the daily use of Golden Grain Belt beer will build you up and feed your nerves and insure perfect health. Serve daily with your meals. "Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company."

BETTER SERVICE FOR STUB LINE

As a result of the repeated complaints of shippers located along the branch line of the Great Northern between St. Cloud and Brook Park, Duluth is likely to benefit directly in the way of becoming an enlarged market for dairy and truck farm products.

The Great Northern has responded to the demands of shippers that they be given better service by agreeing to have a representative go over the line and study the situation with the object in view of bettering conditions.

The producers along this line have been forced to put up with a refrigerator car service that is available to them but once a week, and as they desire to enter the Duluth market more speedily and freely they have made strong representations to the railroad company of their present unfavorable situation. J. J. Cobo and C. F. Sherline of Mora are among those who have taken leading parts in the agitation that promises to bring about better service.

It is proposed that the shippers of Mora, Brook Park, Oglivie and other points on the branch line meet with shippers located at Sandstone and Holyoke, which towns are on the main line north of the junction, and confer with the representative of the railroad on what measures can be taken to give these shippers a square deal on their business.

As things are now, the shippers have at times found it advantageous to ship to Duluth via St. Paul and reach the Head of the Lakes market sooner than they could by shipping via Brook Park.

Menominee High School Winners.

Menominee, Mich., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Spear and Miss Lucile Harmon of the Menominee high school, won the sub-district contest in oratory and declamination at Norway. It is expected that the Menominee speakers will be contestants for state honors.

LARGE AUDIENCE SEES MRS. CARTER

Emotional Actress Appears in Her New Play, "Vasta Herne."

Theatergoers have been called upon to swallow some highly indigestible brain food in the past, but "Vasta Herne" goes them all one better.

It is not a pretty story, although the large and fashionable audience at the Lyceum Saturday night seemed to enjoy it. Probably the applause was more a tribute to Mrs. Carter's acting than to the play, however.

It is a "problem" play—perhaps the problem is to find a reason for its existence. It is founded on the career of Vasta Herne, a young woman, a writer of books, who has fallen into the hands and the power of an immoral man, a publisher. By becoming addicted to the laudanum habit she finds that she can write with great brilliancy and at once springs to fame, enriching her publisher.

Their relations in the meantime have not been conventional, to put it mildly, and she remains fully in his power. Vasta falls in love with a very respectable young fellow named Dr. Dudly Maury. He discovers that she is the victim of a drug, declares his love and gives her strength to stop the habit. While this is going on Bellaire Hartley, the publisher, uses his influence to keep her down. He informs Maury of his former relations with the young authoress, and he in turn denounces her, accusing her of trickery. They part, she falls ill and dies in his arms when he is admitted to the house at the last moment.

Disgusting as the role was, it gave Mrs. Carter plenty of opportunity for the so-called "emotional acting," and there was no detail lacking in the soul-dissecting process.

The production was a most elaborate one, as all of Mrs. Carter's are, and the supporting company was adequate, although the dramatist has slighted the other roles in drawing his chief character.

"The Golden Butterfly."

According to entirely trustworthy reports, there is a rare treat in store for all who witness the performance of Grace Van Studdiford in "The Golden Butterfly" at the Lyceum tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday night.

This latest comic opera by Smith and de Koven is unquestionably one of the best that has been done in this country during the past twenty years. If advance notices are to be believed. Its record as a drawing attraction is without parallel in the history of comic opera, and the encomiums which have been bestowed upon the star, leave no doubt as to the hold that the fair singer has upon the people.

The opera will be presented with an immense company of singers and the company's own personal orchestra.

Pictorially it is said to be a constantly changing series of kaleidescopic splendors, accomplished by the deft manipulation of electrical contrivances, with a vast display of varied colored costumes as the background.

"The Virginian."

The stage version of Owen Wister's uncommonly successful novel, "The Virginian," will be presented at the Lyceum on Thursday, Friday and Saturday night with a matinee on Saturday. It is doubtful if any hero of fiction since the era of big "selling" novels has ever taken so firm a grip on the hearts of both men and women readers as has this young knight of the cattle country. In him Mr. Wister has shown a specimen of sturdy American manhood that has proven irresistibly alluring to readers and that cannot but be even more effective in a stage representation.

A NOVEL SIGHT.

Many Duluthians who have visited Lester park within the last week have seen an interesting sight. The trout are making desperate efforts to get up the falls in Lester river, and their struggles have been plainly visible from the bank.

PRISON DOCTOR HAS HOPE FOR SEYMOUR MAN.

Leavenworth, Kan. April 4.—Thomas Coghill, a former banker of Seymour, Wis., in the federal prison here, who was reported to be dying last night, rallied early today and the prison physician stated that, although dangerously ill, the ex-banker may recover.

HAS ANYONE SEEN ERNEST JONES?

ERNEST JONES

The local Y. M. C. A. has been asked to help locate Ernest Jones of Huddersfield, Eng. He has been away from home two years and nothing has been heard of him. His mother is heart-broken over his disappearance and is using every means available to get some trace of him. He went first to Winnipeg and left there for Duluth with the intention of joining a construction gang. This was his second trip to America. He was formerly employed by the McKinley Iron company, which has large interests on the range.

FISHERMAN'S SPECIAL!

Commencing Sunday, April 10th, the Duluth & Northern Minnesota Railway will run a Sunday train over their line for North Shore points. Spend a day on the Knife, Split Rock, Gooseberry, Baptism or Beaver rivers, the celebrated trout fishing streams of the North Shore. The train connects with the Duluth & Iron Range 7:30 a. m. train from Duluth, returning reaches Duluth 6:30 p. m.

DELEGATION FROM CALUMET

A big delegation is expected to come from Calumet, Mich., and other Copper country towns to the laymen's missionary convention to be held here April 22, 23 and 24, according to the report made by A. V. Snell to the Duluth Ministerial association this morning on the meetings held in Calumet last week to arouse interest in the big convention. Mr. Snell, who is executive secretary of the Laymen's Missionary movement, visited Calumet last week in company with Watson S. Moore and Albert Baldwin. They held a series of meetings, in which they were well received, and Mr. Snell reported to the ministers that he expects a large number of laymen from the Copper country towns to take part in the three days' meeting here.

There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the ministerial association, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. building this morning. Rev. Alexander Milne, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, read a paper on the "Story of the Rife of Theosophy." The ministers discussed the coming laymen's convention after Mr. Snell had made his report, and they will do everything in their power to make the meetings successful.

The following resolution was drawn up by a committee appointed by the association for the purpose:

"Resolved, That the Duluth Ministerial association put itself on record as being in hearty accord with the purposes, methods and the results already attained by the Laymen's Missionary movement in its present campaign;

Furthermore, we pledge our entire approval and earnest co-operation with the plans of the local committees.

WANT PIKE SPAWN PLANTED

Fond du Lac people and others who fish up the St. Louis river, will enter a complaint with the fish and game commission at St. Paul, protesting against the taking of the spawn of the wall-eyed pike from the river for distribution over the state.

Edward Johnson, a resident of Fond du Lac came to Alderman Barnes of West Duluth today with the request that the matter be brought up at the next meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. The club will be asked by the Fond du Lac people to enter a strong protest against this practice.

The reasons assigned are that the pike are getting scarcer every season. The residents of Fond du Lac, according to Mr. Johnson, will go one step farther and ask the commission to put pike spawn in the stream this year.

HOW THE CONSUMER IS CHEATED.

A contributor to the "Open Court" who touched last week upon the question of short weights and measures merely turned up the edge of a widespread, far-reaching and deep-seated ailment which will have to be remedied if the neglected, abused, down-trodden consumer is ever to come into his own.

Henry D. Hubbard, secretary of the National Bureau of Standards, tells in La Follette's Magazine something about what that organization has discovered in its investigations of trade conditions in this country.

"Investigations by the Bureau of Standards," he says, "show that the consumers of this country lose millions a year by short measures. Indifference is a subsidy to fraud, for short measure is an easy source of profit to a dishonest dealer." Nor is that the end of it; for the dealer who would vastly rather be honest than dishonest is obliged to compete with dealers who are more careful about profits than they are about methods of getting profits. One of the doubtful features about competition is that the lowest standards of honesty tend to set the pace in business. The manufacturer who hates the notion of employing child labor is forced to employ it, unless the law steps in, in order successfully to compete with his conscienceless neighbor. The dealer who would much rather give honest weights and measures is forced to adopt his competitors' methods if he would avoid the appearance of charging higher prices, unless he is helped by intelligent and discriminating public support.

"It may surprise many," continues Mr. Hubbard, "to know that 13-ounce packages of butter are often sold at pound prices, though there is little if any evaporation; that bread weight is usually sub-normal; that in some places meat is sold by butchers' salesmen at the same price they pay for it, the profit being made from short weight. One inspector reported a shortage of 25 per cent in ice cream boxes from four cities. Cranberries, beans and other dry commodities are often sold by the liquid quart instead of by the dry quart—a shortage of 20 per cent. The consumer pays for paper bags at the price of tea, for wooden butter trays at butter prices, and for pasteboard at the price of crackers. The poor of New York city buy coal by the sack, at a high rate, but even at the excessive sack rate the inspectors found a thousand cases in a single week where the shortage averaged 24½ pounds on each 100-pound sack. One hundred thousand short measure milk jars, condemned in one state for shortage, were sent to another state where lax laws prevailed. A new law enacted there exiled the condemned jars to a state where no law existed. Perhaps the short bottles are coming your way. At least they are on the move, and that is something." Evidently those short-measure milk bottles have reached Minnesota, judging from the experience related by "M. O. Neysworth" last week.

Mr. Hubbard suggests first that proper laws be enacted to govern this business, and second that householders weigh their purchases. Good scales and measures, he says, can be bought for two or three dollars, and they will earn good dividends.

Buyers are entitled to get what they pay for, especially when prices are as high as they are now. The Herald believes that the great majority of retailers are honest, and that they will gladly welcome public cooperation that will rid them of the unfair competition of dishonest dealers.

A NON-PARTISAN SPEAKER.

The removal of Speaker Cannon from membership in the house committee on rules, and the act of taking out of his hands the appointment of that committee, was a forward step of great importance, even though the ill-judged action of the majority in congress in filling the new committee with Cannonites has served, to a large extent, to obscure the real gain made by the recent revolt of the allies against the autocracy of Cannonism.

It is true that a committee dominated by friends of Cannon is not greatly different from a committee appointed by Cannon and including Cannon in its membership. But Cannon is an incident in the history of the coutry, and the Republican majority which turned victory into apparent defeat by putting Cannon's friends in control of the new committee is also an incident. Both will pass; and the fact that the speaker no longer appoints the committee on rules and can no longer be a member of that committee will remain.

Majorities can be overturned, and the sort of majority that filled the committee on rules with faithful servants of Cannonism is the very sort most certain to be overturned. Either the so-called "insurgents," who represent all that is left in the Republican party that gives it the right to live, will become the majority of the majority, or the Republican party will lose the house altogether. In either event, new conditions will come at the end of the present congress, and never in the history of the country will this chief implement of Cannon's power be restored to the speaker of the house.

In England the speaker of the house of commons has nothing whatever to do with the party in power. He is nonpartisan. He is a presiding officer, nothing more. No matter what party is in power, he is re-elected time after time, so long as he gives satisfaction. Nothing could lead more certainly to his downfall than an attempt to govern the deliberations of the house for party purposes.

That is the kind of speaker the house of representatives should have. A speaker with the power that Cannon has possessed is able to build up a machine which dictates absolutely the proceedings of the house, as Cannon has dictated them. Such a speaker, with such a power, becomes the house itself; the others are merely cogs in his machine, or useless supernumeraries. The people no longer control the house, and therefore they no longer control their government. Such a situation is untenable except in a country whose people have lost their ideals of liberty and free government.

The people of this country need, more than anything else, to get the government back into their own hands, so that they may use it for their own good. A step in that direction was taken when Cannon was deposed from the committee on rules, which is the steering committee of the house. Another step in that direction will be taken when the house deprives the speaker of his power of appointing committees. A greater step still will be taken when the speaker becomes a mere parliamentary presiding officer, appointed without party considerations, kept without party considerations, and unactuated by party considerations.

DR. GULICK'S LECTURE.

Every person interested, whether as teacher, citizen or parent, in the training of children should hear the lecture to be given at the high school Wednesday evening by Dr. Luther H. Gulick on "The Moral Education of Children." The teachers who have brought Dr. Gulick here hope for a large attendance of parents, because they know that the lecture will contain material out of which can be fashioned a forward impulse of great value to the childhood of Duluth, and therefore to the coming generations into whose hands the destinies of the city must presently come.

There is a vast field for such work in a country whose city streets swarm with children playing in the midst of danger and temptation for want of better places to play in, and whose schools have barely begun the elaboration of child training needed to round out the moral side of child nature upon a firm foundation of physical culture. While many homes are perfect moral training schools, many others are far from it; and society's interests demand that the public schools shall take up, in large measure, the work of moral education which many families neglect.

Dr. Gulick is peculiarly fitted by personality, education and experience to talk on this subject. He has been for many years, as physical director of the New York public schools, a thorough student of the relationship between morality and child training and the suggestive influence of environment. He is president of the National Playground association and director of the department of child hygiene at the Russell Sage foundation in New York. His subject will cover discussions of the changes in the family incident to civilization, the difference in the morality of boys and girls, morality as related to leisure, the instinct feelings, morality as related to fashion and custom, the place of the school with reference to industrial education and as a moral factor, and the management of playgrounds and other provisions for the free time of the children.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR CHILD LABORERS.

The problem of child labor is complicated by the conditions in many families which make the earnings of child workers necessary. It is easy enough to say that children under a certain age should not work, and it is not to be gainsaid. It is easy enough to pass laws forbidding their employment, though the opposition of short-sighted employers has made slow work, in many cases, of getting proper child labor laws through the legislatures.

But this movement hits a stone wall in the many cases of families so poor that only by the work of the children can the wolf be kept from the door.

It is very pleasant, therefore, to hear that the scholarships started recently by a member of the Associated Charities, and maintained by societies and individuals, are serving to keep some children in school who otherwise would have to work, and at the same time to provide the families with the money they would earn if they were working. This report was made in a local article in The Herald Saturday.

This is a very intelligent, a very pretty and a very valuable philanthropy. The children are not paid for going to school, but their needy parents are given the amount they would earn if they were working. At the same time, the influence of education, through the benefited children, is a leaven which is acting to raise the afflicted family out of its level of deprivation and give it hope of better things.

It would be hard to imagine a pleasanter way of expressing charitable impulses than through this plan of providing scholarships to keep unfortunate children out of the toils of child labor.

A SAFE AND SANE FOURTH.

It was stated in a local article in The Herald Saturday evening that an ordinance is being prepared for the consideration of the city council prohibiting the more annoying forms of Fourth of July uproar in Duluth hereafter.

Whatever the small boy may think about this, certainly the hope that Duluth may align itself with the cities that have brought about a noiseless Fourth will be widespread among those whose cooling blood no longer bounds delightedly at the hideous uproar that has come to characterize the conventional Fourth of July, and particularly among those whose nerves no longer bear with comfort the harsh alarms and explosions that were so pleasant to them not many years ago.

Other cities have robbed the Fourth of its ear-splitting uproar; why shouldn't Duluth?

Certainly there is no inseparable relationship between the spirit of the nation's birthday and the barbarian clamor that has associated itself with the day. It may even be that if the holiday could be operated upon and its noise and disturbances removed, it would be possible to get back to a clearer perception of the real spirit of the day.

A state law now prohibits the sale or use of blank cartridges, noise-making implements using dynamite and firecrackers more than three inches long and half an inch thick. It would help considerably if this law were enforced rigidly. But if the city council wishes to go further than this, we fancy there would be no great popular objection. The public attitude, we believe, will be that the council can go as far as it likes.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE REAL PURPOSE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The newspapers have recently disclosed the startling information that several ministers of this city have unburdened themselves to the school board upon the subject of dancing in the public school buildings. It is to be presumed either that all greater evils in this city have been abolished or that the ministers have exhausted all efforts possible to that end, else they would not leave their good work toward the end that real evils be banished and devote themselves to the abolition of a pastime and recreation so beneficial to the physical and so harmless to the moral well-being of the school children as dancing. Now, Mr. Preacher, why not be honest with the school board and the public and admit that your complaint is not based upon the use made of the public school buildings and that you are not any more opposed to dancing in the school buildings than anywhere else, but that in real truth you are simply opposed to dancing anywhere because of the doctrines of your church, and that you are trying to force this doctrine upon all other people whether of the same belief or not? Why not also admit that your opposition to dancing in the public school buildings is only one step in your general program to abolish it everywhere? If you would be candid in the matter, perhaps the public would understand you better. E. C. C.

Duluth, April 2.

MEANS A STEP BACKWARD.

To the Editor of The Herald:

For years the suburban residents of this city have been striving to get the street railway company to cut the running time of its cars. The company seems to be willing to do this and, in many instances, the running time to the outlying resident districts has been materially reduced as compared with a few years ago. This has been accomplished through the rebuilding of the lines with heavier rails, the installation of newer and better equipment and additional service at times when the traffic is the heaviest during the day.

It is proposed by a few people living on the Fifty-seventh avenue west line that the council by resolution direct the company to increase its stops, two "places," not regular street intersections, being mentioned in a resolution before the council. While the effect of this resolution might be to accommodate a few people in a particular locality by causing cars to stop in front of their doors, we believe it will open the door to similar requests for car stops at numerous other places within half block distances or less. The council could not very well grant special privileges to car patrons in West Duluth and refuse the same to patrons in other parts of the city. If the company is willing to do its part toward cutting the running time to the suburbs, why should it be handicapped by any such resolution as proposed? SUBURBANITE.

Duluth, April 4.

HOW IT COUNTS UP.

To the Editor of The Herald:

A groceryman employing six clerks, four deliverymen, six horses and with running expenses of about $35 per day would be compelled to do a business of about $300 per day in order that he may be able to pay his running expenses and have a few cents left over for himself.

The groceryman that gives you sixteen ounces to the pound and every drop that is coming to you, should have a profit of $3,390, allowing him 15 per cent.

But the kind of a groceryman that Mr. Neysworth referred to in The Herald April 1 is doing some better than the 16-ounce groceryman.

Now if this groceryman buys and receives sixteen ounces to the pound from the wholesaler and then deals the goods out to his customers, fourteen ounces to the pound and a few drops short, (hush, you penny pickers, don't say a word, give the ounce pickers a chance), his profits will be $11,737.50 per annum above the groceryman who gives you full weight and measure.

For example, a family using $37.50 worth of groceries per month on the ounce picking method, would only find himself short $5.25 per month, and a few drops, not so bad is it?

West Duluth, April 2.

A STUDENT HEARD FROM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I see by the paper that three pastors of our city have seen and considered it their duty to voice an unprovoked, uncalled for, and unjust criticism in regard to school dances, presumably those held in the high school.

These dances are sanctioned by, and held under, the supervision of the school faculty. They are conducted in an open, respectable manner and hitherto have been unmolested by such unjust criticism as was heaped upon them last night.

The biggest, broadest minded and best fathers and the most careful conscientious mothers, have felt safe and happy in allowing their sons and daughters to attend these dances, when the conduct, surroundings and enviroment is only the best.

There must be other more necessary ways in which rabid reform may run its course than by curtailing and prohibiting the legitimate and innocent pasttime of a crowd of fun loving, high-minded boys and girls.

Respectively Yours,
A HIGH SCHOOLER.

Duluth, April 2.

LOCKING THE COURTHOUSE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Last week when the members of the Grand Army posts in the city reached the courthouse to hold a joint meeting they found the doors locked and it was only after much trouble that they were able to secure admittance. We were informed that the doors were kept locked from 6 o'clock in the evening until 7 o'clock in the morning. I don't see any good reason for such a tight closed policy. There is a watchman in the building and the janitor has a large staff of assistants. I was told that if the doors were not kept locked, lovers used the steps and dark corners for spooning places, particularly the top floor. If they are objectionable it seems to me that there are enough men on the county pay roll to keep them out. I don't know whether the janitor is responsible or whether he is acting under orders, but it seems to me that when any organization wishes to use any of the halls or rooms for legitimate purposes they should be given reasonable accommodations.

THE WEATHER

Rain early this morning freshened things up generally and helped the grass, which is just beginning to find its way to the air. Yesterday was a beautiful day for the display of spring finery. Rain is threatened by conditions today, but the weather man says fair weather will prevail tonight and tomorrow.

Fine spring weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:41 and it will set at 6:41, giving thirteen hours of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A disturbance of moderate intensity extends in a trough-like formation from Minnesota southward to Oklahoma. During the past twenty-four hours it caused high temperature in the lake region and Central valley states, and rains in the lake region, the Ohio, Mississippi and Upper Missouri valleys, Manitoba, Wyoming and Utah. Hail occurred near Winnipeg. The rain has turned to snow in Western South Dakota. Much colder weather prevails throughout the Northwest in consequence of a high pressure area central over the plateau region. Freezing temperatures were the rule this morning in the Rocky mountains and Western Canada.

"Indications favor freezing weather at the Head of the Lakes during tonight."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

Butte's Patience Exhausted.

Butte, Mont., Miner: Will the time ever come when those who sit in darkness, as regards the true conditions in Butte, ever permit the light of truth to filter into their beclouded comprehension of just what the greatest mining city on earth is like?

Butte has been libeled, mocked, misrepresented and slandered until Butte and, in fact, all Montana residents merely laugh when they read such far-fetched and malicious accounts.

In a recent issue of a Western newspaper, and more is the shame because it is Western, is the statement that a ranchman of Butte, Mont., wearing a big sombrero, a green Prince Albert coat and high top boots, raised particular hob in a certain place of entertainment.

Whether he did or not is open to dispute, but there can be no dispute about the allegation that he came from Butte.

He did not.

If a man were seen meandering about Butte's streets fixed up in such a rig as described, he would be declared an advertisement for a patent medicine concern, or just a plain freak from some city where they still think Butte is a frontier town.

When it comes to sartorial art, behavior, deportment and any other desirable accomplishment, Butte has those selfsame cities, which happen to be the homes of misinformed and malicious writers, looking like a Siwash Indian at a White House reception.

Any time a Butte man visits another city, it might come to pass that he would make a strenuous kick about being held up, for in many places a man from Butte is regarded as one to be charged double for everything, but when it comes to appearance and manner of general conduct, the natives there might learn a great deal to their advantage from him.

Bad Air—A Product.

Life: While not exclusively a product of the United States, bad air is manufactured in this country in larger quantities than anywhere else.

Yet the supply rarely exceeds the demand, and everybody is building more places where it can be confined and kept within the reach of all.

Everybody is making bad air, working day and night to produce it.

The uses of bad air are innumerable. It is employed to bring up children in, and old people cannot get along without it. Mine owners cry for it, and in the midst of it school children receive their educations. Bad air is not confined to any class. It is cultivated by the rich as well as the poor. It is ajike used by babies and octogenarians. Banks supply it and printing offices are never without it.

Bad air is one of our chief assets.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

A Tax On Mother Love.

Albert Lea Standard: Suppose, says the Madison Press, your mother in Norway should knit you a couple of pairs of stockings and send them to you by mail. Suppose that when the postmaster handed them to you he should collect a dollar and a half should collect $1.50 as the duty under the present tariff, wouldn't that make you hot? Well, that happened in this city a few days ago at the postoffice.

His Hearing Is Dull at That.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Is President Taft getting next to public sentiment anent the tariff bill? He wants $250,000 to pay the commission for making a better one. It takes the genial president quite a while to get his ear to the ground.

The People Are Insurgents.

Cambridge Independent Press: There are a lot of insurgents among the people in Minnesota. That political party bosses simply can't make the people see the "great benefits" to be derived from that trust tariff bill passed by Aldrich and Cannon at the last session of congress. It will pay to heed the wishes of the people.

Scoot! Scoot!

Le Sueur News: The top of the morning to you, Mr. Old Line Party, the insurgent has sway in Minnesota. Scoot!

Do You Think That Difficult?

Albert Lea Times-Enterprise: Perhaps some of those fellows who have been so free in their criticism of President Taft have an idea they could do better on the job themselves.

A Morbid Taste.

Stillwater Gazette: Some people, in fact a great many millions of them, prefer to live in a little cooped-up place called home, in a city, where the leading smell is of cooked cabbage, onions, etc., rather than go out into the broad fields that are open to and waiting for them, where the glad sunshine and the pure air would not only invigorate but prolong a life that would be filled with happiness, enjoyment and contentment. The good things are always awaiting those who go out and seek them.

The Sentiment of the West.

Austin Transcript: The revolution in the national house of representatives against the continued domination of Speaker Cannon may have far-reaching results on national politics, with special reference to the Northwest. The blind politicians in Washington will after a while wake up and find what the real sentiment of the West is.

Nor Will He.

Albert Lea Tribune: Political arithmetic will have to be revised when Theodore Roosevelt gets out on the stump this fall. Never yet has he sulked in his tent.

When the Dressmaker Comes.

When the dressmaker comes I am told
For they don't want me anywhere hanging about;
At seven in the morning they send me away
With: "Don't you come back till the close of the day.
She'll be here for a week, and we've so much to do
That we can't afford to be bothered by you.
So get up and dress,
Eat your breakfast in less
Than a jiffy! She's coming today—clear the track!
Here's your hat. Now, goodbye;
Move along and be spry,
You must hurry away, but, O, don't hurry back."

When the dressmaker comes every room in the place
Is littered with patterns and trimmings and lace;
There are snippings and cuttings from parlor to kitchen,
And stuff on each bed that the women are stitchin';
And never a chair from the time they begin it,
But is sure to have needles and pins sticking in it.
And always they say,
At the coming of day:
"Get up and get out just as quick as you can.
Hurry up now, Skiddoo!
This is no place for you,
When the dressmaker's here we can't fuss for a man."

When the dressmaker comes I am driven from home;
They hand me my hat and command me to roam,
And the meals they do get would arouse Dr. Wiley,
The chops are half cooked and the coffee is "riley,"
And all through the week not a kind word is said
Unto me from the morn 'till I sneak up to bed.
With a mouth full of pins
Thus my darling begins:
"Can't you see we are busy? We've no time for you,
Goodness gracious, please go,
You're delaying us so,
And please don't come back till the dressmaker's through."

"It Is Me."

Joel Benton in New York Evening Post: It is said that some one of Thackeray's friends once asked him, when the locution in my title was under discussion, what he would say if, going to a friend's door, and knocking on it, he got the salutation "Who is there?"

Thackeray replied: "I should certainly say 'It is me'; but if I were writing of a situation of that sort, I should say 'It is I.'"

And, is not this just about what we should all do? We are not living to make or justify a grammar; but very often find it convenient to put our spoken colloquial sentences, as we do our clothes, in loose and easy forms. A pertinent story is told of a very scholarly editor among us. One morning his servant, Bridget, asked him how he was feeling, and he replied: "Oh, I feel good; how are you?" Whereupon she aswered: "I feel very well, thank you." Here the correct usage came from illiterate lips, while the scholarly editor was at once conscious of his own grammatical infelicity. As certain nations—China for instance—have a common people's language, and a literary one vastly different, why may we not all enjoy, sometimes, when we are in more dialogue, the common "illiterary" lingo?

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Pittsburg Post: "What will be fashionable this spring?"

"Whatever they're overstocked with in Paris, I 'spose."

Boston Transcript: Dibbs—Women are invading all kinds of masculine occupations.

Gibbs—There are no women rat catchers yet!

Pittsburg Post: "Why are you so bitter against Uncle Nebuchadnezzar?"

"He lost his money shortly after we named the baby for him."

Washington Star: "What makes the writer use the first person singular so much?"

"He gets a dollar a word, and 'I' is the shortest word there is."

Tit-Bits: The Judge—You say that because of injuries inflicted by your wife you have been unable to pursue your vocation? What is your business, sir?"

"Your honor, I'm a lion tamer."

Chicago Tribune: George (making a call)—Maudie, dear, the parrot doesn't seem to like me any too well this evening. What have I done to offend him?

The Parrot—Jamah, am I the first girl you ever kissed?

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Yes, I do most of my work at night now."

"What is the reason?"

"Why, I'm a Wileyite, and cook my food four hours, and being a Fletcherite, it takes me three hours to eat it."

Washington Herald: "I wish the landlady would get a blond cook."

"Why?"

"Oh, I like to see the butter match the hair."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Just notice how that young actress sips from her glass of water! Isn't that funny? See her throw her head back. Just like a bird, isn't it?"

"Yes. She wants to play the second hen in the English version of the Ikstand barnyard drama."

Chicago Post: "Ah, Mr. Jimsol!" exclaims the kittenish lady with the plenitude of power on her face, "you must remember I am a daughter of Eve."

"Well, honestly," replies the blundering man, "you don't look half that old."

Boston Transcript: He—Have you ever noticed what small feet Miss Fetcham has?

She (jealous)—No, but I've observed what small shoes she wears.

Pittsburg Post: "Now they have perfected a mechanical contrivance for setting up tenpins."

"Well, well! What next?"

"Oh, I suppose a device for knocking them down."

New York Sun: Achilles explained his vulnerability. "Just like a woman!" he cried. "Ma was so dead set on washing my ears that she overlooked my heel." Thus the famous immunity bath proved a fizzle.

Punch: Londonese: Coster—'Ere, wot abaht it?

Hawker—Wot abaht wot?

Coster—Wot abaht wot yer said abaht me?

Hawker—Well, wot abaht it? (And so on).

Cassell's Journal: "They say that Stevenson frequently worked a whole afternoon on a single line."

"That's nothing. I know a man who has been working the last six years on one sentence."

Peary and the Pole.

Life: Commander Peary has just been awarded a pension of $5,000 from the government upon his retirement next year.

At first blush it would seem as if a real achievement ought in itself to be the only point worth considering in a reputation. And yet real achievement is often likely to take second place in comparison with other things which seem of small consequence.

Why is it almost any circle of average Americans when one ventures the statement that he doesn't believe Peary discovered the pole anyway, any more than Cook, that this remark, instead of being received with disapproval, will usually be received with pleasure? It is because there is a general feeling that Peary did not conduct himself well, and, in the public eye, this in some subtle manner seems to be really more important than what Peary did. What greater tribute could there be to the supreme importance of good manners?

Peary was disagreeable about it. Moreover, he displayed a spirit certainly the reverse of magnanimous when he refused to allow any other white man to accompany him to the pole. This was long before he knew that the priority of his claim would be disputed.

On the whole, there seems to be a conviction that Peary did discover the pole.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A good fellow downtown usually evens it up by being disagreeable at home.

When a man gets caught making a fool of himself he thinks he was one only because he got caught.

The way rich men can get into everything in this world makes you suspicious St. Peter will treat them the same in the next.

When a man is willing to give up a baseball game to go to a reception with his wife she has caught him doing something much worse.

All the fun for some people in going to the theater is driving everybody else wild by explaining in loud whispers what is going to happen next.

CHIEF WANTS AUTOMOBILE

Randall Says It Would Save Money for Fire Department.

Joseph Randall, chief of the fire department wants an automobile.

He wants a real gasoline cart of the genuine buzzing variety sometimes called a devil wagon.

The chief will likely put in a request for the article at the council meeting next Monday or the week following, with a statement of his reasons for the same accompanying it.

The board of fire commissioners believes that Chief Randall should have an automobile in which to make his runs to the fires in different parts of the city. But the board cannot buy the machine without the consent of the aldermen, and on those grounds the matter is being put up directly to the city fathers.

His predecessor, the late John T. Black, wanted an automobile for the department, but he was turned down every time he asked for it. The aldermen couldn't see it under any consideration. Whether the same results will follow Chief Randall's request is uncertain. Anyhow he's going to ask for it.

The police department now has two automobiles, one in the shape of the regular patrol wagon, and the other a big Franklin, six-cylinder touring car. The policemen say that they do not understand how they got along without them for such a long time. They find them almost indispensable and state that they have done more to improve the efficiency of the police force than any other thing which has been done for them in years.

Now the board of public works comes forth with the whispered announcement that some kind broker is willing to give them one of his machines. They have not divulged who this charitable man is, but they state that there is no doubt but that they will be joy riding about the streets of the city in a comparatively short time as well as the policemen. The latter also received their Franklin as a gift and up to date have preserved the identity of the donor, refusing to make it public.

The fire department officials feel that they need one in their work. The city is spread over a lot of territory and they have to cover many miles every month to answer the many alarms. They believe that it would be economy for the city to purchase a machine and will be able to give positive figures of the saving which can be made by presenting the figures of the police department, which has made a considerable sum for the city by cutting down the expense of keeping up the horses formerly in service.

If you can shrink your head one-sixteenth in size, very well—otherwise the Gordon stiff in one-sixteenth sizes is the hat for you.

BIG SEAL CATCH IN SOUTHERN WATERS.

Halifax, N. S., April 4.—After a voyage that covered 20,000 miles, the Halifax sealing schooner Latooka, Capt. Ryan, is back in port today. Her catch is worth $30,000. The Latooka went further south than latitude 60, and touched at Islands not visited for eighty years before. She is the first of the fleet to return from Southern waters.

Gored To Death By Steer.

Lancaster, Ky., April 4. — Garret Woods, a farmer living near Lancaster, was attacked by a vicious steer Sunday and gored to death before help could reach him. His two little daughters witnessed the tragedy.

Caisse Funeral.

The funeral of Antoine Caisse, 75 years old, who died unexpectedly last week on board one of the tugs of the Zenith Dredging company at the foot of Thirteenth avenue west, took place this morning from the French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment was at Calvary cemetery. Old age was the chief cause of his death. Mr. Caisse was a Grand Army veteran, and members of Willis A. Gorman post attended the funeral.

May Choose Librarian.

A successor to Miss Lydia Poirier, as librarian of the Duluth public library, may be chosen at a meeting of the library board this afternoon. The matter will come before the board, but none of the members were able to say whether any definite action would be taken.

Two Cars of Potatoes Sold.

Two cars of exceptionally fine Burbank potatoes were unloaded by the Producers' Co-operative Market association. The Duluth Marine Supply company took one car and the Barthe-Martin company bought the other. The potatoes are extra choice grades and brought good prices in a depressed market.

ESCAPED BY BACK DOOR

While the police pounded in vain on the side door of the Coliseum saloon, 11 East Superior street, the proprietor, Ben Vail, was letting the men inside, out the back door yesterday afternoon, according to the report at police headquarters this morning.

The side door is found by going through a narrow passage between the buildings at 9 and 11 East Superior street. It is just wide enough for a man to get through and unless one took particular notice the opening would be passed unobserved. It's a "hole in the wall," and only the initiated are supposed to know anything about it.

The report is that Capt. Fiskett and Detective Toewe went into the passageway and saw the proprietor standing at the door. When within about ten feet of him it seems that Vail told the captain that couldn't come in, and jumping inside, slammed and locked the door.

Having failed to anticipate being seen by the proprietor, the police had not stationed any one at the back door, and they couldn't reach it without going clear around to the alley as the end was boarded up. While they stood in the dark they said they could hear the men rushing and falling over one another to get to the outside. They say that they are certain that Vail had been doing business, but not having enough evidence they will be obliged to let the case go.

DULUTH WOMAN HEIR OF RECLUSE

Mrs. Jules Durage, 711 East Fourth street, is one of four heirs surviving Ezra Richards, an aged recluse, who died recently in Binghamton, N. Y., leaving a fortune thought to be $100,000 or more. Mrs. Durage is a neice of the dead man and there are three other heirs, her brother, James R. Edson of Minneapolis; her sister, Mrs. Warren Anable of Los Angeles, and a cousin, Frank Merrill of St. Louis.

Mrs. Durage does not know yet whether her uncle left a will or whether he died intestate. Mr. Edson, immediately on being notified of his uncle's death and that he would receive part of the fortune, left for Binghamton to settle up the affairs of the estate. Mrs. Durage has not yet heard from him, so she does not know whether she will come in for part of the fortune.

Ezra Richards was an eccentric recluse. He was over 80 years old and lived all alone on his estate. He never married and his sole mania was the accumulation of money. He satisfied the mania to some extent. Published reports say that the estate left by Richards is believed to be worth about $75,000, but Mrs. Durage says she believes it will prove to be much more, as her uncle had been accumulating money for many years and she never heard that he suffered any financial reverses.

Mrs. Durage did not see her uncle since she was a child, but she has corresponded with him, as had other members of the family.

Mrs. Durage expects to hear from her brother in a few days as to the disposition to be made of the estate.

BOY DRAGGED TO DEATH.

Ties Rope Fastened to Colt About His Waist With Fatal Result.

Fargo, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 9-year-old son of Alexander Gross, a farmer living ten miles north of Anamoose, McHenry county, was dragged to death by a colt. He was leading the colt to water by the halter and had tied the rope to his own waist. The colt became frightened and dragged the boy to death half a mile across a field to where Mr. Gross was plowing.

FARGO IMPLEMENT MEN BENEFITED BY NEW RATE.

Fargo, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo dealers in agricultural impements are rejoicing over the new transit rate put in effect by the railroads for this point.

Goods shipped here from Eastern factories are afterwards billed out in carload lots by the same roads to interior points and freight charges to interior points is only the difference from the original starting point to the destination with rate to Fargo.

This places the local dealers in an ideal position and will mean the establishment of at least a dozen more transfer houses in Fargo.

To Meet at Marinette.

Marinette, Wis., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The third annual convention of the Marinette County Sunday school convention will be held in Marinette, April 15 and 16.

FOR "DULUTH BEAUTIFUL"

Central Park to Be Made on Courthouse Square.

Wednesday the county commissioners, as a committee of the whole, will meet with representatives of civic bodies to decide on the plans made by a Minneapolis architect for the beautifying of the ground surrounding the new courthouse.

The plans as prepared are very elaborate. They call for winding paths, shrubs, trees, flowers, hedges and everything that would go to make a beautiful park out of the present unsightly surroundings.

It will, in all probability, be some years before the new federal building and city hall will be erected on the ground purchased for that purpose and in the meantime it is proposed to make the grounds as sightly as possible.

The ground at Fourth avenue west and First street has been an eyesore to Duluthians for some months, and the action of the commissioners in taking steps to beautify it meets with the hearty approval of all those interested in a "Duluth Beautiful."

The plans in the rough were sent here some time ago, but they were returned to the architect for finishing. He will be on hand Wednesday morning to explain them to the board, and to make an estimate as to the cost.

Thursday the county board will hold its regular monthly meeting.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

THE CURLERS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Tonight at the Commercial club the annual banquet and election of officers of the Duluth Curling club will be held. The presentation of the several prizes will also be made.

The banquet is the big windup of the season's curling. It is an event that is looked forward to with much pleasure by the curlers.

There will be a program of speeches, songs and several gifted members of the club will do various mirth provoking stunts.

It is probable that the much discussed new building will be talked over and some other business may come up.

Kling Does Not Show Up.

Louisville, Ky., April 4. — Neither President Charles Murphy of the Chicago Nationals, nor Manager Chance today had heard from Catcher Kling, who, it was understood, was to report in Louisville yesterday. The club goes to Indianapolis tonight.

SUPERIOR

CAROUSAL HAS FATAL ENDING

A fall over a low railing on the porch of his rooming house to death on the sidewalk marked the end of a drunken spree, in which Arthur Fredericksen, 40 years old and unmarried, of 510 John avenue, participated Saturday night.

His lifeless form was picked up by friends in front of his rooming house yesterday morning about 6 o'clock. No one saw the accident, but it is supposed that he came home badly intoxicated about 1:30 a. m. yesterday, and in an attempt to unlock the door, stumbled over the porch railing to his death.

Parties who saw Fredericksen earlier in the evening say that he had been out with friends and had become intoxicated. Fredericksen has been a resident of Superior for a number of years. During the past eleven years he has been employed with the Superior Manufacturing company as a shipping clerk.

He is survived by a brother and sister, both of whom reside in Superior. The funeral arrangements will be made today.

FLOATER IS UNIDENTIFIED

With nothing on his person to identify him, the body of a man, apparently about 40 years old, was found floating in Tower bay slip yesterday afternoon by a workman named Newberg. The police recovered the body and removed it to the undertaking rooms of A. Le Sage.

The body was in a very advanced stage of decomposition when found. It was clothed in a dark colored coat, dark shirt and overalls over the underwear. The man also wore high top shoes, he evidently having been a woodsman. The head was slightly bald. In the pockets were found two handkerchiefs.

The burial will be made today without any inquest, as the body shows no signs of foul play.

Gun Club Active.

Members of the Superior Gun club held the first shoot of the season yesterday afternoon. Seven events were pulled off, five of them being 10-shot events. The other two were 15-bird events. In the last event which was for a trophy, Du Frehn's team won. It is probable that the shoots will be held every Sunday.

Wins Trophy.

Although losers in the race for state championship of high school basketball teams in the tournament at Appleton, Wis., the Nelson Dewey high school aggregation was awarded the silver trophy cup which is given to the team which has the best appearance and conduct during the tournament. The Superior players returned yesterday.

Large Class Admitted.

At a joint initiation of the Duluth and Superior lodges of the Knights of Columbus order, held last evening at the Sacred Heart auditorium, seventy-four candidates were admitted. Three degrees were given, in which teams from Superior, Duluth and St. Paul participated.

Thief Took $47.

A thief entered the rear door of a lower Cumming avenue resort last night and made away with $47 in cash, the property of one of the inmates, according to the story of the proprietor of the resort, Belle Cline, of 101 Cumming avenue.

The Cline woman claims that the money was left in a cigar box, and that during the night a thief entered by the rear door taking the cigar box and contents away with him.

Acreage Brings $15,600.

W. C. Bobinson has purchased from E. F. McCausland fifty-six acres located a quarter of a mile south of Itasca and which adjoins the terminal yards of the Omaha. The consideration was $15,613. The property is considered a fine site for a manufacturing concern.

HEAVY LIST FOR AMERICA

The steamer America will leave for Porth Arthur Wednesday. There is a heavy passenger list booked for the boat, many waiting until the America left rather than go on the Moore.

Officials of the Booth company state there are indications of the heaviest passenger business in the history of the Head of the Lakes between Port Arthur, Isle Royale and Duluth points. The increase in activities between Duluth and Port Arthur will, it is believed, result in making both the passenger and freight service heavier than ever before.

The steamer Crescent, which last season was in the ferry service, is being fitted out. The boat is over at this side of the bay at the present time. According to the statement of the crew today, the boat will go into service up the north shore the coming season.

There were no tugs in commission this morning, no boats being transferred. There are quite a few boats that will be transferred to this side of the bay the present week, however.

First Boat to Menominee.

Menominee, Mich., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Bon Ami of the Heart Transportation company was the first boat to make this port this season.

THE MARKET WAS ERRATIC

Buying Movement Followed Weak Opening---Decline at the Close.

Coppers opened weak and after an initial decline up on heavy buying by professionals who were prepared for a favorable decision in the American Tobacco case. When the decision was not forthcoming the buyers dumped their purchases on the market which dropped to opening levels and in most instances fractionally lower.

Trading was moderately heavy and was almost wholly speculative on the possibility of the supreme court's forthcoming decision being rendered today. Tobacco shares advanced $26 on the New York curb before it was definitely learned that a decision would not be given.

On the local exchange trading was active, but specialized, the activity being confined to the full Savanna, Calumet & Montana and Calumet & Corbin. A block of 3,000 shares of the full paid Savanna was sold for $4.

Butte Alex-Scott sold at $3.50; Red Warrior at $2.25; Shattuck at $29 to $29.12½; Warrior at $12.62½; Calumet & Montana at 89 and 90 cents; Calumet & Corbin at 90 to 93 cents; Carman at $1; Keating at $1.25 to $1.31¼; Sierra at $3.25.

Amalgamated sold at $74.87½ to $76.-25 to 74.75; Calumet & Arizona at $67 to $69 and back to $67; Butte Coalition at $23.25 to $23.12½; North Butte at $35 to 35.50 and down to $34.50; Greene at $9.50; Giroux at $8.37½ to $8.50 to $8.25; Superior & Pittsburg at $13.62½ and down to $13.25.

James W. Norton, vice president and general manager of the Calumet & Sonora Mining company was elected president to succeed Jerome E. Cooley, who resigned, at a meeting of the directors in the company's offices in the Sellwood building Saturday afternoon. Mr. Cooley had been president for the last three years and Mr. Norton was unanimously chosen to succeed him.

A. L. Warner was chosen vice president. The executive committee appointed by the president is composed of James W. Norton, H. W. Coffin, Dwight E. Woodbridge, J. E. Cooley and A. L. Warner, chairman. The other officers are Bernard Silberstein, second vice president; H. B. Eva, secretary. The directors include the officers and the following: R. P. Burgen of Pittsburg, J. E. Cooley, W. D. Underhill, H. W. Coffin Dwight E. Woodbridge and A. E. Prudden.

The forthcoming annual report of the Superior & Pittsburg will be of considerable interest to stockholders as it will show the success that has attended the company's efforts to apply its earnings to the liquidation of its indebtedness. The problem of handling the water inflow at this property, has been fairly solved and as normal conditions applying to production, governed throughout the last year, the showing in the way of costs will be fair criterion of what may be expected in the future.

The Superior & Pittsburg does not give indications of becoming notable as a low-cost producer but it possesses valuable and extensive ore supplies which is more important. Low costs are an inviting feature but investors are beginning to look into the future as recent events, such as the collapse in Granby, have taught investors a costly lesson. Current monthly earnings of the Superior & Pittsburg have been estimated at $100,000 which falls short of dividend requirements on a basis of $1 per share yearly. Indications point to increased production before the dividend era is entered upon.

RAILROADS

SOO PLANNING MORE DIRECT DULUTH LINE

Grand Forks, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Railroad construction work, which will have an important bearing upon the jobbing and general commercial interests of Duluth, is being considered by the Soo railroad. Two surveying crews have been sent out to work on a line that will connect the so-called "Wheat line" with the main line to the Head of the Lakes.

The surveying crews are at work between Medford, Walsh county, and Drake, McHenry county, on a line which will bring about the direct shipment of grain from the central west portions of North Dakota to Duluth. This line will be about 160 miles in length and will pass through Devils Lake. It goes through portions of Walsh, Nelson, Ramsey, Benson, Pierce and McHenry counties, a district abundantly rich in grain producing qualities and which, while already well supplied with railroad facilities, would also give the company considerable business.

Some time ago the Soo line started out a surveying crew from Viking, Minn., toward Grand Forks. Since that time sight of this crew has been lost, and it is not known now just where it is located. The Viking-Grand Forks line, it was believed, was to have been extended to Courtney, Stutsman county, thus affording a connecting line between the main line and the wheat line which would have the same effect as the line from Medford to Drake.

May Build Both Lines.

Some believe that the Soo proposes to build both of these lines. It is admitted that there is a splendid territory for a railroad southwest of Grand Forks, and the business interests of this city have been hopeful for many years of bringing about the construction of a railroad that would tap that territory. The proposed Grand Forks to Courtney line would run through Grand Forks, Steele, Griggs and Stutsman county, and would cross the Great Northern lines twice and the Northern Pacific lines once.

Neither of these newly proposed lines would traverse a country that is so well equipped with railroad facilities as was the district through which the wheat line was placed.

The effect of the construction of these two newly proposed lines upon the commercial interests of the city of Duluth would be very great. At the present time all the grain from along the main line of the Soo road is shipped into the Twin Cities, and the shipments from that district are extremely heavy. To divert this stream of grain to the Head of the Lakes is evidently the object of the Soo road, and if it is accomplished Duluth would be in fair position to benefit.

The company may also build another line from Courtney to Washburn and one from Plaza to Williston. Both of these lines are contemplated for the purpose of beating other roads to new territory, and both surveys have already been made.

FREIGHT OFFICE TO BE MOVED

The local freight offices of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will be operated in connection with the local freight office of the Soo in the very near future, the South Shore freight office being moved from Fifth avenue west to the Soo freight depot at Tenth avenue west and Railroad street.

It is believed in some quarters here that it is only a question of time until the interests of the two roads at the Head of the Lakes will be merged. In fact there was a story to this effect a year ago. The moving of the South Shore freight office to the depot of the Soo, may be a straw that denotes the direction of future plans.

The Canadian Pacific controls both the Soo and Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. With the completion of the many details of the entrance of the Soo to this city, it is believed by not a few railroad men that the interests of the two roads will be more or less consolidated and the business here put under one head. The placing of the two freight offices together is the first move in the direction of the rumored intent.

THOMAS WILSON IS FOUND DEAD

St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—Thomas Wilson, chief justice of the Minnesota supreme court from 1865 to 1869 was found dead Sunday in the bathroom of his apartments at the Aberdeen hotel. Heart disease is given as the cause of death. Mr. Wilson served in congress from 1887 to 1889 and since 1892 had been chief counsel of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway.

APPROVES OF TERMINAL PLAN

"I hope that the plans for a new terminal system in Duluth can be carried out," said C. E. Wales, vice president of the Pittsburg Coal company, yesterday. Mr. Wales secured the terminal ground at the Head of the Lakes for the Soo line.

"The fact that money has been expended in terminals here should not interfere with any good, comprehensive plans for the extension or alteration of present terminal facilities. By early action it will be possible to avoid large and unnecessary expenditures which might be necessary if the city waited until an emergency arose.

"The new coal wharf which is being constructed on Rice's Point for the Pittsburg Coal company will be the largest at the Head of the Lakes," said Mr. Wales. "It will have a storage capacity of 1,000,000 tons and handling capacity of 2000,000 tons a season."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILL SETTLE VEXED POINT

Over Responsibility for Cost of Repairing Crookston Service Pipes.

Water Company and Patrons Disagree as to Who Should Bear Cost.

Crookston, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city of Crookston, property owners and the Crookston Waterworks Power & Light company, soon will maneuver in litigation to determine responsibility for the maintenance of the services pipes leading from the watering mains in the street to the property line.

During the recent fire which destroyed one of the E. M. Walsh residences in Highland park, the high pressure was turned on at the power house as is customary during fires. Something went wrong with the hydrant and water could not be secured for several minutes and it is claimed that a score or more of breaks in service pipes occurred as a result of the high pressure for some time before the water was released from the balky hydrant. The waterworks company shut off the water with the gates where the service pipes tap the mains, and the property owners, with one exception made the repairs.

D. H. Turder, a well-known resident of Houston avenue was out of the city at the time, but returned Saturday evening and discovered that the water had been shut off from his residence for a week during his absence, causing a great deal of inconvenience. He at once attached a hose to the tap for lawn sprinkling on the Charles Lohn property adjoining, and attached the other end to his residence pipe and now has water, but proposes to have the vexed question determined as to who should make the repairs in the service pipes. It is specially important that the matter should be settled in the courts before any more paving is done, as repairs after that will be very costly. In all the recent breaks the service pipes were found to be very badly rusted, being very old connections.

IS ELECTION DAY IN NORTH DAKOTA

People in Various Cities of Neighboring State Selecting Officers.

Bismarck, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today is election day in North Dakota, all incorporated cities naming their officers. In many of them rather heated campaigns are being brought to a close with today's election, the contests on the mayoralties being somewhat interesting. All cities are not electing mayors, but the majority of the largest ones are. In others members of the council and the several minor city officers only are being named.

Following are the mayoralty candidates in several cities where campaigns have been more than usually interesting:

Fargo—W. D. Sweet, V. R. Lovell and James Hodges.
Grand Forks—M. F. Murphy and Dr. H. M. Wheeler
Rugby—H. C. Lander and O. T. Tufsrud.
Devils Lake—Fred J. Traynor and Attorney P. J. McClory.
Kenmare—John M. Howland and Percy Cole.
Arieta—W. E. Smith and T. H. Wade.
Valley City—C. H. Lee, Hugh McDonald and Dr. L. S. Plateau
Jamestown—Pierce Blewett and H. W. Kelly.

In several cities there are no contests, and after today the following will be mayors in those respective cities: Grafton, J. E. Grey; Minto, R. M. Evans.

MR. LARSEN RE-ELECTED.

Cass Lake School Board Retains Present Head of Schools.

Cass Lake, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the school board Saturday night the superintendent and teachers who are to serve for the ensuing year were selected. Supt. P. M. Larsen, the head of the school for several years, was re-elected for another term of one year, Miss Alice Pierson, the high school principal, was re-elected, and Miss Viola Spencer was re-elected high school teacher. The board has not selected a teacher for the commercial department. The grade teachers selected are as follows: First, Carma Anderson; second, Elizabeth Lestico; third, Audie Foote; fourth, Gertrude Muhlenmeister; fifth, Anna Olson; sixth, Carrie Ross; seventh, Etta Silbneberger; eighth, Marion Hunt. Ethel Barbour will again have charge of the kindergarten and Mabel Hart will officiate in the South side school.

The following, who have taught during the past year, tendered their resignations and have in most cases accepted other positions: Ruth Huggett, Anna Bjoin, Genevieve Smith, Margaret Ireland and Ellen Quinn.

WHITE'S FORGERIES AMOUNT TO $40,000

Former Stark County, North Dakota, Auditor Faces Serious Charge.

Dickinson, N. D., April 4.—The experts have finished the examination of the Stark county alleged warrant forgeries and find the amount alleged forged by Former Auditor J. S. White, while in office from the spring of 1903 to last fall, is $40,000. Of this amount $9,000 is now held by local banks and there is about $3,000 held by individuals who do not present their bad paper.

The county board has refused payment on all of the outstanding questioned warrants, but some attorneys say the courts will decide this a liability against the county.

Twenty-eight thousand dollars' worth of the forged paper has been redeemed by the county treasurer, and it is not likely the taxpayers will ever get any relief on this amount.

Up to 1903, J. S. White was county treasurer for four years, and it is charged he was short as treasurer, and that when he stepped into the auditor's office, his first forgeries, amounting to nearly $1,000 the first week of his tenure, were for the purpose of replacing a shortage in the office he had left.

White forged, the experts say, a good deal the first few years in the office and then he seemed to let up a little, but the last year was worse than ever, the alleged shortage amounting to $8,000.

The case against White will be taken up at the regular court term in May.

PLUNGES OFF A CLIFF.

Otisville, Minn., Farmer Winds Up Spree in Tragic Manner.

Stillwater, Minn., April 4.—Mangled and with his skull crushed in from a fall of eighty feet, the body of Dennis Olson was found in the bottom of a rocky ravine, near Otisville, Saturday afternoon by two men of a party searching for him since his disappearance a week ago.

Olson, a farmer living near Otisville, came into town last Monday on a spree, it is said, and when last seen was in an intoxicated condition. When he did not return home his wife became alarmed, as it was known he had often talked of suicide. The towns of Marine and Otisville were both notified, and both sent out searching parties, but until the find of Saturday no trace had been heard of the missing man.

BREWER IS GRATFUL.

Sends Check to Crookston Firemen for Prompt Work Saturday.

Crookston, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. E. Klewel, whose brewery was scorched Saturday morning by a fire in the fourth story which would have put the plant out of commission had it not been for the splendid work of the fire department, yesterday mailed Chief T. R. Johnstone a check for $100 as a present to the firemen who checked the flames so quickly that the brewery was shut down for but half a day, and the total damages confined to not over $5,000. A fire which would have put the brewery out of commission at this season of the year would have meant a disastrous loss of business for the balance of the summer.

TO DEVELOP PEAT LANDS.

Concern Organized to Put Up Big Briquetting Plant.

Crookston, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Peat Fuel Manufacturing company has filed a deed for 240 acres of peat land near Fertile, the consideration being $60,000. The offices of the new company, which has just incorporated, will be in Minneapolis, and the first annual meeting will be held there May 2. The capitalization is $250,000, and work will be started at once on a big briquetting plant. The peat is dried by a part air and part steam process; and the product will be put on the market to compete with coal, the fibrous portion being separated and baled for use in cities as stable litter, being both a disinfectant and an absorbent. The product will be ready for the market early next fall.

RED LAKE COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Superintendent's Annual Reports Makes Interesting Reading.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the annual report of County Superintendent H. F. Anderson of Red Lake county, there are 2,154 pupils enrolled in the country schools of the county and of this number all but 495 are entitled to apportionment.

The total enrollment in all of the schools of the county, city, village and country, is 4,397. Of the pupils in high and graded schools 1,592 are entitled to apportionment. The average number of days attended by pupils in the country schools is 76, in the high and graded schools 135. There are 20 men and 143 women teaching in the public schools.

The average monthly wages for men in the country schools is $39.46, in the high schools $72.67; for women in the country schools $34.09, in the high schools $50.16. Of the teachers employed 31 are high school graduates, 31 normal school graduates and 9 college graduates. One hundred and seven of the districts loan free text books; 7 districts sell text books at cost. There are 47 school libraries in the county and 1,155 volumes for school libraries were purchased during the year. The average length of the school year is 7.1 months.

The average of taxation for country schools is 11.2 mills; for high schools 21.9 mills.

SUPERIOR MAN INJURED ON NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Detroit, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—John McIntyre, an engineer employed on the Northern Pacific ditcher which has been at work at McHugh during the past week, had his left hand badly mangled last week. He was engaged in placing a rail when some one started the engine and the wheels passed over his hand, entirely severing the thumb and badly crushing the balance of his hand. His home is at Superior, to which place he went the following day.

Early Trouters Fined.

New Richmond, Wis., April 4.—Ernest and Herman Kreisel and two Smith brothers, residing near Elmwood, were arrested by Deputy Game Warden Andrew Hope of Hammond, while spearing and netting trout in Cady creek. Arraigned before Justice John A. Martin in Spring Valley, each paid a fine of $25 and costs.

AUTOMOBILIST SUED.

Owner of Horse Killed By Machine Seeks $10,060.

Marinette, Wis., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank E. Noyes is defendant in a $10,000 damage suit brought by Christopher W. Schutte of Wallace, who claims $10,000 as the result of injuries he claims he received July 29, last, when an automobile in which the defendant was riding and which was owned by him, injured a horse the plaintiff was riding.

The plaintiff claims the machine struck the horse, threw it down and broke its leg, and caused the plaintiff to fall and receive injuries which caused him great physical distress.

WOMAN'S DEATH MAY END SUIT AGAINST SON.

Marinette, Wis., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The death of Mrs. Mary Lopezki may complicate the case which is pending in the circuit court against her son John Prudall, who is held to trial under bonds of $1,000. It is charged that he committed assault and battery upon his mother Sept. 4, last, breaking her arm and inflicting other injuries. The woman was over 90 years of age, but before her death seemed to have recovered from the injuries alleged to have been inflicted by her son.

MILLINER WINS CLAIM FOLLOWING A CONTEST.

Dickinson, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—In her contest against C. F. Merry, Miss Laura C. Mogan, a milliner of Hillsboro, N. D., was successful before the department of the interior and unless Merry takes an appeal, she will be given the right to file on a splendid homestead located southeast of Dickinson. In her contest she contended that Merry had failed to establish a residence on the claim, only being there about one day each year. During the time that he was supposed to be proving up on the claim, Merry is said to have had his home in Dickinson. Merry is very well known through this part of the state.

Big Sheep Sheds Burn.

Winona, Minn., April 4.—One of the most spectacular fires in years destroyed the mammoth sheep sheds on the old Hamilton, in the extreme eastern limits of Winona. The sheds were filled with hundreds of tons of hay.

To Start Mille Lacs Boats.

Wahkon, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Madsen has arrived from Duluth to begin to get things in readiness for the opening of navigation. He will be master of the Luella again this season.

Is Out on Probation.

Carrington, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a sentence of from one to five years hanging over his head, Henry Buchmaster, who pleaded guilty in the district court here to a charge of grand larceny, will have to travel the straight and narrow path for some time to come. Buchmaster was given his liberty by Judge Goss on condition that he make monthly reports of his conduct; that he remain within the boundaries of Foster county and that he at once secure a position.

Morton County Suspects Murder.

Mandan, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evidence that murder was done in a railroad camp near New Leipzig has been discovered by officials of Morton county in connection with the death of an unknown laborer found in the vicinity of an engineering party camp. The nature of the injuries which were seemingly the cause of death are such as to give rise to the murder theory. A thorough sifting out of the case is assured.

Depositors to Get Little.

Lakota, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)Depositors of the People's State Bank of Lakota, which recently closed its doors, will not be able to realize very heavily, according to a statement just made by the depositors' committee. The committee shows that the majority of the bank's securities are worthless, and, that because of the very loose manner in which books have been kept, there seems to be little chance of learning where the money has gone.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Menominee—Golf in March was experienced this year for the first time in the history of the local links.

Wahpeton, N. D.—The Interstate Produce and Cold Storage company was incorporated the past week with a capital of $50,000. The new company absorbs the well-known Wahpeton Produce company, and the following officers were elected to direct the policies of the business: L. H. Benedict, president; H. Boettcher, vice president, and M. E. Benedict, secretary and treasurer.

Fargo, N. D.—The Fargo, Grand Forks and the Winnipeg theaters belonging to the Walker Bros. may change hands. C. P. Walker has had several propositions submitted for the purchase of theaters in different cities. Mr. Walker has always declined to sell one unless he could dispose of all, as he can operate the entire string almost as easily as he can look after one or two.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Moorhead—An insanity board consisting of Judge of Probate Sharp, County Attorney Johnson and Doctors Darows and Awty, examined into the mental condition of Gerhard W. Nickel, a young man 28 years of age, who was brought over from Ulen. The board found Nickel insane and he was committed to the insane asylum at Fergus Falls.

St. Cloud—Rt. Rev. Bishop James Trobece celebrated Pontifical high mass at the Church of the Immaculate Conception Sunday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock, and in the afternoon the bishop confirmed a large class of young people.

Stillwater — Fire did considerable damage Thursday morning to the general store of A. W. Johnson at Forest Lake. The stock of goods was heavily damaged by fire and smoke. The building was only partially destroyed. The fire department of the village saved the property from further damage.

Warroad — Mrs. Honest John, a squaw, went throuh the ice recently while crossing the lake from Buffalo Point to Warroad, and was with difficulty saved from drowning by her husband, who is himself partially paralyzed.

St. Cloud—The Great Northern road has decided to enlarge its roundhouse in this city, and will put in a "wash-out" plant for its engines. Since the division was removed to Melrose the work of washing out the engines has been done at that point, and the number of engines used in the switch yards between Willmar and Sandstone has been largely increased.

Gary—Mrs. Frank Finney, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nils Hiletad of Bear Park, left for Duluth, where she will join her husband, from where they will go to their home at Hibbing.

Brainerd—Howard T. Skinner, for many years a clerk in the office of the division storekeeper of the Northern Pacific railway at this place, has tendered his resignation and will leave for the West soon. He has accepted a position to create a store department for the North Coast Railroad company, which is building into North Yakima, Wash.

Warren — County Attorney W. J. Brown has returned home from Grygla, where he made the necessary arrangements for opening the new state bank at that place. The new bank will fill a long felt want of the settlers in the eastern part of the county.

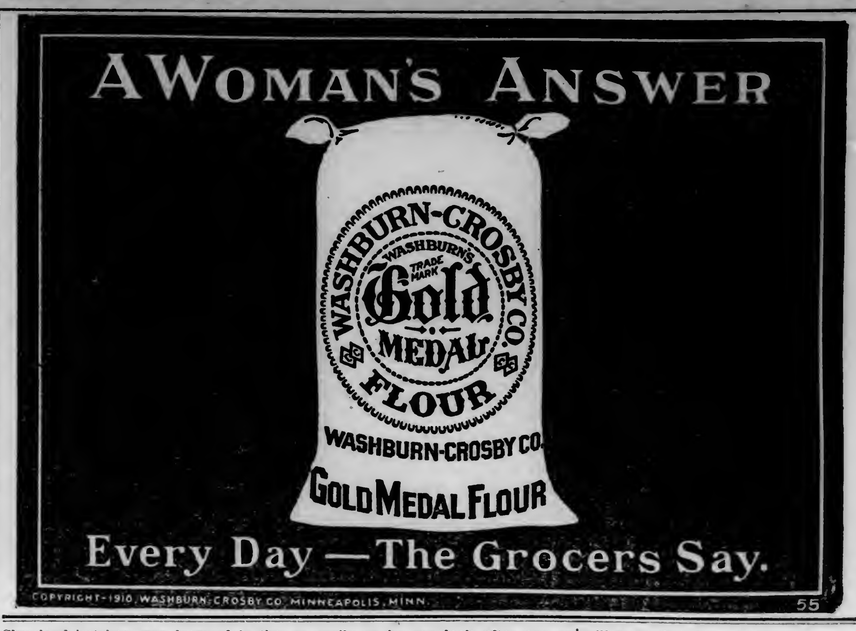

Roseau—Licenses have been granted to Nick Hagen and Archie L. Alley to sell liquor at retail, and both opened up for business Monday of last week. Roseau has been dry for over a year and the general effect of license as against no license will be compared and watched with interest. The two saloons brought $2,500 revenue to the village.

East Grand Forks—April 15 the board of health will inspect the city to see if the recent order has been complied with requiring all to clean up.

Red Lake Falls—The house owned by Alex Wolf and located in the southern limits of the city was burned Wednesday afternoon. The house was so far out that it was impossible for the firemen to get water to it, and the building burned to the ground in a short time and it was impossible to save much of the household goods. The house was insured for $600.

Crookston—The Crookston Water Works, Power & Light company has closed a deal for the purchase of the J. R. Clements property at the corner of Main and Robert streets. This includes 75 feet frontage on Main street and 100 feet on Robert street.

Altkin—The town of Lakeside, Altkin county, will hold a special town meeting on April 9, for the purpose of voting on the question of issuing bonds in the sum of $500 with which to take up the floating indebedness of the township.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

BURDENS LIFTED FROM BAD BACKS

Weary is the back that bears the burden of kidney ills. There's no rest or peace for the man or woman who has a bad back. The distress begins in early morning. You feel lame and not refreshed. It's hard to get out of bed. It hurts to stoop to tie your shoes. All day the ache keeps up. Any sudden movement sends sharp twinges through the back. It is torture to stoop and straighten. At night the sufferer retires to toss and twist and groan. Backache is kidney ache—a throbbing, dull aching in the kidneys. Plasters or liniments won't do. You must get at the cause, inside.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE SICK KIDNEYS

DULUTH PROOF

J. H. Tomlin, 112 East Palmetto street, Duluth, Minn., says: "I am only too pleased to tell of the benefit I received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. A severe attack of kidney complaint clung to me for two years and finally my back became so lame and sore that I was obliged to lay off from work for days at a time. Whenever I brought the slightest strain on the muscles of the loins, my suffering became almost unbearable. The kidney secretions were also irregular in passage and on this account, I could not get my proper rest at night. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of these difficulties in a short time and I am glad to say that the cure has been permanent."

How To Tell When the Kidneys Are Disordered--

Painful Symptoms: Backache, sideache, pains when stooping or lifting, sudden sharp twinges, rheumatic pains, neuralgia, painful, scanty or too frequent urination, dizzy spells, dropsy.

Urinary Symptoms: Discolored or cloudy urine. Urine that contains sediment. Urine that stains the linen. Painful passages. Blood or shreds in the urine. Let a bottle of the morning urine stand for 24 hours. If it shows a cloudy or fleecy settling, or a layer of fine grains, like brick dust, the kidneys are probably disordered.

DULUTH PROOF

Mrs. W. F. Humerichous, 109 Twenty-seventh avenue, Duluth, Minn., says: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and the medicines I used did not help me. My back often ached severely and when I stooped, dizzy spells seized me. After I had taken the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt so much better that I procured a further supply. I am now free from backache and my condition has improved in every way. I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the good they did me."

ON THE IRON RANGES

MANY RAILROAD TIES DESTROYED

Fire Sunday Afternoon at Palmers, on Iron Range Road, Does Damage.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fire yesterday at Palmers station on the Duluth & Iron Range, eleven miles southwest of here, destroyed about 2,000 railroad ties and some posts. A large number more were endangered but were saved through the efforts of a Duluth & Iron Range extra gang and engine crews who worked from about 3:30 p. m. until near midnight to get the flames under control. The fire is supposed to have started from some bark that was being burned.

There are no woods within a mile of the ties so it was not a forest fire.

The city school board has decided to move the present Fourth avenue school building to some lots on Seventh avenue, owned by them, and in its place erect a sixteen-room building for the grades. Two more adjoining lots will be purchased on Fourth avenue for grounds, and the building and improvements will cost over $50,000.

HIBBING GIRL ONE OF HEIRS

Miss Ethel Clark Comes in for Share of Milford, Mass., Estate.

Worcester, Mass., April 4.—Eight relatives, including Miss Ethel Clark of Hibbing, Minn., are in line to share the $80,000 estate left by a friend, P. Albee of Milford, Mass., who until his death was always thought to be poor. Mr. Albee died a short time ago.

He lived a quiet, modest life, and even his closest friends here knew nothing of the small fortune he had stored away. The beneficiaries themselves, for the most part, are unaware of their good fortune.

No will was left by Mr. Albee, but the probate records on file here show the next of kin include eight relatives —two sisters, three nieces, two nephews and one grandniece.

Miss Clark of Hibbing is a grandniece.

COHASSET HAS LARGE BOOM ON

Itasca County Village Is Rapidly Forging to the Front.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much activity at Cohasset, the hustling village five miles west of here.

The Cohasset Commercial club held its annual meting last Friday and elected the following officers: President, Homer Wright; secretary, E. L. Buck; treasurer, Owen Skelly.

The club is in good financial standing and has nearly forty energetic members. The club is going after an appropriation for the widening and deepening of the Mississippi river above Cohasset, and the thoroughfares from Pokegama, Blackwater and Jay Gould lakes into the Mississippi. It is stated that the promoters of the project have assurances that either $10,000 or $25,000 will be appropriated for its work the coming summer. The club is also trying to secure a night agent at the Great Northern depot and night mail service.

There is considerable building going on. One of the new buildings is the bank building, to be used by the State bank, to be installed by the Scandia National Bank of Crookston.

The cedar industry continues to boom. From six to ten cars of cedar products per day are being shipped out. The Minnesota Hardwood company is shipping in from eight to ten cars of logs per day, and the shipments of pails and tubs average two or three cars per day.

The Erskine-Stackhouse company, which has some 100,000 ties, 60,000 poles and about 500,000 feet of logs, have started their drives out of the Vermilion country. Dunn & Marcia, who have some 50,000 ties and considerable other material at Day's high landing and the Torrys, with a large drive, have also started.

Active River Navigation.

The navigation business is taking on great activity. The steamer Undine, the largest boat on the Upper Mississippi loaded Tuesday with drivig supplies and supplies and grading machinery for the Soo camps up the river. The boat had in tow, heavily loaded, one of the largest barges on the river. Capt. Ward of the Undine states that he expects to keep busy all summer, having a month's freighting alone, besides a great deal of towing, rafting, etc. The Wyoming, the Erskine-Stackhouse steamer has been entirely rebuilt and the boat is about ready for launching. This boat will be used in towing poles and ties for the company. The John Main steamboat, and the steamboat belonging to the Hardwood company are also about due to go into commission for the season, having undergone thorough remodeling. Two other steamboats are also among the fleet on the Upper Mississippi.

The Minnesota Hardwood company is making extensive additions to the drying kilns. It is expected that the additions will not be sufficient to accommodate the work now in progress, and the company is planning on erecting an addtional kiln of the same capacity as the present one. Several car-

LARGE CLASS CONFIRMED AT EVELETH EASTER

CONFIRMATION CLASS AND PASTOR.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Easter Rev. A. C. Kerananen, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran Concordia church here, confirmed a class of twenty-one in the presence of a large congregation made up of relatives and friends.

Second row—Selma Saari, Selma Maki, Rev. R. C. Kerananen, Mary Mahella, Marie Hill, Hannah Grenan and Salma Hectela.

loads of brick have already been ordered for the new building.

The town board will advertise for bids for the new bridge which is to be built across the Mississippi in the village.

The Scandia-American National Bank of Crookston is soon to open a state bank. The First National of Grand Rapids has already opened a discount office at which a general banking business is carried on.

MANY POSITIONS WILL BE FILLED

New Virginia Council Has Some Nice Jobs to Hand Out.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald:)—The first meeting of the new city council will be held tomorrow night, at which time it is expected that body will elect a city clerk city attorney, assessor, city engineer, health officer, assistant health officer, street commissioner and poundmaster, and take up several other matters.

The aldermen are reticent in regard to their choices for the different appointive officers, but it is anticipated that the old set of officials will be re-elected, as follows: Clerk, A. E. Bickford; attorney, George F. Shea; assessor, J. H. Fleming; city engineer E. F. Johnson; health officer, Dr. J. H. Crowe; assistant health officer and meat inspector, J. P. Chalmers; street commissioner, C. Christopherson; poundmaster, O. Johnson.

The aldermen who will take their seats tomorrow night are: First ward, Michael Boylan; Second ward, Alfred Staff; Third ward, Fred Mollan; Fourth ward, J. L. Kimball; Fifth ward, A. L. Heritage; Sixth ward, Frank Weber; aldermen-at-large, A. C. Osborn, Edw C. A. Johnson and H. O. Johnson. A. C. Osborn, J. L. Kimball and Michael Boylan have been mentioned as possible candidates for president of the council. Mr. Osborn has held the office of president for the past two years and previous to that Mr. Kimball served as president for one term. It is unlikely that Mr. Boylan will be a candidate as it is the general desire that he remain on the floor, where he had accomplished much good the past two years.

Special Judge Controversy.

The controversy over the office of special municipal judge will probably come before the council. J. H. Fleming, who was elected two years ago for a four-year term, maintains he is entitled to serve out the term for which he was elected. The new charter called for the election of a special judge in February last, and R. C. Pickering was elected without opposition. J. H. Fleming states that if it comes to a showdown he will light it out in the courts.

April 1 was the time set for the special judge to assume the duties of his office. Mr. Pickering went to the courtroom, armed with credentials, to take possession, but Judge Fleming, who is in charge during the absence of James P. Carey, the regular judge, refused to abdicate, and is still in session of the court and its records. Counsel for Mr. Fleming hold that he is the rightful special judge for two years more, and on the other hand, counsel for Mr. Pickering maintain that he is entitled to assume the duties of the office. This is how the matter stands at the present time.

FATHER OF BIWABIK MAN.

Long Resident of Calumet, Mich., Is Buried Today.

Calumet, Mich, April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. today from the residence of Mrs. Robert Clarke for her father, Thomas Moore, aged 78, a native of Ireland, and for thirty years an employe of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, who died Saturday morning after a lingering illness. Rev. D. D. Stalker officiated.

The deceased is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Robert Clarke, Mrs. Elizabeth Pearson and Mrs. William Jones, all of Calumet, and five sons, William, John, James and Alexander of Calumet, and Daniel of Biwabik, Minn.

CORNERSTONE LAYING

Impressive Ceremonies Held at New Synagogue at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of the new Jewish synagogue yesterday afternoon were attended by many Virginians as well as Jewish people from the surrounding towns and Duluth. Rabbi Lefkowitz of the Duluta temple, conducted the ceremonies, preaching a strong sermon and taking for his text, "Jonah."

The Rabbi said that he hoped for the time when there would be neither Jew nor Gentile, but all would be brothers in the worship of God. The rabbi's sermon was impressive and liberal. He was followed by the Rev. Henry E. Neff, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who gave a short talk commensurate to the attendant ceremonies.

FIRST SEASON'S ORE.

Brought to Two Harbors From Adriatic Mine at Mesaba.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first ore of the season was brought to the docks here by the Tower Junction local, Conductor Barcomb, Engineer Woolien, Engine 89-X. There were eleven carloads from the Adriatic mine at Mesaba. No other mines have yet started loading.

GUS ROSEN IS BURIED.

Funeral of Man Injured in Oliver Mine Held Sunday.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Gus Rosen, who died Friday from the effects of injuries on the head received while employed at the Oliver mine about a month ago, was held from the Gillespie morgue yesterday afternoon, interment being made in Greenwood cemetery. The funeral was in charge of the S. H. & E. F. society, of which the deceased was a member. He was about 22 years of age and had been in this country only about nine months. He was a native of Sweden, where his parents now reside.

The funeral of Wallace Billy, the young man who committed suicide by cutting his throat on the Duluth & Winnipeg flyer on Monday night of last week, was held from the family home at the Franklin location yesterday afternoon followed by interment in Greenwood cemetery.

ALICE CAN INCORPORATE.

Voters of Addition to Hibbing Can Form Organization.

Hibbing, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The election held Saturday to decide upon the question of the village of Alice being incorporated, carried by a unanimous vote of twenty-six of the legal seventy voters residing in the district.

The election results will be reported to the state auditor, and it is likely that an election of officers for the new village will be called in about ten days.

TOWER'S WORST FIRE.

Two Buildings Burned and Churches Have Close Call.

Tower, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The worst fire in Tower's history raged here Saturday and for a time looked like a widespread conflagration. It started from unknown origin in the building owned by John Holinan on Second street north, and in thirty minutes it was burned to the ground. The building next to it, which was owned by Mary Nedow now living in Virginia, was also burned. The fire department worked hard to save the churches on the opposite side of the street, and succeeded.

The Swedish Lutheran church took fire several times; and the Catholic church was in great danger, as it was right in front of the two burning buildings and the high wind was blowing in that direction.

GOOD TEMPLARS MEET.

Gathering of Scandinavian Order in Virginia Next Sunday.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting of the Scandinavian Good Templars of the First District of Minnesota will be held at the North Pole hall next Sunday, when it is expected that delegates from all over the district will be present. Business matters of importance will be discussed at the meeting.

Several new automobiles have been received in the city within the past few days. Murdock McDonald has received a new Thomas flyer; D. W. Emquist and Nels Anderson have each a new Ford. A. B. Coates' machine arrived from Duluth yesterday, where it received an overhauling and Senator P. R. Vail has his machine out for use in visting the surrounding towns on business and pleasure.

F. J. Dunn is a business visitor in Duluth today.

The Ladies' Aid of the Norwegian Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. P. A. Gimse on Spruce street.

The Busy Bee Little Girls' society will meet next Saturday afternoon with Miss Ingeborg Gimse on Spruce street.

The Good Templar lodge 34, will entertain at a basket social next Saturday afternoon. There will also be a musical program rendered.

Robert Garvey returned Saturday morning from a business visit in Duluth.

Miss Genevieve Tracy of Gilbert was a guest at the home of D. E. Cuppernull over Sunday.

F. J. Hughes has returned from a business trip along the line of the Canadian Northern.

Dr. W. T. Bailey, who has been looking after the interests of the W. T. Bailey Lumber company in the north woods the past week, arrived home Saturday.

Supt. T. J. Flannigan of the Republic Iron & Steel company at Gilbert, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

The social given by the Daughters of Norway in Hawkinson's hall Saturday evening was largely attended and a very enjoyable affair.

WELL-KNOWN EVELETHIAN TAKES BRIDE IN DULUTH.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—John J. Adams, a local merchant, who was recently married to Mrs. M. M. Martin of Port Huron, Mich., at Duluth is a well known range man residing in this vicinity for some time.

The bride left immediately after for her home in Port Huron, to prepare for her trip to Eveleth, where the newlyweds will make their home. Mr. Adams, who is a popular Evelethian, has been on a business trip to Mankato, Minn., his home and on his return married at Duluth. Mrs. J. J. Adams is expected Wednesday, and the couple will reside at the Hotel Eveleth until a suitable residence is procurable.

ALLEGED WIFE DESERTER ARRESTED AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff J. J. Byers of Houghton county, Mich., arrested John H. Congdon here Sunday on the charge of deserting his wife and took him back to Michigan, the accused waiving extradition. Congdon has been working as a brakeman for the Canadian Northern and is said to have written his wife that he was out of work. She investigated and learning the contrary decided to prosecute him for desertion and non-support. The woman and four children are said to have been left penniless by Congdon.

EVELETH FELLOWSHIP CLUB WAS ORGANIZED SUNDAY.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth Fellowship club was organized here yesterday afternoon with fifteen members.

The officers elected are: Charles Levant, president; David J. Belond, vice president; Harry A. Levant, secretary; Herman Weiner, treasurer; Louis Siegel, Maurice Levant and Harry A. Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mat Rorcovich, a miner employed in the Spruce mine, and who is also a boarding boss, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Oliver Mining company officials on the charge of conducting a blind pig. Much beer and liquor utensils were found at his boarding house.

Hancock Wrestler Won.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald)—K. J. Wirtanen of Hancock, Mich., and Tom Coburn of Allegheny, Pa., gave an interesting wrestling exhibition here Saturday evening taking the first fall with a half-Nelson and hammerlock in fourteen minutes and the second with a full-Nelson in eleven minutes. The match was refereed by Frank Jarvinen.

AURORA DISTRICT NEEDS NEW SCHOOL

Present Facilities of School District No. 13 Are Overcrowded.

Aurora, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board of District No. 13, which includes Aurora, Mohawk, Adriatic, Mesaba and Spring schools, has taken active steps toward the erection of a new high school building.

At the last meeting it was decided to hold a mass meeting in order to ascertain the desires of the taxpayers in the matter. The representatives of the mining companies will be invited to attend this meeting.

The school building at Aurora is filled to its capacity and until a new high school building can be erected it will be necessary for the board to secure three temporary rooms to care for the overflow.

TOWER CITIZEN CALLED.

John Jackshaw Succumbs After a Long Battle With Consumption.

Tower, Minn., April 4.—((Special to The Herald.)—John Jack, a well-known and highly respected citizen of this city, died yesterday. Mr. Jackshaw was for several years associated with the Peoples' Meat Market company and made many friends, who have regretfully watched his gradual decline and were affected yesterday by the news of his death. Consumption was the cause. Mr. Jackshaw has been ill for several months and all efforts to prolong his life proved fruitless. He leaves a wife and several small children.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow from St. Martin's Catholic church and interment made in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Jackshaw served one term as city assessor and had recently been elected to the office again.

Konst Koivisto, a Finnish resident here, died yesterday morning, after a few days' illness with pneumonia. He leaves a wife and three small children. Interment was made today in Lakeview cemetery.

TWO HARBORS MEETINGS.

Held Sunday to Arouse Interest in Missionary Work.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A delegation representing the laymen's missionary movement with especial regard to the convention to be held in Duluth April 22-24, visited the churches of this city yesterday and made several addresses.

W. L. Smithliss gave a strong address to the Methodist congregation, Dr. Bowden to the Presbyterian and Mr. Bevis to the Swedish Methodist. In the afternoon a central committee of co-operation representing all the local churches was formed and met in business session at the Y. M. C. A., where the local organization was perfected with Thomas Owens, president; W. B. Elliott, secretary, and Mr. Engstrom, treasurer.

A mass meeting of men was held at 4 p. m. addressed by Messrs. Smithles, Bowden and Bevis. The addresses were most inspiring and considerable local interest has been awakened in the movement. Two Harbors will be well represented in Duluth at the convention.

EVELETH WILL ENTERTAIN WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the women in the eighth district of the Minnesota Women's Federated clubs will be held here April 8 and 9, as stated in Saturday's Herald, and as each club will send one or two delegates the convention promises to be rather well attended. The visitors will be entertained while here by the members of the Eveleth Art club. The first day of the convention will be taken up with the regular business affairs and general discussion held. On the second day, Saturday, the guests will be taken on a visit to the local mines, and will be shown the various mining operations in detail.

RAINY LAKE BRIDGE RENDERED UNSAFE

Breaking Up of Ice and High Wind Played Havoc With Structure.

Ranier, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ice breaking up and a high wind from the south Saturday has played havoc with the trestle over the northwestern arm of the Rainy lake owned by the Canadian Northern railway.

Several of the piles are broken and shoved aside, making the structure unsafe except for walking purposes. Train No. 1 from Port Arthur was held up at Rockey Inlet all night Saturday night, and yesterday morning the passengers walked across the structure and were taken on a special train and carried to Fort Frances.

Several section gangs and bridge crews are hard at work, a pile-driver having been sent there from Rainy River, and one will arrive shortly from Port Arthur, and with the aid of a diver the bridge will be in condition for travel in a few days.

Special watchmen have been employed on the bridge day and night for the last few weeks, anticipating a possible break, while a large gang of men have been engaged the greater part of the winter driving new piles and straightening the approaches, pending the construction of the new steel bridges which the company is preparing to build.

These bridges, since they have been built, have been carefully watched, with the result that no accidents have occurred.

It is understood that all freight and passengers are sent westward over the Canadian Pacific railroad from Port Arthur.

Eveleth Church Services.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sermon preached by Rev. K. C. Johnson at the Methodist church last evening on "Evil Habits and How to Get Rid of Them," proved very interesting for a large and appreciative audience.

At the First Presbyterian church Rev. P. A. Shwarz, Jr., gave a very entertaining and interesting sermon on "Important Men and Women of the Bible," "Eutychus, the Young Man Who Fell Asleep In the Church."

The Care of the Bathroom.

To keep the bathroom in a sanitary condition and insure safety from disease germs, it should be given a daily cleaning and weekly scrubbing. Each time the tub is used, it should be cleaned, and for this purpose nothing is better than a solution made by dissolving two tablespoonsful of Gold Dust washing powder in a gallon of water. Once a week thoroughly scrub and scald tub, basin and other fixtures with hot suds made from the washing powder, and pour down the pipes boiling water to which has been added Gold Dust in proportion of two tablespoonsful of Gold Dust to every gallon of water. Lint and other obstructions may be removed from the water pipes by small hooks or bent hair-pin. Clean the nickel and brass fixtures in bathroom by rubbing with equal parts of whiting and Gold Dust washing powder.

BONDS

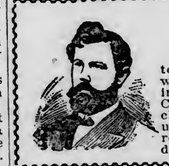

OF ONE HUNDRED FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS OF INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA, MINN., FOR SALE.

Sealed bids will be received by the School board of Independent District of Virginia, Minnesota, at its office in the Roosevelt High School building, Virginia, Minn., up to seven o'clock p. m. of Friday, April 15, 1910, for the purchase of all or any part of bonds of said district, in the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000); the issue having been authorized by special election.

Said bonds are to be in denominations of the face value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) each and to bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually on the first day of July and January of each year, and to mature at the rate of fifteen thousand dollars per year commencing July 1st, 1911, said bonds to be dated April 1st, 1910. Principal and interest to be payable in New York city.

No bid will be accepted at less than par and accrued interest. The School Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Circulars giving all particulars as to valuation and indebtedness of School District will be mailed on application. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for one per cent of the amount of the bid, and bids to be marked on outside "Proposal for Bonds of Independent School District of Virginia, Minnesota," and to be addressed to J. H. Fleming, Clerk of School Board of Virginia, Minn.

The Doctor's Answers

By Dr. Lewis Baker.

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms of diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College—Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self addressed, stamped envelope for reply. If unable to obtain any of the drugs mentioned of your regular druggist, go to some prominent large retail drug store which is sure to be well stocked.

Maud:—I am glad to know the prescription cured you so quickly. Yes, I can give a prescription which will increase your weight from one to three pounds a week. It is not so expensive for it improves the health, weight and strength marvelously. Keep up the treatment until your weight is satisfactory. Syrup hypophosphites comp. 3 ozs., essence of pepsin 3 ozs., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. (not cardamom) and comp. essence cardiol 1 oz. Mix, and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Plumpness follows the use of this almost invariably if continued several months.

W. R. K.:—Jaudice, yellow skin, blotches, constipation, billiousness, foul breath, coated tongue and pain in liver region can soon be cured by the following prescription: Fluid extract mandrake 3 drams, comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., aromatic fluid cascara 1 oz., and aromatic syrup rhubarb 4 ozs. Mix, shake, and take from one-half to one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. I have cured the chronic liver affections with this.

Madam:—Your womanly disorders cannot be prescribed for in these columns. Write me in full and I will treat your case successfully if not too far along.

W. K.:—A man in your condition should not neglect taking treatment even though you have been disappointed; and the treatment which I advise for those victims of dissipation who are timid, weak, nervous and lacking in the functional powers of the body, so that they cannot act naturally and with perfect self-confidence and self-control, so seldom fails to produce satisfactory results, that I regard it a boon to mankind. It is especially for men with defective ailments of a nervous character, while excellent for weak diseased women. Comp. syrup sarsaparilla 3 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime. This will make you soon feel the tingle of health and vigor coursing through the body.

S. C. C.:—For scrofula, ulcer, pimples, boils and impure blood, accompanied by running sores I usually prescribed the following for a constitutional blood remedy: Syrup of hypophosphites comp. 6 ozs., fluid ext. dandelion 1 oz., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix, and take a easpoonful before or after meals and one at bedtime. The dose may be gradually increased to two teaspoonfuls. This makes a fine spring tonic too, for both children and adults. It is harmless and you can feel perfectly safe in using anything I prescribe.

Chronic:—Judging by your symptoms you suffer with chronic bronchitis. The cough mixtures you have been using cause constipation, and you cannot expect a cure while such a condition exists. Remember a laxative cough remedy should always be used, if there is a tendency to constipation, have this mixed: Comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., aromatic fluid cascara 1 oz., syrup white pine comp. 4 ozs. Take from ½ to 1 teaspoonful 8 to 10 times daily or as necessary to check cough. I have known this to cure when all else failed.

ON THE IRON RANGES

MANY RAILROAD TIES DESTROYED

Fire Sunday Afternoon at Palmers, on Iron Range Road, Does Damage.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fire yesterday at Palmers station on the Duluth & Iron Range, eleven miles southwest of here, destroyed about 2,000 railroad ties and some posts. A large number more were endangered but were saved through the efforts of a Duluth & Iron Range extra gang and engine crews who worked from about 3:30 p. m. until near midnight to get the flames under control. The fire is supposed to have started from some bank that was being burned.

There are no woods within a mile of the ties so it was not a forest fire.

The city school board has decided to move the present Fourth avenue school building to some lots on Seventh avenue, owned by them, and in its place erect a sixteen-room building for the grades. Two more adjoining lots will be purchased on Fourth avenue for grounds, and the building and improvements will cost over $50,000.

HIBBING GIRL ONE OF HEIRS

Miss Ethel Clark Comes in for Share of Milford, Mass., Estate.

Worcester, Mass., April 4.—Eight relatives, including Miss Ethel Clark of Hibbing, Minn., are in line to share the $80,000 estate left by a friend, P. Albee of Milford, Mass., who until his death was always thought to be poor. Mr. Albee died a short time ago.

He lived a quiet, modest life, and even his closest friends here knew nothing of the small fortune he had stored away. The beneficiaries themselves, for the most part, are unaware of their good fortune.

No will was left by Mr. Albee, but the probate records on file here show the next of kin include eight relatives —two sisters, three nieces, two nephews and one grandniece.

Miss Clark of Hibbing is a grandniece.

COHASSET HAS LARGE BOOM ON

Itasca County Village Is Rapidly Forging to the Front.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much activity at Cohasset, the hustling village five miles west of here.

The Cohasset Commercial club held its annual meting last Friday and elected the following officers: President, Homer Wright; secretary, E. L. Bailey; treasurer, Owen Skelly.

The club is in good financial standing and has nearly forty energetic members. The club is going after an appropriation for the widening and deepening of the Mississippi river above Cohasset, and the thoroughfares from Pokegama, Blackwater and Jay Gould lakes into the Mississippi. It is stated that the promoters of the project have assurances that either $10,000 or $25,000 will be appropriated for this work the coming summer. The club is also trying to secure a night agent at the Great Northern depot and night mail service.

There is considerable building going on. One of the new buildings is the bank building, to be used by the State bank, to be installed by the Scandia National Bank of Crookston.

The cedar industry continues to boom. From six to ten cars of cedar products per day are being shipped out. The Minnesota Hardwood company is shipping in from eight to ten cars of logs per day, and the shipments of pails and tubs average two or three cars per day.

The Erskine-Stackhouse company, which has some 150,000 ties, 60,000 poles and about 500,000 feet of logs, have started their drives out of the Vermilion country. Dunn & Marcis, who have some 50,000 ties and considerable other material at Day's high landing and the Torrys, with a large drive, have also started.

Active River Navigation.

The navigation business is taking on great activity. The steamer Undine, the largest boat on the Upper Mississippi loaded Tuesday with driving supplies and supplies and grading machinery for the Soo camps up the river. The boat had in tow, heavily loaded, one of the largest barges on the river. Capt. Ward of the Undine states that he expects to keep busy all summer, having a month's freighting alone, besides a great deal of towing, rafting, etc. The Wyoming, the Erskine-Stackhouse steamer has been entirely rebuilt and the boat is about ready for launching. This boat will be used in towing poles and ties for the company. The John Main steamboat, and the steamboat belonging to the Hardwood company are also about due to go into commission for the season, having undergone thorough remodeling. Two other steamboats are also among the fleet on the Upper Mississippi.

The Minnesota Hardwood company is making extensive additions to the drying kilns. It is expected that the additions will make be sufficient to accommodate the work now in progress, and the company is planning on erecting an additional kiln of the same capacity as the present one. Several carloads of brick have already been ordered for the new building.

The town board will advertise for bids for the new bridge which is to be built across the Mississippi in the village.

The Scandia-American National Bank of Crookston is soon to open a state bank. The First National of Grand Rapids has already opened a discount office at which a general banking business is carried on.

MANY POSITIONS WILL BE FILLED

New Virginia Council Has Some Nice Jobs to Hand Out.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald:)—The first meeting of the new city council will be held tomorrow night, at which time it is expected that body will elect a city clerk city attorney, assessor, city engineer, health officer, assistant health officer, street commissioner and poundmaster, and take up several other matters.

The aldermen are reticent in regard to their choices for the different appointive officers, but it is anticipated that the old set of officials will be re-elected, as follows: Clerk, A. E. Bickford; attorney, George F. Shea; assessor, J. H. Fleming; city engineer E. F. Johnson; health officer, Dr. J. H. Crowe; assistant health officer and meat inspector, J. P. Chalmers; street commissioner, C. Christopherson; poundmaster, O. Johnson.

The aldermen who will take their seats tomorrow night are: First ward, Michael Boylan; Second ward, Alfred Staff; Third ward, Fred Moilan; Fourth ward, J. L. Kimball; Fifth ward, A. L. Heritage; Sixth ward, Frank Weber; aldermen-at-large, A. C. Osborn, Edw C. A. Johnson and H. O. Johnson. A. C. Osborn, J. L. Kimball and Michael Boylan have been mentioned as possible candidates for president of the council. Osborn has held the office of president for the past two years and previous to that Mr. Kimball served as president for one term. It is unlikely that Mr. Boyland will be a candidate as it is the general desire that he remain on the floor, where he had accomplished much good the past two years.

Special Judge Controversy.

The controversy over the office of special municipal judge will probably come before the council. J. H. Fleming, who was elected two years ago for a four-year term, maintains he is entitled to serve out the term for which he was elected. The new charter called for the election of a special judge in February last, and R. C. Pickering was elected without opposition. J. H. Fleming states that if it comes to a showdown he will fight it out in the courts.

April 1 was the time set for the special judge to assume the duties of his office. Mr. Pickering went to the courtroom, armed with credentials, to take possession, but Judge Fleming, who is in charge during the absence of James P. Carey the regular judge, refused to abdicate, and is still in session of the court and its records. Counsel for Mr. Fleming hold that he is the rightful special judge for two years more, and on the other hand, counsel for Mr. Pickering maintain that he is entitled to assume the duties of the office. This is how the matter stands at the present time.

FATHER OF BIWABIK MAN.

Long Resident of Calumet, Mich., Is Buried Today.

Calumet, Mich. April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. today from the residence of Mrs. Robert Clarke for her father, Thomas Moore, aged 78, a native of Ireland, and for thirty years an employee of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, who died Saturday morning after a lingering illness. Rev. D. D. Stalker officiated.

The deceased is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Robert Clarke, Mrs. Elizabeth Pearson and Mrs. William Jones, all of Calumet, and five sons, William, John, James and Alexander of Calumet, and Daniel of Biwabik, Minn.

CORNERSTONE LAYING

Impressive Ceremonies Held at New Synagogue at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of the new Jewish synagogue yesterday afternoon were attended by many Virginians as well as Jewish people from the surrounding towns and Duluth. Rabbi Lefkowitz of the Duluth temple, conducted the ceremonies, preaching a strong sermon and taking for his text, "Jonah."

The Rabbi said that he hoped for the time when there would be neither Jew nor Gentile, but all would be brothers in the worship of God. The rabbi's sermon was impressive and liberal. He was followed by the Rev. Henry L. Neß, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who gave a short talk commensurate to the attendant ceremonies.

LARGE CLASS CONFIRMED AT EVELETH EASTER

CONFIRMATION CLASS AND PASTOR.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Easter Rev. A. C. Kerananen, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran Concordia church here, confirmed a class of twenty-one in the presence of a large congregation made up of relatives and friends.

Second row—Selma Saari, Selma Maki, Rev. R. C. Kerananen, Mary Mahella, Marie Hill, Hannah Grenan and Salma Hectela.

Mr and Mrs. James Hewis of Deer River spent Sunday here as guests of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Sarah Stardig, formerly of this city, who is now making her home at Mountonsey, left Saturday for her home after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends.

L. W. Huntley went to Cass Lake Saturday where he met Mrs. Huntley, who had been visiting at Alexandria.

Judge B. F. Wright left Saturday for his home at Park Rapids, after having spent a week holding the court here.

ALICE CAN INCORPORATE.

Voters of Addition to Hibbing Can Form Organization.

Hibbing, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The election held Saturday to decide upon the question of the village of Alice being incorporated, carried by a unanimous vote of twenty-six of the legal seventy voters residing in the district.

The election results will be reported to the state auditor, and it is likely that an election of officers for the new village will be called in about ten days.

TOWER'S WORST FIRE.

Two Buildings Burned and Churches Have Close Call.

Tower, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The worst fire in Tower's history raged here Saturday and for a time looked like a widespread conflagration. It started from unknown origin in the building owned by John Holinan on Second street north, and in thirty minutes it was burned to the ground. The building next to it, which was owned by Mary Nedow now living in Virginia, was also burned. The fire department worked hard to save the churches on the opposite side of the street, and succeeded.

The Swedish Lutheran church took fire several times; and the Catholic church was in great danger, as it was right in front of the two burning buildings and the high wind was blowing in that direction.

GOOD TEMPLARS MEET.

Gathering of Scandinavian Order in Virginia Next Sunday.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting of the Scandinavian Good Templars of the First District of Minnesota will be held at the North Pole hall next Sunday, when it is expected that delegates from all over the district will be present. Business matters of importance will be discussed at the meeting.

Several new automobiles have been received in the city within the past few days. Murdock McDonald has received a new Thomas flyer; D. W. Emquist and Nels Anderson have each a new Ford. A. B. Coates' machine arrived from Duluth yesterday, where it received an overhauling and Senator P. R. Vall has his machine out for use in visting the surrounding towns on business and pleasure.

F. J. Dunn is a business visitor in Duluth today.

The Ladies' Aid of the Norwegian Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. P. A. Gimse on Spruce street.

The Busy Bee Little Girls' society will meet next Saturday afternoon with Miss Ingeborg Gimse on Spruce street.

The Good Templar lodge 34, will entertain at a basket social next Saturday afternoon. There will also be a musical program rendered.

Dr. W. T. Bailey, who has been looking after the interests of the W. T. Bailey Lumber company in the north woods the past week, arrived home Saturday.

Supt. T. J. Flannigan of the Republic Iron & Steel company at Gilbert, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

The social given by the Daughters of Norway in Hawkinson's hall Saturday evening was largely attended and a very enjoyable affair.

WELL-KNOWN EVELETHIAN TAKES BRIDE IN DULUTH.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—John J. Adams, a local merchant, who was recently married to Mrs. M. M. Martin of Port Huron, Mich., at Duluth is a well known range man residing in this vicinity for some time.

The bride left immediately after for her home in Port Huron, to prepare for her trip to Eveleth, where the newlyweds will make their home. Mr. Adams, who is a popular Evelethian, had been on a business trip to Mankato, Minn., his home and on his return married at Duluth. Mrs. J. Adams is expected Wednesday and the couple will reside at the Hotel Eveleth until a suitable residence is procurable.

ALLEGED WIFE DESERTER ARRESTED AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff J. J. Byers of Houghton county, Mich., arrested John H. Congdon here Sunday on the charge of deserting his wife and took him back to Michigan, the accused waiving extradition. Congdon has been working as a brakeman for the Canadian Northern and is said to have written his wife that he was out of work. She investigated and learning the contrary decided to prosecute him for desertion and non-support. The woman and four children are said to have been left penniless by Congdon.

EVELETH FELLOWSHIP CLUB WAS ORGANIZED SUNDAY.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth Fellowship club was organized here yesterday afternoon with fifteen members.

The officers elected are: Charles Levant, president; David J. Belond, vice president; Harry A. Levant, secretary; Herman Weiner, treasurer; Louis Siegel, Maurice Levant and Harry A. Levant were appointed as a committee to secure lodge rooms for the organization that can be utilized for social and fraternal purposes.

Blind Pigger Arrested.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mat Robrovich, a miner employed in the Spruce mine, and who is also a boarding boss, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Oliver Mining company officials on the charge of conducting a blind pig. Much beer and liquor utensils were found at his boarding house.

Hancock Wrestler Won.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald)—K. J. Wirtanen of Hancock, Mich., and Tom Coburn of Allegheny, Pa., gave an interesting wrestling exhibition here Saturday evening in the Vail hall, Wirtanen winning, taking the first fall with a half-Nelson and hammerlock in fourteen minutes and the second with a full-Nelson in eleven minutes. The match was refereed by Frank Jarvinen.

AURORA DISTRICT NEEDS NEW SCHOOL

Present Facilities of School District No. 13 Are Overcrowded.

Aurora, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board of District No. 13, which includes Aurora, Mohawk, Adriatic, Mesaba and Spring schools, has taken active steps toward the erection of a new high school building.

At the last meeting it was decided to hold a mass meeting in order to ascertain the desires of the taxpayers in the matter. The representatives of the mining companies will be invited to attend this meeting.

The school building at Aurora is filled to its capacity and until a new high school building can be erected it will be necessary for the board to secure three temporary rooms to care for the overflow.

TOWER CITIZEN CALLED.

John Jackshaw Succumbs After a Long Battle With Consumption.

Tower, Minn., April 4.—((Special to The Herald.)—John Jack, a well-known and highly respected citizen of this city, died yesterday. Mr. Jackshaw was for several years associated with the Peoples' Meat Market company and made many friends, who have regretfully watched his gradual decline and were affected yesterday by the news of his death. Consumption was the cause. Mr. Jackshaw has been ill for several months and all efforts to prolong his life proved fruitless.

He leaves a wife and several small children.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow from St. Martin's Catholic church and interment made in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Jackshaw served one term as city assessor and had recently been elected to the office again.

Konst Kolvisto, a Finnish resident here, died yesterday morning, after a few days' illness with pneumonia. He leaves a wife and three small children. Interment was made today in Lakeview cemetery.

TWO HARBORS MEETINGS.

Held Sunday to Arouse Interest in Missionary Work.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A delegation representing the laymen's missionary movement with especial regard to the convention to be held in Duluth April 22-24, visited the churches of this city yesterday and made several addresses.

W. L. Smithies gave a strong address to the Methodist congregation, Dr. Bowden to the Presbyterian and Mr. Bevis to the Swedish Methodist. In the afternoon a central committee of co-operation representing all the local churches was formed and met in business session at the Y. M. C. A., where the local organization was perfected with Thomas Owens, president; W. B. Elliott, secretary, and Mr. Engstrom, treasurer.

A mass meeting of men was held at 4 p. m. addressed by Messrs. Smithies, Bowden and Bevis. The addresses were most inspiring and considerable local interest has been awakened in the movement. Two Harbors will be well represented in Duluth at the convention.

EVELETH WILL ENTERTAIN WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the women in the eighth district of the Minnesota Women's Federated clubs will be held here April 8 and 9, as stated in Saturday's Herald, and as each club will send one or two delegates the convention promises to be rather well attended. The visitors will be entertained while here by the members of the Eveleth Art club. The first day of the convention will be taken up with the regular business affairs and general discussion held. On the second day, Saturday, the guests will be taken on a visit to the local mines, and will be shown the various mining operations in detail.

RAINY LAKE BRIDGE RENDERED UNSAFE

Ranier, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ice breaking up and a high wind from the south Saturday has played havoc with the trestle over the northwestern arm of the Rainy lake owned by the Canadian Northern railway.

Several of the piles are broken and shoved aside, making the structure unsafe except for walking purposes. Train No. 1 from Port Arthur was held up at Rookey Inlet all night Saturday night, and yesterday morning the passengers walked across the structure and were taken on a special train and carried to Fort Frances.

Several section gangs and bridge crews are hard at work, a pile-driver having been sent there from Rainy River, and one will arrive shortly from Port Arthur, and with the aid of a diver the bridge will be in condition for travel in a few days.

Special watchmen have been employed on the bridge day and night for the last few weeks, anticipating a possible break, while a large gang of men have been engaged the greater part of the winter driving new piles and straightening the approaches, pending the construction of the new steel bridges which the company is preparing to build.

These bridges, since they have been built, have been carefully watched, with the result that no accidents have occurred.

It is understood that all freight and passengers are sent westward over the Canadian Pacific railroad from Port Arthur.

Eveleth Church Services.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sermon preached by Rev. K. C. Johnson at the Methodist church last evening on "Evil Habits and How to Get Rid of Them," proved very interesting for a large and appreciative audience.

At the First Presbyterian church Rev. P. A. Shwarz, Jr., gave a very entertaining and interesting sermon on "Important Men and Women of the Bible," "Eutychus, the Young Man Who Fell Asleep In the Church."

The Doctor's Answers

By Dr. Lewis Baker.

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms of diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College—Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self addessed, stamped envelope for reply. If unable to obtain any of the drugs mentioned of your regular druggist, go to some prominent large retail drug store which is sure to be well stocked.

Maud:—I am glad to know the prescription cured you so quickly. Yes, I can give a prescription which will increase your weight from one to three pounds a week. It is not so expensive for it improves the health, weight and strength marvelously. Keep up the treatment until your weight is satisfactory. Syrup hypophosphites comp. 3 ozs., essence of pepsin 3 ozs., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. (not cardamom) and comp. essence cardiol 1 oz. Mix, and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Plumpness follows the use of this almost invariably if continued several months.

W. R. K.:—Jaudice, yellow skin, blotches, constipation, billousness, foul breath, coated tongue and pain in liver region can soon be cured by the following prescription: Fluid extract mandrake 3 drams, comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., aromatic fluid cascara 1 oz., and aromatic syrup rhubarb 4 ozs. Mix, shake, and take from one-half to one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. I have cured the chronic liver affections with this.

Madam:—Your womanly disorders cannot be prescribed for in these columns. Write me in full and I will treat your case successfully if not too far along.

W. K.:—A man in your condition should not neglect taking treatment even though you have been disappointed; and the treatment which I advise for those victims of dissipation who are timid, weak, nervous and lacking in the functional powers of the body, so that they cannot act naturally and with perfect self-confidence and self-control, so seldom fails to produce satisfactory results, that I regard it a boon to mankind. It is especially for men with defective ailments of a nervous character, while excellent for weak diseased women. Comp. syrup sarsaparilla 3 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime. This will make you soon feel the tingle of health and vigor coursing through the body.

S. C. C.:—For scrofula, ulcer, pimples, boils and impure blood, accompanied by running sores I usually prescribed the following for a constitutional blood remedy: Syrup of hypophosphites comp. 6 ozs., fluid ext. dandelion 1 oz., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix, and take a easpoonful before or after meals and one at bedtime. The dose may be gradually increased to two teaspoonfuls. This makes a fine spring tonic too, for both children and adults. It is harmless and you can feel perfectly safe in using anything I prescribe.

Chronic:—Judging by your symptoms you suffer with chronic bronchitis. The cough mixtures you have been using cause constipation, and you cannot expect a cure while such a condition exists. Remember a laxative cough remedy should always be used, if there is a tendency to constipation, have this mixed: Comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., aromatic fluid cascara 1 oz., syrup white pine comp. 4 ozs. Take from ½ to 1 teaspoonful 8 to 10 times daily or as necessary to check cough. I have known this to cure when all else failed.

Headache

"My father has been a sufferer from sick headache for the last twenty-five years and never found any relief until he began taking your Cascarets. Since he has begun taking Cascarets he has never had the headache. They have entirely cured him. Cascarets do what you recommend them to do. I will give you the privilege of using his name."—E. M. FIND REBEL'S BONES.

Excavators Open Old Grave at Field of Gettysburg.

Gettysburg, Pa., April 4.—A few human bones with the frame of an old style pocket book and an Indian arrow head are the contents of a shallow grave just found at the foot of East cemetery hill.

The bones are supposed to be those of one of the "Louisiana Tigers" which command, on the morning of July 2, 1863, charged the steep declivity and spiked the guns of Weidrich's Federal battery. Reinforcements arrived and the Confederates were driven back to their position at the foot of the hill.

Evidently this body was missed when the Confederate dead on this battlefield were exhumed and taken to Hollywood cemetery at Richmond.

TOWNSEND DECIDES HE PREFERS THE SENATE.

Detroit, Mich., April 4.—Following a conference between Congressman Charles F. Townsend of Jackson, Mich., and his friends here, Mr. Townsend announced his withdrawal from the Republican candidacy for re-election as representative of the second district of Michigan. At the same time Mr. Townsend declared himself a candidate to succeed United States Senator J. C. Burrows.

Wireless Works at 4,000 Miles.

Naven, Prussia, April 4.—The wireless station here claims to have communicated successfully and at length with the Cameroons in West Africa, 4,000 miles distant. Neither the Alps nor the high Algerian plateaus interfered with the transmission.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

Every old sore comes from some kind of impurity in the blood. It remains an open, discharging place on the flesh because the circulation constantly deposits into the fibres and tissues which surround the spot, the infectious matter with which the blood is contaminated. It is impossible for the sore to heal while the blood is in this impure state. S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory impurity or infectious matter to irritate the place, and nature causes a certain and natural healing of the ulcer. It is all well enough to endeavor to cleanse an old sore, or stop the itching, or absorb the discharge, with external applications, but a cure can never be reached in this way, because such applications do not reach the blood where the cause is located. S. S. S. does not simply cause a scab to form over an old sore, but beginning at the bottom it heals the place permanently by building new tissue, and filling the place with firm healthy flesh. S. S. S. is a purely botanical remedy, being made entirely of roots herbs and barks, each of which has a direct and lasting effect in removing impurities and poisons from the circulation. Old people who have suffered for years with a chronic sore will find S. S. S. a most helpful tonic and system builder in counteracting the debilitating effects of the old ulcer. WARMEST IN MANY YEARS

The Average Temperature for March 1910, Highest Since 1878.

Only Five Days During the Month When Rain Fell.

Duluth's reputation for having long, cold springs, received a sad jolt during the month of March just passed, according to the records of the United States weather bureau.

The average temperature for the month was 37 degs., the highest in thirty-two years, and within one degree of being the highest in the history of the weather bureau. The mean temperature for the month of March for the last forty years, was 24 degs., or 13 degs. lower than for March, 1910.

The highest average for the month was in 1878, when the mean temperature was 38 degs.

The highest temperature for the month, recorded in forty years, was reached on March 28, when the thermometer recorded 70 degs. The lowest was 11 degs. on March 9.

The end of the month sees the snow all gone from the ground, and the trees just beginning to bud.

There were only five days during the month when rain fell. There were eleven clear days, and fifteen partly cloudy.

As a whole it was probably the most remarkable month for weather in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and the many Duluthians who went South or to California to escape what is usually the most unpleasant month, have reason to regret the step.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CLASS PLAY

"Esmeralda" to Be Presented By the Students Tuesday Night.

The seniors of the Duluth Central high school will present on Tuesday night their annual class play. The play will be William Gillette's dramatization of Mrs. Burnett's celebrated novel "Esmeralda." The play was a sensational success twenty-five years ago running for over a year and a half at the Madison Square theater, thus being a phenomenal run at this time. It served to introduce such well-known players as Herbert Kelcey, Effie Shannon, W. H. Thompson, Thomas Wiffin and Annie Russel. The principal parts will be taken by Russell Mather as Dave Hardy; Janet Haley as "Esmeralda;" and Robert Donaldson as Elbert Rogers, the old North Carolina farmer. The remaining parts are in capable hands. The play should be an artistic success from all points of view.

The Demon of the Air

is the germ of La Grippe, that, breathed in, brings suffering to thousands. Its after effects are weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed by all druggists.

MORAL TRAINING OF CHILDREN

Dr. Luther H. Gulick Will Choose This for Theme of Lecture Here.

"The Moral Training of Children" will be the subject of the Duluth lecture by Dr. Luther H. Gulick of New York, one of the most prominent workers in America in the training of children mentally, morally and physically.

Dr. Gulick is a director of the Russell Sage foundation for child hygiene. He is one of the most prominent workers on the National Playground association; he is a trained physician and has made a special study of the relation between the physical culture and moral and mental development of the child. He is a man of national prominence and there is great interest in his coming to Duluth.

The Duluth lecture will be given Wednesday evening of next week at the high school assembly room. In the afternoon Dr. Gulick will speak at Superior on "The Meaning of Play." The lectures are being arranged by the Duluth-Superior Kindergarten association, but the lectures are planned particularly for parents.

In the lecture that Dr. Gulick will give in Duluth, he will discuss changes in the family incident to civilization; difference in morality of boys and girls; morality as related to leisure; the instinct feelings; morality as related to fashion and custom, and the place of the school with reference to industrial education, as a moral factor and the management of playgrounds and other provisions for children's free time.

BALLINGER WILL HIT BACK.

Secretary Says He Will Bring Collier's to Justice.

Washington April 4.—"If they think they can attack me with impunity, they are mistaken," Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior said referring to the publications concerning him which are appearing in Collier's.

He announced that he proposed to "bring them to justice in due time."

While Mr. Ballinger would not indicate when or in what form proceedings in law would be instituted against the periodical, he said if he lived long enough, it would "suffer all the penalties the law will warrant."

French Aviator Killed.

San Sebastian, Spain, April 4.—M. La Blond, the French aviator, was killed while making an exhibition flight here. He was circling the royal palace of Miramar when the mechanism of his aeroplane broke down and the machine fell on the rocks of the seashore. Leblond was dashed to pieces.

PLANS ARE PERFECTED

Preliminary Campaign for Laymen's Convention Will Be Energetic One.

Meetings Will Be Held in Calumet, Cloquet and Many Other Towns.

Final preparations are being made by the various committees of the Laymen's Missionary Movement for the April convention.

The educational campaign will begin the coming Sunday, when the pastors will address their congregations upon the subject of missions. Over 10,000 pamphlets have been ordered from New York dealing with these great questions. These will be distributed at the churches on the Sundays preceding the convention. Immediate enrollment of the local men will be undertaken by the committees which have been appointed in all the churches in the city. The tickets are now on sale for the banquet and convention. Any citizen of Duluth is cordially invited to the banquet and convention.

It is certain that Duluth will have some very strong addresses at this time by men of national reputation. Dr. Homer Stuntz's address on "Men and Missions' is reported as being one of the most remarkable and stirring of its kind. George Sherwood Eddy, who has stirred India with his appeals to men, and this year has toured the United States, will attend the convention and is expected to speak at the banquet. This banquet will be limited to 1,000, and with the delegates outside the city and those coming from Superior it may be necessary to have an overflow banquet.

A co-operating committee has been organized at Superior, and it will hold a preliminary meeting Monday, when plans will be laid for making a thorough canvass of that city. On Sunday, April 24, Superior is arranging for a separate mass meeting, to be addressed by the convention speakers.

The cities in the territory are being thoroughly stirred and mass meetings arranged. On Sunday a committee, composed of Messrs. W. S. Moore, Albert Baldwin and A. V. Snell, will address a mass meeting at Calumet, Mich. They will also speak in the churches there. This city is planning for a special train, and already has a thorough organization. Dr. R. W. Bowden and Messrs. W. L. Smithles and Philomen Bevis, general secretary of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., will also speak at a mass meeting in Two Harbors Sunday afternoon. Arrangements have been made for a mass meeting and supper at Cloquet Friday, April 8, at which place Dr. Ryan of St. Paul's Episcopal church with several other business men will speak. Ashland, Brainerd, Crookston, Fergus Falls, Ely and several other nearby cities are arranging for similar mass meetings.

On Tuesday evening, April 5, a supper and mass meeting of all those interested will be held at the First Baptist church at 6 o'clock. This will be the final supper before the great banquet of April 22. Charles T. Thompson, a prominent lawyer of Minneapolis, will speak at this supper, as will several of the business men of Duluth. The visitors and delegates attending the Merritt Memorial church have been invited to attend this supper.

GOES TO JAIL.

Man Who Failed to Pay Alimony in Contempt of Court.

For failure to pay alimony, David Gee, a lumber camp foreman, was sent to jail Saturday, by the order of Judge Dibell of the district court. Gee is said to be in arrears about $600.

At the time of the divorce in 1906, Gee was ordered to pay his wife $25 a month. She says that he has been very lax in the matter of payment.

At the hearing Saturday afternoon, Gee admitted that he had been sending some of his earnings to Canada. Judge Dibell decided that he had voluntarily placed himself so that he couldn't make the payments and that therefore he was in contempt of court.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy." —Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

STATE OF MINNESOTA, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, March 28, 1910.

Notice is hereby given that on the day and date and at the time and place herein stated below in this notice, in the office of the county auditor of the respective county named, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale the following described unsold state lands, and the following described state lands, which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest, will also be then and there offered for resale. Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from the date of sale to June 1st, 1911, must be paid at the time of the sale. The balance of the purchase money can be paid at any time, in whole or in part, within forty years of the time of the sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase money will be four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year, provided the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid before the expiration of ten years from the date of the sale, the rate of interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase money will be five per cent per annum; interest is payable in advance on June 1st of each year.

Holders of certificates on which the interest payments are in default can have their certificates reinstated on payment, before the sale, of the interest in full to date and the penalties thereon, when the lands covered thereby will be withdrawn from sale.

All mineral rights are reserved by the state. All sales made will be subject to the provisions of Chapter No. 299 of the General Laws of 1905, as amended by Chapter No. 106 of the General Laws of 1909.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON, State Auditor.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF REDEMPTION—

Office of County Auditor, County of St. Louis County, State of Minnesota.

To L. A. Bradley et al.:

You are hereby notified that the following parcel of land, situated in the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: Undivided one-third of Southeast one-quarter (Und. 1-3 of SE¼), Section Thirty-five (35), Township Sixty-two (62) North, Range Fourteen (14) West of the 4th P. M., according to the Government survey thereof, is now assessed in your name.

That on the Fourth day of May, A. D. 1898, at a sale of land pursuant to the real estate tax judgment duly given and made in and by the District Court in and for said County of St. Louis on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1898, in proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes delinquent upon real estate for the year A. D. 1896, for said County of St. Louis, the above described parcel of land was duly offered for sale, and no one bidding upon said offer an amount equal to that for which said parcel was subject to be sold, to-wit, the sum of Eleven Dollars and Thirty-six cents, said parcel of land was duly bid in for the State of Minnesota for said sum.

That thereafter, and on the eighth (8th) day of November, A. D. 1909, said parcel of land, not then having been redeemed from said sale, and having then become the absolute property of the State of Minnesota, was sold and conveyed at public sale by the County Auditor of said County, pursuant to the order and direction of the State Auditor of the State of Minnesota, and in accordance with the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided, for the sum of Twenty-four Dollars and Fifty-five cents, duly paid to the County Treasurer of said County.

That the certificate of sale for said parcel of land executed and delivered by said County Auditor upon said sale last above mentioned has been presented to me at my office by the holder thereof, and that the amount required to redeem said parcel of land, exclusive of the costs to accrue upon this notice, is the sum of Twenty-four Dollars and Fifty-five cents, and interest at the rate of twelve per cent (12 per cent) per annum, as provided by law, from said eighth (8th) day of November, 1909, to the day such redemption is made. The amount required to redeem said parcel of land, computed to the date of this notice, is the sum of Twenty-five Dollars and 59 cents.

That the time for the redemption of said parcel of land from said tax sale will expire sixty (60) days after the service of this notice and proof thereof has been filed in my office.

WITNESS my hand and seal of office this Fifteenth day of March, A. D. 1910.

O. HALDEN,
Auditor of St. Louis County, Minnesota.

By L. A. MARVIN, Deputy.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

DULUTH WILL BID $20,000 FOR GOTCH-ZBYSZKO MATCH

C. A. Marshall of Lyceum Theater Will Offer Big Purse.

If Offer Is Accepted Skating Rink May Be Erected.

C. A. Marshall, manager of the Lyceum theater and at the head of the copper and iron theatrical circuit, yesterday made an offer of $20,000 for the Gotch-Zbyszko finish match. His offer was telegraphed to Chicago, where it will receive consideration with the other bids that are being made for the biggest wrestling attraction that has ever been contested for in the world.

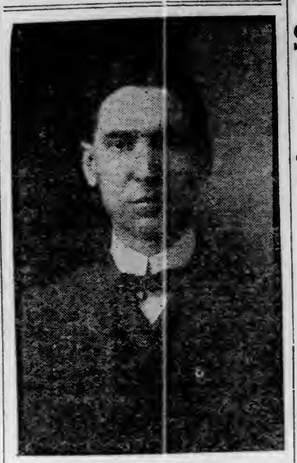

Yesterday Mr. Marshall informed The Herald that he had two plans for holding the match, should his bid be considered.

One plan is to hold the match in the Lyceum theater, which can be made to hold 2,000 people. The other plan is to erect a large wooden structure, on the plan of the large skating rinks in the Copper country, and after the match to utilize this building for a skating rink, convention hall, and other like purposes.

"I am firmly convinced," said Mr. Marshall yesterday, "that the people of this city are willing to pay to witness a contest of the quality that the coming match promises to be. I am confident that 2,000 people in this city would pay $10 each to witness the match. If we could make expenses on the match we would be satisfied, for the attraction would greatly advertise the city as one of enterprise and progression.

"I have already made some plans for the match—though of course I am not sure of getting it. I have arranged for pictures of it and have found that these can be obtained by artificial light. I have looked the situation over carefully and am willing to take a chance on the match. I have found that the people here are willing to pay to see the best attractions, and there are enough people here to make a worlds championship match a possibility. We are not as big as Chicago and Kansas City, but then we have quality."

Mr. Marshall's offer will be telegraphed to Chicago today. Kansas City has already offered $15,000 for the match, with the Chicago offer yet to come. There is keen competition for the match which is expected to be the greatest struggle ever witnessed between two giants, perhaps the two greatest wrestlers that the world has ever seen.

C. A. MARSHALL.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

He's In Training.

Is marriage a failure? Don't all speak at once. Here we have Rube Waddell. At first thought you might be almost certain that the Rube would join with some of the more radical of the suffragettes and declare that the uniting in bonds of holy matrimony of man and woman, was anything but a successful venture.

But here is the Rube preparing for his second venture into the "yes, dear" state of happy existence, and he has even gone into training for the event. Training for marriage. To assure that his temper will be for placid and more flexible under fire, the Rube will remain perched on the top of the water wagon—at least he says he will—until such time as wifey and Rube are thoroughly acclimated, should we say. The southpaw will thus cleanse his spiritual self and strengthen his moral fiber. Of course the while he will be getting his immense physical self into condition, for if the wife should start anything of a sanguinary nature, the Rube would perhaps need to be fast upon his feet and there with the quick getaway stuff.

Many a man, so they say, has lost a battle with his wife, simply because he was so slow on his feet and his wind was so bad that he could neither make a quick getaway nor hold out in a fast conversational match with wrathy wife.

This training for matrimony is indeed quite a stunt. But upon serious consideration one can see the many advantages it has. After being singed by this first matrimonial venture, the Rube has probably given the second venture considerable thought. Then he has gone into training. His example is a tip to those who would give Cupid's suggestions a good tryout.

Larry Hitting 'Em.

If it were not for the persistent hoodoo that has followed Cleveland these years past in the American league, it is very probable that many shrewd followers of baseball would select the Naps as the team to make a very strong showing all through the race, and peg them as possible pennant winners.

Reports from the Southland have it that Larry Lajoie has hit over .500 on the spring training trip, something that he has failed to do before in the history of his major league experience, and that little Terry Turner, the blond infielder who has been shifted from shortstop to second base to save his arms, is playing a wonderful game.

There is Elmer Flick, the great outfielder, who has not been himself for the past two years, owing to illness, and Bill Bradley, the third baseman, who had a rather bad year last season.

If these men continue to play at the clip they have started, Cleveland will have some sterling hitters and an infield that will class with anything in the American league.

Lajoie is playing at first and is playing the same article of ball there that he played at second. If Turner's arm holds out there will be no question about his ability to play the second sack. There is a cub trying for the short field position, and in the spring practice games this youth has shown every earmark of the real baseball player.

Perhaps, after all, Dame Fate has annoyed the sensitive nerves of Lajoie long enough and has decided to shake the Cleveland team for awhile. It might be Cleveland's year—who knows?

Red Wing's Refusal.

It is reported here, in the polar regions of the circuit, according to that oracle of correctness, Willie Beach Smith, that Red Wing has kindly but firmly refused the offer of some of the players of the Duluth squad. It is also reported that Mique Malloy has by this time some twenty-eight men under contract.

Mique must have been busier than a large lady shopping where silk is marked down. He has been in Chicago, where out of town visitors are generally very busy, and must have been grabbing them off right and left. If Mique could garner eight little players as good as his sweet little self, then indeed would Red Wing have a merry band of baseball brigands who would leave dashed hopes and sullen countenances in the wake of their travels.

If the team that Mique is moulding and which he will instruct later in the code of tricks and artful inside baseball is as good as it sounds, then there will be no commiseration for the youth of Red Wing—but rather an acrid envy for the rapidity with which the baseball baby sheds its swaddling clothes.

Baseball Schedules.

Sporting Life, the baseball paper, has issued in pamphlet form the schedules of the National and American leagues. This is the seventh year of the publication. They are most convenient and enable the more rabid of the fans to follow the movements more closely of the teams of the two leagues.

All of the dates are contained in the schedules, as well as pictures of the various teams and some other baseball data that is extremely interesting.

Big League Style.

Al Kuehnow, the genial baseball mogul, is very much pleased over the prospects of the present season. He also proclaims that there will be some invitations made the present season that will make the league very much big league style.

For instance, the present season there will be an operator at every park, sending out the scores of the games. There will also be score boards, if the present plans are carried out, upon which the scores that are being made at various baseball games will be posted.

The Minnesota-Wisconsin league has grown into a league that is attracting attention and this growth is attested to by improvements that are being made.

NASHWAUK BASEBALL FANS GETTING BUSY.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A public meeting of the Nashwauk Baseball association was held Thursday evening. About 200 enthusiasts were present. Matters concerning the overhauling of the grounds, new fences, grand stands and baseball equipments were fully discussed and funds will be raised immediately for this purpose. A number of fast players have signed for the team. The association will give a dance here Friday evening, April 8. Those who were chosen at the meeting to look after the interests of the team were as follows: President, Fred W. Cram; secretary and treasurer, Nels Nelson; manager, Dr. J. L. Shellman; temporary captain, Carl Schmidt. Those selected by the president to solicit funds were: George A. Lindsey, John P. Lanto and H. Hugen.

Handy Is Suspended.

Chicago, April 4.—H. J. Handy, well known in swimming championships, was suspended for six months by the athletic committee of the Illinois Athletic club today. The action was taken because of Handy's refusal to swim in the Central A. A. U. championships in Chicago last month.

BIG DULUTHS DEFEATED

Superior Recruits Win 11-Inning Game By 15 to 12 Score.

Thorsen Wild and Ineffective, Gives Game to the Invaders.

Yesterday afternoon at Athletic park the Big Duluths were defeated by the Superior recruits by the score of 15 to 12. The playing was ragged at times, which was to be expected from teams that have had so little practice. The misplays of the local team contributed to its defeat.

Dick Thorsen was sent into the box. He was in no shape to pitch and it showed very bad judgment on somebody's part in permitting him to stay in the game, let alone pitch. Incidents like the Thorsen appearance of yesterday do baseball no good.

After the farce of Thorsens' attempting to pitch had become rather clear to everybody in the stands and bleachers, he was chased into right field and "Babe" Bennett called to the mound. Things went better with the outfielder on the hill, and but for errors "Babe" might have gone along and thrown some mud on the escutcheon of the invaders.

Superior put a crimp in the hopes of the locals in the very first inning by gathering six scores. The wobbly flinging of Thorsen, was the cause of the heavy rain of tallies. He acted like a man in a trance and threw the ball every place but over the plate.

The locals came back with three in their part of the first, but the cold pail of pure and sparkling was dashed on the hopes of the R. D.'s in the third inning, the enemy gathering four runs through some very corner lot brand of leather retrieving.

In the sixth the Big Duluths registered one run and in the seventh and eighth innings three runs were shagged across in each frame. With the score tied up the game progressed placidly to the eleventh inning, where the tie was pulled by five runs being gathered by the invaders.

Bancroft and little Koepping showed some sweet fielding, while Rick and Huber did some heavy clouting of the spheroid.

The lineup and score:

Umpire—Robinson.

JEFFRIES TO BEGIN ACTIVE TRAINING.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4.—James J. Jeffries left last night for San Francisco, where he will remain until Tuesday next. Then he will go to Rowardennen Park to begin training for his fight with Jack Johnson.

Jeffries has been doing much road work and wood-chopping. He has reduced his weight greatly, and says he is in good physical condition—a statement which his appearance seems to verify.

Thorsen Is Traded.

The deal whereby Dick Thorsen goes to St. Joe of the Western league, has been consummated. In exchange for the pitcher, A. W. Kuehnow has received Outfielder Foutz and Pitcher Reuter. These men will report to O'Brien at Cleveland and will be tried out with the other candidates.

SWEDISH RUNNER WINS BIG MARATHON AT NEW YORK

GUSTAVE L. JUNGSTROM.

New York, April 4.—Gustave L. Jungstrom of Sweden, proved Saturday that he is the best long-distance runner on this side of the Atlantic by winning the second professional Marathon derby at the Polo grounds. He won with a breezy rush by a third of a mile from James Crowley, the Irish Marathon racer, in 2:34:08 2-5.

This beats the record made by St. Yves, the Frenchman, over the same course a year ago by six minutes, 45 1-5 seconds.

Thuro Johanson, another Swede, was third, 500 yards behind Crowley, with Ted Crook, the American, fourth. The other two survivors, Fred Meadows of Canada, and Johnny Hayes of this city, who won the amateur Marathon in London two years ago were distanced.

ENSIGNS ARE APPOINTED

Motor Boat Section of Boat Club Is First to Organize.

Candidates for Rowing Crew Are Out for First Time.

The motor boat department of the Duluth Boat club is the first of the new departments to organize. The committee will consist of Dr. D. H. Day, George A. Burns, G. A. Taylor and A. S. Ames. The captain of the motor boat department, R. W. Marshall, is chairman ex-officio of this committee. W. D. Johes and George A. Burns have been appointed motor boat section ensigns.

The yachting section of the club will be organized within a day or two.

John McGregor has been appointed head of the rowing section of the club, as has already been mentioned. It is expected that a captain of the eight will be chosen within a few days. The coach will also be employed within a week or so.

The first practice of the season was held Saturday morning. Forgette, Hector, Liggett, Thompson, Quimby, Kent, Mapp and Lathrop were in the eight. In addition to these men with more or less experience, there was a sufficient number of men on hand to make another four and a working boat crew. The enthusiasm was the greatest that has been shown by the men for some time.

The eight was smooth and well-balanced for the first row of the season. Without exaggeration it may be said that the eight went better yesterday showed more form and the men were more together than the same eight, showed after a month of practice last season.

Yesterday practice went far to confirm the opinion that the junior eight will have a very rosy chance of snatching victory at Kenora, should the present enthusiasm be kept up.

The men will meet at the club at 6 o'clock this evening and every evening after that. All new men are requested to come out regularly. It must not be imagined that there are enough candidates for the eight already. Not a man has won his seat in the boat and there are eight places to be filled.

There will be a four and another eight, and every man in the city who wants to row, is urged to hand in his name to Capt. John McGregor and immediate attention will be given to him.

DARBY HAS RECRUITS OUT

Eleven Men Report for First Regular Practice at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Darby O'Brien, playing manager and captain of the Duluth team of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league, yesterday and Saturday put his men through a good workout. Eleven men were on hand and enjoyed the first regular workout of the season.

Kozier, catcher and first base; Kenney, McGinity, Stark and Vetter, pitchers; Sweeney, third base; Redlin, Kersnick, Taylor, Nealon, outfielders; and Sterling, shortstop, were the men used yesterday by the Irish manager.

Saturday the Duluth leaguers worked out with the Western Reserve university, the team that Darby is coaching. Yesterday the Duluth players simply took some light practice work to get the kinks out of their systems.

Darby and his players will leave this city April 15 for a training trip. Thirty candidates will report to Darby here.

ED. ADAMSON AND SCHOBER

Ed Adamson, the champion 155-pound wrestler of the world, twice conqueror of Fred Beell and also conqueror of Al Ackerman, the boy who dethroned Alex Swanson as the welterweight king, will be seen here Friday evening in a finish match with Billy Schober, the Broad Ripple, Ind., boy.

The match will be to a finish. It will be the first time that Adamson, the Frank Gotch of the little fellows, has been seen in action in this city. Possessing more science than any other man on the mat today, with the exception always of that king of them all, Frank A. Gotch, little Adamson is one of the wonders of the mat.

He has beaten heavies and middles and all the rest of them. They have all tried to beat him and only once has he succumbed, when he recently tried to make 149 pounds for Young Miller, the little St. Paul wonder. The roads were covered with snow, and Ed was obliged on the day of the match to take five pounds off in the steam room of the Ryan hotel, St. Paul.

He is a great wrestler and one of the most quiet and unassuming men in the business. Adamson will remain in the city the present week, and will do all his training for the match here.

Yesterday Adamson asked the sporting editor of The Herald to challenge Karl Lehto for him. Weighing only 155 pounds, Adamson says he will meet the Finn in a straight finish match and will wager some money on the chances.

"I beat Fred Beell twice," said Adamson yesterday, "and I have tackled big men before. I am ready and anxious to try this Lehto out." Adamson also offered to take on Sailor Jack and Young Hackenschmidt in one night, agreeing to throw the two men in ninety minutes of wrestling time.

OPERATOR AT PARK.

Scores of All Minny League Games Will Be Reported.

Manager A. W. Kuehnow stated today that in addition to the repairs to the grand stand and bleachers at Athletic park, arrangements have been made for a telegraph operator who will be at the park for all the games. Mr. Kuehnow also stated that the other clubs would have operators and that thus scores would be sent to each park.

"It means that the league is growing," said Mr. Kuehnow, "and that the club owners have begun to progress with the growth of the league. We are beginning to be recognized as a league with solid merit and good backing, and we are going to give the fans the best that we possibly can."

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— THE UNITED STATES DISPLAY ADVERTISING COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, hereby associate ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1905, and acts amendatory thereof, and to that end have signed and adopted the following Articles of incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be "THE UNITED STATES DISPLAY ADVERTISING COMPANY." The general nature of the business of this corporation shall be the buying, renting or in any manner acquiring all kinds of property, real, personal or mixed, and of holding, dealing in, improving, renting, leasing, selling, conveying, exchanging or in any manner disposing of the same; the manufacturing, buying, leasing, erecting and placing of all kinds of signs, signboards, advertising bulletins, bill and poster boards, frames and structures, painted, printed and pictorial displays and advertising novelties and devices and matter of every kind and description; the placing and posting of all kinds of advertising matter on bill, poster or other advertising display boards; the tacking up, distributing or otherwise disseminating of all kinds of picture, advertising or display bills, cards, pictures or other advertising matter, and the doing of any and all things necessary to the carrying on of any of the aforesaid business; all or any of said business to be carried on at Duluth, in the State of Minnesota, and at such other places as shall be deemed best by the Board of Directors.

The principal office and place of business of this company shall be in the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be the First day of April, A. D. 1910, and the term of its continuance shall be Thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Fifty Thousand ($50,000.00) Dollars, and the same shall be paid in, in money or property, at such times as the Board of Directors shall determine.

ARTICLE IV.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Fifty Thousand ($50,000.00) Dollars.

ARTICLE V.

WHEAT HAS A DECLINE

May Option Slumps on News of Showers in the Southwest.

The Farmers Are Selling Flax for Delivery in October.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 4.—Wheat lost ⅜c today on liquidation due to reports of showers in the Southwest, activity on the part of the bears, selling of scattered long lines and bearish statistics.

May wheat opened at $1.14 asked, sold at $1.13⅞ to $1.14⅜, was offered at $1.14, sold at $1.13¼ and closed with bids at that price. July opened late at $1.14 and dropped to $1.13¼-⅜.

The flax market was weaker. At the close there was considerable selling of flax for October delivery that came from the country. It appears that the farmer is getting bearish on flax again this year because of the increased acreage at many stations and the excellent crop prospects. The October option was sold down from $1.76 to $1.72⅞. One man who bought considerable flax turned around and sold 10,000 bu. Although it probably was not the same stuff he had just bought, yet it did not help the broker for the country sellers to keep up the price while he was selling. May flax opened at $2.33¾ and sold down to $2.32 and closed at that price bid. July opened at $2.31 asked and sold at $2.31 to $1.29½ and closed at $2.29 bid. The September option opened at $1.82 and closed at that figure.

Barley suffered a drop of 5@4c, chiefly because there was nobody around to close it. The prices quoted, however, are about accurate. The stuff is somewhat sick, in common with other grains. Durum closed ⅝c off, oats ⅜c off and rye was unchanged.

After a stubborn resistance wheat succumbed to short selling, which was extremely popular today with the professionals, and toward noon declined. In the early hours values fluctuated about the opening to a fraction lower, but, under the pressure of moderately heavy selling, values declined. The trading was not especially large, but the liquidation of small lines made itself felt.

In the early hours the shorts bought considerable stuff, an dthis helped the market to stand up. Interest was concentrated in the near option until toward noon when traders were offering July. The May option at that time was selling relatively lower than July, although in Chicago the May option was standing up well in the face of liquidation in the deferred months. It seemed that the pit element was afraid to do anything with the Chicago May and that it was not subject to the assault of scattered bears or the activities of sellers of long lines.

There is a considerable short interest in the May option, and the long interest is supposed to be in good hands. The long side of the deferred months seems to appeal only to a few big speculators, the crowd and the public being skeptical of the future strength of the distant months. With Bartlett-Patten long September, and some of the people allied with elevator interests long on wheat for July delivery and short September, the little fellow has to step lively to keep from being run over. The public is apathetic, and nearly all of the speculative trading is professional.

The easy opening of wheat was helped by statistics. The world's shipments showed a large increase, the shipments last week being 11,792,000 bu against 9,120,000 bu the previous week. The primaries were about 50 per cent greater than this time last year. Wheat on passage increased 400,000 bu and the visible supply showed an increase of 1,394,000 bu. The visible is 29,000,00 bu which is 7,000,000 bu less than this time last year. Supplies are piling up rapidly and it seems that there will be no shortage of stuff this spring. There is mighty little export business and Eastern millers are not bidding up for the stuff.

The cash demand today was fair here and premiums were firmer. No. 1 Northern sold at 1c over the near option. In Minneapolis cash wheat was 1@2½c over May and the demand was poor except for choice grades.

While it is cloudy in many places in the Mississippi and Missouri river valleys not much rain has fallen in the last few days. The weather bureau predicts cold weather for the valleys tonight with a possibility of frost. An interesting message stood out today among all of the reports which come from the Southwest. It was dated Hutchinson, Kan., and said that there is considerable moisture in the ground despite the fact that the air has been dry for more than a month. Oats are two inches high, the message said, where rain or snow had not fallen for five or six weeks. The crop damage messages are more intermitent, but are still claiming everything from total disaster to 10 per cent damage. Their effect in the market is lost in the face of only a few scattered showers and cloudy weather. Many of the bulls insist that wheat has been killed, but they sell the deferred months on the declines just as willingly as the bears.

MARKET GOSSIP

A. D. Thomson, who is distinctly on the bear side, sent out this telegram late Saturday: "Absolutely no demand for wheat anywhere, either our spring durum or Manitobas. No place to sell anything. Might as well try to push a railway engine up Pike's Peak with a jack as to try to bull this wheat."

The Northwest received 2,125 cars of wheat last week against 1,992 in the previous week and 1,493 a year ago. Duluth got 964 cars last week against 642 the previous week and 287 a year ago. Minneapolis received 1,161 last week against 1,350 the previous week and 1,206 a year ago. Winnipeg received 1,272 last week compared with 1,318 last week and 1,158 a year ago.

T. J. Larson, manager of the farmers' elevator at Lignite, N. D., was on the floor this morning, the guest of C. T. Mears of Ely, Salyards & Co. Mr. Larson said that seeding is general near Lignite and that the soil is in first-class condition. He said there will be a large increase in the flax acreage, about the same proportion of wheat as last year and a slight decrease in oats on account of the large supply in reserve. Grain stores in farmers' hands, he said, are the largest in the grain growing history of the territory tributary to Lignite.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Firm in Spite of Bearish News From Fields.

Chicago, April 4.—Despite a preponderance of bearish news the wheat market developed moderate firmness during the early trading today owing to buying inspired by continued dry weather in Kansas. An official forecast of clear weather in that state for the next twenty-four hours gave additional encouragement to the bulls. An unexpectedly large volume of world's shipments, an increase in the amount on passage, and weakness at Liverpool were the leading bearish influences.

The market turned weak again toward the end after the first half of the session, and during the remainder of the day sentiment was bearish. Prices declined steadily until at the low point they were more than 1c below the highest mark of the day. July sold off to $1.06⅛ and September at $1.03¼. The close was weak at almost the bottom, July being at ⅝c lower at $1.06¼. September was down ½@⅝c at $1.03¼@1.03⅜.

Prices at the outset were ¼@⅜c lower to ⅛c higher, July being at $1.07⅛@1.06⅝ and September at $1.03⅞@1.03⅝. During the first hour July advanced to $1.07⅜ and September to $1.04⅜. The moderate advance in wheat caused a fair rally in the corn market following slight weakness at the start due to general selling by commission houses. Shorts covered quite freely early in the day which caused the May delivery to advance to 60⅞@61c, from an opening a shade to ¼@⅜c off at 60⅝¾60⅝c.

Corn followed wheat in its downward course, May selling off to 59⅞c. The close was weak and near the lowest point, with May down ⅝@¾c at 60c.

Oats were rather weak at the opening because of the heaviness of corn but the market soon became firmer on buying by commission houses. The May delivery opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c lower at 52¾⅞12⅝c, and sold up to 42⅞@43c.

Provisions were strong early in the day owing to brisk demand by shorts and packers. Offerings were light. Prices at the opening were 2½@20c higher, the greatest gains being noted in pork and lard. May pork opened at $25.20@25.30, and advanced to $25.37½@25.40. Lard opened at $13.57½ and sold up to $13.70 and ribs opened at $13.55@13.52½.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Easier, the May Option Closing at Lower Figures.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 4.—Wheat was easier, May option closing ⅝@¾c lower than Saturday. Shipments to this market as well as those to other primary markets were heavy, the world's shipments were large and the United States and Canada visible increased, all of which naturally favored low prices. Local elevator stocks of wheat increased 40,000 bu for two days. No rains were reported in Kansas. Minneapolis today received 405 cars of wheat as compared with 301 last year, Duluth 53 against 33, and Winnipeg 146, against 164. May opened $1.13¼; high, $1.13⅜; low $1.12¾; close, $1.12¾@1.12⅞. July opened $1.13⅜; high, $1.13⅝; low, $1.13⅛; close, $1.13⅛. September opened $1.03⅝; high, $1.03¾@1.03⅞; low, $1.03⅛; close, $1.03⅛@1.03¼.

Cash wheat was easier. The market was steady early with Saturday but the liberal offerings made the situation weaker. No. 1 northern sold in a range of ½@2½c above the May option, and No. 2 northern 1½c below to ½c above. Closing prices on track: No. 1 northern spot and to arrive, $1.13@1.14½; No. 2 northern spot and to arrive, $1.11@1.13½; No. 3 wheat, $1.07@1.11. No. 3 yellow corn, 51¾@54¾c; No. 3 white oats, 39¾@40¼c; No. 2 rye, 71¾@74¾c.

Millsuffs—Shipments, 1,260. No change; bran in 100-pound sacks, $21.00.

Flour—Shipments were unusually light, 35,042 bbl. Demand slow. First patents in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis, $5.40@5.60; second patents, $5.20@5.40; first clears, $4.35@4.45; second clears, $3.10@3.40.

Flax—Receipts, 64 cars, against 18 a year ago; shipments 3. Demand continued strong for both spot and to arrive at even Duluth May price. Close, $2.32¼.

Barley—Receipts, 82, against 57; shipments, 38. A firmer tone prevailed today. Demand was more active and offerings were liberal. Prices were quoted 1@2c higher. Closing range, 54@63c.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, April 4.—Close: Wheat—Spot dull; No. 2 red winter, no stock; futures steady; May, 8s ¼d; July, 7s 11⅝d; October, 7s 9¾d. Corn—Spot quiet; new American mixed, 5s 4d; old American mixed, 5s 8d; futures dull; July, 5s 8¾d.

New York Grain.

New York, April 4.—Close: Wheat—May, $1.22¼; July, $1.14½. Corn—May, 69c; July, 71¾c; September, 72c.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Market Practically Stagnant After First Hour's Slight Fluctuations.

Prices Drop Near Close Which Is Steady and Very Dull.

New York, April 4.—There was nothing decisive in the opening movement of prices of stocks today. Changes were small and mixed with a range of less than ½ for most stocks. Reading declined a point and Southern Pacific and Atchison large fractions. The dealings were very scanty.

After Southern Pacific had been depressed a point and other leaders an additional fraction, the market began to respond to supporting orders and prices rose again to near Saturday's closing. American Beet Sugar gained a point and Federal Mining preferred lost 2.

The market was practically stagnant after the slight flustuations on the first hour. The assembling of the supreme court was awaited to learn whether the decision in the American Tobacco case was to be handed down. Rock Island and American Smelting rose 1. Prices were advancing slowly at noon. Bonds were heavy.

A sudden activity on rising prices was attended by wide and feverish fluctuations in the representative stocks. Union Pacific jumped a point between transactions and touched 186½, a rise of 2⅝, but afterwards fell back to 185. Variations of ½ to ¾ between sales were made in Northern Pacific, St. Paul and New York Central on the way up, but when the buying stopped suddenly the whole market weakened and fell into its recent rut.

The market closed about steady and very dull. The completion of covering of shorts, which had been put out in expectation of a supreme court decision adverse to the American Tobacco company, left prices without that sustaining influence. The downward drift carried prices back as low as the early decline. American Snuff advanced 6½ on one sale.

WELL SUPPLIED WITH POISON

William Lamotha, a laborer, was arrested by Detective Schulte Saturday night after he had tried to take carbolic acid, it is claimed, in a Michigan street saloon. His partner stopped him from shuffling out of this world by knocking the bottle from his hand. He was charged with being drunk. When searched at the station two boxes of "rough on rats" were found in one of his pockets, and it is stated that he intended to use them to end his life in case the acid should fail.

A RECEPTION FOR "PREXY"

President Cyrus Northrop of the state university will be the chief speaker at the annual meeting and banquet of the Northern Alumni association, April 20, in the Duluth Commercial club.

Graduates and former students in the university are expected to be present. Besides President Northrop several of his friends of long standing will be guests, including E. B. Johnson of Minneapolis, secretary of the State Alumni association, and two or three of the faculty. Several Duluthians will be on the list of speakers.

An informal dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. The reception to President Northrop will be held about 8 o'clock. The public will be invited to the reception.

OBITUARY

Thomas Buckland Jeffery of Kenosha, Wis., inventor of a pneumatic tire and head of Thomas B. Jeffrey company, died suddenly at the Grand hotel, Pompeii, Italy, Saturday at mid night. Mr. Jeffrey was touring Europe with his wife, and she was with him when he died. He is survived by two sons, Charles T. and Harold W. Jeffery, both of Kenosha, and two daughters, Mrs. A. R. Carqueville of Chicago and Mrs. Hudson of St. Louis.

Mr. Jeffrey was born at Stoke, Devonshire, England, Feb. 5, 1845. He came to this country at the age of 18 and settled in Chicago. For more than twenty-five years he was partner in the firm of Gormully & Jeffrey, makers of bicycles. He was several times a millionaire. The body will be brought to America for burial.

Fred Malcolm, known as an old-time minstrel singer, died in Chicago, April 3, aged 53 years. In his career he appeared before members of royal families in Europe.

Ole O. Holson, one of the oldest settlers of the Red river valley, who emigrated to this country from Norway in the late 70's, is dead at his farm at Warren, Minn. He was one of the most prosperous farmers of Marshall county. He is survived by a widow and five children. The children are Moses Holson, a prominent merchant of Warren, Mrs. Andrea Knutson of Warren; Lena Holson, Annie Holson and Klegar Clifford Dufour Holson of St. Paul.

Gen. E. Van Arsdale Andruss, U. S. A., retired, died at his home in New York, April 3, after a year's illness. Born in Newark, N. J., in 1839, he served first in the navy for four years as midshipman and later was appointed to West Point, being graduated from there in 1864 and serving with distinction in final campaigns of the Civil war. He became a colonel in the artillery corps in 1901, and was retired as brigadier-general the following year, at his own request.

R. R. Cochrane, professor of mathematics of the Manitoba university at Winnipeg, Man., died Sunday night of diabetes. He was 60 years of age, and a brother of the late George Cochrane, president of the Los Angeles university.

Judge George H. Williams, the last surviving member of President Grant's cabient, died at Portland, Or., April 4.

UNKNOWN TRAMP COMMITS SUICIDE

Fort Frances, Ont., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—An unknown man supposed to have been a tramp committed suicide several days ago in a vacant house near Stratton station.

The body was not discovered until Friday, when another tramp, who happened by, opened the door and was horriefied to see the body of a man hanging from a beam by a logging chain. The police are doing everything possible to identify the man.

A Shooting Affray.

A shooting affray occurred in Lockhart & Co.'s sawmill on Thursday night which nearly proved fatal for two of the employes. As it is reported, Armstrong had reason to complain to Southworth, a bookkeeper, about his child being in the way of the cars. The dispute resulted in a fight, and Southworth shot Armstrong in the thigh and the wrist, and Southworth was badly beaten.

Constable Campbell went out to make the arrest of Southworth, but he was too badly used up to be removed from his bed. As soon as he is able to leave his bed, he will be arrested and tried for the shooting.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF SIX IS FREED

Cambridge, Mass., April 4.—At the hour fixed for the beginning of her trial upon an indictment charging her with six murders, Mrs. Mary Kelleher of Somerville was set free by order of the superior court today at the request of the district attorney, who claimed that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant the prosecution of the case.

AERONAUTS ARE KILLED.

Stettin, Germany, April 4.—The German balloon Pommern, which made an ascention here Sunday afternoon, met with a series of accidents which ended in a disaster under most tragic circumstances in the Baltic sea.

Three men lost their lives, including the radical member of the reichstag, Werner Hugo del Brueck, Herr del Brueck and another member of the party were drowned, a third occupant of the car was picked up unconscious and died from his injuries, while the fourth was rescued in a serious condition. Del Brueck was acting as pilot. The wind was almost a gale and the Pommern broke away before she had been completely ballasted.

BONANZA YEAR FOR NORTH DAKOTA BUILDERS.

Fargo, N. D., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—This will be a bonanza year for the lumber dealers and the men engaged in the building trades in North Dakota. The usual amount of construction work will be carried on in the older towns and there will be about 100 new towns established along the proposed branch lines of the railways in this state. The lumber and material dealers say actual and prospective sales already far exceed former years. Every man who can do anything in connection with building trades will find ready employment.

DYNAMITE BANK IN NEBRASKA

Randolph, Neb., April 4.—The First National bank was dynamited and robbed of $10,000 in gold and currency between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning by three masked men. Town Marshal Carroll was held up on the street and bound and gagged and thrown in a back room. Seven explosions, requiring forty-five minutes, wrecked the vault.

"BLIND BAGGAGE" RIDERS KILLED

Goshen, Ind., April 4.—Blinded and smothered by heavy spray dashing up from the trough between the tracks of the Lake Shore railroad as the locomotive of a passenger train took water running, two young men who were riding on the "blind" end of the baggage car fell beneath the wheels and were instantly killed today.

They were Walter Packer and August Walskiegir, members of prominent families at Elkhart.

BIG CATHOLIC SCHOOL NEAR SCHWYZ BURNS.

Berne, Switzerland, April 4.—Switzerland's largest Catholic college, the Mariahilf, located near Schwyz, with the church library and valuable scientific collection, was burned last night. Five hundred students and professors had narrow escapes.

MISSING NEGAUNEE MAN'S BODY FOUND.

Negaunee, Mich., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of John Arnett, who disappeared from his home here March 27, was found in the Bunker pond by a son of Sevier Liquea, lying in a few inches of water. It was evidently a case of suicide, although the cause is not known. The boy who found the body claims the reward of $125 offered by relatives and a fraternal society.

ROOSEVELT CANCELS RECEPTION PLANNED FOR THE AMERICANS

Ex-President Is Aroused By the Action of Rev. Dr. Tipple.

Anti-Vatican Statement Causes Unpleasantness at Rome.

King Calls on the Famous Traveler and Takes Him to See Troops.

Rome, April 5.—Mr. Roosevelt was not in his happiest mood today. His wish that the Vatican audience incident be regarded as personal to him had not been respected. He was intensely annoyed, and about the first thing the former president did today was to call off the reception to the members of the American colony which had been set for tomorrow night.

This action can be traced directly to the issuance yesterday of a statement by Rev. B. M. Tipple, pastor of the American Methodist church, in which opportunity was taken for an attack upon the Roman church. Mr. Roosevelt does not propose to be used by any one to the disparagement of any one else.

Called on Roosevelt First.

Mr. Tipple called upon Mr. Roosevelt yesterday afternoon, and upon his departure made public a statement in which he lifted the Vatican episode out of the realm of the personal, and gave it a world-wide significance.

"Mr. Roosevelt has struck a blow for twentieth century Christianity," said Mr. Tipple. "The representatives of two great republics have been the ones to pat the Vatican where it belongs. • • • The Vatican is incompatible with republican principles.

"This is a bitter dose for patriotic Catholics in America to swallow. I wonder how many doses of this sort they will take before they revolt? Is Catholicism in America to be American or Romish? If Romanish, then every patriotic American should rise to crush it, for Roman Catholicism is the uncompromising foe of freedom. • • • The world advances, but the Vatican never."

Shown to Ex-President.

The statement in full was shown to Mr. Roosevelt today, when he said:

"I had made no arrangements to speak at any church or clerical organization in Rome. I have received a number of gentlemen of all religious faiths who have called at my rooms or at the American embassy.

"Under the circumstances I have requested the American ambassador not to hold the reception which he had intended to hold Wednesday afternoon.

"As regards all efforts, by whomsoever made, to bring about and inflame religious animosities because of what

PRIMARY LAW IS SUSTAINED

Wisconsin Supreme Court Upholds the Election Statute.

Suit to Restrain Frear From Paying Expense Warrants Is Decided.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—The primary election law of Wisconsin was today upheld in an opinion handed down by the supreme court.

This is the case in which A. B. Van Alstine of Outagamie county sought to restain Secretary of State James A. Frear and State Treasurer A. H. Dahl from auditing and paying warrants for expenditures in accordance with the provisions of the primary election law, alleging that the law was unconsitutional.

Five reasons which were predicated upon the unlawful expenditure of public moneys were cited by the complainant, to which Attorney General F. L. Gilbert interposed demurrers, the demurrers being sustained by the circuit court.

CARNEGIE HAS SLIGHT ILLNESS

Ironmaster Leaves Pittsburg and Soon Will Sail for Scotland.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 5.—Looking tired and worn, Andrew Carnegie, his wife and daughter, with several servants, left Pittsburg today over the Pennsylvania railroad for New York city. Mr. Carnegie's associates said the ironmaster was slightly ill with an attack of lumbago and had nothing to add to his statements of last night. The Carnegies will sail for Scotland in the near future.

Mr. Carnegie yesterday ate heartily and fearlessly of the experimental work of a class of young girls in cooking at the Margaret Morrison school, which is a department of Carnegie "Tech." The laird admitted no ill effects, but last night excused himself from a banquet of the civic commission which he had promised to attend. In a letter of apology to the commission he enclosed a check for $10,000.

ALEXANDER McTEER MAY BE EXTRADITED

Man Wanted in Grand Forks Loses First Round in Canadian Courts.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A judgment of extradition against Archibald McTeer has finally been granted at Montreal, Can. In the meantime an application for a writ of habeas corpus has been made, and pending the outcome of this, Grand Forks officials will not go to Montreal. McTeer is wanted here on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and his fight against extradition has been in progress since last November. Under extradition laws, a man committed for extradition must remain in jail in Canada fifteen days before he can be removed.

PAYNE CALLS HIS OPPONENTS LIARS

Author of Tariff Bill Says It Is Refuting Its Assailants.

Washington, April 5.—"The present tariff law is every day confuting the many liars who attack it," declared Representative Sereno E. Payne of New York, one of the authors of the law, as he was leaving the White House today after a tariff conference with President Taft.

Mr. Payne appeared annoyed to the point of being almost angry.

"From every standpoint it is the most successful bill this country has ever had," he declared. "It talks for itself every day in the upbuilding of American business at home and abroad. The maximum and minimum provisions of the bill alone have opened the markets of the world to the goods of the United States."

HOUSE MEMBERS HEAR J. A. PENTON

Ask Him About Alleged Actions of Ship Subsidy Interests.

Washington, April 5.—John A. Penton of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of the Merchant Marine League of the United States, was the principal figure in today's proceedings before the house special committee which is inquiring into the charges affecting members of the house in connection with ship subsidy legislation.

The inquiry was at the instance of Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, whose resolution charged that the league, claiming to represent millions of dollars of capital, with memberships throughout the country, had conspired improperly to influence members of congress and create hostility against all persons opposed to ship subsidy legislation.

Many Others Involved.

In the voluminous papers connected with the inquiry are numerous letters addressed to representatives, to newspaper editors and other people, bearing Mr. Penton's signature "restoring the merchant marine," including charges that the "foreign shipping plunderers" is taking $500,000 annually from the people of this country."

Former Representative James T. McCleary of Minnesota, at one time second assistant postmaster general, had also been subpoenaed to appear before the committee today.

NINE CHILDREN IN ONE ROOM HAVE SMALLPOX

Teacher Is Joined at Pesthouse By Her Young Charges.

Franklin Building Thoroughly Fumigated By the Health Department.

Smallpox has broken out in the Franklin school, Fifth avenue east and Seventh street, from some mysterious source.

Nine children were discovered by the health department yesterday who are infected. All of them were pupils in the same room.

Several days ago their teacher was taken with the disease. She was taken to the isolation hospital and the children are being removed as rapidly as possible. The reunions of the teacher and her young charges, as they went out by ones and twos yesterday and this morning, were sad ones.

The health department is taking every known precaution to prevent the smallpox from spreading. The school building was thoroughly fumigated last night, as were the homes of the children who had the disease. Every room was gone through carefully by the inspectors, both in the public institution and the private residences. All clothes, books, furniture or other articles that might hold a single germ were given careful attention.

Arms were bared to learn who had been vaccinated. The simple assertion that the precautionary measure had been taken was not enough. The authorities insisted upon seeing the scars. Where any one was found who had not been innoculated with the vaccine, which is regarded as the most effective preventative yet discovered by the medical profession, they were ordered to be vaccinated at once.

The inspectors worked at top speed yesterday afternoon and last evening. They fully realized the danger that would result from leaving any stone unturned to kill every possibility of its spread. They did not rest until they had exerted every effort possible to remove any chance that the disease might assume the proportions of an epidemic which would sweep through the central part of the city. Most of the children who are ill live in the central part of the town.

LOVERS FALL UNDER TRAIN

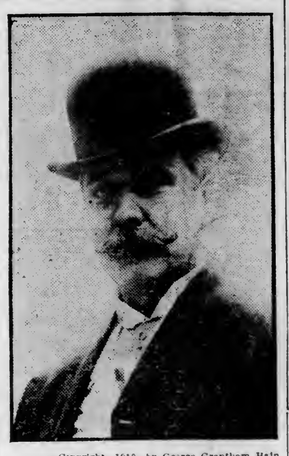

Bodies Are Mangled Beyond Recognition After Tumble From Cliff.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 5.—While strolling along "Lover's Path" near Myersdale last evening, Jessie Myers, aged 24 years, and George Lindaman, aged 23 years, fell headlong over a sixty-foot cliff onto the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and in front of an express train which mangled them practically beyond recognition

STOLE AND SOLD CROWN PRINCE'S COPPER STOCKS

—Copyright, 1910, by George Grantham Bain.

NOAH E. BARNES.

New York, April 5.—Noah Barnes, promoter, engineer and president of the Cottonwood Creek Copper company, was found guilty last night of grand larceny in appropriating $30,000 of $150,000 of the company's funds obtained by sales of stock of the crown prince of Germany and other German noblemen. Count von Hochberg, a young German nobleman who renounced his social position to marry a German shop girl whom he brought to this country, acted as his sales agent abroad. Barnes took the verdict calmly. He will be sentenced next Thursday.

Substitute Measure Introduced in House By Mr. Scott.

Washington, April 5.—A substitute anti-option bill, incorporating only the provisions of the old bill relating to cotton exchanges, was introduced in the house today by Chairman Scott of the committee on agriculture after an agreement to approve this measure had been reached by the sub-committee having the bill in charge.

RAIN IS GENERAL IN THE SOUTHWEST.

Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—A steady rain fell today in Missouri, Eastern Kansas, Eastern Oklahoma and in Northern Arkansas, accompanied by a drop in temperature in some parts of the Southwestern country of 40 deg.

This is the most general rain in the Southwest this spring, and it will have a good effect upon growing crops.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE IN BITTER ARRAIGNMENT OF TARIFF LAW AT PARTY CONVENTION IN INDIANA

Republican Member of Congress Denounces Payne-Aldrich Bill.

Storms of Applause From Delegates Greet Harsh Denunciations.

Platform Adopted Indorses Taft But Ignores New Customs Law.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 5.—When United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge, in his speech as temporary chairman of the Indiana Republican convention, today declared his antagonism to the tariff law passed at the preceding session of congress, his periods were marked by storms of applause from the delegates and the crowded galleries in Tomlinson hall.

Repeating as a text, "I could not stand for it then, and I cannot stand for it now," Senator Beveridge made an impassioned defense of the counts upon which he had based his vote in the senate against the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, which he did not call by name.

In ringing voice he sent his short sentences through the hall:

"Like President Taft, I wanted free iron ore, of which we have the greatest deposits on earth, and which the Steel trust chiefly controls. I could not stand for the duty that was passed and I cannot stand for it now.

"Like Taft."

"Like Taft I wanted many raw materials that needed no protection put on the free list. Yet only one was so treated. I could not stand for the duties on these articles, and I cannot stand for them now.

"Like President Taft, I wanted the ancient woolen schedule reduced. It gives to the woolen trust unfair control and raises the price and reduces the weight of the people's clothing. I stood against this schedule when the bill was passed and I stand against it now.

"I could not stand for the duty on lumber when the tariff bill was passed and I cannot stand for it now.

"I stood against the increase of the duty on cotton goods, and I stand against it now.

Sugar Tariff a Deception.

"The reduction of the tariff on refined sugar is a deception, because it cannot affect the price. Yet, that is one of the boasted reductions we hear of.

"These are examples of increases. I was against them then and I am against them now.

"From few if any of the decreases do the people get the slightest benefit.

"I was for a law that would have protected the wages of every working

FISHERMAN IS KILLED

Ely Game Warden Shoots Andrew Mezzopelto and Is Arrested.

Fred James Put in Jail to Protect Him From Violence.

Ely, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Mezzopelto, a Finn, aged 23, died at the Shipman hospital here last night from the effect of a bullet wound sustained at the hands of Deputy Game Warden Fred James. James is under arrest pending the outcome of the inquest as the fellow countrymen of the deceased are very much worked up over the affair and have made several threats against the warden. The latter claims the killing was in a sense accidental as he shot to freighten the deceased with no intention of even wounding him.

The shooting occurred at Long lake, near town, about 6 o'clock last evening. The game warden came across Mezzopelto in the act of seining fish. He called upon him to desist and undertook to arrest him. When the deceased resisted the warden fired, he claims, for the purpose of frightening him. The bullet, however, struck Mezzopelto in the head and he sank unconscious to the ground. The wounded man was hurried to the Shipman hospital and died about 8 o'clock last night.

The news of the killing spread around town like wildfire and the fellow countrymen of the deceased became very excited and made so many threats that James was placed in the city jail although he claimed all the time the shooting was accidental.

The Finns were so hostile last evening that Mayor Elsenach swore in a large force of deputies. The saloons were ordered closed early in the evening.

STRIKE TIES UP THE GOLDFIELD & TONOPAH.

Tonopah, Nev., April 5.—A strike of operating employes on the Tonopah & Goldfield railway was declared yesterday. All the conductors, brakemen, firemen and engineers walked out. A recent order reducing wages brought on the walkout. The road is the only means of access to the Goldfield district from the north.

Foreigners Going Home.

Fort Smith, Ark., April 5.—Twenty-two striking coal miners, foreigners, from the Oklahoma fields, passed through Fort Smith today for New York bound for Europe. It is said that hundreds more will follow.

BALLOT IN MANY CITIES

Chicago Holds Most Important Aldermanic Election in Years.

Socialist Mayor Predicted in Milwaukee---Some Option Contests.

Chicago, April 5.—The polls opened at 6 a. m. today for what was looked upon as one of the most important aldermanic elections in Chicago's history. Keen interest was centered in many of the thirty-five wards, each of which is to elect a member to the new city council.

Reform organizations put forth efforts to defeat alleged "gray wolves" because the next council will probably have to decide upon several great municipal undertakings. Among the latter are regulation of the price of gas and telephone service. Another is construction of a passenger subway.

The saloon question was not put before the voters in Chicago, the project to have the subject placed on the ballot having been knocked out on the ground that the petition did not have enough signatures. More than 200 cities and towns in Illinois, however, were called upon to vote on local option.

Socialist has Good Chance.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 5.—Municipal elections are being held throughout Wisconsin today. In many places the "wet" or "dry" issue is before the people.

In Milwaukee a hot three-cornered contest for mayor is being waged, all three parties standing for practically the same platform—home rue, initiative, referendum and regulation of the liquor traffic. Dr. John M. Beffel is the Republican candidate for mayor; Vincenz J. Schoenecker, Jr., heads the Democratic ticket, and Emil Seidel leads the Social Democrats.

While the betting several days ago favored the Democratic candidate, even money is offered today that the Socialists will win. Dr. Beffel, the Republican candidate, who entered the contest at a late day, is said to have made great gains in the last few days and the race, it is predicted, will be close.

In addition to mayor, a common council, a circuit judge and seven civil judges are being balloted for. There are forty candidates for the judicial positions. The civil judicial offices are

REACHING TERMS ON MINE TROUBLE

Wage Increase May Be Given If Powder Dispute Is Arbitrated.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 5.—The operators and miners of the Pittsburg district met again in an effort to arrive at a new wage scale for the ensuing two years. It is understood the 5 cent increase per ton asked for by the miners will be granted by the operators if the miners will arbitrate the new explosive clause of their demands.

COLUMBUS CARMEN DECIDE TO STRIKE.

Columbus, Ohio, March 5.—Motormen and conductors of the Columbus Railway & Light company decided today to strike for 27 cents an hour and for recognition of a union which the employes have just formed. About 1,000 men are involved.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS FATAL ACCIDENT

Man Shoots Companion and at Once Turns Pistol on Himself.

Trenton, N. J., April 5.—A tragedy in which a man was accidentally shot dead followed by the suicide of the man who fired the fatal bullet, occurred early today on the platform of the Philadelphia & Reading station at Trenton Junction, five miles from this city.

The first victim was Frank Fracella, a cab driver. The suicide was John Connolly, employed as a watchman by the railroad company. These men with a railroad detective and the station telegraph operator were standing on the platform when the shooting occurred. Connolly had two revolvers, one of which was empty. He was showing them to Fracella, the two witnesses say, and had remarked, "How would you like to get a lead from this one?" when the weapon was discharged.

It is believed Connolly thought he was exhibiting the empty revolver to the cab driver.

NEARLY HALF OF STATE IS "DRY"

Michigan Election Returns on Option Are Made---Helena Has Election.

Detroit, Mich., April 5.—Complete returns from the thirty-six counties in Michigan where local option elections were held yesterday show that twenty counties voted "dry" and sixteen "wet." Of the eighty-three counties in Michigan forty will now be "dry" and fotry-three "wet."

"Independent" Carries Helena.

Helena, Mont., April 5.—Frank J. Edwards, Independent Republican was re-elected mayor of this city yesterday by a plurality of 59 votes over John Dryburgh, regular Republican nominee, according to figures given out today. W. H. Church, publisher of a daily newspaper, was the Democratic candidate. Dryburgh was the candidate of the so-called Carter element n the Republican party, while Edwards was looked upon as an insurgent candidate. The result of the election is expected to have a bearing upon Senator Carter's candidacy for re-election.

THE FIGHT IS CONTINUED

Men State They Can Stand It as Long as the Owners.

The strike of the seamen on the Great Lakes begun last spring, and continued throughout the whole of the last navigation season, is not by any means over. This morning with new banners, men were sent on the street to warn men that a strike is on and advising them to keep away.

The men affected are the firemen, oilers, deck hands, wheelsmen and cooks. The strike started more than a year ago was not because the wages paid were unsatisfactory, but that "open shop" was being inaugurated on the lakes by the large vessel owners.

The engineers were required to sign slips which bound them to hire no union men and it was then that the trouble began. The strikers have had a large sum of money donated to them lately so that they may continue the fight and this is exactly what they intend to do.

Last year there was much violence about the docks when non-union men attempted to go to work on the boats. This year it is not expected that this will be the case. The men realize that it has settled down to a long grind. They state that they can stand it as long as the vessel owners can afford to get along with incompetent help. The strikers lay a great number of accidents of last year to the fact that the boats were loaded with men who were inexperienced.

All over the lakes the fight has been taken up with renewed vigor. The men are determined to keep up the fight until the owners will recognize their unions and sign agreements to employ none other than union help.

The owners state that they were not hampered last year and claim that they can operate their boats as well with the new men as they could with union labor. They deny the fact that the accidents that occurred last year were the result of incompetent help.

Guard Your Health

What a grasping and groping for anything to prolong life, is resorted to by the man who sees death staring him in the face—and what a tenacious grip he keeps on what little life there is left for him; how zealously he guards every moment of it.

Just a little knowledge at the proper time, at the time when the man's ailment or disease was in a curable state, as all diseases of men are, for a greater or lesser period—would have saved him all this lingering agony, the dread of anticipation, would in all likelihood have enabled him to live and enjoy his full span of life.

Know You Then!

That no matter what your ailment, whether contracted, or inherited—that no matter whether or not other physicians have tried and failed even if you have begun to give up hope yourself—there is health for you. Right here in Duluth.

The Progressive Medical association makes this statement—and will back it up with a Legal Guarantee to Cure every accepted case.

Their twenty-five years of constant, successful practice in curing the ailments and diseases common to man. Thirty years or more of constant study along the same lines, has given them an enviable position amongst the leading scientists, both in this country and abroad.

SALT LADEN STEAMER IS SUNK AT STURGEON BAY.

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., April 5.—The first marine mishap of the season occurred at midnight when the schooner Augustus the First, on her first trip ran into a sunken crib in this bay and sank in about ten feet of water. She was loaded with 700 barrels of salt for local merchants and came from Manistee. All the salt was lost except 170 barrels. The boat and cargo is owned by Capt. Arthur Dow of Manitowoc. The loss on cargo is about $500. The vessel can be raised.

Rheumatism.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicine usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worst than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

UNION BANK OF BROOKLYN CLOSED

Directors Ask State Superintendent to Take Charge of Its Affairs.

New York, April 5.—The doors of the Union Bank of Brooklyn were closed this morning. The bank has seven branches. O. H. Cheney, state superintendent of banks, has taken possession of the bank.

The assets and liabilities of the bank have not been made known. Supt. Cheney has issued the following statement in regard to the closing of the bank:

"As a result of an examination of the Union Bank of Brooklyn by the banking department, a meeting of its directors was held Monday evening at the office of this department to consider whether the bank was not in an unsafe condition because of certain of its assets for the character of which the present management is not responsible.

Decided to Close Business.

"After deliberation, the board reached the conclusion that the bank should not continue its business. The board accordingly requested the superintendent to take possession. Pursuant to that request and provisions of the banking law, the superintendent has taken possession of the corporation."

The president of the Union Bank of Brooklyn is Edward M. Grout, former comptroller of the currency of New York. The bank has a capitalization of $1,000,000 with deposits of over $5,000,000.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Svea Club of Duluth wil be host to Governor Eberhart on May 13 at the St. Louis hotel, when a big banquet wil be given in honor of the chief executive of the state, and Prof. Frank Nelson, president of Minnesota college, will be one of the principal speakers, besides the governor. Other prominent men have been invited to address the gathering, but definite word has not been received from them, in response to the invitations. Dr. J. J. Eklund will be the toastmaster.

There will be a meeting of the club members Friday at the Commercial club to complete the arrangements for the banquet. The club plans to make the occasion one of exceptional note and no effort will be spared to assure that result.

The musical program of the evening will be in charge of Charles Eklund. There will be orchestral numbers and a quartet will sing.

Acting in accordance with a statewide movement, which may become national in its scope, Norwegian Republicans of Duluth last evening organized the Norwegian Republican club, which is a successor to the old Viking club.

DR. J. J. EKLUND,
Toastmaster at Eberhart Banquet.

The new club was organized by about forty Norwegians, who met in the offices of the Duluth Scandinav, in the Exchange building. The name of the club caused considerable discussion and there was much oratory before the name was finally selected. The following officers were elected: President, Elias Engeseth; secretary, J. C. Wesenberg. The club will be represented in the Republican central organization of the city by Mr. Engeseth and Mr. Wesenberg, the basis of representation being the same as that on which the Svea Republican club entered the organization.

The movement under which the new club was organized last night has been started among the Norwegians of the state, who will band together in districts and in a state organization, it is said, for political purposes. If the state organization is successful in making its influence felt in state politics, the movement will be extended to Norwegians of other states.

Among the speakers at the meeting last night were H. W. Coulter, who represented the city Republican organization, C. J. Hailing, Elias Engeseth, Andrew Anderson, Christ Hanson, L. Larson, M. J. Burke, J. C. Wesenberg, Andrew Dahl, K. L. Fenney and Ellert Johnson. The next meeting of the club will be held April 25.

The death of Joel P. Heatwole at Northfield yesterday did not come as a surprise, for it has been known for several months that his condition was such as to afford little hope that he would recover. Mr. Heatwole, as congressman, editor and publisher, was one of the best known men in the state, and in the realm of politics he was always a force to be reckoned with. His death will be regretted throughout the state.

One of the most amusing political rivalries in the memory of Minnesota political observers is that at Royalton between the Bouck brothers. It is not known whether either of them has any vast ambition to remake the old or mold the new laws of this great commonwealth, but it's a cinch that if one of them files for legislature, the other will do the same. In fact, both have let it become known that they will try again for legislative honors, running one against the other for the Republican nominat on.

Two years ago they pulled off that stunt, and L. D. Brown of Little Falls, another Republican, butted in and got away with the nomination.

The Bouck brothers are neighbors in Royalton and live in perfect brotherly amity, visiting one another and being model citizens as much as mortal can be so—until the campaign for the honor of representing the district in the lower house approaches. Then, although there is no interruption in their real, red-blooded regard for one another, stuff is off! It's war to the Knife river, if that happens to be the boundary line of the district, which probably it is not. Probably Mr. Brown will continue to saw wood—in Little Falls, and, later in St. Paul.

The Minneota Mascot remarks that "pork has gone up so much and politicians have gone down so much that you can now buy half a dozen average politicians for the price of one good hog."

The unkindness of this observation will be appreciated when it is said that it comes as the concluding thought of an editorial on possible candidates for house and senate from the Seventeenth district. The peg upon which Editor Bjornson h ngs this shred of wisdom is the statement that Representative C. K. Melby of Minneota is being urged to enter the race for the senate against Senator V. B. Seward on a county option platform. That gentleman has not yet announced his stand on the issue to which Mr. Melby is committed, but he is assiduously playing the part of a silent observer and listener and may take his public into his confidence when he makes formal announcement of his desire to return to the upper house. Mr. Melby is a farmer and raises hogs, for which he gets good prices.

It is reported that J. N. Jonhson of Yellow Medicine county will be unopposed as a candidate for re-election to the house. J. N. Jones, locally a factor in Lyons county Republican politics, is mentioned as one of the possible candidates in the Seevnteenth, and there are others in the district who are expected to volunteer their services.

The popularity of Governor Burke of North Dakota is attested by the large number of invitations he receives to address gatherings outside the state of which he is the efficient executive head. It is expected that he will be one of the speakers at the Jefferson day banquet of Minnesota Democrats in St. Paul April 13, and also he has been asked to make an address later in the month on the occasion of the opening of the new Hotel St. Paul. Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, also has been invited to be present at the banquet. With Burke and Mack added to the list which already contains the names of Lind, Foss, Hammond and probably Haynes of Minneapolis, the Jeffersonians are certain to enjoy a notable gathering. The demand for seats threatens to swamp the managers of the event, as the allotments sent to many important towns in the state have been exhausted and more tickets are being called for daily.

The Eveleth News warns the Republicans of the range of danger in the rival candidacies of P. R. Vail of Virginia and Dr. H. R. Welrick, mayor of Hibbing, for the nomination for state senator. Ninth district sentiment seems to be largely against Bjorge's chances of success in his attempt to take the congressional nomination away from Steenerson, and now the suggestion is made that he file for the state senate. F. H. Peterson of Moorhead represented the Sixtieth district in the senate two years ago.

H. F. Meyer of Albany, Stearns county, is a tentative candidate for the Republican nomination for representative from the district composed of the eastern end of the county, which was represented in the last legislature by Joseph Friedman of Eden Valley. It is probable that Governor Eberhart will name Webster Wheelock, formerly editor-in-chief of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, for the vacancy on the board of regents of the University of Minnesota caused by the death of Judge Thomas Wilson. WEST END BETTER WALKS ARE WANTED

Hillside Club Also After More Lights and Water Extensions.

Better sidewalks up the hillside and extra lights, are among some of the improvements that the West End Hillside Improvement club is now working for. The club will meet Friday evening to consider these matters as well as to discuss the proposition of water extensions.

The sidewalks on some parts of the hillside are in bad shape and show neglect on the part of some of the property owners. Not only are they dangerous in some instances but they also present a very unsightly appearance. On the steeper hills, only wooden walks are used.

The water board recently made an inspection of the route proposed from the present terminus of the mains at Fourteenth avenue west and Fifth street to Nineteenth avenue west. The board found the extension to be a costly one, for much solid rock would be encountered. A new route will be investigated.

Peter Olson, former alderman, is chairman of the hillside club committee on the proposed extension.

WILL LECTURE FOR CHURCH FUND.

One of the methods that the young people of the First Swedish Baptist church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street, have of raising money to pay for the new structure which is being erected at Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, is to secure a lecturer, whose address will be the feature of an entertainment for the building fund.

Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of this city has promised to deliver his well-known lecture on "In the Barefoot Kingdom." His address treats of boys and young people and on past occasions it has met with much favor.

The date for the affair has been set for April 15. The details of the program will be worked out this evening when the Young People's society will meet at the church parlors in regular monthly session.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ledingham were surprised Sunday evening by a number of their friends in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The affair took place at their home, 1711 New street. They were presented with a set of silverware. The evening was spent in games and music. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Elder, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. William Anderson has returned from the Twin Cities, where he has been on a short business trip.

The official board of the First Swedish M. E. church will meet at the church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, tomorrow evening. Routine monthly business will be transacted.

The West End Mission Society of the St. John's English Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Christina Haakons of 2821 West First street.

Chain Grown Into Tree.

A curious discovery was made recently at Winthrop, Mass., when a tree fifty years old was cut down and split up. The tree had long been used for a hitching post for horses, and when it was split open a long hitching chain was found firmly imbedded in the trunk for almost its entire diameter. For a real liquid food Golden Grain Belt beer is all that could be desired. Its food value is recognized by all who have tried it, and is found a valuable aid to digestion. BIJOU—New vaudeville bill.
HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY HALL—Senior class play "Esmeralda."

"THE GOLDEN BUTTERFLY"

Grace Van Studdiford Delights Audience in Colorless Opera.

It is an indeterminate thing, part musical comedy and part comic opera. Only Grace Von Studdiford's wonderful voice, and the magnificent production this prima donna-manager has given the weak offspring of this unusually brilliant pair, have saved it from mediocrity.

The story is hung upon the following incident: Franz, a young composer, is in love with Ilma, a chorus singer. She aspires to be a grand opera prima donna, and he dreams of success in his line, which, indeed, he achieves, but the score of his beautiful opera is stolen by the manager to whom it is sent, and who is about to produce it as his own, with his old prima donna, Tina, in the leading role. The latter, however, in a fit of pique, refuses to sing, and he decides to give Ilma the long desired chance; which plan is almost frustrated by the changing mood of Tina, who decides to go on at the last moment. At this juncture Franz arrives on the scene, and, impersonating a Russian prince who is in love with Tina, decoys her away from the theater. Ilma scores a triumph in the opera, and Franz returns to claim the opera and his love.

The music is only a hint of de Koven at his best, and only at times are there snatches of harmony that suggest what this favorite composer is capable of.

Miss Van Studdiford, however, would redeem even a sample of the blackest of musical comedy, and "The Golden Butterfly" is not that. She never sang better in Duluth than she did last evening, and the large audience forgot any shortcomings of the opera itself. Probably the most enjoyable number is "Don't Forget Me," a haunting waltz melody, that is reminiscent of "Robin Hood."

Miss Van Studdiford is big enough and firmly enough established in the good graces of the public, not to fear comparison, and unlike many prima donnas, she seeks competition in the members of her own company. In this instance Miss Hazel Kirke supplies it, in the role of Tina, the prima donna. There are few voices on the light opera stage that would not suffer from comparison with Miss Van Studdiford's, but Miss Kirke's does not. Her numbers were delightfully rendered.

Carl Haydn has the role of Franz. He has a passably good tenor voice, but does not get what he should out of the role. Harry Macdonough, in a most eccentric makeup, has the chief comedy role, that of Baron Von Affenkoff, the director of the opera.

The chorus is a big feature of "The Golden Butterfly." Perhaps it would not be too much to say that no light opera that has visited Duluth in recent years, had any better looking chorus. Many of the girls are remarkably pretty, and they are most elaborately and tastefully gowned. The stage settings all look new and fresh, and some of the electric effects are novel.

"The Golden Butterfly" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow.

TABLOID DRAMA HEADS THE BILL

Will J. O'Hearn and Company Make Hit in Irish Playlet.

The most pretentious tabloid drama that has ever been given at the Bijou this year is "A Romance of Killarney," presented this week by Will J. O'Hearn, supported by Miss Eileen Kearney and a company of players, seven people in all. The playlet was written and staged by Mr. O'Hearn and is a meritorious Irish drama having all the beauty of which a play of that nature is capable.

The act is well arranged, well staged and the story is well worked out. It is so compressed that there are no dull moments and the interpolated songs by Will J. O'Hearn and Miss Elsa Ryan, are well sung. Little Miss Ryan is a wee child with a sweet voice and she won an instant place in the hearts of her auditors. The playlet is easily the headliner on the bill this week.

Calvert Dean and Miss Leta Price have a good act entitled "A Pleasant Mistake." It is a college playlet, with the true college spirit, and it is well done by the clever team.

The Holdworths get some good music out of the banjos. They sing, dance and play the banjo.

Smith O'Brien, "The Mirthful Songster," is a real comedian. His jokes are new and his songs are clever and well sung. Willie Solar and Evelyn Rogers have a line of songs, dances and witticisms that fill in their time on the stage with entertainment. Miss Norris sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and the usual excellent moving pictures complete a very entertaining bill.

John E. Young Coming.

One of the most popular stars who has visited this city in the past few years is John E. Young, whose delightful portrayal of the role of Happy Johnny Hicks in "The Time, the Place and the Girl" will be remembered. He will be seen at the Lyceum Sunday night, April 10, in a new comedy with songs, entitled "The Money and the Girl," which not only is very similar to "The Time, the Place and the Girl" in its humor, laughable complications and dashing action, but which affords Mr. Young a role so similar to Johnny Hicks that it might almost be called its twin brother.

"The Virginian."

Seats and boxes may be reserved at the box office of the Lyceum for the engagement of "The Virginian," which is to be seen here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. The play is a dramatization by Owen Wister and Kirke La Shelle of Mr. Wister's novel of the same name, since the publication of which nearly 500,000 copies have been sold, and the book reviewers have ascribed this marvelous popularity to the unique charm of the love story of the cowboy hero and the little school teacher from Vermont. This romance in all of its beauty has been successfully transferred from the book into this stage version, which is now in its third triumphal tour of the country.

AGAINST COUNTY OPTION ALSO FAVORING TAFT.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 5.—State Senator Edward Fairchild has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor on a platform which includes anti-county option on the liquor question, and which declares unswerving support of the legislative program of President Taft.

SURE OF MAJORITY ON ASQUITH MEASURE.

London, April 5.—Under Premier Asquith's guillotine proceedure the house of commons last night rejected by a vote of 357 to 251 the opposition amendment to the premier's resolutions on the veto power of the house of lords, which was moved by Sir Robert Finaly, and agreed that the premier's motion should go to committee without division.

The house was crowded and many peers and diplomats were present. The announcement of the figures, showing that the government was suro of a majority of 106 for the veto resolutions, was greeted with prolonged ministerial cheers.

TWO SERIOUSLY SHOT.

Almost Double Murder Committed in Boxcar Near Bruce.

Ladysmith, Wis., April 5.—While a freight train was stopping at the Beldenville spur, east of Bruce, early Monday, two Germans, one 60 years old, and the other 45, were shot by two Finlanders in a boxcar. One of the victims was shot three times and the other twice. While very low they are conscious, but can give no reason for the shooting. The Finlanders, Fred Hinski and Peter Horkh, are in jail here. All four left on the freight train at Rhinelander Sunday and the trainmen say the police drove the Finlanders out of that place.

Killed Stealing Ride.

Dodge Center, Minn., April 5.—Thomas Campion was instantly killed here while trying to steal a ride on a westbound freight train. He was accompanied by a man named Peterson and the two were headed for North Dakota in quest of work. The dead man was 30 years of age and had relatives living near Rochester.

Cyclone in Ohio.

Youngstown, Ohio, April 5.—In three minutes' time a cyclonic wind came and went in the midst of a rain storm late yesterday and left in its wake to to the southeast of the city a score of injured people, thousands of frightened ones, ten demolished houses and 100 partially wrecked ones. The loss is upward of $100,000. The storm came from the west and did the heaviest damage in Langville, where it wrecked five houses.

Medals for Peace Heroes.

Washington, April 5.—A general order has been issued from the navy department awarding a medal of honor and a gratuity of $100 to R. F. Bonney, chief water tender, and F. A. Clary, water tender, for extraordinary valor.

The occasion calling forth this recognition was the boiler accident to the torpedo boat destroyer Hopkins, off the California coast, Feb. 14, when both men risked their lifes to save others.

"Correct Dress for Women."

As a Woman's Tailored Suit is, —So Is Her Appearance.

One might almost say that the suit represents the woman, for it is her most essential garment, and the one in which she appears most often.

Therefore, it is imperative that the Tailored Suit be built for Service and for Style.—The Shape must be permanent: The Fit accurate, and every detail seen, or unseen, must be wrought with care.

Hundreds of women are particular to have the Gidding Label in their coat collars, for it is the Stamp of Gidding Perfection. It is the respect for the significance of the Gidding Label that has built up this splendid Gidding Garment Business.

And the greater the business, the greater are the advantages of selection to each individual—and under no one roof at the Head of the Lakes will you find so many Tailored Garments to choose from as at the Gidding store.

Strictly Tailored Styles, in one, two, three, four or five-button effects, with short mannish revers or long rolled notch or short collars—Snappy Belted Norfolk, or Russian-Blouse Styles, and trig military effects that are modifications of the Popular Russian styles and a hundred other varieties, in as many new and attractive fabrics and colors.

Tailored Suits, in carefully graded sizes, from Young Misses' to Large Women's sizes, at $29.50, $32.50, $35.00, $39.50, $45.00 to $125.00.

The Gidding Dress Section

Affords a better display of Dresses than Duluth women have formerly been privileged to choose from.

The cases and booths are filled to overflowing with Pert Tailored Walking Dresse, Smart Little Foulards, Dainty Linen, Lingerie and Colored Tub Frocks, as well as Exquisite Evening Gowns. In fact, a dress suitable for any use that you can name.

Men State They Can Stand It as Long as the Owners.

The strike of the seamen on the Great Lakes begun last spring, and continued throughout the whole of the last navigation season, is not by any means over. This morning with new banners, men were sent on the street to warn men that a strike is on and advising them to keep away.

The men affected are the firemen, oilers, deck hands, wheelsmen and cooks. The strike started more than a year ago was not because the wages paid were unsatisfactory, but that "open shop" was being inaugurated on the lakes by the large vessel owners.

The engineers were required to sign slips which bound them to hire no union men and it was then that the trouble began. The strikers have had a large sum of money donated to them lately so that they may continue the fight and this is exactly what they intend to do.

Last year there was much violence about the docks when non-union men attempted to go to work on the boats. This year it is not expected that this will be the case. The men realize that it has settled down to a long grind. They state that they can stand it as long as the vessel owners can afford to get along with incompetent help. The strikers lay a great number of the accidents of last year to the fact that the boats were loaded with men who were inexperienced.

All over the lakes the fight has been taken up with renewed vigor. The men are determined to keep up the fight until the owners will recognize their unions and sign agreements to employ none other than union help.

The owners state that they were not hampered last year and claim that they can operate their boats as well with the new men as they could with union labor. They deny the fact that the accidents that occurred last year were the result of incompetent help.

Guard Your Health

What a grasping and groping for anything to prolong life, is resorted to by the man who sees death staring him in the face—and what a tenacious grip he keeps on what little life there is left for him; how zealously he guards every moment of it.

Just a little knowledge at the proper time, at the time when the man's ailment or disease was in a curable state, as all diseases of men are, for a greater or lesser period—would have saved him all this lingering agony, the dread of anticipation, would in all likelihood have enabled him to live and enjoy his full span of life.

Know You Then!

That no matter what your ailment, whether contracted, or inherited—that no matter whether or not other physicians have tried and failed even if you have begun to give up hope yourself—there is health for you. Right here in Duluth.

The Progressive Medical association makes this statement—and will back it up with a Legal Guarantee to Cure every accepted case.

Their twenty-five years of constant, successful practice in curing the ailments and diseases common to man. Thirty years or more of constant study along the same lines, has given them an enviable position amongst the leading scientists, both in this country and abroad.

Submit your case to them today—Consultation is free, and treatment strictly confidential. If you cannot call, write for free symptom blank, which will be mailed to you in plain envelope addressed personally.

SALT LADEN STEAMER IS SUNK AT STURGEON BAY.

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., April 5.—The first marine mishap of the season occurred at midnight when the schooner Augustus the First, on her first trip ran into a sunken crib in this bay and sank in about ten feet of water. She was loaded with 700 barrels of salt for local merchants and came from Manistee. All the salt was lost except 170 barrels. The boat and cargo is owned by Capt. Arthur Dow of Manitowoc. The loss on cargo is about $500. The vessel can be raised.

Rheumatism.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicine usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

UNION BANK OF BROOKLYN CLOSED

Directors Ask State Superintendent to Take Charge of Its Affairs.

New York, April 5.—The doors of the Union Bank of Brooklyn were closed this morning. The bank has seven branches. O. H. Cheney, state superintendent of banks, has taken possession of the bank.

The assets and liabilities of the bank have not been made known. Supt. Cheney has issued the following statement in regard to the closing of the bank:

"As a result of an examination of the Union Bank of Brooklyn by the banking department, a meeting of its directors was held Monday evening at the office of this department to consider whether the bank was not in an unsafe condition because of certain of its assets for the character of which the present management is not responsible.

Decided to Close Business.

"After deliberation, the board reached the conclusion that the bank should not continue its business. The board accordingly requested the superintendent to take possession. Pursuant to that request and provisions of the banking law, the superintendent has taken possession of the corporation."

The president of the Union Bank of Brooklyn is Edward M. Grout, former comptroller of the currency of New York. The bank has a capitalization of $1,000,000 with deposits of over $5,000,000.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Svea Club of Duluth wil be host to Governor Eberhart on May 13 at the St. Louis hotel, when a big banquet wil be given in honor of the chief executive of the state, and Prof. Frank Nelson, president of Minnesota college, will be one of the principal speakers, besides the governor. Other prominent men have been invited to address the gathering, but definite word has not been received from them, in response to the invitations. Dr. J. J. Eklund will be the toastmaster.

There will be a meeting of the club members Friday at the Commercial club to complete the arrangements for the banquet. The club plans to make the occasion one of exceptional note and no effort will be spared to assure that result.

The musical program of the evening will be in charge of Charles Eklund. There will be orchestral numbers and a quartet will sing.

ganized the Norwegian Republican club, which is a successor to the old Viking club.

The new club was organized by about forty Norweglans, who met in the offices of the Duluth Scandinav, in the Exchange building. The name of the club caused considerable discussion and there was much oratory before the name was finally selected. The following officers were elected: President, Elias Engeseth; secretary, J. C. Wesenberg. The club will be represented in the Republican central organization of the city by Mr. Engeseth and Mr. Wesenberg, the basis of representation being the same as that on which the Svea Republican club entered the organization.

The movement under which the new club was organized last night has been started among the Norwegians of the state, who will band together in districts and in a state organization. It is said, for political purposes. If the state organization is successful in making its influence felt in state politics, the movement will be extended to Norwegians of other states.

Among the speakers at the meeting last night were H. W. Coulter, who represented the city Republican organization, C. J. Hailing, Elias Engeseth, Andrew Anderson, Christ Hanson, L. Larson, M. J. Burke, J. C. Wesenberg, Andrew Dahl, K. L. Fenney and Ellert Johnson. The next meeting of the club will be held April 25.

The death of Joel P. Heatwole at Northfield yesterday did not come as a surprise, for it has been known for several months that his condition was such as to afford little hope that he would recover. Mr. Heatwole, as congressman, editor and publicist, was one of the best known men in the state, and in the realm of politics he was always a force to be reckoned with. His death will be regretted throughout the state.

One of the most amusing political rivalries in the memory of Minnesota political observers is that at Royalton between the Bouck brothers. It is not known whether either of them has any vast ambition to remake the old or mold the new laws of this great commonwealth, but it's a cinch that if one of them files for the legistature, the other will do the same. In fact, both have let it become known that they will try again for legislative honors, running one against the other for the Republican nominat'on.

Two years ago they pulled off that stunt, and L. D. Brown of Little Falls, another Republican, butted in and got away with the nomination.

The Bouck brothers are neighbors in Royalton and live in perfect brotherly amity, visiting one another and being model citizens as much as mortal can be so—until the campaign for the honor of representing the district in the lower house approaches. Then, although there is no interruption in their real, red-blooded regard for one another, stuff is off! It's war to the Knife river, if that happens to be the boundary line of the district, which probably it is not. Probably Mr. Brown will continue to saw wood—in Little Falls, and, later in St. Paul.

The Minneota Mascot remarks that "pork has gone up so much and politicians have gone down so much that you can now buy half a dozen average politicians for the price of one good hog."

The unkindness of this observation will be appreciated when it is said that it comes as the concluding thought of an editorial on possible candidates for house and senate from the Seventeenth district. The peg upon which Editor Bjornson h ngs this shred of wisdom is the statement that Representative C. K. Melby of Minneota is being urged to enter the race for the senate against Senator V. B. Seward on a county option platform. That gentleman has not yet announced his stand on the issue to which Mr. Melby is committed, but he is assiduously playing the part of a silent observer and listener and may take his public into his confidence when he makes formal announcement of his desire to return to the upper house. Mr. Melby is a farmer and raises hogs, for which he gets good prices.

It is reported that J. N. Jonhson of Yellow Medicine county will be unopposed as a candidate for re-election to the house. J. N. Jones, locally a factor in Lyons county Republican politics, is mentioned as one of the possible candidates in the Seventeenth, and there are others in the district who are expected to volunteer their services.

The popularity of Governor Burke of North Dakota is attested by the large number of invitations he receives to address gatherings outside the state of which he is the efficient executive head. It is expected that he will be one of the speakers at the Jefferson day banquet of Minnesota Democrats in St. Paul April 13, and also he has been asked to make an address later in the month on the occasion of the opening of the new Hotel St. Paul. Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, also has been invited to be present at the banquet. With Burke and Mack added to the list which already contains the names of Lind, Foss, Hammond and probably Haynes of Minneapolis, the Jeffersonians are certain to enjoy a notable gathering. The demand for seats threatens to swamp the managers of the event, as the allotments sent to many important towns in the state have been exhausted and more tickets are being called for daily.

The Eveleth News warns the Republicans of the range of danger in the rival candidacies of P. R. Vail of Virginia and Dr. H. R. Weirick, mayor of Hibbing, for the nomination for state senator. The danger scented by the News is that while the two range candidates are scrapping over the prize a Duluth man may get into the game and make away with the prize.

Ninth district sentiment seems to be largely against Bjorge's chances of success in his attempt to take the congressional nomination away from Steenerson, and now the suggestion is made that he file for the state senate. F. H. Peterson of Moorhead represented the Sixtieth district in the senate two years ago.

H. F. Meyer of Albany, Stearns county, is a tentative candidate for the Republican nomination for representative from the district composed of the eastern end of the county, which was represented in the last legislature by Joseph Friedman of Eden Valley. It is probable that Governor Eberhart will name Webster Wheelock, formerly editor-in-chief of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, for the vacancy on the board of regents of the University of Minnesota caused by the death of Judge Thomas Wilson. WEST END

BETTER WALKS ARE WANTED

Hillside Club Also After More Lights and Water Extensions.

Better sidewalks up the hillside and extra lights, are among some of the improvements that the West End Hillside Improvement club is now working for. The club will meet Friday evening to consider these matters as well as to discuss the proposition of water extensions.

The sidewalks on some parts of the hillside are in bad shape and show neglect on the part of some of the property owners. Not only are they dangerous in some instances but they also present a very unsightly appearance. On the steeper hills, only wooden walks are used.

The water board recently made an inspection of the route proposed from the present terminus of the mains at Fourteenth avenue west and Fifth street to Nineteenth avenue west. The board found the extension to be a costly one, for much solid rock would be encountered. A new route will be investigated.

Peter Olson, former alderman, is chairman of the hillside club committee on the proposed extension.

WILL LECTURE FOR CHURCH FUND.

One of the methods that the young people of the First Swedish Baptist church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street, have of raising money to pay for the new structure which is being erected at Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, is to secure a lecturer, whose address will be the feature of an entertainment for the building fund.

Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of this city has promised to deliver his well-known lecture on "In the Barefoot Kingdom." His address treats of boys and young people and on past occasions it has met with much favor.

The date for the affair has been set for April 15. The details of the program will be worked out this evening when the Young People's society will meet at the church parlors in regular monthly session.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ledingham were surprised Sunday evening by a number of their friends in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The affair took place at their home, 1711 New street. They were presented with a set of silverware. The evening was spent in games and music. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Elder, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Chain Grown Into Tree.

A curious discovery was made recently at Winthrop, Mass., when a tree fifty years old was cut down and split up. The tree had long been used for a hitching post for horses, and when it was split open a long hitching chain was found firmly imbedded in the trunk for almost its entire diameter. For a real liquid food Golden Grain Belt beer is all that could be desired. Its food value is recognized by all who have tried it, and is found a valuable aid to digestion. BIJOU—New vaudeville bill.
HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY HALL—Senior class play "Esmeralda."

"THE GOLDEN BUTTERFLY"

Grace Van Studdiford Delights Audience in Colorless Opera.

It is an indeterminate thing, part musical comedy and part comic opera. Only Grace Von Studdiford's wonderful voice, and the magnificent production this prima donna-manager has given the weak offspring of this unusually brilliant pair, have saved it from mediocrity.

The story is hung upon the following incident: Franz, a young composer, is in love with Ilma, a chorus singer. She aspires to be a grand opera prima donna, and he dreams of success in his line, which, indeed, he achieves, but the score of his beautiful opera is stolen by the manager to whom it is sent, and who is about to produce it as his own, with his old prima donna, Tina, in the leading role. The latter, however, in a fit of pique, refuses to sing and he decides to give Ilma the long desired chance; which plan is almost frustrated by the changing mood of Tina, who decides to go on at the last moment. At this juncture Franz arrives on the scene, and, impersonating a Russian prince who is in love with Tina, decoys her away from the theater. Ilma scores a triumph in the opera, and Franz returns to claim the opera and his love.

The music is only a hint of de Koven at his best, and only at times are there snatches of harmony that suggest what this favorite composer is capable of. Miss Van Studdiford, however, would redeem even a sample of the blacksmith school of musical comedy, and "The Golden Butterfly" is not that. She never sang better in Duluth than she did last evening, and the large audience forgot any shortcomings of the opera itself. Probably the most enjoyable number is "Don't Forget Me," a haunting waltz melody, that is reminiscent of "Robin Hood."

Miss Van Studdiford is big enough and firmly enough established in the good graces of the public, not to fear comparison, and unlike many prima donnas, she seeks competition in the members of her own company. In this instance Miss Hazel Kirke supplies it, in the role of Tina, the prima donna. There are few voices on the light opera stage that would not suffer from comparison with Miss Van Studdiford's, but Miss Kirke's does not. Her numbers were delightfully rendered.

Carl Haydn has the role of Franz. He has a passably good tenor voice, but does not get what he should out of the role. Harry Macdonough, in a most eccentric makeup, has the chief comedy role, that of Baron Von Affenkoff, the director of the opera.

The chorus is a big feature of "The Golden Butterfly." Perhaps it would not be too much to say that no light opera that has visited Duluth in recent years, had any better looking chorus. Many of the girls are remarkably pretty, and they are most elaborately and tastefully gowned. The stage settings all look new and fresh, and some of the electric effects are novel.

"The Golden Butterfly" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow.

TABLOID DRAMA HEADS THE BILL

Will J. O'Hearn and Company Make Hit in Irish Playlet.

The most pretentious tabloid drama that has ever been given at the Bijou this year is "A Romance of Killarney," presented this week by Will J. O'Hearn, supported by Miss Eileen Kearney and a company of players, seven people in all. The playlet was written and staged by Mr. O'Hearn and is a meritorious Irish drama having all the beauty of which a play of that nature is capable.

The act is well arranged, well staged and the story is well worked out. It is so compressed that there are no dull moments and the interpolated songs by Will J. O'Hearn and Miss Elsa Ryan, are well sung. Little Miss Ryan is a wee child with a sweet voice and she won an instant place in the hearts of her auditors. The playlet is easily the headliner on the bill this week.

Calvert Dean and Miss Leta Price have a good act entitled "A Pleasant Mistake." It is a college playlet, with the true college spirit, and it is well done by the clever team.

The Holdworths get some good music out of the banjos. They sing, dance and play the banjo.

Smith O'Brien, "The Mirthful Songster," is a comedian. His jokes are new and his songs are clever and well sung. Willie Solar and Evelyn Rogers have a line of songs, dances and witticisms that in their time and way is chuck full of entertainment. Miss Morris sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and the usual excellent moving pictures complete a very entertaining bill.

John E. Young Coming.

One of the most popular stars who has visited this city in the past few years is John E. Young, whose delightful portrayal of the role of Happy Johnny Hicks in "The Time, the Place and the Girl" will be remembered. He will be seen at the Lyceum Sunday night, April 10, in a new comedy with songs, entitled "The Money and the Girl," which not only is very similar to "The Time, the Place and the Girl" in its humor, laughable complications and dashing action, but which affords Mr. Young a role so similar to Johnny Hicks that it might almost be called its twin brother.

"The Virginian."

Seats and boxes may be reserved at the box office of the Lyceum for the engagement of "The Virginian," which is to be seen here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. The play is a dramatization by Owen Wister and Kirke La Shelle of Mr. Wister's novel of the same name, since the publication of which nearly 500,000 copies have been sold, and the book reviewers have ascribed this marvelous popularity to the unique charm of the love story of the cowboy hero and the little school teacher from Vermont. This romance in all of its beauty has been successfully transferred from the book into this stage version, which is now in its third triumphal tour of the country.

AGAINST COUNTY OPTION ALSO FAVORING TAFT.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 5.—State Senator Edward Fairchild has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor on a platform which includes anti-county option on the liquor question, and which declares unswerving support of the legislative program of President Taft.

SURE OF MAJORITY ON ASQUITH MEASURE.

London, April 5.—Under Premier Asquith's guillotine proceedure the house of commons last night rejected by a vote of 357 to 251 the opposition amendment to the premier's resolutions on the veto power of the house of lords, which was moved by Sir Robert Finaly, and agreed that the premier's motion should go to committee without division.

The house was crowded and many peers and diplomats were present. The announcement of the figures, showing that the government was sure of a majority of 106 for the veto resolutions, was greeted with prolonged ministerial cheers.

TWO SERIOUSLY SHOT.

Almost Double Murder Committed in Boxcar Near Bruce.

Ladysmith, Wis., April 5.—While a freight train was stopping at the Beldenville spur, east of Bruce, early Monday, two Germans, one 60 years old, and the other 45, were shot by two Finlanders in a boxcar. One of the victims was shot three times and the other twice. While very low they are conscious, but can give no reason for the shooting. The two Finlanders, Fred Hinski and Peter Horki, are in jail here. All four left on the freight train at Rhinelander Sunday and the trainmen say the police drove the Finlanders out of that place.

Killed Stealing Ride.

Dodge Center, Minn., April 5.—Thomas Camplon was instantly killed here while trying to steal a ride on a westbound freight train. He was accompanied by a man named Peterson and the two were headed for North Dakota in quest of work. The dead man was 30 years of age and had relatives living near Rochester.

Cyclone in Ohio.

Youngstown, Ohio, April 5.—In three minutes' time a cyclonic wind came and went in the midst of a rain storm late yesterday and left in its wake to the southeast of the city a score of injured people, thousands of frightened ones, ten demolished houses and 100 partially wrecked ones. The loss is upward of $100,000. The storm came from the west and did the heaviest damage in Langville, where it wrecked five houses.

Medals for Peace Heroes.

Washington, April 5.—A general order has been issued from the navy department awarding a medal of honor and a gratuity of $100 to R. F. Bonney, chief water tender, and F. A. Clary, water tender, for extraordinary valor.

The occasion calling forth this recognition was the boiler accident to the torpedo boat destroyer Hopkins, off the California coast, Feb. 14, when both men risked their lifes to save others.

"Correct Dress for Women."

As a Woman's Tailored Suit is, —So Is Her Appearance.

One might almost say that the suit represents the woman, for it is her most essential garment, and the one in which she appears most often.

Therefore, it is imperative that the Tailored Suit be built for Service and for Style.—The Shape must be permanent: The Fit accurate, and every detail seen, or unseen, must be wrought with care.

Hundreds of women are particular to have the Gidding Label in their coat collars, for it is the Stamp of Gidding Perfection. It is the respect for the significance of the Gidding Label that has built up this splendid Gidding Garment Business.

And the greater the business, the greater are the advantages of selection to each individual—and under no one roof at the Head of the Lakes will you find so many Tailored Garments to choose from as at the Gidding store.

Strictly Tailored Styles, in one, two, three, four or five-button effects, with short mannish revers or long rolled notch or short collars—Snappy Belted Norfolk, or Russian-Blouse Styles, and trig military effects that are modifications of the Popular Russian styles and a hundred other varieties, in as many new and attractive fabrics and colors.

Tailored Suits, in carefully graded sizes, from Young Misses' to Large Women's sizes, at $29.50, $32.50, $35.00, $39.50, $45.00 to $125.00.

The Gidding Dress Section

Affords a better display of Dresses than Duluth women have formerly been privileged to choose from.

The cases and booths are filled to overflowing with Pert Tailored Walking Dresse, Smart Little Foulards, Dainty Linen, Lingerie and Colored Tub Frocks, as well as Exquisite Evening Gowns. In fact, a dress suitable for any use that you can name.

Prices $19.50, $21.50, $25.00 to $100.00.

Weather: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight, with freezing temperature and frost; rising temperature.

At the One-Price Columbia things are either better or they cost less.

Latest Arrivals: Boys' Blouses, Boys' Shirts, Children's Rompers, Children's Wash Suits, Boys' knickers, Girls' Coats.

A TALK with mama. Your boy may have his own ideas now about dress, and you may have your own preference, but the extensive stocks in the Columbia's great second floor store will furnish a common ground for agreement.

You may want an every day or a Sunday Suit for the boy of Buster Brown age — here they are as low as $1.98 and as high as $15.00.

Some choice — isn't it?

Blouse suits in numberless patterns, in every quality and at most any price.

Our stock is of course particularly strong in Knickerbocker Suits, which are now so generally worn by boys from 7 clear to 18 years of age, when they want to look like the bigger boys who get their fashionable suits in our Young Men's Department.

Here you find the most popular shades and colors in fabrics that are best fitted for suits of this class — their quality is right, the tailoring the best and the prices are fairer by far than in most other stores, drygoods stores included.

MISSES' COATS

We've just received a lot of new ones from New York.

Striking styles and the most novel patterns.

We consider them the finest in the land and are anxious for the opinion of Duluth mothers.

Every girl or young lady should look over our Misses' Coats and have a try-on. There are no Half-Price Sales here, but we save money to the early buyers.

SOMETHING NEW

A new arrival for boys, ages 2½ to 8, are sets of Reefer, Russian Suit, Blouse Suit, Cape Coat and Cape—all of the same pattern. A stunning innovation for those who can afford it.

RAILROAD NEWS

FINDS RATE FOR BONES

Remains of Dead Chinamen Can Be Shipped Via Vancouver.

Railroad Has Provision in Tariff Sheets for Grewsome Shipment.

A rate has been discovered that covers the carrying of the bones of dead human beings.

Roused by The Evening Herald story of yesterday, the rate clerk of the Omaha office, Tom Keough, dug down into the rate files and found that the Omaha has a specific rate covering the shipment of human bones from Duluth to Hong Kong, China, the rate being three times the first-class rate, or $9 a hundred pounds.

The rate in question specifies that the bones shall be shipped via Vancouver, B. C., and provides for the through shipment of the bones from this city to the landing place in China.

According to the officials of the Omaha, the rate has been used before and bone tariffs have been quoted before from this city. The tariff in question was brought out this morning and shown. It is there, plain enough, and the Omaha officials also state that bones have been shipped from this city to China before.

RATES MUST BE RAISED

To Meet Wage Increase, Declares President of Soo Road.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 5.—"The railroads must and will increase their freight rates. On one side the states and the general government are dictating to us and on the other side are the unions, practically dictating their wages. The only recourse to the railroads is an increase in rates; the more the outgo, the more the income must be."

Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo line, thus declared himself on his return from a three weeks' vacation spent at French Lick Springs and in New York.

"Have arrangements been made for the Soo to raise rates in the near future?" he was asked.

"No, sir, no date has been set and the Soo line could not take such a step independently of other roads. There will be a general advance in rates, in keeping with the increased cost of operation and the curtailed receipts.

"The same rules as to wages resulting from strike settements and the fixing of rates and traffic conditions by state and national authorities are made to apply to all railroads, regardless of whether one is in a better condition to conform to them and pay dividends than is another. The policy will mean that some railroads will be forced into bankruptcy. The public does not want bankrupt railroads, but it will surely come."

SUNDAY AS A REST DAY

Omaha Road Will Follow Policy of No Sunday Work.

Only Trains That Are Absolutely Needed Will Be Operated.

The Omaha railroad will follow the policy previously established by it, and the present season will use passenger service and other service as little as possible on Sunday.

This policy is in line with the policy of the road followed in other parts of the country.

It is stated here that the plan of running as little service, both freight and passenger, on Sunday as possible, will result in 75 per cent of the men employed locally being free on the Sabbath.

No excursions will be run this summer on Sunday. All switching as far as possible will be avoided, and only the freight service that is absolutely necessary will be operated.

The employes of railroads all over the country have been agitating for less work on Sunday—that they be granted at least half a holiday. The Northwestern railroad has taken the lead in this matter. The Omaha, a part of the Northwestern, has already announced its policy, as stated above, and this policy will be followed the present year.

Though railroad men draw double time for Sunday work, Omaha officials stated today that the men employed locally had given their approval of the plan to give them as little work on Sunday as possible.

NORTHERN PACIFIC HAS LET IMPORTANT CONTRACT.

Pingree, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Doubt as to the intentions of the Northern Pacific railroad in the matter of constructing a line from Pingree to Wilton has been done away with by the letting of the contract for the grading and the commencement of operations just out of this city. Guthrie & Co. of St. Paul have the general contract, and they have already sublet portions of the work to Edward Swerlingen of New Salem, N. D., and James Tobin of Seattle. The contracts call for the completion of the work by Oct. 1. The laying of the rails, construction of bridges, etc., will follow the grading work as closely as possible.

KNAPP AND NEILL TO NAME AN ARBITRATOR.

Chicago, April 5.—The appointment of a third man to act as umpire in the arbitration proceedings in the wage controversy between the forty-seven Western railroads and their firemen and enginemen has been referred to Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, and Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission.

WILL KNOW AAD PATROL

Duluth Shriners Will Make Their Presence Known in New Orleans.

Special Song and Patrol Cry Are Arranged for Occasion.

When Aad temple patrol, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Sarine, reaches New Orleans, the Crescent City will know that "something is doing." The patrol has a special song ready for the occasion and a patrol cry that will make the Southerners know that Duluth is on the map.

Thirty officers and men of the patrol will go to the annual session of the imperial council and they will be accompanied by at least fifty-two other members of the Duluth temple. These members have definitely announced their intention to go, and others are expected to join them for the trip, so that it is believed there will be a hundred or more Duluth Shriners on the car when the start is made.

When the Zenith City patrol and escort alight from the train in New Orleans a procession will be formed, with Captain Potentate, A. P. Cook, at its head, and during the march to headquarters the special song of the Shriners will be sung and the Duluth cry will apprise the Southern hosts of the fact that the Head of the Lakes delegation has arrived.

The members of the patrol who will go to New Orleans are:

Col. F. E. Resche,	C. V. Greer.
captain general.	H. E. Greaser.
	A. J. T. Hanft.
John O. Olsen,	E. W. Hanft.
first lieutenant.	P. M. Hanft.
	T. E. Jones.
Guy E. Warren,	T. H. Jones.
second lieutenant.	W. J. Johnson.
	A. W. Lane.
Philip Bayha.	H. Lindahl.
A. E. Botsford.	J. W. McDonald.
A. H. Burg.	F. G. Sonbuer.
E. F. Burg.	F. A. Short.
W. A. Coventry.	John Smith.
John Cox.	W. J. Suffel.
C. E. Evans.	H. Wike.
E. P. Farrell.	W. P. Welbanks.
R. R. Grant.	R. M. Williams.

The Duluth Shriners will travel in a special train over the Omaha road to Chicago and then over the Illinois Central to New Orleans. Persons who desire to go to New Orleans with the Shriners need not be members of the order to secure reservations on the train.

The cry that has been evolved for the Aad temples is this:

One, two, three
Who are we?
Big A, little a,
Double a, d—
Aad, Duluth!

The song that will be sung will be from the stage of the official manufacturer of ills, who is A. F. M. Custance, and he hasn't told much about what the song will be. Possibly the people of Duluth will get a chance to hear it when the Shriners go to the union depot to take their train on April 8.

PUTS A PRICE ON HIS FINGERS

Ole Berland Wants $20,260 From Duluth Brewing and Malting Company.

Ole Berland wants damages to the amount of $20,000 and special damages to the amount of $260 for injuries alleged to have been received while in the employ of the Duluth Brewing and Malting company. Suit was begun against the brewing concern this morning when the complaint in the action was filed with the clerk of the district court.

Berland claims that at the time of the accident, Oct. 2, of last year, he was employed in the bottling department. It was his duty to lift and move kegs about the floor and also to operate a freight elevator.

In taking the elevator to the second floor his hands were caught in the cables and some of the fingers badly crushed, he claims.

"ESMERALDA" BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS.

The high school senior play is an event of the school year that is unique in its importance. The play of the class of 1910 will be presented this evening at the assembly hall of the school with A. F. M. Custance in charge.

"Esmeralda," a play of three acts has been chosen for the effort this year and the amateur actors have been rehearsed and coached until every one is positive that as usual the "best play ever" will be given this evening. "Esmeralda" is a more ambitious play than any undertaken in recent years. It has been successfully presented by professional companies but it has not been seen in Duluth for many years.

ONE OF DULUTH'S PIONEERS DIES

MRS. MARY McDONALD.

Mrs. Mary McDonald, 83 years of age, one of the pioneer residents of Duluth, died early this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Heffron, 427 Lake avenue north, of a complication of diseases resulting from old age. She had made Duluth her home the last thirty years and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. In addition to Mrs. Heffron, she is survived by two sons, Alex McDonald of the West end and D. P. McDonald, formerly of this city but now residing at Seattle. The funeral will take place Thursday morning from the Cathedral. Interment will be at Calvary cemetery.

ONLY ONE SURVIVOR

Of the Minnesota Constitutional Convention Held in 1857.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The death of Judge Wilson leaves W. P. Murray of St. Paul the only living member of the Minnesota constitutional convention held in 1857. Judge Wilson was a member of the Republican wing of that notable gathering and was a prominent figure in its deliberations. W. P. Murray was on the Democratic side.

It was during this gathering that Judge Wilson was felled to the floor with a cane in the hands of former Governor W. A. Gorman, one of the leaders of the Democratic wing. The governor contended that Judge Wilson had passed him the lie. The minutes of the convention contain an interesting account of the affair as made to the gathering by Judge Wilson, following the encounter.

ADAM BEDE TO GIVE GRADUATES SOME ADVICE.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former Congressman J. Adam Bede will deliver the commencement address of the Minneapolis business college at the Auditorium this evening. His topic will be: "Pursuit of Happiness."

After the program is finished a banquet will be served the members of the class, 260 in number, thus bringing to a successful close the most prosperous year in the history of the institution. During the evening, Miss Martha Cook will give two solos.

GIRLS TO DEBATE ON WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

Women's suffrage will get an airing Friday night when the girls' debating teams of the Irving and Central high schools get together. The Irving school team will try to show why women should have the same rights as men in a few burning issues of political import and the girls of the Central high school will endeavor to show why men should continue to run the government without the aid of their wives sisters and sweethearts.

The Irving team comprises Miss Barbara Pecor, Miss Mabel Melin and Miss Florence Melin. The Central team is composed of Miss Mabel Franklin, Miss Bessie Warren and Miss Violet Flaaten.

UNKNOWN MAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

Came to Hospital From Range ---Death Due to Meningitis.

Mystery surrounds the identity of a man supposed to be John Connor, who was brought to St. Mary's hospital yesterday noon and who died there early last evening.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of J. L. Crawford, but nothing has been learned of his former home or his friends or relatives. He was taken from the Iron Range train which reached Duluth at noon and taken to the hospital in Ford's ambulance, but further than that his past is unknown. The man was undoubtedly insane when he reached Duluth and all efforts to get anything from him proved futile. A postmortem performed at the morgue this morning by Dr. Grawn showed that he died from meningitis. The back of his skull had evidently been fractured by a fall, through which an infection reached the brain. Dr. Grawn's examination showed that it was badly infected and inflamed. Unless his friends are located he will be buried as a county charge. Efforts to learn something from him at the hospital before he died failed.

SPECIAL AGENT PAYS BIG FINE

Man Alleged to Have Been Trapped With Woman Settles for $230.

Ashland, Wis., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Special Agent T. E. Brentz of Oklahoma entered a plea of nolo contender before Judge Parish in circuit court today, to the charge of adultery and was fined $230, including $20 costs. Brentz insists on his innocence, but was advised to make the plea he did.

About a year ago, Brentz, assisted by Officer Sero, made a raid on certain places at Odanah, in an endeavor to rid the reservation of liquor and gambling joints. While searching one place, Brentz had an altercation with the half breed proprietor, and was later on convicted of assault and battery.

Found With Women.

A night or two later Berntz and Sero were found in a road house with two Indian women, and charges of adultery were preferred against both men. Sero was convicted by a jury, but has been granted a new trial. Brentz and Sero claimed to have been lured to the road house, and that the trap was deliberately laid for them, partly to discredit their work, and partly as a side issue of a long standing feud between Sero and certain Indians of the Bad River reservation.

One of the women subsequently made an affidavit that her testimany at the trial was false, but before the senatorial investigation committee, when questioned by Senators La Follette and Clapp and others, she went back on her second statement. Brentz has been in the government service for years, and has first class recommendations. There is no question, from the evidence, that the two officers were lured to the road house, the only difference of opinion being as to what transpired after they reached the house.

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all druggists.

BOY DROWNS FISHING.

Son of Fred Strege of Iron River Loses His Life.

Iron River, Wis., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strege was drowned Monday while fishing on the lake near the Iron River Lumber company's mill. The funeral will take place from St. Michael's church Wednesday morning.

Postmaster Quits Aldermanship.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because the rules of the postoffice department will not permit the holding of municipal offices, Frank V. Kent, recently appointed postmaster of Grand Forks, last evening resigned the position of alderman of the Third ward. An election in that ward to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Kent will be necessary.

COMMENT IS FAVORABLE

Public Commends Action of Council Committee on Car Stops.

The action of the council committee in recommending to the council that it take no action relative to resolution requiring the street railway company to increase its car stops on Fifty seventh avenue west, seems to have met with commendation from car patrons all over the city. While the resolution only called for stops at two "places" on Fifty-seventh avenue, it was feared that its effect would be far reaching and that numerous other requests would be made to have cars stopped at other than regular stopping places, thus increasing the length of the runs to the suburbs. People living in the suburbs desire the running time reduced rather than lengthened, hence the strong sentiment against the proposed resolution from West Duluth.

The committee report, made by Aldermen Curran, Bernard and Merritt, follows:

Duluth, April 4, 1910.

"Your committee, to whom was referred the resolution requiring the Duluth Street Railway company to stop at both West place and Kinnear place on Fifty-seventh avenue west, beg to report that they have visited the locality and heard both sides of the controversy.

"Entirely disregarding any objections of the street railway company to additional stops, your committee finds a very strong public sentiment against additional stopping of street cars which causes loss of time to through passengers.

"It is the belief of your committee that it would involve this council in endless trouble to begin to recognize requests for stops at irregular intersections and jogs that are less than an ordinary block from regular stopping places, and that the present practice of the street car company, as stated in their communication, is the only reasonable method of regulating the matter.

"The street car company has intimated that in the absence of further instructions from the council it would recognize Kinnear place as the regular stopping place instead of West place. This will accommodate those attending the church and will not seriously discommode those using West place, as there is a good sidewalk from West place to Kinnear place, and the distance is only 235 feet. Your committee would, therefore, recommend that the council take no action at this time (or that the resolution be not passed)."

BENN CONGER QUITS SENATE

Resigns After Sensational Reading of Statement on the Allds Case.

Albany, N. Y., April 5.—Rising to a question of personal privilege in the senate last night, Senator Ben Conger, after reading a statement in which he declared he fully realized that as a result of the Allds bribery charge his usefulness as a legislator was at an end, handed his resignation to Lieutenant Governor White, a duplicate of which he later filed with the secretary of state.

With ashen face and trembling hand he read while his fellow senators listened with intense interest, and when he had finished, he sent his resignation to the desk and quickly left the chamber.

Mr. Conger read how at a private conference where the qualifications of former Senator Allds for the position of Republican leader of the senate were being considered, he was asked to declare his position and "I replied I would not and could not vote for him."

Senator Cobb's resolution providing for the appointment of a commmittee to prepare charges against Conger are ended by his resignation.

ITCHING STOPS; RED NOSES GO

New Skin Remedy Works Quickly and Effectively.

Many references have been made in newspaper columns lately to itching palms, red noses and pimples, which, in the opinion of those who claim to know, are but minor affections, easily and readily cured by poslam, which can be obtained at the Lyceum Pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's in Duluth, Holmberg's in Superior, or at any good druggists. Still it must be remembered that poslam, as originally evolved, is first, last and all the time a remedy for eczema, stopping the itching immediately and quickly restoring the health of the skin. So with every form of itching disease, hives, rash, ringworm, fever blisters, piles, acne, sores, scabs and eruptions of every kind.

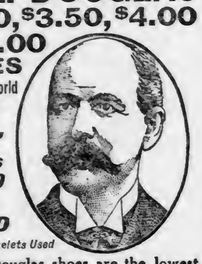

The sample package of poslam which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, is sending out by mail free of charge to every one who writes for it tells the whole story and is sufficient to clear the complexion over night, or to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

Council Resolutions Committee Reports on Suggestions in Annual Message.

Levy for Reduction of Water and Gas Rates May Be Increased.

Declaring for a reduction of the water and gas rates, cheaper electric lights for the consumers, rural street car lines, the open produce market, and the furtherance of truck gardening in the vicinity, the council committee on resolutions reported to the council last evening. Their report was laid over one week to give all the aldermen time to consider the several matters with which it deals.

To secure the further reduction of the water and gas rates the committee stated that one of the best methods of procedure would be to levy the full one and one-half mills authorized by the charter. In the past one-half mill has been levied by the conference committee for the purpose of reducing the cost of water and gas to the people.

The opinion of the committee is based on the grounds that the larger property owners will have to stand the biggest burden of the expense and also force vacant property, which is getting the benefit of the numerous extensions being made, to bear a larger part of the cost, giving the main body of the people the most benefit at the least cost.

The committee wishes the council to direct the attention of the board of water and light commissioners to the fact that it favors a reduction of these rates in a short time and asks the board to consider the matter.

The committee investigated that part of the mayor's message referring to the high cost of living and it was in this connection that the cheaper rates and the higher levy were brought up.

The aldermen who looked into the subject think that the cost of vegetables might be cut in two if truck gardening in and about Duluth receives proper encouragement and growth. They believe that Duluth should have an open market, and that in the furtherance of these projects all possible assistance should be rendered by the council to build up street car lines from the city into the country.

The paragraph on cheaper electric lights for the people was not lengthy. The committee simply gives the opinion that the Duluth-Edison company is able to make a reduction, which would be another way of reducing the high cost of living.

It was suggested at the time the report was laid over that some other suggestions may be brought in, such as some way to reduce the high rents in Duluth.

Countess is a Mother.

Rosnochau, Germany, April 5.—The Countess Scherr Thoss yesterday gave birth to a daughter. The countess was Miss Muriel White, daughter of the former American ambassador to France and Mrs. Henry White. Mrs. White is now with her daughter, whose condition is said by the attending physician to be satisfactory.

WHEELAGE TAX TO BE LEVIED THIS SEASON

Council Directs Attorney to Prepare Ordinance Applying Amendment.

Ordinance for Safe and Sane Fourth of July Is Read.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Directed city attorney to determine power of council in licensing and regulating brokers and other mine promoters.

Started campaign to acquire dockage, including valuable property at foot of Lake avenue on west side.

Received recommendations to reduce cost of living, including lower water, gas and electric light rates.

Heard first reading of ordinance for safe and sane Fourth.

Directed city attorney to draw ordinance levying tax authorized by second amendment.

Heard first reading of the pawn brokers' ordinance.

Ordered water turned on in drinking fountains.

Accepted proposition of street railway company to pay proportionate cost of sprinkling.

Passed committee report recommending that council have nothing to do with neighborhood squabbles over stopping street cars at intersections.

Granted applications for automobile licenses.

Sent garbage question back to committee.

Favored immediate construction of addition to No. 3 fire hall.

Ordered other improvements.

The city council last night directed the city attorney to formulate an ordinance applying the wheelage tax authorized by the citizens when they passed the second charter amendment at the election Feb. 1.

The attorney is directed to call upon the board of public works for assistance and suggestions, and to confer later with the council committees on finance and ordinances and resolutions in making the final draft of the ordinance.

By the terms of the amendment the city council can levy a tax on every vehicle in the city which uses the streets. This includes automobiles, motor cycles, wagons, carriages, hacks and trucks. The basis of the tax is the amount of wear which each is estimated to give the streets. The vehicle which does the most damage and uses the street up fastest is expected to pay a larger tax than the lighter rigs.

With a moderate scale it was estimated before the adoption of the wheelage tax that from $15,000 to $20,000 could be raised yearly by the city in this manner. The amendment specifies that the funds secured by means of the wheelage tax shall be used exclusively for the maintenance of the streets. It has been shown that the local pavements are short-lived for the reason that they have not been given proper care. Small ruts have been allowed to become big ruts and the repair work has been spasmodic and only of the temporary sort.

With a stated sum coming in each year, many streets can be put in excellent shape. Plans can be laid for doing the work systematically from year to year. It is expected that considerable attention will be paid to the roads entering the city from the country districts and to the many bridges which have been reported rotten by the city negineer. There seems to be no other means available for making the needed improvements in this direction.

The resolution of the council requests that the ordinance be in shape that the tax may be levied by May 1. This will bring the city a big sum that was not anticipated last fall at the time the levy was made, and the outlook is brighter for necessary permanent improvements than it has been for many years. If the tax is applied next month a great deal can be accomplished before fall.

The second amendment is the only one from which Duluth will derive any benefit this year. Nothing can be done with the others until next fall when the conference committee meets to make the levy for the coming year. The third amendment is a supplement of the second, empowering the conference committee to levy not to exceed 1 mill to create a street maintenance and repair fund. The first amendment provides that the cost of storm sewers and paving street intersections shall be paid by general taxation.

The council heard the first reading of Alderman Wharton's ordinance, providing Duluth with a safe and sane Fourth of July. All sorts of dangerous explosives are prohibited and the ordinance provides penalties for the use of them as well as for retailing them. The only agency allowed to use them is a proper committee or organization. The penalty provided is a fine of not to exceed $100 or imprisonment for not more than thirty days.

The proposition of the street railway company to pay its proportionate cost of sprinkling the streets on which it has tracks was accepted. This means a big saving to property owners in the sprinkling districts. For instance, if the tracks of the company occupy fifteen feet in a forty-foot street the company stands three-eighths of the expense. This is believed to be more favorable to the property owners than an arrangement whereby the company sprinkled its own tracks. In that case the cost of sprinkling in the sprinkling districts would be the same, as the same number of men and the same equipment would be required.

The council directed that the water in the drinking fountains about the city be turned on. This is earlier than usual and shows that the council appreciates the fact that Duluth is having one of the earliest springs in its history.

• • •

The health commissioner was authorized to partition off half the laundry at the new contagious disease hospital to be used as a storeroom, the cost not to exceed $25.

• • •

A resolution was passed fixing the salary of the assistant to the city engineer at $125 a month. This was done to straighten out a technicality.

• • •

The board of public works was directed to circulate a petition for a sanitary sewer in East Superior street between Twenty-sixth and Thirty-second avenues.

The Northern Pacific was asked to pave the south approach to the Garfield avenue viaduct with sandstone blocks. The company proposed to use creosote blocks but the companies which use the bridge complained that they were too slippery on a grade.

• • •

The council heard the first reading of a pawnbrokers' ordinance requiring them to put up a bond of $2,000 and take out a license.

• • •

A petition was received for paving Second avenue east from Michigan street to Fourth street. The avenue is one of the most traveled in the city and this will be increased with the opening of the new theater at the rear of the old Masonic temple.

• • •

Applications of fifty persons to operate motor vehicles were granted by the council. They will now be required to get their certificates and pay the $1 fee to the city clerk.

• • •

The garbage collection extension matter was sent back to the committee which will investigate the matter further. The members of the committee state that they are urged to immediate action and yet cautioned to go slow, in order that they may make no mis-step in this important matter. They want to know where they are "at."

• • •

Contracts for the furnishing of miscellaneous supplies for use in the various city departments were confirmed by the council.

• • •

An estimate of the cost of the sewer in Sixth avenue west, with an outlet in the railroad yards, was received from the city engineer. He figures that it will cost $11,810.

The action of the board of fire commissioners in determining to go ahead with the construction of the addition to No. 3 fire hall was approved. The board was also authorized to advertise for bids for a site for a new fire hall between Fourth and Eighth avenues east and Fifth and Eighth streets. Both these matters have been up several times before.

• • •

A sewer was ordered built in Gilbert street from Grand avenue to First street. The estimated cost is $4,353.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and enjoying the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. After thirty years of general usage, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is everywhere accepted as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. It cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects. To get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, buy the genuine only; the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. IN THE DAY'S WORK AT WASHINGTON

McCall Bill Reported.

Washington, April 5.—The McCall bill, providing for the publication of campaign contributions and expenses, was favorably reported to the house yesterday by Chairman Gaines of the committee on election of president, vice president and members of congress. It will be taken up by the house in two weeks.

Bill Against Spies.

Having failed to secure the punishment of the two Japanese who were alleged to have been trying to obtain plans for the fortifications of Manila harbor, the war department officials have concluded to renew their efforts for a bill that will deter foreigners from acting as spies in time of peace. Representative Parker of New Jersey already has introduced a bill with this purpose and the measure will receive the support of the administration.

Hold Up Railroad Bill.

Declaring that no less than two weeks' time will be necessary to consider the amendments already offered to the railroad bill, Senator Cummins resisted the combined efforts of Senators Hale and Elkins to obtain an agreement to vote next Saturday on the bill. The Iowa senator not only objected to the proposition, but he pronounced it a joke.

Senator Bacon made it evident that if no one else had objected, he would have to do so. He contended that the managers of the bill were not justified in asking for an agreement looking to a vote until they are able to present a perfected bill.

Anti-Hatpin Bill.

Any woman wearing a hatpin whose point projects more than an inch beyond the hat, will be subject to arrest in the District of Columbia, if a bill introduced by Representative Coudrey of Missouri should be enacted into law.

Taft Conservation Dinner.

In an effort to bring about more united action and support of his conservation bills in congress, the president last night gave a conservation dinner at the White House. The guests were confined to several members of the house lands committee of the senate and house and others directly interested in the measures. Among them were: Senators Clark of Wyoming; Smoot of Utah; Dixon of Montana; Chamberlain of Oregon; Hughes of Colorado; and Nelson of Minnesota; Representative Mondell of Wyoming; Pickett of Iowa; Parsons of New York and Smith of California. Secretary of the Interior Ballinger and George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey, also were guests of the president.

Drawing Two Salaries.

The charge that commissioned officers of the United States army have been for months, and are now, serving as officers in the army of Cuba and draw salaries from the Cuban government in violation of the law, is contained in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Slayden of Texas, a member of the committee on military affairs. Mr. Slayden's resolution calls on the secretary of war to furnish information in connection with these officers and show whether they are receiving pay from the Cuban government, and under what circumstances they were detailed for service on the island. The resolution also inquires if any other American officers are serving in the Cuban army.

DEBATING TEAMS TO MEET AGAIN

Boys of Central and Pine City High Schools to Debate April 19.

The boys' debating teams of the Central and the Pine City high schools will meet for the third time at Pine City, April 19. The local team has lost twice but hopes to win in the forthcoming contest.

The preliminary contest for places in the Central high school's delegation in the oratorical and declamatory contest for Head of the Lakes honors will be held Friday afternoon. Six Central students will contest. They are Charles Evans, Rupert O'Brien, Max Latshaw, Harry Zlatskovsky, Roger Lerch and George Sirene. In declamation there are two candidates, Miss Ruth Bjorge and Stanley Lamb. The contest will be held about May 1 in the Superior opera house.

Wants Senator Piles' Seat.

Seattle, Wash., April 5.—John L. Wilson, former United States senator, last night announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator to succeed Samuel L. Piles, whose term expires next year.

Coffee vs. The Boy

This is a story of a youngster who suffered so badly from the effects of coffee-drinking, that Dr. J. N. Hurty, Secretary of the State Board of Health of Indiana, had to take a hand.

The Indianapolis NEWS published a long account of the case—the news (?) went forth and papers throughout the country have given it much publicity.

From these reports we quote—

"An eleven-year-old boy (Roy Schoolman) of Indianapolis had to be forcibly taken from school and given treatment. The constant use of coffee, it developed, had entirely changed the boy's happy, bright disposition to one of nervousness, with morose spells, when he attempted to fight everyone within reach. He was watched and his extreme addiction to coffee was discovered. One effect of the coffee is said to have been to deaden the brain faculties, changing the victim from an eager learner to a stupid school dunce, and a little later verging upon insanity. Since the coffee has been stopped physicians report that he is now resuming his normal mental tone."

Why marvel? Is this news to thoughtful people?

For fifteen years we have preached the harmful effects of coffee upon head, heart, and nerves. Almost every day letters are received just as conclusive and impressive as this case. More than a thousand letters were received in one month from people all over the country with various ills BEFORE they changed from coffee to POSTUM, and who either entirely recovered or were much benefited.

That ciffee IS HARMFUL to many even in moderate quantity is an old, old truth, and that it is dangerous when used to excess has also been time and again proven.

All of which proves even to a casual thinker that for

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA CURED

Body and Face Covered with Itching, Painful Eruption—5 Years of Suffering Beyond Description—Thought Death was Near.

WANTS WORLD TO KNOW OF CURE BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment. "I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Altie Etson, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have alleviated among skin-tortured, disfigured infants and children, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents have led to their adoption in countless homes as a priceless treatment for the skin. Eczema, rashes, and every form of itching, burning, scaly humor are speedily cured by Cuticura, in the majority of cases, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.) and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston.

CITY CLAIMS DOCK SITE

Singer Heirs Will Be Ordered to Remove Buildings From Land.

Property Is Alleged to Be Part of Minnesota Avenue Extended.

The first steps were taken by the city council last evening to secure possession for the city of immensely valuable dock property at the foot of Lake avenue, furnishing an excellent start for the campaign which was recommended by the council committee to secure as much dockage as possible without loss of time.

The Lake avenue docks are on the west side of the avenue and are among the most valuable at the Head of the Lakes. The property is now covered by buildings of the Singer estate, which has used the ground for many years.

Alderman Shartel called the attention of the council to the fact that much of this is on an extension of Minnesota avenue and that the title should properly be vested in the city. Upon his motion the council directed Thomas Burke, harbor master, to remove or cause to be removed, all buildings now on city property in this vicinity.

Determined opposition is evidently expected, for the same resolution calls upon the city attorney to give the harbor master all legal assistance that may be necessary, which would indicate that the Singer estate or any others interested will take the case to the courts when they are ordered to move their sheds or warehouses.

The council committees on harbors, parks and roads and finance brought in a common report recommending that the city secure as much dockage as is desirable and save money by buying now. The committee recognized the fact that the city treasury will not stand the expenditure at once, however, but stated that it is worthy of study and should not be overlooked by the conference committee when making the levy next fall. The committees suggested that, if possible and practicable, the conference committee should include such an amount in the levy as will enable the city to secure at least a portion of the available dock sites.

The matter was brought to the attention of the council through the mayor's message. He believed that unless some action is taken to secure available sites on the bay and St. Louis river shortly, it will be too late to get into the game at all.

CANNOT COMPEL ELEVATOR LINES

State Right in Railroad Orders Limited By Decision of Supreme Court.

Washington, April 5.—Emphasizing the rights of railroads, the supreme court of the United States yesterday declared unconstitutional the law of Nebraska requiring railroads to build switches to all grain elevators along their tracks upon request, and called a halt on the attempt of the state of Arkansas to penalize an interstate railroad for failure to supply cars enough to accommodate intra-state traffic.

In announcing the opinion of the court in the Nebraska case, Justice Holmes asserted that although the state possessed certain police powers, and that railroads must fulfill the purposes for which their charters were granted, yet, "railroads, like other owners of property, have rights that are protected by the Constitution." He held their property could not be taken without compensation, as he said the law proposed to do in requiring the roads to build switches to the elevators in question.

Correspondence Schools.

Among other decisions the court held that the business of a correspondence school with pupils in various states, was interstate commerce, and upheld the act of Arkansas prohibiting drumming up of business by physicians and hotel keepers on trains in that state.

An odd thing about the sitting was the announcement as the decision of the court of an opinion written by the late Justice Brewer.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE IN BITTER ARRAIGNMENT OF TARIFF LAW

man in Indiana and yet enable the working man to get his clothing and creature comforts cheaper—and such a law could have been written, and it shall be written."

Tariff Law Not Mentioned.

The convention had before it a platform drawn up early this morning by the committee on resolutions indorsing the principle of protective tariff, but making no mention of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The committee voted unanimously not to mention the new statute.

Nor did the committee which framed the resolutions take up the county option question which figured in the last campaign. An attempt was made to incorporate in the platform an indorsement of the present county option law but the effort failed.

The resolutions as prepared for the convention indorse the policies of former President Roosevelt and the administration of President Taft.

Immediately after the convention assembled Senator Beveridge took charge as temporary chairman.

Beveridge Roasts Tariff Bill.

Senator Beveridge said:

"The Republicans of Indiana are for a protective tariff which covers the difference in the cost of production here and abroad. Less than that is unjust to American laborers; more than that is unjust to American consumers. Injustice is the only foe that protection needs to fear. It was to reduce the Dingley tariff to meet changed conditions and secure justice that we undertook its revision.

"Every economic policy, every political system, almost every government has been destroyed because of excesses and injustice that crept into it. The way to keep secure a policy, a system or a government that in itself is good is to administer it with justice and wisdom. The only way to keep a party solid and growing is to keep it right and progressive.

"McKinley saw this when he declared in his last speech that in tariff matters 'the period of exclusiveness is past.'

"Senator Morrell, the father of the war tariff of 1864, saw it when he declared in 1870: 'It is the mistake of the friends of a sound tariff to insist on extreme rates proposed during the war if less will raise the necessary revenue.'

"Garfield saw it when he said: 'The wisest things protectionists can do is to unite on a moderate reduction of duties.'

Quotes Theodore Roosevelt.

"Theodore Roosevelt saw it when he said at Logansport, Ind., in 1902: 'What we really need in this country is to treat the tariff as a business proposition from the standpoint of the interests of the country as a whole and not from the standpoint of the temporary needs of any political party.'

"The great masses of Republican voters understand it today when they refuse to permit the great doctrine of protection to be used to excuse and cloak tariff excess. Use a principle to perpetuate a fraud, and the friend of the principle thus misused is more offended than the enemy of the principle itself.

"Like President Taft, I want free iron ore, of which we have the greatest deposits on earth and which the steel trust chiefly controls. On iron ore no protection is needed, and I should not stand for the duty that was proposed and passed; and I cannot stand for it now. But a majority of Democratic senators did stand and fight for it, and stand for it now.

Wanted Free Lumber.

"Like President Taft, I wanted free lumber, out of which the homes of the people are builded. I could not stand for the duty proposed and passed on lumber, and I cannot stand for it now. But Democratic senators did stand and fight for it, and stand for it now.

"Like President Taft, I wanted the ancient woolen schedule reduced—a schedule forty-two years old, which, if ever right, long since has served its purpose, and which now gives to the woolen trust an unfair control of our markets, which oppresses the wool grower, raises the price and reduces the weight of the people's clothing. I stood against the schedule when we tried to reduce it, when the bill was passed, and am against it now.

"I could not stand for an increase of duties on cotton cloth, the higher grades of which are used as clothing by every man, woman and child, rich or poor, throughout the whole republic. I could not stand for that without evidence; and when the manufacturers themselves formally declared before the house committee that their business was thriving, their labor employed and that all they asked was that the tariff on cotton should not be decreased. I stood against those increases on cotton goods when the schedule was voted on; I stood against them when the bill was passed, and I stand against them now.

Steel and Linoleums.

"I could not stand for an increase on structural steel, punched and ready for use, out of which all modern buildings are constructed and with which bridges all over the country are builded, and I cannot stand for it now.

"I could not stand for an increase of duties on those linoleums which are the poor man's carpet; or on zinc, which is a universal necessity; or on silk, which is a part of the clothing or adornment of every American woman, rich or poor; and I cannot stand for them now.

"I could not stand for the obsolete and infamous sugar schedule, which no man in Indiana can read and understand, but which the sugar trust can read and understand; yet efforts to change that schedule were opposed by Democratic votes. We reduced the tariff on refined sugar 5 cents per 100 pounds—one-twentieth of 1 cent, a half of 1 mill, a pound—which was worse than no reduction because it cannot possibly affect the price and therefore is a deception. Yet that is one of the boasted reductions we hear of.

What Are Reduced.

"It is said that the law has made reductions on articles entering into the consumption of the people to the value of $5,000,000,000; yet those articles are made up of such things as lumber, agricultural implements, meat and food products, petroleum and its products, of all of which we are the greatest exporters in the world; steel rails and coal, which we export; barbed wire, monopolized by the Steel trust; nails, sold and manufactured by an international trust as complete as the international tobacco monopoly; yarns and threads; the raw materials for textiles, when finished for the people's use, the tariff was increased; sugar, which was not reduced in fact, but only in pretense.

"Above all, I could not stand for the slaughter by the conference committee of the moderate beginning of a tariff commission which I wrote into the bill that passed the senate; but all save one of the Democratic senators were the enemies of any tariff commission then, and are its enemies now.

Compromise With Justice.

"These are examples. I was against them then—I am against them now. Compromise on purely economic details is often wise; but compromise with sheer injustice is always wrong.

"I was for a law that would protect the wages of every workingman in Indiana ample protection, and yet enable him to get his raw material cheaper—and such a law could have been written, and it shall be written.

"I was for a law that would have taken the tariff out of the way of business for ten or a dozen years—and such a law could have been written, and it shall be written. Business needs tariff stability, and only a satisfied people can give tariff stability. The dictates of justice are better for business than the dictates of bosses; for the people obey justice and defy bosses.

Webster and the Tariff.

"Daniel Webster spoke, fought and voted against the tariff bill of 1824. In his speech on that bill—one of the greatest of his life—he said:

"'What should hinder us from exercising our own judgment upon these provisions singular and several? Who has the power to place us in a condition where we can not give to every measure a separate and distinct consideration? Whatever is extravagant or unreasonable is not likely to endure; if no moderation is shown in laying on duties there may be little in taking them off. . . . There are some parts of this bill which I highly approve, there are others in which I acquiesce; but those to which I have now stated my objections appear to me so destitute of justice, so burdensome and so dangerous that nothing can prevail upon me to give it my support.'

"Although the interests of that day and their politicians reviled Webster for that speech and vote, the people rallied to the moral standard he raised.

Economics vs. Morals.

"The making of a tariff, so long as moderation and justice are followed, is an economic question; but the moment excess and injustice are practiced, the making of a tariff becomes also a moral question. So the tariff fight last year was a moral fight. And who bore the battle? I want the people of Indiana to know that all the real fighting that was done for justice in tariff schedules was done by Republicans, and not by Democrats. Let me read you what Mr. Bryan said of Democratic performances in a public speech. Said Mr. Bryan, in his El Paso address:

"'There was a great tariff controversy in congress this year, and the result was that the dissension ended in the humiliating situation of the reform Republicans contending for a real revision of the tariff, while the Democrats were quarreling among themselves over protection for the products of their own districts.'

Republicanism of Roosevelt.

"I voted against the bill and for plighted honor. I voted against excess and for protection. I voted against the interests and for the people. I voted and fought for the genuine Republicanism of Lincoln, the founder of our faith; of Morrell, the father of our tariff; of Garfield, the interpreter of our principles; of McKinley, the apostle of protection; of Roosevelt, the soldier of righteousness.

"Assuming that honest differences of opinion exist—and they do; giving to those upright men who voted for the law as a whole credit for all the sincerity that I claim for myself; what is the way out of the difficulty? Surely not to turn the government over to that grotesque band of politicians in public life, and who want to get into public life, misnamed the Democratic party. The people know what such men did in the tariff contest in Cleveland's day, for which Cleveland rebuked them; what they did in the last tariff contest, for which Bryan rebuked them. What honest Democrat—what honest citizen—approves or trusts them?

Remedy in Commission.

"Where, then, lies the plain remedy? In a tariff commission."

Senator Beveridge, speaking of what he designated "the so-called tariff board," said:

"When I introduced the tariff commission bill three years ago I said it had no friends in congress. Today a large majority of Republicans are for it, and even one Democrat has seen the light. But at the beginning of the last session it had only a few friends in congress. Therefore I felt that it was impossible to get a full-fledged tariff commission enacted into law, and so I acted on the theory of getting the best I could. Mine was a fatal faith. For what was the result? I drew the provision authorizing the president to appoint persons with full power to make tariff investigations under his direction. Senator Aldrich would not agree to all of it. He struck out or changed vital language. Yet what remained of my provision gave to these persons broad powers to gather necessary facts to aid congress in tariff legislation. In this form it passed the senate.

Changed in Conference.

"But the conference committee struck out absolutely every word giving these persons any powers to investigate and collect the facts, leaving to the president nothing but the authority to employ persons to assist him in the administration of the maximum and minimum section of the law. Senator Hale, the senior member of the conference committee, declared again and again on the floor of the senate that the conference committee had done this for the express purpose of depriving these persons of any power whatever to gather facts or to do any work which a tariff commission could do. And no senator denied the truthfulness of Senator Hale's statement as a matter of fact nor his correctness as a matter of law after he had made his determined assault.

"President Taft, by executive construction, has attempted to restore to these persons he is authorized to employ some of the powers that the conference committee purposely destroyed. But executive construction cannot restore powers that congress deliberately refused to give. Even if it could, another president might construe it differently; and any president at any time can discharge the so-called tariff board.

What Board Amounts To.

"For the members of this tariff board are not officers of the government; they are mere employes to the president. Any trust in America can refuse to give them any information; they have no power to compel information; all they can do is to say that the president has directed them to request information. And even if they collected information, congress could decline to consider it upon the ground that it is not authorized by law. We asked for a reality; they gave us a mockery. We asked for power; they gave us palsy. We asked for bread; they gave us a stone. Such a makeshift will not answer the needs of American business men, producers and consumers.

"A commission of experts as permanent as the bureau of labor, with duties fully described in the law itself; a commission safe from the accidents of politics, secure from the differing opinions of changing presidents; a commission equal to that of Germany or Japan—that is what the government needs; that is what the nation demands; and that is what we will have."

Planks of the Platform.

Following is the platform, which was adopted by the convention:

"We, the Republicans of Indiana, declare our determined support of those great policies for the common good developed under Theodore Roosevelt and bearing his name, and we demand that they be given effect in legislation and administration.

"We believe in a protective tariff, measured by the difference between the cost of production here and abroad. Less than this is unjust to American laborers; more is unjust to American consumers. That difference should be ascertained with the utmost speed, and the present law modified accordingly.

"We demand the immediate creation of a genuine, permanent, non-partisan tariff commission with ample powers and definite duties fixed in the law itself.

"We believe with President McKinley, in his last tariff utterances, that 'the period of exclusiveness is past,' and we heartily favor the Republican policy of reciprocity first announced by Blaine and later advocated by McKinley.

"We demand comprehensive laws for the conservation of our natural resources and especially that the coal deposits of Alaska shall be kept the property of the nation, to be developed only under lease and payment of just royalties to the government.

Favors Income Tax.

"In time of war or any other emergency when ordinary forms of taxation are not enough for the needs of the government, the nation should have the constitutional power to tax incomes. We heartily favor an amendment to the Constitution, giving congress this power.

"We favor such limitation of the powers of injunction as will not imperil the liberty of any man without notice and hearing.

"We favor national legislation which will end child slavery in the factories, mines and sweatshops throughout the land.

"We favor just and liberal pensions to all deserving solders and to the widows and orphans of those who are dead.

"We demand the enactment of laws providing for publicity as to campaign contributions, in both state and nation.

"We demand that United States senators shall be elected by the direct vote of the people.

"We favor revision of our civil and criminal codes, to the end that technicalities and unnecessary formalities of pleading and practice may be eliminated, speedy justice administered and the cost of litigation reduced to a minimum.

How Taft "Began."

"We recognize that no president in our history ever began his administration with such universal favor and good will as did William Howard Taft; few men have entered the presidency with such extraordinary training. As collector of internal revenue, prosecuting attorney, judge of a state court, solicitor general, federal judge, governor of the Philippines, secretary of war, builder of the Panama canal, regenerator of Cuba—each period of official activity immediately following another for his entire adult life—he brought to the discharge of the great duties of the presidency broad executive experience and grasp of governmental affairs. We indorse his administration, and pledge to him our support in any efforts to secure the enactment of genuine progressive legislation.

Beveridge Is Indorsed.

"The spirit of the times demands not only wise policies and sound principles, but clean, vigilant, brave and sincere men in public office. We indorse and applaud the splendid record of our senior senator and especially his record in the last session of congress, which deserves the unqualified approval of all the people of the state. With pride and confidence we make a solemn pledge to the people that a Republican legislature will return to the senate of the United States this man whose name is synonomous with victory—Albert J. Beveridge."

WOUNDED IN STREET FIGHT

Ben Johnson Is Seriously Stabbed By an Unknown Assailant.

Ben Johnson, 30 years of age, of 2826 West Michigan street, was stabbed last night shortly after 11 o'clock by an unknown assailant with whom he is thought by the police to have been fighting. The affair took place near Eighth avenue west and Superior street.

Johnson received two stabs in the side and hip. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital, and is seriously, but not dangerously, wounded.

Two companions with him say that Johnson and the other man got to quarreling among themselves, and that, fearing there might be a fight, they got out of the way. When Johnson fell and the other began to run they gave chase, but did not succeed in capturing the fugitive.

The men with Johnson gave their names as Walter Stone and Charley Joing. Johnson is single, and employed by the Red Cliff Lumber company.

Shoots Wife By Mistake.

Perth, Kan., April 5.—Believing his wife, who was walking the floor with her 6-month-old child in her arms was a burglar, John Vandervoort, a farmer near here, shot and killed her. Vandervoort fired a shotgun. The charge tore the woman's head from her body. The child was unhurt.

Your Nerves

Ask your doctor if alcoholic stimulants are not often very disastrous when given to nervous people. He will tell you why. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Your nerves must be fed with pure, rich blood, or there will be trouble. Poorly fed nerves are weak nerves; and weak nerves mean nervousness, neuralgia, headaches, debility. Weak nerves need good food, fresh air, and Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla.

CROOKSTON WATCH IS OLD TIMEPIECE

Is Claimed By Owner to Have Been Made 413 Years Ago.

Crookston, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The press dispatches from Detroit, Mich., regarding a watch owned there by Leslie A. Mitchell, made 272 years ago, brought to light an older watch in Crookston which double discounts the Detroit one for age, being a century and a half older. It will run yet, though it cannot be carried as the heavy silver case is worn clear through in places. The watch is 413 years old and was made only twenty years after the manufacture of the first watch, in 1477.

The watch is an heirloom of Mrs. J. S. Kjelland, wife of one of Crookston's physicians, and has been in her family for centuries, the Trandums handing it down from one generation to another.

This watch was made by John Drew, London, Eng., in 1497, only four years after the discovery of America, this data being engraved on it, and was given Mrs. Kjelland by her father who received it from his grandfather, and he in turn had received it from his grandfather, whose father had given it to him, and that is as far back as Mrs. Kjelland knows its history. The description tallies very closely to that of the Mitchell watch, excepting that it has no gold, being made of silver and copper. The wheels and springs have never been altered or replaced, at least not during the past 200 years.

Best Treatment For Colds.

Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment, says the Chicago Tribune, "moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

HEATWOLE IS CALLED

Editor of Northfield News Dies Suddenly in His Chair.

Was Long Prominent in the Politics of Minnesota.

Northfield, Minn., April 5.—Joel Prescott Heatwole, editor of the Northfield News, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his residence here. In spite of the fact that Mr. Heatwole suffered with Bright's disease and had been in poor health for some time, his death was wholly unexpected.

When Mr. Heatwole rose yesterday morning he was feeling in better health than for some time. After dinner he was sitting in a chair when the fatal stroke came. Acute Bright's disease caused death.

With him at the time were Mrs. Heatwole and his step-daughter, Allite Archibald, and his medical attendant. The funeral will be held on Wednesday.

Born in Indiana.

Mr. Heatwole was born at Waterford Mills, Ind., Aug. 22, 1856. Attended public and private schools; worked on a farm; worked in printing shops; taught country and village schools; owned a newspaper in 1876; came to Minnesota in 1882; worked on the Enterprise, Glencoe, and Lake Superior News, Duluth, which was published by W. S. Woodbridge; bought the Northfield News in 1884; delegate to state Republican convention in 1886; member state Republican committee, and secretary; same positions in 1888; delegate-at-large to the national Republican convention in 1888; chairman state Republican committee in 1890; member board of regents state university; defeated for congress in 1892; elected mayor of Northfield in 1894; elected to congress in 1894 by a plurality of 5,268, the district had nearly 9,000 Democratic and Populistic majority in 1890; was re-elected in 1896 by a majority of over 6,000, and re-elected in 1898 and 1900 respectively by increased majorities; member of the committee on foreign affairs for eight years; member of the committee dealing with Cuban affairs; one of the three house conferees having under consideration the resolutions leading to the war with Spain; chairman of the committee on printing for four years; member, among others, of the committees on census, board of visitors to naval academy, capitol celebration.

He was one of six Republican congressmen who refused to vote to impose a tariff on Porto Rico; voted against the Philippine tariff bill; in 1900 declared that trust controlled articles should go on the free list, the first public declaration of the sort made.

Of German Descent.

Mr. Heatwole was married at St. Margarets, London, Eng., on Dec. 4, 1890, to Mrs. G. L. Archibald of Northfield, who survives him. He was the son of Henry and Barbara Kalb Heatwole of Waterford, Ind., and his ancestors were German. They came from Steeg, near Bacharach on the Rhine. The name in German is spelled "Hutwohl." The spelling was first anglicised in a deed of grant in 1799 and in that instrument was spelled "Hetwol." Later it became "Heatwole." The first generations of American Heatwoles did not speak English and in giving their names to the civil authorities, the latter received only the phonetic utterance of the name and in writing spelled it in English form. The name "Hutwohl" is made up of two German root words, a verb and an adverb. The first, "Hut," being a form of verb which means "to guard," "to watch," etc., the other, "wohl," the adverb which means "well."

ADMITTED TO BAR OF SUPREME COURT

Three Duluth Men and Two Other Minnesotans Given Right to Practice.

Washington, April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Upon motion of Senator Clapp, Representative Clarence B. Miller and Victor H. Grau of Duluth were yesterday admitted to practice before the United States supreme court; Frank Adams of Duluth, Conrad H. Christopherson of Luverne, and Christian G. Dostand of Moorhead were also admitted to practice before the supreme court.

ST. PAUL JAPANESE TOT CHOSEN FOR OPERA ROLE.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—Little Tokaka Nakahira, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nakahira of Jackson street, has been engaged to appear at the St. Paul auditorium as "Trouble," the Japanese baby, with Geraldine Farrar, in "Mme. Butterfly" during the coming opera season.

Little Tokaka made her debut on the auditorium stage last spring in a local talent production, and her unusual quaintness and charm made her a prize indeed. She speaks Japanese and English with equal fluency, and is rapidly learning to be an American girl, despite the fact that her mother is wholly unacquainted with the English language.

COUNCIL MAY REGULATE BROKERS AND PROMOTERS

Calls Upon Attorney for Opinions as to Its Powers.

Methods of Some Operators Roundly Scored By the Aldermen.

The city council called upon the city attorney last evening to determine whether or not it can license and regulate the stock brokers and mining promoters in the city.

After a substitute motion of Alderman Getchell had been turned down by the councilmen, they passed the resolution of Alderman Shartel almost unanimously. The introduction of the resolution brought on a discussion in which the past actions of certain stock brokers and promoters were roundly scored. It was alleged that they had put off thousands of dollars of worthless stock on the strength of a mere "hole in the ground."

Alderman Shartel stated that he has good reason to believe that the wages and savings of working girls and others who needed every cent they could secure have been taken away from them in this manner. He explained that they had been led to part with their money on promises of large returns for small investments. He stated that they were very susceptible to baits of this kind as a few people in Duluth have increased their wealth by dealing in copper stocks.

Alderman Hector declared that the move was a good one. He couldn't see why any man should be allowed to come into Duluth and enrich himself by fraudulent representations. He explained that all a man has to have in this city to float a mining company is to own some acres in the backwoods somewhere with a possible trace of some metal in the rocks. He told of one man who came to him only last week and wanted him to buy stock in a mine which he had somewhere in California. At his suggestion the original resolution was amended to include all promoters. He declared that no harm could come of an investigation of this kind all along the line.

A Good Pastime.

Alderman Moore suggested that as the council has no money to engage in other enterprises he could see no objection to crusading in this direction for a time. He thought that it would be a good thing to call the attention of these people who need all the money they make to the fact that all companies boated are not going to make them rich in a few days or months.

Alderman Wharton worked in a little sarcasm when he said that the proper thing to do would be to appoint guardians for all those who are susceptible to get-rich-quick schemes and Alderman MacDonell wanted to know where the money with which to pay these guardians is going to come from.

The resolution of Alderman Shartel is as follows:

"Whereas, according to common report, the stock broking business in this city is so operated and conducted that it is impossible for many small investors or speculators to form any idea as to the actual worth of the stock on the market, and unscrupulous dealers often times unload onto inexperienced buyers stocks which are absolutely worthless, and often times their victimes are clerks and working girls induced to invest with promises of big returns from small investments; and,

"Whereas, this council believes that such actions of irresponsible dealers should be curtailed and some method devised for regulating the iniquitous practices complained of, and that some regulation should be adopted which would eliminate operations in worthless stocks; therefore,

"Resolved, That the city attorney is hereby requested to report to this council as to its power to license the business of dealing in stocks and regulate the same, and especially whether this council can enforce a rule before any broker shall offer for sale the stock in any company shall first file in some city office a statement containing the following information:

"1. A list of all the officers of the company, including the directors thereof;

"2. A statement of the capitalization of the company and the amount of stock issued;

"3. A statement showing what property is owned by the company and the amount of work done thereon;

"4. A statement as to what minerals are in sight, and the quantity in sight.

"5. A statement of assay of the minerals from a reputable assayer."

FAIRBANKS TALKS ON POPE'S ACTION

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4.—Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, when asked today for an expression of his view of Former President Roosevelt cancelling his appointment with the pope, said:

"No one can question the absolute right of the pope to extend his hospitality to or withhold it from whomsoever he likes. This is a matter which lies wholly within his own discretion. If he prescribes impossible conditions an American may refuse to accept without affront. In fact, no American can accept an audience at the Vatican upon the conditions that he shall not speak when, where and to whom he likes—regardless of church or creed. The principles of religious liberty so dear to Americans, must be upheld by us without faltering—in the interest of Catholics and Protestants alike. It goes without saying that I fully commend Mr. Roosevelt's decision."

Since Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks returned home from their tour of the world Mr. Fairbanks has been suffering from a severe cold, which has threatened to develop into pneumonia.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN ITASCA STATE PARK.

Bemidji, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—This summer promises to be an exceedingly busy season at the Itasca State park," said Martin Heinzelman, custodian of the park, while here Saturday.

"The cutting of 'Dead and down' timber in the park during the past winter was carried on very successfully, little more than 1,000,000 feet of mixed timber was cut. A scaler from the office of the surveyor general of logs and lumber scaled the timber as fast as it was cut. The timber on sections 16 and 36 were sold for the benefit of the state school fund. The money derived from the balance of the timber from the sections will be used for the maintenance and support of the park.

"We will complete the Lind saddle trail, which extends from Douglas Lodge, past Elk lake, on the south side of the park, passes Kasota lake and on to Okason Heights and thence returning to the lodge, making a fine trail for horseback riding and on foot.

"We also will finish the fire break, extending around the entire boundaries of the park.

"Pavilions will be erected at Mary's and Elk lakes, which will be a great convenience to the visitors."

Fitger's Beer

Best by 25 Years' Test — Have a Case Sent Home

Fitger Brewing Co., DULUTH, MINN.

In commenting on a report made public by a Special Government Commission, "The Hospital," London, in an editorial, May 1, 1909, says:

"When a man drinks good beer he drinks and eats at the same time, just as when he eats a bowl of soup. We hope the number of beer drinkers will increase considerably, as the result of the researches of our Commission, and we hold the view that it would be infinitely better for the well-being of the people, as a whole, if they were to select beer as their habitual drink. If the worth of food is measured by its calorimetric value, the fact is, that a glass of good beer is approximately as nourishing as a glass of milk, or a quart of good beer is equivalent to a quarter of a pound of beef, and it is often far more efficacious in the treatment of insomnia than drugs, due to the hypnotic principle contained in hops."

Best Spring Tonic

Doctors of All Schools Agree That the Best Tonic-Stimulant to Build Up the System That is Rnu Down and Weakened by the Long Strain of Winter and to Drive Out Spring Fever and Malaria is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the World's Greatest Medicine.

By springtime everyone is in a more or less played out condition—just right to catch any disease. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey aids in destroying the disease germs, and by its building and healing properties restores tissues in a gradual, healthy and natural manner. As a tonic and stimulant it is the greatest strength giver known to science. It is a wonderful specific for use at this time of year to enrich the blood and strengthen the system which has been weakened by the long siege of winter, and which needs building up from the attacks of coughs, colds, pneumonia, grippe, asthma, bronchitis and other winter ills which everyone is subject to. It aids digestion, quickens the heart action and restores health and vigor.

Tonic and Stimulant.

"I am very well acquainted with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and consider it equal to the best in the market for medicinal purposes whenever a stimulant and tonic is needed. It is pure, palatable and a very beneficial stimulant, and I have prescribed it for years."—Dr. Edw. C. Tinsley, 1117 E. 19th St., Indianapolis, Ind.,

Ministers of the gospel, doctors of medicine, nurses and people everywhere unite in commending Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey—the only perfect tonic stimulant, the one true medicinal whiskey.

has to its credit fifty years of success, without a question as to its merits as a remedial agent. It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic. During this time it has brought the blessings of health to overworked men, delicate women and sickly children who find in it the strength-giving properties that are so necessary to them. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. It is prescribed by doctors and is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold IN SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy's Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for a free illustrated medical booklet, containing testimonials and rare common sense rules for health, and free doctor's advice.

CROOKSTON WATCH IS OLD TIMEPIECE

Is Claimed By Owner to Have Been Made 413 Years Ago.

Crookston, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The press dispatches from Detroit, Mich., regarding a watch owned there by Leslie A. Mitchell, made 272 years ago, brought to light an older watch in Crookston which double discounts the Detroit one for age, being a century and a half older. It will run yet, though it cannot be carried as the heavy silver case is worn clear through in places. The watch is 413 years old and was made only twenty years after the manufacture of the first watch, in 1477.

The watch is an heirloom of Mrs. J. S. Kjelland, wife of one of Crookston's physicians, and has been in her family for centuries, the Trandums handing it down from one generation to another.

This watch was made by John Drew, London, Eng., in 1497, only four years after the discovery of America, this date being engraved on it, and was given Mrs. Kjelland by her father who received it from his grandfather, and he in turn had received it from his grandfather, whose father had given it to him, and that is as far back as Mrs. Kjelland knows its history. The description tallies very closely to that of the Mitchell watch, excepting that it has no gold, being made of silver and copper. The wheels and springs have never been altered or replaced, at least not during the past 200 years.

Best Treatment For Colds.

Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment is simple. It requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

JAPANESE "SPIES" ORDERED FREED

THE LANPHER HAT

HEATWOLE IS CALLED

Was Long Prominent in the Politics of Minnesota.

Northfield, Minn., April 5.—Joel Prescott Heatwole, editor of the Northfield News, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his residence here. In spite of the fact that Mr. Heatwole suffered with Bright's disease and had been in poor health for some time, his death was wholly unexpected.

When Mr. Heatwole rose yesterday morning he was feeling in better health than for some time. After dinner he was sitting in a chair when the fatal stroke came. Acute Bright's disease caused death.

With him at the time were Mrs. Heatwole and his step-daughter, Allite Archibald, and his medical attendant. The funeral will be held on Wednesday.

Born in Indiana.

Mr. Heatwole was born at Waterford Mills, Ind., Aug. 22, 1856. Attended public and private schools; worked on a farm; worked in printing shops; taught country and village schools; owned a newspaper in 1876; came to Minnesota in 1882; worked on the Enterprise, Glencoe, and Lake Superior News, Duluth, which was published by W. S. Woodbridge; bought the Northfield News in 1881; delegate to state Republican convention in 1886; member state Republican committee, and secretary; same positions in 1888; delegate-at-large to the national Republican convention in 1888; chairman state Republican committee in 1890; member board of regents state university; defeated for congress in 1892; elected mayor of Northfield in 1894; elected to congress in 1894 by a plurality of 5,268, the district had nearly 9,000 Democratic and Populistic majority in 1890; was re-elected in 1896 by a majority of over 9,000, and re-elected in 1898 and 1900 respectively by increased majorities; member of the committee on foreign affairs for eight years; member of the committee dealing with Cuban affairs; one of the three house conferees having under consideration the resolutions leading to the war with Spain; chairman of the committee on printing for four years; member, among others, of the committees on census, board of visitors to naval academy, capitol celebration.

He was one of six Republican congressmen who refused to vote to impose a tariff on Porto Rico; voted against the Philippine tariff bill; in 1900 declared that trust controlled articles should go on the free list, the first public declaration of the sort made.

Of German Descent.

Mr. Heatwole was married at St. Margarets, London, Eng., on Dec. 4, 1890, to Mrs. G. L. Archibald of Northfield, who survives him. He was the son of Henry and Barbara Kalb Heatwole of Waterford, Ind., and his ancestors were German. They came from Steeg, near Bacharach on the Rhine. The name in German is spelled "Hutwohl." The spelling was first anglicised in a deed of grant in 1799 and in that instrument was spelled "Hetwol." Later it became "Heatwole." The first generations of American Heatwoles did not speak English and in giving their names to the civil authorities, the latter received only the phonetic utterance of the name and in writing spelled it in English form. The name "Hutwohl" is made up of two German root words, a verb and an adverb. The first, "Hut," being a form of verb which means "to guard," "to watch," etc., the other, "wohl," the adverb which means "well."

ADMITTED TO BAR OF SUPREME COURT

Three Duluth Men and Two Other Minnesotans Given Right to Practice.

Washington, April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Upon motion of Senator Clapp, Representative Clarence B. Miller and Victor H. Grau of Duluth were yesterday admitted to practice before the United States supreme court; Frank Adams of Duluth, Conrad H. Christopherson of Luverne, and Christian G. Dostand of Moorhead were also admitted to practice before the supreme court.

ST. PAUL JAPANESE TOT CHOSEN FOR OPERA ROLE.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—Little Tokaka Nakahira, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nakahira of Jackson street, has been engaged to appear at the St. Paul auditorium as "Trouble," the Japanese baby, with Geraldine Farrar, in "Mme. Butterfly" during the coming opera season.

Little Tokaka made her debut on the auditorium stage last spring in a local talent production, and her unusual quaintness and charm made her a prize indeed. She speaks Japanese and English with equal fluency, and is rapidly learning to be an American girl, despite the fact that her mother is wholly unacquainted with the English language.

COUNCIL MAY REGULATE BROKERS AND PROMOTERS

Calls Upon Attorney for Opinions as to Its Powers.

Methods of Some Operators Roundly Scored By the Aldermen.

The city council called upon the city attorney last evening to determine whether or not it can license and regulate the stock brokers and mining promoters in the city.

After a substitute motion of Alderman Getchell had been turned down by the councilmen, they passed the resolution of Alderman Shartel almost unanimously. The introduction of the resolution brought on a discussion in which the past actions of certain stock brokers and promoters were roundly scored. It was alleged that they had put off thousands of dollars of worthless stock on the strength of a mere "hole in the ground."

Alderman Shartel stated that he has good reason to believe that the wages and savings of working girls and others who needed every cent they could secure have been taken away from them in this manner. He explained that they had been led to part with their money on promises of large returns for small investments. He stated that they were very susceptible to baits of this kind as a few people in Duluth have increased their wealth by dealing in copper stocks.

Alderman Hector declared that the move was a good one. He couldn't see why any man should be allowed to come into Duluth and enrich himself by fraudulent representations. He explained that all a man has to have in this city to float a mining company is to own some acres in the backwoods somewhere with a possible trace of some metal in the rocks. He told of one man who came to him only last week and wanted him to buy stock in a mine which he had somewhere in California. At his suggestion the original resolution was amended to include all promoters. He declared that no harm could come of an investigation of this kind all along the line.

A Good Pastime.

Alderman Moore suggested that as the council has no money to engage in other enterprises he could see no objection to crusading in this direction for a time. He thought that it would be a good thing to call the attention of these people who need all the money they make to the fact that all companies floated are not going to make them rich in a few days or months.

Alderman Wharton worked in a little sarcasm when he said that the proper thing to do would be to appoint guardians for all those who are susceptible to get-rich-quick schemes and Alderman MacDonell wanted to know where the money with which to pay these guardians is going to come from.

The resolution of Alderman Shartel is as follows:

"Whereas, according to common report, the stock broking business in this city is so operated and conducted that it is impossible for many small investors or speculators to form any idea as to the actual worth of the stock on the market, and unscrupulous dealers often times unload onto inexperienced buyers stocks which are absolutely worthless, and often times their victimes are clerks and working girls induced to invest with promises of big returns from small investments; and,

"Whereas, this council believes that such actions of irresponsible dealers should be curtailed and some method devised for regulating the iniquitous practices complained of, and that some regulation should be adopted which would eliminate operations in worthless stocks; therefore,

"Resolved, That the city attorney is hereby requested to report to this council as to its power to license the business of dealing in stocks and regulate the same, and especially whether this council can enforce a rule before any broker shall offer for sale the stock in any company shall first file in some city office a statement containing the following information:

"1. A list of all the officers of the company, including the directors thereof;

"2. A statement of the capitalization of the company and the amount of stock issued;

"3. A statement showing what property is owned by the company and the amount of work done thereon;

"4. A statement as to what minerals are in sight, and the quantity in sight.

"5. A statement of assay of the minerals from a reputable assayer."

FAIRBANKS TALKS ON POPE'S ACTION

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4.—Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, when asked today for an expression of his view of Former President Roosevelt cancelling his appointment with the pope, said:

"No one can question the absolute right of the pope to extend his hospitality to or withhold it from whomsoever he likes. This is a matter which lies wholly within his own discretion. If he prescribes impossible conditions an American may refuse to accept without affront. In fact, no American can accept an audience at the Vatican upon the conditions that he shall not speak when, where and to whom he likes—regardless of church or creed. The principles of religious liberty so dear to Americans, must be upheld by us without faltering—in the interest of Catholics and Protestants alike. It goes without saying that I fully commend Mr. Roosevelt's decision."

Since Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks returned home from their tour of the world Mr. Fairbanks has been suffering from a severe cold, which has threatened to develop into pneumonia.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN ITASCA STATE PARK.

Bemidji, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—This summer promises to be an exceedingly busy season at the Itasca State park," said Martin Heinzelman, custodian of the park, while here Saturday.

"The cutting of 'Dead and down' timber in the park during the past winter was carried on very successfully, little more than 1,000,000 feet of mixed timber was cut. A scaler from the office of the surveyor general of logs and lumber scaled the timber as fast as it was cut. The timber on sections 16 and 36 were sold for the benefit of the state school fund. The money derived from the balance of the timber from the sections will be used for the maintenance and support of the park.

"We will complete the Lind saddle trail, which extends from Douglas Lodge, past Elk lake, on the south side of the park, passes Kasota lake and on to Okason Heights and thence returning to the lodge, making a fine trail for horseback riding and on foot.

"We also will finish the fire break, extending around the entire boundaries of the park.

"Pavilions will be erected at Mary's and Elk lakes, which will be a great convenience to the visitors."

Fitger's Beer

Best by 25 Years' Test —— Have a Case Sent Home

Fitger Brewing Co., DULUTH, MINN.

In commenting on a report made public by a Special Government Commission, "The Hospital," London, in an editorial, May 1, 1909, says:

"When a man drinks good beer he drinks and eats at the same time, just as when he eats a bowl of soup. We hope the number of beer drinkers will increase considerably, as the result of the researches of our Commission, and we hold the view that it would be infinitely better for the well-being of the people, as a whole, if they were to select beer as their habitual drink. If the worth of food is measured by its calorimetric value, the fact is, that a glass of good beer is approximately as nourishing as a glass of milk, or a quart of good beer is equivalent to a quarter of a pound of beef, and it is often far more efficacious in the treatment of insomnia than drugs, due to the hypnotic principle contained in hops."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

Women are self-denying and uncandid; men are self-indulgent and outspoken: and this is the key to a thousand double misunderstandings, for good women are just as stupid in misunderstanding men as good men are in misunderstanding women.

—Charles Reade.

THE LEAK IN THE DYKE.

Do you remember the story of the little Dutch boy who found a tiny leak in the dyke that keeps the sea back from Holland, and who saved the country by keeping his finger in the hole and thus preventing the inrushing waters from widening it and destroying the dyke? It used to be in the school readers, and surely everybody remembers it.

President Taft seems to have that story in mind. He is casting himself for the small boy part. The dyke is the standpat Republican organization, the protected land is the tiny strip of territory on which stand those protected by the organization, and the raging sea that is threatening to batter down the dyke and overwhelm the land is the awakened, independent, clear-seeing and patriotic people.

This conclusion must be drawn from the announcement that the Taft administration proposes to defend itself and its advisers and its acts and theirs in a strenuous campaign that is to begin at once, and that will prepare the way for the comidg congressional elections.

It is a little unusual, and exceedingly significant, that an administration should be forced to take up a campaign of self-defense when only a little more than a fourth of its period of power has elapsed. It is still more significant that those who are to participate in the rally are, without exception, men who are allied with the reactionary organization of the Republican party. No Murdock, no Cummins, no La Follette and no Beveridge is invited to take part in this campaign of self-defense. The president will begin the campaign by a speech in Washington Saturday. Senator Lodge, one of the high priests of standpatism, Attorney General Wickersham, Congressman McKinley of Illinois, standpat chairman of the standpat Republican congressional committee, and self-seeking and salaried heads of standpat Republican organizations, are to be the speakers.

It is easy to imagine what kind of a roaring tumult this is going to be. "Rally 'round the battle flag of the Grand Old Party" will be its battle cry; and its motto will be "My party, may she ever be right; but be she right or wrong, my party!" We shall hear again the resounding and empty periods of the stump speaker, cracking the party whip over the backs of the rank and file and demanding, in apoplectic frenzy, that they get back into the line and march at command, regardless of what they may think about how the party is being run. "Theirs not to reason why" is the creed of the partisan; theirs but to heed the voice of their master, the party boss, and to vote his will at the polls.

President Taft, egged on by the Aldriches, Cannons, Lodges, Hammonds and Cranes, has his finger stuck in the hole in the dyke, trying to hold back the irresistible flood of popular disapproval that grows in strength and in impatience day by day. The party appeal for the coming congressional elections is to be made in the voice of the standpatter. Insurgents are to be classed as Democrats, and defeated by hook or crook. The voice of party protest against party prostitution to the service of privilege and plutocracy is to be drowned by the sonorous perorations of the oldtime Grand Old Party shouter.

We fear that that dyke has grown so rotten and shaky, and that the flood that beats against it has become so impetuous and so powerful, that President Taft and the unfortunate gang of looters that surrounds him are engaged in an impossible task when they seek to stop the leaks.

ROOSEVELT AND THE VATICAN.

The outcome of the negotiations between Theodore Roosevelt and the Vatican with reference to a proposed audience with the pope has, of course, surprised nobody.

A little study of the positions of the two sides to the controversy—which, it is to be hoped, is ended—will make it clear that it could not have come out otherwise than it did, and that there is no occasion whatever for anybody to get excited over it.

The situation at Rome between the Methodists and the Vatican is peculiar, and it must be understood before the incident that has grown out of it can be appreciated in its true light. The Methodists are, it is said, carrying on an active crusade for converts in Rome. Believing in their viewpoint of religion, that is their duty. But the Vatican, believing in its own viewpoint of religion, cannot be expected to approve the Methodist activities, and it doesn't. The Vatican charges the Methodists with attacking the pope as well as the papacy, and frankly regards them as bitter enemies. So tense is the situation that the Vatican, with or without the knowledge of the pope, has taken the stand that it cannot receive those who affiliate with its bitter enemies.

Hence the recent Fairbanks incident; hence, also, the later Roosevelt incident of a similar nature but, like everything else Col. Roosevelt is connected with, having a piquancy of its own.

Aiming to be in Rome this week, Col. Roosevelt opened negotiations for an audience with the pope. A member of the pope's household notified Col. Roosevelt that the pope would be delighted to see him,—as unquestionably he would have been,—but "hoped that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much-regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks possible." Mr. Fairbanks, it will be remembered, had agreed to address the Methodists.

Col. Roosevelt replied promptly, assuring the Vatican of his high appreciation of the pontiff, both personally and as the head of a great church. But he "must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct." To this the Vatican replied that "in view of circumstances for which neither His Holiness nor Mr. Roosevelt are responsible, an audience could not take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message." This message from Col. Roosevelt concluded the incident: "The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

It is merely a clash of unfortunately differing viewpoints, and Col. Roosevelt hastened to make public announcement of his desire that the incident should not be made the basis of harsh and bitter comment. The harmonious good will that exists between Catholics and Protestants in this country, he says, is too fine and valuable a thing to be destroyed or even disturbed by this unfortunate incident.

Even though the viewpoint of the Vatican may, to many, seem a little harder to understand than Col. Roosevelt's viewpoint, which everybody can understand, the general disposition, we feel sure, will be to follow Col. Roosevelt's advice and frown upon any attempt at bitter controversy that might shake the friendly associations between Catholics and Protestants in this country.

The fact that the published statement of the pastor in charge of the Methodist church in Rome has made it impossible for Col. Roosevelt to attend the proposed reception by the American colony, and the statement from the Vatican that no other Protestant church is involved in its restrictions, may help to throw light on the situation and to prevent the incident from being unduly disturbing.

THE ENTERING WEDGE.

Vast encouragement to further effort for the solution of the problem of making the Greater Duluth lies in the report in The Herald last evening that already sixteen farmers' co-operative clubs are affiliated with the Duluth Co-Operative Market association.

Just a few months ago there was no Duluth market association, there were no farmers' clubs engaged in seeking a market at Duluth, there was no organized effort to settle the near-by soil. There was nothing but a great, rich and hungry market lying side by side with some of the richest soil that exists outdoors, but mostly standing idle.

Sixteen farmers' clubs cannot supply the needs of the Duluth market from near-by soil, but they can show that the co-operative market plan is a success, and they are doing it. To the sixteen, more will be added. Better still, to the present membership of the sixteen clubs more will be added as settlement increases.

This association is grappling to Duluth the farming communities within practicable distance. By providing them with a profitable market, it is encouraging them to expand and helping to increase their productive population. Duluth long has been anxious to buy their products. Now it has the machinery for buying them. The benefit is twofold—it supplies Duluth's need of farm products at reasonable prices, and it provides a profitable market for the producers.

While developing its own market for the commodities of its farmer neighbors, thus profiting them and itself, Duluth is taking the best and most direct way to increase the market for its own products. Duluth wants the products of the Northwest, and Duluth wants to sell to the producers of the Northwest the things that they need to buy. Such an arrangement must be reciprocal. It must be an exchange of city products for farm products; a relation of trade that is mutually profitable. That is why the operations of the Duluth Co-Operative Market association mean so much more in fact than they seem to mean on their face. Duluth, the natural market for Northwestern soil, is being united in a commercial partnership with the farming communities which form the natural market for Duluth's products.

UNSAFE BRIDGES.

The disclosures in The Herald last night about the condition of bridges in the outskirts of the city seem to call for prompt action. Inspectors for the city engineering department have been examining the bridges, and they find many of them in unsafe and even dangerous condition.

Probably it would be too great a task for the city to rebuild all or many of these bridges immediately. That would call for a good deal of money, and very likely it isn't necessary.

What is necessary, however, is that the exact condition of all the bridges within the city limits should be definitely known, and this the city engineer seems to be arranging for. Upon this knowledge can be based a program for remedying the situation, so arranged as to accomplish the work that is absolutely necessary in the shortest possible time and at the least possible expense. Some of the unsafe bridges probably can be bolstered up temporarily. Some of them may have to be rebuilt entirely. The work has been neglected so long that it has piled up alarmingly, and will be more costly and more complicated than it would have been had it been attended to as the need arose. It can't be done all at once; and the best way out of it seems to be to arrange a program, putting the most necessary things first, and to stick to that program until the work is completed.

JOEL P. HEATWOLE.

A picturesque character was taken from the stage of Minnesota affairs when Joel P. Heatwole, editor of the Northfield News, died yesterday. Always positive, always vigorous, always in the vanguard of events wherever he played a part, Joel Heatwole was not a man to be ignored, and he had many good qualities that will make his loss felt. He served four terms in congress with ability, and since his retirement has been busy publishing what is acknowledged to be the best country weekly in Minnesota, in conducting a fine farm near Northfield, and in participating in state politics. Though his ambition to be United States senator six years ago was balked, and though he failed to get the Republican nomination for the governorship two years ago, he was always a figure to be reckoned with, and his influence was widely felt.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

A GRADUATE'S VIEW OF SCHOOL DANCES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Before the board of education takes any action on the question put before them by three of the Scandidnavian ministers of this city, there are a few things to be considered.

First of all are ministers capable judges of school social life? Do they attend any of the parties they speak of? Religiously they must reform the individual and not the mass. The home is the center so let them begin with their church and not try to take a body of men with good balanced minds and force them into an action that would be a decided wrong from the standpoint of common sense and not religion. The home influence and the parents are responsible for the morals of high school students, and teachers and educators must not be blamed. Let these ministers improve the morals of their own little flocks and the schools will take care of themselves.

Secondly, the children whose parents do not allow them to dance when young do it eventually. If they finally decide they do not care for the diversion they try it once in their lives at some time. This is human nature.

Having attended the Duluth Central high school for four years, I am judging after my own experience in the planning and executing of social entertainments. During the first two years of my experience under the direction of the late Charles Alden Smith, our parties were held at the old Masonic hall and at Harmonic hall at Lester park. The teachers rarely attended, we gave as many parties as we wished, and stayed as late as possible. It was almost impossible to restrict the attendance. Most any one could pay the fee and dance. The morals were left to the individual and we always had an enjoyable evening.

Our junior-senior was held at the Spalding hotel and as a result we had to work exceptionally hard to overcome our great debt so as to give our senior play. It was this party that influenced our principal to take his admirable action to change the parties from halls to the school. Mr. Smith's school government was wonderfully successful. His refined personality became such a part of our parties after this that it has afforded most of us a memory never to be forgotten. My senior year was the most delightful on account of the little gatherings at the school. Mr. Smith was always present, the teachers attended in great numbers, and most of our mothers enjoyed them with us. If parties are given outside the school, with the sanction of the teachers they will rarely attend. If parties are abolished entirely there will be little independent gatherings of a worse order, undoubtedly.

Girls and boys will dance and why will the narrow-mindedness of the few try to abolish the pleasure of the many.

The teachers and parents can go to these parties if they wish so why not let some of the parents have a voice in the final decision. A GRADUATE.

Duluth, April 4.

THE SPIRIT NEEDED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

What is the matter with Duluth? I will tell you. Just apathy and too much copper craze. There has never been any doubt in my mind that the Duluth people have plenty of gray matter, but too many are sitting in the back row. The average citizen has just recently discovered that for the last fifteen years the conveniences for transit to and from Fargo and other Dakota towns to Duluth are little better than cattle trains. I shipped my Shetland ponies from Fargo on a late Saturday night freight; I took the fast express in the early morning. The ponies got here first. Ask the Fargo business man why he prefers St. Paul or Minneapolis to Duluth. He will invariably reply, "I don't, but I can get there quicker and better." It must be obvious to any one that Duluth offers more natural attractions to an inland citizen with its vast commerce and ships—for sight-seeing—than cities like St. Paul or Minneapolis, but until we can supply as good speed and accommodations to those North Dakotans to visit us as they get on the Twin City trains, the Dakota citizens will continue to visit and spend their money in the Twin Cities.

Another fault in the makeup of the average citizen is the indifference shown towards new enterprises and business ventures. When a newcomer lands in our midst, contemplating engaging in some kind of business, he will accost Mr. Prominent Citizen and confidentially, perhaps, inform him of his intentions. Does Mr. P. C. encourage him? Certainly he does. "A splendid field for you here," he will say. His language and manner would suggest not only his good will, but some patronage. Does the new business man get it? Nothing of the kind. He gets neither. If Prominent Citizen was kindly solicited for a little patronage his reply would likely be, "Oh, I have been doing business at Mr. Blank's and I cannot leave him." I imagine some fond mother saying upon the second visit of the stork, "Oh, I have one lovely baby, I cannot rear another."

We hear a good deal about advertising our city in pamphlets and periodicals, presumably outside publications. Why not advertise in our home publications—descriptive and statistical. Have the Commercial club create a fund, compile a list and furnish the publishers and pay them to send out 100,000 copies into North Dakota alone. The average North Dakota farmer just now is in a receptive mood, and I venture the opinion that an intelligent distribution of those copies would bring $100,000 in trade from North Dakota towns and cities. We don't get their trade because we don't go after it.

We have an ideal garden plan and street car extensions all worked out in detail. Waiting for what? Money, of course. Who is going to put that in? Why the other fellow. Ye gods, is the progressive spirit in Duluth people dead? Hundreds have the means alone to put their meritorious venture into a living, breathing reality. Will they do it? Yet these same hundreds will point with pride to the gilded domes which dot our fair city, as illustrative of our culture. It is not the castle walls but the wealth of brains and benevolence within them which, if properly exerted, would make this the best city on the map. Jeffries' shadow fighting is nothing as compared to the sprinting of some of those moneyed men when asked to assist some worthy enterprise.

We need more Hartleys, Craigs and Colemans to get this city to going. This reminds me of the latter. The two former men are too well known to need any encomiums. Mr. Coleman platted over 1,000 acres into ten-acre tracts, a small payment down and a still smaller monthly payment, without interest. These tracts are covered with a growth of hardwood principally, providing fuel for all time. The soil is a rich black loam with a clay subsoil. What was the result? Over 100 ten-acre tracts were sold and practically every man intends to improve and live on the land. Did Mr. Coleman stop there after selling so many tracts? Oh, no. He assisted the county with a few thousand dollars to put a county road through the land, and this summer it will be finished. I understand that he intends to build a residence near his colony and will reside there a part of the time. What an example of public spirit! If the Hartley, Craig and Coleman industrial microbe could be injected into some of those men who throw their hats in the air with loud acclaim when the industrial fellows get busy, but who never do anything themselves, the city's progress would be an assured fact. There is a responsibility resting upon every individual here to advance Duluth's influence and assist its growth. When we unite for a bigger and better Duluth, this city will be teeming with new industries. Conquest of the soil will result and cheaper living will be the legacy. Do it for Duluth.

C. B. KELLY.

THE WEATHER

FAIR

Rain was threatened all day yesterday, but only a few drops fell. Today the sun is trying to break through the clouds, and the weather man says it will succeed, bringing fair weather, but freezing temperatures. The lowest temperature last night was 36 deg.

Wet snow fell a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:39 and it will set at 6:42, giving thirteen hours and three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Minnesota storm has moved its center to Iowa. During the past twenty-four hours it caused light to copious showers or thunder storms throughout the lake region, Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Western Gulf states and high temperature in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys. The western high pressure is now central over the Rocky mountains. It has caused colder weather over the eastern slopes and Mississippi valleys. Freezing temperatures prevail from Utah, New Mexico and Nebraska northward to Canada. Another disturbance is developing over Alberta, attended by rising temperature in that province and extreme Western and Northwestern states.

"Indications favor freezing temperatures at the Head of the Lakes tonight."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

A Fine Anniversary Edition.

Twenty years ago Lafayette Young became the owner of the Des Moines Capital. He and his able sons still own it, and it has been a good thing for the Youngs, for the Capital, for Des Moines and for Iowa. Last Thursday the twentieth anniversary of the Young ownership was celebrated by the issuance of a particularly fine edition of 104 pages, full of good things, all mighty well done. The Capital comes pretty near being a refutation of the idea that personal journalism has gone out, for, as Medill McCormick of the Chicago Tribune says in his congratulatory message to the Capital, "Lafe Young is the Capital and the Capital is Lafe Young. "Lafe" Young and the Capital stand sturdily in Insurgent Iowa for the good old traditions of Republicanism, for a state of things which has no place for Roosevelts and La Follettes and in which even a Cummins has a hard time finding a place. To quote Mr. McCormick again, "Mr. Young and the Capital are wrong, but unafraid." If you must be wrong, be wrong magnificently.

This edition is full of rich descriptions of the innumerable glories of Iowa, from her golden cornfields to her beautiful women. It is a highly creditable performance. Even if "Lafe" Young does go wrong in his politics, he goes right every day in the making of a newspaper.

Good Conversation.

Robert Louis Stevenson: Natural talk, like plowing, should turn up a large surface of life, rather than dig mines into geological strata. Masses of experience, anecdote, incident, cross-lights, quotation, historical instances the whole flotsam and jetsam of two minds, forced in and in upon the matter in hand from every point of the compass, and from every degree of mental elevation and abasement—these are the material with which talk is fortified, the food on which the talkers thrive.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

The now famous "riparian rights" case involving a large amount of valuable dock property in this city has again been settled by the supreme court. The case of Heber H. Hanford et al, respondents, vs. the St. Paul & Duluth Railway company, appellants, has been in the courts for about two years. The main question involved was wether the railway company, after condemning land on the west side of Rice's Point to the water's edge, could claim riparian rights to the submerged land, as far as the dock line, a distance of about 800 feet. Judge Stearns decided against the company, but the supreme court reversed the decision. In the case of A. M. Miller, appellant, vs. Luther Mendenhall, respondent, the supreme court upheld the right of the Duluth Improvement comptny to plat its land bordering on Superior bay and clear out under the water 1,000 feet to the dock, calling it the "Bay Front Division of Duluth," to sell such lots under water with a special contract denying the purchasers the right to dock out and make improvements in front of their lots to the dock line.

The fifty feet on the southeast corner of Second avenue west and Superior street, now occupied by Stewart's livery barn and owned by Mrs. A. J. Whiteman, has been sold to Lyman Nichols of Boston for $60,000. This is the highest price ever paid on that part of Superior street.

The Chapin-Wells Hardware company of Duluth has increased its capital stock from $200,000 to $300,000, owing to the increase of the company's wholesale business.

Miss Kate Hardy has concluded arrangements with local business men which brings to this city from Eau Claire her well known young ladies' academy. The Highland Improvement company has given Miss Hardy a block near the terminus of the Seventh avenue cable line, where the building will be erected. Boarding accomodation will be provided for 10 pupils. The academy and its furnishings will cost about $150,000.

The large easterly store in the new Masonic Temple has been leased by J. Wilkey, lately of Cambridge, Ill., who will open a dry goods store there.

FOR NORTHERN MINNESOTA.

Northern Minnesota Is Alive.

McIntosh Times: Northern Minnesota went to the conservation congress with ideas. These ideas were incorporated into the resolutions of the state convention. Northern Minnesota is alive and there will be something doing. We will add still more to the great fame of our state.

The Right Place to Look.

No Others Need Apply.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: What Northern Minnesota wants first, last and all the time, if she is to secure justice, is representatives in the legislature who will think of reapportionment first and other things afterwards. Northern Minnesota is in need of more representatives of the La Follette stamp, than perhaps she would be granted her dues.

And Heard.

Anoka Union: Northern Minnesota is already making its presence felt.

A Timely Waking Up.

Ada Index: It looks as if the world has just began to realize the opportunities of Northern Minnesota. The railroads and immigration commissioner are being flooded with inquiries from prospective settlers.

Encouraging Results.

Deer River News: That the getting together of Northern Minnesota people is going to get results is demonstrated in the great accomplishment announced today in the assurance of immediate opening of the reservation lands between Deer River and Cass Lake, directly creditable to the first Northern Minnesota development convention held at Bemidji six weeks ago. At that meeting a resolution was adopted calling on the interior department to at once open up these lands to settlement, and the same resolution was adopted by the first development congress of the state just a week ago today. The lightning returns are miraculous, and if the stick-together idea continues and remains it will in time be able to move the national capitol to Minnesota.

A Word to the Knocker.

Pine River Sentinel: When you hear the knocker knocking this section of Minnesota, just ask him where he can find soil that will grow clover and all tame grasses as we do here. Ask him where he can raise more potatoes per acre or better ones. Ask him the particular spot on God's green earth that can compete with us raising vegetables. Ask him where the climate is any healthier or where purer water can be found. Ask him just where he can go to find a better class of people who consider schools and churches first and provide them in a new country as has been done here. Then if you wish to rub it in just ask how much good he has ever been to any community and if there is any spot on earth that the Almighty has seen fit to fix up to suit him. It's a twenty to one shot he will not be able to answer one quiz of the bunch intelligently, and if he could he wouldn't do it.

An Important Matter.

Ada Index: The secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association calls attention to the fact that the people of this section should look carefully to the lieutenant governorship. The senate will have a lot to say about all the issues that concern this part of the state and the lieutenant governor appoints them. It will take a man of broad calibre to fill that office satisfactorily next session. Every candidate should show his colors.

Afternoon Tea.

Lippincott's: "Have you heard how Mrs. Smith is?" "Yes, her hat's a little trying." "Jones! Eloped to Europe with his—" "Maude has faults, there's no denying." "Bridge is how she gets her money." "Do you take two lumps or three?" "Ain't the suffragettes too funny?"

"Have another cup of tea."

"Tetrazzini's lovely high C——" "I just dote upon Caruso." "Mary Garden? She's too spicy." "Wonder how she dares to do so?" "Problem plays, I think are horrid." "Dancing don't appeal to me." "Isn't this room something torrid?"

"Have another cup of tea."

"Lemon? Did you say two slices?" "Had to sell their automobile." "Out of fashion to serve tea." "Yes, I'm quite a—bibliophile." "Had the dearest time in Yurrup." "She engaged to Charlie! Gee!" "I love cakes and maple syrup."

"Have another cup of tea."

"Must be going?" "What's your hurry?" "I think—" "He said——" "I said——" "We——" "An engagement. Got to scurry."

"Have another cup of tea."

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

London Opinion: Irate Creditor—I shall call every week until you pay this account!

Debtor—Really. Then there seems every probability of our acquaintance ripening into friendship.

Cleveland Leader: "Man was made to mourn."

"Maybe so, but you will observe that there are no public weeping stations."

Punch: Hungry Guest—Afraid I'm a bit late, but I hope I haven't kept breakfast waiting?

Hostess—Oh, I forgot to mention that we're trying the "No-breakfast" plan, and feel so much better for it. We do trust it will have the same effect with you.

Washington Star: "How did that man come to be regarded as an authority on the tariff? He never impressed me as much of a student."

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "He didn't spend his time reading books or theorizing. He found out what his constituents wanted, and got it."

Chicago Daily News: "Who is that swarthy man watching the gyroscope car?" asked the inventor.

"That's a Nicaraguan," whispered his assistant.

"Indeed! Does he contemplate using our car down in the tropical jungles?"

"Oh, no. He is only astonished at seeing anything that has more revolutions than his home country."

Baltimore American: Mistress—Do you clean rooms with alacrity?

Applicant—I gin'rally prefers patent sweepers, mum.

Boston Transcript: Penley (stuck for a word)—Let's see! What is that you call a man who marries more than one wife?

Grump—An idiot, I call him.

Philadelphia Record: Cynicus—When a man gets all the money he needs there's only one thing he wants.

Sillicus—And that is?

Cynicus—More money.

Houston Post: "You say you have quit smoking?"

"Yep, never going to smoke again."

"Then why don't you throw away those cigars?"

"Never. I threw away a box of cigars the last time I quit smoking and it taught me a lesson."

Punch: First Politician—I see Mr. Meadows has gone in for Mid-Mudshire, Mrs. Jones. He's a friend of mine, though he is so strong on the other side.

Second Politician—Oh! dear! dear! miss, to think how people do get led away!

First Politician—Well, I suppose, after all, that's just what they would say of us.

Second Politician—I dare say they would, miss, but then you see we are led away in the right direction.

Brooklyn Citizen: Teacher—Johnny what makes you so foolish?

Johnny—Oh, it's my ma's fault. She makes me sleep under a crazy quilt.

Chicago News: "Bless the dear children!" exclaimed the fond mother of six. "What would we do without them?"

"That isn't the question," rejoined the practical father. "What would the mumps, measles, whooping cough, etc., do without them?"

Cleveland Leader: "Touch one hair of that lady's head, and you will answer with your life!" said the hero, striking a perfectly defenseless attitude.

"Gee!" hissed the villain, "and a new set of puffs would only cost $7. Why go to extremes?"

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

Women are self-denying and uncandid; men are self-indulgent and outspoken: and this is the key to a thousand double misunderstandings, for good women are just as stupid in misunderstanding men as good men are in misunderstanding women.

—Charles Reade.

THE LEAK IN THE DYKE.

Do you remember the story of the little Dutch boy who found a tiny leak in the dyke that keeps the sea back from Holland, and who saved the country by keeping his finger in the hole and thus preventing the inrushing waters from widening it and destroying the dyke? It used to be in the school readers, and surely everybody remembers it.

President Taft seems to have that story in mind. He is casting himself for the small boy part. The dyke is the standpat Republican organization, the protected land is the tiny strip of territory on which stand those protected by the organization, and the raging sea that is threatening to batter down the dyke and overwhelm the land is the awakened, independent, clear-seeing and patriotic people.

This conclusion must be drawn from the announcement that the Taft administration proposes to defend itself and its advisers and its acts and theirs in a strenuous campaign that is to begin at once, and that will prepare the way for the coming congressional elections.

It is a little unusual, and exceedingly significant, that an administration should be forced to take up a campaign of self-defense when only a little more than a fourth of its period of power has elapsed. It is still more significant that those who are to participate in the rally are, without exception, men who are allied with the reactionary organization of the Republican party. No Murdock, no Cummins, no La Follette and no Beveridge is invited to take part in this campaign of self-defense. The president will begin the campaign by a speech in Washington Saturday. Senator Lodge, one of the high priests of standpatism, Attorney General Wickersham, Congressman McKinley of Illinois, standpat chairman of the standpat Republican congressional committee, and self-seeking and salaried heads of standpat Republican organizations, are to be the speakers.

It is easy to imagine what kind of a roaring tumult this is going to be. "Rally 'round the battle flag of the Grand Old Party" will be its battle cry; and its motto will be "My party, may she ever be right; but be she right or wrong, my party!" We shall hear again the resounding and empty periods of the stump speaker, cracking the party whip over the backs of the rank and file and demanding, in apoplectic frenzy, that they get back into the line and march at command, regardless of what they may think about how the party is being run. "Theirs not to reason why" is the creed of the partisan; theirs but to heed the voice of their master, the party boss, and to vote his will at the polls.

President Taft, egged on by the Aldriches, Cannons, Lodges, Hammonds and Cranes, has his finger stuck in the hole in the dyke, trying to hold back the irresistible flood of popular disapproval that grows in strength and in impatience day by day. The party appeal for the coming congressional elections is to be made in the voice of the standpatter. Insurgents are to be classed as Democrats, and defeated by hook or crook. The voice of party protest against party prostitution to the service of privilege and plutocracy is to be drowned by the sonorous perorations of the oldtime Grand Old Party shouter.

We fear that that dyke has grown so rotten and shaky, and that the flood that beats against it has become so impetuous and so powerful, that President Taft and the unfortunate gang of looters that surrounds him are engaged in an impossible task when they seek to stop the leaks.

ROOSEVELT AND THE VATICAN.

The outcome of the negotiations between Theodore Roosevelt and the Vatican with reference to a proposed audience with the pope has, of course, surprised nobody.

A little study of the positions of the two sides to the controversy, which, it is to be hoped, is ended—will make it clear that it could not have come out otherwise than it did, and that there is no occasion whatever for anybody to get excited over it.

The situation at Rome between the Methodists and the Vatican is peculiar, and it must be understood before the incident that has grown out of it can be appreciated in its true light. The Methodists are, it is said, carrying on an active crusade for converts in Rome. Believing in their viewpoint of religion, that is their duty. But the Vatican, believing in its own viewpoint of religion, cannot be expected to approve the Methodist activities, and it doesn't. The Vatican charges the Methodists with attacking the pope as well as the papacy, and frankly regards them as bitter enemies. So tense is the situation that the Vatican, with or without the knowledge of the pope, has taken the stand that it cannot receive those who affiliate with its bitter enemies.

Hence the recent Fairbanks incident; hence, also, the later Roosevelt incident of a similar nature but, like everything else Col. Roosevelt is connected with, having a piquancy of its own.

Aiming to be in Rome this week, Col. Roosevelt opened negotiations for an audience with the pope. A member of the pope's household notified Col. Roosevelt that the pope would be delighted to see him,—as unquestionably he would have been,—but "hoped that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much-regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks possible." Mr. Fairbanks, it will be remembered, had agreed to address the Methodists.

Col. Roosevelt replied promptly, assuring the Vatican of his high appreciation of the pontiff, both personally and as the head of a great church. But he "must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct." To this the Vatican replied that "in view of circumstances for which neither His Holiness nor Mr. Roosevelt are responsible, an audience could not take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message." This message from Col. Roosevelt concluded the incident: "The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

It is merely a clash of unfortunately differing viewpoints, and Col. Roosevelt hastened to make public announcement of his desire that the incident should not be made the basis of harsh and bitter comment. The harmonious good will that exists between Catholics and Protestants in this country, he says, is too fine and valuable a thing to be destroyed or even disturbed by this unfortunate incident.

Even though the viewpoint of the Vatican may, to many, seem a little harder to understand than Col. Roosevelt's viewpoint, which everybody can understand, the general disposition, we feel sure, will be to follow Col. Roosevelt's advice and frown upon any attempt at bitter controversy that might shake the friendly associations between Catholics and Protestants in this country.

The fact that the published statement of the pastor in charge of the Methodist church in Rome has made it impossible for Col. Roosevelt to attend the proposed reception by the American colony, and the statement from the Vatican that no other Protestant church is involved in its restrictions, may help to throw light on the situation and to prevent the incident from being unduly disturbing.

THE ENTERING WEDGE.

Vast encouragement to further effort for the solution of the problem of making the Greater Duluth lies in the report in The Herald last evening that already sixteen farmers' co-operative clubs are affiliated with the Duluth Co-Operative Market association.

Just a few months ago there was no Duluth market association, there were no farmers' clubs engaged in seeking a market at Duluth, there was no organized effort to settle the near-by soil. There was nothing but a great, rich and hungry market lying side by side with some of the richest soil that exists outdoors, but mostly standing idle.

Sixteen farmers' clubs cannot supply the needs of the Duluth market from near-by soil, but they can show that the co-operative market plan is a success, and they are doing it. To the sixteen, more will be added. Better still, to the present membership of the sixteen clubs more will be added as settlement increases.

This association is grappling to Duluth the farming communities within practicable distance. By providing them with a profitable market, it is encouraging them to expand and helping to increase their productive population. Duluth long has been anxious to buy their products. Now it has the machinery for buying them. The benefit is twofold—it supplies Duluth's need of farm products at reasonable prices, and it provides a profitable market for the producers.

While developing its own market for the commodities of its farmer neighbors, thus profiting them and itself, Duluth is taking the best and most direct way to increase the market for its own products. Duluth wants the products of the Northwest, and Duluth wants to sell to the producers of the Northwest the things that they need to buy. Such an arrangement must be reciprocal. It must be an exchange of city products for farm products; a relation of trade that is mutually profitable. That is why the operations of the Duluth Co-Operative Market association mean so much more in fact than they seem to mean on their face. Duluth, the natural market for Northwestern soil, is being united in a commercial partnership with the farming communities which form the natural market for Duluth's products.

UNSAFE BRIDGES.

The disclosures in The Herald last night about the condition of bridges in the outskirts of the city seem to call for prompt action. Inspectors for the city engineering department have been examining the bridges, and they find many of them in unsafe and even dangerous condition.

Probably it would be too great a task for the city to rebuild all or many of these bridges immediately. That would call for a good deal of money, and very likely it isn't necessary.

What is necessary, however, is that the exact condition of all the bridges within the city limits should be definitely known, and this the city engineer seems to be arranging for. Upon this knowledge can be based a program for remedying the situation, so arranged as to accomplish the work that is absolutely necessary in the shortest possible time and at the least possible expense. Some of the unsafe bridges probably can be bolstered up temporarily. Some of them may have to be rebuilt entirely. The work has been neglected so long that it has piled up alarmingly, and will be more costly and more complicated than it would have been had it been attended to as the need arose. It can't be done all at once; and the best way out of it seems to be to arrange a program, putting the most necessary things first, and to stick to that program until the work is completed.

JOEL P. HEATWOLE.

A picturesque character was taken from the stage of Minnesota affairs when Joel P. Heatwole, editor of the Northfield News, died yesterday. Always positive, always vigorous, always in the vanguard of events wherever he played a part, Joel Heatwole was not a man to be ignored, and he had many good qualities that will make his loss felt. He served four terms in congress with ability, and since his retirement has been busy publishing what is acknowledged to be the best country weekly in Minnesota, in conducting a fine farm near Northfield, and in participating in state politics. Though his ambition to be United States senator six years ago was balked, and though he failed to get the Republican nomination for the governorship two years ago, he was always a figure to be reckoned with, and his influence was widely felt.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

A GRADUATE'S VIEW OF SCHOOL DANCES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Before the board of education takes any action on the question put before them by three of the Scandinavian ministers of this city, there are a few things to be considered.

First of all, are ministers capable judges of school social life? Do they attend any of the parties they speak of? Religiously they must reform the individual and not the mass. The home is the center so let them begin with their church and not try to take a body of men with good balanced minds and force them into an action that would be a decided wrong from the standpoint of common sense and not religion. The home influence and the parents are responsible for the morals of high school students, and teachers and educators must not be blamed. Let these ministers improve the morals of their own little flocks and the schools will take care of themselves.

Secondly, the children whose parents do not allow them to dance when young do it eventually. If they finally decide they do not care for the diversion they try it once in their lives at some time. This is human nature.

Having attended the Duluth Central high school for four years, I am judging after my own experience in the planning and executing of social entertainments. During the first two years of my experience under the direction of the late Charles Alden Smith, our parties were held at the old Masonic hall and at Harmonic hall at Lester park. The teachers rarely attended, we gave as many parties as we wished and stayed as late as possible. It was almost impossible to restrict the attendance. Most any one could pay the fee and dance. The morals were left to the individual and we always had an enjoyable evening.

Our junior-senior was held at the Spalding hotel and as a result we had to work exceptionally hard to overcome our great debt so as to give our senior play. It was this party that influenced our principal to take his admirable action to change the parties from halls to the school. Mr. Smith's school government was wonderfully successful. His refined personality became such a part of our parties after this that it has afforded most of us a memory never to be forgotten. My senior year was the most delightful on account of the little gatherings at the school. Mr. Smith was always present, the teachers attended in great numbers, and most of our mothers enjoyed them with us. If parties are given outside the school, with the sanction of the teachers they will rarely attend. If parties are abolished entirely there will be little independent gatherings of a worse order, undoubtedly.

Girls and boys will dance and why will the narrow-mindedness of the few try to abolish the pleasure of the many.

The teachers and parents can go to these parties if they wish so why not let some of the parents have a voice in the final decision. A GRADUATE.

Duluth, April 4.

THE SPIRIT NEEDED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

What is the matter with Duluth? I will tell you. Just apathy and too much copper craze. There has never been any doubt in my mind that the Duluth people have plenty of gray matter, but too many are sitting in the back row. The average citizen has just recently discovered that for the last fifteen years the conveniences for transit to and from Fargo and other Dakota towns to Duluth are little better than cattle trains. I shipped my Shetland ponies from Fargo on a late Saturday night freight; I took the fast express in the early morning. The ponies got here first. Ask the Fargo business man why he prefers St. Paul or Minneapolis to Duluth. He will invariably reply, "I don't, but I can get there quicker and better." It must be obvious to any one that Duluth offers more natural attractions to an inland citizen with its vast commerce and ships—for sight-seeing—than cities like St. Paul or Minneapolis, but until we can supply as good speed and accommodations to those North Dakotans to visit us as they get on the Twin City trains, the Dakota citizens will continue to visit and spend their money in the Twin Cities.

Another fault in the makeup of the average citizen is the indifference shown towards new enterprises and business ventures. When a newcomer lands in our midst, contemplating engaging in some kind of business, he will accost Mr. Prominent Citizen and confidentially, perhaps, inform him of his intentions. Does Mr. P. C. encourage him? Certainly he does. "A splendid field for you here," he will say. His language and manner would suggest not only his good will, but some patronage. Does the new business man get it? Nothing of the kind. He gets neither. If Prominent Citizen was kindly solicited for a little patronage his reply would likely be, "Oh, I have been doing business at Mr. Blank's and I cannot leave him." I imagine some fond mother saying upon the second visit of the stork, "Oh, I have one lovely baby, I cannot rear another."

We hear a good deal about advertising our city in pamphlets and periodicals, presumably outside publications. Why not advertise in our home publications—descriptive and statistical. Have the Commercial club create a fund, compile a list and furnish the publishers and pay them to send out 100,000 copies into North Dakota alone. The average North Dakota farmer just now is in a receptive mood, and I venture the opinion that an intelligent distribution of those copies would bring $100,000 in trade from North Dakota towns and cities. We don't get their trade because we don't go after it.

We have an ideal garden plan and street car extensions all worked out in detail. Waiting for what? Money, of course. Who is going to put that in? Why the other fellow. Ye gods, is the progressive spirit in Duluth people dead? Hundreds have the means alone to put their meritorious venture into a living, breathing reality. Will they do it? Yet these same hundreds will point with pride to the gilded domes which dot our fair city, as illustrative of our culture. It is not the castle walls but the wealth of brains and benevolence within them which, if properly exerted, would make this the best city on the map. Jeffries' shadow fighting is nothing as compared to the sprinting of some of those moneyed men when asked to assist some worthy enterprise.

We need more Hartleys, Craigs and Colemans to get this city to going. This reminds me of the latter. The two former men are too well known to need any encomiums. Mr. Coleman platted over 1,000 acres into ten-acre tracts, a small payment down and a small smaller monthly payment, without interest. These tracts are covered with a growth of hardwood principally, providing fuel for all time. The soil is a rich black loam with a clay subsoil. What was the result? Over 100 ten-acre tracts were sold and practically every man intends to improve and live on the land. Did Mr. Coleman stop there after selling so many tracts? Oh, no. He assisted the county with a few thousand dollars to put a county road through the land, and this summer it will be finished. I understand that he intends to build a residence near his colony and will reside there a part of the time. What an example of public spirit! If the Hartley, Craig and Coleman industrial microbe could be injected into some of those men who throw their hats in the air with loud acclaim when the industrial fellows get busy, but who never do anything themselves, the city's progress would be an assured fact. There is a responsibility resting upon every individual here to advance Duluth's influence and assist its growth. When we unite for a bigger and better Duluth, this city will be teeming with new industries. Conquest of the soil will result and cheaper living will be the legacy. Do it for Duluth.

THE WEATHER

FAIR

Rain was threatened all day yesterday, but only a few drops fell. Today the sun is trying to break through the clouds, and the weather man says it will succeed, bringing fair weather, but freezing temperatures. The lowest temperature last night was 36 deg.

Wet snow fell a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:39 and it will set at 6:42, giving thirteen hours and three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Minnesota storm has moved its center to Iowa. During the past twenty-four hours it caused light to copious showers or thunder storms throughout the lake region, Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Western Gulf states and high temperature in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys. The western high pressure is now central over the Rocky mountains. It has caused colder weather over the eastern slopes and Mississippi valleys. Freezing temperatures prevail from Utah, New Mexico and Nebraska northward to Canada. Another disturbance is developing over Alberta, attended by rising temperature in that province and extreme Western and Northwestern states.

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

A Fine Anniversary Edition.

Twenty years ago Lafayette Young became the owner of the Des Moines Capital. He and his able sons still own it, and it has been a good thing for the Youngs, for the Capital, for Des Moines and for Iowa. Last Thursday the twentieth anniversary of the Young ownership was celebrated by the issuance of a particularly fine edition of 104 pages, full of good things, all mighty well done. The Capital comes pretty near being a refutation of the idea that personal journalism has gone out, for, as Medill McCormick of the Chicago Tribune says in his congratulatory message to the Capital, "Late history message to the Capital and the Capital Young is the Capital and the Capital is Lafe Young." "Lafe" Young and the Capital stand sturdily in insurgent Iowa for the good old traditions of Republicanism, for a state of things which has no place for Roosevelts and La Follettes and in which even a Cummins has a hard time finding a place. To quote Mr. McCormick again, "Mr. Young and the Capital are wrong, but unafraid." If you must be wrong, be wrong magnificently.

This edition is full of rich descriptions of the innumerable glories of Iowa, from her golden cornfields to her beautiful women. It is a highly creditable performance. Even if "Lafe" Young does go wrong in his politics, he goes right every day in the making of a newspaper.

Good Conversation.

Robert Louis Stevenson: Natural talk, like plowing, should turn up a large surface of life, rather than dig mines into geological strata. Masses of experience, anecdote, incident, cross-lights, quotation, historical instances the whole flotsam and jetsam of two minds, forced in and in upon the matter in hand from every point of the compass, and from every degree of mental elevation and abasement — these are the material with which talk is fortified, the food on which the talkers thrive.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

The now famous "riparian rights" case involving a large amount of valuable dock property in this city has again been settled by the supreme court. The case of Heber H. Hanford et al, respondents, vs. the St. Paul & Duluth Railway company, appellants, has been in the courts for about two years. The main question involved was wether the railway company, after condemning land on the west side of Rice's Point to the water's edge, could claim riparian rights to the submerged land, as far as the dock line, a distance of about 800 feet. Judge Stearns decided against the company, but the supreme court reversed the decision. In the case of A. M. Miller, appellant, vs. Luther Mendenhall, respondent, the supreme court upheld the right of the Duluth Improvement comptny to plat its land bordering on Superior bay and clear out under the water 1,000 feet to the dock, calling it the "Bay Front Division of Duluth," to sell such lots under water whih a special contract denying the purchasers the right to dock out and make improvements in front of their lots to the dock line.

The fifty feet on the southeast corner of Second avenue west and Superior street, now occupied by Stewart's livery barn and owned by Mrs. A. J. Whiteman, has been sold to Lyman Nichols of Boston for $60,000. This is the highest price ever paid on that part of Superior street.

The Chapin-Wells Hardware company of Duluth has increased its capital stock from $200,000 to $300,000, owing to the increase of the company's wholesale business.

Miss Kate Hardy has concluded arrangements with local business men which brings to this city from Eau Claire her well known young ladies' academy. The Highland Improvement company has given Miss Hardy a block near the terminus of the Seventh avenue cable line, where the building will be erected. Boarding accomodation will be provided for 10 pupils. The academy and its furnishings will cost about $150,000.

The large easterly store in the new Masonic Temple has been leased by J. Wilkey, lately of Cambridge, Ill., who will open a dry goods store there.

FOR NORTHERN MINNESOTA.

Northern Minnesota Is Alive.

McIntosh Times: Northern Minnesota went to the conservation congress with ideas. These ideas were incorporated into the resolutions of the state convention. Northern Minnesota is alive and there will be something doing. We will add still more to the great fame of our state.

The Right Place to Look.

No Others Need Apply.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: What Northern Minnesota wants first, last and all the time, if she is to secure justice, is representatives in the legislature who will think of reapportionment first and other things afterwards. Northern Minnesota is in need of more representatives of the La Follette stamp, than perhaps she would be granted her dues.

And Heard.

Anoka Union: Northern Minnesota is already making its presence felt.

A Timely Waking Up.

Ada Index: It looks as if the world has just began to realize the opportunities of Northern Minnesota. The railroads and immigration commissioner are being flooded with inquiries from prospective settlers.

Encouraging Results.

Deer River News: That the getting together of Northern Minnesota people is going to get results is demonstrated in the great accomplishment announced today in the assurance of immediate opening of the reservation lands between Deer River and Cass Lake, directly creditable to the first Northern Minnesota development convention held at Bemidji six weeks ago. At that meeting a resolution was adopted calling on the interior department to at once open up these lands to settlement, and the same resolution was adopted by the first development congress of the state just a week ago today. The lightning returns are miraculous, and if the stick-together idea continues and remains it will in time be able to move the national capitol to Minnesota.

A Word to the Knocker.

Pine River Sentinel: When you hear the knocker knocking this section of Minnesota, just ask him where he can find soil that will grow clover and all tame grasses as we do here. Ask him where he can raise more potatoes per acre or better ones. Ask him the particular spot on God's green earth that can compete with us raising vegetables. Ask him where the climate is any healthier or where purer water can be found. Ask him just where he can go to find a better class of people who consider schools and churches first and provide them in a new country as has been done here. Then if you wish to rub it in just ask how much good he has ever been to any community and if there is any spot on earth that the Almighty has seen fit to fix up to suit him. It's a twenty to one shot he will not be able to answer one quiz of the bunch intelligently, and if he could he wouldn't do it.

An Important Matter.

Ada Index: The secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association calls attention to the fact that the people of this section should look carefully to the lieutenant governorship. The senate will have a lot to say about all the issues that concern this part of the state and the lieutenant governor appoints them. It will take a man of broad calibre to fill that office satisfactorily next session. Every candidate should show his colors.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

London Opinion: Irate Creditor.—I shall call every week until you pay this account!

Debtor—Really. Then there seems every probability of our acquaintance ripening into friendship.

Cleveland Leader: "Man was made to mourn."

"Maybe so, but you will observe that there are no public weeping stations."

Punch: Hungry Guest—Afraid I'm a bit late, but I hope I haven't kept breakfast waiting?

Hostess—Oh, I forgot to mention that we're trying the "no-breakfast" plan, and feel so much better for it. We do trust it will have the same effect with you.

Washington Star: "How did that man come to be regarded as an authority on the tariff? He never impressed me as much of a student."

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "He didn't spend his time reading books or theorizing. He found out what his constituents wanted, and got it."

Chicago Daily News: "Who is that swarthy man watching the gyroscope car?" asked the inventor.

"That's a Nicaraguan," whispered his assistant.

"Indeed! Does he contemplate using our car down in the tropical jungles?"

"Oh, no. He is only astonished at seeing anything that has more revolutions than his home country."

Baltimore American: Mistress—Do you clean rooms with alacrity?

Applicant—I gin'rally prefers patent sweepers, mum.

Boston Transcript: Penley (stuck for a word)—Let's see! What is that you call a man who marries more than one wife?

Grump—An idiot, I call him.

Philadelphia Record: Cynicus—When a man gets all the money he needs there's only one thing he wants.

Sillicus—And that is?

Cynicus—More money.

Houston Post: "You say you have quit smoking?"

"Yep, never going to smoke again."

"Then why don't you throw away those cigars?"

"Never. I threw away a box of cigars the last time I quit smoking and it taught me a lesson."

Punch: First Politician—I see Mr. Meadows has gone in for Mid-Mudshire, Mrs. Jones. He's a friend of mine, though he is so strong on the other side.

Second Politician—Oh! dear! dear! miss, to think how people do get led away!

First Politician—Well, I suppose, after all, that's just what they would say of us.

Second Politician—I dare say they would, miss, but then you see we are led away in the right direction.

Brooklyn Citizen: Teacher—Johnny what makes you so foolish?

Johnny—Oh, it's my ma's fault. She makes me sleep under a crazy quilt.

Chicago News: "Bless the dear children!" exclaimed the fond mother of six. "What would we do without them?"

"That isn't the question," rejoined the practical father. "What would the mumps, measles, whooping cough, etc., do without them?"

Cleveland Leader: "Touch one hair of that lady's head, and you will answer with your life!" said the hero, striking a perfectly defenseless attitude.

"Gee!" hissed the villain, "and a new set of puffs would only cost $7. Why go to extremes?"

EDUCATORS TO MEET APRIL 7

Fourteenth Annual Meeting of Northern Minnesota Educational Association.

Will Gather in St. Cloud Thursday and Discuss Pedagogic Themes.

St Cloud, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Everything is in readiness for the beginning here Thursday of the fourteenth annual session of the Northern Minnesota Educational association which will be in session April 7, 8 and 9, at the normal school building.

The president of the association, Supt. P. C. Tonning of Willmar, has prepared an excellent program. A large attendance is expected, the advance guard arriving tomorrow morning.

The feature of the opening session Thursday evening will be a discussion of the topic, "What Should Be the Aim and Method in Adjusting Our System of Education to the New Demands Made Upon It." On Friday morning, A. F. Woods, dean of the state agricultural college, will deliver an address on "The Relation of Education to the Development of the State," and in the afternoon there will be an address on "The Nature and Ministry of Fiction," by Dr. H. W. Shryock of the Southern Illinois normal university, Carbondale, Ill. This will be followed by a discussion on "What Is Culture, With Reference to Curriculum," by R. A. Kent, Winona normal school, assistant superintendent public instruction, and Supt. F. E. Larson of Anoka. In the evening Dr. Shryock will lecture on "Some Perils by the Way," after which the educators will attend the concert to be given at the opera house by the famous Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

Elect Officers Saturday.

The election of officers will take place on Saturday. This will be followed by reports from committees and the transaction of miscellaneous business, after which the members of the association will listen to an address on "Brains," by Miss Isabel Lawrence of the St. Cloud normal, and a discussion by Dr. W. A. Shoemaker. The meeting will close with an address on "The Attitude of Parents and Teachers to the Child," by Prof. E. G. Quigley, college of education, University of Minnesota.

The sectional meetings for high and graded schools will be held Friday forenoon, with Supt. N. H. Hegel of Glenwood residing. The topic for discussion will be "The School and the Community," and the following will take part: George B. Alton; Supt. A. E. Pickard, Hinckley; Prof. George F. Jones, Minneapolis; Supt. H. E. White, Little Falls.

Interesting topics will be discussed at the county superintendents' and rural school round table.

MOISTURE VISITS RED RIVER VALLEY

Drizzling Rain and Snow Halts Seeding But Extinguishes Fires.

Crookston, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The balmy weather on Sunday was followed yesterday by a drizzle with snow flurries in the afternoon, stopping seeding for a day or two. The weather turned very cold last night and there will be little work done until Wednesday or Thursday.

The coming of moisture quieted the fears of residents of several villages along the Great Northern between here and Cass Lake. Near Wilton and three other places this side of that place, forest fires raged Sunday and had it not been for the rain considerable damage would have been done to settlers. As it was the loss to timber owners will be quite heavy and some cordwood was burned.

UPPER MICHIGAN DESIRES SALOONS

Seven Counties Voting on Question Decide to Continue Wet.

Marquette, Mich., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the "drys" won a victory in many counties in lower Michigan, the "wets" carried the seven counties in the upper peninsula in which the question was submitted. In Marquette county the "wets" have a majority of 1,000 or more out of 7,500 votes cast. The campaign has been lively from start to finish and both sides put forth their best efforts, resulting in a large vote being polled. The counties that voted upon the li-

EXPECT BIDS FRIDAY.

Crookston Commercial Club to Then Consider Opera House Scheme.

Crookston Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the Commercial club last evening to award the contract for the erection of an opera house under the $10,000 bonus raised by the Commercial club, it was decided to postpone the opening of the bids until next Friday evening, messages having been received from several who wanted to submit propositions but who could not reach the city until that date. Several who own sites will also be ready then to submit prices and it is expected that the deal will go through at that time and work on the $40,000 opera house started at once and completed in time to take care of the early fall bookings.

BUYS DULUTH PROPERTY.

John Stone of International Falls to Locate Here.

International Falls, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Stone and daughters, with the exception of Mrs. R. C. Fraser, are to soon remove to Duluth to make their home. Mr. Stone having returned from the Zenith City, after purchasing a splendid modern dwelling in the eastern part of the city at the Head of the Lakes. Their stay in Duluth is to continue but a few years, however, according to present plans, as Mr. Stone's interests here are so large that he will after a year or two's growth of the town be compelled to devote practically all of his time to them. The family have lived here nearly ten years.

CLASS ROOM ROMANCE.

North Dakota University Student Is Wedded to Co-ed.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Even the classroom does not bar Cupid, for yesterday two students in the university law school, Miss Florence Connolly and Joseph O. Plante, the former of Devils Lake and the latter of Olga, N. D., were married. Their romance had its birth in the classroom, and with the wedding yesterday the bride discontinued her study of law. The couple will reside here till Mr. Plante completes his course at the school, which will be during the coming June.

To Have a Clear, Velvety Complexion

By MADAME D'MILLE

(From Chicago Inter Ocean.)

Madame D'Mille, one of Paris' most famous beauties just passing through Chicago gives us a few valuable ideas on skin treatment, as follows:—

"Yes, I have just come from beautiful Japan, and I must say the Japanese women have many toilet formulas and ideas which American women should know.

"What do they use to make their skin so soft and velvety?

"Any American woman can use the same treatment if she desires. Dissolve a small original package of mayatone in about eight ounces of witch hazel. Massage the face, arms and neck with this solution once or twice a day, and you will shortly find you have a lovely, soft complexion, and then the best of it all is that this solution prevents the growth of hair, and is absolutely harmless to the most delicate skin. Make the solution yourself.

"Why, yes—of course I use it. Just see how beautifully soft my arms and face are, and not a hair.

"No,—you will never use powder again, and those stray hairs will soon be missing from your face."

Famous Expert Tells

How Fat May Be Removed Rapidly By a Simple Home Remedy Without Causing Wrinkles, Disturbing the Diet or Necessity For Exercise.

"Fat is nothing but unused energy," says a prominent physician, and the man or woman who is burdened with it can easily get rid of it if they wish. All they need is 1-2 ounce of Marmola, 1-2 ouce of Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 3 1-2 ounces of Peppermint Water; all of which they can get at any good drug store for a few cents. Then let them take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until they are down to the weight they want to be.

This simple home receipt is far and away better than any or all the patent or secret medicines, for it reduces the fat safely and harmlessly. The ingredients are in fact beneficial to the system, having both tonic and purifying qualities, and so help rather than distress the stomach. The remedy does not cause wrinkles, for it reduces one gradually and naturally, preserving a good outline, and, best of all, needs neither physical exercise to help it do the work, nor does it require any change in diet—one can get results and still take things easy—eating meanwhile just what, when and how he or she pleases. Be sure and get the Marmola in a sealed package, so that you get Marmola and not a substitute.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET THURSDAY

Sunday School Teachers to Gather at Virginia April 7.

Virginia, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. Sunday school convention will open Thursday afternoon at the Presbyterian church in this city, when the Sunday school teachers from all over this district will gather to receive instructions from people high in the affairs of church work. Among the speakers will be Mr. Blair, Presbyterial secretary of missionaries; Mr. Sulzer, syndicate president of the school of missionaries; Dr. Hunsley of Chicago, and Dr. Verkuil of Minneapolis. The convention will close with a meeting in the evening. All of the people in this district who are interested in Sunday school work or church work in general are most cordially invited to attend these sessions. The speakers are all able and talented men and what they will say will prove most beneficial. Rev. Henry E. Neff, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, anticipates that this meeting will be one of the greatest Sunday school conventions ever held in this part of the country.

W. T. BAILEY HAS DIP IN WATER

Head of Lumber Concern at Virginia Fails Trying to Walk Log.

Virginia, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. T. Bailey, president of the W. T. Bailey Lumber company, in the early days could run logs with the best of them. Mr. Bailey is not as young as he used to be by several years. Yesterday Mr. Bailey wanted to take a short cut from the office to the mill and made an endeavor to cross over on the floating logs in Virginia lake. About midway across the slipped from a log and fell into the water. By clinging to the logs about him he managed to keep his head above the surface. His son R. R. Bailey, secretary and manager of the company, saw his fathers' predicament and ran to his assistance. When he reached his father the latter said: "Come on in Dick, the water's fine," the funny side of the affair appealing to the older man's sense of humor even though he was up to his chin in the icy cold waters of the lake. With the assistance of several others Richard landed his father on terra firma, the latter being none the worse off for his having received a cold bath. After landing Mr. Bailey remarked that he "got everything wet but his hat." He says that Dick is entitled to the Carnegie medal for his quick action and daring in making the rescue.

NINETY DAYS IN JAIL GIVEN HIBBING MAN.

Hibbing, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Bormaletta, who was arrested Sunday for grand larceny, appeared before Judge Thomas F. Brady in the municipal court and was fined $50 and costs, or ninety days in the county jail. On default of the $50 he was taken to Duluth Monday to serve his sentence.

Anna Morlvitch had one of her boarders arrested on a charge of assault and battery. Judge Brady fined the Austrian $12.50 and costs. Upon payment of the fine, the man immediately informed the police that Mrs. Morivitch ran a blind pig. The woman was taken into custody and fined $100 and $8.66 costs. The fines were both paid.

MINER AT ADAMS LOSES HIS LIFE

Struck on Head and Instantly Killed While Leaving His Work.

Eveleth, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matt Mittner, a miner, employed in the Adams mine, No. 6 shaft, was killed while leaving his work about 6 o'clock last evening. He was leaving by the timber shaft, instead of the regular way the mine ladder, and was struck by the weight opposite the timber box that was descending to propel the skip up. His head and face were smashed. His remains were found by fellow workmen who were also leaving work and his body taken to the Gleason undertaking parlors, where it is now held awaiting burial.

The deceased was 23 years of age, single, and had been employed on the range about four years, he coming here about five years ago and after being employed at the local mines for three years left for the old country and remained there a year, but again returned to this country about a year ago and had been employed at the Adams mine since. He lived at the M. Roban home on Hayes street. Little is known of his relatives, but his friends here will arrange his proper burial.

Typhoid Claims Woodsman.

Charles Steart, a woodsman, about 22 years of age, who was brought to a local hospital two weeks ago suffering from a serious attack of typhoid fever, died Saturday evening and is now at the Gleason undertaking parlors waiting burial. Little is known of his relatives other than that he leaves a young wife in the old country. He was brought here from Virginia and was not very well known here.

Mike Doyle, a well-known Eveletharian, died Sunday at the home of his brother, Con Doyle, on Jackson street, from a lingering illness, the exact cause being not known but it is thought he was suffering with tuberculosis. He was 36 years of age, single, and very popular on the range.

Adolph Greenhagen, the local musician, who died here recently from alcoholism, in a local saloon, will be buried this afternoon, interment to take place at Virginia. Many Gilbert friends of the deceased have raised funds for his proper burial and he will be well attended.

DULUTH ARCHITECT WILL PLAN SCHOOLS

J. J. Wangenstein Selected to Prepare Plans for Six Hibbing Structures.

Hibbing, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. J. Wangenstein, a Duluth architect, has been selected by the school board to devise plans for the six new school buildings to be built in this district this year. They are to cost from $2,500 to $6,000 each. Several other architects sought the work and the board after a mature deliberation decided upon Mr. Wangenstein. The undertaking is a large one but the board found the move necessary because of the crowded conditions of the schools.

EVELETH'S LID IS NOW CLOSED DOWN

Mayor Smith's Orders to Close Promptly Enforced By Police.

Eveleth, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last evening promptly at 11 o'clock all the local saloonkeepers closed their business places, side entrances, back doors and all, until 5 o'clock this morning as the law requires, as the result of Mayor Smith's orders that all the local saloonkeepers are to obey the law in every respect including the Sunday closing law provision. None of the saloonmen attempted to evade the law last evening in any respect and Chief of Police Kent and his men were busy last evening searching for would-be offenders.

The mayor's orders also apply to all the local gamblers and gambling places and the regular places were closed tight, and will remain so it is believed, though the police are aware that gaming places may try to open on the local side streets.

There is a well-defined rumor about town that the local pool rooms, billiard halls, bowling alleys, etc., will also be required to remain closed, with the same hours and Sunday closing as are now observed by the saloonmen.

Many saloonmen were surprised at the unexpected closing edict, but will not oppose it. The majority of them have been obeying the 11 o'clock closing law.

EVELETH COUNCIL TONIGHT.

Street Paving, Milk Ordinance and Other Matters Coming Up.

Eveleth, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council this evening is expected to open bids for the paving of Grant avenue. Bids have been advertised for on creosote, macadam, concrete, cement and all the various forms of paving and many bids have been received.

The milk ordinance which was recently introduced will come up for its second reading. Since the introduction of the milk ordinance all the local milk men have been disposing of their business. The ordinance's conditions are many and provide for a strict sanitary regulation of the milk sale and calls for a milk inspector, milk licenses, better sanitary conditions, etc.

The application of Charles Shonta, a local saloonkeeper, who has been convicted twice on law-breaking offenses and which was referred to the police and license committee, will be acted upon this evening. Shonta's license ran out March 17, and his place of business has been closed since then, as any sale of liquor on those premises would have made him liable to a fine.

HIBBING BANQUET ENDS BALL SEASON

Members of Basket Ball Team Talk About Play Around Banquet Board.

Hibbing, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first season of the basket ball league was brought to a close Sunday evening by a banquet given at the Hotel Hibbing cafe, which was attended by nearly all the members of the four teams, and a few outsiders. Those present were Carl, Albert, Will, Adam and Fritz Schirmer and Fred Cobb of the winning team; Messrs. Knipes, Calligan, Dwyer and Mattson of the Thouin and Feournstahl of the Oliver five. Ramond St. Julien, Ermatinger, Friday, Healy and Crandall of the militia. The outsiders were John B. Bell, Frank Dear, Arthur Folsom and H. P. Reed. Addresses were made by Arthur Folsom, H. P. FARMER'S CLUB HAS ELECTED OFFICERS

Plans Discussed at Sandstone for Building Produce Warehouse.

Sandstone, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Progressive Farmers' club held its annual meeting here Saturday afternoon to elect new officers for the ensuing year and to transact other important business brought before the meeting.

The officers elected are: Andrew P. Edin, president; J. W. Wheeler, vice president; O. F. Goeble, treasurer; Louis Christensen, secretary.

The proposition of securing a warehouse for storing farm produce the coming season was thoroughly discussed and a committee appointed to look up a suitable building or grounds for a new building near the railway tracks. The secretary was also appointed local manager of the Producers' Co-operative Market association of Duluth, and he expects to commence shipping some potatoes and other vegetables held over from last year's crop as soon as demanded by the central market. The membership fee was raised 50 cents.

Rev. U. S. Villars of the M. E. church of Prospect Park will deliver a lecture, "My Father's Son," at Larson's opera house, next Friday evening. He is a well-known and forceful speaker, and recently took part in the anti-saloon meetings here.

STOLE HUNK OF BEEF.

Brainerd Young Man Has Been Held to Grand Jury.

Brainerd, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ray Willett, a young man, has been held to the grand jury by Judge Warner in the municipal court on a charge of larceny from the slaughter house of C. W. Koering.

Koering had slaughtered a beef Thursday and left it hanging in the house to cool over night. When he returned Friday morning to get it he found that a large portion of one of the hind quarters had been stolen. Suspicion fell upon the family of E. H. Willett, who reside not far away and a search warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Reid. He searched the house and found a large chunk of freshly cooked beef and also a large jar of beef which had evidently just been salted down. The Willetts were brought into court and the parents denied knowledge of where the meat came from, saying that the son brought the meat to the house in the night.

WAS WITH JOHN BROWN.

Burial at Bismarck of Man Who Served With Abolitionist.

Bismarck, N. D., April 5.—The funeral was held here Sunday of J. H. Walace, one of the pioneers of this section, also a pioneer in other fields, and who in the early days of Kansas served with John Brown of abolition fame. Mr. Wallace died in Jamestown.

Leaving Kansas Mr. Wallace returned to Ohio and stumped the state for Lincoln for president, and served in the Civil war in an Ohio regiment. In 1865 he moved to Mankato, Minn., and was prominent in that state, an active citizen and a member of the Odd Fellows. He came to Dakota in 1877 and lived on the Col. Lounsberry homestead, northeast of Bismarck, a portion of which is now occupied by the Catholic cemetery, that year—the following year moving to the Dr. Porter land northwest of the capitol and later in 1881, taking a homestead of his own on Burnt creeek.

He was a member of the territorial council from this district in 1881 and in 1882 and 1883 was Alex McKenzie's right hand man in arranging the Burleigh county agricultural exhibits that won the laurels at Bill King's great Northwestern exposition at Minneapolis, in competition with hundreds of county exhibits from the Northwestern states.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says:—"For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." For sale by all druggists.

FARM HAND INJURED.

Found Lying in Road Near Bemidji Suffering From Kick.

Bemidji, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Arndahl, working for A. Clavin at his farm north of the city, was so seriously injured Saturday night, that there is grave doubts he will recover.

Arndahl, who is 60 years old, has been driving a team belonging to Mr. Clavin and when the team returned home alone, late Saturday evening it was feared that Arndahl had been injured.

A search was made over the road, Arndahl was found lying right in the road. There was a bad wound in the head and some of his ribs had been broken.

It is believed that he got down from the wagon to loosen the tug on one of the horses and was kicked, falling under the wagon, the wheels running over him. Arnhahl was brought to the St. Anthony hospital.

OLD ENGINEER IS DEAD.

Andrew Steele One of Veterans on South Shore.

Marquette, Mich., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the veteran locomotive engineers of the United States and probably the oldest in point of service in the Upper Peninsula, was buried here today when the funeral of Andrew Steele, one of the old South Shore engineers, who died at Thomaston, Saturday, aged 75, was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Harrington. Mr. Steele, known to everybody as "Andy" Steele was a native of Scotland, came to America when 2 and to Green Bay when 12 and to Marquette in 1855.

In 1856, he carried the mail on foot between Marquette and Escanaba (then known as Sand Point.) The next year he entered the employ of the M., H. & O. railroad, operating between Marquette and Eagle Mills, as a fireman. A few months later, he was promoted to engineer and ran a locomotive from that time until six years ago.

Mr. Steele was twice married, and his second wife and eight children survive him.

The sons and daughters of the two marriages are: J. A. Steele, Robert Steele and Mrs. J. Harrington of Marquette; Mrs. E. F. Campbell of Depere, Wis.; James Steele, of Salt Lake City; Peter Steele, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Labardie and Miss Lottle, all of Thomaston.

HOMESTEADERS SUFFER BY BAD PRAIRIE FIRES.

Dickinson, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Homesteaders who lost their property in the recent disastrous prairie fires that have swept over the southwestern portion of the state have been left in a rather serious condition. Their stock is without food and it will be a number of weeks before the new grass will grow so that they can be properly cared for.

During recent years there has been a notable absence of fires and the homesteaders had come to feel that their days of danger had passed by. This year there was an extremely heavy growth of dry grass over the country and whenever a fire started, there seemed to be no way of stopping it till it had run its course.

has occurred in connection with the Vatican and myself, I can do no more than refer to the emphatic statements contained in my open letter to Dr. Lyman Abbott, already published.

"All that I there said I desire to reiterate with my whole power."

Arranged by Ambassador.

Mr. Leishman, the American ambassador, had arranged the reception at the American embassy in order that Mr. Roosevelt might meet the Americans in Rome, regardless of their religious faith, upon the neutral ground of the embassy. The appearance, however, of Mr. Tipple's statement displeased many American Catholics, who forthwith manifested an intention of abandoning their purpose to attend the reception of the Methodists of the organization represented by Mr. Tipple were to be present. The matter was carried to Mr. Roosevelt who after hearing both sides promptly asked Mr. Leishman to cancel the whole affair. This was done.

The sensation caused by the determination of Mr. Roosevelt not to be received by the pope upon the terms made by Carry del Val continues unabated. The press today is filled with columns on the subject.

Attack Merry del Val.

The papers of all shades of political opinion, with the exception of the clerical organs, support Mr. Roosevelt's attitude. Some of the violent anti-clerical sheets intimate that the affair may result in the downfall of the papal secretary. These papers apparently are trying to arouse a great anti-clerical demonstration to be made at the railway station when Mr. Roosevelt leaves the city on Wednesday night.

None of these partisan movements has the sympathy of Mr. Roosevelt, who is exceedingly annoyed that a personal incident should have incited an exhibition of that very religious hostility which he so greatly deprecates.

King Calls at Hotel.

King Emmanuel called this morning upon Mr. Roosevelt at the latter's hotel. Some time was spent in an animated conversation that was, it could be seen, mutually agreeable.

Following the chat, the king and Mr. Roosevelt entered the automobile in which his majesty had driven to the hotel. Then a visit was paid to the barracks of the Cuirassiers, the royal bodyguard.

The troopers executed a series of maneuvers for the benefit of the former president, who was much pleased. He said he had never seen a better body of mounted men.

From the barracks the king and his guest motored to the monument. In course of construction, to Victor Emmanuel II. Leaving the car the two climbed to the top of the colossal structure upon which $10,000,000 has been expended thus far. From the crown of the monument they had a magnificent view of the ancient city.

Cheered by the Populace.

As they drove back to the hotel both his majesty and the distinguished American were acclaimed by the populace.

Mr. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit and Miss Ethel had lunch as the guests of John Gardner Coolidge of Boston, formerly American minister to Nicaragua.

This afternoon the Roosevelts had a sightseeing automobile trip with Prof. Jesse B. Carter, director of the American school of classical studies at Rome.

Says Both Were Right.

Seattle, Wash., April 5.—Bishop Edward J. O'Dea of the Catholic diocese of Seattle, in commenting on ex-President Roosevelt's decision not to accept an audience with Pope Pius under the conditions outlined by the Vatican authorities, declared yesterday that both the ex-president and the Vatican were justified in the positions taken.

"Both the pope and Mr. Roosevelt were within their rights under the circumstances," said Bishop O'Dea. "The pope was entitled to some guarantee that his position would be respected. On the other hand, so far as Mr. Roosevelt is concerned, he exercised his privilege as an American citizen in refraining from visiting the pope.

"Intelligent and well meaning citizen of the United States who give the matter due consideration will certainly not blame the pope, and will give Mr. Roosevelt credit for his decision under the circumstances. Mr. Roosevelt was in a dilemma and found a proper solution."

One Conductor Who Was Cured.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it:—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of Rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. For sale by all drugists.

new creations and are for the purpose of taking up cases formerly handled by justices of the peace.

The total registration is 83,000. A large vote was polled early. The booths opened at 6 a. m. and will close at 5 this evening.

Vote on Liquor.

Among the cities in Wisconsin to vote on the liquor question are Beloit, Racine, Janesville, Kenosha, Marinette, Green Bay, Monroe, Baraboo, Fond du Lac, Antigo, Ashland, Neenah and Mineral Point.

While in most cities and towns the "drys" are forcing the question, in not a few the "wets" will try to regain lost ground. Cities and towns which now are "dry" but in which the question comes up for reconsideration, are Sturgeon Bay, Stoughton, Brodhead, Fennimore, Union Grove, Mazomanie, Black Earth, De Sota and Argyle.

Kansas and Missouri, Too.

Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—Kansas City today is voting for a full set of municipal officers, from mayor down. The heads of the two leading tickets are Judge Andrew F. Evans, Democrat; Darius R. Brown, Republican.

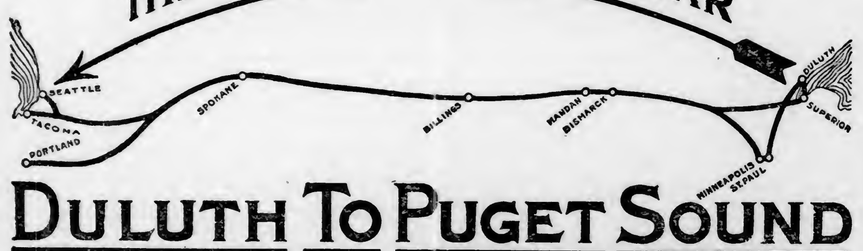

The Republicans have made a strong fight against certain Democratic aldermen because the latter worked at the last special election for what the Republicans choose to term the "infamous" forty-two year franchise grant sought by the Metropolitan Street Railway company.

The Democrats made the contest principally on the charge that the Republicans in building up a "machine" police force had permitted crime to spread and criminals to go unpunished.

In Kansas City, Kan., the people are voting for officers to make up their first commission form of government.

Elections also are being held today in Topeka, Hutchinson, Parsons, Coffeyville and several other towns.

DULUTH, MINNESOTA.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

School gardens and home gardens have been a feature of the work of the women's clubs of Duluth for several years, and people throughout the country interested in the wholesome and healthful development of child life are satisfied as to the great influence for good that the care of some growing thing is to boys and girls. The care and interest of a garden or the apology for a garden that is the best that many of them can do, has an almost incalculable effect for good.

For many years the Twentieth Century club of this city has advanced this work at the Webster school, where conditions are perhaps most discouraging. The seeds have been distributed at less than cost, soil has been provided and a flower show held in the autumn at which prizes were distributed. Other clubs of the city last year assumed charge of other schools and this work promises to be important and valuable in its results.

In the current issue of the Survey there is an account of the work done along this line in South Chicago. The school co-operate and the nature study for the season and the composition for some time dealt with the different features of the gardening life.

Among the compositions and garden diary's are of unusual interest, one rather a pealing story of classic brevity and directness was written by Pearl. She writes:

"My garden is planted along the fence of the Illinois Steel mill I have one morning glory and one Sweet pea I had more but somebody destroyed them I have weeds and grass growing around my garden."

"A little boy from a school in the heart of the Polish settlement, whose face is not unfamiliar at the police station, constructed a garden back yard into a wonderful cornfield, and so enraptured was he at the transformation that he deserted his play-fellows of the street and devoted his entire summer to the miniature farm, with the result that an unwonted peace descended on a hitherto hulled and distracted neighborhood," says the Survey.

"Another little boy wrote in his garden diary that he never could have a garden before this year 'because the boy next door pulled it up, but now the boy has a garden of his own and he don't pull up mine no more, and I have a very nice garden in my yard.'

"There were stories of heroism, too, and some of failure. One child whose garden was three times scratched up by neighbors' chickens, with spirit quite unabated mulled a tub to the top of a tree stump, planted therein his fourth crop and triumphantly raised to maturity a cornstalk, a verbena and a tomato vine."

APRIL WEDDING.

Gowan-Dacey Wedding at Bishop's Chapel.

The wedding of Miss Mary Gowan and Francis J. Dacey will take place tomorrow morning in the Bishop's chapel, the service will be read by Bishop McGolrick assisted by Father Cornett. The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Gowan and the groomsman will be E. B. Ryan, Jr. The bride will wear a traveling costume of tan cloth and her sister will also wear a street costume. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served at the home of the bride at 1414 East Second street. Mr. Dacey and bride will leave for a wedding trip and after June 15 will be at home at 1926 East Fourth street.

CHICAGO OPERA.

Metropolitan Forces to Sing There a Month.

The month of grand opera by the Metropolitan forces at Chicago opened last evening with the singing of "La Gioconda" and Emmy Destinn and Caruso in the caste. The engagement this season is the longest ever yet presented at Chicago and the city and surrounding country are showing great interest in the season. The advance sale of tickets totled to $135,000 and since the sale opened at the box office there has been a steady demand. The engagement this year promises to surpass all others in the brilliance of the operas and singers presented and as a financial success.

Many Duluthians are planning to be in Chicago for some period of the opera season. Several Duluthians are now registered at Chicago hotels and others will go for some part of the opera season during the next month.

Tonight "Rigoletto" will be sung in Italian with Allessandro Bonci, Pasquale Amato, Alice Nelsen, Adamo Didur, Marie Mattfeld and Guillo Rossi.

The bill for the remainder of the week is as follows:

Wednesday matinee—"La Boheme," with Enrico Caruso, Adamo Didur, Alice Nelsen, Gulse pe Campanari and Guillo Rossi.

Wednesday night—"Othello," in Italian, with Leo Slezak, Antonio Scotti, Jeanne Maunborg and Arturo Toscanini.

Thursday night—"L'Elisir d'Amore," in Italian, with Bernice de Pasquali, Marie Mattfeld, Allessandro Bonci and Guiseppe Campanari; "Cavalleria Rusticana," with Emmy Destinn, Jeanne Maunborg, Marie Mattfeld and Vittorio Podesti.

Friday night—"Aida," in Italian, with Guillo Rossi, Louise Homer, Johanna Gadski, Leo Slezak and Andrea de Segurola.

Saturday matinee—"Germania," in Italian, with Guillo Rossi, Enrico Caruso, Emmy Destinn, Paolo Wulman and Leonora Sparkes.

Saturday evening—"Marta," in Italian, with Alice Nelsen, Louise Homer, Alessandro Bonci and Emma Cerri.

The only double bill of the week will be that of Thursday evening.

MORNING WEDDING.

Miss O'Brien Becomes Bride of John Twohy.

The wedding of Miss Rose O'Brien and John Twohy took place at the cathedral, the service being read at the 6 o'clock mass. The bride was attended by Miss Anna McDonnell, the groomsman was M. J. O'Brien of Calumet, a brother of the bride. The service was read by Father Corbett. The bride wore her traveling suit of blue and the bridesmaid also wore a street costume. The wedding breakfast was served at the Spalding.

Mr. Twohy and his bride left on the morning train for the West for a wedding trip. They will return to Duluth for a few months before leaving to make their permanent home in the West.

The out of town guests for the wedding were: Mrs. Michael Lynch of Ishpeming and M. J. O'Brien of Calumet, sister and brother of the bride.

MRS. W. PHELPS DODGE, ROSEMARY DODGE AND MRS. CROXTON.

Walter Phelps Dodge, accompanied by his wife, his 4-year-old daughter, Rosemary, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Steck, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Croxton, sailed on the Baltic March 19 with the intention, it is said, of shaking the dust of America from his feet forever. In January last he married Helen Steck, daughter of a Pennsylvania coal millionaire and came back to the United States to try to reconcile his family to the marriage, but he is said to have failed utterly. He was therefore disgusted with America and Americans, and said he would resume his law practice in London and live on the estate he recently purchased at Maidenhead for $55,000. Rosemary is his daughter by a former marriage. Mrs. Croxton, his wife's sister, has declared herself as good as engaged to a son of Senator Elkins, but his has been denied by the Elkins family. She was one of the beauties in the "Hello People" cetette in "Havana."

ANTI-SUFFRAGIST?

Then You May Send Card to the High School.

The women's suffrage question will be debated at the meeting between the girls' teams of the Central high school and the Irving high school this week. The question has been discussed at informal debates for some time and those interested are most anxious to get an expression from Duluth women relative to this subject. R. D. Brackett of the English department of the faculty of the Central school is in charge of the debating work. Duluth women are urgently requested to send a letter or postcard addressed to Room B, Duluth Central high school on which they state "I am opposed to women's suffrage," or the contrary as their belief may be. The replies will be used simply for statistics and no use will be made of the names of individuals. The effort is made simply to find out the number of Duluth women who are interested enough in the question to take the simple action of mailing a post card.

The women are requested to send the cards at once as the final debate will be held Friday and this information of local sentiment is desired before that time.

SURPLUS IN TREASURY

Matinee Musicale Completes Year With $125 on Hand.

The Matinee Musicale has completed the most successful year in its history with a balance of $125.25 in the treasury to begin the work of the next year. During the years of its early struggle this society has considered itself eligible for congratulations if the year was finished without a deficit. So large a balance on the right side of the books is highly pleasing to the women who have worked long to bring the work of the club to such a basis.

During the last year the club has broadened out in its work. Reciprocity programs have been established between the Thursday Musicale of Minneapolis and the Schubert club of St. Paul and both of these organizations sent their members to Duluth to be heard in programs. Miss Faith Rogers, Miss Alice Sjosellus and Mrs. John A. Stephenson of the Matinee Musicale represented the Duluth club in the Twin Cities. Greater emphasis has been placed this year on the work of the study class. This work has been in addition to the visiting artists' recitals. The club has also had a philanthropic committee that has provided programs for several societies and meetings about the city every week during the year.

The club will continue its work next year with Miss Carlotta Simonds as president.

HOTCHKISS CALLS HALT IN INQUIRY

Sheldon's Relations With Buckley Are Likely to Be Examined.

New York, April 5.—Because of the sudden development of important departmental matters Supt. William H. Hochkiss unexpectedly called off today's session of the insurance investigation. The inquiry will be resumed tomorrow.

Mr. Hotchkiss devoted all of yesterday's session to an effort to learn the ultimate destination of $5,000 paid out by the New York board of fire underwriters after the legislative session of last year. He traced the money to the late George P. Sheldon, who transformed $1,500 into cash. It is thought Mr. Hotchkiss will make further efforts to ascertain whether Sheldon and William H. Buckley, the former legislative agent, had not met about this time.

Assembly Favors Inquiry.

Albany, N. Y., April 5.—The resolution of Assemblyman McEniry of Rochester providing for legislative investigation of all insurance companies other than life, passed the assembly last night by a vote of 126 to 4.

GOPHER CASE UP THIS WEEK

Supreme Court Will Hear Action Against Shevlin-Carpenter Company.

Washington, April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of the Shevlin-Carpenter company and John F. Irwin, plaintiffs in error, against the State of Minnesota will be reached in the supreme court this week. Attorney General Simpson and Assistant Attorney General Jelley are in Washington to represent the cause of the state. They will have arrayed against them such leading attorneys as Frank B. Kellogg, M. S. Clapp, A. Y. Merrill and Ransom J. Powell.

This action was brought by the state of Minnesota against the plaintiffs to recover treble damages for an alleged wilful trespass upon lands owned by the state by cutting and removing timber. The sum claimed by the state as due because of such trespass on lands owned by the state amounts to $51,342.

DULUTHIAN A PALLBEARER.

J. L. Washburn One of Honorary Pallbearer for Judge Wilson.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—Funeral services for Judge Thomas Wilson, general counsel of the Omaha railroad, who died Sunday morning, will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the House of Hope church. The pastor, Rev. H. C. Swearingen will officiate. The body will be taken to Winona, and buried there Thursday in the cemetery, in which lie the bodies of Judge Wilson's wife and daughter, Mrs. Lloyd W. Bowers, who was the wife of the United States solicitor-general.

The funeral arrangements are in charge of the officers of the Omaha road, Judge Wilson having served the road as general counsel for eighteen years and his loss is keenly felt.

The following have been asked to be honorary pallbearers: Governor Eberhart, Chief Justice C. M. Start of the supreme court, Cyrus Northrop, president of the University of Minnesota; C. W. Bunn, Judge Charles F. Amidon of Fargo; Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railway; J. D. Armstrong, E. D. Hurlbut of Chicago; Judge J. W. Lusk, E. M. Hyzer of Chicago, F. A. Chamberlain of Minneapolis, J. L. Washburn of Duluth; A. B. Stickney, L. L. Brown of Winona, A. H. Bright of Minneapolis, Pierce Butler, Marvin Houghitt of Chicago, president of the Chicago & Northwestern; Judge H. R. Brill and Capt. Tim Doherty.

The following have been asked to serve as active pallbearers: C. W. Ames, W. G. Dean, James H. Skinner, Dr. A. J. Stone, J. B. Sheehan and Dr. Henry Hutchinson.

Chicago Taxi Drivers Strike.

Chicago, April 5.—Chicago's taxicab business, suddenly demoralized by a strike of drivers last night, was in almost total eclipse today. Meanwhile the employers were seeking men to replace the strikers, declaring that they could not concede the closed shop demand which is the point in dispute.

COURSE TO BE REVISED

Changes May Be Made in Central High School Curriculum.

Special Stress Laid in Spelling, Even in High School.

The course of study of the Duluth Central high school will be revised for next year and brought up to the best current methods in high school work. Supt. R. E. Denfeld and Principal George Buck are working on the new course of study and they will have it completed before the end of the current school year. It will not go into effect until the beginning of the next school year, however.

Duluth school authorities are making every effort to free graduates of the Duluth schools from the criticism of spelling so often aimed at high school students and graduates. Special stress is being laid on spelling in all the grades and even in the high school. No student is excused from spelling classes and in the high school during the second semester, each class is required to take up the subject.

In the grades, spelling is both oral and written, the written words being used in sentences and both the words and sentences being kept in book form. The work is supervised by the principals and the superintendent and every means of improving the work is being employed.

The lunch counter of the Central high school will die a natural death unless the students are more generous with their patronage—which does not mean that each individual should spend more for his lunch, but that more of the students should patronize the lunch counter. The lunch counter doesn't show a deficit yet this year and will probably pull through the term without a balance on the wrong side, but the school officials are not pleased with its prospects for the future.

BONDS ARE VOTED

To Build Larger High School at Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—An election was held here Saturday to vote on a bond issue, the proceeds of which are to be used for the purpose of constructing a modern high school building of ample size to care for the secondary education of the youth of this city and the surrounding country. The vote was practically unanimous for the proposition, but three votes being recorded in the negative. The proposed building will be of pressed brick and will be located on the west side of the present high school campus. Bids for its erection will be opened April 16, in this city, and immediately on the awards being made work will begin, in order that it will be ready for occupation next September.

The present high school building when constructed years ago was considered ample to care for the needs of the city for a decade at least. It is now far too small, and the enrollment of the local high school this year places in twenty-ninth in rank in point of size among the 200 high schools of the state and fourth among those in Northern Minnesota.

AUTOMOBILES ARE NOT "HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS."

Washington, April 5.—In construing the law admitting to free entry household effects, the treasury department today ruled that automobiles, carriages, sleighs, harness and saddles are not entitled to come in without charge.

Aged Pipestone Man Buried.

Pipestone, Minn., April 5.—John Lafferty, a pioneer resident of this city, 90 years old, met death Friday in a fire which partially destroyed his house where he lived alone. He was not badly burned, but died from the effects of suffocation a few minutes after being taken from the house by firemen. An overturned lamp was probably the cause.

Lumberjack's Robber to Pen.

Bemidji, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Danielson, who pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery, and was sentenced to eighteen months, was taken to Stillwater by Sheriff Hazen and J. J. Doran. Patrolman Denley saw Danielson take some money from a companion lumberjack, and the officer arrested Danielson.

Porter Dies Scrubbing Floor.

Oakes, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—While engaged in scrubbing a floor in the Argyle barber shop in this city, George Kimes, colored, rolled over dead. He was seized by a severe pain about the neck, causing suffocation, and before aid reached him he had passed away. The deceased was subject to asthma, and that was the indirect cause of his demise.

Texas Oil Tax Upheld.

Washington, April 5.—The supreme court of the United States yesterday decided the case of the Southwestern Oil Company versus The State of Texas in favor of the state, thus upholding the constitutionality of the Texas law, which fixed a tax of 2 per cent on the gross receipts from the sale of oil, naptha, etc.

Why Do Competitors Knock the Duluth Bankrupt Sales Co.? Let Us Tell You

First, we pay spot cash for everything we buy.

Second, the volume of business we do permits working on a small margin of profit.

Third, our competitors buy on long terms and pay from 25 to 35 per cent more. Their prices are naturally higher than ours, so in self defense they must knock us. We invite comparison. We always have plenty of cash to take advantage of opportunities.

Health and Beauty Aids

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

G. J.: Yes, my advices from Paris are that this year's fashions will do away with the wearing of rats, puffs and all forms of false hair. I welcome this return to common sense in styles and I am sure that no woman will suffer embarrassment if she takes proper care of the hair with which Nature endowed her. The use of the right tonic will nourish the scalp and the hair follicles, prevent the hair coming out, and keep it glossy, fluffy and lustrous—so that a small quantity of hair properly cared for and richly glowing with its natural color (even if it be grey) is more attractive than a huge mass of coarse, dead-looking false hair. Get from your druggist one ounce of quinzoin, dissolve it in ½ pint of alcohol and add ½ pint of cold water. Rub this tonic gently into the scalp and roots of the hair once or twice a week. This treatment will kill the germs that cause dandruff and falling hair. It is very invigorating, nourishing and refreshing to the scalp.

Mrs. C. McF.: To secure the clear, fresh and soft skin you say you envy so much I advise you to use almozoin cream jelly both as a massage and face cream. This contains no oils or fats that will make the skin dark and greasy looking, or cause a growth of hair. Get from your druggist one ounce of almozoin and dissolve it in ½ pint of water, then add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine; stir briskly for a few minutes and let stand over night. Almozoin cream jelly, used for massaging, clears the skin of blackheads and pimples not caused by impure blood or the result of functional disorders. It is a thorough cleanser and will remove dirt that soap and water never touch.

M. K. J.: When your eyes so easily become dull, red and inflamed it is an indication that you need an eye tonic. Bright, clear and sparkling eyes are a charm to any woman, while, on the other hand, it requires an unusually beautiful face to offset unattractive eyes. You can make an excellent eye tonic by dissolving an ounce of crystos in a pint of water. One or two drops in each eye will promptly relieve your eyes of dullness, redness and inflammation. It does not smart or burn and will strengthen your eyesight. Crystos is a great help to those who wear glasses.

M. H. R.: Don't borrow trouble because you have grown fleshy. Most of us gain weight in winter. Don't diet; it is weakening and usually fails to bring about noticeable results. Get 4 ounces of parnotis from your druggist and dissolve it in a pint of hot water and take a tablespoonful before each meal. Parnotis generally cuts down superfluous flesh rapidly and will not injure your health in any way. I am sure it will help you regain your former slender figure.

A. C. M.: To make your skin soft, smooth and velvety and get rid of that shiny, greasy look that troubles you, use this lotion on the face, neck and arms: Get from your druggist 4 ounces of spurmax, dissolve it in ½ pint of water and add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. If applied in the morning your complexion will not need retouching 'n the whole day long. It is a true beautifier and is widely used in preference to powder because of its effect on dark neck and red hands —where powder is of no avail. It does not rub off like powder. There is nothing as good as spurmax for cold sores, freckles and tan.

Carolyn: I am glad you found quinzoin hair tonic so satisfactory. No, you should not shampoo your hair with soap and water while using the tonic —nor at any other time, for that matter—so many soaps leave the hair dull, brittle and streaked. "You will find a canthrox shampoo a surprise and a delight"—that is what the magazine advertisements say, and it is true. Try one—either at your hairdresser's or at home. Just dissolve a teaspoonful of canthrox (you can get it from any druggist) in a cup of hot water. It makes a rich lather, and plenty of it. It will thoroughly cleanse the scalp, remove dandruff, relieve itching and irritation. A canthrox shampoo dries quickly and leaves the hair soft, bright and fluffy.

"Footsore": The phrosol foot bath is the most refreshing treatment for tired, aching, sore or sweaty feet that can be found. Simply dissolve two teaspoonfuls of phrosol in a basin of hot water and bathe the feet therein for a few minutes. It rests, soothes and refreshes, and helps the pores expel all poisonous waste matter. Phrosol has given relief to many who suffered from tender feet after all other remedies had failed.

Lillian: You can get rid of the superfluous hair on your forearms and face if you will apply delatone paste two or three times. Get one ounce of delatone from your druggist, take this home and mix a little of the powder with a little water, so as to make a paste. Apply to the surface from which you wish to remove the hair, allow to remain two or three minutes; then wipe the paste off and wash thoroughly with hot water. This treatment removes any stray hairs, and will not injure the skin. The paste should be made fresh each time it is used. The hair may return after the first two or three applications, but if this treatment is continued it will finally disappear permanently.

H. R. A.: All the external complexion beautifiers in the world—powders, creams or lotions—will not rid you of pimples if your blood is out of order. I have always believed in the good old-fashioned methods of our mothers, who every spring gave us medicine to cleanse the blood and rid the system of impurities resulting from the indoor life of winter. Get from your druggist one ounce of kardene, mix it with ½ cup of sugar and ½ pint of alcohol and then add water enough to make a full quart of tonic. Take a tablespoonful five minutes before each meal and before retiring. This inexpensive spring tonic purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, aids digestion, restores lost appetite, and clears the skin of pimples, blotches and other eruptions by removing the cause. It strengthens and builds up the entire system. You'll feel like a new girl in a few weeks and that "tired out" feeling will vanish.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S Oriental Cream or Magical Beautifier.

PURIFIES as well as beautifies the skin. Under use of this Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 60 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the Tauton (a patient): "As your ladies will use them, I recommend 'GOURAUD'S CREAM' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

S. H. JONES IS RE-ELECTED

Board of Trade Man Again Heads the Duluth Curling Club.

Annual Banquet and Business Meeting Held at Commercial Club.

Stephen H. Jones, president.
Charles West, vice president.
W. H. Kilchli, secretary.
F. W. Hargreaves, treasurer.
Rev. Alexander Milne, chaplain.
Philip Helmick, director for three years.

Stephen H. Jones was re-elected president of the Duluth Curling club at the annual banquet and business meeting held last night at the Commercial club. The choice was unanimous, no other candidate being nominated.

Walter Hall, who has for the past two years acted as secretary of the club, was unable to serve again, as he plans soon to make his home in the West. W. H. Kilchli was elected to serve in his stead.

The matter of a new rink was talked over informally, but no definite action was taken. It was found that the club is in the best financial shape for some years. The reports of all the officers and committees were read and approved.

There were songs and speeches and the dinner which preceded the business meeting was an enjoyable event. Nearly all the members of the club were in attendance.

The winners of the several events were given their reward which came in the shape of trophies and individual prizes. Of all the skips, William Dinham was the most successful. He captured both the president's event and the St. Louis event. Joseph Catlin won second prize in the president's event. Stephen H. Jones got the Herald trophy; Charles D. Brewer got the vice president's event; James McLennan received the Bagley trophy; and Walter Hall got the city championship cup. The Manley-McLennan event was not finished during the season.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

Baseball's Growth.

There is a movement on foot at the present time by several of the teams of both the American and National leagues, whereby those teams will either buy outright permanent training quarters or will secure long leases upon some tract of land in the South land, where they will establish training quarters.

At different times in this paper it has been suggested that baseball within the past five years has evoluted from a sport to a business. Who would have dreamed of the palatial park of today, even five years ago? The park has come, and with the construction of the baseball plants that are as complete as the finest theater in the world, has come the development of the game along other lines.

Never before in the history of baseball has so much time been spent upon the education of the young ball player, and so much pains taken to teach him the fine points of the game. The days of the careless, thoughtless, erratic, dissipated baseball player has passed.

In these days of fierce competitive business methods, the manager of the large store is insisting more and more that the men under him be sober—in other words, character counts for much. The keen business man realizes that the man who does not drink is the man who can do just so much more work than the brother who dallies with the nose paint.

It is the same in the business of baseball. We have palatial parks, we are coming to the period of permanent baseball training quarters; the next move in the development of the great industry of baseball promises to be the baseball school—an institution of learning where the young player will be sent and drilled in the A. B. C.'s of baseball and taught to think and use his brains upon the baseball field.

The shrewd manager of today wants the brainy baseball player. Old Roman Comiskey would sooner have a heady, quick thinking, baseball player than a slugger of the .300 class who was a dumbhead both by natural inclination and by cultivation.

You might have noticed that John Anderson did not last long on the Chicago White Sox. It was this same John Anderson who stole second with the bases full.

Players who get out of the bush are not necessarily the most brilliant players—they are the boys who will work, who will put their minds upon the game and study the possibilities. A baseball player has to work these days and the boys who are going up each year are the youngsters who have accepted this fact and have applied themselves to their profession, as the successful business man must apply himself to his business.

The government looks upon baseball as a conservative industry giving employment annually to a large number of men. The baseball player is no longer looked upon as a rowdy and loafer and a man to be shunned by polite society. The players of today in higher baseball company are gentlemen and men with some brains in their heads, and as long as the great national game produces these kind of men, just so long will the game progress.

Ed's Modesty.

Many citizens may have noticed small and innocent looking Ed Adamson taking long hikes around the city and sauntering through the streets. Not even for one fleeting moment would one suspect that in this little man, looking like a man of meek and quiet occupation, was the greatest little wrestler in the world.

It is very hard to get Adamson to talk about some of the great matches he has taken part in. For fifteen years he has gone along and beaten the greatest men the game has produced, and it is only when one watches the old master work upon the mat that the realization comes that he is a master of the mat.

Adamson could defeat such men as Dan McLeod, one of the greatest in the world; has beaten Fred Beell in two straight matches, and defeated Little Demon Harvey Parker in one of the most sensational matches ever wrestled in this country. There was the Cuban Wonder, a man weighing something over 160 pounds, whom Adamson tried to get on with. The Cuban refused to meet the wonderful little wrestling marvel, and from that day to this Adamson has never been able to get the Cuban into a wrestling argument.

But the Adamson person would rather talk about the resources of the country, business, politics or religion than wrestling. Members of the Duluth Athletic club who have met the little man, and who have desired to meet him simply through knowing that he is one of the greatest wrestlers ever produced by the American school, have found it exceedingly difficult to talk wrestling with him.

Adamson has a head full of brains. He will talk on wrestling if you insist, but he has his own philosophy of life, as most of those who have knocked around the world have, and if you don't mind, the little man would rather talk about men, cities and travel in general.

He is a character. Ed has wrestled some of the most gruelling matches in the history of the American mat. At his own weight of 155 pounds he has Ty Cobb is a wee bit jealous over the wonderful baseball playing of young Bush, the great youngster who performed in the short field for the Tigers last season. Bush came to the Detroit team after the introduction to baseball society of Cobb. Bush's coming-out party was celebrated after the foisting of Cobb.

Of course there is only one Cobb. That thought ought to bring balm and sweet peace to the hectic soul of the Georgia Peach; yet at the same time he is kind of peeved, they do say, over the scrumptious showing of Bush, and would like it well if the kid was not the brilliant youngster that he is. Baseball players and prima donnas are in the same vanity class.

Tyrant Tyrus.

Down at Detroit it is reported that working over pennant possibilities. Joe will have Malloy's place in the outfield to fill. Joe and E. Kline will fill two of the daisy patch positions, and Nelson, a new recruit signed by Safford, is counted upon to show class in the garden. They are already claiming that Nelson is better than Malloy. Wait.

Roy Klein may not be back behind the bat. Ludwig, a veteran backstop, has been secured and will be given a tryout. Wenzel Hanus, born in La Crosse—as the name might indicate—will be given a tryout for first base. He is said to be a "wiz."

Most of the vets will trail back, including Doll, Gregory and Schreiner. The players will report at La Crosse April 18.

Rochester is negotiating for some spring exhibition games with the Colored All Stars of New Jersey. The team will probably come to Rochester for a series of games before the opening of the regular season.

• • •

A. W. Kuehnow has received a letter from Ed Dickinson, secretary of the Minneapolis Baseball club, stating that Duluth can have first chance on some of the players that will not be used the present season by the Minneapolis team. Unless he is offered some exceptionally promising players, Mr. Kuehnow will not take advantage of the offer, as Duluth has already a very large squad.

HEMPHILL'S BRILLIANT WORK WINS HIM A REGULAR BERTH

HEMPHILL CATCHING; SHOWING THE BALL IN THE AIR.

For some reason or other Stallings did not favor Hemphill for a regular position in the outfield at the beginning of the practice season, but Hemphill's great condition and his good work both in the field and at the bat compelled the big chief to put him on the regular team. This ought to be one of Hemphill's good years.

BALL CLUBS WILL MEET

Semi-Professional League Will Be Organized in Duluth.

A meeting of the local and range semi-professional baseball teams will be held tomorrow evening at the Northern Hardware company's store for the purpose of the election of officers and organization of the league.

The definite plan of organization is not known at the present time. However, it is proposed to have representatives from the range, Superior and this city. At least six teams from Duluth alone have expressed their willingness to come into the league. Two teams from Superior have already expressed their willingness to join the league, while some of the range teams, notably Two Harbors and Eveleth, are pushing the organization, anxious to lend their assistance.

The plan, indefinite as it is at the present time, is to play Saturday and Sunday games. It is something upon the plan of the semi-professional leagues of Milwaukee and Chicago. Some definite plans will be evolved at the meeting tomorrow evening.

MINNY LEAGUE NOTES

Uncle Joe Killilan, leader of the Winona team, has reached the down-river burg and is making arrangements for the training practice which starts April 15. The league grounds at Winona are being put in shape for the present season. The diamond has been improved and additions made to the grand stand and bleachers. Killian has a husky bunch of ball players ready to try out.

Schoonhoven at Eau Claire has not been permitting the grass to grow under his feet. His greatest worry at the present time is whether he can plug up the hole in the outfield, caused by the loss of Bailey and Wallace, two stellar gardeners.

Holstrom has been secured from Superior and may cop a posish in the outer works. Schoonhoven is negotiating for Eddie Kline of La Crosse, but there is slight indication that the La Crosse right fielder will be permitted to leave the John Gund territory.

Joe Safford at La Crosse is also busy

MARATHONER IS A BACK NUMBER

JOHNNY HAYES.

Hayes' poor showing in the big Marathon at New York recently, would seem to prove that the great little runner is outclassed by some of the brilliant foreign athletes now in America.

COACH WILL BE ENGAGED

Duluth Boat Club Officials Open Negotiations for Rowing Instructor.

Committee and Ensigns Appointed---Plans for Inter-Club Races.

Negotiations were opened yesterday by the officials of the Duluth Boat club for a coach. The club officials are negotiating with three Eastern men, and at the present time no definite information can be given out as to whom the club will engage for the instruction of the crew.

It is believed that the coach will be engaged within the next two weeks with the work going as well as it did yesterday and the day before, the officials of the club will see to it that the men have a coach to round them into form.

Yesterday, John E. McGregor, head of the rowing department of the club, appointed H. H. Peyton, B. M. Peyton, Anthony Puck and J. D. Mahoney members of the rowing committee. Mr. McGregor will be ex-officio chairman of this committee. H. H. Peyton and William L'Estrange will be the ensigns of the department.

Last night an eight and four were out. As the day before the eight went fine and the new new men in the boat—Slack and Gene Forgette, brother of Veteran Cy, worked well for new men. Henry Talboys had a four out earlier in the afternoon, his merry crew taking the longest row of the season. Capt. McGregor is showing the proper amount of enthusiasm. However, more men are needed, for their are plenty of places to be won in the various boats.

The weather up to the present time has been ideal and there should be an increased number of candidates out each evening. There are a large number of men who have placed their names on the list in the possession of Capt. McGregor, who have failed to put in an appearance. The best time of the year for the new men to get out is at the first of the season.

It is expected that there will be an eight and at least two fours on the water this season.

It was stated yesterday that there was a plan on foot to bring the junior eight of the Minensota Boat club here in June and hold a race on the local course. The local junior eight will probably also go to St. Paul and race one of the Minnesota Boat club eights on the Mississippi river.

The plan was projected last year and has been revived the present season. The matter will be further gone into with the arrival of the coach.

JEFFRIES IS CONFIDENT

Berger Says Johnson Will Be Beaten in Ten Rounds.

Oakland, Cal., April 5.—Expressing entire confidence in his ability to get into physical shape for a long distance fight with Jack Johnson next Fourth of July, J. J. Jeffries arrived from Los Angeles yesterday en route to his training quarters in the Santa Cruz mountains. He will go to his camp today, accompanied by his manager, Sam Berger, and the usual retinue of rubbers and trainers.

Berger said in Jeffries hearing, that they expected to win from Johnson in ten rounds or less, and the fighter smiled approval of the statement, though he said nothing.

Brookston Defeats Cloquet.

Brookston, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The baseball season was opened here Sunday afternoon, when the Cloquet Cubs crossed bats with the locals. The game was fast from start to finish, and the members of both teams played good ball considering that it was the opening game and very few of the players had any preliminary workout. Cadreau and Houle were the battery for the locals, while Carlson, Bushala and Jarvis were in the points for the visitors. The final score was 7 to 0 in favor of Brookston. Cadreau struck out eighteen men and allowed only two hits, a remarkable performance for the first game of the season.

Freshmen Girls Win.

At the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium yesterday the freshmen girls' basket ball team of the Central high school won from the juniors. The score at the end of the game was 16 to 11, it requiring extra time for the deciding of the issue. Miss Eunice Whipple, captain of the freshmen team decided the game with a clever field basket.

The lineup:

Juniors.	Position	Freshmen.
Eleanor Aske	f	Mildred Miller
Lydia Woodbridge	f	Eunice Whipple
Ruth Nemyer.
Lucile Schmidt	c	Bertha Miller
Mary Watkins	g	Florence Whipple
Mary Whipple	g	Winnifred Hopkins

Baskets from field: Mildred Miller 7; Eunice Whipple 2; Lydia Woodbridge 1; Eleanor Aske 6; free throws, Eleanor Aske 8.

Tonneman Is Beaten.

Portland, Or., April 5.—Eddie O'Connell of Portland defeated Ted Tonneman, the Chicago wrestler, last night in two straight falls. O'Connell got the first fall in forty minutes on a half Nelson and the other in twenty minutes on a full Nelson.

SCHOBER WORKING HARD.

Preparing for Adamson—Miller-Bothner Match May Be Held Here.

Yesterday Bill Schober, the little Indianapolis welterweight, put in a strenuous day of training for his match with Ed Adamson. The little German went over the boulevard in the morning for a long run. In the afternoon he put in a busy gymnastic workout, wrestling with two or three local men and working on the apparatus.

Yesterday negotiations were opened with the manager of Young Miller, the little St. Paul wonder, for the holding of the Miller-Bothner battle in this city. Young Miller has decided to wrestle but one more big match this season. He has met and defeated Fred Bartl and is negotiating for the Bothner match.

If the Miller-Bothner match is held in this city, Ed Adamson will agree to make 150 pounds even and meet the winner of the match. The reputation of Bothner is as great in the East as that of Miller in the West.

BASKET BALL SEASON OVER

Centrals Cancel Game With Superior and Disband for Year.

Central high school basket ball team has called off its game with the Superior normal school. The normal team did not care to play the present week, so negotiations for a later game were dropped and no later meeting will be arranged for.

The basket ball team will disband. The team that represented Central the past season was one of the strongest ever developed at the hill top institution. It was successful in winning most of its games, Blaine alone of the high schools in this part of the country having a shade on the local team, in so far as the results of games would indicate.

Central won the city championship from the Y. M. C. A. defeating that institution in two straight games, Nelson Dewey of Superior was defeated handily in the last game played between the two institutions.

In the tournament at Madison the local team made a much better showing than Blaine, which fact inclines the students of the local school to the belief that Central has the stronger team.

Boyle, Harris, Johnson, Waldron, Solheim and Kelly have played splendid basket ball for the school. All of these men will receive official "D's" for the splendid work they have accomplished the past season.

FINNISH WRESTLER HERE.

Wirtenean, Karl Lehto's Partner, Looking for a Mat Argument.

K. J. Wirtanean, the Finnish middleweight wrestler of Hancock, Mich., arrived in the city yesterday. He stated that he wished to meet anyone his weight and was promptly accommodated by the ever ready Adamson, who offered to meet the Finn under any conditions he might elect.

Adamson has offered to meet the Finn in a straight match or to throw him twice in an hour for any backing the Copper country man may get. As yet the offer of the little Chicago wonder has not been accepted.

Wirtanean is the wrestling partner of Karl Lehto, the pride of the Finnish people of this country. Wirtanean has left the Copper country in search of new world's to conquer.

Adamson has not only offered to meet Wirtanean in any kind of a match that will suit the fancy of the Finn, but he has also offered to meet Karlo Lehto in a straight match.

SAILORS WILL ORGANIZE SOON

Charles Brewer Has Been Asked to Captain Department Again.

It is expected that the sailing department of the Duluth Boat club will organize sometime the present week. Charles Brewer, sailing captain last year, has been asked to take the position the present season, and it is thought that he will accept the position.

If Mr. Brewer decides to accept the position the committee and ensigns of the department will be appointed through the president of the club and the captain of the department.

Preparations are already under way for the sailing season. The Feather, Dr. Frank Lynam's speedy boat, which carried off the greatest share of the prizes last year in the 28-foot class, is ready for the water. The Frolic, an 18-footer, is also ready for the first dip of the season. The Frolic was to have been taken out last Saturday, which would have come very near breaking records for this part of the country, but there was some hitch in the arrangements.

Every afternoon there are a number of enthusiasts down at the club, getting motor boats and sail boats in order for the season. The present season promises to be one of the earliest in the history of Head of the Lakes sailing.

Makes Golf Course in 69.

Augusta, Ga., April 5.—On the Country club links here yesterday David Ogilvie of the Morris Country club, Morristown, N. J., played the course in 69, beating his own record of 71, made on the same course a year ago.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

DEFAULT has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by John Zuponcic and Francis Zuponcic, his wife, mortgagors, to Joe Putzel, mortgagee, bearing date July 1st, 1909, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 17th day of August, 1909, in Book 262 of Mortgages, on page 352.

Said default consists in the nonpayment of $822.00 and interest at 6 per cent per annum upon that certain note for $500.00, dated July 1st, 1909, which became due, according to its terms, on or before December 30th, 1909, with interest at 6 per cent per annum, which is one of the notes secured by said mortgage, and no part of which has ever been paid except the sum of $178.00.

Said mortgage was assigned by said Joe Putzel under date of October 2nd, 1909, to Sattler Liquor Company, a Minnesota corporation, by written assignment recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County on October 13th, 1909, in Book 188 of Mortgages, on page 269. Said mortgage was thereafter assigned, under date of October 15th, 1909, by said Sattler Liquor Company to Joseph Francel, who is now the owner thereof, by written assignment recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on October 20th, 1909, in Book 132 of Mortgages, on page 497.

By reason of such default, and pursuant to the terms of said mortgage, said Joseph Francel hereby elects to declare, and does declare, all sums secured by said mortgage to be due and payable. By reason of such default and election, the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has ever been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage.

The property described in said mortgage and thereby mortgaged is Lot one (1) in Block five (5) of the First Division of Aurora, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, together with the two-story frame building thereon, excepting all mineral reservations as previously reserved by the Longyear Mesaba Land & Iron Company, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of said Register of Deeds.

There is claimed to be due, and is due, upon said mortgage at the date hereof the sum of $2,945.46.

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises above described, which sale will be made at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the Front Door of the Sheriff's Office in the County Court House at Duluth, Minn., upon Monday, the 16th day of May, 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage and $75.00 attorneys' fees, as limited by statute, instead of $150.00, as provided by said mortgage, together with the costs and disbursements allowed by law.

Dated this 22nd day of March, 1910.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Carl Frederic Stillman, Decedent.

THE PETITION of Fanchon Stillman, as representative of the above named decedent, together with her final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things, that she has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on her bond,

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County, on Monday, the 25th day of April, 1910, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required, at said time and place, to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Evening Herald, according to law.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., March 28th, 1910.

No bid will be accepted at less than par and accrued interest. The School Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Circulars giving all particulars as to valuation and indebtedness of School District will be mailed on application. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for one per cent of the amount of the bid, and bids to be marked on outside "Proposal for Bonds of Independent School District of Virginia, Minnesota," and to be addressed to J. H. Fleming, Clerk of School Board of Virginia, Minn.

ORDER OF HEARING ON PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis, ss.
In the matter of the estate of Joseph Burns, Decedent.

A certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Joseph Burns having been presented to this court and the petition of Lillie Burns of Duluth, Minnesota, being duly filed herein, representing among other things, that said decedent, then being a resident of the county of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, died testate in the county of St. Louis, State of Minnesota on the 22nd day of February, 1910, and that said petitioner is the surviving spouse and sole legatee of decedent and that the said petitioner is named in said instrument as the executrix thereof, and praying that said instrument be allowed and admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said decedent, and that letters testamentary be issued to her, said Lillie Burns thereon.

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard before this court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in Duluth, in said County, on Monday the 18th day of April, 1910, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter, are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Evening Herald, according to law, and that a copy of this order be served on the County Treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., March 22nd, 1910.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

Ole Roswell Claims He Was Assaulted and Robbed in Alley.

Says Thieves Set Upon Him as He Was Leaving Saloon.

Ole Roswell isn't at all in favor of being turned out of saloons at 11 o'clock by the back way.

His distaste of such scanty courtesy on the part of the proprietor dates from last night, when it cost him about $40.

Roswell told the police this morning that as he stepped out the back door of the White City bar on Lake avenue south last night shortly after the legal closing hour, he was grabbed by two men who stole his entire store of worldly wealth earned by many weary days of labor in the woods. He claims that they choked and beat him and rifled his pockets, thoughtlessly failing to even leave him the price of an "eye-opener" and breakfast in the morning. He was real put out about it and asked the officers to arrest the guilty men and get his cash back for him.

Charles Sharp, though only 12 years old, is the most chronic and troublesome runaway boy with whom the officials have had to deal in many moons. He seems to have a failing for skipping out at just the wrong time. Had he been picked up a couple of weeks ago the police would have known what to do with him but now they are at a loss. Both his father and mother are in St. Louis. The father left about two months ago and the mother followed a fortnight ago. Sharp has been in St. Paul, where he has a brother and sister living. He was picked up about midnight last night on the streets. Chief Troyer has wired his parents asking what disposition they wish the police to make of him.

Four gamblers were arrested while playing an old country game in a boarding house on the Bowery last night. They gave their names as Hjalmar Stromback, John Maki, Frank Maki and Pete Johnson. They entered pleas of guilty in police court this morning and were each fined $3 or three days. They had plenty of cash and paid their assessments.

WILLIAMS, MINN., MAN IS KILLED

Crushed to Death in Sawmill Yards at Spooner, Minn.

Spooner, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. McNell, employed in the Shevlin-Mathieu Lumber company's yards here, met a horrible death last night while hauling a load of lumber into the yards.

About a couple of hours after he was sent out with his load he was missed and a search was made. The truck horse was standing beside the overturned load and the driver was found crushed to death, by being forced by the derailed load against an other load, which was standing on the adjoining track, four feet away.

The track McNell was hauling on was unlighted.

McNell had only been working for the company for two days. He recently moved to Baudette from Williams, Minn., with his wife and little child.

A young man by the name of Nelson in the employ of the Shevlin-Mathieu Lumber company had his ankle broken while he was on duty as oiler. His foot caught in the shafting and if it had not been for a water pipe which Nelson caught hold of, he probably would have lost his life.

Special benediction services were held at the Spooner Catholic church on Sunday, April 3. Rev. Father Beyne conducted high mass at 10:30 to a large audience. This is the first time services have been held in the church.

FARM HELP IS VERY SCARCE

Soil Tillers Clamoring for Labor But Men Do Not Respond.

Farm help is in great demand.

The orders are beginning to come in to the employment offices, and particularly is the state free employment bureau besieged with orders for farm hands.

The number of men employed in and about Duluth on farms this year is greater than ever before. The several employment agencies state that they can notice the large increase in the number of farmers in St. Louis county. Where one man was used last year two are asked for this year. This would indicate that the farmers are branching out, getting their land cleared up and becoming prosperous.

Not only from the district close to Duluth are the orders coming, but from as far away as Dakota and the southern part of Minnesota. Men do not seem to be scarce, but they do not seem to care particularly about working on the farm.

MERE SCRATCH PROVED FATAL

Blood Poisoning Followed Cut Received While Washing Dishes.

A small scratch on her wrist, received while washing dishes in a boarding house in Aurora about a week ago, yesterday caused the death of Lampa Kumala at St. Mary's hospital. Blood poisoning set in and had gone so far into the system when she called medical assistance that she was beyond recovery. She was taken to the hospital in this city, but all that could be done was to relieve her from as much suffering as possible. She was about 30 years of age and as far as known had no relatives in this country. She was buried at Greenwood cemetery this morning.

Leaves Hospital to Vote.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Berthlaume was the nerviest voter in Grand Forks yesterday, being obliged to leave his bed in St. Michael's hospital in order to cast his ballot. Berthlaume was injured Saturday evening in a railroad accident, having one foot and an arm severely mashed. In this condition, which necessitated the support of two men while he walked, Berthlaume visited the polls to vote.

BREAKS INTO JAIL.

Duluthian at Grand Forks Ignores Quarantine Order, Being Arrested.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frederick Grinwold, a sailor claiming Duluth as his home is a prisoner in the Grand Forks county jail, with prospects of remaining there for the next thirty days, and probably an additional thirty days if he fails to pay a fine of $50 that was assessed against him in the police court yesterday. Grinwold had been making a practice of calling at the homes of Grand Forks ministers and begging, and in one instance he made himself particularly disagreeable, resulting in his arrest. It was at the residence of Rev. A. J. Hulteng, where the family is quarantined for diphtheria, that he got into trouble, as he practically forced his way into the home after being warned to remain out because of the quarantine.

ASKS FOR EXTENSION OF CAR LINE TO NEW DULUTH

Real Estate Exchange Wants the Line Built at Once.

Members Take a Rap at Fraudulent "Additions" to Duluth.

The Real Estate Exchange of Duluth went on record at a meeting at the Commercial club today as favoring the extension of the Grand avenue street railway line to New Duluth; the improvement of Grand avenue to connect with Commonwealth avenue, New Duluth, and as opposed to fraudulent or unmeritorious flotations of additions to the city, obviusly designed merely to "get the money."

The discussion of street railway extensions was the special order of the meeting. It was pointed out that the Street Railway company has always adopted the attitude of not making extensions until it saw the nickels coming in. The members of the board individually expressed the opinion that the company should keep ahead of the times and assist in building up and opening up new territory by extending its lines through it.

J. J. Frey reported on the progress made by the West Duluth Commercial club in securing lower passenger rates on the Northern Pacific railway from West Duluth to the site of the steel plant. He said that the club now has a committee working with the Street Railway company in an effort to get the street railway line extended. He said that they are now waiting for Mr. Goodrich to return from New York to take the matter up.

Mr. Frey said that Mr. Reis, vice president of the Minnesota Steel company, had stated that the steel people are not ready for the street railway extension yet, and when they want it they will go over the heads of the local officials. Mr. Reis stated, said Mr. Frey, that if the steel people could not get the extension, they would take their people to the steel plant site over their own line from Superior. That would not help Duluth, Mr. Frey said.

A resolution that it is the sense of the real estate exchange that the street car company should extend its line to New Duluth at the earliest date possible, and that a committee be appointed to confer with the street railway officials on the matter, was carried.

It was pointed out gy several members that no compulsion could be used on the street railway company until the road is opened and improved to New Duluth. A motion was then carried requesting the city council to take such steps as are necessary to open and improve a road to New Duluth.

The matter of shady floatations of additions was brought up and individual members of the exchange expressed the fear that the times of South Duluth, in Douglas county, and West Duluth in Pine county might come about again. There was some question as to the discretionary powers of the plat commission, some of the members holding to the opinion that the plat commission has no discretionary powers, but that it merely passes on the legality of plats submitted to it.

"What are you going to do about it?" was the question.

It was suggested that the powers of the plat commission in regard to holding up plats be ascertained and if necessary the real estate exchange finance court proceedings to prevent the approval of any plat it might regard as fraudulent. No action was taken, however, and a committee was finally appointed to look into the matter and report at a future meeting.

COPPERS ARE IRREGULAR

Some Issues Advance in Spite of Light Trading---Others Decline.

The market today was a specialty affair, trading being heavier than yesterday but still relatively light. Values in some of the leaders advanced and others declined while some marked time. The market was considerably spotted.

The features were the decline in Lake which dropped from $61 to $52 and rallied later advancing several points above the low mark, closing at $56.75 bid, and Calumet & Hecla. This issue declined from $590 to $575 and rallied to $580. It is believed that some of the holdings of the late President Agassiz were put on the market although the decline may have foreshadowed a slump in the price of lake copper. Both theories are given for what they are worth. The shorts took advantage of some unfavorable reports from the Lake to force values down.

Changes in prices in most copper stocks, with the exception of a few specialties, were only nominal. Conflicting market factors resulted in slow business generally. Gold exports, development of heaviness in some investment issues, a violent break in two or three of the leading mining stocks, disturbing factors in the foreign market, such as violent speculation in rubber shares and confused political and financial conditions in the United Kingdom, all combined to keep buyers out of the market.

At the same time, all of these matters were really uncertainties. That is, they were not circumstances of direct or positive evil and not such as in and of themselves might be supposed to lead to market liquidation.

Reports from business centers have been somewhat mixed and irregular. In the iron and steel trade a relative depression in pig iron seems to have been counterbalanced by good business in steel and a fair average of prices has been maintained in the latter direction. The dry goods business shows the effect of the injury done to it by the short cotton crop last year, say trade reports. All lines of industry in this respect are suffering and the amount of cotton mill curtailment now being enforced is larger than ever before known except in periods of general or severe hard times.

The anticipation of decisions in the American Tobacco and Standard Oil cases is still a pronounced market factor.

The local market was quiet. Trading was specialized. Copper Queen sold at 46 cents, Shattuck at $28.62½ to $28.50, Superior & Pittsburg at $13.50 to $14. Warrior at $12.87½. Butte & Superior at $2.12½, Calumet & Montana at 92 and 93 cents, Calumet & Corbin at 91, 93, 89 and 91 cents, Keating at $1.31¼, $1.43¾, and $1.50.

Amalgamated sold at $74.87½ to $76.75, Butte Coalition at $23.62½ to $23, Calumet & Arizona at $67 to $65 and back to $66, Giroux at $8.37½ to $8.12½, Greene at $9.37½ to $9.25, North Butte at $35 to 34 to 35.75, Steel Common at $83.37½ to $85.25.

KLONDYKE KILLING LOOKS SUSPICIOUS

Brainerd, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Hirsimaki of Conneaut, Ohio, a brother of John Hirsimaki, who was killed at Klondyke last week, has been at Klondyke investigating the cause of his brother's death and states that there may have been foul play. The dead man, together with a number of other railroad laborers, arrived in Klondyke on the 11:30 p. m. train and he is said to have been heard to have hard words with three of his companions shortly after having arrived. He was not seen afterward, and the three men left early that next morning, without going to work, and before the death of Hirsimaki was known.

It is the theory of the dead man's brother that the men may have quarreled and they may have done him up and placed his remains on the track to divert suspecion. It is not known whether or not Hirsimaki had any money on his person at the time. He had been away from home about five years and had been living a roving sort of life. His mother had not heard from him for six months up to the time she learned of his tragic death.

Kenney Pleads Guilty.

PENTON ARRESTED ON LIBEL CHARGE

Washington, April 5.—John A. Penton of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of the Merchants Marine League of the United States, was arrested today on an indictment for criminal libel as he stepped from the house office building, after testifying before the ship subsidy investigating commitee.

The complaint charges criminal libel against Representative Steenerson of Minnesota.

Penton accompanied the detectives to the district attorney's office and was released after depositing $500 cash bail. The arrest was made on a secret indictment returned March 30, based on an editorial which appeared on Dec. 1 last in "The American Flag," the organ of the Merchant Marine league, under the heading: "Steenerson Soon to Have a Chance."

PERU READY TO ATTACK ECUADOR

Full Forces Are Under Arms and Prepared to Advance Any Time.

Lima, April 5.—The forces of Peru are under arms waiting eventualities with Ecuador. Admiral Villavicencio has been placed in command of the fleet and Col. Alvarez put at the head of all the land forces in the Department of Lambayeque. The full fighting strength is prepared to advance at a moment's notice.

BUMPED INTO HER DURING A DANCE.

Because Charley Lee, a Chinaman, bumped into her while she was dancing in the kitchen of the Ohio restaurant, he was made the defendant in an action charging attempted assault by Miss Hilja Lampinen. The case is on trial this afternoon in municipal court before a jury.

Charley is a meat cutter at the Ohio restaurant while the complainant is a kitchen girl. It appears that during the quiet spells at the restaurant, impromptu dances are held in the kitchen. It was during one of these parties that Lee is charged with having offended the girl.

MANY WILD CAT SCHEMES

"Look Before You Buy in Florida," Say Returning Duluthians.

Some Good Land But Many Propositions Are Not Meritorious.

Duluthians who have recently returned from Florida say that the land investment schemes that are being presented to the people of the Northwest are of such a nature that all prospective investors should make diligent inquiry into the particular propositions which they have under consideration.

While there are legitimate land investment enterprises in that state, concerns of this sort are said to be greatly outnumbered by those possessing much less intrinsic worth to commend them to the public. Wild-cat booms are flourishing in that region, largely as a result of the widespread advertising in magazines and newspapers that the "new industrial South" has been given.

Duluth people who are invited to buy tracts of Florida land are earnestly advised by those who have been in that state, to see for themselves what they are buying before they put their money into the land. While it is not asserted by any of the travelers who have returned from the South that all of the companies and concerns engaged in the sale of these lands are unworthy of confidence, they do make the assertion that the land in Florida that really is worth while, cannot be bought. It is held by people who know what it is worth and who are getting big incomes from the land they hold. They do not want to sell, and there is every reason why they should not sell.

One resident of Duluth, who has just returned from Florida, says that when the everglades of that state are drained, which he believes is a future certainty, it will be found necessary to resort to irrigation to make the land productive in the slightest degree.

"The land on Minnesota Point is of the same character as that one will find all over Florida, with certain tracts excepted," said a man who had been in Florida within the last month. He concluded with the remark that the land worth owning, so far as he had observed, was small in its aggregate area.

Some of the travelers say that while the foregoing statements are, in the main, accurate, there may be found comparatively small and isolated tracts upon which a settler may, if he is endowed with perseverance and ability, make a living.

CLAIMS DR. MILLER'S ARM WAS BRUISED.

Watseka, Ill., April 5.—The defense in the Sayler murder trial today sought to strengthen its plea of self-defense by introducing expert evidence that Dr. W. R. Miller, who shot J. B. Sayler, had a deep bruise on his right arm after the encounter.

It is the contention of the defense that Dr. Miller shot J. B. Sayler after he was savagely attacked by Mr. Sayler with a hand ax.

MEMORIAL DEDICATED TO DULUTH WOMAN'S MOTHER.

Helena, Mont., April 5.—The Henrietta Brewer Memorial building at St. Peter's hospital in this city erected in memory of the wife of Bishop L. R. Brewer of the Episcopal diocese of Montana has just been dedicated with elaborate ceremonies.

The reception room in the building, a beautiful room, done in brown, was furnished by Mrs. R. M. Atwater of Duluth, a daughter of the woman in whose memory the building was erected.

Medina Has Commercial Club.

Medina, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—To promote its claims for the division of Stutsman county, Medina has launched a new commercial club. Medina has hopes of being the county seat of the new county if the division proposition carries, and for that reason is especially active in the fight. The officers of the club are: President, G. O. Olson; vice president, Paul Joos; secretary, William F. Stege; treasurer, Harold Crosby.

Pack Away the Safe.

Clara City, Minn., April 5.—Robbers broke into the postoffice here Sunday night, carrying the safe about a quarter of a mile away and blowing it open with nitro glycerin.

The safe contained about $40 in cash, which the robbers took, leaving a quantity of stamps, books and papers. They then escaped by stealing one of the mail carrier's horses and a buggy.

CONFERENCE IS OPENED

Officers Are Elected and Committees Appointed at Morning Session.

Rev. M. O. Stockland was elected secretary, and Rev. J. A. Roberts was named as treasurer of the Duluth district of Methodist churches in annual session today at the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street. Both of the new officers are of this city.

The following committees were appointed at the morning session to serve during the year: Local preachers' committee—E. C. Johnson, Eveleth, C. W. Ramshaw, Proctor, and J. J. Parish of Mora, Minn. Resolution committee—R. W. Wilcox, Virginia; T. S. Oadams, Two Harbors, and C. Fox Davis of Brainerd. The delegates were entertained at luncheon today in the church basement.

Rev. Charles R. Oaten read an interesting paper this morning on "Some Distinctive Features of the Methodist Church." This was followed by a discussion in which Rev. M. O. Stockland and others participated. Rev. A. L. Richardson of Aitkin followed with a talk on "The Genius of Methodism." Rev. E. F. Stidd led the discussion which followed.

Rev. T. S. Oadams of Two Harbors delivered an address on the "Relations of the Methodist Church Literature to the People of the Church." A lengthy discussion followed in which Rev. D. W. Wilcox of Virginia took the principal part. The devotional services this morning were opened by Rev. G. H. Lavoy of Wright, Minn.

A feature of the conference will be an address tomorrow evening by Rev. Andrew Gillies, pastor of the Hennepin Avenue M. E. church of Minneapolis, who is conceded to be one of the most gifted orators in the conference. He will lecture on the dramatization of Victor Hugo's "Jean Val Jean." The program for this afternoon and evening follows:

2:00—Devotional exercises, Rev. H. Ifuewe, Nashwauk.
2:15—"Methodism's Responsibility to Our Foreign Born Population in the Duluth District," Rev. R. C. Johnson, Eveleth.
2:45—Discussion, led by Rev. C. P. Keast, Chisholm.
3:00—"The Deaconess Movement in the Methodist Episcopal Church," Rev. J. A. Roberts, Duluth.
3:30—Discussion, led by Mrs. M. J. Kreidler, superintendent of the Duluth deaconess home.

Evening.

7:30—Devotional exercises, Rev. Hans Hilley, Sandstone.
7:45—"The Upbuilding of the Soul," sermon by Rev. T. S. Oadams, Two Harbors.

PROCTOR WILL ORGANIZE CLUB

When the business men of Proctor organize a commercial club this evening it is probable that one of the first questions which will be agitated will be the street car service to Duluth. A large number of West Duluthians and also some Duluth men will attend the organization meeting of the Proctor business men. A. G. McCauley, vice president of the West Duluth Commercial club, will head those who will go from the western end of the city.

A GOOD MENU.

Women Determined That Guests at Banquet Will Have "Square Meal."

An elaborate menu is being prepared by the ladies of the St. James Catholic church, Fifty-seventh avenue west, for the eighth annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club, which will be held Thursday evening at Wade's hall.

The dinner this year will not be served in the "hurry up" style of several courses, and there will be ample opportunity for all who attend to enjoy a "square meal." The bill of fare is prepared as follows:

Blue points on ice, tobasco sauce, radishes, heart of celery and queen olives.
Turkey with dressing and cranberry jelly.
Veal with current jelly, ham and cold tongue.
Escalloped potatoes with baked beans, hot rolls and brown bread.
Fruits and cabbage salad.
Tarts with crabapple jelly.
Ice cream and assorted cake.
Coffee.
Oranges, grapes, raisins, bananas, apples and nuts.

WAS DISORDERLY IN RESTAURANT.

Axel Borgeson, who was arrested last evening by the West Duluth police, had a bottle of carbolic acid on his person when searched. He claimed that he had purchased the acid for medicinal purposes only.

Borgeson tried to create a disturbance in Warner's restaurant last evening, with the result that when he became boisterous he was taken out by an officer. He was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup Than You Can Buy

A full pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time—can be made by the recipe given below in five minutes, for only 54 cents. Simple as it is, there is nothing better at any price. It usually stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours, and is a splendid household remedy for whooping cough, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc.

Take a pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint warm water and stir about 2 minutes. Put 2½ oz. Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. It keeps perfectly and the taste is pleasing.

The chemical elements of pine which are very healing to membranes, are obtained in high proportion in Pinex, the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract. None of the weaker pine preparations will work with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or can easily get it for you.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

West Duluth Briefs.

William Little of North Fifty-sixth avenue west, left last evening for the Rainy Lake district.

J. J. Parish of Mora, Minn., is registered today at the Phillips hotel.

The Scandinavian lodges of the Good Templar orders at the Head of the Lakes will hold a joint meeting this evening at Victor hall, 5523 Grand avenue.

Rudulth Brune had two fingers cut from his right hand yesterday afternoon, while at his work at the Thompson Furniture factory at New Duluth.

Members of West Duluth Council No. 255, Royal league, will hold their monthly entertainment this evening at the Commercial club rooms. Dancing will follow the program.

Peter McMullen has returned from the Rainy Lake region, where he has spent the past winter.

Hurst, Watch repairing, W. Duluth.

Carl Weaver of St. Paul is a guest at the home of his brother, Roger Weaver of West Sixth street.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Plymouth Congregational church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Salter of 629 North Central avenue.

Miss Selma Sundin was given a birthday party by her friends Sunday afternoon. About twenty guests were present.

W. B. Mallough of 410 North Central avenue has sold his store and meat market to William Janelle and Harry White. Mr. Janelle has had charge of the meat department for the past two years and Mr. White recently arrived from Marinette, Wis. The new firm took charge Monday and will continue to conduct a meat market and a grocery store.

The West Duluth police are in receipt of a letter from Vincent McKinnon, chief of police at Superior, in which they are cordially invited to attend the annual policemen's ball to be held at the Hotel Superior on the evening of April 15.

BUY LOTS IN COEUR D'ALENE

Many Duluth People Making Investments in Idaho City.

The Coeur d'Alene Development company, 407 Lyceum building, which has opened a sale of lots in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on easy terms, reports a lively business, a large number of properties already having been disposed of to Duluth people. The management of the company comments on the wide awake attitude of Duluth people as investors, and states that nowhere else has there been more interest shown in the money-making possibilities resulting from the rapid development of Western cities.

Coeur d'Alene, popularly known in the West as "The Lake City," is now entering a period of wonderful growth industrially and commercially, and its progress is being watched all over the West.

The railway companies are among the first to realize the possibilities of the city. The Northern Pacific and Inland Empire railway companies already have lines there, the Milwaukee is building toward the city and another road, supposed to be the Canadian Pacific, is said to be headed that way.

An inspection trip was made recently to Coeur d'Alene by prominent Northern Pacific railroad officials, concerning which a local paper stated the following:

"At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon a special train of three cars, carrying Third Vice President George T. Slade of St. Paul; J. Woodworth, traffic manager; W. C. Smith, chief engineer of maintenance of way; P. E. Palmer, general superintendent of Pullman service of Tacoma; A. D. Charlton, assistant general passenger agent of Portland; Henry Blakeley, general Western freight agent of Tacoma; R. N. Crosby, general master mechanic, Tacoma; Superintendent H. G. Benner, Spokane; William H. Lowry secretary to third vice president, came to the city on a tour of inspection over all the Northern Pacific lines between St. Paul and the coast. This is Mr. Slade's first trip since his appointment. He is acquainting himself with the conditions of the road in preparation for extensions and improvements of the Northern Pacific line."

SUPERIOR

BABY GIRL LEFT ALONE IN ALLEY

Deserted by its parents and left in an alley in Superior by an unknown person, a baby girl, aged 3 months, perhaps saved its own life by crying. The sobs of the child, although somewhat muffled by a shawl wrapped around the infant, attracted the attention of Emil Johnson of 323 Hughitt avenue as he was passing the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets last evening.

After notifying Officer Rankin, Johnson and the patrolman located the child behind a shed at the rear of 1505 North Fourth street. The little waif was examined by the city physician, Dr. McGill, who reported that the mouth was deformed and that the child was suffering from lack of nourishment. Had it been left in the alley the rest of the night it might have died, he said.

The infant was dressed in white flannelette dresses and was carefully wrapped in a huge and heavy gray blanket. The malformation of the mouth consists of a cleft palate and a bad case of hairlip. While the police are making a diligent search for the unnatural parents the child is being cared for temporarily at the Children's Home at Billings Park.

Found Dead in Bed.

Ole Olson, who roomed at the Union hotel, 1816 North Third street, was found dead in bed yesterday afternoon by Andrew Brunson, proprietor of the hotel. Coroner C. W. Gieson has pronounced fatty degeneration of the heart as the cause of death. He was about 38 years old and is not known to have any relatives in Superior or Duluth. He formerly worked as a bartender at the saloon of Fred Anderson of 1814 North Third street.

Ogelvie Heads Curlers.

Dr. R. C. Ogilvie was re-elected president of the Superior Curling and Skating club yesterday afternoon at the first meeting and organization of the newly-elected board of directors. T. J. Roth was selected as vice president, and O. C. Tonsberg as secretary and treasurer.

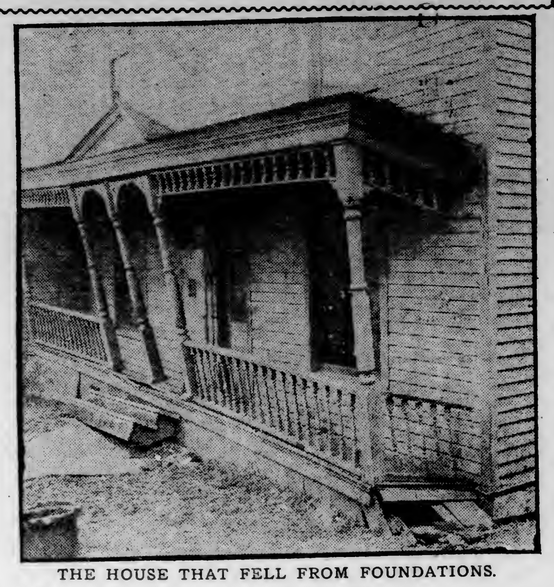

Preliminary Contest.

Students of the Nelson-Dewey high school will hold the annual prelliminary contest in the Lyceum league this evening. An orator and a declaimer will each be selected to represent the school at a division contest. Fourteen speakers have entered in the preliminaries. The judges will be Prof. A. M. Royce, A. D. Whealdon and Mrs. A. N. Young.

Fumigate County Office.

Owing to the fact that Oscar Ahlgren, deputy register of deeds, discovered Saturday afternoon that he was afflicted with smallpox, the office was closed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for fumigation. Mr. Ahlgren has been removed to the detention hospital. Business was brisk yesterday at the register's office, over fifty instruments being filed. No large deals were recorded.

HOUSE FELL FROM FOUNDATION WHILE INMATES WERE SLEEPING

THE HOUSE THAT FELL FROM FOUNDATIONS.

The residence of William Kierserling at 405 North Twenty-fourth avenue west slipped off its foundation Sunday morning at an early hour and when the occupants were asleep. The house dropped about two feet, striking against the rear of the store and residence of A. Koneczny of 2405 West Fourth street.

It is thought that the early spring is responsible for the posts, which supported the structure, giving way. Mr. Kieserling has a family of six but none were injured when the house dropped, although all were more or less excited over the affair. A picture of the residence is shown above.

BUTCHER WANTS $57,350 DAMAGES FROM PACKERS

The case of Henry C. Frink against the wholesale and retail butchers of the city for damages amounting to $57,350, which was begun in the district court in 1905 and never brought to trial, will go on shortly. William Marx has been retained by the plaintiff.

Among the defendants named in the complaint are: The Cudahy Packing company, Armour, Hammond, Omaha, Schwartschild-Sultzberger, Swift, Nelson-Morris, A. Booth and every retail butcher who was in business in the Zenith City at that time.

In his complaint Frink claims that because he refused to sell meats at the price set by the butchers' association, the wholesalers were prevailed upon to stop selling him meat. This they did at the instance of the retail dealers. Frink was forced out of business. He was out of business two years and wants nearly $60,000.

Frink later went into the country, bought his stock and butchered it himself.

At the present time he is in business and buys his meat from the packers mentioned in the complaint.

A TON OF PIKE CONFISCATED

Nearly a ton of fresh wall-eyed pike has been confiscated in Duluth the last few days by deputies of the state game and fish commission.

The fish were shipped into the city from the outside. The game wardens are watching the depots and docks closely to detect any violations of the fishing law. Most of the fish seized was at the union station and at Booth's dock, all of it having come in by freight. The wardens are also keeping their eyes open to catch over-zealous disciples of Isaac Walton who cannot wait until April 15 to seek the wily speckled beauties in their haunts in the numerous streams about the city. The season will be open in less than two weeks but the pike open season will not start until next month.

NOTES OF BOYS' DEPARTMENT

The high school Bible classes in connection with the boys' department Y. M. C. A., closed last evening for the season. The classes have been running since last October. The annual examinations were held and were conducted by W. J. McCabe, J. A. McGaughey and J. W. Leitch. Diplomas will be awarded all those who secure 75 per cent or more.

* * *

Wednesday evening the committee who will have charge of raising the $1,000 in ten days, for the summer clubhouse, will meet for a grand rally, at which time instructions will be given for the big campaign. The captains are busy getting the stock books ready and they will be given to the committees on Wednesday.

OBITUARY

John Gillham, 79 years old, who assisted in engraving the steel plates for the first "greenbacks" used by the United States, died at his home in Kansas City, Mo., April 4. Gillham was born in Manchester, Eng. When 18 years of age he came to America with John Hope, who introduced calico printing in America.

Henry Burrill of Great Falls, Mont., is dead at Gebo, Wyo., where he had charge of the Owl creek coal mines. Mr. Burrill was 60 years old and for many years had charge of the coal mines of the Great Northern road at Sand Coulee, Mont., being credited with having developed those works. Later Mr. Burrill had charge of the coal mines owned by the Amalgamated Copper company at Diamondville, Wyo. His brother, Alexander Burrill, is general manager of the Montana Mining company, limited, an English company, owning the famous Drum Lummon gold mine at Marysville near Helena, Mont. and other properties in this country.

HIGH WAGES OFFERED FOR LABORERS.

Wages today reached the highest point of any time the present year. Work for men in cementing and ditching is offered at wages ranging from $2.50 to $4 per day. The work is not exactly what is known as skilled labor, so employment men here say, and therefore the wages are considered exceptionally high and in keeping with the strong demand for labor.

"BUCKETSHOP" MEN MUST SERVE TIME

Five Odell & Co. Members Lose Appeal to Circuit Court.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 5.—The sentences of five members of the defunct "bucketshop" firm of Odell & Co., who were convicted in the lower court on a charge of using the mails to defraud and sentenced to six months in jail and fined $200 and costs each, were affirmed today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

John Gorman, the sixth member of the firm, who was sentenced with the others, was granted a new trial.

The defendants whose verdicts were affirmed are: E. W. Foster, J. M. Scott, Edward Neil, Walter Campbell and A. C. Baldwin.

JAIL BREAKER IS LYNCHED

Son Also Is Strung Up But Is Cut Down Before Dead.

Houston, Tex., April 5.—Following a sensational escape from jail, Frank Bates was lynched by hanging at Centerville last night. Dolly Bates, his son, was also strung up, but was cut down before life was extinct. The two Bates men were ringleaders in the jail delivery. They were both wounded, as was also Jailer St. John. All the jailbreakers were recaptured.

TEDDY WILL NOT "RISE"

Refuses to Be "Drawn" By Reports About His Politics.

He Will See Pinchot at Genoa "Just Like Other Old Friends."

Rome, April 5.—Mr. Roosevelt again today was besieged by newspapermen who sought to draw from him an intimation of his attitude towards the administration of President Taft. He was told of the reports circulated in the United States to the effect that there was a coldness between the president and himself. This did not disturb his equanimity or lead him into any comment.

Mr. Roosevelt did not come to Rome to learn the wiles of the newsgatherers. It can be said on excellent authority that any report that Mr. Roosevelt proposes to repudiate his successor in the presidency is a "baseless fabrication."

It was learned also that Mr. Roosevelt had hoped to see Senator Elihu Root in Europe, and the following summary of the former president's attitude toward American politics was personally authorized:

"Mr. Roosevelt has not intimated what he will or what he will not do upon his return to the United States. He has constantly refrained from discussing politics in any way or manner. He has listened to the opinions of Americans whom he has seen, but declined to comment thereon.

Will See Pinchot.

"He will see Gifford Pinchot at Genoa, just as he will see other old friends who desire to see him, and just as he desires to see Senator Root, who, unfortunately, found himself unable to come to Europe."

Mr. Roosevelt will meet Mr. Gifford Pinchot at Genoa on April 11.

"After our interview I shall have nothing to say," said Mr. Roosevelt, "and I shall be surprised if Pinchot has."

Mr. Roosevelt said he had not heard from the former chief forester since he had been in Africa, until he received a telegram from Mr. Pinchot at Copenhagen announcing his coming visit to Genoa.

MAY DELAY OPENING AT SOO

Work of Widening the Canal Above Davis Lock Not Completed.

There is a belief here that there may be some serious trouble at the Soo. The work of widening the canal above the new Davis lock may delay the opening of the Poe lock until the middle of May, according to the report circulated in marine circles today.

The matter will be taken up with Col. Townsend, United States engineer, according to the report of President Livingstone of the Lake Carriers' association, and an attempt made to have the work rushed with all possible speed.

It is reported here this morning that freight moving to and from Lake Superior until the completion of the widening of the canal, will have to be light, until after the first of next month, unless the work is pushed with all possible speed.

Some of the engineers and masters of the Mitchell steamers reached the city today. The tug America was busy this morning assisting in the fitting out of some of Mutual line boats on the other side of the bay.

The Goodrich Transit company has announced the following appointments: Columbus, C. E. Moody; Virginia, E. E. Redner; Alabama, Edward Taylor; Carolina, Con McCauley; Arizona, J. A. Wilson; Indiana, C. C. Fowler; Iowa, William Plummer; Georgia, T. G. Baldwin; Sheboygan, J. W. Corrigan; Chicago, no appointment; tug Arctic, Sniffing. The following are named chief and assistant engineers: Columbus, George McLaughlin, J. Hoff; Virginia, J. Peroutka, A. Wells; Alabama, R. Leitsch, E. Peroutka; Carolina, J. Breuer, H. Hankaus; Arizona, C. E. Clark, L. Olson; Indiana, Charles Monroe, J. Forst; Iowa, J. Buschmann, O. Sperlick; Georgia, G. Suckow, W. Ortling; Sheboygan, A. Galbraith, L. Burtz; Chicago, T. Dorey, D. Toomey; tug Arctic, F. Helderman.

Marine Notes.

Cooks of the Pittsburg Steamship company have been ordered to report for duty, and some of the masters will go to their vessels next week.

Service on the Buffalo division of the D. & C. line will be resumed about April 15 or 20 by the steamers Western States and Eastern States.

An official of the Pittsburg Steamship company has gone from Cleveland to Erie to investigate the fire on the steamer Cort. It started in the boiler house from some unknown cause.

The Great Lakes Towing company will station the tugs Harding and Goulder at Ambersburg this season, and the lighter Rescue will remain at Detroit. The wrecker Favorite will again be found at Port Huron.

The suit at Buffalo brought by the Donnelly Wrecking company against the insurance companies, to recover $39,500 on a contract made to release the steamers Nottingham and H. W. Smith, has been settled out of court.

The body of Edward Irons of Pentwater, Mich., has been found in the river at Marinette, Wis. He was mate on the freighter Matthew Wilson and disappeared last November while his boat was loading. It is believed that he walked off the dock while returning to his vessel.

Capt. J. A. Holmes, secretary of the Cleveland lodge of the Shipmasters' association, is suffering from a crushed foot, received in an elevator. At the hospital it is said the foot will remain stiff as a result of the injury. Capt. Holmes is 72 years old.

Kidnaps Her Daughter.

Toledo, Ohio, April 5.—Lucy Leewoodka, a 12-year-old girl, who was reported as being kidnaped yesterday afternoon, was located at South Bend, Ind., today in the custody of her mother, who has been separated from her husband for several years. The father, who lives here, has been given the custody of the child by the court.

Erie Raises Engineers' Pay.

New York, April 5.—The Erie railroad has settled upon a new schedule of wages with its engineers. An increase has been granted which maintains the same differential in wages which has heretofore existed on the Erie in comparison with other competing lines.

FATAL BRAWL IN RUGBY, N.D.

Andy Jones' Former Partner Killed in an Election Fracas.

Affair Is Alleged to Have Grown Out of Banker's Trial.

Rugby, N. D., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—O. C. Rice died here at noon today from injuries received in an election brawl last night. Pat Buoye and Pat Meehan are under arrest in connection with the affair, and will be held pending the inquest.

A fight early in the evening in the city hall was followed by a row on the sidewalk later, in which Rice was knocked to the sidewalk and received injuries about the head.

Rice formerly was a partner of Andy Jones. It is claimed that the affair is an outcome of the Jones case, in which Jones was convicted of misuse of bank funds.

NEVER WANTED SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Gould Denies Having Tried to Compete With Harriman for It.

New York, April 5.—When the hearing in the government's suit for the dissolution of the Union & Southern Pacific merger was resumed today, George J. Gould was called as a witness for the government in rebuttal. Mr. Gould testified he did not attempt to acquire the Southern Pacific in competition with E. H. Harriman.

In the fall of 1900, he said, he suggested to Mr. Harriman that in case the latter should not care to purchase the Southern Pacific stock then held by the Huntington estate, he, Mr. Gould, would like to purchase it, if Mr. Harriman had no objection. After the purchase by Mr. Harriman of the stock, Mr. Gould said, he sought to obtain a half interest, but failed.

When he bought control of the Denver & Rio Grande, Mr. Gould said, Mr. Harriman asked him to sell a half interest to him, but Mr. Gould declined.

Afraid of Northwestern.

On cross-examination Mr. Gould said Mr. Harriman had told him he was apprehensive lest the Northwestern road should build a line from the Black Hills to Ogden and gain control of the Southern Pacific. He also had an idea that the Burlington might be thinking of attempting to acquire the road.

George Niles, who was secretary of the late Collis P. Huntington, testified that he never heard of any negotiations initiated by Mr. Harriman to arrange a definite relation with Mr. Huntington between the Union and Southern Pacific and for the purchase of the Central Pacific as a separate property. But he said he considered it possible, in view of the testimony of Otto H. Kuhn, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., that Mr. Harriman might have conducted such negotiations without his knowledge, although he was intimately acquainted with the affairs of Mr. Huntington.

FRANKENHOUSER NEARLY GETS OUT

Montana Convict Caught in Minnesota Tries to Leave Federal Prison.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 5.—George Frankenhouser, serving a life sentence in the federal penitentiary here for his part in the robbery of a Great Northern train in Montana in 1907, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape last night.

Frankenhouser was caught in a corridor. He had sawed the bar of his cell door and the saw, together with a mask, was recovered from the prisoner.

He was last captured in Clay county, Minnesota, after a sensational jail breaking at Helena, Mont.

USE FISTS AT POLLS IN DANVILLE ELECTION.

Danville, Ill., April 5.—Election day began here with numerous fist fights. Judge S. Murray Clark, prominent among the "drys" and Earl Springer, a challenger for the same party, were assaulted and severely beaten in the Grape Creek precinct. Both the "wets" and "drys" are claiming the election.

Peoria, Ill., April 5.—Every voter entering the booth held five ballots in his hand in the election here today. The propositions to be voted on were: County and aldermanic candidates, bond issue for a bridge across the Illinois river; annexation of the village of Averyville; civil service for the police department and the establishment of a city court.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 5.—Notwithstanding rain, a heavy vote was cast in today's city election. Mayor A. P. Clayton is the Democratic nominee. His opponent is Ex-Congressman Frank B. Fulkerson, Republican. The officers elected today will be the first to serve under the new city charter.

Burns-Yantis Creditors Safe.

Chicago, April 5.—Creditors of the Burns-Yantis Grain company having ascertained that the affairs of the company, while rather confused, are on a solvent basis, today agreed to the appointment of a conservator to handle the company's business for the time being. A receivership is thus avoided.

DEFENDED BY BONAPARTE

Negro Who Killed Constable Appeals to the Supreme Court.

Former Attorney General Claims Client's Act Was Justified.

Washington, April 5.—Protesting against what he terms an attempt in some Southern states again to reduce the negro to captivity, Charles J. Bonaparte, formerly attorney general of the United States, today filed a brief in the supreme court of the United States in behalf of "Pink" Franklin, a South Carolina negro, under sentence to be hanged on a charge of murder.

The negro's appeal to the supreme court will be argued orally in about two weeks. It promises to bring to the fore the question of the status of "agricultural contracts," to which objection has been raised.

The negro was under an "agricultural contract" to work for J. D. Thomas in Orangeburg county, S. C., in 1907. He quit before the contract obligation was completed. A statute had been passed in South Carolina making it a misdemeanor for a laborer to break such a contract if he had become indebted to his employer.

Claims Killing Was Justified.

On the ground that Franklin had violated the statute of the state, a warrant was sworn out for his arrest. The constable, H. E. Valentine, in attempting to arrest the negro went to the latter's house, entered and was killed. Franklin was convicted of the murder.

Mr. Bonaparte's brief attempts to show that the negro had a right to resist arrest and protect himself, his family and his domicile, because the statute on which the warrant was based has been held to be obnoxious to the state constitution, in violation to the federal Constitution, and that any attempt to enforce its provisions by the arrest of a person in the situation of Franklin instituted a crime against the United States under the law forbidding peonage.

TROUBLE BREWING IN THE OHIO MINES.

Columbus, Ohio, April 5.—Trouble is threatened in the Eastern Ohio coal district on account of what coal operators say is the arbitrary stand of the miners in regard to signing up the scale for that district.

D. H. Sullivan, president of the district, demanded that the Cleveland operators sign up for their interests in Pennsylvania as well as Eastern Ohio. This was promptly refused.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS TO STOP THAT ITCH

Eczema sufferers who have never tried the oil of wintergreen compound (known as D. D. D. Prescription), are now enabled to get a trial bottle of this recognized remedy at only 25 cents. This is a special offer, this compound having sold for over ten years in $1.00 bottles.

The oil of wintergreen as compounded with thymol and other healing ingredients in D. D. D. Prescription is now recognized by scientists in both America and Europe. It takes away the itch the very moment it is washed into the skin and the cures all seem to be permanent. At any rate, we ASSURE you that the itch is allayed INSTANTLY; we know this and VOUCH for it. Hence, we specially urge a trial—now—while the patient can get a bottle at only 25 cents. Be sure to ask for the oil as properly compounded under the name of D. D. D. Prescription.

WHEAT HAS A DECLINE

Cooler Weather and Showers in Southwest Send Prices Down.

Foreign Demand Light---Flax Is Dull But Higher Here.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 5.—Cooler weather in the Southwest, light showers of local extent, weaker cables, and liquidation of the deferred months combined with moderate selling in the near option caused prices in all markets to decline today. Wheat values here slumped 1@⅞c from yesterday's close.

May wheat opened at $1.12⅞ and sold up ⅛c, then down to $1.12⅝@¾, $1.12½@⅝, $1.12⅜, $1.12½, $1.12⅛@¼, closing at $1.12¼@⅜. July opened at $1.12⅞, declined to $1.12¾@⅞, $1.12⅜, advanced to $1.12⅝ and closed $1.12⅜.

Flax was dull. May opened with bids at $2.32, sold ½c higher, then to $2.33, $2.32¾, $2.33 and closed with offers at $2.33. July opened at $2.29½ and closed at that figure. September opened with bids at $1.81½ and advanced to $1.82 bid without trading, sold at $1.83 and off 1c, closing $1.82 bid. The October option closed $1.72 bid.

Cash here was ⅞@1c over May. Rye, oats and barley closed unchanged. Durum closed ⅞c off.

Nearly everybody sold wheat today. The Chicago board was closed, as there was an election in the Windy City, and the Chicago professional element sold wheat in Minneapolis. The market ran into a lot of stop-loss orders which facilitated the decline. Trading was fairly heavy both here and at Minneapolis. Leading bulls let go of part of their holdings, and the assault of the bears was general. Declines were marked and severe, and there was little support to the market. Buying power was notably absent.

A feature of the day's activity was the selling of wheat by mills. Much of this stuff had been bought against flour already sold, and millers were on the anxious seat. Some feared cancellations of orders from buyers already well stocked up as a precaution against possible higher prices. The flour demand is slow, although mills have on their books large orders for future delivery. Yet, there is no doubt that mills are entering on a period of slow demand which will be accentuated if wheat values seek lower levels for more than a brief period of time.

Selling of the deferred months was heavy in Minneapolis, chiefly from the Chicago pit element. The mills sold May. There was some fear of the market getting into an oversold condition, but caution was swept aside before the heavy liquidation. Much of the long interest in the deferred months, especially the Chicago September, was accumulated around $1 and up. Traders favoring a spread have bought heavily of July and have sold September, and these factors have injected a peculiar element into the market which responds readily to the slightest buying, but which sags when support is withdrawn. Congestion in May has been feared because of small stocks, but stores are increasing, and as the demand is almost negligible, this feature of the market is being regarded with less concern. Little new trade is going into the nearby delivery. Some folks think the near option is due for a flurry, but others hold differently. The short interest has been considerably reduced.

There is nothing bullish about the cash situation. The cash market here is practically lifeless and the demand at Minneapolis is dull. The flour trade appears to be well stocked and millers are buying cash wheat in driblets. The foreigner has been taking a little of the Manitobas and durums, but not in sufficient quantities to disturb stores here. There was no export demand today. Some wheat is purchased apparently for delivery in May.

The sentiment regarding the winter wheat crop is more optimistic. Damage to the growing crop has been the principal argument of the bulls and reports from the Southwest are losing their effect. Crop killers started out too early this year and the effect of their efforts appears to have been discounted. Some folks think it has been dissipated. The condition of the Kansas, Missouri and Southern Nebraska crops undoubtedly has been reduced, but elsewhere indications point, at least, to a normal crop, if not to one larger than usual. Seeding in the Northwest is proceeding under favorable conditions as shown by the many special dispatches to The Herald. The wheat acreage is being largely increased. Reports from the Pacific Northwest indicate an unusual harvest.

Shorts, of course, will be somewhat nervous until the May option is out of the way, although they have been covering on all favorable movements. Selling such as took place today is conducive to an oversold condition of the market, which this year has shown a tendency to become congested on the good breaks. Prices in the immediate future will depend largely on the weather. The number of pronounced bulls is considerably less than a few days ago.

The government's report will be given out Friday at 11 o'clock, Duluth time. The condition of winter wheat was 96.2, indicating a yield of the condition now probably will average between 80 and 81.5 per cent against 81.8 per cent last year.

MARKET GOSSIP

Wheat stores here increased 156,000 bu in two days, aggregating 7,877,000 bu. Flax increased 5,000 bu, aggregating 236,000 bu.

Cash wheat in Minneapolis sold at ½@2c over May. Wheat stores there increased 100,000 bu in three days.

P. E. Olson of Fargo, traveling representative for the Amenia Elevator company, was on the floor today, the guest of C. W. Peterson. Mr. Olson said that the wheat acreage in Southern Minnesota, where he had recently been, will be largely increased this year. Much new flax ground is being broken in North and South Dakota, and the wheat acreage will be increased.

Special dispatches on field work in the Northwest received by The Herald follow:

Mcintosh, Minn.—Farmers have been doing considerable ditching near here before undertaking field work. Seeding is in progress, but not extensively. A few more days of first-class weather will witness general field work.

Crookston, Minn.—Seeding is general near here, many farmers having about finished their active work of planting. A feature of this year's activities is the large amount of first-class North Dakota wheat seed that has been brought here for planting. Farmers realize more than ever before the importance of planting seed of only proven high grade.

Fertile, Minn.—Seeding near here is retarded for lack of help. Farmers will handle more stock this year than ever before and farming will be more diversified.

Anoka, Minn.—Field work is general. The weather is favorable and the soil is in excellent condition.

Sandstone, Minn.—Sales of seed in Pine county this year have broken all records. The acreage will be larger than any previous year. Seeding is general. The soil is in first-class shape.

Pine City, Minn.—Many farmers are busy dragging and seeding, which is unusual for this time of the year. Recent showers have helped the soil, which already was in prime condition. A good rain, however, would stimulate general work.

Thief River Falls, Minn.—While several farmers have begun seeding, most of them are waiting until more water runs off of their land. If it had not been for the wet condition of the ground, seeding would be well under way. In two or three days it is expected seeding will be general, as the ground is rapidly drying. Flax acreage will be greatly increased. A new corporation, which will have headquarters here, is the Montana & Dakota Grain company, which will own a line of elevators in Western North Dakota and Eastern Montana. Many of these are now controlled by the Hanson & Barzen Milling company. The incorporators of the new company are Louis Hanson, Mathew Barzen, C. J. Winton, D. N. Winton and M. J. Dunn of Culbertson, Mont.

New York Mills, Minn.—Seeding is becoming general here and the soil is in first-class shape. About 100 Hollanders arrived last week to take up farms near here.

Buffalo, Minn.—Seeding is well under way and is the earliest in many years.

Perham, Minn.—Seeding is becoming general and the weather is favorable.

Corliss, Otter Tail county, Minn.—Farmers are beginning their seeding this year about two or three weeks earlier than usual. Weather conditions excellent. Soil in good shape.

Hinckley, Minn.—Farmers near here are doing considerable field work. Many new farms are being opened up and the acreage of others is being extended.

Little Falls, Minn.—Farmers near here have practically completed their field work, so far as the sowing of wheat is concerned. Others are slightly behind, but they are exceptions. Many farmers are putting in Canadian seed oats.

Swan River, Morrison county—Farmers near here have completed seeding.

Fargo, N. D.—Seeding through the state is general and in many districts has been completed. The snow fall three or four days ago was helpful to fields that had been recently dragged. There has been some delay in farm work on account of the snow.

Gary, Norman county, Minn.—Seeding was delayed here on account of moisture in the ground, but it is now proceeding generally.

St. Cloud, Minn.—Many farmers have their seeding almost completed. Others have just started. Some were shredding corn when the early season came and this has been postponed until after field work is completed.

Warren, Minn.—Recent showers and a light snowfall benefitted land that had been dragged, although it slightly delayed field work. Farmers are seeding and others are preparing to start in a day or two. More ditching is being done near here than ever before. Much new ground is being prepared.

Roseau, Minn.—Farmers near here are getting to work this week, having been delayed on account of the moisture in the soil. Many new farms are being opened up.

Bray, Red Lake county—Farmers are doing some dragging and ploughing but field work will not become general for several days on account of the moisture in the ground.

East Grand Forks, Minn.—Seeding near here is general. Soil conditions excellent. Wheat acreage will be greatly increased.

Greenbush, Roseau county—Farmers near here are delayed by moisture in the ground, which, however, is rapidly drying. Much new ditching is being done.

Halleck, Minn.—Considerable rain fell near here last week, but the skies have cleared and the ground is in first-class for seeding, which has been started. Seeding will be general by the middle of this week. Wheat acreage will be increased. Farmers held back despite the fine weather, as they were afraid of a possible cold wave. Seeding is two weeks earlier than ever before.

Wahkon, Mille Lacs county.—Farmers have begun to put in seed, although seeding will not be general for several days.

Owatonna, Minn.—Most of the farmers near here began seeding the first of last week. Field work now general. Soil conditions perfect.

Ogilvie, Kanabec county—Seeding started, will be general by middle of this week. Weather favorable. Soil conditions excellent.

Fosston, Minn.—Farming near here will be more diversified. Farmers going in for stock. Acreage for all crops will be increased.

Minneota, Minn.—Farmers in Lyon county have finished seeding under first-class conditions. Acreage increased for all crops with the possible exception of oats.

Braham—Seeding in Isanti county has been started and will become general this week if the weather continues favorable.

Gaylord, Minn.—Farmers put off seeding expecting unfavorable weather, but they have become convinced that spring is here and seeding this week became general. Wheat acreage increased. Oats reduced.

Verndale, Wadena county.—Wheat and barley acreage will be increased, oats about the same; seeding almost general.

Worthington, Minn.—Barley and flax acreage to be largely increased. Wheat crop of Nobles county will be small, as usual. Corn and oats will be leading crops. Outlook never better. Seeding general.

Hutchinson, Minn.—Weather has been dry, but seeding has been conducted under favorable conditions. Wheat and corn acreage increased; oats reduced.

Staples, Minn.—Corn acreage will be largely increased, also wheat. Recent showers benefitted soil which had been dragged.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"Wheat was affected by the decline in American markets yesterday and the correction of the Kentucky official report and open values were ¼d to ⅜d lower. Following the opening of the market developed a steady undertone with offerings and lack of pressure of Manitoba offerings. Crop conditions in the United Kingdom, Germany and France are less favorable and there is an improved demand from the Continent for wheat about to arrive. At mid-day the market was dull and ⅜d@½d lower. Corn firm with no offerings of La Plata steamers and a good demand for spot. Prices unchanged from yesterday.

Minneapolis wired Finley Barrell—"The elevators are now picking up quite a little of the poorer grades of wheat. They are in better demand relatively than yesterday."

Broomhall cabled: "European visible wheat this week 94,536,000 bu against 94,588,000 bu last week, showing a decrease of 52,000 bu. Last week there was a decrease of 248,000 bu. Last year a decrease of 3,600 when total was 78,100,000."

Lewis of Minneapolis wired Baker: "Break in mill feed prices has demoralized flour trade. A miller tells us decline equals 20 cents a barrel on flour. Have been unable to lower flour quotations on this break in wheat, because of inability to sell by-products at a fair relative difference."

* * *

Goodman of Clement Curtis issued an April report on wheat claiming 80 per cent and a promise of 470,000,000 bu of wheat or 30,000,000 more than same time last year.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Open Higher, Decline on Gold Engagements, But Recover.

Rise Under Influence of Buying Orders and Close Strong.

New York, April 5.—Higher London prices helped the opening advance in stocks here today, which ran to a point in Union Pacific and to ⅝ in Atchison. Only a handful of stocks was dealt in, and small blocks were all that appeared on the tape.

There was a fair distribution of buying orders, which raised most of the standard stocks materially. Union Pacific advanced 1⅜, United States Steel and American Smelting 1¼ and St. Paul, Reading, Atchison, Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Amalgamated Copper and Utah Copper 1. Some of the minor stocks were weak. New York, Chicago & St. Louis and International Pump preferred lost 2 points and Minneapolis & St. Louis and Chicago & Alton 1. Profit-taking caused a fractional reaction later.

An attempt by professional operators to move prices upwards was frustrated by the sentimental effect of the heavy engagement of gold for export. The activity of the first hour gave place to semi-stagnant and dropping conditions. Pacific Mail declined 1. Bonds were irregular.

A renewal of liquidation in Federal Mining preferred caused another drop of 5¼, the price going to 55. Otherwise there was no feature in the market. Erie second preferred, General Electric and American Cotton Oil improved a point.

The market was virtually at a standstill with prices ruling from a slight fraction to over a point above yesterday's closing. Federal Mining preferred extended its loss to 7¼. Kansas City Southern preferred declined 1⅜ and International Paper preferred advanced 1½.

The market closed strong and active. Buying orders were distributed for United States Steel, Union Pacific and Reading and the whole list rose in sympathy. Union Pacific was lifted 2¾; Utah Copper 2⅝; Reading, United States Steel and United States Gas 2¼; Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting and Atchison 2; St. Paul and New York Central 1⅝, and several others a point or more. Peoria & Western and Lake Erie and Western preferred sold at a decline of 4, and Chicago & Alton 2¾.

WE OWN AND OFFER

$260,000 5% BONDS

NORTHERN LAKES STEAMSHIP COMPANY

TOTAL ISSUES, $480,000.

Date April 15, 1910. Maturing $48,000 Yearly from January 1, 1912, to January 1, 1921, inclusive.

Trustee-- UNION TRUST COMPANY, DETROIT, MICH.

Interest and principal payable January 1st and July 1st. Bonds in coupon form and subject to registration.

The $260,000 bonds offered constitute the unsold portion of three issues, each for $160,000 and secured by a first mortgage on three newly constructed steel steamships, the "Ontario," "Champlain," and "St. Clair," each of which have cost in actual cash $320,000, a total of $960,000. The mortgage lien, therefore, is but one-half of worth. These steamships are enrolled under the Port of Duluth.

Under proper traffic arrangement, these boats will be operated on the Great Lakes by the Lake Transportation Company of Cleveland, Ohio, which with favorable contracts insures satisfactory earnings sufficient to provide for maturing interest and prinicpal.

The provision of the Michigan law having been fully complied with, we offer these bonds as Legal Investments for Michigan Banks, insuring a desirable market and adequate security.

Insurance to full insurable value, 90 per cent of the cost, will be assigned and delivered to the Trustee, protecting against every known form of hazard—fire, loss at sea, collision and acts of owners or employees and the public. The history of securities of this character is perfect—no failures or losses being recorded.

We recommend these bonds, after careful investigation, as a high-class investment.

Detailed information, attorney's opinion and available maturities on application.

TRUE BILLS NOT LEGAL?

Pittsburg, Pa., April 5.—Judge Frazer, sitting in criminal courts, today received briefs from opposing counsel covering the eligibility of Harrison Nesbit, foreman of the grand jury, to sit as a juror in the state of Pennsylvania. The defense in the councilmanic trials yesterday sprung a sensation when attorneys made the motion to quash all graft indictments returned to date on the basis that the grand jury foreman, Mr. Nesbit, formerly a national bank examiner, is a resident of the District of Columbia and not a qualified elector, and therefore, unable to sit on a Pennsylvania jury.

The question involves a nice legal complication, and Judge Frazer's ruling, which is now under consideration, may not be handed down for several days.

Grand Jury Keeps Busy.

In the meantime, Foreman Nesbit has been granted authority to proceed in his official capacity. His jury today engaged in routine matters, although several minor matters pertaining to the graft situation have been presented.

Additional pleas of indicted councilmen and presentations were expected late today.

Morris Einstein, already indicted on charges of conspiracy in solociting a bribe of $20,000 from the Workingmen's Savings & Trust company, appeared before the grand jury today, and, according to report, named the men who handed him the bank money, and also made a clean breast of his connection with the councilmanic corruption, something which up to now Einstein had refused to do.

WILL WATCH FOR PEDDLERS

Orders are being given to the patrolmen on the police force today to keep close watch of the peddlers who sell fruit and vegetables through the streets. The ordinance requires that each of them have a license issued by the city clerk, and the officers are instructed to arrest all those who cannot show the certificate. Complaint was recently made to the city council by some of the large wholesalers that discrimination was being shown in favor of some peddlers. They asked that the law be enforced against all alike.

PENSION WIDOWS OF EX-PRESIDENTS

Washington, April 5.—A bill designed originally to grant pensions of $10,000 a year to ex-presidents as retired commanders in chief of the army and navy and $5,000 each to widows of ex-presidents, after being amended so as to deny the intended relief for ex-presidents, was reported favorably to the senate today by Senator Shively. The bill was amended to apply specifically to Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Cleveland.

TAFT DROPS INDIANA OFF VISITING LIST IN FIXING UP MAY TRIP

Trend of Affairs at State Republican Convention Is Said to Be Reason.

President Would Feel Compelled to Praise Tariff Bill If He Spoke.

Whole Tour May Be Cut Short---Scheduled to Start April 29.

Washington, April 6.—President Taft has cancelled his engagement to visit Indianapolis on May 5. While no statement has been issued in regard to this decision, it is believed to be the direct result of the events at the Indiana State Republican convention yesterday.

It is not even admitted at the White House that the president had a definite engagement to visit Indianapolis, although dispatches from that city several days ago announced that the president would be there from 2:15 p. m. until midnight of May 5.

In view of the circumstances surrounding yesterday's convention of the Indiana Republicans, it was said by friends of the administration today that if the president spoke at Indianapolis at all he would more than likely feel compelled to express again his well known views regarding the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill.

Might Hurt Beveridge.

It was argued that if the president should do this it might be interpreted adversely to Senator Beveridge, and rather than be put in that attitude the president will give Indiana a wide berth in his forthcoming visit to the Middle West.

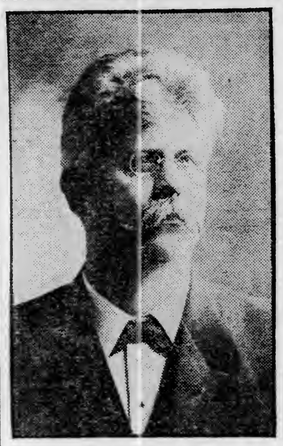

No matter what Senator Beveridge's attitude toward the administration may be—and the president told several of his callers today, it is said, that he had no doubt in his own mind on that subject—he did not care to be drawn into the Indiana fight in any way. The president is anxious for Republican success in Indiana and hopes that the Republicans, under whatever leadership they choose, may be able to turn the tide against the Democrats.

Curtail His Trip.

It was said at the White House today that the president's trip West, which begins April 29, probably will be curtailed several days, and it was intimated that this probably was responsible for the failure to visit Indianapolis. The president had planned to spend three or four days in Cincin-

HAS EIGHTEEN PAIRS OF LONG LEGGED BOOTS

HENRY T. GAGE,
Who Has Gone to New Post at the Portuguese Court.

New York, April 6.—With eighteen new pairs of long-legged boots, Henry T. Gage, ex-governor of California, has left for King Manuel's court in Lisbon. Governor Gage and his boots are an institution in California. Since his youth, Mr. Gage has stuck to real boots. He led the grand march at his inaugural in a pair of patent leather dress boots. He recently received a circular from a London tailor sternly recommending a diplomatic dress of a pair of knee breeches, silk stockings and shiny slippers. The newly appointed diplomat threw the diagrams of what he called "Lord Fauntleroy pants" into the waste basket and sent out an order for those eighteen pairs of high boots.

UNKNOWN WOMAN KILLS HERSELF

New York Police Believe She Came From Some Other City.

New York, April 6.—The mysterious suicide of a handsomely dressed woman at a hotel on Fourth avenue late last night was under close investigation by the police and the coroner's office today.

The woman's body was found prostrate in her room, a handkerchief saturated with chloroform closely pressed over her upturned face. She had at different times given her name as "Mrs. V. H. Young of Tuxedo," and "Mrs. V. H. Fisher." An umbrella in her room bore the name of Mrs. V. H. Stonyberg.

No friends or relatives have appeared to claim the body. The police are investigating in the belief that she came from out of town.

MEMPHIS READY FOR THE FLYERS

Perfect Weather Greets Aviators on the Opening Day.

Memphis, Tenn., April 6.—With promise of perfect weather conditions, all was in readiness today for the opening of the Memphis aviation meet at the Tri-State Fair grounds. The flights, which were scheduled to begin this afternoon, are under the auspices and sanction of the Aeroclub of America. Charles B. Reitman, secretary of the organization, arrived here last night from New York City. Any new records will stand as official.

Glenn H. Curtiss announced an attempt to lower his own quick start of ninety-eight feet, using the new racing aeroplane with which he hopes to retain the Gordon Bennett trophy at the international aviation meet this year.

Charles F. Willard, who also uses a Curtiss machine, hoped to lower his "accuracy" record, which consists of starting from within a given square, covering a prescribed course and landing as near as possible to the starting point. Willard's present record is twenty-five feet.

Charles K. Hamilton of Seattle was booked to take part in the flights.

Garfield's Schoolhouse Burns.

North Pownal, Vt., April 6.—Fire which started today in a store on Main street caused $75,000 loss. Among the buildings destroyed was the Congregational church, the edifice in which President James A. Garfield taught school while a student at Williams college.

ON TRAIL OF HONEYMOON

Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt Start on Sentimental Trip All Alone.

Will Spend Three Days in Visiting Scenes of Wedding Tour.

Rome, April 6.—The final day of Mr. Roosevelt's stay in Rome was quite as busy as the two preceding days. After devoting two hours to his mail and telegrams, he left his home at 10 a. m. for a call upon Prof. Giacomo Boni, the archaeologist. At noon he received a visit from Baron Fava, formerly Italian ambassador at Washington.

The historian, Guglielomo Ferrero, entertained the former president and a few friends at luncheon. At the same time Mrs. Roosevelt was the luncheon guest of Mrs. Leishman, wife of the American ambassador. There were twenty women in the party. Later Mr. Roosevelt went to the embassy, and met Mrs. Leishman's guests as well as a few other American and Italian friends who had called there.

Dinner Guest of City.

At 5:30 this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Kermit attended a tea given in their honor at the Capitoline museum. The tea preceded the dinner tendered Mr. Roose-

SCOUR STATE FOR FOUR MURDERERS

Pennsylvania Authorities Hunt Bank Robbers From McKee's Rocks.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 6.—With county, city and borough police working desperately to round up the quartet of men who last night entered the Victor Banking company's building at "Bloody Corner," McKee's Rocks, shot and killed the general manager and the bookkeeper, wounded several citizens and then escaped with less than $500 in cash, a state-wide dragnet has been thrown out today, and as a result five suspects are already locked up in the Stowe township police station, and more arrests are expected hourly.

The police are working on the theory that the holdup of the bank was the work of experienced yeggmen and not foreigners or negroes. The hour of the robbery, the absence of police officers in another part of the borough, and the bold front of the bandits are pointed out.

Separated After Robbery.

Immediately after the robbery the four outlaws separated. Two went into the railroad yards while two disappeared down alleyways and side streets. The four men wore black soft hats, black shirts and masks of black material. Three of the quartet displayed revolvers. The robbers used a small bag to scoop up the money.

FIND JAMES FIRED SHOT

Coroner's Jury at Ely Looks Into Killing of Andrew Metsapelto.

Game Warden Will Have a Hearing Before the Municipal Court.

Ely, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coroner's jury called by Deputy Coroner M. E. Gleason to look into the killing of Andrew Metsapelto by Deputy Game Warden Fred B. James Monday evening when the warden tried to arrest him for illegally seining fish in Lonk lake, returned a verdict that the deceased came to his leath by a bullet from a 38-caliber pistol fired by Fred B. James. The jury also found "That said shooting was done by Fred B. James in the pursuit of his duties as deputy game warden."

The jury was composed of John E. Forthan, H. J. Lockhart, Peter Schaefer, M. J. Murphy, J. A. Graves and Frank Veranth.

It is expected that County Attorney Norton will come up from Duluth to

FAY AND HARRIS MEAN TO FIGHT

Are Not Willing to Face Robbery Charge at Richmond, Va.

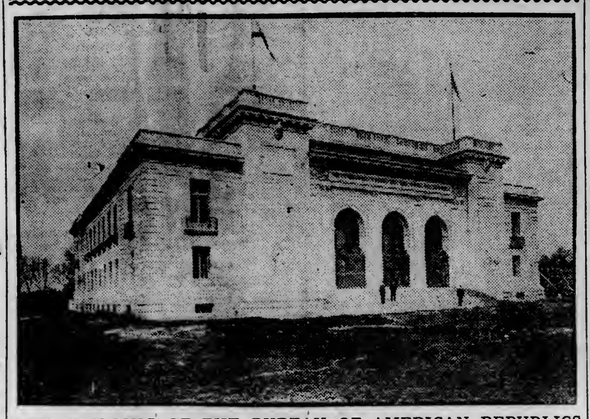

New York, April 6.—"Eddie Fay," the famous bank cracksman, and Richard Harris were in the tombs today awaiting arraignment this afternoon before United States Commissioner Shield to answer charges of having robbed the Richmond Va., postoffice. The prisoners said they were prepared to fight extradition and would avail themselves of every technicality of the law to escape being taken to Richmond.

PUT ROOSEVELT TO THE TEST

New York Intends to See How Much Welcoming He Can Stand.

New York, April 6.—To determine just what is the limit of Roosevelt's strenuousity in the way of a welcome home, is the question before the committee named by Mayor Gaynor to arrange the reception in honor of the former president. The plan is to give him just as big a reception as he can stand. Most of the members believe he can stand a whole lot, and the program will be arranged with this idea in view.

PAN-AMERICAN PEACE PALACE

NEW BUILDING OF THE BUREAU OF AMERICAN REPUBLICS AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington, April 6.—The "Peace Palace" the new building of the Bureau of American Republics in Washington, will be dedicated on April 26. The dedicatory exercises will be held in assemly hall or the "Hall of American Ambassadors" as it is proposed to call it, at 3 p. m., and will be presided over by Secretary of State Knox, who is chairman ex-officio of the governing board. Addresses will be delivered by President Taft, the Mexican ambassador, Andrew Carnegie, Elihu Root and John Barrett.

BIG MEN TO ARGUE CASE

Remarkable Array of Counsel to Be Heard at The Hague.

American-Canadian Fishing Rights Treaty Will Be Interpreted.

Washington, April 6.—An array of counsel greater in number and more illustrious in reputation than ever before has assembled at The Hague to engage in the trial of a special case, has been retained to represent America and Great Britain in the determination of what is undoubtedly the most important issue ever presented to the great peace tribunal.

Technically this is the determination of differences which have arisen between the two governments as to the true intent of the provisions of article 1 of the treaty of 1818, defining the fishing rights of Americans and Canadians in their respective waters.

Colony Restriction Rights.

The issue of greatest import is the determination of the right of a colony or province, such as Canada or Newfoundland, by local legislation to deprive persons of rights conferred by treaty between the principals. On June 1 next the arbitration tribunal is to meet at The Hague to hear the oral arguments.

The arbitration court will consist of Dr. Heinrich Lammasch of Austria, umpire, who will act as president; Luis M. Drago, Argentine Republic; Jonkheer A. F. de Savornlnlohman of The

SAYS SAYLER MADE THREAT

Wife of Murdered Man on the Stand at Her Own Trial.

Declares His Account at Bank Was Overdrawn---Miller's Ordeal Over.

Watseka, Ill., April 6.—"The night before he was shot my husband told me his bank account was overdrawn and I would have to go to Peoria and get him some money or he would do something desperate," said Mrs. Lucy Sayler on the stand today, in the trial for the murder of her husband.

"I refused to go," continued the witness, after objection of the state.

Further questions brought out the statement that Peter Weast, of Peoria, a brother-in-law of the witness, had frequently given her money which she had asked for at her husband's request. Mrs. Sayler also testified that with the consent of her husband she had gone to Europe with Peter Weast and his wife and that merchandise and produce was sent to the Sayler home by Mr. Weast at frequent intervals.

Counsel for the state objected to the testimony relative to Peter Weast.

Says Husband Attacked Doctor.

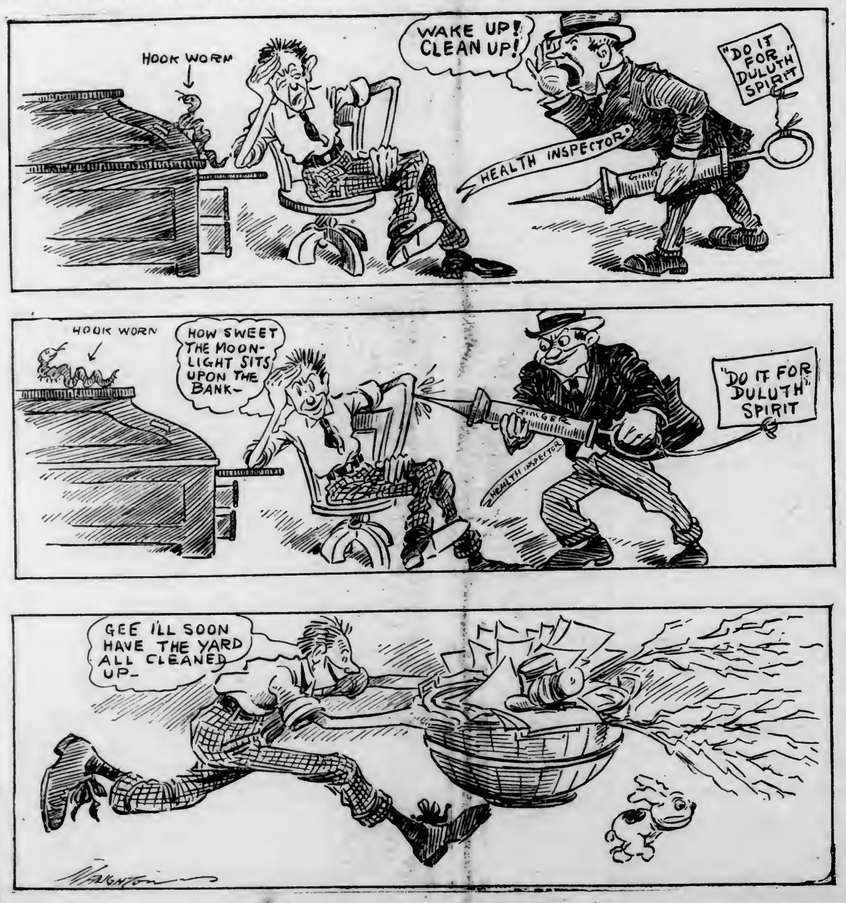

Mrs. Sayler told of Sayler's refusing to join in a game of cards with Dr. Miller, herself and her father, John Grunden, then of his rushing into the parlor, seizing a hatchet from beneath the lounge and shouting:

"I'm prepared for this. I'm going to kill you," and rushing on Dr. Miller with the upraised weapon.

Mrs. Sayler said her husband over-

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS TO RUN MILWAUKEE FOR NEXT TWO YEARS

WETS GAIN IN ILLINOIS

Liquor Issue Voted on in Two Hundred and Sixty Localities.

Larger Places in Wisconsin Also Vote in Favor of License.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—Elections in 260 cities and towns in Illinois yesterday on the saloon issue show a decided reversal of the vote of two years ago, judging from reports from 240 places which have been received thus far. If anything the vote indicates a tendency to return to the "wet" column.

Many cities having a large population were recaptured by the "wets." Reports today show that 39 dry towns went wet, 19 wet towns went dry, 72 wet towns retained the saloon, while 110 dry towns remained true to their colors.

Bigger Towns "Wet."

Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—In the elections held in Wisconsin yesterday outside of Milwaukee the interest centered in the vote on the question of wet or dry. The wets were victorious in a large number of cities and towns. Among the larger cities to vote for license were Racine, Janesville, Beloit, Baraboo, New Richmond, Platteville, River Falls, Fond du Lac, Hudson, Delavan,

LAYMEN LISTEN TO BISHOP McDOWELL

Missionary Movement Convention Is Being Held in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—A survey of the world field by missionaries from the front was the basis of several talks by representatives from India, Turkey, China, Korea, Japan and Africa at this forenoon's session of the laymen's missionary movement.

Bishop William F. McDowell this afternoon spoke on "The Place of the Pastor and Laymen in Evangelization."

The three days' convention in Milwaukee began last night with a banquet at the Hippodrome at which covers were laid for a thousand persons.

Bishop William Walter Webb of the Episcopal church delivered the invocation and extended welcome to the delegates. Francis W. Parker of Chicago, John W. Woods of New York city and George Sherwood Eddy of India delivered addresses.

NAVY MEN PRAISED FOR SAVING BOYS

Hospital Apprentice and Private Get Letters From Department.

Washington, April 6.—A reflex of the incident at Annapolis March 20 last, when the son of the vice president of Cuba, with a fellow student from a preparatory college, were plunged into the waters of the bay by the capsizing of a canoe, appears today in copies of letters issued by the navy department addressed to the two men who gsaved the boys from drowning.

One of the missives went to Hospital Apprentice B. E. Kirwain and the other to Private Peter Foy of the marine corps. Kirwan is only a stripling, while the young Cuban weighed over 200 pounds and is very strong.

Although dragged under, as was Foy who came to the rescue, and severely bruised by the desperate struggles of the drowning boy, Kirwan succeeded in keeping afloat until Corporal James Fallon of the Severn could get together a number of marines, launch a boat and paddling out with pieces of boards in the absence of oars, dragged the party from the water.

SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY DOPED ON WHISKY

Child May Die From Liquor Given Him By Companions.

Chicago, April 6.—Frank Stachura, 6 years old, is thought to be dying from what the physicians say is acute alcoholic poisoning. The child was found unconscious in an alley yesterday. His condition has grown more serious today. It is believed whisky was given him by his companions.

Important Reforms Are Promised as Result of Election Landslide.

Emil Seidel Mayor By Second Largest Plurality Ever Given in City.

Democrats Given Control of City Council By Chicago Voters.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—The Social Democratic party swept Milwaukee city and county in yesterday's election, giving Emil Seidel, its candidate for mayor, 7,109 plurality, according to complete returns, or about 1,000 fewer than approximatel late last night from the incomplete returns.

Seidel's plurality is the largest in the history of Milwaukee's municipal elections, with the exception of the election of 1898, when David S. Rose, Democrat, had 7,849 plurality.

The total vote:

Seidel, 27,622; V. J. Schoenacker, Jr., Democrat, 20,513 and Dr. John M. Beffel, Republican, 11,262.

The new council consists of 21 Social Democrats, 10 Democrats and four Republicans.

In the new board of supervisors there will be 11 Social Democrats, 3 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Elected Two Judges.

The Social Democrats elected two out of seven civil judges, Joseph E. Cordes and Richard Elsner being successful. Five other candidates who were elected on non-partisan tickets are John J. Gergory, Joseph C. Donnelly, Michael Blenski, John F. Donavan and Henry Cummings.

Ten bond questions providing for various city improvements carried. The platforms of all three parties, which were similar, advocated home rule, initiative and referendum and regulation of the liquor traffic.

Victor L. Berger, a national character and leading Social Democrat, was elected alderman-at-large. Mr. Berger, who is dictator of his party in Mil-

NEGRO RUN DOWN AND RECAPTURED

One of Pair Who Broke Jail in Virginia Dying of His Wounds.

Norfolk, Va., April 6.—Thomas Noel, one of the condemned negroes who escaped from the Norfolk county jail March 30, was captured today in Drummond's woods on the outskirts of Norfolk after having been chased almost continuously for twenty-four hours with bloodhounds.

Before being taken Noel was shot through the stomach with a pistol. A load of buckshot was also put in his body. He is dying of his injuries.

Noel was condemned to death for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Sykes who had sought to arrest him for robbery.

Elijah Rouse, the other condemned negro who escaped with Noel, was caught several days ago. He will be electrocuted at Richmond April 25. A reward of $1,000 had been offered for the capture of the two murderers.

MAY RIVAL THE GUNNESS CASE

Washington Man Is Accused of Murders of Many Sailors.

Aberdeen, Wash., April 6.—Retribution for the mysterious murders of sailors, long a puzzle at the ports of the Puget Sound, seems now close at hand. Giving alleged details of the killing of John Hoffman and Charles Hedberg, John Klingenberg has made a sworn confession to Prosecuting Attorney Campbell.

Klingenberg says that under threat of death at the hands of William Gohl, he killed Hedberg. The statement charges the slaying of Hoffman direct to Gohl, who is a former agent of the Sailors' union and is under arrest at Montesano, waiting trial for wholesale slaying that threatens to parallel the Gunness crimes in Indiana.

As in many previous cases, two sailors, Hedberg and Hoffman, disappeared mysteriously. Hedberg's body was found, but search failed to reveal Hoffman's. In December, Klingenberg says, he was persuaded to accompany Gohl and Hoffman in a launch to visit Hedberg. Gohl told Klingenberg, so the latter asserts, that Hedberg had informed the authorities Gohl had shot a cow.

Describes Two Murders.

While on the way, the confession recites, Gohl fired four shots into Hoffman's back and threw the body overboard. The two survivors continued the trip to Hedberg's cabin, where they spent the night.

Next morning Klingenberg, at Gohl's command and under threat of death, shot Hedberg, killing him instantly. The body was taken out in the launch and sunk in the bay.

Gohl's alleged motive was greed for the money of the victims.

"GOVERNOR BILLY" IS SLOGAN AT McEWEN DINNER

Complimentary Banquet to Labor Commissioner at Lenox Hotel.

Representative Duluth Men of Both Parties Gather to Honor Him.

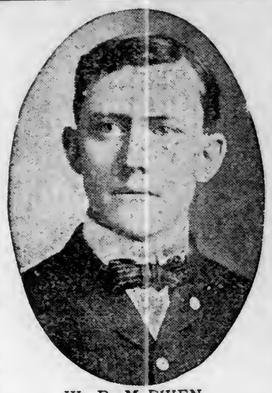

William E. McEwen, Minnesota state labor commissioner, was the guest of honor at a banquet last evening at the Lenox hotel, given by his friends in the Zenith City as an expression of their regard for him and also as a farewell on the eve of his departure for Europe as a member of the Minnesota Employers' Compensation commission, which was created by the last legislature for the purpose of inquiring into the problems of liability legislation.

The banquet was arranged by a committee composed of former associates of Mr. McEwen in the Duluth union labor world and was notable for the warmth and sincerity of the sentiments of regard for the guest of honor that were voiced by the speakers and for the thorough good-fellowship that was the dominant note of the occasion.

Judge Alfred Jaques was the toastmaster, and in that capacity he made one of the best speeches of the evening, besides carrying off the honors of his position as presiding officer with extreme good humor and tact.

Of course, "Billy" McEwen was the "one best bet" of the evening, and his praises were sung by men who have known and admired him for many years—some of them for all the years that he has lived. The list of speakers included, besides Mr. McEwen and Judge Jaques: Alderman Getchell, Judge William Cant, M. H. McMahon, C. S. Mitchell, John H. Norton, A. E. Kellington of Minneapolis, Alexander McKnight, Joseph Pratts, T. W. Cheadle, Harris Bennett, F. J. Voss, A. C. Weiss and Oscar Tankenhoff of St. Paul.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Mitchell said that he hoped at some later time to participate in a larger gathering than that of last night "that would give expression to its admiration for 'Governor Billy.'"

W. E. McEWEN.

"Governor Billy."

The 125 banqueters seized upon the remark with a shout, and all unwarned, Mr. McEwen was then and there nominated and elected governor with a unanimity that was just as vociferous as it was complete. The cheering and applause continued for a long time, and when Judge Jaques introduced the speaker of the evening the tumult of acclaim was repeated with just as much enthusiasm.

Mr. McEwen's address was a discussion of the philosophy of labor and of present day problems, with especial reference to the work that will be done by the commission with which he will visit the industrial centers of Europe. The speech was an extremely interesting one and held the attention of the audience unwaveringly. In his introductory remarks, Mr. McEwen said:

"Nothing I can say, no words that I can command, can adequately express the sentiments of gratitude and appreciation in my heart this minute. It's a nice thing when you get away from home and hold a position of an official character to be received and banqueted, but to be given a reception of this kind in your native city, where everyone knows where I have been strong and where I have been weak, I feel that my work has not been in vain. I am glad to know that while I have been condemned in some parts of the state you have had no criticism to offer. I am an ardent believer in the cause of organized labor and I'm stronger in the faith now than I ever was before."

Some sentences from the remarks of the speakers were:

Judge Jaques—"I do not believe that 'Billy' will permit any old world ruler to limit our traveler's conduct during his stay in Europe."

Alderman Getchell—"I hope that when he returns from his trip abroad he will be able to tell us what a great country this is."

Mr. McMahon—"I am proud, in particular, of the enemies 'Billy' has made."

Mr. McKnight—"The ideals that Mr. McEwen has stood for are not those of any one party. As a member of the city council he blazed the way that led to better things and permanent benefits will result from his efforts."

Mr. Bennett—"The late Governor Johnson said to me: 'There's one mistake I didn't make, Harris; to my notion, Billy is making the best labor commissioner the state has ever had.'"

Mr. Norton—"We have frequently met with the query: Was it made in Duluth. I can say that the guest of this occasion was made in Duluth."

Speaking of the banquet today, Mr. McEwen expressed his grateful appreciation of the whole-hearted cordiality of his friends and the bountiful form of its expression. He mentioned particularly the men who had been his intimate associates in union labor circles here in Duluth.

Mr. McEwen returned to St. Paul this afternoon, and tonight will speak at a labor meeting in St. Paul. Tomorrow evening he will make an address in the Plymouth Congregational church in Minneapolis. Friday he will devote exclusively to Mrs. McEwen. He has been notified to this effect by Mrs. McEwen, the commissioner said, smiling. On Saturday he will start for the East and will sail for Europe on a week from today on the Mauretania, arriving at London probably on April 18.

The members of the Minnesota Employes' Compensation commission are H. V. Mercer of Minneapolis, chairman; George M. Gillette of Minneapolis, and Mr. McEwen. Mr. Mercer is an attorney, and Mr. Gillette is one of the largest independent employers of labor in the state. He is president of the Minnesota Employers' association and is deeply interested in the task of finding a solution of the many problems that are presented by the question of liability legislation.

The commission will be in England about a week and will then proceed to Paris, next visiting Berne and Geneva. After brief stops at Munich and Vienna, the investigators will go to Berlin, from which point they will make trips to the different industrial centers of the German empire. Hamburg is the next city on the itinerary, and from that port they will go to Christiania, Copenhagen and Stockholm. Returning again to Hamburg, they will journey down the Western coast of Europe, visiting industrial centers en route.

Completing that part of their inquiries, they will return to London and another week will be devoted to a study of conditions and legislative progress in the United Kingdom.

This is not to be a pleasure junket. The members of the commission are enthusiasts in their chosen field of inquiry and will devote practically every hour of their absence from America to the task in hand.

The commissioners expect to sail for home on the Lusitania, leaving London May 28.

HARD FOR BACHELORS.

London Globe: The Sobranje of Bulgaria has passed a law imposing a tax of about 12 shillings a year on all unmarried men who are 30 years old and older. At Tirnovo, the ancient capital, it has been a custom for many years to humiliate unmarried men.

On the first Monday in Lent all marriageable men who had not selected life partners in the carnival season were beaten on sight with inflated pigs' bladders. The bachelors always dreaded the day, while the girls looked forward to it with pleasure. Since the tax act has been passed the bachelors of Tirnovo have entered a formal protest against the continuance of the practice. They want the chastisement declared unlawful.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Duluthians interested in the preliminary skirmishes incident to party alignments before the primaries say that the warning to range interests published by the Eveleth News anent the rival candidacies of Dr. H. R. Weirick of Hibbing and P. R. Vail of Virginia is without cause. The News said there was some fear that a resident of Duluth might take advantage of the contest between the range candidates to go after and get the nomination.

However, it is conceded that the range shall have the senatorship. There is no disposition in Duluth to attempt to take it from that part of the district, and Dr. Weirick's willingness to enter the lists against Senator Vail is generally welcomed, as it will give the voteors of the Forty-ninth district an opportunity to indicate their choice of representatives in the upper house of the legislature. Dr. Weirick, who is mayor of Hibbing and one of the ablest men in public life on the range, is considered to be one of that class of men that is eagerly welcomed in the wider fields of politics by the people who are striving year in and year out for improvement in governmental conditions, in state and nation.

In view of the fact that the Republican nominee is practically assured of election, it would seem that the range should be more than pleased to have another candidate in the field, especially one of the caliber of the Hibbing mayor.

There is much more than idle talk in the suggestion that the Democrats may defeat F. C. Stevens of St. Paul for congress with T. R. Kane as their nominee. Among the rank and file of Ramsey county voters there is evidence of intense dissatisfaction with the course followed by Stevens at Washington, and in Chisago and Washington counties there are many insurgents who are not likely to forget that Stevens has trained with the reactionaries. Mr. Kane, who formerly was county attorney of Ramsey county, is one of the best known Democrats in the district and is a general favorite. He is a good campaigner and if he takes the nomination, which undoubtedly will, there is every reason to believe that the people in the Fourth district will enjoy the novelty of being actually represented at Washington. Stevens' strongest campaign plea has been based on his ability as a pork barrel raider, and the people everywhere are coming to the conclusion that the larder at home is of more importance to them than the pork barrel at Washington, which is converted so readily into a band wagon by Republican candidates for re-election to the house of representatives.

Mr. Kane was Mr. Stevens' opponent four years ago, but at that time conditions were not so favorable to the chance of Democratic success as they are now.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson, in an extended reply to Henry E. Bjorge's criticism of his record in the house, delves into the legislative record of the man who would succeed him as representative and remarks that when the Lake Park man was in the Minnesota house he voted twice to elect speakers whose powers were much greater than those possessed by the speaker of the national house, and asks: "Are we to understand that Mr. Bjorge is a candidate for the nomination of a party whose nominee for speaker he pledges himself in advance to bolt and repudiate?"

The Ninth district congressman is keeping himself in the limelight at Washington. J. T. McCleary, Mankato's "little school master," who stand-patted himself out of a job in congress, is now accused by Steenerson of lobbying for the passage of a ship subsidy law. Since his retirement from congress, McCleary has been in Washington much of the time and has manifested his diligent interest in many pending measures. Mr. McCleary's reactionary alliances are of a nature that will be readily understood in an insurgent district, and probably Mr. Steenerson is not unaware of the fact that insurgent constituents of Minnesota congressmen are not notably fond of the Mankato man.

The state committee of the county-option organization, which was to have met in St. Paul yesterday, will not get together until next Tuesday, the postponement being taken merely to meet the convenience of the twenty-three members, said one of them.

* * *

A. G. McKnight's announcement that he has decided not to be a candidate for senator from the Fifty-first district apparently leaves the field clear for Senator Laybourn. Growing business interests deter Mr. McKnight from entering the contest.

* * *

Former Attorney General Edward T. Young has come out flat-footed against the movement to make him the nominee of the county optionists for governor. William E. Lee seems to be the only visible possibility, and he probably would prefer to get the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. As things stand now, the state Republican organization might just as well reconcile itself to the thought of losing the support of this element of the party.

Pioneer Winona Woman Dead.

Winona, Minn. April 6.—Mrs. Johana Averill, one of the pioneer women of Winona is dead, aged 77.

Mrs. Averill came to Winona in 1857, and was one of the number to experience the disastrous effect of the memorable fire of 1862 that swept away the main part of the little village. She united with the Congregational church thirty-eight years ago.

One son, Charles and two daughters, Harriet Elizabeth and Marietta survive her.

STEAM PIPE IN MINE BURSTS

One Man Is Killed and Butte Works Are Shut Down---Damage Is Great.

Butte, Mont., April 6.—The bursting of a steam pipe feeding the engine of the Never Sweat mine, caused a terrific smashup in that plant yesterday afternoon.

Engineer E. L. McNabe, formerly of Vancouver, B. C., in charge of the engine, who was the only man in the engine room at the time, was killed, being decapitated.

The explosion caused the cable to break and the cages dropped. No one, however, happened to be aboard when the crash came. The hoist, one of the most expensive of new first motion engines in Butte, is completely wrecked. It was valued at $150,000, parts of the machinery being blown through the side of the building.

Three hundred men are thrown out of work for about six months by the explosion.

Prize $2,000 Calf Dead.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—The prize calf born to Princess Jacoba Irene during the last dairy show in the Auditorium died of pneumonia in Jerseyville, Ill., according to word received by Frank A. Cannon secretary. Citizens' Business league. The calf was owned by A. O. Auten, one of the largest and most successful breeders of Jersey cattle in the country, and was valued at $2,000.

DATE OF HEARING HAS BEEN SET

Case of William Schrieber to Go Before Supreme Court April 22.

On April 22, William Schrieber, convicted of the murder of Frank Massapust, will have his last chance to be saved from life imprisonment at Stillwater. On that date his case will have a hearing before the supreme court.

The attorneys in the case, Ross & McKnight, have succeeded in getting the case on the calendar of the supreme court, and the date of the hearing has been set.

All Schrieber's hopes have for some time been pinned on this hearing. His motion for a new trial was some time ago denied by Judge Dibell of the district court, and since that time he has looked forward to his hearing before the supreme court.

"Bill" Schrieber has been in the county jail for nearly two years. He is the dean of the murder colony of the jail, and in spite of the fact that the law is slow, he is still cheerful and hopeful of gaining his freedom. He has during all this time stoutly maintained his innocence of the charge on which he was proved guilty in the local court.

MARINE NEWS

CAPTAINS ARE READY

Masters of Boats Prepare for First Trip Down the Lakes.

Seamen Issue Warning That Strike Is Still in Effect.

Capt. England of the steamer England; Capt. Houghton of the steamer Ward Ames, and Capt. Benham of the steamer J. J. Sullivan, reached Duluth yesterday. The three captains are here awaiting orders. They expect to go out April 15 or before. Each of the captains expressed the opinion that the season about to open would be a very heavy one for lake traffic.

The Duluth & Iron Range road at the present time is shipping ore in small lots to Two Harbors. Though it has not been decided when the regular shipping will be begun, there is a possibility that some ore may come down next week and that some boats may load out at the docks of the company at Two Harbors.

There was no transferring of boats in the harbor today. There are quite a few boats fitting out in the harbor and there will be a heavy amount of work to do for the tugs before the season gets under way. Yesterday and today the tugs had practically nothing to do.

The local office of the Pittsburg Steamship company has been opened for the season. H. W. Brown is in charge of the office, as formerly. The office of the company has been closed part of the winter, Mr. Brown having been in Pittsburg.

Though no local agitation has caused any unusual attention to the fact that the opening of the marine season is again bringing into issue the strike of the lake seamen, a notice made its appearance this morning around the docks and slips, calling attention to the fact that the strike was on.

The sign is practically the same as the warning used last year, intended to keep men from going to work on the boats. The appearance of the sign is the first local allusion to the fact of the seamen's strike.

However, from Buffalo comes a statement from V. A. Olander, chairman of the lake district grievance committee of the International Seamen's union, in which he says the strike inaugurated by the Lake Carriers' association is driving sailors from the lakes to land occupations, and in this way depriving the country of able seamen.

Continuing a long line of discussion, Mr. Olander says the seamen's strike is not over by any means, and will be continued by the seamen the present season.

Here no thought has been given to the strike, which was regarded almost as a dead issue last season. The appearance of the strikers' sign and the message from Buffalo, simply serve to recall the fact that the strike is still on.

Barney Buys Boat.

George Barney, a local engineer, has purchased the tug Spirit for a price said to be $600. The tug will be used for a store boat, selling various articles used by the men on shipboard. The plan has been tried at Cleveland, Detroit and Buffalo and has proved successful. In addition to the store business, the tug will act as a general deliverer of small freight.

ONE SCHOLARSHIP CANNOT BE FOUND.

The misunderstanding of a telephone number may cause a very deserving child to lose out on a scholarship that had been promised her.

Miss Jean Poirier was called on the telephone in regard to the matter by a person who desired to donate the scholarship. She was not there at the time the call was left and as the party has not called up since, she thinks that there might have been a mistake.

As she is hot on the trail of scholarships, she is very anxious that the person call again. She can be reached by calling the courthouse on the new 'phone and asking the exchange there for Miss Poirier's office.

The scholarship idea was started some time ago. Several persons are paying the children the amount of money they could earn that they may remain in school.

Cook Ely is the retiring exalted ruler and he will represent Duluth lodge this year at the annual convention to be held at Detroit, Mich., in July. Robert Edwards, another former exalted ruler, is the alternative.

GEORGE S. MUNSEY.

LATE JUSTICE'S WILL IS FILED

Most of His Property Goes to His Widow and Daughters.

Washington, April 6.—No estimate of the value of the estate of the late Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court is given in his will, which was filed for probate today.

His home in this city, with most of his personal property, is bequeathed to his widow; his cottage at Thompson's Point, with its contents, and also $30,000 life insurance, are left to his three daughters. His watch he left to one of his grandsons and his ring to another. Each of his grandchildren is to select some keepsake from his personal property.

James L. Karrick, his son-in-law, and his widow, are named as his executors.

GIRL STRIKERS ENLIST DRAYMEN

Get Teamsters to Help in Strike in Tobacco District.

Louisville, Ky., April 6.—The local teamsters' union today took a hand in the strike of the stemmers of the American Tobacco company here and prevented the removal of a large amount of leaf tobacco from the American Tobacco company's plan to the depot for shipment. Girl strikers stopped the drays and entreated the drivers to refuse to handle the goods. The drivers capitulated.

There were several disturbances in the tobacco district during the night, but no serious trouble.

ADMITS MURDER AND OTHER CRIMES

Bertram Spencer Breaks Down Under Grill By the Police.

Springfield, Mass., April 6.—Unable to further withstand the examination to which the police subjected him, Bertram G. Spencer confessed today to the murder of Miss Martha B. Blackstone at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Dow on Round Hill, this city, last Thursday night. Spencer aslo confessed to the commission of many crimes in this city.

Miss Blackstone and Miss Harriet P. Dow, school teachers, were shot by a masked burglar, who entered the Dow home early on the evening of March 31. Miss Dow is recovering.

SMALL PERCENTAGE OF PUPILS BEAR SCARS.

Vaccination has not been in great favor in Duluth, according to conditions found following the investigation of the smallpox cases at the Franklin school.

Out of 750 pupils but fifty have been innoculated with the serum, which is regarded as an almost certain preventive of the dreaded disease. The health department does not believe that there is any danger of an epidemic. The school has not been closed, and unless conditions get worse it will remain open.

FIREMEN SPEND BUSY AFTERNOON

Four Alarms From Central Part of City, But Little Damage.

The city's fire fighters were kept on the jump yesterday afternoon taking care of fires in the central district, which promised to be dangerous. Any of them would have caused a serious conflagration if it had not been discovered in time to bring the firemen promptly to the scene. The losses were small because of quick action and no one was hurt.

The fire department answered two alarms from Third avenue west and Superior street yesterday afternoon, both being turned in by occupants of the store at 307 West Superior street. The damage was comparatively small.

A gas explosion in the basement of the grocery store of Maurice Flint, 825 Fourth avenue east, scared the plumber who was looking for the leak with a lighted candle, but the blaze was extinguished before it gained much headway.

A mattress, which was set on fire at the Bethel in an unknown manner, was thrown out of the window before it ignited the building. The department sent a chemical to put it out.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS TO RUN MILWAUKEE FOR NEXT TWO YEARS

waukee, said regarding the result:

"This is the first time in the history of the country that the Social Democrats have carried a large city. All I have to say at this time is that the party will give Milwaukee the best administration it ever had or that any American city ever had. A square deal for everybody will be our aim."

Will Try Reforms.

The result of the election in Milwaukee gives the Social Democrats practically complete power in civic matters for the next two years.

Many reforms are advocated by the Social Democrats which they will now attempt to put into effect. In addition to home rule for the city, the initiative and referendum, for which all three parties stood, additional measures which the Socialists stand for include municipal ownership; the sprinkling of streets by the street railway companies over its various lines; a seat for every passenger in street cars, 3-cent street car fare; eight-hour day for labor; cheaper gas; municipal ice plant; municipal light plant; full share of taxes by corporations; cheaper bread, and work for the unemployed at union wages at an eight-hour day.

May Not Get Fares Cut.

As the street railway company has a franchise which governs its rate of fare, and owing to the fact that the state railway rate commission regulates the matter of fares, the new political power in Milwaukee probably will not be able to bring about any changes in this line.

An agitation for lower city and suburban street car fares has been before the railway rate commission for over a year and various hearings have been held. So far nothing has been accomplished in the way of reduced fares.

Home rule cannot be brought into effect unless through legislative enactment, which failed at the last session of the legislature.

Milwaukee now has its own municipal garbage plant and water works, and efforts to establish a municipal light plant some time ago were blocked through a legal technicality with regard to bonds. This, however, may be overcome under the new administration.

Not a Seidel Victory.

Mayor-Elect Seidel does not look upon the victory as a personal one.

"The defeat of the capitalist party was fore-ordained because they stood upon wrong principles," says the new mayor.

Victor L. Berger, a prominent Socialist and national character, and also political adviser to the mayor-elect, and who was elected alderman-at-large, says the citizens of Milwaukee, nor even the moneyed interests, need have no fear during the Socialists' regime; that everybody will get a square deal.

There will be a thorough cleaning out of the city hall of persons who have held civic positions over a long period of years. Among the more important positions to be filled are those of health commissioner, city engineer, building inspector, commissioner of public works, water register and a member of the police and fire commission.

The Social Democratic council will name the city clerk and also its president, who is the acting mayor in the absence of the executive.

Helped By Party Revolts.

Disaffection among the adherents of the two old political parties is assigned as the reason for the great upheaval which resulted in victory for the Socialists. An analysis of the vote shows that a large number of Republicans supported the Socialists and that many Democrats broke away from their organization.

Compared with the vote of two years ago, the Democrats cast 3,000 fewer votes and the Republicans 7,000, while the Socialists gained 6,000. According to registration figures, 25,000 voters did not go to the polls.

Democrats Win in Chicago.

Chicago, April 6.—In the election of one alderman from each of the thirty-five wards here yesterday the Democrats elected 21 candidates, the Republicans 12, and the Independents 2.

The election was characterized by a crusade by the Municipal Voters' league, a non-partisan organization, against the selection of alleged "gray wolves" for the city council. The new council will be composed of 39 Democratic members, 29 Republicans and 2 Independents.

Alderman John Coughlin of the First ward was re-elected by a large majority.

It is probable the new council will have to deal with the problem of constructing a passenger subway and with gas and telephone service prices.

Saloon Men Arrested.

Except for the arrest of about forty saloon keepers for keeping open during the voting time, the election was quiet.

The suffragettes attempted to wedge in a vote when Dr. Sarah Johnson appeared at the polls and demanded a ballot. Her name appeared on the list of "registered voters," but she was not allowed to vote.

The result of the election gives the Democrats a majority in the new council, the Republicans having had a majority in the previous council.

Porter Wins in Kansas City, Kan.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—J. F. Porter was elected mayor of Kansas City, Kan., which has a commission form of government, defeating U. S. Guyer by a majority of 775. Otto Anderson, Henry F. Dean and C. W. Green have been elected commissioners. James A. Cable leads for the fourth commissionership, but the report of the last precinct may defeat him.

velt by the municipality of Rome.

At midnight Mr. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt will leave for Spezia, from which point they will begin, tomorrow morning, a carriage drive over the route to Genoa which they traversed on their honeymoon. The American newspaper correspondents who accompanied Mr. Roosevelt from Khartoum, have promised, at the former president's special request, that they will respect the privacy of this sentimental journey. The carriage drive from Spezia to Genoa, a distance of sixty-five miles, will occupy the greater part of three days.

Will Meet Pinchot.

Arriving at Genoa, the Roosevelts will proceed at once by train to Porto Maurizio, near the French frontier, where they will stop for three days at the villa of Miss Carow, Mrs. Roosevelt's sister.

Mr. Roosevelt has announced that he will receive no one at Porto Maurizio except Gifford Pinchot, the former chief forester of the United States department of agriculture.

Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Ethel will remain here until Saturday, when they will go direct to Porto Maurizio.

To Be Guest of Emperor.

Vienna, April 6.—Emperor Francis Joseph's state dinner at Schonnbrunn in honor of Mr. Roosevelt will be given on April 16. On the preceding evening Count von Aehrenthal, the foreign minister, will entertain the former president at an official dinner at the foreign office.

Predicts Better Feeling.

Washington, April 6.—A better feeling between the Catholic and Protestants in the United States will result from the Roosevelt-Vatican incident, is the opinion of Father Fleming, vice president of Georgetown university, who talked freely of the affair.

"Of course, every politician will try to make capital out of this matter," he said, "but the truth is that there is not a Catholic in America who would not admire Col. Roosevelt for the clever way in which he has acted. All Catholics will admire the sane and sensible view that Mr. Roosevelt has taken of the incident, and, on the other hand, I see no reason why every Protestant should not fully understand, without any offense, the action of the pope."

McIntyre Attacks Ireland.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—Following the publication Monday of a statement from Archbishop Ireland regarding the Roosevelt-Vatican incident and the Methodist propaganda in Rome, the Pioneer Press requested a statement from Bishop Robert McIntyre of the Southern Minnesota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, who is at present visiting in Saratoga Springs, N. Y. In an authorized interview with Bishop McIntyre received here, the bishop says:

"A telegram from my home city shows that Archbishop Ireland has again attacked the Methodist Episcopal church and dragged it into the Roosevelt episode in Rome, when it had no part or share in the matter.

"He calls my people, vile, dishonest and calumnious. I bore the Fairbanks slander from him without reply, but my patience is now exhausted.

"Double-Tongued Falsifier."

"I hereby brand John Ireland a double-tongued falsifier of God's people, a cowardly accuser of men better than himself who are offering Italians the free grace of God without any terms of priestly monopoly.

"I also challenge him to debate the question in American fashion in the open forum when I reach St. Paul. I have great Christian love for the Roman Catholic people, but the papal machine has a blood red record that stains centuries of history.

"Ireland seems to fear Methodism, and with good reason, for it stands for justice, liberty, open-minded brotherliness and equal gospel privileges to all."

Archbishop Ireland, when shown a copy of the interview with Bishop McIntyre, prepared a statement which said, in part:

"The message received from Bishop McIntyre is beneath my notice. He need not trouble himself about a debate with me on his arrival in St. Paul. I stand upright, straight before men who deal in facts or arguments. I run away from mud-slingers.

"Should Be in Rome."

"From what I now learn of Bishop McIntyre and what I have long known of Methodist methods in Rome, I am ready to say that he would be at home preaching in the Methodist hall on Via Nazionale or editing the Methodist Roman organ, the Evangelista, and its recognized ally, the Asino; much more so than lecturing in temples, Methodist or non-Methodist, in America.

"Bishop McIntyre ought to go to Rome. Judging from his present message, he is an expert in the lingo of the Roman Methodist preacher. It is just such low, insulting words, addressed to the Catholics in Rome, as those now addressed to me by Bishop McIntyre, that arraign decent people in Rome against the Methodist propaganda."

Netherlands; Judge George Gray of Delaware, and Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the supreme court of Canada.

Big Array of Counsel.

The agent of Great Britain in this argument is the Hon. A. B. Ailsworth, minister of peace in Canada. The counsel on the part of Great Britain are the Rt. Hon. Sir William Robson, K. C., attorney-general of England; the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Finlay, K. C., former attorney-general of England, Sir H. Erle Richards, K. C., and on the part of Canada, John S. Ewart, K. C., George Shepley, K. C.; W. N. Tilley, and on the part of Newfoundland the Hon. Sir Edward Morris, K. C., premier of Newfoundland; the Hon. Sir James Winter, K. C., former attorney-general of Newfoundland; D. Morrison, K. C., attorney-general of Newfoundland, and the solicitors are Messrs. Blake and Redden.

The agent of the United States is Chandler P. Anderson. The United States counsel are Senator Elihu Root, George Turner and Samuel J. Elder, and the associate counsel are James Brown Scott, solicitor for the department of state, Charles B. Warren and Robert Lansing.

turned the table and lamp as he rushed forward and that she ran outside after hearing the shots. After quiet was restored she returned, she said, and found her husband dead.

Miller Shows Strain.

Somewhat worn by the severe ordeal of three hours on the witness stand, Dr. Miller today resumed his recital. He was cross-examined by Special Prosecutor J. W. Keeslar, particularly on the events immediately following the shooting of J. B. Sayler.

Dr. Miller told of binding up his wounded wrist, sending John Grunden for help, looking at the body of the slain man, stepping to the porch and seeing Mrs. Sayler and telling her what had happened.

Before the examination of Dr. Miller was concluded, Juror B. A. Powley asked when the automatic pistol used in the shooting was bought by Dr. Miller. The witness replied he got it two or three years ago and habitually carried it.

When asked if, when warned that his relations with Mrs. Sayler might cause trouble, he replied: "Let them come, I will be ready for that," Dr. Miller denied having made the remark.

Miller Finishes Story.

Counsel for the state sought to cause Dr. Miller to admit that he had made statements to friends at variance with his present version of the affair. The witness declared he had no knowledge of having done so. He was then excused from the witness stand.

As she was reciting the story of the shooting of her husband, Mrs. J. B. Sayler, who followed Dr. Miller to the stand, broke down and wept.

She told of her husband attacking Dr. Miller and of herself running from the house before shots were fired.

Miller yesterday dramatically recited his version of the shooting. The climax of the day came when Dr. Miller, seated in a huge red rocking chair, the same he had occupied that July night, told the jury what he remembered of the affair.

Gave Dramatic Description.

Not a hint was given by the witness of the motive which prompted what he said was a savage attack on him. Through it all, his co-defendant, Mrs. J. B. Sayler, widow of the slain man, sat with bowed head and tear-stained eyes, while John Grunden, her father, also under the shadow of the same accusation, stared straight ahead.

In brief, the witness said that Sayler, who had refused to join the three defendants in a game of cards, rushed into the little parlor, seized a hand-ax from beneath a couch, struck at him, overturning the lamp and then in the darkness grappled in a death struggle which ended only when four bullets had pierced the attacker's frame.

As he told his story, Dr. Miller leaned far back in the rocking chair, placed before the jury box, almost overturning it, swaying from side to side, as he pictured the combat.

nati, but it is now likely that he will be there only on May 3. He will be in St. Louis on May 4, according to the revised plan, and be back in Washington the morning of May 6.

Invited by Fairbanks.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—The invitation to President Taft was extended to the president by Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks. In a telegram Mr. Fairbanks said the citizens of Indianapolis and the state would be pleased to extend to him a welcome if he would arrange to visit the city on his trip West.

The president accepted the invitation.

Mr. Fairbanks expressed great disappointment today when informed that the president had decided to cancel his visit here and said he would immediately send him a telegram urging him to visit the city if he possibly could do so.

Mr. Fairbanks and all those associated with him in the preparations for the reception of President Taft declined to discuss reports that his cancellation of his engagement to come to Indianapolis was due to the action yesterday of the state Republican convention, which did not indorse the national administration's tariff law and did indorse the course in the senate of United States Senator Beveridge, who voted against the law.

Beveridge Will Not Talk.

Chicago, April 6.—Senator Beveridge stopped in Chicago today on his way to Washington, but refused to be interviewed.

Two reporters, heavily laden with questions concerning the so-called "insurgent" victory in Indianapolis yesterday, President Taft's cancellation of his Indianapolis visit and other matters of public moment, Senator Beveridge replied:

"For ten years I have denied myself to interviewers, and cannot break the rule now."

The Indiana senator expects to arrive in Washington tomorrow afternoon.

Monroe, Trempealau, Marinette and Green Bay.

Edgerton changed from wet to dry by six votes. Other towns to change from wet to dry were Barron, Gays Mills, Alma Center and Coon Center.

Dry towns remaining dry: Stoughton, Viroqua, Lodi, Cumberland, Brodhead, Viola, Dallas, Colma, Oak, La Farge, Argyle and Readstown.

The following places elected Republican mayors: Black River Falls, J. J. McGillivray; Lodi, George O. Gordon; Baraboo, Charles Bender; Platteville, L. L. Cleary; Elroy, John E. Hart; Plymouth, C. W. Starrett; Green Bay, Winfred Abrahams.

Democratic mayors: Hudson, A. P. Kealy; Ripon, L. A. Craig; Chippewa Falls, John T. Twohy; Fond du Lac, E. W. Clark; Antigo, F. W. Pinders; Portage, Moses J. Downey; Marinette, Joseph Fischer.

Wets Win at Bayfield.

Ashland, Wis., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The wets carried Bayfield yesterday by a majority of less than 100 and Washburn by about 80, a small gain for the drys. No election was held at Ashland. Wachsmuth was re-elected mayor of Bayfield, and Gus Herring mayor of Washburn.

ECUADOR AND PERU TOLD TO BEHAVE

Spain Sends Telegrams Enjoining Them Not to Resort to Arms.

Madrid, April 6.—The Spanish cabinet today dispatched to the cabinets of Peru and Ecuador telegrams enjoining those governments to adopt a conciliatory attitude toward each other.

The Spanish government considers that it is its duty to tender this advice, as King Alfonso is the arbitrator of the boundary disputes which gave rise to the ill feeling and subsequent war talk among the people of both republics.

FIVE HAULED FROM DEATH.

Men Working in Caisson in New York Imperiled By Fire.

New York, April 6.—Fire in the shaft above their heads threatened the lives of five men working today in a caisson 125 feet below ground in the foundation of the new municipal building under Brooklyn bridge terminal. Dense volumes of smoke poured from the shaft, where electric wires had become crossed and had ignited combustibles nearby.

Fearing that the men would be suffocated, the foreman on the work hastily ordered the steel bucket lowered. The five scrambled in, and the car shot up through the smoke. They reached the surface fainting, but were soon revived.

Firemen flooded the caisson, putting out the blaze.

TURKEY SENDS ARMY TO CRUSH ALBANIANS.

Constantinople, Aprilm 6.—Fourteen battalions of Turkish troops here have ben ordered to North Albania, where a revolt has broken out. The trouble is attributed to resentment against the new taxes imposed, and is causing the government much anxiety.

TORPEDO BOAT SETS NEW NAVAL RECORD.

Pensacola, Fla., April 6.—A speed in excess of thirty-five miles an hour for four consecutive hours was the record made yesterday in the gulf by the torpedo boat Flusher of the seventh torpedo flotilla. The vessel carried a board of naval officers making a final inspection and speed test of the five new destroyers which recently reached her. The speed is the greatest ever attained by a naval vessel of the United States.

SEVERE FROST HITS SOUTHWESTERN FRUIT.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—A severe frost which, it is feared, did much damage to fruit buds and tender plants was general all over Kansas, Oklahoma and Northern Missouri last night. Freezing temperatures prevailed over Central and Western Kansas.

HOOSIER "DRYS" WILL PUT UP PARTY TICKET.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—The Prohibitionists of Indiana met in convention today to name a ticket and frame a platform for this year's campaign. A. B. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo was chairman of the convention. A candidate for United States senator also will be chosen. Members of the state committee said the platform would denounce the county option law as an ineffectual measure that had failed to wipe out the saloons of Indiana. Instead state wide prohibition by statute will be urged.

Yerkes Paintings Auctioned.

New York, April 6.—Forty-three pictures from the famous collection of the late Charles T. Yerkes brought 225 last night at the auction sale of his works of art.

The top price of tonight's sale was $22,600 paid by Henry Reinhardt of Chicago for "Spring" by Alma-Tadema. "A Frugal Meal" by Josef Israels went for $19,500, while "Cupid's Realm," by Bouguerau brought $10,000. "Landscapes at Sunset," by Inness sold for $8,400.

Honduran and His American Wife Both Suing for Divorce.

New York, April 6.—Both Isa Willard Hein, Honduran vice consul here and his wife, who was Edna Valentine, are seeking a divorce, and between them they have named eleven co-respondents.

Mrs. Hein appeared yesterday in the supreme court in her own case, besides which she is the defendant in the counter-suit of her husband. Mrs. Hein names six co-respondents in her suit and her husband names five, among them Norman Selby, otherwise known as "Kid McCoy," pugilist.

Mrs. Hein is a daughter of Washington S. Valentine, a wealthy importer.

Cure for Liquor Habit

Give Orrine and Destroy All Desire. Sold Under Guarantee.

Orrine is the most successful cure for the liquor habit that the world has ever known. It is a home treatment, given without publicity, detention from business or loss of time, and is absolutely guaranteed if the simple directions on each box are carefully followed. So remarkable have been the changes wrought for suffering drinking men by Orrine that leading ministers, charity workers, philanthropists and druggists everywhere recommend the treatment. Thousands of endorsements have been given for the remedy.

Read this one from the Quaker Drug Co., Seattle, Wash. "During the past five years we have sold thousands of packages of ORRINE, and have never heard it spoken of except in highest terms of praise. We have dozens of people come to us and state that ORRINE has cured them, or their husbands, or dear ones from the curse of drunkenness. ORRINE is one of the few articles on the market that we can conscientiously recommend to our customers, and we do so daily feeling that we have done what to us seems a duty as well as a service."

Orrine is prepared in two forms. No. 1, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. Orrine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves. Orrine costs only $1 a box. In every box is a guarantee which entitles you to a refund of your money if Orrine fails to effect a cure. Write for Free Orrine Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to Orrine Co., 457 Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. Orrine is for sale in this city by W. A. Abbett, 129 West Superior street, 930 East Second street, 101 West Fourth street. They know Orrine is a reliable and efficacious remedy for drunkenness and they will not offer you a substitute.

H. Fleming, Clerk of School Board of Virginia, Minn.

F. R. CRUMPTON RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF SUPERIOR

Wins Three-Cornered Fight Against O'Hare and Konkel.

One Social Democrat Elected to Board of Supervisors.

MAYOR FRANK R. CRUMPTON.

Mayor Frank R. Crumpton of Superior was re-elected yesterday, defeating his two Democratic opponents, C. N. O'Hare and J. S. Konkel, and Charles Swanson, Social Democrat, in one of the quietest elections ever held in that city.

The vote was:

Crumpton (Rep.)	1,472
O'Hare (Dem.)	1,381
Konkel (Ind.)	1,241
Swanson (Soc. Dem.)	374

Konkel, who two years ago was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for mayor and was defeated by Crumpton in the election, ran yesterday as an independent. He filed by petition after being beaten for the nomination by O'Hare, who was mayor of Superior for a period of four years ending four years ago. The total vote of 4,400 votes was exceptionally heavy for a Superior municipal election.

The vote by wards for mayor:

	Crumpton, R.	O'Hare, D.	Swanson, S. D.	Konkel, Ind.
First ward	136	250	20	71
Second ward	114	67	14	66
Third ward (east)	59	45	10	77
Third ward (west)	70	69	31	102
Fourth ward (first)	84	77	40	80
Fourth ward (second)	78	78	43	100
Fifth ward	183	115	30	172
Sixth ward (east)	101	67	9	71
Sixth ward (west)	107	72	17	70
Seventh ward (first)	140	95	8	88
Seventh ward (second)	133	93	27	137
Eighth ward	60	78	12	76
Ninth ward	128	105	81	115
Tenth ward	82	180	25	30

Constables (two elected)—Baker (Rep.), 1,574; Woods (Rep.), 1,493; Clemens (Ind.), 915.

Socialist Elected.

One of the surprises of the election was the success of H. M. Parks, Social Democrat, who was elected supervisor for the Fourth ward, defeating M. P. Schweitzer, formerly a Democrat, who was nominated on the Republican ticket. Mr. Parks is the first Social Democrat to be elected to a county office in Douglas county.

The defeat of Treasurer Alvord by Kane was unexpected by many of the rank and file, but did not come as a complete surprise to the politicians.

The mayoralty fight was not without picturesque features. Konkel, who styled himself an "anti-brewery" candidate, and O'Hare, the regular Democratic nominee have been involved for years in a personal political feud. O'Hare and Crumpton are on the friendliest of terms, the Republican mayor having appointed the Democrat to a place on the board of public works soon after he took office. Konkel's activities in Superior politics have not been spasmodic, but rather perpetual, and he has been accused of being a habitual candidate. This condition had led to some feeling against him among the rank and file of Superior Democracy and O'Hare's strong and successful fight for the nomination was an expression of that resentment.

O'Hare's platform was his record as mayor, and Crumpton's was the same. Konkel based his appeal for support on the declaration that he was opposed to brewery domination of local conditions by means of control of the retail liquor business and the men engaged in it. He wanted to make it impossible for the breweries to own the licenses under which Superior saloons are operated. Never before have two Democrats contested in the election in Superior for the office, but, although Konkel was made the object of many attacks and replied vigorously to those verbal assaults, the campaign was comparatively a quiet one.

That the feeling of enmity between O'Hare and Konkel was acute is indicated by the fact that the voters were quick to pounce upon a rumor yesterday that O'Hare had withdrawn and thrown his strength toward Crumpton, but the Democratic nominee promptly refuted this report.

Mayor's Statement.

Mayor Crumpton, in a statement issued after the results became known, said:

"I am well pleased with the result and thank the people for what they have done for me. The vote I received I appreciate fully and hope that the next two years will be as pleasant as the two just past, and I will certainly endeavor to make them so to the best of my ability. My guess as to the vote that Mr. O'Hare and I would receive, which I made Sunday, was very close, giving Mr. O'Hare 1,390 and expecting 1,500 for myself, while the total shows us to have received 1,381 and 1,472, respectively."

O'Hare's Attitude.

Mr. O'Hare's attitude is clearly indicated by this statement issued by the defeated Democratic nominee:

"I have already personally congratulated Mayor Crumpton on his re-election, and am glad to do so publicly. This election has no disappointment to me, and I have no regrets at the outcome of the race. Mr. Crumpton has during the past years given the city a good administration, and I know he will endeavor to give as good and better, if possible, during the period for which he has been re-elected. Our city has been growing finely, and Mayor Crumpton has been advocating improvements in keeping with our advance in prominence. Co-operation is what we need and must have, so let us all pull together with the mayor and his advisory board in order to make the city a bigger and better one."

Mr. Konkel's sentiments are more briefly but quite as pointedly expressed:

"I want to thank the people who supported and voted for me. They all did good work and the showing made was the result of their efforts in my behalf. As to the others—I am d—n glad that O'Hare was defeated."

NOTICE!

To Meat Dealers and Milk Dealers

TO MEAT DEALERS—You are hereby warned against buying or selling Meat that has not been inspected by the Federal Meat Inspector, or the Meat Inspector of the City of Duluth.

If any dealer disregards this notice and the inspector finds the meat unfit for consumption and a menace to public health, it will be destroyed and the dealer will be prosecuted under the ordinance prescribed by the City of Duluth.

TO MILK DEALERS—You are hereby warned against buying or selling milk from cows that have not passed the Tuberculin test prescribed by city ordinance. If any local dealer procures milk from cows shipped into this city which have not been tested for tuberculosis, or from cows outside the city which have not been so tested, the Health Department of the City of Duluth will seize such milk and hold same until the cows have undergone the Tuberculin test. In case of tainted milk, prosecutions will follow under the city ordinances. If milk from non-tested cows is mixed with the milk from tested cows, the health department will seize and hold the whole until the cows are given a clean bill of health under the Tuberculin test.

THIS WARNING MUST BE OBSERVED IN THE INTEREST OF PUBLIC HEALTH.

Duluth, April 6, 1910.

HENRY E. WEBSTER,

Health Commissioner of the City of Duluth.

SAVED BY HIS BOYHOOD FRIEND

If N. F. Hugo had not fallen in with a boyhood friend whom he had not seen for years, the Duluth man and his family might yet be looking for hotel accommodations at Atlantic City.

They arrived in Atlantic City at the time the city was crowded with Easter guests, and a number of hotels were visited that were unable to furnish accommodations. The party had almost given up hope when "Bob" Dunlop, the old-time friend, came to the rescue and found room for the party at his new hotel.

Mr. Hugo and Mr. Dunlop had not seen each other for some thirty-one years. They had known each other as boys in Kingston.

Chinaman Acquitted.

Charlie Lee, a Chinaman accused of threatening to assault Hiljo Lampinen with a butcher knife in the kitchen of the Ohio restaurant, was found not guilty by the jury which heard the case in police court yesterday afternoon. It was claimed that the Celestial became angry because the complainant and another employe were waltzing.

TRANSIT COMPANY SAYS STRIKE IS OVER NOW.

Philadelphia, April 6.—Saying that it has in its employ more than 5,000 of the 7,000 men needed for the operation of its cars at this season of the year, the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company announced yesterday that, in so far as it is concerned, the strike of its former employes is at an end. The company added that for the vacancies still existing in the operating forces, the strikers, if they applied for work, would be given the preference over other applicants.

The leaders of the strike, on the other hand, maintain that the strike has settled into a struggle of endurance, and that the company in the end will be forced to grant concessions and take back all of the strikers.

CLUB FORMED AT PROCTOR

Commercial Club Organized to Boost Thriving Hill-Top Village.

Visitors From Duluth and West Duluth Pledge Support.

Following a banquet at the Duquesne hotel, attended by over 100 residents of Proctor and visitors from Duluth and West Duluth, the Proctor Commercial club was organized last night with a charter membership of about seventy-five. The following officers were elected: President, H. Peyton; vice president, George Holbrook; secretary, Stephen Areatz; treasurer, C. J. Birch; board of trustees and executive committee, G. M. McEwen, Patrick McCabe, J. S. Brown, John Hassett and Alex Brayden.

A. J. Ramshaw acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, promised the hearty co-operation of the Duluth organization in any project in which Proctor people are interested, and A. G. MacAuley spoke in similar terms for the West Duluth Commercial club, of which he is president. J. J. Frey of West Duluth touched on the matter of a street railway between Proctor and Duluth and said an active Commercial club behind the project in Proctor would aid materially in securing the line.

P. McCabe spoke on "The Farmers' Market," and urged close co-operation with the recently organized Produce exchange. D. M. Nelll of Red Wing, president of the Minnesota Federation of Commercial clubs, gave the Proctor people some valuable advice on organization. J. S. Brown spoke on "The Interests of Our Children," and Rev. Father Walsh urged the necessity of boosting to make the proposed organization a success. M. J. Filiatrault of West Duluth and E. F. Davis, secretary of the Proctor Y. M. C. A., also spoke.

President Peyton announced that the next meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday evening at the town hall at 8 o'clock.

INSURGENT TO OPPOSE MANN

Cannon Supporter From Chicago Must Fight for His Seat.

Washington, April 6.—Representative Mann of Chicago, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce and one of the Republican leaders of that body, is to have "insurgent" opposition for renomination, according to information in circulation at the capital.

Walter Clyde Jones, a member of the Illinois state senate and author of the state primary law, who is in Washington at present, is said to be grooming himself for a race against Mr. Mann in the primaries. It is stated that he will make issues of Mr. Mann's close association with the house "organization," his continuous support of Speaker Cannon in all matters, and his opposition to the recent reform of the house rules.

Representative Mann long has been one of the influential members of the lower house. The fact that he is to encounter opposition for a renomination is a subject of much comment among his colleagues.

THREE-CENT FARE PAYS.

Cleveland Street Car Company Books Are Checked Up.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 6.—Three-cent street railway fares on the Cleveland Traction system have not only proved a paying venture, but after a month's operation promises to give a handsome surplus to the railway company.

The statement issued by the company covering its operations for the month of March, or since the lifting of the receivership, shows a probable profit of .66 cents over the average car mile expense, or $13,964.24 over and above operating expenses and the 6 per cent return allowed the stockholders.

The company's disbursements have not been summed up by the accountants, but they are estimated at $448,770, as against earnings of $496,733.39.

Trans-Andes Tunnel Opened.

Santiago, Chile, April 6.—The Trans-Andes tunnel was formally opened yesterday with the passage through of a train bearing the Chilean and Argentine commissioners and other representatives of both countries. The occasion was one of general celebration.

The tunnel is 12,000 feet above sea level, five miles long and links the republics of Chile and Argentina commercially.

Appendicitis

How to Avoid It and Escape a Surgical Operation, Told By One Who Knows.

A Simple Method That Is Always Efficacious—Trial Package Free.

It has only been a few years since it was discovered that a surgical operation would cure appendicitis; in fact, it has been but a short time since the disease was discovered and named.

Whenever there is an inflamed condition of the appendix, caused by impacted faeces in the small cavity opening into the intestine, you then have appendicitis.

The older doctors used to call this inflammation of the bowels, and were puzzled to know the cause.

Even now, with all the knowledge we have of the disease, no medical man can tell you why we should have an appendix, why we find it where it is, or what are its functions, if it has any.

The disease for which the operation is a cure is usually caused by indigestion, and in many cases follows a large and indigestible meal.

Physicians have until recently recommended an operation, but now, as it is known that it is caused by indigestion, or dyspepsia, a cure without an operation is assured.

Where the patient is treated with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the unhealthy conditions prevailing rapidly disappear, the stomach and intestines are placed back in their normal condition, every organ of the body operates as it should, and the inflammation is reduced and the operation is avoided.

Conscientious physicians, who are looking after the best interests of their patients, will always keep a supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy in their office, where in cases of sudden attacks of indigestion they can relieve the patient at once.

There is no record of a case of appendicitis where the stomach and bowels were in a healthy condition and properly digested the food from meal to meal.

No better advice can be given to any one who has attacks of indigestion, or who has been threatened with appendicitis, than to tell him to go to the drug store, pay 50 cents, and take home a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Whenever heartburn, gas in stomach or bowels, heart disease or stomach troubles, sour eructations, acidity or fermentation are present, act at once. Take a dose of the Tablets and get relief as soon as possible.

At all druggists—50 cents.

Send us your name and adress today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

PREVENTS AN AWFUL WRECK

Newcomer in Red River Valley Gets Into the Hero Class.

Warns Railroad Officials Cars Have Blown Onto the Main Line.

Crookston, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The persistency of a newcomer from Iowa in following three carloads of machinery, household goods and chickens for a distance of nine miles prevented a disastrous wreck on the Northern Pacific Monday night.

The cars had been side-tracked at Melvin and the horses and other stock removed before dark, the chickens and all other goods being left in the cars to be unloaded later. A gale was blowing from the south and was strong enough to blow the cars out on the main line and they headed for Crookston. The owner, Carl Johnson, before retiring, thought he would take a final look at the cars to see if everything was all right. He was thunderstruck to discover that no cars were there.

Starts After Cars.

He at once started down the tracks and walked clear to Harold station, near where he found the three cars, which had been stopped by an up-grade for a short distance. He found a telephone at Harold and telephoned to Crookston and the Northern Pacific at once sent a switch engine down and had the cars side-tracked just before the fast freight train dashed past. This fast freight did not stop at Harold station and in the dead of night there would, without doubt, have been a disastrous wreck had it not been for the walk taken by Johnson, and the notification the Northern Pacific officials here received.

Body of Missing Farm Foreman, Bearing Evidence of Murder, Found.

Wahpeton, N. D., April 6.—What will undoubtedly culminate as one of the most brutal murders ever perpetrated in the annals of Richland county has been brought to light here.

Boys playing along the Red river, near the sand bar at the wagon bridge, found the decomposed body of a man entangled in the weeds and grasses and endeavored to pull it on shore, but could not do it and summoned help.

The body proved to be that of Albert Moe of Fergus Falls who was foreman on the great Johnson farm near this city.

Last Seen Across River.

The last seen of Moe was last fall at Breckenridge, across the river from here. He came to town with some money on his person and it is said visited a saloon. The last seen of the man was when he was about to start for home. He disappeared and a search for him proved futile.

From the condition of the body he was enticed near the river, where he was attacked, knifed and beaten to death. An examination of the body shows a knife wound in the chest. The head was crushed, evidently with some blunt instrument, over the left eye. The pockets of the dead man's clothes had been rifled and all cash as well as a gold watch taken.

AWARD SCHOOL CONTRACT.

East Grand Forks Lets Contract to Firm in Crookston.

East Grand Forks, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board has awarded the contract for the erection of a new school building on Minnesota point, to Ness & Hegglund, contractors, of Crookston, for $15,100.

The contract for plumbing was awarded to the Dakota Plumbing & Heating company of Grand Forks for $1,129, and the contract for heating and ventilating to Kelleher & Paulsness of this city, for $2,710.

The contract calls for the completion of the building by Aug. 15, and it is said that contractors will begin work of erection in the course of a week or so.

GRAIN COMPANY FORMED.

Minnesota and Montana People Have Incorporated a Concern.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Montana & Dakota Grain company has been organized and incorporated by Messrs. Louis Hanson, Math Barzen and C. J. and D. N. Winton of Thief River Falls, and M. J. Dunn of Culbertson, Mont. This company owns a line of elevators running north of this city on the Great Northern, as well as several elevators west on the Soo and Great Northern, in adjoining states. The capital stock of the concern is $50,000. Much of the wheat purchased in the Western states will be brought to this city and manufactured into flour at the company's mills.

BRIDGE IS AGAIN FIRED.

Suspicion Attaches to Effort to Destroy Rock Island Span.

Owatonna, Minn., April 6.—The third railway bridge within a week to be burned in this vicinity has caused officials to suspect incendiarism. Monday the fifty-foot bridge on the Rock Island, north of the city, burned, and every evidence showed that the bridge was set on fire. All trains were delayed and traffic from the north interrupted.

As the bridge was fired shortly before a heavily loaded passenger train from Chicago was expected, it is feared that some malicious persons are attempting vengeance for some fancied wrong. A peculiar coincidence is that the first bridge to be burned was also just before this same train was due. The second bridge was on the Northwestern. The circumstances will be thoroughly investigated at once.

LIGHTNING UNDER BED.

St. Cloud Man and Wife Have Thrilling Experience.

St. Cloud, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bolt of lightning struck the home of Homer McKenzie here Monday night, entering at the roof and passing down the wall close to where Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were sleeping, tearing up the boards under their bed, knocking plaster from the walls and hurling pictures and other movables about. Both occupants of the bed got a shock, but were not seriously injured. The total damage is about $500.

MANGLED BY FLYWHEEL.

Minot Boy Killed, Fatally Injured in Soo's Pump House.

Minot, N. D., April 6.—Crushed and mangled by an accidental contact with the fly wheel of a gasoline engine in the Soo pumphouse, Karl S. Halverson, a young man, 18 years of age, died three hours after he was taken to the hospital.

Halverson had been employed as tender at the pumphouse for some time. While oiling the engine, the boy's arm in some manner became entangled in the flywheel, which instantly smashed one side of his body to a pulp. He was taken to the hospital at once where he died three hours after the accident.

Halverson is one of a family of twelve children. His parents reside in this city.

CONSIDERING CHURCH WORK.

German Lutheran Synod Is Meeting at Wylie, Minn.

Crookston, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the German Lutheran district synod opened a three-days session yesterday at Wylie. Many matters of importance will be considered including a campaign for active extension work and the establishment of a number of new pastorates during the coming year.

The influx of Germans to the Northwest during the past few years, and the addition of many more this spring has opened a wild field for activity on the part of the followers of this faith, which proposes to establish churches in every community where a nucleus for an organization can be secured.

Where the congregations are small one pastor will take care of two or more charges until the congregations become self-supporting.

Among the speakers will be: Rev. Mr. Hinz of Fisher, Minn.; Rev. Mr. Buegel of St. Thomas, N. D.; Rev. Mr. Lange, Crystal, N. D.; and Rev. Mr. Walper of Grand Forks.

FAVOR UPPER PENINSULA TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM

Houghton, Mich., April 6.—By a large majority, Houghton county voted to appropriate $15,000 for a public tuberculosis sanitarium in Marquette county, where an identical issue carried by a big vote.

HUGE GASOLINE TANK CAR IS BEING BUILT.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northwestern Drainage company, of which A. M. Argin is the local manager, has had constructed in the Soo yards here a large tank car capable of holding 20,000 gallons of gasoline which will be used along the Great Northern line north of here, for replenishing the various gasoline stations along the road. This will serve as fuel for the large ditching machines which the Northwestern Drainage company has in operation east of the railway in Eastern Marshall county north of this city. Coal is also utilized for fuel, but where more easily secured the liquid fuel is preferable.

HEROIC MARINETTE WOMAN SAVES CHILDREN'S LIVES.

Marinette, Wis., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most heroic acts ever performed in Marinette county was the rescue by Mrs. John Tweedie of her four children from a burning home. When the mother reached one of the children the bed in which it was sleeping was already on fire. Although badly burned herself, the mother succeeded in getting all her children out of the burning house into the street with only their night clothes on, just as the roof crashed in. The family lost everything.

PLAINTIFF IN BIG SUIT GETS LESS THAN ASKED.

Eau Claire, Wis., April 6.—Carl Trojan, who sued the Omaha railway for $45,000 for personal injury, received judgment for $3,500 at the hands of a jury in the circuit court after the twelve men deliberated sixteen hours.

The railroad settled the suit brought by Charles Singel for $20,000 for the loss of an arm, paying the plaintiff a substantial sum and the action was dismissed.

State Land Appraisement.

Red Lake Falls, Wis., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—K. O. Gigstad of St. Hilarre and Daniel O'Neill of this city are appraising the state lands in Red Lake county which will be offered at public sale this spring by the state auditor. As compared with other counties, but a small tract of state land remains in the county, the rich nature of the soil and its close proximity to railways have brought it on the market, when the lands in other sections were begging for buyers.

ISLAND LAKE MAN IS KILLED RIDING PILOT.

Bemidji, Minn., April 6.—Fred O. Sibley, a Lake Island merchant and one of the first county commissioners of Beltrami county, was killed Monday night at the Whitefish spur of the Wilton & Northern railroad. He was riding on the pilot of the locomotive, which collided with four cars that had been blown down the switch and onto the main line by the wind. He was 50, and is survived by a widow and one child.

Fertile, Minn., Dam Gone.

Fertile, Minn., April 6.—The new concrete dam at this place that furnishes power for the Fertile Roller mills, was undermined and went out Monday. The dam was built late last fall by the Minneapolis Bridge & Iron company at a cost of about $9,000. The new steel bridge that spans the dam is in danger of falling.

Body Taken to Philadelphia.

Menominee, Mich., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry G. Heyde, who died in the Newberry asylum from mental trouble, resulting from a cold in the head, was taken to Philadelphia for burial. He was for seventeen years head clerk for G. T. Weline of Nadeau.

Youthful Duck Hunter Drowns.

Cedarville, Mich., April 6.—Hunting ducks with a number of companions, George Pavlat, aged 19, of this section of Mackinac county, was drowned when his boat filled with water and was swamped. Two companions narrowly escaped the same fate.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—The body of Morris Lawis, whose death occurred at the Lake Superior general hospital Saturday morning after an illness of one week, was shipped to Detroit for interment. The funeral will be held Thursday from the residence of a sister of the deceased.

Hancock—Frank C. Condon of Hancock is a candidate for legislature from this district to succeed A. D. Edwards of Atlantic, who will, it is understood seek the place vacated by Senator Charles Smith of Hubbell in the upper house of the state.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—Charles H. Porritt has let the contract for the new Northern hotel, which is to be constructed on Broadway near the tracks of the Great Northern, to Bowers Bros. for $28,000. The new hotel will be leased to Messrs. Bloodwiek & Lesness, and it will be completed during the summer.

Bottineau, N. D.—Charles Tessiuer, marshal at Overly, was found dead in his chair at the town hall. Heart failure was the cause of his death. He was 65 years old and is survived by his wife and three children. He had been a resident of Overly since the town was started, coming from Argyle, Minn.

Wahpeton, N. D.—The 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Strong was accidently drowned near the Shirley bridge near Breckenridge. The little fellow was fishing from a stump on the bank, and the strong wind blew him into the river.

Fargo, N. D.—Charles W. Haworth died Sunday in Gardner township at the age of 53 years, 5 months and 18 days, the cause of death being acoute Bright's disease from which he had been suffering only a short time. Mr. Haworth moved to Gardner from Ridge Farm, Ill., three or four weeks ago and expected to make his home in this country, when he was taken ill. He was born in Virginia, Ill.

Watertown, S. D.—Despite denials made by officials who have since severed their connection with the South Dakota Central railroad, it is practically certain that the Minneapolis & St. Louis road has acquired control of that line.

Grafton, N. D.—On Friday, April 1, occurred the death of J. C. Anderson, one of Grafton's pioneer settlers, after a brief illness with pneumonia. He was born in Waupaca county, Jan. 6, 1859. He came to Grafton thirty years ago and has made his home in this city ever since.

Bismarck, N. D.—Sergeant Wade of the United States army, has been appointed for duty in the office of the adjutant general here and took up his duties recently. His work for the present will be instructing men and officers of the different companies in the drills.

Spearfish, S. D.—Frank Bryant, one of the old time mining men and prospectors of the Hills, died at his home here, a victim of cancer of the liver. He was about 70 years of age, and leaves a family.

McKenzie, N. D.—Charles Murray, a stranger, has about an even chance to recover from self-inflicted wounds on his throat made with a penknife with suicidal intent. The man claims to be from Des Moines, Iowa. He has been suffering from melancholia, and it was when temporarily deranged from this cause that he slashed his throat. His condition is serious.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Beloit—Former Police Officer Fred Janvrein waived examination and was remanded for trial for killing John Hayes last week. Judge Rosa of the municipal court could not fix a bail and Janvrein is in jail awaiting action on a bail by Judge Grimm of the circuit court.

Manitowoc—Originating in the center of the mill, presumably from the boiler room, fire destroyed the sawmill and yards of J. J. Konop at Wayside, just over the Manitowoc county line. Besides the mill a large quantity of lumber and also shingles were consumed. The Wayside village fire department was powerless to cope with the flames.

Oshkosh—The cries of Clara Floeths and Naomi Stevens, employed at a candy factory, brought rescue after they fell into the waters of the Fox river, while seated in a skiff. Oscar Mietzel plunged in and brought them safely to the river bank.

Wausau—Leo Monton, one of the trio of young men charged with robbing the store of Dennison, Liver & Coerper company at Moon, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the state prison. Monton is 19 years old and unable to read or write.

Eagle River—The O'Connor-Loughlin block, valued at $22,000, was destroyed by fire. It will be rebuilt of reinforced concrete and will be a trifle larger than the old building.

Appleton—Brokaw hall, to cost $60,000 and to be used as a Y. M. C. A. building and boys' dormitory, will be erected by Lawrence college this season. A Wisconsin man who requests that his identity be withheld, has given most of the necessary cash and asks that the building be named after his lamented friend, N. H. Brokaw, who lived in Kaukauna, and who was one of the best known paper manufacturers in Wisconsin.

Oshkosh—William Davies, claiming Shiocton as his home, came to Oshkosh today with a well developed case of smallpox and was at once placed in quarantine. He is expected to recover shortly.

Madison—Following the visit of a stranger who represented himself as electrical inspector of the Madison Gas & Electric company, Chi Omega girls, whose sorority house is in the university section, discovered Monday that $15 was gone. He also visited other sorority and student boarding houses, but he was closely watched there.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Little Falls—The sorting works north of the city opened Tuesday morning for the summer's work. A full crew of about fifty men were put to work at the commencement of the season and it is expected that the work will progress smoothly during an exceptionally long season.

Sauk Rapids — Mrs. Barbara Kryzkowski died late Sunday at the age of 74. The deceased has been suffering from a complication of diseases brought on by old age for a long time, and death was not unexpected. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Wallat of Poley. The funeral was held here Monday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Agather officiating.

St. Cloud — Chief of Police John Quinlivan received a letter from N. Meers of Seattle, inquiring about the relatives of a man named John McDougal, who died a few days ago. The writer seemed confident that several brothers of the deceased man lived in St. Cloud, but the chief is unable to locate any one by that name.

Moorhead — The first movement in the political contest of 1910 was made by E. J. Murphy of Felton on Saturday afternoon, when he filed for the Republican nomination for sheriff, subject to the will of the primaries.

Brainerd—The funeral of Mrs. Caleb Shodal, Sunday afternoon, was one of the largest in Brainerd in years. There were brief services at the residence of H. A. Carmichael, at 2 o'clock, followed by services at the First Methodist Episcopal church. These services were conducted by Rev. Charles Fox Davis, and were followed by interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Crookston — The Brotherhood of the Congregational church has planned a very important evening for Thursday of this week. President Frank L. McVey, of the University of North Dakota, has accepted an invitation to come to Crookston for that occasion and will be the guest of honor at the Brotherhood luncheon at 6:30, and at 8 p. m. will deliver a lecture on "The Making of a City."

Winona — Prof. A. R. Kent, who has been a member of the Winona normal school faculty for the past year and who has done most excellent work, will not return for another year, having decided to pursue special studies for the ministry. Prof. Kent is now a local preacher in the Methodist church.

Mankato—Dr. D. B. Catlin of this city has encouraged subscriptions amounting to $25,000, which it is expected to increase to $100,000, for the erection of a sanitorium at Point Lookout, in New Ulm, and the project is practically a go. Interests of that city will meet next Friday night to organize a company and discuss the plans with Dr. Catlin.

Rochester—H. M. Nowell has gone to St. Paul, where he will be joined by F. A. Chadbourn of Columbus, Wis. They will go to Great Falls, Monta, and there will dispose of 1,000 acres of land which they own jointly. The selling price will be $175 per acre.

Winona—Mrs. Maude Dunning Pond, daughter of wealthy parents in Winona, has been granted a divorce from her husband in Denver, Col., and she will come here to make her home in the future.

Stillwater — Max, son of Adolph Lange, died Monday at the home, south of the city limits, of tuberculosis, aged 18 years. He was born and brought up here and attended the high school two years, but on account of poor health was obliged to give up his studies. His mother died less than a year ago. Surviving are the father and three brothers.

Do Not Show Your Age in Your Complexion

BY DOROTHY VENN.

(From San Francisco Examiner.)

What woman would not look young if she had a clear, soft complexion?

Perhaps the most wonderful skin treatment is one of the most simple. Dr. Takka Quoido, Japan's famous skin specialist, gives San Francisco women the following advice:

"Yes, we never grow old in Japan—I mean the women's faces never show age. All Japanese women use mayatone dissolved in witchhazel, and massage the solution thoroughly into the face, neck and arms once or twice a day. This treatment is absolutely harmless even to a baby's skin and gives wonderful results, removing all manner of facial blemishes. It also prevents the growth of hair. You never saw a Japanese woman with hair on her face.

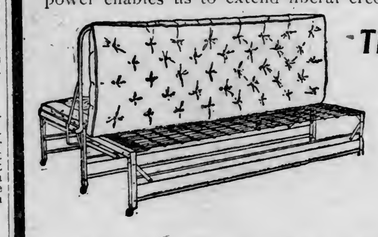

"Take a small original package of mayatone and dissolve it all in eight ounces of witchhazel, and you are supplied with this aid to youth.

A WOMAN'S ANSWER

Every Day—The Grocers Say.

COPYRIGHT-1910-WASHBURN-CROSBY CO. MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. 55

CONCERNING WOMAN.

At a simple wedding service tomorrow at noon at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Miss Ray Culver, daugher of Mrs. J. B. Culver of this city will become the bride of Hans Simon. The service will be read at 12 o'clock by Dr. A. W. Ryan and there will no attendants. The wedding is of much interest to Duluth society, as the bride's family is among the early Duluth settlers. During recent years Mrs. Culver and her daughter have lived much abroad. Mr. Simon and his bride will leave for the East. They will make their home in New York and Duluth.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Y. W. C. A. Work There to Be Subject of Talk.

Miss Emma Jean Batty for three years the American secretary of the Young Women's Christian association at Buenos Ayres, has returned to America and will be the guest of the local association Saturday of this week and next Sunday. Miss Batty will arrive in Duluth from Minneapolis, Saturday noon and that evening a supper will be held in her honor at the association rooms. Not only the association members, but any women interested in missionary work are invited to this meeting. A nominal charge of twenty-five cents will be made for the supper and any who wish to attend are requested to notify the secretary in order that preparations may be made for the evening. Some missionary societies of the various churches are planning to attend in a body.

After the supper Miss Batty will tell of the work in South America.

The South American work is of particular interest in that after its introduction it expanded wonderfully and seemed to meet a great need in the lives of the young women of that cosmopolitan city. Miss Batty is an interesting speaker and her coming is looked forward to with great interest.

Next Sunday afternoon Miss Batty will be the speaker at the devotional services at 4 o'clock. She will give a lecture illustrated with stereopticon views. Any woman interested is invited to attend.

STATE PRESIDENT

To Be Honored Guest at Club Meeting.

Mrs. Chester G. Higbee, president of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest of honor at a reception tomorrow afternoon at the clubroom of the libary. The federated clubs of the city have arranged the affair in compliment to the state president and all of the club women of the city and others interested in the work are invited to attend.

Mrs. Higbee will give a talk on federation work and the meeting will be followed by a reception. Receiving with the guest of honor will be the presidents of the four federated clubs, Mrs. J. D. Morrison of the Twentieth Century club, Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst of the Saturday club, Mrs. E. W. Bonnaman of the Ladies' Literature class and Mrs. Helen Stewart of the Lester Park club.

The social committee of the Saturday club will be in charge, and Mrs. Robert Smith will preside at the tea table. Assisting will be Mrs. W. G. La Rue, Mrs. M. Kelley, Miss Jessie Maynard and Mrs. Kaltenbach.

During her short visit in the city Mrs. Higbee is the guest of Mrs. Goodman of East Fourth street.

SCHOOL CONTESTS.

High School Honors to Be Decided This Week.

Friday evening of this week the girl's debating teams from the Central high school and the Irving high school will meet for a debate in the assembly hall of the Central school. "Resolved, that the Suffrage franchise should be extended to women," will be the subject of the debate and the Irving team will uphold the negatives. The Irving school is represented by Misses Barbara Pecor, Mabel Melin and Florence Melin. The Central debaters are Resle Warren, Violet Flaaten and Mabel Franklin.

Friday afternoon there will be an oratorical contest and a declamation contest at the high school and at that time one representative will be chosen for oratorical ability and one from among the contestants for declamation honors to represent the school in the final contest between the two Duluth high schools and the two high schools of Superior. There are eight contestants from the Central school who will try for honors Friday afternoon.

Those entered in the oratorical contest are George Cyrene, Charles Evans, Max Latshaw, Roger Lerch, Rupert O'Brien and Harry Zlatkovsky.

The contestants for declamation honors are Stanley Lamb and Miss Ruth Bjorge, the only girl to enter the contest.

MRS. RUSSELL SAGE BUSY GIVING AWAY LATE HUSBAND'S MILLIONS

MRS. RUSSELL SAGE.

Mrs. Margaret Olivia Slocum Sage, widow of the late Russell Sage, was born in Syracuse, N. Y., on Sept. 8, 1828. She married Mr. Sage in 1869. Mrs. Sage is president of the Emma Williard association and a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants. For the past few years she has been distributing the millions left by Mr. Sage among charitable institutions, universities, etc. She has also given $10,000,000 for an institution to be known as the Sage foundation for social betterment. Mrs. Sage has been reported in ill health recently.

ARNOLD PARTY.

Pioneers Are Guests of Honor at Delightful Event.

A delightful suprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Nelson of Arnold, by many of the residents of that suburb in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson's twenty fifth wedding anniversary. They were the recipients of a number of gifts, and the evening was very pleasantly spent in telling stories, recalling pioneer days and music.

Mr. Nelson's family was the first to settle in what is now known as Arnold—that pleasant rural community north of Woodland. It was sixteen years ago when Mr. Nelson with his wife and three children drove out as far as the road would allow and then walked the rest of the way to their future home. All about them was still in the primeval state and Mr. Nelson had to carve out his home the best he could. Now he owns one of the most pleasant places out there. He was one of the prime movers in organizing the township and school district, and has always taken a keen interest in anything of a public nature that arose. Mr. Nelson is chairman of the board of supervisors of Rice Lake township and president of the Farmers' Club of Arnold.

The guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
Nelin,	Carlson,
Friedman,	N. P. Nelson.

Harry Harrington has gone on a several days' trip to the range.

Mrs. Brower and sister, Mrs. Thomas Bennet of Ashland were the week-end guests of Mrs. Hovey of 1329 Minnesota avenue.

Mrs. F. H. Burnett of 3023 Minnesota avenue will leave this week for a several weeks' trip South.

Too Much Haste.

This new element in reform which seems to be poking the fire from the tip, this new woman, does not know how to wait, writes Margaret Deland in the Atlantic Monthly. Haste! That is surely the danger which walks at the elbow of our most noble instinct of social responsibility. It is this haste which has lately driven some of us into ludicrous and wicked disrespect for law; it has made us, with mistaken kindness, seek to interfere with individual development which comes by wrong doing and pain; it has robbed us of patience with differing opinions; it has created a god in its own image, and cries out that he shall be worshipped only in ways of which it approves. Oh, let us learn to wait; it does not follow that we must be idle because we refuse to be precipitate; it may only mean that we have a faith that is large in time, and that which shapes it to some perfect end. Indeed, there seems to me a certain unhumorous arrogance in this bustling, feminine haste to make over the world—it is as if we thought ourselves so important that nothing could go right without us.

Linen Suits.

Linen, pique and duck costumes are now considered indispensable, and there is as much variety in color and weave and design as though cloth were used instead of the wash material.

There is no question that in the heat of midsummer these gowns are essential to comfort, and that they are eminently practical as well as ornamental has been most satisfactorily proved, and while many of the styles are too elaborate to be intrusted to the ordinary weekly wash and can only be satisfactorily cleaned at the cleaner's, there are plenty of models that are simple enough in design for the home laundries to attend to.

Most extraordinary is the change in the last few years in the ready-made linen and pique costumes.

Almost without exception are they well cut and, for the comparatively small sums asked in some instances, are truly remarkable.

Of course, the average ready-made linen costume will not bear close comparison with the made-to-order, especially in the finish of detail, or, as a rule, in the quality of the material, but the general effect is excellent, and the price far below the made-to-order.

This certainly will be a season when the girl with a most limited allowance to dress on can provide herself with a summer outfit at small cost of money and time.

Velvet in Millinery.

Broad blue ribbon velvet of a dull, but glorious shade is snappy on light straw.

Velvet facings in heavy black cover the whole crown and brim of leghorn, leaving only the under facing of the braid.

Cabochons of pleated ribbon velvet are the tailored touch demanded on the rough-and-ready walking hat.

No evidence as yet that last season's hearse-like velvet hat will predominate during the warmest weather.

Narrow facings of velvet on brims and beneath them cover only a part of the straw.

When big velvet bows are used, they are wired and alternated with maline bows to give delicacy.

Light blue loops of two-inch ribbon velvet are mixed with forget-me-nots on a flower-crowned model.

Please Accept a Spinning Wheel

WITH OUR COMPLIMENTS!

WE HAVE imported a hundred dozen pretty little spinning wheels—perfect little models—wheels that spin as the little treadle goes up and down—a dainty little ornament fit for a bric-a-brac cabinet—an instructive toy for the little folks—a reminder of olden times for those who love the days of yore.

As there are only a hundred dozen of them, we can not give them out indiscriminately. We want our regular customers to get them as far as possible—and so for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday, we will give them out to all who buy a dollar's worth or more at the linen department.

Since putting the wheels in the front case yesterday we have had many requests from people who wished to buy them—but all have been refused! None will be sold—none will be given away except as stated above. And to help you to buy—we offer such attractions as these:

DELICACY IN INDIANA.

Managers of Republican conventions and framers of Republican platforms have a delicate task this year. Walking on a pavement of priceless fresh eggs without cracking a shell is like falling off a log compared with the tortuous course that wild-eyed, anxious Republican managers have to thread, especially in insurgent states—or states where insurgency has grown brave and is able to express itself.

The Indiana convention, on the whole, did it rather well. Its platform hurrahs for Beveridge, which is good and which shows that the insurgents are in the saddle. It gives three cheers and a tiger for T. Roosevelt and a whisper for Taft. It is loud in its approval of an honest protective tariff, and mum as an oyster on the infamous Aldrich-Payne-Taft bill. On the whole, this is doing very well indeed, and it affords an excellent example for other Republican conventions, showing them how to become delicately expert in their prodigiously ticklish task of steering between the jagged rocks that fiercely thrust their ugly fangs up out of the channel at embarrassingly frequent intervals.

Senator Beveridge must fight the Democrats for re-election, and he must also fight those stalwart captains of the Republican old guard, Hemenway and Watson. Yet Indiana is safe, judging from yesterday's convention. If Beveridge, a valuable insurgent, isn't re-elected, a Democrat will take his place. There is no chance there for another Aldrichite to break into the senate.

A WARNING.

Elsewhere in The Herald tonight is a warning advertisement addressed by Health Commissioner Webster to the meat and milk dealers of the city.

It sounds very much like a warning that it would be well for those interested to heed.

Meat dealers are warned against buying or selling meats that have not been inspected, and threatened with certain prosecution and the confiscation of meats found unfit for use.

Milk dealers are warned against buying or selling milk from cows that have not passed the tuberculin test, no matter whether the milk is from Duluth cows or outside cows.

There cannot be the slightest question that the public demands fresh, wholesome meat and fresh, wholesome milk. It is paying enough for all such things to be entitled to the best. This advertised warning shows that the health department means business; and in its determination to see that the public gets what it pays for it will have the fullest possible public sympathy and support.

REGULATING WILDCAT STOCK ISSUES.

While it is doubtful whether the city can legally take any effective action, Alderman Shartel's proposal to the city council Monday night that steps be taken to protect investors in mining and other stocks is good. If the city cannot take action, the state can, and a law making it more difficult to organize mining companies purely for stock-selling purposes might help considerably.

In view of the large number of stock issues that have been floated in Duluth, it is rather remarkable that there have been no more exposures of deals intended only to profit those who issue the stock, and not those who buy it. Stock-buyers have not been hurt so much by that sort of dealing as they have by reliance on glowing prospectuses issued by too sanguine promoters, who have, on the face of things at least, been fooled quite as much as those to whom they have communicated their enthusiasms.

In point of fact, buying stock in a prospect is gambling, pure and simple. It may be justified, perhaps, when all who buy know what they are doing, and take a gambler's chance with eyes wide open. When a mere prospect is represented as a mine, however, it becomes fraud, and as such should be forbidden by law.

Yet even this kind of dealing has not been made conspicuous by exposure. There has been, necessarily, a little of each kind of deception. There have been stocks sold in Duluth which were issued only to sell, and prospects have been incorporated and the stock sold as stocks in mines. Also, there have been cases where stocks have been boomed on false reports of discoveries at the "mine." But it is to the credit of those engaged in promoting speculative stocks that these instances have been exceptions, and that there have been comparatively few of them.

The scarcity of fraud, however, is no sufficient reason why fraud should not be guarded against by law. That frauds have been scarce in the past is no assurance that they will be scarce in the future. The mere possibility of fraud, even if there had been no specific cases of it, is reason enough for providing legal safeguards.

Probably the city can do nothing about it, but certainly the legislature can. A law requiring those who propose to sell stocks in Minnesota to file with the secretary of state a full showing of their properties, duly sworn to and accompanied by the sworn statements of the mining engineers who have recommended the promotion of the properties, might help much. If such a law were accompanied by penal clauses, providing severe punishment for selling stock in illegitimate concerns, for representing mere prospects to be mines, and for boosting stock prices by false statements about mining developments, such a law would seem likely to provide vastly greater protection for mining investors than they have now, when there is practically no lawful limit or restriction upon the enterprises of stock-promoters.

FAR PASTURES LOOK GREENEST.

In a local article in The Herald last night Duluthians recently returned from Florida warned their neighbors against buying far-away lands on glittering prospectus promises, and without thorough investigation. It was stated that many wildcat booms are flourishing in Florida, and that while unquestionably there are legitimate land enterprises there are many that are far from legitimate.

The warning is timely, and it is applicable not only to Florida lands but to lands in many other lavishly advertised regions.

Better advice still, however, is to look about you in your own home state before investing in lands far beyond your vision. This is the climate you are used to. Your friends are here. If you wish to go upon the land, why not see if it isn't possible to do so right here at home?

No place offers greater opportunities to the home-seeker than Northern Minnesota. If it spent as much money in advertising its vacant acres as Florida spends, Minnesota would be flooded with men looking for a chance to buy land that they can go upon and till and make fruitful and profitable.

The soil is as rich as any in the world, and the market is as near to the idle acres as any in the country and far more profitable than most.

Don't be deluded by glittering advertisements of faraway lands. "Far pastures look greenest;" but the man who sets out seeking the greenest pasture finds that it is always just a little further on. Don't neglect opportunity right here at home to go chasing shining baubles of advertised opportunity so far away that you can't investigate them.

A SOCIALISTIC CITY.

Milwaukee has made itself famous again by giving the Socialists full control of its city government. The Socialists have won minor victories in smaller communities, but now, for the first time in the history of the country, that party has gained control of a large city, and its initial victory gives it absolute charge of the affairs of the tenth city in the United States in point of population. This is an opportunity for which every Socialist in the country should be grateful. It gives the party a chance to show what it can do, and unquestionably a very large number of people not included in its membership will be keenly interested to watch how it goes about it.

While the election was largely on local issues, it is significant that the platforms of the three competing parties in yesterday's election were identical in terms, and that the Socialist candidate for mayor won by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for mayor in a three-cornered fight in that city, while the Socialists elected all the aldermen-at-large and carried fourteen wards out of twenty-three. Emil Seidel, the Socialist who was elected mayor, is said to be a sound, level-headed man of high principles and strong ability. Victor L. Berger, one of the Socialists best known nationally, was elected alderman-at-large.

This unique election result deserves far more than passing notice. While Milwaukee has long been strongly Socialistic, and the election outcome perhaps revolved rather largely on personality, unquestionably a great many votes were the result of dissatisfaction with the treachery and futility of the old parties, and of a willingness to try a new party in the belief that it could hardly make matters worse.

The Socialist government of Milwaukee will be the center of close attention for some time to come. The party is given a chance to show what it can do, and a city government is an excellent trying-out ground.

THE COURTHOUSE GROUNDS.

When the present courthouse site was selected, with provision for a new federal building and city hall as part of a broad scheme of grouping public buildings, it was not contemplated that the grounds surrounding the courthouse would be left as the builders abandoned them, unsightly and bare except as they are littered by debris.

Therefore the board of county commissioners has arranged for a plan of beautifying the courthouse grounds and surroundings, which plan is being examined today by the commissioners and by representatives of various civic bodies. The scheme was designed by an experienced firm of landscape architects, and if it is approved the county board should lose no time in carrying it out.

While Duluth is interested in this movement because of its pride in keeping up a good appearance, the county is interested quite as much. To build a beautiful courthouse, and then leave it surrounded by bare clay and littered confusion, is a little too much like shiftlessness for a great and rich county like St. Louis to stand.

Though the grouping plan provides for a new federal building and city hall below the courthouse, it will be some time, of course, before either of these buildings is constructed. The improvement of the grounds should not await their completion, for that would mean that for an indefinite period St. Louis county's beautiful courthouse must stand in the midst of desolate and unkempt surroundings.

The improvement of the vacant lots at the corner of Fourth avenue west and First street, which belong to the country but which it is hoped the city may buy for its new city hall site, will provide a temporary park for the people of Duluth and their visitors from the ranges. As it stands, this tract is a blemish upon the landscape and a disgrace to the county. For a comparatively small sum, as a part of the general plan of beautifying the courthouse grounds, it can be made beautiful and delightful, providing access to the courthouse by way of pleasant walks, bordered with shrubs and flowers. The expense will be small compared with the increase in the value of the land that its improvement will create.

If the plans that have been prepared meet with the approval of the county board and the citizens who are examining them today, the board should proceed at once to carry them out. In arranging for these plans the board has shown conspicuous and creditable public spirit, and if the plans are approved and the expense held not too great, the board will do itself further credit by making the plans effective.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

A SENIOR'S VIEW OF SCHOOL DANCES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Upon reading the article in your Saturday issue about the ministers of the West end trying to put a stop to dancing in the public school buildings I came to the conclusion that this wasn't only to be a dry town, but a dead one. Would those ministers be so imprudent as to put a stop to dancing in the public schools and have all the dances held in some place like Lincoln park, or perhaps to go a little further west to Fairmount? Some one of these would-be reformers suggested that the parents send their children to the dance halls. I don't believe these ministers know much about these public dance halls and therefore suggest that they appoint themselves as delegates and visit some of these places of amusement some Saturday evening and then ask themselves this question: "Could I think of such a thing as seeing a group of school children attending such a dance? One minister said that he wouldn't want to trust a boy or girl of his in a dance anywhere. Now that doesn't speak very well for the training given minister's children. I think they should bring up their children so that they can be trusted anywhere and at anytime. Former Principal Charles Alderman, who was a most excellent type of Christian man, looked upon dancing favorably. His approval of dancing in the high school instead of in halls down town was very popular, because teachers and school officials can chaperone the parties. I feel sure that as long as the school board has control of the schools, dancing will be continued.

A DANCING SENIOR.

Duluth, April 4.

A PERNICIOUS THING.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would like to call attention to the barbed wires which are stretched across the middle of the lawn on the east side of the public library grounds.

Probably few people know they are there, but after my experience this evening I shall not soon forget them. Going up the avenue a sudden gust of wind carried my hat away. A quick run of a few feet, and behold I am prone upon the ground, tangled in two or three barbed wires. The consequences are a lacerated hand and a badly torn and soiled brand new spring overcoat. How was I to know what a trap of that kind was in such a place? Possibly the wires can be seen in the day time, but they are not visible after dark.

VICTIM.

Duluth, April 5.

THOSE PETTY THIEVES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Much has been said in your columns denouncing the despicable practice of wholesalers, coal men and grocers giving short weight. However, there has not been half enough said. I was particularly pleased with your editorial in last evening's Herald. There is nothing more nefarious or villainous than the contemptible practice of giving an ounce or two less than the amount brought and paid for by the purchaser, at any time, much less now when to meet living expenses, is crowding the average man to the limit.

Have we a law in Minnesota that will reach this class of petty thieving? I have often wondered; and would have been tempted to invoke its aid, on several occasions if I was sure one existed. If we have none, our legislature would be doing the public a kindness in passing one, at its next session, stringent enough to give some of these fellows a chance to think it out on the rock pile. The legislature should also establish a standard weight for a loaf of bread, and a standard bushel for all vegetables for which provision has not yet been made; also a law with the severest kind of a penalty should be enacted against the practice of making, putting up, selling or offering for sale, butter, milk or any other commodity in any package or receptacle purporting to be a quantity which it is not. Thanking you for the space,

M. J. F.

Duluth, April 6.

To Halley's Comet.

Tell us, Halley, of your wandering,
And of problems you've been pondering
Through the vold of space.

When you burst upon our vision,
Strange, uncanny apparition,
Of the star-strewn realm.

Tell us how and whither tending
In your orbit ever bending;
Of our system's sun.

Are you satellite exploded,
Hurled from planet overloaded,
Into boundless space?

Or just nebula left over,
Doomed to be a vagrant rover,
Outcast of the sky?

When you pass in all your glory,
With your shimmering streamers hoary,
Look into the sun,

Gaze into those caverns yawning,
That the eye may see at dawning
Through the floating mist.

Whisper of those mysteries hidden
That to us are now forbidden
To explore in full.

Give us method of divining,
Why the northern lights keep shining,
Shooting shafts on high.

Tell us of the Void Eternal,
Rayless as the Pit Eternal,
With its countless worlds.

Why does Alcyon ever beckon?
Give us calculus to reckon
All those problems vast.

Are there unknown bodies floating?
And with fiendish plans now gloating?
O'er our system's death?

Are there any that are coming,
Swifter than a bullet humming,
To our seething sun?

Will they crash with mighty thunder,
While its orb is rent asunder
In a glow of flame;

Like some giant bursting rocket,
Will our system be chaotic,
Cloud of nebula?

Who would tell the untold story
Of our cataclysmic glory
As we cease to be?

Oh, the brain goes mad in dreaming,
Of that billowy fire-mist streaming,
From the nucleus.

For the Pleiades are cheering
At a nebula appearing
Where our system's spun.

Wall Street.

Ellis O. Jones in Life: For the sake of a brief argument it may be admitted that the handcot gentlemen who compose Wall street have been accused of many things unjustly, but one thing cannot be gainsaid: Wall street is too touchy. It is too sensitive by considerably more than half. It is too easily influenced by current events. We have almost reached the pass where we are afraid to have current events at all. We can't turn around without a demonstration on the stock exchange. If the president takes a long breath, some bull plays china shop and out come the newspapers with extras.

Wall street should cultivate a spirit of repose, a spirit of calm self-control, which is the highest form of human power.

THE WEATHER

A gentle zephyr that blew the dust around for a while last evening at a rate of about thirty-five miles an hour gave notice to the early wearers of low shoes that they may be premature. The weather is mature. The weather man made good on his freezing temperature last night, for the mercury dropped to 28 deg. Freezing temperatures are promised again for tonight, but the fair weather will continue. This morning broke bright and clear and the weather is all the most exacting could demand for spring.

Be thankful for prevailing weather. Snow fell a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:37 and it will set at 6:44, giving thirteen hours and seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The disturbance central Tuesday morning over Iowa has moved to Michigan. During the past twenty four hours this low pressures conditions caused further rains in the lake region, Upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys, and an increase in warmth along the Atlantic seaboard. The Rocky mountain high pressure has advanced its center to Western Gulf states and its influence has caused cooler weather in the lake region, Mississippi and Ohio valleys, and Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. A depression overlying Alberta has increased somewhat in intensity and has developed rains in Oregon and Washington, besides causing a return to mild weather over most of the Northwest. Freezing temperatures prevail in Wyoming, Nebraska, the Eastern Dakotas, Minnesota, Manitoba and Western Ontario."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

DULUTH AND THE HERALD.

An Intimation.

Cass Lake Times: The Duluth Herald thinks the investigation now going on in Washington anent the Alaska coal lands will result in a "whitewash." If The Herald's suspicions prove correct we need not go out of the state of Minnesota to know the reason why.

The Spread of Knowledge.

Lake Crystal Union: A dairyman in Duluth was fined $20 and costs for leaving two cans of milk in the cow barn over night uncovered.

This is the first time we knew they had a dairy in Duluth. We supposed all along the supply of lacteal fluid for that city was shipped in. We do not wonder at the people in that neck o' woods demanding reapportionment.

You Can't Build With Brickbats.

Biwabik Times: Without quarreling with the other fellows it must be admitted that range sentiment, as voiced through the newspapers, has not the needed ring of unanimous opinion. There should be the same unanimity that is apparent in the Duluth papers when questions of vital moment are under discussion. A few hatchets buried for a year or two might grow some roses of prosperity.

That's Been Attended To.

Virginia Enterprise: Time for the Duluth papers to report the appearance of the "first robin." Spring would scarce be spring if the Duluth papers should overlook this time-honored custom.

A Commendable Move.

Princeton Union: Duluth is to start a night school for foreigners wherein they may be taught the language and customs of the United States as well as reading and writing. It is a commendable move which cannot do other than bring forth good fruit, and, in a cosmopolitan city like Duluth, it appears to be highly necessary.

A Good Thing, Anyway.

International Falls Journal: The Evening Herald and the News Tribune at Duluth are indulging in a rather pointed argument over the question of band concerts. The latter is under the impression that the concerts last season were promoted and paid for by the street railway company and believes that such a move on the part of the company is very commendable and shows the right kind of public spirit. The Herald then arises to a point of order and says that it paid for the last season's concerts, and that the News Tribune knew it, but hated to acknowledge the fact. The Journal opines that band concerts are a good thing for any town and if the council does not appropriate a sum of money to the band for that purpose, the business men should circulate a subscription list and thus create a concert fund.

Let's Get Acquainted.

Warroad Commonwealth: It has been suggested a number of times in Warroad in the past year—since the Canadian Northern completed its connection into Duluth—that it might be a good plan for the farmers of this section to get acquainted with the Duluth produce market. No section of the state can excel this district in the production of vegetables, and Duluth is our nearest market. Now that Duluth is looking in our direction why not some move be made towards getting acquainted?

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Congressman Comstock has sent to Postmaster General Wanamaker a recommendation that Julius D. Howard be appointed postmaster at Duluth. The term of John Flynn, the present Democratic incumbent, expires on April 16.

After next Sunday several changes in names of stations will be made along the Duluth & Iron Range road. Lakeside will be called London, its old name minus the "New;" Lake View will be called Arthur; Wabegon will be called Waldo; Gakadina will be called Highland; Wissakode will be called Breda, and Okwanin will be called Allen.

Huntress & Brown and the West Duluth Land company have closed negotiations for a mill site on Grassy Point. Work will start at once on saw and planing mills to cost over $40,000, and both will be completed this year in time to saw 2,000,000 feet of logs. The sawmill will be a one circular mill, with a capacity of about 8,000,000 feet a year.

The directors of the Duluth Imperial mill, which started operations about six months ago, have decided to increase the company's capital stock $100,000, to be spent in additional grinding machinery and an elevator. The mill's capacity will be increased to nearly 3,000 barrels daily.

The Fidelity Trust & Insurance company, represented by Mendenhall & Hoopes, sold yesterday 7,000 acres of pine lands in 53-11, 53-12 and 52-12, held in trust for Mrs. Isabel Howell. The property is in the Knife River district and brought $75,000. George Rupp bid in $32,000 worth, and other purchasers were Messrs. Wheelihan, Hoopes, McKinley, Bradley & Hanford and Duncan & Brewer.

The county commissioners yesterday awarded the jail cell contract to Osbourne & Frazer, representing the Diebold Safe & Lock company, for $15,731.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Ladies' Home Journal: "Jane," said a lady rather sharply to her cook, "I must insist that you keep better hours and that you have less company in the kitchen at night. Last night you kept me from sleeping because of the uproarious laughter of one of your women friends."

"Yis, mum, I know," was the apologetic reply; "but she couldn't help it. I was a-tellin' of her how you tried to make cake one day."

Baltimore American: The Woman—The tax office is one which I simply love to go to.

The Man—Very few people do. Why do you like it?

The Woman—Because it is absolutely the only place where no discrimination is made against me because I am a woman. They let me there pay just as much as if I were a man.

Life: "Here's a rule of psychology: No matter whether you feel cheerful or not, try to seem so, even if it's put on."

"That's right. I always laugh when I go to a comic opera."

Philadelphia Record: With all your wealth are you not afraid of the proletariat?" asked the delver in sociological problems.

"No, I ain't," snapped Mrs. Newrich. "We boil all our drinkin' water."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Uncle Hiram—I see by the papers that old man Weston, the walker, is three weeks ahead of schedule.

Aunt Libby—Well, I jes' hope he'll keep ahead of him. I ain't got a bit o' use for these Eyetallian racers.

Judge: Miss Slummer—We were thinking of establishing some "soup kitchens" in your neighborhood, Mrs. Slum.

Mrs. Slum—Us ladies couldn't patronize anything as common as that, miss; but you might put in a few "soup parlors."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Dealer—No, young man, we can't sell you any cigarettes.

Youth—But I'm 21.

Dealer—Perhaps. You'll have to bring your mother here to prove it.

Youth (dubiously)—I'm afraid that's no use. Mother owns up to being only 29 herself.

Success Magazine: Lady (to applicant)—Yes, I advertised for a maid of all work. Are you an early riser?

Applicant—Indade, an Oi am, mum. At me lasht place Oi was up an' had breakfast ready an' the dishes washed an' put away an' all the beds made before anybody else in the house was up.

Philadelphia Record: Nell—Too bad about Maude's engagement to Jack.

Belle—Why, it isn't broken so soon, is it?

Nell—No-o-o, the engagement isn't broken, but three days after it was announced Jack fell and broke his right arm.

Kansas City Times: "Let me sell you this 1910 style book. It tells what will be worn and why."

"I know already what I'll wear and why. I'll wear my old clothes because I haven't the price to buy new ones."

A Kindly Act.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The people of Minnesota have performed a gracious act which illustrates the fact that kindness is a human trait not so rare as cynics would have one believe. They have by popular subscription raised a fund whose income shall go to the widow of Governor John A. Johnson, and at her death be applied to the help of indigent students in the state university.

Republics are often said to have no gratitude. A man is likely to be a popular hero today and forgotten tomorrow. But occasionally evidence is offered that gratitude still abides in the hearts of the people. So in the case of Minnesota.

It was to the credit of the late governor that he had been so intent on serving his state efficiently and honestly that he did not have time to accumulate a competency for his family. He died comparatively a poor man. While poverty ordinarily constitutes no badge of merit in the case of a public man, in this case it indicates the singleness of purpose with which Mr. Johnson went about his public duties.

There ought to be a place in politics for the honest poor man. The patriot who is capable of serving his fellows in public office ought not to be penalized for his honesty. The state cannot very well pension the family of every public official who dies without an estate, but private generosity will sometimes, as in Minnesota, come to the rescue.

Three More Farmers' Clubs Join the Market Association.

Committees in three more counties have become affiliated with the Produce Co-operative Market association, making the total number of organizations now in the central organization nineteen, and others are in sight.

The three latest recruits to the movement are Alborn, Onamia and Mora. Onamia is on the Soo road, in the northern part of Mille Lacs county, and is the first community of Mille Lacs to be represented in the association. The organization at Mora is the first to be formed in Kanabec county.

Ernest Obernolte is now engaged in organizing a branch of the association at Tamarack, which will be the first one in Aitkin county.

Wherever the movement is agitated it is being adopted enthusiastically and the prospects are that the association when it attains its full proportions will be a powerful one.

SPENT WINTER ON ISLE ROYALE

Moore Brings in Trappers and Woodsmen on First Trip.

The steamer Moore of the Booth line got in yesterday. On the boat were thirty-two woodsmen, who had spent the entire winter on Isle Royale.

There were also two trappers on board, who had in their possession over $2,000 worth of furs they had trapped during the winter on the island. The quantity of fur in possession of the two trappers speaks well for the great hunting to be found on the island.

FIRST BOAT TO LEAVE CHICAGO

Steamer Alva Will Probably Clear for Duluth April 16.

The steamer Alva of the Chicago & Duluth Transportation company will probably be the first boat to reach Duluth from down the lakes the present season.

The steamer is due to leave Chicago April 16. They will begin receiving freight at Chicago April 11, and the Alva will probably be the first boat to leave Chicago for the port of Duluth.

A GENTLE HINT TO AUTO OWNERS

It is hoped by the West Duluth Commercial club committee which has the arrangements in charge, that owners of automobiles will make it a point of civic pride tomorrow to join the Eberhart reception parade that is to start at 9 o'clock in the morning from the Duluth Commercial club for West Duluth.

They are requested to do this so that the committee members and other citizens may be given an opportunity to accompany Governor Eberhart to the steel plant. The auto parade will depart from the West Duluth Commercial club for the plant at 9:30 o'clock. In prospect the procession is assuming proportions far beyond the first expectations of the committee.

West Duluth has almost completed its preparations by donning gala attire for the occasion, the merchants showing the liveliest interest in all efforts to make the governor's reception a notable one.

At the street intersection where Wade's hall, the banqueting place, is situated, an arch of welcome has been erected and embellished with festoons of electric lights. The banquet will begin at 7:30 and tickets will be obtainable at the door.

SIGNS REPORT ON BROWNSVILLE RAID.

Washington, April 6.—The court of inquiry appointed by the secretary of war a year ago to investigate the discharge of a battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry, colored, for alleged participation in the shooting up of Brownsville, Tex., in 1906, has practically completed its work and today signed a formal report which will be made to the secretary of war in a day or two. In the meantime no information as to the nature of findings can be obtained.

DENIES ELGIN FIXES PRICES

President Newman Tells Senators Why Butter Costs So Much.

Washington, April 6.—Denial of the charge that the Elgin board of trade regulated the butter market of the country was made by John Newman, president of the board, in testifying before the senate high price committee today. Mr. Newman said the board fixed a price every Monday for the product of its members sold during the week, but that the New York and Chicago markets had much to do with the prices of butter made elsewhere than in the Elgin district.

Mechanics and laborers were eating a higher class of butter, Mr. Newman said, which taken with the increased price of corn, hay and oats, accounted for the advance in the price of good butter.

Explains Sudden Drop.

Explaining the remarkable six-cent drop in the Elgin price from Monday to Monday last January, Mr. Newman said it was made to make the Elgin price conform with the New York price, which had been gradually decreasing during the week. Mr. Newman said a great quantity of butter was held up by snow storms on the way to market during that week, and when it finally reached its destination the market was overstocked and the price took a natural tumble.

NATIONAL HYMN PREVENTS PANIC

School Children on East Side of New York Sing as Fire Rages.

New York, April 6.—The strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," customarily sung in the public schools to arouse the patriotic instincts of young Americans, were employed today on the lower East side to prevent a panic. Twenty-five hundred pupils of a school on Rivington street, at the instance of their instructors, sang the patriotic air as fire raged in a building across the street.

WORRIED ABOUT ANDREW CARNEGIE

Friends Are Alarmed at Iron Master's Physical Condition.

New York, April 6.—The friends of Andrew Carnegie, who returned here last night from the West, were considerably perturbed today over his physical condition. At his home it was declared that he was merely fatigued and that after a thorough rest he would be all right, but the fact that he had required the assistance of two men in alighting from his car and that his personal appearance indicated physical unrest or ailment has created uneasiness.

PROMISES SOME REAL SENSATIONS

Pittsburg District Attorney Refuses to Tell What They Will Be Like.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 6.—District Attorney Blakely today promised "great sensations" in the graft investigation being conducted by the grand jury. The nature of the sensation was not disclosed. Rumors of the arrest of prominent bankers, the return of a vivid presentment by the grand jury and the further indictment of many councilmen have been circulated during the last two days, resulting in nothing.

WANTS DIVORCE AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

After twenty-five years of married life, James Bolles wants a divorce from his wife, Louise, who, he claims, deserted him ten years ago. He filed suit this morning in the district court.

They were married in Sept. 1885, and he claims that she left him in Sept. 1900. They have five children, all of age.

CHLOROFORM TEN PEOPLE IN HOUSE

New York Burglars Ransack the Place and Get $1,000 Worth of Booty.

New York, April 6.—Burglars chloroformed the ten members of two families in a house in East Seventh street early today, ransacked all the rooms of the four-story building and escaped with more than $1,000 in money and jewelry.

W. H. MERRITT & CO. STOP BUSINESS

Big Cash Grain Firm Suspends Owing to Decline in Corn Prices.

Chicago, April 6.—Suspension of the cash grain house of W. H. Merritt & Co. was announced on the board of trade here today. Customers were notified to close out their trades.

W. H. Merritt & Co. has for many years been one of the most important firms in the cash grain trade, and their failure caused great surprise. The reasons for the suspension are closely analagous to those which on Monday forced another cash grain house—the Burns-Yantis Grain company, to suspend; namely, the decline in corn prices recently. A member of the firm declared that creditors would be paid in full.

The liabilities are placed at $200,000 and the assets at $350,000.

New Anti-Option Bill Favored.

Washington, April 6.—The anti-option bill prohibiting dealing in cotton futures, which was introduced by Chairman Scott yesterday, was ordered favorably reported today by the house committee on agriculture.

House Passes Franking Bill.

Washington, April 6.—Ex-President Roosevelt and all future ex-presidents of the United States, or their widows, will be granted the franking privilege during their lifetime under the terms of a bill passed by the house today by a vote of 120 to 76.

The measure met with some opposition from the Democratic side.

NO HONEY FACTORY.

"That was an error," said Senator Beveridge, apropos of an opponent's argument, at a dinner in Indianapolis. "Our friend made an embarrassing error. He reminds me of John Winslow.

"John Winslow spent his honeymoon at Niagara. He left the bridal apartment late one night to bathe, and on his return knocked, as he supposed, on his wife's door, calling softly:

"'Honey!'

"There was no answer. Winslow knocked again.

"'Honey!'

"Still no answer. Winslow thundered on the door.

"'Honey!' he cried, in a voice of agony.

"Then a reply came at last.

"'Sneak, you blooming idiot!' a male voice growled. 'This is a bedroom, not a blooming bee hive!'"

UNCOMPLIMENTARY.

Harry Payne Whitney, the noted polo player, discussed at a dinner in Newport an eccentric groom. "He is a good chap, for all his eccentricity," said Mr. Whitney. "He testified once in a horse-trade case, and called down a cross-examining lawyer neatly.

"The lawyer, a hideously ugly man, cross-examined my groom like this:

"'Now, be careful. Does he shy, or does he not?'

"'He does, sir.

"'He does, eh? And what does he shy at?'

"'At lots of things, sir.'

"'At lots of things! That is no answer. Tell me some particular thing he'd shy at.'

"'Well, he'd shy at you, sir,' said the groom."

ON THE IRON RANGES

NEW COUNCIL HAS MEETING

New Virginia Lawmakers Hold Initial Meeting Filling Some Positions.

Bickford Succeeds Himself as City Clerk---Poirier Is City Attorney.

Virginia, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Andrew Hawkinson, who succeeds himself, and the nine aldermen chosen at the last election were inaugurated last night. Many citizens were present. Three of the old board of alderman, Osborn, Boylan and Weber, were chosen to succeed themselves, and the other six, Stoff, Mollan, Kimball, Heritage, H. O. Johnson and Edward C. A. Johnson, are new members. The council organized by electing A. C. Osborn as president to succeed himself. The vote for president being: Osborn, 5; C. A. Johnson, 4. The vote for vice president was: Boylan, 4; E. C. A. Johnson, 5. There were three candidates for city clerk: Peter Egan, A. E. Bickford and George V. Trimble. Bickford was chosen to succeed himself.

Poirier Is City Attorney.

For city attorney, Otto A. Poirier, George F. Shea and Louis M. Osborn were candidates. Poirier was selected by this vote: Poirier, 5; Shea, 4. City Engineer E. F. Johnson received the entire vote of the council, being chosen to succeed himself.

John R. Krogdahl was elected assessor over Andrew Dahl, the vote standing 4 to 2.

C. Christopherson was chosen street commissioner to succeed himself without opposition.

Ole Johnson was chosen poundmaster to succeed himself over George Noels by a vote of 5 to 4.

T. M. Wall succeeds himself as plumbing inspector by a unanimous vote.

Dr. M. F. Guldinger received the entire vote of the council to succeed himself as milk inspector.

The selection of a health officer, assistant health officer and meat inspector was laid over until the next meeting.

Mayor Announces Committees.

Mayor Hawkinson announced the following standing committees, which were confirmed by the council:

Finance—Osborn, E. C. A. Johnson, Heritage.

Streets, Alleys and Sewers—Boylan, Weber, H. O. Johnson.

City Property—E. C. A. Johnson, Mollan, Kimball.

Light and Water—Kimball, E. C. A. Johnson, Osborn.

Ways and Means—Heritage, Weber, Mollan.

Ordinance—Weber, Kimball, Mollan.

License—Staff, Boylan, Mollan.

Election—Mollan, Staff, H. O. Johnson.

Printing—H. O. Johnson, E. C. A. Johnson, Boylan.

Railroads—Staff, Osborn, Heritage.

Rules and Regulations—E. C. A. Johnson, Osborn, Mollan.

Health—Osborn, Weber, H. O. Johnson.

A petition from property owners abutting on Central avenue, between Cedar and Larch streets, for the paving of that thoroughfare with bituulitic pavement was referred to the committee on streets, alleys and sewers, Aldermen Boylan, Weber and H. O. Johnson.

The street railway ordinance, at the conclusion of its second reading, was amended at the suggestion of Alderman Kimball. The original ordinance provided that the company lay its tracks, beginning at Cedar street and running north on Central avenue to Chestnut street, thence on Chestnut east to Mesaba avenue, south on Mesaba to Cedar and west on Cedar to Central. The amendment provides that the line run from Larch street, north on Central avenue to Chestnut, east on Chestnut to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern tracks, and south on Mesaba to Larch, and west on Larch to connect with the line on Central avenue. Also, that line be built from Chestnut across the lake and running to the cemetery on the Mountain Iron road.

Change Paving Specifications.

City Engineer E. F. Johnson was instructed to change the plans and specifications for the paving of Central avenue and Maple street and the avenues for one block north and south of Chestnut street so as to include the bituulitic pavement process. The present plans and specifications provide only for the paving of these streets with either tar macadam with concrete base or macadam with rock foundation.

The clerk was authorized to order the Virginia Electric Power & Water Co. to extend its water mains south on Mesaba avenue from Sage street to Larch street and west on Larch street to Central avenue.

Miss Jessie McNeil, clerk of the municipal court, reported fines collected in that court for the week ending April 2 amounting to $347.50.

Herman W. Ahlstrand was granted a permit to run a spindle wheel at the corner of Chestnut street and Cleveland avenue.

CROSBY MINE HAS BEGUN SHIPPING

Jones Bros. Have Also Resumed Nashwauk Stripping Operations.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crosby mine has begun loading ore in cars from their shaft and are employing a larger force of men daily. The La Rue mine has also begun shipping, and the rest of the mines in this vicinity will follow within the next two weeks.

The Jones Brothers, stripping contractors, have resumed night work after a couple of weeks lay up in repairing, and the removal of the old Vulcan shovel, which was sent to Middletown, Ohio, where it will be put to work for the same company.

Supt. Gribbins has employed a larger force of men, and it is expected that work on the stripping will progress rapidly with both the day and night forces working.

COMMISSION TO RUN PUBLIC UTILITIES

Hibbing Council Decides Big Saving Can Be Effected Thereby.

Hibbing, Minn., April 6—(Special to The Herald.)—In order to effect a saving in the management of public utilities the village council last night decided to place the management of such affairs in the hands of a commission consisting of R. A. Angst, chosen for one year; William Wearne, two years, and W. J. West, three years.

W. N. Brown, yardmaster of the Duluth, Misabe & Northern Railway company at Mitchell, presented a draft of a franchise which he and associates would like to procure to conduct an electric railway from Railroad street, Hibbing, south to the newly incorporated village of Alice.

This will be acted on later. The idea is to equip a line at a cost of about $30,000 and operate it with gasoline. It is expected work will be started as soon as the right is obtained.

The board voted to hold an election April 19 on the question of incorporating the village of Brooklyn, which is located about three-quarters of a mile south of this village.

Chief of Police Ring was ordered to see that the speed ordinance is strictly enforced hereafter.

Curfew Ordinance Desired.

A petition, signed by a large number of mothers, was presented to the council asking that the village establish a curtew ordinance and set the hour of 9 in the evening as the latest when children will be allowed on the streets. The petition also asks the council to forbid by ordinance all giant fire-crackers and other dangerous explosives, not only for the celebration of the Fourth of July, but also for all times of the year.

CAUGHT AT DEPOT.

Nashwauk Man Prevented From "Beating" a Board Bill.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Thomas Vogan arrested Mike Laporto Monday on a warrant charging him with attempting to "beat" a board bill. He was captured at the depot, where he was awaiting the arrival of the morning train, and brought back to town, where he was compelled to turn over $30, all the money he had. The sum he owed for board was $40. Money order receipts ranging from $60 to $70 were found in his possession, which he had sent to the old country. Mr. Laporio was released from jail.

TACONITE JUNIORS WIN.

Defeat the Coleraine Baseball Nine 11 to 7.

Taconite, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Taconite Juniors defeated the Coleraine baseball team at Taconite Sunday in a very exciting game by a score of 11 to 7. The batteries were: Coleraine, Riley and Ellison; Taconite, Smith, Reed and Dowd. Struck out by Smith, 3; by Reed, 5; by Riley, 6. This is the second victorious game the team has played. The next game will be at Nashwauk next Sunday. A large crowd attended Sunday's game.

Tom Cassidy is visiting at Taconite and Holman.

The village treasurer at Holman, Ernest Johnson, was married Sunday in Duluth.

Bovey and Coleraine visitors Sunday were Ed McHale, Tom Phillips, Dave Roche, Fern White and James Hughes.

A party given by Patrick Hughes at Moe's place Saturday night was well attended.

OFFER PRIZE FOR NAME FOR NASHWAUK THEATER.

Nashwauk, Minn. April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The National Amusement company, which has opened one of the finest moving picture establishments on the range on Central avenue, have offered a prize for the most appropriate name for the place suggested by the women of Nashwauk.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR REMOVERS

The New York World, in Commenting Upon Unscrupulous Manufacturers of Them, Says:

"The fakes put on the market in the last 10 years have numbered their victims by the hundreds of thousands. Empty promises have been made by scores of promoters in the wild scramble to get the money. The marvel is that woman has not become so thoroughly disgusted as to reject all treatment for good.

"But her hope for a remedy was not in vain, and the credit of coming to her assistance fell to an American. Only a few years ago the now well known De Miracle treatment was brought forth and it proved to be a revelation in modern science. A representative of the New York World investigated the discovery and the methods by which it was introduced to the public. He found exhaustive tests have shown it to be the long desired, practical, expedious and safe way in which to destroy the growth of hair. Those who put it before the public knew the fallacy and dishonesty of publishing extravagant claims. They did not resort to any catch schemes, such as making a prospective customer a special offer of personal interest . . . They started in to win the confidence of those interested and in this way they have been eminently successful. . . . What is more to the point, it has been indorsed by prominent physicians, representative medical journals and leading magazines devoted to woman's cause. There is too much at stake to risk such indorsements if they are not true to the letter. Only the result of repeated chemical experiments and a thorough knowledge of the origin of all hair growth could stand against the investigation of such authorities." The De Miracle Chemical Company is open and above board in every detail. The indorsements are not just claimed. A little probing on the part of the paper disclosed the fact that they are published and sent broadcast, with the identity and address of the writer or publication added. This is the stumbling block of all so-called remedies. A reputable member of the medical profession or a publication in good standing could never afford to be identified with anything that savors of a fake, and the voluntary praise given through these channels is not to be bought with money. It is given on the strength of conviction.

When so great and reliable a publication as the New York World publishes such facts as the above in reference to hair removers it should be sufficient to convince any one that De Miracle is the only absolute safe, reliable and trustworthy hair remover ever offered the public. De Miracle is sold by I. Freimuth.

The complete article of the New York World and editorials of many other well known publications, with our Booklet, containing testimonials, will be mailed free in plain sealed envelope on request. Address De Miracle Chemical Co., Dept. 38, Park Ave., and 129th St. New York. Write for it today.

The city attorney told of a notice received from Mrs. A. Ledlin, stating that she had been injured by a fall on the Jackson street sidewalk and claiming $5,000 alleged damages.

The report of the fire board in the case of Thomas Finnegan advised the council to have the city attorney draw up an ordinance as the present fire ordinance is inadequate and does not definitely set out the fire chief's powers.

A resolution awarding W. P. Vietch, the contract for hauling the city slops at $175 per month, was adopted and his bonds for $500 approved.

The applications of Anton Lenich, Anderson & Sholund Mat Miroslavich, for a renewal of their liquor licenses were granted. The application of Lewis Sedar, a Fitger brewery driver, for a license to operate in the building now rented by Charles Shonta, was the cause of much discussion, and a motion granting the application was finally carried.

Plans for Sewer Accepted.

The engineer's estimate for constructing a sewer from Kimberly avenue to Carrie street and from Monroe street to the Fayal road was accepted and the engineer requested to draw up plans and specifications with an estimate for installing a sewer on Douglas avenue from Monroe street to Garfield street.

The report of the chief of police showed a total of $265 in fines for the month of March. The March payroll and bills, claims, etc., against the city were allowed.

The city clerk was instructed to inform the local teachers, physicians and school board of a meeting to be held here for the betterment of sanitary conditions, April 14. Doctors Bracken and Hill of the state board of health will be present.

The appointments of Hugh Costler to replace H. Busson, resigned, and P. Cosgrove, to replace M. Chaffee, resigned, as firemen, by Chief Nelson were confirmed.

A communication from Joseph Beck, Two Harbors, stating that he would install his grates at the pumping station within two weeks was read and placed on file.

MINING DISPLAY AT STATE FAIR

Is Strongly Favored By Member of Hibbing Commercial Club.

Hibbing, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the regular meeting of the Commercial club Monday evening, F. A. Wildes made an interesting report upon the conservation congress, and urged that St. Louis county should make a complete mining display at the state fair next fall.

Reports were received from the committees upon the installation of a "white way," and also upon the matter of a fire warden. These subjects were discussed, but were laid over until the next meeting of the club. Messrs. Bekstad and Leavitt were elected to membership in the club.

The Winston-Dear company has started work on the trestle which they are constructing across the Great Northern tracks south of town Monday. The trestle will be about 1,800 feet long.

A. L. Beaudett and Samuel Pritchard have issued a call for the village caucus and the village election of the village of Alice to be held next Monday at the home of Mike Rudel in the Western addition.

Mrs. G. N. Butchard left Tuesday for Duluth for a few days' visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Healy have returned home from Duluth, where they spent several days visiting.

L. W. Horner left Tuesday for a short business trip to Duluth.

Miss Tillie Brown has returned to this city after a two months' visit with her mother in Negaunee, Mich.

Miss Gamble of Duluth returned to her home Tuesday after a few days' visit with Miss Belle Likely.

F. B. Meyers drove over from Biwabik Monday in his new seven-passenger Buick auto. The party also included Z. Hinckley, Dr. B. A. Smith and Capt. Wright.

The white tile for the Island Farm Creamery company's office has arrived and is now being placed in position. The office, when completed, will be one of the most inviting places in town.

The Vassar girls gave a musical recital at the high school auditorium last evening to a large audience. The girls play on a great variety of instruments and are intensely interesting.

OLD AND NEW IN NICE LOVE FEAST

Newly Elected and Retiring Aurora Officials Fraternize in Nice Spirit.

Aurora, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new village council took their seats last night under the most encouraging circumstances. The old council met and approved the minutes of their last meeting and vacated their seats. The new council was then called to order by the new president, Capt. P. J. Nicholas.

President Nicholas announced that no business was to be transacted, but that a free and easy meeting would be held, and called on members of the old council, members of the new council and citizens for remarks. Those talking were of the unanimous opinion that the citizens had one well in their selection of so able and trustworthy a man as Capt. P. J. Nichols as head of the village. They were also very enthusiastic over the prospects of the town.

Charles Olson, the retiring president, thanked the citizens for the honors they had bestowed upon him in electing him their president the past three years, and wished for the success of the new administration.

President Nicholas, in addressing the citizens, said that acts as well as words should govern a man's life and that he had always tried to make his actions go with his words and would do so as president of the village. He said that no promises had been made and no plans outlined, but that no command no plans outlined, but that no compromise would be made with lawlessness. He also said that would like to see a clean town and would try so make the town so and keep it so and that he knew the members of the council would not only assist in this, but would take the initiative.

A number of other citizens spoke after the president, after which the new council adjourned until tonight, which will be their first regular meeting.

The council chamber was crowded with citizens, who showed nothing but the heartiest support for the new administration and the utmost faith in the future of Aurora.

WEDDING GUEST RAISES RUMPUS

Breaks Dishes and Attempts to Use Knife, Getting Jail Sentence.

Eveleth, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Patisch, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty and was fined $90 and costs or ninety days in the county jail. As he was unable to raise the money he was sent down to Duluth this morning to serve out the sentence.

Patisch was arrested Monday evening following the Rebrovich-Widenish wedding celebration which was being observed in George Kotze's place. Patisch attended the wedding feast and became very unruly. He smashed all the dishes and kitchen utensils that happened to be in his way. He was ordered out of the building by the proprietor, George Kotze, and was going to the door followed by the proprietor when he suddenly turned about, drew a large knife and lunged forward to strike Kotze. He was jumped upon by friends and his knife taken away. The police were immediately called and the offender hurried to jail.

SALOON KEEPER LIABLE

For Damges Incurred in Saloon If Not Run Legally.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—In ruling on a demurrer in the case of John Swanslund against Chrales D. Lyons, George Lydick and J. W. Johnson, Judge Stanton laid down the principle that an action for injuries sustained in a saloon not run according to law will lie against the saloon keeper and his bondsmen. Lyons runs a saloon at Ball Club and the plaintiff claims to have been injured in the place during a row. He sued Lyons and his bondsmen, Lydick and Johnson, for $2,000 and Judge Stanton overrules the demurrer to the complaint which sets up that Lyons ignored the conditions of his bond in selling liquor on Sunday and to the men who committed the assault on the plaintiff. The case will probably go to the supreme court.

VIRGINIA BUTCHER FINED.

Costs Him $27.50 for Putting Preservative in Hamburger.

Virginia, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Meat Inspector Heighberg caused the arrest of P. A. Coffey, proprietor of the Independent meat market, for using preservatives in Hamburger steak. Mr. Coffey pleaded guilty in municipal court and paid a fine of $25 and $2.50 costs.

The police and fire commission have appointed John Dean as city jailer, his term of office commencing today.

Bartley Morton, who has been serving on the police force for the past several months, was appointed a regular by the commission.

ELY ELECTS KNUTSON TO OFFICE OF MAYOR.

Ely, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Olaf Knutson was elected mayor at the city election held here yesterday, receiving 291 votes to 118 for his nearest competitor.

Others elected were: Municipal judge, Thomas Jury; special municipal judge, George Brosich; treasurer, Harry A. Chinn; assessor, Albert Kolstad; aldermen, First ward, Jack Seraphine, James Wittes; Second ward, Fred B. James, Jack Maki; Third ward, John Cosgrove, Steve Banovitz.

Fred James, elected one of the aldermen in the Second ward is also deputy game warden and is in the public eye just now because of shooting and killing an illegal fisherman on Long lake.

CORONER ACTING FOR SHERIFF IN ITASCA.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coroner Thomas Russell is acting for Sheriff Riley in summoning jurors to try Edward Lynch on the charge of killing John O'Neil at Holman April 23 last, as the county attorney filed an affidavit of prejudice against Sheriff Riley because the attorney for Lynch was Riley's attorney during the latter's fight for the office of sheriff.

Two Eveleth Funerals.

Eveleth, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Michael Doyle, aged 36, was held yesterday afternoon from the Holy Family church, Father Bilban officiating.

The funeral of Adolph Greenhagen, the musician who recently died of alcoholism, was held yesterday morning, with interment at Virginia.

Want Central Cemetery.

Eveleth, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The agitation by the residents of Eveleth, Gilbert and Elba, for a cemetery more centrally located than the one at Virginia, over six miles away, is bearing fruit, and one nearer will be established.

Potatoes 10 Cents a Bushel.

Cameron, Wis., April 6.—A good many years have passed since potatoes dropped to 10 cents a bushel and only for the starch factories at Rice Lake and Bloomer it would be impossible to sell or even give them away. Many farmers had from 100 to 2,500 bushels, expecting a good price.

conduct the hearing before the municipal court, which will probably be held today.

Otto Nykkanen, a young man who was with Metsapelto when the latter was shot was the first witness examined by the coroner and his story was about as follows:

Nykkanen, the deceased and Joel Metsapelto, a brother of the dead man and a man by the name of Otto had gone to the lake in company with two women to have coffee and lunch, which the women had prepared over an open fire at the boathouse point. After lunch the women were rowed over to the water plant from where they went home. In the meantime the other two men in the party also left for town leaving Nykkanen and Andrew Metsapelto there.

Man on Shore Shouts.

Nykkanen claimed that after the party left he and the deceased got into the boat and rowed about the lake for some time, finally deciding to go ashore and home. This was prejudice against Sheriff Riley because shortly after 5 o'clock. When their boat was nearing shore they saw a man on the bank and he beckoned them to come in. Nykkanen avers that just then the boat struck a rock and the course was changed directly away from the shore. The man on shore said to come in or he would shoot and displayed a revolver. When Nykkanen saw the gun he crouched down in the boat and just at this moment the man on the bank fired and his partner in the boat fell over backwards with a bullet hole in his forehead.

As soon as he could he rowed to shore, where he was met by Fred James, who asked him to help him lift the man from the boat and that after lifting him out James went for a doctor, asking him to stay with his friend that alone. He left at once for the doctor and coroner and returned with them and the chief of police. He assisted in bringing the injured man to the hospital after which he went home and later gave himself up to the chief of police.

Dr. Parker who attended Metsapelto gave a detailed account of the post mortem, describing the course of the bullet and the fractures of the skull.

about 3 o'clock and that the shot which killed Metsapelto had been fired a few minutes after 5 o'clock.

Game Warden's Story.

Game Warden James told a story about as given in last evening's Herald. He claims to have watched the men in the boat for some time and that they acted suspiciously as if they were engaged in setting nets. He claims to have seen them row toward a small tree on an island and from there to a point of land. On this trip one of the men was standing in the stern of the boat working his hands one over the other as in the act of playing out a line or net. He said he saw no net or other fishing materials more than a trolling line in their boat but that he had not stopped to look after he did the shooting, but hastened away for the doctor. He told of seeing the men acting as if they were fishing with a net and then row for the boathouse. He says he took his canoe and got to the shore ahead of them some distance away, but ran back to where they were to come in. He averred that when the men in the boat saw him they turned away from the shore and headed for the lake.

It was at this point he ordered them to come in but they kept right on in the course away from him. He says he then pulled his revolver and fired as he supposed in the air above their heads just to frighten them. He saw the man topple over on his back but, thought he was shamming. Then the boat came ashore and he saw that he had done. He left at once for the doctor and coroner and returned with them and the chief of police. He assisted in bringing the injured man to the hospital after which he went home and later gave himself up to the chief of police.

Dr. Parker who attended Metsapelto gave a detailed account of the post mortem, describing the course of the bullet and the fractures of the skull.

Curing Catarrh

Accept Our Advice and Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function as nature intended it should. The result is, complication upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Rexall Mucu-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistency for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfield, come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is certainly the fairest offer that anyone could make and should attest our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store.—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

Use Salubrin

It Quickly Makes Sick People Well.

Just try taking Salubrin this spring and see how much better you feel. Perhaps you haven't any faith in spring medicine. Maybe, even if you do know that people need cleaning up in spring just as much as a house needs cleaning, you don't think there is any medicine that will do it. Just forget about all the so-called "blood purifiers," the "tonics" and "nerve compounds" you may have tried and been disappointed with, and use Salubrin.

There is no mystery about it or its action. No guess work about what it does to the accumulation of germs and toxins in the system during the cold, sluggish winter months. Salubrin is a germ killer, an anti-toxic which is sure death to all germs, but unlike other germ destroyers, it does not injure the human system, being a neutral compound as far as human tissue is concerned. It drives germs out of the blood, out of the vital organs, out of every nook and corner of your whole system and makes you feel strong and good all over because it helps nature to do her duty. Salubrin is sold by druggists, price 50 cents per bottle. It's fine for coughs and colds and catarrh as well, because it kills the germs.

If you can't find Salubrin, write us and we will tell you where to get it. Salubrin Laboratory, Dept. 26, Grand Crossing, Chicago, Ill.

ZENITH FURNACE COMPANY'S PLANT.

Employing 350 to 400 men at all seasons of the year and paying out approximately $25,000 a month or $300,000 a year in wages, the Zenith Furnace company is the big industry of West Duluth.

The plant of the company is unique in that it consists of three separate industries combined in one plant and working in conjunction with each other. It has a coal dock, coke ovens and the blast furnace, each department having its own products, but all contributing to the ultimate product, pig iron.

The company is shipping about 30,000 tons of coal a month to Western points, Northern Minnesota and the ranges. The blast furnace is now turning out about 225 tons of pig iron a day. In addition, the company furnishes illuminating and cooking gas for Duluth and Superior and the other by-products, tar and ammonia, are also disposed of.

The coal which arrives at the company's dock in West Duluth is screened. The screened coal is sold to the trade, while the screenings are converted into coke in the coke ovens. The coke furnishes fuel for the furnace. The gas is sold to the cities of Duluth and Superior, the tar goes to the Duluth Tar company, while the ammonia is disposed of to the National Ammonia company of St. Louis.

Nothing Wasted.

Nothing is wasted at the furnace. The slag, which furnishes a great problem in its disposition at other blast furnaces throughout the country, is utilized by the Duluth concern for filling in the shore of the bay and much valuable submerged land has been converted to practical use by proper disposition being made of the waste matter from the furnace.

The company has a wide market for its products. Its coal goes to many western points. The pig iron goes to the Chicago market, but the market for that product is becoming more general and it is being extended throughout the West.

The contracts have all been let for the construction of an addition of 600 feet to the big coal dock of the company, making the dock 1,800 feet in length. A new bridge will also be installed on the dock for handling coal and the improvement will practically double the capacity of the dock, so that it will be possible to handle and ship 60,000 tons of coal a month. The construction of the extension of the dock will require the employment of about seventy-five men during summer and the improvements and enlarged capacity of the dock will demand the employment of additions to the permanent working force when the extension is completed.

The Zenith Furnace company has been in operation in West Duluth for about seven years, has approximately fifty acres of land, much of it submerged, and has an extensive and immensely valuable bay frontage. The plant is one of West Duluth's most valuable industries, employing hundreds of men during all seasons of the year and contributing to the maintenance of a large part of the settled population of that part of the city.

ARE ALREADY "REGULATED"

Brokers Claim Exchange Does All That Alderman Proposed Doing.

Council Resolution Aimed at Stocks That Are Not Listed.

Members of the Duluth stock exchange are discussing with much interest Alderman Shartel's plan to regulate the brokerage business and the flotation of mining companies.

"This exchange goes the alderman a few better," said a well-known member. "He asks only five questions about mining companies, while we ask thirty-seven of companies desiring to be listed. Our questions cover everything and no company can be listed on our exchange until it has complied with our stringent rules and its blue prints, its engineers' reports and other data have been examined by competent mining men."

"Yes," exclaimed another, "we get $50 for listing, too. The alderman didn't say anything about that."

"Of course," said a broker, "I doubt if the alderman's plan to control the stock borkerage business would be legal. The city wouldn't have any right to ask questions of any mining company. That's for the state or federal government. And speaking of federal government, don't forget that the United States supreme court hasn't ruled on the legality of the federal incorporation act under which corporations are now yielding information about themselves to Uncle Sam."

"Oh, well," remarked another, "the brokerage business in this town is being regulated to a fare-you-well and if Mr. Shartel doesn't believe it he can come up here on the exchange and we'll prove it to him. We've been washing our own linen and I don't think we need Mr. Shartel's help. We've done a pretty good job, ourselves."

Alderman Shartel's resolution was aimed chiefly at the brokers not doing business on the Duluth Stock Exchange and to the "fly-by-night" mining companies which have flourished here for many years and whose stock is not worth the paper on which the certificates are printed.

Several brokers, including two or three who formerly did business on the exchange, are in a position where they can do a bucket shop business without feeling the regulating hand of the exchange. There are many stocks traded in and sold here which are not listed on the exchange and there is no means of regulating them.

Mr. Shartel says that many people have been defrauded of money by unscrupulous brokers who have disposed of fake mining stock which is not traded in on the Duluth Stock Exchange, and which it is almost impossible to investigate. Mr. Shartel would like to see some way in which people possessed of a desire to buy mining stocks could be safeguarded, if they persist in handing over their money to brokers who do not do a legitimate business, and who do not confine their operations to stocks representing developed mines or properties which give indications of developing into producers.

ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Thirteenth Year of Modern Brotherhood Observed By Local Lodge.

The local lodge of the Modern Brotherhood of America celebrated its thirteenth anniversary last night at the Odd Fellows' hall. There was a program of speeches after which a program of dance music was played by Coffin's orchestra.

Preceding the program twenty-two new members were initiated. State Manager W. E. Kinman of Minneapolis officiated in the ritualistic work. Duluth Central lodge, under whose auspices the affair was held, is in a most prosperous condition, having almost 100 members.

The address of welcome was made by Dr. W. H. Konkler, the local president. Mayor Cullum spoke on "Fraternal Insurance." Among the other speakers were District Manager J. F. Dykman, I. E. Leighton, M. A. Fedji and A. Allen.

The committee who had the affair in charge was composed of Mesdames Minnie Schmale, J. E. Wesenburg, Richard, Ira Vesterfelt, Beeman; Miss Plester and Messrs. Henry Schmale, J. C. Wesenberg, Orchard and Dr. W. H. Konkler.

WOMEN HELP TWO MEN OUT OF GUARD HOUSE.

Denver, Colo., April 6.—Aided by three women, who are thought to have slipped them saws with which to cut their way through the bars of a window and then provided an automobile for their flight, two prisoners escaped yesterday from the guard house at Fort Logan. The men were W. T. Shaw, Minneapolis, and J. P. Smith, a deserter from Fort Leavenworth, arrested recently at La Junta, Colo.

Soldiers are scouring the country for the men. A dozen other prisoners declined the advanatge of the opportunity to escape.

PROGRESS IS REPORTED

Interest in Laymen's Missionary Convention Is Being Aroused.

Enthusiasts in Movement Meet at Supper at First Baptist Church.

Progress was reported and general enthusiasm was shown at a supper at the First Baptist church last evening attended by members of the co-operating committee and others interested in the laymen's missionary movement, which will hold a big convention in Duluth, April 22, 23 and 24.

The committees reported upon the receptions given workers for the conventions in towns in the vicinity of Duluth and of the enthusiasm being aroused among church members of Duluth in the big convention. The banquet committee reported that it is expected at least 1,200 men will sit down at the banquet board at the Armory on the night of April 22. The churches of the city were called upon to have certain representation in the convention, based on their membership.

The principal address last evening was made by Charles T. Thompson of Minneapolis. Mr. Thompson said that he had always been interested in the laymen's missionary movement. Every true Christian man, he said, owes as a duty to God and to himself to spread the Gospel as much as it is within his power to do so. It seems a great undertaking, he said, to evangelize the world in one generation, but it can be done and the apostles undertook a much greater work when they went out to carry the Gospel of Christ to the world, he said. The laymen of America and world have been awakened by the laymen's missionary movement, he said, and their awakening will make possible the winning of all men for Christ.

Z. D. Scott presided at the meeting after the supper last night and the reports were made by the chairmen of the different committees. Albert Baldwin, chairman of the deputation committee, reported that Friday, April 8, a delegation, headed by Rev. A. W. Ryan of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will speak at a rally at Cloquet. Sunday, April 10, delegations will speak at meetings and at churches in Ashland and Brainerd. Watson S. Moore told of the splendid reception given the committee at Calumet, where 1,500 men assembled in the Armory to hear the convention explained and to receive the invitation of the Duluth representatives to attend. Phil Bevis told of visiting Two Harbors and assured those present that at least 100 men will attend the convention from that town.

L. A. Barnes, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported that the Young Women's Christian association will serve the banquet at the Armory on the evening of April 22, and that at least 1,200 men will be present. Mr Barnes urged the committee to secure accomodations for the visiting delegates.

The Delegates Wanted.

A. V. Small, the executive secretary, reported on the progress of the work and urged every Christian man to make every effort to secure the enrollment of men in the convention. Upon the basis of membership, he called upon the different churches of the city to furnish the following number of delegates:

Baptist denomination: Central, 25; First Baptist, 50; West Duluth, 15; Christian church, 10. Protestant Episcopal: St. Paul's, 100; Holy Apostles' 10; St. John's, 12; Trinity Pro-Cathedral, 30; St. Peter's, 5. Congregational: Pilgrim, 75; Plymouth, 5. Presbyterian: First church, 125; Duluth Heights, 5; Westminster, 5; Lakeside, 30; Second church, 20; Glen Avon, 35. Methodist: Grace, 30; Lester, 15; Endion, 25; Merritt, 20. Norwegian Danish, 10; First church, 150; First Swedish, 25; Asbury, 35; Hope Evangelical association, 5; Swedish Mission, 10; St. Paul's Evangelical Synod, 10. Lutheran: English, 10; First Swedish, 10; Swedish Bethany, 25; Swedish Finnish Evangelical, 5; Elim Swedish Evangelical, 5, Trinity Norwegian, 5; Bethesda Norwegian, 5; Norwegian Bretheren, 10; Norwegian Synod, 5; First Norwegian Danish Evangelical, 15.

The combined churches of Superior were requested to enroll at least 400 men.

The educational committee is planning a mass meeting of all the Christian forces of Duluth, at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, April 10, in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. The meeting will be addressed by Charles L. Rhoades, one of the originators of the movement; and one of the most powerful speakers in the work. His subject will be "World Vision of Christ."

An Aerial Railway.

The first aerial railway is in the course of construction. The idea is a German one, and, while very ingenious, is altogether too chimerical for practical use.

When you feel your nerves unstrung from a day of mishaps a glass of Golden Grain Belt beer will soothe the tired nerves and cure indigestion, which is sometimes the cause of a grouch. DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—Grace Van Studdiford in "The Golden Butterfly."

"The Golden Butterfly."

The second performance of "The Golden Butterfly" was given last evening before a well filled house. The engagement will close this evening.

"The Virginian."

Owen Wister's story of "The Virginian," as dramatized by himself and Kirke La Shelle, comes very nearly being a great American play. It will be seen for three nights, beginning Thursday, with a matinee Saturday. Owen Wister knew his West and this knowledge has enabled him to create illusion of realism, striking pictures that stand out in the memory long after the curtain has fallen on the simple-minded pioneers who won the West to civilization.

"The Virginian" still ranks among the leaders of all melodramas founded on life and incidents in the far West. William L. Gibson portrays the Virginian; Marshal Farnum, brother of Dustin Farnum, will be seen as Trampas. Others in the company are Mabel Wright, John E. Hickey, Harry Holliday, J. R. Furlong and Charles K. Gilbert. The company is under the management of the Kirke La Shelle company.

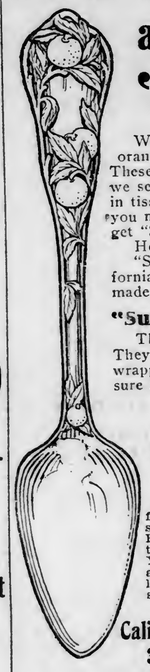

"The Money and the Girl."

John E. Young, the original Johnny Hicks in "The Time, the Place and the Girl," comes to the Lyceum next Monday night in a new comedy with songs entitled "The Money and the Girl." Mr. Young plays the role of Johnny Smith, a dashing, irresponsible, thoroughly likable young fellow much the type of Johnny Hicks. Humorous complications, laughable situations, dialogue in which every line is a jest of real wit, a brilliant company and catchy songs are said to be the combination which surrounds Mr. Young.

Irish Singer Makes Hit.

Will J. O'Hearn, who is the author and star of the "Romance of Killarney," a playlet which is one of the numbers on the program at the Bijou this week, made a decided hit at the opening performances and answered several curtain calls last night. The piece is of the Chauncey Olcott school, and, notwithstanding that most of the bill preceding it was largely musical, the Irish melody of the O'Hearn offering seemed to please the audience very much.

NOTES OF BOYS' DEPARTMENT

The annual camp reunion for the boys who have attended Camp Miller, the boys' department camp, will be held Friday. The campers will celebrate at the Spirit lake branch of the boat club. They will take blankets and provisions and spend the night in typical camp fashion. The party will leave the union depot at 5:20 and will return in the morning. A number of them are planning to hike back.

* * *

Tonight at 7:30, the 100 boys who are to take part in the $1,000 campaign for a summer camp house will meet for their final instructions. Thursday morning the hustle commences.

A Gold Dust Home is a Healthy Home

Gold Dust is a sanitary cleaner that searches out every germ and impurity.

It is the modern aid to easy housework. It does more work, more kinds of work than soap or any other cleanser. It cleans everything and anything about the house—dishes, clothes, floors and doors, pots and pans, bath rooms, refrigerators, etc. It cuts dirt and grease like magic, saves you from hard rubbing and scrubbing, and enables you or your servant to do more work and better work in just about half the time.

More Economical than the Cheap and Big Can Kind —and MUCH BETTER

WHY? Because Calumet Baking Powder is more certain in its results—the baking is always lighter, more delicious and more evenly raised. You never have a spoiled batch of baking by its use. It requires less — hence goes further.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

TENNIS WILL BE FEATURE

Field Sports Department of Duluth Boat Club Is Organized.

Capt. Kiichli Appoints A. P. Barnes and G. E. Warren Ensigns.

Capt. W. H. Kilehli of the field sports department of the Duluth Boat club yesterday announced the officials of his department. The committee will consist of C. E. De Witt, J. B. Beecher, C. F. Graff and A. P. Barnes. A. P. Barnes and G. E. Warren will be the ensigns of the club.

All field sports will come under the supervision of the department. The range of sports will include water polo, swimming, diving, water baseball, tennis and baseball, if it is decided that a game will be arranged the coming season.

Canoeing and rowing races, such as are held at the club Saturday afternoons, will come under the head of the rowing department. Other water sports will be taken in charge by the field sports department.

Tennis was very successful at the club last season, and the present year it is planned to make it just as prominent a feature of the club. With some of the best courts in the Northwest, the officials of the field department look forward to a most successful season.

An eight and a four were out on the water last night despite the chilliness of the water. Capt. McGregor has succeeded in instilling into the men a spirit that was lacking last year. Until the weather becomes a settled fact there will be some inconveniences that will have to be endured by the candidates. But it is the cold weather candidate and not the fair weather candidate that generally makes the best oarsmen in the end—the chap who is generally pulling for all he has at the end of the two miles.

DULUTH GUN CLUB GETS EASTERN HABITS

The Northwestern Gun club, one of the strongest organizations of its kind in the West, has planned to build a hunting and fishing lodge, as some of the big clubs of the East possess, and T. J. Storey, John Weld and Bert Farrell have been appointed a committee to look up a site for the construction of such a lodge.

Two sites have already been tentatively considered—one at Milnen Lake and the other west of McGregor, on the Soo. The members of the club will have the privileges of the lodge for fishing in the spring and hunting in the fall.

Since the organization of the club some of the members of the organization have felt the need of such a lodge. Not until the present year, however, have the members felt that the club was in a position to secure such a branch.

The club is in a very prosperous condition at the present time, and the innovation is assured.

The opening shoot of the club will be held April 24. It will be a housewarming, and an elaborate program is being arranged for that date.

JEFFRIES BEGINS ACTIVE TRAINING

Fighter and His Retinue Arrive at Quarters at Ben Lomond.

Ben Lomond, Cal., April 6.—James J. Jeffries began preliminary training yesterday for his fight with Jack Johnson but it will be a week or more before he settles down to hard work.

The fighter was accompanied to his training quarters here by his wife, his two nephews, Sam Berger, "Farmer" Burns and a number of other men who will be used in the training camp. Jeffries expressed himself as pleased with the place, where he will work from now until a day or two before the battle. After looking at the cottage and gymnasium that have been fitted up for him, and after trying out the new hand ball court, Jeffries and his nephews and others engaged in a game of baseball. He showed great agility and ease of action.

CONTRACT WITH JACK JOHNSON IS ANNULLED.

Boston, Mass., April 6.—The superior court yesterday annulled a contract between A. A. McLean of Chelsea and Jack Johnson, the pugilist, in which Johnson agreed to fight, box and give boxing exhibitions, on the ground that the making of such an agreement was a felony in this state and could not be enforced.

McLean sued the champion heavyweight on a contract made four years ago and claimed that he suffered a damage of $10,000 when Johnson broke it.

ZBYSZKO BEATS CUTLER AT BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 6.—Zbyszko, the Polish champion wrestler and aspirant for Frank Gotch's title, last night defeated Charles Cutler of Chicago in two straight falls,

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

Shame on Sharkey.

Really, Tom, you should quit your kiddin'.

We shall all begin to believe you are approaching the age of your dotage. What's up now? Sharkey has promised to lick Johnson should Jeff fail in the effort.

It is to laugh, pronounced with the broad "A" accent, not placidly and gently, but with rude guffaws.

The very "idee" of old Tom licking Lil' Artha.

At one time this same keeper of a Fourteenth street, New York, thirst assuager was one of the very toughest men in the world to beat. Jeff barely succeeded in twenty-five rounds of as ferocious fighting as New York ever saw. In that fight the boiler maker took all the stamina and fight out of the wonderful Sailor.

The plunging, tearing, swinging, swearing Sailor impaled himself on that long left of Jeff's. His open method of fighting also left a clear leeway to his ribs for the ponderous right of big Jeff. His ribs were battered like the ribs of a boat on the ragged crags of a booming and pounding shore.

He is all in—he knows it—but with friends gathered round and the red touch of liquor to stimulate the imagination, Old Tom comes back to the scenes that were enacted when he was very much like Fuzzy Wuzzy, a first-class fighting man, and of dreams of things that are not to come.

Turn over on your back, Thomas.

Steve's Last Stand.

Really looks as if they are going to fight Ketchel and Black Sam Langford. The fight is only for the sprint route of six rounds—but if either should land fair and flush—maybe the route will be plenty long enough.

Ketchel is the wildest Indian of them all. The other night he alarmed the people of a Pittsburg cafe by running through the room with a $1,000 bill, making a noise like a Comanche.

That is hardly the kind of training to get a man fit to hook up with Langford. But reports out today do say that Ketchel has quit hobnobbing with the hops, has blinked an adieu to the gay life of the electric light, and has hit the training camp for a quiet siege.

There is a lurking suspicion that the Michigan Assassin is going back. Here is Billy Papke just crazy to fight him. Bill may have been told the real truth in regard to the Ketchel condition. The Langford fight will tell—it may be the last stand of Steve.

This fellow is only a youngster. He has not reached anywhere near his prime—in the matter of years. Yet they say he is already going back. The same which shows how many kinds of a fool some people are.

A Square Deal.

Some of the downstate papers have published a partial installment of the schedule. Up here it is wondered where they got the permission to use the games indicated upon the rough draft of the Minny league season.

A. W. Kuehnow was given a tentative draft of the schedule. He was also informed by the large executive of the league not to allow the schedule in its present form, to be published. Here the same list of games that were in the hands of Mr. Keuhnow, which he was instructed not to give out, have been published in several downstate papers.

It might be that John A. Elliott is not to blame for this occurrence; it may be that he is. Such happenings are not the squarest deals in the world, and show plainly that somebody is slipping up some place.

Hoorah for Duluth.

Duluth's offer for the Gotch-Zbyszko match has attracted attention all over the country. This, coming on top of the clean matches that have been held here, has attracted the attention of the entire country to this city as a sporting center. The matches that have been conducted here this winter by the Duluth Athletic club have attracted the patronage of the best business men in the city. They have gone from these contests with the knowledge that they have received their money's worth.

This has naturally helped to boost the wrestling game—which, when conducted along clean lines and between clever men, is one of the most interesting sports in the world.

The offer made by Manager A. C. Marshall has been made in good faith. The offer for the match is a bona fide one and has been telegraphed to Chicago, as told in The Herald. Some city will have to bid higher than $20,000 to secure the match, as the match will be pulled off here, if that ante is not raised.

Yesterday C. A Marshall again reiterated his original statement in regard to the match. Special trains will be run here from the Twin Cities, the ranges and from as far West as Kansas City, in the event of Duluth securing the match. Never before in the history of wrestling in this city has so much interest been attracted in any athletic event, as has been attracted by the announcement that Duluth has placed a bid for the Gotch-Zbyszko go.

Especially among the Polish people has there been a wide interest taken in the match. They are confident that Gotch will be defeated by their champion, and in the event of the match being held in this city it is certain that Polish people from all over the country would come to this city.

The bid for the Gotch-Zbyszko match was made in good faith, and is only an instance of the "Do It For Duluth" spirit.

Married, That's All.

Rube Waddell is married, as you all know, friends. He has become matrimonially attached to a lady by the name of Madge Maguire. That is a very determined name, as you may have observed ere this. It is very probable that Rube thought over the possibilities in the case before he would permit the parson to pronounce the fatal words.

It is with a feeling of mingled awe and admiration that a man must marry a woman by the name of Maguire. There are some who are inclined to the opinion that the Rube has the only manager who could ever handle him.

As we suggested, the Rube must have been prepared for something strenuous, but was he prepared for the rules of conduct that the last Mrs. George Edward Waddell formulated? That is a question. Here are the rules—look them over:

First—He must not drink, except out of the water barrel on the grounds.

Second—He must steal "home" every day after the game in time for supper.

Third—If he is "caught stealing" away from home to a saloon, she will act as "scout" and go after him.

Fourth—She is to be manager, umpire and coach. He must be content with pitching.

Fifth—However "wild" his work may be, he will not get into serious trouble unless he attempts to pull down a high ball.

Sixth—She will attend every game when he is in St. Louis, and will accompany him around the circuit, if his other manager will permit.

Seventh—She will "assist" him in every way and make every "sacrifice" to keep him in the straight and narrow row.

Eighth—If he disobeys her, he will be sent to the bench.

Larry and Hal.

There is one first baseman in the American league that stands head and shoulders above the others. That man, as you have guessed, is Hal Chase, the speedy and extremely graceful fielder of the New York Americans. At the present time there is the prospect that Larry Lajoie may develop into a rival of the big fellow. There is no telling. The Frenchman is a natural baseball player. If he learns the first base play as he sure did learn to field that second sack, there may be a close race for honors.

SAILOR AND "HACK" TO MEET

Marine Will Meet Eastern Welter---Adamson and Bill Schober.

"Young Hackenschmidt" will wrestle Sailor Jack of this city at the Eagle's hall this evening. The contest will be a finish one, and if the Eastern man is as good as he has been touted, the match should furnish some very good mat sport.

The namesake of the Russian Lion reached Duluth yesterday afternoon confident that he will be able to take the measure of the local man. Young Hackenschmidt is not quite so heavy as the marine, but counts on science and cleverness to win the bout. The sailor has depended upon brute strength alone to win most of his matches in this city, and if the Eastern lad is as clever as he is reported as being, the match will be one between a clever man, knowing the fine points of the game, and a lad possessing unusual strength for his weight.

The bout will be preceded by a preliminary between Kid Beell and A. H. Smith. Carl Nelson and Oie Peterson will furnish the curtain raiser to the evening's sport program.

The program this evening is not under the auspices of the Duluth Athletic club.

Friday evening the second wrestling card of the week will be offered in the first appearance here of Ed. Adamson of Chicago, the same little man who has conquered some of the greatest wrestlers this country has ever produced. Adamson will go on against Lilly Schober, one of the greatest little men in the Middle West.

In arranging this card the officials of the Duluth Athletic club have, in their opinion, secured one of the best matches that could possibly be secured. Both men are stars and should furnish one of the best contests that has ever been staged here.

Yesterday Adamson was working out at the club with a 250-pound opponent. The way the little fellow handled the giant showed his class and knowledge of the game. He is a master of the mat and wrestling fans, who delight in clever work, will see some rare wrestling when two such stars as Adamson and Schober come together.

Late yesterday Schober went on at the club with Mike Brown, the fighter. His work convinced a number of spectators that the little German youth is nothing less than a champion. He has everything that goes to make a great wrestler.

Joe Fisher and Charles Nelson, the St. Paul boy who was so nearly choked in the last match, will have a second chapter of their interrupted struggle Mike Brown, the fighter, claims he is also a wrestler, and will go on with George Sanadowsky. Mike claims that he will surprise his friends by his showing.

WILL ERECT BUILDING IF DULUTH BID IS ACCEPTED

Plans Drawn for Proposed Hockey Rink Could Be Used.

Offer for Gotch-Zbyszko Bout Made in Good Faith.

C. A. Marshall, manager of the Lyceum, whose bid for the Gotch-Zbyszko match is being considered at the present time, yesterday entered into negotiations with Architects Radcliffe & Price relative to the construction of a large amphitheater, should the bid of Duluth be the successful one.

The architects have already made plans for a building that would be almost ideal for the holding of the match. The firm drew the plans for the hockey rink that was contemplated last winter, and the two architects have assured Manager Marshall that with some modifications the plans could be used for the construction of a building that would be ideal for holding large crowds.

In a letter to Mr. Marshall the members of the firm state that plans are in shape for a building either 150 by 140, or a building 200 by 140 feet. The members of the firm also assure Mr. Marshall that there is a site in the heart of the city, which can be leased, that would prove an ideal location for the building.

The completed plans for the building call for a room under the building 75 by 150 feet, which the architects say could be used for a garage. It would make one of the biggest garages in the Northwest and would probably be taken by some local firm.

The cost of the building would be in the neighborhood of $7,500, which would be for a steel structure of modern design.

There is a belief that the securing of the Gotch-Zbyszko match would be an excellent means of securing an auditorium for this city. Already there are a number of men who have indicated their willingness to Mr. Marshall to take stock in such a building. Even the architects themselves stated they would be willing to co-operate in the building of the proposed auditorium by taking some stock in the proposition.

The bid made Monday and first given circulation in The Herald is a bona fide offer and yesterday Mr. Marshall began planning some of the details to be worked out in the event of Duluth securing the match. He has consulted some of the local railway men and has been assured that special train service would be provided in the event of the world's championship match being brought to this city.

Trains will be run from St. Paul and Minneapolis, Kansas City, Chicago and the ranges. A large delegation of Poles will come to Duluth by way of the Lakes, if the match is secured here. It is also probable that Milwaukee and Chicago will send a heavy delegation here via the Great Lakes route.

Mr. Marshall stated yesterday that there was no doubt in his mind but that enough people would attend to fill the largest auditorium that could be constructed here. Letters have been coming into the office of the Lyceum, inquiring regarding the match. Local lovers of wrestling are enthusiastic over the prospect, and dozens of citizens have assured Mr. Marshall since Monday that he can count upon them to be there.

The Duluth offer has been wired to Chicago and will be considered with the other offers. It is known that personally Gotch would not be averse to wrestling here. He has some very warm admirers here, as was shown the other night at the Lyceum. It is expected that Gotch will use his influence in securing a favorable consideration for the Duluth offer.

SWIMMERS DOING CIRCUS STUNTS

Y. M. C. A. Athletes Are Pleased With Paraphernalia Over Swimming Pool.

The swimmers at the Y. M. C. A. are much pleased with the new trapeze and flying rings that have been installed over the pool. Physical Director Wegener has designed some fancy flips and twists which the men are trying to learn. They all end with a dip into the pool and sometimes the performer takes the dip sooner than he intended.

A great deal of interests is being taken in indoor baseball, handball and basketball at the gymnasium these days and the floor is busy nearly all the time. Each day there are a number of baseball games by those who are trying to get into shape for the outside season.

The season's work will close this year with a large athletic carnival and it is also planned to give a banquet that the season may be finished up in proper style.

ATHLETICS BLANK PHILLIES IN THIRD GAME.

Philadelphia, April 6.—The Philadelphia Americans yesterday defeated the local National league team by the score of 11 to 0, in the third game of the inter-league baseball series. The series now stands two to one in favor of the Nationals.

Batteries: Plank, Coombs and Livingston for the Americans; McQuillan, Brennan, Schettler, Jacklitsch and McDonough for the Nationals.

LEAGUE WILL BE REORGANIZED

Commercial Organization Will Have More Members This Season.

It is expected that some steps toward the organization of the Commercial Baseball league will be taken within the next two or three days. With the Patricks and Wolvins already organized, it is believed that the officers of the league will call a meeting and start the work of organizing the league for the season.

L. A. Lavole of the F. A. Patrick company was president of the league last year. He is out on the road the present season, and will not act in that capacity. Harold Pierce is secretary of the league and may decide to get the officers of the league together and agree upon some course of action for the present season.

It is expected that an election of officers will be held, a committee set to work upon the schedule and the first game of the season arranged. There are several additional teams that will come into the league the present season. The Stone-Ordean-Wells company will have a team, and there is some talk of the Leithhead company placing a team on the diamond the present season.

The Northern Shoe company is another firm that may place an application for membership in the league. It is expected that the league will be even more successful than it was last year.

The Wolvins, champions of the Commercial league last season, organized yesterday. Ray G. Foote will manage the team and Frank Carson will be secretary and treasurer. Most of the old candidates will be out for the team.

FIRST GAME IS SCHEDULED

High School Baseball Team Will Meet Grade School Saturday.

Candidates for the baseball team of the Central high school have held their first practice, and the first game of the season is scheduled for Saturday. The Washington grade school will be the first opponents of the high school boys.

T. F. Phillips, factulty director of athletics, and Mortimer Bondy, student manager of the baseball team, will represent Duluth tomorrow at a meeting of high schools to be called at Blaine high school, when the first steps in the organization of the interscholastic baseball league will be taken.

TOURNAMENT ON MEMORIAL DAY

At the meeting of the officers of the Northwestern Gun club last evening, Memorial day was chosen as the date of the big shoot. The preliminaries will be contested the day previous, leaving the finals for Decoration day.

As stated previously, there will be a contribution of $150 by the club, and it is expected that the merchants will also contribute some additional prizes. Some of the best shots in the country will be present at the tournament.

Contracts and Releases.

New York, April 6.—President Lynch of the National league announced last night the following contracts and releases:

Contracts with Chicago, Leslie G. Nunamaker and Henry Zimmerman.

Releases, by Boston to New York, National league, Beals Becker; by Brooklyn to Buffalo, Eastern league, George W. Schirm; by Brooklyn to Oklahoma City, Texas league, Hyde, A. C. Downey; by Chicago to Los Angeles, Pacific Coast league, J. W. Orndorf; by Chicago to Louisville, American Association, R. C. Schwenk; by New York to Boston, National league, W. Collins and C. L. Herzog; by Philadelphia to Scranton, New York State league, Gus Epler and Leon A. Martel; and by Pittsburg to Milwaukee, American Association, Ralph Cutting.

BOWLERS WANT TO INCORPORATE.

New York, April 6.—An application for a certificate of incorporation of the National Bowling association is before the supreme court here today. Among the objects set forth in the petition are:

Promotion of the bowling game; establishment of rules for regulating the pastime; management of turnaments.

The incorporators include: John G. Floss, Buffalo; George H. Pryor, Baltimore; Maj. M. W. Gage, Rochester; C. J. Hetzel, Trenton, N. J.; William Kirk, Wilmington, Del. The leading bowlers of the East, representing the foremost clubs, are said to be back of the movement for incorporation.

BRYAN WANTS NO HURRAH.

Urges That No Demonstration Be Made in New York.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 6.—William J. Bryan does not want any fuss made over him when he returns home from South America, he says in a letter from Buenos Ayres to National Chairman Norman E. Mack.

Anything of that sort would be misconstrued and misinterpreted," Mr. Bryan says that it had just been brought to his attention in the Buenos Ayres press that arrangements were being made in New York for his reception.

"I prefer to arrive quietly and go immediately West to my home," Mr. Bryan concluded.

FOURTH WALTZ FATAL.

Man Who Occupied Agassiz's Chair at Dinner Table Also Dies.

New York, April 6.—The cause of death of Prof. Alexander Agassiz, naturalist and president of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, who died on the steamship Adriatic, was heart failure.

Finishing a dance around the promenade deck of the Adriatic, the vessel on which Agassiz died, with Miss Eva M. A. Steinmetz, an artist, Clarence L. Mellhenny of New York fell dead. The fatality occurred while the liner was still far out at sea.

Mellhenny, who was 53 years old and a widower, was returning from a trip to London, where he had gone to buy woolen goods for his firm. He had danced three times, and had almost finished a fourth dance, for which "The Merry Widow" waltz was played at his request, when he collapsed.

Shortly before the dancing began, Mellhenny moved from his seat at the dinner table to that occupied by Prof. Agassiz, who died on the same steamship on March 28.

PASTOR OBJECTS TO THAT WAY OF ADVERTISING.

Atlanta, Ga., April 6.—Rev. Allan C. Shuler, pastor of the Western Heights Baptist church, has resigned because a week ago two deacons of his church advertised that they would put on a prize fight in the pulpit of the church before services. When the time came, they confessed that they had made the announcement merely to draw a crowd.

HOW HE CURED HIS SKIN DISEASE

About twenty years ago I began to break out with Eczema on my head, legs and arms, and commenced treatment with the local doctors, but did not get much relief. I continued to treat the disease under the direction of different physicians for two years, and at the end of that time they said the disease was chronic. I then quit them and tried various ointments, salves, lotions, etc., for another two years, but soon I was as bad off as before, so I finally decided to let medicine alone, and for twelve or thirteen years I suffered intensely from the Eczema. During the time I lost about half of my hair. At last I began S. S. S., doubtful of a cure, because the disease had run on so long, but I soon discovered that your medicine was doing me good, and continued to take it. After taking S. S. S. for awhile I was completely cured of the Eczema, not having a single spot left on my body, which before was almost completely covered with the eruption. I waited until the Spring to see if it would return, but have seen no signs of it, and am satisfied the cure is permanent. It has been several years now and I do not believe I will ever have any return of the trouble.

1017 Hackberry St., Ottumwa, Iowa. F. C. NORFOLK.

What S. S. S. did for Mr. Norfolk it can do for every one who is afflicted with a Skin Disease. He is just one of the many thousands who have cured themselves by the simple process of purifying the blood and removing the cause from the circulation. We want you to be cured if you have any skin trouble, and shall endeavor in this short talk to tell you just why S. S. S. will accomplish the desired result.

The skin is composed of two distinct layers. One is known as the epidermis or outer skin, which has no fibres, and serves principally as a covering to the body. The other is known as the derma or true skin, and is composed of elastic fibres, fat tissue, glands, lymphatics, nerves, etc. The thousands of tiny veins and arteries with which this lower section is interlaced, supplies the cuticle with healthful properties from the circulation to keep the skin smooth and healthy. We can therefore readily see how necessary it is for the blood to be pure if the skin remain free from disease, and also why humors and acids in the circulation always find their way to the surface and cause skin affections.

All skin troubles are due to a humor or acid in the blood. Instead of supplying rich, nutritive properties to the cuticle, the circulation constantly deposits an acrid impurity into the sensitive fibres and tissues. This causes inflammation of the under layer of the skin which splits or breaks the thin outer tissue and causes an ulceration of the glands, producing a discharge upon the surface, in the form of Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, etc. There is likewise a dry form of skin disease such as Acne, Psoriasis, etc. In these varieties the humor in the blood diseases the pores, hair follicles, etc., causing them to swell and protrude to the outer surface. Pimples, rashes, eruptions and like troubles are all due to impure blood, and only a blood purifier can cure them. Salves, washes, lotions. etc., will perhaps afford some temporary relief from the itching, and assist in keeping the skin clean, but such treatment can have no effect on the humors in the blood, and therefore never do any permanent good.

S. S. S. cures Skin diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity and nourishing qualities in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and inflamed by fiery humors and acids, is nourished, soothed and softened by a plentiful supply of rich, pure blood. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. It cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, rashes and all eruptions of the cuticle. These troubles cannot remain when the cause has been removed, and S. S. S. will certainly remove the cause by purifying the blood. SENIORS OF CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL SCORE SUCCESS

Fine Presentation of "Esmeralda" Is Given Before Large Crowd.

Audience Generous With Applause for Efforts of Youthful Actors.

ROBERT DONALDSON.

JEAN COCHRANE.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Elbert Rogers, a North Carolina farmer ..... Robert Donaldson
Mrs. Lydia Ann Rogers, his wife ..... Jean Cochrane
Miss Esmeralda Rogers, his daughter ..... Janet Haley
Dave Hardy, a young North Carolina farmer ..... Russell Matter
Mr. Estabrook, a man of leisure, ... Alastair Guthrie
Jack Desmond, an American artist in Paris ..... Charles Kelly
Miss Nora Desmond, his sister ..... Beulah Magner
Miss Kate Desmond, his sister ..... Louise Coe
George Drew, an American speculator ..... John Scanlon
Sophie, a maid ..... Edna Gorton

Before a packed house at the Central high school last night, the senior class of the Central high school presented "Esmeralda" a three-act comedy, by Mrs. F. H. Burnett.

The makeup of the characters was excellent and the smoothness with which everything ran showed weeks of careful training and hard work by the pupils. The stage presence of every member of the cast was almost perfect and their speech was audible in every corner of the large auditorium.

In his part as Elbert Rogers, Robert Donaldson proved to be the shining star of the performance. His imitation of a North Carolina farmer and of a hen pecked husband could not be bettered and he won the applause of the audience time and time again.

Jean Cochrane as his wife kept the house in a constant uproar, and she acted well the part of a wife accustomed to having affairs her own way.

Janet Haley in her part as leading lady, Esmeralda, played in fine style. Her acting as a broken hearted sweetheart would be hard to improve upon.

Russell Mather's part as Dave Hardy was carried out in such a way as to be entirely satisfactory. His was a difficult part, but he acquitted himself creditably.

Alaistair Guthrie showed many of the characteristics of a man of leisure and proved himself to be a star comedian. His witty remarks and the manner in which he carried himself afforded much amusement.

Charles Kelly as the American artist was appreciated. Mr. Kelly is fortunate in having a strong voice and this with the way in which he acted the part of the artist won for him admiration.

Beulah Magner and Louise Coe as the Desmond sisters did very well with their parts.

John Scanlon certainly showed the traits of an experienced speculator and his attempt to buy the Rogers farm for almost nothing was done in an excellent manner.

Sophie, the maid, was well handled by Edna Gerton and although her appearances on the stage were short and infrequent she carried out the part assigned to her in a commendable manner.

The play as a whole was one of the most successful in every way that was ever presented by a senior class at the school. The large auditorium was packed and the friends of the young Thespians showered applause upon them. There was not one misfit character and the play ran along as smoothly as though it had been running the proverbial 300 nights. Much credit must be given Mr. Custance under whose able direction the play was staged.

JIMINEZ ELECTED IN COSTA RICA.

San Jose, Costa Rica, April 6.—At the most orderly elections in the history of the country, Ricardo Jiminez, Republican, was elected president of the republic for the term of 1910-14 which begins on May 8.

Jiminez was chosen president over Rafael Iglnehias last August, but the election was annulled by the courts upon the allegation that President Zelaya of Nicaragua had shipped a boatload of Nicaraguans into Costa Rica, where they voted for Jiminez.

The new president is a lawyer and succeeds Cleto Gonzales Viquez.

GERMANY THREATENED WITH BIG STRIKE.

Berlin, April 6.—The prospect of the most extensive strike in the building trades which has ever taken place in Germany, is held out by the decisive action of the delegates representing the Socialist Federation of Trades Unions, comprising 300,000 brick-layers, carpenters, masons, builders and laborers, at a meeting last evening, at which they unanimously rejected the proposed wages tariff which the Masters Builders' union has drawn up. Such a strike would affect at least 350,000 men throughout the country.

CLAY COUNTY FARMER IS VICTIM OF AN ACCIDENT.

Moorhead, Minn., April 6.—The body of Andrew Carlstrom, aged 60, a farmer living six miles south of here, was found lying in a ditch underneath his buggy yesterday, the circumstances indicating that he had driven into a ditch and the rig had been overturned upon him killing him instantly, his neck being broken.

GASOLINE AS REMEDY

Explosion Follows Mistake and Man Is Badly Burned.

August Grossman Thought He Was Taking Kerosene for Cold.

August Grossman, a Northern Pacific car repairer, who boards at the Globe hotel, 1522 West Superior street, lies in a very precarious condition at the Northern Pacific hospital at Brainerd, Minn., following a peculiar accident in which his face and hands were horribly burned.

Suffering from a severe cold, Grossman thought he would get relief by taking kerosene, an old home remedy for colds when taken internally. Monday afternoon while at work at the car repair shops off Garfield avenue, Grossman drank a few swallows of gasoline, mistaking it for kerosene. Not only did he take it internally, but he also applied it externally.

When he spit out the gasoline from his mouth, he was standing in close proximity to a small fire which was being used to heat a rusty nut and bolt. An explosion followed in which Grossman was badly burned about the head, neck and face. His hair was burned from his head in many places.

He was hurried to a local physician's office, where his wounds were dressed. He was taken to Brainerd Monday evening. Grossman is unmarried and about 40 years old.

MRS. HANNAH NELSON DIES.

One of the Early Settlers at West End Passes Away.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah Nelson, 70 years old, who died at the family residence, 1704 West Third street, last evening, will be held tomorrow afternoon from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms at 1:30, and from the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. J. Daniels officiating. Burial will be in the Union cemetery.

Mrs. Nelson was one of the earlier settlers at the West end. She was the widow of the late Peter Nelson. She is survived by two sons, F. G. Nelson, Duluth; Nels Nelson, Big Timber, Mont., and two daughters, Mrs. William Nelson and Mrs. Frank Carlson, both of Duluth.

Mrs. Nelson had been sick but a week prior to her death, which is attributed to stomach trouble.

EPWORTH LEAGUE WILL GIVE CONCERT.

The Epworth League of the First Swedish M. E. church is making plans for an entertainment and concert to be given at the church parlors, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, Thursday evening, April 14.

A feature of the affair will be an address by Rev. M. S. Rice D. D., pastor of the First M. E. church of Duluth. Rev. Edward Stromberg, the pastor of the First Swedish M. E. church, will also speak during the evening.

Other numbers will be given by Theodore Fossum, pianist, and the Misses Fielder and Sjoselius, who will each render a vocal solo. Rev. Mr. Stromberg will also recite a poem.

Church Concert.

A concert will be given tomorrow evening at the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society.

The program, which will begin at 8 o'clock, is as follows:

Hansen Funeral Held.

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Axel Louis, the 1-year-old son of Jens P. Hansen of 2827 West Second street, who died yesterday of meningitis. The service was conducted from the family residence with burial at Park Hill cemetery. Rev. Edward Erickson, pastor of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, officiated.

West End Shortrails.

The funeral of Nellie R. McLean, 7-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McLean of 2231 West Michigan street, who died of scarlet fever, was held yesterday afternoon with interment at Forest Hill cemetery.

Beta council, No. 2, Benificent degree, Modern Samaritans, will entertain at a dance Monday evening, April 11, at Columbia hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street.

George Wilson of 17 North Twentieth avenue west is reported to be ill at his home.

Hugh Campbell, who for a number of years has been proprietor of a small confectionery store at 2009 West Superior street, yesterday sold his business to John McCue, who will conduct it in the future.

Rev. John A. Anderson, superintendent of the northern district of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church with headquarters in Marinette, Wis., is in the West end. He was a former pastor at the First Swedish M. E. church.

Alexander Kennedy has gone to Minneapolis on a short business visit.

Mrs. Christiana Haakons of 2821 West First street entertained this afternoon for the West End Mission Society of the St. John's English Lutheran church.

Mrs. Thomas Jensen of 2615 West Fourth street will entertain the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church at her home tomorrow afternoon.

ALBINO MUSKRAT IS THE LATEST

Animal Freak Is Said to Have Been Caught By Trapper.

Brainerd, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—An Albino muskrat, a great rarity, was captured recently by August Redue, a trapper living on Norway brook, seven miles east of Backus. The animal was pure white, with pink eyes. Mr. Redue sent it to this city and will have it mounted. Few of those familiar with the animals of Minnesota have ever seen one of these animals.

Farmer Has Mink Farm.

Another curiosity in this section is a mink farm which is being conducted by a farmer near Pine River. The owner has sunken poultry netting into the ground surrounding a swamp and pond sufficiently deep so that the mink will not dig under, and is said to be getting a goodly stock of these fur-bearing animals. He expects that it will prove a remunerative venture.

CLOQUET WILL OBSERVE ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS DAY.

Cloquet, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The churches of this city will observe Sunday, April 24, as anti-tuberculosis day, when subjects pertaining to the warfare being waged on the "white plague" are to be discussed in the several pulpits. The day will be observed all over the country wherever there are societies for the prevention and relief of consumption.

Rev. C. F. Coolbaugh, rector of the local Episcopal church, who is secretary of the Carlton County Anti-tuberculosis society, in an official notice relative to the observance of the day, says:

"This Sunday is to be observed nationally. It is to be kept in all larger and smaller cities where organizations exist. Cloquet is to keep it. Every clergyman in the city is requested to take part in it and ask his congregation to join cordially with him. The subject of 'the suppression of the great plague' ought to be wisely and thoroughly discussed.

"The Carlton County Association for the Prevention and Relief of Consumption respectfully urges and instructs all good people to heartily join in the popular and charitable movement."

MINERS READY FOR CONFERENCE MONDAY.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—Members of the executive board of Illinois division of the United Mine Workers of America and a committee representing the operators will meet in Chicago next Monday to confer over the wage controversy. The miners' executive board, in session here, voted to notify the operators that they would be ready to confer by that time. It is expected, according to statements from miners, that the strike in Illinois will continue for some time and that the first conference will be of little material value.

Back Broken; May Live.

Lead, S. D., April 6.—His back broken by the fall of a 400-pound rock in the Homestake mine, George Lane, a block-holer, is lying in the hospital here with a fair chance for recovery. Lane was clearing a space for some timber on the 600-foot level of the mine, just after a round of shots had been fired, and was bending over when the slide of rock occurred from above. His posture saved his life, as the back did not receive the full force of the rock, which would have crushed him instantly had he been standing.

Northern Pacific Brakeman Killed.

Fergus Falls, Minn., April 6.—Harry Oben, a young man of Vining, this county, was instantly killed at Oakes, Monday, while at work as a brakeman on the Northern Pacific mixed train on this division. He fell under the train and his body was cut in two.

Menominee County Fair Plans.

Menominee, Mich., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements are already under way for the Menominee county fair. R. W. S. Hoskins has been elected president and the dates have been set for Sept. 13, 14, 15 and 16.

SALOON KEEPERS SUED.

Father of Convicted Boy Seeks Damages in Court.

Calumet, Mich., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorneys O'Brien and Le Gendre, acting on behalf of Charles Carlson, father of Arthur Carlson, the young man sentenced last week in circuit court for assault to Ionia for an indeterminate term have brought suit against Eugene Coppo and his bondsmen; Dominic Borgo and his bondsmen, and Amildo Tambellini, and his bondsmen, all three saloon keepers in the village of Red Jacket, to recover the sum of $3,000, for the loss of his son's services, shame, disgrace, and so forth.

It is alleged that liquor was purchased by Arthur Carlson, a minor, in the places of business of the three defendants on the day of the alleged crime.

NEGRO MOB LYNCHES TWO OTHER NEGROES.

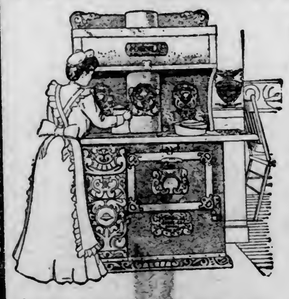

Keo, Ark., April 6.—A mob of heavily armed negroes shot and then hanged a man and woman of their own race at a late hour last night. The mob's victims were Frank Pride, aged 50, and Laura Mitchell, 44, both charged with the murder of the Mitchell woman's husband, whose body was found buried in Pride's yard early in the day.

Pride and the Mitchell woman were being escorted to jail when the party was overtaken by the mob.

St. Clond Elects Freeman.

St. Cloud, Minn., April 6.—In one of the warmest and most hotly contested city elections held in this city for several years, Daniel H. Freeman, Republican candidate, was elected mayor Monday over James B. Murphy, independent, by 150 majority.

DATE IS CHANGED FOR MAKING LAND ENTRIES.

Aberdeen, S. D., April 6.—Persons desiring of filing on lands in the Standing Rock or Cheyenne reservations will be interested in the announcement that the date for filing has been changed.

Under recent date, Judge James W. Witten, superintendent in charge of land selections, addressed the following letter to the local land office:

"You are informed that the president, on yesterday, changed the date on which the Cheyenne river and Standing Rock lands will become subject to entry, from April 1 to May 2, 1910, and directed that all persons holding numbers be permitted to make their selections from the whole body of lands embraced in the two land districts at Aberdeen, on such dates as may be assigned them for that purpose. Eight thousand persons will make their selections between May 2 and June 30, 1910, and those holding numbers above eight thousand will make selections between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1. After the selections have been made, a certificate will be issued, which will entitle the holder to make entry at the Aberdeen or the Lemmon land office, accordingly as the lands are located."

CRANE GOES TO ST. PAUL OFFICE

Duluth Manager of Western Union Telegraph Company Is Promoted.

C. A. Crane, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company's office here for the past seven years, has been notified of his appointment as manager of the St. Paul office of the company. The transfer will probably take place some time this week. The appointment is in the nature of a promotion, the St. Paul office being one of the most important in the Northwest. Mr. Crane's successor here has not yet been appointed.

APRIL TERM OF COURT OPENS

The Many Cases Stricken and Continued Make the Calendar Light.

With the call of the calendar, the April term of the district court began this morning.

There are all told on the calendar this month 104 cases. Fifteen of them were continued, seventy-eight will be tried and ten were stricken.

There are ten divorce actions to be heard. The jury cases number fifty, and there are court cases to the number of fifty-four.

Due to the number of continuances and the number stricken, the April term of court will be very light.

During the absence of Judge Dibell, Judge William A. Cant called the calendar.

TO ENFORCE HEALTH LAWS

All Meat Handled By Dealers Must Be Inspected By Officials.

Herds of Milk Dealers Must Be Examined By Tuberculin Process.

Butchers in the city of Duluth must not sell meat that has not been inspected by the government or the city inspector.

Nor can the milk dealers sell milk from cows that have not been examined.

Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, said today that violations of these provisions will meet with instant prosecution as soon as they reach the ears of the department. He says that no favors will be granted and that all must observe the provisions of the ordinances and laws relating to these matters.

Theodore Bernhart, the meat inspector, has been working but a few days, but in that time he has found quite a quantity of meat which had to be condemned. He has also learned that some of the shops and a few of the commission houses are not as sanitary as they ought to be. No flaring violations have been located, but several of the shops have not been particularly clean.

DR. H. E. WEBSTER.

It is claimed that cows shipped into the city have been turned into herds from which milk is being sold to the public. The health department is determined to stop this practice. Particular attention will be paid to this side of the subject to see that the health of the public is not endangered.

To warn the meat dealers and the milk men of the conditions under which they must do business Dr. Webster has inserted an advertisement in the daily papers to explain the law and to tell them what he expects.

HENRY OF TEXAS CROSSES CANNON

Clash Over Point of Order Marks Opening of the House Session.

Washington, April 6.—The proceedings of the house today were opened with a clash between Speaker Cannon and Mr. Henry of Texas, Democrat, over a point of order.

Calling attention to one of the rules of the house, Mr. Henry insisted that it was mandatory for the speaker to keep a quorum in the house. Without ruling, Mr. Cannon replied that much of the business was done without a quorum, and that it was the duty of the members, as well as the speaker, to see that a quorum was maintained.

"The clerk will proceed," commanded the speaker.

The reading clerk started to read the journal, but Mr. Henry demanded a ruling on his point of order. The speaker commanded him to take his seat, using his gavel vigorously the while.

Repartee With Speaker.

"I make the point of order that no quorum is present, and the speaker refused to do his duty," shouted Mr. Henry.

"The chair congratulates the gentleman that he has a duty to perform," retorted the speaker.

"I regret I cannot congratulate the speaker upon the performance of duty," exclaimed Mr. Henry.

"The chair does not desire the congratulations of the gentleman," replied Mr. Cannon.

The roll was called, and 270 members answering to their names, the business on the calendar of Wednesday was taken up.

LAST RITES FOR THOMAS WILSON

State Supreme Court Closes to Honor Former Chief Justice.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—With simple services, attended by a distinguished gathering of mourners, the funeral of Thomas Wilson, one time chief justice of the supreme court of the state, member of congress, framer of the Constitution of Minnesota, and candidate for governor, and for the last eighteen years general counsel of the Omaha railroad, was held this afternoon in the House of Hope church.

Tomorrow morning the body will be taken to Winona, where carriages will be in waiting to conduct the funeral party to Woodlawn cemetery. There the remains will be laid at rest in the Wilson lot, between the bodies of the late judge's wife and his daughter, the deceased wife of Lloyd W. Bowers, United States solicitor general.

Eberhart Honorary Bearer.

The service was conducted by Rev. H. C. Swearington, pastor of the House of Hope church. Governor Eberhart was one of the honorary pallbearers, and Cyrus Northrop, president of the University of Minnesota, another. The university suspended classes this afternoon out of respect to Judge Wilson's services to it for the last four years as regent.

The supreme court adjourned at noon. It was represented at the funeral by Chief Justice C. M. Start; the four associate justices, C. L. Lewis, C. L. Brown, E. A. Jaggard and T. D. O'Brien; and by former Justices L. W. Collins and W. B. Douglas.

The Ramsey County Bar association met at the courthouse and attended the ceremony in a body. The Hennepin County Bar association was represented by a delegation of lawyers.

Flags at Half Mast.

The district courts of both counties adjourned at noon and at the same hour the rooms of the supreme court were closed and the outer doors draped with black. About the state capitol the flags are half mast, and will remain so until sundown.

COLD DEAL TO SETTLERS

Many Awaiting Decision on Withdrawal of Lake County Lands.

Their Case May Be Appealed Directly to President Taft.

More than a score of Duluth, Northern Wisconsin and Michigan people are anxiously awaiting the outcome of negotiations with officials of the department of the interior at Washington which are being directed from Duluth and upon which depends whether or not they will be placed in possession of lands upon which they filed in Lake county, at considerable expense and after undergoing no inconsiderable hardship.

Edward Dunnigan of Duluth was the locator who took these settlers to Lake county, on the Canadian border. There were twenty-five or thirty of them, and they went there to secure homes on the invitation of the interior department, which caused to be published notices that the lands would be thrown open to settlement on Aug. 23, 1909. The prospective settlers traveled to the edge of the tract upon which they planned to file and camped on an island until midnight of Aug. 22. In the early morning hours of Aug. 23 they posted their notices of claims and for ten days they worked industriously at camp building and clearing, as required by law.

In the meantime the officials at Washington, with never a thought for the men who were in the wilderness awaiting an opportunity to begin the work of transforming the wild land into farm homes, ordered the withdrawal of the lands from entry. The notice reached Duluth after the local land office had closed for the day on Saturday, Aug. 22, and news of the action did not become known until Monday.

When the settlers had wrestled with the wilderness for ten days, forest rangers came to them with a notification to depart, for the reason that the land had been withdrawn from entry. They had no alternative, and they went away.

Returning to Duluth, they tendered their entry money, which was accepted by the land office, but was returned a week later, as the local officials were powerless to give the settlers any relief under the order of withdrawal.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood took charge of the interests of the settlers and asked the interior department to make a ruling that would permit them to secure possession of the lands upon which they had filed. Secretary Ballinger promptly overruled the request, and now Capt. Smallwood probably will appeal to President Taft to intervene in behalf of the settlers.

NEW CARRIERS ARE ENROLLED

Two Additions to Pittsburg Fleet to Go Into Commission This Year.

Two new ore carriers of the Pittsburg Steamship company, the W. B. Schiller and the J. P. Morgan, Jr., were enrolled at the office of the local collector of customs today. FORGED CHECK ARTIST BUSY IN SUPERIOR.

Bad checks are being circulated in Superior this week, by a stranger for whom the police are searching. Three second hand dealers fell victims of the smooth one, who beat them out of a little small change by the transaction. He uses the names of well-known business men and usually purchases something and pays for it with a check larger than the amount called for by the purchase. When the dealer delivers the articles he finds his mistake.

Search for Relatives.

Superior authorities are making an attempt to locate the relatives of Thomas Ryan, 24 years old, who died late yesterday at a local hospital after a week's illness with pneumonia. He has no relatives in Superior or Duluth, but before he died stated that he had a brother residing in Wisconsin. The body is held at the Le Sage undertaking parlors.

MARKET DULL AND NERVOUS

Little Change in the Copper Share Prices During a Quiet Session.

The copper market was nervous and spotty today and there was little trend either way. Some issues declined fractionally and others advanced fractionally. The undertone was weak. The market's principal support came from shorts who took profits. Traders hesitated to take on long lines. Nobody seemed to have sufficient courage to buy.

The rate of the Bank of England, New York wired, may be advanced tomorrow and this was a depressing feature. There was little market news and trading as dull.

Copper Queen sold at 47 cents, Red Warrior at $2.25, Savanna at $1, Warrior at $12.87½, Calumet & Montana at 90 cents, Calumet & Corbin at 86 and 90 cents, St. Mary's at 15 cents, North American at $2.43¾.

Amalgamated sold at $76.25 to $76.75 to $76.62½, Butte Coalition sold at $22.50 to $23, Giroux at $8.37½ to $8.25, Greene Cananea at $9.37½ to $9.50, Calumet & Arizona at $66 to $67 and back to $66, North Butte at $35.75 to $36.25 to $35.50, Lake at $56.50 to $54.50 to $57.50 and at $57 at the close. Superior & Pittsburg sold at $13.62½ to $13.25, Steel Common at $56.37½, $54.87½ to $55.87½ and at $55.75 at the close.

The report of the Superior & Pittsburg company issued today, shows that the corporation has applied its earnings to the reduction of its indebtedness with considerable success. By the end of the present year the company expects to be out of debt, with a small surplus. In 1909 the company produced 12,163 tons of refined copper. The gold and silver product amounted to $164,304.69.

The development work on the Superior & Pittsburg properties has been satisfactory from the standpoint of new mineral reserves. This has been true of the first three months of the present year, as well as for the year 1909 with which the report deals. Large bodies of ore have been shown up in the Junction ground, and all of the properties have contributed generously to the reserves.

Following is a statement of the assets and liabilities Dec. 31, 1909:

Assets.
Cash	$ 23,204.97
Bullion on hand	736,177.58
Ore in stock at mines and smelter	6,475.00
Supplies on hand at mines	130,110.31
Accounts and notes receivable	38,965.63
Stock in other companies	145,000.00
Total	$1,060,930.49
Liabilities.
Accounts payable (current)	$ 189,075.94
Notes payable	570,561.61
Total	$ 759,637.94
Assets in excess of liabilities	$ 310,301.94

Copper estimated at 12½ cents per pound.
Silver estimated at 50 cents per ounce.
Gold estimated at $20 per ounce.

The annual statement of the developments at Warren announces that building construction is active. The town is described as enjoying a healthy growth. An extension of 4,700 feet of the street railway company was made in 1909, and a further extension of 3,000 feet was contemplated.

• • •

At first glance the report of the Calumet & Arizona company, made public today, is not so favorable as it really is. The net earnings on the Bisbee properties were slightly more than $1,200,000 or about $6 a share. A dividend of $4 was paid. The surplus, compared with 1908, shows a depreciation of about $270,000. However, $375,000 was expended in explorations on properties under option and $139,600 was paid out in completing payments for properties under option and for which the company expects to be reimbursed as its Courtland properties are now producing 100 tons of 5 per cent ore daily. This explanation shows that the company earned its dividend, although at first glance the shrinkage in the assets tends to cause some doubt in the mind of any one examining the report.

The statement of assets and liabilities Dec. 31, 1909, follows:

Assets.
Cash	$ 813,360.43
Bullion on hand	1,045,831.98
Ore in stock at mine and smelter	91,000.00
Supplies on hand at smelter	540,776.86
Accounts receivable	215,146.43
Notes receivable (demand)	546,061.61
Stock in other companies	167,500.00
Total	$3,428,689.31
Liabilities.
Accounts payable	$ 273,185.87
Assets in excess of liabilities	$3,155,491.44

Copper estimated at 12½ cents per pound.
Silver estimated at 50 cents per ounce.
Gold estimated at $20 per ounce.

Satisfactory results have been obtained by development of the Bisbee properties during the past year. One of the most important features of the mineral development of the company was the finding of a large body of ore at 1,500 feet depth in the Oliver shaft, in the region of unaltered sulphides. The find of desirable ore at that depth is of much significance and importance, for it is a promise that the entire district may hope to obtain commercial ore at depths greater than has heretofore been expected.

During 1909 the Calumet & Arizona company mined 13,815 tons of refined copper. The gold and silver product for the year amounted to $211,760.13, or an average of $13.52 per ton of refined copper.

HIGBEE IRON COMPANY

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE AT ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

Mines on the Famous Mesaba Iron Range in Minnesota

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

R. BACON HIGBEE, Business Builder and Counsellor; GEORGE SALZER, President Salzer Lumber Co., Minneapolis; C. M. HIGBEE, Expert Accountant and Correspondent.

PROSPECTUS

In our brief, this is our prospectus. It's brief because our company's the genuine article, and the genuine article can always be presented without expensive superfluities. Cheap propositions, like cheap people, need fine trimmings to gain attention. If you want an investment for profit, here's your chance, and if you don't, say so, we're no judges of the ability and intelligence of the people to whom this summary will be presented.

ORGANIZATION

The Higbee Iron Company is incorporated for just One Hundred Thousand Dollars, divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each. Think of it! Only one thousand shares! This is an exclusive company, everybody can't get in. Now, that's a business point of no small importance, for the slightest improvement in the welfare of our company means an increase of dollars, not cents, per share, to every stockholder, and it is no unusual thing for companies orfganized on this plan to show profits of many dollars in a single day.

PROPERTY

The company owns the controlling interest in an Iron Mining Lease from the State of Minnesota, covering a hundred and sixty acres located on the famous Mesaba Iron Range, the biggest iron range in the world, and from whose many mines come yearly about one-half of the world's iron ore supply. A dozen or more diamond and churn drill holes have already been put down on our land, blocking out a body of ore something like a quarter of a mile long and an eighth of a mile wide. Millions of tons of iron ore are shown to exist, and many, many times as much will probably be found as development proceeds, and especially when drilling is continued deeper and over the balance of our property, seven-eighths of which has never even been touched. A great point about our mine is that the ore is only about forty feet below the top of the ground, which will make it one of the easiest mines in the world to mine. Then, too, we are in good company, for on different sides we are adjoined by the mines and properties of the "Great Jim Hill" and the U. S. Steel Company, and other property of R. B. Higbee, George Salzer and the State of Minnesota.

The biggest kind of development is taking place here—here, where a few years ago was a vast timbered wilderness, are now thriving towns, railroads and activity not unrivaled by the much vaunted Panama canal. Things are doing here. It would do your heart good just to see it. No other mining equals it for stupendousness, modern business romance and picturesqueness. An Empire is in the building, and later, when the vast peat deposits are used to convert the raw ore into the finished product at the mines, the influence of the Empire that's growing fast will be reckoned with by all future greatness. Here in the North woods of Minnesota—here on the banks of America's Inland Sea, is taking place a change that shall go down into history more wonderful to tell than any chapter of "Arabian Nights."

If you want to be a partner in this great drama, get busy and buy some of our shares today—tomorrow may be too late—stranger things have happened here. And then, there is one more great point about our stock. You'll never see it selling at a less price than it is today. Every share that's sold brings par or more. You can't get it for less, and it's mighty cheap at that. Mr. Salzer and myself have sold some shares to people who wanted to be associated with us at only a hundred dollars each, or, in other words, par; but not one of the present stockholders would think of such a thing as selling much or all of his stock at such a ridiculously low figure. Five and even six hundred dollars should be cheap for this stock, figuring on the present development alone; and future developments should, if I am any prophet, bring the ultimate returns on a share of this stock up to ten or twenty times that much.

Dividends are expected to begin in the near future, to be increased as rapidly as circumstances will permit. Come in with us now and, as time goes on, you'll congratulate yourself on your foresight.

We're the boys on the ground. We've been pioneers and we've seen the thing grow. It will pay you to be with us. Such co-operation will be of advantage to you in more ways than one.

Our following is increasing every day, and if you, reader, are a lover of real enterprise, hook up with us now. Write for price and terms on stock at once, and, thanking you for your kind attention, I am,

Yours sincerely,

R. B. HIGBEE, President.

LAST SESSION OF M. E. DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Rev. Andrew Gillis of Minneapolis to Lecture on "Jean Valjean."

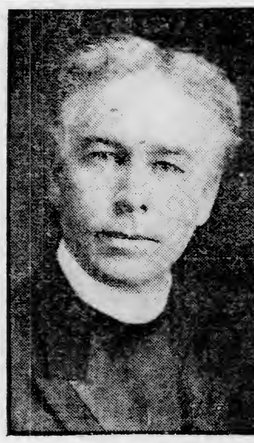

Rev. T. S. Oadams of Two Harbors Gives Strong Address.

Rev. Andrew Gillis, D. D., pastor of the Hennepin Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Minneapolis, will be the principal speaker at the closing session of the Methodist district conference at the Merritt Memorial M. E. church this evening, when he will deliver his famous lecture on "Jean Valjean."

Rev. Gillis enjoys the distinction of being one of the most forceful speakers in the entire Minnesota conference. His appearance in Duluth is an event to which the Methodists of the city have been looking forward and it is expected that the Oneota church will be crowded this evening.

Rev. C. W. Ramshaw of Proctor will open the devotional services this evening at 7:45 o'clock. After the lecture by Rev. Gillis, a final adjournment of the meeting will be taken. This afternoon an interesting session was held, Rev. J. J. Parish of Mora, Minn., opening the exercises with a devotional service.

Papers on Sunday school work were read by Rev. J. J. Orreck of Deer River,

ANDREW GILLIS.

Minn., Rev. George E. Silloway of Coleraine and Rev. Charles Blake of Cloquet. This was followed by a general discussion. Rev. Parish followed by a talk on "The Asbury Methodist Episcopal hospital at Minneapolis." Rev. W. G. Boyle, pastor of the Asbury M. E. church of this city, gave a talk on "Hamline University."

Rev. S. G. Briggs of Grand Rapids, Minn., gave a short talk in which he brought out the responsibility of the board of home missions to the church extension work. Rev. W. G. Fritz of Cohasset took up the theme from the standpoint of the foreign missionary societies. The morning session was mainly given over to business matters.

In his annual report, which was submitted to the conference this morning, Rev. Edgar K. Copper, district superintendent, pointed out that the growth of the church had been very encouraging during the year past. Reference was made to certain work along extension lines. Each of the pastors present made a report on their individual charges.

During the morning session, Rev. Charles Fox Davis of Brainerd gave an address on "The Methodist Brotherhood."

Address of Rev. Oadams.

Last evening, Rev. T. S. Oadams of Two Harbors, delivered an interesting address.

His theme was "Memories of the Mighty," and the text, Hebrews xii. 7-8.

He said in part, "The fathers of the church won their great spiritual victories in the discovery of an unchanged and unchanging redeemer, Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, yea and forever. A noble ancestry is a constant inspiration to endeavor. Names are often associated with precious memories. Thus at times the church endeavors to renew her courage and derive anew her inspiration from the brave pioneers of her work. We do well to recall the memory of those who first spake unto us the word of God, who with almost inspired sagacity initiated and matured our present spiritual heritage of opportunity and enjoyment. We ask, Do these yet live? The teaching of the scripture and the testimony of experience is that they do. They live not only in the presence and fellowship of God and his saints, but in their works which follow them, undying memorials of their faith and service. They live moreover in their yet prevalent prayers, for all true prayer is immortal. The grand secret of their triumph is borne to us in the appeal of the text. That secret belongs not to the uniqueness of their genius or a ripeness of the age in which they live for sacred toil. But it is found in the fact, that one was their master supreme, the matchless theme of thought and speech, the inspiration of their service, the one aim of their labors, the ground of their confidence in life and the secret of their triumphant end. And that one master is ours.

"New conditions, new tides of thought and feeling leaving the ancient channels and flowing in new directions; varying developments of industrial social life, furnishing new problems; new methods of church work and world evangelization, all these are upon us. But confidence is not shaken. New heroes and newer heroisms are demanded.

Christ Is Unchangeable.

"Methods once deemed infallible now seem in some instances to fail in their application, yet no caprice of human life, no abnormal social phenomena, no divergence of scientific belief from ancient standards, no revolution in the esthetics of devotion can unsettle the one foundation of the church of Jesus Christ or arrest the purpose of divine self-fulfilment. The secret of our vitality, the inspiration of our progress, the pledge of our continuity and the guarantee of ultimate spiritual victory over men, which is the only lasting victory, is in Jesus Christ. The secret of all spiritual triumph is the unfaltering hold of our hearts upon the unchangeable Christ.

"The attestation of the divine character of Christianity today is its daily work. Its influence upon these modern times, the triumphs of Christian education, of civilization, of peace, of world enlightenment, all growing more and more significant. But the most significant of miracles is the conversion of a human soul, the demon of evil banished, and a man who but yesterday was despondent and despaired of, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind. In Christianity is the power to redeem the man, to redeem the world. The strength of the fathers is discoverable in Jesus Christ. The strength of the church today is not in its creeds, but in Christ and Christ-like lives, setting sacrificial service against selfish exclusiveness to usher in the reign of righteousness and love."

DECORATING FOR AUTO PARADE

West Duluth People Will Give Governor Hearty Welcome.

Business men along Central avenue were today decorating their places of business for the automobile parade and annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club, which will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at Wade's hall.

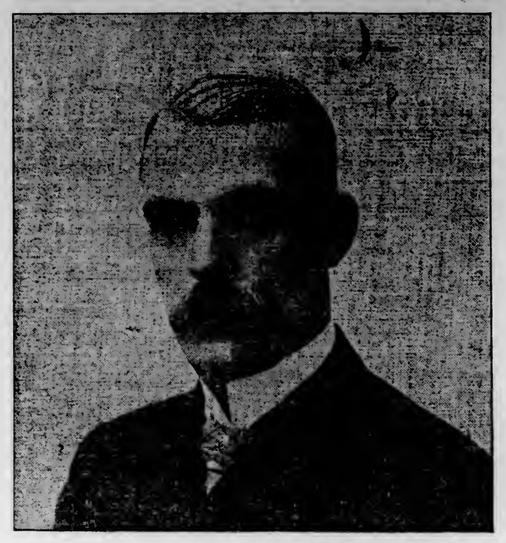

This morning the Duluth Edison Electric company arranged a decorative design of colored incandescent lights at the corner of Central avenue and Ramsey street. The lights will be of red, white and blue. The national colors are used also in the decorating scheme at the banquet hall.

The final meeting of the general committee, of which Andrew Myles is chairman, will be held this evening. A floor committee has been appointed as follows: Angus G. MacAuley, vice president of the club; C. M. Brooks, J. J. Frey, F. W. Joltz, A. H. Merriman, Louis Ramsted, C. C. Salter, Thomas Olafson, E. J. Zauft, Andrew Miles, A. A. Scott, W. A. Fond, W. B. Getchell, L. R. Clark, M. J. Fillatrault and David Sang.

This committee will meet at the banquet hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. The guests will sit down to the banquet at 7:30 o'clock. Those not having tickets may purchase them at the door. The name of W. E. Wessinger has been added to the general committee.

evening, at which time officers will be chosen for the coming year and plans will be made for the annual banquet, which will probably be held early in May.

The shortness of the past season left the West Duluth curlers with the finals to be played in two events. The disposition of these two trophies will be considered by the members at the annual meeting.

GOOD TEMPLARS WILL HAVE EXCURSION.

An excursion to Ashland, Washburn and Bayfield by water was decided upon last evening at the joint meeting of the Good Templar lodges of the Head of the Lakes, held in Victor hall, 5528 Grand avenue. The trip will be made some time in June. About 800 members of the order are expected to attend.

The details of the affair were left in the hands of a committee of L. A. Simonson and Otto Nordeen of Duluth and A. Lidell of Superior. The Good Templar lodges at the Head of the Lakes are North Star lodge, West end; Morning Star and Lysglimt lodges, West Duluth; Harmony and Fram lodges of Superior.

West Duluth Briefs.

A. G. Gates of Prescott, Minn., is a guest today at the Phillips hotel.

Mrs. Ruth Merritt of 4603 Oneota street will entertain the West Duluth branch of the W. C. T. U. at her home tomorrow afternoon. Mesdames Thorn and Getchell are the leaders and the subject for discussion is "Minnesota Day."

John Lindberg of Superior, charged with wife desertion, was arrested at West Duluth yesterday. He was taken to Superior last evening by a deputy sheriff of Douglas county.

West Duluth council, No. 255, Royal League, entertained last evening at a dancing party given at the Commercial clubrooms. The dance was preceded by a short business session, at which a class of candidates was initiated.

Mrs. L. H. Clarke of 5711 Huntington street entertained this afternoon for the Ladies Guild of the Holy Apostle's Episcopal church.

Lawrence Gagnon has returned from the South where he spent the winter.

S. S. Johnson of Carlton visited at West Duluth yesterday.

Samuel Schied has returned from a trip to New Mexico.

Emil Berglund returned yesterday from Milwaukee, where he has been for the past few weeks.

The Salter club will meet this evening at the office of the director, Rev. D. G. Cole, No. 8, Silvey block.

H. C. Brown has reopened his cement block factory at Sixty-second avenue west and Grand avenue. The capacity of the plant has been increased and it is the intention to put a larger force of men at work this spring.

For a consideration of $15,000, the Getty-Smith block, 305 and 307 Central avenue became the property of James Gray of the Crescent Bakery company. The Getty-Smith company, a real estate firm, was the former owner. The building is about twenty years old.

DISCUSSING PARK PLANS

County Commissioners Do Not Favor Spending Large Sum.

Claim City Should Buy First Street Property and Improve It.

A lively discussion is going on this afternoon in the county board room at the courthouse, where the commissioners and representatives of civic bodies are going over the plans submitted by a Minneapolis architect to beautify the courthouse grounds.

The plans call for an expenditure of about $12,000. They include leveling the grounds, the making of terraces, flower beds and gravel walks, and the planting of trees, shrubs and hedges. The grounds surrounding the courthouse would be made over into a central park, and the shade would make a resting or breathing spot in the very heart of the business district.

Some of the county officials have been working hard to get the plans through, but the members of the county board are not very enthusiastic. They claim that there are several things wrong with the proposition. In the first place, they say the city should get down to business and take the land at Fourth avenue west and First street that the county has been holding so long. They state that the city has done a deal of talking but does not seem to get down to business. The county commissioners do not feel that they should be required to hold the land and improve it. They think that the city should own it, and then, if they like, improve it. They think that Uncle Sam should care for his own and not ask the commissioners to put up for beautifying his land.

Discussing the matter informally among themselves before the meeting today, the commissioners present agreed that the ground directly about the courthouse and belonging to the county should be improved at the expense of the county. They do not think, however, that they should spend the county's money to improve lands that do not belong to it. They, in discussing the matter, agreed that the city could have its property by a part payment and a long time to pay the remainder with a very low rate of interest. If the city would take over the land then the city and county could work in harmony and go ahead with the plans to beautify the place and make out of it a central park.

The commissioners are not enthusiastic about the way the ground looks at present, and are heartily in favor of improving that owned by the county, but they do object to doing what they think is more than they should be asked to do.

Commissioner Ryan thinks that the county needs a new jail a great deal more than it needs to beautify the grounds at this time. He advocates getting the buildings and improving the grounds afterward. Some of the other commissioners agreed with him in this respect.

Architect Merrell is explaining his plans and members of the various civic bodies as well as a number of private individuals who are interested in getting a central beauty spot, are in attendance at the meeting.

RAILROADS

RAILROAD MEN TALK OF RATES

Chicago, April 6.—Plans for an advance in the freight rates on many commodities carried by railroads running west of Chicago, it is believed, were discussed at a meeting of presidents and chief executive officials in Chicago last night.

Officials were present representing the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, St. Louis & San Francisco, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Illinois Central, Chicago Great Western, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, and the Chicago & Northwestern railroads.

The question of advancing many of the commodity rates in carloads from Chicago to Missouri river points and St. Paul was considered, it is said. Railroad officials have asserted that an advance in some rates is inevitable in view of the general advances in wages to employes and the cost of material. No statement was given out by the officials, beyond saying that nothing definite had been accomplished.

Railroad Notes.

William Moir, mechanical superintendent of the Northern Pacific, is here toady looking over the equipment of the road and also looking over the terminals.

Mr. Moir stated this afternoon that the equipment of the Northern Pacific was in exceptionally good shape and that at the present time the road was ready to handle very heavy traffic.

George Lovell, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash, is in the city today.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That the undersigned have associated themselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation under and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1905, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and for that purpose do hereby adopt the following Articles of Incorporation, to-wit:

ARTICLE I.

The name of said corporation shall be the Duluth and Northern Minnesota Land Company.

The general nature of its business shall be the buying of lands in the counties of St. Louis, Lake and Cook, in the State of Minnesota, for the purpose of reselling the same to actual settlers, and for no other purpose, and to do all things necessarily incident to carrying out said purpose.

The principal place of business of said corporation shall be in the City of Duluth, County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The period of duration of said corporation shall be thirty (30) years from and after the first day of April, A. D. 1910.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators are as follows:

John Millen, Duluth, Minn.
L. C. Harris, Duluth, Minn.
George T. Withington, Duluth, Minn.

ARTICLE IV.

The management of said corporation shall be vested in a board of five (5) directors.

The date of the annual meeting of said corporation shall be the first Wednesday after the first Tuesday in June in each and every year.

The names and addresses of the first Board of Directors who shall act until the first annual meeting of said corporation shall be as follows:

John Millen, Duluth, Minn.
L. C. Harris, Duluth, Minn.
George T. Withington, Duluth, Minn.
Russell A. Alger, Detroit, Mich.
Frederick M. Alger, Detroit, Mich.

Until the first annual meeting of said corporation the said John Millen shall be President, the said L. C. Harris shall be Vice President, the said George T. Withington shall be Secretary and the said Frederick M. Alger shall be Treasurer of said corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of said corporation shall be Fifty Thousand ($50,000) Dollars, to be divided into five hundred (500) shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100) Dollars, and the same shall be paid in as called for by the Board of Directors of said corporation.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which the said corporation shall at any time be subject shall be the sum of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000) Dollars.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and affixed our seals this 28th day of March, A. D. 1910.

MARKET WAS UNSETTLED

Wheat Declines on Lower Cables and Failure of Chicago Firm.

Flax Market Active, Both Near Options Scoring Good Advance.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 6.—Wheat declined today in an unsettled and nervous market. The loss in May was ⅜@½c and in July ½c.

Cables were lower, a large cash interest sold heavily and the failure of Merritt & Co., Chicago, heavy handlers of cash grain, contributed to the decline. Cash markets were dead. The only support to the market was from buying by shorts early in the day.

May wheat opened at $1.12⅜@½ bid and sold at $1.12⅝ down to $1.12⅜, up to $1.12⅝ and down to $1.11⅝@ and then at $1.11⅞ and closed with offers at that price. July opened at $.12½ asked and sold at $1.12¾ down to $1.11¾ and closed $1.11⅞.

Cash wheat was 1c over May, rye and barley were unchanged and oats closed ⅛c off. Durum was ½c off.

The flax market was fairly active. The country sold some stuff and the shorts took a little May, which opened at $2.32½ bid, sold at $2.33 up to $2.34½ and down to $2.33¼ and closed $2.33½ bid. July opened at $2.29½ bid, sold at $2.30 and then at $2.31½, closing at $2.31. September opened with bids at $1.82 and sold at $1.84 and then at $1.83 and closed with offers at that quotation. October opened with bids at $1.73 and went to $1.74 bid without trading, sold at $1.73 and closed with offers at that price.

Cash premiums in Minneapolis slumped, owing partly to heavy selling of Waterman cash grain. Premiums here hardened, which would tend to deflect shipments in this direction.

The market was exceedingly spotty. The only factor that held it up in the fore part of the day was the support given by shorts. The crowd was bearish, and did not regard the early bulge as an indication of what might follow. There was some liquidation which was well absorbed. Reports were bearisa despite the messages from Kansas claiming frost in that state last night. There was no rain today in Kansas or Nebraska. There is a growing sentiment, however, that the wheat has not been injured to the extent claimed by some experts who have gone over both states several times in the last three or four weeks.

The technical situation was bearish. Some traders looked upon the market as oversold, and believed that it was safe to take the buying side. A movement in this direction, however, was confined to those who were taking profits after the sharp decline. Some folks who have been active buyers on the bulges due to crop damage news have been selling during the last two or three days. The public does not regard the buying side with favor.

State and government repotrs will be issued Friday and will undoubtedly show serious damage to the growing plant. People who have been buying the Chicago and Minneapolis September options think this stuff is cheap and believe that the reports will bear out their contentions. The rabid bulls are scarce but a few believe the wheat belt needs rain and that even if rain comes there is much wheat that is beyond hope of recovery. Generally, traders are convinced that the crop damage reports have been overplayed and that the wheat market will be governed by factors of more or less statistical importance and of extended duration rather than by temporary factors of a crop damage nature.

The market at the opening was unsettled on lower cables and improved weather conditions. Values were stronger after the opening on support from shorts and holders of downs. Toward the close the market declined.

The foreign situation was weaker at the close although early in the day there was an improved demand for spot and shorts took profits. There was considerable uneasiness, Broomhall said over American cables.

The cash markets were dull. The flour trade is small alothough the mills have large orders booked ahead. Shipping directions are difficult to obtain.

MARKET GOSSIP

A flaxseed-growing educational campaign is being prepared by Minneapoulis linseed oil manufacturers, following a conference with Prof. Bolley of the North Dakota experimental station. It has developed that the flaxseed industry is in great danger. The linseed and paint men will raise funds to conserve the flaxseed of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota by education. Prof. Bolley was requested to aid the work of education, and local men will install a laboratory for him in North Dakota. Prof. Bolley will work among the newcomers and be sure they know how to farm flaxseed. He advised the linseed men that it is not an increase in flaxseed acreage that is needed, but better methods of raising it.

* * *

There is a moderately good demand for linseed oil. Buyers held off until they were forced into the market by the demand caused by spring improvements. The price of oil has been advanced, being quotable in car lots f. o. b. Minneapolis at 78c. Oil meal is selling at $33.50. The demand is good. Crushers are fairly well sold ahead on oil cake, considering the small output. Mills are operating at about 50 per cent of capacity, and this will be gradually reduced, it is expected, as supplies of flaxseed become more difficult to obtain.

Special crop reports received by The Herald follow.

Braddock, N. D.—Flax and wheat acreage this year will be largely increased. Much new land will be broken for the former. Many farmers are planting beardless speltz seed and velvet chaff. Durum is les in favor.

Mandan, N. D.—The Northern Pacific has selected sites for forty-seven elevators along the north and south lines out of here. The big warehouses will be ready to handle this year's crop. Wheat and flax greatly increased. Seeding delayed several days ago by snow but proceeding now. About finished.

Bismarck, N. D.—Crop outlook never better. Seeding about finished. Flax about the same, wheat increased. Oats less and barley increased.

Willmar, Minn.—Velvet chaff will be a favorite this year with farmers of Kandiyohi county. More oats sown and barley acreage decreased. Flax acreage unchanged. Corn acreage greatly increased. Slight increase in wheat. Showers have helped soil, which was too loose when farmers began seeding. Outlook excellent.

Spring Valley, Minn.—Farmers have practically completed seeding. Those not through are exceptions. Amounts of wheat and oats remain the same. Slight decrease in barley, slight increase in flax and considerable increase in corn. Soil in first-class condition.

Pipestone, Minn.—Seeding about finished. Month earlier than usual. Soil in first-class shape. Weather extremely favorable.

New England, N. D.—Flax acreage will be greatly increased as farmers are pleased with high prices for last crop. E. L. McGee of Valley City says he received $1.50 a bushel for 225 acres, averaging more than nineteen bushel to the acre, or more than $6,400. He will break in his entire section this year. His case is cited as it is typical of what other farmers are doing. Soil conditions excellent. Seeding in some parts of the state was interfered with by snow several days ago. Bumper crops looked for. More steam breaking outfits at work than ever before.

Brandon, Man.—Seeding is in progress, many farmers having completed initial field work with small grains. Although spring opened early farmers were not anxious to begin seeding as on several occasions grain sown before April did not do well or was a complete failure. The land is in first-class shape. Wheat acreage largely increased. Good increase in flax.

Culbertson, Mont.—The season opened about ten days earlier than usual. The soil was in good condition, considerable rain having fallen in this neighborhood. The acreage of wheat will be largely increased; oats will remain about the same. Homesteaders will sow a great amount of flax. Corn will be increased and barley only slightly increased. It is said that elevators near here are contracting for flax for September delivery at $1.65 per bushel. Seeding is almost finished. It was conducted under favorable circumstances.

Billings, Mont.—Season a month earlier than usual. Seeding about completed. Soil condition excellent. Snows in winter were excessive and there is plenty of moisture in the ground. Winter wheat acreage twice that of last year. More spring wheat being seeded also. Oats will be increased, and acreage of barley greatly increased. Little attention in past given to flax, but large acreage sown this year, especially on non-irrigated lands. Some corn will be grown.

Watertown, S. D.—W. H. Stokes, well-known miller, says that much wheat seed sown by farmers is dead and will not sprout and even if it did the stem would be so small that at the time of maturity it would not support the head. Mr. Stokes advises farmers to use larger quantity of wheat to acre or select new seed.

Stratford, S. D.—Dry spring has been broken by showers and the soil is now in first-class shape. Seeding about completed. Wheat acreage increased. More flax will be grown. Corn acreage greatly enlarged.

Leola, S. D.—Splendid rains last week made crop prospects better than ever before at this season of the year. Wheat and flax increased, also corn. Barley and oats about the same. Seeding in many places completed.

Canton, S. D.—Seeding was three weeks earlier than usual. Farmers in Lincoln have finished sowing. Wheat and oats about the same, no flax, little barley, increased acreage of corn. Ground saturated with moisture but surface is dry and warm. Prospects never better.

Watertown, S. D.—Seeding practically completed. Last year farmers did not start until about April 9. Soil in fine shape. Farmers in Codington county will have much more wheat than usual, less durum and more blue stem and velvet chaff; acreage of oats about the same, not much barley, flax increased and corn a little larger than last year.

Pierre, S. D.—Prairie got a good soaking last week and soil is in excellent shape. Rain was first moisture since snows of winter. Wheat and flax in state will be greatly increased. Corn increased, barley less and oats about the same.

"Last year," said A. D. Goodman, "there was not too much wheat and this year supplies in Duluth, Minneapolis and Chicago are about 9,000,000 bu. less than a year ago. The country will need all of it. Mills have large orders booked ahead but shipping directions are difficult to obtain. The flour trade is always dull just before the opening of navigation. It will brighten up considerably after lake shipments begin."

* * *

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market at the opening was affected by favorable reports throughout winter wheat and uneasiness in American cables yesterday and prices were ¼@½d lower. The bearish Ohio official report and the increasing offers by shippers of new Indian wheat further helped the selling side. Later, shorts started profit-taking and prices advanced ⅛@¼d. There was an improved demand for spot and the demand from the continent shows renewed activity. At mid-day the market was steadier and ⅜@½d lower than yesterday and 1@1¼d lower than Monday. Corn was unchanged with a steady undertone, due to a very few La Plata offers.

Julius H. Barnes has gone to Butte, Mont., on a business trip.

Winnipeg got 22 cars of oats, 11 of barley and 4 of flax.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat increased 125,000 bu. in four days. Flour shipments were 37,943 bbls. Total wheat stocks amount to 10,129,924 bu.

Minneapolis puts, $1.09⅝; calls, $1.11¼.

Foreign markets closed: Berlin wheat ⅝c lower than yesterday. Budapest wheat 4c lower than Saturday or 1¾c lower than yesterday. Liverpool wheat ⅞@1d lower; corn unchanged. Paris wheat unchanged to ¼c lower; flour unchanged to ½c lower. Antwerp wheat ⅝c lower.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

All Grains Weaken Owing to Suspension of Another Firm.

Chicago, April 6.—Announcement of the suspension of another cash grain concern caused considerable excitement on the board of trade today and had a weakening effect on all grain. The market opened at declines of ½c to 1¼@1⅜c, the July delivery being at $1.05¾@1.05¼, and the September at $1.02½@1.02. Weak cables and reports of rains in parts of the Southwest helped to depress prices. Shorts were inclined to cover in the September option which forced the price up to $1.02⅝. The July delivery, during early trading, held within the opening range.

Prices continued on the down grade until the new crop months dropped to a point nearly 2c below the previous close. The bottom for July was reached at $1.04½ and for September at $1.01½. Moderate buying by shorts caused a slight rally late in the day but the close was weak with July 1¼c lower at $1.05. September was down 1⅜@1½c at $1.01⅞.

Corn was down ¼@⅜c to ¾@⅞c at the start owing to general selling by commission houses. Support was poor because of the extremely weak position of the cash grain, and prices showed no disposition to advance during the first hour. The May delivery opened at 59⅝@59¼c, and held around the higher figures.

Profit taking continued on a liberal scale all day and prices steadily declined. All deliveries sold off more than 1c. May dropped to 58⅛c. The close was weak with May off 1⅝c at 58⅜c.

Trading in the oats pit was fairly active, there being quite free selling for stop-loss account. The market was affected chiefly by the further decline in wheat and corn. The May delivery opened ¼@⅜c to ½@⅝c lower, at 42⅛@41⅞c and for a time held within those limits.

Provisions slumped severely during early trading, prices being 10@52½c below the closing figures of Monday. General selling based on the break in grain caused the weakness. Pork displayed the greatest weakness. The May delivery of pork opened 17½@42½c lower, at $25.00@24.75 and steadied around $24.90. May lard opened 10@20c lower at $13.60@13.50, and ribs 12½@15c lower at $13.35@13.37½.

The price on pork continued to decline until it was more than $1 below the opening figures. May sold off to $23.95. The market closed weak at net declines of $1.22½ to $1.32½ with May at $23.95.

Total balance in general fund, $88,534,952.

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Demand Which Held Up Prices Attributed to Outstanding Shorts.

Advance in the Call Loan Rate Prompted Some Selling.

New York, April 6.—The opening movement of prices of stocks today was irregular and generally narrow. National Lead and Atlantic Coast line sold at advances of 1⅝, Missouri Pacific and American Smelting preferred 1, and Louisville & Nashville, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie and American Car ⅝. There was a sprinkling of declines, but they were largely outnumbered by the advances.

Active stocks grew heavy, but the pressure did not produce any losses of consequence, the market becoming inert. A few obscure stocks were strong. Pacific Coast and General Electric were marked up 3 points, and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred, American Locomotive and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 1. The trend of prices was upward at 11 o clock.

The demand which held stocks above the highest prices touched yesterday was attributed to outstanding shorts. Favorable weather for the crops and predictions of an increase in the United States Steel dividend were influences. Central Railroad of New Jersey sold at an advance of 5. Bethlehem Steel 2¼ and Reading, St. Paul, Kansas City Southern, Tennessee Copper, Distillers' Securities and American Beet Sugar 1. Bonds were steady.

The market closed irregular and dull. A rise in the call loan rate to above 3 per cent prompted some selling of stocks. Reactions were commensurate with previous advances. Lackawanna sold at a decline of 22½ compared with the preceding sales. Sloss-Sheffeld Steel rose 2½, Utah Copper 2 and American Tobacco preferred 1¼. There was some recovery at the last.

The Cotton Market.

New York, April 6.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 15 points on May and of 5 to 7 points on later positions in response to relatively firm cables, big English spot sales and a continuation of yesterday's late covering movement. Southern weather reports were considered very favorable and in spite of the bullish showing of Liverpool, there was a good deal of selling here, owing to apprehensions of further liquidation with early fluctuations very nervous and irregular.

Futures closed firm, closing bids: April, 14.65; May, 14.54; June, 14.35; July, 14.34; August, 13.84; September, 13.04; October, 12.53; November, 12.36; December, 12.37; January, 12.35. Spot, closed quiet, 30 points higher; middling uplands, 14.85; middling gulf 15.10. Sales, 211 bales.

Minnesota Iron Properties Furnish the Safest and Surest Form of Mining Investment

In a descriptive article of over a column and a half in length, under the heading of "Chances for Poor Men on the Vermilion Range," The Duluth Evening Herald of January 17th, 1910, describes at length, the great possibilities of investment in Vermilion Iron Stocks.

The DULUTH-VERMILION IRON COMPANY courts most rigid investigation.

This company's 170 acres, lying on the main iron formation of the Vermilion range, crossed by the tracks of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad, is claimed by mining experts to have the finest surface showing of any undeveloped property on the range.

The company is officered by five well-known men of highest standing in the business circles of Duluth, and they invite their stockholders and others interested to examine their property personally. This can be done in a single day at an expense of less than $10.00. Further information on request.

COPPER STOCK BROKERS.
414 West Superior Street.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6TH.

We believe the curb market is going to turn for the better. Duluth people want to quit knocking the good issues for the copper share market means more to Duluth than many of you realize.

Look at the Butte & Superior, Calumet & Sonora, Butte-Ballaklava and Butte-Alex Scott issues you knock and pound but every one of these are big mines. Do you know that no matter how good a stock happens to be you can kill the trading on it by continually looking wise and knocking. Copper stocks mean just as much and more than real estate in this city.

More people are interested in a big way and the outside is generally a heavy buyer of Duluth stocks. You will see how a quiet copper share market will affect the general business of Duluth. Duluth is not as big as New York, but the effect of a poor market in either place is something serious.

We are going to continue in the brokerage business and believe now is the time to begin picking up the good issues. Central Vermilion Iron has the looks of a big success. Property is located between Tower and Ely near the Macomber.

North Butte Mining Company.

Notice is hereby given that the fifth annual meeting of the stockholders of North Butte Mining company will be held at the office of the company at Room, 511, Lyceum Building, in Duluth, Minnesota, on Monday, the 18th day of April, 1910, at 12 o'clock noon, for the election of three directors to hold office for three years, and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

The stock transfer books will be closed from March 28th, 1910, to April 23rd, 1910, both inclusive.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., March 23rd, 1910.

FREDERIC R. KENNEDY, Secretary.

DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE IN the payment of the sum of $774.24, which is claimed to be due, and is due, at the date of this notice for principal and interest upon the mortgage executed and delivered by John Peterson and E. P. Ling, Mortgagors, to Charles F. Johnson, Mortgagee, bearing date December 14th, 1907, and with a power of sale therein contained and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 10th day of January, 1908, at 2:30 o'clock P. M., in Book 233 of Mortgages, on page 549.

Mortgagee paid delinquent taxes on said property, March 15th, 1910, to the amount of $21.96, which, under the terms of the mortgage, have become a lien on the mortgaged premises.

NOTICE IS GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein conveyed, which are situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit:

The Northeast quarter of the Northeast quarter (NE¼ of the NE¼), the Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter (SW¼ of the NE¼), the South half of the Northwest quarter (S½ of the NW¼), and the North half of the Southeast quarter (N½ of the SE¼) of Section Ten (10), in Township Fifty-four (54) North of Range Eighteen (18) West, subject to the right-of-way now owned by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway and the Eastern Railway of Minnesota,

Which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County at the Sheriff's office in the County Court House in the City of Duluth in said County, on the 30th day of April, 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M., at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said principal and interest of $774.24 and said taxes of $21.96, and interest thereon, and $25.00 Attorneys' fees, provided for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale.

Dated March 16th, 1910.

PITTSBURG'S STORY OF CIVIC SHAME IS NEAR GREAT CLIMAX

Final Presentation of Facts Is Made to the Grand Jury.

Indictment of Frank N. Hoffstot, Banker and Steel Magnate, Recommended.

Bank President Winter Pleads "No Defense" to Charge of Bribery.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 7.—The district attorney and his staff were busy today with the grand jury, presenting what is believed to be the last square in the puzzle plot which, when completed, will, it is believed, make one of the most sensational graft pictures ever brought to the light of publicity.

To fill vacancies in councils caused by the resignation of its indicted members, Mayor Magee has called a special election for April 26.

The ordered indictment of Frank N. Hoffstot, banker and manufacturer, now living in New York, is the one topic discussed today in the graft exposure. Mr. Hoffstot's extradition, according to the district attorney, will be asked for, but in the event of the failure of that procedure, it is reported he will be tried in New York state.

The presentment concluded with an order that the investigation continue

IS "HYSTERICAL SCREECH," HE SAYS

Hoffstot's Attorney Comments on Presentment Made at Pittsburg.

New York, April 7.—"A hysterical screech," said Adrian M. Larkin, counsel for Frank F. Hoffstot, commenting today on the Pittsburg presentment ordering the indictment of Mr. Hoffstot on charges of conspiracy and bribery. Mr. Hoffstot is president of the Pressed Steel Car company.

"Mr. Hoffstot will not fight extradition," added Mr. Larkin, "and the case against him will fail. Why should he fight extradition, when he's innocent? He will appear when wanted."

COTTON LEADER RAILS AT BILL

Says New Anti-Option Measure Is Unjust and Discriminatory.

New Orleans, April 7.—"Instead of striking at the well-known and clearly defined evils of speculative trading, the committee has approved a measure, illogical in conception, unjust and discriminatory in design, of more than doubtful constitutionality, and exemplifying not the beneficial but the pernicious phase of legislative interference with business."

Such is the declaration of President W. B. Thompson of the New Orleans Cotton exchange in a statement issued here today with reference to the favorable report by the house committee on agriculture of the bill aimed against speculation in cotton futures. Mr. Thompson asserts that the stinging out of cotton trading is wrongfully discriminatory, and declares that the enactment of such a measure, "would surrender to the European manufacturer and his friends the uncontested possession of the powerful force of modern trade machinery to be used for the purpose of forcing prices downward."

FIGHTS LIQUOR; OFFICE STONED

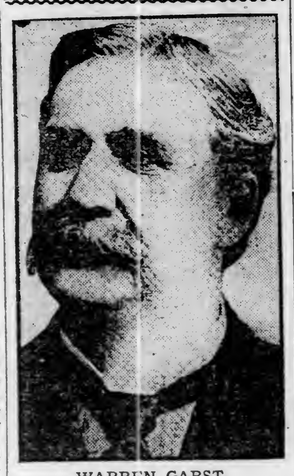

Minnesota Newspaper Man Lays Attack to War on Blind Pigs.

Bagley, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some time during Tuesday night the front windows of the office of the Clearwater Crystal, a newspaper published here, were broken by stones thrown from the outside. An investigation is on foot and if the guilty ones are caught they will be prosecuted. F. S. Kalberg, the editor of the paper, attributes the act to the attitude his paper has taken against blindpiggers. The building is the property of P. H. Peterson, who also has his office in it. The damage will amount to about $100.

Japanese Boat Blows Up.

Tokio, April 7.—A lighter loaded with dynamite, in the harbor of Kobe, caught fire today. An explosion resulted that killed three persons, wrecked many houses on the water front, and caused a monetary damage of $250,000.

WILL OPPOSE CARROLL AS GOVERNOR OF IOWA

WARREN GARST.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 7.—Warren Garst of Coon Rapids, Iowa, lieutenant-governor during the last term of Senator Cummins as governor, announced himself today as a progressive candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Iowa, opposing Governor B. F. Carroll.

DOES WIFE OWN HUBBY?

Question Is Involved in Case Before the Supreme Court.

Southern Woman Demands That Railroad Pay for Husband's Death.

Washington, April 7.—Whether a husband may be considered the "personal property" of his wife, and whether the "Blow-Post law" of Georgia is constitutional, are two of the questions at stake in the unique suit of Mrs. Josephine King of Georgia against the Southern Railway company, argued yesterday before the supreme court of the United States. It comes up at a time when the only bachelor justice of the court, Justice Moody, is too ill to consider the case.

The suit is for damages, arising out of a railroad accident. In the autumn of 1903, Mrs. King, her husband, A. O. King, and her daughter, Miss Inez

WOMAN IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Second Conviction Is Secured in Trials at Sulphur, Okla.

Sulphur, Okla., April 7.—Mrs. Nancy Smith, charged jointly with Charles Smith with murder of Albert Smith, the woman's husband, in Murray county, was found guilty here today. She will be sentenced Saturday.

Charles Smith has been convicted and given a life sentence in prison for his part in the crime.

ARMY PRISONERS BEAT THE GUARD

One Private Seriously Injured as Result of Attack at Fort Wayne.

Detroit, Mich., April 7.—Robert J. Arnold and W. F. Stewart, privates, held as prisoners for desertion at Fort Wayne, made a desperate but unsuccessful effort yesterday to escape from the corral.

Private Emmett Barnes, who was doing sentry duty over them, is in the post hospital with one ear nearly torn off and other serious injuries resulting from the break for liberty. Sergeant William Galla escaped death only because a cartridge stuck in the rifle taken from the sentry by the prisoners. Arnold and Stewart themselves were badly hurt in their fight with Barnes.

The prisoners were working in the barn when they attacked their guard, whose musket was wrested from his hands and used to club him into insensibility.

The mutineers were captured in an exhausted condition inside the post limits.

JAMES HELD FOR KILLING

Game Warden Who Killed Ely Man Must Answer to Grand Jury.

Bound Over on Charge of Committing Murder in First Degree.

Ely, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a hearing held yesterday afternoon before Municipal Judge Thomas Jury, Fred B. James, who on Monday shot and killed Andrew Metsapelto while acting officially as state game warden, was bound over to the grand jury, charged with murder in the first degree.

Attorney Shubal F. White of Duluth represented County Attorney Norton at the hearing, being assisted by Attorney John Saari of Duluth as attorney for the Ely Finnish population and their interests in the matter. Nykkanen, the young man who was with Metsapelto at the time of the shooting, was the principal witness examined at the hearing. Dr. Parker, who performed the post-mortem, was also heard in relation to the course of the bullet and the cause of death.

Mr. James was taken to Duluth, where his case will come before the grand jury, which is now in session.

MERE BOYS RUN TRADE SWINDLE

Three of Them Are Sent to Federal Prison for One Year.

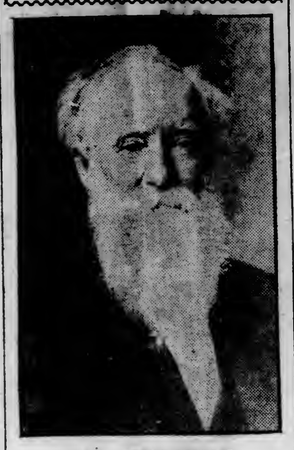

Covington, Ky., April 7.—Three youths, each less than 20 years old, were taken to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., to serve sentences of a year imposed by the United States district court here today for a fraudulent banking scheme which they conducted in the little mountain town of Orr, Ky. A fourth boy was sentenced to four months in jail.

The boys profited about $2,300 by their scheme, which included the establishment of a mythical "bank," which gave wholesale dealers glowing reports of their credit, enabling them to obtain large shipments of merchandise. David Prince and Marion and Richmond Sparks were sent to prison, George White receiving the jail sentence.

KEEPS ELECTION VOW AND BEARD GROWS TO BE TWELVE FEET LONG.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—Valentine Tapley, aged 80, owner of what was said to have been the longest beard in the world is dead. His beard was twelve feet six inches long. Tapley lived near Curryville, Pike county, and was a life-long Democrat. At the time Lincoln ran for president Tapley vowed he would not cut his beard if Lincoln was elected.

JAY GOULD USED TO WRITE ESSAYS FOR HIM

JOHN BURROUGHS.

New York, April 7.—John Burroughs, naturalist, celebrated his seventy-third birthday on April 3. He was born in Roxbury, N. Y., in 1837. Mr. Burroughs now lives at West Park, New York, where he is as much a farmer as ever. He makes his own garden each April, planting peas, corn and other vegetables.

Mr. Burroughs was a schoolmate of Jay Gould and it is a curious thing that Gould was better at essay writing than was Burroughs and Gould sometimes wrote Burroughs' compositions for him. At one time the future millionaire borrowed 10 cents from Mr. Burroughs and gave two old school books as security.

MAXWELL'S BANK CLOSES

Aftermath of Panic of 1907 and Suicide of President Develops.

Reorganized Brooklyn Institution Has Too Heavy Burden to Bear.

New York, April 7.—The Borough Bank of Brooklyn closed its doors today and the superintendent of banks has taken possession of the institution. The bank has a capital of $200,000 with deposits aggregating over $2,000,000. B. R. Shears is president.

This is the second bank failure in Brooklyn within a week, the first being the Union Bank of Brooklyn.

At the office of the state superintendent of banks the following statement was given out today:

"A meeting of the board of directors of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn was held at the office of the banking de-

ROOSEVELTS START DRIVE

Three Days Trip Among the Scenes of Wedding Tour Is Begun.

Ex-President Receives Many Congratulations on His Course at Rome.

Spezia, Italy, April 7.—Theodore Roosevelt and wife began today the carriage drive along the sunny slopes of the Ligurian Alps, the road they followed as bride and bridegroom twenty-four years ago. The day was as beautiful as could be wished. They expect to reach Genoa late Saturday.

A carriage was in waiting when the Roosevelts arrived here by train from Rome at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Within a few minutes their baggage had been transferred and no time was lost in making the start. A little group of Italians, who, with bared heads watched the two from a respectful distance, was rewarded with nods and smiles, and as they drove away Col. Roosevelt looked back and waved his hand in farewell.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt appeared in excellent health and rare good spirits.

LOVER'S JOKE ENDS IN SUICIDE

Sweetheart Takes Picture Seriously and Young Man Kills Himself.

Seattle, Wash., April 7.—Edward Ward, 22 years old, who shot himself through the body while walking along a downtown street Sunday morning, died at the city hospital last night. Ward's desire to kill himself was caused by the receipt of a letter from his sweetheart, Miss Helen Witt of St. Louis. The communication said she rejected him for having paid attentions to a Tacoma woman, whose picture, taken with him, Ward sent to Miss Witt as a joke.

UNION VETERAN SHARES PENSION WITH FORMER WEARERS OF THE GRAY.

New Orleans, La., April 7.—The spectacle of a former Union soldier sharing his pension money with those who wore the gray was witnessed last night at the Confederate Soldiers' home here. P. J. Noyes, who served as a lieutenant in the Eighth Vermont regiment, is the generous Federalist. An offer to share his pension with the occupants of the Confederate veterans' infirmary was accepted.

GOVERNOR IS GUEST OF THE CITY—INSPECTS SITE OF STEEL PLANT

STATE EXECUTIVE GUEST OF DULUTH

GOVERNOR A. O. EBERHART.

Committees From Commercial Clubs Meet Him at Depot.

The Trip to Spirit Lake Is Made in Automobiles.

West Duluth Is in Gala Attire for Big Banquet.

Governor A. O. Eberhart is today the guest of the people of Duluth, with the West Duluth Commercial club members playing the role of active hosts.

The governor, with State Auditor Iverson as his traveling companion, arrived in the city over the Northern Pacific road this morning at 7:30, the train being an hour late. With the committee which welcomed them to Duluth, the governor and auditor were taken to the Duluth Commercial club.

Without delay the party repaired to a private dining room, where breakfast was served. Those at the table with Governor Eberhart and Auditor Iverson were: President L. A. Barnes of the West Duluth Commercial club; Gen. M. M. Gasser of the governor's staff; P. H. Martin, Andrew Miles and Maj. Carlson of Hibbing; Gen. John Dwan of Two Harbors and F. W. Jolitz

MAY CHANGE PLANS AGAIN

Taft Is Strongly Urged to Visit Indianapolis on Trip West.

President Says Politics Had Nothing to Do With the Cancellation.

Washington, April 7.—President Taft has not yet replied to the numerous telegrams from Indianapolis urging him to reconsider his decision not to visit that city on May 5. The president has been informed that other telegrams and letters are on their way to Washington and he will make no answer until all of these are received.

To callers at the White House today President Taft declared politics had nothing whatever to do with his decision. He said he had read Senator Beveridge's speech some time ago, in fact before he accepted the invitation to visit Indianapolis in the first place, but the speech was not submitted to him by the Indiana senator, nor was it submitted with any idea of executive approval or disapproval, and up to this time the president has made no comment upon it.

If the president can arrange to postpone engagements he has made in Washington on May 6, 7 and 8, it is more than likely he will visit Indianapolis and also spend the two extra days in Cincinnati, which it seemed yesterday would have to be cut out of his schedule.

FIVE HUNDRED JOIN MAN HUNT

Pennsylvania Murderers Are Being Sought in Three States.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 7.—The hunt for the bandits who killed Samuel Friedman and Ignatz Schwartz, general manager and cashier, respectively, of the Victor Bank of Schoenville, and then robbed the institution of an estimated $400, continued today.

Five hundred police and county officers are engaged in tracing the desperadoes. Clues from many cities in Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and New York state are being run down. Twelve suspects are under arrest in these places.

TURKS CHECK THE ALBANIANS

Two Days of Hard Fighting Are Spent---Another Battle Is Expected.

Pristina, Turkey, April 7.—The arrival of heavy reinforcements has enabled the Turkish troops to check temporarily the advance of the clansmen who have been threatening Pristina. It was only after severe fighting at the River Lab for two days, during which the losses on both sides were considerable, that the government troops were able to bar the victorious march of the Albanians. The latter are awaiting reinforcements from the Southwest. It is expected the fighting will soon be resumed.

COLUMBUS CARMEN WILL NOT STRIKE

New Union Agrees to Accept Offered Increase in Wages.

Columbus, Ohio, April 7.—The newly formed union of the motormen and conductors of the Columbus Street Car company, voted today to accept the company's offer. A threatened strike is thus averted. The compromise was brought about by the efforts of Secretary Joseph Bislop of the state board of arbitration. As a result the men get a cent an hour raise in wages. An additional half a cent an hour will be given after Jan. 3, 1911.

SAYS EMMANUEL MOVEMENT FAILED

Bishop Nichols Reports on Experiment in San Francisco Hospital.

San Francisco, April 7.—The Emmanuel movement, having to do with the treatment of disease by a combination of religion, mental suggestion and medicine, and by which it was hoped an effective cure had been found for neurasthenia and other disorders of the nerve system, has proved a failure at St. Luke's hospital here, according to a statement made last night by Bishop Nichols of the Episcopal church.

The local experiment has lasted a year. Every effort, it is said, has been made to test the efficacy of the prescribed treatment. The hospital's psychopathic ward has now been discarded, and Dr. A. B. Shields, D. D., the clerical superintendent of the institution, has sent in his resignation, effective May 1.

Suffered Hospital Depression.

Bishop Nichols thus accounts for the failure of the treatment at the hospital:

"We discovered that it was impossible to secure beneficial results by placing patients in a psychopathic ward associated with a hospital. All the depressing influences of the hospital bore down upon them. The constant atmosphere of suffering made a cure impossible, and finally we were forced to the conclusion that we had failed."

The San Francisco experiment has been closely watched by medical men throughout the country.

KITCHENER CALLS AUSTRALIA WEAK

Says Island Needs Bigger Army and School Like West Point.

Victoria, B. C., April 7.—Lord Kitchener's report on his inspection of the Australia military forces declares that they are inadequate in numbers, training organization and munitions of war to defend Australia from the dangers due to prevailing conditions.

The report is a comprehensive one, covering twenty-two printed pages. Lord Kitchener states that an army of 80,000 is required. He advocates the establishment of a military college, similar in ideals and practice to West Point.

Australian reports received by the steamer Marama yesterday comment at great length on Lord Kitchener's recommendation, many of them taking issue with him as to the need of a larger military force.

NOAH E. BARNES GETS FOUR YEARS

Copper Stock Embezzler Is Sentenced By New York Court.

New York, April 7.—Noah E. Barnes, former president of the Cottonwood Creek Copper company, who was convicted on a charge of grand larceny, the allegation being that he applied to his own usage $30,000 of the funds of the concern, was today sentenced to not less than four or more than six years in the state's prison by Justice Goff.

The case assumed a degree of international interest when Count Von Hochberg, who sold stock in the company to his friends in Germany, read on the witness stand letters said to have been written by the crown prince of Germany.

DOG'S MEAL BURNS; FIREMEN ARE CALLED.

A dog owned by Jimmie Barry, telegraph operator and Y. M. C. A. boxing instructor, demands his food cooked and the food requirements of Mr. Barry's canine friend caused the fire department of Park Point to respond to a hurry call about 10 o'clock last night. Mr. and Mrs. Barry, who live at Twenty-eighth street, Minnesota avenue, went out to visit a neighbor, leaving some meat cooking for the dog. The meat burned, the house was filled with smoke, somebody turned in an alarm, the apparatus car of the fire department was called into commission and a big crowd of volunteers gathered. The dog's meal was spoiled but that was all the damage caused by the mishap.

PLANS FOR BEAUTIFYING THE COURTHOUSE GROUNDS SUBMITTED

THE PROPOSED PLANS.

Although no definite action was taken at the meeting of the county commissioners, representatives of civic bodies and private individuals in regard to the proposed scheme for the improvement of the courthouse grounds, held yesterday afternoon at the courthouse, the plans as presented by Architect A. U. Morell of Minneapolis were approved by those present. The commissioners did not take the matter up among themselves, but will at the regular monthly meeting which is being held today.

All those present were enthusiastic over the plans drawn by the Minneapolis man. To put them into execution would involve an expenditure of between $11,000 and $12,000, according to the figures presented at the meeting.

Mr. Morell was present at the meeting, and although he did not go over the plans fully, the general idea or outline was given, so that those present might have some idea of what might be expected when the work was finally completed.

The plans involve the terracing of the grounds, the planting of shrubbery, the making of lawns, the planting of trees, and in effect the plans call for a park very much on the order of the Tenth avenue park on East Fourth street. Nothing is included in the plans but the making over of the ground into a sightly park. Mr. Morell said that as Duluth had one big fountain, which is within the sight of every one, he does not believe that one is necessary on the courthouse grounds. He said that a cheap one would not be in keeping with the surroundings, and an expensive one would probably cost more money than the county would care to spend at this time.

After explaining the plans, indicating the grades, telling of the varieties of flowers and shrubs that would, to his mind, do well in Duluth, Mr. Morell read his figures on the plan. In all, he thought the work could be done for the sum mentioned.

Plans Approved.

The plans were heartily approved by those present. Every one seemed to think that they were all that could be expected, and many spoke enthusiastically on the subject.

The plans presented by Mr. Morell consist of two separate ideas. One embraces what is called the permanent plan and the other is the temporary plan. The permanent plan is to be carried out with the completion of all the buildings, and the temporary plan embraces the improvements to be made on the grounds as they now stand. The permanent plan was not considered, as it is known that the other buildings will not be erected for some years. The temporary plan was the one under discussion.

Favor Immediate Action.

W. I. Prince, president of the Commercial club, said that the plans embraced everything that could be expected at this time. He said that the grounds should be placed in a presentable condition and that to his mind the time to do it is at present.

L. M. Willcuts said that the government will do its share to help the matter along. He said that the fences which now separate the grounds of the county and the government will be torn down and that Uncle Sam will improve his land up to the line and in keeping with the improvements made by the county.

B. Silberstein said that he had examined the plans and that the more he examined them the better he liked them. He thought the work should be done at once and urged the county commissioners to do it, saying that he thought that the commissioners would not be criticised for their action.

Bishop James McGolrick spoke on the idea at some length. He said that the grounds certainly were unsightly in the present condition and urged the commissioners to take action in the matter.

A. H. Comstock of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, said that the estimate made by the architect was by no means extravagant and that it was his firm belief that they should be adopted and the improvements started as soon as possible.

Auditor Odin Halden, A. C. Weiss, Commissioner Cummings and several others gave voice to their sentiments along the line of the other speakers.

Commissioner Ryan spoke at some length on the subject. He said: "The proposition on which you are here today is one that deserves much consideration. The grounds do need improving and the commissioners, I think, would like to see them improved as much as you. There are several objections, however. In the first place St. Louis county is supporting a county jail that is a disgrace and is not fit to house a rat. It is filthy and dirty and in spite of the fact that the county is laboring under a huge debt, we must take up the matter and find some way to build a new jail. This matter will come up at the regular meeting of the board and some means must be found to erect a new building.

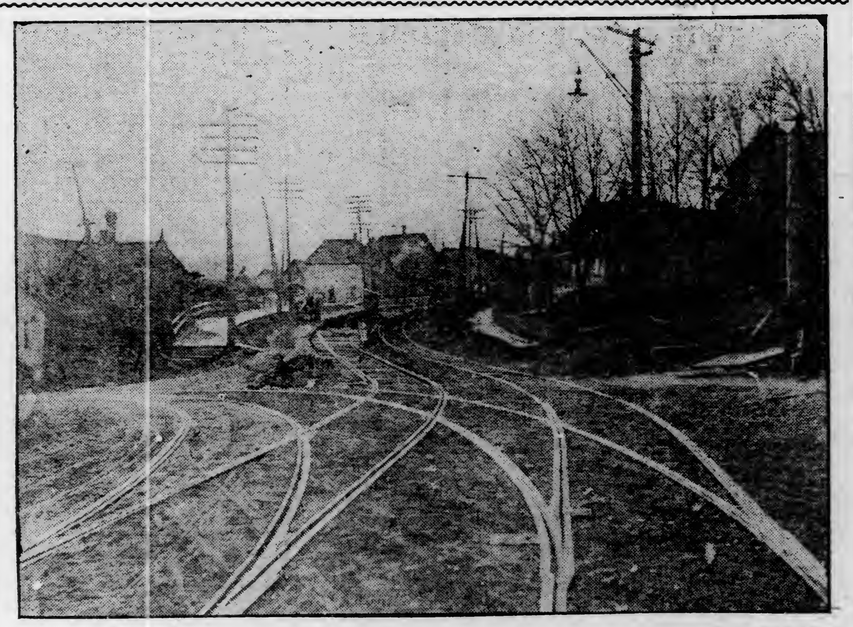

"We are building a county building at Virginia that is costing a lot of money and that keeps us in the hole to a certain extent. During all this time we are holding that land at Fourth avenue west and First street for the city. The city may eventually build a city hall on that property but we have received no assurance that such will be the case. We want to know where we are at before we go spending money for improvements on property such as that. We could let the city have the property on a small payment and interest at a low rate. It is up to them. If that were done the county could improve the courthouse grounds and the city could improve theirs. We could work together."

Mr. Ryan's remarks caused some discussion among those present. It was explained that the city is not in the best of circumstances, financially, and that it will be impossible for it to do anything at this time. It was also stated that the county will lose nothing as the land held for the city will certainly increase in value and when the time comes to sell, it will be appraised and sold according to the increase. Many of those present stated that the county stands to lose nothing on the transaction.

The meeting adjourned when Chairman McInnis stated that the matter would be taken up at the regular meeting of the board today.

NEWS OF THE WEST END

EXTENSION OF PIEDMONT AVENUE CAR LINE WILL BE COMPLETED THIS YEAR

THE NEW PIEDMONT AVENUE EXTENSION.

Work on the extension of the Piedmont avenue car line from Nineteenth avenue west and Third street to Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street, although well under way, is still handicapped by the failure of the contractor, who is grading the avenue, to finish his work. The avenue was supposed to have been ready for the street car line last fall.

One block of the extension is practically laid, but the work had to be discontinued until the grading is done. The contract for cutting down the street was let last August and the job was supposed to have been finished by Sept. 25, according to the terms of the contract. The council later granted an extension in time to Oct. 20. The work dragged along and was not finished before winter set in.

If the work is not more consistent than last fall, the grading will not be finished before the summer is over. West end people are anxious to have the car line built, but the officials of the company say that but little more can be done until the grading is finished.

A switch has been placed at Nineteenth avenue west and Third street and the double track has been laid up the avenue for a block. An official of the street car company yesterday stated that it would be necessary to remove a network of wires from one of the street crossings in order that the trolley wire could be strung.

Other improvements are planned at the West end by the street car officials this year. The tracks on Garfield avenue will be replaced with heavier steel. This work will begin a short time before the contractor is ready to pave the avenue. The steel for the new track has been ordered and will arrive in a few days.

Funeral of Mrs. Nelson.

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Mrs. Hannah Nelson, 70 years old, who died at 1704 West Third street, her home, Tuesday evening. The services were conducted by Rev. J. J. Daniels at the Swedish Mission church, with interment at Union cemetery. She is survived by four children, and was one of the early settlers at the West end.

C. T. BUSH INJURED IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT.

C. T. Bush, who was injured Saturday evening in a street car accident at Thirty-fifth avenue west and Third street, is still at his home, 123 North Twenty-third avenue west.

A west-bound car on the Third street line collided with a rig driven by Bush, knocking him to the ground. He was badly bruised about the face and hands.

Bush claims that he saw an east-bound car pass him, but he knew nothing of the approach of the car going west. The rig was badly damaged.

ENTERTAINMENT AT BETHANY CHURCH.

Rev. A. F. Elmquist, Ph. D., D. D., of Minneapolis, a former pastor of the Swedish Bethany Lutheran church, will be the principal speaker at an entertainment which will be held at the church parlors, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, on Thursday evening, April 28.

The lecture and concert will be under the direction of the Bethany choir. The program will include a number of musical selections. It is announced as follows:

West End Shortrails.

The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Weldson of 2819 West Second street was taken to the contagious hospital yesterday suffering from scarlet fever.

A concert will be given at the Grace M. E. church this evening under the auspices of the ladies aid society. A good program has been arranged for the occasion.

The Sunday school teachers of the First Swedish M. E. Sunday school will hold their monthly meeting this evening at the church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Jensen of 2615 West Fourth street.

WAS WEDDED THREE TIMES

Wife Never Took Trouble to Get Divorce, Says Levi S. Wilson.

Woman "Got Religion," Confessed Wrongs and Left, He Testifies.

After supposing for fifteen years that Nancy S. Wilson was his wife, Levi S. Wilson, a resident of Tower, Minn., found differently and this morning he was granted a divorce by Judge William A. Cant of the district court. Desertion was the ground on which the action was brought.

On the witness stand Wilson told his story. He said that for fifteen years he had been happily married and never once dreamed that the woman he had been living with was other than what he supposed, his lawful wedded wife.

They were married in 1891. She deserted him, he claimed, in 1906. He said that they had been happy together and had adopted a child which was now of age. Suddenly she "got religion," and coming to him told him that although he supposed her his wife, she was not. She claimed that years before she had been married not once, but twice, and that she had never had a divorce.

She told him, he claims, that the matter troubled her and that she had better go away. She did so and is now living at some point in the West.

Those who knew her testified that she was quiet of demeanor, refined in actions, and a woman for whom everybody entertained the highest respect. She was well known in Duluth. A number of Duluth people testified in the case.

Mary Schnell, 31 years old, was granted a divorce from her husband, August Schnell, 41. She claimed that she was not only subjected to cruel and inhuman treatment, but that her husband asked her to support him by immoral means. When she refused to do this, she claimed, he beat her and struck her so that she will be marred for life. They were married in December, 1907. She claimed that he had failed to support her and that his whereabouts at this time are unknown.

WILL APPEAL PRIMARY CASE

Wisconsin Law to Be Taken to United States Supreme Court.

Appleton, Wis., April 7.—Although the Wisconsin primary election law has been declared constitutional and the findings of the lower court in which the case was tried have been affirmed by the supreme court, the attack on the law is not to cease. Attorney J. H. Lehr of Appleton, representing the complainant in the case, declared today that in all probability the action will be appealed to the United States supreme court and an effort will be made to get a decision before the next September primary.

Fine Aitkin County School.

Aitkin, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—N. J. Holden, the architect, has drawn plans for a new schoolhouse to be erected at Kimberly. They show a very handsome exterior with tower and the interior is divided into two large and well-lighted schoolrooms, four cloak rooms and a room for teachers study and school library purposes. It is by far the most pretentious rural schoolhouse in the county, and when built will be a credit to the district in which it is to be used.

CAR BARN ROOF FALLS.

Workmen Are Buried in Debris and One Badly Hurt.

Saybrook, Conn., April 7.—The roof of the Shore Line Trolley company's new car barn at this place collapsed today and crashed to the ground, burying beneath it a number of the fifty workmen who were in the structure. Six persons were removed immediately after the roof had fallen. Jerry Kahan of Springfield, Mass., the superintendent at the barn, was the most seriously hurt, his back and one leg being broken.

ON THE IRON RANGES

SOME LARGE MINES LOAD

Shipping Operations on Big Scale From Eveleth Started Today.

Fayal, Spruce and Adams Mines Started Loading Ore This Morning.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first heavy loading of the ore for the season of 1910 on the Duluth & Iron Range road commenced today at 7 a. m. when the Fayal, Spruce and Adams mines at Eveleth started loading the product of their shafts for shipment to the docks here.

The Knox mine at Mesaba and the Larkins and Kellogg mines at Biwabik also commenced loading this morning.

There will not be many trains to start with, but the first crews will probably be put on tomorrow and other mines will be starting within a few days.

The Bachelors' club will give a dancing party to members at their banquet room this evening.

Mrs. Dempster of Duluth has a hand painting of the Catholic orphanage at Woodland, which will be sold for the benefit of St. Clements' school.

HIBBING MAN IS FINED HEAVILY

Mulcted $100 and Costs for Running House of Ill Fame.

Hibbing, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case against W. A. Bond occupied the entire day Wednesday in the municipal court. Bond was arrested Monday evening at No. 206 Pine street on the charge of running a house of ill fame. The raid was made at 9 o'clock in the evening by Officers Booth, Killorin and Moore, and two of the inmates who gave the names of Mrs. Fred Miller and Winnie Paterson, were arrested. The case was attended by a crowded court room. The feature of the trial was the argument of the counsel for both the village and the defendant. After the evidence had been submitted Judge Thomas F. Brady fined Bond the maximum limit, which was $100, and costs amounting to $21.50, or ninety days in the county jail. The fine was paid. The women will be tried today.

Victor Erickson, who was arrested Tuesday for interfering with the officers in the performance of their duty was haled into the municipal court Wednesday morning before Judge Thomas F. Brady and was fined $24.25 and costs.

TO REPAIR VILLAGE HALL.

Grand Rapids Commission Decides Upon Making Place Safer.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water, light, power and building commission recently created by the village council has organized.

Mr. Powers was instructed to have an examination of the plant made and a report of what is required for the best interests of the plant.

Supt. Garis and the two engineers at the plant were retained. The rates for light and water were fixed at the rates which were formerly charged until such a time as a different schedule of rates is necessary.

A resolution was adopted providing that light bills shall be paid on the fifteenth of each month following that in which lights are used, and that water bills shall be paid on April 30 and Oct. 31 of each year, and that all not complying with the provisions of this rule will be refused further service.

John Hofer, employed to examine the village hall and make an estimate on the repairs, found that the sills are nearly all rotted away, and that a considerable amount of work in that direction will have to be done in addition to the repairs of the damage done by the recent fire. It is the intention of the commission to have an exit with a stairway made on the north side of the building near enough to the stage so that actors who may be in the building in case of fire may use it. The stairway on the east end of the building is in very bad shape, and will be torn down.

J. J. HAYES CHAIRMAN.

Selected to Head Chisholm's Water and Light Commission.

The afternoon sessions will be held at the residence of Mrs. C. W. More.

Saturday will be devoted to a visit to the local mines, and the visitors will be shown the various mining operations.

FUCIARELLI GETS SENTENCE OF LIFE

Gilbert Italian Who Murdered Fellow Countryman Hears His Doom.

Hibbing, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Life sentence in the state penitentiary—that is the penalty Agabitto Fuciarelli must pay for murdering Luigo Grillo, at Gilbert, Nov. 24, last. Judge Hughes sentenced the convicted man yesterday afternoon in accordance with the law which makes the punishment for second degree murder of which he was convicted, life in the penitentiary. Fuciarelli will be taken to the penitentiary at once. Fuciarelli killed Grillo because the latter asked him for money on his board account. The accused was tried and convicted at the Virginia term of court.

William Tourney, 57 years old, pleaded guilty to abusing a 12-year-old Virginia girl and was sentenced to serve ten years in state prison.

For running a "blind pig" Marco Bulaik was fined $100 or three months in jail and not having the money was imprisoned.

Caesar Angelo, sentenced in Virginia by Judge Hughes, March 11, to spend thirty days in jail and pay a fine of $500, was again before the court on the same charge. At the previous appearance the imprisonment sentence was suspended but this time he got it.

GREAT EVELETH WILL BE RESULT

Annexation Election Friday to Take in Much Valuable Territory.

Eveleth, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The proposition to annex Eveleth Central Division No. 2 and the Spruce and Adams mine locations to the city and thus increase Eveleth's population from 5,530, as given at the last census, to 8,000 and increase its area six times and increase its assessed valuation from $1,500,000 to $10,000,000 will be decided at the election to be held tomorrow at the township hall.

Rumors that a certain office holder in the township was working to defeat the proposition because of its effect upon his position spurred the expansion committee to great activity during the past few days, and, according to all reports, the proposition is safe by a big majority.

The election will be held between the hours of 9 in the morning and 5 in the afternoon at the Missabe township hall. A. E. Bawden, A. F. Romer and Thomas Murphy constitute the election board, and will conduct the election according to the law for township elections.

If successful the annexation movement will culminate in an era of great prosperity for Eveleth, as many miles of water mains will be laid to provide the miners living in the locations with pure water from St. Mary's lake. It is expected that the city council will create three new wards and appoint several new aldermen, making a larger and more representative council.

The annexation movement has had the full support of the steel corporation, even though it brings the mines into the city, where they can be taxed for municipal purposes, as the officials wish the miners and residents of the mine towns to be provided with as good homes as possible.

MINER SUFFOCATED IN STRIPPING HOLE

Steve Tetak Overcome By Gases While Working in Eveleth Property.

Eveleth, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Steve Tetak, aged 39, married, living in the Adams location, was fatally suffocated in a hole at the Winston & Dear stripping on the Virginia mine near here. He had entered the hole to secure his blasting tools, but the gases proved too strong. His partner, Andrew Coressini, pulled him out, but life was extinct.

The funeral of Matt Mineard, the miner killed at the No. 6 shaft, Adams mine, was held yesterday morning from the Holy Family church, Father Biban officiating.

PRESBYTERY TO MEET ON TUESDAY

Northern Minnesota Churches to Have Session at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The spring Presbytery will be held here Tuesday, April 12. The territory covered by the presbytery comprises all of Northeastern Minnesota, and it is expected that some thirty-five delegates, ministers and elders, will be in attendance.

The meetings will be held in the Presbyterian church. The meeting Tuesday evening will commence at 7:30, and the feature will be a sermon by the retiring moderator. On Wednesday evening there will be an address by Rev. Mr. Middlemass of Sandstone, and "Jack" McCall, a lumberjack convert, will address the meeting. The presbytery will be in session as long as there is any business to transact. The day sessions will be taken over with business relating to church matters. It is expected that the sessions will come to a close on Thursday morning.

SEEK RAILWAY FRANCHISE.

Hibbing Parties Propose to Build Car Line to Alice.

Hibbing, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition for a franchise for a street railway line in Hibbing, running south on Second and Third avenues to the village of Alice, was presented to the village council Monday evening. The promoters declare that they will build the line at once, provided they receive a franchise from the village council. The line will be run with a gasoline motor car, and will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. The men interested in this matter are G. N. Butchard, John Sheehy, Frank Lavell, P. J. Somers, H. P. Reed, W. M. Brown, Frank Ansely, H. J. Breen, H. C. Hanson, Frank Dear, B. H. Hayes and John Redfern.

CLAIM SITE PRICE IS NOT EXORBITANT

Committee From Virginia Commercial Club to Confer With Postal Authorities.

Virginia, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—President N. B. Arnold of the Commercial club is going to St. Paul for the purpose of formulating a project of vital interest to the city. Upon his return he will call a meeting to take action upon several other matters of importance Wednesday or Thursday night. Among the matters to come before the club will be a "white way" for Chestnut street; a new road from Wolf to this city; the securing of grounds and the formation of a baseball team; a public market, and the organization of a brass band. The farmers of Wolf and vicinity are anxious that a new road be established to cut off the big hill, so that they can haul their products here.

President Arnold has appointed George F. Shea, O. H. Griggs and R. C. Pickering to revise the by-laws and constitution of the club so as to allow for the appointment of standing committees to take charge of the different matters coming before the club.

A meeting of the executive committee was held last night and a committee appointed to confer with government officials and Congressman Miller in regard to the proposed federal building site, the government having objected to the price.

It will be the endeavor of the committee to show to the federal authorities that the price set upon this property is only fair and just. The committee is composed of Mayor Andrew Hawkinson, Dr. C. B. Lenont, A. C. Osborn, Otto A. Poirier, O. H. Griggs and N. B. Arnold.

LIBRARY TOPICS BEING DISCUSSED

Gathering at Virginia of People Interested in Such Institutions.

Virginia, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A round table meeting of the librarians and board members of the public and school libraries was held at the public library in this city this afternoon. Representatives from Hibbing, Eveleth, Chisholm, Coleraine, Two Harbors, Grand Marais, Cloquet, Duluth, Bemidji, Aitkin and Grand Rapids were present.

This evening a public meeting will be held at the Roosevelt school auditorium, where a further discussion of library work will be held. The principal speakers of the evening will be Judge Martin Hughes and E. W. Bohannon, president of the state normal school at Duluth. Tomorrow forenoon another meeting will be held at the library rooms.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS ARE MEETING AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting of the superintendents, teachers of the Sunday schools and others interested in church work began at the Presbyterian church this afternoon. Many representing the different towns of Northern Minnesota are here. This evening a public meeting will be held and addresses will be made by a number of prominent church people.

WOULD KILL HIS WIFE.

Virginia Man Is Locked Up for Making Murderous Threats.

Virginia, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Walla is in the city jail, charged with threatening the life of his wife and several of his neighbors. Walla went home yesterday afternoon in an intoxicated condition and threatened to butcher his wife. He had several knives. Neighbors were called in and the would-be slayer disarmed and quieted down. After the neighbors left, Walla secured a rifle and again threatened to kill his wife, when the neighbors were again appealed to for assistance. Walla was disarmed for the second time and the police sent for. Mrs. Walla suffered a nervous shock as a result of the fracus and for a short time was in a serious condition. Mrs. Walla says that on several occasions her husband has threatened to kill her and expressed a hope that the authorities would send him to prison for life. The couple have a child about 8 months old.

DOES WIFE OWN HUBBY?

King, were riding along a country road in Georgia behind a mule. A high bank obscured the view of the tracks of the Southern Railway company just ahead of them. As the mule gots quarrelly upon the track, a through passenger train from Washington to Atlanta struck it and the buggy, killing King and injuring the wife and daughter.

Railroad Took Appeal.

Mrs. King sued the company in the state courts for injuries to her person. She also sued on the death of her husband. It is this suit which is before the supreme court.

In the lower court the railroad company contended that the recovery in the state court for injuries to her person estopped Mrs. King from maintaining an action for the death of her husband. The circuit court of appeals for the Fifth circuit, in passing on the judgment of Mrs. King for $3,250 for the death of her husband, considered the argument by the railroad.

"The contention is made that the injuries to the person of the wife and the loss occasioned by the death of her husband," said the court, "constitute a single cause of action, and that separate actions will not lie. This contention appears to be seriously made, but in the practice and procedure of the several states it would appear to be a legal novelty without law or precedent.

Question of Personal Property.

"If it be conceded that the deceased husband was the 'personal property' of the plaintiff herein, then the contention would be supported by the decisions of every state court but one.

"The declaration that the husband is the 'personal property' of the wife has not as yet received the sanction of court or text writers. The rule as to a single cause of action has no application where the injury is suffered in a different capacity or by different persons."

At the time of the accident, the trial court held the railroad negligent because it was violating the "Blow-Post law." The law was passed in 1852.

"I have found nothing like it anywhere else," said John J. Strickland, counsel for the railroad, in his brief. It requires a railroad engineer to blow his whistle from a blow-post 400 yards from every highway crossing, until he arrives at the road, and to simultaneously check and keep checking the speed of his train, so as to stop in time, should any person or thing be crossing the track on the highway.

Claims It Is Burdensome.

The railroad contends that the statute imposes an unreasonable burden on interstate commerce.

Reuben R. Arnold, for Mrs. King, claims that the constitutionality of the law was not attacked properly. Furthermore, if the railroads would avoid the consequences of the law, he says, they may eliminate grade crossings.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails to cure coughs, colds, croup and bronchitis. For sale by all druggists.

erns in the old Roman towns that are perched picturesquely on the summits of the foothills.

Mr. Roosevelt's request to the Italian as well as the American correspondents that he and Mrs. Roosevelt be allowed to enjoy seclusion during the drive will be observed.

On the evening of April 12 the Roosevelts will leave Porto Maurizio for Vienna, stopping at Venice for a day.

Pope Declines to Comment.

Rome, April 7.—Some of the prominent ecclesiastics who were received by the pope today managed to introduce the subject of the Roosevelt incident. To these the pontiff expressed the deepest regret that he had been prevented from meeting and speaking with the former president, but he gave utterance to no opinion regarding the negotiations or the deadlock that followed.

The incident continues to be a live topic of popular discussion and is emphasized by what the liberal press calls the new mistake of Cardinal Merry del Val, who had before prevented the Choral Society of Cologne being received by the pope because the society visited the Quirinal and sang before the Italian sovereigns, in spite of the fact that every year hundreds of persons are received by King Victor Emmanuel and afterwards admitted to the presence of his holiness.

Blames Merry del Val.

The Messagero today says:

"Within a few days Cardinal Merry del Val has shown discourtesy to the most beloved American citizen and to a gathering of the most beloved persons of Germany and indirectly to the king of Italy. As long as this young and audacious Spanish cardinal dominates the Leonine City, the Italian Liberals must be on their guard."

Before leaving Rome last night Ex-President Roosevelt had reason to believe that a great triumpa was his, because both the attitude of the Vatican toward him and the statement of the Methodists, which he had condemned, were repudiated by the leading adherents of those two institutions.

Abbott Lawrence Jannssens, one of the most learned Benedictines and secretary of the congregation of the affairs of religions, called on Mr. Roosevelt in the evening and, not finding him, left his card, on which he wrote in French that he desired to congratulate him for the constant support given to his order and the Catholic church in general in America, during Mr. Roosevelt's "glorious career" as president, which he hoped would soon be resumed.

Letters from Cardinals.

He also received letters from prelates and cardinals condemning what they styled the personal attitude of Cardinal Merry del Val, for which neither the pope nor the Catholic church was responsible."

On the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt received the following letter from Dr. Walling Clark, head of the Methodist organization in Italy.

"The incident connected with the article written by the Rev. B. M. Tipple for the American press has caused me untold regret. I was not aware that the article was written or sent until Tuesday afternoon, when it was brought to me by a newspaper correspondent, together with the statement which you gave out on Tuesday morning. If I had known Mr. Tipple's intention I certainly should have used all my influence to prevent it. Let me assure you that the Methodists of Rome were not responsible for the article. Allow me once more to express my admiration for the courageous position you have taken in the face of the demands of the Vatican. The Methodists of Rome wi[ll] not forget it."

Telegrams from America.

Among Mr. Roosevelt's telegrams today were two from well known Catholic publishers, declaring that Catholic opinion in America indorsed his position. Mr. Roosevelt also received visits and letters from members of the Methodist organization in Rome, disavowing sympathy with the violent utterances contained in the Rev. R. M. Tipple's recent statement.

The series of events connected with the cancellation of Mr. Roosevelt's audience with the pope and later his repudiation of the denunciatory statement issued by Pastor Tipple of the American Methodist church at Rome, addded interest to the dinner given in Mr. Roosevelt's honor last night in the great hall of the historic Capitoline palace by the municipal authorities, over which Mayor Nathan presided.

The guests included Premier Luzzatti, Signor Ferero, under secretary of the foreign office; Signor Ferrari, grand master of the Free Mason order, and Ambassador Leishman.

Roosevelt the "Purifier."

Mayor Nathan, in proposing the health of the ex-president characterized Mr. Roosevelt as a "purifier," saying that he had hunted fiercer beasts than during his recent trip in Africa.

"Men of his caliber," said the mayor, "are beyond the limits of country."

He compared the ex-president to Marcus Aurelius.

Mr. Roosevelt, in replying, declared that no civilized man could come to Rome without feeling that he was visiting the cradle of civilization.

"Beware of the man who does not translate his words into deeds," said the ex-president.

He announced he was an optimist with regard to the future.

"Twice Italy was at the head of the world," he continued; "first in the days of her glory, when Marcus Aurelius was emperor, and second, during the marvelous reproduction of the life of Greece in the communes of Amalfi, Pisa, Florence and Genoa. And now, in the last sixty years, since the battle of Novara, we have seen the wonderful growth which has made Italy what she is and what she will be.

Predicts Italy's Future.

"When the pessimists say that civilization is worn out, we can turn to Italy, whence the entire Occident derives its civilization, and where we don't know whether to admire more the past or what is being prepared for the future.

"In all civilized countries it has been necessary to preserve some barbaric virtues, above all, military strength to oppose any attempt at oppression. Countries must be strong in order to be good and to help the weak against the overbearing."

The Italian historian, Gugliemo Ferrero, entertained Mr. Roosevelt at luncheon, after which the colonel departed for the embassy, where Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of Mrs. Leishman, and from there visited the Keats memorial, which was founded principally by Americans. With Signor Ferrero he discussed Free Masonry in France, in which he has shown great interest, and expressed warm sentiments of gratitude and fraternity for the felicitations addressed to him by the French members of that order.

Predict Downfall of Secretary.

Paris, April 7.—The Matin today claims that the treatment of Mr. Roosevelt by the Vatican meets with disapproval in the highest and most important ecclesiastical circles, including many members of the Sacred college, who hold Cardinal Merry del Val and not the pope responsible. These prelates point out that Mr. Roosevelt has always shown the most profound respect for the Catholic church, and now that church has offended him.

The Matin thinks that the adversaries of the papal secretary will seize the incident as a weapon with which to break down his authority and prestige.

partment, 52 Broadway, at 6:30 o'clock last night, the meeting having been called by President Shears.

Assets Not Satisfactory.

"After a conference with the superintendent of banks regarding the unusual demands being made upon the institution at its Eighth ward branch, and considering the character of the assets, for which the present management is not responsible, board decided to request the superintendent to take possession and thus preserve the best interests of all depositors.

"Pursuant to the request and the provisions of the banking law, the superintendent has taken possession of the property and business of the corporation.

"No further statement regarding the condition of the bank will be made until the inventories have been completed.

"There have been no withdrawals of deposits from any other institution."

Suspended During Panic.

Supt. Cheney said that the conditions attending the closing of the bank were almost identical with those which led to the closing of the Union bank. As was the case with the latter, the Borough was obliged to suspend during the panic of 1907, and was reorganized after the panic was over. The new management was obliged to assume liabilities which have been a heavy load. Suspension of the Union bank had a bad effect on the Borough, which was known to be in the same position.

Supt. Cheney would not venture an opinion as to the condition of the bank or as to the position of the depositors until the examiners who are now working on the bank's books have finished work.

Maxwell Was President.

The Borough bank closed its doors in October, 1907, as a result of the panic. Stories that were told of the institution's funds having been disappropriated caused the indictment of the president, Howard Maxwell, and the cashier, Arthur D. Campbell. President Maxwell committed suicide a few days later by cutting his throat.

President Shears of the Borough bank said:

"The effect of the closing of the Union bank has been severely felt by the Borough bank during the last few days and showed itself in a quiet but constant withdrawal of deposits which resulted in exhausting the bank's ready money.

Will Pay in Full.

"The bank's assets, which, it is believed, are more than adequate to pay all depositors and stockholders in full, were to a great extent inherited from the former management, which caused its suspension two years ago. The assets are to a considerable extent in real property, both in the borough of Brooklyn and in the suburbs, a large portion of which is unimproved.

"The bank's inability to market this property, which it held at the time of resumption and exhaustion of its cash supply resulting from the closing of the Union bank on Monday explains the suspension."

Spring Medicine

Is

Made a Yearly Necessity by Impure Blood.

The Best is Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Cures All Humors and All Eruptions, Relieves that Tired Feeling, Creates an Appetite.

More Profit is the object of substitution. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" as Hood's you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

Insist on Having Hood's, which effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of twenty different ingredients.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Makes people well and keeps them well. Get it today.

RHEUMATISM ADVICE

Gives Prominent Doctor's Best Prescription—Is Easily Mixed.

"Get one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bedtime. Shake the bottle before using." This is not new in this city as many of the worst cases of chronic and acute rheumatism and backache have been cured by it. Good results come the first day. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesale house.

Silberstein & Bondy Company.

Unusual Suits at $25

New shipment today of these unusual Suits deserve more than passing mention. We haven't been able to procure any suits up to the S. & B. Co. standard for less than $25.00. Some suits at less and our specialized $25.00 lines of "best made" suits may look pretty much alike and wear pretty much alike "for a few weeks." Then—well you won't need your glasses to be able to tell which is the Silberstein suit.

We pay a little more for our suits, because the maker demands it for the extra quality and tailoring that we insist on. However the extra that we pay doesn't concern you any—except the good it might do you to know about it—as we would much prefer to pay it ourselves and take a shorter profit than make any sacrifice on the "son peur et son reproache quality" of S. & B. Co. clothes.

These extra tailored new-comers are in black and navy—also popular shades of grey. The coats are 32 inches long—semi-fitting, with pocket and that long shawl collar that can be seen on every side on the ultra-expensive suits. Sometimes the collars trimmed with pique piping. Skirts are full pleated. The material is diagonal and striped serge—what nine out of ten women will invariably pick out in the higher-priced lines. When down town stop in and have the salespeople show you these specialized $25.00 suits. We promise they will cause you a mild surprise.

How to Nip a Cold or Cough in the Bud

To let a cough or cold "wear itself out" is both needless and dangerous. If you will take five minutes and make up the simple remedy described below, you can wipe out a cold or cough as soon as it appears. Even deep-seated coughs yield to it quickly. A whole pint of it costs only 54 cents, but there is no better remedy at any price.

Take a pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two and three hours. The taste is pleasing.

Use the ingredients as given here. Granulated sugar makes the best syrup. None of the weaker pine preparations will take the place of the real Pinex itself, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract. Your druggist has it or can easily order it for you.

This mixture is also excellent for whooping cough, bronchitis, chest pains, etc.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

HAS BIG SUM IN TREASURY

Police Relief Association Holds Annual Meeting and Elects Officers.

The annual inspection of the police force was made by Chief Troyer yesterday afternoon, following the annual meeting of the Duluth Police Relief association. Reports at the meeting showed that the association has $15,000 in the treasury. Of this amount, $13,000 is invested in water and light fund bonds drawing interest at 4 per cent. The balance is in the local banks.

The officers elected for the next year are: President, A. G. Elskett; vice president, Robert Johnston; secretary, Frank A. Schulte; treasurer, John Drennan. All of them held over with the exception of Johnston, who succeeded William O'Neil.

Best Treatment For Colds.

Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free prespiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

SAYS BOTTLES ARE FULL SIZE

Sealer of Weights and Measures Says Dairymen Give Full Quart.

George Duren, sealer of weights and measures, says that he has tested several milk bottles in which the lacteal fluid is sold in Duluth, and that he has not found them as short as has been claimed. He stated that they had an even quart when filled level with the top. He asserts that any shortage is caused by the milk that is pushed out when the paper cap is inserted in the top. It is believed by Mr. Duren that all the bottles used in the city for milk purposes are uniform, and that the same test would apply to all of them. Many people have claimed that the bottles were several ounces short, but according to Mr. Duren their fears are not well founded.

English Model Houses.

An experiment is being tried in London in providing model houses for workingmeu of small ages at a suburb known as Hampstead Gardens, a short distance from the main part of the city. They are built of cement plaster, and are provided with open plumbing, and all modern conveniences such as are common to American tenements or flats. Because of its purity and invigorating qualities, Golden Grain Belt beer remains unequalled as a spring tonic. LAUNDRIES ON UNFAIR LIST?

Ladies' Label League Wants Higher Wages for Girl Workers.

The cause of the laundry workers, who are making an effort to secure higher wages and better treatment, will be taken up by the Ladies' Independent Label league.

At a meeting last night the league received a communication from the laundry workers, in which the girls stated that they cannot possibly exist and work as hard as they do, when they are paid but $4.50 a week. The communication was considered by the league and those present decided not to patronize the laundries mentioned in the communicataion, and they will work to have all union people withhold their patronage until the girls are given better treatment.

The league decided to give a card party at Kalamazoo hall on the evening of April 20.

WILL NOT TAKE BAND ON TRIP

Shriners Will Go to New Orleans Without the Musicians.

Nearly 100 Shriners and their friends will leave Duluth at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on a special train over the Omaha for Chicago, where the train will be taken in charge by the nIllIois Central. The train will run solid to New Orleans, where the annual gathering of Shriners will be held next week.

The Shriners have decided not to take a band with them, but they will let New Orleans know they have arrived, as the members have learned several songs and yells that were composed especially for the occasion.

Dependable Proprietary Medicines.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for thirty years and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. NAVY LEAGUE IS FLOURISHING

Membership and Funds Growing and Missionary Work Is in Progress.

Washington, April 7.—The Navy League of the United States, a patriotic organization non-partisan in character and including in its memberships such men as President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, Admiral Dewey, J. Pierpont Morgan and David R. Francis, with Gen. Horace Porter president, is flourishing like a green bay tree, according to the reports for the year ending March 31.

The membership of the national section, irrespective of the numerous branch leagues throughout the country, has been increased by 371 regular members, 542 contributing members, 369 life members and 36 founders, making a total of 1,318 new members and bringing the total membership for the league up to over 6,300. The finances of the league are also in excellent condition, the founders' fund now amounting to $13,261, of which the interest only is used for expenses.

Doing "Missionary" Work.

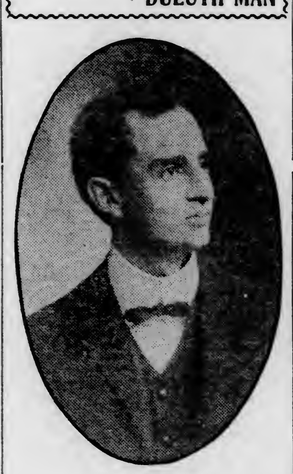

A great "missionary" work has been done by the distribution of 66,500 pamphlets, the general purpose of which has been to show that an adequate navy is the best guarantee of peace; that battleships are cheaper than battles; that international attempts to limit armament have failed; that the merchant marine should be strengthened as an auxillary to the navy and that the naval reserve should be subject to the call of the president.

JUDGE PARKER CALLS ON PREMIER STOLYPIN.

St. Petersburg, April 7.—Former Justice Alton B. Parker left today for Moscow and the Crimea. During his visit here Mr. Parker called upon Premier Stolypin and discussed the possibility of closer relations between Russia and the United States.

PROMOTION FOR DULUTH MAN

C. A. CRANE.

The appointment of C. A. Crane, manager of the local office of the Western Union Telegraph company, to be manager of the St. Paul office of the same company, as announced in The Herald last evening, is a promotion on which Mr. Crane's friends are congratulating him. During the seven years he has held the post of Duluth manager, Mr. Crane has made many friends among the business men of the city, and he has faithfully guarded the company's interests. Mr. Crane's successor has not yet been appointed.

SCHWAB DENIES BUYING SHIPBUILDING COMPANY.

TWO MEN HOLD UP ST. PAUL STREET CAR

Get Twenty Dollars From the Conductor and Make Their Escape.

St. Paul, Minn. April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two masked men held up and robbed Conductor A. W. Grace of a Stryker avenue street car at the end of the line about 10:10 last night and escaped with $20 in cash.

The conductor and Motorman Bernard Dumphy made no attempt to follow them, but reported the robbery to the Ducas street police station. Detective Rowland is investigating. Up to this morning he reported no progress in his search for the holdup men.

ILLEGAL CANDY IN EASTER EGGS

Anti-Adulteration Crusade Started By Pennsylvania Officer.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 7.—As a result of a general sampling of candy eggs sold in the state during the Easter season, a crusade against the salo of adulterated candy has been started by Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust.

ENGINEER IS KILLED.

Baseball Club's Train Is Wrecked at Saxton, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—A northbound passenger train on the Louisville & Nashville railroad from Atlanta to Cincinnati went into an open switch at Saxton, Ky., early today. William Rudolph, the engineer, was killed, and the fireman and express messenger were injured. The second division of the Boston National league club, piloted by John Dovey, was aboard the train. None of the players was injured, but their baseball paraphernalia and baggage was so badly smashed that Mr. Dovey telegraphed to Louisville cancelling today's game between his team and the Louisville American association team.

ILLINOIS COAL OPERATORS MEET

Session Will Have Important Bearing on Wage Scale Affairs.

Chicago, April 7.—The executive committee of the Illinois Coal Operators' association held an important meeting today. It was the first gathering of the committee since the present emergency was created by the suspension of work at the mines.

Charles L. Scroggs, secretary of the association, predicted that the meeting would have an important bearing on the joint conference of the scale committees of the operators and miners, as the executive board is also the scale committee.

LAYMEN HEAR TALKS ABOUT "STEWARDSHIPS."

Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—The closing day of the laymens' missionary movement in Milwaukee opened with several addresses on 'Stewardship," the subject being treated from various standpoints by W. B. Anderson of India, W. W. Newell of Chicago, John E. Merrill and Charles E. Braudt, Chicago.

Communion conferences in various churches and a mass meeting for women only occupied the afternoon.

CROWD TURNS OUT TO SEE THE AVIATORS.

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—Notwithstanding that the opening of Memphis' first aviation meet proved a disappointment, thousands of visitors hurried to the Tri-State Fair grounds today. On account of high winds the program arranged for yesterday was postponed until today. Glenn H. Curtiss planned to break his standing start record. Charles F. Willard hoped to reduce his accuracy record of twenty-five feet.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says:—"For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." For sale by all druggists.

ACCUSED OF MURDER OF CANTON COUPLE.

ORDER OF HEARING ON PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis.

In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Wardwell Ames, Decedent.

A certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Wardwell Ames having been presented to this court and the petition of Julius H. Barnes being duly filed herein, representing, among other things, that said decedent, then being a resident of the county of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, died testate in the county of St. Louis, State of Minnesota on the 21st day of March, 1910, and that said petitioner is one of the executors named in the said last will and testament of deceased, and praying that said instrument be allowed and admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said decedent, and that letters testamentary be issued to Clara S. Ames, Ward Ames, Jr., and Julius H. Barnes thereon.

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard before this court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in Duluth, in said County, on Monday the 25th day of April, 1910, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter, are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in the Duluth Evening Herald according to law, and that a copy of this order be served on the County Treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., March 28th, 1910.

By the Court,

J. B. MIDDLECOFF,

Judge of Probate.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

One of the novelties in Minnesota municipal campaigns, though not without parallel, was that at St. Cloud, which resulted in the election of D. H. Freeman as mayor. Mr. Freeman was in the South with his family throughout the campaign. In fact, he left home before the nominations were made and had no part in the efforts made to bring about his election. He has returned in time to accept congratulations.

Another unusual fact in connection with the St. Cloud election is that one vote was cast for a woman for the mayoralty. The balance of power in the council is in doubt and recounts may be damanded in one or two wards, with the result so beclouded in doubt that St. Cloud may have just as much excitement over the aftermath as any ordinary city election can provide.

Tomorrow night there will be a meeting of the Republicans of Duluth for the purpose of effecting the preliminary organization of the Central Republican club of the city, the membership of which will consist of the delegates elected by the different ward organizations at recent dates. The central organization is expected to develop into a valuable asset of the party and to become a decided force for good in public affairs. The most enthusiastic promoters of the organization declare that it will be entirely free from machine domination and will strive in every legitimate way to further the cause of reform.

Governor Eberhart's visit to Duluth is soon to be followed by another. He will come here May 13, to be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the Svea society. The banquet will be held at the St. Louis hotel and Dr. J. J. Eklund will act as toastmaster, while next to Governor Eberhart, Dr. Frank Nelson of Minnesota college, Minneapolis, will be the chief speaker of the evening. There will be a meeting at the Duluth Commercial club rooms tomorrow night to outline plans for the event. Several other speakers of note are expected to attend the gathering.

Completing its survey of possible candidates for legislative seats as representatives of the counties not included in the three largest centers of population, the Minneapolis Tribune publishes the following, with the explanation that the list is not offered as a suggestion of probable results, but merely to review concisely current political gossip:

Houston county, First district: Senate—O. B. Nelson, Rep., Spring Grove; W. S. Duxbury, Rep., Caledonia.

Winona county, Second district: Senate—George D. French, present incumbent, will probably be returned. Representative—Frank E. Gartside, Rep., John Hitzger, Dem., Theodore Sikorski, Dem., Winona.

Wabasha county, Fifth district: Senate—L. O. Cooke, Rep., Lake City; J. A. Carley, Dem., Plainview. Representative—William Foreman, Rep., Wabasha (anxious to succeed Carley).

Olmstead county, Fourth district: Senate—H. H. Witherstine, Dem., Rochester; A. T. Stebbins, Rep., William Frazer, Rep., Rochester. Representative—M. Fitzpatrick, Dem., Stewartville; Kerry Conley, Rep., Rochester.

Fillmore county, Fifth district: Senate—Burdette Thayer, Rep., Spring Valley; S. A. Nelson, Rep., Lanesboro; Thomas Frankson, Rep., Spring Valley. Representative — John Rustad, Rep., Whalen.

Gates, Rep., Garden City; Hans Jorgenson, Dem., Mankato; C. E. Herzberg, Dem., Good Thunder; F. L. Kelly, Dem., Madella; J. T. Lewis, Rep. (The situation in this county is up in the air.)

Fairbault county, Twelfth district: Senate—F. E. Putnam, Rep., Blue Earth; R. L. Mork, Rep., Bricelyn. (An arrangement is likely between these two which will avoid contest.) Representative—Mork of Bricelyn will try for house if Putnam is candidate for senate.

Martin and Watonwan counties, Thirteenth district: Senate—W. A. Hinton, Rep., Truman; C. J. Swendsen, Rep., St. James; E. C. Farmer, Rep., Madella; G. C. Haycraft, Rep., Madella. (Hinton will surely be a candidate, and Swendsen may run for house.) Representative—Joseph Davis, Rep., St. James.

Jackson and Cottonwood counties, Fourteenth district: Senate—V. E. Butler, Rep., Heron Lake; C. W. Gillum, Rep., Windom. (Butler may drop out and Gillum most likely candidate.) Representative—O. E. Dieson, Rep., Heron Lake.

Nobles and Murray counties, Fifteenth district: Senate—S. B. Bedford, Rep., Bushmore; Former Senator Dan Schell, Worthington; F. L. Humiston, Worthington. (Bedford may not be a candidate. Either Schell or Humiston will file, but not against each other.) Representative—Herman Nelson, Rep., Slayton.

Rock and Pipestone counties, Sixteenth district: Senate—S. B. Duea, Rep., Ruthton; E. H. Canfield, Rep., Luverne. Representative — Harrison White, Rep., Luverne.

Lincoln, Lyon and Yellow Medicine counties, Seventeenth district: Senate—Virgil B. Seward, Rep., Marshall; J. N. Johnson, Rep., Canby; Marcus Lauritsen, Rep., Tyler. Feet Tired— So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used."—A. F. Druetzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Dept. 490, Dodge Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

CHILD'S MIND NEEDS WORK

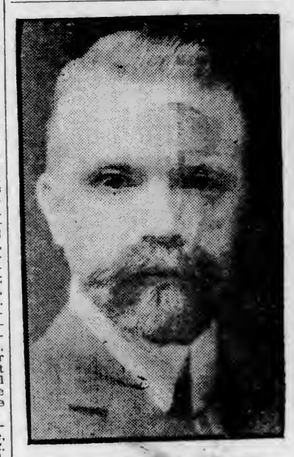

Practical Endeavor Is Necessary to Moral Education of the Young.

Dr. Luther H. Gulick Addresses Audience at the High School.

"The child's mind must be occupied with practical endeavor; his attention must be centered on actual work," said Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, director of child hygiene in the Russell Sage Foundation, New York city, in his lecture at the Central high school last night. Dr. Gulick's address was heard by a fair sized audience. It was delivered under the auspices of the Duluth-Superior Kindergarten association.

"Children no longer have opportunities for work in the home by which they attain what is known as moral development," said Dr. Gulick. "This is truer of the city than of the country. Our grandfathers and in many instances our fathers lived on farms, and each farm was a complete unit. They made their own clothing from the raw material and performed all the tasks incident to obtaining a complete food supply. They even made their own harnesses, shod their horses and put up their buildings. They were independent of the rest of the world and imported little.

"Conditions are different now. Walking behind a traction engine drawing sixteen plows, each cutting three inches deep, a boy has no opportunity to co-operate with his father. There are no lines for him to hold, no horses for him to help drive. He loses the strengthening process and character building material that comes from work. A girl no longer co-operates with her mother, because her mother's duties have changed.

"The moral problems confronting the father and mother are not those of common interest into which the child can enter. Moral questions are more technical than formerly. This is equally true of the bank president, the clerk or the trolley car conductor. Questions of morality do not lend themselves to family interest, ideals do not shape themselves for family emulation, but are individual in the nature of their attractiveness. When children worked with their parents they gradually adjusted their shoulders to bear the burdens of their parents, they unconsciously became amenable to the obligations of the adult life. These opportunities have been removed.

"Work has always been necessary. The straightforward accomplishment of useful things, the pursuit of duty, the intelligent creation of something useful, whether interesting or uninteresting, will always be a necessary factor in the moral education of children. Opportunity and necessity for work in the home are lessening. Consequently, the work must be taken up and carried on by the school. This is emphasizing from another standpoint the need of vocational training, not only because of its financial value to the individual and to the community but because of its moral value.

"By work I do not mean brief periods of manual training two or three times a week. It will be necessary to have workshops, to have longer school hours and to divide the days between work and study. The working part should embrace some hours each day. It must be continuous, progressive and useful. It must restore to children both the opportunity and the obligation for steady, serious, useful labor which in the cities has practically disappeared and which is becoming rapidly less in the country.

FLICKERTAIL POLITICS

Grand Forks, N. D., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—It did not take the Progressive Republican long to find a candidate for the place on the ticket that has been made vacant by U. L. Burdick's refusal to enter the race for lieutenant governor. A. P. Kraabel, who, up to 1907, was a member of the state senate, is an active candidate for the Progressive indorsement, and among the leaders of the faction it is generally conceded that it will be given him.

George W. Wilson of Williston, who recently announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor, says he is in the race to stay. Coming in the face of the strenuous efforts that have been put forta by the friends of Lieutenant Governor R. S. Lewis to have him withdraw, this statement from Mr. Wilson is interesting. It means that if Lewis would be a candidate for the nomination, he will not only have opposition outside of the Stalwart faction, but he will also have to contend with formidable opposition within his own ranks.

There is an interesting contest for the registership of the United States land office at Williston, which Mr. Wilson recently resigned. At present there are seven active candidates in the field, five of them being from Williston. T. W. Greer, Senator W. B. Overson, Hon. John Flittle, A. J. Stafne and M. P. Hyde are the Williston candidates, while Sam Adams of Perth and John Lynch of Minot are the other two who have appeared on the scene. Mr. Hydie is a son-in-law of the late United States Senator M. N. Johnson.

STONE TALKS FOR OPEN SHOP POLICY

Head of Locomotive Engineers Surprises Hearers in New York.

New York, April 7—Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in a speech last night at the Murray Hill Lyceum, surprised his auditors by coming out for the open shop.

"I do not believe in forcing men to join a union," he said. "If a man wants to join, all right, but it is contrary to the Constitution and the principles of free government to try to make him join. We of the engineers work willingly side by side with other engineers who do not belong to our union, although they enjoy, without any objection on our part, the advantages we have obtained."

Man Killed on Cruiser.

San Francisco, Cal., April 7.—Capt. James C. Gillmore, commander of the cruiser Maryland, confirmed the report of an accident to the cruiser, in the following wireless message to the Associated Press: "A defective boiler tube burst on April 2. Man scalded and died today. GILLMORE."

Michigan Men Subpoenaed.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 7.—Chief Deputy United States Marshall Ed O'Donnell of Grand Rapids yesterday served subpoenas issued by federal Judge Campbell of Tulsa, Okla., on thirty-two prominent residents of Hastings, Mich., to appear on May 6, to testify in the trials of Governor C. N. Haskell, W. R. Eaton and others under indictment for fraudulent land deals.

How Old is Your Complexion

(From London Graphic)

"I have just returned from Paris where I have been hunting up all the new fashions, and I have many valuable ideas.

"I obtained an interview with Madame De Veaux, Paris' most renowned beauty. Although a woman of fifty years, she could easily pass for thirty. The skin on her face, neck and arms is clear, soft and velvety, and entirely free from wrinkles and stray hairs.

"She has never used powder or paint, but makes a solution by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witchhazel, and massages her face, arms and neck twice a day with it. This does not show upon the skin; removes all sorts of blemishes, and prevents the growth of hair.

"The use of powder will not be found necessary at all, as the solution removes any shine from the skin at once, and gives the face a dainty, natural color. The stray hairs will disappear if the treatment is continued.

WHITE WAY ON AVENUE

Plans for Street of Light From Dock to Courthouse.

Incoming Tourists Will No Longer Stumble Through the Darkness.

Passengers on the ferry boats from Superior, and tourists reaching the city on the large passenger steamers from lower lake ports, will not have to stumble through the darkness of lower Fifth avenue this summer, if the plans of the "White Way" committee are worked out, and there is every reason to believe that they will be.

The committee now hopes to have the ornamental standards, such as are used on First street and East Superior street, placed on Fifth avenue west from the docks to the courthouse. F. A. Patrick has given the committee great assistance, and it is believed that practically all the property owners along the avenue up as far as First street will sign the petition for the lights. This will give a brilliantly lighted street for the entire distance, and will add greatly to the attractiveness of the city by night, giving incoming tourists a very favorable first impression of Duluth.

The committee is now working on West Superior street. The members hope in time to see the lights extended as far west as the new Soo depot. At present there are but scattering lights west of Lake avenue. The work of installing the lights from First avenue east to Washington avenue is going forward rapidly and they will be ready for the current by April 20.

The First street plans have been coming along slowly, but it is hoped to have the lights installed from First avenue west to Fifth avenue west.

If all the plans of the committee are realized, the ornamental standards will be placed on the following streets: Fifth avenue west from the docks to the courthouse; Superior street from the Soo depot to Sixth avenue east; First street from First avenue west to Fifth avenue west; Third avenue west from Superior street to Second street.

The members of the committee, which has been working on the plans, are: H. J. Mullin, C. F. Macdonald, John A. Stephenson and H. V. Eva.

Argue Russell Case.

Cambridge, Mass., April 7.—The argument in behalf of the Dickinson, N. D., claimant to half of the estate of Daniel Russell, was made in the probate court yesterday by State Senator Simpson of North Dakota. Nothing was seen of the Fresno, Cal., claimant in or about the courthouse.

Will Push Railroad Bill.

Washington, April 7.—Senator Elkins has given notice that on Monday next he would ask to have the administration railroad bill taken up and kept before the senate until disposed of, the senate being required to vote unless some one was prepared to speak.

TELLS OF FINE SWINDLE GAME

Henry Wagner Relates Story That Beats New York Police Records.

New York, April 7.—For lavish stage setting, workmanlike execution and financing, the story of a racing swindle as told the police by Henry Wagner, member of a billiard table manufacturing company, has no equal in the annals of the New York detective bureau.

To obtain $10,000 the confidence men entrusted their dupe with $106,000 in cash, hired a private car from Baltimore to Jacksonville, Fla., and impersonated successfully a party of millionaires, one of whom was "H. H. Rogers, Jr.," son of the late vice president of the Standard Oil company.

The story came out with the arrest of a man who gave his name as John Brown, 68 years old, and described himself as a broker and speculator, but who, the police say, is George C. Rockwell, alias George C. Hammond, alias 'Old Joe' Eaton, a notorious confidence man.

Fake Horse Race.

According to Wagner, he was decoyed to Florida on a proposed land deal. On arriving in Florida, his adviser, a Mr. Hoffman, introduced him to several confederates, each claiming to be high in financial circles. The party planned to make a "killing" on a fake race course in St. Augustine while they were waiting on the land deal, the men buying their horse and otherwise fixing the deal. However, it was found that the so-called financiers could not make up the purse of $100,000 and Wagner volunteered to provide the remaining $10,000.

On the afternoon of the race the horses were started, but as they neared the finish, with their horse in the lead, the jockey fell off and was presumably killed.

The confederates told Wagner they would surely be held for murder and that the safe plan would be to flee, calling back that they would meet in New York, and incidentally carrying the whole stake, amounting to $106,000, with them.

WILL RESTRICT THE PULPWOOD BUSINESS.

Quebec, April 7.—It is practically certain that the pulpwood policy of the government, about which there has been so much speculation since the session opened, will include the prohibition of the export of pulpwood cut on crown lands, a considerable increase in the rent of the timber limits and an advance in stumpage dues. The premier is withholding his formal declaration, but the above statement has been given what amounts practically to official endorsement.

The EDISON Phonograph

would still be the greatest sound-reproducing instrument without the Amberola.

The Amberola would still be the final and greatest expression of the Edison Phonograph without Amberol Records.

Amberol Records would still be the greatest triumph in Record-making without Slezak and the other Grand Opera stars.

But when you can get Mr. Edison's own Phonograph invented and perfected by him, and when you get in addition to that the Amberola, the finest form of the Edison Phonograph, and when you can have to play upon the Amberola, or any type of the Edison Phonograph, the Amberol Records, that play twice as long as Edison Standard Records, that are the clearest and best playing Records, and when you can get upon Amberol Records such singers as Slezak, the giant tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and other stars, can you think of buying any sound-reproducing instrument until you have thoroughly investigated the Edison, the Amberola, Amberol Records and Edison Grand Opera Records?

The Amberola $200

RAILROADS

DULUTH IS THE GATEWAY

Canadian Northern Road Establishes Steamship Line to England.

Immigrants Will Be Sent to Western Canada Through Duluth.

Duluth has been placed on the traffic path that leads from Europe to Western Canada.

The passenger gateway of the great Northwest is surely coming into its own, as is shown today by the announcement at the local passenger office of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, that the Canadian Northern line has established an immigration agency in Liverpool, Eng., and will bring immigrants direct from Europe to Western Canada via the Duluth gateway.

The new steamers of the Canadian Northern Railway company, the Royal Edward and the Royal George, triple screw steamers of 12,000 tons each, will be placed in commission early next month. The steamers will ply between Montreal, Quebec and Bristol, Eng. These boats will carry a number of immigrants on their first trip, and these immigrants will be taken to Western Canada via Duluth.

The announcement today is another instance of the growth of Duluth as a traffic center. Before the present year practically all of the immigrants moving from Europe to Western Canada have gone over Canadian lines, not entering the United States at all.

However, the establishment of the line of the Canadian Northern, in connection with the Duluth, Missabe & Northern to Duluth, has wrought an important change in the immigration tide, and from this time on it is believed that Duluth will be one of the most important points for the transportation of immigrants.

The entering into the steamship business of the Canadian Northern marks the completion of that railroad with the Canadian Pacific railway. The latter road annually brings thousands of immigrants to Canada from Europe. Practically all of these immigrants are taken from the Eastern ports of Canada to Western Canada via the Canadian Pacific.

It is believed at the office of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern that the first shipload of immigrants will be brought to Montreal or Quebec early next month. They will be sent west by way of Chicago, coming from Chicago here and being delivered to the Missabe at this point.

In view of the fact that the present season promises to be an unusually heavy one, it is expected that the passenger traffic at this point will be greatly increased by the new move upon the part of the Canadian Northern.

WANT RAILROAD STATIONS RESTORED

People on Line of Canadian Northern Object to Reduced Service.

People living along the line of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railroad between Duluth and the border will file with the state railroad and warehouse commission a protest against the cutting out of stations on the line, according to William Orr of Orr, one of the towns cut off. April 1, Mr. Orr says, the railroad dropped the stations of Angora, Gheen, Orr, Ray, Ericksburg and Cedar Spur and the passenger train no longer stops at those points.

"The passenger trains made only four stops between Duluth and the international border, which is a great inconvenience to people living along the line," said Mr. Orr in speaking of the matter. "People who want to travel along the road and who do not live in towns where the trains stop, must depend upon certain freight or logging trains as a means of transportation. There is enough travel to warrant the trains making frequent stops and they should do so.

"Our mail sack is thrown off at Orr so that it falls on the edge of the woods and a man must hunt for it with a lantern, the train passing through during the night. Freight and logging trains are not a proper means of travel, where there is a good road. We have borne up under 3-cent passenger fares when we should have had 2-cent fares and we have paid higher freight rates than we should because the road is new, but we will not stand for the cutting out of stations and I believe the state warehouse and railroad commission will back us up."

The Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg is operated by the Canadian Northern Railway company.

HORSE JUMPS INTO STREET CAR

Hurts Passengers and Gets Wedged in Door and Has to Be Killed.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 7.—A runaway horse jumped through the rear entrance of a street car at Fourth and Main streets here today, injuring half a dozen passengers. The rear platform of the car was wrecked, the door was splintered and broken glass sent flying through the car.

The horse was so tightly wedged in the car that policemen and firemen had to cut away the wreckage before it could be pulled out. The animal was killed.

SELF DENIAL WEEK FOR SALVATION ARMY.

The forces of the Salvation Army in Duluth are preparing for the annual self-denial week of the Army, which opens Sunday. The week is observed in fifty-four countries and colonies denial and special efforts in doing good.

During the week an offering will be taken to assist in defraying the expenses of the international work of the Army, and members of the local corps are this week asking their friends to assist them in swelling the local offering.

MARINE NEWS

BOATS WILL MOVE SOON

Pittsburg and Tomlinson Carriers Expected to Start Before April 15.

Ore Trains Will Run on Missabe Road Early Next Week.

An important announcement was received in marine circles today, when word was received at various steamship lines that the Soo would be open April 12.

This is taken to mean that some of the Pittsburg Steamship company's boats will arrive at the Head of the Lakes before April 15, the official date for the opening of navigation, and that possibly some of the Tomlinson boats will also be here before or near that date. Both of these fleets carry their own insurance. Therefore they are not prevented from starting from the lower lake ports before midnight of April 15, as are many boats in the lake service. With the weather as far advanced as it is, with the ice all out of the Soo, there is nothing to hinder the boats that carry their own insurance from leaving before the middle of the month.

It is also very probable that the first train of ore will be brought to the Missabe ore docks some time next week. It is believed at the Missabe office that the Pittsburg boats will start in a few days for the Head of the Lakes, and as the first shipment of ore will be brought down three or four days before the arrival of the boats here, it is thought that shipping over the Missabe will start next week.

Shipments are being made over the Duluth & Iron Range road. The cars are placed in local trains, as regular ore trains have not been started yet. The cars are being left on the docks, no filling of the pockets having been started yet. It is believed that filling of the dock pockets will be started at Two Harbors next week.

The steamer Squiers, wintering at the elevators at Fort Arthur, is the first boat at this end of the lakes to take a cargo of wheat. The American boat has already loaded a wheat cargo of 96,000 bushels and will clear for Buffalo at midnight April 15.

Incidentally it is reported that there will be a large demand for coal at the Canadian Head of the Lakes the coming summer and that there will be an unusually large number of American vessels in commission carrying this freight.

LAST REPORT ON ICE CONDITIONS

Conditions on Great Lakes Favorable for Opening of Navigation.

The last ice report of the lake marine service of the weather bureau has been issued and it shows that conditions are satisfactory for the opening of the season of navigation. The summary of conditions follows:

"The reports from the regular and display stations of the weather bureau and meteorological service of Canada indicate that the ice fields have disappeared from Lake Superior and that the harbors are open, ready for navigation. The ice has moved out of Whitefish bay and the St. Mary's river is open its entire length. In Green bay the ice has moved out during the week and none is reported except in Big Bay de Noquette and this ice has probably disappeared by this date. In Michigan the ice fields have disappeared along the eastern shore and none are reported from the northern section about the islands. At the straits the ice has all moved out wit hthe exception of a few small scattered fields and these will disappear this week. In Huron the fields along the eastern shore have been broken up and practically disappeared; no ice was reported along the west shore. In Lake Erie the fields continue over the extreme eastern portion from Dunkirk east to Buffalo. These fields are breaking up and a large amount of ice is passing down the river. In Ontario the harbors are all open, except Kingston, and the ice in that vicinity is breaking up and will move out this week. In comparison with the same period last season there is less ice in all the lakes. This is the earliest disappearance of the ice fields in the Great Lakes since 1903, when the lakes were practically clear by the close of March.

"While general navigation will probably not be resumed until April 15,1910 on account of hull insurance, a few vessels will be in operation next week and it has been recommended that the display of storm warnings be resumed on all lakes April 10, 1910."

Important to Freight Handlers!

Freight Handlers' Union, No. 64, will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. at Kalamazoo Hall. All members urged to be present, as important matters will be discussed.

JAMES KNUCKY, President.

WILL CONFER ON LAKE AND RAIL RATES.

Several representatives of lake and rail lines of Duluth went to St. Paul last night to take up with the general managers of St. Paul the matter of establishing a new basis of handling freight between the lake and rail lines.

The present rate of transfer from the two lines is considered unsatisfactory. It is believed that different commodities will be governed by different prices.

The Duluth lake and rail men who left for St. Paul last night, were: D. M. Philbin of the Great Northern; K. M. Nicoles and H. W. Smith of the Northern Pacific; J. H. McFadzen of the Chicago & Duluth Transportation company; F. W. Winship of the Mutual Transit company; M. S. Mead of the Anchor line; G. L. Douglas of the Western Transit company, and Harry Hurdon of the Port Huron & Duluth and Northern Navigation lines.

Wireless for America.

The United Wireless company is installing a wireless apparatus on the Steamer America of the Booth line.

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

Pugilist Is Arrested on Charge of Attacking Two Women.

Saloon Keeper Claimed to Have Sold Liquor to Young Girls.

Albert "Kid" Clark, an amateur Superior pugilist, was arrested last night, charged with assaulting Mrs. C. H. Jacobson of 115 East Superior street and Miss Belle Williams of 16 West First street, on a Superior street car.

It is claimed that Clark insulted Mrs. Jacobson, and that when she was refused assistanee from the conductor, she satisfied her outraged feelings by giving Clark a blow in the face that staggered him for an instant. Thereupon, it is said, that he attacked both the women, inflicting severe bruises.

Clark was pulled off by some men passengers, who threw him from the car, but he climbed on the back. When Miss Williams alighted at Fifth avenue west, it is alleged that Clark knocked her down and kicked her. The crowd interfered and onlookers say that Clark was beaten severely by those who came to the woman's defense.

Dr. Abbott examined Miss Williams' injuries and found that, although she was badly bruised, no bones were broken.

Emil Olson and John Froyset were arrested with Clark and charged with disorderly conduct. They entered pleas of not guilty and their trials were set for this afternoon. Clark was not brought into court, as the authorities have not yet determined whether he will be arraigned for second degree assault, which, may mean a sentence to the penitentiary if convicted, or for simple assault, the maximum punishment of which is three months in the county jail.

Warlford Erickson, a saloon keeper at 1625 West Superior street, entered a plea of not guilty, in police court yesterday afternoon, charged with selling liquor to Rengheld Prigtz, 15 years old, and Austria Prigtz, 12 years old. He doesn't deny that he gave them the liquor, but claims that he had been told to do so by their parents, who sent them to the saloon. It is claimed that this does not excuse Erickson, under the law.

Charles Gilberg was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by the truant officer, charging him with not sending his son to school. The warrant also calls for the arrest of the boy's mother, but she was too sick to be brought to court. The allegation is that the mother doesn't want the boy to go to school and keeps him out despite the protests of the father. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried later.

HEAVY GALE BLOWING ON LAKE ONTARIO.

Rochester, N. Y., April 7.—A forty to fifty mile gale is blowing on Lake Ontario. Considerable damage has been done to docks along the lake front. The tug Ralph, with a coal-laden barge in tow, was blown back into the harbor.

BIGGER SALARIES BEFORE MORE MELONS.

New York, April 7.—Improvements and increased wages for employes rather than melons for stockholders is to be the official attitude of the Western Union Telegraph company. This resolution was adopted at a meeting of the executive committee yesterday in New York.

"This committee recommends to the board of directors that no increase in the present rate of dividends be made until the plant of the company, wherever it may be found necessary, is placed in the highest possible condition, the working conditions of the employes improved, and their salaries re-arranged, recognizing in this readjustment, merit, proficiency and length of service, modified by location."

One Conductor Who Was Cured.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it.—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Leington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of Rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. For sale by all druggists.

WILL LOOK INTO PORT AND SHERRY

Wiley and His Experts Find Question to Follow the Whisky Problem.

Washington, April 7.—Having disposed of the question, "What is whisky?" Dr. Wiley and his pure food experts are now going to determine what is California port and what is California sherry.

On April 21 a large delegation, representing the California Wine Growers' association, will appear before the board of food and drug inspection for examination. Real port, says Dr. Wiley, is made in Portugal and real sherry is made in certain restricted districts of Spain. Proper labeling for the California products will be determined by the hearing.

SUPERIOR

BOY ARRESTED TWICE ON BURGLARY CHARGE.

Joseph Runions, 17 years old, was arrested yesterday on a charge of burglary, it being alleged that the offense was committed Sept. 15, 1909. Runions was arrested once before in connection with the same affair, but was dismissed because of insufficient evidence. He is charged with having entered the house of Charles Nelson near Bennett and to have taken several varieties of firearms.

Underground System.

The wires of the fire alarm system of Superior will be installed underground. The council, at its meeting last evening, authorized this improvement. It will cost about $6,000. The plat of "Carnegie," a new townsite laid out on the west half of the northwest quarter of section 7, township 48, range 14, was approved.

Switchman Pays Fine.

In continuing their crusade against the blocking of street crossings by railroad trains, the Superior police yesterday arrested E. M. Shelline, foreman of a terminal switching crew, who, when arraigned in municipal court, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5 and costs. He was charged with having blocked the Hammond avenue crossing.

LUTHERAN PASTOR CLEARED ON TRIAL.

Mansfield, Ohio, April 7.—Rev. Simon P. Long, pastor of the First Lutheran church here and president of the Wittenberg synod, was found not guilty today by the committee of fellow pastors and lay delegates of the Eastern conference trying him on the charge of misconduct. A large crowd of the Rev. Dr. Long's parishioners who had been waiting all night outside the church in the cold, received the verdict with a cheer. The trial was held in camera.

BOY ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF GIRL.

Deland, Fla., April 7.—Irvin Hanchett, the 18-year-old boy charged with the murder of Clevie Tedder aged 14, on Feb. 12, was placed on trial here today. The child's body was found near the roadside not far from her home with over sixty knife wounds made by an ordinary pocket knife.

What One Man Said

About Values at

COEUR D'ALENE "The Lake City"

"Just what I've been looking for." Did he buy?

Certainly! Not ONE lot, but a HALF BLOCK!

Why did he buy? Because he realizes that property in a growing city with a great future is accepted the world over as the best and safest investment that can possibly be made. We have RESERVED ONE WHOLE BLOCK FOR HIS FRIENDS. They will come up tomorrow and choose their lots.

Forty-Seven Lots Were Sold By Noon Today!

DON'T wait two or three years until prices have advanced so high as to be out of your reach, as they surely will. Just stop and consider the value of property in Duluth, St. Paul or Minneapolis as compared with a few years ago.

How many times have you and your friends said: "I could have purchased that very same lot for $100—now it is worth $1000." Opportunity is again calling you!

LETTER TO HIS FRIENDS

TO MY FRIENDS:—

I have investigated Coeur d'Alene to my satisfaction and know that it is a great city with a greater future and that the property which the Coeur d'Alene Development Company is selling is one of the best investments to be found. I have purchased eight lots and would not take twice what I paid for them if I could not buy more. I want to see all my friends buy, because they will certainly realize a big profit in a short time. It is true that the railroads are building to Coeur d'Alene and it is looked upon as the coming commercial, manufacturing and railroad center of the Inland Empire. If you have never been West you have no idea how rapidly real estate values increase and the cities grow. For the benefit of those who would like to see and talk with me I can be found at home from 12 o'clock noon to 1:30 p. m. and every evening.

SAYS NEGROES DID THE SHOOTING

Court of Inquiry Makes Report on Brownsville Affair.

Washington, April 7.—The military court of inquiry which during the last year has been investigating the shooting up of Brownsville, Tex., finds that the evidence clearly sustains the charge that the shooting was done by soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry, colored.

The court is also of the opinion that if the officers of the regiment had performed their respective duties immediately prior to the shooting, the affray could not have occurred; and that if they had performed their duties immediately after the shooting, some of the guilty men would have been discovered. Fourteen men belonging to the Twenty-fifth infantry are declared to be eligible for re-enlistment.

along the lines already pursued, which is to be taken to mean that more men higher up are yet to be named.

Late yesterday saw the presentment by the grand jury of a long report in which is recommended the indictment of Hoffstot, president of the Pressed Steel Car company, and one of the most prominent business men in the country.

Winter Pleaded "No Defense."

Simultaneously in open court came a plea of Emil Winter, president of the Workingmen's Savings & Trust company, that he had no defense to make to the charge that he gave a $20,000 bribe to Councilman Morris Finstein.

The following in abbreviated form are some of the most startling findings in the grand jury's presentment:

1. That Frank N. Hoffstot, president of the Pressed Steel Car company, and president of the German National Bank of Allegheny, prominently identified with other banks, paid to Charles Stewart, a former select councilman, the sum of $52,500.

2. That the money was a bribe used in influencing the votes of councilmen to pass an ordinance naming three banks in which Hoffstot was interested as official depositories of the city's millions.

Blakely for Stakeholder.

3. That the arrangement for the payment of the money to Stewart was made in the spring of 1908, and that the late James W. Friend, at that time an official of the Pressed Steel Car company, was an associate in the transaction.

4. That the original plan which Friend had was to obtain the services of William A. Blakeley, who was then a practicing attorney here, but who is now the district attorney in charge of the graft prosecutions, as a stake-holder of the bribe money until the ordinance had passed.

5. That Attorney Blakeley declined to act in the capacity named, and warned all parties of the criminality of the proposition and of the liability to prosecution if it went further.

6. That subsequent to Mr. Blakeley's refusal, Messrs. Friend and Hoffstot completed an arrangement with Stewart whereby Hoffstot would pay or refuse to be paid the sum named—$52,500.

7. That the transaction was arranged to be made in New York city, and took place there in June, 1908, in order, if possible, to avoid criminal liability in Allegheny county.

Solicited $21,000 From Cashier.

8. That Hoffstot did also solicit from one James N. Young, cashier of the Second National Bank of Pittsburg, the sum of $21,000 to be paid Stewart to insure the selection of the Second National as one of the favored city depositories.

9. That Stewart did demand from the now deceased Friend, who was acting as agent for the Second National bank, a bribe for Stewart's vote in favor of the bank ordinances.

10. That in accordance with the findings, it be recommended that indictments charging conspiracy and bribery be returned.

The banks named as ultimate principals to profit by the bribes alleged to have been paid by Hoffstot to Stewart are the Farmers' Deposit National bank, the Second National Bank of Pittsburg and the German National Bank of Allegheny. In addition to these three, the Columbia National Bank of Pittsburg, the German National Bank of Pittsburg and the Workingmen's Savings & Trust Company of Allegheny were named as city depositories in the ordinance which passed July 9, 1908, over the mayor's veto.

Made Double Sensation.

The plea of nolle contendere made by Winter was no less a sensation than the report of the grand jury. He was charged with the payment of a $20,000 bribe to Morris Finstein, a former select councilman. When Winter appeared in court, Judge R. S. Frazer, who is presiding in the graft cases, asked to be excused from hearing the plea, as he was a personal friend of Winter.

Just before President Winter's appearance in Judge Frazer's court, James Anderson, the general bookkeeper of the Workingmen's Saving & Trust Company of Allegheny, had also pleaded nolle contendere to a charge of falsifying the books of the bank in connection with the payment of $20,000 to Finstein. The please of Winter and Anderson came timely, for the district attorney said that otherwise they were to have been indicted today.

Anderson, who for twenty years has been a private secretary to President Winter, was charged with having cut from the bank's ledger several pages on which were "special accounts" of Winter and Mrs. Winter.

Started as a Barber.

Winter, now a bank president technically admitting bribery charges, is a man 60 years of age, who has worked himself up from a position in a local barber shop.

Mr. Hoffstot is about 48 years old and the foundation of the family's fortune was laid when the leather industry was one of the chief trades in Pittsburg. District Attorney Blakely was once his personal counsel. His present lawyer is D. W. Rogers. Hoffstot is perhaps best known as president and director of Pressed Steel Car company, Ltd. of the Chicago and Calumet River railway, and of the Western Steel Car Foundry company. He is also secretary-treasurer of the South Shore railroad.

of the West Duluth Commercial club committee.

The start for West Duluth was made in autos from the Commercial club rooms shortly after 9 o'clock, after the governor and Mr. Iverson had held an informal reception in the lobby of the clubrooms.

About a score of prominent Duluthians participated in the informal gathering at the Commercial club after the visitors and committee members had breakfasted.

Streets Decorated.

Reaching West Duluth, the governor and his entourage passed through the streets gaily bedecked for the occasion by the merchants of that vicinity. The arch of welcome at Central avenue and Ramsey street was a striking feature of the display of decorations, and the illuminations tonight are expected to be exceptionally pleasing in effect.

After a brief visit to the rooms of the West Duluth Commercial club, the governor and his companions of the procession returned to their cars, whose number had been considerably augmented during the stop at West Duluth, and proceeded on their trip to the steel plant.

At New Duluth, guides took charge of the governor's party. They were: President W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe && Northern road, and Chief Engineer K. C. Hoxie of the Minnesota Steel company. They took pains to give the visitors a clear understanding of the scope and extent of the plans that are to be carried out by the Steel corporation at New Duluth and held the absorbed attention of their hearers, Governor Eberhart evincing his interest by frequent and pertinent questions. Not only were the governor and his immediate party visibly impressed by the significance of the work that is now in progress at New Duluth, but Duluthians as well were struck anew by the vast importance to the city of the plant that is gradually coming into being there.

Inspect Blast Furnace.

Their inspection of the steel plant project completed, the visitors began their return trip, shortly before 1 o'clock. The Zenith Furnace company's plant at Central avenue and Raleigh street was the only stopping place on the way to the city. This great enterprise interested the visitors very much and its different lines of products came in for considerable comment.

Returning to Duluth proper, the parade broke up, and that feature of the day's entertainment was ended. No formal program is being adhered to during the remainder of the afternoon, Governor Eberhart being given freedom for rest and to receive personal callers.

The efforts made by merchants whose establishments front on Central avenue and on Raleigh street to make those thoroughfares attractive, were decidedly successful, but the attractiveness of the street decorations will be greatly enhanced tonight, when the special lighting arrangements are brought into play.

The Banquet Program.

Wade's hall is elaborately decorated for the banquet tonight and special illumination has been provided for the occasion. P. H. Martin will be the toastmaster and the invocation will be given by Rev. W. G. Boyle, pastor of Asbury Methodist Episcopal church. President Barnes will follow with the address of welcome. Mayor M. B. Cullum will be the next speaker, his subject being "The City of Duluth," and Mayor F. R. Crumpton of Superior will talk of "The City of Superior." Municipal problems will be discussed by City Comptroller W. S. McCormick, and then the speaker of the evening, Governor A. O. Eberhart, will be heard.

Set down on the program as "The State of Minnesota," Governor Eberhart's subject is wide enough and inclusive enough to permit of almost any treatment by the speaker. However, the occasion is a civic and non-partisan one, and the governor probably will restrict his remarks to topics that are clearly outside the political classification. Conservation for all the state in general, and Northern Minnesota in particular, are expected to form the central thought of his address, and the governor's well-known interest in this branch of public undertakings gives warrant that the talk will be thoroughly informing and entertaining.

"Good Roads" is the topic assigned State Auditor S. G. Iverson. "Agricultural Possibilities of St. Louis County" will be presented in a talk by C. P. Craig, while P. E. Dowling will discuss "Possibilities of Northern Minnesota."

Flaaten's orchestra will furnish the instrumental music for the banquet, and vocal solos will be given by L. M. Flack, L. Dworschak and Miss Gladys Stoller.

These members of the West Duluth Commercial club are chairman of the indicated sub-committees in charge of the banquet: Program and speakers, L. A. Barnes; dinner, David Sang; tickets, Thomas Olafson; hall and decorations, A. H. Merriman.

Thaw's Millions Imaginary.

New York, April 7.—The millions popularly credited to Harry K. Thaw at the time he killed Stanford White did not exist. In reality he had only $400,000, so his mother, Mrs. Mary Copely Thaw, testified yesterday in the suit brought against her by Clifford W. Partridge to collect $92,000 for services in Thaw's first trial.

Leases New Crosby Hotel.

Brainerd, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Spalding of this city has secured from the Fitger Brewing company of Duluth the lease on the handsome three-story brick hotel erected by them at Crosby, and which will be ready for occupancy in a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Spalding left this afternoon for Minneapolis to purhase the fixtures for the new hotel.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Duluth entertained the Japanese commercial commission last September, and representative Duluth men and women were hosts to the distinguished visitors during their visit in the city. Since that time the commission has returned to Japan, and naturally the papers there have interviewed the members on their opinion of things American. Many Duluthians were heard to remark about the queerness of manners and customs of the Japanese visitors. That such opinions were not entirely one-sided is shown from an extract from a Tokio paper. It will be interesting locally to see the opinions of these visitors on things American, expressed not as flattering visitors, but after their return to their own land.

A Tokio paper prints the following as the vital impressions of members of the commercial commission during their American tour:

"Pretention to respect paid to ladies.

"The fact that Americans wear their hearts upon their sleeves.

"Extreme respect for women.

"Presumptuous attitude of women over men, and the mingling of boys among the girls in school.

"Too much respect for women.

"Unreasonable egotism on the part of women.

"Extreme mammonism.

"Too much pride on the part of women.

"Corruption of political parties and politics.

"Supply of unfiltered water in the lakes in the neighborhood of Chicago for drinking.

"To salute any kind of women.

"Unnatural gestures and phraseology of women in talking."

YOUNG ACTRESS HERE

Miss Eva "Thurston" Is Guest of Parents.

Miss Eva Sawyer, who is known professionally as Miss Eva Thurston is in the city the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sawyer of West Duluth for a few days. Miss Sawyer is a sister of Adelaide Thurston and she has played with her sister during the season in "A Woman's Power," in which Miss Adelaide Thurston has been starred. Miss Eva is now a member of the Lyric Stock company of Minneapolis and has been playing with that organization since the close of her sister's regular season. Miss Thurston is at her home in New Jersey for the summer.

During her visit at the Head of the Lakes Miss Eva is being much entertained by Duluth and Superior friends.

MISS E. JEAN BATTY.

Miss Batty Coming.

The members of the Young Women's Christian association are looking forward with much interest to the visit here of Miss Emma Jean Batty, who was for nearly three years general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Buenos Ayres. Miss Batty will be the guest of the Duluth association Saturday and Sunday of this week.

Missionary Society.

The Missionary Society of the First Christian church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Wanless of 331 Thirteenth avenue east.

CHURCH WEDDING.

Miss Culver Becomes Bride of Hans Simon.

White tulips and smilax were the altar decorations at St. Paul's church for the service this morning, when Miss Ray Culver, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Culver, became the bride of Hans Simon. On either side of the chancel palms were banked. The wedding service was read at 12 o'clock by the Rev. A. W. Ryan and there were no attendants. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Charles Culver of Chicago.

The bride wore a reception gown of blue cloth with a large picture hat of blue. She carried a white prayer book.

No formal invitations had been issued for the wedding and only the immediate friends were present at the ceremony. A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mrs. Culver in the Belvidere apartments. Mr. Simon and his bride left on the afternoon train for New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culver of Chicago and Culver and Salisbury Adams of Deerwood were the out-of-town guests at the wedding.

NAME MISS EARHART.

TRUE COURTESY

In the Simple Matter of Calling Cards.

Close observance of etiquette will frequently prevent errors or the hurting of elderly women's feelings if persons who are younger ask to see them when calling upon a younger member of the family, says the New York Telegram.

It is not necessary that the older woman shall always be asked for. In the case of a mother and daughter or mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, for instance, younger folk who wish to visit the daughter are not obliged to ask for the mother. But it is considered courteous to do so occasionally, and it is imperative that a visiting card should always be left for the older woman. An omission of this is equivalent to a direct cut.

When presenting cards to the maid who opens the door for the caller, two pieces of pasteboard may be given and the younger woman only asked for.

But as a maid is apt to be confused and think that both ladies are wanted when she sees two cards, it is safer to leave the card for the older person on the hall table, or in the drawing room. That is, the caller sends only a card for her young friend, asking for her alone. While the maid is delivering this bit of pasteboard, the card for the elder is placed where it will be seen.

It is considered tactful to ask for the older woman on the occasion of the first visit, but even then it is not necessary. But after a wedding, funeral or other event important to the family, it is polite to make felicitations or condolences in person.

Latitude is given the older woman in that she is not obliged to see the younger one, even when she is asked for. Her refusal is not to be thought as based upon personal reason, other than that she is fatigued, or not receiving. While a woman the same age may not excuse herself without exciting criticism, an older one may do so easily.

As a card is always to be returned in kind, the older woman's card is either to be taken by her young relative, when the latter goes visiting, or it may be sent directly through the mail. It is not required that the older shall make any calls in person, though there is no doubt that by so doing she keeps more in touch with young folk, and is likely to be of more interest to them. The matter, however, is optional with her.

TELL TALE SLEEVES.

They Mark the Date of Your Gown.

Look to your sleeve if you would put the latest stamp of style on your frock.

You may choose panniers, or a tunic, or a polonaise for draperies. They are all new. But they will not of themselves complete a successful frock. It is the sleeves, and the sleeves alone, which determine whether a dress shall be perfectly stunning or just ordinary this spring.

Sleeves are demure, or coquettish, or severe; you do not select them according to your character, but according to the occasion upon which you wish to wear them.

Dancing frocks show draperies which can hardly be called sleeves; a twist of chiffon or tulle and a spray of flowers is conceded to be sleeve enough; transparent frills, caught up with clusters of rosebuds, make other apologies for real sleeves.

The true Dolly Varden puff is still popular, and it does very well for debutantes, but not for chaperons.

Something transparent—chantilly, net or chiffon——goes somewhere to the fashioning of all sleeves but tailor mades.

At the movement it is the half sleeve or undersleeve which features waists both fancy and plain. And the undersleeves may be in the full bishop style or extra long and fitted like a lace mitt or accordion plaited—the last is the latest.

A unique effect for a frock of silk or wool is produced by sleeves of all-over lace, the arms being banded with velvet.

When materials are heavy the kimona sleeves, cut in one with the bodice, is distinctive, although it only becomes figures which are slender. If cut as part of a shaped shoulder yoke, with a fitted lower section, it can be adapted to figures of other dimensions.

Coat sleeves are quite plain and flat at the armhole, like those in men's coats, but sleeves and shoulders of women's garments are not padded.

For organdies and batistes there is the close watteau sleeve, ending just below the elbow in a deep flounce, surmounted by a bow of black velvet.

The length of sleeves is much discussed, but it has not yet been determined by those who decide what fashions shall prevail. Meanwhile almost any length is meeting with approval.

Trimming about the hand appears frequently on all the newest sleeves. For instance, those of net have a small flaring ruffle that comes down over the hand, and is headed by a narrow band of black velvet ribbon, tying at the top in a bow about two inches long.

On another a black velvet band is twisted.

SACHET PADS.

New Way to Fashion Them for Bureau Drawers.

The use of blotting paper in the construction of drawer sachets is something a bit novel, and really commendable. The paper absorbs and retains the sachet odor to a remarkable degree, and for this purpose alone is well worth using. Then it insures a smooth, neatly fitted sachet, always in place and very easily made, says the Woman's Home Companion for April.

For a dresser drawer, procure the large sheets of blotting paper, eighteen by twenty-four inches in size, which can be found in many colors at any stationer's.

By careful measurements, cut the blotting paper to fit the bottom of the drawer. Should piecing be necessary, it may be done by pasting a strip of thin paper over the closely joined blotting paper edges.

Cut a single thickness of sheet wadding the exact size and shape of the blotting paper. Tear wadding apart carefully and sprinkle in the sachet powder.

The outer covering, which may be of any dainty material—China silk, Japanese print or silkolene—should be cut an inchor two larger all around than the blotting paper and wadding.

Turn the edges of this cover in around the wadding and baste loosely. This pad of wadding and silk is now laid upon the blotting paper foundation and stitched through and through on the sewing machine, with a long stitch and a somewhat loose tension, about three-eighths of an inch from the edge.

A set of sachets for dresser and chiffonier drawers made with matching blue blotting paper and silk or silkolene, either plain or figured, is a charming acquisition to a blue room.

Trunk sachets would be a most appropriate gift to a traveler, and a single sachet that fitted a hat or shirt-waist box, could scarcely fail of a welcome anywhere.

ACTRESS EARNS MONEY BY MAKING JEWELRY

IDA CONQUEST.

A distinctly new feminine fad is the making of hand-made jewelry. Ida Conquest, the actress, is one of quite a large number of women to take up this new line of amusement and Miss Conquest is making money out of it. In fact she is doing so well at it that she thinks of giving up the stage and devoting all her time to making jewelry. Already she has more orders than she can possibly attend to before she must return to her work in a new play to be put on by the Shuberts. Miss Conquest says that any woman with an artistic leaning can make money out of the new fad.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 10. Matt. ix, 35-10:15, 40-42: Mission of the Twelve.

THE CONNECTION.

The events of this lesson follow after those of the last lesson. It was soon after the Sermon on the Mount. The enthusiasm of the people was unbounded. The demands on His time were tremendous. The work to be done was increasing. He turns His followers into helpers.

THE LESSON.

I.

Why He Sent Them Out. 35-38.

We omit the verses of this section. We easily see four reasons why He made use of the twelve apostles. First, vast work to be done in "all the cities and all the villages" and there were "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness;" every place needed Him." Second, He had invested too much in those people not to invest more. Third, the disciples needed the training and the practical use of the training they already had, for some day they would have to do all this without Him. Fourth, the horrible moral condition of the people—mistreated by their natural leaders; perplexed and burdened by ritual observances, like neglected sheep; oppressed by their Roman masters; hungering for truth and sympathy and true leadership. Jesus saw it all and felt it and suffered it with them. Therefore, He multiplied Himself by the twelve. He spoke of the people as sheep without a shepherd and as a ripe harvest going to waste.

II.

The Task of the Twelve. 1-8.

"And He called unto Him His twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother; James, the son of Zebedee, and John, his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James, the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus; Simon, the Canaanean, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying: Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of the Samaritans; but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons; freely ye received, freely give."

1. WHO?—His most intimate friends, the apostles. The word apostle means the same as missionary, one from a Greek word, the other from a Latin word, meaning "one sent." They had His spirit, as no others had; they were probably praying as He told them to do, for more laborers and they were sent in answer to their own prayer. A study of their names, their groupings, their significance, especially in the light of their future history, is very interesting.

2. AUTHORITY.—They were to do just what He had been doing; they instrumentally, He originally and meritoriously. They were able to preach already, by uttering the simple truths they had received from Him and reaffirming the statements of John the Baptist, that they must repent, because the kingdom of heaven was at hand. But to heal was beyond them, except by special authority of their Master, and that authority He gives them.

3. THEIR FIELD—They were not to go distinctly to the Gentiles, for the same reason that He had not. His mission was ultimately to them, but not immediately, and it could ultimately reach them only through devoting His ministry to the Jews alone. They were not even to go into Samaritan territory as He Himself had sometimes done. The reasons are very apparent. He knew how to handle such cases, for He always brought them to the true Jewish point of view of faith, so as to constructively bring them into the Jewish field. But they could not do that and besides they might become contentious and vindictive.

III.

Their Method of Work. 9-15.

"Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses; no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff; for the laborer is worthy of his food. And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy, and there abide till ye go forth. And as ye enter into the house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust of your feet. Verily I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city."

1. PAIRS—They went in groups of twos, so that one could supplement and stimulate and support another. The twelve in one party might confuse and irritate and would not multiply Jesus so largely. The selection of the groups was wisely done with a view to the highest efficiency.

1. MONEY—They were equipped with all they needed, for the double reason that their journey was to be a short one and the laws of hospitality guaranteed them entertainment on the principle, widely recognized at that time, that those who performed a worthy service were entitled to a home. So, any extra money would be unnecessary and even might be a detriment. Here is the law of adequate preparation for any enterprise. Jesus did not send them out without knowing that they were provided for, nor have we the right to send out our workers without knowing that their support is provided. It may be that material support is a secondary matter, but it is not a matter of indifference to us, any more than it was to Jesus. If they needed no extra money nor an extra change of clothes for their short tour, they did not need a purse for the former or a wallet for the latter.

3. GUESTS—It was not difficult to find entertainment, for hotels were few and almost every house had a guest chamber, to which any well-behaved stranger was welcome. As guests, they were to stay at one home while in a given place, for they would appear inconsiderate if they ran about, and they were on business and not visiting. Besides, staying in one place they would be able to work without interruption. As guests they must not be wanting in religious courtesy, but must, in accordance with custom, give a salutation of peace in each house. The blessing uttered upon an unworthy house will not be lost, for it will react upon the one who speaks it.

But the churl who repels the salutation violates his own social laws, and reduces himself to the level of the heathen. He must therefore be treated as a heathen, and as the dust on which the heathen walk is regarded as polluted and polluting, they must shake off that dust, so as not to be polluted and, at the same time, rebuke them, not in anger but in righteousness. Their sin is greater than that of the polluted cities of the plain, because they sin against greater light.

4. PRIVATE—Their work is to be private, not in public speeches in the market or other public places, for they are not yet ready for the taxing demands of public speech.

What the Masters Say.

"It was natural that Jesus should signalize the first missionary enterprise of the twelve chosen men by some discourse as Matthew records, setting forth the duties, perils, encouragement and rewards of the apostolic vocation. It was His way on solemn occasions, to speak as a prophet who, in the present, saw the future, and from small beginnings looked forward to great ultimate issues. And this Galilean mission, though humble and limited, compared with the great undertaking of after years, was really a solemn event. It was the beginning of that vast work for which the twelve had been chosen, which embraced the world in its scope and aimed at setting upon earth the kingdom of God."—Bruce.

"An Oriental stranger, coming into an Eastern village, can take his pick of the community for a host. He is not driven to the necessity of stopping in the only home that will receive him. All Orientals who are godly count a guest a representative of God, and are glad of the privilege of entertaining him. Hence householders vie with each other in being first to claim a stranger as a guest."—Trumbull.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Is it possible for every disciple to regard himself as a force to multiply the work of Jesus?

2. Why is it necessary to count the cost and provide for it, in every enterprise?

3. What is the peculiar advantage of doing kindly deeds for the unappreciative?

4. Which is the greater obstruction to the gospel, the sins of the world or the inactivity of the disciples?

5. Why are we to get the most definite instruction from Jesus before taking up any work?

OPENING CUT OVER LANDS IS DELAYED

Indians Cannot Get Individual Allotments of Pine Lands.

Washington, April 7.—A further delay has occurred in the opening of cut over lands in the Cass Lake district.

The general land office, in conformity to the amended Morris act, made arrangements to open the tract taken from the forest reserve two years ago and the date for opening was fixed for March 13 this year. To this proposition Commissioner Valentine of the Indian office demurred, on the ground that it would be impossible to adjust Indian allotments and to transfer some allottees who had taken lands in the original forest reserve. He therefore asked that the date for opening be set ahead for one year, and to this the land office agreed.

Recently Senator Clapp and Congressmen Miller and Lindbergh went to the Indian office and filed a protest against a year's postponement. After a long conference, to which Chief Forester Graves was called in, it was agreed to open the cut over lands during this April and to let the Indians take their allotments on lands which have not been cut over.

When the Indian bureau sent this proposition over to the land office there was an immediate objection made which, in fact, amounts to a refusal. The land office holds that the Indians cannot be individually allotted pine lands, inasmuch as under the original Nelson act and all laws amendatory thereto the pine lands are to be held for the benefit of the whole tribe of Indians and the timber is to be sold and money placed to the credit of the tribal fund.

QUINCY A. SHAW SUCCEEDS AGASSIZ

Is Made President of the Calumet and Hecla Mining Company.

Boston, Mass., April 7.—Younger heads took up the management of the Calumet copper properties which Prof. Alexander Agassiz dropped at his death last week.

Quincy A. Shaw, the largest individual owner of stock in the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, was chosen president in place of Mr. Agassiz. R. L. Agassiz, the late scientist's second son, was made a director and vice president of the same company, while Thomas N. Perkins was elected a director in the two subsidiary companies, Tamarack and the Isle Royale.

Mr. Shaw has been closely identified with the Calumet since the death of his father, who assisted Prof. Agassiz in the development of the Northern Michigan mines. He is a former national court tennis and racquet champion and an expert lawn tennis and golf player.

R. L. Agassiz studied mining under his father.

Mr. Perkins is a lawyer and a fellow of Harvard university. He is a nephew of the late Charles F. Perkins of the Burlington railroad. He was captain of the Harvard 'varsity crew of 1901. None of the new appointees is over 42 years old.

STRICTER BORDER RULES.

Americans Bringing Goods From Canada Must Pay Duty.

Washington, April 7.—Stringent regulations have been made by the treasury department designed to break up the practice of Americans crossing the Mexican and Canadian borders and bringing free of duty into the United States dutiable goods under the guise of wearing apparel. It is declared that articles purchased in contiguous foreign territory by persons living near the boundary line or others making short or frequent trips into such territory, cannot be considered as "necessary and appropriate for the purpose of the owner's use" and are not included within the $100 exemption from duty allowed for wearing apparel of persons coming from abroad, unless through the exigency of weather conditions or other unforeseen occurrences, their purchases were rendered necessary.

A form of declaration and entry has been adopted for use at frontier ports and its execution will be required by all residents of the United States returning from contiguous foreign territory and having in their possession articles of $10 in value, acquired abroad.

SAPOLIO

POISONOUS COLORING FOUND IN MACCARONI.

Chicago, April 7.—Five carloads of macaroni, said to have been shipped to Chicago by manufacturers in St. Louis, were seized by government officials here yesterday. Samples of the macaroni were taken by the government food and drug inspectors and analyzed and were shown to have unwholesome yellow, a poisonous coloring matter, in their composition.

Last February the authorities charged the St. Louis concerns with misbranding their product.

SENSATIONAL STORY HAD NO FOUNDATION.

A wild and sensational story went the rounds of the city yesterday, concerning two girls employed at the Five and Ten Cent store, who were said to have contracted leprosy from handling false hair.

Men didn't know whether to believe it or not, but the women made a rush to get rid of their superfluous head dressing at the first opportunity. The "rats" and other articles of that nature were pushed into the discard in a hurry. Investigation by the health department showed that the report was absolutely groundless and that it probably started from a similar story told about the Marshall Field company in Chicago. The manager of the store stated that he didn't have any idea how it got to going unless it was in that manner and that he was anxious to find out who was responsible for it.

Porter Estate $2,000,000.

Chicago, April 7.—Henry H. Porter, well known in the steel business of the country and also for his part in the formulation of several western railroads, who died March 31, left a $2,000,000 estate to relatives, according to an inventory filed in the probate court today.

WORD "PRESIDENT" NOT ON CLEVELAND'S GRAVE.

Princeton, N. J., April 7.—With no mention in the inscription of the fact that he was at one time president of the United States, but reading merely "Grover Cleveland, born Caldwell, N. J., March 18, 1837; died Princeton, N. J., June 24, 1908," a monument to the memory of ex-President Grover Cleveland was completed yesterday on his grave in the Princeton cemetery. Beside it was placed a marble slab to mark the grave of Ruth Cleveland, his daughter.

Both stones were erected at the direction of Mrs. Cleveland.

THE PARTY OF BROKEN PLEDGES.

The hope of President Taft and his advisers that they can stem the tide of party revolt and rehabilitate the Republican party by harking back to old battle cries that fall now on deaf ears clearly is doomed to disappointment.

There is one way, and only one, by which the Republican party can redeem its bedraggled honor and save its fortunes.

That way is to make haste at this present session of congress to revise the tariff, and to revise it honestly.

It cannot force the infamous Aldrich-Payne-Taft bill down the throats of the party rank and file. It cannot hope to bluster its way out of its present dangerous situation by persistent repetition of President Taft's amusing statement that it is the best tariff bill ever passed. Constant reiteration is an effective thing sometimes, but it cannot work in this case. As well might the party managers persistently reiterate a claim that black is white.

The Republican party, by virtue of its recent tariff revision hocus-pocus, stands before the people as a betrayer of public confidence, as a mocker of its own promises, and as a trickster and a rogue.

It sought a renewal of its power on a promise of tariff revision so equivocal that it now seeks to evade it by saying that it did not promise "downward" revision, though that is what the people demanded, that is what the people needed, and that is what its campaign speakers promised from every stump, from President Taft down—and up.

Getting its coveted renewal of power upon that shifty promise, it revised the tariff to make it still more favorable to Special Privilege, to tax the people's needs more exorbitantly than before for the profit of a rich and powerful few.

Such a betrayal of a people, done for the profit of greed already bloated and corrupted by its fat rake-off from the people's necessities, forfeits all right of the Republican party to be deemed respectable and worthy of trust.

Nothing can save it but a complete and abject apology, and a showing by works meet for repentance that it seeks to deserve further confidence.

Nothing can redeem it but a prompt repudiation of the leadership that has brought the party in shameful chains to the service of corporate and corrupt greed.

Nothing can give it hope of further trust but a prompt redemption of its broken promises.

A revision of the tariff at the present session of congress, made in the interests of all of the people and without help from the meddlesome fingers of the Aldriches and the Cannons, might give the Republican party some hope of carrying this year's congressional elections and the presidential election of 1912. Such a course might clean the spots from its sullied honor and restore it in some measure to the confidence of the people.

Nothing else can. President Taft and his advisers may juggle figures about the new tariff law as they please; they may sound the call of "party solidarity" until they are black in the face; they may crack the party whip over the backs of party members until it splits to shreds: but they cannot in that way restore the party and the party organization to the confidence of a betrayed people.

Not even Theodore Roosevelt, if he chose to prostitute his powers to that unworthy service, could rehabilitate the party of broken pledges unless those pledges are fulfilled.

SUNDAY WORK.

The other evening The Herald's local columns contained a report that the Omaha railroad is pushing its policy of having as little Sunday work as possible for its employes to do. Since trains must run whether it is Sunday or Thursday, of course it is impossible to abolish all Sunday work on the railroads; but it is possible to reduce it to a minimum, and this the Omaha is trying to do.

Also, The Herald published the other day a dispatch telling how the United States Steel corporation is also arranging to reduce its Sunday work to the smallest possible amount. It is impracticable, it is said, to shut down the furnaces on Sunday because it is a matter of considerable time and effort to get them going again. But the Steel corporation finds that it can reduce its Sunday work, and it is going to do it.

Both the Omaha railroad and the Steel corporation, in these moves to reduce Sunday work, are heeding the wishes of their employes. Also, they are performing an act that is good for society. That, too, altogether aside from the views of strict sabbatarians.

The human machine does very much better work and lasts much longer if it gets one day's rest out of the seven. All work and all play are equally bad. A man can work seven days out of each week, and keep it up a long time. But he won't work as long that way as he will if he rests every seventh day nor will he do as good work.

From the physical viewpoint, of course, it doesn't make so much difference what day of the seven is given up to rest, but there is a social factor that cannot be ignored. Experience has shown that most men get more out of their rest if it is coupled with decent recreation, taken in the company of their fellows. As Sunday is the day when most workers get their rest, obviously there is more chance then for the social factor to work than on other days of the week when most men are working.

Therefore physical and social good join with the good sought by sabbatarians in declaring Sunday to be the best day of the seven for the rest day.

Society has grown too complex to make it possible to give universal application to this rule. Railroads and street cars must run on Sundays as well as the rest of the week. Hotels and restaurants must continue to serve food on Sundays. Policemen can't lay off Sundays; in fact some folks so abuse their leisure that in many cases that is the day of week when it is least possible for the policemen to rest.

But Sunday work can be reduced to a minimum, and it should be. Those who cannot be given their day's rest on Sunday should be given it on some other day; but in large industries it is easy to shift the rest time arrangements so that everybody can get an occasional Sunday for rest and recreation.

And recreation should accompany the rest; decent, wholesome recreation that is not inconsistent, either in practice or spirit, with going to church in the morning and in the evening too.

THE COUNTY AND THE CITY HALL SITE.

It was made clear at the meeting yesterday afternoon to consider plans for improving the courthouse grounds that the county board would like some tangible assurance from the city that it intends to buy the ground at the corner of Fourth avenue west and First street for a new city hall site.

That is a reasonable request, and it should be granted. Just what form that assurance will take is not quite clear, but there should be no difficulty in framing something that will satisfy the commissioners.

There is, of course, not the slightest doubt about the intention of the city in this matter. When the grouping plan was decided upon and the new courthouse was made its center it was the unanimous opinion of the citizens of Duluth that the city hall should be part of it, and that still is the unanimous opinion.

The city, however, is not quite ready to buy the ground. Recently it has had heavy expenditures to meet, due to growth and the necessity of making long-delayed improvements; and its treasury is not now in a position to stand the expense of buying the new site. It is asking the county to hold the site until it is able to buy it, and in the meantime it should be willing to give the county an assurance of the good faith of its intention to buy. Possibly this could be done by starting an annual levy for a sinking fund for the purchase of the property; possibly a resolution from the city council signifying the city's intent will be sufficient.

In the meantime, the county takes no risk whatever either in holding the property or in improving it. Whatever the improvement will cost, it will enhance the value of the property so that the county is certain of repayment. And with property in that location advancing in value as rapidly as it is, delay simply means that the city will have to pay more for the property, and that the county will get more for it.

Leaving the property in its present condition is, of course, unthinkable because it is unbusinesslike. It was suggested yesterday by one of the iron range commissioners that since the city intends to buy the property, it ought to improve it. It must have occurred to everybody who heard that suggestion that of course the city could not legally appropriate money to improve property that it does not own.

Let the county improve the future city hall site as well as its own grounds, and charge the expense up to the value of the property. Let it hold the property a few years longer, until the city is able to negotiate its purchase. The county will be amply repaid for both; for already the property has advanced in value in two years enough to pay carrying charges for two or three times that long.

Besides, Duluth will be greatly obliged and duly grateful.

A FEW LAGGARD COUNTIES.

The only way the splendid impulse given by the Bemidji organization of the Northern Minnesota Development association can be coined into accomplishment is to keep its spirit alive and to support it with the unanimous and united sentiment of all parts of Northern Minnesota.

The only way that can be done is through the organization of county development associations in each of the thirty counties interested, for it is through these local associations that the people must express themselves and give substance and vigor to the movement.

Most of the counties have promptly formed their associations, and The Herald has watched the reports of these county meetings with keenest interest, taking great satisfaction in the fact that in each of them the same determined and aggressive spirit that characterized the Bemidji meeting was strongly in evidence.

Yet there are five counties of the thirty that have not formed their associations, and all of these are in the Eighth district. This is due to no lack of sympathy on the part of the people of these counties with the movement to secure justice for Northern Minnesota. Of that we are well assured. The delay is due, doubtless, to the fact that nobody has taken the initiative and called meetings for the purpose of organization.

There are no county development association, as yet, in Aitkin, Isanti, Mille Lacs, Kanabec and Pine counties. To make it thoroughly successful, every county must be enlisted in this movement. It is to be hoped that somebody in each of these counties will take steps at once to form county development associations that will become active units in the movement to exact justice for Northern Minnesota.

AND STILL THEY COME.

A few days ago The Herald reported that sixteen farmers' clubs were affiliated with the Duluth Co-operative Market association. Last evening it reported that three more communities have joined in this movement. Alborn, in St. Louis county, Onamia, in Mille Lacs county, and Mora, in Kanabec county, are the new recruits.

Thus the movement started only a few months ago is gathering headway; and there is more such news to come.

In point of fact, this movement was so greatly needed, fit so nicely into a "long felt want", that it was bound to succeed. It isn't all done yet, by a good deal, but a start has been made that is a credit to those associated in the enterprise, and that is splendid encouragement to further vigorous work.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

DEFENDS EVERGLADES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Under the heading of "Many Wild Cat Schemes," I was surprised to find an article stating Duluthians should be careful in buying Florida land. While there is some good advice given, I do not believe the statement that all the good land is not for sale. Having been in Florida this past winter, I know there is any amount of good land to be had and at reasonable prices.

As to the Everglades being of no use without irrigation, I take exceptions to that statement, for the best fruit and vegetables I saw were growing on glade land, and no sign of irrigation. Even if irrigation was necessary, it would be an easy matter to get water from the canals. Have letters from farmers of glade land and they certainly give glowing accounts of what they have grown this winter and the prices they are getting for the same. By making inquiries it is very easy to find out the reliable dealers in land, and any one investing the right way will certainly reap a good harvest in the near future—either by raising good-paying crops or selling the land at a great advance in price. I do not like to see any one cheated, but when I read or hear such statements derogatory to Florida, I want to have a word to say and tell things as I know them to be. I have lived in Duluth twenty years and have nothing to complain of, but believe in telling the truth for truth's sake.

THAT BARBED WIRE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your correspondent's remarks on the barb-wire nuisance are timely. I had two children marked with the stuff while at play on the workingman's playground (the street). One tobogganed into a field fence, the other ran into a strand of barbed wire stretched across a road at Superior View addition. About a year ago I called the attention of the police to a strand of wire stretched between two trees in front of the public library, and it was removed, so your correspondent's experience was due to the inexcusable conduct of the person responsible for putting up wire again in a similar position after his attention was called to such action a year ago.

A plain wire put up with a rider over the top would be enough for all reasonable purposes, as it could be seen in the dark. Any way no barb wire fence should be erected within a distance of four feet from any public sidewalk, to provide against ripping the clothing of people using the sidewalk, for the public right-of-way is always prior to the private right of the individual, a general socialistic principle which is common law and good sense, as I see it.

DANCES IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

To the Editor of The Herald:

The discussion as to dances in the public schools following the visit to the school board last Friday, April 1, by Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church; Rev. John J. Daniels, pastor of the Swedish Mission church and Rev. Edward Erickson, pastor of the Norwegian Danish M. E. church, has caused considerable comment among the parents. It seems to me the dissension has been very much one-sided so far. The ministers who called at the school board meeting protesting against dancing in the schools, were there as representatives of their congregations, duly appointed as a committee to lay the wishes of their congregations before the board. For some time strong opinions have been heard against dancing in the schools at graduation time, as has been the case during the last two years in West end schools. The alumni societies also use the schoolhouses for dances. The contention is that children being trained to dance in the public schools, the next step is public dance halls, and then it is a short way to ruin.

The state builds schoolhouses supported by the taxpayers for educational purposes and it has not been the custom to open the schools either for religious, social or political gatherings. Recently there was an application to the school board from one of the school board from one of the suburbs in the city to use one of the schoolrooms in the schoolhouse one hour each Sunday afternoon for the purpose of having a Sunday school session. The matter was referred to the proper committee. The committee promptly denied the application.

HAS BUT ONE STREET.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In connection with the prospective importance of the steel plants traffic, it is worth while considering that Duluth has but one street, Grand avenue, leading to it, and Superior can have a dozen over the level ground.

I would suggest that as soon as the Canadian Northern right-of-way is perfected, the city of Duluth condemn sufficient land to open a street on each side of that right-of-way from Sixty-first avenue west to a point where a street can be (or is) run south to Commonwealth avenue, Ironton. This would double the accessibility.

This street would absorb a number of fractions made by the railroad and make others, the value of which would be increased by reason of being on a leading thoroughfare.

No Doubt With Ethical Intentions.

Life: The newspapers report that Col. John Jacob Astor has gradually acquired 4,000 acres of land in Duchess county, near Rhinebeck, and is restoring most of them to the state of nature. The process involves the demolition of dwellings, churches and other buildings once in use by the occupants of the land, and the emancipation of the land itself from tillage. Two villages, the papers say—one of thirty houses, the other of forty—have disappeared in the march of Col. Astor's improvements.

Col. Astor is not a wasteful man and has, no doubt, a deeper purpose in his innovations than thoughtless observers suspect. Persons who suppose that he is merely making for himself a park and shooting preserve conveniently near New York are invited to extend their hypothesis. Park and shooting place may be incidents of his intention, but we suspect his chief design is to afford an object lesson of the uses of money which helped in their day to raise hob in France and in our day have brought on the budget crisis in England. Without some such ethical purpose in the back of his mind the colonel, we are pretty sure, would not be making waste land of so many acres.

The Better Way.

Youth's Companion: Through the good offices of a powerful American residing in Paris, an ambitious young girl from our West obtained an audience with the late Constant Coquelin of the Comedie Francaise, who graciously consented to hear her recite.

After listening to a classic or two, the great French actor went up to the young aspirant for histrionic honors and placed his hand on her head, as in benediction.

"My dear child," said he, "marry soon. Good-by."

THE WEATHER

The temperature just touched the freezing point last night and the fine weather continues, a maximum of 56 deg. having been attained yesterday. Beautiful weather prevails today, but the prophet on the hill says showers may be expected.

There was snow a year ago today and the temperature dropped to 20 deg.

The sun rose this morning at 5:35 and it will set at 6:45, giving thirteen hours and ten minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A ridge of high pressure that covers the Mississippi valley and Western Lake region has caused cooler weather in most districts to the eastward of the Mississippi river and freezing temperature in Michigan. The Eastern low pressure is central off the New England coast. During the past twenty-four hours it caused precipitation in Atlantic states, the Ohio valley and Lake region. Other depressions are central over Manitoba and British Columbia, the one over the latter district resulting in scattered rains in the extreme Northwest, while the Manitoba disturbance has caused warmer weather in the region lying between the Mississippi river and Rocky mountains.

"Showers may be expected at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

THE COMET.

The comet! He is on his way,
And singing as he flies;
The whizzing planets shrink before
The spectre of the skies;
Ah! well may regal orbs burn blue,
And satellites turn pale,
Ten million cubic miles of head,
Ten million leagues of tail!

On, on by whistling spheres of light
He flashes and he flames;
He turns not to the left nor right,
He asks them not their names;
One spurn from his demoniac heel,—
Away, away they fly,
Where darkness might be bottled up
And sold for "Tyrian dye."

And what would happen to the land,
And how would look the sea,
If, in the bearded devil's path
Our earth should chance to be?
Full hot and high the sea would boil,
Full red the forests gleam;
Methought I saw and heard it all
In a dyspeptic dream!

I saw a tutor take his tube
The comet's course to spy;
I heard a scream—the scattered rays
Had stewed the tutor's eye;
I saw a fort—the soldiers all
Were armed with goggles green;
Pop cracked the guns! whiz flew the balls!
Bang went the magazine!

I saw a poet dip a scroll
Each moment in a tub,
I read upon the warping back,
"The Dream of Beelzebub"
He could not see his verses burn,
Although his brain was fried,
And ever and anon he bent
To wet them as they dried.

I saw the scalding pitch roll down
The crackling, sweating pines,
And streams of smoke, like water-spouts,
Burst through the rumbling mines;
I asked the firemen why they made
Such noise about the town;
The answered not, but all the while
The brakes went up and down.

I saw a roasting pullet sit
Upon a baking egg;
I saw a cripple scorch his hand
Extinguishing his leg;
I saw nine geese upon the wing
Towards the frozen pole,
And every mother's gosling fell
Crisped to a crackling coal.

I saw the ox that browsed the grass
Writhe in the blistering rays,
The herbage in his shrinking jaws
Was all a fiery blaze;
I saw huge fishes boiled to rags,
Bob through the bubbling brine;
And thoughts of supper crossed my soul;
I had been rash at mine.

Strange lights, strange sounds! O fearful dream!
Its memory haunts me still,
The steaming sea, the crimson glare,
That wreathed each wooded hill;
Stranger if through thy reeling brain
Such midnight visions sweep,
Spare, spare, O spare thine evening meal,
And sweet shall be thy sleep!

"Disciplining."

Puck: What changes a little time doth bring! A week or so ago it was announced as part of the White House program that the insurgents in congress were to be "disciplined," both at Washington and their respective home districts, if they didn't stop disturbing the regular Republican peace and fall in line. Now, with Cannon down and out in consequence of insurgent efforts, the situation in the house is very different. Things are still somewhat chaotic, and precendents don't count, but one wager we will make if there are any takers, and that is that the idea of disciplining any one will be thoughtfully reconsidered by the administration. The insurgents themselves are going some as disciplinarians.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

••• Nearly fifty members of the Journeymen Tailors' union in Duluth met yesterday and decided to demand an increase in wages. The demands are evidently aimed at McVean & Co., Mueller Bros. and J. C. Schaefer, the three leading tailoring firms. It is not likely the demands will be granted, and therefore the tailors will walk out.

•••Joseph Austrian of Chicago, one of the owners of the Lake Superior & Lake Michigan Transportation company, has been in Duluth, coming over from Ashland, where he closed some lumber contracts. He says that this season the company will run the four passenger boats, the Peerless, City of Duluth, City of Traverse and Jay Gould, on the regular line between Chicago and Duluth, and will discontinue the south shore line, having sold the steamer Fremont.

•••At a meeting at the episcopal residence last night, it was decided to open the Catholic association hall with a banquet Archbishop Ireland and Bishops Cotter and Shanley will be asked to be present. The following have been chosen to manage the affair: Mrs. J. D. Kenna, president; Miss Kinney, secretary; Miss Emily Mathews, treasurer; Hon. R. A. Costello, toastmaster; James Eliot and C. E. Judd, committee on printing; Mesdames R. A. Costello and N. J. Miller, on music and literary; Mrs. Irwin and Miss Anna Farrell, on flowers; P. S. Barry, James McCahill and Jacob Laux, on decorations.

•••J. R. Berringer, a miner of the Gogebic range, is on his way to the Western Mesaba with a force of miners to begin actice exploring work on four forties. Alexander Maitland and Capt. Sam Mitchell of Negaunee hold options on six forties in the same range and will begin work at once.

•••The annual mortality statement of Health Officer Sherwin for the year ended March 31 has been completed. The total deaths in Duluth from all causes were 327 as against 395 in the previous year. The death rate per annum per 1,000 inhabitants is 6.05, which puts Duluth in the lead as the healthiest city in the country.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

An Indorsement.

Princeton Union: Why should the suave chairman of the Republican state committee go to the trouble of calling that body together to fix a date for holding a state convention? Where is the necessity for a convention? The state and platform already prepared by Knute, Ed, Dar and Bill Grimshaw can not be improved upon.

But Will He?

Middle River Pioneer: The question now uppermost in the minds of many thinkers on current political events is, "What will Roosevelt say or do when he returns?" To be consistent and justify his past record and retain the confidence shown in him by the recent vote taken by the Chicago Tribune, he must repudiate the Taft administration.

A Real Candidate.

Breckenridge Gazette: R. J. Wells is making a noise like a real candidate for state auditor. His opponents are beginning to sit up and take notice of his progress. It begins to look as though the great Ninth congressional district would at least land a state office worth while.

A Socialist Sprouting Ground.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The Socialists are preparing to enter the coming political campaign with all their force. The movement has been growing steadily for several years, and the present Republican administration is proving excellent sprouting ground.

Lots of Those Ashes.

Le Sueur News: Democratic success, if built in November, 1910, will arise from the ashes of Republican failure.

Paving the Way for Teddy.

Cass Lake Times: All roads lead to Washington and Taft is strewing each one with roses for Teddy—if he but knew it.

Young But Lively.

Bovey Iron News: There are towns we know of in the world that are well on to the century mark that would be glad to see for a day the spirit of push of the ranges. There is something doing here that makes one sit up and listen. We would rather be dead on the range than have the life of Methuselah in some places we wot of.

Congratulations Due.

Monticello Times (Dem.): The Times extends congratulations to Congressmen Miller, Hammond, Lindbergh, Davis, Volstead and Steenerson, the Minnesota members who assisted in extracting Speaker Cannon's fangs. Our especial congratulations to Congressmen Lindbergh and Davis, who voted to unseat him. Last week Cannon was drunk with power. His speech at the meeting of the Illinois regular Republicans after his defeat shows what an impotent old fool he is. His claws have been clipped, and while he scratches and bites, he does so without teeth or claws. Let him rage. The insurgents still have power to remove him. The Democrats have finally showed they have some sense.

A Coming Country.

Warroad Plaindealer: People who believe that the farm buildings in the Lake of the Woods region are all small log shacks are sometimes greatly surprised when they get out in the country here and find some big red barns and up-to-date, white-painted residence looming up in front of them. Of course, they are not very numerous yet, but the number is increasing every year.

What Did He Do?

Life: When the experienced husband entered his home at night he perceived that his wife was having a nervous fit. There was silence everywhere, but the vibrations of nervousness rebounded against every surface; and from the upper floor there exhaled a subtle disturbance well defined and inevitable.

The experienced husband was tired with the day's work, but, from long habit, he braced himself for the shock. He mounted the stairs resolutely.

His wife was outwardly calm. He kissed her debonairly.

She began. He gathered his sympathies together in a bunch, having them all in readiness to offer her when the right moment came. To offer them prematurely, to force them desperately upon her, would have been fatal.

She continued. His attitude was respectful, deferential, slightly masterful, and the thing we declare to be "sincere." At last she reached the well known place where they all observe that:

"You never do a thing to help me!"

Now at this point he was willing to do anything to check the nervous fit. He would have agreed with her perfectly and admitted that he was the worst of men, but had he done this she would immediately have accused him of having a lack of spirit. Had he smiled, even with the utmost sympathy, she would have accused him of being satirical, with an "Oh, I know you!" thrown in. If he had started to go away and leave her—temporarily—she would have hurled the charge of cowardice at him, and if he continued to remain there she would have ordered him out.

Every one knows—who knows anything about it—just what she said. The whole course of a nervous fit is pathological and can be traced throughout its phases to its climax. In a sense it is a work of art, only acquired after years of hard training.

The experienced husband knew just what to do and did it.

What did he do? We leave the problem to our readers.

A Woman's Idea of Economy.

Brooklyn Eagle: The latest joke on the feminine idea of economy comes from Swarthmore, and here is the way the story about the woman in question is told: She has a telephone for which she pays by the month, but all calls out of town are extra. Nevertheless the fact that the bill has only to be paid by the month gives the impression of unlimited credit, and in consequence the woman uses it with delightful indiscrimination.

Anxious to tell a friend considerable news, she called up Philadelphia on the 'phone and talked for fifteen minutes, and when she had finished said cheerfully:

"I'm saving money this Lent; I want to put all I can in at the Easter offering. That's why I called you up on the 'phone. I hadn't any stamps, so I just said to myself, 'Now, if I write I'll have to spend 2 cents, so I'll call her up on the 'phone.'"

And after the usual feminine goodbys she hung up.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

New York Press: A woman can keep on believing in her husband just to be able to hope some day it will come true.

Smart Set: Mrs. Rangles—I am always outspoken.

Mr. Rangles—And I am generally outtalked.

Harvard Lampoon: Diner—Is there any soup on the bill of fare?

Waiter—No, sir; there was, but I wiped it off.

Life: He—My income is $5,000.

She—How much more than that do you think it will be safe for us to spend.

Life: Policeman—Do you have to take care of the dog?

Nurse Girl—No. The missis says I'm too young and inexperienced. I only look after the children.

Philadelphia Record: Blobbs—The suffragettes believe in the equality of women, don't they?

Slobbs—Not at all; they believe in the superiority of woman.

Answers: He—But I tell you what it is, Maud, if your father is at all unreasonable I shall put my back to the wall—an—er—er—

She—And keep it there. That would be the safest position.

Illustrated Bits: Mistress—Did you have any company last night, Mary?

Mary—Only Aunt Maria, mum.

Mistress—When you see her again will you tell her that she left her tobacco pouch on the piano?

Chicago Daily News: Floorwalker—Here, show this soldier some glasses!

Customer—Sir! I am not a soldier; I am an officer.

Floorwalker—Beg pardon! Show this officer, who is no soldier, some glasses!

Washington Star: "People seem to be growing very frivolous," said the conservative man.

"Yes," answered Mr. Sirius Barker. "Life used to be one grand, sweet song. Now it's a perpetual musical comedy."

Everybody's: "Who can mention one leading fact about the Epistles?" asked the Sunday school teacher, looking over the class.

Johnny's hand went up.

"Well, Johnny?"

"They were the wives of the Apostles."

Town Topics: Geraldine—I suppose we ought to give up something during Lent.

Gerald—Well, suppose we make a great sacrifice—give up seeing each other?

Geraldine—You may turn down the gas, if you like, but please don't turn it out.

Liverpool Weekly Post: "I tell you I must have some money!" roared the king of Maritana, who was in sore financial straits. "Somebody will have to cough up."

"Alas!" sighed the guardian of the treasury, who was formerly the court jester, "all our coffers are empty."

Five Masked Men Pull Off Bold Robbery at Coal City, Ill.

Three Are Wounded By Posse and Caught---Booty Amounts to $5,000.

Chicago, April 7.—Five masked bandits escaping with $5,000 stolen from the Bank of Coal City, Ill., exchanged shots with a posse today and three of the robbers were wounded and captured. Coal City is sixty-three miles southwest of Chicago.

The marauders entered the town on a passing freight train and began operations by tying Barney Ghetto, the night watchman, and Washington Frye, the night engineer, of the electric plant.

Then they blew up the bank building and shattered the safe with a great charge of nitro-glycerine, and after seizing the contents of the safe leaped on a Santa Fe freight train with the plunder, which was partly in stamps.

Waylaid by Posse.

Three hours later three men suffering from wounds inflicted by small shot were arrested at Morris, Ill. The wounds were received, it is reported, when a posse formed along the line of the Santa Fe came up with the fugitives.

As the train carrying the bandits pulled out of town, Ghetto succeeded in cutting his bonds and rushed to the telephone, notifying Eugene Miller, the night watchman at Mazon, seven miles south of Coal City, and he, with Dr. E. S. Watts, who was at the station at the time, laid in wait for the robbers. Watts was armed with a repeating shotgun and Miller carried a revolver.

At Mazon the freight train stopped to switch cars. The bandits leaped from the train and hid in a clump of shrubbery near the track.

Miller and the physician discovered their hiding place and opened fire, which was promptly returned, about twenty-five shots being exchanged. When the train started the bandits leaped aboard and again escaped.

Chased Train in Auto.

Immediately the sheriff at Morris was notified. Several automobiles were pressed into service and the pursuit began, the machines following a road along the Sante Fe right-of-way. For a time the motor cars sped directly alongside the freight train, members of the posse occasionally firing at dark objects which were thought to be the bandits.

When the train came to a stop at Verona, near Morris, the cars were searched by the sheriff and his men. Three of the fugitives were found in an empty baggage car. All were wounded. The other two had fled. It is believed they leaped off the moving train from the side opposite the posse and escaped with the booty secured from the bank.

The prisoners were taken to Morris, where they later admitted that their homes were in Chicago and gave the names of John Hoyt, Rawer Tonaszewsky and Joseph Crowlick.

GOVERNOR A. O. EBERHART ADDRESSES SCHOOL CHILDREN OF WEST DULUTH

STATE EXECUTIVE ADDRESSING SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Cheered by hundreds of school children, who had gathered on Central avenue, West Duluth, to see the automobile parade of the West Duluth Commercial club, Governor A. O. Eberhart this morning addressed nearly 1,500 people, this talk being limited to the children of the West Duluth schools.

Long before the automobile parade reached West Duluth, the children of the Ely school were dismissed in order that they might welcome the governor. The children, eager and enthusiastic, lined up along both sides of Central avenue. Many of the youngsters had flags and when the procession turned into Central avenue from Grand, they cheered.

After alighting with other members of his staff and of the reception committee of the Commercial club, Mr. Eberhart was shown through the West Duluth Commercial club rooms over the Western State bank. After he had returned to his seat in the automobile, the children arrived from the Irving school and Duluth Industrial High school.

L. A. Barnes, president of the West Duluth Commercial club, who occupied the same car with the governor, introduced Mr. Eberhart, stating that he would give a short talk to the school children. When the governor arose he was cheered again by the crowd.

In his opening remarks, the governor took occasion to say that no greeting could have been extended to him by the people of Duluth that would have pleased him more than that given by the school children of West Duluth. He said that he liked to talk to the school children, for some day some of them might become governor of the state also.

"I have often spoken of the wealth and greatness of Northern Minnesota and Duluth," said the governor, "but I have never seen it before as I have this morning. I am glad to greet you and to be welcomed by you. When I see such healthy looking boys and girls, for I am always glad to see the boys and girls turn out, I cannot but emphasize what I have often said before—that the schools of Duluth and the ranges are the best in the state.

"I don't like to see a lazy boy or a lazy girl," he continued, "for it reminds me of a certain boy I know down in Mankato, who was so lazy that he was afraid to go to sleep, for fear that he might dream that he was working." He said that there was never more opportunities for the younger generation than today. "Cut that word 'failure' out of your dictionary," he said, "and success will be yours."

"Some one told me once that I resembled a bull dog," he said, "and I consider it a compliment, for every bull dog has at least three redeeming characteristics. He is faithful. He attends to his own business. He never lets go, whenever he takes a hold."

In closing, Mr. Eberhart remarked that whatever he was, he felt that he owed it to a country school teacher. He said that the West Duluth school children should always remember that their school training and their teachers meant much to them.

Just before he spoke the children sang "America," "The Star-Spangled Banner" and other national airs. Mr. Eberhart concluded his talk about 10:30 o'clock and the parade left on its way to the steel plant site.

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

Three Days' Convention of Methodist Pastors Comes to End.

Resolutions Adopted By Delegates---Lecture By Rev. Andrew Gillis.

With an address by Rev. Andrew Gillis, D. D., of Minneapolis last evening, the three days' conference of the Duluth district of Methodist Episcopal churches came to an end. Rev. Mr. Gillis spoke on "Jean Valjean." He was greeted by a large audience.

Before adjournment was taken, the committee on resolutions submitted the following, which were accepted by the conference:

"Whereas we, as ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church, Duluth district, Northern Minnesota conference, believe deeply in everything that Methodism stands for as represented in her institutions of learning, her splendid hospitals, her deaconess' homes, her literature, her weekly and monthly periodicals, etc., therefore be it resolved,

"That we pledge ourselves anew to further these interests to the best of our ability, particularly those within the borders of the state of Minnesota which we consider our own, to wit, as follows: Asbury hospital, Minneapolis; the Duluth Deaconess' home, the Duluth Methodist, and the Northwestern Christian advocate.

"We also heartily indorse the Laymen's Missionary movement, and recommend it to the attention and support of our people.

"That we express hereby our sincere appreciation of the eminent worth and splendid services rendered to Methodism by our beloved bishop, the Rev. Robert McIntyre, DD., L. L. D., of St. Paul, Minn., and we further request the board of bishops that he be continued as resident and presiding bishop of the Minnesota conferences.

"That we hereby bear testimony to the faithful, earnest service and courteous bearing of our esteemed district superintendent, the Rev. E. K. Copper of Duluth, and pledge him our continued co-operation and loyalty in the work of the Duluth district.

"That we commend the able work of the program committee and the hearty response of the brethren in doing the work assigned them.

"That we express our thanks for the generous hospitality of the people of Merritt Memorial church and the painstaking labor of the pastor, Rev. E. F. Stidd, in caring for the conference.

"That we express our gratitude and hearty appreciation to the press of this city for the courtesies extended and copious publication of the proceedings of this conference; also to the Tri-state Telephone company for the use of telephone service placed at our disposal.

"Further, be it Resolved, that we extend a vote of thanks to the Rev. Andrew Gillies, D.D., of Hennepin Avenue church, Minneapolis, for his able and masterful lecture on 'Jean Valjean.'"

WILL CELEBRATE SEMI-CENTENNIAL

Three Days' Program at the Merritt Memorial M. E. Church.

The semi-centennial celebration of the founding of Methodism in Duluth and of the building of the old Oneota M. E. church, now known as the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street, will begin tonight. Tomorrow evening a big banquet will be held and the affair will come to a close with a devotional service, Sunday night.

Rev. A. L. Richardson of Aitkin, Minn., a former pastor of the congregation, who was raised in the vicinity of the Oneota church and who attended its Sunday school as a boy will be the principal speaker this evening. Mr. Richardson was pastor of the congregation between 1896 and 1898. He has held several charges since.

The program for tomorrow will probably be the principal feature of the affair. In the afternoon, there will be a social gathering of the old members of the church with the former pastors who will be present. Among those who will give short addresses are Rev. A. F. Thompson of Minneapolis, a former pastor of the congregation.

Mr. Thompson was in charge at the Oneota church over twenty years ago. Besides serving as the pastor of the Oneota church he also founded the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street. At the banquet tomorrow evening Bert N. Wheeler will be toastmaster. Among the speakers will be: Rev. Alexander Milne, Leonidas Merritt, Rev. A. J. Hoag, Alfred Merritt, and Mrs. Harriet Jones, wife of the late Rev. James Peet, who was the first pastor of the congregation.

Inglebretson-Bisley.

At the home of the bride's parents yesterday, the marriage of Miss Clara Inglebretson to Nels C. Bisley took place, Rev. J. A. Krantz officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Inglebretson of 303 North Fifty-sixth avenue west and the groom is the senior member of the firm of Bisley & Peterson. Miss Hannah Robertson and Arthur Ecklund of Proctor were attendants. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at 119 North Fifty-third avenue west.

IS ORDERED TO SUPPORT FAMILY.

John Lindberg, arrested Tuesday night at West Duluth for non-support, was ordered to pay $10 a month to the support of his wife and family at Hawthorne, Wis., and to repay the county the expenditures made on their account, when arraigned in municipal court yesterday afternoon at Superior.

Lindberg deserted his family three years ago, it is claimed, and when arrested this week by the West Duluth police he was holding a good position at the stone crusher.

LODGE CELEBRATES ITS ANNIVERSARY.

Lodge No. 860, Modern Brotherhood of America, last evening celebrated its thirteenth anniversary with a program of addresses and music. The affair was held at Gilley's hall.

During the business meeting eighteen candidates were initiated into the order. Among the speakers were William A. Klingman of Minneapolis, state manager; L. E. Leighton, district deputy at Bemidji, and G. F. Dykman, district deputy at Brainerd.

West Duluth Briefs.

We are closing out our furniture stock between now and May 1. Good bargains. Call early. Hartogh & Son, 107 Central avenue, West Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schmauss of 5912 Raleight street have as their guest, W. R. Spencer of St. Paul.

George Wilmot of West Duluth, left last evening for Coleraine, Minn., on a short business trip.

Herbert Nestor of Little Falls, Minn., is the guest of West Duluth friends today.

Rev. D. G. Cole and Grover Diebel entertained the Salter club last evening at the Silvey block.

Henry Johnson has left for Winnipeg, Can., where he has a position for the summer.

D. B. Rockwell left yesterday for his home in Port Arthur, Can., after a visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rockwell of 114 North Fifty-fourth avenue west.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Bjorke entertained this afternoon for the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church at their home, 622 North Fifty-ninth avenue west.

The members of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church choir will be entertained this evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. A. F. Lundholm of 2506 West Third street.

Rev. J. A. Bjorke returned today from Two Harbors, Minn., where he has been attending a church conference.

Prayer services will be held this evening at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street.

Hurst, Watch repairing. W. Duluth.

WILL BEGIN BIG PAVING JOB NEXT MONTH.

The board of public works will try to have work begun on the pavement of Garfield avenue by the first of next month, and if this is done it is expected that the job will be completed in August. The contract is a big one, the estimate showing that it will cost over $100,000. The city will pay $50,000, the property owners $25,000, and the balance has been raised by popular subscription among the men whose business will be benefited by the improvement. It is understood that inability to collect a few of the subscriptions promised is all that prevents the work from being advertised at once.

SENATORS BLAME COLD STORAGE

Say Limit Should Be Put on Its Use in Juggling Prices.

Washington, April 7.—A limit should be put on the use of cold storage for the purpose of maintaining or advancing prices artificially, is the judgment of the senate cost of living committee. Chairman Lodge today introduced in the senate a bill to meet this recommendation.

Mr. Lodge's bill provides that any food kept in cold storage for more than a year should be regarded as adulterated, and any misbranding as to the time it had been in storage should be regarded as a violation of the pure food law.

The committee, through Mr. Lodge, also asked the senate for instructions in the matter of continuing the investigation into the cost of living. A tentative plan for the continuation of the work was submitted. It was estimated that four months would be required to complete the work and that it would necessitate an expenditure of $65,000.

COL. LIVERMORE RETIRES.

Resigns Vice Presidency of Calumet & Hecla Company.

Boston, Mass., April 7.—The retirement of Col. Thomas T. Livermore from the vice presidency of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, with which company he has been identified for many years, was announced today.

OFFICERS OF ELKS' LODGE ARE INSTALLED.

The Duluth lodge of Elks held its annual installation of officers last night. Practically all the local members were on hand to witness the ceremonies.

The officers installed were: Exalted ruler, George S. Munsey; leading knight, John Doran; lecturing knight, Frank L. Young; loyal knight, Carl E. Day; treasurer, P. B. McTague; secretary, John L. Fuller; tyler, Robert E. Wells; trustee, J. G. Harris.

Cooy Ely is the retiring exalted ruler. He will represent Duluth this year at the annual convention to be held at Detroit, Mich., in July.

Rheumatism.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicine usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worst than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

WEATHER KIOSK AT COURTHOUSE

County Commissioners Will Be Asked to Provide Foundation.

At the meeting of the board of county commissioners to be held this afternoon, Bishop McGolrick will suggest that provision be made for the erection on the courthouse grounds of the weather kiosk, which is to be erected in Duluth. The site originally selected is at Third avenue west and First street.

The board will be asked to provide $100 for the erection of a foundation for the kiosk, which would be an ornament as well as a useful instrument on the courthouse grounds. The weather kiosk is provided with instruments for telling all ordinary facts about the weather, so that one may consult it and get all the information he requires at a glance.

The most important business to come before the county commissioners this afternoon is the question of erecting a new jail and the matter of beautifying the courthouse grounds.

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all druggists.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

PROVED EASY FOR SAILOR

"Young Hackenschmidt" Was Ripe Picking for Duluth Wrestler.

The Much Touted Easterner Thrown Twice in Thirteen Minutes.

The much-touted Hackenschmidt, who claimed a victory over Dick Shepperd of Pipestone, Minn., proved a baby in the husky hands of Sailor Jack at Eagles' hall last night, the Easterner being thrown twice in thirteen minutes of actual wrestling time.

A double bar accomplished the first fall and a scissors to the arm brought the overrated New Yorker to the mat for the second and deciding fall.

The two preliminaries furnished some good mat sport and were better contested than the main bout.

A. K. Smith and Young Fred Beell, featherweights, wrestled a lively bout and Carl Nelson and Carl Peterson wrestled a draw. Both of the preliminaries were well contested and made up in some measure for the short-comings of the main card of the evening.

It is apparent that Young Hackenschmidt put one over on the promoters of the affair last night, for he came here with wrestling bells strung all over his person. His showing last night would hardly warrant the belief that he was in the same class with the Sailor.

The officials of the Duluth Athletic club had no connection with the card that was staged last night.

ADAMSON WILL MEET GREEK

Little Chicago Wonder Will Wrestle Demetral at the Lyceum.

A week from tonight Ed Adamson, world's champion 155-pound wrestler, and Demetral, the champion Greek wrestler of the world, will meet at the Lyceum theater. At the present time, Demetral has $1,000 up to wrestle Dr. Roller a finish match.

In addition to the match between the wonderful little Adamson, who has beaten some of the best men in the world, a finish match is being arranged between Billy Schober, the little Indiana welterweight and Greek Johnny Hudson, the little Greek who made such a hit with the crowd the night of the Gotch-Pardello match.

Adamson has beaten all of them and he does not hesitate to tackle a heavyweight, as Demetral is. Duluth fans will get their first peep at the ability of Adamson tomorrow evening, when the little Chicago wonder will be pitted against Billy Schober in a finish match.

Both Adamson and Schober have been training here the present week. Adamson has been supplementing his mat work with long runs. Schober has been working hard in the D. A. C. gymnasium and is in great condition for a hard struggle against the wonderful little Chicagoan.

Adamson will weigh less than 155 for his match of tomorrow evening, while Schober will tip the beam around the 149-mark. There will be about four pounds difference between the two men when they step on the mat. Schober has impressed those who have seen him work. He is a wonderful leg wrestler and in his workouts has pulled some tricks that have not been seen here the present winter.

The big main card, which the D. A. C. officials announce as one of the very best attractions they have secured the present winter, will be preceded by two preliminaries.

Those little grapplers, Joe Fisher and Carl Nelson, whose bout was suddenly stopped at a former show, will resume mat hostilities and will endeavor to settle the question of rivalry. Mike Brown, the fighter, claims he is a wrestler of standing. He has been working out at the club and has made good. He will go on with George Sanadowsky. The card will be started at the usual time.

TIMELY HITTING WINS FOR WASHINGTON.

Washington, April 7.—Timely hitting in the seventh off Bell's pitching enabled the Washington Americans to defeat the Brooklyn Nationals in an exhibition game here yesterday. Scanlan pitched five innings for Brooklyn and did not allow a hit. Reisling, who was once a member of the visiting team, kept the hits scattered.

NOTHING NOW TO PREVENT FISHING BUT THE LAW

Streams Clear of Ice and Water Not Too High.

Some of the Favorite Resorts Within Reach of Duluth.

"Oh, the gallant fisher's life,
It is the best of any;
'Tis full of pleasure, void of strife,
And 'tis beloved by many."

Ardent disciples of the author of "The Complete Angler" are living in an abstracted air of expectancy—abstracted except when they are polishing up their fishing rods, looking over their tackle, testing their lines, or mapping out their trips for the early days of the season ortalking of the prospects. Then their expectancy is shown in concrete form and the unenthusiastic may as well flee. The ardent fisherman works at being an ardent fisherman all hours of the day and most of the night.

In this beautiful weather, the game wardens may well fear transgressions of the law, for the law alone restrains those who would fain toss the inviting bait into the clear streams of the northern woods. Conditions are ideal. The streams are low, the air is warm, the woods are dry and any fisherman will swear that if he could just toss his hook into any of the streams around Duluth, he could pull the speckled beauties out in so far as the construction of the human machine would allow him to do so. But the law says, "Nay," and the ardent fisherman must wait until the fateful fifteenth day of April, when he may file himself to his favorite stream, plentifully supplied with tackle, bait, refreshments and eager anticipation of the epicurean feast, which he is certain is to be his. Deep would be his disappointment if on his first trip of the season the speckled beauties should coyly refuse the dainty morsels he tosses so generously to them. But he thinks only of the success that will be, not the disappointment that may be.

If no heavy rains interfere between this time and April 15, the fishing season in Northern Minnesota will open under more auspicious circumstances than any other year in the memory of the oldest inhabitant and the history of the game laws. The early spring will prove a boon to the fishermen. The snow has gone from the woods and the roads and paths are dry. The streams are low and clear; the air is comparatively warm and everything within natur's power has come about to make a beautiful opening of the season. If the work is not undone by developments next week, every fisherman in and around Duluth will be happy.

Streams Are Clear.

People who have had occasion to pass the nearby streams during the past few days say there is no ice and the water is running low and clear. The mouths of the different rivers near Duluth look inviting to those who have passed along the road. Game wardens are troublesome creatures and there has probably been little fishing done thus far although the conditions are ideal and anybody who had the temerity to brave the penalties provided by law would doubtless be rewarded for his hardihood.

The season will open Friday, April 15, and the first big rush to the woods will be made the following Saturday and Sunday of the season, but it will be exceptionally great this year if present weather conditions continue, for the conditions that usually prevail a month after the opening of the season make it possible for those who usually wait to go at the opening this year. Last year at the opening of the season, disagreeable weather had prevailed for some weeks, there was snow in the woods, the streams were high and conditions were altogether unfavorable.

Some of the Streams.

There are any number of trout streams around Duluth for week-end trips. Some of the streams may be visited on Sunday only, the fishermen having plenty of time to make a catch between trains. Others require that the fishermen leave here Saturday afternoon in order to be on the ground early Sunday morning to have his sport before the Sunday afternoon train for home.

Most of the early catches will be made at the mouths of the rivers, where the fish are always most numerous at the opening of the season. The Lester river will be popular during the early days of the season on account of its being so close to the city. The mouth of the Lester always abounds with steel heads at this time of the year and those who get in early in the season will probably make some good catches.

The streams available for Sunday trips are numerous. By taking the Duluth & Iron Range train Sunday morning, one crosses the Lester, Talmage, French, Sucker and Knife rivers. There are seven or eight branches of Knife river, all good for trout fishing. If one wishes to go farther, he may connect with the Duluth & Northern Minnesota, which was formerly known as the Alger-Smith line, crosses several branches of Knife river, and also crosses Stewart river, Silver creek, Encampment river, Gooseberry river, Skunk creek, Split Rock river and Beaver river. One may make the trip to any of those streams and return in one day, and all have good reputations as trout streams.

Going west of the city, one may go to Miller's creek, near Duluth Heights by taking the street car and walking the remainder of the way, only a mile or two. By taking the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, one may visit Midway creek, Rocky Run or Pine river. Rocky Run is a particularly fine stream, old fishermen say.

A good Sunday trip is taken by many people, who go to Carlton on the Northern Pacific and there strike the Blackhoof river, a stream which is always well-stocked and which furnishes good sport for the most enthusiastic angler.

Fishermen who visit the streams of Northern Wisconsin and near the towns along the line of the Great Northern usually leave here on Saturday afternoon and return Sunday evening or Monday morning, so that they may have ample time at the streams. On the South Shore, one may reach the Brule river, Iron river and several other streams in Northern Wisconsin. There are some good streams near Gordon on the Omaha and also near Nickerson and Foxboro on the Great Northern. At Foxboro, State Line creek usually furnishes good fishing and the Nemadji and its branches near Holyoke are also popular.

Longer Trips.

The streams mentioned may all be visited for week-end outings, although many people will spend a few days or a week on some of the different streams. For longer trips, some of the streams on the north shore, notably Cross river, Reservation creek and Baptism river will furnish fine fishing for those who have a few days to give to the sport.

The early spring and the certainty that fishing will be good at the opening of the season has caused unusual enthusiasm at this time of the year. Many people usually wait until May 1 to make their annual fishing trip, but they will not do so this year for the streams will be lined with ardent anglers on the opening day of the season. Conditions are as good now, fishermen say, as they have been in the middle of May in other seasons.

WILL DEFY LAW VIA WIRELESS

Pool Room Operators Said to Have Plans for Circumventing Official Ban.

New York, April 7.—With the opening of the racing season in the Metropolitan district only a week off, interest was excited in racing circles today by reports that poolroom operators are preparing to circumvent the official ban, and have been arranging to flash the race results from the tracks by wireless.

Stations, it is said, are to be established just outside the grounds. From such vantage points the news would be relayed instantaneously to distributing centers. Heretofore it has been comparatively easy to break up sending stations, detectives simply confiscating the ordinary telegraph and telephone instruments in the poolroom. It is feared, however, that if the wireless system were adopted, there would be difficulty in proving that news was being sent to lawbreakers to assist them in violating the statutes.

An active campaign is expected on the part of race track owners to prevent, if possible, the carrying out of the plan for a poolroom wireless.

JOHN KLING WILL REPORT TO CUBS

Star Catcher Confident That He Will Come Back Easily.

Kansas City, Mo., April 7.—At last the case of John G. Kling, the catcher of the Chicago National league baseball club, appears to be at an end. Yesterday Kling received a message from President Charles W. Murphy ordering the player to report at Indianapolis on April 6 or 7. It will be impossible for Kling to leave here today but he said last night he would telegraph Murphy he would join the team in Columbus, April 10.

"It's a great day for me," said Kling last night. "I'm happier now than I've been any day since I caught the final game in the championship series in New York in October, 1908.

"I can come back? Say, that question makes me laugh. I know that I shall be able to regain my old form within ten days after I join the squad. By April 20 I'll be doing the heavy end of the catching for the team. Just watch me come back."

Series Stands a Tie.

Philadelphia, April 7.—The Philadelphia Americans took another game from the National leaguers yesterday by the score of 6 to 1, making the series a tie at two games each. The batteries were: Ewing and Chech, Nationals; Bender, Morgan, Thomas and Livingston, Americans.

POWELL GETS DECISION OVER GEORGE MEMSIC.

Oakland, Cal., April 7.—Lew Powell of San Francisco last night was given the decision over George Memsic at the end of their scheduled fifteen-round fight. Powell had Memsic going from the first round, but was unable to put him out.

CAPONIE KNOCKS OUT CANADIAN FIGHTER.

Winnipeg, Man., April 7.—Tony Caponi, of Chicago, found George Lepage, champion of Manitoba and Western Canada, easy last night, knocking him out in the seventh round in what was to have been a ten-round bout. Two thousand persons saw the match.

Jeff Works Hard.

Rowardenen, Cal., April 7.—Two hours of baseball, a row on the San Lorenzo river, and a fast handball game in the afternoon completed James J. Jeffries' program on the second day of his training. Jeffries and his trainers expressed much satisfaction last night at the result of his first day's work. The trainers said the fighter probably reduced his weight two or three pounds during the day.

Devils Lake Gun Club.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local enthusiasts have just perfected organization of a gun club and are now preparing for an active season. The club officers follow: President, J. Duis; secretary, John Tucker; treasurer, Luther Dawson.

MAY PLAY RUGBY IN MISSOURI VALLEY.

Lawrence, Kan., April 7.—Chancellor Frank Strong, of the state university last night denied the request of a committee of ten appointed at a mass meeting of students that the meeting of the Missouri Valley conference set for April 19 at Kansas City to discuss football, be postponed till after the meeting of the national rules committee.

He also declared that he believes the first motion to come before the conference will be to abolish football and that a compromise will be reached to substitute Rugby.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

He'l Hardly Quit.

There has been so much talk about Johnson being yellow and the likelihood that he will caveln in the ring with Jeffries. It is hardly likely, Joseph. The coon has been through too many battles to let the saffron choke down his cool, and collected fighting sense. Men don't get to be champions who have a tinge of the canary in their systems. Out Australia way they would have taken huge joy in mobbing Johnson. Johnson knew that, yet he had the nerve to demand that Burns remove the bandages from his elbows.

Down in his heart Johnson may have fear of Jeffries; but just the same he has been too well trained to permit the fear, if fear he has, to interfere in the least with his fighting the best he knows how against this huge Californian.

Even the most chicken hearted fighters have shown a desperate nerve when cornered. Johnson isn't chicken hearted and he has been through the pugilistic mill. He won't quake and tremble, as some are fondly imagining. Look over the history of pugilism, from the time when the clans of the stone age had their champions until the present munificent day when fighters fight for $101,000 purses, and you will have very great difficulty in finding a yellow champion.

Men take desperate chances for money, Alfonso, and when they get to the top they generally stick until all the fight is beaten out of them. Johnson has a long memory for those garlic and onion days, Sirrah, and you may believe he will mill right smartly for the days of prosperity which the title of world's champion spells.

The Right Move.

We have one of the greatest hunting and fishing territories in the great and boundless Northwest. Fishermen come here from many points over the West, simply because they are assured of better sport than they can get elsewhere.

Now the members of the Northwestern Gun club are beginning to realize this, and are also taking advantage of the oportunity. The resolution to construct a lodge where the members of the club and friends of the members can enjoy some of the best hunting and fishing to be found anywhere in the West, is one that will bring added prestige to the club.

Already the club is beginning to be known as one of the biggest and most progressive gun clubs of the West. This season it promises to add even greater prestige to its name. The building of the lodge will mean much to the club, as it will make it greater in the eyes of visiting sportsmen, many of whom will no doubt be invited to take advantage of some of the advantages of the new lodge.

Informing the Public.

From now on, friends, you will never for the least while, be permitted to forget that there is going to be a world's championship fight between James J. Jeffries and Arthur Johnson on next Fourth of July.

If any of the rabid were permitted to forget it, it might so happen that he would also forget to go to the quarrel. Enthusiasm begets enthusiasm, so there will be a goodly crowd of paid reminders from now until the day of the Queensbury argument.

The moves of the two gladiators will be followed closer from now on than the principals in a Pittsburg divorce suit.

If Jeff walks out in the morning and chirps, "Wait until the Leaves Fall, Nellie," in an innocent and boyish way, it will be taken to mean that he is sure of the fight and the news will be chased up and down the circuit over the warming wires.

If Lil' Artha should happen to warble, in that rich basso profundo of his—"There a man coming with a bundle"—the scribes on the alert for news may take it that he is plum superstitious and has a wholesome hunch that big Jeff is going to hand him a bundle of five's.

We will have all the incidents of training camp life, and some that have never happened. The public will be informed of the doings of the duo of mitt pushers, and as the time draws near you will be shagging out in the dune atmosphere, sans collar and little shirtlet, roaming around in the dusk, not looking for the market tellings of the merry gambols of the bulls and bears, Richard—but for more of the dope upon Brother Jeff, and more removed Brother Johnsing.

Don't worry, any of you. There will be dope of several sorts between now and the day upon which something will be cracked besides firecrackers. Many a typewriter ribbon will be cut to shreds in the worthy cause of sending over the wires the news of the progress of about the only war that the society for the preservation of peace has not placed on the black list.

Cut By a Barber.

Sure, sometimes barbers cut their friends. This was what happened to that sensitive soul, Battling Nelson. It wasn't a physical cut that the tonsorial artist dealt out; that wouldn't have mattered on the tough and leather-like countenance of the Battler; it was a cut of pride and lofty airiness.

The battle-scarred Nelson climbed into the chair of a Philadelphia face renovating parlor. The barber got off to a flying start, after sizing up the rather picturesque physiognomy of the battling beauty. He pulled the razor once or twice lovingly over the hirsute growth on the human punching bag, and then suddenly asked if the recipient of the shave were not Battling Nelson.

The Dane, glad perhaps that as ex-champion he was recognized, answered that it was.

Then the barber informed him in one of those cutting tones, such as barbers assume at times, that if the Nelson party was not good enough to get by the portals of Philadelphia's best hostelry, he was not classy enough to get his face ironed out in the shop.

The Dane thought it was one of those ambigious jokes, where everybody laughs at the finish, without there being anything in particular to guffaw over. It was no joke, however, and the Battler felt the icy coolness of the barber's hauteur. The spiteful creature! The Dane walked from the shop, hurt by the exclusiveness of the shaving industry of Philadelphia.

P. S.—If it had been Tom Sharkey he would have been delighted at the excuse of saving 15 cents—Tom is really awfully near to himself.

LEAGUE IS ASSURED.

Meeting of Delegates Assures Success of Semi-Professionals.

Nothing definite was accomplished last night at the metting of those anxious to organize a semi-professional baseball association. It is believed the league will be surely formed later, but as yet the first step in the organization of the proposed league is to be taken.

It is planned to play only Sunday games, as was brought out in the discussion last evening. It is further planned to have six or eight clubs in the league—representatives from the range, Superior and Duluth. The Superior representatives were prevented from attending the meeting last night, but are known to be heartily in favor of the league.

Some details of the organization were discussed last evening. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday, when it is expected that some definite plan will be brougat before the delegates for consideration.

J. F. St. Cyr of Two Harbors called the meeting together. Frank Schaefer represented the Big Duluths; E. Schiehe, Cloquet; and E. Westholm and F. Nevers, Moose Lake.

BOYLE AND TAYLOR.

Will Lead Baseball and Track Teams of Central High School.

Joe Boyle was elected baseball captain of the junior class of the Central high school, at a meeting of the class held yesterday afternoon. The juniors are confident of carrying off both the baseball and track championships in the interclass athletic contests.

Harris, Spencer, Bordeleau, Boyle, Solheim, Johnson, Waldron, Taylor, Palmer, Bergstrom, Wanless, McConaughy, Nelson, Hare, James Wharton, Glass and Leduc will be candidates for the baseball team.

Smith, Taylor, Waldron, Solheim, Bondy and King have already announced their intentions of coming out for the track team.

CUBS SECURE STAR PITCHER

Biggest Baseball Deal of Year Takes Harry McIntyre to Chicago.

A very important baseball deal closed today, one that it is believed will have a very important bearing on the pennant race in the National league, is the trading of "Heinie" Zimmerman and Happy Smith of the Chicago Cubs for Harry McIntyre, premier pitcher of the Brooklyn team.

In addition to the two players let loose of by the Cubs, Brooklyn gets a bonus of $4,000 for the player.

Chance has long cast longing eyes on McIntyre. He is considered one of the best pitchers in the National league. With McIntyre added to the strong staff of pitchers of the Cubs and Kling and Archer, two of the best receivers in the league to do the catching, the Cubs will go to the baseball post as the favorites for the 1910 bunting.

It is stated that the Cubs are showing great form on the preliminary training trip and every member of the team is determined to capture the pennant. The securing of McIntyre and the assurance that the great Kling will be back in the Cub fold, makes it certain that the Chicago team will make a very strong bid for the flag that was lost last season.

MARION MAY PLAY IN DULUTH

St. Louis Has Offered to Return "Rube" to the White Sox.

This morning an offer came from Roger Bresnahan for the return of "Rube" Marlon to the local club, should A. W. Kuehnow desire the services of the big twirler.

Marlon has either failed to make good with the Cardinals, or else he has mounted one of those high horse things. He has been used but little in the spring work of the Bresnahan crew, and has also become embroiled in an argument with Chief Roger over the matter of salary.

It is very probable that Marion became sulky and refused to give the best that is in him. Right now he is a very hard man to manage and this characteristic will work against his attaining standing as a ball player.

Mr. Kuehnow has not decided as yet whether he wants the services of the erratic one. He has been given to understand that Reuter, the pitcher secured from St. Joe is a find. He has also been offered a pitcher from the Minneapolis club. Under the circumstances the local magnate is undecided as to what course he will pursue in the Marion matter.

There is no denying the fact that Marion has ability when the spirit moves. Mr. Kuehnow appreciates this. He also appreciates what a task it is for any manager to handle the boy. He is up a baseball bush, as it were.

Today Mr. Kuehnow received word from the Western Union Telegraph company that a wire would be installed at the local grounds. Scores of the other leagues will be received at the grounds during the season. It is understood that the other teams will also have wires at their parks.

Word received yesterday from St. Joe says that Foutz, the new outfielder secured by the White Sox, hit at a .313 clip last season.

DULUTH'S BID CONSIDERED

Gotch's Manager Says C. A. Marshall's Offer Has Been Received.

A letter from Emil Klank, who looks after the business affairs of World's Champion Frank A. Gotch, who is in Chicago at the present time, assures C. A. Marshall that the Duluth bid for the Gotch-Zbyszko match has been received and will be considered by the two principals.

Zbyszko will be represented entirely in the matter by J. H. Herman of Buffalo, N. Y., who has the absolute management of the Pole. Gotch will look after his own interests in the match, assisted by Klank in the matter of business details.

Herman is in Buffalo at the present time and has as yet made no statement regarding the Duluth offer. Zbyszko beat Charles Cutler, the former Bemidji boy after a great and gruelling struggle at Buffalo, and it is probable that Herman and his big charge will come West today.

The managers will come together very probably in the near future, and some decision will be made on the match. If a definite time is set for opening the bids, Mr. Marshall and his representative may go to Chicago in the interest of the offer.

It is expected that the match will be awarded next week. Duluth will give the other cities that are angling for the match a hard run for the privilege of staging the biggest wrestling match in the world.

Yesterday a number of prominent business men came to the office of the Lyceum theater and urged Manager Marshall to redouble his efforts to get the match. The match would mean a great advertisement for this city, and it would also be the medium of attracting a large number of people to the Head of the Lakes, for never before in the history of wrestling has there been such an intense amount of interest shown in an event of like nature.

NO STEEPLECHASE AT CHURCHILL DOWNS.

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—There will be no steeplechase racing at Churchill Downs this spring. In speaking of this decision of the new Louisville Jockey club, Secretary Lyman H. Davis said last night:

"There has been a lot of talk about crookedness in steeplechase contests. For that reason, we have decided not to run any during the coming meet. We do not think there is any cause for complaint on the ground of crookedness, but there is this prejudice nevertheless."

CROOKSTON CITY BALL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED.

Crookston, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The City league organized for the season last evening by the re-election of Fridolpn Westerberg, president, and P. P. Boukind secretary. There will be four teams in the league, and from these teams will be selected the teams to represent Crookston in the Red River Valley league, which will include Crookston, Grand Forks, Fargo and one other city not yet decided upon. Most of the valley league games will be played on Sundays and holidays. The city league's season will open April 18, but practice games will be played three times a week till that date.

CANAL DEFENSES PLANNED.

Fortifications Board Says They Will Not Cost So Much.

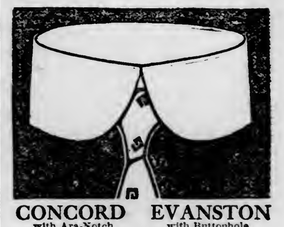

Washington, April 7.—That it will be entirely practicable to provide adequate defenses for the Panama canal at comparatively moderate cost is the conclusion of the Panama fortifications board, a number of whom have just returned from Panama. Tentative defense plans had been prepared by the board prior to its visit to the isthmus, and the board found that these required but slight modifications. Nearly all of the areas desired are now the property of the United States.

SHOWS FLIES IN MOVING PICTURES.

Chicago, April 7.—Free public moving picture shows exposing the habits of the common house fly have been started by the Chicago health department. The shows are to be given in theaters in various parts of the city, and are intended to warn the public against the danger of the pest. Health Commissioner Evans believes the moving picture scheme will result in a big increase in the death rate of Chicago's fly population.

Winnipeg Tailors Strike.

Winnipeg, Man., April 7.—Demanding an increase of 15 per cent in wages, 500 journeymen tailors went on a strike yesterday afternoon. All of the large shops in the city are closed.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TURNS DOWN IRON LEASE

Crow Wing County Wants a Better Royalty on Ore From Poor Farm.

Minimum Royalty to Be Received Will Be 25 Cents on Every Ton.

Brainerd, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners have rejected the offer of the Northwestern Improvement company for the lease of the mineral rights on the Crow Wing county poor farm, and fixed May 14 as the time at which propositions will be received for the lease of the property. The resolution stipulates that the lease shall be in terms similar to the leases made on state lands and that the minimum royalty to be considered will be the sum of 25 cents per ton.

Water Board Lets Contracts.

The water and light board has let the contract for installing the large new pump recently purchased to be added to the water plant to the Slipp-Gruenhagen company, the lowest bidder.

The contract for erecting the building and putting in the foundations was let to White Brothers. The following were the bids on the two propositions:

Foundations, building, etc.—White Brothers, $457.80; A. Everett, $575; E. H. Hosemann, $707.

SOCIETY EDITOR FURNISHES SCOOP

Well-Known Crookston Young Lady and Railroad Man Wed in a Hurry.

Crookston, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Crookston social circles were surprised by the marriage yesterday afternoon of Miss Edna Wilde and George Woods. Both are well known, the bride being a daughter of Judge and Mrs. G. C. Wilde, while the bridegroom has been for some time past an employe in the northern division offices of the Great Northern here.

Not even the parents of the bride were aware of the approaching nuptials until two hours before the minister arrived to perform the ceremony at the family home. The only persons present were four young ladies, members of the Octavia club, a social organization, who were not notified until just before the ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Akers, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The bride for the past two years has been the society editor of the Times and was prominent in social circles.

Following a wedding supper at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Woods took an auto to Redlands, suburb of Crookston, where the local to Fargo was boarded, whence they proceeded to Breckenridge to catch the westbound train on the Great Northern for Whitefish, Mont., where the bridegroom will take up his duties on the Kalispel division of the Great Northern in the superintendent's office.

DOCTOR SAVE CHILD

Of Cass Lake Who Drank Gasoline and Turpentine.

Cass Lake, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—While his mother was upstairs, Edwin Neubauer, a 4-year-old boy got hold of a bottle of gasoline and drank some of the stuff. After he had taken a couple of swallows he concluded it did not taste good and picked up another bottle containing turpentine. Then he became awfully ill. When his mother arrived she hastily summoned a physician. The child was growing gradually worse, but after the physician had worked over him for several hours he began to improve. He is now steadily improving and it is thought that he will recover.

FACTORY'S FIRST ACCIDENT.

Cumberland, Wis., Plant Takes Off Employe's Hand the First Day.

Cumberland, Wis., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—While cleaning some machinery in the Cumberland Fruit Package company's factory, at this place, yesterday, Tom Kruger's arm touched the saw and the limb was cut off. The factory, which is a new institution, had just started a few hours previous to the accident.

FOREST FIRES IN WISCONSIN

Several Farm Houses Burned in the Vicinity of Spooner

Cumberland, Wis., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to the exceedingly dry weather, forest fires have been running northwest of this city in Barron, Polk and Washburn counties. Several farmhouses were burned northwest of Spooner, and yesterday the farmhouse of Herman Dietrich, five miles north of Cumberland, was totally destroyed.

The farmers are making desperate efforts to save their property, and considerable timber is being consumed and unless the forest fires are checked by rain irreparable damage will result.

CASS LAKE COUNCIL REDUCES SALARIES

New Village Board in Taking Hold Gives Examples in Economy.

Cass Lake, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The newly elected village council assumed charge of the village affairs Tuesday night. Fred W. Smith was appointed village attorney with a salary of $20 per month. Dan Lully was reappointed village marshal and Dr. G. A. Christianson was appointed health officer. The council cut the salary of the village recorder from $25 per month to $17.50. They also cut the salary of the village treasurere from $100 per year to $75.

FOURNIER'S THIRD TRIAL.

It Will Take Place at Aitkin Beginning on May 17.

Aitkin, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The third trial of Fournier for murder, alleged to have been committed in Beltrami county, will begin here May 17. The trial comes here from Beltrami county on a change of venue. The first time Fournier was tried at Bemidji he was convicted and sent to the penitentiary. He secured a new trial and a change of venue to Crow Wing county. This trial resulted in an acquittal. Now the third trial will come off here. Two people are alleged to have lost their lives by the defendant's act and the first two trials were for causing the death of one. Now he will be tried for causing the other's death.

WILL RACE IN TOWN.

Firemen's Tournament Contests Are to Be in Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The various races and contests to be pulled off during the firemen's tournament here July 4, 5, 6 and 7 will be run in the downtown district instead of at the race track of the Beltrami County Agricultural association, as first contemplated. This decision was reached at a joint meeting of the members of the fire department and several business men.

The department will hold another meeting in a few days, when the running team that is to represent Bemidji will be selected and other arrangements made for the preliminary work of the tournament.

Very encouraging letters have been received from the chiefs of other departments which are members of the tournament association, and there is every indication that there will be a large attendance at the tournament.

HIGBEE IRON COMPANY

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE AT ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

Mines on the Famous Mesaba Iron Range in Minnesota

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

PROSPECTUS

In our brief, this is our prospectus. It's brief because our company's the genuine article, and the genuine article can always be presented without expensive superfluities. Cheap propositions, like cheap people, need fine trimmings to gain attention. If you want an investment for profit, here's your chance, and if you don't, say so, we're no judges of the ability and intelligence of the people to whom this summary will be presented.

ORGANIZATION

The Higbee Iron Company is incorporated for just One Hundred Thousand Dollars, divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each. Think of it! Only one thousand shares! This is an exclusive company, everybody can't get in. Now, that's a business point of no small importance, for the slightest improvement in the welfare of our company means an increase of dollars, not cents, per share, to every stockholder, and it is no unusual thing for companies organized on this plan to show profits of many dollars in a single day.

PROPERTY

The company owns the controlling interest in an Iron Mining Lease from the State of Minnesota, covering a hundred and sixty acres located on the famous Mesaba Iron Range, the biggest iron range in the world, and from whose many mines come yearly about one-half of the world's iron ore supply. A dozen or more diamond and churn drill holes have already been put down on our land, blocking out a body of ore something like a quarter of a mile long and an eighth of a mile wide. Millions of tons of iron ore are shown to exist, and many, many times as much will probably be found as development proceeds, and especially when drilling is continued deeper and over the balance of our property, seven-eighths of which has never even been touched. A great point about our mine is that the ore is only about forty feet below the top of the ground, which will make it one of the easiest mines in the world to mine. Then, too, we are in good company, for on different sides we are adjoined by the mines and properties of the "Great Jim Hill" and the U. S. Steel Company, and other property of R. B. Higbee, George Salzer and the State of Minnesota.

The biggest kind of development is taking place here—here, where a few years ago was a vast timbered wilderness, are now thriving towns, railroads and activity not unrivaled by the much vaunted Panama canal. Things are doing here. It would do your heart good just to see it. No other mining equals it for stupendousness, modern business romance and picturesqueness. An Empire is in the building, and later, when the vast peat deposits are used to convert the raw ore into the finished product at the mines, the influence of the Empire that's growing fast will be reckoned with by all future greatness. Here in the North woods of Minnesota—here on the banks of America's Inland Sea, is taking place a change that shall go down into history more wonderful to tell than any chapter of "Arabian Nights."

If you want to be a partner in this great drama, get busy and buy some of our shares today—tomorrow may be too late—stranger things have happened here. And then, there is one more great point about our stock. You'll never see it selling at a less price than it is today. Every share that's sold brings par or more. You can't get it for less, and it's mighty cheap at that. Mr. Salzer and myself have sold some shares to people who wanted to be associated with us at only a hundred dollars each, or, in other words, par; but not one of the present stockholders would think of such a thing as selling much or all of his stock at such a ridiculously low figure. Five and even six hundred dollars should be cheap for this stock, figuring on the present development alone; and future developments should, if I am any prophet, bring the ultimate returns on a share of this stock up to ten or twenty times that much.

Dividends are expected to begin in the near future, to be increased as rapidly as circumstances will permit. Come in with us now and, as time goes on, you'll congratulate yourself on your foresight.

We're the boys on the ground. We've been pioneers and we've seen the thing grow. It will pay you to be with us. Such co-operation will be of advantage to you in more ways than one.

Our following is increasing every day, and if you, reader, are a lover of real enterprise, hook up with us now. Write for price and terms on stock at once, and, thanking you for your kind attention, I am,

Yours sincerely,

R. B. HIGBEE, President.

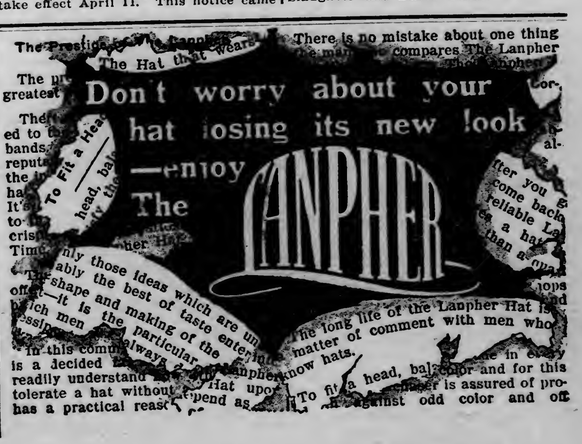

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

One of the most valuable qualities of Mother's Friend is that it safe-guards the future health of the mother. It is a liniment to be applied externally to the body, the use of which lubricates the muscles and tendons, softens the glands and ducts, prevents lumps forming in the breasts, and relieves the pain, nervousness, nausea, and other troubles from which so many expectant mothers suffer. When Mother's Friend is used regularly it fits and prepares the system for an easy and natural consummation of the term. Women who massage with this great liniment are always saved much suffering when baby comes, and recover more quickly, and without ill effects. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

By Alderman Shartel:
Whereas, According to common report, the stock broking business in this city is so operated and conducted that it is impossible for many small investors or speculators to form any idea as to the actual worth of the stock offered on the market, and unscrupulous dealers oftentimes unload on to the inexperienced buyers stocks which are absolutely worthless, and oftentimes among their victims are clerks and working girls, induced to invest with promises of big returns from small investments; and,

Whereas, This council believes that such actions of irresponsible dealers should be curtailed and some method devised for regulating the iniquitous practices complained of, and that some regulation should be adopted which would eliminate operations in worthless stock; therefore,

Resolved, That the city attorney is hereby requested to report to this council as to its power to license the business of dealing in stocks and regulate the same, and especially whether this council can enforce a rule that before any broker shall offer for sale the stock in any company, the officers of said company shall first file in some city office certain statements containing the following information:

1. A list of the officers of the company, including the directors thereof.
2. A statement of the capitalization of the company and the amount of stock issued.
3. A statement showing what property is owned by the company, and the amount of work done thereon.
4. A statement as to what minerals are in sight, and the quantity in sight.
5. A statement of assay of the minerals from a reputable assayer.

Passed, April 4, 1910.
Approved, April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Ordinances and Resolutions, to which was referred that portion of the mayor's annual message relative to the high cost of living, having investigated said question is of the opinion that in most lines it is beyond the powers of this council to pass ordinances or make regulations that will materially reduce the cost of necessities to the people of the city. We are of the opinion, as recommended by the mayor, that the city should encourage the building of street car lines for the purpose of developing the nearby territory in order that truck farming may be facilitated, and that sites for cheap suburban homes which are easy of access and with cheap transportation be provided.

We are also of the opinion that the time is now here or is rapidly approaching when the city should make a further reduction in the price of water and gas for private consumption, and recommend that this question be taken into consideration by the Board of Water and Light Commissioners, and that the council and the Conference Committee instead of levying the minimum of one-half of one mill against the taxable property of the city of Duluth for the purpose of reducing water rates should levy the maximum of one and one-half mills allowed by the charter, and in this way require that large holders of unimproved property, who receive the protection and general benefit of a first-class water plant, are assessed to help pay the large stated expenses of said plant in the way of interest on the large amount expended in giving to the city its splendid supply of water, and in this way reduce the price of water to the consumer.

We would further recommend that in the renewing of the contract of the Duluth-Edison Electric company for street lighting that an endeavor be made to secure a further concession in the price of electric lights furnished to private consumers.

All the encouragement possible should be given for the establishment of public markets, and not only to develop the surrounding country, but also in the belief that when such truck gardens are in operation the price of vegetables to the consumer could probably be cut in two.

There may be other questions arise during the year in which the council may be of assistance in reducing the cost of living, and if such do arise your committee shall be pleased to give them consideration. In accordance with the foregoing report we submit herewith and recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

JOSEPH SHARTEL,
C. R. HOAR,
Committee.

Resolved, That the Board of Water and Light Commissioners is hereby requested to consider and report to this council as to the practicability of a further reduction in the cost of gas and water to the consumer.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this council a larger tax levy should be made for the purpose of reducing the water rates to consumers.

Resolved, That this council will in all lawful ways assist in the opening of public markets, and in encouraging truck gardening in the vicinity of the city.

Resolved, That this council pledges itself to endeavor to secure cheaper rates for electric lights for the inhabitants of the city.

On request of the chairman of the committee, action on the resolution was postponed for one week.

To the Common Council:

Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

Your Committee on Railroads, Telephones and Telegraph lines to which was referred the resolution requiring the Duluth Street Railway Company to stop at both West Place and Kinnear Place on Fifty-seventh Avenue West, beg to report that they have visited the locality and heard both sides of the controversy.

Entirely disregarding any objections of the Street Railway company to additional stops, your committee finds a very strong public sentiment against unnecessary stopping of street cars, which causes loss of time to through passengers.

It is the belief of your committee that it would involve this council in endless trouble to begin recognizing requests for stops at irregular intersections and jogs that are less than an ordinary city block from regular stopping places, and that the present practice of the street car company as stated in their communication, is the only reasonable way of regulating the matter.

The Street Car Company has intimated that in the absence of further instruction from the council it would again recognize Kinnear Place as the regular stopping place instead of West Place.

This will accommodate those attending the church and will not seriously discommode those using West Place, as there is a good sidewalk from West Place to Kinnear Place, and the distance is only 235 feet.

Your Committee would therefore recommend that the council take no action on the matter at this time (or that the resolution be not passed).

WILLIAM L. BERNARD,
H. P. CURREN,
Committee.

Alderman Bernard moved that the above report be adopted as the idea of the council on the question under consideration.

Alderman Barnes moved that action on the resolution be postponed for one week in order to give the residents in the vicinity of West Place an opportunity to be heard. The motion to postpone was declared lost upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Getchell, Hogan, Moore, Wharton—5.
Nays—Aldermen Bergstrom, Bernard, Curren, Hector, Hoar, MacDonell, Makowski, Shartel, Storey, President Jordan—10.

Alderman Getchell moved to amend the resolution by striking out the paragraph beginning with the words "This will accommodate" and ending with the words "is only 235 feet." The motion to strike out was declared lost upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Getchell, Hogan, Moore, Storey, Wharton—6.
Nays—Aldermen Bergstrom, Bernard, Curren, Hector, Hoar, MacDonell, Makowski, Shartel, President Jordan—9.

Alderman Barnes moved to substitute for the resolution the resolution submitted by himself at the last meeting of the council, directing that stops be made at Kinnear Place and West Place. The motion to substitute was declared lost upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Getchell, Moore, Storey—5.
Nays—Aldermen Bernard, Curren, Hector, Hoar, Hogan, MacDonell, Makowski, Shartel, Wharton, President Jordan—10.

Alderman Barnes moved that the resolution be laid on the table. The motion to table was declared lost upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Getchell, Hogan, Moore, Storey—6.
Nays—Aldermen Bernard, Curren, Hector, Hoar, MacDonell, Makowski, Shartel, Wharton, President Jordan—9.

The question being upon the original motion it was declared adopted upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Bernard, Curren, Hector, Hoar, Hogan, MacDonell, Makowski, Shartel, Wharton, President Jordan—10.
Nays—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Getchell, Moore, Storey—5.

To the President and Common Council:
Your committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks to which was referred the report of the Board of Public Works, dated April 1, 1910, relative to the petition of the Northland Company and others for paving of East Fourth street, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Be it resolved by the Common Council of the City of Duluth, that the Board of Public Works of the City of Duluth is hereby ordered to cause the following improvement to be made, to-wit:

That East Fourth street, in said city, from the easterly side of Twenty-third avenue east to the easterly side of Twenty-seventh avenue east, be improved, as follows: That said street be graded full width and the roadway paved forty-two feet wide, with combined cement curb and gutter on either side; that necessary service connections be laid to the curb; that the grass spaces be seeded or sodded; and that all other work be done which is necessary or incident to said improvement; and

Resolved further, That Board of Public Works is hereby instructed to cause said improvement to be made by contract; the cost therefor to be paid out of the permanent improvement revolving fund; and it is further ordered:

That said Board of Public Works proceed in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter to levy assessments upon the property benefited by said improvement, according to benefits received, to defray the cost of such improvement, with such other expenses as under the provisions of said charter may be assessed.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution which was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred report of the Board of Public Works, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the proposition made by the Duluth Street Railway company to pay that portion of the cost of street sprinkling, which is occupied by its tracks, as reported by the Board of Public Works to this council in communication dated April 4, 1910, is hereby approved.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred plat showing location of buildings on the southerly side of Third street, from Twenty-third avenue west to a point twenty-five feet east of Twenty-fourth avenue west, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
J. A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the Common Council does hereby designate the easement to be acquired for a building line easement on the southerly side of Third street, from Twenty-third avenue west to a point twenty-five feet east of Twenty-fourth avenue west, in the city of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, as covering the property bounded by the boundary lines of said easement, which boundary lines are hereby described and designated as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the southerly line of Third street with the westerly line of Twenty-third avenue west; thence extending south along the westerly line of Twenty-third avenue west for a distance of 6.9 feet; thence extending west on a line parallel with and 6.9 feet distant from the southerly line of Third street to a point twenty-five feet easterly of Twenty-fourth avenue west; thence extending northerly on a line parallel with and twenty-five feet distant from the easterly line of Twenty-fourth avenue west to the southerly line of Third street; thence extending easterly along the southerly line of Third street to the place of beginning.

The property in which such easement is to be acquired is all that part of Lots 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, and the easterly half of Lot 384, in Block 88, Duluth Proper, Second division, lying within 6.9 feet of Third street.

Resolved, further, That in the condemnation of said easement B. F. Forrestal, H. A. Wing, J. C. Mishler, J. P. Mason and J. H. Crowley, all of whom are disinterested freeholders and qualified voters of the city of Duluth, and none of whom is a resident of any of the wards in which any property designated to be acquired for the building line easement, as stated, is situated, are hereby appointed to view the premises and appraise damages which may be occasioned by the taking of private property or otherwise, in making such improvement.

Alderman Bernard moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred report of the Board of Public Works, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the amendment made by the Board of Public Works in sprinkling districts Nos. 4 and 6, are hereby approved.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred communication from the Board of Public Works, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the Board of Public Works is hereby directed to cause sprinkling district No. 7, as approved by this council March 28, to be sprinkled during the present season.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred communication from the Board of Public Works, relative to petition of the Felix Investment company, et al., for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Superior street, from Twenty-sixth to Thirty-second avenue east with outlet, reporting that on such outlet certain property should be assessed for direct benefits, and that under said petition there was not sufficient authority for such assessment, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the Board of Public Works is hereby directed to circulate a petition for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Superior street, from Twenty-sixth avenue east to Thirty-second avenue east with outlet, to include direct connections where they can be made.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred communication from the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, stating that the Northern Pacific Railway company is about to repave the Garfield avenue viaduct with creosoted blocks, and objecting to said material on account of the slipperiness thereof, have investigated said question and find that the southerly 583 feet of said viaduct is on a grade of 5 per cent. We are of the opinion that this grade is such as to make it impracticable for teaming on a creosoted block pavement. This avenue is principally used for the hauling of heavy loads, and we are of the opinion that the railroad company should use some material that is less slippery than creosoted blocks, and therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the Board of Public Works is hereby directed to notify the Northern Pacific Railway company that in the opinion of this council the use of creosoted blocks on the southerly 533 feet of the Garfield avenue viaduct will make said viaduct too slippery for the heavy teaming which is done on said avenue, and that said company is hereby notified to place sandstone blocks on the filled portion of the approach, and to pave the balance of said approach with such material as shall be agreed upon by said company with the city engineer.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.

Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

To the Common Council:

Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred recommendation of the Board of Public Works, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

W. S. MOORE,
JOHN HOGAN,
JOHN A. MacDONELL,
Committee.

Resolved, That the Board of Public Works is hereby directed to cause sidewalks to be constructed as follows:

A 4-foot walk on the east side of Fifty-sixth avenue East from Superior street southerly 150 feet.

Replank walk on north side of Dodge street from a point 100 feet west of Forty-ninth avenue East to Fifty-first avenue East.

A 5-foot walk on the south side of London Road from Fiftieth avenue East to a point 100 feet east of said avenue.

Repair walk on east side of Sixtieth avenue East from Superior street to Arcadian street.

A 4-foot walk on the west side of Woodland avenue from Minneapolis avenue to Austin street.

Resolved further, That said Board is hereby directed to proceed in accordance with the provisions of the city charter to levy assessments upon the property benefited to defray the cost of said sidewalks, together with such other expenses as under the provisions of said charter may be assessed.

Resolved further, That said Board is hereby directed that the cost of said work be paid out of the general fund.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by an unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.

Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

Reports of Special Committees.

To the Common Council:

Your Joint Committees on Harbors, Parks and Roads and Finance, to which was referred that portion of the mayor's annual message recommending that sites be secured for public docks on the Duluth side of the Duluth-Superior harbor, of St. Louis bay and of the St. Louis river, having investigated said question and the condition of the land from which the cost of said sites would have to be paid, find as follows:

First. That in the opinion of your committees the acquirement of such sites is desirable and would eventually be of much benefit to the city, and the purchase at the present time would undoubtedly save the city a large amount of money as compared with the cost thereof at some time in the future.

Second. That there is no money available for the purchase of such sites at the present time.

Third. That, under the provisions of the amendments to the charter adopted at the last election, the tax levy for the future will be considerably in excess of the present levy, and it would be impossible to provide for such sites without further increasing the levy. We consider, however, that this question is worthy of serious study, and we recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

LUCIEN A. BARNES,
W. S. MOORE,
J. D. BERGSTROM,
W. R. GETCHELL,
THOMAS J. STOREY,
Committee.

Resolved, That that portion of the mayor's message recommending the acquirement of sites for docks is hereby indorsed by this council, and is hereby referred to the Conference Committee of the city for an investigation as to the probable cost of such sites as shall be considered adequate and if in the opinion of said Conference Committee it is practicable, to include in the tax levy for the ensuing year such amount as will enable the city to secure such sites or a portion thereof.

Alderman Barnes moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.

Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

INTRODUCTION AND CONSIDERATION OF ORDINANCES.

The following entitled ordinances took their first reading and were referred to the Committee on Ordinances and Resolutions:

By Alderman Wharton:

An ordinance to prohibit the sale and disposal and the use of fire crackers, toy pistols, squibs, rockets, Roman candles, torpedoes, sky rockets and other combustible fireworks within the limits of the city of Duluth.

By Alderman Shartel:

An ordinance to regulate pawnbrokers in the city of Duluth.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Alderman Moore moved that the Board of Public Works be directed to construct a three-foot plank walk from the present walk in Earl street across the ne¼ of the ne¼ of section 11, township 49, range 15, to connect with walk at the power house of the Belt Line railway at Bay View Heights; the cost thereof, not exceeding $85, to be paid out of the general fund, provided that said board shall first secure from the Belt Line Railway company its consent for the laying and maintenance of said walk.

The motion was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Barnes, Bergstrom, Bernard, Curren, Getchell, Hector, Hoar, Hogan, MacDonell, Makowski, Moore, Storey, Wharton, President Jordan—14.

Nays—Alderman Shartel—1.

Passed April 4, 1910.
Approved April 6, 1910.

On motion of Alderman Storey the council adjourned.

H. W. CHEADLE,
City Clerk.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED VACATION.

Notice is hereby given that there has been filed of record in my office a petition of H. B. Fryberger and others, for the vacation of that part of Melrose avenue in that part of the city of Duluth known as the Fourth Glen Avon division of Duluth from Keith street and Anna street to Catherine street, and also all of Wilson street in said Fourth Glen Avon division.

The object of the proposed vacation is to allow the property adjacent to said streets to be improved as one tract.

Said petition will be heard and considered by the committee of the Common Council of the City of Duluth on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, on Monday, May 9, 1910, in the city clerk's office in the city hall in the city of Duluth, at which time and place said committee will hear the testimony and evidence on the part of parties interested.

H. W. CHEADLE,
City Clerk, Duluth, Minn.

GOVERNOR EBERHART IS SHOWN THE STEEL PLANT

Evinces Much Interest in Work Now in Progress There.

Party Tramps Through Many Acres of Brush and Swamp.

If Governor Eberhart is a Missourian, he has had his wish. He has been shown that the Minnesota Steel corporation has begun the task of building at New Duluth one of the greatest plants that the Northwest will ever have. Also he demonstrated today that he is an indefatigable pedestrian, and that the trifle of being "lost" in the New Duluth jungle has no terrors for him.

After the triumphal tour of the auto parade through West Duluth, where the governor made a pleasing talk to the school children and told them that the state of Minnesota expected great things from them, the party, consisting of about 125 persons, proceeded on its way. The children of the Spirit Lake school interrupted the progress of the cavalcade for a few minutes, greeting the governor with waving flags and youthful cheers. Governor Eberhart descended from the West Duluth Commercial club's automobile and shook hands with the little folk and gave them a word or two of hearty greeting. That was the only stop made on the way out.

Arrived at the Volk company's tract, where the prospective new town of New Duluth is to be built, the members of the party abandoned the autos and started afoot for the first of the scenes of construction to be visited. President McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad leading the way with the governor and Chief Engineer Hoxie close at hand.

At the site of the power plant, which is now being built, the foundations being in place, the governor showed the livellest interest in the plans that are being carried out. Engineer Hoxie spread out his plans, first exhibiting one which represented what the plant will be when completed on the present basis of authorizaton by the Steel corporation, and then one that showed how the plant may expand and grow, provision being made by the corporation for extensions in every direction.

It was explained that the power plant now being built, and which soon will be completed, is to be only a unit of the power source. It is to be rushed to completion so that power will be available for use in the cement block factory that is rapidly assuming form. Cement blocks are being made now in the open, but when the cement plant is completed the capacity will be greatly increased and work along all lines will proceed much more expeditiously.

Invited to Dinner.

From the power plant the party walked to the structure which houses the cement block machinery, but not before a momentous question had come up for discussion. Landlord Knudsen of the company's big boarding house came forward with an invitation to the scores of visitors to dine at his establishment at 1:30 o'clock. He had a lot of men to feed at the noon hour, but was anxious to make another shift of famished men contented immediately afterward. Chairman McInnis and several other members of the county board who were among the visitors demurred reluctantly. They had an official meeting scheduled at 2 o'clock at the court house and it was proposed that they hold a meeting on the spot and declare a recess so that all might enjoy the extended hospitality. But the interests of the people of St. Louis county prevailed, and the county commissioners, with Odin Halden as marshal of their forces, withdrew from the expedition and soon returned to the city.

From the cement plant the investigators walked to the railroad cut beyond, where a great gravel pit is being uncovered with steam shovels and strings of flat cars. Here a serious difference of opinion arose, and the result was that President McGonagle and Engineer Hoxie led different factions, the latter official getting most followers, while the president had Governor Eberhart in his small detachment. The objective point was the new interstate bridge being built by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, and the difference of opinion was as to which was the better route to the site. President McGonagle and the governor led the way for a small group that happened to be nearby and went to the roadbed of the line that is to cross the bridge to Superior. Reaching the big ravine at the edge of the village of New Duluth, they slid and scurried down the steep incline, and then cut off across the ravine to the brush on the other side, intending, it seems, to make their way over a roadway that is known to exist in those parts. They missed it, and, slipping, leaping, recovering their equilibrium with difficulty at times, and often stepping into marshy ground that spoiled many a specially sported "shine," fought their way through the jungle. The governor seemed to take it as a matter of course, and when it was all over the party found the further end of the road calmly lying in wait for them, which was some consolation.

"I guess Teddy hasn't anything on this bunch," remarked one of the men, emerging from the "jungle."

After rejoining the detachment which had gone the other way round, Governor Eberhart listened and watched closely while Mr. McGonagle told and traced the plan of operations being followed in the construction of the great bridge and trestle work from New Duluth to the Wisconsin side of the St. Louis river. The wooden trestle work now being put upon this side of the river will be filled in with waste from the plant, so long as such material really is waste, and after that other material must be used. The slag and similar matter from the plant will become too valuable to be used for this purpose when the cement block plant has been increased to its permanent capacity.

The party went on from this point over a narrow plank walk through swampy bottom land and got a near view of the work that is being done on the bridge proper. The draw will be completed in a month, said Mr. McGonagle, and the whole line will be finished within three months.

After finishing this part of the inspection, the party wended its way to the New Duluth railroad station, and there took autos for the boarding house at the plant, where a much-desired meal was enjoyed.

On the trip back to the city the visitors were to call at the Zenith Furnace company's plant, and the banquet tonight will be the concluding event of the day.

ELECTION BRAWL VICTIM IS DEAD

As Result Public Feeling Is Running High in Rugby, N. D.

Rugby, N. D., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. C. Rice, the victim of Monday evening's election brawl, died in the local hospital yesterday afternoon, and there is considerable excitement in this city over the affair.

Two of the dead man's brothers arrived here and were warned by officials not to carry firearms as violence toward some suspects was feared. A post mortem examination of the body is being made.

DEMOCRATS IN HOUSE CHEER EUGENE FOSS.

Washington, April 7.—The Democrats of the house indulged in a noisy demonstration today when Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts, Democrat, was escorted by his brother, Representative Foss of Illinois, Republican, to the speaker's desk in order that the oath of office might be administered.

On the front row of the speaker's gallery an elderly woman joined in the applause. She was the mother of the two Foss brothers. Her two daughters-in-law sat beside her and joined in the demonstration.

In no other case do brothers occupy seats on the floor of the house, and never before have brothers of opposite political faith been members at the same time.

STREET FLOODED FROM BROKEN WATER MAIN

DAMAGE DONE BY WATER FROM BROKEN MAIN.

The breaking of the water main under the house at 219 East Superior street last night caused a small flood down the city's main thoroughfare and compelled many people in that vicinity to go without water this morning while the break was being repaired. From Frst avenue east to Superior street the water ran like a small river. The gutters were overflowed and planks had to be used on the crossings to enable the pedestrians to cross. The water and light department shut off the water supply in the main that was broken. The street is quite badly torn up where the break occurred.

S. W. Gilpin, county superintendent of schools, announced today that he will file this year as a candidate for the Republican nomination for judge of probate, and will not again seek the office he now holds. Mr. Gilpin is a range man, his home being at Virginia. Judge Middlecoff will very likely be a candidate to succeed himself as judge of probate.

SPOONER'S CHAUFFEUR ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING.

New York, April 7.—Ex-Senator John C. Spooner of Wisconsin, now a practicing lawyer in this city, appeared in the Harlem police court today with his chauffeur, who had been arrested for speeding. The chauffeur was held in $100 bail.

Jury Still Out.

The jury which heard the case of the state against Charles Mell, charged with being drunk, was still out at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Not once in 5,000 cases does a man arrested for being drunk ask for a jury trial. Prosecuting Attorney Walter J. Dacey declared that there was an ulterior motive for the jury trial. He stated in making his closing argument that it is undoubtedly the intention of the defendant to bring a civil suit for damages against Chief Troyer and Detective Toewe, and the city, should the verdict be favorable to him. He was arrested Tuesday night on complaint of neighbors in the East end. Mell claimed that all he had to drink was three glasses of beer and one glass of whisky.

MARKET HAS NARROW TREND

Opening Weak and Prices Sag Under Pressure of Apathy.

The copper market was dull today with little outside interest and professionals were apathetic. The market showed little trend either way. The opening was weak. Values advanced slightly and toward the close receded to the opening which was under yesterday's close.

Traders appear resolved not to enter the market until the session of congress is at an end and decisions have been handed down in important cases by the United States supreme court. Some people do not look for a bull market until after the fall elections, but others think that professionals are preparing for a campaign this summer when immediate political and judicial factions of considerable import are out of the way.

Warrior was the feature of a dull local market, advancing from $12.87½ to $13.12½. The strength was due to favorable reports from the property. Butte & Superior sold at $2, Carman at $1, Keating at $1.43¾ and $1.37½.

Amalgamated sold at $75.75, Butte Coalition at $23.25, Giroux at $8.37½, Greene at $9.50 to $9.62½ to $9.37½ and back to the opening, Lake at $56.50, up 1 point and back to the opening, North Butte at $34.75 to $35.25 and at the close $35 bid, Superior & Pittsburg at $13.25 to $13.37½, Calumet & Arizona at $65 to $66.37½.

The April meeting of the Copper Producers' association will be held tomorrow, when the monthly report covering the movement of copper in March will be made public. A member of the association predicts that there will be no increase in stocks over the amount standing in the last day of February, 107,187,992 lb, the probability pointing to a small gain.

The Boston News Bureau said today, according to a Paine-Webber wire: "Bisbee—The Briggs shaft of the Superior & Pittsburg has completed its station on the 1,200-foot level and pumps are installed. The Briggs shows signs of becoming one of the greatest mines in the Bisbee quadrangle. The Junction has cut a big body of sulphides on the 1,500-foot level which runs from 6 per cent to 35 per cent copper, but the average is at least 11 per cent. It has been found that this body is the same as was encountered on the 1,300-foot level over a year ago, and later on the 1,400-foot level. A winze is being sunk on the ore. This shaft is gradually becoming one of the richest mines in the district."

The ninth annual edition of the Copper Handbook, edited and published by Horace J. Stevens, Houghton, Mich., is just received. This work, which has become a standard authority on the subject, for the entire globe, has, in its latest edition, 1,628 octavo pages, containing considerably more than 1,600,000 words, and in addition to the miscellaneous chapters, lists and describes no less than 7,751 copper mines and copper mining companies, in all parts of the world, descriptions ranging from two or three lines in the case of companies that have died recently, to sixteen pages in the case of one of the largest mines—a mine, by the way, that employs some 7,000 men, and has paid dividends of considerably more than $100,000,000. The mine descriptions are the same as in the preceding volume, except that upwards of 800 new titles have been added, covering descriptions not contained in previous editions. The chapter of statistics containing upwards of forty tables, treating of copper from almost every conceivable standpoint, has been fully revised, and brought as nearly as possible to date.

The miscellaneous chapters of the book, twenty-four in number, treat of the subject of copper from a great variety of viewpoints, including the history, chemistry, mineralogy, metallurgy and uses of the metal, and this section of the book also has chapters devoted to substitutes, alloys, brands and grades, and a copious glossary.

The plan on which the book is sold remains the same as for seven years past, the publisher sending the book by mail, fully prepaid, to any address ordered, without advance payment of any sort, and subject to approval after a week's inspection. The price is $5. That this unusually liberal plan has proven successful is shown by the statement of the publisher that net losses through returned copies and defaulted payments are less than 4 per cent.

HIS NOT TO REASON WHY.

A story is told of the Rothschilds to illustrate the strict obedience which they at all times exacted from their employes, high and low.

They once had an agent in New Orleans, a young and alert fellow who kept his eyes and ears open. According to System, they telegraphed him to sell their cotton holdings on a specified day.

Believing that he had better information on the local market than his employers, he held the sale over four days and netted an extra profit of $40,000. He promptly notified the Rothschilds of his achievement and forwarded the bonus. The Rothschilds returned the amount intact with a cold note that ran:

"The $40,000 you made by disobeying our instructions is not ours but yours. Take it. Your successor sails for New Orleans today."

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE—

Default has been made in the payment of the sum of One Hundred and Seventy ($170.00) Dollars, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Hugh E. McIntyre and Mary McIntyre, his wife, Mortgagors, to J. F. Killorin, Mortgagee, bearing date the Seventeenth day of February, 1904, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the Fourth day of March, 1904, at 9:30 o'clock A. M., in Book 191 of Mortgages, on page 230, and no action or proceeding has been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz: an undivided one-half (½) interest in Lot number Forty-five (45), Minnesota avenue, Upper Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County at the front door of the Court House in the City of Duluth, in said County and State on the 16th day of April, 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of One Hundred Seventy ($170.00) Dollars, and interest and the sum of Fourteen and 56-100 ($14.56) Dollars, taxes paid by said Mortgagee since the execution of said Mortgage and Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, Attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated February 17th, A. D. 1910.

J. F. KILLORIN,
Mortgagee.

WHEAT WAS IRREGULAR

Market Advances at Opening, Declines Sharply and Rallies at Close.

Flax Is Moderately Active and Near Option---Scores Advance.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 7.—In an erratic market wheat advanced ⅝c today. Early buying was in anticipation of a decline which followed. Short covering and reports that fair weather prevailed in the Southwest helped to firm prices. Following a decline the market advanced on buying due to the estimate of the Northwestern miller that only 4,000,000 bu are in the elevators of the Northwest, of which there are about 5,000.

May wheat opened at $1.11⅞ asked and advanced to $1.12½-⅝, the high point for the day; sold at $1.12½ and down to $1.11½-⅝ and back to $1.12½ closing at $1.12½ bid. July wheat opened at $1.11¾ bid, advanced sharply to $1.12½, declined to $1.11¾, and advanced to $1.12½, closing $1.12½ bid.

Flax was moderately active, the near option being stronger on covering by shorts and the distant options weaker on slight selling from the country. May opened at $2.33 bid and went to $2.34, $2.34½, $2.34, $2.34¼ and closed with bids at $2.34. The July option was offered at $2.32 and sold at $2.30, and closed with bids at that price. Flax for September delivery was $4 offered at $1.83, declined to $1.81¼, advanced to $1.82½, lost 1c and closed with bids at $1.81. The October was offered at $1.73 and sold at $1.72 and closed with offers at $1.72.

Cash wheat was 1c over the near option, rye closed unchanged, oats closed ⅜c up and barley was unchanged. Durum lost ⅛c.

The action of the market was erratic. The opening was strong on covering by shorts and buying as the result of reports of dry weather in the Southwest. Values jumped sharply in response to active training which, in other markets, was confined chiefly to the deferred months. Interests which have on the bull side accumulated the distant months moderately.

Toward noon the market declined as the buying power was withdrawn and professionals turned sellers. The Chicago and Minneapolis September options were liquidated moderately and there was some selling in May and July here. With the buying support removed values sought lower levels. Around midday the market was about on a par with yesterday's close after having climbed nearly 1c above. Reports that the weather bureau predicted rain tonight or tomorrow in the Southwest caused an easier feeling and gave the bears courage to sell the market as in the previous three or four days. The report also caused some selling by people who bought early on reports that Southwestern skies were clear and that no rain had fallen last night.

The cash demand was dull. Premiums here continue much higher, relatively, than in Minneapolis, and the wheat movement is coming toward the Head of the Lakes to the disadvantage of Minneapolis. Stores are rapidly increasing for this time of the year. Mills report a dull demand, and the severe decline in mill feed has assisted in demoralizing the flour trade. Millers seem to be getting out of May, as they sold regularly here for several days. Apparently they are going into July.

Sentiment is bearish, and many traders think the only factor that would tend to strengthen prices materially would be an oversold condition of the market. Showers in the Southwest have caused improvement in the growing plant, and most traders cannot see anything in the crop condition to warrant buying. Reports from Kansas and Nebraska generally are more favorable. The bears are convinced that the increased acreage will more than offset crop damage and that the winter yield will be in excess of that of last year. The increased acreage planted to spring wheat under favorable conditions is also regarded by the bears as a favorable factor.

The foreign situation was weak. Indian and Russian offers were liberal. Around midday there was a stronger tone, due to covering by shorts. Foreign crop news is mixed, but, on the whole, it is regarded as bearish. There was no export trade from this market today.

MARKET GOSSIP

The Northwestern Miller said that its estimate of 4,000,000 bu. in country elevators applies to all classes of elevators, not to the line houses alone. This is considered bullish on nearby options.

Minneapolis wired: Seeding progressing under most favorable conditions. Estimated 75 per cent completed, South Dakota, Minnesota and southern part of North Dakota outside of valley; 25 per cent in valley and northern part of North Dakota. Early sown wheat well up in parts of South Dakota.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market opened with a weak tone and offerings larger. Prompted by the weakness in both America and Buenos Ayres yesterday values were ¼d lower. Indian offerings of new crop wheat were on a more liberal scale and cheaper, and Russia continues to offer freely with private reports that interior stocks are very heavy. Shortly before midday there was some profit taking by shorts and values steadied some but at this time the undertone was still heavy and prices ¼@¾d lower than yesterday. Corn was ¼d lower at the start in sympathy with the break in America yesterday but the decline was checked by less favorable advices from Argentina. Wheat cargoes arrived off coast nil and awaiting orders, nil. Wheat cargoes in distant positions easier with more offered and sellers meeting the market. Corn slow with no bidding."

Broomhall's foreign crop reports show a lessened condition in the United Kingdom, France and Germany. In other countries the crop condition has improved. The detailed report follows:

"United Kingdom—The crop already seeded is showing a poor growth, as the weather is too cold for germination. Acreage is smaller than last year. France—There are some complaints regarding damage from vermin. The plant shows poor growth in some parts. The weather is cold for this season. Germany—Some anxiety is being felt regarding the outlook, owing to continued unseasonably cold weather. Supplies of native wheat are rather small. There is an improved foreign demand. Russia—In the southwest reports are varied, but mostly favorable. In the southeast weather is improving owing to beneficial rains. Arrivals at the ports continue light, although interior stocks are reported very heavy. Hungary—The crop outlook continues excellent. The weather is cold but there is plenty of snow cover. Spain—A moderate improvement as a result of good rains. Roumania, Bulgaria and Italy show improvement."

Special crop reports received by The Herald follow:

St. Peter, Minn.—Farmers near here have finished seeding under favorable circumstances. Wheat and corn acreage greatly increased.

Albert eLa, Minn.—Farmers began their field work here April 1. Seeding is now general. Wheat and corn will be grown more extensively; barley reduced, oats about the same.

Little Falls, Minn.—Seeding is about finished. Wheat and corn increased. Oats and barley about same. A large amount of land usually flooded at this period of the year has no surplus water now and the acreage in this county, consequently, will be greatly increased.

Owatonna, Minn.—Field work has about been completed here so far as actual seeding is concerned. Wheat and corn will be increased, oats decreased and barley about the same. Some farmers have been threshing and the grain was found in excellent condition.

Rochester, Minn.—Farmers have completed seeding near here with a few scattered exceptions. Considerable threshing of left-over wheat is in progress. Wheat and corn will be increased; oats slightly increased and barley about the same.

Mankato, Minn.—Wheat and small grain planted ten days or two weeks ago is over ground and farmers say the plant is in excellent condition. Wheat acreage largely increased; corn slightly increased, oats and barley about the same.

Swanville, Morrison county.—Seeding is about completed. Farmers could have started sooner but they preferred to wait until they were confident that the favorable weather would continue.

Plummer, Red Lake county.—Seeding has been about completed. Could have started earlier, but soil in places is rather sandy and farmers thought they would wait until the season advanced. Wheat increased and more corn will be grown.

Grand Forks, N. D.—More acres will be under cultivation this year than ever before. Wheat acreage largely increased and flax acreage will be greater than last year, especially in the western portion of the state. Seeding in many localities finished. Weather has been favorable. Soil first class.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Opening Is Weak, But Wheat Develops Some Firmness.

Cicago, April 7.—Wheat developed moderate firmess early today following a rather weak opening. Scattered selling of the May delivery caused some heaviness at the start, prices being ⅛c higher to ⅜c lower. May opened at $1.11¾ to $1.11¼ and July at $1.04⅞ to $1.05⅛. The September option opened at $1.02 to $1.01⅞.

Shorts bought quite freely during the first hour, particularly of the May delivery, the price of which advanced to $1.12. September sold up from $1.01⅝@1.02⅛. After touching $1.04¾ July advanced to $1.05⅛. An official forecast of clear weather in Kansas prompted some of the buying.

Toward midday prices slumped quite sharply in sympathy with a severe break in corn. July sold off to $1.04⅛ and September $1.01⅛. In the final hour, however, the market again rallied owing to active covering by shorts. July advanced to $1.05½ and September to $1.02½. The close was strong at the top notch with July up ½c and September ⅝c higher.

Corn prices made material gains early in the day, owing to talk of some improvement in export demand. Several leading commission houses were moderate buyers. The May delivery opened ¼c lower to ⅛c higher, at 58⅛ to 58½c and advanced to 59c.

The market was extremely weak during the later hours, because of realizing. May declined to 57⅝c. Much of the loss was regained late in the day and the market closed firm with May up ½c at 58⅞c.

Oats were weak at the start but rallied early in the session, because of buying by shorts and cash interests. After opening ⅛@⅜c lower at 41¼@41c, the May delivery advanced to 41½@41⅝c.

Provisions regained part of the loss sustained on the previous session, the market being strong early in the day owing to brisk demand by commission houses based on light receipts of live hogs. May pork opened 5@30c higher at $24@24.25; May lard 7½c higher at $13.30 and ribs 5c higher at $13.12½.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Becomes Oversold and Trading Is Nervous.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 7.—Wheat today re-enacted the recent break. Late today the market became oversold and May closed ⅞c higher than yesterday, after fluctuating in a range of 1c. Trading in the pit was of a nervous character. Several traders appeared to be waiting for the government report due tomorrow at 11 o'clock, Minneapolis time, before committing themselves to either side of the market. Local elevator stocks of wheat increased 175,000 bu for five days. Minneapolis today received 219 cars of wheat against 105 cars a year ago; Duluth 67 cars against 49 cars, and Winnipeg, 189 cars against 212 cars. May opened $1.11@1.10⅞; high, $1.11¼@1.11⅜; low, $1.10⅜; closed, $1.11¼@1.11⅜. July opened $1.11¾; high, $1.11⅞; low, $1.11; closed, $1.11⅞. September opened $1.01⅜; high, $1.02¼; low, $1.01⅛; closed, $1.02¼.

Cash wheat was steady with yesterday. Demand was slow, especially for the soft Minnesota variety. No. 1 northern sold for ½@1⅝c above the May option and No. 3 northern for ¼@1½c under. Closing prices on track: No. 1 northern, $1.11½@1.13; to arrive, $1.11¼@1.12¾; No. 2 northern, $1.09½@1.11; to arrive, $1.09¼@1.10¾. No. 3 wheat, $1.05 @ 1.09½. No. 3 yellow corn, 49¾@52¾c. No. 3 white oats, 38⅞@39⅜c. No. 2 rye, 70¾@73¾c.

Millstuffs — Shipments, 1,006 tons. There was no quotable change in the situation today. Bran in 100-lb sacks, $21.00.

The flour market continued dull. Eleven local flour mills were running today. Millers complained of the lack of shipping directions. Shipments remained light and prices firm. Shipments, 38,282 bbls. First patents, in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis, $5.30@5.50; second patents, $5.10@5.30; first clears, $4.25@4.35; second clears, $3.00@3.30.

Flax—Receipts, 17 cars; year ago, 4; shipments, 9. Demand continued strong for both spot and to arrive at the ven Duluth May price. No sales were posted. Closing price, $2.33¾.

Barley—Receipts, 30 cars; year ago, 16; shipments, 23. The market easier today. Although offerings were light, demand was slow. Prices were quoted 1 cent lower for both malting and feeding barley. Closing range, 53@62c.

New York Grain.

New York, April 7.—Close: Wheat—May, $1.20¾; July, $1.13¾. Corn—May, 67½c; July, 70¾c; September, 70¾c.

REMARKS.

Light rains fell over Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky. Frosts or freezing temperatures occurred at many places in Ohio valley states this morning.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

T. Indicates inappreciable rainfall. *For yesterday. †For 24 hours ending 8 a. m., 75th meridian time. ‡Minimum temperature for 12 hours ending 8 a. m., 75th meridian time.

NOTE—The average maximum and minimum temperatures and the average rainfall are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

STAGNATION IN STOCKS

Barely Eight Thousand Shares Are Traded in Within an Hour.

Prices Droop to Lowest From Inanition and Close Is Weak.

New York, April 7.—The very light opening dealings in stocks today were significant of the languid speculative interest. The price changes also were narrow and mixed. Amalgamated Copper and Western Union showed declines of a point, and Chesapeake & Ohio ⅝. General Electric rose 1¼ and Northwestern 1.

There was very little demand and prices fell with the Western railroad and metal stocks the weakest. St. Paul, Reading, Southern Pacific, United States Steel, American Smelting, Consolidated Gas and Utah Copper yielded 1 Union Pacific 1⅜ and National Railways of Mexico first preferred 1¾. Federal Mining preferred, which had been liquidated heavily of late, jumped 6¾ to 60 on one transaction.

The closing of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn, following that of the Union bank earlier in the week, was a disquieting influence on stocks. Prospects of firmer money also prompted some selling. It decreased before noon and opened the way to dull recoveries. Rock Island preferred advanced 1¼. Railway Steel Spring preferred declined 2, Atlantic Coast Line 1⅝, Minneapolis & St. Louis 1¼ and St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and United States Realty 1. Bonds were irregular.

The dullness of the market grew more intense with the progress of the day, scarcely any business whatever being done in the ordinary active stocks. Delaware & Hudson gave way a point.

The market closed weak and dull. Stagnation ruled in the market in the afternoon. From 1 to 2 o'clock barely 8,000 shares were dealt in. A rise in the call money rate to 4 per cent discouraged operations. Prices drooped to about the lowest from inanition. Union Bag preferred sold at a decline of 2, American Express 3, and Canadian Pacific and Westinghouse Electric 1. Granby Mining sold at 40. The stock sold in Boston yesterday at 45, but the preceding sale on the New York stock exchange was at 112 in January.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, April 7.—The condition of the treasury at the beginning of business today was as follows:

Trust funds—Gold coin, $851,820,869; silver dollars, $490,473,000; silver dollars of 1890, $3,786,000; silver certificates outstanding, $490,473,000.

General fund—Standard silver dollars in general fund, $1,516,392; current liabilities, $103,239,009; working balance in treasury offices, $27,829,334; in banks to credit of treasurer of the United States, $33,869,243; subsidiary silver coin, $21,643,886; minor coin, $1,302,423. Total balance in general fund, $89,419,596.

New York Money.

New York, April 7.—Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent; sterling exchange, steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.84.25@4.84.40 for 60 day bills and at $4.87.70 for demand. Commercial bills $4.83½@4.84. Bar silver, 52⅛c; Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds, irregular. Money on call firmer, 3@4 per cent; ruling rate, 3 per cent; closing bid, 3 per cent; offered at 3¼ per cent. Time loans stronger; 60 days, 4 per cent, and 90 days, 4¼ per cent; six months, 4¼ per cent.

Cotton Market.

New York, April 7.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 2@6 points and sold 8@16 points net higher during the early trading with near months leading the advance, owing to continued large spot sales in Liverpool, bullish Manchester trade accounts, active covering and buying by spot houses. Interviews with Mr. Patten in the morning papers seemed to revive apprehensions of a near month squeeze, and undoubtedly added to the nervousness of recent sellers.

Spot closed quiet, 15 points higher; middling uplands, 15.00; middling gulf, 15.25. Sales, 2,200 bales.

Futures closed steady; closing bids: April, 14.69; May, 14.59; June, 14.40; July, 14.39; August, 13.91; September, 13.07; October, 12.56; November, 12.41; December, 12.40; January, 12.37.

..Buy the good curbs right now and you will make money. Markets change quickly and it seems to me that the time is about right now for a big turn in the market.
We believe in Calumet & Sonora, Shattuck, Ballaklava, Tuolumne and Butte-Alex Scott—not a dead one in the lot. Many of the low priced issues should do better, Calumet & Corbin, Calumet & Montana, St. Mary's, Red Warrior and many others are very promising properties, and should sell higher.
